Judges 15:13 They told him, "We promise we'll only tie you up and hand you over to them. We certainly won't kill you." So they tied him up with two new ropes and brought him back from the cliff.

Judges 15:14 When he came to Lehi, the Philistines met him with shouts [of triumph]. But the LORD's Spirit came over him. The ropes on his arms became like strings burned in a fire, and those on his hands snapped.

Judges 15:15 Samson found the jawbone from a donkey that had just died. He picked it up and killed 1,000 men with it.

Judges 15:16 Then Samson said, "With a jawbone from a donkey, I've made two piles of them. With a jawbone from a donkey, I've killed a thousand men."

Judges 15:17 When he finished saying this, he threw the jawbone away. He called that place Ramath Lehi [Jawbone Hill].

Judges 15:18 Samson was very thirsty. So he called out to the LORD and said, "You have given me this great victory. But now I'll die from thirst and fall into the power of godless men."

Judges 15:19 So God split open the hollow place at Lehi, and water gushed out. Samson drank some water. Then he was refreshed and revived. So he called the place En Hakkore [Spring of the One Who Calls Out]. It is still there at Lehi today.

Judges 15:20 Samson judged Israel for 20 years during the time of the Philistines.

Judges 16:1 Samson went to Gaza. There he saw a prostitute and slept with her.

Judges 16:2 The people of Gaza were told, “Samson’s here!” So they surrounded the place and waited all night at the city gate to ambush him. They were quiet all night. They thought, “We’ll kill him at dawn.”

Judges 16:3 But Samson was in bed [with the prostitute] only until midnight. Then he got up, took hold of the doors, door posts, and bar of the city gate and pulled them out. He carried them on his shoulders to the top of the hill facing Hebron.

Judges 16:4 After [leaving Gaza], he fell in love with a woman in the Sorek Valley. Her name was Delilah.

Judges 16:5 The Philistine rulers came to her and said, “Trick him, and find out what makes him so strong. Find out how we can overpower him. We want to tie him up in order to torture him. Each of us will give you 1,100 pieces of silver.”

Judges 16:6 So Delilah said to Samson, “Please tell me what makes you so strong. How can you be tied up so that someone could torture you?”

Judges 16:7 Samson told her, “If someone ties me up with seven new bowstrings that are not dried out, I will be like any other man.”

Judges 16:8 The Philistine rulers brought her seven new bowstrings that were not dried out. She tied Samson up with them.

Judges 16:9 Some men were hiding in the bedroom waiting for her [to tie him up]. Then she said to him, “Samson, the Philistines are attacking!” Samson snapped the bowstrings as a thread snaps when it touches fire. So no one found out why he was so strong.

Judges 16:10 Delilah told Samson, “Look, you’re making fun of me by telling me lies. Now, tell me how you can be tied up.”

Judges 16:11 Samson told her, “If someone ties me up tightly with new ropes that have never been used, I will be like any other man.”

Judges 16:12 So Delilah took some new ropes and tied him up with them. Then she said to him, “Samson, the Philistines are attacking!” Some men were in her bedroom waiting to ambush him. But Samson tore the ropes off his arms as though they were strings.

Judges 16:13 Delilah told Samson, “You’re still making fun of me by telling me lies. Tell me how you can be tied up.” Samson replied, “Just weave the seven braids of my hair with the other threads in the loom.”

Judges 16:14 So Delilah tied his braids to the loom shuttle. Then she said to him, “Samson, the Philistines are attacking!” But Samson woke up and tore his braids and the threads out of the loom shuttle.

Judges 16:15 Delilah said to Samson, “How can you say that you love me when your heart isn’t mine? You’ve made fun of me three times now, but you still haven’t told me what makes you so strong.”

Judges 16:16 Every day she made his life miserable with her questions. She pestered him until he wished he were dead.

Judges 16:17 Finally, he told her the truth. He told her, “Because I’m a Nazirite, no one has ever cut the hair on my head. I was dedicated to God before I was born. If my hair is ever shaved off, my strength will leave me. Then I’ll be like any other man.”

Judges 16:18 When Delilah realized that he had told her everything, she sent a message to the Philistine rulers, “Come here once more.” (She did this because Samson had told her everything.) So the Philistine rulers arrived with the money in their hands.

Judges 16:19 Delilah put Samson to sleep on her lap. She called for a man to shave off his seven braids. Then she began to torture him because his strength had left him.

Judges 16:20 She said, “Samson, the Philistines are attacking!” Samson woke up. He thought, “I’ll get out of this as usual and shake myself free.” (He didn’t realize that the LORD had left him.)

Judges 16:21 The Philistines grabbed him. They poked out his eyes and took him to the prison in Gaza. They tied him up with double chains and made him grind grain in the mill there.

Judges 16:22 But his hair started to grow back as soon as it was shaved off.

Judges 16:23 Now, the Philistine rulers gathered together to offer a great sacrifice to their god Dagon and to celebrate. They said, “Our god handed Samson, our enemy, over to us.”

Judges 16:24 When the people saw him, they praised their god. They said, “Our god gave our enemy, destroyer of our land and killer of so many, into our very hand!”

Judges 16:25 When all the Philistines were enjoying themselves, they said, “Call Samson in to entertain us.” Samson was called from the prison, and he made them laugh. They made him stand between two columns.

Judges 16:26 Samson told the young man who was leading him by the hand, “Let me rest. Let me touch the columns on which the building stands so that I can lean against them.”

Judges 16:27 The building was filled with people. All the Philistine rulers were there. On the roof there were about three thousand men and women who watched Samson entertain them.

Judges 16:28 Then Samson called to the LORD, “Almighty LORD, please remember me! God, give me strength just one more time! Let me get even with the Philistines for at least one of my two eyes.”

Judges 16:29 Samson felt the two middle columns on which the building stood. With his right hand on one column and his left on the other, he pushed hard against them.

Judges 16:30 “Let me die with the Philistines,” he said. With that, he pushed with all his might, and the building fell on the rulers and everyone in it. So he killed more Philistines when he died than he had when he was alive.

Judges 16:31 Then his relatives and his father’s whole family went to Gaza. They took Samson and buried him between Zorah and Eshtaol in the tomb of his father Manoah. Samson had judged Israel for 20 years.

Judges 17:1 There was a man named Micah from the mountain region of Ephraim.

Judges 17:2 He told his mother, “You were upset about the 1,100 pieces of silver that were taken from you. I even heard you put a curse on them. Here’s the silver. I took it!” His mother said, “The LORD bless you, my son!”

Judges 17:3 So Micah gave the 1,100 pieces of silver back to his mother. Then his mother said, “I dedicate this silver to the LORD for my son’s benefit. I want to make a carved idol and a metal idol. So now I’m giving the silver back to you.”

Judges 17:4 When Micah returned the silver to his mother, she took 200 pieces of the silver and gave it to a silversmith. He made a carved idol and a metal idol. Both were placed in Micah’s home.

Judges 17:5 Micah owned a shrine. He also made an ephod and household idols. He ordained one of his sons to be his priest.

Judges 17:6 In those days Israel didn’t have a king. Everyone did whatever he considered right.

Judges 17:7 There was a young man from Bethlehem in Judah. (Bethlehem belongs to the family of Judah.) He was a Levite but was living in Bethlehem.

Judges 17:8 This man left Bethlehem in Judah to live wherever he could find [a place]. He came to Micah’s house in the mountains of Ephraim to carry on his work.

Judges 17:9 Micah asked him, “Where do you come from?” The man told him, “I’m a Levite from Bethlehem in Judah. I’m going to live wherever I can find [a place].”

Judges 17:10 Micah told him, “Stay with me! Be a father and a priest to me. I’ll give you ten pieces of silver a year, a set of clothes, and your room and board.” The Levite accepted the offer

Judges 17:11 and agreed to live with Micah. The young man became like one of Micah's sons.

Judges 17:12 Micah ordained the Levite. So the young man became his priest and a part of his family.

Judges 17:13 Then Micah said, "Now I know that the LORD will be good to me. I have a Levite for my priest."

Judges 18:1 In those days Israel didn't have a king. And in those days the tribe of Dan was looking for a place to live. Up to that time they had not received land as an inheritance among the tribes of Israel as they should have.

Judges 18:2 So all the families of Dan sent out five qualified men from Zorah and Eshtaol. They were sent to spy throughout the land and explore it. They were told, "Go and explore the land!" They came to Micah's house in the mountains of Ephraim. They spent the night there.

Judges 18:3 While they were at Micah's house, they recognized the young Levite's voice. So they stopped to ask him, "Who brought you here? What are you doing here? Why are you here?"

Judges 18:4 The Levite told them what Micah had done for him and added, "Micah hired me, so I became his priest."

Judges 18:5 They said to him, "Please find out from God if our journey will be successful."

Judges 18:6 The priest told them, "Go in peace. The LORD approves of your journey."

Judges 18:7 The five men left there and came to the city of Laish. They saw that the people there lived without a care. These people were like the people of Sidon. They were peaceful and secure. There was no one around who threatened to take away their property by force. They were far from the people of Sidon and totally independent.

Judges 18:8 The men went back to their relatives in Zorah and Eshtaol. Their relatives asked them, "What did you find?"

Judges 18:9 They replied, "Get up, let's attack Laish. We saw the land. It's very good! "Don't just sit there! Go at once and take the land.

Judges 18:10 When you get there, you will come to a secure people. The land is wide open to you. God will hand it over to you. It's a place where you will have everything you could want."

Judges 18:11 So 600 men from the tribe of Dan left Zorah and Eshtaol armed for war.

Judges 18:12 They camped at Kiriath Jearim in Judah. This is why the place just west of Kiriath Jearim is still called Mahaneh Dan [The Camp of Dan] today.

Judges 18:13 From there they marched to the mountains of Ephraim as far as Micah's house.

Judges 18:14 Then the five men who had gone to spy throughout the land around Laish spoke up. They said to the other men of Dan, “Do you know that there’s an ephod, a carved idol, a metal idol, and household idols in these houses? What do you think we should do?”

Judges 18:15 So they stopped and entered Micah’s house and greeted the young Levite.

Judges 18:16 The 600 armed men from Dan stood at the entrance to the city.

Judges 18:17 The five men who had gone to spy throughout the land went inside. They took the carved idol, the ephod, the household idols, and the metal idol. The priest stood at the entrance to the city with the 600 armed men.

Judges 18:18 When these men entered Micah’s house and took the carved idol, the ephod, the household idols, and the metal idol, the priest asked them, “What are you doing?”

Judges 18:19 They told him, “Keep quiet! Don’t say a word! Come with us and be our father and priest. Is it better for you to be a priest for one man’s house or for a tribe in Israel and its families?”

Judges 18:20 The priest was content. He took the ephod, the household idols, and the carved idol and went with the people.

Judges 18:21 When they left, they put their children, livestock, and property in front of them.

Judges 18:22 When they had already gone some distance from Micah’s house, Micah’s neighbors were called together to help him catch up to the people of Dan.

Judges 18:23 They shouted at them. But the people of Dan turned around and said to Micah, “What’s your problem? Why did you call your neighbors together to attack us?”

Judges 18:24 Micah answered, “You’ve taken away the gods I made as well as my priest. What do I have left? How can you say to me, ‘What’s your problem?’”

Judges 18:25 The people of Dan replied, “Don’t make another sound, or some violent men will attack you. Then you and your family will lose your lives.”

Judges 18:26 The people of Dan went on their way. Micah saw they were stronger than he was, so he turned around and went home.

Judges 18:27 The people of Dan took what Micah had made and the man who had become his priest and went to the city of Laish. They attacked a peaceful and secure people, killed them all with swords, and burned their city.

Judges 18:28 There was no one to rescue them because their city was far from Sidon and totally independent. The city was in the valley that belonged to Beth Rehob. The people of Dan rebuilt the city and lived in it.

Judges 18:29 They named the city Dan in honor of their ancestor Dan, Israel's son. Originally, the city was called Laish.

Judges 18:30 The people of Dan set up the carved idol for themselves. Jonathan (son of Gershom and grandson of Moses) and his descendants were priests for Dan's tribe until the people living in that land were taken captive.

Judges 18:31 So they set up for themselves the carved idol Micah had made. It stayed there the whole time the house of God was at Shiloh.

Judges 19:1 In those days when Israel didn't have a king, there was a Levite who lived in a remote area in the mountains of Ephraim. He took a woman from Bethlehem in Judah to be his concubine.

Judges 19:2 But she was unfaithful to him. She left him and went to her father's home, to Bethlehem in Judah. When she had been there four months,

Judges 19:3 her husband went to persuade her to come back home. He took along his servant and two donkeys. She took her husband into her father's house. Her father was thrilled to see him.

Judges 19:4 He made the Levite stay there with him, celebrating for three days.

Judges 19:5 On the fourth day they got up early in the morning to leave, but the woman's father told his son-in-law, "Eat something to keep up your strength and then you can go."

Judges 19:6 So they both sat down and ate and drank together. The woman's father said to his son-in-law, "Why don't you spend the night and enjoy yourself?"

Judges 19:7 When the Levite started to leave, his father-in-law urged him to stay another night, so he did.

Judges 19:8 On the morning of the fifth day, the Levite got up early to leave. The woman's father said, "Eat something to keep up your strength!" So they spent the time eating until late afternoon.

Judges 19:9 The Levite started to leave with his concubine and his servant. But his father-in-law said to him, "It's already evening. Please stay another night. It's too late [to leave] now. Stay here, and enjoy yourself. Tomorrow you can start out early to go home."

Judges 19:10 But the Levite refused to spend another night. He left and traveled as far as Jebus (now called Jerusalem). He had with him two saddled donkeys and his concubine.

Judges 19:11 By the time they were near Jebus, it was very late in the day. The Levite's servant said to him, "Let's go spend the night in Jebus."

Judges 19:12 The Levite told him, “We’ll never go into a city of foreigners. They’re not Israelites. We’ll go on to Gibeah.”

Judges 19:13 He told his servant, “Let’s go someplace else. We’ll spend the night either at Gibeah or Ramah.”

Judges 19:14 So they went on. It was sunset by the time they arrived at Gibeah. (Gibeah belonged to the tribe of Benjamin.)

Judges 19:15 They went to spend the night there. The Levite entered Gibeah and sat down in the city square, because no one offered to take them home for the night.

Judges 19:16 That evening an old man came into the city from his work in the fields. He was from the mountain region of Ephraim but lived in Gibeah. The other people who lived there were from the tribe of Benjamin.

Judges 19:17 He saw the traveler in the city square. So the old man asked, “Where do you come from? And where are you going?”

Judges 19:18 The Levite replied, “We’re on our way from Bethlehem in Judah to a remote area in the mountains of Ephraim. That’s where I’m from. I had gone to Bethlehem in Judah. Now I’m going to the LORD’s house, but no one has offered to take me into his home.

Judges 19:19 We have straw and fodder for our donkeys. I even have bread and wine for myself, the woman, and my servant. We have everything we need.”

Judges 19:20 Then the old man said, “Welcome! Let me take care of your needs. Just don’t spend the night in the city square.”

Judges 19:21 So he took the Levite to his house and fed the donkeys. After they washed, they ate and drank.

Judges 19:22 While they were enjoying themselves, some worthless men from the city surrounded the house and pounded on the door. They told the old man, the owner of the house, “Bring out the man who came to your house so that we can have sex with him.”

Judges 19:23 The owner went out to them. He told them, “No, my friends! Please don’t do anything so evil! This man is a guest in my home. Don’t do such a godless thing!

Judges 19:24 Here, let me bring out my virgin daughter and this man’s concubine. Rape them, and do with them whatever you want. Just don’t do such a godless thing to this man.”

Judges 19:25 But the men refused to listen to him. So the Levite grabbed his concubine and forced her outside. They had sex with her and abused her all night until morning. They let her go when the sun was coming up.

Judges 19:26 At daybreak, the woman came to the door of the house where her husband was and collapsed. She was still there when it became light.

Judges 19:27 Her husband got up in the morning, opened the doors of the house, and was about to leave. His wife (that is, his concubine) was lying at the door of the house with her hands on the doorstep.

Judges 19:28 The Levite said to her, “Get up! Let’s go!” But she did not answer. So he put her on the donkey and left for home.

Judges 19:29 When he arrived home, he got a knife. He took his concubine and cut her limb from limb into 12 pieces. Then he sent the pieces throughout the territories of Israel.

Judges 19:30 Everyone who saw it said, “Never has such a thing happened or been seen from the time the people of Israel came out of Egypt until today. Think about it! Form a plan, and speak out!”

Judges 20:1 All the people of Israel from Dan to Beersheba and from Gilead came to Mizpah. The congregation stood united in the presence of the LORD.

Judges 20:2 The leaders of all Israel’s tribes took their places in the congregation of God’s people. There were 400,000 foot soldiers with swords.

Judges 20:3 The people of Benjamin heard that Israel had come to Mizpah. The people of Israel said, “Tell us how such an evil thing could happen.”

Judges 20:4 The Levite, the husband of the murdered woman, answered, “My concubine and I went to Gibeah in Benjamin to spend the night.

Judges 20:5 The citizens of Gibeah came to attack me. They surrounded the house [where I was staying] that night. They intended to kill me, but instead, they raped my concubine until she died.

Judges 20:6 So I took my concubine and cut her into pieces. Then I sent the pieces throughout the territory of Israel. I did this because the citizens of Gibeah did this perverted and godless thing in Israel.

Judges 20:7 All you people of Israel, tell me what you think. Give me your advice right now!”

Judges 20:8 All the people stood united, saying, “None of us will go to his tent or return to his house.

Judges 20:9 This is what we’ll do to Gibeah. We’ll decide by lot who should attack it.

Judges 20:10 We’ll take one-tenth of all the men from the tribes of Israel to get supplies for the troops. When the troops go to Gibeah in the territory of Benjamin they can punish the citizens of Gibeah for the godless thing they did in Israel.”

Judges 20:11 So all the men of Israel assembled. They stood united against the city.

Judges 20:12 The tribes of Israel sent men throughout the tribe of Benjamin. They asked, “How could such an evil thing happen among you?

Judges 20:13 Now hand over those worthless men in Gibeah. We must put them to death to rid ourselves of this kind of evil in Israel.” But the men of Benjamin refused to listen to the men of Israel.

Judges 20:14 So the men of Benjamin went from their towns and assembled at Gibeah to go to war with the men of Israel.

Judges 20:15 That day 26,000 men armed with swords came from Benjamin’s cities and organized for battle along with 700 of Gibeah’s best men.

Judges 20:16 Out of all these troops, the best 700 were left-handed. Each could sling a stone at a hair and not miss.

Judges 20:17 The men of Israel (Benjamin not included) totaled 400,000 soldiers armed with swords.

Judges 20:18 The men of Israel went to Bethel. They asked God, “Who will go first to fight Benjamin?” The LORD answered, “Judah will go first.”

Judges 20:19 The Israelites got up early in the morning and camped at Gibeah.

Judges 20:20 So the men of Israel went to war with the men of Benjamin. The Israelites formed their battle line facing Gibeah.

Judges 20:21 That day the men of Benjamin came out from Gibeah. They slaughtered 22,000 of Israel’s men.

Judges 20:22 But Israel’s troops got reinforcements. They formed their battle line where they had formed it on the first day.

Judges 20:23 The Israelites went and cried in the presence of the LORD until evening. They asked the LORD, “Should we continue to wage war against our close relatives, the men of Benjamin?” The LORD answered, “Go fight them!”

Judges 20:24 On the second day the Israelite troops advanced against Benjamin.

Judges 20:25 Benjamin went out from Gibeah to meet them. This time they slaughtered 18,000 men from Israel who were armed with swords.

Judges 20:26 Then all the men of Israel and all the troops went to Bethel. They sat there and cried in the presence of the LORD and fasted that day until evening. Then they sacrificed burnt offerings and fellowship offerings to the LORD.

Judges 20:27 In those days the ark of God’s promise was at Bethel.

Judges 20:28 (Phinehas, son of Eleazar and grandson of Aaron, served in front of it.) So the people of Israel asked the LORD, “Should we continue to wage war against our close relatives, the men of Benjamin? Or should we stop?" The LORD answered, "Go! Tomorrow I will hand them over to you."

Judges 20:29 Then Israel placed troops in ambush around Gibeah.

Judges 20:30 On the third day the men of Israel went to fight the men of Benjamin. They formed their battle line facing Gibeah as they did before.

Judges 20:31 The men of Benjamin went out to attack Israel's troops and were led away from the city. They started to inflict casualties as before. They killed about 30 men from Israel in the open country and on the roads to Bethel and Gibeah.

Judges 20:32 The men of Benjamin shouted, "They're defeated as before!" But the men of Israel had said, "Let's flee in order to lead them from the city to the roads."

Judges 20:33 So the men of Israel left their positions. They formed their battle line at Baal Tamar. Meanwhile, those waiting in ambush rushed from their position to the west of Gibeah.

Judges 20:34 Then 10,000 of Israel's best men attacked Gibeah. The battle was fierce. But Benjamin's men didn't realize their own evil was about to overtake them.

Judges 20:35 So the LORD defeated them in front of Israel. On that day the Israelites slaughtered 25,100 men from Benjamin who were armed with swords.

Judges 20:36 Then the men of Benjamin realized they were defeated. The Israelites had allowed the men of Benjamin to take back some ground. The Israelites relied on those waiting in ambush near Gibeah.

Judges 20:37 The men in ambush quickly charged toward Gibeah. They spread out in the city and killed everyone.

Judges 20:38 The men of Israel had arranged with those waiting in ambush that they would make a big column of smoke rise from the city as a signal.

Judges 20:39 Then the men of Israel would turn around in the battle. The men of Benjamin had already killed about 30 men of Israel. They even said, "Israel is completely defeated, just like in the first battle."

Judges 20:40 But when the column of smoke started to rise from the city, the men of Benjamin turned around and saw the whole city going up in smoke.

Judges 20:41 Then the men of Israel turned around, and the men of Benjamin panicked. They realized that their evil had overtaken them.

Judges 20:42 They turned in front of Israel toward the road to the desert. But the battle caught up with the men of Benjamin. Israel slaughtered whoever came out of the cities on the road to the desert.

Judges 20:43 They closed in on the men of Benjamin and pursued them without stopping. They overtook them east of Gibeah.

Judges 20:44 There were 18,000 experienced men from Benjamin who died in battle.

Judges 20:45 The others turned and fled into the desert to Rimmon Rock. But the men of Israel killed 5,000 more on the roads. They caught up with another 2,000 and killed them near Gidom.

Judges 20:46 In all, 25,000 men from Benjamin who were armed with swords were killed that day. They were all experienced men.

Judges 20:47 But 600 men turned and fled into the desert to Rimmon Rock. They stayed at Rimmon Rock for four months.

Judges 20:48 Then the men of Israel went back to attack the rest of the territory of Benjamin. They killed all the people and cattle they found in every city. They also burned down every city they came to.

Judges 21:1 The men of Israel had taken this oath in Mizpah: “None of us will ever let our daughters marry anyone from Benjamin.”

Judges 21:2 The people went to Bethel and sat there in the presence of God until evening. They cried very loudly,

Judges 21:3 “LORD God of Israel, why has this happened among us? Why should one tribe be missing today in Israel?”

Judges 21:4 The next day the people got up early. They built an altar there and sacrificed burnt offerings and fellowship offerings.

Judges 21:5 The people asked, “Is there any family from Israel that did not take part in the assembly in the presence of the LORD?” They had taken a solemn oath that whoever had not come into the presence of the LORD at Mizpah must be put to death.

Judges 21:6 The people of Israel felt sorry for their close relatives, the men of Benjamin. They said, “Today one tribe has been excluded from Israel.

Judges 21:7 What will we do to provide wives for the men who are left? We swore to the LORD that we would not let any of our daughters marry them.”

Judges 21:8 Then they asked, “Is there any family from Israel that did not come into the presence of the LORD at Mizpah?” No one from Jabesh Gilead had come to the assembly in the camp.

Judges 21:9 So they questioned the people, and there was no one there from Jabesh Gilead.

Judges 21:10 The congregation sent 12,000 soldiers. They ordered them, “Go and kill the people of Jabesh Gilead, including the women and children.

Judges 21:11 These are your directions: Claim every female who has gone to bed with a man, and claim every male. Claim them for the LORD by destroying them.”

Judges 21:12 Among the people of Jabesh Gilead they found 400 unmarried women who had never gone to bed with a man. They brought them to the camp at Shiloh in Canaan.

Judges 21:13 Then the whole congregation sent messengers to the men of Benjamin at Rimmon Rock and offered them peace.

Judges 21:14 So the men of Benjamin came back at that time. These men were given the women from Jabesh Gilead who had been kept alive. However, the congregation had not found enough women for all of them.

Judges 21:15 The congregation felt sorry for the people of Benjamin because the LORD had broken the unity of the tribes of Israel.

Judges 21:16 The leaders of the congregation asked, “What should we do to provide wives for the men who are left, since the women in Benjamin have been killed?”

Judges 21:17 Some said, “Benjamin’s men who survived must be allowed to have families. No tribe of Israel should be wiped out.

Judges 21:18 However, we can’t give them any of our daughters as wives. The people of Israel have taken an oath that whoever gives wives to the men of Benjamin is under a curse.”

Judges 21:19 Others said, “Every year the LORD’s festival is held at Shiloh. Shiloh is north of Bethel, east of the highway going from Bethel to Shechem, and south of Lebonah.”

Judges 21:20 So they told the men of Benjamin, “Hide in the vineyards and Judges 21:21 watch. When the young women of Shiloh come out to take part in the dances, come out of the vineyards. Each of you catch a woman from Shiloh to be your wife. Then go back to the territory of Benjamin.

Judges 21:22 When their fathers or brothers come to us to complain, we’ll tell them, ‘Have pity on them, since we didn’t provide a wife for each man in the battle. You won’t be guilty because you didn’t give them the wives yourselves.’”

Judges 21:23 The men of Benjamin did just that. They captured the number of wives they needed from the women who were dancing and went home. So they rebuilt their cities and lived in them.

Judges 21:24 At that time the people of Israel left. Each man went to his tribe and family. They all went home.

Judges 21:25 In those days Israel didn’t have a king. Everyone did whatever he considered right.

Ruth

1:1 In the days when the judges were ruling, there was a famine in the land. A man from Bethlehem in Judah went with his wife and two sons to live for a while in the country of Moab.

Ruth 1:2 The man's name was Elimelech, his wife's name was Naomi, and the names of their two sons were Mahlon and Chilion. They were descendants of Ephrathah from Bethlehem in the territory of Judah. They went to the country of Moab and lived there.

Ruth 1:3 Now, Naomi's husband Elimelech died, and she was left alone with her two sons.

Ruth 1:4 Each son married a woman from Moab. One son married a woman named Orpah, and the other son married a woman named Ruth. They lived there for about ten years.

Ruth 1:5 Then both Mahlon and Chilion died as well. So Naomi was left alone, without her two sons or her husband.

Ruth 1:6 Naomi and her daughters-in-law started on the way back from the country of Moab. (While they were still in Moab she heard that the LORD had come to help his people and give them food.

Ruth 1:7 So she left the place where she had been living, and her two daughters-in-law went with her.) They began to walk back along the road to the territory of Judah.

Ruth 1:8 Then Naomi said to her two daughters-in-law, "Go back! Each of you should go back to your mother's home. May the LORD be as kind to you as you were to me and to our loved ones who have died.

Ruth 1:9 May the LORD repay each of you so that you may find security in a home with a husband." When she kissed them goodbye, they began to cry loudly.

Ruth 1:10 They said to her, "We are going back with you to your people."

Ruth 1:11 But Naomi said, "Go back, my daughters. Why should you go with me? Do I have any more sons in my womb who could be your husbands?

Ruth 1:12 Go back, my daughters. Go, because I am too old to get married again. If I said that I still have hope.... And if I had a husband tonight.... And even if I gave birth to sons,

Ruth 1:13 would you wait until they grew up and stay single just for them? No, my daughters. My bitterness is much worse than yours because the LORD has sent me so much trouble."

Ruth 1:14 They began to cry loudly again. Then Orpah kissed her mother-in-law goodbye, but Ruth held on to her tightly.

Ruth 1:15 Naomi said, "Look, your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and to her gods. Go back with your sister-in-law."

Ruth 1:16 But Ruth answered, “Don’t force me to leave you. Don’t make me turn back from following you. Wherever you go, I will go, and wherever you stay, I will stay. Your people will be my people, and your God will be my God.

Ruth 1:17 Wherever you die, I will die, and I will be buried there with you. May the LORD strike me down if anything but death separates you and me!”

Ruth 1:18 When Naomi saw that Ruth was determined to go with her, she ended the conversation.

Ruth 1:19 So both of them went on until they came to Bethlehem. When they entered Bethlehem, the whole town was excited about them. “This can’t be Naomi, can it?” the women asked.

Ruth 1:20 She answered them, “Don’t call me Naomi [Sweet]. Call me Mara [Bitter] because the Almighty has made my life very bitter.

Ruth 1:21 I went away full, but the LORD has brought me back empty. Why do you call me Naomi when the LORD has tormented me and the Almighty has done evil to me?”

Ruth 1:22 When Naomi came back from the country of Moab, Ruth, her Moabite daughter-in-law, came along with her. They happened to enter Bethlehem just when the barley harvest began.

Ruth 2:1 Naomi had a relative. He was from Elimelech’s side of the family. He was a man of outstanding character named Boaz.

Ruth 2:2 Ruth, who was from Moab, said to Naomi, “Please let me go to the field of anyone who will be kind to me. There I will gather the grain left behind by the reapers.” Naomi told her, “Go, my daughter.”

Ruth 2:3 So Ruth went. She entered a field and gathered the grain left behind by the reapers. Now it happened that she ended up in the part of the field that belonged to Boaz, who was from Elimelech’s family.

Ruth 2:4 Just then, Boaz was coming from Bethlehem, and he said to his reapers, “May the LORD be with all of you!” They answered him, “May the LORD bless you!”

Ruth 2:5 Boaz asked the young man in charge of his reapers, “Who is this young woman?”

Ruth 2:6 The young man answered, “She’s a young Moabite woman who came back with Naomi from the country of Moab.

Ruth 2:7 She said, ‘Please let me gather grain. I will only gather among the bundles behind the reapers.’ So she came here and has been on her feet from daybreak until now. She just sat down this minute in the shelter.”

Ruth 2:8 Boaz said to Ruth, “Listen, my daughter. Don’t go in any other field to gather grain, and don’t even leave this one. Stay here with my young women.

Ruth 2:9 Watch where my men are reaping, and follow the young women in that field. I have ordered my young men not to touch you. When you're thirsty, go to the jars and drink some of the water that the young men have drawn."

Ruth 2:10 Ruth immediately bowed down to the ground and said to him, "Why are you so helpful? Why are you paying attention to me? I'm only a foreigner."

Ruth 2:11 Boaz answered her, "People have told me about everything you have done for your mother-in-law after your husband died. They told me how you left your father and mother and the country where you were born. They also told me how you came to people that you didn't know before.

Ruth 2:12 May the LORD reward you for what you have done! May you receive a rich reward from the LORD God of Israel, under whose protection you have come for shelter."

Ruth 2:13 Ruth replied, "Sir, may your kindness to me continue. You have comforted me and reassured me, and I'm not even one of your own servants."

Ruth 2:14 When it was time to eat, Boaz told her, "Come here. Have some bread, and dip it into the sour wine." So she sat beside the reapers, and he handed her some roasted grain. She ate all she wanted and had some left over.

Ruth 2:15 When she got up to gather grain, Boaz ordered his servants, "Let her gather grain even among the bundles. Don't give her any problems.

Ruth 2:16 Even pull some grain out of the bundles and leave it for her to gather. Don't give her a hard time about it."

Ruth 2:17 So Ruth gathered grain in the field until evening. Then she separated the grain from its husks. She had about half a bushel of barley.

Ruth 2:18 She picked it up and went into the town, and her mother-in-law saw what she had gathered. Ruth also took out what she had left over from lunch and gave it to Naomi.

Ruth 2:19 Her mother-in-law asked her, "Where did you gather grain today? Just where did you work? May the man who paid attention to you be blessed." So Ruth told her mother-in-law about the person with whom she worked. She said, "The man I worked with today is named Boaz."

Ruth 2:20 Naomi said to her daughter-in-law, "May the LORD bless him. The LORD hasn't stopped being kind to people-living or dead." Then Naomi told her, "That man is a relative of ours. He is a close relative, one of those responsible for taking care of us."

Ruth 2:21 Ruth, who was from Moab, told her, "He also said to me, 'Stay with my younger workers until they have finished the harvest.'"

Ruth 2:22 Naomi told her daughter-in-law Ruth, “It’s a good idea, my daughter, that you go out to the fields with his young women. If you go to someone else’s field, you may be molested.”

Ruth 2:23 So Ruth stayed with the young women who were working for Boaz. She gathered grain until both the barley harvest and the wheat harvest ended. And she continued to live with her mother-in-law.

Ruth 3:1 Naomi, Ruth’s mother-in-law, said to her, “My daughter, shouldn’t I try to look for a home that would be good for you?

Ruth 3:2 Isn’t Boaz, whose young women you’ve been working with, our relative? He will be separating the barley from its husks on the threshing floor tonight.

Ruth 3:3 Freshen up, put on some perfume, dress up, and go down to the threshing floor. Don’t let him know that you’re there until he’s finished eating and drinking.

Ruth 3:4 When he lies down, notice the place where he is lying. Then uncover his feet, and lie down there. He will make it clear what you must do.”

Ruth 3:5 Ruth answered her, “I will do whatever you say.”

Ruth 3:6 Ruth went to the threshing floor and did exactly as her mother-in-law had directed her.

Ruth 3:7 Boaz had eaten and drunk to his heart’s content, so he went and lay at the edge of a pile of grain. Then she went over to him secretly, uncovered his feet, and lay down.

Ruth 3:8 At midnight the man was shivering. When he turned over, he was surprised to see a woman lying at his feet.

Ruth 3:9 “Who are you?” he asked. She answered, “I am Ruth. Spread the corner of your garment over me because you are a close relative who can take care of me.”

Ruth 3:10 Boaz replied, “May the LORD bless you, my daughter. This last kindness-that you didn’t go after the younger men, whether rich or poor-is better than the first.

Ruth 3:11 Don’t be afraid, my daughter. I will do whatever you say. The whole town knows that you are a woman who has strength of character.

Ruth 3:12 It is true that I am a close relative of yours, but there is a relative closer than I.

Ruth 3:13 Stay here tonight. In the morning if he will agree to take care of you, that is good. He can take care of you. But if he does not wish to take care of you, then, I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, I will take care of you myself. Lie down until morning.”

Ruth 3:14 So Ruth lay at his feet until morning. Then she got up early before anyone could be recognized. At that moment Boaz thought to himself, “I hope that no one will ever know that this woman came to the threshing floor.”

Ruth 3:15 Then Boaz told Ruth, “Stretch out the cape you’re wearing and hold it tight.” So she held it tight while he measured out six measures of barley. Then he placed it on her [back] and went into the town.

Ruth 3:16 When Ruth returned, her mother-in-law Naomi asked, “How did things go, my daughter?” Ruth told Naomi everything the man had done for her.

Ruth 3:17 She said, “He gave me these six measures of barley and told me not to come back to you empty-handed.”

Ruth 3:18 Naomi replied, “Stay here, my daughter, until you know how it turns out. The man won’t rest unless he settles this matter today.”

Ruth 4:1 Boaz went to the city gate and sat there. Just then, the relative about whom he had spoken was passing by. Boaz said, “Please come over here and sit, my friend.” So the man came over and sat down.

Ruth 4:2 Then Boaz chose ten men who were leaders of that city and said, “Sit here.” So they also sat down.

Ruth 4:3 Boaz said to the man, “Naomi, who has come back from the country of Moab, is selling the field that belonged to our relative Elimelech.

Ruth 4:4 So I said that I would inform you. Buy it in the presence of these men sitting here and in the presence of the leaders of our people. If you wish to buy back the property, you can buy back the property. But if you do not wish to buy back the property, tell me. Then I will know that I am next in line because there is no other relative except me.” The man said, “I’ll buy back the property.”

Ruth 4:5 Boaz continued, “When you buy the field from Naomi, you will also assume responsibility for the Moabite Ruth, the dead man’s widow. This keeps the inheritance in the dead man’s name.”

Ruth 4:6 The man replied, “In that case I cannot assume responsibility for her. If I did, I would ruin my inheritance. Take all my rights to buy back the property for yourself, because I cannot assume that responsibility.”

Ruth 4:7 (This is the way it used to be in Israel concerning buying back property and exchanging goods: In order to make every matter legal, a man would take off his sandal and give it to the other man. This was the way a contract was publicly approved in Israel.)

Ruth 4:8 So when the man said to Boaz, “Buy it for yourself,” he took off his sandal.

Ruth 4:9 Then Boaz said to the leaders and to all the people, “Today you are witnesses that I have bought from Naomi all that belonged to Elimelech and all that belonged to Chilion and Mahlon.

Ruth 4:10 In addition, I have bought as my wife the Moabite Ruth, Mahlon’s widow, to keep the inheritance in the dead man’s name. In this way the dead man’s name will not be cut off from his relatives or from the public records. Today you are witnesses.”

Ruth 4:11 All the people who were at the gate, including the leaders, said, “We are witnesses. May the LORD make this wife, who is coming into your home, like Rachel and Leah, both of whom built our family of Israel. So show your strength of character in Ephrathah and make a name for yourself in Bethlehem.

Ruth 4:12 Also, from the descendant whom the LORD will give you from this young woman, may your family become like the family of Perez, the son whom Tamar gave birth to for Judah.”

Ruth 4:13 Then Boaz took Ruth home, and she became his wife. He slept with her, and the LORD gave her the ability to become pregnant. So she gave birth to a son.

Ruth 4:14 The women said to Naomi, “Praise the LORD, who has remembered today to give you someone who will take care of you. The child’s name will be famous in Israel.

Ruth 4:15 He will bring you a new life and support you in your old age. Your daughter-in-law who loves you is better to you than seven sons, because she has given birth.”

Ruth 4:16 Naomi took the child, held him on her lap, and became his guardian.

Ruth 4:17 The women in the neighborhood said, “Naomi has a son.” So they gave him the name Obed. He became the father of Jesse, who was the father of David.

Ruth 4:18 This is the account of Perez and his family. [Perez] was the father of Hezron.

Ruth 4:19 [Hezron] was the father of Ram. [Ram] was the father of Amminadab.

Ruth 4:20 [Amminadab] was the father of Nahshon. [Nahshon] was the father of Salmon.

Ruth 4:21 [Salmon] was the father of Boaz. [Boaz] was the father of Obed.

Ruth 4:22 [Obed] was the father of Jesse. [Jesse] was the father of [David].

1 Samuel

1:1 There was a man named Elkanah from Ramathaim Zophim in the mountains of Ephraim. He was the son of Jeroham, grandson of Elihu, great-grandson of Tohu, whose father was Zuph from the tribe of Ephraim.

1 Samuel 1:2 Elkanah had two wives, one named Hannah, the other Peninnah. Peninnah had children, but Hannah had none.

1 Samuel 1:3 Every year this man would go from his own city to worship and sacrifice to the LORD of Armies at Shiloh. Eli's two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, served there as priests of the LORD.

1 Samuel 1:4 Whenever Elkanah offered a sacrifice, he would give portions of it to his wife Peninnah and all her sons and daughters.

1 Samuel 1:5 He would also give one portion to Hannah because he loved her, even though the LORD had kept her from having children.

1 Samuel 1:6 Because the LORD had made her unable to have children, her rival [Peninnah] tormented her endlessly in order to make her miserable.

1 Samuel 1:7 This happened year after year. Whenever Hannah went to the LORD's house, Peninnah would make her miserable, and Hannah would cry and not eat.

1 Samuel 1:8 Her husband Elkanah would ask her, "Hannah, why are you crying? Why haven't you eaten? Why are you so downhearted? Don't I mean more to you than ten sons?"

1 Samuel 1:9 One day, after Hannah had something to eat and drink in Shiloh, she got up. (The priest Eli was sitting on a chair by the door of the Lord's temple.)

1 Samuel 1:10 Though she was resentful, she prayed to the LORD while she cried.

1 Samuel 1:11 She made this vow, "LORD of Armies, if you will look at my misery, remember me, and give me a boy, then I will give him to you for as long as he lives. A razor will never be used on his head."

1 Samuel 1:12 While Hannah was praying a long time in front of the LORD, Eli was watching her mouth.

1 Samuel 1:13 She was praying silently. Her voice couldn't be heard; only her lips were moving. Eli thought she was drunk.

1 Samuel 1:14 "How long are you going to stay drunk?" Eli asked her. "Get rid of your wine."

1 Samuel 1:15 Hannah responded, "No, sir. I'm not drunk. I'm depressed. I'm pouring out my heart to the LORD.

1 Samuel 1:16 Don't take me to be a good-for-nothing woman. I was praying like this because I've been troubled and tormented."

1 Samuel 1:17 Eli replied, "Go in peace, and may the God of Israel grant your request."

1 Samuel 1:18 "May you continue to be kind to me," she said. Then the woman went her way and ate. She was no longer sad.

1 Samuel 1:19 Early in the morning Elkanah and his family got up and worshiped in front of the LORD. Then they returned home to Ramah. Elkanah made love to his wife Hannah, and the LORD remembered her.

1 Samuel 1:20 Hannah became pregnant and gave birth to a son. She named him Samuel [God Hears], because she said, "I asked the LORD for him."

1 Samuel 1:21 To keep his vow, Elkanah and his entire household again went to offer the annual sacrifice to the LORD.

1 Samuel 1:22 But Hannah didn't go. She told her husband, "I'll wait until the boy is weaned. Then I'll bring him and present him to the LORD, and he'll stay there permanently."

1 Samuel 1:23 "Do what you think is best," her husband Elkanah told her. "Wait until you've weaned him. May the LORD keep his word." The woman stayed and nursed her son until she had weaned him.

1 Samuel 1:24 As soon as she had weaned Samuel, she took him with her. She also brought a three-year-old bull, half a bushel of flour, and a full wineskin. She brought him to the LORD's house at Shiloh while the boy was [still] a child.

1 Samuel 1:25 Then the parents butchered the bull and brought the child to Eli.

1 Samuel 1:26 "Sir," Hannah said, "as sure as you live, I'm the woman who stood here next to you and prayed to the LORD.

1 Samuel 1:27 I prayed for this child, and the LORD granted my request.

1 Samuel 1:28 In return, I am giving him to the LORD. He will be dedicated to the LORD for his whole life." And they worshiped the LORD there.

1 Samuel 2:1 Hannah prayed out loud, "My heart finds joy in the LORD. My head is lifted to the LORD. My mouth mocks my enemies. I rejoice because you saved [me].

1 Samuel 2:2 There is no one holy like the LORD. There is no one but you, O LORD. There is no Rock like our God.

1 Samuel 2:3 "Do not boast [or] let arrogance come out of your mouth because the LORD is a God of knowledge, and he weighs [our] actions.

1 Samuel 2:4 "The bows of the warriors are broken, but those who stumble are armed with strength.

1 Samuel 2:5 Those who were well-fed hire themselves out for a piece of bread, but those who were hungry hunger no more. Even the woman who was childless gives birth to seven children, but the mother of many children grieves all alone.

1 Samuel 2:6 “The LORD kills, and he gives life. He makes [people] go down to the grave, and he raises them up [again].

1 Samuel 2:7 The LORD causes poverty and grants wealth. He humbles [people]; he also promotes them.

1 Samuel 2:8 He raises the poor from the dust. He lifts the needy from the trash heap in order to make them sit with nobles and even to make them inherit a glorious throne. “The pillars of the earth are the LORD’s. He has set the world on them.

1 Samuel 2:9 He safeguards the steps of his faithful ones, but wicked people are silenced in darkness because humans cannot succeed by their own strength.

1 Samuel 2:10 “Those who oppose the LORD are broken into pieces. He thunders at them from the heavens. The LORD judges the ends of the earth. He gives strength to his King and lifts the head of his Messiah.”

1 Samuel 2:11 Then Elkanah went home to Ramah. But the boy [Samuel] served the LORD under the priest Eli.

1 Samuel 2:12 Eli’s sons, [Hophni and Phinehas,] were good-for-nothing priests; they had no faith in the LORD.

1 Samuel 2:13 Now, this was how the priests dealt with the people who were offering sacrifices: While the meat was boiling, the priest’s servant would come with a three-pronged fork in his hand.

1 Samuel 2:14 Then he would stick it into the pot, kettle, cauldron, or pan. Whatever the fork brought up [from the pot] belonged to the priest. This is what the priests did in Shiloh to all the people of Israel who came there [to sacrifice].

1 Samuel 2:15 But [in the case of Eli’s sons,] even before the people burned the fat, their servants would come and say to the man who was sacrificing, “Give the meat to the priest to roast. He doesn’t want boiled meat from you. He wants it raw.”

1 Samuel 2:16 If the man said to the servant, “First let the fat be burned, then take as much as you want,” the servant would say to him, “Give it to me now, or I’ll take it by force.”

1 Samuel 2:17 The sin of Eli’s sons was a serious matter to the LORD, because these men were treating the offerings made to the LORD with contempt.

1 Samuel 2:18 Meanwhile, Samuel continued to serve in front of the LORD. As a boy he was [already] wearing a linen ephod.

1 Samuel 2:19 His mother would make him a robe and bring it to him every year when she went with her husband to offer the annual sacrifice.

1 Samuel 2:20 Eli would bless Elkanah (and his wife) and say, “May the Lord give you children from this woman in place of the one which she has given to the Lord.” Then they would go home.

1 Samuel 2:21 The Lord came to Hannah. She became pregnant [five times] and had three sons and two daughters. Meanwhile, the boy Samuel grew up in front of the Lord.

1 Samuel 2:22 Now, Eli was very old, and he had heard everything that his sons were doing to all Israel and that they were sleeping with the women who served at the gate of the tent of meeting.

1 Samuel 2:23 So he asked them, “Why are you doing such things? I hear about your wicked ways from all these people.

1 Samuel 2:24 Sons, the report that I hear the people of the LORD spreading isn’t good!

1 Samuel 2:25 If one person sins against another, God will take care of him. However, when a person sins against the LORD, who will pray for him?” But they wouldn’t listen to their father’s warning-the LORD wanted to kill them.

1 Samuel 2:26 The boy Samuel continued to grow and gained the favor of the LORD and the people.

1 Samuel 2:27 Then a man of God came to Eli and said to him, “This is what the LORD says: I revealed myself to your ancestors when they were under Pharaoh’s control in Egypt.

1 Samuel 2:28 I chose [one of your ancestors] out of all the tribes of Israel to serve as my priest, to sacrifice burnt offerings on my altar, to burn incense, and to wear the ephod in my presence. And I gave your ancestors the right to keep portions of the sacrifices that the people of Israel burned on the altar.

1 Samuel 2:29 Why do you show no respect for my sacrifices and grain offerings that I have commanded people to make in my dwelling place? Why do you honor your sons more than me by making yourselves fat on the best of all the sacrifices offered by my people Israel?

1 Samuel 2:30 “Therefore, the LORD God of Israel declares: I certainly thought that your family and your father’s family would always live in my presence. “But now the LORD declares: I promise that I will honor those who honor me, and those who despise me will be considered insignificant.

1 Samuel 2:31 The time is coming when I will break your strength and the strength of your father’s house so that no one will grow old in your family.

1 Samuel 2:32 You will see distress in my dwelling place. In spite of the good that I do for Israel, no one in your family will live to an old age.

1 Samuel 2:33 Any man in your family whom I do not remove from my altar will have his eyes fail, and he will be heartbroken. And all your descendants will die in the prime of life.

1 Samuel 2:34 What is going to happen to your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, will be a sign to you: Both of them will die on the same day.

1 Samuel 2:35 Then I will appoint a faithful priest to serve me. He will do everything I want him to do. I will give him faithful descendants, and he will always live as my anointed one.

1 Samuel 2:36 Then anyone who is left from your household will bow down in front of him to get a coin or a loaf of bread and say, 'Please appoint me to one of the priestly classes so that I may eat a piece of bread.'"

1 Samuel 3:1 The boy Samuel was serving the LORD under Eli. In those days a prophecy from the LORD was rare; visions were infrequent.

1 Samuel 3:2 One night Eli was lying down in his room. His eyesight had begun to fail so that he couldn't see well.

1 Samuel 3:3 The lamp in God's temple hadn't gone out yet, and Samuel was asleep in the temple of the LORD where the ark of God was kept.

1 Samuel 3:4 Then the LORD called Samuel. "Here I am," Samuel responded.

1 Samuel 3:5 He ran to Eli and said, "Here I am. You called me." "I didn't call [you]," Eli replied. "Go back to bed." So Samuel went back and lay down.

1 Samuel 3:6 The LORD called Samuel again. Samuel got up, went to Eli, and said, "Here I am. You called me." "I didn't call [you], son," he responded. "Go back to bed."

1 Samuel 3:7 Samuel had no experience with the LORD, because the word of the LORD had not yet been revealed to him.

1 Samuel 3:8 The LORD called Samuel a third time. Samuel got up, went to Eli, and said, "Here I am. You called me." Then Eli realized that the LORD was calling the boy.

1 Samuel 3:9 "Go, lie down," Eli told Samuel. "When he calls you, say, 'Speak, LORD. I'm listening.' " So Samuel went and lay down in his room.

1 Samuel 3:10 The LORD came and stood there. He called as he had called the other times: "Samuel! Samuel!" And Samuel replied, "Speak. I'm listening."

1 Samuel 3:11 Then the LORD said to Samuel, "I am going to do something in Israel that will make the ears of everyone who hears it ring.

1 Samuel 3:12 On that day I am going to do to Eli and his family everything I said from beginning to end.

1 Samuel 3:13 I told him that I would hand down a permanent judgment against his household because he knew about his sons' sin-that they were cursing God-but he didn't try to stop them.

1 Samuel 3:14 That is why I have taken an oath concerning Eli's family line: No offering or sacrifice will ever [be able to] make peace for the sins that Eli's family committed."

1 Samuel 3:15 Samuel remained in bed until morning. Then he opened the doors of the LORD's house. But Samuel was afraid to tell Eli about the vision.

1 Samuel 3:16 Then Eli called Samuel. "Samuel, my son!" he said. "Here I am," he responded.

1 Samuel 3:17 "What did the LORD tell you?" he asked. "Please don't hide anything from me. May God strike you dead if you hide anything he told you from me."

1 Samuel 3:18 So Samuel told Eli everything. Eli replied, "He is the LORD. May he do what he thinks is right."

1 Samuel 3:19 Samuel grew up. The LORD was with him and didn't let any of his words go unfulfilled.

1 Samuel 3:20 All Israel from Dan to Beersheba knew Samuel was the LORD's appointed prophet.

1 Samuel 3:21 The LORD continued to appear in Shiloh, since the LORD revealed himself to Samuel in Shiloh through the word of the LORD. And Samuel spoke to all Israel.

1 Samuel 4:1 Israel went to fight against the Philistines and camped near Ebenezer while the Philistines camped at Aphek.

1 Samuel 4:2 The Philistines organized their troops to meet Israel in battle. As the battle spread, the Philistines defeated Israel and killed about 4,000 soldiers in the field.

1 Samuel 4:3 When the troops came back to the camp, the leaders of Israel asked, "Why has the LORD used the Philistines to defeat us today? Let's get the ark of the LORD's promise from Shiloh so that he may be with us and save us from our enemies."

1 Samuel 4:4 The troops sent some men who brought back the ark of the promise of the LORD of Armies-who is enthroned over the angels. Eli's two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, came along with God's ark.

1 Samuel 4:5 When the LORD's ark came into the camp, all Israel shouted so loudly that the earth rang with echoes.

1 Samuel 4:6 As the Philistines heard the noise, they asked, "What's [all] this shouting in the Hebrew camp?" The Philistines found out that the LORD's ark had come into the camp.

1 Samuel 4:7 Then they were frightened and said, “A god has come into [their] camp.” They also said, “Oh no! Nothing like this has ever happened before.

1 Samuel 4:8 We’re in trouble now! Who can save us from the power of these mighty gods? These are the gods who struck the Egyptians with every kind of plague in the desert.

1 Samuel 4:9 Be strong, Philistines, and act like men, or else you will serve the Hebrews as they served you. Act like men and fight.”

1 Samuel 4:10 The Philistines fought and defeated Israel. Every [Israelite] soldier fled to his tent. It was a major defeat in which 30,000 Israelite foot soldiers died.

1 Samuel 4:11 The ark of God was captured. Both of Eli’s sons, Hophni and Phinehas, died.

1 Samuel 4:12 A man from the tribe of Benjamin ran from the front line of the battle. He went to Shiloh that day with his clothes torn and dirt on his head.

1 Samuel 4:13 When he arrived, Eli was sitting on a chair beside the road, watching. He was worried about the ark of God. The man went into the city to tell the news. The whole city cried out.

1 Samuel 4:14 Hearing the cry, Eli asked, “What is this commotion?” So the man went quickly to tell Eli the news.

1 Samuel 4:15 (Eli was 98 years old, and his eyesight had failed so that he couldn’t see.)

1 Samuel 4:16 The man told Eli, “I’m the one who came from the battle. I fled from the front line today.” “What happened, son?” Eli asked.

1 Samuel 4:17 “Israel fled from the Philistines,” the messenger answered. “Our troops suffered heavy casualties. Your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, also are dead, and the ark of God has been captured.”

1 Samuel 4:18 When the messenger mentioned the ark of God, Eli fell from his chair backwards toward the gate. He broke his neck, and he died. (The man was old and heavy.) He had judged Israel for 40 years.

1 Samuel 4:19 His daughter-in-law, Phinehas’ wife, was pregnant. When she heard the news that the ark of God had been captured and her father-in-law and her husband were dead, she went into labor prematurely and gave birth to a son.

1 Samuel 4:20 As she was dying, the women helping her said, “Don’t be afraid. You’ve given birth to a son.” But she didn’t answer or pay attention.

1 Samuel 4:21 She called the boy Ichabod [No Glory], saying, “Israel’s glory is gone,” because the ark of God had been captured and because her father-in-law and her husband [died].

1 Samuel 4:22 “Israel’s glory is gone because the ark of God has been captured,” she said.

1 Samuel 5:1 After the Philistines had captured the ark of God, they brought it from Ebenezer to Ashdod.

1 Samuel 5:2 They brought it into the temple of Dagon and placed it beside Dagon.

1 Samuel 5:3 Early the next day the people of Ashdod saw that Dagon had fallen forward on the ground in front of the LORD’s ark. So they took Dagon and put him back in his place.

1 Samuel 5:4 But the next morning they saw that Dagon had [again] fallen forward on the ground in front of the LORD’s ark. Dagon’s head and his two hands were cut off [and were lying] on the temple’s threshold. The rest of Dagon’s body was intact.

1 Samuel 5:5 This is why the priests of Dagon and everyone else who comes into Dagon’s temple in Ashdod still don’t step on the temple’s threshold.

1 Samuel 5:6 The LORD dealt harshly with the people of Ashdod. He destroyed them by striking the people in the vicinity of Ashdod with tumors.

1 Samuel 5:7 When the people of Ashdod realized what was happening, they said, “The ark of the God of Israel must not stay with us, because their God is dealing harshly with us and our god Dagon.”

1 Samuel 5:8 The people of Ashdod called together all the Philistine rulers. “What should we do with the ark of the God of Israel?” they asked. “The ark of the God of Israel must be taken to Gath,” the rulers said. So the people took the ark of the God of Israel there.

1 Samuel 5:9 But after they had moved it, the LORD threw the city into a great panic: He struck all the important and unimportant people in the city, and they were covered with tumors.

1 Samuel 5:10 So the people of Gath sent the ark of God to Ekron. But when the ark of God came to Ekron, the people of Ekron cried out, “They brought the ark of the God of Israel here to kill us.”

1 Samuel 5:11 They called together all the Philistine rulers. “Send the ark of the God of Israel away,” they said. “Let it go back to its own place so that it won’t kill us or our people.” There was a fear of death throughout the city, where God dealt [with them] very harshly.

1 Samuel 5:12 The people who didn’t die were struck with tumors. So the cry of the city went up to heaven.

1 Samuel 6:1 The ark of the LORD had been in Philistine territory seven months

1 Samuel 6:2 when the Philistines called for priests and people skilled in explaining omens. The Philistines asked, “What should we do with the ark of the LORD? Tell us how to return it to its [proper] place.”

1 Samuel 6:3 The priests answered, “If you’re returning the ark of the God of Israel, don’t send it away empty, but by all means return it to its [proper] place with a guilt offering. Then you will be healed, and you will know why he would not turn his anger away from you.”

1 Samuel 6:4 The Philistines asked, “What kind of guilt offering should we give him?” The priests answered, “Five gold tumors and five gold mice for the [five] Philistine rulers because all of you and your rulers suffer from the same plague.

1 Samuel 6:5 Make models of your tumors and your mice which are destroying the country, and give glory to the God of Israel. Maybe he will no longer be so hard on you, your gods, and your country.

1 Samuel 6:6 Why should you be as stubborn as the Egyptians and their Pharaoh were? After he toyed with the Egyptians, didn’t they send the Israelites on their way?

1 Samuel 6:7 Now get a new cart ready for two dairy cows that have never been yoked. Hitch the cows to the cart. Take their calves away, and leave them in their stall.

1 Samuel 6:8 Take the ark of the LORD, and put it on the cart. Put the gold objects which you’re giving him as a guilt offering in a box beside the ark. Send the cart on its way,

1 Samuel 6:9 but then watch where it goes. If it goes up the road to its own country toward Beth Shemesh, then this disaster is the LORD’s doing. But if not, we’ll know it wasn’t his hand that struck us, but what happened to us was an accident.”

1 Samuel 6:10 The people did this. They took two dairy cows, hitched them to a cart, and shut the calves in the stall.

1 Samuel 6:11 They put the ark of the LORD and the box containing the gold mice and the models of their hemorrhoids on the cart.

1 Samuel 6:12 The cows went straight up the road to Beth Shemesh. Continually mooing, they stayed on the road and didn’t turn right or left. The rulers of the Philistines followed them to the border of Beth Shemesh.

1 Samuel 6:13 The people of Beth Shemesh were harvesting wheat in the valley. When they looked up and saw the ark, they were overjoyed.

1 Samuel 6:14 The cart came into the field of Joshua of Beth Shemesh and stopped there by a large rock. The people chopped up the wood of the cart and sacrificed the cows as a burnt offering to the LORD.

1 Samuel 6:15 (The Levites had already taken down [from the cart] the ark of the LORD and the box which contained the gold objects and put them on the large rock.) The people of Beth Shemesh presented burnt offerings and sacrifices to the LORD that day.

1 Samuel 6:16 After the five rulers of the Philistines saw this, they went back to Ekron that same day.

1 Samuel 6:17 The gold hemorrhoids which the Philistines sent as a guilt offering to the LORD were for the cities of Ashdod, Gaza, Ashkelon, Gath, and Ekron.

1 Samuel 6:18 And the number of gold mice was the same as the number of Philistine cities belonging to the five rulers, including walled cities and farm villages. The large rock on which they put the ark of the LORD is a witness. It is still there today in the field of Joshua of Beth Shemesh.

1 Samuel 6:19 God struck down some of the people from Beth Shemesh because they looked inside the ark of the LORD. He struck down 70 people. The people mourned because the LORD struck them with such a great blow.

1 Samuel 6:20 The people of Beth Shemesh asked, "Who can stand before the LORD, this holy God? And to which people will he go when he leaves us?"

1 Samuel 6:21 They sent messengers to the people living at Kiriath Jearim to say, "The Philistines have brought back the ark of the LORD. Come and take it back with you."

1 Samuel 7:1 The men of Kiriath Jearim came to take the LORD's ark and brought it into Abinadab's house on the hill. They gave Abinadab's son Eleazar the holy occupation of guarding the LORD's ark.

1 Samuel 7:2 A long time passed after the ark came to stay at Kiriath Jearim. For 20 years the entire nation of Israel mournfully sought the LORD.

1 Samuel 7:3 Samuel told the entire nation of Israel, "If you are returning to the LORD wholeheartedly, get rid of the foreign gods you have, including the statues of the goddess Astarte. Make a commitment to the LORD, and serve only him. Then he will rescue you from the Philistines."

1 Samuel 7:4 So the Israelites got rid of the statues of Baal and Astarte and served only the LORD.

1 Samuel 7:5 Then Samuel said, "Gather all the Israelites together at Mizpah, and I will pray to the LORD for you."

1 Samuel 7:6 So the Israelites gathered together at Mizpah. They drew some water, poured it out in front of the LORD, and fasted that day. They confessed, "We have sinned against the LORD." So Samuel judged Israel in Mizpah.

1 Samuel 7:7 When the Philistines heard that the Israelites had gathered at Mizpah, the Philistine rulers came to attack Israel. The Israelites heard [about the Philistine plan] and were afraid of them.

1 Samuel 7:8 The Israelites said to Samuel, "Don't turn a deaf ear to us! Don't stop crying to the LORD our God for us! Ask him to save us from the Philistines!"

1 Samuel 7:9 Then Samuel took a lamb, one still feeding on milk, and sacrificed it as a burnt offering to the LORD. Samuel cried to the LORD on behalf of Israel, and the LORD answered him.

1 Samuel 7:10 While Samuel was sacrificing the burnt offering, the Philistines came to fight against Israel. On that day the LORD thundered loudly at the Philistines and threw them into such confusion that they were defeated by Israel.

1 Samuel 7:11 Israel's soldiers left Mizpah, pursued the Philistines, and killed them as far as Beth Car.

1 Samuel 7:12 Then Samuel took a rock and set it up between Mizpah and Shen. He named it Ebenezer [Rock of Help] and said, "Until now the LORD has helped us."

1 Samuel 7:13 The power of the Philistines was crushed, so they didn't come into Israel's territory again. The LORD restrained the Philistines as long as Samuel lived.

1 Samuel 7:14 The cities between Ekron and Gath which the Philistines took from Israel were returned to Israel. And Israel recovered the territory controlled by these cities from the Philistines. There was also peace between Israel and the Amorites.

1 Samuel 7:15 Samuel judged Israel as long as he lived.

1 Samuel 7:16 Every year he went around to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah in order to judge Israel in all those places.

1 Samuel 7:17 Then he would return home to Ramah. There, too, he judged Israel. And in Ramah he built an altar to the LORD.

1 Samuel 8:1 When Samuel was old, he made his sons judges over Israel.

1 Samuel 8:2 The name of his firstborn son was Joel; the name of his second son was Abijah. They were judges in Beersheba.

1 Samuel 8:3 The sons didn't follow their father's example but turned to dishonest ways of making money. They took bribes and denied people justice.

1 Samuel 8:4 Then all the leaders of Israel gathered together and came to Samuel at Ramah.

1 Samuel 8:5 They told him, "You're old, and your sons aren't following your example. Now appoint a king to judge us so that we will be like all the other nations."

1 Samuel 8:6 But Samuel considered it wrong for them to request a king to judge them. So Samuel prayed to the LORD.

1 Samuel 8:7 The LORD told Samuel, "Listen to everything the people are saying to you. They haven't rejected you; they've rejected me.

1 Samuel 8:8 They're doing just what they've done since I took them out of Egypt-leaving me and serving other gods.

1 Samuel 8:9 Listen to them now, but be sure to warn them and tell them about the rights of a king."

1 Samuel 8:10 Then Samuel told the people who had asked him for a king everything the LORD had said.

1 Samuel 8:11 Samuel said, "These are the rights of a king: He will draft your sons, make them serve on his chariots and horses, and make them run ahead of his chariots.

1 Samuel 8:12 He will appoint them to be his officers over 1,000 or over 50 soldiers, to plow his ground and harvest his crops, and to make weapons and equipment for his chariots.

1 Samuel 8:13 He will take your daughters and have them make perfumes, cook, and bake.

1 Samuel 8:14 He will take the best of your fields, vineyards, and olive orchards and give them to his officials.

1 Samuel 8:15 He will take a tenth of your grain and wine and give it to his aids and officials.

1 Samuel 8:16 He will take your male and female slaves, your best cattle, and your donkeys for his own use.

1 Samuel 8:17 He will take a tenth of your flocks. In addition, you will be his servants.

1 Samuel 8:18 "When that day comes, you will cry out because of the king whom you have chosen for yourselves. The LORD will not answer you when that day comes."

1 Samuel 8:19 But the people refused to listen to Samuel. They said, "No, we want a king!

1 Samuel 8:20 Then we, too, will be like all the other nations. Our king will judge us, lead us out [to war], and fight our battles."

1 Samuel 8:21 When Samuel heard everything the people had to say, he reported it privately to the LORD.

1 Samuel 8:22 The LORD told him, "Listen to them, and give them a king." Then Samuel told the people of Israel, "Go [back] to your own cities."

1 Samuel 9:1 There was a man from the tribe of Benjamin whose name was Kish. He was a son of Abiel, grandson of Zeror, and great-grandson of Becorath, whose father was Aphiah, a descendant of Benjamin. Kish was a powerful man.

1 Samuel 9:2 He had a son named Saul, a handsome, young man. No man in Israel was more handsome than Saul. He stood a head taller than everyone else.

1 Samuel 9:3 When some donkeys belonging to Saul's father Kish were lost, Kish told Saul, "Take one of the servants with you, and go look for the donkeys."

1 Samuel 9:4 They went through the mountains of Ephraim and the region of Shalisha without finding the donkeys. Then Saul and his servant went through the region of Shaalim, but the donkeys weren't there. The men went through the territory of Benjamin but [still] didn't find them.

1 Samuel 9:5 When they came to the territory of Zuph, Saul told his servant who was with him, "Let's go back, or my father will stop worrying about the donkeys and worry about us [instead]."

1 Samuel 9:6 The servant responded, "There's a man of God in this city, a highly respected man. Everything he says is sure to happen. Let's go there. Maybe he'll tell us which way we should go."

1 Samuel 9:7 "If we go," Saul asked his servant, "what could we bring the man since the food in our sacks is gone? There's no present we can bring the man of God. What do we have?"

1 Samuel 9:8 The servant again answered Saul, "Look, here! I have one-tenth of an ounce of silver. I'll give it to the man of God. Then he'll tell us where to find the donkeys."

1 Samuel 9:9 (Formerly in Israel, when a person went to ask God [a question], he would say, "Come, let's go to the seer," because a person we now call a prophet used to be called a seer.)

1 Samuel 9:10 Saul told his servant, "That's a good idea! Come on, let's go." They went to the city where the man of God was.

1 Samuel 9:11 As they were going up the hill to the city, they met girls coming out to get water. They asked the girls, "Is the seer here?"

1 Samuel 9:12 The girls answered, "He's there ahead of you. Hurry! He [just] went into the city today since the people are offering a sacrifice on the worship site.

1 Samuel 9:13 As you go into the city, you can find him before he goes to the worship site to eat. The people will not eat until he comes, since he blesses the sacrifice. Then those who are invited may eat. Go. You should be able to find him now."

1 Samuel 9:14 So Saul and his servant went to the city. As they entered it, Samuel was coming toward them on his way to the worship site.

1 Samuel 9:15 Now, the LORD had revealed the following message to Samuel one day before Saul came:

1 Samuel 9:16 "About this time tomorrow I will send you a man from the territory of Benjamin. Anoint him to be ruler of my people Israel. He will save my people from the Philistines because I've seen my people's [suffering] and their cry has come to me."

1 Samuel 9:17 When Samuel noticed Saul, the LORD told him, "There's the man I told you about. This man will govern my people."

1 Samuel 9:18 Saul approached Samuel inside the gateway and said, “Please tell me where the seer’s house is.”

1 Samuel 9:19 Samuel replied, “I’m the seer. Go ahead of me to the worship site. You will eat with me today. In the morning I’ll let you go after I tell you all that’s on your mind.

1 Samuel 9:20 Don’t trouble yourself about the donkeys that were lost three days ago because they’ve been found. Who will have all that is desirable in Israel? Won’t it be you and your father’s family?”

1 Samuel 9:21 Saul replied, “I am a man from the tribe of Benjamin, the smallest tribe of Israel. My family is the most insignificant of all the families of the tribe of Benjamin. So why are you saying such things to me?”

1 Samuel 9:22 Samuel brought Saul and his servant to the banquet hall and had them sit at the head of the guests-about 30 people.

1 Samuel 9:23 Samuel said to the cook, “Bring me the portion of the sacrificial meat that I gave you and told you to put aside.”

1 Samuel 9:24 So the cook picked up the leg and thigh and laid it in front of Saul. Samuel said, “This was kept in order to be laid in front of you. Eat it. When I invited people to the feast, I set it aside for you.” Saul ate with Samuel that day.

1 Samuel 9:25 Then they left the worship site for the city. They spread blankets on the roof for Saul, and he slept there.

1 Samuel 9:26 At dawn Samuel called to Saul on the roof, “Get up! [It’s time for] me to send you away.” Saul got up, and both he and Samuel went outside.

1 Samuel 9:27 As they were going toward the city limits, Samuel told Saul, “Have the servant go ahead of you.” (He went ahead.) “But you stay here, and I will tell you God’s word.”

1 Samuel 10:1 Samuel took a flask of olive oil, poured it on Saul’s head, kissed him, and said, “The LORD has anointed you to be ruler of his people Israel. You will rule his people and save them from all their enemies. This will be the sign that the LORD has anointed you to be ruler of his people.

1 Samuel 10:2 When you leave me today, two men will be at Rachel’s grave on the border of Benjamin at Zelzah. They’ll tell you, ‘We’ve found the donkeys you went looking for. Your father no longer cares about them. Instead, he’s worried about you. He keeps asking, “What can I do [to find] my son?”‘

1 Samuel 10:3 Keep going until you come to the oak tree at Tabor. There you will find three men on their way to worship God at Bethel: One will be carrying three young goats, one will be carrying three loaves of bread, and one will be carrying a [full] wineskin.

1 Samuel 10:4 They will greet you and give you two loaves of bread, which you should accept from them.

1 Samuel 10:5 After that, you will come to the hill of God, where the Philistines have a military post. When you arrive at the city, you will meet a group of prophets prophesying as they come from the worship site. They will be led by men playing a harp, a tambourine, a flute, and a lyre.

1 Samuel 10:6 Then the LORD's Spirit will come over you. You will be a different person while you prophesy with them.

1 Samuel 10:7 When these signs happen to you, do what you must, because God is with you.

1 Samuel 10:8 Go ahead of me to Gilgal. Then I will come to sacrifice burnt offerings and make fellowship offerings. Wait seven days until I come to tell you what to do."

1 Samuel 10:9 When Saul turned around to leave Samuel, God changed Saul's attitude. That day all these signs happened.

1 Samuel 10:10 When Saul came to the hill, a group of prophets came to meet him, and God's Spirit came over him. He prophesied with them.

1 Samuel 10:11 When all who had known him before saw how he prophesied with the prophets, the people asked one another, "What has happened to the son of Kish? Is Saul one of the prophets?"

1 Samuel 10:12 But a man from that place asked, "But who's the chief prophet?" So it became a proverb: "Is Saul one of the prophets?"

1 Samuel 10:13 And when he had finished prophesying, he came to the worship site.

1 Samuel 10:14 Saul's uncle asked him and his servant, "Where did you go?" Saul answered, "To look for the donkeys, and when we couldn't find them, we went to Samuel."

1 Samuel 10:15 Saul's uncle said, "Please tell me what Samuel said to you."

1 Samuel 10:16 "He assured us the donkeys had been found," Saul answered his uncle. But Saul didn't tell him what Samuel said [about his becoming king].

1 Samuel 10:17 Samuel called the people to [come into the presence of] the LORD at Mizpah.

1 Samuel 10:18 He said to the Israelites, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: I brought Israel out of Egypt and rescued you from the power of the Egyptians and all the kings who were oppressing you.

1 Samuel 10:19 But now you have rejected your God, who saves you from all your troubles and distresses. You said, 'No! Place a king over us.' Now then, stand in front of the LORD by your tribes and family groups."

1 Samuel 10:20 When Samuel had all the tribes of Israel come forward, the tribe of Benjamin was chosen.

1 Samuel 10:21 When he had the tribe of Benjamin come forward by families, the family of Matri was chosen. Then Saul, the son of Kish, was chosen. They looked for him but couldn't find him.

1 Samuel 10:22 They asked the LORD again, "Has he arrived here yet?" The LORD answered, "He's hiding among the baggage."

1 Samuel 10:23 They ran and got him from there. As he stood among the people, he was a head taller than everyone else.

1 Samuel 10:24 Samuel asked the people, "Do you see whom the LORD has chosen? There is no one like him among all the people." Then all the people shouted, "Long live the king!"

1 Samuel 10:25 Samuel explained the laws concerning kingship to the people. He wrote the laws on a scroll, which he placed in front of the LORD. Then Samuel sent the people back to their homes.

1 Samuel 10:26 Saul also went home to Gibeah. With him went some soldiers whose hearts God had touched.

1 Samuel 10:27 However, some good-for-nothing people asked, "How can this man save us?" They despised him and wouldn't bring him presents, but he didn't respond.

1 Samuel 11:1 King Nahash of Ammon was severely oppressing the tribes of Gad and Reuben. He would poke out everyone's right eye and allow no one to rescue Israel. There was no one among the Israelites east of the Jordan River whose right eye King Nahash of Ammon had not poked out. However, seven thousand men had escaped from the Ammonites and gone to Jabesh Gilead. About a month later Nahash the Ammonite blockaded Jabesh Gilead. All the men of Jabesh said to Nahash, "Make a treaty with us, and we'll serve you."

1 Samuel 11:2 Nahash the Ammonite responded, "I'll make a treaty with you on this one condition: I'll poke out everyone's right eye and bring disgrace on all Israel."

1 Samuel 11:3 The leaders of Jabesh told him, "Give us seven days so that we can send messengers throughout the territory of Israel. And if there's no one to save us, we'll surrender to you."

1 Samuel 11:4 The messengers came to Saul's town, Gibeah. When they told the people the news, the people cried loudly.

1 Samuel 11:5 Just then Saul was coming from the field behind some oxen. "Why are these people crying?" Saul asked. So they told him the news about the men of Jabesh.

1 Samuel 11:6 When he heard this news, God's Spirit came over him, and he became very angry.

1 Samuel 11:7 Saul took a pair of oxen, cut them in pieces, and sent them by messengers throughout the territory of Israel with the following message: “This is what will be done to the oxen of anyone who doesn’t follow Saul and Samuel [into battle].” So the people became terrified by the LORD, and they came out united [behind Saul].

1 Samuel 11:8 When Saul counted them at Bezek, there were 300,000 troops from Israel and 30,000 troops from Judah.

1 Samuel 11:9 They told the messengers who had come, “This is what you are to say to the men of Jabesh Gilead: ‘Tomorrow, by the time the sun gets hot, you will be rescued.’ “ When the men of Jabesh received the message, they were overjoyed.

1 Samuel 11:10 They said [to Nahash], “Tomorrow we’ll surrender to you, and you may do to us whatever you think is right.”

1 Samuel 11:11 The next day Saul arranged the army in three divisions. They came into the [Ammonite] camp during the morning hours and continued to defeat the Ammonites until it got hot that day. The survivors were so scattered that no two of them were left together.

1 Samuel 11:12 Then the people asked Samuel, “Who said that Saul shouldn’t rule us? Let us have them, and we’ll kill them.”

1 Samuel 11:13 But Saul said, “No one will be killed today, because today the LORD saved Israel.”

1 Samuel 11:14 Samuel told the troops, “Come, let’s go to Gilgal and there acknowledge [Saul’s] kingship.”

1 Samuel 11:15 Then all the troops went to Gilgal, and there in the LORD’s presence, they confirmed Saul as their king. There they sacrificed fellowship offerings to the LORD. Saul and all of Israel’s soldiers celebrated.

1 Samuel 12:1 Then Samuel said to all Israel, “I have listened to everything you have said to me and appointed a king over you.

1 Samuel 12:2 And now, here is the king who will lead you. I am old and gray, but my sons are with you. I have led you from my youth until this day.

1 Samuel 12:3 Here I am. Testify against me in front of the LORD and in front of his anointed king. Did I take anyone’s ox? Did I take anyone’s donkey? Did I cheat or oppress anyone? Did I take a bribe from anyone to look the other way? [If so,] I will give it all back.”

1 Samuel 12:4 They answered, “You didn’t cheat us, oppress us, or take anything from anyone.”

1 Samuel 12:5 Samuel told them, “The LORD is a witness to what you’ve said, and his anointed king is a witness today that you’ve found nothing in my hands.” “He is a witness,” they answered.

1 Samuel 12:6 Samuel told the people, “The LORD appointed Moses and Aaron and brought your ancestors out of Egypt.

1 Samuel 12:7 Now, stand up while I put you on trial in front of the LORD and cite all the righteous things the LORD did for you and your ancestors.

1 Samuel 12:8 When your ancestors went with Jacob to Egypt [and were oppressed], they cried out to the LORD, who sent Moses and Aaron to bring them out of Egypt. The LORD settled them in this place.

1 Samuel 12:9 But they forgot the LORD their God. So he handed them over to Sisera, who was the commander of the army of Hazor, to the Philistines, and to the king of Moab. All of them fought against your ancestors.

1 Samuel 12:10 Then they cried out to the LORD and said, 'We have sinned. We have abandoned the LORD and served other gods and goddesses-the Baals and the Astartes. But rescue us from our enemies now, and we will serve you.'

1 Samuel 12:11 "Then the LORD sent Jerubbaal, Bedan, Jephthah, and Samuel and rescued you from your enemies on every side so that you could live securely.

1 Samuel 12:12 But when you saw King Nahash of Ammon coming to attack you, you told me, 'No, a king should rule over us,' though the LORD your God was your king.

1 Samuel 12:13 "Now, here is the king you have chosen, the one you asked for. See, the LORD has put a king over you.

1 Samuel 12:14 If you fear the LORD, serve him, obey him, and don't rebel against what he says, then you and your king will follow the LORD your God.

1 Samuel 12:15 But if you don't obey the LORD, if you rebel against what he says, then the LORD will be against you as he was against your ancestors.

1 Samuel 12:16 Now then, stand still and watch this great thing the LORD is going to do right before your eyes.

1 Samuel 12:17 Isn't the wheat being harvested today? I will call on the LORD, and he'll send thunder and rain. Then you will realize what a wicked thing you did in the LORD's presence when you asked for a king."

1 Samuel 12:18 Then Samuel called on the LORD. That day the LORD sent thunder and rain so that all the people feared the LORD and Samuel very much.

1 Samuel 12:19 All the people pleaded with Samuel, "Pray to the LORD your God for us so that we will not die. We have added [another] evil thing to all our other sins by asking for a king."

1 Samuel 12:20 "Don't be afraid," Samuel told the people. "You did do all these evil things. But don't turn away from the LORD. Instead, serve the LORD wholeheartedly.

1 Samuel 12:21 Don’t turn away to follow other gods. They can’t help or rescue you, because they don’t exist.

1 Samuel 12:22 For the sake of his great name, the LORD will not abandon his people, because the LORD wants to make you his people.

1 Samuel 12:23 It would be unthinkable for me to sin against the LORD by failing to pray for you. I will go on teaching you the way that is good and right.

1 Samuel 12:24 Fear the LORD, and serve him sincerely. Consider the great things he did for you.

1 Samuel 12:25 But if you go on doing what is evil, you and your king will be wiped out.”

1 Samuel 13:1 Saul was [thirty] years old when he became king, and he was king of Israel [forty-two] years.

1 Samuel 13:2 Saul chose 3,000 men from Israel; 2,000 of them were stationed with Saul at Michmash and in the mountains of Bethel, and 1,000 were stationed with Jonathan at Gibeah in Benjamin. But the rest of the people he sent home.

1 Samuel 13:3 Jonathan defeated the Philistine troops at Geba, and the Philistines heard about it. With the sounding of the ram’s horn throughout the land, Saul announced, “Listen, Hebrews!”

1 Samuel 13:4 (So all Israel listened.) “I, Saul, have defeated the Philistine troops, and now Israel has become offensive to the Philistines!” All the troops rallied behind Saul at Gilgal.

1 Samuel 13:5 The Philistines assembled to fight against Israel. They had 30,000 chariots, 6,000 horsemen, and as many soldiers as the sand on the seashore. They camped at Michmash, east of Beth Aven.

1 Samuel 13:6 When the Israelites saw they were in trouble because the army was hard-pressed, they hid in caves, in thorny thickets, among rocks, in pits, and in cisterns.

1 Samuel 13:7 Some Hebrews crossed the Jordan River into the territory of Gad and Gilead. But Saul remained in Gilgal, and all the people who followed him trembled [in fear].

1 Samuel 13:8 He waited seven days, the time set by Samuel. But Samuel had not come to Gilgal, and the troops began to scatter.

1 Samuel 13:9 Then Saul said, “Bring me the animals for the burnt offering and the fellowship offerings.” So he sacrificed the burnt offering.

1 Samuel 13:10 As he finished sacrificing the burnt offering, Samuel came, and Saul went to greet him.

1 Samuel 13:11 Samuel asked, “What have you done?” Saul replied, “I saw the troops were scattering. You didn’t come when you said you would, and the Philistines were assembling at Michmash.

1 Samuel 13:12 So I thought, ‘Now, the Philistines will come against me at Gilgal, but I haven’t sought the LORD’s favor.’ I felt pressured into sacrificing the burnt offering.”

1 Samuel 13:13 “You did a foolish thing,” Samuel told Saul. “You didn’t follow the command of the LORD your God. [If you had,] the LORD would have established your kingdom over Israel permanently.

1 Samuel 13:14 But now your kingdom will not last. The LORD has searched for a man after his own heart. The LORD has appointed him as ruler of his people, because you didn’t follow the command of the LORD.”

1 Samuel 13:15 Samuel left Gilgal. The rest of the people followed Saul to meet the soldiers. They went from Gilgal to Gibeah in Benjamin, where Saul counted the troops who were still with him-about 600 men.

1 Samuel 13:16 Saul, his son Jonathan, and the troops who were with them stayed at Geba in Benjamin while the Philistines camped at Michmash.

1 Samuel 13:17 Raiding parties left the Philistine camp in three columns. One column turned onto the road to Ophrah to the region of Shual.

1 Samuel 13:18 Another column turned onto the road to Beth Horon. And one turned onto the road toward the region that overlooks the valley of Zeboim and the desert.

1 Samuel 13:19 No blacksmith could be found in the entire land of Israel. In this way the Philistines kept the Hebrews from making swords and spears.

1 Samuel 13:20 Everyone in Israel had to go to the Philistines to sharpen the blade of his plow, his mattock, ax, or sickle.

1 Samuel 13:21 The price was a pim for plow blades and mattocks, and one-tenth of an ounce of silver to sharpen a mattock or set a metal point on a cattle-prod.

1 Samuel 13:22 So on the day of battle, not one sword or spear could be found among all the troops who were with Saul and Jonathan. But Saul and his son Jonathan had them.

1 Samuel 13:23 Now, Philistine troops had gone out to the pass at Michmash.

1 Samuel 14:1 One day Saul’s son Jonathan said to his armorbearer, “Let’s go to the Philistine military post on the other side.” But Jonathan didn’t tell his father [he was going].

1 Samuel 14:2 Saul was staying on the outskirts of Gibeah under a pomegranate tree at Migron. He had with him about 600 men

1 Samuel 14:3 in addition to Ahijah, the son of Ichabod’s brother Ahitub, who was the son of Phinehas and the grandson of Eli, the LORD’s priest at Shiloh. Ahijah was wearing the priestly ephod. The troops didn’t know Jonathan had left.

1 Samuel 14:4 There was a cliff on each side of the mountain pass where Jonathan searched for a way to cross over to attack the Philistine military post. The name of one [cliff] was Bozez, and the name of the other was Seneh.

1 Samuel 14:5 One cliff stood like a pillar on the north facing Michmash, the other stood south facing Geba.

1 Samuel 14:6 Jonathan said to his armorbearer, “Let’s go to the military post of these uncircumcised people. Maybe the LORD will act on our behalf. The LORD can win a victory with a few men as well as with many.”

1 Samuel 14:7 His armorbearer answered him, “Do whatever you have in mind. Go ahead! I agree with you.”

1 Samuel 14:8 Jonathan continued, “Listen, we’ll cross over to the Philistines and show ourselves to them.

1 Samuel 14:9 If they say to us, ‘Stay where you are until we come to you,’ then we’ll stay where we are and not go up to them.

1 Samuel 14:10 But if they say to us, ‘Come up here,’ then we’ll go up, because that will be our sign that the LORD has handed them over to us.”

1 Samuel 14:11 So both of them showed themselves to the Philistine troops. The Philistines said, “Look, some Hebrews are coming out of the holes they were hiding in.”

1 Samuel 14:12 “Come up here,” the men of the military post said to Jonathan and his armorbearer. “We have something to show you.” Jonathan told his armorbearer, “Follow me up [to the military post] because the LORD has handed the troops over to Israel.”

1 Samuel 14:13 Jonathan climbed up [the cliff], and his armorbearer followed him. Jonathan struck down the Philistines. His armorbearer, who was behind him, finished killing them.

1 Samuel 14:14 In their first slaughter Jonathan and his armorbearer killed about twenty men within about a hundred yards.

1 Samuel 14:15 There was panic among the army in the field and all the troops in the military post. The raiding party also trembled [in fear]. The earth shook, and there was a panic sent from God.

1 Samuel 14:16 Saul’s watchmen at Gibeah in Benjamin could see the crowd [in the Philistine camp] dispersing in all directions.

1 Samuel 14:17 “Look around,” Saul told the troops who were with him, “and see who has left [our camp].” They looked and found that Jonathan and his armorbearer were not there.

1 Samuel 14:18 Then Saul said to Ahijah, “Bring the priestly ephod,” because Ahijah carried the ephod in front of Israel that day.

1 Samuel 14:19 While Saul was talking to the priest, the confusion in the Philistine camp grew worse and worse. Then Saul said to the priest, “Remove your hand [from the ephod].”

1 Samuel 14:20 Saul and all the troops with him assembled and went into battle. They found Philistine soldiers killing their fellow soldiers in wild confusion.

1 Samuel 14:21 The Hebrews who had been with the Philistines before this and had been stationed in the camp now joined the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan.

1 Samuel 14:22 When all the men of Israel who had been hiding in the mountains of Ephraim heard that the Philistines were fleeing, they also pursued the Philistines in battle.

1 Samuel 14:23 So the LORD saved Israel that day. Now, the battle moved beyond Beth Aven.

1 Samuel 14:24 Israel’s soldiers were driven hard that day. Saul made the troops swear, “Cursed is anyone who eats food before the evening comes and before I’ve gotten revenge on my enemies.” So none of his troops tasted any food.

1 Samuel 14:25 The entire land had honeycombs, and there was honey on the ground.

1 Samuel 14:26 When the troops entered the woods, the honey was flowing. But no one put his hand to his mouth, because the troops were afraid of violating their oath.

1 Samuel 14:27 Jonathan hadn’t heard that his father forced the troops to take an oath. So he stretched out the tip of the staff he had in his hand and dipped it in the honeycomb. When he put it to his mouth, his eyes lit up.

1 Samuel 14:28 Then one of the soldiers told him, “Your father forced the troops to take a solemn oath: ‘Cursed is anyone who eats food today.’ “ Now, the army was exhausted.

1 Samuel 14:29 Jonathan answered, “My father has brought trouble to the country. See how my eyes lit up when I tasted a little of this honey?

1 Samuel 14:30 If only the troops had eaten some of the enemies’ food, which they found today. We would have killed more Philistines.”

1 Samuel 14:31 That day they struck down the Philistines from Michmash to Aijalon, but the troops were thoroughly exhausted.

1 Samuel 14:32 So the troops seized the Philistines’ belongings. They took sheep, cows, and calves, and butchered them on the ground. The troops ate the meat with blood still in it.

1 Samuel 14:33 Some [soldiers] told Saul, “The troops are sinning against the LORD by eating meat with blood in it.” Saul replied, “You have been unfaithful. Roll a large rock over to me now.”

1 Samuel 14:34 Then Saul said, “Spread out through the troops, and tell them, ‘Each of you, bring me your ox or your sheep, and butcher it here, and eat. But don’t sin against the LORD by eating meat with blood in it.’ “ So each of the soldiers brought his ox with him that night and butchered it there.

1 Samuel 14:35 Then Saul built an altar to the LORD; it was the first time he had built an altar to the LORD.

1 Samuel 14:36 Saul said [to his men], “Let’s attack the Philistines tonight and take their possessions until the light of dawn. And let’s not leave any of them [alive].” “Do whatever you think is best,” they responded. But the priest said, “Let’s consult God first.”

1 Samuel 14:37 Then Saul asked God, “Should I attack the Philistines? Will you hand them over to Israel?” But he received no answer that day.

1 Samuel 14:38 So Saul ordered all the leaders of the troops, “Come here! Find out what sin was committed today.

1 Samuel 14:39 I solemnly swear, as the LORD and Savior of Israel lives, even if it is my son Jonathan [who did it], he must die.” But not one of the soldiers replied.

1 Samuel 14:40 Saul told all Israel, “You stand on one side, and my son Jonathan and I will stand on the other side.” “Do whatever you think is best,” the troops responded to Saul.

1 Samuel 14:41 Then Saul said to the LORD, “O God of Israel, why didn’t you answer me today? If this sin is mine or my son Jonathan’s, LORD God of Israel, [let the priest] draw Urim. But if it is in your people Israel, [let him] draw Thummim.” Jonathan and Saul were chosen, and the people were freed [from guilt].

1 Samuel 14:42 “Choose between me and my son Jonathan,” Saul said. Then Jonathan was chosen.

1 Samuel 14:43 “Tell me,” Saul asked Jonathan. “What did you do?” So Jonathan told him, “I tasted a little honey on the tip of the staff I had in my hand. And for that I am to die?”

1 Samuel 14:44 Saul said, “May God do worse things to me than are in this curse if you do not die, Jonathan!”

1 Samuel 14:45 The troops asked Saul, “Should Jonathan die after he has won this great victory in Israel? That would be unthinkable! We solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, not a single hair of his head will fall to the ground, because he has done this with God’s help today.” So the troops rescued Jonathan from death.

1 Samuel 14:46 Then Saul stopped pursuing the Philistines. So the Philistines returned to their own land.

1 Samuel 14:47 When Saul had taken over the kingdom of Israel, he fought against his enemies on every side-against Moab, the Ammonites, Edom, the kings of Zobah, and the Philistines. Wherever he turned, he was victorious.

1 Samuel 14:48 He acted forcefully and defeated Amalek. He rescued Israel from the enemies who looted their possessions.

1 Samuel 14:49 Saul's sons were Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malchishua. The names of his two daughters were Merab (the firstborn daughter) and Michal (the younger daughter).

1 Samuel 14:50 The name of Saul's wife was Ahinoam, the daughter of Ahimaaz. The name of the commander of his army was Abner, the son of Saul's uncle Ner.

1 Samuel 14:51 Kish (Saul's father) and Ner (Abner's father) were the sons of Abiel.

1 Samuel 14:52 There was intense warfare with the Philistines as long as Saul lived. Whenever any warrior or any skilled fighting man came to Saul's attention, Saul would enlist him in the army.

1 Samuel 15:1 Samuel told Saul, "The LORD sent me to anoint you king of his people Israel. Now listen to the LORD's words.

1 Samuel 15:2 This is what the LORD of Armies says: I will punish Amalek for what they did to Israel. They blocked Israel's way after the Israelites came from Egypt.

1 Samuel 15:3 Now go and attack Amalek. Claim everything they have for God by destroying it. Don't spare them, but kill men and women, infants and children, cows and sheep, camels and donkeys."

1 Samuel 15:4 Saul organized the troops, and he counted them at Telaim: 200,000 foot soldiers and 10,000 men from Judah.

1 Samuel 15:5 Saul went to the city of Amalek and set an ambush in the valley.

1 Samuel 15:6 Then Saul said to the Kenites, "Get away from the Amalekites so that I won't destroy you with them. You were kind to all the Israelites when they came from Egypt." So the Kenites left the Amalekites.

1 Samuel 15:7 Saul attacked the Amalekites from Havilah to Shur, east of Egypt.

1 Samuel 15:8 He captured King Agag of Amalek alive. But he claimed all the people for God by destroying them.

1 Samuel 15:9 Saul and the army spared Agag and the best sheep and cows, the fattened animals, the lambs, and all the best [property]. The army refused to claim them for God by destroying them. But everything that was worthless and weak the army did claim for God and destroy.

1 Samuel 15:10 Then the LORD spoke to Samuel:

1 Samuel 15:11 “I regret that I made Saul king. He turned away from me and did not carry out my instructions.” Samuel was angry, and he prayed to the LORD all night.

1 Samuel 15:12 Early in the morning he got up to meet Saul. Samuel was told, “Saul went to Carmel to set up a monument in his honor. Then he left there and went to Gilgal.”

1 Samuel 15:13 Samuel came to Saul, who said, “The LORD bless you. I carried out the LORD’s instructions.”

1 Samuel 15:14 However, Samuel asked, “But what is this sound of sheep in my ears and this sound of cows that I hear?”

1 Samuel 15:15 Saul answered, “The army brought them from the Amalekites. They spared the best sheep and cows to sacrifice to the LORD your God. But the rest they claimed for God and destroyed.”

1 Samuel 15:16 “Be quiet,” Samuel told Saul, “and let me tell you what the LORD told me last night.” “Speak,” Saul replied.

1 Samuel 15:17 Samuel said, “Even though you don’t consider yourself great, you were the head of Israel’s tribes. The LORD anointed you king of Israel.

1 Samuel 15:18 And the LORD sent you on a mission. He said, ‘Claim those sinners, the Amalekites, for me by destroying them. Wage war against them until they’re wiped out.’

1 Samuel 15:19 Why didn’t you obey the LORD? Why have you taken their belongings and done what the LORD considers evil?”

1 Samuel 15:20 “But I did obey the LORD,” Saul told Samuel. “I went where the LORD sent me, brought [back] King Agag of Amalek, and claimed the Amalekites for God.

1 Samuel 15:21 The army took some of their belongings-the best sheep and cows were claimed for God-in order to sacrifice to the LORD your God in Gilgal.”

1 Samuel 15:22 Then Samuel said, “Is the LORD as delighted with burnt offerings and sacrifices as he would be with your obedience? To follow instructions is better than to sacrifice. To obey is better than sacrificing the fat of rams.

1 Samuel 15:23 The sin of black magic is rebellion. Wickedness and idolatry are arrogance. Because you rejected the word of the LORD, he rejects you as king.”

1 Samuel 15:24 Then Saul told Samuel, “I have sinned by not following the LORD’s command or your instructions. I was afraid of the people and listened to them.

1 Samuel 15:25 Now please forgive my sin and come back with me so that I may worship the LORD.”

1 Samuel 15:26 Samuel told Saul, “I will not go back with you because you rejected what the LORD told you. So the LORD rejects you as king of Israel.”

1 Samuel 15:27 When Samuel turned to leave, Saul grabbed the hem of his robe, and it tore.

1 Samuel 15:28 Samuel told him, “The LORD has torn the kingdom of Israel from you today. He has given it to your neighbor who is better than you.

1 Samuel 15:29 In addition, the Glory of Israel does not lie or change his mind, because he is not a mortal who changes his mind.”

1 Samuel 15:30 Saul replied, “I have sinned! Now please honor me in front of the leaders of my people and in front of Israel. Come back with me, and let me worship the LORD your God.”

1 Samuel 15:31 Then Samuel turned and followed Saul, and Saul worshiped the LORD.

1 Samuel 15:32 “Bring me King Agag of Amalek,” Samuel said. Agag came to him trembling. “Surely, the bitterness of death is past,” Agag said.

1 Samuel 15:33 But Samuel said, “As your sword made women childless, so your mother will be made childless among women.” And Samuel cut Agag in pieces in the presence of the LORD at Gilgal.

1 Samuel 15:34 Then Samuel went to Ramah, and Saul went to his home at Gibeah.

1 Samuel 15:35 Samuel didn’t see Saul again before he died, though Samuel mourned over Saul. And the LORD regretted that he had made Saul king of Israel.

1 Samuel 16:1 The LORD asked Samuel, “How long are you going to mourn for Saul now that I have rejected him as king of Israel? Fill a flask with olive oil and go. I’m sending you to Jesse in Bethlehem because I’ve selected one of his sons to be king.”

1 Samuel 16:2 “How can I go?” Samuel asked. “When Saul hears about it, he’ll kill me.” The LORD said, “Take a heifer with you and say, ‘I’ve come to sacrifice to the LORD.’

1 Samuel 16:3 Invite Jesse to the sacrifice. I will reveal to you what you should do, and you will anoint for me the one I point out to you.”

1 Samuel 16:4 Samuel did what the LORD told him. When he came to Bethlehem, the leaders of the city, trembling with fear, greeted him and said, “May peace be with you.”

1 Samuel 16:5 “Greetings,” he replied, “I have come to sacrifice to the LORD. Perform the ceremonies to make yourselves holy, and come with me to the sacrifice.” He performed the ceremonies for Jesse and his sons and invited them to the sacrifice.

1 Samuel 16:6 When they came, he saw Eliab and thought, “Certainly, here in the LORD’s presence is his anointed king.”

1 Samuel 16:7 But the LORD told Samuel, “Don’t look at his appearance or how tall he is, because I have rejected him. God does not see as humans see. Humans look at outward appearances, but the LORD looks into the heart.”

1 Samuel 16:8 Then Jesse called Abinadab and brought him to Samuel. But Samuel said, “The LORD has not chosen this one either.”

1 Samuel 16:9 Then Jesse had Shammah come to Samuel. “The LORD has not chosen this one either,” Samuel said.

1 Samuel 16:10 So Jesse brought seven [more] of his sons to Samuel, but Samuel told Jesse, “The LORD has not chosen [any of] these.

1 Samuel 16:11 Are these all the sons you have?” “There’s still the youngest one,” Jesse answered. “He’s tending the sheep.” Samuel told Jesse, “Send someone to get him. We won’t continue until he gets here.”

1 Samuel 16:12 So Jesse sent for him. He had a healthy complexion, attractive eyes, and a handsome appearance. The LORD said, “Go ahead, anoint him. He is the one.”

1 Samuel 16:13 Samuel took the flask of olive oil and anointed David in the presence of his brothers. The LORD’s Spirit came over David and stayed with him from that day on. Then Samuel left for Ramah.

1 Samuel 16:14 Now, the LORD’s Spirit had left Saul, and an evil spirit from the LORD tormented him.

1 Samuel 16:15 Saul’s officials told him, “An evil spirit from God is tormenting you.

1 Samuel 16:16 Your Majesty, why don’t you command us to look for a man who can play the lyre well? When the evil spirit from God comes to you, he’ll strum a tune, and you’ll feel better.”

1 Samuel 16:17 Saul told his officials, “Please find me a man who can play well and bring him to me.”

1 Samuel 16:18 One of the officials said, “I know one of Jesse’s sons from Bethlehem who can play well. He’s a courageous man and a warrior. He has a way with words, he is handsome, and the LORD is with him.”

1 Samuel 16:19 Saul sent messengers to Jesse to say, “Send me your son David, who is with the sheep.”

1 Samuel 16:20 Jesse took six bushels of bread, a full wineskin, and a young goat and sent them with his son David to Saul.

1 Samuel 16:21 David came to Saul and served him. Saul loved him very much and made David his armorbearer.

1 Samuel 16:22 Saul sent [this message] to Jesse, “Please let David stay with me because I have grown fond of him.”

1 Samuel 16:23 Whenever God’s spirit came to Saul, David took the lyre and strummed a tune. Saul got relief [from his terror] and felt better, and the evil spirit left him.

1 Samuel 17:1 The Philistines assembled their armies for war. They assembled at Socoh, which is in Judah, and camped between Socoh and Azekah at Ephes Dammim.

1 Samuel 17:2 So Saul and the army of Israel assembled and camped in the Elah Valley. They formed a battle line to fight the Philistines.

1 Samuel 17:3 The Philistines were stationed on a hill on one side, and the Israelites were stationed on a hill on the other side. There was a ravine between the two of them.

1 Samuel 17:4 The Philistine army’s champion came out of their camp. His name was Goliath from Gath. He was ten feet tall.

1 Samuel 17:5 He had a bronze helmet on his head, and he wore a bronze coat of armor scales weighing 125 pounds.

1 Samuel 17:6 On his legs he had bronze shin guards and on his back a bronze javelin.

1 Samuel 17:7 The shaft of his spear was like the beam used by weavers. The head of his spear was made of 15 pounds of iron. The man who carried his shield walked ahead of him.

1 Samuel 17:8 Goliath stood and called to the Israelites, “Why do you form a battle line? Am I not a Philistine, and aren’t you Saul’s servants? Choose a man, and let him come down to [fight] me.

1 Samuel 17:9 If he can fight me and kill me, then we will be your slaves. But if I overpower him and kill him, then you will be our slaves and serve us.”

1 Samuel 17:10 The Philistine added, “I challenge the Israelite battle line today. Send out a man so that we can fight each other.”

1 Samuel 17:11 When Saul and all the Israelites heard what this Philistine said, they were gripped with fear.

1 Samuel 17:12 David was a son of a man named Jesse from the region of Ephrath and the city of Bethlehem in Judah. Jesse had eight sons, and in Saul’s day he was an old man.

1 Samuel 17:13 Jesse’s three oldest sons joined Saul’s army for the battle. The firstborn was Eliab, the second was Abinadab, the third was Shammah,

1 Samuel 17:14 and David was the youngest. The three oldest joined Saul’s army.

1 Samuel 17:15 David went back and forth from Saul's camp to Bethlehem, where he tended his father's flock.

1 Samuel 17:16 Each morning and evening for 40 days, the Philistine came forward and made his challenge.

1 Samuel 17:17 Jesse told his son David, "Take this half-bushel of roasted grain and these ten loaves of bread to your brothers. Take them to your brothers in the camp right away.

1 Samuel 17:18 And take these ten cheeses to the captain of the regiment. See how your brothers are doing, and bring back some news about them.

1 Samuel 17:19 They, along with Saul and all the soldiers of Israel, are in the Elah Valley fighting the Philistines."

1 Samuel 17:20 David got up early in the morning and had someone else watch [the sheep]. He took [the food] and went, as Jesse ordered him. He went to the camp as the army was going out to the battle line shouting their war cry.

1 Samuel 17:21 Israel and the Philistines formed their battle lines facing each other.

1 Samuel 17:22 David left the supplies behind in the hands of the quartermaster, ran to the battle line, and greeted his brothers.

1 Samuel 17:23 While he was talking to them, the Philistine champion, Goliath from Gath, came from the battle lines of the Philistines. He repeated his words, and David heard them.

1 Samuel 17:24 When all the men of Israel saw Goliath, they fled from him because they were terrified.

1 Samuel 17:25 The men of Israel said, "Did you see that man coming [from the Philistine lines]? He keeps coming to challenge Israel. The king will make the man who kills this Philistine very rich. He will give his daughter to that man to marry and elevate the social status of his family."

1 Samuel 17:26 David asked the men who were standing near him, "What will be done for the man who kills this Philistine and gets rid of Israel's disgrace? Who is this uncircumcised Philistine that he should challenge the army of the living God?"

1 Samuel 17:27 The soldiers repeated [to David] how the man who kills Goliath would be treated.

1 Samuel 17:28 Eliab, David's oldest brother, heard David talking to the men. Then Eliab became angry with David. "Why did you come here," he asked him, "and with whom did you leave those few sheep in the wilderness? I know how overconfident and headstrong you are. You came here just to see the battle."

1 Samuel 17:29 "What have I done now?" David snapped at him. "Didn't I [merely] ask a question?"

1 Samuel 17:30 He turned to face another man and asked the same question, and the other soldiers gave him the same answer.

1 Samuel 17:31 What David said was overheard and reported to Saul, who then sent for him.

1 Samuel 17:32 David told Saul, “No one should be discouraged because of this. I will go and fight this Philistine.”

1 Samuel 17:33 Saul responded to David, “You can’t fight this Philistine. You’re just a boy, but he’s been a warrior since he was your age.”

1 Samuel 17:34 David replied to Saul, “I am a shepherd for my father’s sheep. Whenever a lion or a bear came and carried off a sheep from the flock,

1 Samuel 17:35 I went after it, struck it, and rescued the sheep from its mouth. If it attacked me, I took hold of its mane, struck it, and killed it.

1 Samuel 17:36 I have killed lions and bears, and this uncircumcised Philistine will be like one of them because he has challenged the army of the living God.”

1 Samuel 17:37 David added, “The LORD, who saved me from the lion and the bear, will save me from this Philistine.” “Go,” Saul told David, “and may the LORD be with you.”

1 Samuel 17:38 Saul put his battle tunic on David; he put a bronze helmet on David’s head and dressed him in armor.

1 Samuel 17:39 David fastened Saul’s sword over his clothes and tried to walk, but he had never practiced doing this. “I can’t walk in these things,” David told Saul. “I’ve never had any practice doing this.” So David took all those things off.

1 Samuel 17:40 He took his stick with him, picked out five smooth stones from the riverbed, and put them in his shepherd’s bag. With a sling in his hand, he approached the Philistine.

1 Samuel 17:41 The Philistine, preceded by the man carrying his shield, was coming closer and closer to David.

1 Samuel 17:42 When the Philistine got a good look at David, he despised him. After all, David was a young man with a healthy complexion and good looks.

1 Samuel 17:43 The Philistine asked David, “Am I a dog that you come to [attack] me with sticks?” So the Philistine called on his gods to curse David.

1 Samuel 17:44 “Come on,” the Philistine told David, “and I’ll give your body to the birds.”

1 Samuel 17:45 David told the Philistine, “You come to me with sword and spear and javelin, but I come to you in the name of the LORD of Armies, the God of the army of Israel, whom you have insulted.

1 Samuel 17:46 Today the LORD will hand you over to me. I will strike you down and cut off your head. And this day I will give the dead bodies of the Philistine army to the birds and the wild animals. The whole world will know that Israel has a God.

1 Samuel 17:47 Then everyone gathered here will know that the LORD can save without sword or spear, because the LORD determines every battle’s outcome. He will hand all of you over to us.”

1 Samuel 17:48 When the Philistine moved closer in order to attack, David quickly ran toward the opposing battle line to attack the Philistine.

1 Samuel 17:49 Then David reached into his bag, took out a stone, hurled it from his sling, and struck the Philistine in the forehead. The stone sank into Goliath’s forehead, and he fell to the ground on his face.

1 Samuel 17:50 So using [only] a sling and a stone, David proved to be stronger than the Philistine. David struck down and killed the Philistine, even though David didn’t have a sword in his hand.

1 Samuel 17:51 David ran and stood over the Philistine. He took Goliath’s sword, pulled it out of its sheath, and made certain the Philistine was dead by cutting off his head. When the Philistines saw their hero had been killed, they fled.

1 Samuel 17:52 Then the soldiers of Israel and Judah rose up, shouted a battle cry, and pursued the Philistines as far as Gath and to the gates of Ekron. Wounded Philistines lay on the road to Shaaraim and all the way to Gath and Ekron.

1 Samuel 17:53 When the Israelites came back from their pursuit of the Philistines, they looted all the goods in the Philistine camp.

1 Samuel 17:54 David took the Philistine’s head and brought it to Jerusalem, but he kept Goliath’s armor in his tent.

1 Samuel 17:55 As Saul watched David going out against the Philistine, he asked Abner, the commander of the army, “Abner, whose son is this young man?” Abner answered, “I solemnly swear, as you live, Your Majesty, I don’t know.”

1 Samuel 17:56 The king said, “Find out whose son this young man is.”

1 Samuel 17:57 When David returned from killing the Philistine, Abner brought him to Saul. David had the Philistine’s head in his hand.

1 Samuel 17:58 Saul asked him, “Whose son are you, young man?” “The son of your servant Jesse of Bethlehem,” David answered.

1 Samuel 18:1 David finished talking to Saul. After that, Jonathan became David’s closest friend. He loved David as much as [he loved] himself.

1 Samuel 18:2 (From that day on Saul kept David [as his servant] and didn't let him go back to his family.)

1 Samuel 18:3 So Jonathan made a pledge of mutual loyalty with David because he loved him as much as [he loved] himself.

1 Samuel 18:4 Jonathan took off the coat he had on and gave it to David along with his battle tunic, his sword, his bow, and his belt.

1 Samuel 18:5 David was successful wherever Saul sent him. Saul put him in charge of the fighting men. This pleased all the people, including Saul's officials.

1 Samuel 18:6 As they arrived, David was returning from a campaign against the Philistines. Women from all of Israel's cities came to meet King Saul. They sang and danced, accompanied by tambourines, joyful music, and triangles.

1 Samuel 18:7 The women who were celebrating sang, "Saul has defeated thousands but David tens of thousands!"

1 Samuel 18:8 Saul became very angry because he considered this saying to be insulting. "To David they credit tens of thousands," he said, "but to me they credit [only] a few thousand. The only thing left for David is my kingdom."

1 Samuel 18:9 From that day on Saul kept an eye on David.

1 Samuel 18:10 The next day an evil spirit from God seized Saul. He began to prophesy in his house while David strummed a tune on the lyre as he did every day. Now, Saul had a spear in his hand.

1 Samuel 18:11 He raised the spear and thought, "I'll nail David to the wall." But David got away from him twice.

1 Samuel 18:12 Saul was afraid of David, because the LORD was with David but had left Saul.

1 Samuel 18:13 So he kept David away. He made David captain of a regiment. David led the troops out [to battle] and back again.

1 Samuel 18:14 He was successful in everything he undertook because the LORD was with him.

1 Samuel 18:15 Saul noticed how very successful he was and became [even more] afraid of him.

1 Samuel 18:16 Everyone in Israel and Judah loved David, because he led them in and out [of battle].

1 Samuel 18:17 Finally, Saul said to David, "Here is my oldest daughter Merab. I will give her to you as your wife if you prove yourself to be a warrior for me and fight the LORD's battles." (Saul thought, "I must not lay a hand on him. Let the Philistines do that.")

1 Samuel 18:18 "Who am I?" David asked Saul. "And how important are my relatives or my father's family in Israel that I should be the king's son-in-law?"

1 Samuel 18:19 But when the time came to give Saul’s daughter Merab to David, she was married to Adriel from Meholah.

1 Samuel 18:20 However, Saul’s daughter Michal fell in love with David. When Saul was told about it, the news pleased him.

1 Samuel 18:21 Saul thought, “I’ll give her to David. She will trap him, and the Philistines will get him.” So he said to David a second time, “You will now be my son-in-law.”

1 Samuel 18:22 Saul ordered his officers, “Talk to David in private. Tell him, ‘The king likes you, and all his officers are fond of you. Become the king’s son-in-law.’”

1 Samuel 18:23 When Saul’s officers made it a point to say this, David asked, “Do you think it’s easy to become the king’s son-in-law? I am a poor and unimportant person.”

1 Samuel 18:24 When the officers told Saul what David had said,

1 Samuel 18:25 Saul replied, “Tell David, ‘The king doesn’t want any payment for the bride except 100 Philistine foreskins so that he can get revenge on his enemies.’ “ In this way Saul planned to have David fall into the hands of the Philistines.

1 Samuel 18:26 When his officers told David this, David concluded that it was acceptable to become the king’s son-in-law. Before the time was up,

1 Samuel 18:27 David and his men went out and struck down 200 Philistines. David brought the foreskins, and they counted them out for the king so that David could become the king’s son-in-law. Then Saul gave him his daughter Michal as his wife.

1 Samuel 18:28 Saul realized that the LORD was with David and that his daughter Michal loved David.

1 Samuel 18:29 Then Saul was even more afraid of David, and so Saul became David’s constant enemy.

1 Samuel 18:30 The Philistine generals still went out [to fight Israel]. But whenever they went out [to fight], David was more successful than the rest of Saul’s officers. So David gained a good reputation.

1 Samuel 19:1 Saul told his son Jonathan and all his officers to kill David. But Saul’s son Jonathan was very fond of David,

1 Samuel 19:2 so he reported to David, “My father Saul is trying to kill you. Please be careful tomorrow morning. Go into hiding, and stay out of sight.

1 Samuel 19:3 I’ll go out and stand beside my father in the field where you’ll be. I’ll speak with my father about you. If I find out anything, I’ll tell you.”

1 Samuel 19:4 So Jonathan spoke well of David to his father Saul. “You should not commit a sin against your servant David,” he said. “He hasn't sinned against you. Instead, he has done some very fine things for you:

1 Samuel 19:5 He risked his life and killed the Philistine Goliath, and the LORD gave all Israel a great victory. When you saw it, you rejoiced. Why then should you sin by shedding David's innocent blood for no reason?"

1 Samuel 19:6 Saul listened to Jonathan, and he promised, "I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, he will not be killed."

1 Samuel 19:7 Jonathan told David all of this. Then Jonathan took David to Saul. So David was returned to his former status in Saul's court.

1 Samuel 19:8 When war broke out again, David went to fight the Philistines. He defeated them so decisively that they fled from him.

1 Samuel 19:9 Then an evil spirit from the LORD came over Saul while he was sitting in his house with his spear in his hand. David was strumming a tune.

1 Samuel 19:10 Saul tried to nail David to the wall with his spear. But David dodged it, and Saul's spear struck the wall. David fled, escaping [from Saul] that night.

1 Samuel 19:11 Saul sent messengers to watch David's house and kill him in the morning. But Michal, David's wife, advised him, "If you don't save yourself tonight, you'll be dead tomorrow!"

1 Samuel 19:12 So Michal lowered David through a window, and he ran away to escape.

1 Samuel 19:13 Then Michal took some idols, laid them in the bed, put a goat-hair blanket at its head, and covered the idols with a garment.

1 Samuel 19:14 When Saul sent messengers to get David, Michal said, "He's sick."

1 Samuel 19:15 Then Saul sent the messengers back to see David themselves. Saul told them, "Bring him here to me in his bed so that I can kill him."

1 Samuel 19:16 The messengers came, and there in the bed were the idols with the goat-hair blanket at its head.

1 Samuel 19:17 Saul asked Michal, "Why did you betray me by sending my enemy away so that he could escape?" Michal answered, "He told me, 'Let me go! Why should I kill you?'"

1 Samuel 19:18 David escaped and went to Samuel at Ramah. He told Samuel everything Saul had done to him. Then he and Samuel went to the pastures and lived there.

1 Samuel 19:19 When it was reported to Saul that David was in the pastures at Ramah,

1 Samuel 19:20 Saul sent messengers to get David. But when they saw a group of prophets prophesying with Samuel serving as their leader, God’s Spirit came over Saul’s messengers so that they also prophesied.

1 Samuel 19:21 When they told Saul [about this], he sent other messengers, but they also prophesied. Saul even sent a third group of messengers, but they also prophesied.

1 Samuel 19:22 Then he went to Ramah himself. He went as far as the big cistern in Secu and asked [the people], “Where are Samuel and David?” He was told, “Over there in the pastures at Ramah.”

1 Samuel 19:23 As he went toward the pastures at Ramah, God’s Spirit came over him too. He continued his journey, prophesying until he came to the pastures at Ramah.

1 Samuel 19:24 He even took off his clothes as he prophesied in front of Samuel and lay there naked all day and all night. This is where the saying, “Is Saul one of the prophets?” came from.

1 Samuel 20:1 David fled from the pastures at Ramah, came to Jonathan, and asked, “What have I done? What crime am I guilty of? What sin have I committed against your father that he’s trying to kill me?”

1 Samuel 20:2 Jonathan answered, “That’s unthinkable! You’re not going to die! My father does nothing without telling me, whether it’s important or not. Why should my father hide this from me? It’s just not that way.”

1 Samuel 20:3 But David took an oath, saying, “Your father certainly knows that you support me, so he said [to himself], ‘Jonathan must not know about this. It will bring him distress.’ But I solemnly swear, as the LORD and you live, I’m only one step away from death.”

1 Samuel 20:4 Jonathan said to David, “I’ll do whatever you say.”

1 Samuel 20:5 David replied, “Tomorrow is the New Moon Festival, when I should sit and eat at the king’s [table]. But let me go and hide in the countryside for two more nights.

1 Samuel 20:6 If your father really misses me, tell him, ‘David repeatedly begged me to let him run to Bethlehem, his hometown, because his relatives are offering the annual sacrifice there.’

1 Samuel 20:7 If he says, ‘Good!’ then I will be safe. But if he gets really angry, then you’ll know for sure that he has decided to harm me.

1 Samuel 20:8 Now, be kind to me. After all, you forced me into an agreement with the LORD. If I have committed any crime, kill me yourself. Why bother taking me to your father?”

1 Samuel 20:9 Jonathan answered, “That’s unthinkable! If I knew for sure that my father had decided to harm you, I would have told you about it.”

1 Samuel 20:10 Then David asked, “Who will tell me whether or not your father gives you a harsh answer?”

1 Samuel 20:11 Jonathan said, “Let’s go out into the country.” So they went out into the country.

1 Samuel 20:12 “As the LORD God of Israel [is my witness],” Jonathan continued, “I’ll find out in the next two or three days how my father feels about you. If he does feel kindly toward you, then I will send someone to tell you.

1 Samuel 20:13 If my father plans to harm you and I fail to tell you and send you away safely, may the LORD harm me even more. May the LORD be with you as he used to be with my father.

1 Samuel 20:14 But as long as I live, [promise me that you will] show me kindness because of the LORD. And even when I die,

1 Samuel 20:15 never stop being kind to my family. The Lord will wipe each of David’s enemies off the face of the earth.

1 Samuel 20:16 At that time, if Jonathan’s name is cut off from David’s family, then may the LORD punish David’s house.”

1 Samuel 20:17 Once again Jonathan swore an oath to David because of his love for David. He loved David as much as [he loved] himself.

1 Samuel 20:18 “Tomorrow is the New Moon Festival,” Jonathan told him, “and you will be missed when your seat is empty.

1 Samuel 20:19 The day after tomorrow you will be missed even more. So go to the place where you hid on that other occasion, and stay by the rock.

1 Samuel 20:20 I will shoot three arrows from beside it toward a target.

1 Samuel 20:21 Then I will send out a boy and say, ‘Go, find the arrows.’ Now, if I tell the boy, ‘Look, the arrows are next to you; get them,’ then come [back with me]. You will be safe, and there will be no trouble. I swear it, as the LORD lives.

1 Samuel 20:22 But if I tell the boy, ‘The arrows are next to you,’ then go, because the LORD has sent you away.

1 Samuel 20:23 We have made a promise to each other, and the LORD is [a witness] between you and me forever.”

1 Samuel 20:24 So David hid in the countryside. When the New Moon Festival came, King Saul sat down to eat the festival meal.

1 Samuel 20:25 He sat in his usual seat by the wall, while Jonathan stood. Abner sat beside Saul, but David’s place was empty.

1 Samuel 20:26 Saul didn’t say anything that day, thinking, “Something has happened to him so that he’s unclean. He must be unclean.”

1 Samuel 20:27 But on the second day of the month, David's place was still empty. Saul asked his son Jonathan, "Why hasn't Jesse's son come to the meal either yesterday or today?"

1 Samuel 20:28 Jonathan answered Saul, "David repeatedly begged me [to let him go] to Bethlehem.

1 Samuel 20:29 David said to me 'Please let me go. Our relatives will offer a sacrifice in the city, and my brother ordered me to be there. If you will permit it, please let me go to see my brothers.' This is why he hasn't come to your banquet."

1 Samuel 20:30 Then Saul got angry with Jonathan. "Son of a crooked and rebellious woman!" he called Jonathan. "I know you've sided with Jesse's son. You have no shame. [You act] as if you are your mother's son but not mine.

1 Samuel 20:31 As long as Jesse's son lives on earth, neither you nor your right to be king is secure. Now, send some men to bring him to me. He's a dead man!"

1 Samuel 20:32 Jonathan asked his father, "Why should he be killed? What has he done?"

1 Samuel 20:33 Saul raised his spear to strike him. Then Jonathan knew his father was determined to kill David.

1 Samuel 20:34 Jonathan got up from the table very angry and ate nothing that second day of the month. He was worried sick about David because Jonathan had been humiliated by his own father.

1 Samuel 20:35 In the morning Jonathan went out to the country to the place he and David had agreed on. Jonathan had a young boy with him.

1 Samuel 20:36 "Run," he told the boy, "please find the arrows I shoot." The boy ran, and Jonathan shot the arrow over him.

1 Samuel 20:37 When the boy reached the place where Jonathan's arrow [had landed], Jonathan called after him, "The arrows are next to you!"

1 Samuel 20:38 Jonathan added, "Quick! Hurry up! Don't stand there!" Jonathan's young servant gathered the arrows and came to his master.

1 Samuel 20:39 The boy had no idea what was going on, but Jonathan and David understood.

1 Samuel 20:40 Then Jonathan gave his weapons to the boy. He told the boy, "Take them back into town."

1 Samuel 20:41 When the boy had left, David came out from the south side [of the rock] and quickly bowed down three times with his face touching the ground. Then they kissed each other and cried together, but David cried the loudest.

1 Samuel 20:42 “Go in peace!” Jonathan told David. “We have both taken an oath in the LORD’s name, saying, ‘The LORD will be [a witness] between me and you and between my descendants and your descendants forever.’ “ So David left, and Jonathan went into the city.

1 Samuel 21:1 David went to the priest Ahimelech at Nob. Ahimelech was trembling as he went to meet David. “Why are you alone?” he asked David. “Why is no one with you?”

1 Samuel 21:2 “The king ordered me to do something,” David answered the priest Ahimelech, “and he told me, ‘No one must know anything about this mission I’m sending you on and about the orders I’ve given you. I’ve stationed my young men at a certain place.’ “

1 Samuel 21:3 [David added,] “Now, what do you have [to eat]? Give me five loaves of bread or whatever you can find.”

1 Samuel 21:4 “I don’t have any ordinary bread,” the chief priest answered David. “But there is holy bread for the young men if they haven’t had sexual intercourse [today].”

1 Samuel 21:5 David answered the priest, “Of course women have been kept away from us as usual when we go [on a mission]. The young men’s bodies are kept holy even on ordinary campaigns. How much more then will their bodies be holy today?”

1 Samuel 21:6 So the priest gave him holy [bread] because he only had the bread of the presence which had been taken from the LORD’s presence and replaced with warm bread that day.

1 Samuel 21:7 That same day one of Saul’s servants who was obligated to stay in the LORD’s presence was there. His name was Doeg. A foreman for Saul’s shepherds, he was from Edom.

1 Samuel 21:8 David asked Ahimelech, “Don’t you have a spear or a sword here? I didn’t take either my spear or any other weapon because the king’s business was urgent.”

1 Samuel 21:9 The chief priest answered, “The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom you killed in the Elah Valley, is here. It is wrapped in a cloth behind the priestly ephod. If you want to take it, take it. There’s no other weapon here.” David said, “There’s none like it. Let me have the sword.”

1 Samuel 21:10 That day David left. He was [still] fleeing from Saul when he came to King Achish of Gath.

1 Samuel 21:11 Achish’s officers asked, “Isn’t this David, the king of [his] country? He’s the one they used to sing about in the dances: ‘Saul has defeated thousands but David tens of thousands.’”

1 Samuel 21:12 When David realized what they had said, he was terrified of King Achish of Gath.

1 Samuel 21:13 So he changed his behavior [when he was] in their presence and acted insane [as long as he was] under their authority. He scribbled on the doors of the city gate and let his spit run down his beard.

1 Samuel 21:14 Achish said to his officers, “Look at him! Don’t you see [that he’s] insane? Why bring him to me?

1 Samuel 21:15 Do I have such a shortage of lunatics that you bring this man so that he can show me he is insane? Does this man have to come into my house?”

1 Samuel 22:1 So David escaped from that place and fled to the cave at Adullam. When his brothers and all [the rest] of his family heard about it, they went to him.

1 Samuel 22:2 Then everyone who was in trouble, in debt, or bitter about life joined him, and he became their commander. There were about four hundred men with him.

1 Samuel 22:3 From there David went to Mizpah in Moab. He asked the king of Moab, “Please let my father and mother stay with you until I know what God is going to do for me.”

1 Samuel 22:4 He brought them to the king of Moab, and they stayed with him as long as David was living in his fortified camp.

1 Samuel 22:5 “Don’t live in your fortified camp,” the prophet Gad told David. “Go to the land of Judah.” So David went to the forest of Hereth.

1 Samuel 22:6 Saul heard that David and his men had been found. Saul was staying in Gibeah under the tamarisk tree at the worship site with his spear in his hand and all his officials standing around him.

1 Samuel 22:7 He said to his officials, “Listen here, men of Benjamin! Will Jesse’s son give every one of you fields and vineyards? Will he make you all officers over a regiment or a battalion of soldiers?

1 Samuel 22:8 All of you are plotting against me, and no one informed me when my son entered into a loyalty pledge with Jesse’s son. No one felt sorry for me and informed me that my son has encouraged my servant David to ambush me, as he’s doing now.”

1 Samuel 22:9 Then Doeg from Edom, standing with Saul’s officials, answered him, “I saw Jesse’s son when he came to Ahimelech, Ahitub’s son, in Nob.

1 Samuel 22:10 Ahimelech prayed to the LORD for David and gave him food and the sword of Goliath the Philistine.”

1 Samuel 22:11 Then the king sent for the priest Ahimelech, who was Ahitub’s son, and his entire family who were the priests in Nob. All of them came to the king.

1 Samuel 22:12 Saul said, “Listen here, son of Ahitub!” “Yes, sir?” he responded.

1 Samuel 22:13 Saul asked him, “Why did you and Jesse’s son plot against me? You gave him bread and a sword and prayed to God for him so that he can rise up against me and ambush me, as he’s doing now.”

1 Samuel 22:14 Ahimelech asked the king, “But whom among all your officials can you trust like David? Your Majesty, he’s your son-in-law, the commander of your bodyguard. He’s honored in your own household.

1 Samuel 22:15 Is this the first time I have prayed to God for him? Not at all! You shouldn’t blame me or anyone in my family for this. I knew nothing at all about this.”

1 Samuel 22:16 Saul said, “Ahimelech, you and your entire family are going to die.”

1 Samuel 22:17 “Turn and kill the LORD’s priests because they support David,” the king said to the runners standing around him. “When they knew David was fleeing, they didn’t inform me.” But the king’s men refused to attack the LORD’s priests.

1 Samuel 22:18 So the king said to Doeg, “You turn and attack the priests.” Doeg from Edom turned and attacked the priests, and that day he killed 85 men wearing the linen priestly ephod.

1 Samuel 22:19 He also killed the people of Nob, the city of the priests. Using [his] sword, he killed men and women, children and infants, cows, donkeys, and sheep.

1 Samuel 22:20 But Ahimelech, Ahitub’s son, had one son who escaped. His name was Abiathar. He fled to David.

1 Samuel 22:21 Abiathar told David that Saul had killed the LORD’s priests.

1 Samuel 22:22 David told Abiathar, “I knew that day when Doeg from Edom was there that he would be certain to tell Saul. I am the one responsible for all the lives of your family.

1 Samuel 22:23 Stay with me. Don’t be afraid. The one who is seeking my life is [also] seeking your life. However, you will be under my protection.”

1 Samuel 23:1 David was asked, “Did you know that the Philistines are fighting against Keilah? They are robbing the threshing floors.”

1 Samuel 23:2 David asked the LORD, “Should I go and attack these Philistines?” “Go,” the LORD told David, “attack the Philistines, and save Keilah.”

1 Samuel 23:3 David’s men told him, “We’re afraid of staying here in Judah. How much more [afraid do you think we’ll be] if we go to Keilah against the Philistine army?”

1 Samuel 23:4 David asked the LORD again, and the LORD answered him. He said, “Go to Keilah. I’m giving you the power to defeat the Philistines.”

1 Samuel 23:5 David and his men went to Keilah, fought the Philistines, drove off their livestock, and decisively defeated them. So David rescued the people who lived in Keilah.

1 Samuel 23:6 When Ahimelech's son Abiathar fled to David at Keilah, Abiathar brought a priestly ephod with him.

1 Samuel 23:7 When Saul was told that David went to Keilah, Saul said, "God has delivered him into my hands. He has trapped himself by going into a city which has [a gate with] a double door [held shut by] a bar."

1 Samuel 23:8 So Saul called together all the troops to go to war and blockade Keilah, where David and his men were.

1 Samuel 23:9 When David learned that Saul was planning to harm him, he told the priest Abiathar, "Bring the ephod."

1 Samuel 23:10 Then David said, "LORD God of Israel, I have actually heard that Saul is going to come to Keilah and destroy the city on account of me.

1 Samuel 23:11 Will the citizens of Keilah hand me over to him? Will Saul come here as I have heard? LORD God of Israel, please tell me." "He will come," the LORD answered.

1 Samuel 23:12 "Will the citizens of Keilah hand me and my men over to Saul?" David asked. "They will hand you over," the LORD answered.

1 Samuel 23:13 So David and his men, about six hundred in all, left Keilah. They went wherever they could go. Then Saul was told, "David has escaped from Keilah!" So he gave up the campaign.

1 Samuel 23:14 David lived in fortified camps in the desert, and he lived in fortified camps in the mountains of the desert of Ziph. Saul was always searching for him, but God didn't let him capture David.

1 Samuel 23:15 David was afraid because Saul had come to kill him at Horesh in the desert of Ziph.

1 Samuel 23:16 Saul's son Jonathan came to David at Horesh. He strengthened David's [faith] in the LORD.

1 Samuel 23:17 "Don't be afraid," he told David, "my father Saul won't find you. You will rule Israel, and I will be your second-in-command. Even my father Saul knows this."

1 Samuel 23:18 Both of them made a pledge in the LORD's presence. David stayed in Horesh, and Jonathan went home.

1 Samuel 23:19 Then the men of Ziph went to Saul in Gibeah. They said, "David is hiding with us in fortified camps at Horesh on the hills of Hachilah, south of Jeshimon.

1 Samuel 23:20 Come, Your Majesty, whenever you want. We will hand him over to you."

1 Samuel 23:21 Saul responded, “The LORD bless you for feeling sorry for me!

1 Samuel 23:22 Please make more plans, and watch where he goes. Who has seen him there? I’m told he’s very clever.

1 Samuel 23:23 Watch and learn about all the hiding places where he may be hiding, and come back to me with the facts. Then I’ll go with you, and if he’s in the country, I’ll search for him among all the families of Judah.”

1 Samuel 23:24 They left for Ziph ahead of Saul. David and his men were in the desert of Maon, in the plains south of Jeshimon.

1 Samuel 23:25 When Saul and his men came to look for him, David was told the news. So he went to his mountain stronghold in the desert of Maon. Saul heard about it and pursued David into the desert of Maon.

1 Samuel 23:26 Saul went on one side of the mountain, and David and his men went on the other side of the mountain. David was hurrying to get away from Saul, and Saul and his men were going around [the mountain] toward David and his men, trying to capture them.

1 Samuel 23:27 Then a messenger came to Saul and said, “Come quickly! The Philistines are raiding the country.”

1 Samuel 23:28 Saul gave up pursuing David and went to fight the Philistines. So that place was called Slippery Rock.

1 Samuel 23:29 From there David went to stay in the fortified camps of En Gedi.

1 Samuel 24:1 When Saul came back from [fighting] the Philistines, he was told “Now David is in the desert near En Gedi.”

1 Samuel 24:2 Then Saul took 3,000 of the best-trained men from all Israel and went to search for David and his men on the Rocks of the Wild Goats.

1 Samuel 24:3 He came to some sheep pens along the road where there was a cave. Saul went into [it] to relieve himself while David and his men were sitting further back in the cave.

1 Samuel 24:4 David’s men told him, “Today is the day the LORD referred to when he said, ‘I’m going to hand your enemy over to you. You will do to him whatever you think is right.’ “ David quietly got up and cut off the border of Saul’s robe.

1 Samuel 24:5 But afterward, David’s conscience bothered him because he had cut off the border of Saul’s robe.

1 Samuel 24:6 He said to his men, “It would be unthinkable for me to raise my hand against His Majesty, the LORD’s anointed king, since he is the LORD’s anointed.”

1 Samuel 24:7 So David stopped his men by saying this to them and didn't let them attack Saul. Saul left the cave and went out onto the road.

1 Samuel 24:8 Later, David got up, left the cave, and called to Saul, "Your Majesty!" When Saul looked back, David knelt down with his face touching the ground.

1 Samuel 24:9 David asked Saul, "Why do you listen to rumors that I am trying to harm you?

1 Samuel 24:10 Today you saw how the LORD handed you over to me in the cave. Although I was told to kill you, I spared you, saying, 'I will not raise my hand against Your Majesty because you are the LORD's anointed.'

1 Samuel 24:11 My master, look at this! The border of your robe is in my hand! Since I cut off the border of your robe and didn't kill you, you should know and be able to see I mean no harm or rebellion. I haven't sinned against you, but you are trying to ambush me in order to take my life.

1 Samuel 24:12 May the LORD decide between you and me. May the LORD take revenge on you for what you did to me. However, I will not lay a hand on you.

1 Samuel 24:13 It's like people used to say long ago, 'Wickedness comes from wicked people.' But I will not lay a hand on you.

1 Samuel 24:14 Against whom has the king of Israel come out? Whom are you pursuing? A dead dog? One flea?

1 Samuel 24:15 So the LORD must be the judge. He will decide between you and me. He will watch and take my side in [this] matter and set me free from you."

1 Samuel 24:16 When David finished saying this, Saul asked, "Is that you speaking, my servant David?" and Saul cried loudly.

1 Samuel 24:17 He told David, "You are more righteous than I. You treated me well while I treated you badly.

1 Samuel 24:18 Today you have proved how good you've been to me. When the LORD handed me over to you, you didn't kill me.

1 Samuel 24:19 When a person finds an enemy, does he send him away unharmed? The LORD will repay you completely for what you did for me today.

1 Samuel 24:20 Now I know that you certainly will rule as king, and under your guidance the kingdom of Israel will prosper.

1 Samuel 24:21 Swear an oath to the LORD for me that you will not wipe out my descendants or destroy my name in my father's family."

1 Samuel 24:22 So David swore to Saul. Then Saul went home, and David and his men went to their fortified camp.

1 Samuel 25:1 Samuel died, and all Israel gathered to mourn for him. They buried him at his home in Ramah. Then David went to the desert of Paran.

1 Samuel 25:2 Now, there was a man in Maon whose business was in Carmel. He was a very rich man. He had 3,000 sheep and 1,000 goats. And he was shearing his sheep in Carmel.

1 Samuel 25:3 This man's name was Nabal, and his wife's name was Abigail. She was sensible and beautiful, but he was harsh and mean. He was a descendant of Caleb.

1 Samuel 25:4 While David was in the desert, he heard that Nabal was shearing his sheep.

1 Samuel 25:5 So David sent ten young men and told them, "Go to Carmel, visit Nabal, and greet him for me.

1 Samuel 25:6 Say to him, 'May you live [long]! May you, your home, and all you have prosper!

1 Samuel 25:7 I hear that your sheepshearers are with you. Your shepherds have been with us, [and] we have not mistreated them. Nothing of theirs has been missing as long as they've been in Carmel.

1 Samuel 25:8 Ask your young men, and let them tell you. Be kind to my young men, since we have come on a special occasion. Please give us and your son David anything you can [spare].'"

1 Samuel 25:9 When David's young men came to Nabal, they repeated all of this to him for David, and then they waited.

1 Samuel 25:10 "Who is David?" Nabal answered David's servants. "Who is Jesse's son? So many servants nowadays are leaving their masters.

1 Samuel 25:11 Should I take my bread, my water, and my meat that I butchered for my shearers and give them to men coming from who knows where?"

1 Samuel 25:12 David's young men returned and told him all this.

1 Samuel 25:13 "Each of you put on your swords!" David told his men. And everyone, including David, put on his sword. About four hundred men went with David, while two hundred men stayed with the supplies.

1 Samuel 25:14 One of the young men told Abigail, Nabal's wife, "David sent messengers from the desert to greet our master, who yelled at them.

1 Samuel 25:15 Those men were very good to us. They didn't mistreat us, and we found that nothing was missing wherever we went with them when we were in the fields.

1 Samuel 25:16 They were a wall protecting us day and night as long as we were watching the sheep near them.

1 Samuel 25:17 Now, consider what you should do because our master and his whole household are doomed. And he's such a worthless man that it's useless to talk to him."

1 Samuel 25:18 So Abigail quickly took 200 loaves of bread, 2 full wineskins, 5 butchered sheep, a bushel of roasted grain, 100 bunches of raisins, and 200 fig cakes and loaded them on donkeys.

1 Samuel 25:19 "Go on ahead," she told her young men, "and I'll follow you." But she didn't tell her husband Nabal about it.

1 Samuel 25:20 She was riding on her donkey down a hidden mountain path when she met David and his men coming toward her.

1 Samuel 25:21 David had thought, "I guarded this man's stuff in the desert for nothing! Not one of his possessions was missing. Yet, he has paid me back with evil when I was good to him.

1 Samuel 25:22 May God punish me if I leave even one of his men alive in the morning."

1 Samuel 25:23 When Abigail saw David, she quickly got down from her donkey. She immediately bowed down in front of David with her face touching the ground.

1 Samuel 25:24 After she bowed at his feet, she said, "Sir, let me be held responsible for this wrong. Please let me speak with you. Please listen to my words.

1 Samuel 25:25 You shouldn't take this worthless person Nabal seriously. He is like his name. His name is Nabal [Godless Fool], and he's foolish. But I didn't see the young men you sent.

1 Samuel 25:26 "The LORD has kept you from spilling innocent blood and from getting a victory by your own efforts. Now, sir, I solemnly swear, as the LORD and you live, may your enemies and those who are trying to harm you end up like Nabal.

1 Samuel 25:27 Here is a gift I am bringing to you. May it be given to the young men who are in your service.

1 Samuel 25:28 Please forgive my offense. The LORD will certainly give you, sir, a lasting dynasty, because you are fighting the LORD's battles. May evil never be found in you as long as you live.

1 Samuel 25:29 Even though someone pursued you and sought your life, your life is wrapped in the bundle of life which comes from the LORD your God. But he will dispose of the lives of your enemies like stones thrown from a sling.

1 Samuel 25:30 When the LORD does all the good he promised and makes you ruler of Israel,

1 Samuel 25:31 you shouldn't have a troubled conscience because you spilled blood for no good reason and claimed your own victory. When the LORD has given you success, remember me."

1 Samuel 25:32 David said to Abigail, “Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who sent you today to meet me.

1 Samuel 25:33 May your good judgment be blessed. Also, may you be blessed for keeping me from slaughtering people today and from getting a victory by my own efforts.

1 Samuel 25:34 But I solemnly swear-as the LORD God of Israel, who has kept me from harming you, lives-if you hadn’t come to meet me quickly, Nabal certainly wouldn’t have had one of his men left at dawn.”

1 Samuel 25:35 Then David accepted what she brought him and told her, “Go home in peace. I’ve listened to what you’ve said and granted your request.”

1 Samuel 25:36 When Abigail came to Nabal, he was holding a banquet in his home. It was like a king’s banquet. He was in a good mood and very drunk, so she didn’t tell him anything until dawn.

1 Samuel 25:37 But in the morning, when the effects of the wine had worn off, his wife told him what had happened. Nabal’s heart failed, and he could not move.

1 Samuel 25:38 About ten days later the LORD made him even more sick, and Nabal died.

1 Samuel 25:39 When David heard Nabal was dead, he said, “Blessed be the LORD, who defended me against the insults of Nabal and kept me from doing wrong. The LORD has turned Nabal’s own wickedness back on him.” Then David sent men [on his behalf] to propose marriage to Abigail.

1 Samuel 25:40 When David’s servants came to Abigail at Carmel, they told her, “David has sent us to you so that we can take you to him to be his wife.”

1 Samuel 25:41 She bowed down with her face touching the ground. “I am ready to serve,” she said. “I am ready to wash the feet of my master’s servants.”

1 Samuel 25:42 Then Abigail quickly got up and rode on a donkey with five of her female servants following her. So she went with David’s messengers and became his wife.

1 Samuel 25:43 David also married Ahinoam of Jezreel. Both she and Abigail were his wives.

1 Samuel 25:44 Saul had given his daughter Michal, David’s wife, to Palti, Laish’s son, who was from Gallim.

1 Samuel 26:1 The people of Ziph came to Saul at Gibeah. “David is hiding at the hill of Hachilah near Jeshimon,” they said.

1 Samuel 26:2 Saul went to the desert of Ziph, taking with him 3,000 of Israel’s best-trained men to search for David.

1 Samuel 26:3 Saul camped by the road at the hill of Hachilah near Jeshimon, but David stayed in the desert. When he realized Saul had come to the desert for him,

1 Samuel 26:4 David sent spies to confirm that Saul had arrived.

1 Samuel 26:5 Then David went to the place where Saul had camped. David saw the place where Saul and Ner's son Abner, the commander of the army, were lying. Saul was lying in the camp, and the troops were camped around him.

1 Samuel 26:6 David asked Ahimelech the Hittite and Abishai, who was Zeruiah's son and Joab's brother, "Who will go with me to Saul in the camp?" Abishai answered, "I'll go with you."

1 Samuel 26:7 So David and Abishai went among [Saul's] troops that night. Saul was lying asleep inside the camp with his spear stuck in the ground near his head. Abner and the soldiers were lying around him.

1 Samuel 26:8 Abishai said to David, "Today God has turned your enemy over to you. Please let me nail him to the ground with one stab of the spear. I won't have to do it twice!"

1 Samuel 26:9 "Don't kill him!" David told Abishai. "No one has ever attacked the LORD's anointed king and remained free of guilt.

1 Samuel 26:10 I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives," David added, "the LORD will strike him. Either his time will come when he'll die [naturally], or he'll go into battle and be swept away.

1 Samuel 26:11 It would be unthinkable for me to attack the LORD's anointed king. But please take that spear near his head and that jar of water, and let's go."

1 Samuel 26:12 David took the spear and the jar of water near Saul's head, and they left. All of them were asleep. No one saw them, knew about it, or woke up. The LORD had made them fall into a deep sleep.

1 Samuel 26:13 David went over to the other side and stood on top of the hill some distance away. (There was a wide space between them.)

1 Samuel 26:14 Then David called to the troops and to Ner's son Abner. "Won't you answer, Abner?" he asked. "Who is calling the king?" Abner asked.

1 Samuel 26:15 David asked Abner, "Aren't you a man? Is there anyone like you in Israel? Then why didn't you guard your master, the king? Someone came to kill His Royal Majesty.

1 Samuel 26:16 What you've done isn't good. I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, you are dead men. You didn't guard your master, the LORD's anointed king. Look at the king's spear and the jar of water that were near his head."

1 Samuel 26:17 Saul recognized David’s voice. “Is that your voice, my servant David?” he asked. “It is my voice, Your Royal Majesty,” David answered.

1 Samuel 26:18 “Why are you pursuing me?” he added. “What have I done? What crime have I committed?

1 Samuel 26:19 Your Majesty, please listen to my words. If the LORD has turned you against me, let him be satisfied with an offering. But if mere mortals [have turned you against me], let them be cursed by the LORD. They have prevented me from having a share of the LORD’s inheritance. ‘Go and serve other gods,’ they tell me.

1 Samuel 26:20 Don’t let my blood fall to the ground, away from the LORD’s presence. The king of Israel has come to search for one flea like someone hunting a partridge in the hills.”

1 Samuel 26:21 “My servant David,” Saul said, “I have sinned. Come back. I will not harm you again, because you valued my life today. I’ve acted like a fool and made a terrible mistake.”

1 Samuel 26:22 David responded, “Here’s the king’s spear. One of the young men should come over and get it.

1 Samuel 26:23 The LORD will reward any person who is righteous and faithful. The LORD handed you over to me today, but I refused to attack the LORD’s anointed king.

1 Samuel 26:24 As I placed great value on your life today, may the LORD place great value on my life and rescue me from all trouble.”

1 Samuel 26:25 Then Saul said, “Blessed are you, my servant David. You will accomplish many things and certainly will succeed.” So David went his way, while Saul returned home.

1 Samuel 27:1 David said to himself, “One of these days Saul will sweep me away. The best thing for me to do is to make sure that I escape to Philistine territory. Then Saul will give up looking all over Israel for me, and I’ll escape from him.”

1 Samuel 27:2 So David went with his 600 men to King Achish of Gath, Moach’s son.

1 Samuel 27:3 David and his men stayed with Achish in Gath. Each one had his family, and David had his two wives, Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail (who had been Nabal’s wife) from Carmel.

1 Samuel 27:4 When Saul was told that David had fled to Gath, he didn’t search for him anymore.

1 Samuel 27:5 David said to Achish, “If you will permit me, let me have a place in one of the outlying towns so that I can live there. Why should I live in the royal city with you?”

1 Samuel 27:6 So Achish immediately gave him Ziklag. (This is why Ziklag still belongs to the kings of Judah today.)

1 Samuel 27:7 David stayed in Philistine territory for one year and four months.

1 Samuel 27:8 Then David and his men went to raid the Geshurites, the Girzites, and the Amalekites. (They lived in the territory which extends from Telaim to Shur and Egypt.)

1 Samuel 27:9 Whenever David attacked the territory, he left no man or woman alive. He also took sheep, cattle, donkeys, camels, and clothing and returned to Achish.

1 Samuel 27:10 Achish would ask, “Whom did you raid today?” And David would answer, “the Negev in Judah,” or “the portion of the Negev where the descendants of Jerahmeel live,” or “the portion of the Negev where the Kenites live.”

1 Samuel 27:11 He did not bring a single man or woman back to Gath alive. He thought, “They could tell Achish what I [really] did.” This was his practice as long as he lived in Philistine territory.

1 Samuel 27:12 And Achish believed David. Achish thought, “He has definitely made his own people in Israel despise him. He’ll be my servant from now on.”

1 Samuel 28:1 At that time the Philistines had gathered their army to fight against Israel. Then Achish said to David, “You need to know that you and your men will be going with me into battle.”

1 Samuel 28:2 “Very well,” David responded to Achish, “you will then know what I can do.” “Very well,” Achish told David, “I will make you my bodyguard for life.”

1 Samuel 28:3 Meanwhile, Samuel had died, and all Israel had mourned for him and buried him in his hometown Ramah. (Saul had rid the land of mediums and psychics.)

1 Samuel 28:4 The Philistines assembled and camped in Shunem. Saul also assembled the whole Israelite army, and they camped at Gilboa.

1 Samuel 28:5 When Saul looked at the Philistine army, he was very afraid-terrified.

1 Samuel 28:6 He prayed to the LORD, but the LORD didn’t answer him through dreams, the Urim, or prophets.

1 Samuel 28:7 Saul told his officers, “Find me a woman who conjures up the dead. Then I’ll go to her and ask for her services.” His officers told him, “There is a woman at Endor who conjures up the dead.”

1 Samuel 28:8 After disguising himself by putting on other clothes, Saul left with two men and came to the woman that night. He said to her, “Please consult with a dead person for me. Conjure up the person I request.”

1 Samuel 28:9 The woman told him, “You know that Saul rid the land of mediums and psychics. Why are you trying to trap me and have me killed?”

1 Samuel 28:10 But Saul took an oath in the LORD’s name, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, you will not be harmed if you do this.”

1 Samuel 28:11 “Whom should I conjure up for you?” the woman asked. “Conjure up Samuel for me,” he answered.

1 Samuel 28:12 When the woman saw Samuel, she cried out loudly and asked, “Why did you deceive me? You’re Saul!”

1 Samuel 28:13 “Don’t be afraid,” the king said to her. “What do you see?” “I see a god rising from the ground,” the woman answered.

1 Samuel 28:14 “In what form?” he asked her. She answered, “An old man is coming up, and he’s wearing a robe.” Then Saul knew it was Samuel. Saul knelt down with his face touching the ground.

1 Samuel 28:15 Samuel asked Saul, “Why did you disturb me by conjuring me up?” Saul answered, “I’m in serious trouble. The Philistines are at war with me, and God has turned against me and doesn’t answer me anymore-either by the prophets or in dreams. So I’ve called on you to tell me what to do.”

1 Samuel 28:16 Samuel said, “Why are you asking me when the LORD has turned against you and become your enemy?

1 Samuel 28:17 The LORD has done to you [exactly] what he spoke through me: The LORD has torn the kingship out of your hands and given it to your fellow Israelite David.

1 Samuel 28:18 The LORD is doing this to you today because you didn’t listen to him or unleash his burning anger on Amalek.

1 Samuel 28:19 For the same reasons the LORD will hand you and Israel over to the Philistines. Tomorrow you and your sons will be with me. And then the LORD will hand Israel’s army over to the Philistines.”

1 Samuel 28:20 Immediately, Saul fell flat on the ground. He was frightened by Samuel’s words. He also had no strength left, because he hadn’t eaten anything all day or all night.

1 Samuel 28:21 The woman came over to Saul and saw that he was terrified. “I listened to you,” she told him, “and I took my life in my hands when I did what you told me to do.

1 Samuel 28:22 Now please listen to me. I will serve you something to eat. Eat it so that you will have strength when you leave.”

1 Samuel 28:23 But he refused. “I don’t want to eat,” he said. Nevertheless, his officers and the woman kept urging him until he listened to them. So he got up from the ground and sat on the bed.

1 Samuel 28:24 The woman immediately butchered a fattened calf that she owned. She took flour, kneaded it, and baked some unleavened bread.

1 Samuel 28:25 Then she served it to Saul and his officers. They ate and left that [same] night.

1 Samuel 29:1 The Philistines assembled their whole army at Aphek, and Israel camped at the spring in Jezreel.

1 Samuel 29:2 The Philistine leaders were marching by with their companies and regiments. David and his men were marching in the rear with Achish.

1 Samuel 29:3 The Philistine officers asked, "What are these Hebrews doing here?" Achish asked the Philistine officers, "Isn't this David, the servant of King Saul of Israel, who has been with me now for a year or two? I've found nothing wrong with him from the day he defected until now."

1 Samuel 29:4 But the Philistine officers were angry with Achish. "Send the man back," the Philistine officers told him. "Return him to the place you assigned him. He shouldn't go with us into battle. He shouldn't [be allowed to] become our enemy during the battle. Is this man going to try to regain his master's favor? He'll do it with the lives of our men!

1 Samuel 29:5 Isn't this David of whom people sing in dances: 'Saul has defeated thousands but David tens of thousands'?"

1 Samuel 29:6 Then Achish called David and told him, "I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, you are a dependable man. I consider your campaigning with me a good thing, because I've never found anything wrong with you from the day you came to me until now. But the rulers don't approve of you.

1 Samuel 29:7 So leave peacefully without doing anything to displease the Philistine rulers."

1 Samuel 29:8 "What have I done?" David asked Achish. "What have you learned about me from the time I came to you until now? Why shouldn't I fight your enemies, Your Majesty?"

1 Samuel 29:9 Achish answered David, "I admit that in my judgment you're as good as God's Messenger. However, the Philistine officers said, 'He shouldn't go into battle with us.'

1 Samuel 29:10 Get up early in the morning with Saul's servants who came with you, and go to the place I have assigned to you. Don't worry about the unkind words, because I still approve of you. Get up in the morning, and leave when it's light."

1 Samuel 29:11 Early the next morning David and his men returned to Philistine territory, while the Philistines went to Jezreel.

1 Samuel 30:1 Two days later, when David and his men came to Ziklag, the Amalekites had raided the Negev, including Ziklag. They had attacked Ziklag and burned it.

1 Samuel 30:2 Although they captured the young and old women who were there, they killed no one. Instead, they had taken [the women and other prisoners] and gone away.

1 Samuel 30:3 By the time David and his men came to the town, it had been burned down, and their wives, sons, and daughters had been taken captive.

1 Samuel 30:4 Then David and his men cried loudly until they didn't have the strength to cry anymore.

1 Samuel 30:5 The Amalekites also captured David's two wives, Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail (who had been Nabal's wife) from Carmel.

1 Samuel 30:6 David was in great distress because the people in their bitterness said he should be stoned. (They were thinking of their sons and daughters. But David found strength in the LORD his God.)

1 Samuel 30:7 David told the priest Abiathar, Ahimelech's son, "Please bring me the priestly ephod." So Abiathar brought David the ephod.

1 Samuel 30:8 Then David asked the LORD, "Should I pursue these troops? Will I catch up with them?" "Pursue them," the LORD told him. "You will certainly catch up with them and rescue the captives."

1 Samuel 30:9 So David and his 600 men went to the Besor Valley, where some were left behind.

1 Samuel 30:10 David and 400 men went in pursuit, while 200 men who were too exhausted to cross the Besor Valley stayed behind.

1 Samuel 30:11 David's men found an Egyptian in the open country and took him to David. They gave him food to eat and water to drink.

1 Samuel 30:12 They gave him a slice of fig cake and two bunches of raisins. After he had eaten, he revived. (He hadn't eaten any food or drunk any water for three whole days.)

1 Samuel 30:13 David asked him, "To whom do you belong? Where do you come from?" "I'm an Egyptian, the slave of an Amalekite," the young man answered. "My master left me behind because I got sick three days ago.

1 Samuel 30:14 We raided the portion of the Negev where the Cherethites live, the territory of Judah, the portion of the Negev where Caleb settled, and we burned down Ziklag."

1 Samuel 30:15 "Will you lead me to these troops?" David asked him. He answered, "Take an oath in front of God that you won't kill me or hand me over to my master, and I'll lead you to these troops."

1 Samuel 30:16 The Egyptian led him [to them]. They were spread out all over the land, eating, and drinking. They were celebrating because they had taken so much loot from Philistine territory and from the land of Judah.

1 Samuel 30:17 From dawn until evening the next day, David attacked them. No one escaped except 400 young men who rode away on camels.

1 Samuel 30:18 David rescued everything the Amalekites had taken, including his two wives.

1 Samuel 30:19 Nothing was missing-young or old, sons or daughters, the loot or anything else they had taken with them. David brought back everything.

1 Samuel 30:20 He took all the sheep and the cattle. His men drove the animals ahead of him and said, “This is David’s loot.”

1 Samuel 30:21 David came to the 200 men who had been too exhausted to go with him and had stayed in the Besor Valley. They came to meet David and the people with him. As David approached the men, he greeted them.

1 Samuel 30:22 Then every wicked and worthless man who had gone with David said, “Since they didn’t go with us, they shouldn’t be given any of the loot we recovered. Each of them should take only his wife and children and leave.”

1 Samuel 30:23 But David said, “My brothers, don’t do that with the things which the LORD has given us. He has protected us and handed the troops that attacked us over to us.

1 Samuel 30:24 Besides, who is going to pay attention to what you have to say in this matter? Certainly, the share of those who go into battle must be like the share of those who stay with the supplies. They will all share alike.”

1 Samuel 30:25 From that time on he made this a rule and a custom in Israel as it is to this day.

1 Samuel 30:26 When David came to Ziklag, he sent part of the loot to his friends, the leaders of Judah. He said, “Here is a gift for you from the loot [taken from] the LORD’s enemies.”

1 Samuel 30:27 There were shares for those in Bethel, Ramoth in the Negev, Jattir,

1 Samuel 30:28 Aroer, Siphmoth, Eshtemoa,

1 Samuel 30:29 Racal, the cities belonging to the Jerahmeelites, the cities belonging to the Kenites,

1 Samuel 30:30 Hormah, Borashan, Athach,

1 Samuel 30:31 Hebron, and to all the places David and his men visited from time to time.

1 Samuel 31:1 When the Philistines were fighting against Israel, the men of Israel fled from the Philistines and were killed in battle on Mount Gilboa.

1 Samuel 31:2 The Philistines caught up to Saul and his sons. They killed Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua, Saul's sons.

1 Samuel 31:3 The heaviest fighting was against Saul. When the archers got him in their range, he was badly wounded by them.

1 Samuel 31:4 Saul told his armorbearer, "Draw your sword! Stab me, or these godless men will come, stab me, and make fun of me." But his armorbearer refused because he was terrified. So Saul took the sword and fell on it.

1 Samuel 31:5 When the armorbearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died with him.

1 Samuel 31:6 So Saul, his three sons, his armorbearer, and all his men died together that day.

1 Samuel 31:7 When the people of Israel on the other side of the valley and across the Jordan River saw that the men of Israel had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their cities. So the Philistines came to live in these cities.

1 Samuel 31:8 The next day, when the Philistines came to strip the dead, they found Saul and his three sons lying on Mount Gilboa.

1 Samuel 31:9 They cut off his head and stripped off his armor. Then they sent men throughout Philistine territory to tell the people this good news in their idols' temples.

1 Samuel 31:10 They put his armor in the temple of their goddesses-the Asherahs-and fastened his corpse to the wall of Beth Shan.

1 Samuel 31:11 When the people living in Jabesh Gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul,

1 Samuel 31:12 all the fighting men marched all night and took the dead bodies of Saul and his sons from the wall of Beth Shan. They came back to Jabesh and burned the bodies there.

1 Samuel 31:13 They took the bones and buried them under the tamarisk tree in Jabesh. Then they fasted seven days.

2 Samuel

1:1 After Saul died and David returned from defeating the Amalekites, David stayed in Ziklag two days.

2 Samuel 1:2 On the third day a man came from Saul's camp. His clothes were torn, and he had dirt on his head. When he came to David, he immediately bowed down with his face touching the ground.

2 Samuel 1:3 "Where did you come from?" David asked him. "I escaped from the camp of Israel," he answered.

2 Samuel 1:4 “What happened?” David asked him. “Please tell me.” The man answered, “The army fled from the battle, and many of the soldiers died. Saul and his son Jonathan are dead too.”

2 Samuel 1:5 “How do you know Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?” David asked the young man who had brought him the news.

2 Samuel 1:6 The young man answered, “I happened to be on Mount Gilboa. Saul was there leaning on his spear, and the chariots and horsemen were catching up with him.

2 Samuel 1:7 When he looked back and saw me, he called to me, and I said, ‘Yes?’”

2 Samuel 1:8 “He asked me, ‘Who are you?’ “I said to him, ‘I’m an Amalekite.’

2 Samuel 1:9 “He said to me, ‘Please stand over me and kill me. I’m alive, but I’m suffering.’

2 Samuel 1:10 “So I stood over him and killed him, since I knew he couldn’t survive after he had been wounded. And I took the crown that was on his head and the band that was on his arm and brought them here to you, sir.”

2 Samuel 1:11 Then David grabbed his own clothes and tore them in grief. All the men with him did the same.

2 Samuel 1:12 They mourned, cried, and fasted until evening because Saul, his son Jonathan, the LORD’s army, and the nation of Israel had been defeated in battle.

2 Samuel 1:13 David asked the young man who had brought him the news, “Where are you from?” And the young man answered, “I’m an Amalekite, the son of a foreign resident.”

2 Samuel 1:14 David asked, “Why weren’t you afraid to take it upon yourself to destroy the LORD’s anointed king?”

2 Samuel 1:15 Then David called one of [his] young men and told him, “Come here and attack him.” David’s young man executed him

2 Samuel 1:16 while David said, “You are responsible for spilling your own blood. You testified against yourself when you said, ‘I killed the LORD’s anointed king.’”

2 Samuel 1:17 David wrote this song of mourning for Saul and his son Jonathan.

2 Samuel 1:18 He said, “Teach this [kesheth] to the people of Judah.” (It is recorded in the Book of Jashar.)

2 Samuel 1:19 “Your glory, Israel, lies dead on your hills. See how the mighty have fallen!

2 Samuel 1:20 Don’t tell the news in Gath. Don’t announce the victory in the streets of Ashkelon, or the daughters of the Philistines will be glad, and the daughters of godless men will celebrate.

2 Samuel 1:21 You mountains in Gilboa, may there be no dew or rain on you or on your slopes, because warriors' shields were tarnished there. Saul's shield was never rubbed with olive oil.

2 Samuel 1:22 From the blood of those killed and the fat of the warriors, Jonathan's bow did not turn away, nor did Saul's sword return unused.

2 Samuel 1:23 Saul and Jonathan were loved and well-liked while they were living. They were not separated even when they died. They were swifter than eagles and stronger than lions.

2 Samuel 1:24 Daughters of Israel, cry over Saul, who dressed you in decorated, red clothes, who put gold jewelry on your clothes.

2 Samuel 1:25 See how the mighty have fallen in battle! On your hills Jonathan was killed!

2 Samuel 1:26 I am heartbroken over you, my brother Jonathan. You were my great delight. Your love was more wonderful to me than the love of women.

2 Samuel 1:27 See how the mighty have fallen! See how the weapons of war have been destroyed!"

2 Samuel 2:1 After this, David asked the LORD, "Should I go to one of the cities of Judah?" "Go," the LORD answered him. "Where should I go?" David asked. "To Hebron," the LORD replied.

2 Samuel 2:2 David went there with his two wives, Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail (who had been Nabal's wife) from Carmel.

2 Samuel 2:3 David took his men and their families with him, and they settled in the towns around Hebron.

2 Samuel 2:4 Then the people of Judah came to Hebron and anointed David to be king over the tribe of Judah. They told David, "The people of Jabesh Gilead were the ones who buried Saul."

2 Samuel 2:5 So David sent messengers to the people of Jabesh Gilead. He said to them, "May the LORD bless you because you showed kindness to your master Saul by burying him.

2 Samuel 2:6 May the LORD always show you kindness. I, too, will be good to you because you did this.

2 Samuel 2:7 Now, be strong and courageous. Because your master Saul is dead, the tribe of Judah has anointed me to be their king."

2 Samuel 2:8 Ner's son Abner, commander of Saul's army, took Saul's son Ishbosheth and brought him to Mahanaim.

2 Samuel 2:9 Abner made him king of Gilead, Asher, Jezreel, Ephraim, and Benjamin, that is, all Israel.

2 Samuel 2:10 Saul's son Ishbosheth was 40 years old when he became king of Israel. He ruled for two years, but the tribe of Judah followed David.

2 Samuel 2:11 In Hebron David was king over the tribe of Judah for seven years and six months.

2 Samuel 2:12 Ner's son Abner and the officers of Saul's son Ishbosheth went from Mahanaim to Gibeon.

2 Samuel 2:13 Zeruiah's son Joab and David's officers also left [Hebron]. Both groups met at the pool of Gibeon. They sat down there, one group on one side of the pool and the other group on the other side of the pool.

2 Samuel 2:14 Abner said to Joab, "Let's have the young men hold a contest." Joab agreed.

2 Samuel 2:15 The men got up and were counted as they passed by. Twelve were from the tribe of Benjamin (representing Saul's son Ishbosheth), and twelve were from David's officers.

2 Samuel 2:16 Each one grabbed his opponent by the head, stuck his sword into his opponent's side, and they fell down together. Therefore, that place in Gibeon is called the Field of Enemies.

2 Samuel 2:17 Fierce fighting broke out that day, and David's men defeated Abner and the men of Israel.

2 Samuel 2:18 Zeruiah's three sons were there: Joab, Abishai, and Asahel. Asahel was as fast on his feet as a wild gazelle.

2 Samuel 2:19 He chased Abner and refused to leave him alone.

2 Samuel 2:20 When Abner looked back, he asked, "Are you Asahel?" "Yes," Asahel answered.

2 Samuel 2:21 Abner told him, "Leave me alone! Catch one of the young men, and take his weapon." But Asahel refused to turn away from him.

2 Samuel 2:22 So Abner spoke again to Asahel. "Stop following me," he said. "Why should I kill you? How could I look your brother Joab in the face again?"

2 Samuel 2:23 But Asahel refused to turn away. So Abner struck him with the butt of the spear. The spear went into his belly and came out his back. He fell down there and died on the spot. And everyone who came to the place where Asahel fell and died stopped there.

2 Samuel 2:24 But Joab and Abishai chased Abner. When the sun went down, they came to the hill of Ammah, opposite Giah on the road from Gibeon to the desert.

2 Samuel 2:25 The men of Benjamin rallied behind Abner, banding together and taking their position on top of a hill.

2 Samuel 2:26 Then Abner called to Joab, "Should this slaughter go on forever? Don't you know this will end in bitterness? How long will it be before you will call off your troops from chasing their relatives?"

2 Samuel 2:27 Joab answered, “I solemnly swear, as God lives, if you had not spoken, the men would not have stopped chasing their relatives until morning.”

2 Samuel 2:28 So Joab blew a ram’s horn, and all the troops stopped. They didn’t chase or fight Israel anymore.

2 Samuel 2:29 Abner and his men marched through the plains all that night. They crossed the Jordan River and passed through the entire Bithron until they came to Mahanaim.

2 Samuel 2:30 Joab returned from chasing Abner. When he had gathered all the troops, [only] 19 of David’s officers and Asahel were missing.

2 Samuel 2:31 However, David’s officers had killed 360 of the men of Benjamin under Abner’s command.

2 Samuel 2:32 They took Asahel and buried him in his father’s tomb in Bethlehem. Then Joab and his men marched all night and arrived at Hebron by daybreak.

2 Samuel 3:1 As the war between the royal families of Saul and David dragged on, David’s family became stronger and stronger, and Saul’s family became weaker and weaker.

2 Samuel 3:2 Sons were born to David while he was in Hebron. His first son was Amnon, [born] to Ahinoam from Jezreel.

2 Samuel 3:3 The second was Chileab, [born] to Abigail (who had been Nabal’s wife) from Carmel. The third was Absalom, whose mother was Maacah (the daughter of King Talmai) from Geshur.

2 Samuel 3:4 The fourth was Adonijah, whose mother was Haggith. The fifth was Shephatiah, whose mother was Abital.

2 Samuel 3:5 The sixth was Ithream, [born] to David’s wife Eglah. These sons were born to David while he was in Hebron.

2 Samuel 3:6 During the war between the families of Saul and David, Abner strengthened his position in Saul’s royal family.

2 Samuel 3:7 Saul had a concubine named Rizpah (Aiah’s daughter). Ishbosheth asked Abner, “Why did you have sex with my father’s concubine?”

2 Samuel 3:8 Ishbosheth’s question made Abner very angry. “Have I been behaving like some Judean dog?” he asked. “Until now I’ve been faithful to your father Saul’s family, to his relatives and friends, and I haven’t handed you over to David. But now you charge me with a crime because of this woman.

2 Samuel 3:9 May God strike me dead unless I do for David what the LORD had promised him with an oath:

2 Samuel 3:10 'I, the LORD, will transfer the kingship from Saul's family and establish David's throne over Israel and Judah from Dan to Beersheba.'"

2 Samuel 3:11 Ishbosheth couldn't respond to a single word, because he was afraid of Abner.

2 Samuel 3:12 Then Abner sent messengers to David to speak on his behalf. "Who owns this country?" he asked. "Make an agreement with me," he said. "I'll support you and bring all Israel to you."

2 Samuel 3:13 "Good!" David answered. "I'll make an agreement with you. But there's one condition: You can't come to see me unless you bring Michal, Saul's daughter, when you come."

2 Samuel 3:14 Then David sent messengers to Saul's son Ishbosheth to say, "Give me my wife Michal. I made a payment of 100 Philistine foreskins for her."

2 Samuel 3:15 So Ishbosheth sent men to take her from her husband Paltiel, son of Laish.

2 Samuel 3:16 Her husband went with her and cried over her all the way to Bahurim. "Go home," Abner told him. So he went home.

2 Samuel 3:17 Meanwhile, Abner sent the following message to the leaders of Israel: "For some time now you've wanted to make David your king.

2 Samuel 3:18 Do it now, because the LORD said about David: 'I will save my people Israel from the Philistines and all their other enemies through my servant David.'"

2 Samuel 3:19 Abner also spoke specifically to the people of Benjamin. Then Abner went directly to David in Hebron to tell him everything Israel and the entire tribe of Benjamin had approved.

2 Samuel 3:20 So Abner came with 20 men to David in Hebron, and David had a feast for Abner and his men.

2 Samuel 3:21 Abner told David, "I must go now so that I can gather all Israel for you, Your Majesty. They will make a treaty with you, and you will rule everything your heart desires." Then David dismissed Abner, who left peacefully.

2 Samuel 3:22 Just then David's men and Joab were coming home from a raid with a lot of goods. Abner had been dismissed, so he was no longer with David in Hebron.

2 Samuel 3:23 When Joab came back with the whole army, he was told, "Ner's son Abner came to the king, but David dismissed him, and Abner left peacefully."

2 Samuel 3:24 Then Joab went to the king and asked, "What have you done? Abner came to see you. Why did you dismiss him and let him get away?

2 Samuel 3:25 Certainly you must know that Ner’s son Abner came to deceive you, to find out about your movements and learn everything you’re doing!”

2 Samuel 3:26 After leaving David, Joab sent messengers after Abner. They brought him back from the cistern of Sirah without David knowing about it.

2 Samuel 3:27 When Abner returned to Hebron, Joab took him aside in the gateway as if to talk to him privately. There he stabbed Abner in the belly. Abner died because he spilled the blood of Joab’s brother Asahel.

2 Samuel 3:28 Later when David heard about it, he said, “As far as the LORD is concerned, my kingdom and I are forever innocent of spilling the blood of Ner’s son Abner.

2 Samuel 3:29 May the blame fall on the head of Joab and all of his family. May there always be members of Joab’s family who have oozing sores and skin diseases, who can only work a spindle, who die in battle, and who never have any food.”

2 Samuel 3:30 (Joab and his brother Abishai killed Abner because he had killed their brother Asahel in the battle at Gibeon.)

2 Samuel 3:31 David told Joab and all the people with him, “Tear your clothes, put on sackcloth, and mourn for Abner.” King David followed the open casket.

2 Samuel 3:32 They buried Abner in Hebron. The king cried loudly at Abner’s grave, and all the people cried.

2 Samuel 3:33 The king sang a funeral song for Abner: Should Abner die like a godless fool?

2 Samuel 3:34 Your hands were not tied. Your feet were not chained. You fell as one falls in front of wicked men. And all the people continued to cry for him.

2 Samuel 3:35 That entire day all the people tried to get David to eat some food. But David had taken an oath: “May God strike me dead if I taste any food or anything else before the sun goes down.”

2 Samuel 3:36 Then all the people understood and approved of this, as all the people approved of everything the king did.

2 Samuel 3:37 That day all the people of Israel knew the king wasn’t responsible for killing Ner’s son Abner.

2 Samuel 3:38 The king said to his officers, “Don’t you know that today a leader, a great man, has fallen in Israel?

2 Samuel 3:39 Today I’m weak, though I’m the anointed king. These men, Zeruiah’s sons, are too cruel for me. May the LORD repay this evildoer as his evil deeds deserve.”

2 Samuel 4:1 When Saul’s son Ishbosheth heard that Abner had died in Hebron, he lost his courage, and all Israel was alarmed.

2 Samuel 4:2 Saul’s son had two men who were captains of raiding parties. One was named Baanah, and the other was named Rechab. They were the sons of Rimmon from Beeroth from the tribe of Benjamin. (Beeroth was considered a part of Benjamin,

2 Samuel 4:3 even though the people of Beeroth had fled to Gittaim. They still live there today.

2 Samuel 4:4 In addition, Saul’s son Jonathan had a son who was crippled. When the boy was five years old, the news about [the death of] Saul and Jonathan came from Jezreel. His nurse picked him up and fled [to Gittaim]. She was in a hurry when she left, and he fell [from her arms] and became disabled. His name was Mephibosheth.)

2 Samuel 4:5 Rechab and Baanah, the sons of Rimmon from Beeroth, came to Ishbosheth’s home at the hottest time of the day. Ishbosheth was taking his midday nap

2 Samuel 4:6 when they came into the house as though they were going to get some flour. Instead, they stabbed him in the belly. Then Rechab and his brother Baanah escaped.

2 Samuel 4:7 (They had come into the house while Ishbosheth was sleeping on his bed in his bedroom. They stabbed him, killed him, and cut off his head.) They took his head and traveled all night along the road to the plains.

2 Samuel 4:8 They brought Ishbosheth’s head to David at Hebron. “Here is the head of Ishbosheth, the son of your enemy Saul who tried to kill you,” they told the king. “Today the LORD has given Your Royal Majesty revenge on Saul and his descendants.”

2 Samuel 4:9 David responded to Rechab and his brother Baanah, the sons of Rimmon from Beeroth,

2 Samuel 4:10 “I once seized a man who told me that Saul had died. He thought he was bringing good news. I killed him in Ziklag to reward him for his news.

2 Samuel 4:11 How much more [should I reward] wicked men who kill an innocent man on his own bed in his home? The LORD has rescued me from every trouble. I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, I’ll now seek revenge for his murder and rid the land of you.”

2 Samuel 4:12 So David gave an order to his young men, who executed Rechab and Baanah, cut off their hands and feet, and hung their dead bodies by the pond in Hebron. Then they took Ishbosheth’s head and buried it in Abner’s tomb in Hebron.

2 Samuel 5:1 All the tribes of Israel came to David at Hebron. “We are your own flesh and blood,” they said.

2 Samuel 5:2 “Even in the past when Saul ruled us, you were the one who led Israel in battle. The LORD has said to you, ‘You will be shepherd of my people Israel, the leader of Israel.’”

2 Samuel 5:3 All the leaders of Israel had come to Hebron. King David made an agreement with them at Hebron in front of the LORD. So they anointed David king of Israel.

2 Samuel 5:4 David was 30 years old when he became king, and he ruled for 40 years.

2 Samuel 5:5 In Hebron he ruled Judah for seven years and six months. In Jerusalem he ruled for 33 years over all Israel and Judah.

2 Samuel 5:6 The king and his men went to Jerusalem to attack the Jebusites, who lived in that region. The Jebusites told David, “You will never get in here. Even the blind and the lame could turn you away” (meaning that David could never get in there).

2 Samuel 5:7 But David captured the fortress Zion (that is, the City of David).

2 Samuel 5:8 That day David said, “Whoever wants to defeat the Jebusites must reach the lame and the blind who hate me by using the water shaft.” So there is a saying, “The blind and the lame will not get into the palace.”

2 Samuel 5:9 David lived in the fortress and called it the City of David. He built the city [of Jerusalem] around it from the Millo to the palace.

2 Samuel 5:10 David continued to grow more powerful because the LORD God of Armies was with him.

2 Samuel 5:11 Then King Hiram of Tyre sent messengers to David, along with cedarwood, carpenters, and stonemasons. They built a palace for David.

2 Samuel 5:12 So David realized that the LORD had established him as king of Israel and made his kingship famous for the sake of Israel, the LORD’s people.

2 Samuel 5:13 David married more concubines and wives from Jerusalem after he had come there from Hebron, and he fathered more sons and daughters.

2 Samuel 5:14 These are the names of the children born to him in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,

2 Samuel 5:15 Ibhar, Elishua, Nepheg, Japhia,

2 Samuel 5:16 Elishama, Eliada, and Eliphelet.

2 Samuel 5:17 When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king of Israel, all of them came to attack David. But David heard about it and went to the fortress.

2 Samuel 5:18 The Philistines had come and overrun the valley of Rephaim.

2 Samuel 5:19 David asked the LORD, “Should I attack the Philistines? Will you hand them over to me?” The LORD answered David, “Attack! I will certainly hand the Philistines over to you.”

2 Samuel 5:20 So David went to Baal Perazim and defeated the Philistines there. He said, “The LORD has overwhelmed my enemies in front of me like an overwhelming flood.” That is why that place is called Baal Perazim [The Lord Overwhelms].

2 Samuel 5:21 The Philistines left their idols there, so David and his men carried the idols away.

2 Samuel 5:22 The Philistines again attacked and overran the valley of Rephaim.

2 Samuel 5:23 David asked the LORD, and he answered, “Don’t attack now, but circle around behind them, and come at them in front of the balsam trees.

2 Samuel 5:24 When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the balsam trees, act immediately because the LORD has gone ahead of you to defeat the Philistine army.”

2 Samuel 5:25 David did as the LORD ordered him and defeated the Philistines from Geba to Gezer.

2 Samuel 6:1 David again assembled all the best soldiers in Israel, 30,000 men.

2 Samuel 6:2 He and all the people with him left Baalah in Judah to bring God’s ark [to Jerusalem]. (The ark is called by the name of the LORD of Armies, who is enthroned over the angels.)

2 Samuel 6:3 David and his men put God’s ark on a new cart and brought it from Abinadab’s home on the hill. Uzzah and Ahio, Abinadab’s sons, were guiding the new cart.

2 Samuel 6:4 They brought it from Abinadab’s home, with Ahio walking ahead of the ark.

2 Samuel 6:5 David and the entire nation of Israel were celebrating in the LORD’s presence with all kinds of instruments made from cypress wood and with lyres, harps, tambourines, sistrums, and cymbals.

2 Samuel 6:6 But when they came to Nacon’s threshing floor, the oxen stumbled. So Uzzah reached out for the ark of God and grabbed it.

2 Samuel 6:7 The LORD became angry with Uzzah, so God killed him there for his lack of respect. He died beside the ark of God.

2 Samuel 6:8 David was angry because the LORD had struck Uzzah so violently. (That place is still called Perez Uzzah [The Striking of Uzzah] today.)

2 Samuel 6:9 David was afraid of the LORD that day. “How can the ark of the LORD come to my [city]?” he asked.

2 Samuel 6:10 So David wouldn’t bring the ark of the LORD with him to the City of David. Instead, he rerouted it to the home of Obed Edom, who was from Gath.

2 Samuel 6:11 The ark of the LORD stayed at the home of Obed Edom from Gath for three months, and the LORD blessed Obed Edom and his whole family.

2 Samuel 6:12 King David was told, “The LORD has blessed Obed Edom’s home and everything he owns because of the ark of God.” Then David joyfully went to get the ark of God from Obed Edom’s house and bring it to the City of David.

2 Samuel 6:13 When those who carried the ark of the LORD had gone six steps, David sacrificed a bull and a fattened calf.

2 Samuel 6:14 Wearing a linen ephod, David danced in the LORD’s presence with all his might.

2 Samuel 6:15 He and the entire nation of Israel brought the ark of the LORD with shouts of joy and the sounding of rams’ horns.

2 Samuel 6:16 When the ark of the LORD came to the City of David, Saul’s daughter Michal looked out of a window and saw King David leaping and dancing in the LORD’s presence, so she despised him.

2 Samuel 6:17 The men carrying the ark set it in its place inside the tent David had put up for it. David sacrificed burnt offerings and fellowship offerings in the LORD’s presence.

2 Samuel 6:18 When David had finished sacrificing the burnt offerings and the fellowship offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of Armies.

2 Samuel 6:19 He also distributed to all the people-to the whole crowd of Israelites, both men and women-one loaf of bread, one date cake, and one raisin cake. Then all the people went home.

2 Samuel 6:20 When David returned to bless his family, Saul’s daughter Michal came out to meet him. “How dignified Israel’s king was today! He was exposing himself before the eyes of the slave girls of his palace staff-like a mindless fool might expose himself!”

2 Samuel 6:21 David answered Michal, “[I didn’t dance in front of the slave girls but] in front of the LORD. He chose me rather than your father or anyone in your father’s house, and he appointed me leader of Israel, the LORD’s people. I will celebrate in the LORD’s presence,

2 Samuel 6:22 and I will degrade myself even more than this. Even if I am humiliated in your eyes, I will be honored by these slave girls you speak about.”

2 Samuel 6:23 So Saul’s daughter Michal was childless her entire life.

2 Samuel 7:1 While King David was living in his house, the LORD gave him peace with all his enemies around him.

2 Samuel 7:2 So the king said to the prophet Nathan, “Look, I’m living in a house made of cedar, while the ark of God remains in the tent.”

2 Samuel 7:3 Nathan told the king, “Do everything you have in mind, because the LORD is with you.”

2 Samuel 7:4 But that same night the LORD spoke his word to Nathan:

2 Samuel 7:5 “Say to my servant David, ‘This is what the LORD says: Are you the one who will build me a house to live in?

2 Samuel 7:6 I haven’t lived in a house from the day I took Israel out of Egypt to this day. Instead, I moved around in a tent, the tent [of meeting].

2 Samuel 7:7 In all the places I’ve moved with all the Israelites, did I ever ask any of the judges of Israel whom I ordered to be shepherds of my people Israel why they didn’t build me a house of cedar?’

2 Samuel 7:8 “Now this is what you will say to my servant David: ‘This is what the LORD of Armies says: I took you from the pasture where you followed sheep so that you could be the leader of my people Israel.

2 Samuel 7:9 I was with you wherever you went, and I destroyed all your enemies in front of you. I will make your name famous like the names of the greatest people on earth.

2 Samuel 7:10 I will make a place for my people Israel and plant them there. They will live in their own place and not be troubled anymore. The wicked will no longer oppress them as they used to do

2 Samuel 7:11 ever since I appointed judges to rule my people Israel. So I will give you peace with all your enemies. I, the LORD, tell you that I will make a house for you.

2 Samuel 7:12 “ ‘When the time comes for you to lie down in death with your ancestors, I will send one of your descendants, [one] who will come from you. I will establish his kingdom.

2 Samuel 7:13 He will build a house for my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever.

2 Samuel 7:14 I will be his Father, and he will be my Son. If he sins, I will punish him with a rod and with blows inflicted by people.

2 Samuel 7:15 But I will never stop showing him my love as I did to Saul, whom I took out of your way.

2 Samuel 7:16 Your royal house will remain in my presence forever. Your throne will be established forever.’ “

2 Samuel 7:17 Nathan told David all these words and everything he had seen.

2 Samuel 7:18 King David went into the tent and sat in front of the LORD. “Who am I, Almighty LORD,” he asked, “and why is my house so important that you have brought me this far?

2 Samuel 7:19 And even this you consider to be a small act, Almighty LORD. You’ve also spoken about the distant future of my house. Almighty LORD, this is the teaching about the man.

2 Samuel 7:20 “What more can I, David, say to you, Almighty LORD, since you know me so well!

2 Samuel 7:21 You’ve done this great thing because of your promise and your own desire. You made it known to me.

2 Samuel 7:22 “That is why you are great, LORD God. There is no one like you, and there is no other god except you, as we have heard with our own ears.

2 Samuel 7:23 Who is like your people Israel? It is the one nation on earth that God came to free in order to make its people his own, to make his name known, and to do great and wonderful things for them. You forced nations and their gods out of the way of your people, whom you freed from Egypt to be your own.

2 Samuel 7:24 You created the people of Israel to be your people forever. And you, LORD, became their God.

2 Samuel 7:25 “Now, LORD God, keep the promise you made to me and my house forever. Do as you promised.

2 Samuel 7:26 Your name will be respected forever when [people] say, ‘The LORD of Armies is God over Israel.’ And the house of your servant David will be established in your presence.

2 Samuel 7:27 You, LORD of Armies, God of Israel, have revealed it especially to me, saying, ‘I will build a house for you.’ That is why I have found the courage to offer this prayer to you.

2 Samuel 7:28 “Almighty LORD, you are God, and your words are trustworthy. You promised me this good thing.

2 Samuel 7:29 Now, please bless my house so that it may continue in your presence forever. Indeed, you, Almighty LORD, have promised it. With your blessing my house will be blessed forever.”

2 Samuel 8:1 After this, David defeated and crushed the Philistines. He took control of the main Philistine city from them.

2 Samuel 8:2 He also defeated Moab, made the Moabites lie down on the ground, and measured them with a rope. He measured two lengths which were to be killed, and one length which was to be spared. So the Moabites became David’s subjects and paid taxes [to him].

2 Samuel 8:3 When David went to restore his control [over the territory] along the Euphrates River, he defeated Zobah’s King Hadadezer, son of Rehob.

2 Samuel 8:4 David took 1,700 horsemen and 20,000 foot soldiers from him. David also disabled all but 100 of their horses so that they couldn't pull chariots.

2 Samuel 8:5 When the Arameans from Damascus came to help King Hadadezer of Zobah, David killed 22,000 of them.

2 Samuel 8:6 David put troops in the Aramean kingdom of Damascus, and the Arameans became his subjects and paid taxes [to him]. Everywhere David went, the LORD gave him victories.

2 Samuel 8:7 David took the gold shields that belonged to Hadadezer's servants, and he brought them to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 8:8 King David also took a large quantity of bronze from Betah and Berothai, Hadadezer's cities.

2 Samuel 8:9 When King Toi of Hamath heard that David had defeated Hadadezer's whole army,

2 Samuel 8:10 he sent his son Joram to greet King David and congratulate him for fighting and defeating Hadadezer. (There had often been war between Hadadezer and Toi.) Joram brought articles of gold, silver, and bronze with him.

2 Samuel 8:11 King David dedicated these articles to the LORD, along with the silver and gold he had dedicated from all the nations he conquered-

2 Samuel 8:12 from Edom, Moab, Ammon, the Philistines, Amalek, and from the goods taken from Zobah's King Hadadezer, son of Rehob.

2 Samuel 8:13 David made a name for himself by killing 18,000 Edomites in the Dead Sea region as he returned [to Jerusalem].

2 Samuel 8:14 He put troops everywhere in Edom, and all the Edomites were David's subjects. Everywhere David went, the LORD gave him victories.

2 Samuel 8:15 So David ruled all Israel. He did what was fair and right for all his people.

2 Samuel 8:16 Zeruiah's son Joab was in charge of the army. Ahilud's son Jehoshaphat was the royal historian.

2 Samuel 8:17 Ahitub's son Zadok and Abiathar's son Ahimelech were priests. Seraiah was the royal scribe.

2 Samuel 8:18 Jehoiada's son Benaiah was commander of the Cherethites and the Pelethites. And David's sons were priests.

2 Samuel 9:1 David asked, "Is there anyone left in Saul's family to whom I can show kindness for Jonathan's sake?"

2 Samuel 9:2 Now, Saul's family had a servant whose name was Ziba. He was summoned to [come to] David. "Are you Ziba?" the king asked him. "[Yes,] I am," he answered.

2 Samuel 9:3 David asked, “Is there someone left in Saul’s family to whom I can show God’s kindness?” “Jonathan has a son who is disabled,” Ziba answered.

2 Samuel 9:4 “Where is he?” the king asked. Ziba replied, “He is at the home of Machir, Ammiel’s son, in Lo Debar.”

2 Samuel 9:5 So King David sent men to get him from the home of Ammiel’s son Machir in Lo Debar.

2 Samuel 9:6 When Mephibosheth (son of Jonathan and grandson of Saul) came to David, he quickly bowed down with his face touching the ground. “Mephibosheth!” David said to him. “Yes, sir,” he answered.

2 Samuel 9:7 “Don’t be afraid,” David told him, “I will certainly show you kindness for your father Jonathan’s sake. I will give back to you all the land of your grandfather Saul, and you will always eat at my table.”

2 Samuel 9:8 Mephibosheth bowed down [again] and answered, “Who am I that you would look at a dead dog like me?”

2 Samuel 9:9 Then the king called for Ziba, Saul’s servant, and said to him, “I have given your master’s grandson everything that belonged to Saul and his family.

2 Samuel 9:10 You, your sons, and your servants should farm the land for him and harvest [the crops] so that your master’s family will have food to eat. However, your master’s grandson Mephibosheth will always eat at my table.” (Ziba had 15 sons and 20 servants.)

2 Samuel 9:11 Ziba responded, “I will do everything you’ve commanded, Your Majesty.” From then on, Mephibosheth ate at David’s table as one of the king’s sons.

2 Samuel 9:12 Mephibosheth had a young son whose name was Mica. Everyone who lived at Ziba’s home became Mephibosheth’s servant.

2 Samuel 9:13 However, Mephibosheth, who was disabled, lived in Jerusalem. He always ate at the king’s table.

2 Samuel 10:1 Later the king of Ammon died, and his son Hanun became king in his place.

2 Samuel 10:2 David thought, “I will show kindness to Hanun as his father Nahash showed me kindness.” So David sent his servants to comfort Hanun after his father’s [death]. But when David’s servants entered Ammonite territory,

2 Samuel 10:3 the Ammonite princes asked their master Hanun, “Do you think David is honoring your father because he sent men to comfort you? Hasn’t David sent his men to explore the city, spy on it, and destroy it?”

2 Samuel 10:4 So Hanun took David’s men, shaved off half of each man’s beard, cut off their clothes from the waist down, and sent them away.

2 Samuel 10:5 After David was told [what had happened], he sent [someone] to meet them because they were deeply humiliated. The king said to them, “Stay in Jericho until your beards have grown back, and then return [to Jerusalem].”

2 Samuel 10:6 The Ammonites realized that they had made themselves offensive to David. So they hired the Arameans from Beth Rehob and Zobah the king of Maacah

2 Samuel 10:7 After David heard about this, he sent Joab and all the elite troops.

2 Samuel 10:8 The Ammonites formed a battle line at the entrance of the [city] gate, while the Arameans from Zobah and Rehob and the men from Tob and Maacah remained by themselves in the open country.

2 Samuel 10:9 When Joab saw he was under attack in front and behind, he took the select troops of Israel and organized them for combat against the Arameans.

2 Samuel 10:10 He put his brother Abishai in charge of the rest of the troops. Abishai organized them for combat against the Ammonites.

2 Samuel 10:11 Joab said, “If the Arameans are too strong for my [troops], be ready to help me. And if the Ammonites are too strong for your [troops], I’ll come to help you.

2 Samuel 10:12 Be strong! Let’s prove ourselves strong for our people and for the cities of our God, and the LORD will do what he considers right.”

2 Samuel 10:13 Then Joab and his troops advanced to fight the Arameans, and the Arameans fled.

2 Samuel 10:14 When the Ammonites saw that the Arameans had fled, the Ammonites fled from Abishai and went into the city. So Joab stopped his campaign against the Ammonites and returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 10:15 Realizing that Israel had defeated them, the Arameans reassembled [their troops].

2 Samuel 10:16 Hadadezer sent [messengers] to get Arameans from beyond the Euphrates River. The Arameans came to Helam with Shobach, the commander of Hadadezer’s army, leading them.

2 Samuel 10:17 When David was told [about this], he assembled Israel’s army, crossed the Jordan River, and came to Helam. The Arameans formed a battle line against David’s [troops] and fought him.

2 Samuel 10:18 The Arameans fled from Israel, and David killed 700 chariot drivers and 40,000 horsemen. David struck Shobach dead.

2 Samuel 10:19 When all the kings who were subject to Hadadezer saw that Israel had defeated them, they made peace with Israel and became their subjects. And the Arameans were afraid to help the Ammonites anymore.

2 Samuel 11:1 In the spring, the time when kings go out to battle, David sent Joab, his mercenaries, and Israel's army [to war]. They destroyed the Ammonites and attacked Rabbah, while David stayed in Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 11:2 Now, when evening came, David got up from his bed and walked around on the roof of the royal palace. From the roof he saw a woman bathing, and she was very pretty.

2 Samuel 11:3 David sent someone to ask about the woman. The man said, "She's Bathsheba, daughter of Eliam and wife of Uriah the Hittite."

2 Samuel 11:4 So David sent messengers and took her. She came to him, and he went to bed with her. (She had just cleansed herself after her monthly period.) Then she went home.

2 Samuel 11:5 The woman had become pregnant. So she sent someone to tell David that she was pregnant.

2 Samuel 11:6 Then David sent a messenger to Joab, saying, "Send me Uriah the Hittite." So Joab sent Uriah to David.

2 Samuel 11:7 When Uriah arrived, David asked him how Joab and the troops were and how the war was going.

2 Samuel 11:8 "Go home," David said to Uriah, "and wash your feet." Uriah left the royal palace, and the king sent a present to him.

2 Samuel 11:9 But Uriah slept at the entrance of the royal palace among his superior's mercenaries. He didn't go home.

2 Samuel 11:10 When they told David, "Uriah didn't go home," David asked Uriah, "Didn't you just come from a journey? Why didn't you go home?"

2 Samuel 11:11 Uriah answered David, "The ark and [the army of] Israel and Judah are in temporary shelters, and my commander Joab and Your Majesty's mercenaries are living in the field. Should I then go to my house to eat and drink and go to bed with my wife? I solemnly swear, as sure as you're living, I won't do this!"

2 Samuel 11:12 David said to Uriah, "Then stay here today, and tomorrow I'll send you back." So Uriah stayed in Jerusalem that day and the next.

2 Samuel 11:13 David summoned him, ate and drank with him, and got him drunk. But that evening Uriah went to lie down on his bed among his superior's mercenaries. He didn't go home.

2 Samuel 11:14 In the morning David wrote a letter to Joab and sent it with Uriah.

2 Samuel 11:15 In the letter he wrote, "Put Uriah on the front line where the fighting is heaviest. Then abandon him so that he'll be struck down and die."

2 Samuel 11:16 Since Joab had kept the city under observation, he put Uriah at the place where he knew the experienced warriors were.

2 Samuel 11:17 The men of the city came out and fought Joab. Some of the people, namely, some of David's mercenaries, fell and died-including Uriah the Hittite.

2 Samuel 11:18 Then Joab sent [a messenger] to report to David all the details of the battle.

2 Samuel 11:19 And he commanded the messenger, "When you finish telling the king about the battle,

2 Samuel 11:20 the king may become angry. He might ask you, 'Why did you go so close to the city to fight? Didn't you know they would shoot from the wall?

2 Samuel 11:21 Who killed Jerubbesheth's son Abimelech? Didn't a woman on the wall of Thebez throw a small millstone at him and kill him? Why did you go so close to the wall?' If the king asks this, then say, 'Your man Uriah the Hittite is also dead.' "

2 Samuel 11:22 The messenger left, and when he arrived, he reported to David everything Joab told him to say.

2 Samuel 11:23 The messenger said, "Their men overpowered us and came to attack us in the field. Then we forced them back to the entrance of the city gate.

2 Samuel 11:24 The archers on the wall shot down at your mercenaries, and some of Your Majesty's mercenaries died. Your man Uriah the Hittite also is dead."

2 Samuel 11:25 David said to the messenger, "This is what you are to say to Joab, 'Don't let this thing trouble you, because a sword can kill one person as easily as another. Strengthen your attack against the city, and destroy it.' Say this to encourage him."

2 Samuel 11:26 When Uriah's wife heard that her husband Uriah was dead, she mourned for him.

2 Samuel 11:27 When her mourning was over, David sent for her and brought her to his home, and she became his wife. Then she gave birth to a son. But the LORD considered David's actions evil.

2 Samuel 12:1 So the LORD sent Nathan to David. Nathan came to him and said, "There were two men in a certain city. One was rich, and the other was poor.

2 Samuel 12:2 The rich man had a very large number of sheep and cows,

2 Samuel 12:3 but the poor man had only one little female lamb that he had bought. He raised her, and she grew up in his home with his children. She would eat his food and drink from his cup. She rested in his arms and was like a daughter.

2 Samuel 12:4 “Now, a visitor came to the rich man. The rich man thought it would be a pity to take one of his own sheep or cattle to prepare a meal for the traveler. So he took the poor man’s lamb and prepared her for the traveler.”

2 Samuel 12:5 David burned with anger against the man. “I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives,” he said to Nathan, “the man who did this certainly deserves to die!

2 Samuel 12:6 And he must pay back four times the price of the lamb because he did this and had no pity.”

2 Samuel 12:7 “You are the man!” Nathan told David. “This is what the LORD God of Israel says: I anointed you king over Israel and rescued you from Saul.

2 Samuel 12:8 I gave you your master Saul’s house and his wives. I gave you the house of Israel and Judah. And if this weren’t enough, I would have given you even more.

2 Samuel 12:9 Why did you despise my word by doing what I considered evil? You had Uriah the Hittite killed in battle. You took his wife as your wife. You used the Ammonites to kill him.

2 Samuel 12:10 So warfare will never leave your house because you despised me and took the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife.

2 Samuel 12:11 “This is what the LORD says: I will stir up trouble against you within your own household, and before your own eyes I will take your wives and give them to someone close to you. He will go to bed with your wives in broad daylight.

2 Samuel 12:12 You did this secretly, but I will make this happen in broad daylight in front of all Israel.”

2 Samuel 12:13 Then David said to Nathan, “I have sinned against the LORD.” Nathan replied, “The LORD has taken away your sin; you will not die.

2 Samuel 12:14 But since you have shown total contempt for the LORD by this affair, the son that is born to you must die.”

2 Samuel 12:15 Then Nathan went home. The LORD struck the child that Uriah’s wife had given birth to for David so that the child became sick.

2 Samuel 12:16 David pleaded with God for the child; he fasted and lay on the ground all night.

2 Samuel 12:17 The older leaders in his palace stood beside him to raise him up from the ground, but he was unwilling. And he wouldn’t eat with them.

2 Samuel 12:18 On the seventh day the child died. But David’s officials were afraid to tell him that the child was dead. They thought, “While the child was alive, we talked to him, and he wouldn’t listen to us. How can we tell him the child is dead? He may harm [himself].”

2 Samuel 12:19 But when David saw that his officials were whispering to one another, he realized that the child was dead. “Is the child dead?” David asked them. “[Yes,] he is dead,” they answered.

2 Samuel 12:20 So David got up from the ground, bathed, anointed himself, and changed his clothes. He went into the LORD’s house and worshiped. Then he went home and asked for food. They placed food in front of him, and he ate.

2 Samuel 12:21 His officials asked him, “Why are you acting this way? You fasted and cried over the child when he was alive. But as soon as the child died, you got up and ate.”

2 Samuel 12:22 David answered, “As long as the child was alive, I fasted and cried. I thought, ‘Who knows? The LORD may be gracious to me and let the child live.’

2 Samuel 12:23 But why should I fast now that he’s dead? Can I bring him back? [Someday] I’ll go to him, but he won’t come back to me.”

2 Samuel 12:24 Then David comforted his wife Bathsheba. He went to bed with her, and she later gave birth to a son. David named him Solomon. The LORD loved the child

2 Samuel 12:25 and sent a message through the prophet Nathan to name the baby Jedidiah [The LORD’s Beloved].

2 Samuel 12:26 Meanwhile, Joab fought against the Ammonite city of Rabbah and captured its royal fortress.

2 Samuel 12:27 So he sent messengers to tell David, “I fought against Rabbah and captured the fortress guarding its water supply.

2 Samuel 12:28 Gather the rest of the troops, surround the city, and capture it. Otherwise, I will capture the city, and it will be named after me.”

2 Samuel 12:29 So David gathered all the troops and went to Rabbah. He fought against the city and captured it.

2 Samuel 12:30 He took the gold crown from the head of Rabbah’s king and put it on his own head. (The crown weighed 75 pounds and contained a precious stone.) David also took a lot of goods from the city.

2 Samuel 12:31 He brought out the troops who were there and put them to work with saws, hoes, and axes. He did the same to all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all the troops returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 13:1 After this, David’s son Amnon fell in love with Tamar, the beautiful sister of David’s son Absalom.

2 Samuel 13:2 Amnon was so obsessed with his half sister Tamar that he made himself sick. It seemed impossible for him to be alone with her because she was a virgin.

2 Samuel 13:3 Amnon had a friend by the name of Jonadab, a son of David’s brother Shimea. Jonadab was a very clever man.

2 Samuel 13:4 He asked Amnon, “Why are you, the king’s son, so worn out morning after morning? Won’t you tell me?” “I’m in love with Absalom’s sister Tamar,” he answered.

2 Samuel 13:5 Then Jonadab told him, “Lie down on your bed. Act sick, and when your father comes to see you, say to him, ‘Please let my sister Tamar come to feed me. She can prepare a meal in front of me as I watch her, and she can feed me.’”

2 Samuel 13:6 So Amnon lay down and acted sick, and the king came to see him. Amnon asked the king, “Please let my sister Tamar come and make some bread in front of me, and she can feed me.”

2 Samuel 13:7 David sent for Tamar at the palace. “Please go to your brother Amnon’s home,” he said, “and prepare some food for him.”

2 Samuel 13:8 So Tamar went to her brother Amnon’s home. He was lying down. She took dough, kneaded it, made flat bread in front of him, and cooked it.

2 Samuel 13:9 Then she took the pan and served him [the bread]. But he refused to eat. “Have everyone leave me,” he said. So everyone left him.

2 Samuel 13:10 Amnon told Tamar, “Bring the food into the bedroom so that you can feed me.” Tamar took the bread she had prepared and brought it to her brother Amnon in the bedroom.

2 Samuel 13:11 When she handed it to him to eat, he grabbed her and said, “Come to bed with me, Tamar!”

2 Samuel 13:12 “No,” she told him, “don’t rape me! That shouldn’t be done in Israel. Don’t do this godless act!

2 Samuel 13:13 Where could I go in my disgrace? And you will be considered one of the godless fools in Israel! Speak to the king. He won’t refuse your request to marry me.”

2 Samuel 13:14 But Amnon wouldn’t listen to her. He grabbed his sister and raped her.

2 Samuel 13:15 Now, Amnon developed an intense hatred for her. His hatred for her was greater than the lust he had felt for her. “Get out of here,” he told her.

2 Samuel 13:16 She said to him, “No, sending me away is a greater wrong than the other thing you did to me!” But he wouldn’t listen to her.

2 Samuel 13:17 Then he called his personal servant and said, “Get rid of her. Put her out, and bolt the door behind her.”

2 Samuel 13:18 (She was wearing a long-sleeved gown. The king’s virgin daughters wore this kind of robe.) So his servant took her out and bolted the door behind her.

2 Samuel 13:19 Tamar put ashes on her head, tore the long-sleeved gown she had on, put her hands on her head, and went away crying.

2 Samuel 13:20 Her brother Absalom asked her, “Has your brother Amnon been with you? Sister, be quiet for now. He’s your brother. Don’t dwell on this matter.” So Tamar stayed there at the home of her brother Absalom and was depressed.

2 Samuel 13:21 When King David heard about this, he became very angry. But David didn’t punish his son Amnon. He favored Amnon because he was his firstborn son.

2 Samuel 13:22 Absalom wouldn’t speak at all to Amnon. He hated Amnon for raping his sister Tamar.

2 Samuel 13:23 Two years later Absalom had sheepshearers at Baal Hazor near Ephraim. He invited all the king’s sons.

2 Samuel 13:24 Absalom went to the king and said, “Since I have sheepshearers, Your Majesty and your officials are invited [to feast] with me.”

2 Samuel 13:25 “No, Son,” the king answered Absalom. “If we all go, we’ll be a burden to you.” Even when Absalom continued to urge him, David did not want to go, though he did give Absalom his blessing.

2 Samuel 13:26 So Absalom said, “If you won’t go, then please let my brother Amnon go with us.” “Why should he go with you?” the king asked him.

2 Samuel 13:27 But when Absalom urged him, he let Amnon and all [the rest of] the king’s sons go with him.

2 Samuel 13:28 Then Absalom gave an order to his servants. “Watch now,” he said. “When Amnon begins to feel good from drinking [too much] wine, I’ll tell you, ‘Attack Amnon.’ Then kill him. Don’t be afraid. I’ve given you the order, haven’t I? Be strong and courageous.”

2 Samuel 13:29 Absalom’s servants did to Amnon as Absalom had ordered. Then all the king’s sons got up, mounted their mules, and fled.

2 Samuel 13:30 While they were on their way, David heard this rumor: “Absalom has killed all the king’s sons, and not a single one is left.”

2 Samuel 13:31 The king stood up, tore his clothes, and lay down on the ground. All his servants were standing beside him with their clothes torn [to show their grief].

2 Samuel 13:32 Then Jonadab, the son of David’s brother Shimea, said, “Sir, don’t think that all the young men, all the king’s sons, have been killed. Only Amnon is dead. Absalom decided to do this the day his half brother raped his sister Tamar.

2 Samuel 13:33 You shouldn’t burden your heart with the idea that all the king’s sons are dead, Your Majesty. Only Amnon is dead.

2 Samuel 13:34 Absalom has fled.” When the servant who kept watch looked up, he saw many people coming down the road beside the mountain west of him.

2 Samuel 13:35 Then Jonadab told the king, “The king’s sons have come. It’s just as I said.”

2 Samuel 13:36 When he finished speaking, the king’s sons arrived and cried loudly. The king and all his men also cried very bitterly.

2 Samuel 13:37 Absalom, however, fled to Geshur’s King Talmai, Ammihud’s son. But the king mourned for his son Amnon every day.

2 Samuel 13:38 Absalom, having fled to Geshur, stayed there three years.

2 Samuel 13:39 King David began to long for Absalom once people had consoled him over Amnon’s death.

2 Samuel 14:1 Joab, Zeruiah’s son, knew the king was still thinking about Absalom.

2 Samuel 14:2 So Joab sent [someone] to Tekoa to get a clever woman from there. He told her, “Please act like a mourner, and dress in mourning clothes. Don’t rub olive oil on yourself, but act like a woman who has been mourning for the dead for a long time.

2 Samuel 14:3 Go to the king, and tell him this....” Then Joab told her exactly what to say.

2 Samuel 14:4 The woman from Tekoa came to the king and immediately bowed down with her face touching the ground. “Help [me], Your Majesty,” she said.

2 Samuel 14:5 The king asked her, “What can I do for you?” She answered, “I’m a widow; my husband is dead.

2 Samuel 14:6 I had two sons who quarreled in the field, and there was no one to separate them. One killed the other.

2 Samuel 14:7 Then the entire family turned against me. They said, ‘Give us the man who killed his brother so that we can kill him because he took his brother’s life. We’re going to destroy the one who [now] would be the heir.’ In this way they wish to extinguish the [one] burning coal that is left for me. They will not let my husband’s name or descendants remain on the face of the earth.”

2 Samuel 14:8 “Go home,” the king told the woman. “I will order someone to take care of this matter.”

2 Samuel 14:9 The woman from Tekoa said to the king, “Let me be held responsible for the sin, Your Majesty. Let my father’s family be held responsible. Your Majesty and your throne are innocent.”

2 Samuel 14:10 The king said, “If anyone says anything against you, bring him to me. He’ll never harm you again.”

2 Samuel 14:11 She said, “Your Majesty, please pray to the LORD your God in order to keep an avenger from doing more harm by destroying my son.” “I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives,” he said, “not a hair on your son’s head will fall to the ground.”

2 Samuel 14:12 The woman said, “Please let me say something else to you.” “Speak,” he said.

2 Samuel 14:13 “Why have you devised something like this against God’s people?” she said. “When you say this, you condemn yourself because you haven’t brought back the one you banished!

2 Samuel 14:14 We are all going to die; we are all like water that is poured on the ground and can’t be gathered up. But doesn’t God forgive a person? He never plans to keep a banished person in exile.

2 Samuel 14:15 “I’ve come to say this to you because the people have frightened me. So I thought, ‘I will speak to the king about this. Maybe the king will do something for me, his subject.

2 Samuel 14:16 Maybe the king will listen and rescue me, his subject, from the man who wants to cut off both me and my son from [our] God-given inheritance.’

2 Samuel 14:17 I thought that you would reassure me. You are like God’s Messenger, who is able to distinguish right from wrong. May the LORD your God be with you!”

2 Samuel 14:18 The king said to the woman, “Please don’t refuse to answer the question I’m going to ask you.” The woman responded, “Please speak, Your Majesty.”

2 Samuel 14:19 “Did Joab put you up to this?” the king asked. The woman answered, “I solemnly swear on your life, Your Majesty, you are absolutely right. Yes, your servant Joab ordered me [to do this]. He told me to say exactly what I said.

2 Samuel 14:20 Your servant Joab has done this to portray the matter in a different light. You are as wise as God’s Messenger, who knows everything on earth.”

2 Samuel 14:21 Then the king told Joab, “This is what you’ll do. Bring back the young man Absalom.”

2 Samuel 14:22 Joab quickly bowed down with his face touching the ground, and he blessed the king. He said, “Today I know that you have been kind to me because you have done what I wanted.”

2 Samuel 14:23 So Joab went to Geshur and brought Absalom back to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 14:24 But the king said, “Absalom should return to his own house. He will not see me.” So Absalom returned to his house and didn’t see the king.

2 Samuel 14:25 Now, no one in all Israel was praised for his good looks as much as Absalom was. He had no blemish from head to toe.

2 Samuel 14:26 At the end of every year, he used to cut his hair because it became heavy for him. When he cut the hair on his head and weighed it, it weighed five pounds according to the royal standard.

2 Samuel 14:27 Absalom had three sons and one daughter. His daughter Tamar was a beautiful woman.

2 Samuel 14:28 Absalom stayed in Jerusalem two full years without seeing the king.

2 Samuel 14:29 So Absalom sent for Joab in order to send him to the king, but Joab refused to come. Absalom sent for him a second time, but he still refused to come.

2 Samuel 14:30 So Absalom said to his servants, “Look, Joab’s field is next to mine. He has barley in it. Go and set it on fire.” So Absalom’s servants set it on fire. Joab’s servants came to him [in grief] and said, “Absalom’s servants have set [your] field on fire.”

2 Samuel 14:31 Then Joab immediately went to Absalom at his home. “Why did your servants set my field on fire?” he asked.

2 Samuel 14:32 Absalom answered Joab, “I sent someone to tell you to come here because I wanted to send you to the king to ask him why I had to come from Geshur. It would be better for me if I were still there. Let me see the king now! If I’m guilty of a sin, he should kill me.”

2 Samuel 14:33 Joab went to the king and told him this. The king then called for Absalom, who came to the king and bowed down with his face touching the ground. And the king kissed Absalom.

2 Samuel 15:1 Soon after this, Absalom acquired a chariot, horses, and 50 men to run ahead of him.

2 Samuel 15:2 Absalom used to get up early and stand by the road leading to the city gate. When anyone had a case to be tried by King David, Absalom would ask, “Which city are you from?” After the person had told him which tribe in Israel he was from,

2 Samuel 15:3 Absalom would say, “Your case is good and proper, but the king hasn’t appointed anyone to hear it.”

2 Samuel 15:4 He would add, “I wish someone would make me judge in the land. Then anyone who had a case to be tried could come to me, and I would make sure that he got justice.”

2 Samuel 15:5 When anyone approached him and bowed down, Absalom would reach out, take hold of him, and kiss him.

2 Samuel 15:6 This is what he did for all Israelites who came to the king to have him try their case. So Absalom stole the hearts of the people of Israel.

2 Samuel 15:7 Four years later Absalom said to the king, “Let me go to Hebron and keep the vow I made to the LORD.

2 Samuel 15:8 I made a vow while I was living at Geshur in Aram. I said, ‘If the LORD will bring me back to Jerusalem, I will serve the LORD.’”

2 Samuel 15:9 “Go in peace,” the king told him. So he went to Hebron.

2 Samuel 15:10 But Absalom sent his loyal supporters to all the tribes of Israel and said, “When you hear the sound of the ram’s horn, say, ‘Absalom has become king in Hebron.’”

2 Samuel 15:11 Two hundred men invited from Jerusalem went with Absalom. They went innocently, knowing nothing [about Absalom’s plans].

2 Samuel 15:12 While Absalom was offering sacrifices, he sent for Ahithophel, David’s adviser, to come from his home in Giloh. Meanwhile, the conspiracy grew stronger, and the number of people siding with Absalom kept getting larger.

2 Samuel 15:13 Someone came to tell David, “The hearts of the people of Israel are with Absalom.”

2 Samuel 15:14 David told all his men who were with him in Jerusalem, “Let’s flee immediately, or none of us will escape from Absalom. Let’s leave right away, or he’ll catch up to us and bring disaster on us when he massacres the city.”

2 Samuel 15:15 The king’s servants told him, “No matter what happens, we are Your Majesty’s servants.”

2 Samuel 15:16 The king left on foot, and his whole household followed him except ten concubines whom the king left behind to take care of the palace.

2 Samuel 15:17 As the king and his troops were leaving the city on foot, they stopped at the last house.

2 Samuel 15:18 All his mercenaries passed by him; all the Cherethites, all the Pelethites, Ittai, and all 600 men who had followed him from Gath were marching past the king.

2 Samuel 15:19 The king asked Ittai from Gath, “Why should you go with us? Go back, and stay with King Absalom. You are a foreigner, an exile from your homeland.

2 Samuel 15:20 You came to us just yesterday. Should I make you wander around with me when I don’t even know where I’m going? Go back, and take your countrymen with you. [May the LORD] always show you kindness.”

2 Samuel 15:21 But Ittai answered the king, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD and the king live: Wherever you are, whether you’re dead or alive, I’ll be there.”

2 Samuel 15:22 So David told Ittai, “Go ahead and keep marching.” So Ittai from Gath marched on with all his men and all the families who were with him.

2 Samuel 15:23 The whole country was crying loudly as all the troops were passing by. The king was crossing the Kidron Valley, and all the people were moving down the road toward the desert.

2 Samuel 15:24 Zadok and all the Levites with him were carrying the ark of God's promise. They set down the ark of God beside Abiathar until all the troops had withdrawn from the city.

2 Samuel 15:25 The king told Zadok, "Take God's ark back to the city. If the LORD looks favorably on me, he will allow me to come back and see both it and its dwelling place again.

2 Samuel 15:26 But if he says, 'I'm not pleased with you,' let him do to me what he considers right."

2 Samuel 15:27 "Aren't you a seer?" the king asked Zadok the priest. "Go back to the city peacefully, and take your son Ahimaaz and Abiathar's son Jonathan with you.

2 Samuel 15:28 I'll wait at the river crossings in the desert until I receive a message from you."

2 Samuel 15:29 So Zadok and Abiathar took the ark of God back to Jerusalem and stayed there.

2 Samuel 15:30 David cried as he went up the Mount of Olives. He covered his head and walked barefoot. And all of the troops with him covered their heads and cried as they went.

2 Samuel 15:31 Then David was told, "Ahithophel is among those conspiring with Absalom." So David prayed, "LORD, make Ahithophel's advice foolish."

2 Samuel 15:32 When David came to the top [of the Mount of Olives] where people worshiped God, Hushai from Archi's family was there to meet him. His clothes were torn, and he had dirt on his head.

2 Samuel 15:33 David told him, "If you go with me, you will only be a burden to me.

2 Samuel 15:34 But if you go back to the city and say to Absalom, 'Your Majesty, I'll be your servant. I was your father's servant in the past, but now I'll be your servant,' then you'll [help me by] undoing Ahithophel's advice.

2 Samuel 15:35 The priests Zadok and Abiathar will be with you there. When you hear anything from the royal palace, tell it to the priests Zadok and Abiathar.

2 Samuel 15:36 They have two sons with them: Zadok has Ahimaaz, and Abiathar has Jonathan. Send them to report to me anything you hear."

2 Samuel 15:37 So Hushai, David's friend, went to the city as Absalom was entering Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 16:1 When David had gone over the top [of the Mount of Olives], Ziba, Mephibosheth's servant, met him with a pair of saddled donkeys. They were loaded with 200 loaves of bread, 100 bunches of raisins, 100 pieces of ripened fruit, and a full wineskin.

2 Samuel 16:2 "Why did you bring these?" David asked Ziba. "The donkeys are for the king's family to ride on," Ziba answered. "The bread and the ripe fruit are for [your] servants to eat. The wine is for those who become tired and thirsty in the desert."

2 Samuel 16:3 "Where is your master Saul's grandson?" the king asked. "He's staying in Jerusalem," Ziba answered the king. "He said, 'Today the house of Israel will give me back my grandfather's kingdom.'"

2 Samuel 16:4 The king told Ziba, "In that case everything that belonged to Mephibosheth now belongs to you." "I sincerely thank you," said Ziba. "I hope to remain in your good graces, Your Majesty."

2 Samuel 16:5 When King David came to Bahurim, a man who was a distant cousin of Saul came out cursing. His name was Shimei, son of Gera.

2 Samuel 16:6 He threw stones at David and David's servants, although all the people and all the warriors were shielding David.

2 Samuel 16:7 Shimei cursed and said, "Get out! Get out, you bloodthirsty man! You worthless person!

2 Samuel 16:8 The LORD is paying you back for all the blood you spilled in the family of Saul, whom you succeeded as king. The LORD is giving the kingship to your son Absalom. Now you're in trouble because you're a bloodthirsty man."

2 Samuel 16:9 Abishai, Zeruiah's son, asked the king, "Why should this dead dog curse you, Your Majesty? Let me go over there and tear off his head."

2 Samuel 16:10 But the king said, "You don't think like me at all, sons of Zeruiah. Let him curse. If the LORD has told him, 'Curse David,' should anyone ask, 'Why do you do that?'"

2 Samuel 16:11 David told Abishai and all his servants, "My own son, my own flesh and blood, is trying to kill me. Why, then, shouldn't this Benjaminite do this? Leave him alone. Let him curse, since the LORD has told him to do it.

2 Samuel 16:12 Maybe the LORD will see my misery and turn his curse into a blessing for me today."

2 Samuel 16:13 As David and his men went along the road, Shimei was walking along the hillside parallel to him. Shimei cursed, hurled stones, and threw dirt at David.

2 Samuel 16:14 The king and all the people with him finally arrived [at their destination] and rested there.

2 Samuel 16:15 Meanwhile, Absalom and all Israel's troops came to Jerusalem, and Ahithophel was with him.

2 Samuel 16:16 When David's friend Hushai from Archi's family came to Absalom, he said, "Long live the king! Long live the king!"

2 Samuel 16:17 "Is that how loyal you are to your friend?" Absalom asked Hushai. "Why didn't you go with him?"

2 Samuel 16:18 Hushai answered Absalom, "No, I want to be with the one whom the LORD, these people, and all Israel have chosen. I will be his [friend] and stay with him.

2 Samuel 16:19 And besides, whom should I serve? Shouldn't it be his son? As I served your father, so I'll serve you."

2 Samuel 16:20 Then Absalom asked Ahithophel, "What's your advice? What should we do?"

2 Samuel 16:21 Ahithophel told Absalom, "Sleep with your father's concubines whom he left to take care of the palace. Then all Israel will hear about how you have made your father despise you. Everyone who is with you will support you even more."

2 Samuel 16:22 So a tent was put up on the roof for Absalom, and he slept with his father's concubines in plain sight of Israel.

2 Samuel 16:23 In those days both David and Absalom thought that Ahithophel's advice was like getting an answer from God.

2 Samuel 17:1 Ahithophel said to Absalom, "Let me choose 12,000 men and leave tonight to go after David.

2 Samuel 17:2 I'll attack him while he's tired and weak, and I'll cause him to panic. All the people with him will flee, but I'll kill only him.

2 Samuel 17:3 I'll return all the people to you as a bride is returned to her husband. Since you will be seeking the life of only one man, all the people will have peace."

2 Samuel 17:4 Absalom and all the leaders of Israel approved this plan.

2 Samuel 17:5 Absalom said, "Please call Hushai, who is descended from Archi's family, and let us hear what he, too, has to say."

2 Samuel 17:6 When Hushai arrived, Absalom said to him, "Ahithophel has told us his plan. Should we do what he says? If not, tell us."

2 Samuel 17:7 "This time Ahithophel's advice is no good," Hushai said to Absalom.

2 Samuel 17:8 "You know your father and his men. They are warriors as fierce as a wild bear whose cubs have been stolen. Your father is an experienced soldier. He will not camp with the troops tonight.

2 Samuel 17:9 He has already hidden in one of the ravines or some other place. If some of our soldiers are killed in the initial attack, others will definitely hear about it and say, 'The troops that support Absalom have been defeated.'

2 Samuel 17:10 Even the bravest man with a heart like a lion would lose his courage, because all Israel knows that your father is a warrior and the men with him are brave.

2 Samuel 17:11 So my advice is to gather all Israel's troops from Dan to Beersheba, since they are as numerous as the sand on the seashore. Lead them into battle yourself.

2 Samuel 17:12 Then we'll attack him wherever we find him. We'll fall on him as dew falls on the ground. Neither he nor any of his men will be left [alive].

2 Samuel 17:13 If he retreats into a city, all Israel will bring ropes to that city and drag it into a valley so that not even a pebble will be found there."

2 Samuel 17:14 Absalom and all the people of Israel said, "The advice of Hushai from Archi's family is better than Ahithophel's advice." (The LORD had commanded Ahithophel's good advice to be defeated in order to ruin Absalom.)

2 Samuel 17:15 Then Hushai told the priests Zadok and Abiathar, "Ahithophel advised Absalom and the leaders of Israel to do one thing, but I advised them to do something else.

2 Samuel 17:16 Now send messengers quickly to tell David, 'Don't rest tonight in the river crossings in the desert, but make sure you cross [the river], or Your Majesty and all the troops with him will be wiped out.'"

2 Samuel 17:17 Jonathan and Ahimaaz were waiting at En Rogel. They could not risk being seen coming into the city, so a servant girl was to go and tell them, and they were to go and tell King David.

2 Samuel 17:18 But a young man saw Jonathan and Ahimaaz and told Absalom. So both of them left quickly and came to the home of a man in Bahurim who had a cistern in his courtyard, and they went down into it.

2 Samuel 17:19 The man's wife took a cover, spread it over the top of the cistern, and scattered some grain over it so that no one could tell it was there.

2 Samuel 17:20 Absalom's servants came to the woman at her home. "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" they asked. The woman said, "They've crossed the stream." The servants looked for them but did not find them. So Absalom's servants returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 17:21 After Absalom's servants left, both men came out of the cistern and went and told King David. "Leave right away," they told David. "Cross the river quickly because this is what Ahithophel has advised against you...."

2 Samuel 17:22 David and all the troops with him left to cross the Jordan River. When the dawn came, everyone had crossed the Jordan River.

2 Samuel 17:23 When Ahithophel saw that his advice hadn't been followed, he saddled his donkey, left, and went home to his own city. He gave instructions to his family. Then he hanged himself, died, and was buried in his father's tomb.

2 Samuel 17:24 David had [already] come to Mahanaim by the time Absalom and all the men of Israel with him crossed the Jordan River.

2 Samuel 17:25 Absalom appointed Amasa to take Joab's place as commander of the army. (Amasa was the son of a man named Ithra, a descendant of Ishmael. His mother was Abigail, the daughter of Nahash and sister of Joab's mother Zeruiah.)

2 Samuel 17:26 The Israelites and Absalom camped in the region of Gilead.

2 Samuel 17:27 When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi, son of Nahash from Rabbah in Ammon, and Machir, son of Ammiel from Lo Debar, and Barzillai from Rogelim in Gilead

2 Samuel 17:28 brought [supplies] and food for David and his troops: bedding, bowls, pots, wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils,

2 Samuel 17:29 honey, buttermilk, sheep, and calves. They brought these things because they thought, "The troops in the desert are hungry, exhausted, and thirsty."

2 Samuel 18:1 David called together the troops that were with him. He appointed commanders in charge of regiments and battalions.

2 Samuel 18:2 David put a third of the troops under Joab's command, another third under Joab's brother Abishai (Zeruiah's son), and the last third under Ittai from Gath. "I am going [into battle] with you," the king said to the troops.

2 Samuel 18:3 "You're not going [with us]," the troops said. "If we flee, they won't care about us, and if half of us die, they won't care either. But you're worth 10,000 of us. It's better for you to be ready to send us help from the city."

2 Samuel 18:4 "I'll do what you think best," the king responded. So the king stood by the gate while all the troops marched out by battalions and regiments.

2 Samuel 18:5 The king ordered Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, "Treat the young man Absalom gently for my sake." All the troops heard him give all the commanders this order regarding Absalom.

2 Samuel 18:6 So the troops went out to the country to fight Israel in the forest of Ephraim.

2 Samuel 18:7 There David’s men defeated Israel’s army, and the massacre was sizable that day-20,000 men.

2 Samuel 18:8 The fighting spread over the whole country. That day the woods devoured more people than the battle.

2 Samuel 18:9 Absalom happened to come face to face with some of David’s men. He was riding on a mule, and the mule went under the tangled branches of a large tree. Absalom’s head became caught in the tree. So he was left hanging in midair when the mule that was under him ran away.

2 Samuel 18:10 A man who saw this told Joab, “I saw Absalom hanging in a tree.”

2 Samuel 18:11 “What! You saw that!” Joab said to the man who told him. “Why didn’t you strike him to the ground? Then I would have felt obligated to give you four ounces of silver and a belt.”

2 Samuel 18:12 But the man told Joab, “Even if I felt the weight of 25 pounds of silver in my hand, I wouldn’t raise my hand against the king’s son. We heard the order the king gave you, Abishai, and Ittai: ‘Protect the young man Absalom for my sake.’

2 Samuel 18:13 If I had done something treacherous to him, would you have stood by me? Like everything else, it wouldn’t stay hidden from the king.”

2 Samuel 18:14 Then Joab said, “I shouldn’t waste time with you like this.” He took three sharp sticks and plunged them into Absalom’s heart while he was still alive in the tree.

2 Samuel 18:15 Then ten of Joab’s armorbearers surrounded Absalom, attacked him, and killed him.

2 Samuel 18:16 Joab blew the ram’s horn to stop their [fighting], and the troops returned from pursuing Israel.

2 Samuel 18:17 They took Absalom, threw him into a huge pit in the forest, and piled a large heap of stones over him. Meanwhile, all Israel fled and went back to their homes.

2 Samuel 18:18 ([While he was still living,] Absalom had taken a rock and set it up for himself in the king’s valley. He said, “I have no son to keep the memory of my name alive.” He called the rock by his name, and it is still called Absalom’s Monument today.)

2 Samuel 18:19 Then Ahimaaz, Zadok’s son, said, “Let me run and bring the king the good news that the LORD has freed him from his enemies.”

2 Samuel 18:20 But Joab told him, “You won’t be the man carrying good news today. You can carry the news some other day. You must not deliver the news today because the king’s son is dead.”

2 Samuel 18:21 Then Joab said to a man from Sudan, “Go, tell the king what you saw.” The messenger bowed down with his face touching the ground in front of Joab and then ran off.

2 Samuel 18:22 Ahimaaz, Zadok’s son, spoke to Joab again, “Whatever may happen, I also want to run after the Sudanese messenger.” “Now, son, why should you deliver the message?” Joab asked. “You won’t be rewarded for this news.”

2 Samuel 18:23 “Whatever happens, I’d like to run,” [replied Ahimaaz.] “Run,” Joab told him. So Ahimaaz ran along the valley road and got ahead of the Sudanese messenger.

2 Samuel 18:24 David was sitting between the two gates while the watchman walked along the roof of the gate by the wall. As he looked, he saw a man running alone.

2 Samuel 18:25 The watchman called and alerted the king. “If he’s alone,” the king said, “he has good news to tell.” The runner continued to come closer.

2 Samuel 18:26 When the watchman saw another man running, the watchman called, “There’s [another] man running alone.” The king said, “This one is also bringing good news.”

2 Samuel 18:27 The watchman said, “It seems to me that the first one runs like Ahimaaz, Zadok’s son.” “He’s a good man,” the king said. “He must be coming with good news.”

2 Samuel 18:28 Then Ahimaaz came up to the king, greeted him, and bowed down in front of him. Ahimaaz said, “May the LORD your God be praised. He has handed over the men who rebelled against Your Majesty.”

2 Samuel 18:29 “Is the young man Absalom alright?” the king asked. Ahimaaz answered, “I saw a lot of confusion when Joab sent me away, but I didn’t know what it meant.”

2 Samuel 18:30 “Step aside, and stand here,” the king said. He stepped aside and stood there.

2 Samuel 18:31 Then the Sudanese messenger came. “Good news for Your Majesty!” he said. “Today the LORD has freed you from all who turned against you.”

2 Samuel 18:32 “Is the young man Absalom alright?” the king asked. The Sudanese messenger answered, “May your enemies and all who turned against you be like that young man!”

2 Samuel 18:33 The king was shaken [by the news]. He went to the room above the gate and cried. “My son Absalom!” he said as he went. “My son, my son Absalom! I wish I had died in your place! Absalom, my son, my son!”

2 Samuel 19:1 Joab was told, “The king is crying and mourning for Absalom.”

2 Samuel 19:2 The victory of that day was turned into mourning because all the troops heard that the king was grieving for his son.

2 Samuel 19:3 That day the troops sneaked into the city as if they had fled from battle and were ashamed of it.

2 Samuel 19:4 The king covered his face and cried loudly, “My son Absalom! Absalom, my son, my son!”

2 Samuel 19:5 Then Joab came into the house. “Today you have made all your men feel ashamed,” he said. “They saved your life and the lives of your sons, daughters, wives, and concubines today.

2 Samuel 19:6 You love those who hate you and hate those who love you. Today, you have made it clear that your commanders and servants mean nothing to you. I think you would be pleased if Absalom were alive and all of us were dead.

2 Samuel 19:7 Now, get up, go out, and encourage your men. I swear to you by the LORD that if you don’t go out, no one will stay with you tonight, and that will be worse than all the trouble you’ve had in your entire life.”

2 Samuel 19:8 The king sat in the gateway. When all the troops were told, “The king is sitting in the gateway,” they came to the king. Meanwhile, Israel had fled and went back to their own homes.

2 Samuel 19:9 All the people in all the tribes of Israel were arguing with one another, saying, “The king rescued us from our enemies and saved us from the Philistines, but now he has fled from Absalom and left the country.

2 Samuel 19:10 However, Absalom, whom we anointed to rule us, has died in battle. Why is no one talking about bringing back the king?”

2 Samuel 19:11 What all Israel was saying reached the king at his house. So King David sent [this message] to the priests Zadok and Abiathar: “Ask the leaders of Judah, ‘Why should you be the last [tribe] to bring the king back to his palace?

2 Samuel 19:12 You are my relatives, my own flesh and blood. Why should you be the last to bring back the king?’

2 Samuel 19:13 And tell Amasa, ‘Aren’t you my flesh and blood? May God strike me dead unless you are given Joab’s place to serve me always as the commander of the army.’”

2 Samuel 19:14 All the people of Judah were in total agreement. So they sent the king this message: “Come back with all your servants.”

2 Samuel 19:15 The king came back to the Jordan River, and the people of Judah came to Gilgal to meet the king and bring him across the Jordan River.

2 Samuel 19:16 Shimei, Gera’s son from the tribe of Benjamin and the town of Bahurim, hurried down with the people of Judah to meet King David.

2 Samuel 19:17 One thousand people from Benjamin were with him. And Ziba, the servant of Saul's family, rushed to the Jordan River across from the king. Ziba brought his 15 sons and 20 servants.

2 Samuel 19:18 They crossed the river to bring over the king's family and to do anything else the king wanted. Shimei, Gera's son, bowed down in front of the king as he was going to cross the Jordan River.

2 Samuel 19:19 He pleaded with the king, "Don't remember the crime I committed the day you left Jerusalem. Don't hold it against me or even think about it, Your Majesty.

2 Samuel 19:20 I know I've sinned. Today I've come as the first of all the house of Joseph to meet you."

2 Samuel 19:21 But Abishai, Zeruiah's son, replied, "Shouldn't Shimei be put to death for cursing the LORD's anointed king?"

2 Samuel 19:22 David responded, "Are you sure we're from the same family, sons of Zeruiah? You are my enemies today. Should anyone in Israel be killed today? Don't I know that I'm king of Israel again?"

2 Samuel 19:23 The king promised Shimei, "You won't die," and the king swore to it.

2 Samuel 19:24 Mephibosheth, Saul's grandson, went to meet the king. He had not tended to his feet, trimmed his mustache, or washed his clothes from the day the king left until he came home safely.

2 Samuel 19:25 When he came from Jerusalem to meet the king, the king asked him, "Why didn't you go with me, Mephibosheth?"

2 Samuel 19:26 He answered, "My servant deceived me, Your Majesty. Since I am disabled, I said, 'Saddle the donkey for me, and I'll ride on it and go with the king.'

2 Samuel 19:27 He told you lies about me, Your Majesty. However, you are like God's Messenger. Do what you think is right.

2 Samuel 19:28 You could have killed anyone in my entire family, Your Majesty. Instead, you've seated me with those who eat at your table. So I no longer have the right to complain to the king."

2 Samuel 19:29 The king asked him, "Why do you keep talking about it? I've said that you and Ziba should divide the land."

2 Samuel 19:30 "Let him take it all," Mephibosheth told the king. "It's enough for me that you've come home safely."

2 Samuel 19:31 Barzillai, the man from Gilead, came from Rogelim with the king to the Jordan River to send him on his way.

2 Samuel 19:32 Barzillai was an elderly man, 80 years old. Because he was a very rich man, he had provided the king with food while he was staying at Mahanaim.

2 Samuel 19:33 The king told Barzillai, "Cross the river with me. I'll provide for you in Jerusalem."

2 Samuel 19:34 Barzillai replied, “I don’t have much longer to live. I shouldn’t go with Your Majesty to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 19:35 I’m 80 years old now. How can I tell what is pleasant and what is not? Can I taste what I eat or drink? Can I still hear the singing of men and women? Why should I now become a burden to you, Your Majesty?

2 Samuel 19:36 I’ll just cross the Jordan River with you. Why should you give me such a reward?

2 Samuel 19:37 Please let me go back so that I can die in my city near the grave of my father and mother. But here is Chimham. Let him go across with you. And do for him what you think is right.”

2 Samuel 19:38 “Chimham will go across with me,” the king said. “I will do for him whatever you want. Anything you wish I’ll do for you.”

2 Samuel 19:39 All the troops crossed the Jordan River, and then the king crossed. The king kissed Barzillai and blessed him. Then Barzillai went back home.

2 Samuel 19:40 The king crossed the river to Gilgal, and Chimham went with him. All the troops from Judah and half of the troops from Israel brought the king across.

2 Samuel 19:41 Then all the people of Israel kept coming to the king. They asked, “Why did our cousins, the people of Judah, kidnap you and bring Your Majesty and your family and men across the Jordan River?”

2 Samuel 19:42 All the people of Judah answered the people of Israel, “Because the king is our relative. Why are you angry about this? Did we eat the king’s food, or did he give us any gifts?”

2 Samuel 19:43 The people of Israel answered the people of Judah, “We have ten times your interest in the king and a greater claim on David than you have. Why, then, do you despise us? Weren’t we the first to suggest bringing back our king?” But the people of Judah spoke [even] more harshly than the people of Israel.

2 Samuel 20:1 A good-for-nothing man by the name of Sheba, Bichri’s son, from the tribe of Benjamin happened to be at Gilgal. He blew a ram’s horn [to announce], “We have no share in David’s kingdom. We won’t receive an inheritance from Jesse’s son. Everyone to his own tent, Israel!”

2 Samuel 20:2 So all the people of Israel left David to follow Sheba, Bichri’s son. But the people of Judah remained loyal to their king [on his way] from the Jordan River to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 20:3 When David came to his palace in Jerusalem, he took the ten concubines he had left to look after the palace and put them in a house under guard. He provided for them but no longer slept with them. So they lived like widows in confinement until they died.

2 Samuel 20:4 The king told Amasa, “Call the people of Judah together for me, and in three days be here yourself.”

2 Samuel 20:5 Amasa went to call Judah together, but he took longer to do it than David had given him.

2 Samuel 20:6 David then told Abishai, “Sheba, son of Bichri, will do us more harm than Absalom. Take my men and go after him, or he will find some fortified cities and take the best ones for himself.”

2 Samuel 20:7 So Joab’s men, the Cherethites, Pelethites, and all the soldiers went with Abishai. They left Jerusalem to pursue Sheba, Bichri’s son.

2 Samuel 20:8 When they were at the large rock in Gibeon, Amasa met them there. Joab wore a military uniform, and strapped over it at his hip was a sword in a scabbard. As he stepped forward, the sword dropped [into his hand].

2 Samuel 20:9 “How are you, my brother?” Joab asked Amasa. He took hold of Amasa’s beard with his right hand to kiss him.

2 Samuel 20:10 Amasa wasn’t on his guard against the sword in Joab’s [left] hand. Joab stabbed him in the stomach, and his intestines poured out on the ground. (He died without being stabbed again.) Then Joab and his brother Abishai pursued Sheba, son of Bichri.

2 Samuel 20:11 One of Joab’s young men stood beside Amasa and said, “Anyone who favors Joab and is on David’s side should follow Joab.”

2 Samuel 20:12 Amasa was wallowing in his blood in the middle of the road. When the man saw that all the troops stopped as they came to the body, he carried Amasa from the road to the field and threw a sheet over him.

2 Samuel 20:13 As soon as he was moved from the road, everyone followed Joab and pursued Sheba, Bichri’s son.

2 Samuel 20:14 Sheba passed through all the tribes of Israel to Abel (Beth Maacah). All the Berites were gathered together and followed him to the city.

2 Samuel 20:15 Joab’s army came and attacked him in Abel (Beth Maacah). They put up a dirt ramp against the city, and it stood level with the outer wall. All the troops with Joab were trying to destroy the wall and tear it down.

2 Samuel 20:16 Then a clever woman called from the city, “Listen, listen! Tell Joab to come here so that I can talk to him.”

2 Samuel 20:17 He came near, and she asked, “Are you Joab?” “I am,” he answered. “Listen to what I have to say,” she told him. “I’m listening,” he answered.

2 Samuel 20:18 So she said, “There’s an old saying: ‘Be sure to ask at Abel [before doing anything]. That’s the way they settle matters.’

2 Samuel 20:19 We are peaceful and faithful Israelites. Are you trying to destroy a mother city in Israel? Why should you swallow up what belongs to the LORD?"

2 Samuel 20:20 Joab answered, "That's unthinkable! I don't wish to swallow [it] up or destroy [it].

2 Samuel 20:21 That isn't the case. A man from the mountains of Ephraim by the name of Sheba, son of Bichri, has rebelled against King David. Give him to me, and I'll withdraw from the city." "That's fine," the woman told Joab. "His head will be thrown to you from the wall."

2 Samuel 20:22 Then the woman went to all the people with her clever plan. They cut off Sheba's head and threw it to Joab. He blew the ram's horn, and everyone scattered and withdrew from the city and went home. Joab went back to the king in Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 20:23 Now, Joab was put in charge of Israel's whole army. Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, was in charge of the Cherethites and Pelethites.

2 Samuel 20:24 Adoram was in charge of forced labor. Jehoshaphat, son of Ahilud, was the royal historian.

2 Samuel 20:25 Sheva was the royal scribe. Zadok and Abiathar were priests.

2 Samuel 20:26 And Ira, a descendant of Jair, was a priest to David.

2 Samuel 21:1 In the time of David, there was a famine for three successive years, and David asked the LORD's advice about it. The LORD answered, "It's because of Saul and his family. They are guilty of murder because they killed the people of Gibeon."

2 Samuel 21:2 (The Gibeonites were not a part of Israel but were left over from the Amorites. Although the Israelites had sworn [to spare them], Saul, in his eagerness, tried to destroy them for Israel and Judah.) The king called the Gibeonites

2 Samuel 21:3 and asked them, "What can I do for you? What should I [give you] to make peace with you so that you will bless what belongs to the LORD?"

2 Samuel 21:4 "We do not want silver or gold from Saul's family," the Gibeonites answered him. "And none of us wants to kill [anyone] in Israel." The king asked, "What are you saying that I should do for you?"

2 Samuel 21:5 They answered the king, "Give us seven of the male descendants of the man who wanted to finish us off. He planned to wipe us out to keep us from staying anywhere in Israel's territory.

2 Samuel 21:6 We will execute them in the LORD's presence at Saul's town Gibeah." (It was Saul whom the LORD had chosen.) "I will give them [to you]," the king said.

2 Samuel 21:7 But the king spared Mephibosheth, Jonathan's son and Saul's grandson, because of the oath in the LORD's name between David and Jonathan, son of Saul.

2 Samuel 21:8 The king took Armoni and Mephibosheth, the two sons whom Rizpah (Aiah's daughter) gave birth to for Saul, and five sons whom Merab (Saul's daughter) gave birth to for Adriel, son of Barzillai from Meholah.

2 Samuel 21:9 The king handed them over to the Gibeonites, who executed them on the mountain in the LORD's presence. All seven died together. They were killed at the beginning of the harvest, when people started harvesting barley.

2 Samuel 21:10 Rizpah (Aiah's daughter) took sackcloth and stretched it out on the rock for herself from the beginning of the harvest until the sky rained on the dead bodies. She wouldn't let any birds land on them during the day or any wild animals come near them during the night.

2 Samuel 21:11 When David was told what Saul's concubine Rizpah (Aiah's daughter) had done,

2 Samuel 21:12 David went and took the bones of Saul and of his son Jonathan from the citizens of Jabesh Gilead. They had stolen them from the public square of Beth Shean, where the Philistines had hung them the day they killed Saul at Gilboa.

2 Samuel 21:13 When David brought up the bones of Saul and Jonathan, his men gathered the bones of those who had been executed.

2 Samuel 21:14 Then they buried the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan in the land of Benjamin, in Zela, in the tomb of Saul's father Kish. They did everything the king ordered. After that, God answered the prayers for the land.

2 Samuel 21:15 Once again there was a battle between the Philistines and Israel. So David and his men went to fight the Philistines, but David became exhausted.

2 Samuel 21:16 A descendant of Haraphah named Benob, who had a bronze spear weighing 71/2 pounds which he wore on a new belt, captured David and intended to kill him.

2 Samuel 21:17 But Abishai, son of Zeruiah, came to help David. He attacked the Philistine and killed him. Then David's men swore an oath, saying, "You'll never go into battle with us again. The lamp of Israel must never be extinguished."

2 Samuel 21:18 After this, there was another battle with the Philistines at Gob. Then Sibbecai from Hushah killed Saph, another descendant of Haraphah.

2 Samuel 21:19 When more fighting broke out with the Philistines at Gob, Elhanan, son of Jaare Oregim from Bethlehem, killed Goliath of Gath. (The shaft of Goliath's spear was like a beam used by weavers.)

2 Samuel 21:20 In another battle at Gath, there was a tall man who had a total of 24 fingers and toes: six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot. He also was a descendant of Haraphah.

2 Samuel 21:21 When he challenged Israel, Jonathan, son of David's brother Shimei, killed him.

2 Samuel 21:22 These four were descendants of Haraphah from Gath, and David and his men killed them.

2 Samuel 22:1 David sang this song to the LORD when the LORD rescued him from all his enemies, especially from Saul.

2 Samuel 22:2 He said, The LORD is my rock and my fortress and my Savior,

2 Samuel 22:3 my God, my rock in whom I take refuge, my shield, the strength of my salvation, my stronghold, my refuge, and my Savior who saved me from violence.

2 Samuel 22:4 The LORD should be praised. I called on him, and I was saved from my enemies.

2 Samuel 22:5 The waves of death had surrounded me. The torrents of destruction had overwhelmed me.

2 Samuel 22:6 The ropes of the grave had surrounded me. The clutches of death had confronted me.

2 Samuel 22:7 I called on the LORD in my distress. I called to my God for help. He heard my voice from his temple, and my cry for help reached his ears.

2 Samuel 22:8 Then the earth shook and quaked. Even the foundations of the heavens trembled. They shook violently because he was angry.

2 Samuel 22:9 Smoke went up from his nostrils, and a raging fire came out of his mouth. Glowing coals flared up from it.

2 Samuel 22:10 He spread apart the heavens and came down with a dark cloud under his feet.

2 Samuel 22:11 He rode on one of the angels as he flew, and he soared on the wings of the wind.

2 Samuel 22:12 He surrounded himself with darkness. He made the dark rain clouds his covering.

2 Samuel 22:13 Out of the brightness in front of him, he made lightning.

2 Samuel 22:14 The LORD thundered from heaven. The Most High made his voice heard.

2 Samuel 22:15 He shot arrows and scattered them. He flashed streaks of lightning and threw them into confusion.

2 Samuel 22:16 Then the ocean floor could be seen. The foundations of the earth were laid bare at the LORD's stern warning, at the blast of the breath from his nostrils.

2 Samuel 22:17 He reached down from high above and took hold of me. He pulled me out of the raging water.

2 Samuel 22:18 He rescued me from my strong enemy and from those who hated me, because they were too strong for me.

2 Samuel 22:19 On the day when I faced disaster, they confronted me, but the LORD became my defense.

2 Samuel 22:20 He brought me out to a wide-open place. He rescued me because he was pleased with me.

2 Samuel 22:21 The LORD rewarded me because of my righteousness, because my hands are clean. He paid me back

2 Samuel 22:22 because I have kept the ways of the LORD and I have not wickedly turned away from my God,

2 Samuel 22:23 because all his judgments are in front of me and I have not turned away from his laws.

2 Samuel 22:24 I was innocent as far as he was concerned. I have kept myself from guilt.

2 Samuel 22:25 The LORD paid me back because of my righteousness, because he can see that I am clean.

2 Samuel 22:26 [In dealing] with faithful people you are faithful, with innocent warriors you are innocent,

2 Samuel 22:27 with pure people you are pure. [In dealing] with devious people you are clever.

2 Samuel 22:28 You save humble people, but your eyes bring down arrogant people.

2 Samuel 22:29 O LORD, you are my lamp. The LORD turns my darkness into light.

2 Samuel 22:30 With you I can attack a line of soldiers. With my God I can break through barricades.

2 Samuel 22:31 God's way is perfect! The promise of the LORD has proven to be true. He is a shield to all those who take refuge in him.

2 Samuel 22:32 Who is God but the LORD? Who is a rock other than our God?

2 Samuel 22:33 God arms me with strength. His perfect way sets me free.

2 Samuel 22:34 He makes my feet like those of a deer and gives me sure footing on high places.

2 Samuel 22:35 He trains my hands for battle so that my arms can bend an [archer's] bow of bronze.

2 Samuel 22:36 You have given me the shield of your salvation. Your help makes me great.

2 Samuel 22:37 You make a wide path for me to walk on so that my feet do not slip.

2 Samuel 22:38 I chased my enemies and destroyed them. I did not return until I had ended their lives.

2 Samuel 22:39 I ended their lives by shattering them. They were unable to get up. They fell under my feet.

2 Samuel 22:40 You armed me with strength for battle. You made my opponents bow at my feet.

2 Samuel 22:41 You made my enemies turn their backs to me, and I destroyed those who hated me.

2 Samuel 22:42 They looked, but there was no one to save them. They looked to the LORD, but he did not answer them.

2 Samuel 22:43 I beat them into a powder as fine as the dust on the ground. I crushed them and stomped on them like the dirt on the streets.

2 Samuel 22:44 You rescued me from my conflicts with my people. You kept me as the leader of nations. A people I did not know will serve me.

2 Samuel 22:45 Foreigners will cringe in front of me. As soon as they hear of me, they will obey me.

2 Samuel 22:46 Foreigners will lose heart, although they are armed in their fortifications.

2 Samuel 22:47 The LORD lives! Thanks be to my rock! May God, the rock of my salvation, be glorified.

2 Samuel 22:48 God gives me vengeance! He brings people under my authority.

2 Samuel 22:49 He frees me from my enemies. You lift me up above my opponents. You rescue me from violent people.

2 Samuel 22:50 That is why I will give thanks to you, O LORD, among the nations and make music to praise your name.

2 Samuel 22:51 He gives great victories to his king. He shows mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his descendant forever.

2 Samuel 23:1 These are the last words of David: "Here is the declaration by David, son of Jesse- the declaration by the man whom God raised up, whom the God of Jacob anointed, the singer of Israel's psalms:

2 Samuel 23:2 "The Spirit of the LORD spoke through me. His words were on my tongue.

2 Samuel 23:3 The God of Israel spoke to them. The rock of Israel told me, 'The one who rules humans with justice rules with the fear of God.

2 Samuel 23:4 He is like the morning light as the sun rises, like a morning without clouds, like the brightness after a rainstorm. The rain makes the grass grow from the earth.'

2 Samuel 23:5 "Truly, God considers my house to be that way, because he has made a lasting promise to me, with every detail arranged and assured. [He promised] everything that helps me, everything that pleases me. Truly, he makes these things happen.

2 Samuel 23:6 "Worthless people are like thorns. All of them are thrown away, because they cannot be picked by hand.

2 Samuel 23:7 A person who touches them uses iron [tools] or the shaft of a spear. Fire will burn them up completely wherever they are."

2 Samuel 23:8 These are the names of David's fighting men: Josheb Basshebeth from Tahkemon's family was leader of the three. He used a spear to kill 800 men on one occasion.

2 Samuel 23:9 Next in rank to him was Eleazar, another one of the three fighting men. He was the son of Dodo and grandson of Aho. Eleazar was with David at Pas Dammim when the Philistines gathered there for battle. When the soldiers from Israel retreated,

2 Samuel 23:10 he attacked and killed Philistines until his hand got tired and stuck to his sword. So the LORD won an impressive victory that day. The army returned to Eleazar, but they only returned to strip the dead.

2 Samuel 23:11 Next in rank to him was Shammah, the son of Agee from Harar. The Philistines had gathered at Lehi, where there was a field of ripe lentils. When the troops fled from the Philistines,

2 Samuel 23:12 he stood in the middle of the field and defended it by killing Philistines. So the LORD won an impressive victory.

2 Samuel 23:13 At harvest time three of the thirty leading men came to David at the cave of Adullam when a troop from the Philistine army was camping in the valley of Rephaim.

2 Samuel 23:14 While David was in the fortified camp, Philistine troops were at Bethlehem.

2 Samuel 23:15 When David became thirsty, he said, "I wish I could have a drink of water from the well at the city gate of Bethlehem."

2 Samuel 23:16 So the three fighting men burst into the Philistine camp and drew water from the well. They brought it to David, but he refused to drink it. He poured it out [as an offering] to the LORD and said,

2 Samuel 23:17 “It’s unthinkable that I would do this, LORD. This is the blood of men who risked their lives!” So he refused to drink it. These are the things which the three fighting men did.

2 Samuel 23:18 Joab’s brother Abishai, Zeruiah’s son, was the leader of the thirty. He used his spear to kill 300 men. He was as famous as the three

2 Samuel 23:19 and was honored more than they were. So he became their captain, but he didn’t become a member of the three.

2 Samuel 23:20 Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, was from Kabzeel and was a brave man who did many things. He killed two distinguished soldiers from Moab. He also went into a pit and killed a lion on the day it snowed.

2 Samuel 23:21 And he killed a handsome Egyptian. The Egyptian had a spear in his hand. Benaiah went to him with a club, grabbed the spear from him, and killed him with it.

2 Samuel 23:22 These are the things that Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, did. He was as famous as the three fighting men.

2 Samuel 23:23 He was honored more than the thirty, but he was not a member of the three. David put him in charge of his bodyguards.

2 Samuel 23:24 One of the thirty was Joab’s brother Asahel. [The thirty leading men were] Elhanan (son of Dodo) from Bethlehem,

2 Samuel 23:25 Shammah from Harod, Elika from Harod,

2 Samuel 23:26 Helez the Paltite, Ira (son of Ikkesh) from Tekoa,

2 Samuel 23:27 Abiezer from Anathoth, Mebunnai (son of Hushai),

2 Samuel 23:28 Zalmon (descendant of Ahohi), Maharai from Netophah,

2 Samuel 23:29 Heleb (son of Baanah) from Netophah, Ittai (son of Ribai) from Gibeah in Benjamin,

2 Samuel 23:30 Benaiah from Pirathon, Hiddai from the Gaash ravines,

2 Samuel 23:31 Abi Albon from Beth Arabah, Azmaveth from Bahurim,

2 Samuel 23:32 Elihba from Shaalbon, Bene Jashen,

2 Samuel 23:33 Jonathan ([son of] Shammah the Hararite), Ahiam (son of Sharar the Hararite),

2 Samuel 23:34 Eliphelet (son of Ahasbai and grandson of a man from Maacah), Eliam (son of Ahithophel) from Gilo,

2 Samuel 23:35 Hezrai from Carmel, Paarai from Arabah,

2 Samuel 23:36 Igal (son of Nathan) from Zobah, Bani from the tribe of Gad,

2 Samuel 23:37 Zelek from Ammon, Naharai from Beeroth, armorbearer for Zeruiah's son Joab,

2 Samuel 23:38 Ira (descendant of Ithra), Gareb (descendant of Ithra),

2 Samuel 23:39 Uriah the Hittite- 37 in all.

2 Samuel 24:1 The LORD became angry with Israel again, so he provoked David to turn against Israel. He said, "Go, count Israel and Judah."

2 Samuel 24:2 King David said to Joab, the commander of the army who was with him, "Go throughout the tribes of Israel from Dan to Beersheba and count the people. That way I will know how many there are."

2 Samuel 24:3 Joab responded to the king, "May the LORD your God multiply the people a hundred times over, and may Your Majesty [live] to see it. But why does Your Majesty wish to do this?"

2 Samuel 24:4 However, the king overruled Joab and the commanders of the army. So they left the king [in order] to count the people of Israel.

2 Samuel 24:5 They crossed the Jordan River and camped at Aroer, south of the city in the middle of the valley. Then they went to Gad and to Jazer.

2 Samuel 24:6 They went to Gilead and to Tahtim Hodshi and then to Dan Jaan and around toward Sidon.

2 Samuel 24:7 They went to the fortified city of Tyre and all the cities of the Hivites and the Canaanites. Then they went to Beersheba in the Negev of Judah.

2 Samuel 24:8 When they had covered the whole country, they came to Jerusalem after 9 months and 20 days.

2 Samuel 24:9 Joab reported the census figures to the king: In Israel there were 800,000 able-bodied men who could serve in the army, and in Judah there were 500,000.

2 Samuel 24:10 After David counted the people, his conscience troubled him. David said to the LORD, "I have committed a terrible sin by what I have done. LORD, please forgive me because I have acted very foolishly."

2 Samuel 24:11 When David got up in the morning, the LORD spoke his word to the prophet Gad, David's seer.

2 Samuel 24:12 "Go and tell David, 'This is what the LORD says: I'm offering you three choices. Choose the one you want me to do to you.'"

2 Samuel 24:13 When Gad came to David, he told David this and asked, "Should seven years of famine come to you and your land, or three months during which you flee from your enemies as they pursue you, or should there be a three-day plague in your land? Think it over, and decide what answer I should give the one who sent me."

2 Samuel 24:14 "I'm in a desperate situation," David told Gad. "Please let us fall into the LORD's hands because he is very merciful. But don't let me fall into human hands."

2 Samuel 24:15 So the LORD sent a plague among the Israelites from that morning until the time he had chosen. Of the people from Dan to Beersheba, 70,000 died.

2 Samuel 24:16 But when the Messenger stretched out his arm to destroy Jerusalem, the LORD changed his mind about the disaster. "Enough!" he said to the Messenger who was destroying the people. "Put down your weapon." The Messenger of the LORD was at the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.

2 Samuel 24:17 When David saw the Messenger who had been killing the people, he said to the LORD, "I've sinned. I've done wrong. What have these sheep done? Please let your punishment be against me and against my father's family."

2 Samuel 24:18 That day Gad came to David and said to him, "Go, set up an altar for the LORD at Araunah the Jebusite's threshing floor."

2 Samuel 24:19 David went as Gad had told him and as the LORD had commanded him.

2 Samuel 24:20 When Araunah looked down and saw the king and his men coming toward him, he went out and bowed down with his face touching the ground in front of the king.

2 Samuel 24:21 "Why has Your Majesty come to me?" Araunah asked. David answered, "To buy the threshing floor from you and to build an altar for the LORD. Then the plague on the people will stop."

2 Samuel 24:22 Araunah said to David, "Take it, Your Majesty, and offer whatever you think is right. There are oxen for the burnt offering, and there are threshers and oxen yokes for firewood."

2 Samuel 24:23 All this Araunah gave to the king and said, "May the LORD your God accept you."

2 Samuel 24:24 "No!" the king said to Araunah. "I must buy it from you at a [fair] price. I won't offer the LORD my God burnt sacrifices that cost me nothing." So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for 11/4 pounds of silver.

2 Samuel 24:25 David built an altar for the LORD there and sacrificed burnt offerings and fellowship offerings. So the LORD heard the prayers for the country, and the plague on Israel stopped.

1 Kings

1:1 King David had grown old, and although he was covered with blankets, he couldn't get warm.

1 Kings 1:2 His officials told him, “Your Majesty, let us search for a young woman who has never been married. She can stay with you and be your servant. She can lie in your arms and keep you warm.”

1 Kings 1:3 So they searched throughout Israel for a beautiful, young woman. They found Abishag from Shunem and brought her to the king.

1 Kings 1:4 The woman was very beautiful. She became the king’s servant and took care of him, but the king did not make love to her.

1 Kings 1:5 Adonijah, son of Haggith, was very handsome. His mother gave birth to him after Maacah had Absalom. Adonijah was boasting that he was king. So he got a chariot and horses and 50 men to run ahead of him.

1 Kings 1:6 His father had never confronted him by asking why he was doing this.

1 Kings 1:7 But Adonijah had discussed his actions with Joab (son of Zeruiah) and with the priest Abiathar, so they supported him.

1 Kings 1:8 But the priest Zadok, Benaiah (son of Jehoiada), the prophet Nathan, Shimei, Rei, and David’s [thirty] fighting men did not join Adonijah.

1 Kings 1:9 Adonijah sacrificed sheep, cattle, and fattened calves at Zoheleth Rock near En Rogel. He had invited all his brothers, the king’s [other] sons, all the men of Judah, and the king’s officials.

1 Kings 1:10 But he didn’t invite the prophet Nathan, Benaiah, the fighting men, or his brother Solomon.

1 Kings 1:11 Then Nathan asked Solomon’s mother Bathsheba, “Haven’t you heard that Adonijah, Haggith’s son, has become king, and our master David doesn’t [even] know about it?

1 Kings 1:12 Bathsheba, let me give you some advice about how to save your life and your son’s life.

1 Kings 1:13 Go to King David and ask him, ‘Your Majesty, didn’t you swear to me that my son Solomon will be king after you, and that he will sit on your throne? Why is Adonijah acting as king?’

1 Kings 1:14 And while you’re still there talking to the king, I’ll come in and confirm what you have said.”

1 Kings 1:15 Bathsheba went to the king in his private room. The king was very old, and Abishag from Shunem was taking care of him.

1 Kings 1:16 Bathsheba knelt and bowed down in front of the king. “What do you want?” the king asked.

1 Kings 1:17 “Sir,” she answered, “you took an oath to the LORD your God. You said that my son Solomon will be king after you, and that he will sit on your throne.

1 Kings 1:18 But now, you see, Adonijah has become king, and you don’t [even] know anything about it, Your Majesty.

1 Kings 1:19 He has sacrificed many fattened calves, bulls, and sheep. He has invited all the king’s sons, Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander of the army [to his feast]. But he hasn’t invited your servant Solomon.

1 Kings 1:20 All Israel is looking to you, Your Majesty, to tell them who should succeed you on your throne.

1 Kings 1:21 Otherwise, my son Solomon and I will be treated like criminals when you lie down in death with your ancestors.”

1 Kings 1:22 While she was still talking to the king, the prophet Nathan arrived.

1 Kings 1:23 The servants told the king, “The prophet Nathan is here.” When he came to the king, he bowed down in front of him.

1 Kings 1:24 Nathan said, “Your Majesty, you must have said that Adonijah will be king after you and that he will sit on your throne,

1 Kings 1:25 because today he went and sacrificed many bulls, fattened calves, and sheep. He invited all the king’s sons, the army’s commanders, and the priest Abiathar [to his feast]. They are eating and drinking with him and saying, ‘Long live King Adonijah!’

1 Kings 1:26 But he didn’t invite me or the priest Zadok or Benaiah, who is Jehoiada’s son, or your servant Solomon.

1 Kings 1:27 Did you allow this to happen without telling me who would sit on your throne next?”

1 Kings 1:28 Then King David answered, “Call Bathsheba in here.” So she stood in front of him,

1 Kings 1:29 and he swore an oath. He said, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD who has saved my life from all trouble lives,

1 Kings 1:30 I will do today exactly what I swore to you by the LORD God of Israel. Your son Solomon will be king after me. He will sit on my throne.”

1 Kings 1:31 Then Bathsheba bowed down with her face touching the ground in front of the king. “May Your Majesty, King David, live forever!” she said.

1 Kings 1:32 King David said, “Summon the priest Zadok, the prophet Nathan, and Benaiah, son of Jehoiada.” So they came to the king,

1 Kings 1:33 and he said, “Take my officials with you. Put my son Solomon on my mule, and take him to Gihon.

1 Kings 1:34 Have the priest Zadok and the prophet Nathan anoint him king of Israel there. Then blow the ram’s horn and say, ‘Long live King Solomon!’

1 Kings 1:35 Follow him [back] here when he comes to sit on my throne. He will be king in place of me. I have appointed him to be the leader of Israel and Judah.”

1 Kings 1:36 “So be it!” Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, answered the king. “The LORD your God says so too.

1 Kings 1:37 As the LORD has been with you, so may he be with Solomon. May Solomon be an even greater king than you, King David.”

1 Kings 1:38 Then the priest Zadok, the prophet Nathan, Benaiah (son of Jehoiada), the Cherethites, and the Pelethites put Solomon on King David’s mule and brought him to Gihon.

1 Kings 1:39 The priest Zadok took the container of olive oil from the tent and anointed Solomon. They blew the ram’s horn, and all the people said, “Long live King Solomon!”

1 Kings 1:40 All the people followed him, blew flutes, and celebrated so loudly that their voices shook the ground.

1 Kings 1:41 Adonijah and all his guests heard this as they finished eating. When Joab heard the sound of the horn, he asked, “What’s the reason for the noise in the city?”

1 Kings 1:42 He was still speaking when Jonathan, son of the priest Abiathar, arrived. “Come in,” Adonijah said. “You’re an honorable man, so you must be bringing good news.”

1 Kings 1:43 “Not at all,” Jonathan answered Adonijah. “His Majesty King David has made Solomon king.

1 Kings 1:44 The king has sent the priest Zadok, the prophet Nathan, Benaiah (son of Jehoiada), the Cherethites, and the Pelethites with him. They have put him on the king’s mule.

1 Kings 1:45 The priest Zadok and the prophet Nathan have anointed him king at Gihon. They have come from there celebrating, so the city is excited. That is the sound you heard.

1 Kings 1:46 Solomon is now seated on the royal throne.

1 Kings 1:47 Furthermore, the royal officials have come [to congratulate] His Majesty King David, saying, ‘May your God make Solomon’s name more famous than yours and his reign greater than your reign.’ The king himself bowed down on his bed

1 Kings 1:48 and said, ‘Praise the LORD God of Israel who has let me see the heir to my throne.’”

1 Kings 1:49 Adonijah’s guests were frightened, so they got up and scattered in all directions.

1 Kings 1:50 Adonijah was afraid of Solomon. He got up, went [to the tent of meeting,] and took hold of the horns of the altar.

1 Kings 1:51 Someone told Solomon, “Adonijah is afraid of you, King Solomon. He is holding on to the horns of the altar and saying, ‘Make King Solomon swear to me today that he will not have me killed.’”

1 Kings 1:52 Solomon said, “If he will behave like an honorable man, not one hair on his head will fall to the ground. But if he does [anything] wrong, he will die.”

1 Kings 1:53 King Solomon sent men to take him from the altar. Adonijah bowed down in front of King Solomon. “Go home,” Solomon told him.

1 Kings 2:1 When David was about to die, he instructed his son Solomon,

1 Kings 2:2 “I’m about to leave this world. Be strong and mature.

1 Kings 2:3 Fulfill your duty to the LORD your God. Obey his directions, laws, commands, rules, and written instructions as they are recorded in Moses’ Teachings. Then you’ll succeed in everything you do wherever you may go.

1 Kings 2:4 [You’ll succeed] because the LORD will keep the promise he made to me: ‘If your descendants are faithful to me with all their hearts and lives, you will never fail to have an heir on the throne of Israel.’

1 Kings 2:5 “You know what Joab (Zeruiah’s son) did to me and to the two commanders of Israel’s army-Abner, son of Ner, and Amasa, son of Jether. Joab killed them. When there was peace, he shed blood as if it were wartime. With their blood he stained the belt around his waist and the shoes on his feet.

1 Kings 2:6 Use your wisdom. Don’t let that gray-haired, old man go to his grave peacefully.

1 Kings 2:7 “Be kind to the sons of Barzillai from Gilead. Let them eat at your table. They helped me when I was fleeing from your brother Absalom.

1 Kings 2:8 “Shimei, son of Gera from Bahurim in Benjamin, is still with you. He cursed me repeatedly when I went to Mahanaim. But when he came to meet me at the Jordan River, I took an oath by the LORD and said, ‘As long as I’m king, I won’t have you killed.’

1 Kings 2:9 Now, don’t let him go unpunished. You are wise and know what to do to him: Put that gray-haired, old man into his grave by slaughtering him.”

1 Kings 2:10 David lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David.

1 Kings 2:11 He ruled as king of Israel for 40 years. He ruled for 7 years in Hebron and for 33 years in Jerusalem.

1 Kings 2:12 Solomon sat on his father David’s throne, and his power was firmly established.

1 Kings 2:13 Then Adonijah, son of Haggith, went to Bathsheba, Solomon's mother. “Is this a friendly visit?” she asked. “Yes,” he answered.

1 Kings 2:14 Then he added, “I have a matter [to discuss] with you.” “What is it?” she asked.

1 Kings 2:15 He said, “You know the kingship was mine. All Israel expected me to be their king. But the kingship has been turned over to my brother because the LORD gave it to him.

1 Kings 2:16 Now I want to ask you for one thing. Don't refuse me.” “What is it?” she asked.

1 Kings 2:17 He said, “Please ask King Solomon to give me Abishag from Shunem as my wife. He will not refuse you.”

1 Kings 2:18 “Very well,” Bathsheba answered. “I will talk to the king for you.”

1 Kings 2:19 Bathsheba went to King Solomon to talk to him on Adonijah's behalf. The king got up to meet her and bowed down in front of her. Then he sat on his throne. He had a throne brought for his mother, and she sat at his right side.

1 Kings 2:20 “I'm asking you for one little thing,” she said. “Don't refuse me.” “Ask, Mother,” the king told her. “I won't refuse you.”

1 Kings 2:21 She replied, “Let Abishag from Shunem be given to your brother Adonijah as his wife.”

1 Kings 2:22 King Solomon then said, “Why do you ask that Abishag from Shunem be given to Adonijah? That would be the same as giving him the kingship. After all, he is my older brother. The priest Abiathar and Joab (Zeruiah's son) are supporting him.”

1 Kings 2:23 King Solomon took an oath by the LORD and said, “May God strike me dead if Adonijah doesn't pay with his life for this request!

1 Kings 2:24 The LORD set me on my father David's throne and gave me a dynasty as he promised. So I solemnly swear, as the LORD who has established me lives, that Adonijah will be put to death today.”

1 Kings 2:25 King Solomon gave this task to Benaiah, son of Jehoiada. Benaiah attacked and killed Adonijah.

1 Kings 2:26 The king told the priest Abiathar, “Go to your land in Anathoth. You deserve to die, but I won't kill you at this time because you carried the ark of the Almighty LORD ahead of my father David and because you shared all my father's sufferings.”

1 Kings 2:27 So Solomon removed Abiathar as the LORD's priest and fulfilled the LORD's word spoken at Shiloh about Eli's family.

1 Kings 2:28 The news reached Joab. (He had supported Adonijah, although he hadn't supported Absalom.) So Joab fled to the LORD's tent and clung to the horns of the altar.

1 Kings 2:29 After King Solomon heard that Joab had fled to the altar in the tent of the LORD, Solomon sent Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, to kill Joab.

1 Kings 2:30 When Benaiah came to the tent of the LORD, he told Joab, "The king says, 'Come out.' " "No," Joab answered, "I'll die here." So Benaiah reported to the king what Joab had said and how he had answered.

1 Kings 2:31 The king answered, "Do as he said. Kill him, and bury him. You can remove the innocent blood-the blood which Joab shed-from me and my father's family.

1 Kings 2:32 The LORD will repay him for the slaughter he caused. Joab killed two honorable men who were better than he was. He used his sword to kill Abner (who was the son of Ner and the commander of Israel's army) and Amasa (who was the son of Jether and the commander of Judah's army). Joab did this without my father's knowledge.

1 Kings 2:33 The responsibility for their blood will fall on Joab and his descendants forever. But may David, his descendants, family, and throne always receive peace from the LORD."

1 Kings 2:34 Then Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, went and attacked Joab, killed him, and buried him at his home in the desert.

1 Kings 2:35 The king then appointed Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, to replace Joab as commander of the army. King Solomon also replaced Abiathar with the priest Zadok.

1 Kings 2:36 The king summoned Shimei and said to him, "Build a house for yourself in Jerusalem, and stay there. Don't leave [the city] to go anywhere else.

1 Kings 2:37 But the day you leave and cross the brook in the Kidron Valley, you can be certain that you will die. You will be responsible for your own death."

1 Kings 2:38 "Very well," Shimei answered. "I'll do just what Your Majesty said." So Shimei stayed in Jerusalem for a long time.

1 Kings 2:39 But after three years, two of Shimei's slaves fled to Gath's King Achish, son of Maacah. Shimei was told that his slaves were in Gath,

1 Kings 2:40 so he saddled his donkey and went to Achish in Gath to search for his slaves. Shimei went to Gath and got his slaves.

1 Kings 2:41 After Solomon heard that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath and back,

1 Kings 2:42 he summoned Shimei. Solomon asked him, "Didn't I make you take an oath by the LORD? Didn't I warn you that if you left

[the city] to go anywhere, you could be certain that you would die? Didn't you say to me, 'Very well. I'll do just what you said'?

1 Kings 2:43 Why didn't you keep your oath to the LORD and obey the command I gave you?

1 Kings 2:44 Shimei, you know in your heart all the evil that you did to my father David. The LORD is going to pay you back for the evil you have done.

1 Kings 2:45 But King Solomon is blessed, and David's dynasty will always be firmly established by the LORD."

1 Kings 2:46 Then the king gave orders to Benaiah, son of Jehoiada. He went to attack and kill Shimei. Solomon's power as king was now firmly established.

1 Kings 3:1 Solomon became the son-in-law of Pharaoh (the king of Egypt). After marrying Pharaoh's daughter, Solomon brought her to the City of David until he finished building his own house, the LORD's house, and the wall around Jerusalem.

1 Kings 3:2 The people were still sacrificing at other worship sites because a temple for the name of the LORD had not yet been built.

1 Kings 3:3 Solomon loved the LORD and lived by his father David's rules. However, he still sacrificed and burned incense at these other worship sites.

1 Kings 3:4 King Solomon went to Gibeon to sacrifice because it was the most important place of worship. Solomon sacrificed 1,000 burnt offerings on that altar.

1 Kings 3:5 In Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream at night. He said, "What can I give you?"

1 Kings 3:6 Solomon responded, "You've shown great love to my father David, who was your servant. He lived in your presence with truth, righteousness, and commitment. And you continued to show him your great love by giving him a son to sit on his throne today.

1 Kings 3:7 "LORD my God, although I'm young and inexperienced, you've made me king in place of my father David.

1 Kings 3:8 I'm among your people whom you have chosen. They are too numerous to count or record.

1 Kings 3:9 Give me a heart that listens so that I can judge your people and tell the difference between good and evil. After all, who can judge this great people of yours?"

1 Kings 3:10 The LORD was pleased that Solomon asked for this.

1 Kings 3:11 God replied, "You've asked for this and not for a long life, or riches for yourself, or the death of your enemies. Instead, you've asked for understanding so that you can do what is right.

1 Kings 3:12 So I'm going to do what you've asked. I'm giving you a wise and understanding heart so that there will never be anyone like you.

1 Kings 3:13 I'm also giving you what you haven't asked for-riches and honor-so that no other king will be like you as long as you live.

1 Kings 3:14 And if you follow me and obey my laws and commands as your father David did, then I will also give you a long life."

1 Kings 3:15 Solomon woke up and realized it had been a dream. He went to Jerusalem and stood in front of the ark of the LORD's promise. He sacrificed burnt offerings and fellowship offerings and held a banquet for all his officials.

1 Kings 3:16 A short time later two prostitutes came to the king and stood in front of him.

1 Kings 3:17 One woman said to him, "Sir, this woman and I live in the same house. I gave birth [to a son] while she was with me in the house.

1 Kings 3:18 Two days later this woman also gave birth [to a son]. We were alone. No one else was with us. Just the two of us were in the house.

1 Kings 3:19 That night this woman's son died because she rolled over on top of him.

1 Kings 3:20 So she got up during the night and took my son, who was beside me, while I was asleep. She held him in her arms. Then she laid her dead son in my arms.

1 Kings 3:21 When I got up in the morning to nurse my son, he was dead! I took a good look at him and realized that he wasn't my son at all!"

1 Kings 3:22 The other woman said, "No! My son is alive-your son is dead." The first woman kept on saying, "No! Your son is dead-my son is alive." So they argued in front of the king.

1 Kings 3:23 The king said, "This one keeps saying, 'My son is alive-your son is dead,' and that one keeps saying, 'No! Your son is dead-my son is alive.'"

1 Kings 3:24 So the king told his servants to bring him a sword. When they brought it,

1 Kings 3:25 he said, "Cut the living child in two. Give half to the one and half to the other."

1 Kings 3:26 Then the woman whose son was still alive was deeply moved by her love for the child. She said to the king, "Please, sir, give her the living child. Please don't kill him!" But the other woman said, "He won't be mine or yours. Cut him [in two]."

1 Kings 3:27 The king replied, "Give the living child to the first woman. Don't kill him. She is his mother."

1 Kings 3:28 All Israel heard about the decision the king made. They respected the king very highly, because they saw he possessed wisdom from God to do what was right.

1 Kings 4:1 When King Solomon was the king of all Israel,

1 Kings 4:2 these were his officials: [Azariah], son of Zadok, was the [chief] priest.

1 Kings 4:3 [Elihoreph] and [Ahijah], the sons of Shisha, were scribes. [Jehoshaphat], son of Ahilud, was the royal historian.

1 Kings 4:4 [Benaiah], son of Jehoiada, was commander of the army. [Zadok] and [Abiathar] were priests.

1 Kings 4:5 [Azariah], son of Nathan, was in charge of the district governors. [Zabud], son of Nathan, was the king's adviser.

1 Kings 4:6 [Ahishar] was in charge of the palace. [Adoniram], son of Abda, was in charge of forced labor.

1 Kings 4:7 Solomon appointed 12 district governors in Israel. They were to provide food for the king and his palace. Each one had to supply food for one month every year.

1 Kings 4:8 Their names were [Benhur], who was in charge of the hills of Ephraim,

1 Kings 4:9 [Bendeker], who was in charge of Makaz, Shaalbim, Beth Shemesh, and Elon Beth Hanan, and

1 Kings 4:10 [Benhesed], who was in charge of Arubboth, Socoh, and the entire region of Hepher.

1 Kings 4:11 [Benabinadab] had the entire region of Dor. (Solomon's daughter Taphath was his wife.)

1 Kings 4:12 [Baana], son of Ahilud, had Taanach, Megiddo, and all of Beth Shean. (This was near Zarethan, below Jezreel, from Beth Shean to Abel Meholah and over to Jokmeam.)

1 Kings 4:13 [Bengeber] was in charge of Ramoth Gilead; he had the settlements of Jair, a descendant of Manasseh, in Gilead. He [also] had the territory of Argob in Bashan, 60 large cities with walls and bronze bars across their gates.

1 Kings 4:14 [Ahinadab], son of Iddo, was in charge of Mahanaim.

1 Kings 4:15 [Ahimaaz] was in charge of Naphtali. (He also married Solomon's daughter Basemath.)

1 Kings 4:16 [Baana], son of Hushai, was in charge of Asher and Aloth.

1 Kings 4:17 [Jehoshaphat], son of Paruah, was in charge of Issachar.

1 Kings 4:18 [Shimei], son of Ela, was in charge of Benjamin.

1 Kings 4:19 [Geber], son of Uri, was in charge of Gilead, the territory of King Sihon the Amorite and King Og of Bashan. (There was only one governor in that territory.)

1 Kings 4:20 The people of Judah and Israel were as numerous as the sand on the seashore. They ate and drank and lived happily.

1 Kings 4:21 Solomon ruled all the kingdoms from the Euphrates River to the country of the Philistines and as far as the Egyptian border. These kingdoms paid taxes and were subject to Solomon as long as he lived.

1 Kings 4:22 Solomon's food supply for one day was 180 bushels of flour, 360 bushels of coarse flour,

1 Kings 4:23 10 fattened cows, 20 cows from the pasture, and 100 sheep in addition to deer, gazelles, fallow deer, and fattened birds.

1 Kings 4:24 He controlled all the territory west of the Euphrates River from Tiphsah to Gaza and all of its kings. So he lived in peace with all the neighboring countries.

1 Kings 4:25 As long as Solomon lived, Judah and Israel (from Dan to Beersheba) lived securely, everyone under his own vine and fig tree.

1 Kings 4:26 Solomon had stalls for 40,000 chariot horses. He also had 12,000 chariot soldiers.

1 Kings 4:27 Each of the governors provided food for one month every year for King Solomon and all who ate at his table. The governors saw to it that nothing was in short supply.

1 Kings 4:28 They brought their quota of barley and straw for the chariot horses to the proper places.

1 Kings 4:29 God gave Solomon wisdom-keen insight and a mind as limitless as the sand on the seashore.

1 Kings 4:30 Solomon's wisdom was greater than that of all the eastern people and all the wisdom of the Egyptians.

1 Kings 4:31 He was wiser than anyone, than Ethan the Ezrahite, or Heman, Calcol, or Darda, Mahol's sons. His fame spread to all the nations around him.

1 Kings 4:32 Solomon spoke 3,000 proverbs and wrote 1,005 songs.

1 Kings 4:33 He described and classified trees-from the cedar in Lebanon to the hyssop growing out of the wall. He described and classified animals, birds, reptiles, and fish.

1 Kings 4:34 People came from every nation to hear his wisdom; they came from all the kings of the earth who had heard about his wisdom.

1 Kings 5:1 King Hiram of Tyre sent his officials to Solomon when he heard that Solomon had been anointed king to succeed his father. Hiram had always been David's friend.

1 Kings 5:2 Solomon sent word to Hiram, by saying,

1 Kings 5:3 “You know that my father David was surrounded by war. He couldn’t build a temple for the name of the LORD our God until the LORD let him defeat his enemies.

1 Kings 5:4 But the LORD my God has surrounded me with peace. I have no rival and no trouble.

1 Kings 5:5 Now I’m thinking of building a temple for the name of the LORD my God as the LORD spoke to my father David: ‘Your son, whom I will put on your throne to succeed you, will build a temple for my name.’

1 Kings 5:6 So order men to cut down cedars from Lebanon for me. My workers will work with your workers. I will pay you whatever wages you ask for your workers. You know we don’t have any skilled lumberjacks like those from Sidon.”

1 Kings 5:7 Hiram was very glad to hear what Solomon had said. Hiram responded, “May the LORD be praised today. He has given David a wise son to rule this great nation.”

1 Kings 5:8 Hiram sent men to Solomon to say, “I’ve received the message you sent me. I will do everything you want in regard to the cedar and cypress logs.

1 Kings 5:9 My workers will bring logs from Lebanon to the sea, and I will have them make them into rafts to go by sea to any place you specify. There I will have them taken apart, and you can use them. You can pay me by providing food for my palace.”

1 Kings 5:10 So Hiram gave Solomon all the cedar and cypress wood he wanted.

1 Kings 5:11 Solomon gave Hiram 120,000 bushels of wheat and 120,000 gallons of pure olive oil. Solomon paid Hiram this much every year.

1 Kings 5:12 The LORD gave Solomon wisdom as he had promised. There was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and they made a treaty with one another.

1 Kings 5:13 King Solomon forced 30,000 men from all over Israel to work for him.

1 Kings 5:14 He sent a shift of 10,000 men to Lebanon for a month. They would spend one month in Lebanon and two months at home. Adoniram was in charge of forced labor.

1 Kings 5:15 Solomon had 70,000 men who carried heavy loads, 70,000 who quarried stone in the mountains,

1 Kings 5:16 and 3,300 foremen who were in charge of the workers.

1 Kings 5:17 The king commanded them to quarry large, expensive blocks of stone in order to provide a foundation of cut stone for the temple.

1 Kings 5:18 Solomon's workmen, Hiram's workmen, and men from Gebal quarried the stone and prepared the logs and stone to build the temple.

1 Kings 6:1 Solomon began to build the LORD's temple 480 years after Israel left Egypt. He began building in the month of Ziv (the second month) of the fourth year of his reign over Israel.

1 Kings 6:2 The temple that King Solomon built for the LORD was 90 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 45 feet high.

1 Kings 6:3 The entrance hall in front of the main room of the temple was the same length as the shorter side of the temple. It extended 15 feet in front of the temple.

1 Kings 6:4 He also made latticed windows for the temple.

1 Kings 6:5 He built an annex containing side rooms all around the temple. This annex was next to the walls of the main building and the inner sanctuary.

1 Kings 6:6 The [interior of] the lowest story of the annex was 71/2 feet wide, the second story was 9 feet wide, and the third story was 101/2 feet wide. Solomon made ledges all around the temple so that this annex would not be fastened to the walls of the temple.

1 Kings 6:7 The temple was built with stone blocks that were finished at the quarry. No hammer, chisel, or any other iron tool made a sound at the temple construction site.

1 Kings 6:8 The entrance to the first story was on the south side of the temple. A staircase went up to the middle story and then to the third story.

1 Kings 6:9 When he had finished building the walls, he roofed the temple with rows of cedar beams and planks.

1 Kings 6:10 He built [each story of the] annex 71/2 feet high alongside the entire temple. Its cedar beams were attached to the temple.

1 Kings 6:11 The LORD spoke to Solomon, saying,

1 Kings 6:12 "This concerns the temple you are building: If you live by my laws, follow my rules, and keep my commands, I will fulfill the promise I made about you to your father David.

1 Kings 6:13 I will live among the Israelites and never abandon my people."

1 Kings 6:14 When Solomon had finished building the temple's [frame],

1 Kings 6:15 he began to line the inside walls of the temple with cedar boards. He paneled the inside of the temple with wood from floor to ceiling. He covered the floor of the temple with cypress planks.

1 Kings 6:16 He sectioned off a 30-foot-long room at the rear of the temple with cedar boards from the floor to the rafters. He built it to serve as an inner room, the most holy place.

1 Kings 6:17 The 60-foot-long room at the front of the temple served as the main hall.

1 Kings 6:18 Gourds and flowers were carved into the cedar paneling inside the temple. Everything was [covered with] cedar. No stone could be seen.

1 Kings 6:19 He prepared the inner room of the temple in order to put the ark of the LORD's promise there.

1 Kings 6:20 The inner room was 30 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 30 feet high. Solomon covered it and the cedar altar with pure gold.

1 Kings 6:21 He covered the inside of the temple with pure gold. He put golden chains across the front of the inner room which was covered with gold.

1 Kings 6:22 He covered the entire inside of the temple with gold. He also covered the entire altar in the inner room with gold.

1 Kings 6:23 In the inner room he made two 15-foot-tall angels out of olive wood.

1 Kings 6:24 Each wing of the angels was 71/2 feet long. The distance from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other was 15 feet.

1 Kings 6:25 Both angels had a 15-foot [wingspan]. Both had the same measurements and the same shape.

1 Kings 6:26 Each was 15 feet high.

1 Kings 6:27 Solomon put the angels in the inner room of the temple. The wings of the angels extended so that the wing of one of the angels touched the one wall, and the wing of the other touched the other wall. Their remaining wings touched each other in the center of the room.

1 Kings 6:28 He covered the angels with gold.

1 Kings 6:29 He carved angels, palm trees, and flowers into the walls all around the inner and outer rooms of the temple.

1 Kings 6:30 He covered the floor of the inner and outer rooms of the temple with gold.

1 Kings 6:31 He made doors for the entrance to the inner room out of olive wood. The doorposts had five sides.

1 Kings 6:32 The two doors were [made out of] olive wood. He carved angels, palm trees, and flowers into them and covered them with gold. The gold was hammered onto the angels and the palm trees.

1 Kings 6:33 In the same way he made square doorposts out of olive wood for the temple's entrance.

1 Kings 6:34 He made two doors from cypress. Each of the doors had two folding panels.

1 Kings 6:35 On them he carved angels, palm trees, and flowers. He evenly covered them with gold.

1 Kings 6:36 He built the inner courtyard with three courses of finished stones and a course of finished cedar beams.

1 Kings 6:37 In the month of Ziv of the fourth year of Solomon's reign, the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid.

1 Kings 6:38 In the month of Bul (the eighth month) of the eleventh year [of his reign], the temple was finished according to all its plans and specifications. He spent seven years building it.

1 Kings 7:1 Solomon took 13 years to finish building his palace.

1 Kings 7:2 He built a hall [named] the Forest of Lebanon. It was 150 feet long, 75 feet wide, and 45 feet high. It had four rows of cedar pillars supporting cedar beams.

1 Kings 7:3 The hall was covered with cedar above the side rooms, which were supported by 45 pillars

1 Kings 7:4 The windows were in three rows facing each other on opposite sides [of the palace].

1 Kings 7:5 All the doors and doorframes were square. There were three doors facing each other on opposite sides [of the palace].

1 Kings 7:6 Solomon made the Hall of Pillars 75 feet long and 45 feet wide. In front of the hall was an entrance hall with pillars.

1 Kings 7:7 He made the Hall of Justice, where he sat on his throne and served as judge. The hall was covered with cedar from floor to ceiling.

1 Kings 7:8 His own private quarters were in a different location than the Hall of Justice, but they were similar in design. Solomon also built private quarters like this for his wife, Pharaoh's daughter.

1 Kings 7:9 From the foundation to the roof, all these buildings, including the large courtyard, were built with high-grade stone blocks. The stone blocks were cut to size and trimmed with saws on their inner and outer faces.

1 Kings 7:10 The foundation was made with large, high-grade stones (some 12 feet long, others 15 feet long).

1 Kings 7:11 Above [the foundation] were cedar beams and high-grade stone blocks, which had been cut to size.

1 Kings 7:12 The large courtyard had three layers of cut stone blocks and a layer of cedar beams, like the inner courtyard of the LORD's temple and the entrance hall.

1 Kings 7:13 King Solomon had Hiram brought from Tyre.

1 Kings 7:14 Hiram was the son of a widow from the tribe of Naphtali. His father, a native of Tyre, was a skilled bronze craftsman. Hiram was highly skilled, resourceful, and knowledgeable about all kinds of bronze craftsmanship. He came to King Solomon and did all his [bronze] work.

1 Kings 7:15 He made two bronze pillars. Each was 27 feet high and 18 feet in circumference.

1 Kings 7:16 He made two capitals of cast bronze to put on top of the pillars. Each capital was 71/2 feet high.

1 Kings 7:17 He also made seven rows of filigree and chains for each capital.

1 Kings 7:18 After he made the pillars, he made two rows [of decorations] around the filigree to cover the capitals which were above the pillars. He made the capitals identical to each other.

1 Kings 7:19 The capitals on top of the pillars in the entrance hall were lily-shaped. [Each] was six feet high.

1 Kings 7:20 Two hundred pomegranates in rows were directly above the bowl-shaped parts around the filigree on the capitals on both pillars.

1 Kings 7:21 Hiram set up the pillars in the temple's entrance hall. He set up the pillar on the right and named it Jachin [He Establishes]. Then he set up the pillar on the left and named it Boaz [In Him Is Strength].

1 Kings 7:22 There were lily-shaped capitals at the top of the pillars. He finished the work on the pillars.

1 Kings 7:23 Hiram made a pool from cast metal. It was 15 feet in diameter. It was round, 71/2 feet high, and had a circumference of 45 feet.

1 Kings 7:24 Under the rim were two rows of gourds all around the 45-foot circumference of the pool. They were cast in metal when the pool was cast.

1 Kings 7:25 The pool was set on 12 metal bulls. Three bulls faced north, three faced west, three faced south, and three faced east. The pool was set on them, and their hindquarters were toward the center [of the pool].

1 Kings 7:26 The pool was three inches thick. Its rim was like the rim of a cup, shaped like a lily's bud. It held 12,000 gallons.

1 Kings 7:27 He made ten bronze stands. Each stand was 6 feet square and 41/2 feet high.

1 Kings 7:28 The stands were made this way: They had side panels set in frames.

1 Kings 7:29 On the panels set in frames were lions, oxen, and angels. These were also on the frames. Above and below the lions and the cattle were engraved designs.

1 Kings 7:30 Each stand had four bronze wheels on bronze axles and four supports beneath the basin. The supports were made of cast metal with designs on the sides.

1 Kings 7:31 Each had a 11/2-foot-deep opening in the center to the circular frame on top. The opening was round, formed like a pedestal, and was two feet [wide]. Around the opening there were engravings. But the panels were square, not round.

1 Kings 7:32 The four wheels were under the panels, and the axles were attached to the stand. Each wheel was two feet high.

1 Kings 7:33 The wheels were made like chariot wheels. The axles, rims, spokes, and hubs were all cast metal.

1 Kings 7:34 The four supports at the four corners of each stand were part of the stand.

1 Kings 7:35 The top of each stand had a round, nine-inch-high band. Above the stand were supports which were part of the panels.

1 Kings 7:36 Hiram engraved angels, lions, palm trees, and designs in every available space on the supports and panels.

1 Kings 7:37 This is the way he made the ten stands. All of them were cast in the same mold, identical in size and shape.

1 Kings 7:38 Hiram also made ten bronze basins. Each basin held 240 gallons. Every basin was six feet [wide]. There was one basin on each of the ten stands.

1 Kings 7:39 He put five stands on the south side of the temple and five on the north side of the temple. He set the pool on the south side of the temple in the southeast [corner].

1 Kings 7:40 Hiram also made pots, shovels, and bowls. So Hiram finished all the work for King Solomon on the LORD's temple:

1 Kings 7:41 2 pillars, the bowl-shaped capitals on top of the 2 pillars, and 2 sets of filigree to cover the 2 bowl-shaped capitals on top of the pillars,

1 Kings 7:42 400 pomegranates for the 2 sets of filigree

1 Kings 7:43 10 stands and 10 basins on the stands,

1 Kings 7:44 1 pool, 12 bulls under the pool,

1 Kings 7:45 pots, shovels, and bowls. Hiram made all these utensils out of polished bronze for the LORD's temple at King Solomon's request.

1 Kings 7:46 The king cast them in foundries in the Jordan Valley between Succoth and Zarethan.

1 Kings 7:47 Solomon left all the products unweighed because so much bronze was used. No one tried to determine how much the bronze weighed.

1 Kings 7:48 Solomon made all the furnishings for the LORD’s temple: the gold altar, the gold table on which the bread of the presence was placed,

1 Kings 7:49 lamp stands of pure gold (five on the south side and five on the north in front of the inner room), flowers, lamps, gold tongs,

1 Kings 7:50 dishes, snuffers, bowls, saucers, incense burners of pure gold, the gold sockets for the doors of the inner [room] (the most holy place), and the doors of the temple.

1 Kings 7:51 All the work King Solomon did on the LORD’s temple was finished. He brought the holy things that had belonged to his father David-the silver, gold, and utensils-and put them in the storerooms of the LORD’s temple.

1 Kings 8:1 Then Solomon assembled the respected leaders of Israel, all the heads of the tribes, and the leaders of the Israelite families. They came to King Solomon in Jerusalem to take the ark of the LORD’s promise from the City of David (that is, Zion).

1 Kings 8:2 All the people of Israel gathered around King Solomon at the Festival [of Booths] in the month of Ethanim, the seventh month.

1 Kings 8:3 When all the leaders of Israel had arrived, the priests picked up the LORD’s ark.

1 Kings 8:4 They brought the ark, the tent of meeting, and all the holy utensils in it [to the temple]. The priests and the Levites carried them

1 Kings 8:5 while King Solomon with the whole assembly from Israel were offering countless sheep and cattle sacrifices in front of the ark.

1 Kings 8:6 The priests brought the ark of the LORD’s promise to its place in the inner room of the temple (the most holy place) under the wings of the angels.

1 Kings 8:7 When the angels’ outstretched wings were over the place where the ark [rested], the angels became a covering above the ark and its poles.

1 Kings 8:8 The poles were so long that their ends could be seen in the holy place by anyone standing in front of the inner room, but they couldn’t be seen outside. (They are still there today.)

1 Kings 8:9 There was nothing in the ark except the two stone tablets Moses put there at Horeb, where the LORD made a promise to the Israelites after they left Egypt.

1 Kings 8:10 When the priests left the holy place, a cloud filled the LORD’s temple.

1 Kings 8:11 The priests couldn’t serve because of the cloud. The LORD’s glory filled his temple.

1 Kings 8:12 Then Solomon said, “The LORD said he would live in a dark cloud.

1 Kings 8:13 I certainly have built you a high temple, a home for you to live in permanently.”

1 Kings 8:14 Then the king turned around and blessed the whole assembly of Israel while they were standing.

1 Kings 8:15 “Thanks be to the LORD God of Israel. With his mouth he made a promise to my father David; with his hand he carried it out. He said,

1 Kings 8:16 ‘Ever since I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I didn’t choose any city in any of the tribes of Israel as a place to build a temple for my name. But now I’ve chosen David to rule my people Israel.’

1 Kings 8:17 “My father David had his heart set on building a temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

1 Kings 8:18 However, the LORD said to my father David, ‘Since you had your heart set on building a temple for my name, your intentions were good.

1 Kings 8:19 But you must not build the temple. Instead, your own son will build the temple for my name.’

1 Kings 8:20 The LORD has kept the promise he made. I have taken my father David’s place, and I sit on the throne of Israel as the LORD promised. I’ve built the temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

1 Kings 8:21 I’ve made a place there for the ark which contains the LORD’s promise that he made to our ancestors when he brought them out of Egypt.”

1 Kings 8:22 In the presence of the entire assembly of Israel, Solomon stood in front of the LORD’s altar. He stretched out his hands toward heaven

1 Kings 8:23 and said, “LORD God of Israel, there is no god like you in heaven above or on earth below. You keep your promise of mercy to your servants, who obey you wholeheartedly.

1 Kings 8:24 You have kept your promise to my father David, your servant. With your mouth you promised it. With your hand you carried it out as it is today.

1 Kings 8:25 “Now, LORD God of Israel, keep your promise to my father David, your servant. You said, ‘You will never fail to have an heir sitting in front of me on the throne of Israel if your descendants are faithful to me as you have been faithful to me.’

1 Kings 8:26 “So now, God of Israel, may the promise you made to my father David, your servant, come true.

1 Kings 8:27 “Does God really live on earth? If heaven itself, the highest heaven, cannot hold you, then how can this temple that I have built?

1 Kings 8:28 Nevertheless, my LORD God, please pay attention to my prayer for mercy. Listen to my cry for help as I pray to you today.

1 Kings 8:29 Night and day may your eyes be on this temple, the place about which you said, ‘My name will be there.’ Listen to me as I pray toward this place.

1 Kings 8:30 Hear the plea for mercy that your people Israel and I pray toward this place. Hear us [when we pray] to heaven, the place where you live. Hear and forgive.

1 Kings 8:31 “If anyone sins against another person and is required to take an oath and comes to take the oath in front of your altar in this temple,

1 Kings 8:32 then hear [that person] in heaven, take action, and make a decision. Condemn the guilty person with the proper punishment, but declare the innocent person innocent.

1 Kings 8:33 “An enemy may defeat your people Israel because they have sinned against you. But when your people turn to you, praise your name, pray, and plead with you in this temple,

1 Kings 8:34 then hear [them] in heaven, forgive the sins of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land that you gave to their ancestors.

1 Kings 8:35 “When the sky is shut and there’s no rain because they are sinning against you, and they pray toward this place, praise your name, and turn away from their sin because you made them suffer,

1 Kings 8:36 then hear [them] in heaven. Forgive the sins of your servants, your people Israel. Teach them the proper way to live. Then send rain on the land, which you gave to your people as an inheritance.

1 Kings 8:37 “There may be famine in the land. Plant diseases, heat waves, funguses, locusts, or grasshoppers may destroy crops. Enemies may blockade Israel’s city gates. During every plague or sickness

1 Kings 8:38 [hear] every prayer for mercy, made by one person or by all the people in Israel, whose consciences bother them, who stretch out their hands toward this temple.

1 Kings 8:39 Hear [them] in heaven, where you live. Forgive [them], and take action. Give each person the proper reply. (You know what is in their hearts, because you alone know what is in the hearts of all people.)

1 Kings 8:40 Then, as long as they live in the land that you gave to our ancestors, they will fear you.

1 Kings 8:41 “People will hear about your great name, mighty hand, and powerful arm. So when people who are not Israelites come from distant countries because of your name

1 Kings 8:42 to pray facing this temple,

1 Kings 8:43 hear [them] in heaven, the place where you live. Do everything they ask you so that all the people of the world may know your name and fear you like your people Israel and learn also that this temple which I built bears your name.

1 Kings 8:44 “When your people go to war against their enemies (wherever you may send them) and they pray to you, O LORD, toward the city you have chosen and the temple I built for your name,

1 Kings 8:45 then hear their prayer for mercy in heaven, and do what is right [for them].

1 Kings 8:46 “They may sin against you. (No one is sinless.) You may become angry with them and hand them over to an enemy who takes them to [another] country as captives, [whether it is] far or near.

1 Kings 8:47 If they come to their senses, are sorry for what they’ve done, and plead with you in the land where they are captives, saying, ‘We have sinned. We have done wrong. We have been wicked,’

1 Kings 8:48 if they change their attitude toward you in the land of their enemies where they are captives, if they pray to you toward the land that you gave their ancestors, and the city you have chosen, and the temple I have built for your name,

1 Kings 8:49 then in heaven, the place where you live, hear their prayer for mercy. Do what is right for them.

1 Kings 8:50 Forgive your people, who have sinned against you. [Forgive] all their wrongs when they rebelled against you, and cause those who captured them to have mercy on them

1 Kings 8:51 because they are your own people whom you brought out of Egypt from the middle of an iron smelter.

1 Kings 8:52 “May your eyes always see my plea and your people Israel’s plea so that you will listen to them whenever they call on you.

1 Kings 8:53 After all, you, LORD God, set them apart from all the people of the world to be your own as you promised through your servant Moses when you brought our ancestors out of Egypt.”

1 Kings 8:54 When Solomon finished praying this prayer for mercy to the LORD, he stood in front of the LORD’s altar, where he had been kneeling with his hands stretched out toward heaven.

1 Kings 8:55 Then he stood and in a loud voice blessed the entire assembly of Israel,

1 Kings 8:56 “Thanks be to the LORD! He has given his people Israel rest, as he had promised. None of the good promises he made through his servant Moses has failed to come true.

1 Kings 8:57 May the LORD our God be with us as he was with our ancestors. May he never leave us or abandon us.

1 Kings 8:58 May he bend our hearts toward him. Then we will follow him and keep his commands, laws, and rules, which he commanded our ancestors [to keep].

1 Kings 8:59 May these words which I have prayed to the LORD be near the LORD our God day and night. Then he will give me and his people Israel justice every day as it is needed.

1 Kings 8:60 In this way all the people of the world will know that the LORD is God and there is no other [god].

1 Kings 8:61 May your hearts be committed to the LORD our God. Then you will live by his laws and keep his commands as you have today.”

1 Kings 8:62 Then the king and all Israel offered sacrifices to the LORD.

1 Kings 8:63 Solomon sacrificed 22,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep as fellowship offerings to the LORD. So the king and all the people of Israel dedicated the LORD’s temple.

1 Kings 8:64 On that day the king designated the courtyard in front of the LORD’s temple as a holy place. He sacrificed the burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat from the fellowship offerings because the bronze altar in front of the LORD was too small to hold all of them.

1 Kings 8:65 At that time Solomon and all Israel celebrated the Festival [of Booths]. A large crowd had come from [the territory between] the border of Hamath and the River of Egypt to be near the LORD our God for seven days.?more[days, fourteen days]total[.”>]

1 Kings 8:66 On the eighth day he dismissed the people. They blessed the king and went to their tents. They rejoiced with cheerful hearts for all the blessings the LORD had given his servant David and his people Israel.

1 Kings 9:1 Solomon finished building the LORD’s temple, the royal palace, and everything [else] he wanted to build.

1 Kings 9:2 Then the LORD appeared to him a second time, as he had appeared to him in Gibeon.

1 Kings 9:3 The LORD said to him, “I have heard your prayer for mercy that you made to me. I have declared that this temple which you have built is holy so that my name may be placed there forever. My eyes and my heart will always be there.

1 Kings 9:4 “If you will be faithful to me as your father David was (with a sincere and upright heart), do everything I command, and keep my laws and rules,

1 Kings 9:5 then I will establish your royal dynasty over Israel forever as I promised your father David when I said, ‘You will never fail to have an heir on the throne of Israel.’

1 Kings 9:6 But if you and your descendants dare to turn away from me and do not keep my commands and laws that I gave to you, and follow and serve other gods and worship them,

1 Kings 9:7 then I will cut Israel out of the land I gave them. I will reject this temple that I declared holy for my name. Israel will be an example and an object of ridicule for all the people of the world.

1 Kings 9:8 Everyone passing by this temple, as impressive as it is, will be appalled. They will gasp and ask, 'Why did the LORD do these things to this land and this temple?'

1 Kings 9:9 They will answer [themselves], 'They abandoned the LORD their God, who brought their ancestors out of Egypt. They adopted other gods, worshiped, and served them. That is why the LORD brought this disaster on them.'"

1 Kings 9:10 It took Solomon 20 years to build the two houses (the LORD's house and the royal palace).

1 Kings 9:11 [When King Solomon had finished,] he gave King Hiram of Tyre 20 cities in Galilee. (Hiram had supplied Solomon with as much cedar and cypress lumber and gold as he wanted.)

1 Kings 9:12 Hiram left Tyre to see the cities Solomon gave him. However, they didn't please him.

1 Kings 9:13 "What kind of cities have you given me, brother?" he asked. So he named it the region of Cabul [Good for Nothing]. ([They're] still [called] that today.)

1 Kings 9:14 Hiram had sent the king 9,000 pounds of gold.

1 Kings 9:15 This is the record of the forced laborers whom King Solomon drafted to build the LORD's house, his own house, the Millo, the walls of Jerusalem, and [the cities of] Hazor, Megiddo, and Gezer.

1 Kings 9:16 (The king of Egypt captured Gezer, burned it down, and killed the Canaanites living there. Then he gave it to his daughter, Solomon's wife, as a wedding present.)

1 Kings 9:17 So Solomon rebuilt Gezer, Lower Beth Horon,

1 Kings 9:18 Baalath, Tadmor in the desert (inside the country), and

1 Kings 9:19 all the storage cities that he owned. He also built cities for his chariots, cities for his war horses, and whatever [else] he wanted to build in Jerusalem, Lebanon, or the entire territory that he governed.

1 Kings 9:20 The Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites had been left [in the land] because the Israelites had not been able to claim them for God by destroying them. They were not Israelites,

1 Kings 9:21 but they had descendants who were still in the land. Solomon drafted them for slave labor. (They are still [slaves] today.)

1 Kings 9:22 But Solomon didn't make any of the Israelites slaves. Instead, they were soldiers, officials, officers, generals, and commanders of his chariot and cavalry units.

1 Kings 9:23 These were the officers in charge of Solomon's projects: 550 foremen for the people who did the work.

1 Kings 9:24 Pharaoh's daughter moved from the City of David to the palace that Solomon had built for her. Then he built the Millo.

1 Kings 9:25 Three times a year Solomon sacrificed burnt offerings and fellowship offerings on the altar he built for the LORD. He burnt them on the altar that was in the LORD's presence. And he finished the temple.

1 Kings 9:26 King Solomon also built a fleet near the Red Sea coast at Ezion Geber by Elath in Edom.

1 Kings 9:27 Hiram sent his own servants [who were] experienced seamen with the fleet. Along with Solomon's servants

1 Kings 9:28 they went to Ophir, got 31,500 pounds of gold, and brought it to King Solomon.

1 Kings 10:1 The queen of Sheba heard about Solomon's reputation. (He owed his reputation to the name of the LORD.) So she came to test him with riddles.

1 Kings 10:2 She arrived in Jerusalem with a large group of servants, with camels carrying spices, a very large quantity of gold, and precious stones. When she came to Solomon, she talked to him about everything she had on her mind.

1 Kings 10:3 Solomon answered all her questions. No question was too difficult for the king to answer.

1 Kings 10:4 When the queen of Sheba saw all of Solomon's wisdom, the palace he built,

1 Kings 10:5 the food on his table, his officers' seating arrangement, the organization of his officials and the uniforms they wore, his cupbearers, and the burnt offerings that he sacrificed at the LORD's temple, she was breathless.

1 Kings 10:6 She told the king, "What I heard in my country about your words and your wisdom is true!

1 Kings 10:7 But I didn't believe the reports until I came and saw it with my own eyes. I wasn't even told half of it. Your wisdom and wealth surpass the stories I've heard.

1 Kings 10:8 How blessed your men must be! How blessed these servants of yours must be because they are always stationed in front of you, listening to your wisdom!

1 Kings 10:9 Thank the LORD your God, who is pleased with you. He has put you on the throne of Israel. Because of your God's eternal love for the people of Israel, he has made you king so that you would maintain justice and righteousness.”

1 Kings 10:10 She gave the king 9,000 pounds of gold, a very large quantity of spices, and precious stones. Never again was such a large quantity of spices brought [into Israel] as those that the queen of Sheba gave King Solomon.

1 Kings 10:11 Hiram’s fleet that brought gold from Ophir also brought a large quantity of sandalwood and precious stones from Ophir.

1 Kings 10:12 With the sandalwood the king made supports for the LORD’s temple and the royal palace, and lyres and harps for the singers. Never again was sandalwood like this imported [into Israel], nor has any been seen [there] to this day.

1 Kings 10:13 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba anything she wanted, whatever she asked for, besides what he had given her out of his royal generosity. Then she and her servants went back to her country.

1 Kings 10:14 The gold that came to Solomon in one year weighed 49,950 pounds,

1 Kings 10:15 not counting [the gold] which came from the merchants, the traders’ profits, all the Arab kings, and the governors of the country.

1 Kings 10:16 King Solomon made 200 large shields of hammered gold, using 15 pounds of gold on each shield.

1 Kings 10:17 He also made 300 small shields of hammered gold, using four pounds of gold on each shield. The king put them in the hall [which he called] the Forest of Lebanon.

1 Kings 10:18 The king also made a large ivory throne and covered it with fine gold.

1 Kings 10:19 Six steps led to the throne. Carved into the back of the throne was a calf ‘s head. There were armrests on both sides of the seat. Two lions stood beside the armrests.

1 Kings 10:20 Twelve lions stood on six steps, one on each side. Nothing like this had been made for any other kingdom.

1 Kings 10:21 All King Solomon’s cups were gold, and all the utensils for the hall [which he called] the Forest of Lebanon were fine gold. (Nothing was silver, because it wasn’t considered valuable in Solomon’s time.)

1 Kings 10:22 The king had a fleet headed for Tarshish with Hiram’s fleet. Once every three years the Tarshish fleet would bring gold, silver, ivory, apes, and monkeys.

1 Kings 10:23 In wealth and wisdom King Solomon was greater than all the [other] kings of the world.

1 Kings 10:24 The whole world wanted to listen to the wisdom that God gave Solomon.

1 Kings 10:25 So everyone who came brought him gifts: articles of silver and gold, clothing, weapons, spices, horses, and mules. This happened year after year.

1 Kings 10:26 Solomon built up [his army] with chariots and war horses. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 war horses. He stationed [some] in chariot cities and [others] with himself in Jerusalem.

1 Kings 10:27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedars as plentiful as fig trees in the foothills.

1 Kings 10:28 Solomon's horses were imported from Egypt and Kue. The king's traders bought them from Kue for a fixed price.

1 Kings 10:29 Each chariot was imported from Egypt for 15 pounds of silver and each horse for 6 ounces of silver. For the same price they obtained horses to export to all the Hittite and Aramean kings.

1 Kings 11:1 King Solomon loved many foreign women in addition to Pharaoh's daughter. He loved Hittite women and women from Moab, Ammon, Edom, and Sidon.

1 Kings 11:2 They came from the nations about which the LORD had said to the people of Israel, "Never intermarry with them. They will surely tempt you to follow their gods." But Solomon was obsessed with their love.

1 Kings 11:3 He had 700 wives who were princesses and 300 wives who were concubines.

1 Kings 11:4 In his old age, his wives tempted him to follow other gods. He was no longer committed to the LORD his God as his father David had been.

1 Kings 11:5 Solomon followed Astarte (the goddess of the Sidonians) and Milcom (the disgusting idol of the Ammonites).

1 Kings 11:6 So Solomon did what the LORD considered evil. He did not wholeheartedly follow the LORD as his father David had done.

1 Kings 11:7 Then Solomon built an illegal worship site on the hill east of Jerusalem for Chemosh (the disgusting idol of Moab) and for Molech (the disgusting idol of the Ammonites).

1 Kings 11:8 He did these things for each of his foreign wives who burned incense and sacrificed to their gods.

1 Kings 11:9 So the LORD became angry with Solomon because his heart had turned from the LORD God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice.

1 Kings 11:10 God had given him commands about this. [He told him] not to follow other gods. But Solomon did not obey God's command.

1 Kings 11:11 The LORD told Solomon, “Because this is your attitude and you have no respect for my promises or my laws that I commanded you to keep, I will certainly tear the kingdom away from you. I will give it to one of your servants.

1 Kings 11:12 But I will not do it in your lifetime because of your father David. I will tear it away from the hands of your son.

1 Kings 11:13 However, I will not tear the whole kingdom away from you. I will give your son one tribe for my servant David’s sake and for the sake of Jerusalem, [the city] that I chose.”

1 Kings 11:14 The LORD raised up Hadad the Edomite as a rival to Solomon. Hadad was from the Edomite royal family.

1 Kings 11:15 When David had conquered Edom, Joab, the commander of the army, went to bury those killed in battle and killed every male in Edom.

1 Kings 11:16 (Joab and all Israel stayed there six months until they had destroyed every male in Edom.)

1 Kings 11:17 Hadad was a young boy at the time. He and some of his father’s Edomite servants fled to Egypt.

1 Kings 11:18 They left Midian and went to Paran. Taking some men from Paran with them, they went to Pharaoh (the king of Egypt). Pharaoh gave Hadad a home, a food allowance, and land.

1 Kings 11:19 Pharaoh approved of Hadad. So he gave Hadad his sister-in-law, the sister of Queen Tahpenes, to be Hadad’s wife.

1 Kings 11:20 Tahpenes’ sister had a son [named] Genubath. Tahpenes presented the boy to Pharaoh in the palace, and Genubath lived in the palace among Pharaoh’s children.

1 Kings 11:21 When Hadad heard in Egypt that David had lain down in death with his ancestors and that Joab, the commander of the army, had died, he said to Pharaoh, “Let me go to my own country.”

1 Kings 11:22 Pharaoh asked him, “What don’t you have here that makes you eager to go home?” “Nothing,” he said. “But let me leave anyway.”

1 Kings 11:23 God also raised up Rezon, son of Eliada, as a rival to Solomon. Rezon fled from his master, King Hadadezer of Zobah,

1 Kings 11:24 after David killed the men of Zobah. Rezon gathered men and became the leader of a troop of warriors. They went to Damascus, settled there, and ruled a kingdom in Damascus.

1 Kings 11:25 In addition to the trouble that Hadad caused, Rezon was Israel’s rival as long as Solomon lived. He ruled Aram and despised Israel.

1 Kings 11:26 There was also Jeroboam, who was the son of Nebat and an Ephrathite from Zeredah. His mother Zeruah was a widow. He was one of Solomon's officers, but he rebelled against the king.

1 Kings 11:27 This was the situation when he rebelled against the king: Solomon was building the Millo and repairing a break in the [wall of] the City of David.

1 Kings 11:28 Solomon saw that Jeroboam was a very able and hard-working man. So he put Jeroboam in charge of all forced labor from the tribes of Joseph.

1 Kings 11:29 At that time Jeroboam left Jerusalem. The prophet Ahijah from Shiloh met him on the road. The two of them were alone in the open country, and Ahijah had on new clothes.

1 Kings 11:30 Ahijah took his new garment and tore it into 12 pieces.

1 Kings 11:31 He told Jeroboam, "Take 10 pieces because this is what the LORD God of Israel says: I am going to tear the kingdom out of Solomon's hands and give ten tribes to you.

1 Kings 11:32 He will have one tribe [left] because of my servant David and Jerusalem, the city I have chosen from all the tribes of Israel.

1 Kings 11:33 I will do this because he has abandoned me and worshiped Astarte (the goddess of the Sidonians), Chemosh (the god of Moab), and Milcom (the god of Ammon). He has not followed my ways. He did not do what I consider right or keep my laws and decrees as his father David did.

1 Kings 11:34 "I will not take the whole kingdom from him. Instead, I will allow him to be ruler as long as he lives because of my servant David whom I chose, who obeyed my commands and laws.

1 Kings 11:35 But I will take the kingdom away from his son and give you ten tribes.

1 Kings 11:36 I will give his son one tribe so that my servant David will always have a lamp in my presence in Jerusalem, the city where I chose to place my name.

1 Kings 11:37 "I will choose you so that you can rule everything you desire. You will be king of Israel.

1 Kings 11:38 If you will do all I command you, follow my ways, and do what I consider right by obeying my laws and commands as my servant David did, then I will be with you. I will build a permanent dynasty for you as I did for David. And I will give you Israel.

1 Kings 11:39 I will make David's descendants suffer for this, but not always."

1 Kings 11:40 Then Solomon tried to kill Jeroboam, but Jeroboam fled to King Shishak of Egypt. He stayed in Egypt until Solomon died.

1 Kings 11:41 Aren't the rest of Solomon's acts-everything he did-and his wisdom written in the records of Solomon?

1 Kings 11:42 The length of Solomon's reign in Jerusalem over all Israel was 40 years.

1 Kings 11:43 Solomon lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David. His son Rehoboam succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 12:1 Rehoboam went to Shechem because all Israel had gone to Shechem to make him king.

1 Kings 12:2 Jeroboam (Nebat's son) was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon. When he heard [about Rehoboam], he returned from Egypt.

1 Kings 12:3 [Israel] sent for Jeroboam and invited him back. Jeroboam and the entire assembly of Israel went to speak to Rehoboam. They said,

1 Kings 12:4 "Your father made us carry a heavy burden. Reduce the hard work and lighten the heavy burden he put on us, and we will serve you."

1 Kings 12:5 He said to them, "Leave and come back the day after tomorrow." So the people left.

1 Kings 12:6 King Rehoboam sought advice from the older leaders who had served his father Solomon while he was still alive. He asked, "What do you advise? How should I respond to these people?"

1 Kings 12:7 They told him, "If you will serve these people today, humble yourself, and speak gently, then they will always be your servants."

1 Kings 12:8 But he ignored the advice the older leaders gave him. He sought advice from the young men who had grown up with him and were serving him.

1 Kings 12:9 He asked them, "What is your advice? How should we respond to these people who are asking me to lighten the burden my father put on them?"

1 Kings 12:10 The young men who had grown up with him answered, "This is what you should tell them: 'My little finger is heavier than my father's whole body.

1 Kings 12:11 If my father put a heavy burden on you, I will add to it. If my father punished you with whips, I will punish you with scorpions.'"

1 Kings 12:12 So Jeroboam and all the people came back to Rehoboam two days later, as the king had instructed them.

1 Kings 12:13 The king answered the people harshly. He ignored the advice the older leaders gave him.

1 Kings 12:14 He spoke to them as the young men advised. He said, “If my father made your burden heavy, I will add to it. If my father punished you with whips, I will punish you with scorpions.”

1 Kings 12:15 The king refused to listen to the people because the LORD was directing these events to carry out the promise he had made to Jeroboam (Nebat’s son) through Ahijah from Shiloh.

1 Kings 12:16 When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, the people answered the king, “What share do we have in David’s kingdom? We won’t receive an inheritance from Jesse’s son. To your own tents, Israel! Now look after your own house, David!” So Israel went home to their own tents.

1 Kings 12:17 But Rehoboam ruled the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.

1 Kings 12:18 Then King Rehoboam sent Adoram to Israel. He was in charge of forced labor, but they stoned him to death. So King Rehoboam got on his chariot as fast as he could and fled to Jerusalem.

1 Kings 12:19 Israel has rebelled against David’s dynasty to this day.

1 Kings 12:20 When all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they sent men to invite him to the assembly. They made him king of all Israel. Only the tribe of Judah remained loyal to David’s dynasty.

1 Kings 12:21 When Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he gathered all the people of Judah and the tribe of Benjamin, 180,000 of the best soldiers, to fight against the people of Israel and return the kingdom to Rehoboam, son of Solomon.

1 Kings 12:22 But God spoke his word to Shemaiah, the man of God. He said,

1 Kings 12:23 “Speak to Judah’s King Rehoboam, son of Solomon, and all the people of Judah and Benjamin, and the rest of the people.

1 Kings 12:24 This is what the LORD says: Don’t wage war against your relatives from Israel. Everyone, go home. What has happened is my doing.” So they obeyed the word of the LORD. They returned [home], as the LORD told them.

1 Kings 12:25 Jeroboam rebuilt Shechem in the hills of Ephraim and lived there. Then he left that place and built Penuel.

1 Kings 12:26 He said to himself, “The kingdom will probably return to David’s dynasty now.

1 Kings 12:27 King Rehoboam of Judah, the former master of these people, will regain popularity if they go to sacrifice in the LORD’s temple in Jerusalem. Then they will kill me and return to King Rehoboam of Judah.”

1 Kings 12:28 After seeking advice, the king made two golden calves. He said, “You’ve been worshiping in Jerusalem long enough. Israel, here are your gods who brought you out of Egypt.”

1 Kings 12:29 He put one in Bethel and the other in Dan.

1 Kings 12:30 Worshiping them became [Israel's] sin. The people went as far as Dan to worship the one calf.

1 Kings 12:31 Jeroboam built worship sites on hilltops. He appointed men who were not descended from Levi to be priests.

1 Kings 12:32 Jeroboam appointed a festival on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, just like the festival in Judah. He went to the altar in Bethel to sacrifice to the calves he had made. He appointed priests from the illegal worship sites [to serve] in Bethel.

1 Kings 12:33 He went to his altar in Bethel to burn an offering on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, [the festival] he had invented for the Israelites.

1 Kings 13:1 A man of God from Judah had come to Bethel. When he arrived, Jeroboam was standing at the altar to offer a sacrifice.

1 Kings 13:2 By a command of the LORD, this man condemned the altar. "Altar, altar! This is what the LORD says: There will be a son born in David's family line. His name will be Josiah. Here on you Josiah will sacrifice the priests from the illegal worship sites who offer sacrifices on you. Human bones will be burned on you."

1 Kings 13:3 That day the man of God [also] gave [them] a miraculous sign, saying, "This is the sign that the LORD will give you: You will see the altar torn apart. The ashes on it will be poured [on the ground]."

1 Kings 13:4 When King Jeroboam heard the man of God condemning the altar in Bethel, he pointed to the man across the altar. "Arrest him," he said. But the arm that he used to point to the man of God was paralyzed so that he couldn't pull it back.

1 Kings 13:5 The altar was torn apart, and the ashes from the altar were poured [on the ground]. This was the miraculous sign the man of God performed at the LORD's command.

1 Kings 13:6 Then the king asked the man of God, "Please make an appeal to the LORD your God, and pray for me so that I can use my arm again." So the man of God made an appeal to the LORD, and the king was able to use his arm again, as he had earlier.

1 Kings 13:7 The king told the man of God, "Come home with me; have something to eat and drink, and I will give you a gift."

1 Kings 13:8 The man of God told the king, "Even if you gave me half of your palace, I would never go with you to eat or drink there.

1 Kings 13:9 When the LORD spoke to me, he commanded me not to eat or drink or go back on the same road I took."

1 Kings 13:10 So the man of God left on another road and didn't go back on the road he had taken to Bethel.

1 Kings 13:11 An old prophet was living in Bethel. His sons told him everything the man of God did in Bethel that day and the exact words he had spoken to the king. When they told their father,

1 Kings 13:12 he said to them, “Which road did he take?” (His sons had seen which road the man of God from Judah had taken.)

1 Kings 13:13 The old prophet told his sons, “Saddle the donkey for me.” After they had saddled the donkey for him, he got on it.

1 Kings 13:14 He went after the man of God and found him sitting under an oak tree. The old prophet asked him, “Are you the man of God who came from Judah?” “Yes,” he answered.

1 Kings 13:15 “Come home with me, and eat a meal,” the old prophet replied.

1 Kings 13:16 The man of God said, “I’m not allowed to go back with you. I’m not allowed to eat or drink with you.

1 Kings 13:17 When the LORD spoke to me, he told me not to eat or drink there or go back on the road I took to get there.”

1 Kings 13:18 The old prophet said, “I’m also a prophet, like you. An angel spoke the word of the LORD to me. He said, ‘Bring him home with you so that he may have something to eat and drink.’ “ (But the old prophet was lying.)

1 Kings 13:19 The man of God went back with him and ate and drank in his home.

1 Kings 13:20 When they were sitting at the table, the LORD spoke his word to the old prophet who had brought back the man of God.

1 Kings 13:21 The LORD also called to the man of God. He said, “This is what the LORD says: You rebelled against the words from the LORD’s mouth and didn’t obey the command that the LORD your God gave you.

1 Kings 13:22 You came back, ate, and drank at this place about which he told you, ‘Don’t eat or drink there.’ That is why your dead body will not be allowed to be placed in the tomb of your ancestors.”

1 Kings 13:23 After the old prophet had something to eat and drink, he saddled the donkey for the prophet whom he had brought back.

1 Kings 13:24 The man of God left. A lion found him [as he traveled] on the road and killed him. His dead body was thrown on the road. The donkey and the lion were standing by the body.

1 Kings 13:25 People who passed by saw the body lying on the road and the lion standing by the body. They talked about it in the city where the old prophet was living.

1 Kings 13:26 When the old prophet who had brought the man of God back from the road heard about it, he said, “It’s the man of God who rebelled against the words from the LORD’s mouth! The LORD gave him to the lion. It tore him to pieces and killed him as the word of the LORD had told him.”

1 Kings 13:27 Then the old prophet told his sons to saddle his donkey for him. So they did.

1 Kings 13:28 He found the body of the man thrown on the road. He also found the donkey and the lion standing beside it. The lion had not eaten the body, nor had it torn the donkey to pieces.

1 Kings 13:29 The old prophet picked up the body of the man of God, laid it on the donkey, and brought it back. He came to his own city to mourn for him and to bury him.

1 Kings 13:30 He laid the body of the man of God in his own tomb and mourned over the man, saying, “Oh no, my brother, my brother!”

1 Kings 13:31 After he had buried the man of God, he said to his sons, “When I die, bury me in the tomb where the man of God was buried. Lay my bones beside his bones.

1 Kings 13:32 The things that he announced by a command of the LORD against the altar in Bethel and all the illegal worship sites in the cities of Samaria will happen.”

1 Kings 13:33 Even after this, Jeroboam didn’t change his evil ways, but he once again made some men priests for the illegal worship sites. He took all who were willing and appointed them to be priests at the worship sites.

1 Kings 13:34 Appointing illegal priests became the sin of Jeroboam’s family so that it had to be destroyed and wiped off the face of the earth.

1 Kings 14:1 At that time Abijah, son of Jeroboam, got sick.

1 Kings 14:2 Jeroboam told his wife, “Go to Shiloh, but disguise yourself so that people will not recognize you as my wife. The prophet Ahijah, who told me I would be king of these people, is there.

1 Kings 14:3 Take ten loaves of bread, some raisins, and a jar of honey with you, and go to him. He will tell you what will happen to the boy.”

1 Kings 14:4 Jeroboam’s wife did this. She left, went to Shiloh, and came to the home of Ahijah. Ahijah couldn’t see. His eyesight had failed because he was old.

1 Kings 14:5 However, the LORD had told Ahijah, “Jeroboam’s wife is coming to ask you about her son who is sick. When she comes, she will pretend to be someone else.” He also told Ahijah what to say to her.

1 Kings 14:6 Ahijah heard her footsteps when she came into the room. He said, “Come in. You’re Jeroboam’s wife. Why are you pretending to be someone else? I’ve been told to give you some terrible news.

1 Kings 14:7 Tell Jeroboam, 'This is what the LORD God of Israel says: I picked you out of the people and made you a leader over my people Israel.

1 Kings 14:8 I tore the kingdom away from David's heirs and gave it to you. But you have not been like my servant David. He obeyed my commands and faithfully followed me by doing only what I considered right.

1 Kings 14:9 You have done more evil things than everyone before you. You made other gods, metal idols, for yourself. You made me furious and turned your back to me.

1 Kings 14:10 " 'That is why I will bring disaster on Jeroboam's house. I will destroy every male in his house, whether slave or freeman in Israel. I will burn down Jeroboam's house. It will burn like manure until it is gone.

1 Kings 14:11 If anyone from Jeroboam's house dies in the city, dogs will eat him. If anyone dies in the country, birds will eat him.' The LORD has said this!

1 Kings 14:12 "Get up, and go home. The moment you set foot in the city the child will die.

1 Kings 14:13 All Israel will mourn for him and bury him. He is the only one of Jeroboam's family who will be [properly] buried. He was the only one in Jeroboam's house in whom the LORD God of Israel found anything good.

1 Kings 14:14 The LORD will appoint a king over Israel. That king will destroy Jeroboam's house. This will happen today. It will happen right now.

1 Kings 14:15 "The LORD will strike Israel like cattails which shake in the water. He will uproot Israel from this good land which he gave their ancestors. He will scatter them beyond the Euphrates River because they dedicated poles to the goddess Asherah and made the LORD furious.

1 Kings 14:16 So the LORD will desert Israel because of Jeroboam's sins, the sins which he led Israel to commit."

1 Kings 14:17 Jeroboam's wife got up, left, and went to Tirzah. When she walked across the threshold of her home, the boy died.

1 Kings 14:18 All Israel buried him and mourned for him as the LORD had said through his servant, the prophet Ahijah.

1 Kings 14:19 Everything else concerning Jeroboam, his wars, and his reign is written in the official records of the kings of Israel.

1 Kings 14:20 Jeroboam ruled for 22 years. Then he lay down in death with his ancestors. His son Nadab succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 14:21 Rehoboam, son of Solomon, ruled Judah. He was 41 years old when he began to rule. He ruled for 17 years in Jerusalem, the city that the LORD chose from all the tribes of Israel, the city where the LORD put his name. Rehoboam's mother was an Ammonite woman named Naamah.

1 Kings 14:22 The people of Judah did what the LORD considered evil. Their sins made him more angry than anything their ancestors had done.

1 Kings 14:23 They built worship sites for themselves and [put up] large stones and Asherah poles to worship on every high hill and under every large tree.

1 Kings 14:24 There were even male prostitutes in the temples of idols throughout the land. The people of Judah did all the disgusting practices done by the nations that the LORD had forced out of the Israelites' way.

1 Kings 14:25 In the fifth year of Rehoboam's reign, King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem.

1 Kings 14:26 He took the treasures from the LORD's temple and the royal palace. He took them all. He took all the gold shields Solomon had made.

1 Kings 14:27 So King Rehoboam made bronze shields to replace them and put them by the entrance to the royal palace, where the captains of the guards were stationed.

1 Kings 14:28 Whenever the king went into the LORD's temple, guards carried the shields and then returned them to the guardroom.

1 Kings 14:29 Isn't everything else concerning Rehoboam-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

1 Kings 14:30 There was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam as long as they lived.

1 Kings 14:31 Rehoboam lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in the City of David. (His mother was an Ammonite woman named Naamah.) His son Abijam succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 15:1 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam (Nebat's son), Abijam began to rule Judah.

1 Kings 15:2 He ruled for three years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Maacah, daughter of Abishalom.

1 Kings 15:3 He followed the sinful example his father had set and wasn't committed to the LORD his God as his ancestor David had been.

1 Kings 15:4 But for David's sake the LORD his God made Abijam a lamp in Jerusalem. He appointed David's descendant to rule after him and protected Jerusalem.

1 Kings 15:5 The LORD did this because David did what the LORD considered right: David never failed to do anything the LORD commanded him to do his entire life (except in the matter concerning Uriah the Hittite).

1 Kings 15:6 There was war between Abijam and Rehoboam throughout their lives.

1 Kings 15:7 Isn't everything else about Abijam-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah? There was war between Abijam and Jeroboam.

1 Kings 15:8 Abijam lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David. His son Asa succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 15:9 In Jeroboam's twentieth year as king of Israel, Asa began to rule as king of Judah.

1 Kings 15:10 He ruled 41 years in Jerusalem. His grandmother was named Maacah, daughter of Abishalom.

1 Kings 15:11 Asa did what the LORD considered right, as his ancestor David had done.

1 Kings 15:12 He forced the male temple prostitutes out of the land and got rid of the idols his father had made.

1 Kings 15:13 He also removed his grandmother Maacah from the position of queen mother because she made a statue of the repulsive goddess Asherah. Asa cut the statue down and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

1 Kings 15:14 Although the illegal worship sites were not torn down, Asa remained committed to the LORD his entire life.

1 Kings 15:15 He brought into the LORD's temple the silver, the gold, and the utensils he and his father had set apart as holy.

1 Kings 15:16 There was war between Asa and King Baasha of Israel as long as they lived.

1 Kings 15:17 King Baasha of Israel invaded Judah and fortified Ramah to keep anyone from going to or coming from King Asa of Judah.

1 Kings 15:18 Then Asa took all the silver and gold that was left in the treasuries of the LORD's temple and the royal palace and turned them over to his officials. King Asa sent them to Damascus to Aram's King Benhadad, son of Tabrimmon and grandson of Hezion.

1 Kings 15:19 He said, "There's a treaty between you and me [as] there was between your father and my father. I'm sending you a present of silver and gold. Now break your treaty with King Baasha of Israel so that he will leave me alone."

1 Kings 15:20 Benhadad did what King Asa requested. He sent his generals and their armies to attack the cities of Israel. He conquered Ijon, Dan, Abel Beth Maacah, and the entire area around Chinneroth with the entire territory of Naphtali.

1 Kings 15:21 When Baasha heard the news, he stopped fortifying Ramah and lived in Tirzah.

1 Kings 15:22 Then King Asa drafted everyone in Judah and excused no one. He made them carry the stones and lumber from Ramah. Baasha had been using those to fortify the city. King Asa used the materials to fortify Geba in Benjamin and Mizpah.

1 Kings 15:23 Isn't everything else about Asa-all his heroic acts, everything he did, and the cities he fortified-written in the official records of the kings of Judah? But when he was old, he had a foot disease.

1 Kings 15:24 Asa lay down in death with his ancestors. He was buried with his ancestors in the city of his ancestor, David. His son Jehoshaphat succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 15:25 Nadab, son of Jeroboam, began to rule Israel in Asa's second year as king of Judah. He ruled for two years.

1 Kings 15:26 He did what the LORD considered evil, living as his father did, leading Israel into the same sins.

1 Kings 15:27 Then Baasha, son of Ahijah from the tribe of Issachar, plotted against Nadab. Baasha assassinated him in the Philistine city of Gibbethon while Nadab and the Israelite forces were attacking it.

1 Kings 15:28 The assassination happened in Asa's third year as king of Judah. Baasha succeeded Nadab as king of Israel.

1 Kings 15:29 As soon as he was king, he killed everyone else in Jeroboam's family. He did not spare a soul, as the LORD had spoken through his servant Ahijah from Shiloh.

1 Kings 15:30 This was because of Jeroboam's sins and the sins which he led Israel to commit. Those sins made the LORD God of Israel furious.

1 Kings 15:31 Isn't everything else about Nadab-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

1 Kings 15:32 There was war between Asa and Baasha as long as they lived.

1 Kings 15:33 In Asa's third year as king of Judah, Baasha, son of Ahijah, began to rule Israel in Tirzah. He ruled for 24 years.

1 Kings 15:34 He did what the LORD considered evil. He lived like Jeroboam and led Israel into committing the [same] sins.

1 Kings 16:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jehu, Hanani's son, against Baasha.

1 Kings 16:2 He said, "I raised you from the dust and made you leader of my people Israel. But you have lived like Jeroboam. You have led my people to sin, and their sins make me furious.

1 Kings 16:3 So I will destroy Baasha and his family. I will make his family like the family of Jeroboam (Nebat's son).

1 Kings 16:4 Dogs will eat anyone from Baasha's [family] who dies in the city. Birds will eat anyone from his [family] who dies in the country."

1 Kings 16:5 Isn't everything else about Baasha-what he did and his heroic acts-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

1 Kings 16:6 Baasha lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in Tirzah. His son Elah succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 16:7 In addition, the LORD spoke his word to the prophet Jehu, Hanani's son, against Baasha and his family because of all the things Baasha did which the LORD considered evil. Baasha's actions, which made the LORD furious, were like [the sin of] Jeroboam's family. The LORD was also furious because Baasha destroyed Jeroboam's family.

1 Kings 16:8 Elah, son of Baasha, began to rule Israel in Asa's twenty-sixth year as Judah's king. He ruled in Tirzah for two years.

1 Kings 16:9 But Zimri, the general who commanded half of Elah's chariots, plotted against him. Elah was getting drunk in Tirzah at Arza's house. (Arza was in charge of the palace in Tirzah.)

1 Kings 16:10 Zimri entered Arza's house, attacked Elah, and killed him in Asa's twenty-seventh year as king of Judah. Zimri succeeded Elah as king [of Israel].

1 Kings 16:11 At the beginning of Zimri's reign, as soon as he was on his throne, he killed Baasha's entire family. He didn't spare any of Baasha's male relatives or friends.

1 Kings 16:12 So Zimri destroyed Baasha's entire family, as the LORD had spoken through the prophet Jehu.

1 Kings 16:13 This was for all the sins committed by Baasha and his son Elah. They sinned, led Israel to sin, and made the LORD God of Israel furious because of their worthless idols.

1 Kings 16:14 Isn't everything else about Elah-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

1 Kings 16:15 In Asa's twenty-seventh year as Judah's king, Zimri ruled for seven days in Tirzah while the army was camped near the Philistine city of Gibbethon.

1 Kings 16:16 When the army heard that Zimri had plotted [against the king] and killed him, the Israelite troops in the camp made Omri, the commander of the army, king of Israel.

1 Kings 16:17 Omri and the Israelite troops with him left Gibbethon and attacked Tirzah.

1 Kings 16:18 When Zimri saw that the city had been captured, he went into the stronghold in the royal palace and burned down the palace over his own head. He died

1 Kings 16:19 because of the sins he had committed-the things the LORD considered evil. Zimri lived like Jeroboam and led Israel to sin.

1 Kings 16:20 Isn't everything else about Zimri and his plot written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

1 Kings 16:21 Then the army of Israel was divided into two factions. Half of the army followed Tibni, son of Ginath, and wanted to make him king. The [other] half followed Omri.

1 Kings 16:22 But the half which followed Omri was stronger than the half which followed Tibni, Ginath's son. Tibni died, and Omri became king.

1 Kings 16:23 Omri began to rule Israel in Asa's thirty-first year as king of Judah. He ruled for 12 years, 6 of them in Tirzah.

1 Kings 16:24 Omri bought a hill from Shemer for 150 pounds of silver. He fortified the hill and built the city of Samaria on it. He named the city after its former owner, Shemer.

1 Kings 16:25 Omri did what the LORD considered evil. He did more evil things than all [the kings] before him.

1 Kings 16:26 He lived exactly like Jeroboam (Nebat's son). He sinned and led Israel to sin with worthless idols, and the Israelites made the LORD God of Israel furious.

1 Kings 16:27 Isn't everything else about Omri-what he did and his heroic acts-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

1 Kings 16:28 Omri lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in Samaria. His son Ahab succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 16:29 Ahab, son of Omri, began to rule Israel in Asa's thirty-eighth year as king of Judah. He ruled for 22 years in Samaria.

1 Kings 16:30 Ahab, son of Omri, did what the LORD considered evil. He was worse than all [the kings] who were before him.

1 Kings 16:31 It wasn't enough that he committed the same sins as Jeroboam (Nebat's son). He also married Jezebel, daughter of King Ethbaal of Sidon. Ahab then served and worshiped Baal.

1 Kings 16:32 He built the temple of Baal in Samaria and set up an altar there.

1 Kings 16:33 Ahab made poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah. He did more to make the LORD God of Israel furious than all the kings of Israel who came before him.

1 Kings 16:34 In Ahab's time Hiel from Bethel rebuilt Jericho. Laying the foundation cost him his firstborn son, Abiram. Setting up the city doors cost him his youngest son, Segub. The LORD had spoken this through Joshua, son of Nun.

1 Kings 17:1 Elijah, who was from Tishbe but had settled in Gilead, said to Ahab, "I solemnly swear, as the LORD God of Israel whom I serve lives, there will be no dew or rain during the next few years unless I say so.”

1 Kings 17:2 Then the LORD spoke his word to Elijah:

1 Kings 17:3 “Leave here, turn east, and hide beside the Cherith River, which is east of the Jordan River.

1 Kings 17:4 You can drink from the stream, and I’ve commanded ravens to feed you there.”

1 Kings 17:5 Elijah left and did what the word of the LORD [had told him]. He went to live by the Cherith River, which is east of the Jordan River.

1 Kings 17:6 Ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning and in the evening. And he drank from the stream.

1 Kings 17:7 But after some time the stream dried up because no rain had fallen in the land.

1 Kings 17:8 Then the LORD spoke his word to Elijah:

1 Kings 17:9 “Get up, go to Zarephath (which belongs to Sidon), and stay there. I’ve commanded a widow there to feed you.”

1 Kings 17:10 He got up and went to Zarephath. As he came to the town’s entrance, a widow was gathering wood. He called to her, “Please bring me a drink of water.”

1 Kings 17:11 As she was going to get it, he called to her again, “Please bring me a piece of bread too.”

1 Kings 17:12 She said, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD your God lives, I didn’t bake any bread. I have one handful of flour in a jar and a little oil in a jug. I’m gathering wood. I’m going to prepare something for myself and my son so that we can eat it and then die.”

1 Kings 17:13 Then Elijah told her, “Don’t be afraid. Go home, and do as you’ve said. But first make a small loaf and bring it to me. Then prepare something for yourself and your son.

1 Kings 17:14 This is what the LORD God of Israel says: Until the LORD sends rain on the land, the jar of flour will never be empty and the jug will always contain oil.”

1 Kings 17:15 She did what Elijah had told her. So she, Elijah, and her family had food for a long time.

1 Kings 17:16 The jar of flour never became empty, and the jug always contained olive oil, as the LORD had promised through Elijah.

1 Kings 17:17 Afterwards, the son of the woman who owned the house got sick. He got so sick that finally no life was left in him.

1 Kings 17:18 The woman asked Elijah, “What do you and I have in common, man of God? Did you come here to remind me of my sin and kill my son?”

1 Kings 17:19 He said to her, “Give me your son.” Elijah took him from her arms, carried him to the upstairs room where he was staying, and laid him on his own bed.

1 Kings 17:20 Then he called to the LORD, “LORD my God, have you brought misery on the widow I’m staying with by killing her son?”

1 Kings 17:21 Then Elijah stretched himself over the boy three times and called to the LORD, “LORD my God, please make this child’s life return to him.”

1 Kings 17:22 The LORD heard Elijah’s request, and the child’s life returned to him. He was alive again.

1 Kings 17:23 Elijah took the child, brought him down from the upstairs room of the house, and gave him to his mother. He said, “Look! Your son is alive.”

1 Kings 17:24 The woman said to Elijah, “Now I’m convinced that you are a man of God and that the word of the LORD from your mouth is true.”

1 Kings 18:1 A while later in the third year of the drought, the LORD spoke his word to Elijah: “Present yourself to Ahab. I will allow rain to fall on the ground.”

1 Kings 18:2 So Elijah went to present himself to Ahab. The famine was particularly severe in Samaria.

1 Kings 18:3 Ahab sent for Obadiah, who was in charge of the palace. Obadiah was a devout worshiper of the LORD.

1 Kings 18:4 (When Jezebel was killing the LORD’s prophets, Obadiah had hidden 100 prophets in caves. He put 50 prophets in each cave and kept them alive by providing bread and water for them.)

1 Kings 18:5 Ahab told Obadiah, “Let’s go throughout the countryside to every spring and stream. If we can find grass, then we can keep the horses and mules alive and not lose any animals.”

1 Kings 18:6 So they split up in order to cover the entire countryside. Ahab went one way by himself, and Obadiah went the other way by himself.

1 Kings 18:7 Obadiah was on the road when he met Elijah. Obadiah recognized him and immediately bowed down to the ground. “Is it you, my master Elijah?” he asked.

1 Kings 18:8 “Yes,” Elijah answered him. “Tell your master that Elijah is here.”

1 Kings 18:9 Obadiah asked, “What have I done wrong to make you hand me over to Ahab to be killed?

1 Kings 18:10 I solemnly swear, as the LORD your God lives, my master has searched for you in every region and kingdom. When people would say, ‘He isn’t here,’ my master made that kingdom or region take an oath that they hadn’t found you.

1 Kings 18:11 “Now you say, ‘Tell your master that Elijah is here.’

1 Kings 18:12 This is what will happen: When I leave you, the LORD’s Spirit will take you away to some unknown place. I’ll tell Ahab, but he won’t be able to find you. Then he will kill me. “I have been faithful to the LORD since I was a child.

1 Kings 18:13 Haven’t you heard what I did when Jezebel killed the LORD’s prophets? Haven’t you heard how I hid 100 of the LORD’s prophets in caves? I hid 50 prophets in each cave and provided bread and water for them.

1 Kings 18:14 Now you say that I should tell my master that Elijah is here. He will kill me.”

1 Kings 18:15 Elijah said, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD of Armies whom I serve lives, I will present myself to Ahab.”

1 Kings 18:16 So Obadiah went to tell Ahab. Ahab went to meet Elijah.

1 Kings 18:17 When he saw Elijah, Ahab said, “Is that you, you troublemaker of Israel?”

1 Kings 18:18 Elijah answered, “I haven’t troubled Israel. You and your father’s family have done it by disobeying the LORD’s commands and following the various Baal gods.

1 Kings 18:19 Order all Israel to gather around me on Mount Carmel. And bring the 450 prophets of Baal and 400 prophets of Asherah who eat at Jezebel’s table.”

1 Kings 18:20 Ahab sent word to all the Israelites and brought the prophets together on Mount Carmel.

1 Kings 18:21 Elijah stood up in front of all the people and asked them, “How long will you try to have it both ways? If the LORD is God, follow him; if Baal is God, follow him.” The people didn’t say a word.

1 Kings 18:22 So Elijah told the people, “I’m the only surviving prophet of the LORD, but there are 450 prophets of Baal.

1 Kings 18:23 Give us two bulls. Let the prophets of Baal choose one for themselves, cut it into pieces, lay it on the wood, but not set it on fire. I’ll do the same with the other bull.

1 Kings 18:24 “You call on the name of your gods, but I will call on the name of the LORD. The god who answers by fire is the real God.” All the people answered, “That’s fine.”

1 Kings 18:25 Elijah told the prophets of Baal, “Choose one bull for yourselves. Prepare yours first, because there are more of you. Call on the name of your god, but don’t set the wood on fire.”

1 Kings 18:26 They took the bull he gave them, prepared it, and called on the name of Baal from morning until noon. They said, “Baal, answer us!” But there wasn’t a sound or an answer. So they danced around the altar they had made.

1 Kings 18:27 At noon Elijah started to make fun of them. “Shout louder, since he is a god. Maybe he’s thinking, relieving himself, or traveling! Maybe he’s sleeping, and you have to wake him!”

1 Kings 18:28 So they shouted louder. They also cut themselves with swords and spears until their blood flowed. (This is what their ritual called for.)

1 Kings 18:29 In the afternoon they continued to rant and rave until the time for the evening sacrifice. But there was no sound, no answer, no attention given to them.

1 Kings 18:30 Then Elijah said to all the people, “Come over here.” So all the people came to him. He rebuilt the LORD’s altar that had been torn down.

1 Kings 18:31 Elijah took 12 stones, one for each of the tribes named after Jacob’s sons. (The LORD had spoken his word to Jacob: “Your name will be Israel.”)

1 Kings 18:32 Elijah built an altar in the LORD’s name with those stones. He also made a trench that could hold 12 quarts of grain around the altar.

1 Kings 18:33 He arranged the wood, cut up the bull, and put it on the wood.

1 Kings 18:34 He said, “Fill four jars with water. Pour the water on the offering and on the wood.” Then he said, “Do it again,” and they did it again. Then he said, “Do it a third time,” and they did it a third time.

1 Kings 18:35 The water flowed around the altar, and even the trench was filled with water.

1 Kings 18:36 When it was time to offer the sacrifice, the prophet Elijah stepped forward. He said, “LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, make known today that you are God in Israel and that I’m your servant and have done all these things by your instructions.

1 Kings 18:37 Answer me, LORD! Answer me! Then these people will know that you, LORD, are God and that you are winning back their hearts.”

1 Kings 18:38 So a fire from the LORD fell down and consumed the burnt offering, wood, stones, and dirt. The fire even dried up the water that was in the trench.

1 Kings 18:39 All the people saw it and immediately bowed down to the ground. “The LORD is God!” they said. “The LORD is God!”

1 Kings 18:40 Elijah told them, “Seize the prophets of Baal. Don’t let any of them escape.” The people seized them, and Elijah took them to the Kishon River and slaughtered them there.

1 Kings 18:41 Then Elijah told Ahab, “Get up, eat, and drink. It sounds like a heavy rain [is coming].”

1 Kings 18:42 Ahab got up to eat and drink. Elijah went to the top of Carmel and bowed down on the ground to pray.

1 Kings 18:43 He said to his servant, “Please go back to [Mount Carmel], and look toward the sea.” He went up, looked, [came back,] and said, “There’s nothing.” Seven times Elijah told him, “Go back.”

1 Kings 18:44 After the seventh time the servant said, “A little cloud like a man’s hand is coming from the sea.” Elijah said, “Go and tell Ahab, ‘Prepare [your chariot], and leave before the rain delays you.’”

1 Kings 18:45 Gradually, the sky grew darker with clouds and wind, and there was a heavy rain. Ahab got into his chariot to go back to Jezreel.

1 Kings 18:46 The LORD’s power was on Elijah. He hiked up his robe and ran ahead of Ahab until they came to Jezreel.

1 Kings 19:1 Ahab told Jezebel everything Elijah had done, including how he had executed all the prophets.

1 Kings 19:2 Then Jezebel sent a messenger to Elijah. She said, “May the gods strike me dead if by this time tomorrow I don’t take your life the way you took the lives of Baal’s prophets.”

1 Kings 19:3 Frightened, Elijah fled to save his life. He came to Beersheba in Judah and left his servant there.

1 Kings 19:4 Then he traveled through the wilderness for a day. He sat down under a broom plant and wanted to die. “I’ve had enough now, LORD,” he said. “Take my life! I’m no better than my ancestors.”

1 Kings 19:5 Then he lay down and slept under the broom plant. An angel touched him and said, “Get up and eat.”

1 Kings 19:6 When he looked, he saw near his head some bread baked on hot stones and a jar of water. So he ate, drank, and went to sleep again.

1 Kings 19:7 The angel of the LORD came back and woke him up again. The angel said, “Get up and eat, or your journey will be too much for you.”

1 Kings 19:8 He got up, ate, and drank. Strengthened by that food, he traveled for 40 days and nights until he came to Horeb, the mountain of God.

1 Kings 19:9 There he went into a cave and spent the night. Then the LORD spoke his word to Elijah. He asked, “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

1 Kings 19:10 He answered, “LORD God of Armies, I have eagerly served you. The Israelites have abandoned your promises, torn down your altars, and executed your prophets. I’m the only one left, and they’re trying to take my life.”

1 Kings 19:11 God said, “Go out and stand in front of the LORD on the mountain.” As the LORD was passing by, a fierce wind tore mountains and shattered rocks ahead of the LORD. But the LORD was not in the wind. After the wind came an earthquake. But the LORD wasn’t in the earthquake.

1 Kings 19:12 After the earthquake there was a fire. But the LORD wasn’t in the fire. And after the fire there was a quiet, whispering voice.

1 Kings 19:13 When Elijah heard it, he wrapped his face in his coat, went out, and stood at the entrance of the cave. Then the voice said to him, “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

1 Kings 19:14 He answered, “LORD God of Armies, I have eagerly served you. The Israelites have abandoned your promises, torn down your altars, and executed your prophets. I’m the only one left, and they’re trying to take my life.”

1 Kings 19:15 The LORD told him, “Go back to the wilderness near Damascus, the same way you came. When you get there, anoint Hazael as king of Aram.

1 Kings 19:16 Anoint Jehu, son of Nimshi, as king of Israel. And anoint Elisha, son of Shaphat, from Abel Meholah as prophet to take your place.

1 Kings 19:17 If anyone escapes from Hazael’s sword, Jehu will kill him. And if anyone escapes from Jehu’s sword, Elisha will kill him.

1 Kings 19:18 But I still have 7,000 people in Israel whose knees have not knelt to worship Baal and whose mouths have not kissed him.”

1 Kings 19:19 Elijah found Elisha, son of Shaphat. Elisha was plowing behind 12 pairs of oxen. He was using the twelfth pair. Elijah took off his coat and put it on Elisha.

1 Kings 19:20 So Elisha left the oxen, ran after Elijah, and said, “Please let me kiss my father and mother goodbye. Then I will follow you.” “Go back,” Elijah answered him. “I’m not stopping you.”

1 Kings 19:21 Elisha left him, took two oxen, and butchered them. He boiled the meat, using the oxen’s yoke [for firewood]. He gave the meat to the people to eat. Then he left to follow and assist Elijah.

1 Kings 20:1 King Benhadad of Aram gathered together his whole army. With him were 32 kings along with their horses and chariots. He went to blockade Samaria and fight against it.

1 Kings 20:2 He sent messengers into the city to King Ahab of Israel. They told Ahab, “This is what Benhadad says:

1 Kings 20:3 Your silver and gold are mine. Your beloved wives and children are mine.”

1 Kings 20:4 The king of Israel answered, “As you say, Your Majesty. I and everything I have are yours.”

1 Kings 20:5 But Benhadad sent messengers back [to Ahab]. They said, “Benhadad has sent this message to you: ‘Your silver, gold, wives, and children are mine. Give [them to me].

1 Kings 20:6 At this time tomorrow I’m going to send my servants to search your palace and your servants’ houses. They will take anything that you consider valuable.’”

1 Kings 20:7 Then the king of Israel called for all the leaders of the country. He said, “You can see how this man is looking for trouble. When he sent for my wives, children, silver, and gold, I didn’t refuse him.”

1 Kings 20:8 All the leaders and all the people told him, “Don’t listen to him. Don’t agree [to his demands].”

1 Kings 20:9 Ahab told Benhadad’s messengers, “Tell His Majesty, ‘I did everything your messengers told me the first time, but I can’t do this.’ “ The messengers left to take back his answer.

1 Kings 20:10 Then Benhadad sent Ahab the following message: “May the gods strike me dead if there will be enough dust left from Samaria to give a handful to each soldier who follows me.”

1 Kings 20:11 The king of Israel answered, “The saying goes, ‘Don’t brag about a victory before you have even dressed for battle.’”

1 Kings 20:12 Benhadad heard this as he and his allies were drinking in their tents. He told his officers to get ready. So they got ready [to attack] the city.

1 Kings 20:13 Then a prophet came to King Ahab of Israel and said, “This is what the LORD says: Have you seen this large army? I will hand it over to you today. Then you will know that I am the LORD.”

1 Kings 20:14 Ahab asked, “How [will this be done]?” The prophet answered, “This is what the LORD says: by using the young officers of the district governors.” “Who will start the battle?” Ahab asked. “You will,” the prophet answered.

1 Kings 20:15 Ahab counted the young officers of the district governors. There were 232. After counting them, he counted all the Israelite soldiers. There were 7,000.

1 Kings 20:16 They attacked at noon, when Benhadad was in his tent getting drunk with the 32 kings who were his allies.

1 Kings 20:17 The young officers of the district governors went out first. Benhadad had sent men [to watch the city]. They informed him that some men had come out of Samaria.

1 Kings 20:18 He said, “Take them alive, whether they have come out to make peace or to fight.”

1 Kings 20:19 The young officers of the district governors led an attack, and the troops followed them.

1 Kings 20:20 Each officer killed his opponent. The Arameans fled, and Israel pursued them. King Benhadad of Aram escaped on a horse with the cavalry.

1 Kings 20:21 The king of Israel went out and destroyed the horses and chariots and decisively defeated the Arameans.

1 Kings 20:22 Then the prophet came to the king of Israel and said, “Reinforce your army. Consider what you have to do. When spring comes, the king of Aram will attack [again].”

1 Kings 20:23 Meanwhile, the officers of King Benhadad of Aram told him, “Their god is a god of the hills. That is why they were stronger than we were. However, if we fight them on the plain, we will be stronger than they are.

1 Kings 20:24 This is what we must do: Remove all of the kings from their positions, and substitute governors for them.

1 Kings 20:25 Recruit an army with as many horses and chariots as the one which was defeated. Then, if we fight them on the plain, we will be stronger than they are.” He took their advice and followed it.

1 Kings 20:26 Spring came, and Benhadad organized the Aramean army and went to Aphek to fight Israel.

1 Kings 20:27 When the Israelite [troops] had been organized and given provisions, they went to meet the enemy. The Israelites, while camped opposite the Arameans who filled the country, seemed like two newborn goats.

1 Kings 20:28 The man of God came again. He said to the king of Israel, “This is what the LORD says: Because the Arameans said that the LORD is a god of the hills but not a god of the valleys, I will hand over their entire army to you. Then you will know that I am the LORD.”

1 Kings 20:29 They camped facing one another for seven days, and on the seventh day the battle started. The Israelites killed 100,000 Aramean foot soldiers in one day.

1 Kings 20:30 The survivors fled to Aphek, the city where the wall fell on 27,000 of them. Benhadad had also fled. He came to the city and hid in an inner room.

1 Kings 20:31 His officers told him, “We have heard that the kings of Israel are merciful. Allow us to dress in sackcloth, put ropes around our necks, and go to the king of Israel. Maybe he’ll let you live.”

1 Kings 20:32 So they dressed in sackcloth and put ropes around their necks. They went to the king of Israel and said, “Your servant

Benhadad says, ‘Please let me live.’ “ Ahab asked, “He’s still alive? He’s my brother.”

1 Kings 20:33 The men, watching for a good sign, were quick to take him at his word. “Benhadad is your brother,” they said. Ahab said, “Bring him here.” When Benhadad arrived, Ahab had him come up on the chariot with him.

1 Kings 20:34 Benhadad told him, “I will give back the towns my father took from your father. You may set up trading centers in Damascus as my father did in Samaria.” Ahab said, “If you will put this into a treaty, I will let you go.” So Ahab made a treaty with Benhadad and let him go.

1 Kings 20:35 A disciple of the prophets spoke to a friend as the word of the LORD had told him. [The disciple said,] “Punch me,” but the man refused to punch him.

1 Kings 20:36 The disciple said, “Since you didn’t obey the LORD, a lion will kill you when you leave me.” When the friend left, a lion found him and killed him.

1 Kings 20:37 Then the disciple found another man. He said, “Punch me.” The man punched him hard and wounded him.

1 Kings 20:38 Then the prophet, disguised with a bandage over his eyes, waited for the king by the road.

1 Kings 20:39 When the king passed by, the disciple called to him. “I went to fight in the battle. A man turned around and brought a prisoner to me. He said, ‘Guard this prisoner. If he gets away, you will pay for his life with your own life or be fined 75 pounds of silver.’

1 Kings 20:40 But while I was busy doing other things, he got away.” The king of Israel told him, “That’s your own penalty. You have determined it yourself.”

1 Kings 20:41 Then he quickly took the bandage off his eyes. The king of Israel recognized him as one of the prophets.

1 Kings 20:42 The prophet told him, “This is what the LORD says: You let the man go. He was claimed by God and should have been killed. For that reason your life will be taken in place of his life and your people in place of his people.”

1 Kings 20:43 Resentful and upset, the king of Israel went home to Samaria.

1 Kings 21:1 This is what happened next. Naboth from Jezreel had a vineyard in Jezreel next to the palace of King Ahab of Samaria.

1 Kings 21:2 Ahab told Naboth, “Give me your vineyard. It will become my vegetable garden because it is near my house. I will give you a better vineyard for it. Or if you prefer, I will pay you a fair price for it.”

1 Kings 21:3 Naboth told Ahab, “The LORD has forbidden me to give you what I inherited from my ancestors.”

1 Kings 21:4 Resentful and upset, Ahab went home because of what Naboth from Jezreel had told him. ([Naboth had said,] “I will not give you what I inherited from my ancestors.”) So Ahab lay on the couch, turned his face [from everyone], and refused to eat.

1 Kings 21:5 His wife Jezebel came to him and asked, “Why are you so resentful of everything? Why don’t you eat?”

1 Kings 21:6 He told her, “I talked to Naboth from Jezreel. I said to him, ‘Sell me your vineyard. Or, if you like, I’ll give you another vineyard for it.’ But he said, ‘I won’t give you my vineyard.’”

1 Kings 21:7 His wife Jezebel said to him, “Aren’t you king of Israel? Get up, eat, and cheer up. I’ll give you the vineyard belonging to Naboth from Jezreel.”

1 Kings 21:8 So Jezebel wrote letters, signed them with Ahab’s name, and sealed them with his seal. She sent them to the respected leaders and nobles living in Naboth’s city.

1 Kings 21:9 In these letters she wrote: “Announce a fast. Seat Naboth as leader of the people.

1 Kings 21:10 Have two good-for-nothing men sit opposite him and accuse him of cursing God and the king. Then stone him to death outside the city.”

1 Kings 21:11 The men in Naboth’s city-the respected leaders and nobles who lived there-did what Jezebel asked them to do. They did just as she had written in the letters she sent.

1 Kings 21:12 They announced a fast and had Naboth seated as the leader of the people.

1 Kings 21:13 The two good-for-nothing men came in and sat opposite him. In front of the people, these men accused Naboth of cursing God and the king. So the people stoned him to death outside the city.

1 Kings 21:14 Then the leaders sent [this message] to Jezebel: “Naboth has been stoned to death.”

1 Kings 21:15 Jezebel received the message and said to Ahab, “Get up! Confiscate the vineyard which Naboth from Jezreel refused to sell you. He’s dead now.”

1 Kings 21:16 When he heard about Naboth’s death, Ahab went to confiscate the vineyard.

1 Kings 21:17 Then the LORD spoke his word to Elijah from Tishbe:

1 Kings 21:18 “Go, meet King Ahab of Israel, who lives in Samaria. He went to confiscate Naboth’s vineyard.

1 Kings 21:19 Tell him, ‘This is what the LORD asks: Have you murdered someone just to confiscate [a vineyard]?’ Then tell him, ‘This is what the LORD says: At the place where the dogs licked up Naboth’s blood, the dogs will lick up your blood.’”

1 Kings 21:20 Ahab asked Elijah, “So you’ve found me, my enemy?” Elijah answered, “I found you. Because you sold yourself to do what the LORD considers evil.

1 Kings 21:21 So I am going to bring evil on you. I will destroy your descendants. I will destroy every male in Ahab’s [house], whether slave or freeman in Israel.

1 Kings 21:22 I will make your family like the family of Jeroboam (Nebat’s son) and like the house of Baasha, son of Ahijah, because you made me furious. You led Israel to sin.”

1 Kings 21:23 Then the LORD also spoke [through Elijah] about Jezebel: “The dogs will eat Jezebel inside the walls of Jezreel.

1 Kings 21:24 If anyone from Ahab’s [house] dies in the city, dogs will eat him. If anyone dies in the country, birds will eat him.”

1 Kings 21:25 There was no one else like Ahab. At the urging of his wife, he sold himself to do what the LORD considered evil.

1 Kings 21:26 He did many disgusting things as a result of worshiping idols as the Amorites had done. (The LORD confiscated their land for Israel.)

1 Kings 21:27 When Ahab heard these things, he tore his clothes [in distress] and dressed in sackcloth. He fasted, lay in sackcloth, and walked around depressed.

1 Kings 21:28 Then the LORD spoke his word to Elijah from Tishbe:

1 Kings 21:29 “Do you see how Ahab is humbling himself in my presence? Because he’s humbling himself in my presence, I will not let any evil happen to his family while he is alive. I will bring evil on it during his son’s lifetime.”

1 Kings 22:1 For three years there was no war between Aram and Israel.

1 Kings 22:2 In the third year King Jehoshaphat of Judah went to visit the king of Israel.

1 Kings 22:3 The king of Israel asked his staff, “Do you know that Ramoth in Gilead belongs to us, and we are doing nothing to take it back from the king of Aram?”

1 Kings 22:4 Then he asked Jehoshaphat, “Will you go with me to fight at Ramoth in Gilead?” Jehoshaphat told the king of Israel, “I will do what you do. My troops will do what your troops do. My horses will do what your horses do.”

1 Kings 22:5 Then Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, “But first, find out what the word of the LORD is [in this matter].”

1 Kings 22:6 So the king of Israel called 400 prophets together. He asked them, “Should I go to war against Ramoth in Gilead or not?” “Go,” they said. “The Lord will hand over Ramoth to you.”

1 Kings 22:7 But Jehoshaphat asked, “Isn’t there a prophet of the LORD whom we could ask?”

1 Kings 22:8 The king of Israel told Jehoshaphat, “We can ask the LORD through Micaiah, son of Imlah, but I hate him. He doesn’t prophesy anything good about me, only evil.” Jehoshaphat answered, “The king must not say that.”

1 Kings 22:9 The king of Israel called for an officer and said, “Quick! [Get] Micaiah, son of Imlah!”

1 Kings 22:10 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah were dressed in royal robes and seated on thrones. They were on the threshing floor at the entrance to the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were prophesying in front of them.

1 Kings 22:11 Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, made iron horns and said, “This is what the LORD says: With these horns you will push the Arameans to their destruction.”

1 Kings 22:12 All the other prophets made the same prophecy. They said, “Attack Ramoth in Gilead, and you will win. The LORD will hand it over to you.”

1 Kings 22:13 The messenger who went to call Micaiah told him, “The prophets have all told the king the same good message. Make your message agree with their message. Say something good.”

1 Kings 22:14 Micaiah answered, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, I will tell him whatever the LORD tells me.”

1 Kings 22:15 When he came to the king, the king asked him, “Micaiah, should we go to war against Ramoth in Gilead or not?” Micaiah said to him, “Attack and you will win. The LORD will hand it over to you.”

1 Kings 22:16 The king asked him, “How many times must I make you take an oath in the LORD’s name to tell me nothing but the truth?”

1 Kings 22:17 So Micaiah said, “I saw Israel’s troops scattered in the hills like sheep without a shepherd. The LORD said, ‘These [sheep] have no master. Let each one go home in peace.’”

1 Kings 22:18 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Didn’t I tell you he wouldn’t prophesy anything good about me, only evil?”

1 Kings 22:19 Micaiah added, “Then hear the word of the LORD. I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and the entire army of heaven was standing near him on his right and his left.

1 Kings 22:20 The LORD asked, ‘Who will deceive Ahab so that he will attack and be killed at Ramoth in Gilead?’ Some answered one way, while others said something else.

1 Kings 22:21 “Then the Spirit stepped forward, stood in front of the LORD, and said, ‘I will deceive him.’ “ ‘How?’ the LORD asked.

1 Kings 22:22 “The Spirit answered, ‘I will go out and be a spirit that tells lies through the mouths of all of Ahab’s prophets.’ “The LORD said, ‘You will succeed in deceiving him. Go and do it.’

1 Kings 22:23 “So, the LORD has put into the mouths of all these prophets of yours a spirit that makes them tell lies. The LORD has spoken evil about you.”

1 Kings 22:24 Then Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, went to Micaiah and struck him on the cheek. “How did the LORD’s Spirit leave me to talk to you?” he asked.

1 Kings 22:25 Micaiah answered, “You will find out on the day you go into an inner room to hide.”

1 Kings 22:26 The king of Israel then said, “Send Micaiah back to Amon, the governor of the city, and to Joash, the prince.

1 Kings 22:27 Say, ‘This is what the king says: Put this man in prison, and feed him nothing but bread and water until I come home safely.’”

1 Kings 22:28 Micaiah said, “If you really do come back safely, then the LORD wasn’t speaking through me. Pay attention to this, everyone!”

1 Kings 22:29 So the king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah went to Ramoth in Gilead.

1 Kings 22:30 The king of Israel told Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and go into battle, but you should wear your royal robes.” So the king of Israel disguised himself and went into battle.

1 Kings 22:31 The king of Aram had given orders to the 32 chariot commanders. He said, “Don’t fight anyone except the king of Israel.”

1 Kings 22:32 When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they said, “He must be the king of Israel.” So they turned to fight him. But when Jehoshaphat cried out,

1 Kings 22:33 the chariot commanders realized that he wasn’t the king of Israel. They turned away from him.

1 Kings 22:34 One man aimed his bow at random and hit the king of Israel between his scale armor and his breastplate. Ahab told his chariot driver, “Turn around, and get me away from these troops. I’m badly wounded.”

1 Kings 22:35 But the battle got worse that day, and the king was kept propped up in his chariot facing the Arameans. He died that evening. The blood from the wound had flowed into the chariot.

1 Kings 22:36 At sundown a cry went through the army, “Every man to his own city! Every man to his own property!”

1 Kings 22:37 When the king was dead, he was brought to Samaria to be buried.

1 Kings 22:38 His chariot was washed at the pool of Samaria, where the prostitutes bathed. The dogs licked up his blood, as the LORD had predicted.

1 Kings 22:39 Isn't everything else about Ahab-everything he did, the ivory palace he built, and all the cities he fortified-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

1 Kings 22:40 Ahab lay down in death with his ancestors. His son Ahaziah succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 22:41 Jehoshaphat, son of Asa, became king of Judah in Ahab's fourth year as king of Israel.

1 Kings 22:42 Jehoshaphat was 35 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 25 years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah, daughter of Shilhi.

1 Kings 22:43 Jehoshaphat carefully followed the example his father Asa had set and did what the LORD considered right.

1 Kings 22:44 But the illegal worship sites were not torn down. The people continued to sacrifice and burn incense at these worship sites. Jehoshaphat made peace with the king of Israel.

1 Kings 22:45 Isn't everything else about Jehoshaphat-the heroic acts he did and [the wars] he fought-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

1 Kings 22:46 He rid the land of the male temple prostitutes who were left there from the time of his father Asa.

1 Kings 22:47 There was no king in Edom; instead, a deputy ruled.

1 Kings 22:48 Jehoshaphat made Tarshish-style ships to go to Ophir for gold. But they didn't go because the ships were wrecked at Ezion Geber.

1 Kings 22:49 Then Ahaziah, son of Ahab, said to Jehoshaphat, "Let my servants go with your servants in the ships." But Jehoshaphat refused.

1 Kings 22:50 Jehoshaphat lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in the city of his ancestor David. His son Jehoram succeeded him as king.

1 Kings 22:51 Ahaziah, son of Ahab, became king of Israel in Samaria during Jehoshaphat's seventeenth year as king of Judah. Ahaziah ruled Israel for two years.

1 Kings 22:52 He did what the LORD considered evil. He followed the example of his father and mother and of Jeroboam (Nebat's son) who led Israel to sin.

1 Kings 22:53 Ahaziah served Baal, worshiped him, and made the LORD God of Israel furious, as his father had done.

2 Kings

1:1 After Ahab died, Moab rebelled against Israel.

2 Kings 1:2 During the rebellion King Ahaziah fell through a window lattice in his upstairs room in Samaria and injured himself. So he sent messengers [to Ekron]. He had told them, “Go ask Baalzebub, the god of Ekron, if I will recover from this injury.”

2 Kings 1:3 Then the angel of the LORD said to Elijah from Tishbe, “Meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and ask them, ‘Do you seek advice from Baalzebub, the god of Ekron, because [you think] there is no God in Israel?

2 Kings 1:4 This is what the LORD says: You will not get up from the bed you are lying on. Instead, you will die there.’ “ Then Elijah left.

2 Kings 1:5 When the messengers returned, the king asked them, “Why have you come back so soon?”

2 Kings 1:6 They told him that a man came to meet them and said to them, “Go back to the king who sent you. Tell him, ‘This is what the LORD says: Do you send messengers to seek advice from Baalzebub, the god of Ekron, because [you think] there is no God in Israel? You will not get up from the bed you are lying on. Instead, you will die there.’”

2 Kings 1:7 The king asked them, “What was the man like who told you this?”

2 Kings 1:8 They replied, “He was hairy and had a leather belt around his waist.” “That’s Elijah from Tishbe,” the king answered.

2 Kings 1:9 The king sent an army officer with 50 men to Elijah. When the officer found Elijah sitting on top of a hill, he told Elijah, “Man of God, the king says, ‘Come down.’”

2 Kings 1:10 Elijah answered the officer, “If I’m a man of God, fire will come from heaven and burn up you and your 50 men.” Then fire came from heaven and burned up the officer and his 50 men.

2 Kings 1:11 The king sent another officer with 50 men to Elijah. The officer said, “Man of God, this is what the king says: Come here right away!”

2 Kings 1:12 Elijah answered the officer, “If I’m a man of God, fire will come from heaven and burn up you and your 50 men.” Then God’s fire came from heaven and burned up the officer and his 50 men.

2 Kings 1:13 The king sent a third officer with 50 men. The officer of the third group went up the hill and knelt in front of Elijah. The officer begged him, “Man of God, please treat my life and the lives of these 50 servants of yours as something precious.

2 Kings 1:14 Fire has come from heaven and burned up the first two officers and their 100 men. But treat my life as something precious."

2 Kings 1:15 The angel of the LORD told Elijah, "Go with him. Don't be afraid of him." So Elijah got up and went with him to the king.

2 Kings 1:16 Elijah told the king, "This is what the LORD says: You sent messengers to seek advice from Baalzebub, the god of Ekron. Is this because [you think] there is no God in Israel whose word you can seek? You will not get up from the bed you are lying on. Instead, you will die there."

2 Kings 1:17 So Ahaziah died as the LORD had predicted through Elijah. Joram succeeded him as king because Ahaziah had no son.

2 Kings 1:18 Isn't everything else about Ahaziah-the things he did-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 2:1 When the LORD was going to take Elijah to heaven in a windstorm, Elijah and Elisha left Gilgal.

2 Kings 2:2 Elijah said to Elisha, "Please stay here because the LORD is sending me to Bethel." Elisha answered, "I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not abandon you." So they went to Bethel.

2 Kings 2:3 Some of the disciples of the prophets at Bethel came to Elisha. They asked him, "Do you know that the LORD is going to take your master from you today?" He answered, "Yes, I know. Be quiet."

2 Kings 2:4 Elijah said, "Elisha, please stay here because the LORD is sending me to Jericho." Elisha answered, "I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not abandon you." So they went to Jericho.

2 Kings 2:5 Then some of the disciples of the prophets who were in Jericho approached Elisha. They asked, "Do you know that the LORD is going to take your master from you today?" He answered, "Yes, I know. Be quiet."

2 Kings 2:6 Elijah said to Elisha, "Please stay here because the LORD is sending me to the Jordan River." Elisha answered, "I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives and as you live, I will not abandon you."

2 Kings 2:7 Fifty disciples of the prophets stood at a distance as Elijah and Elisha stood by the Jordan River.

2 Kings 2:8 Elijah took his coat, rolled it up, and struck the water with it. The water divided to their left and their right, and the two men crossed [the river] on dry ground.

2 Kings 2:9 While they were crossing, Elijah asked Elisha, "What should I do for you before I'm taken from you?" Elisha answered, "Let me inherit a double share of your spirit."

2 Kings 2:10 Elijah said, "You have asked for something difficult. If you see me taken from you, it will be yours. Otherwise, it will not."

2 Kings 2:11 As they continued walking and talking, a fiery chariot with fiery horses separated the two of them, and Elijah went to heaven in a windstorm.

2 Kings 2:12 When Elisha saw this, he cried out, “Master! Master! Israel’s chariot and horses!” When he couldn’t see Elijah anymore, he grabbed his own garment and tore it in two [to show his grief].

2 Kings 2:13 Then he picked up Elijah’s coat (which had fallen off Elijah), went back, and stood on the bank of the Jordan River.

2 Kings 2:14 He took the coat and struck the water with it. He asked, “Where is the LORD God of Elijah?” As he struck the water, it divided to his left and his right, and Elisha crossed [the river].

2 Kings 2:15 The disciples of the prophets who were at Jericho saw him from a distance. They said, “Elijah’s spirit rests on Elisha!” Then they went to meet him and bowed in front of him with their faces touching the ground.

2 Kings 2:16 They said to him, “There are 50 strong men here with us. Please let them go and search for your master. Maybe the LORD’s Spirit lifted him up and dropped him on one of the hills or in one of the valleys.” Elisha answered, “Don’t send them [to look].”

2 Kings 2:17 But the disciples kept urging him [to send the men] until he was embarrassed. So he said, “Send them.” They sent 50 men who searched for three days without finding him.

2 Kings 2:18 They returned to Elisha in Jericho, where he was waiting. He said, “Didn’t I tell you not to go?”

2 Kings 2:19 The people of the city [of Jericho] told Elisha, “This city’s location is as good as you will ever find. But the water is bad, and the land cannot grow crops.”

2 Kings 2:20 Elisha said, “Bring me a new jar, and put salt in it.” They brought it to him.

2 Kings 2:21 He went to the spring and threw the salt into it. Then he said, “This is what the LORD says: I have purified this water. No more deaths or crop failures will come from this water.”

2 Kings 2:22 To this day the water is still pure, as Elisha had said.

2 Kings 2:23 From there he went to Bethel. As he walked along the road, some boys came out of the city and mocked him. They said, “Go away, baldy! Go away!”

2 Kings 2:24 Looking back, he saw them and cursed them in the LORD’s name. Two bears came out of the woods and tore 42 of these youths apart.

2 Kings 2:25 He left that place, went to Mount Carmel, and returned to Samaria.

2 Kings 3:1 Joram, son of Ahab, became king of Israel in Samaria during Jehoshaphat's eighteenth year as king of Judah. He ruled for 12 years.

2 Kings 3:2 He did what the LORD considered evil, but he didn't do what his father or mother had done. He put away the sacred stone that his father had set up and dedicated to Baal.

2 Kings 3:3 But he would not give up the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat's son) led Israel to commit. Joram would not turn away from those sins.

2 Kings 3:4 King Mesha of Moab raised sheep. [Each year] he had to pay the king of Israel 100,000 male lambs and the wool from 100,000 rams.

2 Kings 3:5 But when Ahab died, the king of Moab rebelled against the [new] king of Israel.

2 Kings 3:6 King Joram immediately left Samaria to prepare Israel's army for war.

2 Kings 3:7 He sent this message to King Jehoshaphat of Judah: "The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you fight Moab with me?" Jehoshaphat answered, "I'll go. I will do what you do. My troops will do what your troops do. My horses will do what your horses do."

2 Kings 3:8 Joram asked, "Which road should we take?" Jehoshaphat answered, "The road through the desert of Edom."

2 Kings 3:9 So the king of Israel, the king of Judah, and the king of Edom took an indirect route [to Moab]. After seven days they ran out of water for the army and the animals.

2 Kings 3:10 The king of Israel said, "Oh no! The LORD has put the three of us at the mercy of [the people of] Moab."

2 Kings 3:11 But Jehoshaphat asked, "Isn't there a prophet of the LORD whom we could ask?" One of the officials of the king of Israel answered, "Elisha, the son of Shaphat, is here. He used to be Elijah's assistant."

2 Kings 3:12 Jehoshaphat said, "The LORD's word is with him." So King Jehoshaphat of Judah, the king of Israel, and the king of Edom went to Elisha.

2 Kings 3:13 Elisha asked the king of Israel, "Why did you come to me? Go to your father's prophets or your mother's prophets." The king of Israel answered him, "No. The LORD has called the three of us in order to put us at Moab's mercy."

2 Kings 3:14 Elisha answered, "I solemnly swear, as the LORD of Armies whom I serve lives, I wouldn't even bother to look at you or notice you if it weren't for my respect for King Jehoshaphat of Judah.

2 Kings 3:15 But get me someone to play some music." While the musician was playing, the LORD's power came over Elisha.

2 Kings 3:16 He said, “This is what the LORD says: Make this valley full of ditches.

2 Kings 3:17 You will not see wind or rain, but this valley will be filled with water. You, your cattle, and your other animals will drink.

2 Kings 3:18 The LORD considers that an easy thing to do. In addition, he will put Moab at your mercy.

2 Kings 3:19 You will defeat every walled city and every important city. You will cut down every good tree, seal all the wells, and use rocks to ruin every good piece of land.”

2 Kings 3:20 That is what happened in the morning. At the time of the grain offering, water flowed from Edom and filled the countryside.

2 Kings 3:21 All the people of Moab heard that the kings had come to fight them. So all men old enough to bear arms were called to fight. They stood at the border.

2 Kings 3:22 When the Moabites got up early in the morning as the sun was rising over the water, they saw the water from a distance. It was as red as blood.

2 Kings 3:23 They said, “It’s blood! The kings have been fighting one another and have killed each other. Now, Moabites, let’s take their goods!”

2 Kings 3:24 So when the Moabites came to Israel’s camp, the Israelites attacked them, and they fled from the Israelites. Israel went after the Moabites and defeated them.

2 Kings 3:25 Then Israel tore down the cities, each man throwing rocks on every good field until it was covered. They sealed every well and cut down every good tree. Only the stones [in the walls] of Kir Hareseth were left. Soldiers surrounded Kir Hareseth and attacked it with slings and stones.

2 Kings 3:26 When the king of Moab saw he was losing the battle, he took 700 swordsmen to try to break through to the king of Edom. But they couldn’t do it.

2 Kings 3:27 Then he took his firstborn son, who would have succeeded him as king, and sacrificed him on the wall as a burnt offering. There was bitter anger against the Israelites. So they went home to their own country.

2 Kings 4:1 One of the wives of a disciple of the prophets called to Elisha, “Sir, my husband is dead! You know how he feared the LORD. Now a creditor has come to take my two children as slaves.”

2 Kings 4:2 Elisha asked her, “What should I do for you? Tell me, what do you have in your house?” She answered, “I have nothing in the house except a jar of olive oil.”

2 Kings 4:3 Elisha said, “Borrow many empty containers from all your neighbors.

2 Kings 4:4 Then close the door behind you and your children, and pour oil into all those containers. When one is full, set it aside."

2 Kings 4:5 So she left him and closed the door behind her and her children. The children kept bringing containers to her, and she kept pouring.

2 Kings 4:6 When the containers were full, she told her son, "Bring me another container." He told her, "There are no more containers." So the olive oil stopped flowing.

2 Kings 4:7 She went and told the man of God. He said, "Sell the oil, and pay your debt. The rest is for you and your children."

2 Kings 4:8 One day Elisha was traveling through Shunem, where a rich woman lived. She had invited him to eat [with her]. So whenever he was in the area, he stopped in to eat.

2 Kings 4:9 She told her husband, "I know he's a holy man of God. And he regularly travels past our house.

2 Kings 4:10 Let's make a small room on the roof and put a bed, table, chair, and lamp stand there for him. He can stay there whenever he comes to visit us."

2 Kings 4:11 One day he came [to their house], went into the upstairs room, and rested there.

2 Kings 4:12 He told his servant Gehazi, "Call this Shunem woman." Gehazi called her, and she stood in front of him.

2 Kings 4:13 Elisha said to Gehazi, "Ask her what we can do for her, since she has gone to a lot of trouble for us. Maybe she would like us to speak to the king or the commander of the army for her." She answered, "I'm already living among my own people."

2 Kings 4:14 "What should we do for her?" Elisha asked. Gehazi answered, "Well, she has no son, and her husband is old."

2 Kings 4:15 Elisha said, "Call her." So Gehazi called her, and she stood in the doorway.

2 Kings 4:16 Elisha said, "At this time next spring, you will hold a baby boy in your arms." She answered, "Don't say that, sir. Don't lie to me. You're a man of God."

2 Kings 4:17 But the woman became pregnant and had a son at that time next year, as Elisha had told her.

2 Kings 4:18 Several years later the boy went to his father, who was with the harvest workers.

2 Kings 4:19 [Suddenly,] he said to his father, "My head! My head!" The father told his servant, "Carry him to his mother."

2 Kings 4:20 The servant picked him up and brought him to his mother. The boy sat on her lap until noon, when he died.

2 Kings 4:21 She took him upstairs and laid him on the bed of the man of God, left [the room], and shut the door behind her.

2 Kings 4:22 She called her husband and said, “Please send me one of the servants and one of the donkeys. I will go quickly to the man of God and come back again.”

2 Kings 4:23 Her husband asked, “Why are you going to him today? It isn’t a New Moon Festival or a day of worship.” But she said goodbye to him.

2 Kings 4:24 She saddled the donkey. Then she told her servant, “Lead on. Don’t slow down unless I tell you.”

2 Kings 4:25 So she came to the man of God at Mount Carmel. When he saw her coming at a distance, he told his servant Gehazi, “There is the woman from Shunem.

2 Kings 4:26 Run to meet her and ask her how she, her husband, and the boy are doing.” “Everyone’s fine,” she answered.

2 Kings 4:27 When she came to the man of God at the mountain, she took hold of his feet. Gehazi went to push her away. But the man of God said, “Leave her alone. She is bitter. The LORD has hidden the reason from me. He hasn’t told me.”

2 Kings 4:28 The woman said, “I didn’t ask you for a son. I said, ‘Don’t raise my hopes.’”

2 Kings 4:29 The man of God told Gehazi, “Put on a belt, take my shepherd’s staff in your hand, and go. Whenever you meet anyone, don’t stop to greet him. If he greets you, don’t stop to answer him. Lay my staff on the boy’s face.”

2 Kings 4:30 The boy’s mother said, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD and you live, I will not leave without you.” So Elisha got up and followed her.

2 Kings 4:31 Gehazi went ahead of them and put the staff on the boy’s face, but there was no sound or sign of life. So Gehazi came back to meet the man of God. Gehazi told him, “The boy didn’t wake up.”

2 Kings 4:32 When Elisha came to the house, the dead boy was lying on Elisha’s bed.

2 Kings 4:33 He went into the room, closed the door, and prayed to the LORD.

2 Kings 4:34 Then he lay on the boy, putting his mouth on the boy’s mouth, his eyes on the boy’s eyes, his hands on the boy’s hands. He crouched over the boy’s body, and it became warm.

2 Kings 4:35 Elisha got up, walked across the room and came back, and then got back on the bed and crouched over him. The boy sneezed seven times and opened his eyes.

2 Kings 4:36 Elisha called Gehazi and said, “Call the Shunem woman.” Gehazi called her. When she came to him, he said, “Take your son.”

2 Kings 4:37 Then she immediately bowed at his feet. She took her son and left.

2 Kings 4:38 When Elisha went back to Gilgal, there was a famine in the country. [One day,] while the disciples of the prophets were meeting with him, he told his servant, “Put a large pot on the fire, and cook some stew for the disciples of the prophets.”

2 Kings 4:39 One of them went into the field to gather vegetables and found a wild vine. He filled his clothes with wild gourds. Then he cut them into the pot of stew without knowing what they were.

2 Kings 4:40 They dished out the food for the men to eat. As they were eating the stew, they cried out, “There’s death in the pot, man of God!” So they couldn’t eat it.

2 Kings 4:41 Elisha said, “Bring some flour.” He threw it into the pot and said, “Dish it out for the people to eat.” Then there was nothing harmful in the pot.

2 Kings 4:42 A man from Baal Shalisha brought bread made from the first harvested grain, 20 barley loaves, and fresh grain to the man of God. The man of God said, “Give it to the people to eat.”

2 Kings 4:43 But his servant asked, “How can I set this in front of a hundred people?” “Give it to the people to eat,” the man of God said. “This is what the LORD says: They will eat and even have some left over.”

2 Kings 4:44 The servant set it in front of them. They ate and had some left over, as the LORD had predicted.

2 Kings 5:1 Naaman, the commander of the Aramean king’s army, was respected and highly honored by his master. The LORD had given Aram a victory through Naaman. This man was a good soldier, but he had a skin disease.

2 Kings 5:2 Once, when the Arameans went on raids, they had brought back a little girl from Israel. She became the servant of Naaman’s wife.

2 Kings 5:3 The girl told her mistress, “If only my master were with the prophet in Samaria. Then the prophet could cure him of his skin disease.”

2 Kings 5:4 Naaman went to his master and told him what the girl from Israel had said.

2 Kings 5:5 The king of Aram said, “You may go. I will also send a letter to the king of Israel.” When Naaman left, he took 750 pounds of silver, 150 pounds of gold, and 10 sets of clothing with him.

2 Kings 5:6 He brought the letter to the king of Israel. It read, “I’m sending my officer Naaman with this letter. Cure him of his skin disease.”

2 Kings 5:7 When the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his clothes [in distress]. He asked, “Am I God? Can I kill someone and then bring him back to life? This man sends someone to me so that I can cure his skin disease! All of you should realize and understand that he’s trying to pick a fight with me.”

2 Kings 5:8 But when Elisha, the man of God, heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, he sent a messenger to the king. He asked, “Why did you tear your clothes? Please let Naaman come to me and find out that there is a prophet in Israel.”

2 Kings 5:9 Naaman came with his horses and chariot and stopped at the entrance to Elisha’s home.

2 Kings 5:10 Elisha sent a messenger to him. He said, “Wash yourself seven times in the Jordan River, and your skin will be healthy and clean.”

2 Kings 5:11 But Naaman became angry and left. He said, “I thought he would at least come out [of his house], stand somewhere, call on the name of the LORD his God, wave his hand over the [infected] place, and heal the skin disease.

2 Kings 5:12 The Abana and Pharpar Rivers in Damascus have better water than any of the rivers in Israel. Couldn’t I wash in them and be clean?” So he turned around and left in anger.

2 Kings 5:13 But Naaman’s servants went to him and said, “Master, if the prophet had asked you to do some extraordinary act, wouldn’t you have done it? Why shouldn’t you do as he said: ‘Wash and be clean’?”

2 Kings 5:14 So he went to dip himself in the Jordan River seven times, as the man of God had instructed him. His skin became healthy again like a little child’s skin.

2 Kings 5:15 Then he and all his men returned to the man of God. Naaman stood in front of Elisha and said, “Now I know that there’s no god in the whole world, except the God of Israel. So please accept a present from me.”

2 Kings 5:16 Elisha said, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD whom I serve lives, I will not accept it.” Naaman urged him to take it, but he refused.

2 Kings 5:17 So Naaman said, “If you won’t take it, please have someone give me as much dirt as a pair of mules can carry. From now on I will sacrifice to the LORD alone. I will not offer any burnt offering or sacrifice to any other gods.

2 Kings 5:18 May the LORD forgive me when my master goes to the temple of Rimmon to worship, leans on my arm, and I have to bow down in the temple of Rimmon. When I do this, may the LORD forgive me for this one thing.”

2 Kings 5:19 Elisha told Naaman, “Go in peace.” After Elisha had left him and gone some distance,

2 Kings 5:20 Gehazi, the servant of Elisha (the man of God), thought, “My master let this Aramean Naaman go without accepting what he had brought. As sure as the LORD lives, I’ll run after Naaman and get something from him.”

2 Kings 5:21 So Gehazi went after Naaman. When Naaman saw Gehazi running after him, he got down from his chariot to speak to him. “Is something wrong?” he asked.

2 Kings 5:22 Gehazi answered, “No. My master has sent me. He says, ‘Just now two young men from the disciples of the prophets in the hills of Ephraim have arrived. Please give them 75 pounds of silver and two sets of clothing.’”

2 Kings 5:23 Naaman replied, “Please let me give you 150 pounds of silver.” Naaman urged him [to take the silver]. Naaman tied up 150 pounds of silver in two bags with two sets of clothing. He gave them to a couple of his own servants to carry in front of Gehazi.

2 Kings 5:24 When Gehazi came to the Ophel in Samaria, he took these things and put them away in the house. Then he dismissed the men, and they left.

2 Kings 5:25 He went and stood in front of his master. Elisha asked him, “Where were you, Gehazi?” “I didn’t go anywhere,” he answered.

2 Kings 5:26 Then Elisha said to him, “I went with you in spirit when the man turned around in his chariot to speak to you. How could you accept silver, clothes, olive orchards, vineyards, sheep, cattle, or slaves?

2 Kings 5:27 Naaman’s skin disease will cling to you and your descendants permanently!” When he left Elisha, Gehazi had a disease that made his skin as flaky as snow.

2 Kings 6:1 The disciples of the prophets said to Elisha, “The place where we’re staying is too small for us.

2 Kings 6:2 Let’s go to the Jordan River. Each of us can get some logs and make a place for us to live there.” Elisha said, “Go ahead.”

2 Kings 6:3 Then one of the disciples asked, “Won’t you please come with us?” Elisha answered, “I’ll go.”

2 Kings 6:4 So he went with them. They came to the Jordan River and began to cut down trees.

2 Kings 6:5 As one of them was cutting down a tree, the ax head fell into the water. He cried out, “Oh no, master! It was borrowed!”

2 Kings 6:6 The man of God asked, “Where did it fall?” When he showed Elisha the place, Elisha cut off a piece of wood. He threw it into the water at that place and made the ax head float.

2 Kings 6:7 Elisha said, “Pick it up.” The disciple reached for it and picked it up.

2 Kings 6:8 Whenever the king of Aram was fighting against Israel, he asked for advice from his officers about where they were to camp.

2 Kings 6:9 So the man of God would send a message to the king of Israel, “Be careful not to go by that place. The Arameans are hiding there.”

2 Kings 6:10 Then the king of Israel would send someone to the place that the man of God told him about. Elisha warned them so that they would be on their guard. He did this repeatedly.

2 Kings 6:11 The king of Aram was very angry about this. He called his officers and asked them, “Won’t you tell me who among us is [a spy] for the king of Israel?”

2 Kings 6:12 One of his officers answered, “No one, Your Majesty. Elisha, the prophet in Israel, tells the king of Israel everything you say-even what you say in your bedroom.”

2 Kings 6:13 The king said, “Find out where he is. Then I will send men to capture him.” The king was told, “He is in Dothan.”

2 Kings 6:14 So the king sent horses and chariots and a large fighting unit there. They came at night and surrounded the city.

2 Kings 6:15 When the servant of the man of God got up in the morning and went outside, he saw troops, horses, and chariots surrounding the city. Elisha’s servant asked, “Master, what should we do?”

2 Kings 6:16 Elisha answered, “Don’t be afraid. We have more forces on our side than they have on theirs.”

2 Kings 6:17 Then Elisha prayed, “LORD, please open his eyes so that he may see.” The LORD opened the servant’s eyes and let him see. The mountain around Elisha was full of fiery horses and chariots.

2 Kings 6:18 As the Arameans came down to get him, Elisha prayed to the LORD, “Please strike these people with blindness.” The LORD struck them with blindness, as Elisha had asked.

2 Kings 6:19 Elisha told them, “This isn’t the way! This isn’t the city. Follow me, and I will lead you to the man you’re looking for.” So he led them into Samaria.

2 Kings 6:20 When they came into Samaria, Elisha said, “LORD, open the eyes of these men, and let them see.” The LORD opened their eyes and let them see that they were in the middle of Samaria.

2 Kings 6:21 When the king of Israel saw them, he asked Elisha, “Master, should I kill them? Should I kill them?”

2 Kings 6:22 Elisha answered, “Don’t kill them. Do you kill everyone you take captive in combat? Give them food and water. Let them eat and drink. Then let them go back to their master.”

2 Kings 6:23 So the king prepared a great feast for them. They ate and drank, and then he sent them back to their master. After this, Aramean troops didn’t raid Israel’s territory anymore.

2 Kings 6:24 Later King Benhadad of Aram assembled his whole army. They went to Samaria and blockaded it.

2 Kings 6:25 The shortages caused by the blockade of Samaria became so severe that a donkey’s head sold for two pounds of silver and a half-pint of dove manure for two ounces of silver.

2 Kings 6:26 As the king of Israel was walking on the city wall, a woman cried to him, “Help me, Your Majesty!”

2 Kings 6:27 He answered, “If the LORD doesn’t help you, how can I help you? I can’t give you something from the threshing floor or the winepress.”

2 Kings 6:28 Then the king asked her, “What’s the matter?” She answered, “This woman told me, ‘Give up your son. Let’s eat him today. We’ll eat my son tomorrow.’

2 Kings 6:29 So we boiled my son and ate him. The next day I told her, ‘Give up your son. We’ll eat him,’ but she hid her son.”

2 Kings 6:30 When the king heard the woman say this, he tore his clothes [in distress]. As he was walking on the city wall, the people saw that he was wearing sackcloth under his clothes.

2 Kings 6:31 He said, “May God strike me dead if the head of Elisha, son of Shaphat, stays on his [body] today.”

2 Kings 6:32 Elisha was sitting in his home with the [city’s] leaders. The king had sent one of his men ahead of him [to Elisha’s house]. But before the messenger arrived, Elisha asked the leaders, “Do you see how this murderer has sent someone to tear off my head? When the messenger comes, close the door. Hold it shut because the king will be following him.”

2 Kings 6:33 While he was still talking to them, the messenger arrived. He said to Elisha, “This severe famine is from the LORD. Why should I wait any longer for the LORD [to help us]?”

2 Kings 7:1 Elisha answered, “Listen to the word of the LORD! This is what the LORD says: About this time tomorrow 24 cups of the best flour will sell for half an ounce of silver in the gateway to Samaria. And 48 cups of barley will sell for half an ounce of silver.”

2 Kings 7:2 The servant on whose arm the king was leaning answered the man of God, “Could this happen even if the LORD poured rain through windows in the sky?” Elisha replied, “You will see it with your own eyes, but you won’t eat any of it.”

2 Kings 7:3 Four men with skin diseases were at the entrance of the city gate. One of them asked, “Why are we sitting here waiting to die?

2 Kings 7:4 If we go into the city, the famine is also there, and we’ll still die. But if we stay here, we’ll die. So let’s go to the Aramean camp. If they give us something to keep us alive, we’ll live. But if they kill us, we’ll die anyway.”

2 Kings 7:5 So they started out at dusk to go into the Aramean camp. When they came to the edge of the camp, no one was there.

2 Kings 7:6 (The LORD had made the Aramean army hear what sounded like chariots, horses, and a large army. The Aramean soldiers said to one another, “The king of Israel has hired the Hittite and Egyptian kings to attack us!”

2 Kings 7:7 So at dusk they fled. They abandoned the camp as it was with its tents, horses, and donkeys and ran for their lives.)

2 Kings 7:8 When the men with skin diseases came to the edge of the camp, they went into a tent, ate and drank, and carried off the silver, gold, and clothes they found in that tent. They went away and hid them. Then they came back, went into another tent, carried off its contents, went away, and hid them.

2 Kings 7:9 Then they said to one another, “What we’re doing is not right. This is a day of good news, and we’re not telling anyone about it. If we wait until morning when it’s light out, we’ll be punished. Let’s bring the news to the royal palace.”

2 Kings 7:10 So they called the city gatekeepers and told them, “We went into the Aramean camp, and we didn’t see or hear anyone. The horses and donkeys were still tied up. Even the tents were left exactly as they were.”

2 Kings 7:11 The gatekeepers announced the news to the royal palace.

2 Kings 7:12 So the king got up at night and told his officers what the Arameans had planned for them. He said, “They know we’re starving, so they’ve left the camp to hide in the countryside. They’re thinking, ‘When they’ve left the city, we’ll capture them alive and get into the city.’”

2 Kings 7:13 One of his officers replied, “Please let some men take five of the horses that are left here. Those men will be no worse off than the rest of the Israelites who are dying. Let’s send them to take a look.”

2 Kings 7:14 So they took two chariots with horses, and the king sent them to follow the Aramean army and told them to find out what happened.

2 Kings 7:15 They followed them as far as the Jordan River and saw how the whole road was littered with clothes and equipment that the Arameans had thrown away in their hurry. The messengers returned and told the king about it.

2 Kings 7:16 So the people went out and looted the Aramean camp. Then 24 cups of the best flour sold for half an ounce of silver, and 48 cups of barley sold for half an ounce of silver, as the LORD had predicted.

2 Kings 7:17 The king appointed the servant on whose arm he used to lean to be in charge of the gate. But the people trampled him to death in the gateway, as the man of God had predicted when the king came to him.

2 Kings 7:18 (It happened exactly as the man of God told the king, “48 cups of barley will sell for half an ounce of silver. And 24 cups of the best flour will sell for half an ounce of silver. This will happen about this time tomorrow in the gateway to Samaria.”

2 Kings 7:19 Then the servant answered the man of God, “Could this happen even if the LORD poured rain through windows in the sky?” Elisha answered, “You will see it with your own eyes, but you won’t eat any of it.”)

2 Kings 7:20 So this is what happened to the king’s servant: The people trampled him to death in the gateway.

2 Kings 8:1 Elisha had told the woman whose son he had brought back to life, “Go away with your family. Stay wherever you can. The LORD has decided to send a famine on this country, and it will last seven years.”

2 Kings 8:2 The woman did what the man of God told her. She and her family went to live in Philistine territory for seven years.

2 Kings 8:3 At the end of seven years, the woman came home from Philistine territory but left again to make an appeal to the king about her house and land.

2 Kings 8:4 The king was talking to Gehazi, the servant of the man of God. He said, “Please tell me about all the great things Elisha has done.”

2 Kings 8:5 While Gehazi was telling the king how Elisha brought a dead child back to life, the mother [came to] make an appeal to the king about her house and land. Gehazi said, “Your Majesty, this is the woman, and this is her son whom Elisha brought back to life.”

2 Kings 8:6 When the king asked the woman [about this], she told him the story. So the king assigned to her an attendant to whom he said, “Restore all that is hers, including whatever her property produced from the day she left the country until now.”

2 Kings 8:7 Elisha went to Damascus. King Benhadad of Aram, who was sick, was told, “The man of God has come here.”

2 Kings 8:8 The king told Hazael, “Take a present, and meet the man of God. Ask the LORD through him, ‘Will I recover from this illness?’”

2 Kings 8:9 Hazael went to meet Elisha. He took with him a present and all kinds of goods from Damascus. He had loaded the goods on 40 camels. He stood in front of Elisha and said, “Your humble servant King Benhadad of Aram has sent me to you. He asks whether he will recover from this illness.”

2 Kings 8:10 Elisha replied, “Tell him that he will get better, although the LORD has shown me that he is actually going to die.”

2 Kings 8:11 He stared at him until he became embarrassed. Then the man of God began to cry.

2 Kings 8:12 “Sir, why are you crying?” Hazael asked. Elisha answered, “I know the evil you will do to the Israelites: You will set their fortresses on fire, kill their best young men, smash their little children, and rip open their pregnant women.”

2 Kings 8:13 But Hazael asked, “How can a dog like me do such a significant thing?” Elisha answered, “The LORD has shown me that you will become king of Aram.”

2 Kings 8:14 Hazael left Elisha and went to his master Benhadad, who asked him what Elisha had said. Hazael answered, “He told me that you will get better.”

2 Kings 8:15 But the next day Hazael took a blanket, soaked it in water, and smothered the king with it. Hazael ruled as king in his place.

2 Kings 8:16 Joram (Ahab’s son) was in his fifth year as king of Israel when Jehoram, son of King Jehoshaphat of Judah, began to rule. Jehoram ruled while Jehoshaphat was still king of Judah.

2 Kings 8:17 He was 32 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 8 years in Jerusalem.

2 Kings 8:18 He followed the ways of the kings of Israel, as Ahab’s family had done, because his wife was Ahab’s daughter. So he did what the LORD considered evil.

2 Kings 8:19 But for David’s sake the LORD didn’t want to destroy Judah. The LORD had told David that he would always give him and his descendants a [shining] lamp.

2 Kings 8:20 During Jehoram’s time Edom rebelled against Judah and chose its own king.

2 Kings 8:21 Jehoram took all his chariots to attack Zair. The Edomites and their chariot commanders surrounded him, but he got up at night, broke through their lines, and his troops fled home.

2 Kings 8:22 So Edom rebelled against Judah’s rule and is still independent today. At that time Libnah also rebelled.

2 Kings 8:23 Isn’t everything else about Jehoram-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 8:24 Jehoram lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in the City of David. His son Ahaziah succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 8:25 Joram (Ahab's son) was in his twelfth year as king of Israel when Jehoram's son Ahaziah became king of Judah.

2 Kings 8:26 Ahaziah was 22 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for one year in Jerusalem. His mother was Athaliah, the granddaughter of King Omri of Israel.

2 Kings 8:27 Ahaziah followed the ways of Ahab's family. He did what the LORD considered evil, as Ahab's family had done, because he was related to Ahab's family by marriage.

2 Kings 8:28 Ahaziah went with Ahab's son Joram to fight against King Hazael of Aram at Ramoth Gilead. There the Arameans wounded Joram.

2 Kings 8:29 King Joram returned to Jezreel to let his wounds heal. (He had been wounded by the Arameans at Ramah when he fought against King Hazael of Aram.) Then Jehoram's son Ahaziah went to Jezreel to see Ahab's son Joram, who was sick.

2 Kings 9:1 The prophet Elisha called one of the disciples of the prophets. He said, "Put on your belt. Take this flask of olive oil, and go to Ramoth Gilead.

2 Kings 9:2 When you arrive there, look for Jehu, son of Jehoshaphat and grandson of Nimshi. Go inside, and have him get up and leave his companions. Take him into an inner room.

2 Kings 9:3 Take the flask of oil, pour it on his head, and say, 'This is what the LORD says: I have anointed you king of Israel.' Then open the door and leave immediately."

2 Kings 9:4 The young man, the servant of the prophet, went to Ramoth Gilead.

2 Kings 9:5 When he arrived there, the army's generals were sitting together. He said, "I have something to tell you, General." Jehu asked, "Which one of us?" He answered, "You, General!"

2 Kings 9:6 Jehu got up and went into the house. The prophet poured olive oil on his head and told him, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: I have anointed you king of the LORD's people, [king] of Israel.

2 Kings 9:7 You will destroy the family of your master Ahab. I will get revenge on Jezebel for shedding the blood of my servants the prophets and all the LORD's [other] servants.

2 Kings 9:8 Ahab's entire family will die. I will destroy every male from Ahab's family, whether slave or freeman in Israel.

2 Kings 9:9 I will make Ahab's family like the family of Jeroboam (Nebat's son) and like the family of Baasha, son of Ahijah.

2 Kings 9:10 Dogs will eat Jezebel inside the walls of Jezreel, and no one will bury her." Then he opened the door and left.

2 Kings 9:11 Jehu came out to his master's officials. One of them asked him, "Is everything alright? Why did this lunatic come to you?" He answered, "You know the man and the kind of things he says."

2 Kings 9:12 They said, "That's not an answer. Please tell us." Jehu replied, "We talked for a while, and he said to me, 'This is what the LORD says: I have anointed you king of Israel.'"

2 Kings 9:13 Then each one of them immediately took off his coat and laid it on the stairs below him. They blew a ram's horn and said, "Jehu is king!"

2 Kings 9:14 So Jehu, son of Jehoshaphat and grandson of Nimshi, plotted against Joram. (Joram and all Israel were guarding Ramoth Gilead against King Hazael of Aram.

2 Kings 9:15 But King Joram had returned to Jezreel to recover from the wounds he received while fighting King Hazael of Aram.) Then Jehu said, "If you want me to be king, don't let anyone escape from the city to take the news to Jezreel."

2 Kings 9:16 So Jehu got on his chariot and drove to Jezreel because Joram was lying in bed there. (King Ahaziah of Judah had come to see Joram.)

2 Kings 9:17 The watchman standing on the tower in Jezreel saw Jehu's troops coming. He said, "I see some troops." So Joram said, "Take a chariot driver, send him to meet them, and ask, 'Is everything alright?'"

2 Kings 9:18 So a chariot driver rode off, met Jehu, and said, "The king asks, 'Is everything alright?' " Jehu replied, "Why should that matter to you? Follow me." So the watchman announced, "The messenger you sent has reached them, but he isn't coming back."

2 Kings 9:19 Then Joram sent out a second driver. When he came to them, he said, "The king asks, 'Is everything alright?' " Jehu replied, "Why should that matter to you? Follow me."

2 Kings 9:20 So the watchman announced, "He has reached them, but he isn't coming back. The troop's leader is driving like a lunatic, like Jehu, grandson of Nimshi."

2 Kings 9:21 "Hitch the horses to the chariot," Joram ordered. When that was done, King Joram of Israel and King Ahaziah of Judah went to meet Jehu, each in his own chariot. They found him in the field that belonged to Naboth from Jezreel.

2 Kings 9:22 When Joram saw Jehu, he asked, "Is everything alright, Jehu?" Jehu answered, "How can everything be alright as long as your mother continues her idolatry and witchcraft?"

2 Kings 9:23 As Joram turned his chariot around and tried to flee, he said to Ahaziah, "It's a trap, Ahaziah!"

2 Kings 9:24 But Jehu took his bow and shot Joram between the shoulders. The arrow came out of his chest, and he slumped over in his chariot.

2 Kings 9:25 Then Jehu said to his attendant Bidkar, “Take him away, and throw him into the field that belonged to Naboth from Jezreel. Remember when you and I were driving our chariots behind his father Ahab? The LORD revealed this prophecy about him:

2 Kings 9:26 ‘Just as I saw the blood of Naboth and his sons yesterday, I will pay you back in this field,’ declares the LORD. Now take him and throw him into the field as the LORD predicted.”

2 Kings 9:27 When King Ahaziah of Judah saw this, he fled on the road leading to Beth Haggan. Jehu pursued him and ordered, “Shoot him down in his chariot.” They shot him at Gur Pass, which is near Ibleam. Ahaziah continued to flee until he got to Megiddo, where he died.

2 Kings 9:28 His servants brought him in a chariot to Jerusalem. They buried him in a tomb with his ancestors in the City of David.

2 Kings 9:29 (Ahaziah had become king of Judah in the eleventh year that Joram, Ahab’s son, was king of Israel.)

2 Kings 9:30 When Jehu arrived in Jezreel, Jezebel heard about it. She put on eye shadow, fixed her hair, and looked out of a second-story window.

2 Kings 9:31 When Jehu entered the gateway, she asked, “Is everything alright, Zimri, murderer of your master?”

2 Kings 9:32 Looking up at the window, he asked, “Is anyone on my side? Anyone?” Then two or three eunuchs looked out at him.

2 Kings 9:33 He said, “Throw her down.” They threw her down, and some of her blood splattered on the wall and the horses. The horses trampled her.

2 Kings 9:34 He went inside, ate, and drank. Then he said, “Take care of this woman who had a curse on her. After all, she was a king’s daughter.”

2 Kings 9:35 But when they went out to bury her, they couldn’t find any of her body except her skull, feet, and hands.

2 Kings 9:36 They came back and told him. Jehu said, “The LORD spoke through his servant Elijah from Tishbe. He said, ‘Dogs will eat Jezebel’s body inside the walls of Jezreel.

2 Kings 9:37 Jezebel’s corpse will be like manure on the ground in the fields surrounding Jezreel so that no one will be able to say that this is Jezebel.’”

2 Kings 10:1 Ahab had 70 male heirs in Samaria. So Jehu wrote letters to the officials of Jezreel, the respected leaders, and the guardians of Ahab’s descendants in Samaria. The letters read,

2 Kings 10:2 “Your master’s heirs are with you, and you have chariots, horses, fortified cities, and weapons. As soon as this letter reaches you,

2 Kings 10:3 choose the best and most honest of your master’s heirs, and put him on Ahab’s throne. Fight for your master’s family.”

2 Kings 10:4 But they panicked. They said, “If two kings couldn’t stand up to him, how can we stand up to him?”

2 Kings 10:5 So the official in charge of the palace, the mayor of the city, the respected leaders, and the guardians sent this message to Jehu: “We are your servants. We’ll do everything you tell us. We won’t make anyone king. Do what you think is best.”

2 Kings 10:6 So he wrote them a second letter. It read, “If you are on my side and ready to listen to me, bring the heads of your master’s heirs to me in Jezreel about this time tomorrow.” The 70 male heirs were staying with the city’s most powerful men. These men had raised them.

2 Kings 10:7 When the letter came to the men, they slaughtered all 70 heirs. They put the heads in baskets and sent them to Jehu in Jezreel.

2 Kings 10:8 A messenger told him, “They’ve brought the heads of the king’s heirs.” Jehu said, “Put them in two piles at the entrance to the gateway until morning.”

2 Kings 10:9 In the morning he stood there. He told the people, “You are innocent. I plotted against my master and killed him. But who killed all these men?

2 Kings 10:10 You can be sure that the word of the LORD spoken about Ahab’s family will be fulfilled. The LORD will do what he said through his servant Elijah.”

2 Kings 10:11 Jehu also killed every member of Ahab’s household who was left in Jezreel: all the most powerful men, friends, and priests. Not one of them was left.

2 Kings 10:12 Then Jehu left for Samaria. When he came to Beth Eked of the Shepherds,

2 Kings 10:13 he found some relatives of King Ahaziah of Judah. “Who are you?” he asked. They answered, “We’re Ahaziah’s relatives. We’ve come to greet the families of the king and the queen mother.”

2 Kings 10:14 Jehu ordered, “Capture them!” [Jehu’s men] captured and slaughtered 42 of them at a cistern near Beth Eked. They didn’t leave any survivors.

2 Kings 10:15 When he left that place, he met Jehonadab, son of Rechab, who was coming to meet him. Jehu greeted him and asked, “Are you as loyal to me as I am to you?” “I am,” Jehonadab answered. [So Jehu said,] “If you are, give me your hand.” When he gave Jehu his hand, Jehu helped him up into the chariot.

2 Kings 10:16 Jehu said, “Come with me. See how devoted I am to the LORD.” So he had Jehonadab ride on his chariot.

2 Kings 10:17 When they arrived in Samaria, Jehu killed the rest of Ahab’s family, every member who was left in Samaria. He wiped them out, as the LORD had told Elijah.

2 Kings 10:18 Then Jehu brought all the people together. He said, “Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve him a lot.

2 Kings 10:19 Summon all the prophets, servants, and priests of Baal. Make sure no one is missing because I have a great sacrifice to offer Baal. Whoever is missing will not live.” (Jehu was deceiving [them]. He actually wanted to destroy those who worshiped Baal.)

2 Kings 10:20 Jehu said, “Call a holy assembly to honor Baal.” So they did.

2 Kings 10:21 Jehu sent messengers to all the Israelites. All the worshipers of Baal came, and there wasn’t one who didn’t come. They went into the temple of Baal and filled it from one end to the other.

2 Kings 10:22 Then Jehu told the man in charge of the priests’ robes, “Bring out the robes for all the worshipers of Baal.” So he brought out robes for them.

2 Kings 10:23 Jehu and Jehonadab, son of Rechab, went into the temple of Baal and said to the worshipers of Baal, “Make sure that there are no worshipers of the LORD here with you. Only the worshipers of Baal should be here.”

2 Kings 10:24 So they went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. But Jehu had stationed 80 of his men outside. He said [to them], “If any of the people I’m putting in your hands escape, you will pay for their lives with yours.”

2 Kings 10:25 When the burnt offerings had been made, Jehu said to the guards and attendants, “Kill them. Don’t let anyone get away.” So they used swords to kill the Baal worshipers and threw out the bodies until the guards and attendants came to the stronghold in the temple of Baal.

2 Kings 10:26 Then they brought out the large sacred stone of the temple of Baal and burned it.

2 Kings 10:27 They destroyed the sacred stone of Baal and the temple of Baal and made it into a latrine. It is still a latrine today.

2 Kings 10:28 So Jehu got rid of Baal worship throughout Israel.

2 Kings 10:29 But Jehu did not turn away from the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat’s son) led Israel to commit-[the worship of] the golden calves that were at Bethel and Dan.

2 Kings 10:30 The LORD said to Jehu, “You did what I consider right, and you did it well. You did everything I wanted done to Ahab’s family. That is why four generations of your descendants will sit on the throne of Israel."

2 Kings 10:31 But Jehu didn't wholeheartedly obey the teachings of the LORD God of Israel. He didn't turn away from the sins that Jeroboam led Israel to commit.

2 Kings 10:32 So in those days the LORD began to take away some of Israel's territory. Hazael defeated Jehu's army throughout Israel's territory

2 Kings 10:33 east of the Jordan River: the entire region of Gilead (the territory belonging to Gad, Reuben, and Manasseh) from Aroer, which is near the Arnon River, to Gilead and Bashan.

2 Kings 10:34 Isn't everything else about Jehu-everything he did, all his heroic acts-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 10:35 Jehu lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in Samaria. His son Jehoahaz succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 10:36 Jehu ruled as king of Israel in Samaria for 28 years.

2 Kings 11:1 When Ahaziah's mother, Athaliah, saw that her son was dead, she began to destroy the entire royal family.

2 Kings 11:2 But Jehosheba, daughter of King Jehoram and sister of Ahaziah, took Ahaziah's son Joash. She saved him from being killed with the king's other sons, and in a bedroom she hid him and his nurse from Athaliah. So Joash wasn't killed

2 Kings 11:3 but was hidden with her in the LORD's temple for six years while Athaliah ruled the country.

2 Kings 11:4 In the seventh year of Athaliah's reign, Jehoiada sent for the company commanders of the Carites and the guards and had them come to him in the LORD's temple. He made an agreement with them, put them under oath in the LORD's temple, and showed them the king's son.

2 Kings 11:5 He ordered them, "This is what you must do: One third of you, those who are on duty on the day of worship, must guard the royal palace.

2 Kings 11:6 Another third must be at Sur Gate. And another third must be at the gate behind the guards. You will guard the king's residence.

2 Kings 11:7 Then your two groups who [normally] go off duty on the day of worship must guard the king at the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 11:8 Surround the king. Each man should have his weapons in his hand. Kill anyone who tries to break through your ranks. Stay with the king wherever he goes."

2 Kings 11:9 The company commanders did as the priest Jehoiada had ordered them. Each commander took his men who were coming on duty on the day of worship as well as those who were about to go off duty and came to the priest Jehoiada.

2 Kings 11:10 He gave the commanders the spears and the shields that had belonged to King David but were now in the LORD’s temple.

2 Kings 11:11 The guards stood with their weapons in their hands. They were stationed around the king and around the altar and the temple (from the south side to the north side of the temple).

2 Kings 11:12 Then Jehoiada brought out the king’s son, gave him the crown and the religious instructions, and made him king by anointing him. As the guards clapped their hands, they said, “Long live the king!”

2 Kings 11:13 When Athaliah heard the noise made by the guards and the other people, she went into the LORD’s temple, where the people were.

2 Kings 11:14 She looked, and the king was standing by the pillar according to custom. The commanders and the trumpeters were by his side. All the people of the land were rejoicing and blowing trumpets. As Athaliah tore her clothes [in distress], she cried, “Treason, treason!”

2 Kings 11:15 Then the priest Jehoiada ordered the company commanders who were in charge of the army, “Take her out of the temple. Use your sword to kill anyone who follows her.” (The priest had said, “She must not be killed in the LORD’s temple.”)

2 Kings 11:16 So they arrested her as she came to the street where the horses enter the royal palace, and there she was killed.

2 Kings 11:17 Jehoiada made a promise to the LORD on behalf of the king and his people that they would be the LORD’s people. He made other promises between the king and the people.

2 Kings 11:18 Then all the people of the land went to the temple of Baal and tore it down. They smashed Baal’s altars and his statues and killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, in front of the altars. Next, the priest appointed officials to be in charge of the LORD’s temple.

2 Kings 11:19 He took the company commanders of the Carites and the guards and all the people of the land, and they brought the king from the LORD’s temple. They went down the street that goes through Guards’ Gate to the royal palace. Then Joash sat on the royal throne.

2 Kings 11:20 All the people of the land were celebrating. But the city was quiet because they had killed Athaliah with a sword at the royal palace.

2 Kings 11:21 Joash was seven years old when he began to rule.

2 Kings 12:1 Joash began to rule in Jehu’s seventh year as king of Israel, and he ruled for 40 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Zibiah from Beersheba.

2 Kings 12:2 Joash did what the LORD considered right, as long as the priest Jehoiada instructed him.

2 Kings 12:3 But the illegal places of worship weren't torn down. The people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense at these worship sites.

2 Kings 12:4 Joash told the priests, "[Collect] all the holy contributions that are brought into the LORD's temple-the money each person is currently required to bring and all the money brought voluntarily to the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 12:5 Each of the priests should receive it from the donors and use it to make repairs on the temple where they are needed."

2 Kings 12:6 But by Joash's twenty-third year as king, the priests still had not repaired the temple.

2 Kings 12:7 So King Joash called for Jehoiada and the other priests and asked them, "Why aren't you repairing the damage in the temple? Don't take any more money from the donors [for your own use]. Instead, use it to make repairs on the temple."

2 Kings 12:8 The priests agreed neither to receive money from the people [for personal use] nor to be responsible for repairing the temple.

2 Kings 12:9 Then the priest Jehoiada took a box, drilled a hole in its lid, and put it at the right side of the altar as one comes into the LORD's temple. The priests who guarded the entrance put the money that was brought to the LORD's temple in the box.

2 Kings 12:10 Whenever they saw a lot of money in the box, the king's scribe and the chief priest would collect and count the money that was donated in the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 12:11 Then they would give the money that had been weighed to the men who had been appointed to work on the LORD's temple. They used it to pay the carpenters, builders,

2 Kings 12:12 masons, and stonecutters. They also used it to buy wood and cut stones to make repairs on the LORD's temple and to buy anything else that they needed for the temple repairs.

2 Kings 12:13 But no silver bowls, snuffers, dishes, trumpets, or any other gold and silver utensils were made for the LORD's temple with the money that was brought.

2 Kings 12:14 Instead, the money was given to the workmen, and they used it to repair the temple.

2 Kings 12:15 They didn't require the men who were entrusted with the money for the workers to give an account, because they were honest people.

2 Kings 12:16 The money from the guilt offerings and the offerings for sin was not brought into the LORD's temple. It belonged to the priests.

2 Kings 12:17 At this time King Hazael of Aram fought against Gath and conquered it. He was also determined to attack Jerusalem.

2 Kings 12:18 So King Joash of Judah took all the gifts his ancestors Kings Jehoshaphat, Jehoram, and Ahaziah of Judah, had dedicated to the LORD, the things he had dedicated to the LORD, and all the gold that could be found in the storerooms of the LORD's temple and the royal palace. He sent these things to King Hazael of Aram, who called off the attack on Jerusalem.

2 Kings 12:19 Isn't everything else about Joash-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 12:20 His own officials plotted against him and killed him at Beth Millo on the road that goes down to Silla.

2 Kings 12:21 Joash's officials Jozacar, son of Shimeath, and Jehozabad, son of Shomer, executed him. They buried him with his ancestors in the City of David. His son Amaziah succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 13:1 Ahaziah's son King Joash of Judah was in his twenty-third year as king of Judah when Jehoahaz, son of Jehu, began to rule in Samaria as king of Israel. He ruled for 17 years.

2 Kings 13:2 He did what the LORD considered evil. He continued to commit the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat's son) led Israel to commit. He never gave up committing those sins.

2 Kings 13:3 So the LORD became angry with Israel and put it at the mercy of King Hazael of Aram and Hazael's son Benhadad as long as they lived.

2 Kings 13:4 Then Jehoahaz pleaded with the LORD, and the LORD heard him because he saw how the Aramean king was oppressing Israel.

2 Kings 13:5 So the LORD gave the Israelites someone to save them, and they were freed from Aram's power. They were able to live in their homes again as they had done before.

2 Kings 13:6 But they didn't turn away from the sins that Jeroboam and his dynasty led Israel to commit. They continued to commit those sins. In addition, the pole dedicated to the goddess Asherah remained standing in Samaria.

2 Kings 13:7 Jehoahaz had no army left except for 50 horses, 10 chariots, and 10,000 foot soldiers because the king of Aram had destroyed the rest. He had made them like dust that people trample.

2 Kings 13:8 Isn't everything else about Jehoahaz-everything he did, his heroic acts-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 13:9 Jehoahaz lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in Samaria. His son Jehoash ruled as king in his place.

2 Kings 13:10 In Joash's thirty-seventh year as king of Judah, Jehoahaz's son Jehoash began to rule Israel in Samaria. He ruled for 16 years.

2 Kings 13:11 He did what the LORD considered evil and never gave up committing the sins that Jeroboam led Israel to commit. He continued to commit them.

2 Kings 13:12 Isn't everything else about Jehoash-everything he did, his heroic acts when he fought against King Amaziah of Judah-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 13:13 Jehoash lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with the kings of Israel in Samaria. Then Jeroboam claimed the throne.

2 Kings 13:14 Elisha became fatally ill. King Jehoash of Israel visited him, cried over him, and said, "Master! Master! Israel's chariot and horses!"

2 Kings 13:15 Elisha told him, "Get a bow and some arrows." So he got a bow and some arrows.

2 Kings 13:16 Then Elisha told the king of Israel, "Take the bow in your hand." So the king picked up the bow. Elisha laid his hands on the king's hands.

2 Kings 13:17 Elisha said, "Open the window that faces east." So the king opened it. "Shoot," Elisha said, and the king shot. Then Elisha said, "That is the arrow of the LORD's victory, the arrow of victory against Aram. You will completely defeat the Arameans at Aphek."

2 Kings 13:18 Then Elisha said, "Take the arrows." So the king took them. "Stomp on them," he told the king of Israel. The king stomped three times and stopped.

2 Kings 13:19 Then the man of God became angry with him. "You should have stomped five or six times!" he said. "Then you would have completely defeated the Arameans. But now you will only defeat the Arameans three times."

2 Kings 13:20 Elisha died and was buried. Moabite raiding parties used to invade the country in the spring.

2 Kings 13:21 One day some people who were burying a man saw one of these raiding parties. So they quickly put the man into Elisha's tomb. But when the body touched Elisha's bones, the man came back to life and stood up.

2 Kings 13:22 King Hazael of Aram oppressed Israel as long as Jehoahaz ruled.

2 Kings 13:23 But the LORD was kind and merciful to the Israelites because of his promise to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. He didn't want to destroy the Israelites, and even now he hasn't turned away from them.

2 Kings 13:24 King Hazael of Aram died, and his son Benhadad succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 13:25 Then Jehoash, son of Jehoahaz, reconquered the cities that Benhadad had taken from his father Jehoahaz. Jehoash defeated Benhadad three times and recovered those cities of Israel.

2 Kings 14:1 Jehoahaz’s son King Jehoash was in his second year as king of Israel when King Amaziah, son of Joash of Judah, began to rule.

2 Kings 14:2 Amaziah was 25 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 29 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jehoaddin from Jerusalem.

2 Kings 14:3 He did what the LORD considered right, but not exactly what his ancestor David had done. He did everything his father Joash had done.

2 Kings 14:4 But the illegal places of worship were still not torn down. The people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense at these worship sites.

2 Kings 14:5 As soon as he had a firm control over the kingdom, he executed the officials who had killed his father, the former king.

2 Kings 14:6 But he didn’t execute their children. He obeyed the LORD’s command written in the Book of Moses’ Teachings: “Parents must never be put to death for the crimes of their children, and children must never be put to death for the crimes of their parents. Each person must be put to death for his own crime.”

2 Kings 14:7 Amaziah killed 10,000 Edomites in the Dead Sea region and took the city of Sela in battle. He gave it the name Joktheel, which is still its name today.

2 Kings 14:8 Then Amaziah sent messengers to King Jehoash, son of Jehoahaz and grandson of Jehu of Israel, to declare war on Israel.

2 Kings 14:9 King Jehoash of Israel sent this message to King Amaziah of Judah: “A thistle in Lebanon sent a message to a cedar in Lebanon. It said, ‘Let your daughter marry my son,’ but a wild animal from Lebanon came along and trampled the thistle.

2 Kings 14:10 You certainly defeated Edom, and now you have become arrogant. Enjoy your fame, but stay home. Why must you invite disaster and your own defeat and take Judah with you?”

2 Kings 14:11 But Amaziah wouldn’t listen. So King Jehoash of Israel attacked, and King Amaziah of Judah met him in battle at Beth Shemesh in Judah.

2 Kings 14:12 Israel defeated the army of Judah, and the Judeans fled to their homes.

2 Kings 14:13 King Jehoash of Israel captured King Amaziah, son of Joash and grandson of Ahaziah of Judah, at Beth Shemesh and went to Jerusalem. He tore down a 600-foot section of the wall around Jerusalem from Ephraim Gate to Corner Gate.

2 Kings 14:14 He took all the gold, silver, and all the utensils he found in the LORD's temple and in the royal palace treasury. He also took hostages. Then he returned to Samaria.

2 Kings 14:15 Isn't everything else about Jehoash-what he did, his heroic acts when he fought against King Amaziah of Judah-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 14:16 Jehoash lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with the kings of Israel in Samaria. His son Jeroboam succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 14:17 Joash's son King Amaziah of Judah lived 15 years after the death of Jehoahaz's son King Jehoash of Israel.

2 Kings 14:18 Isn't everything else about Amaziah written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 14:19 Conspirators in Jerusalem plotted against him, so he fled to Lachish. But they sent men to Lachish after him and killed him there.

2 Kings 14:20 They brought him back by horse, and he was buried in Jerusalem, in the City of David, with his ancestors.

2 Kings 14:21 All the people of Judah took Azariah, who was 16 years old, and made him king in place of his father Amaziah.

2 Kings 14:22 Azariah rebuilt Elath and returned it to Judah after King Amaziah lay down in death with his ancestors.

2 Kings 14:23 Joash's son Amaziah was in his fifteenth year as king of Judah when Jehoash's son King Jeroboam of Israel began to rule in Samaria. Jeroboam ruled for 41 years.

2 Kings 14:24 He did what the LORD considered evil. He didn't turn away from any of the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat's son) led Israel to commit.

2 Kings 14:25 He restored Israel's boundaries from the border of Hamath to the Dead Sea as the LORD God of Israel predicted through his servant Jonah, the prophet from Gath Hepher and the son of Amittai.

2 Kings 14:26 The LORD did this because he saw how bitterly everyone in Israel was suffering. No slave or free person could help Israel.

2 Kings 14:27 Since the LORD had said he was not going to wipe out Israel's name completely, he saved them through Jeroboam, son of Jehoash.

2 Kings 14:28 Isn't everything else about Jeroboam-everything he did, his heroic acts when he fought, how he recovered Damascus and Hamath for Israel-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 14:29 Jeroboam lay down in death with his ancestors, the kings of Israel. His son Zechariah succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 15:1 In Jeroboam’s twenty-seventh year as king of Israel, Amaziah’s son Azariah began to rule as king of Judah.

2 Kings 15:2 He was 16 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 52 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jecoliah from Jerusalem.

2 Kings 15:3 He did what the LORD considered right, as his father Amaziah had done.

2 Kings 15:4 But the illegal places of worship were still not torn down. The people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense at these worship sites.

2 Kings 15:5 The LORD inflicted the king with a skin disease that lasted until the day the king died. So the king lived in a separate house. The king’s son Jotham was in charge of the palace and governed the country.

2 Kings 15:6 Isn’t everything else about Azariah-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 15:7 Azariah lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in the City of David. His son Jotham succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 15:8 In Azariah’s thirty-eighth year as king of Judah, Jeroboam’s son Zechariah was king of Israel in Samaria for six months.

2 Kings 15:9 He did what the LORD considered evil, as his ancestors had done. He didn’t turn away from the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat’s son) led Israel to commit.

2 Kings 15:10 Shallum, son of Jabesh, plotted against Zechariah, attacked him at Kabal Am, killed him, and succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 15:11 Everything else about Zechariah is written in the official records of the kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:12 It happened exactly as the LORD had told Jehu: “Four generations of your descendants will sit on the throne of Israel.”

2 Kings 15:13 Shallum, son of Jabesh, became king in Azariah’s thirty-ninth year as king of Judah. Shallum ruled for an entire month in Samaria.

2 Kings 15:14 Then Menahem, son of Gadi, came from Tirzah to Samaria, attacked Shallum (son of Jabesh), killed him, and succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 15:15 Everything else about Shallum-all about his conspiracy-is written in the official records of the kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:16 Then Menahem attacked Tiphsah, everyone there, and its territory. Because the city didn’t open its gates for him, he attacked it and ripped open all its pregnant women.

2 Kings 15:17 In Azariah's thirty-ninth year as king of Judah, Menahem, son of Gadi, began to rule as king of Israel. He ruled for 10 years in Samaria.

2 Kings 15:18 He did what the LORD considered evil. During his entire life he never turned away from the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat's son) led Israel to commit.

2 Kings 15:19 King Pul of Assyria came to [attack] the country. So Menahem gave Pul 75,000 pounds of silver to gain his support and help strengthen his hold on the kingdom.

2 Kings 15:20 Menahem raised the money from all the wealthy men in Israel. Each gave 20 ounces of silver for the king of Assyria. Then the king of Assyria left the country.

2 Kings 15:21 Isn't everything else about Menahem-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Israel?

2 Kings 15:22 Menahem lay down in death with his ancestors, and his son Pekahiah succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 15:23 In Azariah's fiftieth year as king of Judah, Menahem's son Pekahiah began to rule. Pekahiah was king of Israel in Samaria for two years.

2 Kings 15:24 He did what the LORD considered evil. He didn't turn away from the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat's son) led Israel to commit.

2 Kings 15:25 His officer Pekah, son of Remaliah, plotted against him. With 50 men from Gilead, Pekah attacked Pekahiah, Argob, and Arieh in the fortress of the royal palace in Samaria. Pekah killed him and succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 15:26 Everything else about Pekahiah-everything he did-is written in the official records of the kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:27 In Azariah's fifty-second year as king of Judah, Pekah, son of Remaliah, began to rule Israel in Samaria. He ruled for 20 years.

2 Kings 15:28 He did what the LORD considered evil. He did not turn away from the sins that Jeroboam (Nebat's son) led Israel to commit.

2 Kings 15:29 In the days of King Pekah of Israel, King Tiglath Pileser of Assyria took Ijon, Abel Beth Maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, Hazor, Gilead, Galilee, and the entire territory of Naphtali. He also took the people away to Assyria as captives.

2 Kings 15:30 Hoshea, son of Elah, plotted against Pekah, son of Remaliah. Hoshea attacked him and killed him. Hoshea began to rule as king in his place in the twentieth year that Jotham, son of Azariah, was king of Judah.

2 Kings 15:31 Everything else about Pekah-everything he did-is written in the official records of the kings of Israel.

2 Kings 15:32 In the second year that King Pekah, son of Remaliah, ruled Israel, Jotham, son of Azariah, began to rule as king of Judah.

2 Kings 15:33 He was 25 years old when he began to rule. He ruled for 16 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jerusha, daughter of Zadok.

2 Kings 15:34 He did what the LORD considered right, as his father Azariah had done.

2 Kings 15:35 But the illegal places of worship were not torn down. The people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense at these worship sites. Jotham built the Upper Gate of the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 15:36 Isn't everything else about Jotham-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 15:37 In those days the LORD began to use King Rezin of Aram and Pekah, son of Remaliah, to attack Judah.

2 Kings 15:38 Jotham lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in the city of his ancestor David. His son Ahaz succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 16:1 Pekah, son of Remaliah, was in his seventeenth year as king of Israel when King Ahaz, son of Jotham, began to rule as king of Judah.

2 Kings 16:2 Ahaz was 20 years old when he began to rule. He ruled for 26 years in Jerusalem. He didn't do what the LORD his God considered right, as his ancestor David had done.

2 Kings 16:3 He followed the example of the kings of Israel and even sacrificed his son by burning him alive. Sacrificing [children] was one of the disgusting things done by the nations that the LORD had forced out of the Israelites' way.

2 Kings 16:4 He offered sacrifices and burned incense as an offering at the illegal worship sites, which were on hills and under every large tree.

2 Kings 16:5 Then King Rezin of Aram and King Pekah, son of Remaliah of Israel, came to wage war against Jerusalem. They blockaded Ahaz but couldn't get him to fight.

2 Kings 16:6 At that time King Rezin of Aram drove the Judeans out of Elath and gave it back to Edom. The Edomites came to Elath and still live there today.

2 Kings 16:7 Ahaz sent messengers to King Tiglath Pileser of Assyria to say, "I'm your servant, your son. Come and save me from the kings of Aram and Israel who are attacking me."

2 Kings 16:8 Ahaz took the silver and gold he found in the LORD's temple and in the treasury in the royal palace and sent them to the king of Assyria as a present.

2 Kings 16:9 The king of Assyria listened to him and attacked Damascus. He captured it, took the people to Kir as captives, and killed Rezin.

2 Kings 16:10 Then King Ahaz went to Damascus to meet King Tiglath Pileser of Assyria. He saw an altar there in Damascus. So King Ahaz sent the priest Urijah a model of the altar and a set of detailed plans.

2 Kings 16:11 Urijah built an altar exactly like the model King Ahaz sent from Damascus. He finished it before Ahaz returned home from Damascus.

2 Kings 16:12 When the king came from Damascus, he saw the altar. The king approached the altar and went up to it.

2 Kings 16:13 He sacrificed his burnt offering and grain offering, poured out his wine offering, and sprinkled the blood of his fellowship offering on the altar.

2 Kings 16:14 But he moved the bronze altar dedicated to the LORD. It had been in front of the temple between his altar and the LORD's temple. Ahaz put it on the north side of his altar.

2 Kings 16:15 King Ahaz gave this command to the priest Urijah: "On this great altar you must burn the morning burnt offerings and the evening grain offering, the king's burnt offerings and grain offerings, and the burnt offerings, grain offerings, and wine offerings of all the people of the land. Sprinkle all the blood of the burnt offerings and [other] sacrifices on it. I will use the bronze altar for prayer."

2 Kings 16:16 The priest Urijah did what King Ahaz had commanded.

2 Kings 16:17 King Ahaz cut off the side panels of the [bronze] stands [used in the temple] and removed the basin from each of them. He took the bronze pool down from the bronze bulls that were under it and set it on a stone base.

2 Kings 16:18 Ahaz removed the covered walkway used on the day of worship. This walkway had been built in the temple. He also removed the outer entrance for the king from the LORD's temple. He did this to please the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 16:19 Isn't everything else about Ahaz-the things he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 16:20 Ahaz lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in the City of David. His son Hezekiah succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 17:1 In Ahaz's twelfth year as king of Judah, Hoshea, son of Elah, began to rule as king of Israel in Samaria. He ruled for nine years.

2 Kings 17:2 He did what the LORD considered evil, but he didn't do what the kings of Israel before him had done.

2 Kings 17:3 King Shalmaneser of Assyria defeated Hoshea, who became his servant and was required to make annual payments to him.

2 Kings 17:4 The king of Assyria found Hoshea to be a traitor. (Hoshea had sent messengers to King Dais of Egypt and had stopped making annual payments to the king of Assyria.) So the king of Assyria arrested him and put him in prison.

2 Kings 17:5 Then the king of Assyria attacked the entire country. He attacked Samaria and blockaded it for three years.

2 Kings 17:6 In Hoshea's ninth year as king of Israel, the king of Assyria captured Samaria and took the Israelites to Assyria as captives. He settled them in Halah, along the Habor River in Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

2 Kings 17:7 The Israelites sinned against the LORD their God, who brought them out of Egypt [and rescued them] from the power of Pharaoh (the king of Egypt). They worshiped other gods

2 Kings 17:8 and lived by the customs of the nations that the LORD had forced out of the Israelites' way. They also did what their kings wanted them to do.

2 Kings 17:9 The Israelites secretly did things against the LORD their God that weren't right: They built for themselves illegal places of worship in all of their cities, from the [smallest] watchtower to the [largest] fortified city.

2 Kings 17:10 They set up sacred stones and poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah on every high hill and under every large tree.

2 Kings 17:11 At all the illegal places of worship, they sacrificed in the same way as the nations that the LORD had removed from the land ahead of them. They did evil things and made the LORD furious.

2 Kings 17:12 They served idols, although the LORD had said, "Never do this."

2 Kings 17:13 The LORD had warned Israel and Judah through every kind of prophet and seer, "Turn from your evil ways, and obey my commands and decrees as I commanded your ancestors in all my teachings, the commands I sent to you through my servants the prophets."

2 Kings 17:14 But they refused to listen. They became as impossible to deal with as their ancestors who refused to trust the LORD their God.

2 Kings 17:15 They rejected his decrees, the promise he made to their ancestors, and the warnings he had given them. They went after worthless idols and became as worthless as the idols. They behaved like the nations around them, although the LORD had commanded them not to do that.

2 Kings 17:16 They abandoned all the commands of the LORD their God: They made two calves out of cast metal. They made a pole dedicated to the goddess Asherah. They prayed to the entire army of heaven. They worshiped Baal.

2 Kings 17:17 They sacrificed their sons and daughters by burning them alive. They practiced black magic and cast evil spells. They sold themselves by doing what the LORD considered evil, and they made him furious.

2 Kings 17:18 The LORD became so angry with Israel that he removed them from his sight. Only the tribe of Judah was left.

2 Kings 17:19 Even Judah didn't obey the commands of the LORD their God but lived according to Israel's customs.

2 Kings 17:20 So the LORD rejected all of Israel's descendants, made them suffer, handed them over to those who looted their property, and finally turned away from Israel.

2 Kings 17:21 When he tore Israel away from the family of David, the people of Israel made Jeroboam (Nebat's son) king. Jeroboam forced Israel away from the LORD and led them to commit a serious sin.

2 Kings 17:22 The Israelites followed all the sins Jeroboam committed and never turned away from them.

2 Kings 17:23 Finally, the LORD turned away from Israel as he had said he would through all his servants, the prophets. So the people of Israel were taken from their land to Assyria as captives, and they are still there today.

2 Kings 17:24 The king of Assyria brought people from Babylon, Cuthah, Avva, Hamath, and Sepharvaim and settled them in the cities of Samaria in place of the Israelites. They took over Samaria and lived in its cities.

2 Kings 17:25 When they first came to live there, they didn't worship the LORD. So the LORD sent lions to kill some of them.

2 Kings 17:26 Then someone said to the king of Assyria, "The people you took as captives and settled in the cities of Samaria don't know the customs of the god of that country, so he sent lions. Now the lions are killing them because they don't know the customs of the god of this country."

2 Kings 17:27 The king of Assyria gave this command: "Bring one of the priests you captured from there. Let him go back to teach them the customs of the god of that country."

2 Kings 17:28 So one of the priests who had been taken prisoner from Samaria went to live in Bethel. He taught them how to worship the LORD.

2 Kings 17:29 But each group [that settled in Samaria] continued to make its own gods. They put them at the illegal places of worship, which the people of Samaria had made. Each group did this in the cities where they lived:

2 Kings 17:30 The people from Babylon made Succoth Benoth. The people from Cuth made Nergal. The people from Hamath made Ashima.

2 Kings 17:31 The people from Avva made Nibhaz and Tartak. The people from Sepharvaim burned their children for Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim.

2 Kings 17:32 So while these people were worshiping the LORD, they also appointed all kinds of people to serve as priests for the shrines at their illegal places of worship.

2 Kings 17:33 They worshiped the LORD but also served their own gods according to the customs of the nations from which they had come.

2 Kings 17:34 Today they are still following their customs, as they've done from the beginning. They don't fear the LORD or live by the decrees, customs, teachings, or commands that the LORD gave to the descendants of Jacob (whom he named Israel).

2 Kings 17:35 When the LORD made a promise to Israel, he commanded, "Never worship other gods, bow down to them, serve them, or sacrifice to them.

2 Kings 17:36 Instead, worship the LORD, who used his great power and a mighty arm to bring you out of Egypt. Bow down to the LORD, and sacrifice to him.

2 Kings 17:37 Faithfully obey the laws, rules, teachings, and commands that he wrote for you: 'Never worship other gods.

2 Kings 17:38 Never forget the promise I made to you. Never worship other gods.

2 Kings 17:39 Instead, worship the LORD your God, and he will rescue you from your enemies.'"

2 Kings 17:40 The people of Israel had refused to listen and made up their own rules, as they had done from the beginning.

2 Kings 17:41 These [other] nations worshiped the LORD but also served their own idols. So did their children and their grandchildren. They still do whatever their ancestors did.

2 Kings 18:1 King Hoshea, son of Elah, had been king in Israel for three years when King Hezekiah, son of Ahaz of Judah, began to rule as king.

2 Kings 18:2 Hezekiah was 25 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 29 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Abi, daughter of Zechariah.

2 Kings 18:3 He did what the LORD considered right, as his ancestor David had done.

2 Kings 18:4 He got rid of the illegal places of worship, crushed the sacred stones, and cut down the poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah. He even crushed the bronze snake that Moses had made because up to that time the Israelites had been burning incense to it. They called it Nehushtan.

2 Kings 18:5 Hezekiah trusted the LORD God of Israel. No king among all the kings of Judah was like Hezekiah.

2 Kings 18:6 He was loyal to the LORD and never turned away from him. He obeyed the commands that the LORD had given through Moses,

2 Kings 18:7 so the LORD was with him. He succeeded in everything he tried: He rebelled against the king of Assyria and wouldn't serve him anymore.

2 Kings 18:8 He conquered the Philistines from the [smallest] watchtower to the [largest] fortified city all the way to Gaza and its territory.

2 Kings 18:9 In Hezekiah's fourth year as king (which was the seventh year in the reign of King Hoshea, son of Elah of Israel) King Shalmaneser of Assyria attacked Samaria, blockaded it,

2 Kings 18:10 and captured it at the end of three years. Samaria was taken in Hezekiah's sixth year as king (which was Hoshea's ninth year as king of Israel).

2 Kings 18:11 The king of Assyria took the Israelites to Assyria as captives. He put them in Halah, along the Habor River in Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

2 Kings 18:12 This happened because they refused to obey the LORD their God and disregarded the conditions of the promise he made to them. They refused to obey everything that Moses, the LORD's servant, had commanded.

2 Kings 18:13 In Hezekiah's fourteenth year as king, King Sennacherib of Assyria attacked all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.

2 Kings 18:14 Then King Hezekiah of Judah sent this message to the king of Assyria at Lachish: "I have done wrong. Go away, and leave me alone. I'll pay whatever penalty you give me." So the king of Assyria demanded that King Hezekiah of Judah pay 22,500 pounds of silver and 2,250 pounds of gold.

2 Kings 18:15 Hezekiah gave him all the silver that could be found in the LORD's temple and in the royal palace treasury.

2 Kings 18:16 At that time Hezekiah stripped [the gold] off the doors and doorposts of the LORD's temple. ([Earlier] Hezekiah had them covered [with gold].) He gave the gold to the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 18:17 Then the king of Assyria sent his commander-in-chief, his quartermaster, and his field commander with a large army from Lachish to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem. They came there and stood at the channel for the Upper Pool on the road to the Laundryman's Field.

2 Kings 18:18 When they called for King Hezekiah, Eliakim, who was in charge of the palace and was the son of Hilkiah, Shebnah the scribe, and Joah, who was the royal historian and the son of Asaph, went out to the field commander.

2 Kings 18:19 He said to them, "Tell Hezekiah, 'This is what the great king, the king of Assyria, says: What makes you so confident?

2 Kings 18:20 You give useless advice about getting ready for war. Whom, then, do you trust for support in your rebellion against me?

2 Kings 18:21 Now, look! When you trust Egypt, you're trusting a broken stick for a staff. If you lean on it, it stabs your hand and goes through it. This is what Pharaoh (the king of Egypt) is like for everyone who trusts him.

2 Kings 18:22 Suppose you tell me, "We're trusting the LORD our God." He's the god whose places of worship and altars Hezekiah got rid of. He told Judah and Jerusalem, "Worship at this altar in Jerusalem."'

2 Kings 18:23 "Now, make a deal with my master, the king of Assyria. I'll give you 2,000 horses if you can put riders on them.

2 Kings 18:24 How can you defeat my master's lowest-ranking officers when you trust Egypt for chariots and horses?

2 Kings 18:25 "Have I come to destroy this place without the LORD on my side? The LORD said to me, 'Attack this country, and destroy it.'"

2 Kings 18:26 Then Eliakim (son of Hilkiah), Shebnah, and Joah said to the field commander, "Speak to us in Aramaic, since we understand it. Don't speak to us in the Judean language as long as there are people on the wall listening."

2 Kings 18:27 But the field commander asked them, "Did my master send me to tell these things only to you and your master? Didn't he send me to the men sitting on the wall who will have to eat their own excrement and drink their own urine with you?"

2 Kings 18:28 Then the field commander stood and shouted loudly in the Judean language, "Listen to the great king, the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 18:29 This is what the king says: Don't let Hezekiah deceive you. He can't rescue you from me.

2 Kings 18:30 Don't let Hezekiah get you to trust the LORD by saying, 'The LORD will certainly rescue us, and this city will not be put under the control of the king of Assyria.'

2 Kings 18:31 Don't listen to Hezekiah, because this is what the king of Assyria says: Make peace with me! Come out and give yourselves up to me! Everyone will eat from his own grapevine and fig tree and drink from his own cistern.

2 Kings 18:32 Then I will come and take you away to a country like your own. It's a country with grain and new wine, a country with bread and vineyards, a country with olive trees, olive oil, and honey. Live! Don't die! Don’t listen to Hezekiah when he tries to mislead you by saying to you, ‘The LORD will rescue us.’

2 Kings 18:33 Did any of the gods of the nations rescue their countries from the king of Assyria?

2 Kings 18:34 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah? Did they rescue Samaria from my control?

2 Kings 18:35 Did the gods of those countries rescue them from my control? Could the LORD then rescue Jerusalem from my control?”

2 Kings 18:36 But the people were silent and didn’t say anything to him because the king commanded them not to answer him.

2 Kings 18:37 Then Eliakim, who was in charge of the palace and was the son of Hilkiah, Shebna the scribe, and Joah, who was the royal historian and the son of Asaph, went to Hezekiah with their clothes torn in grief. They told him the message from the field commander.

2 Kings 19:1 When King Hezekiah heard the message, he tore his clothes in grief, covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the LORD’s temple.

2 Kings 19:2 Then he sent Eliakim, who was in charge of the palace, Shebna the scribe, and the leaders of the priests, clothed in sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz.

2 Kings 19:3 They said to him, “This is what Hezekiah says: Today is a day filled with misery, punishment, and disgrace. We are like a woman who is about to give birth but doesn’t have the strength to do it.

2 Kings 19:4 The LORD your God may have heard all the words of the field commander. His master, the king of Assyria, sent him to defy the living God. The LORD your God may punish him because of the message that the LORD your God heard. Pray for the few people who are left.”

2 Kings 19:5 So King Hezekiah’s men went to Isaiah.

2 Kings 19:6 Isaiah answered them, “Say this to your master, ‘This is what the LORD says: Don’t be afraid of the message that you heard when the Assyrian king’s assistants slandered me.

2 Kings 19:7 I’m going to put a spirit in him so that he will hear a rumor and return to his own country. I’ll have him assassinated in his own country.’”

2 Kings 19:8 The field commander returned and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah. He had heard that the king left Lachish.

2 Kings 19:9 Now, Sennacherib heard that King Tirhakah of Sudan was coming to fight him. Sennacherib sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

2 Kings 19:10 “Tell King Hezekiah of Judah, ‘Don’t let the god whom you trust deceive you by saying that Jerusalem will not be put under the control of the king of Assyria.

2 Kings 19:11 You heard what the kings of Assyria did to all countries, how they totally destroyed them. Will you be rescued?

2 Kings 19:12 Did the gods of the nations which my ancestors destroyed rescue Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden who were in Telassar?

2 Kings 19:13 Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, and the king of the cities of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah?’”

2 Kings 19:14 Hezekiah took the letters from the messengers, read them, and went to the LORD’s temple. He spread them out in front of the LORD

2 Kings 19:15 and prayed to the LORD, “LORD of Armies, God of Israel, you are enthroned over the angels. You alone are God of all the kingdoms of the world. You made heaven and earth.

2 Kings 19:16 Turn your ear toward me, LORD, and listen. Open your eyes, LORD, and see. Listen to the message that Sennacherib sent to defy the living God.

2 Kings 19:17 It is true, LORD, that the kings of Assyria have leveled nations.

2 Kings 19:18 They have thrown the gods from these countries into fires because these gods aren’t real gods. They’re only wooden and stone statues made by human hands. So the Assyrians have destroyed them.

2 Kings 19:19 Now, LORD our God, rescue us from Assyria’s control so that all the kingdoms on earth will know that you alone are the LORD God.”

2 Kings 19:20 Then Isaiah, son of Amoz, sent a message to Hezekiah, “This is what the LORD God of Israel says: You prayed to me about King Sennacherib of Assyria. I have heard you.

2 Kings 19:21 This is the message that the LORD speaks to him, ‘My dear people in Zion despise you and laugh at you. My people in Jerusalem shake their heads behind your back.

2 Kings 19:22 Whom are you defying and slandering? Against whom are you shouting? Who are you looking at so arrogantly? It is the Holy One of Israel!

2 Kings 19:23 Through your servants you defy the Lord and say, “With my many chariots I’ll ride up the high mountains, up the slopes of Lebanon. I’ll cut down its tallest cedars and its finest cypresses. I’ll come to its most distant borders and its most fertile forests.

2 Kings 19:24 I’ll dig wells and drink foreign water. I’ll dry up all the streams of Egypt with the trampling of my feet.”

2 Kings 19:25 " 'Haven't you heard? I did this long ago. I planned it in the distant past. Now I make it happen so that you will turn fortified cities into piles of rubble.

2 Kings 19:26 Those who live in these cities are weak, discouraged, and ashamed. They will be like plants in the field, like fresh, green grass on the roofs, scorched before it sprouted.

2 Kings 19:27 I know when you [get up] and sit down, when you go out and come in, and how you rage against me.

2 Kings 19:28 Since you rage against me and your boasting has reached my ears, I will put my hook in your nose and my bridle in your mouth. I will make you go back the way you came.

2 Kings 19:29 " 'And this will be a sign for you, Hezekiah: You will eat what grows by itself this year and next year. But in the third year you will plant and harvest, plant vineyards, and eat what is produced.

2 Kings 19:30 Those few people from the nation of Judah who escape will again take root and produce crops.

2 Kings 19:31 Those few people will go out from Jerusalem, and those who escape will go out of Mount Zion. The LORD is determined to do this.'

2 Kings 19:32 "This is what the LORD says about the king of Assyria: He will never come into this city, shoot an arrow here, hold a shield in front of it, or put up dirt ramps to attack it.

2 Kings 19:33 He will go back the way he came, and he won't come into this city," declares the LORD of Armies.

2 Kings 19:34 "I will shield this city to rescue it for my sake and for the sake of my servant David."

2 Kings 19:35 It happened that night. The LORD's angel went out and killed 185,000 [soldiers] in the Assyrian camp. When the Judeans got up early in the morning, they saw all the corpses.

2 Kings 19:36 Then King Sennacherib of Assyria left. He went home to Nineveh and stayed there.

2 Kings 19:37 While he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, Adrammelech and Sharezer assassinated him and escaped to the land of Ararat. His son Esarhaddon succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 20:1 In those days Hezekiah became sick and was about to die. The prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, came to him and said, "This is what the LORD says: Give final instructions to your household, because you're about to die. You won't get well."

2 Kings 20:2 Hezekiah turned to the wall and prayed to the LORD,

2 Kings 20:3 "Please, LORD, remember how I've lived faithfully and sincerely in your presence. I've done what you consider right." And he cried bitterly.

2 Kings 20:4 Isaiah hadn't gone as far as the middle courtyard when the LORD spoke his word to him:

2 Kings 20:5 "Go back and say to Hezekiah, leader of my people, 'This is what the LORD God of your ancestor David says: I've heard your prayer. I've seen your tears. Now I'm going to heal you. The day after tomorrow you will go to the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 20:6 I'll give you 15 more years to live. I'll rescue you and defend this city from the control of the king of Assyria for my sake and for the sake of my servant David.'"

2 Kings 20:7 Then Isaiah said, "Get a fig cake, and put it on the boil so that the king will get well."

2 Kings 20:8 Hezekiah asked Isaiah, "What is the sign that the LORD will heal me and that I'll go to the LORD's temple the day after tomorrow?"

2 Kings 20:9 Isaiah said, "This is your sign from the LORD that he will do what he promises. Do you want the shadow to go forward ten steps or come back ten steps?"

2 Kings 20:10 Hezekiah replied, "It's easy for the shadow to extend ten [more] steps forward. No, let it come back ten steps."

2 Kings 20:11 Then the prophet Isaiah called on the LORD, and the LORD made the shadow that had gone down on Ahaz's stairway go back up ten steps.

2 Kings 20:12 At that time Baladan's son, King Merodach Baladan of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah because he heard that Hezekiah had been sick.

2 Kings 20:13 Hezekiah was so happy with them that he showed the messengers his warehouse: the silver, gold, balsam, fine olive oil, his entire armory, and everything in his treasury. Hezekiah showed them everything in his palace and every corner of his kingdom.

2 Kings 20:14 Then the prophet Isaiah came to King Hezekiah and asked, "What did these men say? And where did they come from?" Hezekiah answered, "They came to me from the distant country of Babylon."

2 Kings 20:15 Isaiah asked, "What did they see in your palace?" Hezekiah answered, "They saw everything in my palace, and I showed them everything in my treasury."

2 Kings 20:16 Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD!

2 Kings 20:17 The LORD says, 'The days are going to come when everything in your palace, everything your ancestors have stored up to this day, will be taken away to Babylon. Nothing will be left.

2 Kings 20:18 Some of your own descendants will be taken away. They will become officials in the palace of the king of Babylon.'"

2 Kings 20:19 Hezekiah said to Isaiah, “The LORD’s word that you have spoken is good.” He added, “Isn’t it enough if there is peace and security as long as I live?”

2 Kings 20:20 Isn’t everything else about Hezekiah, all his heroic acts and how he made the pool and tunnel to bring water into the city, written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 20:21 Hezekiah lay down in death with his ancestors. His son Manasseh succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 21:1 Manasseh was 12 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 55 years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Hephzibah.

2 Kings 21:2 He did what the LORD considered evil by copying the disgusting things done by the nations that the LORD had forced out of the Israelites’ way.

2 Kings 21:3 He rebuilt the illegal places of worship that his father Hezekiah had destroyed. He set up altars dedicated to Baal and made a pole dedicated to the goddess Asherah as King Ahab of Israel had done. Manasseh, like Ahab, worshiped and served the entire army of heaven.

2 Kings 21:4 He built altars in the LORD’s temple, where the LORD had said, “I will put my name in Jerusalem.”

2 Kings 21:5 In the two courtyards of the LORD’s temple, he built altars for the entire army of heaven.

2 Kings 21:6 He burned his son as a sacrifice, consulted fortunetellers, cast evil spells, and appointed [royal] mediums and psychics. He did many things that made the LORD furious.

2 Kings 21:7 Manasseh had an idol of Asherah made. Then he set it up in the temple, where the LORD had said to David and his son Solomon, “I have chosen this temple and Jerusalem from all the tribes of Israel. I will put my name here forever.

2 Kings 21:8 I will never again make Israel’s feet wander from the land that I gave to their ancestors if they will obey all the commands and all the Teachings that my servant Moses gave them.”

2 Kings 21:9 (But they wouldn’t obey.) Manasseh misled Israel so that they did more evil things than the nations that the LORD had destroyed when the Israelites arrived in the land.

2 Kings 21:10 Then the LORD spoke through his servants the prophets:

2 Kings 21:11 “King Manasseh of Judah has done disgusting things, things more evil than what the Amorites who [were here] before him had done. Manasseh has also made Judah sin by [worshiping] his idols.

2 Kings 21:12 So this is what I, the LORD God of Israel, said: I’m going to bring such a disaster on Jerusalem and Judah that the ears of everyone who hears about it will ring.

2 Kings 21:13 I will measure Jerusalem with the measuring line used for Samaria and the plumb line used for Ahab's dynasty. I will wipe out Jerusalem in the same way that a dish is wiped out and turned upside down.

2 Kings 21:14 I will abandon the rest of my people. I will put them under the control of their enemies, and they will become property that their enemies capture.

2 Kings 21:15 I will do this because they have done what I consider evil and have been making me furious from the time their ancestors left Egypt until this day."

2 Kings 21:16 In addition to his sin that he led Judah to commit in front of the LORD, Manasseh also killed a lot of innocent people from one end of Jerusalem to the other.

2 Kings 21:17 Isn't everything else about Manasseh-everything he did, the sins he committed-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 21:18 Manasseh lay down in death with his ancestors. He was buried in the garden of his own palace, in the garden of Uzza. His son Amon succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 21:19 Amon was 22 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 2 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Meshullemeth, daughter of Haruz from Jotbah.

2 Kings 21:20 He did what the LORD considered evil, as his father Manasseh had done.

2 Kings 21:21 He lived like his father in every way and worshiped and prayed to the idols his father had worshiped.

2 Kings 21:22 He abandoned the LORD God of his ancestors and didn't live the LORD's way.

2 Kings 21:23 Amon's officials plotted against him and killed him in his palace.

2 Kings 21:24 Then the people of the land killed everyone who had plotted against King Amon. They made his son Josiah king in his place.

2 Kings 21:25 Isn't everything else about Amon-the things he did-written in the official record of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 21:26 He was buried in his tomb in the garden of Uzza. His son Josiah succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 22:1 Josiah was 8 years old when he began to rule, and he was king for 31 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jedidah, daughter of Adaiah from Bozkath.

2 Kings 22:2 Josiah did what the LORD considered right. He lived in the ways of his ancestor David and never stopped.

2 Kings 22:3 In Josiah’s eighteenth year as king of Judah, he sent the scribe Shaphan, son of Azaliah and grandson of Meshullam, to the LORD’s temple with these instructions:

2 Kings 22:4 “Go to the chief priest Hilkiah. Have him count the money that has been brought into the LORD’s temple, [the money] that the doorkeepers have collected from the people.

2 Kings 22:5 Give [some of] it to the foremen who are in charge of the LORD’s temple. They should give it to the workmen who are making repairs on the LORD’s temple.

2 Kings 22:6 (These workers include the carpenters, builders, and masons.) Also, use [the rest of] the money to buy lumber and quarried stones to repair the temple.

2 Kings 22:7 Since the workmen are honest, don’t require them to account for the money you give them.”

2 Kings 22:8 The chief priest Hilkiah told the scribe Shaphan, “I have found the Book of Moses’ Teachings in the LORD’s temple.” Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, who then read it.

2 Kings 22:9 The scribe Shaphan went to the king and reported, “We have taken the money donated in the temple and have given it to the workmen who are in charge of the LORD’s temple.”

2 Kings 22:10 Then the scribe Shaphan told the king, “The priest Hilkiah has given me a book.” And Shaphan read it to the king.

2 Kings 22:11 When the king heard what the book of the Teachings said, he tore his clothes [in distress].

2 Kings 22:12 Then the king gave an order to the priest Hilkiah, to Ahikam (son of Shaphan), Achbor (son of Micaiah), the scribe Shaphan, and the royal official Asaiah. He said,

2 Kings 22:13 “On behalf of the people, all of Judah, and me, ask the LORD about the words in this book that has been found. The LORD’s fierce anger is directed towards us because our ancestors did not obey the things in this book or do everything written [in it].”

2 Kings 22:14 So the priest Hilkiah, Ahikam, Achbor, Shaphan, and Asaiah went to talk to the prophet Huldah. She was the wife of Shallum, son of Tikvah and grandson of Harhas. Shallum was in charge of the [royal] wardrobe. Huldah was living in the Second Part of Jerusalem.

2 Kings 22:15 She told them, “This is what the LORD God of Israel says: Tell the man who sent you to me,

2 Kings 22:16 ‘This is what the LORD says: I’m going to bring disaster on this place and on the people living here according to everything written in the book that the king of Judah has read.

2 Kings 22:17 I will do this because they have abandoned me and sacrificed to other gods in order to make me furious. Therefore, my burning anger directed at this place will never be extinguished.’”

2 Kings 22:18 [Huldah added,] “But tell Judah’s king who sent you to me to ask the LORD a question, ‘This is what the LORD God of Israel says about the words you heard:

2 Kings 22:19 You had a change of heart and humbled yourself in front of the LORD when you heard my words against this place and those who live here. I had said that those who live here will be destroyed and cursed. You also tore your clothes [in distress] and cried in front of me. So I will listen [to you], declares the LORD.

2 Kings 22:20 That is why I’m going to bring you to your ancestors. I’m going to bring you to your grave in peace, and your eyes will not see any of the disaster I’m going to bring on this place.’ “ So they reported this to the king.

2 Kings 23:1 Then the king sent for all the respected leaders of Judah and Jerusalem to join him.

2 Kings 23:2 The king, everyone in Judah, everyone living in Jerusalem, the priests, the prophets, and all the people (young and old) went to the LORD’s temple. Josiah read everything written in the Book of the Promise found in the LORD’s temple so that they could hear it.

2 Kings 23:3 The king stood beside the pillar and made a promise to the LORD that he would follow the LORD and obey his commands, instructions, and laws with all his heart and soul. He confirmed the terms of the promise written in this book. And all the people joined in the promise.

2 Kings 23:4 Then the king ordered the chief priest Hilkiah, the priests who served under Hilkiah, and the doorkeepers to take out of the LORD’s temple all the utensils that had been made for Baal, Asherah, and the entire army of heaven. Josiah burned the utensils outside Jerusalem in an open field near the Kidron Brook. Then he carried their ashes to Bethel.

2 Kings 23:5 He got rid of the pagan priests whom the kings of Judah had appointed to sacrifice at the illegal places of worship in the cities of Judah and all around Jerusalem. They had been sacrificing to Baal, the sun god, the moon god, the zodiac, and the entire army of heaven.

2 Kings 23:6 He took the pole dedicated to the goddess Asherah from the temple to the Kidron Valley outside Jerusalem. He burned it in the Kidron Valley, ground it to dust, and threw its ashes on the tombs of the common people.

2 Kings 23:7 He tore down the houses of the male temple prostitutes who were in the LORD’s temple, where women did weaving for Asherah.

2 Kings 23:8 He brought all the priests out of the cities of Judah from Geba to Beersheba and made the places where those priests sacrificed unclean. He tore down the worship site at the entrance of the Gate of Joshua, the gate named after the mayor of the city. (The worship site was to the left of anyone going through the city gate.)

2 Kings 23:9 The priests of the illegal worship sites had never gone to the LORD's altar in Jerusalem. Instead, they ate their unleavened bread among the other worshipers.

2 Kings 23:10 Josiah also made Topheth in the valley of Ben Hinnom unclean so that people would never again sacrifice their sons or daughters by burning them to the god Molech.

2 Kings 23:11 He removed the horses that Judah's kings had dedicated to the sun god at the entrance of the LORD's temple. They were in the temple courtyard near the room of the eunuch Nathan Melech. He also burned the chariots of the sun god,

2 Kings 23:12 the altars that Judah's kings had made and placed on the roof of Ahaz's upstairs room, and the altars Manasseh had made in the two courtyards of the LORD's temple. The king tore them down from there, crushed them, and dumped their rubble in the Kidron Valley.

2 Kings 23:13 The king made the illegal places of worship east of Jerusalem unclean. They were on the southern part of the Hill of Destruction. King Solomon of Israel had built them for Astarte (the disgusting goddess of the Sidonians), Chemosh (the disgusting god of Moab), and Milcom (the disgusting god of the Ammonites).

2 Kings 23:14 Josiah crushed the sacred stones, cut down the poles dedicated to Asherah, and filled their places with human bones.

2 Kings 23:15 He also tore down the altar at Bethel-the place of worship made by Jeroboam (Nebat's son), who had made Israel sin. He tore down both the altar and the place of worship. They burned the worship site, crushing it to powder and burning the pole dedicated to Asherah.

2 Kings 23:16 When Josiah turned and saw the tombs on the hill there, he sent men to take the bones out of the tombs and burn them on the altar to make it unclean. This fulfilled the word of the LORD announced by the man of God.

2 Kings 23:17 Then he asked, "What is this monument that I see?" The people of the city answered him, "It's the tomb of the man of God who came from Judah to announce that you would do these things to the altar of Bethel."

2 Kings 23:18 So Josiah said, "Let him rest. Don't disturb his bones." So they left his bones with the bones of the prophet who had come from Samaria.

2 Kings 23:19 Josiah also got rid of all the temples at the illegal places of worship in the cities of Samaria. The kings of Israel had built these places to make the LORD furious. He did to them everything that he had done to the worship places at Bethel.

2 Kings 23:20 He slaughtered all the priests of the illegal worship sites on their altars and then burned human bones on them. He went back to Jerusalem.

2 Kings 23:21 The king ordered all the people to celebrate the Passover for the LORD their God as it is written in this Book of the Promise.

2 Kings 23:22 The Passover had never been celebrated like this during the time of the judges who governed Israel or during the entire time of the kings of Israel and Judah.

2 Kings 23:23 But in the eighteenth year of King Josiah's reign, this Passover was celebrated in Jerusalem for the LORD.

2 Kings 23:24 Josiah also got rid of the mediums, psychics, family idols, other idols, and disgusting gods that could be seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem. He did this to confirm the words of the Teachings written in the book that the priest Hilkiah found in the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 23:25 No king before Josiah had turned to the LORD with all his heart, soul, and strength, as directed in Moses' Teachings. No other [king] was like Josiah.

2 Kings 23:26 But the LORD still didn't turn his hot, burning anger from Judah. After all, Manasseh had done all these things to make him furious.

2 Kings 23:27 The LORD had said, "I will put Judah out of my sight as I put Israel out of my sight. I will reject Jerusalem, the city that I chose, and I will reject the temple where I said my name would be."

2 Kings 23:28 Isn't everything else about Josiah-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 23:29 In Josiah's days Pharaoh Necoh (the king of Egypt) came to help the king of Assyria at the Euphrates River. King Josiah went to attack Necoh. When Pharaoh saw him at Megiddo, Pharaoh killed him.

2 Kings 23:30 His officers put his dead body in a chariot and brought it from Megiddo to Jerusalem. They buried Josiah in his tomb. Then the people of the land took Josiah's son Jehoahaz, anointed him, and made him king in place of his father.

2 Kings 23:31 Jehoahaz was 23 years old when he became king, and he was king for 3 months in Jerusalem. His mother was Hamutal, daughter of Jeremiah from Libnah.

2 Kings 23:32 He did what the LORD considered evil, as his ancestors had done.

2 Kings 23:33 Pharaoh Necoh made him a prisoner at Riblah in the territory of Hamath during his reign in Jerusalem and fined the country 7,500 pounds of silver and 75 pounds of gold.

2 Kings 23:34 Then Pharaoh Necoh made Josiah’s son Eliakim king in place of his father Josiah and changed Eliakim’s name to Jehoiakim. He took Jehoahaz away to Egypt, where he died.

2 Kings 23:35 Jehoiakim gave Pharaoh the silver and the gold. But he had to tax the country to pay the silver Pharaoh had demanded. He taxed each person according to his wealth so that he could get the silver and gold from the people of the land and give it to Pharaoh Necoh.

2 Kings 23:36 Jehoiakim was 25 years old when he began to rule, and he was king for 11 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Zebidah, daughter of Pedaiah from Rumah.

2 Kings 23:37 Jehoiakim did what the LORD considered evil, as his ancestors had done.

2 Kings 24:1 During Jehoiakim’s reign King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked [Judah], and Jehoiakim became subject to him for three years. Then Jehoiakim turned against him and rebelled.

2 Kings 24:2 The LORD sent raiding parties of Babylonians, Arameans, Moabites, and Ammonites against Jehoiakim to destroy Judah as the LORD had predicted through his servants the prophets.

2 Kings 24:3 Without a doubt, this happened to Judah because the LORD had commanded it to happen. He wanted to remove the people of Judah from his sight because of Manasseh’s sins-everything he had done,

2 Kings 24:4 including the innocent blood he had shed. He had a lot of innocent people in Jerusalem killed, and the LORD refused to forgive him.

2 Kings 24:5 Isn’t everything else about Jehoiakim-everything he did-written in the official records of the kings of Judah?

2 Kings 24:6 Jehoiakim lay down in death with his ancestors, and his son Jehoiakin succeeded him as king.

2 Kings 24:7 The king of Egypt didn’t leave his own country again because the king of Babylon had taken all the territory from the River of Egypt to the Euphrates River. This territory had belonged to the king of Egypt.

2 Kings 24:8 Jehoiakin was 18 years old when he began to rule as king. He was king for three months in Jerusalem. His mother was Nehushta, daughter of Elnathan from Jerusalem.

2 Kings 24:9 Jehoiakin did what the LORD considered evil, as his father had done.

2 Kings 24:10 At that time the officers of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Jerusalem. (The city was blockaded.)

2 Kings 24:11 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon arrived while his officers were blockading the city.

2 Kings 24:12 King Jehoiakin of Judah, his mother, officials, generals, and eunuchs surrendered to the king of Babylon. In the eighth year of his reign, the king of Babylon captured Jehoiakin.

2 Kings 24:13 He also took away all the treasures in the LORD's temple and the royal palace. As the LORD had predicted, Nebuchadnezzar stripped the gold off all the furnishings that King Solomon of Israel had made for the LORD's temple.

2 Kings 24:14 He captured all Jerusalem, all the generals, all the soldiers

2 Kings 24:15 He took Jehoiakin to Babylon as a captive. He also took the king's mother, wives, eunuchs, and the leading citizens of the land from Jerusalem as captives to Babylon.

2 Kings 24:16 The king of Babylon brought all 7,000 of the prominent landowners, 1,000 craftsmen and smiths, and all the men who could fight in war as captives to Babylon.

2 Kings 24:17 The king of Babylon made King Jehoiakin's Uncle Mattaniah king in his place and changed Mattaniah's name to Zedekiah.

2 Kings 24:18 Zedekiah was 21 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 11 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Hamutal, daughter of Jeremiah from Libnah.

2 Kings 24:19 Zedekiah did what the LORD considered evil, as Jehoiakim had done.

2 Kings 24:20 The LORD became angry with Jerusalem and Judah and threw the people out of his sight. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

2 Kings 25:1 On the tenth day of the tenth month of the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Jerusalem with his entire army. They set up camp and built dirt ramps around the city walls.

2 Kings 25:2 The blockade of the city lasted until Zedekiah's eleventh year as king.

2 Kings 25:3 On the ninth day of the fourth month, the famine in the city became so severe that the common people had no food.

2 Kings 25:4 The enemy broke through the city walls that night. All Judah's soldiers left on the road of the gate between the two walls beside the king's garden. While the Babylonians were attacking the city from all sides, the king took the road to the plain [of Jericho].

2 Kings 25:5 The Babylonian army pursued King Zedekiah and caught up with him in the plain of Jericho. His entire army had deserted him.

2 Kings 25:6 The Babylonians captured the king, brought him to the king of Babylon at Riblah, and passed sentence on him.

2 Kings 25:7 They slaughtered Zedekiah’s sons as he watched, and then they blinded Zedekiah. They put him in bronze shackles and took him to Babylon.

2 Kings 25:8 On the seventh day of the fifth month of Nebuchadnezzar’s nineteenth year as king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan, who was the captain of the guard and an officer of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.

2 Kings 25:9 He burned down the LORD’s temple, the royal palace, and all the houses in Jerusalem. Every important building was burned down.

2 Kings 25:10 The entire Babylonian army that was with the captain of the guard tore down the walls around Jerusalem.

2 Kings 25:11 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, captured the few people left in the city, those who surrendered to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the population.

2 Kings 25:12 The captain of the guard left some of the poorest people in the land to work in the vineyards and on the farms.

2 Kings 25:13 The Babylonians broke apart the bronze pillars of the LORD’s temple, the stands, and the bronze pool in the LORD’s temple. They shipped the bronze to Babylon.

2 Kings 25:14 They took the pots, shovels, snuffers, dishes, and all the bronze utensils used in the temple service.

2 Kings 25:15 The captain of the guard took all of the incense burners and bowls that were made of gold or silver.

2 Kings 25:16 The bronze from the two pillars, the pool, and the stands that Solomon had made for the LORD’s temple couldn’t be weighed.

2 Kings 25:17 One pillar was 27 feet high and had a bronze capital on it that was 41/2 feet high. The filigree and the pomegranates around the capital were all made of bronze. The second pillar and its filigree were the same.

2 Kings 25:18 The captain of the guard took the chief priest Seraiah, the second priest Zephaniah, and the 3 doorkeepers.

2 Kings 25:19 From the city he also took an army commander, 5 men who had access to the king whom he found in the city, the scribe who was in charge of the militia, and 60 of the common people whom he found in the city.

2 Kings 25:20 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

2 Kings 25:21 The king of Babylon executed them at Riblah in the territory of Hamath. So the people of Judah were captives when they left their land.

2 Kings 25:22 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon appointed Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, to govern the remaining people in the land of Judah.

2 Kings 25:23 When all the army commanders and their men heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah, they went to Gedaliah at Mizpah. They were Ishmael (son of Nethaniah), Johanan (son of Kareah), Seraiah (son of Tanhumeth from Netophah), and Jaazaniah from Beth Maacah and their men.

2 Kings 25:24 Gedaliah swore an oath to them and their men. He said, “Don’t be afraid of the Babylonian officers. Live in this country, serve the king of Babylon, and you will prosper.”

2 Kings 25:25 In the seventh month Ishmael (son of Nethaniah and grandson of Elishama, a descendant of the kings) went with ten men to kill Gedaliah and the Judeans and Babylonians who were with him at Mizpah.

2 Kings 25:26 Then people of all classes and the army commanders left for Egypt because they were afraid of the Babylonians.

2 Kings 25:27 On the twenty-seventh day of the twelfth month of the thirty-seventh year of the imprisonment of King Jehoiakin of Judah, King Evil Merodach of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, freed King Jehoiakin of Judah from prison.

2 Kings 25:28 He treated him well and gave him a special position higher than the other kings who were with him in Babylon.

2 Kings 25:29 Jehoiakin no longer wore prison clothes, and he ate his meals in the king’s presence as long as he lived.

2 Kings 25:30 The king of Babylon gave him a daily food allowance as long as he lived.

1 Chronicles 4:22 Jokim, Joash, Saraph, and the men of Cozeba. Saraph ruled Moab and Jashubi Lehem (according to ancient records).

1 Chronicles 4:23 They were the potters who lived at Netaim and Gederah. They lived there with the king and did his work.

1 Chronicles 4:24 Simeon’s sons were Nemuel, Jamin, Jarib, Zerah, and Shaul.

1 Chronicles 4:25 Shaul’s son was Shallum. Shallum’s son was Mibsam. Mibsam’s son was Mishma.

1 Chronicles 4:26 Mishma’s son was Hammuel. Hammuel’s son was Zaccur. Zaccur’s son was Shimei.

1 Chronicles 4:27 Shimei had 16 sons and 6 daughters. But his brothers didn’t have many children, so their entire family didn’t become as large as the people of Judah.

1 Chronicles 4:28 Simeon’s descendants lived in Beersheba, Moladah, Hazar Shual,

1 Chronicles 4:29 Bilhah, Ezem, Tolad,

1 Chronicles 4:30 Bethuel, Hormah, Ziklag,

1 Chronicles 4:31 Beth Marcaboth, Hazar Susim, Beth Biri, and Shaaraim. These were their cities until David became king.

1 Chronicles 4:32 Their five cities were Etam, Ain, Rimmon, Tochen, and Ashan.

1 Chronicles 4:33 They also had all the villages around these cities as far as the city of Baal. These places were where they lived, and they had their own genealogical records:

1 Chronicles 4:34 Meshobab, Jamlech, Joshah (son of Amaziah),

1 Chronicles 4:35 Joel, Jehu (son of Joshibiah, grandson of Seraiah, and great-grandson of Asiel),

1 Chronicles 4:36 Elioenai, Jaakobah, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, Benaiah, and

1 Chronicles 4:37 Ziza (son of Shiphi, grandson of Allon, great-grandson of Jedaiah, a descendant of Shimri and Shemaiah).

1 Chronicles 4:38 These who are mentioned by name were leaders in their families, and the number of people in their households increased.

1 Chronicles 4:39 They moved to the outskirts of Gedor, on the east side of the valley, to find pasture for their flocks.

1 Chronicles 4:40 They found pasture that was rich and good. The land was vast, peaceful, and quiet because the Hamites used to live there.

1 Chronicles 4:41 In the days of King Hezekiah of Judah, the men listed here knocked down tents and killed the Meunites. They claimed the Meunites for God and destroyed them. (Even today no Meunites live there.) They lived in that land in place of the Meunites in order to have pasture for their flocks.

1 Chronicles 4:42 Ishi's sons Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel led 500 of Simeon's male descendants to Mount Seir.

1 Chronicles 4:43 They killed the Amalekites who were left. Simeon's descendants still live there today.

1 Chronicles 5:1 These are the sons of Reuben, Israel's firstborn. (Although he was the firstborn, his rights as firstborn were given to his nephews, Joseph's sons, because he dishonored his father's bed. However, Joseph couldn't be listed in the genealogy as the firstborn son.

1 Chronicles 5:2 Even though Judah was more prominent than his brothers and the prince was to come from him, Joseph received the rights as firstborn.)

1 Chronicles 5:3 The sons of Reuben, Israel's firstborn, were Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

1 Chronicles 5:4 Joel's son was Shemaiah. Shemaiah's son was Gog. Gog's son was Shimei.

1 Chronicles 5:5 Shimei's son was Micah. Micah's son was Reaiah. Reaiah's son was Baal.

1 Chronicles 5:6 Baal's son was Beerah. King Tiglath Pilneser of Assyria took him away as a captive. He was leader of the tribe of Reuben.

1 Chronicles 5:7 Beerah's brothers according to their families, when they were enrolled in the genealogical records according to their ancestry, were as follows: The first was Jeiel, then Zechariah

1 Chronicles 5:8 and Bela (son of Azaz, grandson of Shema, and great-grandson of Joel). Reuben's descendants lived in Aroer as far as Nebo and Baal Meon.

1 Chronicles 5:9 Some of them lived eastward as far as the edge of the desert that extends to the Euphrates River, because they had so much livestock in Gilead.

1 Chronicles 5:10 In Saul's day they fought a war against the Hagrites, defeated them, and lived in their tents throughout the entire region east of Gilead.

1 Chronicles 5:11 Gad's descendants lived next to Reuben's descendants in Bashan as far [east] as Salcah.

1 Chronicles 5:12 One family descended from Gad's first son Joel. Another family descended from Gad's second son Shapham. Other families descended from Gad's sons Janai and Shaphat in Bashan.

1 Chronicles 5:13 Their seven relatives by families were Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jacan, Zia, and Eber.

1 Chronicles 5:14 These were the sons of Abihail, who was the son of Huri, grandson of Jaroah, and great-grandson of Gilead. Gilead was the son of Michael, grandson of Jeshishai, great-grandson of Jahdo, and great-great-grandson of Buz.

1 Chronicles 5:15 Ahi, son of Abdiel and grandson of Guni, was the head of their families.

1 Chronicles 5:16 They lived in Gilead, in Bashan and its villages, and in the entire pastureland of Sharon to its extreme edges.

1 Chronicles 5:17 All these people were recorded in genealogical records in the days of King Jotham of Judah and King Jeroboam of Israel.

1 Chronicles 5:18 The descendants of Reuben, Gad, and half of the tribe of Manasseh had 44,760 soldiers ready to go to war. They were skilled fighters who could carry shields and swords and shoot arrows.

1 Chronicles 5:19 They went to war against Hagar's descendants (including Jetur, Naphish, and Nodab)

1 Chronicles 5:20 and received help while fighting them. Hagar's descendants and the nations with them were handed over to Reuben's descendants. They had called out to God during the battle, and he answered their prayers because they trusted him.

1 Chronicles 5:21 They confiscated the Hagrites' livestock: 50,000 of their camels, 250,000 sheep and goats, and 2,000 donkeys. They captured 100,000 people.

1 Chronicles 5:22 Many were killed in battle because this was God's war. Reuben, Gad, and half of the tribe of Manasseh lived in the Hagrites' land until the Assyrians captured them.

1 Chronicles 5:23 Half of the tribe of Manasseh lived in the land from Bashan to Baal Hermon, Senir, and Mount Hermon. The tribe members were numerous.

1 Chronicles 5:24 These were the heads of Manasseh's families: Epher, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel. They were soldiers who were famous heads of their families.

1 Chronicles 5:25 But Gad, Reuben, and half of the tribe of Manasseh were unfaithful to the God of their ancestors. They chased after the gods of the people of the land as if they were prostitutes. God had destroyed these people as the Israelites arrived.

1 Chronicles 5:26 Then the God of Israel led King Pul of Assyria (King Tiglath Pilneser of Assyria) to take Reuben, Gad, and half of the tribe of Manasseh into captivity. He brought them to Halah, Habor, Hara, and the Gozan River. They are still there today.

1 Chronicles 9:13 Their relatives who were heads of their families totaled 1,760 soldiers. They served in God's temple and settled in Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 9:14 From the Levites descended from Merari were Shemaiah (son of Hasshub, grandson of Azrikam, and great-grandson of Hashabiah),

1 Chronicles 9:15 Bakbakkar, Heresh, Galal, Mattaniah (son of Mica, grandson of Zichri, and great-grandson of Asaph),

1 Chronicles 9:16 Obadiah (son of Shemaiah, grandson of Galal, and great-grandson of Jeduthun), and Berechiah (son of Asa and grandson of Elkanah, who lived in the villages belonging to the Netophathites).

1 Chronicles 9:17 The gatekeepers were Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman, and their relatives. (Shallum was in charge.)

1 Chronicles 9:18 Formerly, they were stationed at the king's gate on the east side. They were the gatekeepers for the Levite quarters.

1 Chronicles 9:19 Shallum (son of Kore, grandson of Ebiasaph, great-grandson of Korah) and the members of his family (Korah's descendants) were responsible for serving as watchmen at the entrances to the tent, as their ancestors had been in charge of guarding the entrances to the LORD's camp.

1 Chronicles 9:20 (Phinehas, Eleazar's son, had been the official in charge of the gatekeepers, and the LORD was with him.)

1 Chronicles 9:21 Zechariah, son of Meshelemiah, was the keeper at the entrance to the tent of meeting.

1 Chronicles 9:22 The men chosen to be gatekeepers at the entrances totaled 212. Their genealogies were recorded in their villages. David and the seer Samuel appointed them to these positions because they were trustworthy.

1 Chronicles 9:23 So they and their descendants were assigned to be gatekeepers for the LORD’s house, that is, the tent.

1 Chronicles 9:24 The gatekeepers were on the four sides (east, west, north, and south).

1 Chronicles 9:25 Their relatives had to come from their villages from time to time. They would come to serve under the gatekeepers’ supervision for a period of seven days.

1 Chronicles 9:26 The four chief Levite gatekeepers were in charge of the rooms and treasures in God’s temple because of their faithfulness.

1 Chronicles 9:27 They would spend the night stationed around God’s temple because they had to guard it and open it every morning.

1 Chronicles 9:28 Some of them were in charge of the utensils for worship. They would count them when they brought them in and when they took them out.

1 Chronicles 9:29 Other descendants of Korah were placed in charge of the utensils, the holy utensils, the flour, wine, olive oil, incense, and spices.

1 Chronicles 9:30 Some of the priests’ sons prepared the mixture of spices.

1 Chronicles 9:31 Mattithiah, a Levite, the firstborn son of Shallum, Korah’s descendant, was entrusted with preparing the flat bread.

1 Chronicles 9:32 Some of their Kohathite relatives were responsible for setting the bread out in rows every day of worship.

1 Chronicles 9:33 These were the musicians who were the heads of the Levite families. They lived in rooms in the temple and were free from other duties because they were on duty day and night.

1 Chronicles 9:34 They were the heads of the Levite families according to their ancestry. These head Levites lived in Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 9:35 Jeiel, who first settled Gibeon, lived in Gibeon, and his wife’s name was Maacah.

1 Chronicles 9:36 His firstborn son was Abdon, then Zur, Kish, Baal, Nadab,

1 Chronicles 9:37 Gedor, Ahio, Zechariah, and Mikloth.

1 Chronicles 9:38 Mikloth was the father of Shimeam. They lived next to their relatives in Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 9:39 Ner was the father of Kish. Kish was the father of Saul. Saul was the father of Jonathan, Malchishua, Abinadab, and Eshbaal.

1 Chronicles 9:40 Jonathan’s son was Meribbaal, and Meribbaal was the father of Micah.

1 Chronicles 9:41 Micah’s sons were Pithon, Melech, and Tarea.

1 Chronicles 9:42 Ahaz was the father of Jarah. Jarah was the father of Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri. Zimri was the father of Moza.

1 Chronicles 9:43 Moza was the father of Binea. Binea’s son was Rephaiah. Rephaiah’s son was Eleasah. Eleasah’s son was Azel.

1 Chronicles 9:44 Azel had six sons. Their names were Azrikam, Bocheru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan. All of these men were Azel’s sons.

1 Chronicles 10:1 When the Philistines fought against Israel, the men of Israel fled from the Philistines and were killed in battle on Mount Gilboa.

1 Chronicles 10:2 The Philistines caught up to Saul and his sons. They killed Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua, Saul’s sons.

1 Chronicles 10:3 The heaviest fighting was against Saul. When the archers got him in their range, he was wounded by them.

1 Chronicles 10:4 Saul told his armorbearer, “Draw your sword! Stab me, or these godless men will come and make fun of me.” But his armorbearer refused because he was terrified. So Saul took the sword and fell on it.

1 Chronicles 10:5 When the armorbearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on the sword and died.

1 Chronicles 10:6 So Saul, his three sons, and his dynasty died together.

1 Chronicles 10:7 When all the people of Israel in the valley saw that [their army] had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their cities. So the Philistines came to live in these cities.

1 Chronicles 10:8 The next day, when the Philistines came to strip the dead, they found Saul and his sons lying on Mount Gilboa.

1 Chronicles 10:9 They stripped him and took his head and his armor. Then they sent men throughout Philistine territory to tell their idols and the people this good news.

1 Chronicles 10:10 They put his armor in the temple of their gods and fastened his head to the temple of Dagon.

1 Chronicles 10:11 When all the people of Jabesh Gilead heard about everything the Philistines had done to Saul,

1 Chronicles 10:12 all the fighting men came and took away the dead bodies of Saul and his sons and brought them to Jabesh. They buried the bones under the oak tree in Jabesh. Then they fasted seven days.

1 Chronicles 10:13 So Saul died because of his unfaithfulness to the LORD: He did not obey the word of the LORD. He asked a medium to request information [from a dead person].

1 Chronicles 10:14 He didn’t request information from the LORD. So the LORD killed him and turned the kingship over to David, Jesse’s son.

1 Chronicles 11:1 All Israel gathered around David at Hebron. “We are your own flesh and blood,” they said.

1 Chronicles 11:2 “Even in the past when Saul ruled, you were the one who led Israel on its campaigns to war. The LORD your God has said to you, ‘You will be shepherd of my people Israel, the leader of my people Israel.’”

1 Chronicles 11:3 All the leaders of Israel had come to Hebron. David made an agreement with them at Hebron in front of the LORD. So they anointed David king of Israel, as the LORD had spoken through Samuel.

1 Chronicles 11:4 David and all Israel went to Jerusalem (that is, Jebus). The Jebusites were living in that region.

1 Chronicles 11:5 They told David, “You will never get in here.” But David captured the fortress Zion (that is, the City of David).

1 Chronicles 11:6 Now, David said, “Whoever is the first to kill a Jebusite will be made a general and a prince.” Zeruiah’s son Joab was the first to go [into Jerusalem], so he became the general.

1 Chronicles 11:7 David lived in the fortress, so it was called the City of David.

1 Chronicles 11:8 He built the city [of Jerusalem] around it, starting from the Millo and making a complete circuit. Joab rebuilt the rest of the city.

1 Chronicles 11:9 David continued to grow more powerful because the LORD of Armies was with him.

1 Chronicles 11:10 Now, these were the commanders of David’s fighting men, who exercised power with him in his kingdom, and with all Israel they made him king according to the LORD’s word to Israel.

1 Chronicles 11:11 The first of David’s fighting men was Jashobeam, son of Hachmon, the leader of the three. He used his spear to kill 300 men on one occasion.

1 Chronicles 11:12 Next in rank to him was Eleazar, another one of the three fighting men. He was the son of Dodo and grandson of Aho.

1 Chronicles 11:13 Eleazar was with David at Pas Dammim when the Philistines gathered there for battle. There was a field of ripe barley. When the troops fled from the Philistines,

1 Chronicles 11:14 they stood in the middle of the field and defended it by killing Philistines. So the LORD saved [them] with an impressive victory.

1 Chronicles 11:15 Once three of the thirty leading men went down to David’s rock at the cave of Adullam when the army of the Philistines was camping in the valley of Rephaim.

1 Chronicles 11:16 While David was in the fortified camp, Philistine troops were in Bethlehem.

1 Chronicles 11:17 David was thirsty and said, “I wish I could have a drink of water from the cistern at the city gate of Bethlehem.”

1 Chronicles 11:18 So the three burst into the Philistine camp and drew water from the cistern. They brought it to David, but he refused to drink it. He poured it out [as an offering] to the LORD

1 Chronicles 11:19 and said, “It’s unthinkable that I would do this, God. Should I drink the blood of these men who risked their lives? They had to risk their lives to get this water.” So he refused to drink it. These are the things which the three fighting men did.

1 Chronicles 11:20 Joab’s brother Abishai was the leader of the thirty. He used his spear to kill 300 men, but he was not one of the three,

1 Chronicles 11:21 although he was honored more than they were. So he became their captain but didn’t become a member of the three.

1 Chronicles 11:22 Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, was from Kabzeel and was a brave man who did many things. He killed two distinguished soldiers from Moab. He also went into a cistern and killed a lion on the day it snowed.

1 Chronicles 11:23 He killed an eight-foot-tall Egyptian. The Egyptian had a spear like a weaver’s beam in his hand. But Benaiah went to him with a club, grabbed the spear away from him, and killed him with it.

1 Chronicles 11:24 These are the things that Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, did. He was as famous as the three fighting men.

1 Chronicles 11:25 He was honored more than the thirty, but he was not a member of the three. David put him in charge of his bodyguards.

1 Chronicles 11:26 The distinguished fighting men were Joab’s brother Asahel, Elhanan (son of Dodo) from Bethlehem,

1 Chronicles 11:27 Shammoth from Harod, Helez the Pelonite,

1 Chronicles 11:28 Ira (son of Ikkesh) from Tekoa, Abiezer from Anathoth,

1 Chronicles 11:29 Sibbecai (son of Hushai), Ilai (descendant of Ahohi),

1 Chronicles 11:30 Maharai from Netophah, Heled (son of Baanah) from Netophah,

1 Chronicles 11:31 Ithai (son of Ribai) from Gibeah in Benjamin, Benaiah from Pirathon,

1 Chronicles 11:32 Hurai from the Gaash ravines, Abiel from Beth Arabah,

1 Chronicles 11:33 Azmaveth from Bahurim, Eliahba from Shaalbon,

1 Chronicles 11:34 Bene Hashem from Gizon, Jonathan (son of Shage the Hararite),

1 Chronicles 11:35 Ahiam (son of Sachar the Hararite), Eliphal (son of Ur),

1 Chronicles 11:36 Hepher the Mecherathite, Ahijah the Pelonite,

1 Chronicles 11:37 Hezro from Carmel, Naari (son of Ezbai),

1 Chronicles 11:38 Joel (son of Nathan), Mibhar (son of Hagri),

1 Chronicles 11:39 Zelek from Ammon, Naharai from Beroth, armorbearer for Zeruiah's son Joab,

1 Chronicles 11:40 Ira (descendant of Ithra), Gareb (descendant of Ithra),

1 Chronicles 11:41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabad (son of Ahlai),

1 Chronicles 11:42 Adina (son of Shiza) from the tribe of Reuben (who was leader of the tribe of Reuben and had his own group of thirty soldiers),

1 Chronicles 11:43 Hanan (son of Maacah), and Joshaphat the Mithnite,

1 Chronicles 11:44 Uzzia from Ashteroth, Shama and Jeiel (sons of Hotham from Aroer),

1 Chronicles 11:45 Jediael (son of Shimri) and his brother Joha the Tizite,

1 Chronicles 11:46 Eliel the Mahavite, Jeribai and Joshaviah (sons of Elnaam), Ithmah from Moab,

1 Chronicles 11:47 Eliel, Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobaite.

1 Chronicles 12:1 These are the men who came to David at Ziklag when he was banished by Saul, son of Kish. They were among the soldiers who went into battle with David.

1 Chronicles 12:2 They were armed with bows and could sling stones or shoot arrows with either their right or their left hands. They were Saul's relatives, [from the tribe of] Benjamin.

1 Chronicles 12:3 Ahiezer was the leader, then Joash (they were the sons of Shemaah from Gibeah), Azmaveth's sons Jeziel and Pelet, Beracah and Jehu from Anathoth,

1 Chronicles 12:4 Ishmaiah from Gibeon (one of the thirty fighting men and one of their leaders), Jeremiah, Jahaziel, Johanan, and Jozabad from Gederah,

1 Chronicles 12:5 Eluzai, Jerimoth, Bealiah, Shemariah, and Shephatiah from Haruph,

1 Chronicles 12:6 Elkanah, Isshiah, Azarel, Joezer, and Jashobeam (Korah's descendants),

1 Chronicles 12:7 and Joelah and Zebadiah, Jeroham's sons from Gedor.

1 Chronicles 12:8 Some men left Gad to join David at the fortified camp in the desert. They were warriors, trained soldiers, able to fight with shields and spears. They looked like lions and were as fast as gazelles on the hills.

1 Chronicles 12:9 Ezer was the first of these soldiers. The second was Obadiah. The third was Eliab.

1 Chronicles 12:10 The fourth was Mishmannah. The fifth was Jeremiah.

1 Chronicles 12:11 The sixth was Attai. The seventh was Eliel.

1 Chronicles 12:12 The eighth was Johanan. The ninth was Elzabad.

1 Chronicles 12:13 The tenth was Jeremiah. The eleventh was Machbannai.

1 Chronicles 12:14 These descendants of Gad were army officers. The least able one was in command of 100 men, and the best one was in command of 1,000.

1 Chronicles 12:15 In the first month of the year, these men crossed the Jordan River when it was flooding its banks. They chased away all the people in the valleys to the east and west.

1 Chronicles 12:16 Some of the men of Benjamin and Judah came to David at the fortified camp.

1 Chronicles 12:17 David went to meet them. He told them, "If you've come to help me as friends would, then you may join me. But if you've come to betray me to my enemies, even though I haven't committed a crime, may the God of our ancestors see this and judge you."

1 Chronicles 12:18 Then the Spirit gave Amasai, the leader of the thirty, the strength [to say], "We are yours, David. We are with you, son of Jesse. Success, success to you! Success to those who help you, because your God is helping you." So David welcomed them and made them officers over his troops.

1 Chronicles 12:19 Some men from Manasseh had deserted [Saul's army] to join David when he went with the Philistines to attack Saul. (However, David didn't help the Philistines because their rulers sent him away after considering the matter. They said, "It will cost us our heads when he deserts and joins his master Saul.")

1 Chronicles 12:20 When David went to Ziklag, these men from Manasseh deserted to join him: Adnah, Jozabad, Jediael, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai. Each one was an officer over 1,000 men in Manasseh.

1 Chronicles 12:21 They helped David fight raiding parties because they were all warriors, commanders in the army.

1 Chronicles 12:22 From day to day, men came to help David until he had an army as large as God's army.

1 Chronicles 12:23 These are the numbers of the men equipped for war. The men joined David at Hebron to turn Saul's kingship over to David, as the LORD had said.

1 Chronicles 12:24 From Judah's descendants there were 6,800 men equipped for war. They carried shields and spears.

1 Chronicles 12:25 From Simeon's descendants there were 7,100 warriors.

1 Chronicles 12:26 From Levi's descendants there were 4,600

1 Chronicles 12:27 as well as Jehoiada (leader of Aaron's families). With him there were 3,700 men,

1 Chronicles 12:28 and Zadok, a young warrior from whose family came 22 officers.

1 Chronicles 12:29 From Benjamin's descendants, Saul's relatives, there were 3,000 men, though most of them remained loyal to Saul's family.

1 Chronicles 12:30 From Ephraim's descendants there were 20,800 warriors who were famous among their families.

1 Chronicles 12:31 From half of the tribe of Manasseh there were 18,000 who had been designated by name to make David king.

1 Chronicles 12:32 From Issachar's descendants there were 200 leaders who understood the times and knew what Israel should do. Their relatives were under their command.

1 Chronicles 12:33 From Zebulun there were 50,000 experienced soldiers. They were equipped for battle with every kind of weapon. Their loyalty was unquestioned.

1 Chronicles 12:34 From Naphtali there were 1,000 commanders. With them were 37,000 who fought with shields and spears.

1 Chronicles 12:35 From Dan there were 28,600 ready for battle.

1 Chronicles 12:36 From Asher there were 40,000 experienced soldiers ready for battle.

1 Chronicles 12:37 From the east side of the Jordan River, from Reuben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, there were 120,000 soldiers ready to fight with all kinds of weapons.

1 Chronicles 12:38 All of these soldiers, who were prepared for battle, came with a single purpose to Hebron-to make David king of all Israel. The rest of Israel also had agreed to make David king.

1 Chronicles 12:39 They ate and drank with David for three days because their relatives [in Judah] had provided enough for them.

1 Chronicles 12:40 Also, their neighbors as far as the territories of Issachar, Zebulun, and Naphtali brought food on donkeys, camels, mules, and oxen. There was plenty of flour, fig cakes, raisins, wine, olive oil, cattle, and sheep, because Israel was celebrating.

1 Chronicles 13:1 David consulted with every officer who commanded a regiment or battalion.

1 Chronicles 13:2 Then he told the whole assembly of Israel, “If you approve and if the LORD our God has consented, we will send [an invitation] to the rest of our relatives in every region of Israel and to the priests and Levites in their cities and pasturelands so that they may join us.

1 Chronicles 13:3 Then we’ll bring back our God’s ark, which we ignored while Saul was king.”

1 Chronicles 13:4 The whole assembly agreed to this because the people considered it the right thing to do.

1 Chronicles 13:5 So David gathered all Israel from the Shihor River near Egypt to the border of Hamath in order to bring God’s ark from Kiriath Jearim.

1 Chronicles 13:6 David and all Israel went to Baalah in Kiriath Jearim, which is in Judah, to bring God’s ark [to Jerusalem]. (The LORD is enthroned over the angels [on the ark] where his name is used.)

1 Chronicles 13:7 David and his men put God’s ark on a new cart from Abinadab’s home. Uzzah and Ahio guided the cart.

1 Chronicles 13:8 David and all Israel were celebrating in God’s presence with all their might, with songs, with lyres, harps, tambourines, cymbals, and trumpets.

1 Chronicles 13:9 But when they came to Chidon’s threshing floor, the oxen stumbled. So Uzzah reached out to grab the ark.

1 Chronicles 13:10 The LORD became angry with Uzzah and killed him for reaching for the ark. He died in God’s presence.

1 Chronicles 13:11 David was angry because the LORD had struck Uzzah so violently. (That place is still called Perez Uzzah [The Striking of Uzzah] today.)

1 Chronicles 13:12 David was afraid of God that day. “How can I bring God’s ark to my [city]?” he asked.

1 Chronicles 13:13 So he didn’t bring God’s ark to his [home], the City of David. Instead, he rerouted it to the home of Obed Edom, who was from Gath.

1 Chronicles 13:14 God’s ark stayed at the home of Obed Edom with his family for three months, and the LORD blessed Obed Edom’s family and everything he owned.

1 Chronicles 14:1 King Hiram of Tyre sent messengers to David, along with cedarwood, masons, and carpenters to build a palace for David.

1 Chronicles 14:2 So David realized that the LORD had established him as king of Israel and that his kingdom was made famous for the sake of Israel, the LORD’s people.

1 Chronicles 14:3 David married more wives in Jerusalem and fathered more sons and daughters.

1 Chronicles 14:4 These are the names of the children who were born to him in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,

1 Chronicles 14:5 Ibhar, Elishua, Elpelet,

1 Chronicles 14:6 Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia,

1 Chronicles 14:7 Elishama, Beeliada, and Eliphelet.

1 Chronicles 14:8 When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king of Israel, all of them came to attack David. But David heard about it and went out to meet them.

1 Chronicles 14:9 The Philistines had come and raided the valley of Rephaim.

1 Chronicles 14:10 David asked God, “Should I attack the Philistines? Will you hand them over to me?” The LORD answered him, “Attack! I will hand them over to you.”

1 Chronicles 14:11 So David [and his men] attacked and defeated the Philistines at Baal Perazim. David said, “Using my power like an overwhelming flood, God has overwhelmed my enemies.” That is why they call that place Baal Perazim [The Lord Overwhelms].

1 Chronicles 14:12 The Philistines left their gods there, so David ordered that the gods be burned.

1 Chronicles 14:13 The Philistines again raided the valley.

1 Chronicles 14:14 Once more David asked God. God answered him, “Don’t go after them. Circle around, and come at them in front of the balsam trees.

1 Chronicles 14:15 As you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the balsam trees, then go out and fight because God has gone ahead of you to defeat the Philistine army.”

1 Chronicles 14:16 David did as God ordered him, and his men defeated the Philistine army from Gibeon to Gezer.

1 Chronicles 14:17 David’s fame spread through all lands, and the LORD made all the nations fear him.

1 Chronicles 15:1 After David constructed buildings for himself in the City of David, he prepared a place for God’s ark and set up a tent for it.

1 Chronicles 15:2 Then David insisted that only the Levites carry God’s ark because the LORD had chosen them to carry his ark and to serve him forever.

1 Chronicles 15:3 David called together all Israel at Jerusalem to bring the LORD's ark to the place he had prepared for it.

1 Chronicles 15:4 David also called together Aaron's descendants and the Levites.

1 Chronicles 15:5 Leading Kohath's descendants was Uriel, who came with 120 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:6 Leading Merari's descendants was Asaiah, who came with 220 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:7 Leading Gershom's descendants was Joel, who came with 130 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:8 Leading Elizaphan's descendants was Shemaiah, who came with 200 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:9 Leading Hebron's descendants was Eliel, who came with 80 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:10 Leading Uzziel's descendants was Amminadab, who came with 112 of his relatives.

1 Chronicles 15:11 David called for the priests Zadok and Abiathar and for the Levites Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab.

1 Chronicles 15:12 He said to them, "You are the heads of the Levite families. You and your relatives must perform the ceremonies to make yourselves holy. Then bring the ark of the LORD God of Israel to the place I prepared for it.

1 Chronicles 15:13 Because you weren't there the first time, the LORD our God struck us. We hadn't dedicated our lives to serving him in the way [he] designated."

1 Chronicles 15:14 So the priests and the Levites made themselves holy in order to move the ark of the LORD God of Israel.

1 Chronicles 15:15 The Levites carried God's ark on their shoulders. They used poles as Moses had commanded according to the LORD's instructions.

1 Chronicles 15:16 David told the Levite leaders to appoint some of their relatives to serve as musicians. They were expected to play music on harps, lyres, and cymbals to produce joyful music for singing.

1 Chronicles 15:17 So the Levites appointed Heman, son of Joel, and from his relatives they appointed Asaph, Berechiah's son. From their own relatives, Merari's descendants, they appointed Ethan, son of Kushaiah.

1 Chronicles 15:18 In addition, they appointed their relatives from the second division: Zechariah, Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, and Mikneiah. Obed Edom and Jeiel were appointed gatekeepers.

1 Chronicles 15:19 The musicians Heman, Asaph, and Ethan were appointed to play bronze cymbals.

1 Chronicles 15:20 Zechariah, Jaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah were appointed to play harps according to [alamoth].

1 Chronicles 15:21 Mattithiah, Eliphelehu, Mikneiah, Obed Edom, Jeiel, and Azaziah were appointed to play lyres and to conduct the [sheminith].

1 Chronicles 15:22 Chenaniah, a Levite leader, instructed others how to sing prophetic songs because he was skilled at it.

1 Chronicles 15:23 Berechiah and Elkanah were gatekeepers for the ark.

1 Chronicles 15:24 The priests Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer blew trumpets in front of God's ark. Obed Edom and Jehiah were doorkeepers for the ark.

1 Chronicles 15:25 So David, the leaders of Israel, and the army's commanders joyfully went to get the ark of the LORD's promise from Obed Edom's house.

1 Chronicles 15:26 Because God helped the Levites who carried the ark of the LORD's promise, they sacrificed seven bulls and seven rams.

1 Chronicles 15:27 David was dressed in a fine linen robe, as were all the Levites who carried the ark, the [Levites who were] singers, and Chenaniah, the leader of the musicians' prophetic songs. David also wore a linen ephod.

1 Chronicles 15:28 All Israel brought the ark of the LORD's promise with shouts of joy and the sounding of rams' horns, trumpets, cymbals, harps, and lyres.

1 Chronicles 15:29 When the ark of the LORD's promise came to the City of David, Saul's daughter Michal looked out of a window and saw King David dancing and celebrating, so she despised him.

1 Chronicles 16:1 The men carrying the ark set it inside the tent David had put up for it. They presented burnt offerings and fellowship offerings in God's presence.

1 Chronicles 16:2 When David had finished sacrificing burnt offerings and fellowship offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD.

1 Chronicles 16:3 He also distributed to every person in Israel-both men and women-a loaf of bread, a date cake, and a raisin cake.

1 Chronicles 16:4 David appointed some Levites to serve in front of the LORD's ark by offering prayers, thanks, and praise to the LORD God of Israel.

1 Chronicles 16:5 Asaph was the head; Zechariah was second, then Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, Obed Edom, and Jeiel with harps and lyres. Asaph played the cymbals.

1 Chronicles 16:6 The priests Benaiah and Jahaziel played trumpets all the time in front of the ark of God's promise.

1 Chronicles 16:7 For the first time David entrusted Asaph and his relatives with the task of singing songs of thanks to the LORD:

1 Chronicles 16:8 "Give thanks to the LORD. Call on his name. Make known among the nations what he has done.

1 Chronicles 16:9 Sing to him. Make music to praise him. Meditate on all the miracles he has done.

1 Chronicles 16:10 Brag about his holy name. Let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice.

1 Chronicles 16:11 Search for the LORD and his strength. Always seek his presence.

1 Chronicles 16:12 Remember the miracles he performed, the amazing things he did and the judgments he pronounced,

1 Chronicles 16:13 you descendants of Israel, his servant, you descendants of Jacob, his chosen ones.

1 Chronicles 16:14 "He is the LORD our God. His judgments are pronounced throughout the earth.

1 Chronicles 16:15 Remember his promise forever, the word that he commanded for a thousand generations,

1 Chronicles 16:16 the promise that he made to Abraham, and his sworn promise to Isaac.

1 Chronicles 16:17 He confirmed it as a law for Jacob, as an everlasting promise to Israel,

1 Chronicles 16:18 by saying, 'I will give you Canaan. It is your share of the inheritance.'

1 Chronicles 16:19 "While they were few in number, a small group of foreigners living in that land,

1 Chronicles 16:20 they wandered from nation to nation and from one kingdom to another.

1 Chronicles 16:21 He didn't permit anyone to oppress them. He warned kings about them:

1 Chronicles 16:22 'Do not touch my anointed ones or harm my prophets.'

1 Chronicles 16:23 "Sing to the LORD, all the earth! Day after day announce that the LORD saves his people.

1 Chronicles 16:24 Tell people about his glory. Tell all the nations about his miracles.

1 Chronicles 16:25 "The LORD is great! He should be highly praised. He should be feared more than all [other] gods

1 Chronicles 16:26 because all the gods of the nations are idols. The LORD made the heavens.

1 Chronicles 16:27 Splendor and majesty are in his presence. Strength and joy are where he is.

1 Chronicles 16:28 “Give to the LORD, you families of the nations. Give to the LORD glory and power.

1 Chronicles 16:29 Give to the LORD the glory his name deserves. Bring an offering, and come to him. Worship the LORD in [his] holy splendor.

1 Chronicles 16:30 Tremble in his presence, all the earth! “The earth stands firm; it cannot be moved.

1 Chronicles 16:31 Let the heavens rejoice and the earth be glad. Say to the nations, ‘The LORD rules as king!’

1 Chronicles 16:32 Let the sea and everything in it roar like thunder. Let the fields and everything in them rejoice.

1 Chronicles 16:33 Then the trees in the forest will sing with joy in the presence of the LORD when he comes to judge the earth.

1 Chronicles 16:34 “Give thanks to the LORD because he is good, because his mercy endures forever.

1 Chronicles 16:35 Say, ‘Rescue us, O God our Savior. Gather us and save us from the nations so that we may give thanks to your holy name and make your praise our glory.’

1 Chronicles 16:36 Thanks be to the LORD God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting.” Then all the people said amen and praised the LORD.

1 Chronicles 16:37 David left Asaph and his relatives to serve continually in front of the ark of the LORD’s promise, as the daily work required.

1 Chronicles 16:38 David also left Obed Edom and 68 of his relatives [to serve there]. Obed Edom (Jeduthun’s son) and Hosah were to be gatekeepers.

1 Chronicles 16:39 David left Zadok and his priestly relatives to serve in the LORD’s tent at the place of worship in Gibeon.

1 Chronicles 16:40 They were ordered to sacrifice burnt offerings to the LORD. This happened on the altar of burnt offerings continually, morning and evening, as written in the LORD’s Teachings that he gave Israel.

1 Chronicles 16:41 With Zadok and his relatives were Heman, Jeduthun, and the rest of the Levites who had been selected, chosen by name, to give thanks to the LORD [by singing,] “His mercy endures forever.”

1 Chronicles 16:42 Also, Heman and Jeduthun played trumpets, cymbals, and the [other] musical instruments that accompany sacred songs. Jeduthun's sons were stationed at the gate.

1 Chronicles 16:43 Then all the people went home. David went back to bless his family.

1 Chronicles 17:1 When David was living in his house, he said to the prophet Nathan, "I'm living in a house made of cedar, while the ark of the LORD's promise is inside a tent."

1 Chronicles 17:2 Nathan told David, "Do everything you have in mind, because God is with you."

1 Chronicles 17:3 But that same night God spoke his word to Nathan:

1 Chronicles 17:4 "Say to David, my servant, 'This is what the LORD says: You must not build this house for me to live in.

1 Chronicles 17:5 I haven't lived in a house from the day I brought Israel out [of Egypt] to this day, but I've gone from tent site to tent site, moving the tent [of meeting] from one location [to another].

1 Chronicles 17:6 In all the places I've moved with all Israel, did I ever ask any of the judges of Israel whom I ordered to be shepherds of my people why they didn't build me a house of cedar?'

1 Chronicles 17:7 "Now this is what you will say to my servant David: 'This is what the LORD of Armies says: I took you from the pasture where you followed sheep so that you could be the leader of my people Israel.

1 Chronicles 17:8 I was with you wherever you went, and I destroyed all your enemies in front of you. I will make your name like the names of the greatest people on earth.

1 Chronicles 17:9 I will make a place for my people Israel and plant them there. They will live in their own place and not be troubled anymore. The wicked will no longer frighten them as they used to do

1 Chronicles 17:10 ever since I appointed judges to rule my people Israel. I will crush all your enemies. I even tell you that I, the LORD, will build a house for you.

1 Chronicles 17:11 " 'When the time comes for you to go and be with your ancestors, I will send one of your descendants. He will be one of your sons. I will establish his kingdom.

1 Chronicles 17:12 He will build a house for me, and I will establish his throne forever.

1 Chronicles 17:13 I will be his Father, and he will be my Son. And I will never stop showing him my love as I did to your predecessor.

1 Chronicles 17:14 I will place him in my royal house forever, and his throne will be established forever.'"

1 Chronicles 17:15 Nathan told David all these words and everything he had seen.

1 Chronicles 17:16 Then King David went into the tent and sat in front of the LORD. “Who am I, LORD God,” he asked, “and why is my house so important that you have brought me this far?

1 Chronicles 17:17 And this you consider to be a small act, God. You’ve spoken about the distant future of my house. LORD God, you’ve shown me the generation of the great man.

1 Chronicles 17:18 “What more can I do for you in light of the honor [you have given] to me and since you know me so well!

1 Chronicles 17:19 LORD, you’ve done this great thing for my sake and your own desire. You made this great thing known to me.

1 Chronicles 17:20 “LORD, there is no one like you, and there is no other god except you, as we have heard with our own ears.

1 Chronicles 17:21 Who is like your people Israel? It is the one nation on earth that God came to free in order to make its people his own, to make your name known, and to do great and wonderful things for them. You forced the nations and their gods out of the way of your people, whom you freed from Egypt.

1 Chronicles 17:22 You made the people of Israel to be your people forever. And you, LORD, became their God.

1 Chronicles 17:23 “Now, LORD, faithfully keep the promise you made to me and my house forever. Do as you promised.

1 Chronicles 17:24 Your name will endure and be respected forever when [people] say, ‘The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, is Israel’s God.’ And the house of David, your servant, will be established in your presence.

1 Chronicles 17:25 You, my God, have revealed especially to me that you will build me a house. That is why I have found [the courage] to pray to you.

1 Chronicles 17:26 “Almighty LORD, you are God. You promised me this good thing.

1 Chronicles 17:27 Now, you were pleased to bless my house so that it may continue in your presence forever. Indeed, you, LORD, have blessed it. It will be blessed forever.”

1 Chronicles 18:1 After this, David defeated and crushed the Philistines. He took Gath and its surrounding villages from them.

1 Chronicles 18:2 He also defeated Moab, and the Moabites became David’s subjects and paid taxes [to him].

1 Chronicles 18:3 When David went to establish his control [over the territory] along the Euphrates River, he defeated King Hadadezer at Hamath.

1 Chronicles 18:4 David took 1,000 chariots, 7,000 horsemen, and 20,000 foot soldiers from him. David also disabled all but 100 of their horses so that they couldn't pull chariots.

1 Chronicles 18:5 When the Arameans from Damascus came to help King Hadadezer of Zobah, David killed 22,000 of them.

1 Chronicles 18:6 David put troops in the Aramean kingdom of Damascus, and the Arameans became his subjects and paid taxes [to him]. Everywhere David went, the LORD gave him victories.

1 Chronicles 18:7 David took the gold shields that Hadadezer's servants carried, and he brought them to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 18:8 David also took a large quantity of bronze from Tibhath and Cun, Hadadezer's cities. ([Later] Solomon used it to make the pool, pillars, and utensils [for the temple].)

1 Chronicles 18:9 When King Tou of Hamath heard that David had defeated the whole army of Zobah's King Hadadezer,

1 Chronicles 18:10 he sent his son Hadoram to greet King David and congratulate him for fighting and defeating Hadadezer. (There had often been war between Hadadezer and Tou.)

1 Chronicles 18:11 King David dedicated all the articles of gold, silver, and bronze to the LORD, along with the silver and gold he had taken from other nations-from Edom, Moab, Ammon, the Philistines, and Amalek.

1 Chronicles 18:12 Zeruiah's son Abishai killed 18,000 Edomites in the Dead Sea region.

1 Chronicles 18:13 He put troops in Edom, and all its people became David's subjects. Everywhere David went, the LORD gave him victories.

1 Chronicles 18:14 So David ruled all Israel. He did what was fair and right for all his people.

1 Chronicles 18:15 Zeruiah's son Joab was in charge of the army. Ahilud's son Jehoshaphat was the royal historian.

1 Chronicles 18:16 Ahitub's son Zadok and Abiathar's son Abimelech were priests. Shavsha was the royal scribe.

1 Chronicles 18:17 Jehoiada's son Benaiah was commander of the Cherethites and the Pelethites. And David's sons were his main officials.

1 Chronicles 19:1 Later King Nahash of Ammon died, and his son became king in his place.

1 Chronicles 19:2 David thought, "I will show kindness to Hanun because his father Nahash showed me kindness." So David sent messengers to comfort Hanun after his father's [death]. But when David's servants entered Ammonite territory to comfort Hanun,

1 Chronicles 19:3 the Ammonite princes asked Hanun, "Do you think David is honoring your father because he sent men to comfort you? Haven't his servants come to explore, destroy, and spy on the country?"

1 Chronicles 19:4 So Hanun took David's men, shaved them, cut off their clothes from the waist down, and sent them away.

1 Chronicles 19:5 After people told David [what had happened] to the men, he sent [someone] to meet them because they were deeply humiliated. The king said to them, "Stay in Jericho until your beards have grown back, and then return [to Jerusalem]."

1 Chronicles 19:6 The Ammonites realized that they had made themselves offensive to David. So Hanun and the Ammonites sent 75,000 pounds of silver to hire chariots and horses from the Arameans in Upper Mesopotamia, Maacah, and Zobah.

1 Chronicles 19:7 They hired 32,000 chariots and the king of Maacah with his army. They camped near Medeba. The Ammonites gathered for the battle from their cities.

1 Chronicles 19:8 After David heard about this, he sent Joab and all the elite troops.

1 Chronicles 19:9 The Ammonites formed a battle line at the entrance of the city, while the Arameans from Zobah and Rehob and the kings who had come remained by themselves in the open country.

1 Chronicles 19:10 When Joab saw he was under attack in front and behind, he took the select troops of Israel and organized them for combat against the Arameans.

1 Chronicles 19:11 He put his brother Abishai in charge of the rest of the troops. They organized for combat against the Ammonites.

1 Chronicles 19:12 Joab said, "If the Arameans are too strong for my [troops], be ready to help me. And if the Ammonites are too strong for your [troops], I'll help you.

1 Chronicles 19:13 Be strong! Let's prove ourselves strong for our people and for the cities of our God, and the LORD will do what he considers right."

1 Chronicles 19:14 Then Joab and his troops advanced to fight the Arameans, and the Arameans fled.

1 Chronicles 19:15 When the Ammonites saw that the Arameans had fled, they, too, fled from Joab's brother Abishai and went into the city. So Joab returned to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 19:16 Realizing that Israel had defeated them, the kings sent [messengers] to get [other] Arameans from beyond the Euphrates River. Shophach, the commander of Hadadezer's army, led them.

1 Chronicles 19:17 When David was told [about this], he assembled Israel's army, crossed the Jordan, and confronted them. David formed a battle line against the Arameans, and they fought him.

1 Chronicles 19:18 The Arameans fled from Israel, and David killed 7,000 chariot drivers and 40,000 foot soldiers. David also killed Shophach.

1 Chronicles 19:19 When all the kings who were subject to Hadadezer saw that Israel had defeated them, they made peace with David and became his subjects. And the Arameans were no longer willing to help the Ammonites.

1 Chronicles 20:1 In the spring, the time when kings go out to battle, Joab led the army [to war]. They destroyed the Ammonites and came to Rabbah to attack it, while David stayed in Jerusalem. Joab defeated Rabbah and tore it down.

1 Chronicles 20:2 He took the gold crown from the head of Rabbah's king and put it on David's head. (The crown was found to weigh 75 pounds, and in it was a precious stone.) David also took a lot of goods from the city.

1 Chronicles 20:3 He brought out the troops who were there and put them to work with saws, hoes, and axes. He did the same to all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all the troops returned to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 20:4 After this, war broke out with the Philistines at Gezer. Then Sibbecai from Hushah killed Sippai, a descendant of Haraphah, and the Philistines were defeated.

1 Chronicles 20:5 When more fighting broke out with the Philistines, Elhanan, son of Jair, killed Lahmi, the brother of Goliath from Gath. (The shaft of Lahmi's spear was like a beam used by weavers.)

1 Chronicles 20:6 In another battle at Gath, there was a tall man who had 24 fingers and toes: six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot. He also was a descendant of Haraphah.

1 Chronicles 20:7 When he challenged Israel, Jonathan, son of David's brother Shimea, killed him.

1 Chronicles 20:8 These [men] were the descendants of Haraphah from Gath, and David and his men killed them.

1 Chronicles 21:1 Satan attempted to attack Israel by provoking David to count the Israelites.

1 Chronicles 21:2 David said to Joab and the leaders of the people, "Go, count Israel from Beersheba to Dan. Bring me [the results] so that I may know how many [people] there are."

1 Chronicles 21:3 Joab responded, "May the LORD multiply his people a hundred times over. But, Your Majesty, aren't they all your servants? Why are you trying to do this? Why do you wish to make Israel guilty of [this] sin?"

1 Chronicles 21:4 However, the king overruled Joab. So Joab left, went throughout Israel, and returned to Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 21:5 Joab reported the census figures to David: In Israel there were 1,100,000 men who could serve in the army, and in Judah there were 470,000 who could serve in the army.

1 Chronicles 21:6 Joab didn't include Levi and Benjamin in the number because he was disgusted with the king's order.

1 Chronicles 21:7 God considered the census to be sinful, so he struck Israel [with a plague].

1 Chronicles 21:8 David said to God, "I have committed a terrible sin by doing this thing. Forgive me because I have acted very foolishly."

1 Chronicles 21:9 The LORD spoke to Gad, David's seer.

1 Chronicles 21:10 "Go and tell David, 'This is what the LORD says: I'm offering you three choices. Choose the one you want me to do to you.'"

1 Chronicles 21:11 When Gad came to David, he said, "This is what the LORD says: 'Take your pick:

1 Chronicles 21:12 either three years of famine, or three months during which your enemies will chase you away when their swords catch up to you, or three days of the LORD's sword-a plague in the land with the Messenger of the LORD destroying the whole country of Israel.' Decide what answer I should give the one who sent me."

1 Chronicles 21:13 "I'm in a desperate situation," David told Gad. "Please let me fall into the LORD's hands because he is extremely merciful. But don't let me fall into human hands."

1 Chronicles 21:14 So the LORD sent a plague on Israel, and 70,000 Israelites died.

1 Chronicles 21:15 God also sent a Messenger to Jerusalem to destroy it, but as he was destroying it, the LORD reconsidered and changed his mind about the disaster. "Enough!" he said to the destroying Messenger. "Put down your weapon." The Messenger of the LORD was standing by the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

1 Chronicles 21:16 When David looked up, he saw the Messenger of the LORD standing between heaven and earth. The Messenger had a sword in his hand and stretched it over Jerusalem. David and the leaders were dressed in sackcloth. They bowed down with their faces touching the ground.

1 Chronicles 21:17 David said to God, "I'm the one who ordered the people to be counted. I am the one who sinned and did wrong. What have these sheep done? LORD my God, let your punishment be against me and my father's family, but don't punish your people with a plague."

1 Chronicles 21:18 The LORD’s Messenger told Gad to tell David to go and set up an altar for the LORD at Ornan the Jebusite’s threshing floor.

1 Chronicles 21:19 David went as Gad had told him in the LORD’s name.

1 Chronicles 21:20 Now, Ornan had turned around and seen the Messenger. Ornan’s four sons who were with him hid, but Ornan kept on threshing the wheat.

1 Chronicles 21:21 When David arrived, Ornan looked up and saw him. So he left the threshing floor and bowed down with his face touching the ground in front of David.

1 Chronicles 21:22 David said to Ornan, “Let me have the land this threshing floor is on. I’ll build an altar for the LORD on it. Sell it to me for the full price. Then the plague on the people will stop.”

1 Chronicles 21:23 Ornan said to David, “Take it, Your Majesty, and do whatever you think is right. I’ll give you oxen for the burnt offering, threshers for firewood, and wheat for the grain offering. I’ll give you everything.”

1 Chronicles 21:24 “No,” King David told Ornan, “I insist on buying it for the full price. I won’t take what is yours for the LORD and offer burnt sacrifices that cost me nothing.”

1 Chronicles 21:25 So David gave Ornan 15 pounds of gold for that place.

1 Chronicles 21:26 David built an altar for the LORD there and sacrificed burnt offerings and fellowship offerings. He called on the LORD, and the LORD answered him by [sending] fire from heaven on the altar for burnt offerings.

1 Chronicles 21:27 So the LORD spoke to the Messenger, and he put his sword back in its scabbard.

1 Chronicles 21:28 At that time, when David saw the LORD had answered him at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, he offered sacrifices there.

1 Chronicles 21:29 The LORD’s tent that Moses made in the desert and the altar for burnt offerings were at the worship site at Gibeon.

1 Chronicles 21:30 However, David couldn’t go there to consult God because he was frightened by the sword of the LORD’s Messenger.

1 Chronicles 22:1 Then David said, “This is where the LORD God’s temple will be. Israel’s altar for burnt offerings will also be here.”

1 Chronicles 22:2 David ordered the foreigners living in Israel to gather. He appointed some of them to cut stones to build God’s temple.

1 Chronicles 22:3 David prepared a large quantity of iron for nails and fittings on the doors of the gates. He also prepared so much bronze that it couldn't be weighed.

1 Chronicles 22:4 The men of Sidon and Tyre brought David so many cedar logs that the logs couldn't be counted.

1 Chronicles 22:5 David thought, "My son Solomon is young and inexperienced, and the temple that will be built for the LORD must be magnificent, large, famous, praised, and honored in all other countries. I'll prepare [the building materials] for him." So David prepared many materials [for Solomon] before he died.

1 Chronicles 22:6 He summoned his son Solomon and commanded him to build a temple for the LORD God of Israel.

1 Chronicles 22:7 David told his son Solomon, "I had my heart set on building a temple for the name of the LORD, my God.

1 Chronicles 22:8 But the LORD spoke his word to me by saying, 'You have caused a lot of bloodshed and fought in a lot of wars. You must not build a temple for my name because you have caused so much bloodshed in my presence.

1 Chronicles 22:9 You will have a son who will be a peaceful man. I will give him peace from all the enemies around him. His name will be Solomon [Peace], and in his time I will give Israel peace and quiet.

1 Chronicles 22:10 He will build a temple for my name. He will be my son, and I will be his father. I will establish the throne of his kingdom permanently over Israel.'"

1 Chronicles 22:11 [David continued,] "Now, son, the LORD will be with you. You will be successful, and you will build the temple of the LORD your God as he predicted you would.

1 Chronicles 22:12 The LORD will give you insight and understanding as he commands you to take charge of Israel and to follow the Teachings of the LORD your God.

1 Chronicles 22:13 Then you will succeed if you will carefully obey the laws and decrees the LORD commanded Moses to give to Israel. Be strong and courageous. Don't be afraid or terrified.

1 Chronicles 22:14 "Despite my troubles I've made preparations for the LORD's temple. There are 7,500,000 pounds of gold, 75,000,000 pounds of silver, and so much bronze and iron that it can't be weighed. I've also prepared wood and stones, and you may add to them.

1 Chronicles 22:15 You have many kinds of workers: stonecutters, masons, carpenters, and men skilled in every kind of work.

1 Chronicles 22:16 The gold, silver, bronze, and iron are more than can be counted. So get to work! May the LORD be with you."

1 Chronicles 22:17 David ordered all the leaders of Israel to help his son Solomon.

1 Chronicles 22:18 [David said,] “Isn’t the LORD your God with you? Hasn’t he given you peace with all your neighbors? He put the people who live in this country under my power, and the country has been conquered by the LORD and his people.

1 Chronicles 22:19 So dedicate your hearts and lives to serving the LORD your God. Start building the holy place of the LORD God so that you can bring the ark of the LORD’s promise and God’s holy utensils into the temple that will be built for the LORD’s name.”

1 Chronicles 23:1 When David had grown old and had lived out his years, he made his son Solomon king of Israel.

1 Chronicles 23:2 He gathered all the officials of Israel and the priests and Levites.

1 Chronicles 23:3 Every male Levite who was at least 30 years old was counted. There were 38,000.

1 Chronicles 23:4 Of these, 24,000 were appointed to supervise the work on the LORD’s temple, 6,000 were appointed to be officers and judges,

1 Chronicles 23:5 4,000 were appointed to be gatekeepers, and 4,000 were appointed to praise the LORD with the instruments David had made for praising God.

1 Chronicles 23:6 David organized the Levites into divisions based on which of Levi’s sons (Gershon, Kohath, or Merari) they were descended from.

1 Chronicles 23:7 Ladan and Shimei were Gershon’s descendants.

1 Chronicles 23:8 Ladan had three sons: Jehiel was the first, then Zetham, and Joel.

1 Chronicles 23:9 Shimei had three sons: Shelomith, Haziel, and Haran. They were the heads of Ladan’s families.

1 Chronicles 23:10 Shimei’s sons were Jahath, Zina, Jeush, and Beriah. They were Shimei’s four sons.

1 Chronicles 23:11 Jahath was the first, and Ziza was the second. Jeush and Beriah didn’t have many sons, so they were given an assignment as one family.

1 Chronicles 23:12 Kohath had four sons: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

1 Chronicles 23:13 Amram’s sons were Aaron and Moses. Aaron and his sons were forever designated to dedicate the most holy things [to God], to offer sacrifices to the LORD, to serve him, and always give the blessing in his name.

1 Chronicles 23:14 The sons of Moses, the man of God, were counted with the tribe of Levi.

1 Chronicles 23:15 Moses’ sons were Gershom and Eliezer.

1 Chronicles 23:16 Gershom’s only son was Shebuel.

1 Chronicles 23:17 Eliezer’s only son was Rehabiah. Eliezer had no other sons, but Rehabiah had many sons.

1 Chronicles 23:18 Izhar’s only son was Shelomith.

1 Chronicles 23:19 Hebron’s first son was Jeriah; his second was Amariah; his third was Jahaziel; his fourth was Jekameam.

1 Chronicles 23:20 Uzziel’s first son was Micah; his second was Isshiah.

1 Chronicles 23:21 Merari’s sons were Mahli and Mushi. Mahli’s sons were Eleazar and Kish.

1 Chronicles 23:22 Eleazar died without having any sons. He only had daughters. Their cousins, the sons of Kish, married them.

1 Chronicles 23:23 Mushi had three sons: Mahli, Eder, and Jeremoth.

1 Chronicles 23:24 These were Levi’s descendants, who were grouped according to their families. The heads of their families were registered by name as they were counted. Everyone who served in the LORD’s temple was at least 20 years old.

1 Chronicles 23:25 David had said, “The LORD God of Israel has given his people rest. He will now live in Jerusalem forever.

1 Chronicles 23:26 The Levites will no longer have to carry the tent and all the utensils used in worship.”

1 Chronicles 23:27 David’s last instructions were to count the Levites who were at least 20 years old.

1 Chronicles 23:28 They were appointed to stand beside Aaron’s descendants to serve in the LORD’s temple. They were appointed to be in charge of the courtyards and the temple rooms, to ensure that all the holy things were clean, and to serve in God’s temple.

1 Chronicles 23:29 They were also responsible for the rows of bread, the flour for the grain offerings, the unleavened bread wafers, and the bread made in frying pans. In addition, they were responsible for mixing the ingredients and keeping track of all weights and measures.

1 Chronicles 23:30 They were appointed to stand to give thanks and praise to the LORD every morning. They were appointed to do the same thing in the evening.

1 Chronicles 23:31 They were appointed to stand in front of the LORD in the required numbers whenever burnt offerings were made-on weekly worship days, at New Moon Festivals, and on appointed annual festivals.

1 Chronicles 23:32 They were appointed to follow the regulations for the tent of meeting and the holy place and to help their relatives, Aaron’s descendants, as they served in the LORD’s temple.

1 Chronicles 24:1 The divisions of Aaron’s descendants were as follows: Aaron’s sons were Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

1 Chronicles 24:2 Nadab and Abihu died before their father died, and neither had any children. So Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests.

1 Chronicles 24:3 David, Eleazar’s descendant Zadok, and Ithamar’s descendant Ahimelech divided Aaron’s descendants into groups for service.

1 Chronicles 24:4 Since Eleazar’s descendants had more men who were family heads than Ithamar’s descendants, they were divided so that Eleazar’s descendants had 16 family leaders and Ithamar’s descendants had 8 family leaders.

1 Chronicles 24:5 Both groups were divided impartially by drawing lots so that there were officers for the holy place and officers for God among both Eleazar’s and Ithamar’s descendants.

1 Chronicles 24:6 The scribe Shemaiah was a son of Nethanel and a descendant of Levi. Shemaiah recorded their names in the presence of the king, the princes, the priest Zadok, Ahimelech (son of Abiathar), and the family leaders of the priests and Levites. One family was chosen for Eleazar, another for Ithamar.

1 Chronicles 24:7 The first lot drawn was for Jehoiarib, the second for Jedaiah,

1 Chronicles 24:8 the third for Harim, the fourth for Seorim,

1 Chronicles 24:9 the fifth for Malchiah, the sixth for Mijamin,

1 Chronicles 24:10 the seventh for Hakkoz, the eighth for Abijah,

1 Chronicles 24:11 the ninth for Jeshua, the tenth for Shecaniah,

1 Chronicles 24:12 the eleventh for Eliashib, the twelfth for Jakim,

1 Chronicles 24:13 the thirteenth for Huppah, the fourteenth for Jeshebeab,

1 Chronicles 24:14 the fifteenth for Bilgah, the sixteenth for Immer,

1 Chronicles 24:15 the seventeenth for Hezir, the eighteenth for Happizzez,

1 Chronicles 24:16 the nineteenth for Pethahiah, the twentieth for Jehezkel,

1 Chronicles 24:17 the twenty-first for Jachin, the twenty-second for Gamul,

1 Chronicles 24:18 the twenty-third for Delaiah, the twenty-fourth for Maaziah.

1 Chronicles 24:19 These were their priestly groups when they went to serve at the LORD’s temple. Their ancestor Aaron made these rules for them, as the LORD God of Israel had commanded him.

1 Chronicles 24:20 [The following men were leaders] for Levi’s descendants [from Kohath]: Jehdeiah (for Amram’s descendants through Shubael),

1 Chronicles 24:21 Isshiah ([for Amram’s descendants] through Rehabiah),

1 Chronicles 24:22 Jahath (for Izhar’s descendants through Shelomoth),

1 Chronicles 24:23 Jeriah (for Hebron’s descendants), Amariah (the second [of Hebron’s descendants]), Jahaziel (the third [of Hebron’s descendants]), Jekameam (the fourth [of Hebron’s descendants]),

1 Chronicles 24:24 Shamir (for Uzziel’s descendants through Micah),

1 Chronicles 24:25 and Zechariah (for [Uzziel’s] descendants through Micah’s brother Isshiah).

1 Chronicles 24:26 The following men were leaders from Levi’s descendants from Merari: Mahli, Mushi, and Merari’s son Jaaziah,

1 Chronicles 24:27 Shoham, Zaccur, and Ibri (for Merari’s descendants through his son Jaaziah),

1 Chronicles 24:28 Eleazar (who had no sons, for Mahli’s descendants),

1 Chronicles 24:29 Jerahmeel (for [Mahli’s] descendants through Kish),

1 Chronicles 24:30 Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth (for Mushi’s descendants). These were Levi’s descendants according to their families.

1 Chronicles 24:31 They drew lots as their relatives, Aaron’s descendants, had done. They drew them in front of King David, Zadok, Ahimelech, and the leaders of the families of the priests and Levites. The families of the oldest brother were treated the same way as those of the youngest.

1 Chronicles 25:1 David and the army commanders appointed the sons of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun to serve as prophets with lyres, harps, and cymbals. This is the list of the men who performed this service:

1 Chronicles 25:2 From the sons of Asaph were Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asharelah. (They were directed by Asaph, who served as a prophet under the king’s direction.)

1 Chronicles 25:3 From the sons of Jeduthun were Gedaliah, Zeri, Jeshaiah, Shimei, Hashabiah, Mattithiah. (The six brothers were directed by their father, the prophet Jeduthun. They thanked and praised the LORD as they played lyres.)

1 Chronicles 25:4 From the sons of Heman were Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, Romamti Ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

1 Chronicles 25:5 (All of them were the sons of the king's seer Heman. They were given to him to make him prominent, as God had promised. So God gave Heman 14 sons and 3 daughters.)

1 Chronicles 25:6 All these [Levites] sang at the LORD's temple under the direction of their fathers Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman. They played cymbals, lyres, and harps for worship in God's temple under the direction of the king.

1 Chronicles 25:7 They, along with their relatives, were trained, skilled musicians for the LORD. There were 288 of them.

1 Chronicles 25:8 They drew lots for their assignment of duties, the youngest as well as the oldest, the skilled [musicians] along with the students.

1 Chronicles 25:9 The first lot drawn chose Joseph, the son of Asaph. The second chose Gedaliah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:10 The third chose Zaccur, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:11 The fourth chose Izri, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:12 The fifth chose Nethaniah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:13 The sixth chose Bukkiah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:14 The seventh chose Jesarelah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:15 The eighth chose Jeshaiah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:16 The ninth chose Mattaniah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:17 The tenth chose Shimei, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:18 The eleventh chose Azarel, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:19 The twelfth chose Hashabiah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:20 The thirteenth chose Shubael, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:21 The fourteenth chose Mattithiah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:22 The fifteenth chose Jeremoth, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:23 The sixteenth chose Hananiah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:24 The seventeenth chose Joshbekashah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:25 The eighteenth chose Hanani, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:26 The nineteenth chose Mallothi, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:27 The twentieth chose Eliathah, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:28 The twenty-first chose Hothir, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:29 The twenty-second chose Giddalti, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:30 The twenty-third chose Mahazioth, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 25:31 The twenty-fourth chose Romamti Ezer, his sons, and his relatives-12 men.

1 Chronicles 26:1 The following were the divisions of the gatekeepers: For Korah's descendants there was Meshelemiah, the son of Kore, from the descendants of Asaph.

1 Chronicles 26:2 Meshelemiah's sons were Zechariah (the firstborn), Jediael (the second), Zebadiah (the third), Jathniel (the fourth),

1 Chronicles 26:3 Elam (the fifth), Jehohanan (the sixth), and Eliehoenai (the seventh).

1 Chronicles 26:4 [Also for Korah's descendants] there were Obed Edom's sons Shemaiah (the firstborn), Jehozabad (the second), Joah (the third), Sachar (the fourth), Nethanel (the fifth),

1 Chronicles 26:5 Ammiel (the sixth), Issachar (the seventh), and Peullethai (the eighth). God had blessed Obed Edom.

1 Chronicles 26:6 His son Shemaiah had sons who ruled their families because they were soldiers.

1 Chronicles 26:7 Shemaiah's sons were Othni, and Othni's skilled brothers Rephael, Obed, Elzabad, as well as Elihu and Semachiah.

1 Chronicles 26:8 All of these people were Obed Edom's descendants. They, their sons, and their relatives were skilled and had the ability to perform the service. Obed Edom's family included 62 men.

1 Chronicles 26:9 Meshelemiah's sons and relatives were 18 skilled men.

1 Chronicles 26:10 From the descendants of Merari there were Hosah's sons. Shimri was the head, although he was not the firstborn. His father appointed him head.

1 Chronicles 26:11 Hosah's other sons were Hilkiah (the second), Tebaliah (the third), and Zechariah (the fourth). There were 13 sons and relatives of Hosah.

1 Chronicles 26:12 These divisions of gatekeepers through their head men were assigned duties with their relatives to serve in the LORD's temple.

1 Chronicles 26:13 They drew lots by families, youngest and oldest alike, for every gate.

1 Chronicles 26:14 Shelemiah was chosen for the east side. His son Zechariah, a counselor who displayed insight, was chosen for the north side.

1 Chronicles 26:15 Obed Edom was chosen for the south side, and his sons were chosen for the storerooms.

1 Chronicles 26:16 Shuppim and Hosah were chosen for the west side with Shallecheth Gate at the gateway that goes to the palace. One squad of guards served its watch after another.

1 Chronicles 26:17 On the east side there were six Levites. On the north there were four every day. On the south there were four every day. At the storerooms there were four, two at each entrance.

1 Chronicles 26:18 At the courtyard on the west there were four Levites at the gateway to the palace and two at the courtyard itself.

1 Chronicles 26:19 These were the divisions of the gatekeepers among Korah's and Merari's descendants.

1 Chronicles 26:20 Ahijah, a Levite, was in charge of the treasuries in God's temple and the treasuries of the gifts dedicated to God.

1 Chronicles 26:21 [There were also] the descendants of Ladan, who was descended from Gershon. [Those who served] for Ladan, the descendant of Gershon, were the heads of Ladan's families: Jehiel

1 Chronicles 26:22 [and] Jehiel's sons Zetham and Joel. They were in charge of the treasuries in the LORD's temple.

1 Chronicles 26:23 For the descendants of Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel,

1 Chronicles 26:24 there was Shebuel, a descendant of Moses' son Gershom. He was the highest-ranking official in charge of the treasuries.

1 Chronicles 26:25 From his relatives on Eliezer's side of the family was Shelomith. (Eliezer's son was Rehabiah; his grandson was Jeshaiah; his great-grandson was Joram. Joram's son was Zichri; his grandson was Shelomith.)

1 Chronicles 26:26 He and his relatives were in charge of all the treasuries of the gifts dedicated to God that King David, the heads of families, the commanders of regiments and battalions, and the commanders of the army had donated.

1 Chronicles 26:27 (They had donated some of the loot taken in battle to support the LORD's temple.)

1 Chronicles 26:28 Everything that Samuel the seer, Saul (son of Kish), Abner (son of Ner), and Joab (son of Zeruiah) had donated-everything that had been donated-was under the supervision of Shelomith and his relatives.

1 Chronicles 26:29 From Izhar's descendants Chenaniah and his sons were assigned duties. They served as officials and judges outside [the temple] in Israel.

1 Chronicles 26:30 From Hebron's descendants Hashabiah and his 1,700 skilled, male relatives were appointed to serve Israel west of the Jordan River. They did everything the LORD wanted them to do, and they served the king.

1 Chronicles 26:31 Jeriah was the head of Hebron's descendants. In the fortieth year of David's reign, the ancestry of Hebron's descendants was researched family by family. Warriors from these families were found at Jazer in Gilead.

1 Chronicles 26:32 Jeriah's relatives were 2,700 skilled men, who were heads of families. King David appointed them to be overseers in every matter involving God or the king for the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and half of the tribe of Manasseh.

1 Chronicles 27:1 This is a list of Israelite family heads, regiment and battalion commanders, and officers who were serving the king in all the army's units. Throughout each year they came for a month at a time and then left. Each unit consisted of 24,000 men.

1 Chronicles 27:2 Jashobeam, son of Zabdiel, was in charge of the first unit, the one during the first month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:3 He was a descendant of Perez, and he was head of all of the army's officers for the first month.

1 Chronicles 27:4 Dodai, Ahoh's descendant, was in charge of the unit during the second month. It was his unit. (Mikloth was one of its leaders.) In Dodai's unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:5 The third commander of the army during the third month was Benaiah, son of the priest Jehoiada. He was the head, and in his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:6 This Benaiah was one of the thirty fighting men and commander of the thirty as well as his own unit. His son was Ammizabad.

1 Chronicles 27:7 Asahel, Joab's brother, was in charge of the fourth unit during the fourth month, and after him was his son Zebadiah. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:8 Shamhuth, Izrah's descendant, was commander of the fifth unit during the fifth month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:9 Ira, the son of Ikkesh from Tekoa, was in charge of the sixth unit during the sixth month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:10 Helez, a Pelonite from the descendants of Ephraim, was in charge of the seventh unit during the seventh month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:11 Sibbecai, a descendant of Zerah from Hushah, was in charge of the eighth unit during the eighth month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:12 Abiezer, a member of the tribe of Benjamin from Anathoth, was in charge of the ninth unit during the ninth month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:13 Mahrai, a descendant of Zerah from Netophah, was in charge of the tenth unit during the tenth month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:14 Benaiah, a member of the tribe of Ephraim from Pirathon, was in charge of the eleventh unit during the eleventh month. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:15 During the twelfth month, the twelfth unit was commanded by Heldai from Netophah. He was Othniel's descendant. In his unit there were 24,000.

1 Chronicles 27:16 The following officers were in charge of the tribes of Israel: for the tribe of Reuben Eliezer, son of Zichri for the tribe of Simeon Shephatiah, son of Maacah

1 Chronicles 27:17 for the tribe of Levi Hashabiah, son of Kemuel for the family of Aaron Zadok

1 Chronicles 27:18 for the tribe of Judah Elihu, one of David's brothers for the tribe of Issachar Omri, son of Michael

1 Chronicles 27:19 for the tribe of Zebulun Ishmaiah, son of Obadiah for the tribe of Naphtali Jerimoth, son of Azriel

1 Chronicles 27:20 for the tribe of Ephraim Hoshea, son of Azaziah for half of the tribe of Manasseh Joel, son of Pedaiah

1 Chronicles 27:21 for the half of Manasseh in Gilead Iddo, son of Zechariah for the tribe of Benjamin Jaasiel, son of Abner

1 Chronicles 27:22 for the tribe of Dan Azarel, son of Jeroham These were the commanders of Israel's tribes.

1 Chronicles 27:23 David didn't count those under 20 years old, because the LORD had promised that the people of Israel would be as numerous as the stars in the sky.

1 Chronicles 27:24 Joab, son of Zeruiah, started to count them but didn't finish. God was angry with Israel because of this, and the report from it was never included in the official records of King David.

1 Chronicles 27:25 These were all the commanders in charge of King David's property: for the royal treasuries Azmaveth, son of Adiel for the goods in the fields, cities, villages, and watchtowers Jonathan, son of Uzziah

1 Chronicles 27:26 for the farm workers in the fields Ezri, son of Chelub

1 Chronicles 27:27 for the vineyards Shimei from Ramah for storing wine that came from the vineyards Zabdi from Shepham

1 Chronicles 27:28 for the olive and fig trees in the foothills Baal Hanan from Gedor for storing olive oil Joash

1 Chronicles 27:29 for the herds grazing in Sharon Shitrai from Sharon for the herds in the valleys Shaphat, son of Adlai

1 Chronicles 27:30 for the camels Obil, a descendant of Ishmael for the donkeys Jehdeiah from Meronoth

1 Chronicles 27:31 for the flocks Jaziz from Hagar

1 Chronicles 27:32 David's uncle Jonathan, an educated man who possessed insight, was David's adviser. Jonathan and Jehiel, son of Hachmoni, were in charge of the king's sons.

1 Chronicles 27:33 Ahithophel was the king's adviser. Hushai, a descendant of Archi, was the king's friend.

1 Chronicles 27:34 Jehoiada (son of Benaiah) and Abiathar succeeded Ahithophel. Joab was the commander of the royal army.

1 Chronicles 28:1 David held a meeting in Jerusalem for all the leaders of Israel-the leaders of the tribes, the leaders of the army units that served the king, the commanders of regiments and battalions, the officials in charge of all the property and livestock belonging to the king and his sons, the palace officials, the soldiers, and the fighting men.

1 Chronicles 28:2 David stood in front of them and said, "Listen to me, my relatives and subjects. I had my heart set on building the temple where the ark of the LORD's promise could be placed. This temple would be a stool for our God's feet, and I have made preparations to build it.

1 Chronicles 28:3 But God told me, 'You must not build the temple for my name. You have fought wars and caused bloodshed.'

1 Chronicles 28:4 Yet, from my entire family the LORD God of Israel chose me to be king of Israel permanently. He had chosen the tribe of Judah to lead [Israel]. From the families of Judah he chose my father's family. From among my father's sons he was pleased to make me king of all Israel.

1 Chronicles 28:5 And of all my sons (the LORD has given me many sons) he chose my son Solomon to sit on the throne of the LORD's kingdom to rule Israel.

1 Chronicles 28:6 “He told me, ‘Your son Solomon will build my temple and my courtyards because I have chosen him to be my son. I will be his father.

1 Chronicles 28:7 I will establish his kingdom forever if he will remain determined to obey my commands and laws, as he is doing today.’

1 Chronicles 28:8 Now, [leaders, I order you] in the sight of Israel (the LORD’s congregation) and as our God listens to dedicate your lives to doing everything the LORD your God has commanded. Then you will be able to possess this good land and leave it as an inheritance to your descendants.

1 Chronicles 28:9 “And you, my son Solomon, learn to know your father’s God. Serve the LORD wholeheartedly and willingly because he searches every heart and understands every thought [we have]. If you dedicate your life to serving him, he will accept you. But if you abandon him, he will reject you from then on.

1 Chronicles 28:10 So be careful, because the LORD has chosen you to build the temple as his holy place. Be strong, and do it.”

1 Chronicles 28:11 Then David gave his son Solomon the plans for the entrance hall and the temple, its storerooms, upper rooms, inner rooms, and the room for the throne of mercy.

1 Chronicles 28:12 He gave him plans for the courtyards of the LORD’s temple and for all the rooms around it. (These rooms served as treasuries for God’s temple and the gifts dedicated to God.)

1 Chronicles 28:13 He determined the divisions of priests and Levites. He planned all the work done for worship in the LORD’s temple. He designed all the utensils for worship in the LORD’s temple.

1 Chronicles 28:14 [David specified] the weight of gold to be used for each of the utensils for worship,

1 Chronicles 28:15 the weight of the gold lamp stands and their gold lamps ([that is,] the weight of gold for each lamp stand and its lamps), the weight of silver for each silver lamp stand and its lamps (according to the use of each lamp stand for worship),

1 Chronicles 28:16 the weight of gold for each table with the rows of bread, and the silver for the silver tables,

1 Chronicles 28:17 the pure gold for the forks, bowls, and pitchers, the weight of each gold bowl, the weight of each silver bowl,

1 Chronicles 28:18 and the refined gold for the altar of incense. He also gave Solomon the plans for the chariot, that is, the gold angels with their wings spread to cover the ark of the LORD’s promise.

1 Chronicles 28:19 [David said,] “All this was written for me by the LORD’s hand. He made all the details of the plan clear to me.”

1 Chronicles 28:20 David also told his son Solomon, “Be strong and courageous, and do the work. Don’t be afraid or terrified. The LORD God, my God, will be with you. He will not abandon you before all the work on the LORD’s temple is finished.

1 Chronicles 28:21 Here are also the divisions of the priests and Levites for every type of worship in God’s temple. You have with you every skilled worker to do all the work. In addition, all the leaders and people are at your command.”

1 Chronicles 29:1 Then King David said to the whole assembly, “My son Solomon, the one whom God has chosen, is young and inexperienced. Yet, the work is important because this palace is not for a person but for the LORD God.

1 Chronicles 29:2 With all my might I gathered [the materials] for the temple of my God: gold for gold objects, silver for silver objects, bronze for bronze objects, iron for iron objects, wood for wooden objects, onyx stones and settings, black stones, stones of different colors, gems, and marble.

1 Chronicles 29:3 Moreover, I delight in the temple of my God. I have a personal treasury of gold and silver that I’m giving to my God’s temple in addition to everything else I gathered for the holy temple.

1 Chronicles 29:4 There are 225,000 pounds of gold from Ophir and 525,000 pounds of refined silver. They are to be used to cover the walls of the buildings,

1 Chronicles 29:5 to make gold objects, silver objects, and everything else the craftsmen will make. Who else is willing to make an offering and dedicate himself to the LORD today?”

1 Chronicles 29:6 Then the leaders of the families, the leaders of the tribes of Israel, the commanders of regiments and battalions, and the officials in charge of the king’s work gave generously.

1 Chronicles 29:7 They gave 375,186 pounds of gold, 750,000 pounds of silver, 135,000 pounds of bronze, and 7,500,000 pounds of iron for the work on God’s temple.

1 Chronicles 29:8 Whoever happened to have precious stones gave them to Jehiel, Gershon’s descendant, for the treasury of the LORD’s temple.

1 Chronicles 29:9 The people were overjoyed that the leaders gave so generously and wholeheartedly to the LORD. King David was also overjoyed, and

1 Chronicles 29:10 he praised the LORD while the whole assembly watched. David said, “May you be praised, LORD God of Israel, our father forever and ever.

1 Chronicles 29:11 Greatness, power, splendor, glory, and majesty are yours, LORD, because everything in heaven and on earth is yours. The kingdom is yours, LORD, and you are honored as head of all things.

1 Chronicles 29:12 Riches and honor are in front of you. You rule everything. You hold power and strength in your hands, and you can make anyone great and strong.

1 Chronicles 29:13 “Our God, we thank you and praise your wonderful name.

1 Chronicles 29:14 But who am I and who are my people that you enable us to give so generously? Everything comes from you. We give you only what has come from your hands.

1 Chronicles 29:15 To you we are all like our ancestors- foreigners without permanent homes. Our days are as fleeting as shadows on the ground. There’s no hope [for them].

1 Chronicles 29:16 “LORD, our God, all this wealth that we gathered to build a temple for your holy name is from you. All of it is yours.

1 Chronicles 29:17 I know, my God, that you examine hearts and delight in honesty. With an honest heart I have willingly offered all these things. I’ve been overjoyed to see your people here offering so willingly to you.

1 Chronicles 29:18 LORD God of our ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, always watch over your people’s deepest thoughts. Keep their hearts directed toward you.

1 Chronicles 29:19 Make my son Solomon completely committed [to you] so that he will obey your commands, requests, and laws and do everything to build the palace I have planned.”

1 Chronicles 29:20 Then David said to the whole assembly, “Praise the LORD your God!” So the whole assembly praised the LORD God of their ancestors and knelt in front of the LORD and the king.

1 Chronicles 29:21 The next day they sacrificed to the LORD. They sacrificed burnt offerings to the LORD: 1,000 bulls, 1,000 rams, 1,000 lambs, wine offerings, and many sacrifices for all Israel.

1 Chronicles 29:22 That day they ate and drank as they joyfully celebrated in front of the LORD. For the second time they made David’s son Solomon king. On the LORD’s behalf they anointed Solomon to be leader and Zadok to be the priest.

1 Chronicles 29:23 Then Solomon sat on the LORD’s throne as king in place of his father David. Solomon was successful and all Israel obeyed him.

1 Chronicles 29:24 All the leaders and soldiers and all of King David’s sons pledged their loyalty to King Solomon.

1 Chronicles 29:25 The LORD made Solomon extremely powerful, as all Israel could see. The people of Israel gave him royal honor like no king of Israel before him ever had.

1 Chronicles 29:26 David, son of Jesse, had ruled all Israel.

1 Chronicles 29:27 He ruled as king of Israel for 40 years. He ruled for 7 years in Hebron and for 33 in Jerusalem.

1 Chronicles 29:28 He died at a very old age. His long life was full of wealth and honor. Then his son Solomon succeeded him as king.

1 Chronicles 29:29 Everything about King David from first to last is written in the records of the seer Samuel, the prophet Nathan, and the seer Gad.

1 Chronicles 29:30 It includes everything about his reign, his power, and the things that happened to him, Israel, and all the other kingdoms.

2 Chronicles

1:1 Solomon, son of David, strengthened his position over the kingdom. The LORD his God was with him and made him very powerful.

2 Chronicles 1:2 Solomon spoke to all Israel-to the commanders of regiments and battalions, judges, every prince, and the heads of Israel’s families.

2 Chronicles 1:3 Then Solomon and the entire assembly went to the place of worship in Gibeon because God’s tent of meeting was there. Moses, the LORD’s servant, had made the tent in the desert.

2 Chronicles 1:4 (However, David had [already] brought God’s ark from Kiriath Jearim to a place he had prepared for it. He had put up a tent for it in Jerusalem.)

2 Chronicles 1:5 The bronze altar that Bezalel, son of Uri and grandson of Hur, had made was in front of the LORD’s tent. There Solomon and the assembly worshiped the LORD.

2 Chronicles 1:6 In the LORD’s presence Solomon went to the bronze altar in front of the tent of meeting and sacrificed 1,000 burnt offerings on it.

2 Chronicles 1:7 That night God appeared to Solomon. He said, “What can I give you?”

2 Chronicles 1:8 Solomon responded to God, “You’ve shown great love to my father David, and you’ve made me king in his place.

2 Chronicles 1:9 Now, LORD God, you’ve kept the promise you made to my father David. You’ve made me king of people who are as numerous as specks of dust on the ground.

2 Chronicles 1:10 Give me wisdom and knowledge so that I may lead these people. After all, who can judge this great people of yours?”

2 Chronicles 1:11 God replied to Solomon, “I know this request is from your heart. You didn’t ask for riches, fortunes, honor, or the death of those who hate you. You didn’t even ask for a long life. Instead, you’ve asked for wisdom and knowledge to judge my people, over whom I made you king.

2 Chronicles 1:12 So wisdom and knowledge will be given to you. I will also give you riches, fortunes, and honor like no other king before or after you.”

2 Chronicles 1:13 Solomon went from the tent of meeting at the place of worship in Gibeon to Jerusalem. And he ruled Israel.

2 Chronicles 1:14 Solomon built up [his army] with chariots and war horses. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 war horses. He stationed [some] in chariot cities and [others] with himself in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 1:15 The king made silver and gold as common in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedars as plentiful as fig trees in the foothills.

2 Chronicles 1:16 Solomon’s horses were imported from Egypt and Kue. The king’s traders bought them from Kue for a fixed price.

2 Chronicles 1:17 They imported each chariot from Egypt for 15 pounds of silver and each horse for 6 ounces of silver. For the same price they obtained horses to export to all the Hittite and Aramean kings.

2 Chronicles 2:1 Solomon gave orders to begin building the temple for the LORD’s name and a royal palace for himself.

2 Chronicles 2:2 Solomon drafted 70,000 men to carry heavy loads, 80,000 to quarry stones in the mountains, and 3,600 foremen.

2 Chronicles 2:3 Solomon sent word to King Huram of Tyre by saying, “Do what you did for my father David. You sent him cedar so that he could build a palace to live in.

2 Chronicles 2:4 I want to build the temple for the name of the LORD my God. I want to dedicate it to him, burn sweet-smelling incense in his presence, and have rows of bread there continually. I want to [sacrifice] burnt offerings every morning and evening, on weekly worship days, New Moon Festivals, and during the annual festivals appointed by the LORD our God. ([These festivals] are always to be celebrated by Israel.)

2 Chronicles 2:5 The temple I am building will be great because our God is greater than all other gods.

2 Chronicles 2:6 But who is able to build him a temple when heaven itself, the highest heaven, cannot hold him? Who am I to build him a temple except as a place to sacrifice in his presence?

2 Chronicles 2:7 “Send me a man who has the skill to work with gold, silver, bronze, and iron as well as purple, dark red, and violet cloth. He should know how to make engravings with the skilled men whom my father David provided for me in Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 2:8 Send me cedar, cypress, and sandalwood from Lebanon. I know that your servants are skilled Lebanese lumberjacks. My workers will work with your workers.

2 Chronicles 2:9 They'll prepare plenty of lumber for me, because the temple I want to build will be large and astonishing.

2 Chronicles 2:10 I will give your lumberjacks 120,000 bushels of ground wheat, 120,000 bushels of barley, 200,000 gallons of wine, and 200,000 gallons of olive oil."

2 Chronicles 2:11 Then King Huram of Tyre responded to Solomon by sending a letter that said, "Because the LORD loves his people, he made you their king."

2 Chronicles 2:12 Huram added, "May the LORD God of Israel be praised. He made the heavens and the earth and has given King David a wise son who has insight and intelligence and can build the LORD's temple and a royal palace.

2 Chronicles 2:13 And now, I'm sending a man with skill and intelligence-Huram Abi.

2 Chronicles 2:14 He was the son of a woman from the tribe of Dan, and his father is a native of Tyre. Huram knows how to work with gold, silver, bronze, iron, stone, wood, purple, violet, and dark red cloth, and linen. He also knows how to make all kinds of engravings and follow any set of plans that will be given to him. [He can work] with your skilled workmen and the skilled workmen of His Majesty David, your father.

2 Chronicles 2:15 Your Majesty may now send the wheat, barley, olive oil, and wine he promised the workers.

2 Chronicles 2:16 We will cut all the lumber you need in Lebanon. Then we will make rafts out of it and send them to you in Joppa by sea. You can take it [from there] to Jerusalem."

2 Chronicles 2:17 Solomon counted all the men who were foreigners in the land of Israel, as his father David had counted them. Solomon counted 153,600 foreigners.

2 Chronicles 2:18 He made 70,000 of them carry heavy loads, 80,000 of them quarry stone in the mountains, and 3,600 of them supervise the work as foremen.

2 Chronicles 3:1 Solomon began to build the LORD's temple in Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, where the LORD appeared to his father David. There David had prepared the site on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

2 Chronicles 3:2 He began to build on the second day in the second month of the fourth year of his reign.

2 Chronicles 3:3 This is how Solomon laid the foundation to build God's temple. It was 90 feet long and 30 feet wide. (They used the old standard measurement.)

2 Chronicles 3:4 The entrance hall in front of [the main room] was 30 feet wide (the same as the width of the temple) and 30 feet high. He covered its inside walls with pure gold.

2 Chronicles 3:5 He paneled the larger building with cypress, overlaid it with fine gold, and decorated it with [designs in the form of] palm trees and chains.

2 Chronicles 3:6 He covered the building with gems to beautify it and used gold from Parvaim.

2 Chronicles 3:7 He also overlaid the building, the rafters, the threshold, the walls, and the doors with gold, and he carved angels into the walls.

2 Chronicles 3:8 He made the most holy place. It was as long as the temple was wide, 30 feet long. It was also 30 feet wide. He overlaid it with 45,000 pounds of fine gold.

2 Chronicles 3:9 The gold nails weighed 20 ounces. He also overlaid the upper rooms with gold.

2 Chronicles 3:10 In the most holy place he made two sculptured angels and covered them with gold.

2 Chronicles 3:11 The combined length of the angels' wings was 30 feet. A wing of one of the angels was 71/2 feet long and touched the wall of the building. Its other wing was 71/2 feet long and touched one wing of the other.

2 Chronicles 3:12 The wing of the other one of the angels was 71/2 feet long and touched the other wall of the building. Its other wing was 71/2 feet long and touched the wing of the first. So the angels' combined wingspan was 30 feet.

2 Chronicles 3:13 They stood on their feet and faced the main hall.

2 Chronicles 3:14 Solomon made the canopy of violet, purple, and dark red cloth and of linen and decorated it with angels.

2 Chronicles 3:15 He made two pillars for the front of the temple. They were 53 feet long, and the capital on each pillar was 71/2 feet [high].

2 Chronicles 3:16 He made chains for the inner room and [also] put them on the capitals. He made 100 pomegranates and put them on the chains.

2 Chronicles 3:17 He set up the pillars in front of the temple, one on the right and the other on the left. He named the one on the right Jachin [He Establishes] and the one on the left Boaz [In Him Is Strength].

2 Chronicles 4:1 He made a bronze altar 30 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 15 feet high.

2 Chronicles 4:2 Huram made a pool from cast metal. It was 15 feet in diameter. It was round, 71/2 feet high, and had a circumference of 45 feet.

2 Chronicles 4:3 Under the rim were two rows of figurines shaped like bulls all around the 45-foot circumference of the pool. They were cast in metal when the pool was cast.

2 Chronicles 4:4 The pool was set on 12 metal bulls. Three bulls faced north, three faced west, three faced south, and three faced east. The pool was set on them, and their hindquarters were toward the center [of the pool].

2 Chronicles 4:5 The pool was three inches thick. Its rim was like the rim of a cup, shaped like a lily's bud. It held 18,000 gallons.

2 Chronicles 4:6 Huram also made ten basins for washing and put five on the south side and five on the north side. The priests rinsed the meat prepared for the burnt offerings in them. They used the pool to wash themselves.

2 Chronicles 4:7 Huram made ten gold lamp stands according to their specifications and put them in the temple, five on the south side and five on the north side.

2 Chronicles 4:8 He made ten tables and put them in the temple, five on the south side and five on the north side. And he made 100 gold bowls.

2 Chronicles 4:9 He also made the priests' courtyard and the large courtyard and its doors. He covered the doors with bronze.

2 Chronicles 4:10 He set the pool on the south side in the southeast [corner].

2 Chronicles 4:11 Huram also made the pots, shovels, and bowls. So Huram finished the work for King Solomon in God's temple:

2 Chronicles 4:12 2 pillars, bowl-shaped capitals on top of the 2 pillars, and 2 sets of filigree to cover the 2 bowl-shaped capitals on top of the pillars,

2 Chronicles 4:13 400 pomegranates for the 2 sets of filigree

2 Chronicles 4:14 10 stands and 10 basins on the stands,

2 Chronicles 4:15 1 pool and the 12 bulls under it,

2 Chronicles 4:16 pots, shovels, and three-pronged forks. Huram made all of them out of polished bronze for the LORD's temple at King Solomon's request.

2 Chronicles 4:17 The king cast them in foundries in the Jordan Valley between Succoth and Zeredah.

2 Chronicles 4:18 Solomon made so many of these products that no one tried to determine how much the bronze weighed.

2 Chronicles 4:19 Solomon made all the furnishings for God's temple: the gold altar, the gold tables on which the bread of the presence was placed,

2 Chronicles 4:20 lamp stands and lamps of pure gold (to burn as directed in front of the inner room),

2 Chronicles 4:21 flowers, lamps, pure gold tongs,

2 Chronicles 4:22 snuffers, basins, dishes, incense burners of pure gold, the gold entrance to the temple, the gold doors of the inner [room] (the most holy place), and the gold doors of the temple.

2 Chronicles 5:1 All the work Solomon did on the LORD's temple was finished. He brought the holy things that had belonged to his father David-the silver, gold, and all the utensils-and put them in the storerooms of God's temple.

2 Chronicles 5:2 Then Solomon assembled the respected leaders of Israel, all the heads of the tribes, and the leaders of the Israelite families. They came to Jerusalem to take the ark of the LORD's promise from the City of David (that is, Zion).

2 Chronicles 5:3 All the men of Israel gathered around the king at the Festival [of Booths] in the seventh month.

2 Chronicles 5:4 When all the leaders of Israel had arrived, the Levites picked up the ark.

2 Chronicles 5:5 They brought the ark, the tent of meeting, and all the holy utensils in it [to the temple]. The priests and the Levites carried them

2 Chronicles 5:6 while King Solomon and the whole assembly from Israel were offering countless sheep and cattle sacrifices in front of the ark.

2 Chronicles 5:7 The priests brought the ark of the LORD's promise to its place in the inner room of the temple (the most holy place) under the wings of the angels.

2 Chronicles 5:8 The angels' outstretched wings were over the place where the ark [rested] so that the angels became a covering above the ark and its poles.

2 Chronicles 5:9 The poles were so long that their ends could be seen in the holy place by anyone standing in front of the inner room, but they couldn't be seen outside. (They are still there today.)

2 Chronicles 5:10 There was nothing in the ark except the two tablets Moses placed there at Horeb, where the LORD made a promise to the Israelites after they left Egypt.

2 Chronicles 5:11 All the priests who were present had performed the ceremonies to make themselves holy to God without regard to staying in their divisions.

2 Chronicles 5:12 All the Levites who were musicians-Asaph, Heman, Jeduthun, their sons, and their relatives-were dressed in fine linen and stood east of the altar with cymbals, harps, and lyres. With the musicians were 120 priests blowing trumpets. When the priests left the holy place,

2 Chronicles 5:13 the trumpeters and singers praised and thanked the LORD in unison. Accompanied by trumpets, cymbals, and other musical instruments, they sang in praise to the LORD: “He is good; his mercy endures forever.” Then the LORD’s temple was filled with a cloud.

2 Chronicles 5:14 The priests couldn’t serve because of the cloud. The LORD’s glory filled God’s temple.

2 Chronicles 6:1 Then Solomon said, “The LORD said he would live in a dark cloud.

2 Chronicles 6:2 But I have built you a high temple, a home for you to live in permanently.”

2 Chronicles 6:3 Then the king turned around and blessed the whole assembly from Israel while they were standing.

2 Chronicles 6:4 “Thanks be to the LORD God of Israel. With his mouth he made a promise to my father David; with his hand he carried it out. He said,

2 Chronicles 6:5 ‘Ever since I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I didn’t choose any city from the tribes of Israel as a place to build a temple for my name. And I didn’t choose any man to be prince over my people Israel.

2 Chronicles 6:6 But now I’ve chosen Jerusalem to be a place for my name; I’ve chosen David to rule my people Israel.’

2 Chronicles 6:7 “My father David had his heart set on building a temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 6:8 However, the LORD said to my father David, ‘Since you had your heart set on building a temple for my name, your intentions were good.

2 Chronicles 6:9 But you must not build the temple. Instead, your own son will build the temple for my name.’

2 Chronicles 6:10 The LORD has kept the promise he made. I’ve taken my father David’s place, and I sit on the throne of Israel as the LORD promised. I’ve built the temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 6:11 I’ve put the ark which contains the LORD’s promise to Israel there.”

2 Chronicles 6:12 In the presence of the entire assembly of Israel, Solomon stood in front of the LORD’s altar. He stretched out his hands [to pray].

2 Chronicles 6:13 (Solomon had made a bronze platform 71/2 feet long, 71/2 feet wide, and 41/2 feet high. He put it in the middle of the courtyard. He stood on the platform, knelt in front of the entire assembly, and stretched out his hands toward heaven.)

2 Chronicles 6:14 He said, “LORD God of Israel, there is no god like you in heaven or on earth. You keep your promise of mercy to your servants, who obey you wholeheartedly.

2 Chronicles 6:15 You have kept your promise to my father David, your servant. With your mouth you promised it. With your hand you carried it out as it is today.

2 Chronicles 6:16 “Now, LORD God of Israel, keep your promise to my father David, your servant. You said, ‘You will never fail to have an heir sitting in front of me on the throne of Israel if your descendants are faithful to me as you have been faithful to me.’

2 Chronicles 6:17 “So now, LORD God of Israel, may the promise you made to David, your servant, come true.

2 Chronicles 6:18 “Does God really live on earth with people? If heaven itself, the highest heaven, cannot hold you, then how can this temple that I have built?

2 Chronicles 6:19 Nevertheless, my LORD God, please pay attention to my prayer for mercy. Listen to my cry for help as I pray to you.

2 Chronicles 6:20 Day and night may your eyes be on this temple, the place about which you said your name will be there. Listen to me as I pray toward this place.

2 Chronicles 6:21 Hear the plea for mercy that your people Israel and I pray toward this place. Hear us in heaven, the place where you live. Hear and forgive.

2 Chronicles 6:22 “If anyone sins against another person and is required to take an oath and comes to take the oath in front of your altar in this temple,

2 Chronicles 6:23 then hear [that person] in heaven, take action, and make a decision. Repay the guilty person with the proper punishment, but declare the innocent person innocent.

2 Chronicles 6:24 “An enemy may defeat your people Israel because they have sinned against you. But when your people turn, praise your name, pray, and plead with you in this temple,

2 Chronicles 6:25 then hear [them] in heaven, forgive the sins of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land that you gave to them and their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 6:26 “When the sky is shut and there’s no rain because they are sinning against you and they pray toward this place, praise your name, and turn away from their sin because you made them suffer,

2 Chronicles 6:27 then hear [them] in heaven. Forgive the sins of your servants, your people Israel. Teach them the proper way to live. Then send rain on the land, which you gave to your people as an inheritance.

2 Chronicles 6:28 “There may be famine in the land. Plant diseases, heat waves, funguses, locusts, or grasshoppers may destroy crops. Enemies may blockade Israel’s city gates. During every plague or sickness

2 Chronicles 6:29 [hear] every prayer for mercy made by one person or by all the people in Israel, all who know suffering or pain, who stretch out their hands toward this temple.

2 Chronicles 6:30 Hear [them] in heaven, where you live. Forgive [them], and give each person the proper reply. (You know what is in their hearts, because you alone know what is in people’s hearts.)

2 Chronicles 6:31 Then, as long as they live in the land that you gave to our ancestors, they will fear you and follow you.

2 Chronicles 6:32 “People who are not Israelites will come from distant countries because of your great name, mighty hand, and powerful arm. When they come to pray facing this temple,

2 Chronicles 6:33 then hear [them] in heaven, the place where you live. Do everything they ask you so that all the people of the world may know your name and fear you like your people Israel and learn that this temple which I built bears your name.

2 Chronicles 6:34 “When your people go to war against their enemies (wherever you may send them) and they pray to you toward this city you have chosen and the temple I built for your name,

2 Chronicles 6:35 then hear their prayer for mercy in heaven, and do what is right [for them].

2 Chronicles 6:36 “They may sin against you. (No one is sinless.) You may become angry with them and hand them over to an enemy who takes them to [another] country as captives, [whether it is] far or near.

2 Chronicles 6:37 If they come to their senses, are sorry for what they’ve done, and plead with you in the land where they are captives, saying, ‘We have sinned. We have done wrong. We have been wicked,’

2 Chronicles 6:38 if they change their attitude toward you in the land where they are captives, if they pray to you toward the land that you gave their ancestors, and the city you have chosen, and the temple I have built for your name,

2 Chronicles 6:39 then in heaven, the place where you live, hear their prayer for mercy. Do what is right for them. Forgive your people, who have sinned against you.

2 Chronicles 6:40 “Finally, my God, may your eyes be open and your ears attentive to the prayers [offered] in this place.

2 Chronicles 6:41 “Now arise, and come to your resting place, LORD God- you and the ark of your power. Clothe your priests, LORD God, with salvation. Let your godly ones rejoice in what is good.

2 Chronicles 6:42 LORD God, do not reject your anointed one. Remember your mercy to your servant David!”

2 Chronicles 7:1 When Solomon finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offerings and the other sacrifices, and the LORD’s glory filled the temple.

2 Chronicles 7:2 The priests couldn’t go into the LORD’s temple because the LORD’s glory had filled the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 7:3 When all the Israelites saw the fire come down and the LORD’s glory on the temple, they knelt down with their faces on the pavement. They worshiped and praised the LORD, [by saying,] “He is good; his mercy endures forever.”

2 Chronicles 7:4 Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 7:5 King Solomon offered 22,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep as sacrifices to the LORD. So the king and all the people dedicated God’s temple.

2 Chronicles 7:6 The priests were standing at their posts. So were the Levites who had the LORD’s musical instruments which King David made for praising the LORD with “his mercy endures forever” and which he used to offer praise. The priests were opposite the Levites blowing trumpets while all Israel was standing [there].

2 Chronicles 7:7 Solomon designated the courtyard in front of the LORD’s temple as a holy place. He sacrificed the burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat because the bronze altar that he had made and that was in front of the LORD was not able to hold all of them.

2 Chronicles 7:8 At that time Solomon and all Israel celebrated the Festival [of Booths]. A very large crowd had come from [the territory between] the border of Hamath and the River of Egypt.

2 Chronicles 7:9 On the eighth day there was an assembly. They had observed the dedication of the altar for seven days and celebrated the festival for [another] seven days.

2 Chronicles 7:10 On the twenty-third day of the seventh month, Solomon dismissed the people to their tents. They rejoiced with cheerful hearts for all the blessings the LORD had given David, Solomon, and his people Israel.

2 Chronicles 7:11 Solomon finished the LORD’s temple and the royal palace and completed everything he had in mind for the LORD’s temple and his own palace.

2 Chronicles 7:12 Then the LORD appeared to him at night. He said to Solomon, “I have heard your prayer and have chosen this place for myself as a temple for sacrifices.

2 Chronicles 7:13 I may shut the sky so that there is no rain, or command grasshoppers to devour the countryside, or send an epidemic among my people.

2 Chronicles 7:14 However, if my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves, pray, search for me, and turn from their evil ways, then I will hear [their prayer] from heaven, forgive their sins, and heal their country.

2 Chronicles 7:15 My eyes will be open, and my ears will pay attention to those prayers at this place.

2 Chronicles 7:16 I have chosen and declared this temple holy so that my name may be placed there forever. My eyes and my heart will always be there.

2 Chronicles 7:17 “If you will be faithful to me as your father David was, do everything I command, and obey my laws and rules,

2 Chronicles 7:18 then I will establish your royal dynasty as I said in a promise to your father David, ‘You will never fail to have an heir ruling Israel.’

2 Chronicles 7:19 But if you and your descendants turn away from me and abandon my commands and laws that I gave you, and follow and serve other gods and worship them,

2 Chronicles 7:20 then I will uproot Israel from the land I gave them. I will reject this temple that I declared holy for my name. I will make it an example and an object of ridicule for all the people of the world.

2 Chronicles 7:21 Everyone passing by this impressive temple will be appalled. They will ask, ‘Why did the LORD do these things to this land and this temple?’

2 Chronicles 7:22 They will answer [themselves], ‘They abandoned the LORD God of their ancestors, who brought them out of Egypt. They adopted other gods, worshiped, and served them. That is why he brought this disaster on them.’”

2 Chronicles 8:1 It took Solomon 20 years to build the LORD’s house and his own house.

2 Chronicles 8:2 He rebuilt the cities Huram gave him, and he had Israelites live in them.

2 Chronicles 8:3 Then Solomon went to Hamath Zobah and conquered it.

2 Chronicles 8:4 He rebuilt Tadmor in the desert and built all the storage cities in Hamath.

2 Chronicles 8:5 He rebuilt Upper Beth Horon and Lower Beth Horon into cities fortified with walls, double-door gates, and bars.

2 Chronicles 8:6 [He also rebuilt] Baalath and all the storage cities that he owned. He built all the cities for his chariots, all the cities for his war horses, and whatever [else] he wanted to build in Jerusalem, Lebanon, or the entire territory that he governed.

2 Chronicles 8:7 The Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites had been left [in the land] because the Israelites had not been able to destroy them. They were not Israelites,

2 Chronicles 8:8 but they had descendants who were still in the land. Solomon drafted them for slave labor. (They are still [slaves] today.)

2 Chronicles 8:9 But Solomon didn't make any of the Israelites slaves for his projects. Instead, they were the soldiers, officers, generals, and commanders of his chariot and cavalry units.

2 Chronicles 8:10 These were the officers in charge of King Solomon's projects: 250 foremen for the people who did the work.

2 Chronicles 8:11 Solomon brought Pharaoh's daughter from the City of David to a palace he had built for her. He said, "My wife will not live in the palace of King David of Israel because these places where the LORD's ark has come are holy."

2 Chronicles 8:12 Then Solomon sacrificed burnt offerings to the LORD on the LORD's altar that he built in front of the entrance hall.

2 Chronicles 8:13 He sacrificed every day, on weekly worship days, on the New Moon Festivals, and on the three annual festivals (the Festival of Unleavened Bread, the Festival of Weeks, and the Festival of Booths) as Moses had commanded.

2 Chronicles 8:14 As Solomon's father David had directed, he set up the divisions of priests for their service and the [divisions of] Levites for their appointed places. [The Levites] were to lead in praising [the LORD] and to serve beside the priests by doing whatever needed to be done each day. Solomon also set up divisions of doorkeepers at every gate because this is what David, the man of God, had commanded.

2 Chronicles 8:15 No one neglected the king's orders to the priests or the Levites in any matter, including the [temple's] finances.

2 Chronicles 8:16 All of Solomon's work was carried out from the day the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid until it was completed. The LORD's temple was [now] finished.

2 Chronicles 8:17 Then Solomon went to the coast near Ezion Geber and Elath in Edom.

2 Chronicles 8:18 Huram sent his own servants and his experienced sailors with ships to Solomon. They went with Solomon's servants to Ophir, got 33,750 pounds of gold, and brought it to King Solomon.

2 Chronicles 9:1 The queen of Sheba heard about Solomon's reputation. So she came to Jerusalem to test him with riddles. She arrived with a large group of servants, with camels carrying spices, a large quantity of gold, and precious stones. When she came to Solomon, she talked to him about everything she had on her mind.

2 Chronicles 9:2 Solomon answered all her questions. No question was too difficult for Solomon to answer.

2 Chronicles 9:3 When the queen of Sheba saw Solomon's wisdom, the palace he built,

2 Chronicles 9:4 the food on his table, his officers' seating arrangement, the organization of his officials and the uniforms they wore, his cupbearers and their uniforms, and the burnt offerings that he sacrificed at the LORD's temple, she was breathless.

2 Chronicles 9:5 She told the king, "What I heard in my country about your words and your wisdom is true!

2 Chronicles 9:6 But I didn't believe the reports until I came and saw it with my own eyes. I wasn't even told about half of the extent of your wisdom. You've surpassed the stories I've heard.

2 Chronicles 9:7 How blessed your men must be! How blessed these servants of yours must be because they are always stationed in front of you and listen to your wisdom!

2 Chronicles 9:8 Thank the LORD your God, who is pleased with you. He has put you on his throne to be king on behalf of the LORD your God. Because of your God's love for the people of Israel, he has established them permanently and made you king over them so that you would maintain justice and righteousness."

2 Chronicles 9:9 She gave the king 9,000 pounds of gold, a very large quantity of spices, and precious stones. Never was there such a large quantity of spices [in Israel] as those that the queen of Sheba gave King Solomon.

2 Chronicles 9:10 Huram's servants and Solomon's servants who brought gold from Ophir also brought sandalwood and precious stones.

2 Chronicles 9:11 With the sandalwood the king made gateways to the LORD's temple and the royal palace, and lyres and harps for the singers. No one had ever seen anything like them in Judah.

2 Chronicles 9:12 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba anything she wanted, whatever she asked for, more than what she had brought him. Then she and her servants went back to her country.

2 Chronicles 9:13 The gold that came to Solomon in one year weighed 49,950 pounds,

2 Chronicles 9:14 not counting [the gold] which the merchants and traders brought. All the Arab kings and governors of the land also brought gold and silver to Solomon.

2 Chronicles 9:15 King Solomon made 200 large shields of hammered gold, using 15 pounds of gold on each shield.

2 Chronicles 9:16 He also made 300 small shields of hammered gold, using 71/2 pounds of gold on each shield. The king put them in the hall [named] the Forest of Lebanon.

2 Chronicles 9:17 The king also made a large ivory throne and covered it with pure gold.

2 Chronicles 9:18 Six steps led to the throne, which had a gold footstool attached to it. There were armrests on both sides of the seat. Two lions stood beside the armrests.

2 Chronicles 9:19 Twelve lions stood on six steps, one on each side. Nothing like this had been made for any other kingdom.

2 Chronicles 9:20 All King Solomon's cups were gold, and all the utensils for the hall [named] the Forest of Lebanon were fine gold. (Silver wasn't considered valuable in Solomon's time.)

2 Chronicles 9:21 The king had ships going to Tarshish with Huram's sailors. Once every three years the Tarshish ships would bring gold, silver, ivory, apes, and monkeys.

2 Chronicles 9:22 In wealth and wisdom King Solomon was greater than all the [other] kings of the world.

2 Chronicles 9:23 All the kings of the world wanted to listen to the wisdom that God gave Solomon.

2 Chronicles 9:24 So everyone who came brought him gifts: articles of silver and gold, clothing, weapons, spices, horses, and mules. This happened year after year.

2 Chronicles 9:25 Solomon had 4,000 stalls for horses and chariots, and 12,000 war horses. He stationed [some] in chariot cities and [others] with himself in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 9:26 He ruled all the kings from the Euphrates River to the country of the Philistines and as far as the Egyptian border.

2 Chronicles 9:27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedars as plentiful as fig trees in the foothills.

2 Chronicles 9:28 Horses were imported for Solomon from Egypt and from all other countries.

2 Chronicles 9:29 Aren't the rest of Solomon's acts from first to last written in the records of Nathan the prophet, in the prophecy of Ahijah from Shiloh, and in Iddo the seer's visions about Jeroboam (son of Nebat)?

2 Chronicles 9:30 Solomon ruled in Jerusalem over all Israel for 40 years.

2 Chronicles 9:31 Solomon lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David. His son Rehoboam succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 10:1 Rehoboam went to Shechem because all Israel had gone to Shechem to make him king.

2 Chronicles 10:2 Jeroboam (Nebat’s son) was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon. When he heard [about Rehoboam], he returned from Egypt.

2 Chronicles 10:3 [Israel] sent for Jeroboam and invited him back. Jeroboam and all Israel went to speak to Rehoboam. They said,

2 Chronicles 10:4 “Your father made us carry a heavy burden. Reduce the hard work and lighten the heavy burden he put on us, and we will serve you.”

2 Chronicles 10:5 He said to them, “Come back the day after tomorrow.” So the people left.

2 Chronicles 10:6 King Rehoboam sought advice from the older leaders who had served his father Solomon while he was still alive. He asked, “What do you advise? How should I respond to these people?”

2 Chronicles 10:7 They told him, “If you are good to these people and try to please them by speaking gently to them, then they will always be your servants.”

2 Chronicles 10:8 But he ignored the advice the older leaders gave him. He sought advice from the young men who had grown up with him and were serving him.

2 Chronicles 10:9 He asked them, “What is your advice? How should we respond to these people who are asking me to lighten the burden my father put on them?”

2 Chronicles 10:10 The young men who had grown up with him answered, “This is what you should tell them: ‘My little finger is heavier than my father’s whole body.

2 Chronicles 10:11 If my father put a heavy burden on you, I will add to it. If my father punished you with whips, I will punish you with scorpions.’”

2 Chronicles 10:12 So Jeroboam and all the people came back to Rehoboam two days later, as the king had instructed them.

2 Chronicles 10:13 The king answered them harshly. He ignored the older leaders’ advice.

2 Chronicles 10:14 He spoke to them as the young men advised. He said, “If my father made your burden heavy, I will add to it. If my father punished you with whips, I will use scorpions.”

2 Chronicles 10:15 The king refused to listen to the people because the LORD was directing these events to carry out the promise he had made to Jeroboam (Nebat's son) through Ahijah from Shiloh.

2 Chronicles 10:16 When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, the people answered the king, "What share do we have in David's kingdom? We won't receive an inheritance from Jesse's son. Everyone to his own tent, Israel! Now look after your own house, David!" So all Israel went home to their own tents.

2 Chronicles 10:17 But Rehoboam ruled the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.

2 Chronicles 10:18 Then King Rehoboam sent Hadoram to the Israelites. He was in charge of forced labor, but they stoned him to death. So King Rehoboam got on his chariot as fast as he could and fled to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 10:19 Israel has rebelled against David's dynasty to this day.

2 Chronicles 11:1 When Rehoboam came to Jerusalem, he gathered the people of Judah and Benjamin, 180,000 of the best soldiers, to fight against Israel and return the kingdom to Rehoboam.

2 Chronicles 11:2 But God spoke his word to Shemaiah, the man of God. He said,

2 Chronicles 11:3 "Speak to Judah's King Rehoboam, son of Solomon, and all Israel in Judah and Benjamin.

2 Chronicles 11:4 This is what the LORD says: Don't wage war against your relatives. Everyone, go home. What has happened is my doing." So they obeyed the word of the LORD. They turned back from their attack on Jeroboam.

2 Chronicles 11:5 Rehoboam lived in Jerusalem and built fortified cities in Judah.

2 Chronicles 11:6 He rebuilt Bethlehem, Etam, Tekoa,

2 Chronicles 11:7 Beth Zur, Soco, Adullam,

2 Chronicles 11:8 Gath, Mareshah, Ziph,

2 Chronicles 11:9 Adoraim, Lachish, Azekah,

2 Chronicles 11:10 Zorah, Aijalon, and Hebron. These were fortified cities in Judah and Benjamin.

2 Chronicles 11:11 He strengthened them and put army officers with reserves of food, olive oil, and wine in them.

2 Chronicles 11:12 In each city he stored shields and spears. He made the cities very secure. So Rehoboam held on to Judah and Benjamin.

2 Chronicles 11:13 The priests and Levites in every region of Israel sided with Rehoboam.

2 Chronicles 11:14 The priests abandoned their land and property and went to Judah and Jerusalem because Jeroboam and his descendants rejected them as the LORD's priests.

2 Chronicles 11:15 Instead, Jeroboam appointed [his own] priests for the illegal worship sites and the goat and calf statues he had made as idols.

2 Chronicles 11:16 People from every tribe of Israel who were determined to seek the LORD God of Israel followed the Levitical priests to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 11:17 So they strengthened the kingdom of Judah by supporting Rehoboam, son of Solomon, for three years. During [those] three years they lived the way David and Solomon had lived.

2 Chronicles 11:18 Rehoboam married Mahalath, daughter of Jerimoth. (Jerimoth was the son of David and Abihail. Abihail was the daughter of Eliab, son of Jesse.)

2 Chronicles 11:19 Mahalath gave birth to the following sons: Jeush, Shemariah, and Zaham.

2 Chronicles 11:20 After marrying Mahalath, he married Maacah, Absalom's granddaughter. She gave birth to Abijah, Attai, Ziza, and Shelomith.

2 Chronicles 11:21 Rehoboam loved Maacah, Absalom's granddaughter, more than all his other wives and concubines. (He had 18 wives and 60 concubines. He fathered 28 sons and 60 daughters.)

2 Chronicles 11:22 Rehoboam appointed Abijah, son of Maacah, as family head and prince among his brothers. By doing this, Rehoboam could make him king.

2 Chronicles 11:23 He wisely placed his sons in every region of Judah and Benjamin, in every fortified city. He gave them allowances and obtained many wives for them.

2 Chronicles 12:1 When Rehoboam had established his kingdom and made himself strong, he and all Israel abandoned the LORD's teachings.

2 Chronicles 12:2 In the fifth year of Rehoboam's reign, King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem. This happened because all Israel was not loyal to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 12:3 Shishak had 1,200 chariots, 60,000 horses, and an army of countless Libyans, Sukkites, and Sudanese from Egypt.

2 Chronicles 12:4 He captured the fortified cities in Judah and then came to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 12:5 The prophet Shemaiah came to Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah who had gathered in Jerusalem because of Shishak. Shemaiah said to them, "This is what the LORD says: You have abandoned me, so I will abandon you. I will hand you over to Shishak."

2 Chronicles 12:6 Then the commanders of Israel and the king humbled themselves. “The LORD is right!” they said.

2 Chronicles 12:7 When the LORD saw that they had humbled themselves, he spoke his word to Shemaiah: “They have humbled themselves. I will not destroy them. In a little while I will give them an escape. I will not use Shishak to pour my anger on Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 12:8 But they will become his servants so that they can learn the difference between serving me and serving foreign kings.”

2 Chronicles 12:9 King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem and took the treasures from the LORD’s temple and the royal palace. He took them all. He took the gold shields Solomon had made.

2 Chronicles 12:10 So King Rehoboam made bronze shields to replace them and put them by the entrance to the royal palace, where the captains of the guards were stationed.

2 Chronicles 12:11 Whenever the king went into the LORD’s temple, guards carried the shields and then returned them to the guardroom.

2 Chronicles 12:12 After Rehoboam humbled himself, the LORD was no longer angry with him and didn’t completely destroy him. So things went well in Judah.

2 Chronicles 12:13 King Rehoboam strengthened his position in Jerusalem and ruled. He was 41 years old when he began to rule. He ruled for 17 years in Jerusalem, the city that the LORD chose from all the tribes of Israel, the city where the LORD put his name. (Rehoboam’s mother was an Ammonite woman named Naamah.)

2 Chronicles 12:14 He did evil things because he was not serious about dedicating himself to serving the LORD.

2 Chronicles 12:15 Aren’t the events concerning Rehoboam from first to last written in the records of the prophet Shemaiah and the records of the seer Iddo in the genealogies? There was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam as long as they lived.

2 Chronicles 12:16 Rehoboam lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David. His son Abijah succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 13:1 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam, Abijah began to rule Judah.

2 Chronicles 13:2 He ruled for three years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Micaiah, daughter of Uriel from Gibeah. There was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.

2 Chronicles 13:3 Abijah prepared for battle with an army of 400,000 of the best soldiers, while Jeroboam arranged to oppose him with 800,000 of the best professional soldiers.

2 Chronicles 13:4 Then Abijah stood on Mount Zemaraim in the mountains of Ephraim. He called out, “Jeroboam and all Israel, listen to me!

2 Chronicles 13:5 Don’t you know that the LORD God of Israel gave the kingdom of Israel to David and his descendants forever in a permanent promise?

2 Chronicles 13:6 But Jeroboam (Nebat’s son) rebelled against his master. He had been the servant of David’s son Solomon.

2 Chronicles 13:7 Worthless, good-for-nothing men gathered around him. They opposed Rehoboam, son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was too young and inexperienced to challenge them.

2 Chronicles 13:8 Do you now intend to challenge the LORD’s kingdom, which has been placed in the hands of David’s descendants? You are a large crowd, and you have the gold calves that Jeroboam made to be your gods.

2 Chronicles 13:9 You forced out the LORD’s priests who were Aaron’s descendants, and you forced out the Levites so that you could appoint your own priests, as the people in foreign countries do. Anyone who has a young bull and seven rams can be ordained as a priest of nonexistent gods.

2 Chronicles 13:10 “However, the LORD is our God. We haven’t abandoned him. The priests who serve the LORD are Aaron’s descendants, and the Levites assist them.

2 Chronicles 13:11 They sacrifice burnt offerings to the LORD every morning and every evening. They offer sweet-smelling incense and rows of bread on the clean table. The lamps on the gold lamp stand burn every evening. We’re following the instructions the LORD our God gave us, but you have abandoned him.

2 Chronicles 13:12 God is with us as our leader. His priests will sound their trumpets to call [the army] to fight you. Men of Israel, don’t wage war against the LORD God of your ancestors. You won’t succeed.”

2 Chronicles 13:13 But Jeroboam had set an ambush to attack them from behind. So Jeroboam’s army was in front of Judah, and the ambush was behind them.

2 Chronicles 13:14 When Judah’s soldiers looked around, the battle was in front of them and behind them. They cried out to the LORD, the priests blew the trumpets,

2 Chronicles 13:15 and the men of Judah shouted. When they shouted, God attacked Jeroboam and all Israel in front of Abijah and Judah.

2 Chronicles 13:16 The Israelites fled from Judah’s [army], and God handed them over to Judah.

2 Chronicles 13:17 So Abijah and his men defeated them decisively, and 500,000 of the best men of Israel were killed.

2 Chronicles 13:18 So the Israelites were humbled at that time, and the men of Judah won because they trusted the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 13:19 Abijah pursued Jeroboam and captured some of his cities: Bethel and its villages, Jeshanah and its villages, and Ephron and its villages.

2 Chronicles 13:20 Jeroboam never regained power during Abijah's time. The LORD caused Jeroboam to become sick, and Jeroboam died.

2 Chronicles 13:21 But Abijah became strong. He married 14 wives and fathered 22 sons and 16 daughters.

2 Chronicles 13:22 Everything else about Abijah-how he lived and what he said-is written in the history by the prophet Iddo.

2 Chronicles 14:1 Abijah lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David. His son Asa succeeded him as king. In Asa's time the land had peace for ten years.

2 Chronicles 14:2 Asa did what the LORD his God considered good and right.

2 Chronicles 14:3 He got rid of the altars of foreign gods, broke down the sacred stones, and cut down the poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah.

2 Chronicles 14:4 He told the people of Judah to dedicate their lives to serving the LORD God of their ancestors and follow his teachings and commands.

2 Chronicles 14:5 He got rid of the illegal places of worship and the altars for incense in all the cities of Judah. The kingdom was at peace during his reign.

2 Chronicles 14:6 He built fortified cities in Judah because the land had peace. There was no war during those years because the LORD gave him a time of peace.

2 Chronicles 14:7 So Asa told Judah, "Let's build these cities and make walls around them with towers and doors that can be barred. The country is still ours because we have dedicated our lives to serving the LORD our God. We have dedicated our lives to him, and he has surrounded us with peace." So they built the cities, and everything went well.

2 Chronicles 14:8 Asa had an army of 300,000 Judeans who were armed with large shields and spears and 280,000 Benjaminites who were armed with small shields and bows. All of these men were good fighting men.

2 Chronicles 14:9 Then Zerah from Sudan came with 1,000,000 men and 300 chariots to attack Asa. Zerah got as far as Mareshah.

2 Chronicles 14:10 Asa went to confront him, and the two armies set up their battle lines in the Zephathah Valley at Mareshah.

2 Chronicles 14:11 Asa called on the LORD his God. He said, “LORD, there is no one except you who can help those who are not strong so that they can fight against a large [army]. Help us, LORD our God, because we are depending on you. In your name we go against this large crowd. You are the LORD our God. Don’t let anyone successfully oppose you.”

2 Chronicles 14:12 The LORD attacked the Sudanese army in front of Asa and Judah. The Sudanese army fled.

2 Chronicles 14:13 Asa and his troops pursued them as far as Gerar. Many of the Sudanese died in battle. As a result, the Sudanese army couldn’t fight again. It was crushed in front of the LORD and his army. The LORD’s army captured a lot of goods.

2 Chronicles 14:14 It attacked all the cities around Gerar because the cities were afraid of the LORD. The army looted all the cities because there were many things to take.

2 Chronicles 14:15 It also attacked those who were letting their cattle graze and captured many sheep and camels. Then it returned to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 15:1 God’s Spirit came to Azariah, son of Oded.

2 Chronicles 15:2 Azariah went to Asa and said to him, “Listen to me, Asa and all you men from Judah and Benjamin. The LORD is with you when you are with him. If you will dedicate your lives to serving him, he will accept you. But if you abandon him, he will abandon you.

2 Chronicles 15:3 For a long time Israel was without the true God, without a priest who taught [correctly], and without Moses’ Teachings.

2 Chronicles 15:4 But when they were in trouble, they turned to the LORD God of Israel. When they searched for him, he let them find him.

2 Chronicles 15:5 At those times no one could come and go in peace, because everyone living in the land had a lot of turmoil.

2 Chronicles 15:6 One nation crushed another nation; one city crushed another. God had tormented them with every kind of trouble.

2 Chronicles 15:7 But you must remain strong and not become discouraged. Your actions will be rewarded.”

2 Chronicles 15:8 When Asa heard the prophet Oded’s words of prophecy, he was encouraged and put away the detestable idols from all of Judah, Benjamin, and the cities he had captured in the mountains of Ephraim. He also repaired the LORD’s altar in front of the LORD’s entrance hall.

2 Chronicles 15:9 Then Asa gathered all the people from Judah and Benjamin and the foreigners who had come from Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon. (Many of them had come to him from Israel when they saw that Asa’s God, the LORD, was with him.)

2 Chronicles 15:10 In the third month of the fifteenth year of Asa's reign, they gathered in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 15:11 On that day they sacrificed to the LORD a part of the loot they had brought with them: 700 cattle and 7,000 sheep.

2 Chronicles 15:12 They made an agreement with one another to dedicate their lives to serving the LORD God of their ancestors with all their heart and soul.

2 Chronicles 15:13 All people (young or old, male or female) who refused to dedicate their lives to the LORD God of Israel were to be killed.

2 Chronicles 15:14 Asa and the people swore their oath to the LORD with shouts, singing, and the blowing of trumpets and rams' horns.

2 Chronicles 15:15 All the people of Judah were overjoyed because of the oath, since they took the oath wholeheartedly. They took great pleasure in looking for the LORD, and he let them find him. So the LORD surrounded them with peace.

2 Chronicles 15:16 King Asa also removed his grandmother Maacah from the position of queen mother because she made a statue of the repulsive goddess Asherah. Asa cut the statue down, crushed it, and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

2 Chronicles 15:17 Although the illegal worship sites in Israel were not taken down, Asa remained committed [to the LORD] his entire life.

2 Chronicles 15:18 He brought into God's temple the silver, the gold, and the utensils he and his father had set apart as holy.

2 Chronicles 15:19 There was no war until the thirty-fifth year of Asa's reign.

2 Chronicles 16:1 In the thirty-sixth year of Asa's reign, King Baasha of Israel invaded Judah and fortified Ramah to keep anyone from going to or coming from King Asa of Judah.

2 Chronicles 16:2 Then Asa brought out all the silver and gold that was left in the treasuries of the LORD's temple and the royal palace. He sent them to Damascus to Aram's King Benhadad.

2 Chronicles 16:3 He said, "There's a treaty between you and me [as] there was between your father and my father. I'm sending you silver and gold. Now break your treaty with King Baasha of Israel so that he will leave me alone."

2 Chronicles 16:4 Benhadad did what King Asa requested. He sent his generals and their armies to attack the cities of Israel. He conquered Ijon, Dan, Abel Maim, and all the storage cities in the territory of Naphtali.

2 Chronicles 16:5 When Baasha heard the news, he stopped fortifying Ramah and abandoned his work on it.

2 Chronicles 16:6 Then King Asa took everyone in Judah [to Ramah]. He made them carry the stones and lumber from Ramah. Baasha had been using those to fortify the city. Asa used the materials to fortify Geba in Benjamin and Mizpah.

2 Chronicles 16:7 At that time the seer Hanani came to King Asa of Judah and said to him, “Because you depended on the king of Syria and did not depend on the LORD your God, the army of the king of Aram has escaped your grasp.

2 Chronicles 16:8 Weren’t the Sudanese and Libyans a large army with many chariots and drivers? But when you depended on the LORD, he handed them over to you.

2 Chronicles 16:9 The LORD’s eyes scan the whole world to find those whose hearts are committed to him and to strengthen them. You acted foolishly in this matter. So from now on, you will have to fight wars.”

2 Chronicles 16:10 Asa was furious at the seer. He was so angry with Hanani that he put Hanani in prison. Asa also oppressed some of the people at that time in his reign.

2 Chronicles 16:11 Everything about Asa from first to last is written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

2 Chronicles 16:12 In the thirty-ninth year of his reign, Asa got a foot disease that became progressively worse. Instead of asking the LORD for help, he went to doctors.

2 Chronicles 16:13 Asa lay down in death with his ancestors. He died in the forty-first year of his reign.

2 Chronicles 16:14 They buried him in the tomb that he had prepared for himself in the City of David. They laid him on a bed full of spices and blended perfumes. And they burned a bonfire in his honor.

2 Chronicles 17:1 Asa’s son Jehoshaphat succeeded him as king. Jehoshaphat strengthened himself [to wage war] against Israel.

2 Chronicles 17:2 He put troops in all the fortified cities of Judah and placed military posts in Judah and in the cities of Ephraim that his father Asa had captured.

2 Chronicles 17:3 The LORD was with Jehoshaphat, who lived in the old way like his ancestor David. Jehoshaphat didn’t dedicate his life to serving other gods-the Baals.

2 Chronicles 17:4 Instead, he dedicated his life to his ancestor’s God and lived by God’s commands. Jehoshaphat did not do what Israel was doing.

2 Chronicles 17:5 So the LORD established Jehoshaphat’s power over the kingdom. All the people of Judah gave gifts to Jehoshaphat, and he had a lot of riches and honor.

2 Chronicles 17:6 He had the confidence to live the way the LORD wanted him to live. He also got rid of the illegal places of worship and poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah in Judah.

2 Chronicles 17:7 In the third year of his reign, he sent his officers Ben Hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethanel, and Micaiah to teach in the cities of Judah.

2 Chronicles 17:8 With them were the Levites Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Asahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah, Tobijah, Tob Adonijah, and the priests Elishama and Jehoram.

2 Chronicles 17:9 They taught in Judah. They had the Book of the LORD's Teachings with them when they taught the people in all the cities of Judah.

2 Chronicles 17:10 Fear of the LORD came to all the kingdoms around Judah. As a result, they didn't wage war against Jehoshaphat.

2 Chronicles 17:11 Some of the Philistines brought gifts and silver as taxes. The Arabs also brought him flocks: 7,700 rams and 7,700 male goats.

2 Chronicles 17:12 So Jehoshaphat became more and more powerful. He built fortresses and cities where supplies were stored in Judah.

2 Chronicles 17:13 He had large supplies of food in the cities of Judah and an army of professional soldiers with him in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 17:14 The following is a breakdown of these soldiers. They are listed by families. Judah's regimental commanders were Commander Adnah (with 300,000 fighting men),

2 Chronicles 17:15 next to him Commander Jehohanan (with 280,000),

2 Chronicles 17:16 and next to him Amasiah, Zichri's son, who volunteered to serve the LORD (with 200,000 fighting men).

2 Chronicles 17:17 From Benjamin there was the fighting man Eliada (with 200,000 armed men with bows and shields),

2 Chronicles 17:18 and next to him was Jehozabad (with him was an army of 180,000 armed men).

2 Chronicles 17:19 These were the men who served the king in addition to those whom the king put in the fortified cities throughout Judah.

2 Chronicles 18:1 Jehoshaphat was wealthy and honorable and became Ahab's in-law.

2 Chronicles 18:2 A few years later he went to visit Ahab in Samaria. Ahab slaughtered many sheep and cattle for a banquet in honor of Jehoshaphat and the people who were with him. And Ahab persuaded Jehoshaphat to attack Ramoth in Gilead with him.

2 Chronicles 18:3 King Ahab of Israel asked King Jehoshaphat of Judah, “Will you go with me to Ramoth in Gilead?” Jehoshaphat told the king of Israel, “I will do what you do. My troops will do what your troops do. [We will join] your troops in battle.”

2 Chronicles 18:4 Then Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, “But first, find out what the word of the LORD is [in this matter].”

2 Chronicles 18:5 So the king of Israel called 400 prophets together. He asked them, “Should we go to war against Ramoth in Gilead or not?” “Go,” they said. “God will hand over Ramoth to you.”

2 Chronicles 18:6 But Jehoshaphat asked, “Isn’t there a prophet of the LORD whom we could ask?”

2 Chronicles 18:7 The king of Israel told Jehoshaphat, “We can ask the LORD through Micaiah, son of Imla, but I hate him. Nothing he prophesies about me is good; it’s always evil.” Jehoshaphat answered, “The king must not say that.”

2 Chronicles 18:8 The king of Israel called for an officer and said, “Quick! [Get] Micaiah, son of Imla!”

2 Chronicles 18:9 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah were dressed in royal robes and seated on thrones. They were sitting on the threshing floor at the entrance to the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were prophesying in front of them.

2 Chronicles 18:10 Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, made iron horns and said, “This is what the LORD says: With these horns you will push the Arameans to their destruction.”

2 Chronicles 18:11 All the other prophets made the same prophecy. They said, “Attack Ramoth in Gilead, and you will win. The LORD will hand it over to you.”

2 Chronicles 18:12 The messenger who went to call Micaiah told him, “The prophets have all told the king the same good message. Make your message agree with their message. Say something good.”

2 Chronicles 18:13 Micaiah answered, “I solemnly swear, as the LORD lives, I will tell him whatever my God says to me.”

2 Chronicles 18:14 When he came to the king, the king asked him, “Micaiah, should we go to war against Ramoth in Gilead or not?” Micaiah said, “Attack and you will win. They will be handed over to you.”

2 Chronicles 18:15 The king asked him, “How many times must I make you take an oath in the LORD’s name to tell me nothing but the truth?”

2 Chronicles 18:16 So Micaiah said, “I saw Israel’s troops scattered in the hills like sheep without a shepherd. The LORD said, ‘These sheep have no master. Let each one go home in peace.’”

2 Chronicles 18:17 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Didn’t I tell you he wouldn’t prophesy anything good about me?”

2 Chronicles 18:18 Micaiah added, “Then hear the word of the LORD. I saw the LORD sitting on his throne, and the entire army of heaven was standing on his right and his left.

2 Chronicles 18:19 The LORD asked, ‘Who will deceive King Ahab of Israel so that he will attack and be killed at Ramoth in Gilead?’ Some answered one way, while others were saying something else.

2 Chronicles 18:20 “Then the Spirit stepped forward, stood in front of the LORD, and said, ‘I will deceive him.’ “ ‘How?’ the LORD asked.

2 Chronicles 18:21 “The Spirit answered, ‘I will go out and be a spirit that tells lies through the mouths of all of Ahab’s prophets.’ “The LORD said, ‘You will succeed in deceiving him. Go and do it.’

2 Chronicles 18:22 “So the LORD has put into the mouths of these prophets of yours a spirit that makes them tell lies. The LORD has spoken evil about you.”

2 Chronicles 18:23 Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, went to Micaiah and struck him on the cheek. “Which way did the Spirit go when he left me to talk to you?” he asked.

2 Chronicles 18:24 Micaiah answered, “You will find out on the day you go into an inner room to hide.”

2 Chronicles 18:25 The king of Israel then said, “Send Micaiah back to Amon, the governor of the city, and to Joash, the prince.

2 Chronicles 18:26 Say, ‘This is what the king says: Put this man in prison, and feed him nothing but bread and water until I return home safely.’”

2 Chronicles 18:27 Micaiah said, “If you really do come back safely, then the LORD wasn’t speaking through me. Pay attention to this, everyone!”

2 Chronicles 18:28 So the king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah went to Ramoth in Gilead.

2 Chronicles 18:29 The king of Israel told Jehoshaphat, “I will disguise myself and go into battle, but you should wear your royal robes.” So the king of Israel disguised himself and went into battle.

2 Chronicles 18:30 The king of Aram had given orders to the chariot commanders. He said, “Don’t fight anyone except the king of Israel.”

2 Chronicles 18:31 When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they said, “He must be the king of Israel.” So they surrounded him in order to fight him. But when Jehoshaphat cried out, the LORD helped him. God drew them away from him,

2 Chronicles 18:32 and the chariot commanders realized that Jehoshaphat wasn’t the king of Israel. Then they turned away from him.

2 Chronicles 18:33 One man aimed his bow at random and hit the king of Israel between his scale armor and his breastplate. Ahab told the chariot driver, “Turn around, and get me away from these troops. I’m badly wounded.”

2 Chronicles 18:34 But the battle got worse that day, and the king propped himself up in his chariot facing the Arameans until evening. At sundown he died.

2 Chronicles 19:1 King Jehoshaphat of Judah returned safely to his home in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 19:2 Jehu, son of the seer Hanani, asked King Jehoshaphat, “Why do you help wicked people and love those who hate the LORD? The LORD’s anger is directed toward you because you have done this.

2 Chronicles 19:3 However, you’ve done some good things: You’ve burned the Asherah poles in this country, and you’ve wholeheartedly dedicated your life to serving God.”

2 Chronicles 19:4 While Jehoshaphat was living in Jerusalem, he regularly went to the people between Beersheba and the mountains of Ephraim. He brought the people back to the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 19:5 He appointed judges in the country, in each fortified city of Judah.

2 Chronicles 19:6 He told the judges, “Pay attention to what you’re doing. When you judge, you aren’t doing it for a human but for the LORD. He will be with you when you hear a case.

2 Chronicles 19:7 May you have the fear of the LORD in you. Be careful about what you do. The LORD our God is never unjust. He is impartial and never takes bribes.”

2 Chronicles 19:8 In Jerusalem Jehoshaphat also appointed some Levites, priests, and family heads from Israel to administer the LORD’s laws and decide cases. They lived in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 19:9 He ordered them, “Do this wholeheartedly-with the fear of the LORD and with faithfulness.

2 Chronicles 19:10 Warn your relatives living in other cities about every case they bring to you, even if the case involves bloodshed or commands, rules, or regulations derived from Moses’ Teachings. Then your relatives will not become guilty in front of the LORD. Otherwise, he will become angry with you and your relatives. Do this, and you won’t be guilty [of anything].

2 Chronicles 19:11 Now, the chief priest Amariah will be in charge of you in every matter involving the LORD. Zebadiah, who is the son of Ishmael and the leader of the tribe of Judah, will be in charge of every matter involving the king. The Levites will serve as officers of the court. Be strong, and do your job. May the LORD be with those who do right.”

2 Chronicles 20:1 Later the Moabites, Ammonites, and some of the Meunites came to wage war against Jehoshaphat.

2 Chronicles 20:2 Some men reported to Jehoshaphat, “A large crowd is coming against you from the other side of the Dead Sea, from Edom. The crowd is already in Hazazon Tamar” (also called En Gedi).

2 Chronicles 20:3 Frightened, Jehoshaphat decided to ask for the LORD’s help. He announced a fast throughout Judah.

2 Chronicles 20:4 The people of Judah gathered to seek the LORD’s help. They came from every city in Judah.

2 Chronicles 20:5 In the new courtyard at the LORD’s temple, Jehoshaphat stood in front of the people.

2 Chronicles 20:6 He said, “LORD God of our ancestors, aren’t you the God in heaven? You rule all the kingdoms of the nations. You possess power and might, and no one can oppose you.

2 Chronicles 20:7 Didn’t you, our God, force those who were living in this country out of Israel’s way? Didn’t you give this country to the descendants of your friend Abraham to have permanently?

2 Chronicles 20:8 His descendants have lived in it and built a holy temple for your name in it. They said,

2 Chronicles 20:9 ‘If evil comes in the form of war, flood, plague, or famine, we will stand in front of this temple and in front of you because your name is in this temple. We will cry out to you in our troubles, and you will hear us and save us.’

2 Chronicles 20:10 “The Ammonites, Moabites, and the people of Mount Seir have come here. However, you didn’t let Israel invade them when they came out of Egypt. The Israelites turned away from them and didn’t destroy them.

2 Chronicles 20:11 They are now paying us back by coming to force us out of your land that you gave to us.

2 Chronicles 20:12 You’re our God. Won’t you judge them? We don’t have the strength to face this large crowd that is attacking us. We don’t know what to do, so we’re looking to you.”

2 Chronicles 20:13 All the people from Judah, their infants, wives, and children were standing in front of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 20:14 Then the LORD’s Spirit came to Jahaziel. (He was the son of Zechariah, grandson of Benaiah, great-grandson of Jeiel, whose father was Mattaniah, a Levite descended from Asaph.)

2 Chronicles 20:15 Jahaziel said, “Pay attention to me, everyone from Judah, everyone living in Jerusalem, and King Jehoshaphat. This is what the LORD says to you: Don’t be frightened or terrified by this large crowd. The battle isn’t yours. It’s God’s.

2 Chronicles 20:16 Tomorrow go into battle against them. They will be coming up the Ziz Pass. You will find them at the end of the valley in front of the Jeruel Desert.

2 Chronicles 20:17 You won't fight this battle. [Instead,] take your position, stand still, and see the victory of the LORD for you, Judah and Jerusalem. Don't be frightened or terrified. Tomorrow go out to face them. The LORD is with you."

2 Chronicles 20:18 Jehoshaphat bowed down with his face touching the ground. Everyone from Judah and the people who lived in Jerusalem immediately bowed down in front of the LORD.

2 Chronicles 20:19 The Levites, descendants of Kohath and Korah, stood up to praise the LORD God of Israel with very loud songs.

2 Chronicles 20:20 They got up early in the morning and went to the desert of Tekoa. As they were leaving, Jehoshaphat stopped and said, "Listen to me, people of Judah and those living in Jerusalem. Trust the LORD your God, and believe. Believe his prophets, and you will succeed."

2 Chronicles 20:21 After he had advised the people, he appointed people to sing to the LORD and praise him for the beauty of his holiness. As they went in front of the troops, they sang, "Thank the LORD because his mercy endures forever!"

2 Chronicles 20:22 As they started to sing praises, the LORD set ambushes against the Ammonites, Moabites, and the people of Mount Seir who had come into Judah. They were defeated.

2 Chronicles 20:23 Then the Ammonites and Moabites attacked the people from Mount Seir and annihilated them. After they had finished off the people of Seir, they helped destroy one another.

2 Chronicles 20:24 The people of Judah went to the watchtower in the desert and looked for the crowd. Corpses were lying on the ground. No one had escaped.

2 Chronicles 20:25 When Jehoshaphat and his troops came to take the loot, they found among them a lot of goods, clothes, and valuables. They found more than they could carry. They spent three days collecting the loot.

2 Chronicles 20:26 On the fourth day they gathered in the valley of Beracah. Because they thanked the LORD there, that place is still called the valley of Beracah [Thanks] today.

2 Chronicles 20:27 All the men of Judah and Jerusalem returned to Jerusalem. They rejoiced while Jehoshaphat led them. The LORD gave them a reason to rejoice about [what had happened to] their enemies.

2 Chronicles 20:28 So they brought harps, lyres, and trumpets to the LORD's temple in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 20:29 The fear of the LORD came over the kingdoms in that area when they heard how the LORD waged war against Israel’s enemies.

2 Chronicles 20:30 Jehoshaphat’s kingdom was peaceful, since his God surrounded him with peace.

2 Chronicles 20:31 Jehoshaphat ruled as king of Judah. He was 35 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 25 years in Jerusalem. His mother’s name was Azubah, daughter of Shilhi.

2 Chronicles 20:32 Jehoshaphat carefully followed the example his father Asa had set and did what the LORD considered right.

2 Chronicles 20:33 But the illegal worship sites on the hills were not torn down. The people still didn’t have their hearts set on the God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 20:34 Everything else about Jehoshaphat from first to last is written in the records of Jehu, son of Hanani, which is included in the Book of the Kings of Israel.

2 Chronicles 20:35 After this, King Jehoshaphat of Judah allied himself with King Ahaziah of Israel, who led him to do evil.

2 Chronicles 20:36 Jehoshaphat joined him in making ships to go to Tarshish. They made the ships in Ezion Geber.

2 Chronicles 20:37 Then Eliezer, son of Dodavahu from Mareshah, prophesied against Jehoshaphat. He said, “The LORD will destroy your work because you have allied yourself with Ahaziah.” So the ships were wrecked and couldn’t go to Tarshish.

2 Chronicles 21:1 Jehoshaphat lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in the City of David. His son Jehoram succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 21:2 He had the following brothers, sons of Jehoshaphat: Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azariahu, Michael, and Shephatiah. All were the sons of King Jehoshaphat of Israel.

2 Chronicles 21:3 Their father gave them many gifts: silver, gold, and other expensive things, along with fortified cities in Judah. But Jehoshaphat gave the kingdom to Jehoram, who was the firstborn.

2 Chronicles 21:4 After Jehoram had taken over his father’s kingdom, he strengthened his position and then executed all his brothers and some of the officials of Israel.

2 Chronicles 21:5 Jehoram was 32 years old when he became king, and he ruled for 8 years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 21:6 He followed the ways of the kings of Israel, as Ahab’s family had done, because his wife was Ahab’s daughter. So he did what the LORD considered evil.

2 Chronicles 21:7 But the LORD, recalling the promise he had made to David, didn't want to destroy David's family. The LORD had told David that he would always give him and his descendants a [shining] lamp.

2 Chronicles 21:8 During Jehoram's time Edom rebelled against Judah and chose its own king.

2 Chronicles 21:9 Jehoram took all his chariot commanders to attack. The Edomites and their chariot commanders surrounded him, but he got up at night and broke through their lines.

2 Chronicles 21:10 So Edom rebelled against Judah's rule and is still independent today. At the same time Edom rebelled, Libnah rebelled because Jehoram had abandoned the LORD God of his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 21:11 Jehoram made illegal places of worship in the hills of Judah. This caused the inhabitants of Jerusalem to chase after foreign gods as if they were prostitutes. So he led Judah astray.

2 Chronicles 21:12 Then a letter came to him from the prophet Elijah. It read, "This is what the LORD God of your ancestor David says: You haven't followed the ways of your father Jehoshaphat or the ways of King Asa of Judah.

2 Chronicles 21:13 Instead, you have followed the ways of the kings of Israel. You, like Ahab's family, have caused Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem to chase after foreign gods as if they were prostitutes. You have killed your brothers, your father's family. Your brothers were better than you.

2 Chronicles 21:14 The LORD will strike a great blow to your people, your sons, your wives, and all your property because you did this.

2 Chronicles 21:15 You will suffer from a chronic intestinal disease until your intestines come out."

2 Chronicles 21:16 The LORD prompted the Philistines and the Arabs who lived near the people of Sudan to attack Jehoram.

2 Chronicles 21:17 They fought against Judah, broke into the country, and took away everything that could be found in the royal palace. They even took Jehoram's sons and wives. The only son left was Ahaziah, Jehoram's youngest son.

2 Chronicles 21:18 After this, the LORD struck Jehoram with an incurable intestinal disease.

2 Chronicles 21:19 Two years later, as his life was coming to an end, his intestines fell out because of his sickness. He died a painful death. His people did not make a bonfire in his honor as they had done for his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 21:20 He was 32 years old when he became king, and he ruled for 8 years in Jerusalem. No one was sorry to see him die. He was buried in the City of David but not in the tombs of the kings.

2 Chronicles 22:1 The people of Jerusalem made Jehoram’s youngest son Ahaziah king in his place, because the raiders who came to the camp with the Arabs had killed all the older sons. So Jehoram’s son Ahaziah became king of Judah.

2 Chronicles 22:2 Ahaziah was 42 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for one year in Jerusalem. His mother was Athaliah, the granddaughter of Omri.

2 Chronicles 22:3 Ahaziah also followed the ways of Ahab’s family, because his mother gave him advice that led him to sin.

2 Chronicles 22:4 He did what the LORD considered evil, as Ahab’s family had done. After his father died, they advised him to do what Ahab’s family had done. They did this to destroy him.

2 Chronicles 22:5 Ahaziah followed their advice and went with Ahab’s son King Joram of Israel to fight against King Hazael of Aram at Ramoth Gilead. There the Arameans wounded Joram.

2 Chronicles 22:6 Joram returned to Jezreel to let his wounds heal. (He had been wounded by the Arameans at Ramah when he fought against King Hazael of Aram.) Then Jehoram’s son Ahaziah went to Jezreel to see Ahab’s son Joram, who was sick.

2 Chronicles 22:7 God brought about Ahaziah’s downfall when he went to Joram. He went with Joram to meet Jehu, grandson of Nimshi. (The LORD had anointed Jehu to destroy Ahab’s family.)

2 Chronicles 22:8 When Jehu was executing judgment on Ahab’s family, he found Judah’s leaders (Ahaziah’s nephews) who were serving Ahaziah, and he killed them.

2 Chronicles 22:9 He searched for Ahaziah, and Jehu’s men captured him while he was hiding in Samaria. They brought him to Jehu and killed him. Then they buried him. They explained, “Ahaziah is Jehoshaphat’s grandson. Jehoshaphat dedicated his life to serving the LORD with all his heart.” But no one in Ahaziah’s family was able to rule as king.

2 Chronicles 22:10 When Ahaziah’s mother, Athaliah, saw that her son was dead, she began to destroy the entire royal family of the house of Judah.

2 Chronicles 22:11 But Jehoshebath, daughter of the king and sister of Ahaziah, took Ahaziah’s son Joash. She saved him from being killed with the king’s other sons, and she put him and his nurse in a bedroom. Jehoshebath was the daughter of King Jehoram and wife of Jehoiada the priest. Because she was also Ahaziah’s sister, she hid Joash from Athaliah. So he wasn’t killed.

2 Chronicles 22:12 Joash was with the priests. He was hidden in God’s temple for six years while Athaliah ruled the country.

2 Chronicles 23:1 In the seventh year of Athaliah's reign, Jehoiada strengthened his position by making an agreement with the company commanders: Azariah, son of Jeroham, Ishmael, son of Jehohanan, Azariah, son of Obed, Maaseiah, son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat, son of Zichri.

2 Chronicles 23:2 They went around Judah, gathered the Levites from all the cities of Judah and the leaders of the families of Israel, and came to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 23:3 The whole assembly made an agreement with the king in God's temple. Then Jehoiada said to them, "Here is the king's son. He should be king, as the LORD said about David's descendants.

2 Chronicles 23:4 This is what you must do: One third of you, the priests and Levites who are on duty on the day of worship, must guard the gates.

2 Chronicles 23:5 Another third must be at the royal palace. And another third must be at Foundation Gate. All the people must be in the courtyards of the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 23:6 No one should come into the LORD's temple except the priests and the Levites who are on duty with them. They may enter because they are holy, but all other people should follow the LORD's regulations.

2 Chronicles 23:7 The Levites should surround the king. Each man should have his weapon in his hand. Kill anyone who tries to come into the temple. Stay with the king wherever he goes."

2 Chronicles 23:8 So the Levites and all the Judeans did what the priest Jehoiada had ordered them. Each took his men who were coming on duty on the day of worship as well as those who were about to go off duty. Jehoiada had not dismissed the priestly divisions.

2 Chronicles 23:9 Jehoiada gave the commanders the spears and the small and large shields that had belonged to King David but were now in God's temple.

2 Chronicles 23:10 All the troops stood with their weapons drawn. They were stationed around the king and around the altar and the temple (from the south side to the north side of the temple).

2 Chronicles 23:11 Then they brought out the king's son, gave him the crown and the religious instructions, and Jehoiada and his sons made him king by anointing him. They said, "Long live the king!"

2 Chronicles 23:12 When Athaliah heard the people running and praising the king, she went into the LORD's temple, where the people were.

2 Chronicles 23:13 She looked, and the king was standing by the pillar at the entrance. The commanders and the trumpeters were by his side. All the people of the land were rejoicing and blowing trumpets. The singers were leading the celebration with songs accompanied by musical instruments. As Athaliah tore her clothes [in distress], she said, “Treason, treason!”

2 Chronicles 23:14 Then the priest Jehoiada brought the company commanders who were in charge of the army out [of the temple]. He said to them, “Take her out of the temple. Use your sword to kill anyone who follows her.” (The priest had said, “Don’t kill her in the LORD’s temple.”)

2 Chronicles 23:15 So they arrested her as she entered Horse Gate of the royal palace, and they killed her there.

2 Chronicles 23:16 Jehoiada made a promise to the LORD on behalf of the king and his people that they would be the LORD’s people.

2 Chronicles 23:17 Then all the people went to the temple of Baal and tore it down. They smashed Baal’s altars and his statues and killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, in front of the altars.

2 Chronicles 23:18 Next, Jehoiada appointed officials to be in charge of the LORD’s temple under the direction of the priests and Levites. (David had arranged them in divisions for the LORD’s temple. They were appointed to sacrifice burnt offerings to the LORD as it is written in Moses’ Teachings. They made these offerings with joy and singing as David had directed.)

2 Chronicles 23:19 Jehoiada appointed gatekeepers for the gates of the LORD’s temple so that no one who was unclean for any reason could enter.

2 Chronicles 23:20 He took the company commanders, the nobles, the people’s governors, and all the people of the land, and they brought the king from the LORD’s temple. They went through Upper Gate to the royal palace and seated the king on the royal throne. The nobles, the governors of the people, and

2 Chronicles 23:21 all the people of the land were celebrating. But the city was quiet because they had killed Athaliah with a sword.

2 Chronicles 24:1 Joash was 7 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 40 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Zibiah from Beersheba.

2 Chronicles 24:2 Joash did what the LORD considered right, as long as the priest Jehoiada lived.

2 Chronicles 24:3 Jehoiada got Joash two wives, and Joash had sons and daughters.

2 Chronicles 24:4 After this, Joash wanted to renovate the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 24:5 He gathered the priests and the Levites and said to them, “Go to the cities of Judah, and collect money throughout Israel to repair the temple of your God every year. Do it immediately!” But the Levites didn’t do it immediately.

2 Chronicles 24:6 So the king called for the chief priest Jehoiada and asked him, “Why didn’t you require the Levites to bring the contributions from Judah and Jerusalem? The LORD’s servant Moses and the assembly had required Israel to give contributions for the use of the tent containing the words of God’s promise.”

2 Chronicles 24:7 (The sons of that wicked woman Athaliah had broken into God’s temple and used all the holy things of the LORD’s temple [to worship] other gods-the Baals.)

2 Chronicles 24:8 The king issued an order, and they made a box and placed it outside the gate of the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 24:9 Then they issued a proclamation in Judah and Jerusalem that the contributions should be brought to the LORD. (In the desert the LORD’s servant Moses had required Israel to make contributions.)

2 Chronicles 24:10 All the officials and all the people were overjoyed. They brought the money and dropped it into the box until it was full.

2 Chronicles 24:11 Whenever the Levites brought the box to the king’s officers and they saw a lot of money, the king’s scribe and the chief priest’s officer would empty the box and put it back in its place. They would do this every day, so they collected a lot of money.

2 Chronicles 24:12 The king and Jehoiada would give the money to the foremen who were working on the LORD’s temple, and they hired masons and carpenters to renovate the LORD’s temple. They also hired men who worked with iron and bronze to repair the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 24:13 As the men worked, the project progressed under the foremen’s guidance. They restored God’s temple to its proper condition and reinforced it.

2 Chronicles 24:14 When they finished, they brought the rest of the money to the king and Jehoiada, who used it to make utensils for the LORD’s temple. They made dishes and gold and silver utensils for the service and for the offerings. As long as Jehoiada lived, they sacrificed burnt offerings in the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 24:15 When Jehoiada was old and had lived out his years, he died. He was 130 years old when he died.

2 Chronicles 24:16 He was buried in the City of David with the kings because of the good he had done in Israel for God and the temple.

2 Chronicles 24:17 After he died, the officials of Judah bowed in front of the king with their faces touching the ground. Then the king listened to their advice.

2 Chronicles 24:18 They abandoned the temple of the LORD God of their ancestors and worshiped idols and the poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah. This offense of theirs brought God’s anger upon Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 24:19 The LORD sent them prophets to bring them back to himself. The prophets warned them, but they wouldn't listen.

2 Chronicles 24:20 God's Spirit gave Zechariah, son of the priest Jehoiada, strength. Zechariah stood in front of the people and said to them, "This is what God says: Why are you breaking the LORD's commands? You won't prosper that way! The LORD has abandoned you because you have abandoned him."

2 Chronicles 24:21 But they plotted against Zechariah, and by the king's order they stoned him to death in the courtyard of the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 24:22 King Joash did not remember how kind Zechariah's father, Jehoiada, had been to him. Instead, he killed Jehoiada's son. As Zechariah died, he said, "May the LORD see [this] and get revenge!"

2 Chronicles 24:23 At the end of the year, the Aramean army attacked Joash. They came to Judah and Jerusalem and destroyed all the people's leaders. The Arameans sent all the loot they took from Judah and Jerusalem to the king of Damascus.

2 Chronicles 24:24 The Aramean army had come with a small number of men, but the LORD handed Joash's large army over to them because Joash's soldiers had abandoned the LORD God of their ancestors. So the Arameans carried out [the LORD's] judgment on Joash.

2 Chronicles 24:25 When the Arameans withdrew, they left him suffering from many wounds. His own officials plotted against him for murdering the son of the priest Jehoiada. They killed Joash in his bed. When he died, they buried him in the City of David, but they didn't bury him in the tombs of the kings.

2 Chronicles 24:26 These were the men who conspired against him: Zabad, son of an Ammonite woman named Shimeath, and Jehozabad, son of a Moabite woman named Shimrith.

2 Chronicles 24:27 The record about his sons, the many divine revelations against him, and the rebuilding of God's temple is in the notes made in the Book of the Kings. His son Amaziah succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 25:1 Amaziah was 25 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 29 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jehoaddan from Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 25:2 He did what the LORD considered right, but he did not do it wholeheartedly.

2 Chronicles 25:3 As soon as he had firm control over the kingdom, he executed the officials who killed his father, the former king.

2 Chronicles 25:4 But he didn't execute their children. He obeyed the LORD's command written in the Book of Moses' Teachings: "Parents must never be put to death for the crimes of their children, and children must never be put to death for the crimes of their parents. Each person must be put to death for his own crime.”

2 Chronicles 25:5 Amaziah called the people of Judah together and assigned them by families to regiment and battalion commanders for all of Judah and Benjamin. He organized those who were at least 20 years old and found that he had 300,000 of the best men for the army, those who could handle a spear and a shield.

2 Chronicles 25:6 He also hired 100,000 soldiers from Israel for 7,500 pounds of silver.

2 Chronicles 25:7 But a man of God came to him and said, “Your Majesty, Israel’s army must not go with you, because the LORD isn’t with Israel. He’s not with these men from Ephraim.

2 Chronicles 25:8 If you go into battle with them, no matter how courageous you are, God will use the enemy to defeat you, because God has the power to help you or to defeat you.”

2 Chronicles 25:9 Amaziah asked the man of God, “What should I do about the 7,500 pounds of silver I gave the troops from Israel?” The man of God answered, “The LORD can give you much more than that.”

2 Chronicles 25:10 Then Amaziah dismissed the troops that had come to him from Ephraim. But they became furious with Judah and returned home.

2 Chronicles 25:11 Amaziah courageously led his troops. When he came to the Dead Sea region, he killed 10,000 men from Seir.

2 Chronicles 25:12 The Judeans captured another 10,000 alive, took them to the top of a cliff, and threw them off the top of the cliff so that they were dismembered.

2 Chronicles 25:13 The troops that Amaziah sent back so that they couldn’t go with him into battle raided the towns in Judah from Samaria to Beth Horon. They killed 3,000 people and took a lot of goods.

2 Chronicles 25:14 After Amaziah came back from defeating the Edomites, he brought the gods of the people of Seir, set them up as his gods, bowed down to them, and burned sacrifices to them.

2 Chronicles 25:15 The LORD became angry with Amaziah. He sent him a prophet who asked him, “Why do you dedicate your life to serving the gods of those people? Those gods couldn’t save their own people from you.”

2 Chronicles 25:16 As he was talking, the king asked him, “Did we make you an adviser to the king? Stop! Do you want me to have you killed?” The prophet stopped. He said, “I know that God has decided to destroy you because you did this, but you refuse to listen to my advice.”

2 Chronicles 25:17 After getting advice [from his advisers], King Amaziah of Judah sent messengers to King Jehoash, son of Jehoahaz and grandson of Jehu of Israel, to declare war on Israel.

2 Chronicles 25:18 King Jehoash of Israel sent this message to King Amaziah of Judah: “A thistle in Lebanon sent a message to a cedar in Lebanon. It said, ‘Let your daughter marry my son,’ but a wild animal from Lebanon came along and trampled the thistle.

2 Chronicles 25:19 You say you defeated Edom, and now you’ve become arrogant enough to look for more fame. Stay home! Why must you invite disaster and your own defeat and take Judah with you?”

2 Chronicles 25:20 But Amaziah wouldn’t listen. (God made this happen because he wanted to hand over the Judeans to Jehoash because they had sought help from Edom’s gods.)

2 Chronicles 25:21 So King Jehoash of Israel attacked, and King Amaziah of Judah met him in battle at Beth Shemesh in Judah.

2 Chronicles 25:22 Israel defeated the army of Judah, and the Judeans fled to their homes.

2 Chronicles 25:23 King Jehoash of Israel captured King Amaziah, son of Joash and grandson of Ahaziah of Judah, at Beth Shemesh and brought him to Jerusalem. He tore down a 600-foot section of the wall around Jerusalem from Ephraim Gate to Corner Gate.

2 Chronicles 25:24 [He took] all the gold, silver, and all the utensils he found in God’s temple with Obed Edom and in the royal palace treasury. He also took hostages. Then he returned to Samaria.

2 Chronicles 25:25 Joash’s son King Amaziah of Judah lived 15 years after the death of Jehoahaz’s son King Jehoash of Israel.

2 Chronicles 25:26 Isn’t everything else about Amaziah, from beginning to end, written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel?

2 Chronicles 25:27 After Amaziah turned away from the LORD, conspirators in Jerusalem plotted against him. Amaziah fled to Lachish, but they sent men to Lachish after him and killed him there.

2 Chronicles 25:28 They brought him back by horse and buried him in the city of Judah with his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 26:1 All the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was 16 years old, and made him king in place of his father Amaziah.

2 Chronicles 26:2 Uzziah rebuilt Elath and returned it to Judah after King Amaziah lay down in death with his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 26:3 Uzziah was 16 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 52 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jecoliah from Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 26:4 He did what the LORD considered right, as his father Amaziah had done.

2 Chronicles 26:5 He dedicated his life to serving God in the days of Zechariah, who taught him to fear God. As long as he dedicated his life to serving the LORD, the LORD gave him success.

2 Chronicles 26:6 Uzziah went to wage war against the Philistines. He tore down the walls of Gath, Jabneh, and Ashdod. He built cities near Ashdod and elsewhere among the Philistines.

2 Chronicles 26:7 God helped him when he attacked the Philistines, the Arabs who lived in Gur Baal, and the Meunites.

2 Chronicles 26:8 The Ammonites paid taxes to Uzziah, and his fame spread to the border of Egypt because he became very powerful.

2 Chronicles 26:9 Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at Corner Wall, Valley Gate, and the Angle, and he reinforced them.

2 Chronicles 26:10 He built towers in the desert. He dug many cisterns because he had a lot of herds in the foothills and the plains. He had farmers and vineyard workers in the mountains and the fertile fields because he loved the soil.

2 Chronicles 26:11 Uzziah had an army of professional soldiers. They were ready to go to war in their companies based on the number organized by the scribe Jeiel and the officer Maaseiah. They were commanded by Hananiah, one of the king’s officials.

2 Chronicles 26:12 The total number of family heads among these warriors was 2,600.

2 Chronicles 26:13 Under them was an army of 307,500 soldiers. They were a powerful force that could support the king against the enemy.

2 Chronicles 26:14 For the entire army Uzziah prepared shields, spears, helmets, armor, bows, and stones for slings.

2 Chronicles 26:15 In Jerusalem he made machines designed by inventive people. The machines were placed on the towers and corners to shoot arrows and hurl large stones. Uzziah’s fame spread far and wide because he had strong support until he became powerful.

2 Chronicles 26:16 But when he became powerful, his pride destroyed him. He was unfaithful to the LORD his God. He went into the LORD’s temple to burn incense on the incense altar.

2 Chronicles 26:17 The priest Azariah went in after him with 80 of the LORD’s courageous priests.

2 Chronicles 26:18 They opposed King Uzziah. They said to him, “Uzziah, you have no right to burn incense as an offering to the LORD. That right belongs to the priests, Aaron’s descendants, who have been given the holy task of burning incense. Get out of the holy place because you have been unfaithful. The LORD God will not honor you for this.”

2 Chronicles 26:19 Uzziah, who held an incense burner in his hand, became angry. While he was angry with the priests, a skin disease broke out on his forehead. This happened in front of the priests in the LORD's temple as Uzziah was at the incense altar.

2 Chronicles 26:20 When the chief priest Azariah and all the priests turned toward him, a skin disease was on his forehead. They rushed him away. Uzziah was in a hurry to get out because the LORD had inflicted him [with the disease].

2 Chronicles 26:21 King Uzziah had a skin disease until the day he died. Since he had a skin disease, he lived in a separate house and was barred from the LORD's temple. His son Jotham was in charge of the royal palace and governed the country.

2 Chronicles 26:22 Everything else about Uzziah, from beginning to end, is recorded by the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz.

2 Chronicles 26:23 Uzziah lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried with them in a field containing tombs that belonged to the kings. People said, "He had a skin disease." His son Jotham succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 27:1 Jotham was 25 years old when he began to rule. He ruled for 16 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jerushah, daughter of Zadok.

2 Chronicles 27:2 He did what the LORD considered right, as his father Uzziah had done. But unlike his father, he didn't [illegally] enter the LORD's temple. Nevertheless, the people continued their corrupt ways.

2 Chronicles 27:3 Jotham built the Upper Gate of the LORD's temple and did extensive building of the wall at the Ophel.

2 Chronicles 27:4 He built cities in the hills of Judah, and he built forts and towers in the wooded areas.

2 Chronicles 27:5 He fought with the king of the Ammonites and conquered them. That year the Ammonites gave him 7,500 pounds of silver, 60,000 bushels of wheat, and 60,000 bushels of barley. The Ammonites gave him the same amount for two more years.

2 Chronicles 27:6 Jotham grew powerful because he was determined to live as the LORD his God wanted.

2 Chronicles 27:7 Everything else about Jotham-all his wars and his life-is written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

2 Chronicles 27:8 He was 25 years old when he began to rule as king. He ruled for 16 years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 27:9 Jotham lay down in death with his ancestors, and they buried him in the City of David. His son Ahaz succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 28:1 Ahaz was 20 years old when he began to rule. He ruled for 26 years in Jerusalem. He didn't do what the LORD considered right, as his ancestor David had done.

2 Chronicles 28:2 He followed the example of the kings of Israel and even made metal idols for worshiping other gods-the Baals.

2 Chronicles 28:3 He burned sacrifices in the valley of Ben Hinnom and sacrificed his son by burning him alive, one of the disgusting things done by the nations that the LORD had forced out of the Israelites' way.

2 Chronicles 28:4 He offered sacrifices and burned incense as an offering at the illegal worship sites, which were on hills and under every large tree.

2 Chronicles 28:5 So the LORD his God handed him over to the king of Aram, who defeated him, captured many prisoners, and brought them to Damascus. He also handed him over to the king of Israel, who decisively defeated him.

2 Chronicles 28:6 In one day Pekah, son of Remaliah, killed 120,000 soldiers in Judah because they had abandoned the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 28:7 Zichri, a fighting man from Ephraim, killed Maaseiah, who was the king's son, Azrikam, who was in charge of the palace, and Elkanah, who was the king's second-in-command.

2 Chronicles 28:8 The Israelites captured 200,000 women, boys, and girls from their relatives [the Judeans]. They also took a lot of goods from Judah and brought them to Samaria.

2 Chronicles 28:9 A prophet of the LORD named Oded was there. He went to meet the army coming home to Samaria. He said to them, "The LORD God of your ancestors handed Judah over to you in his anger. You killed them in a rage that reaches up to heaven.

2 Chronicles 28:10 Now you intend to enslave the men and women of Judah and Jerusalem. But aren't you also guilty of sinning against the LORD your God?

2 Chronicles 28:11 Listen to me. Return these prisoners you have captured from your relatives, because the LORD is very angry with you."

2 Chronicles 28:12 Then Azariah, son of Jehohan, Berechiah, son of Meshillemoth, Jehizkiah, son of Shallum, and Amasa, son of Hadlai (some leaders of Ephraim) opposed those coming home from the army.

2 Chronicles 28:13 They said to the army, "Don't bring the prisoners here. You'll make us responsible for this sin against the LORD. Do you intend to add to all our sins? The LORD is very angry with Israel because we have already sinned."

2 Chronicles 28:14 So the army left the prisoners and the loot in front of the leaders and the whole assembly.

2 Chronicles 28:15 Then the men who were mentioned by name took charge of the prisoners and gave clothes from the loot to all the prisoners who were naked. They provided clothes for them, gave them sandals, gave them something to eat and drink, and let them bathe. They put everyone who was exhausted on donkeys and brought them to Jericho (the City of Palms) near their own people. Then they returned to Samaria.

2 Chronicles 28:16 At that time King Ahaz sent for help from the kings of Assyria.

2 Chronicles 28:17 The Edomites had again invaded and defeated Judah and captured prisoners.

2 Chronicles 28:18 The Philistines had raided the foothills and the Negev in Judah. They captured and began living in Beth Shemesh, Aijalon, Gederoth, Soco and its villages, Timnah and its villages, and Gimzo and its villages.

2 Chronicles 28:19 The LORD humbled Judah because of King Ahaz of Israel. Ahaz had spread sin throughout Judah and was unfaithful to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 28:20 King Tillegath Pilneser of Assyria attacked Ahaz. Instead of strengthening Ahaz, Tillegath Pilneser made trouble for him.

2 Chronicles 28:21 Ahaz took some of the things from the LORD’s temple, the royal palace, and the princes, and he gave them to the king of Assyria. But that didn’t help him.

2 Chronicles 28:22 When he had this trouble, King Ahaz became more unfaithful to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 28:23 He sacrificed to the gods of Damascus, the gods who had defeated him. He thought, “The gods of the kings of Aram are helping them. I’ll sacrifice to them so that they will help me.” But they ruined him and all Israel.

2 Chronicles 28:24 Ahaz collected the utensils in God’s temple, cut them up, and closed the doors to the LORD’s temple. He made altars for himself on every corner in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 28:25 And in each city of Judah, he made places of worship to sacrifice to other gods. So he made the LORD God of his ancestors angry.

2 Chronicles 28:26 Everything else about him-everything from beginning to end-is written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

2 Chronicles 28:27 Ahaz lay down in death with his ancestors and was buried in the city of Jerusalem because they didn’t put him into the tombs of the kings of Israel. His son Hezekiah succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 29:1 Hezekiah began to rule as king when he was 25 years old. He ruled for 29 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Abijah, daughter of Zechariah.

2 Chronicles 29:2 He did what the LORD considered right, as his ancestor David had done.

2 Chronicles 29:3 In the first month of his first year as king, he opened the doors of the LORD’s temple and repaired them.

2 Chronicles 29:4 He brought the priests and Levites together in the square on the east side [of the temple].

2 Chronicles 29:5 He said to them, “Listen to me, Levites. Perform the ceremonies to make the temple of the LORD God of your ancestors holy. Remove anything that has been corrupted from the holy place.

2 Chronicles 29:6 Our ancestors were unfaithful and did what the LORD our God considered evil. They deserted him. They turned away from the LORD’s tent and turned their backs on him.

2 Chronicles 29:7 They also shut the doors of the [temple’s] entrance hall, extinguished the lamps, and didn’t burn incense or sacrifice burnt offerings in the holy place to the God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 29:8 So the LORD was angry with Judah and Jerusalem. He made them something that shocks and terrifies people and that people ridicule, as you can see with your own eyes.

2 Chronicles 29:9 Our fathers were killed in battle, and our sons, daughters, and wives are prisoners because of this.

2 Chronicles 29:10 Now I intend to make a pledge to the LORD God of Israel so that he may turn his burning anger away from us.

2 Chronicles 29:11 Don’t be negligent, my sons. The LORD has chosen you to stand in front of him, serve him, be his servants, and burn sacrifices.”

2 Chronicles 29:12 So the Levites started to work. From Kohath’s descendants were Mahath, son of Amasai, and Joel, son of Azariah. From Merari’s descendants were Kish, son of Abdi, and Azariah, son of Jehallelel. From Gershon’s descendants were Joah, son of Zimmah, and Eden, son of Joah.

2 Chronicles 29:13 From Elizaphan’s descendants were Shimri and Jeiel. From Asaph’s descendants were Zechariah and Mattaniah.

2 Chronicles 29:14 From Heman’s descendants were Jehiel and Shimei. From Jeduthun’s descendants were Shemaiah and Uzziel.

2 Chronicles 29:15 These men gathered their relatives and performed the ceremonies to make themselves holy. Then they obeyed the king’s order from the LORD’s word and entered the temple to make it clean.

2 Chronicles 29:16 The priests entered the LORD’s temple to make it clean. They carried into the courtyard every unclean thing that they found in the LORD’s temple. Then the Levites took the unclean items outside the city to the Kidron Brook.

2 Chronicles 29:17 They started on the first day of the first month. On the eighth day they went into the LORD’s entrance hall, and for eight days they performed the ceremonies to make the LORD’s temple holy. They finished on the sixteenth day of the first month.

2 Chronicles 29:18 Then they went to King Hezekiah. They said [to him], “We have made all of the LORD’s temple clean. This includes the altar for burnt offerings, all its utensils, the table for the rows of bread and all its utensils,

2 Chronicles 29:19 and all the utensils King Ahaz refused to use during his reign when he was unfaithful. We have restored them and made them holy. They are in front of the LORD’s altar.”

2 Chronicles 29:20 Early in the morning Hezekiah gathered the leaders of the city and went to the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 29:21 They brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs, and seven male goats as an offering for sin for the kingdom, the holy place, and Judah. Hezekiah told the priests, Aaron’s descendants, to sacrifice the animals on the LORD’s altar.

2 Chronicles 29:22 So they slaughtered the bulls, and the priests sprinkled the blood on the altar. Then they slaughtered the rams and sprinkled the blood on the altar. After that, they slaughtered the lambs and sprinkled the blood on the altar.

2 Chronicles 29:23 Then they brought the male goats for the offering for sin in front of the king and the assembly, who laid their hands on them.

2 Chronicles 29:24 The priests slaughtered the goats and made their blood an offering for sin at the altar to make peace with the LORD for Israel. The king had said that the burnt offerings and offerings for sin should be for all Israel.

2 Chronicles 29:25 He had the Levites stand in the LORD’s temple with cymbals, harps, and lyres as David, the king’s seer Gad, and the prophet Nathan had ordered. This command came from the LORD through his prophets.

2 Chronicles 29:26 The Levites stood with David’s instruments, and the priests had the trumpets.

2 Chronicles 29:27 Then Hezekiah ordered the sacrificing of burnt offerings on the altar. When the burnt offerings started, the songs to the LORD started. These songs were accompanied by trumpets and the instruments of King David of Israel.

2 Chronicles 29:28 The whole assembly bowed down with their faces touching the ground, singers began to sing, and the trumpets blew until the burnt offering was finished.

2 Chronicles 29:29 When the burnt offerings were finished, the king and everyone who was with him kneeled and bowed down.

2 Chronicles 29:30 Then King Hezekiah and the leaders told the Levites to praise the LORD with the words of David and the seer Asaph. They joyfully sang praises, bowed down, and worshiped.

2 Chronicles 29:31 Hezekiah said, “You have dedicated your lives to the LORD. Come, bring sacrifices and thank offerings to the LORD’s temple.” The assembly brought sacrifices and thank offerings, and everyone who was willing brought burnt offerings.

2 Chronicles 29:32 The burnt offerings brought by the assembly totaled 70 bulls, 100 rams, and 200 lambs. All of these were burnt offerings to the LORD.

2 Chronicles 29:33 The animals dedicated as holy sacrifices were 600 bulls and 3,000 sheep.

2 Chronicles 29:34 But the priests needed more help to skin all the burnt offerings. So their relatives, the Levites, helped them until the work was completed and the priests could make themselves holy. The Levites were more diligent in making themselves holy than the priests were.

2 Chronicles 29:35 There were many burnt offerings in addition to the fat of the fellowship offerings and wine offerings that accompanied the burnt offerings. So the worship in the LORD’s temple was reestablished.

2 Chronicles 29:36 Hezekiah and all the people were overjoyed because of what God had done for the people. Everything had happened so quickly.

2 Chronicles 30:1 Hezekiah sent a message to all Israel and Judah and wrote letters to the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh. He invited them to come to the LORD’s temple in Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover of the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 30:2 The king, his officials, and the whole assembly in Jerusalem decided to celebrate the Passover in the second month.

2 Chronicles 30:3 They couldn’t celebrate it at the regular time because not enough priests had performed the ceremonies to make themselves holy and the people hadn’t gathered in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 30:4 The king and the whole assembly considered their plan to be the right thing to do.

2 Chronicles 30:5 So they decided to send an announcement throughout Israel from Beersheba to Dan. They summoned everyone to come to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover of the LORD God of Israel. These people had not celebrated it in large numbers as the written instructions said they should.

2 Chronicles 30:6 Messengers took letters from the king and his officials throughout Israel and Judah. The king’s order said, “Israelites, return to the LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel. Then he will return to the few of you who escaped from the power of the kings of Assyria.

2 Chronicles 30:7 Don't be like your ancestors and your relatives who were unfaithful to the LORD God of their ancestors. He made them something that shocks people, as you have seen.

2 Chronicles 30:8 Don't be impossible to deal with like your ancestors. Reach out for the LORD. Come to his holy place that he made holy forever. Serve the LORD your God, and he will turn his burning anger away from you.

2 Chronicles 30:9 When you return to the LORD, your relatives and children will find compassion from those who captured them. They will return to this land. The LORD your God is merciful and compassionate. He will not turn his face away from you if you return to him."

2 Chronicles 30:10 So the messengers went from city to city in the territories of Ephraim and Manasseh, as far as Zebulun. But the people ridiculed them.

2 Chronicles 30:11 However, some people from Asher, Manasseh, and Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 30:12 Also, God guided the people of Judah so that they united to carry out the command which the king and the leaders gave from the LORD's word.

2 Chronicles 30:13 Many people gathered in Jerusalem to celebrate the Festival of Unleavened Bread in the second month. They formed a large assembly.

2 Chronicles 30:14 Then the people got rid of the [idols'] altars in Jerusalem. They got rid of all the altars for incense by dumping them in the Kidron Valley.

2 Chronicles 30:15 They slaughtered the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and Levites were ashamed, so they performed the ceremonies to make themselves holy. Then they brought burnt offerings to the LORD's temple.

2 Chronicles 30:16 They stood in their regular places as instructed by Moses' Teachings. (Moses was a man of God.) The priests sprinkled the blood they received from the Levites.

2 Chronicles 30:17 Many people in the assembly had not made themselves holy. So the Levites had to kill the Passover lambs for all who weren't clean and couldn't make their lambs holy for the LORD.

2 Chronicles 30:18 Many people from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun had not made themselves clean. So they ate the Passover, but not in the way the written instructions said they should. Hezekiah prayed for them: "May the good LORD forgive

2 Chronicles 30:19 those who have their hearts set on dedicating their lives to serving God. May the LORD God of their ancestors do this for those who are not clean as required for the holy place."

2 Chronicles 30:20 The LORD listened to Hezekiah and healed the people.

2 Chronicles 30:21 So the Israelites in Jerusalem celebrated the Festival of Unleavened Bread for seven days with great joy. Each day the Levites and priests praised the LORD in song. They played the LORD's instruments loudly.

2 Chronicles 30:22 Hezekiah spoke encouraging words to all the Levites who had the skills to serve the LORD. They ate the festival meals for seven days, sacrificed fellowship offerings, and confessed their sins to the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 30:23 Then the whole assembly decided to celebrate the festival for seven more days. So they joyfully celebrated for seven more days.

2 Chronicles 30:24 King Hezekiah of Judah provided 1,000 bulls and 7,000 sheep as sacrifices for the assembly. The leaders provided 1,000 bulls and 10,000 sheep for the assembly. So a large number of priests were able to perform the ceremonies to make themselves holy.

2 Chronicles 30:25 The whole assembly from Judah, the priests, the Levites, the whole assembly from Israel, the foreigners who came from Israel, and those who lived in Judah rejoiced.

2 Chronicles 30:26 The city of Jerusalem was filled with joy. Nothing like this had happened in Jerusalem since the days of King Solomon of Israel.

2 Chronicles 30:27 Then the Levitical priests blessed the people. Their voices were heard, and their prayers went to God's holy place in heaven.

2 Chronicles 31:1 When this was over, all the Israelites who were there went to the cities in Judah. They crushed the sacred stones, cut down the poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah, and tore down the illegal places of worship and the altars throughout Judah, Benjamin, Ephraim, and Manasseh. The Israelites destroyed all of these things. Then all the Israelites returned to their own cities. Each person went to his own property.

2 Chronicles 31:2 Hezekiah assigned the priests and the Levites to divisions. Each priest or Levite was put in a division based on the service he performed: sacrificing burnt offerings, sacrificing fellowship offerings, serving, giving thanks, or praising within the gates of the LORD's camp.

2 Chronicles 31:3 He set aside part of the king's property for burnt offerings, the morning and evening offerings, burnt offerings on the weekly worship days, the New Moon Festivals, and the annual festivals, as it is written in the LORD's Teachings.

2 Chronicles 31:4 He told the people living in Jerusalem to give the priests and Levites the portions they were due so that they could devote themselves to the LORD’s Teachings.

2 Chronicles 31:5 As soon as the word spread, the Israelites brought plenty of offerings from the first of their produce: grain, new wine, fresh olive oil, honey, and every crop from the fields. They brought large quantities, a tenth of everything.

2 Chronicles 31:6 The people of Israel and Judah who were living in the cities of Judah brought a tenth of their cattle and sheep and a tenth of the holy things they had dedicated to the LORD their God. They piled these holy things in heaps.

2 Chronicles 31:7 In the third month they started piling them up, and in the seventh month they finished.

2 Chronicles 31:8 When Hezekiah and the leaders saw the heaps, they praised the LORD and his people Israel.

2 Chronicles 31:9 Hezekiah asked the priests and the Levites about the heaps.

2 Chronicles 31:10 The chief priest Azariah from Zadok’s family said, “Since the people started to bring the offerings to the LORD’s temple, we have had all we wanted to eat and plenty to spare. The LORD has blessed his people, and there’s a lot left over.”

2 Chronicles 31:11 Then Hezekiah told them to prepare storerooms in the LORD’s temple. After they had prepared them,

2 Chronicles 31:12 they faithfully brought in the contributions, the offerings of one-tenth of the crops, and the gifts dedicated to God. The Levite Conaniah was in charge of these things, and his brother Shimei was his assistant.

2 Chronicles 31:13 King Hezekiah and Azariah, who was in charge of God’s temple, appointed Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismachiah, Mahath, and Benaiah to serve under Conaniah and his brother Shimei.

2 Chronicles 31:14 Kore, son of Imnah the Levite, was the gatekeeper at East Gate and had to take care of the freewill offerings made to God. His responsibility was to distribute the offerings made to the LORD and the holy gifts dedicated to God.

2 Chronicles 31:15 Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah served under him in the cities belonging to the priests. They were to distribute the offerings faithfully to all their relatives, young and old, by their divisions.

2 Chronicles 31:16 They were appointed to distribute them to males who were at least three years old. The way they were enrolled in the genealogical records did not matter. The six men who served under Kore were to distribute the offerings to everyone who went to the LORD's temple to perform the daily service that each division was responsible for.

2 Chronicles 31:17 They were to distribute offerings to the priests who were enrolled by families and to the Levites who were at least 20 years old. Distribution was based on the way they served in their divisions.

2 Chronicles 31:18 The priests and Levites were enrolled with their wives, sons, daughters, and other people who depended on them-the whole community. The priests and Levites had to be faithful in keeping themselves holy for the holy work.

2 Chronicles 31:19 Men were appointed to give a portion of the offerings to all the males in the priestly families and to everyone listed in the genealogies of the Levites. These men were Aaron's descendants, priests who lived in the pasturelands of every Levite city.

2 Chronicles 31:20 This is what Hezekiah did throughout Judah. He did what was good and right and true to the LORD his God.

2 Chronicles 31:21 Hezekiah incorporated Moses' Teachings and commands into worship and dedicated his life to serving God. Whatever he did for the worship in God's temple, he did wholeheartedly, and he succeeded.

2 Chronicles 32:1 After everything Hezekiah had done so faithfully, King Sennacherib of Assyria came to invade Judah. He set up camp [to attack] the fortified cities. He intended to conquer them himself.

2 Chronicles 32:2 When Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had come to wage war against Jerusalem,

2 Chronicles 32:3 he, his officers, and his military staff made plans to stop the water from flowing out of the springs outside the city. They helped him do it.

2 Chronicles 32:4 A large crowd gathered as they stopped all the springs and the brook that flowed through the land. They said, "Why should the kings of Assyria find plenty of water?"

2 Chronicles 32:5 Hezekiah worked hard. He rebuilt all the broken sections of the wall, made the towers taller, built another wall outside [the city wall], strengthened the Millo in the City of David, and made plenty of weapons and shields.

2 Chronicles 32:6 He appointed military commanders over the troops and gathered the commanders in the square by the city gate. He spoke these words of encouragement:

2 Chronicles 32:7 "Be strong and courageous. Don't be frightened or terrified by the king of Assyria or the crowd with him. Someone greater is on our side.

2 Chronicles 32:8 The king of Assyria has human power on his side, but the LORD our God is on our side to help us and fight our battles.” So the people were encouraged by what King Hezekiah of Judah said.

2 Chronicles 32:9 After this, while King Sennacherib of Assyria and all his royal forces were attacking Lachish, he sent his officers to King Hezekiah of Judah and to all of the people in Judah who were in Jerusalem to say:

2 Chronicles 32:10 “This is what King Sennacherib of Assyria says: Why are you so confident as you live in Jerusalem while it is blockaded?

2 Chronicles 32:11 Isn’t Hezekiah misleading you and abandoning you to die from hunger and thirst when he says, ‘The LORD our God will rescue us from the king of Assyria?’

2 Chronicles 32:12 Isn’t this the same Hezekiah who got rid of the LORD’s places of worship and altars and told Judah and Jerusalem, ‘Worship and sacrifice at one altar?’

2 Chronicles 32:13 Don’t you know what I and my predecessors have done to the people of all other countries? Were any of the gods of these other nations ever able to rescue their countries from me?

2 Chronicles 32:14 Were the gods of these nations able to rescue their people from my control? My predecessors claimed and destroyed those nations. Is your God able to rescue you from my control?

2 Chronicles 32:15 Don’t let Hezekiah deceive you or persuade you like this. Don’t believe him. No god of any nation or kingdom could save his people from me or my ancestors. Certainly, your God will not rescue you from me!”

2 Chronicles 32:16 Sennacherib’s officers said more against the LORD God and his servant Hezekiah.

2 Chronicles 32:17 Sennacherib wrote letters cursing the LORD God of Israel. These letters said, “As the gods of the nations in other countries couldn’t rescue their people from me, Hezekiah’s God cannot rescue his people from me.”

2 Chronicles 32:18 Sennacherib’s officers shouted loudly in the Judean language to the troops who were on the wall of Jerusalem. They tried to frighten and terrify the troops so that they could capture the city.

2 Chronicles 32:19 They spoke about the God of Jerusalem as if he were one of the gods made by human hands and worshiped by the people in other countries.

2 Chronicles 32:20 Then King Hezekiah and the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, prayed about this and called to heaven.

2 Chronicles 32:21 The LORD sent an angel who exterminated all the soldiers, officials, and commanders in the Assyrian king’s camp. Humiliated, Sennacherib returned to his own country. When he went into the temple of his god, some of his own sons killed him with a sword.

2 Chronicles 32:22 So the LORD saved Hezekiah and the people living in Jerusalem from King Sennacherib of Assyria and from everyone else. The LORD gave them peace with all their neighbors.

2 Chronicles 32:23 Many people still went to Jerusalem to bring gifts to the LORD and expensive presents to King Hezekiah of Judah. From then on, he was considered important by all the nations.

2 Chronicles 32:24 In those days Hezekiah became sick and was about to die. He prayed to the LORD, who answered him and gave him a miraculous sign.

2 Chronicles 32:25 But Hezekiah was conceited, so he didn't repay the LORD for his kindness. The LORD became angry with him, with Judah, and with Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 32:26 Hezekiah and the people living in Jerusalem humbled themselves when they realized they had become conceited. So the LORD didn't vent his anger on them during Hezekiah's time.

2 Chronicles 32:27 Hezekiah became richer and was highly honored. He prepared storerooms for himself to hold silver, gold, precious stones, spices, shields, and all kinds of valuables.

2 Chronicles 32:28 He made sheds to store his harvests of grain, new wine, and fresh olive oil, and he made barns for all his cattle and stalls for his flocks.

2 Chronicles 32:29 He made cities for himself because he had many sheep and cattle. God had given him a lot of property.

2 Chronicles 32:30 Hezekiah was the one who stopped the water from flowing from the upper outlet of Gihon. He channeled the water directly underground to the west side of the City of David. Hezekiah succeeded in everything he did.

2 Chronicles 32:31 When the leaders of Babylon sent ambassadors to ask him about the miraculous sign that had happened in the land, God left him. God did this to test him, to find out everything that was in Hezekiah's heart.

2 Chronicles 32:32 Everything else about Hezekiah, including his devotion to God, is written in the vision of the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, and in the records of the kings of Judah and Israel.

2 Chronicles 32:33 Hezekiah lay down in death with his ancestors. He was buried in the upper tombs of David's descendants. When Hezekiah died, all of Judah and the people in Jerusalem honored him. His son Manasseh succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 33:1 Manasseh was 12 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 55 years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 33:2 He did what the LORD considered evil by copying the disgusting things done by the nations that the LORD had forced out of the Israelites' way.

2 Chronicles 33:3 He rebuilt the illegal places of worship that his father Hezekiah had torn down. He set up altars dedicated to other gods-the Baals-and made a pole dedicated to the goddess Asherah as King Ahab of Israel had done. Manasseh, like Ahab, worshiped and served the entire army of heaven.

2 Chronicles 33:4 He built altars in the LORD's temple, where the LORD had said, "My name will be in Jerusalem forever."

2 Chronicles 33:5 In the two courtyards of the LORD's temple, he built altars for the entire army of heaven.

2 Chronicles 33:6 He burned his son as a sacrifice in the valley of Ben Hinnom, consulted fortunetellers, cast evil spells, practiced witchcraft, and appointed [royal] mediums and psychics. He did many things that made the LORD furious.

2 Chronicles 33:7 Manasseh had a carved idol made. Then he set it up in God's temple, where God had said to David and his son Solomon, "I have chosen this temple and Jerusalem from all the tribes of Israel. I will put my name here forever.

2 Chronicles 33:8 I will never again remove Israel from the land that I set aside for their ancestors if they will obey all the commands, all the teachings, the ordinances, and the regulations [I gave] through Moses."

2 Chronicles 33:9 Manasseh misled Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem so that they did more evil things than the nations that the LORD had destroyed when the Israelites arrived in the land.

2 Chronicles 33:10 When the LORD spoke to Manasseh and his people, they wouldn't even pay attention.

2 Chronicles 33:11 So the LORD made the army commanders of the king of Assyria invade Judah. They took Manasseh captive, put a hook in his nose, put him in bronze shackles, and brought him to Babylon.

2 Chronicles 33:12 When he experienced this distress, he begged the LORD his God to be kind and humbled himself in front of the God of his ancestors.

2 Chronicles 33:13 He prayed to the LORD, and the LORD accepted his prayer and listened to his request. The LORD brought him back to his kingdom in Jerusalem. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD is God.

2 Chronicles 33:14 After this, Manasseh rebuilt the outer wall of the City of David from west of Gihon Spring in the valley to the entrance of Fish Gate. He made the wall go around the Ophel, and he built it very high. He put army commanders in every fortified city in Judah.

2 Chronicles 33:15 Manasseh got rid of the foreign gods and the idol in the LORD's temple. He got rid of the altars he had built in the temple on the LORD's mountain and in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 33:16 He built the LORD’s altar and sacrificed fellowship offerings and thank offerings on it. And he told Judah to serve the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 33:17 The people continued to sacrifice at the illegal places of worship, but they sacrificed only to the LORD their God.

2 Chronicles 33:18 Everything else about Manasseh-including his prayer to his God and the words that the seers spoke to him in the name of the LORD God of Israel-are in the records of the kings of Israel.

2 Chronicles 33:19 His prayer and how God accepted it are written in the records of Hozai. The things he did before he humbled himself are also written there. This includes all his sins and unfaithfulness and the places where he built illegal worship sites and set up idols and poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah.

2 Chronicles 33:20 Manasseh lay down in death with his ancestors. They buried him in his own palace. His son Amon succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 33:21 Amon was 22 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 2 years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 33:22 He did what the LORD considered evil, as his father Manasseh had done. Amon sacrificed to all the idols his father Manasseh had made, and he worshiped them.

2 Chronicles 33:23 He didn’t humble himself in front of the LORD as his father Manasseh had humbled himself. Instead, Amon continued to sin.

2 Chronicles 33:24 His officials plotted against him and killed him in his palace.

2 Chronicles 33:25 Then the people of the land killed everyone who had plotted against King Amon. They made his son Josiah king in his place.

2 Chronicles 34:1 Josiah was 8 years old when he began to rule, and he was king for 31 years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:2 He did what the LORD considered right. He lived in the ways of his ancestor David and never stopped living this way.

2 Chronicles 34:3 In the eighth year of his reign, while he was still a boy, he began to dedicate his life to serving the God of his ancestor David. In his twelfth year as king, he began to make Judah and Jerusalem clean by destroying the illegal places of worship, poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah, carved idols, and metal idols.

2 Chronicles 34:4 He had the altars of the various Baal gods torn down. He cut down the incense altars that were above them. He destroyed the Asherah poles, carved idols, and metal idols. He ground them into powder and scattered the powder over the tombs of those who had sacrificed to them.

2 Chronicles 34:5 He burned the bones of the priests on their altars. So he made Judah and Jerusalem clean.

2 Chronicles 34:6 In the cities of Manasseh, Ephraim, Simeon, and as far as Naphtali, he removed all their temples,

2 Chronicles 34:7 tore down the altars, beat the Asherah poles and idols into powder, and cut down all the incense altars everywhere in Israel. Then he went back to Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:8 In the eighteenth year of his reign as he was making the land and the temple clean, Josiah sent Shaphan, son of Azaliah, Maaseiah, the mayor of the city, and Joah, the royal historian and son of Joahaz, to repair the temple of the LORD his God.

2 Chronicles 34:9 They came to the chief priest Hilkiah and gave him the money that had been brought to God's temple, the money that the Levite doorkeepers had collected from the tribes of Manasseh and Ephraim, from all who were left in Israel, from everyone in the tribes of Judah and Benjamin, and from the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:10 They gave the money to the foremen who were in charge of the LORD's temple. These foremen gave it to the workmen who were restoring and repairing the temple.

2 Chronicles 34:11 (These workers included carpenters and builders.) They were to buy quarried stones and wood for the fittings and beams of the buildings that the kings of Judah had allowed to become run-down.

2 Chronicles 34:12 The men did their work faithfully under the supervision of Jahath and Obadiah (Levites descended from Merari), and Zechariah and Meshullam (descendants of Kohath). The Levites, who were skilled musicians,

2 Chronicles 34:13 also supervised the workers and directed all the workmen on the various jobs. Some of the Levites served as scribes, officials, or gatekeepers.

2 Chronicles 34:14 When they brought out the money that had been deposited in the LORD's temple, the priest Hilkiah found the book of the LORD's Teachings written by Moses.

2 Chronicles 34:15 Hilkiah told the scribe Shaphan, "I have found the book of the Teachings in the LORD's temple." Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan.

2 Chronicles 34:16 Shaphan took the book to the king and reported, "We are doing everything you told us to do.

2 Chronicles 34:17 We took the money that was donated in the LORD's temple and gave it to the supervisors and the workmen."

2 Chronicles 34:18 Then the scribe Shaphan told the king, "The priest Hilkiah has given me a book." And Shaphan read it to the king.

2 Chronicles 34:19 When the king heard what the Teachings said, he tore his clothes [in distress].

2 Chronicles 34:20 Then the king gave an order to Hilkiah, Ahikam (son of Shaphan), Abdon (son of Micah), the scribe Shaphan, and the royal official Asaiah. He said,

2 Chronicles 34:21 “On behalf of those who are left in Israel and Judah and me, ask the LORD about the words in this book that was found. The LORD’s fierce anger has been poured on us because our ancestors did not obey the word of the LORD by doing everything written in this book.”

2 Chronicles 34:22 So Hilkiah and the king’s officials went to talk to the prophet Huldah about this matter. She was the wife of Shallum, son of Tokhath and grandson of Hasrah. Shallum was in charge of the [royal] wardrobe. Huldah was living in the Second Part of Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 34:23 She told them, “This is what the LORD God of Israel says: Tell the man who sent you to me,

2 Chronicles 34:24 ‘This is what the LORD says: I’m going to bring disaster on this place and on the people living here according to the curses written in the book that was read to the king of Judah.

2 Chronicles 34:25 I will do this because they have abandoned me and sacrificed to other gods in order to make me furious. Therefore, my anger will be poured on this place and will never come to an end.’”

2 Chronicles 34:26 [Huldah added,] “Tell Judah’s king who sent you to me to ask the LORD a question, ‘This is what the LORD God of Israel says about the words you heard:

2 Chronicles 34:27 You had a change of heart and humbled yourself in front of God when you heard my words against this place and those who live here. You humbled yourself, tore your clothes [in distress], and cried in front of me. So I will listen [to you], declares the LORD.

2 Chronicles 34:28 That is why I’m going to bring you to your ancestors. I’m going to bring you to your grave in peace, and your eyes will not see any of the disaster I’m going to bring on this place and those who live here.’ “ So they reported this to the king.

2 Chronicles 34:29 Then the king sent for all the respected leaders of Judah and Jerusalem to join him.

2 Chronicles 34:30 The king, everyone in Judah, everyone living in Jerusalem, the priests, the Levites, and all the people (young and old) went up to the LORD’s temple. He read everything written in the Book of the Promise found in the LORD’s temple so that they could hear it.

2 Chronicles 34:31 The king stood in his place and made a promise to the LORD that he would follow the LORD and obey his commands, instructions, and laws with all his heart and soul. He said he would live by the terms of the promise written in this book.

2 Chronicles 34:32 He also made all those found in Jerusalem and Benjamin join with him [in the promise]. Then the people of Jerusalem lived according to the promise of God, the God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 34:33 Josiah got rid of all the disgusting idols throughout Israelite territory. He made all people found in Israel serve the LORD their God. As long as he lived, they didn’t stop following the LORD God of their ancestors.

2 Chronicles 35:1 Josiah celebrated the Passover for the LORD in Jerusalem. The Passover lamb was slaughtered on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 Chronicles 35:2 Josiah appointed the priests to their duties and encouraged them to serve in the LORD’s temple.

2 Chronicles 35:3 He told the Levites, who instructed all Israel and performed ceremonies to make themselves holy to the LORD, “Put the holy ark in the temple that Solomon, son of David and king of Israel, built. It shouldn’t be carried on your shoulders any longer. Serve the LORD your God and his people Israel.

2 Chronicles 35:4 Get yourselves ready with the family groups of your divisions, which are listed in the records of King David of Israel and the records of his son Solomon.

2 Chronicles 35:5 Stand in the holy place representing the family divisions of your relatives, the people [of Israel]. Let the Levites be considered a part of each family.

2 Chronicles 35:6 Slaughter the Passover lamb, perform the ceremonies to make yourselves holy, and prepare [the lambs] for the other Israelites as the LORD instructed [us] through Moses.”

2 Chronicles 35:7 Josiah provided the people with 33,000 sheep and goats to be sacrificed as Passover offerings for all who were present. In addition, he provided 3,000 bulls. (These animals were the king’s property.)

2 Chronicles 35:8 His officials also voluntarily gave animals to the people, priests, and Levites. Hilkiah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, the men in charge of God’s temple, gave the priests 2,600 sheep and goats and 300 bulls for Passover sacrifices.

2 Chronicles 35:9 Conaniah and his brothers Shemaiah and Nethanel, and Hashabiah, Jeiel, and Jozabad, the leaders of the Levites, gave the Levites 5,000 sheep and goats and 500 bulls as Passover sacrifices.

2 Chronicles 35:10 So the service was prepared. The priests took their positions with the Levites according to their divisions, as the king had ordered.

2 Chronicles 35:11 They slaughtered the Passover lambs. The priests sprinkled the blood with their hands while the Levites skinned the lambs.

2 Chronicles 35:12 They set aside the burnt offerings to give them to the laypeople according to their family divisions. The laypeople could then present them to the LORD as written in the Book of Moses. The Levites did the same with the bulls.

2 Chronicles 35:13 They roasted the Passover lambs according to the directions. They boiled the holy offerings in pots, kettles, and pans and immediately served them to all the people.

2 Chronicles 35:14 Later, they prepared [the animals] for themselves and for the priests because the priests (Aaron's descendants) were sacrificing the burnt offerings and the fat until that evening. So the Levites prepared [the animals] for themselves and the priests.

2 Chronicles 35:15 The singers (Asaph's descendants) were in their places as David, Asaph, Heman, and the king's seer Jeduthun had commanded. The gatekeepers were stationed at each gate. They didn't need to leave their work, because their relatives, the Levites, prepared [animals] for them.

2 Chronicles 35:16 So everything was arranged that day for the worship of the LORD. The Passover was celebrated, and the burnt offerings were sacrificed on the LORD's altar as King Josiah had commanded.

2 Chronicles 35:17 The Israelites who were present celebrated the Passover at that time. They also celebrated the Festival of Unleavened Bread for seven days.

2 Chronicles 35:18 Never had a Passover like this been celebrated in Israel during the time of the prophet Samuel or the kings of Israel. They did not celebrate the Passover as Josiah celebrated it with priests, Levites, all of Judah, the people of Israel who could be found, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 35:19 In the eighteenth year of Josiah's reign, this Passover was celebrated.

2 Chronicles 35:20 After all this, when Josiah had repaired the temple, King Neco of Egypt came to fight a battle at Carchemish at the Euphrates River. Josiah went to attack him.

2 Chronicles 35:21 But Neco sent messengers to Josiah to say, "What's your quarrel with me, king of Judah? I'm not attacking you. I've come to fight those who are at war with me. God told me to hurry. God is with me, so stop now or else he will destroy you."

2 Chronicles 35:22 But Josiah would not stop his attack. He disguised himself as he went into battle. He refused to listen to Neco's words, which came from God, and he went to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

2 Chronicles 35:23 Some archers shot King Josiah. The king told his officers, “Take me away because I’m badly wounded.”

2 Chronicles 35:24 His officers took him out of the chariot and brought him to Jerusalem in his other chariot. He died and was buried in the tombs of his ancestors. All Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

2 Chronicles 35:25 Jeremiah sang a funeral song about Josiah. All the male and female singers still sing funeral songs about Josiah today. This became a tradition in Israel. They are written in [the Book of] the Funeral Songs.

2 Chronicles 35:26 Everything else about Josiah-including his devotion to God by following what is written in the LORD’s Teachings

2 Chronicles 35:27 and his acts from first to last-are written in the records of the kings of Israel and Judah.

2 Chronicles 36:1 Then people of the land took Josiah’s son Jehoahaz and made him king in Jerusalem in place of his father.

2 Chronicles 36:2 Jehoahaz was 23 years old when he became king, and he was king in Jerusalem for 3 months.

2 Chronicles 36:3 The king of Egypt removed him from office in Jerusalem and fined the country 7,500 pounds of silver and 75 pounds of gold.

2 Chronicles 36:4 The king of Egypt made Jehoahaz’s brother Eliakim king of Judah and Jerusalem and changed Eliakim’s name to Jehoiakim. Neco took Jehoahaz away to Egypt.

2 Chronicles 36:5 Jehoiakim was 25 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 11 years in Jerusalem. He did what the LORD his God considered evil.

2 Chronicles 36:6 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Jehoiakim and put him in bronze shackles to take him to Babylon.

2 Chronicles 36:7 Nebuchadnezzar also brought some of the utensils of the LORD’s temple to Babylon. He put them in his palace in Babylon.

2 Chronicles 36:8 Everything else about Jehoiakim-the disgusting things he did and all the charges against him-is written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah. His son Jehoiakin succeeded him as king.

2 Chronicles 36:9 Jehoiakin was eight years old when he began to rule as king. He was king for three months and ten days in Jerusalem. He did what the LORD considered evil.

2 Chronicles 36:10 In the spring King Nebuchadnezzar sent for Jehoiakin and brought him to Babylon with the valuable utensils from the LORD's temple. Nebuchadnezzar made Jehoiakin's uncle Zedekiah king of Judah and Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 36:11 Zedekiah was 21 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 11 years in Jerusalem.

2 Chronicles 36:12 He did what the LORD his God considered evil and didn't humble himself in front of the prophet Jeremiah, who spoke for the LORD.

2 Chronicles 36:13 Zedekiah also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar. Nebuchadnezzar had made Zedekiah swear an oath of allegiance to him in God's name. But Zedekiah became so stubborn and so impossible to deal with that he refused to turn back to the LORD God of Israel.

2 Chronicles 36:14 All the officials, the priests, and the people became increasingly unfaithful and followed all the disgusting practices of the nations. Although the LORD had made the temple in Jerusalem holy, they made the temple unclean.

2 Chronicles 36:15 The LORD God of their ancestors repeatedly sent messages through his messengers because he wanted to spare his people and his dwelling place.

2 Chronicles 36:16 But they mocked God's messengers, despised his words, and made fun of his prophets until the LORD became angry with his people. He could no longer heal them.

2 Chronicles 36:17 So he had the Babylonian king attack them and execute their best young men in their holy temple. He didn't spare the best men or the unmarried women, the old people or the sick people. God handed all of them over to him.

2 Chronicles 36:18 He brought to Babylon each of the utensils from God's temple, the treasures from the LORD's temple, and the treasures of the king and his officials.

2 Chronicles 36:19 They burned God's temple, tore down Jerusalem's walls, burned down all its palaces, and destroyed everything of value.

2 Chronicles 36:20 The king of Babylon took those who weren't executed to Babylon to be slaves for him and his sons. They remained captives until the Persian Empire began to rule.

2 Chronicles 36:21 This happened so that the LORD's words spoken through Jeremiah would be fulfilled. The land had its years of rest and was made acceptable [again]. While it lay in ruins, [the land had its] 70 years of rest.

2 Chronicles 36:22 The promise the LORD had spoken through Jeremiah was about to come true in Cyrus' first year as king of Persia. The LORD inspired the king to make this announcement throughout his whole kingdom and then to put it in writing.

2 Chronicles 36:23 This is what King Cyrus of Persia says: The LORD God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the world. And he has ordered me to build a temple for him in Jerusalem (which is in Judah). May the LORD God be with all of you who are his people. You may go.

Ezra

1:1 The promise the LORD had spoken through Jeremiah was about to come true in Cyrus' first year as king of Persia. The LORD inspired the king to make this announcement throughout his whole kingdom and then to put it in writing.

Ezra 1:2 This is what King Cyrus of Persia says: The LORD God of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the world. And he has ordered me to build a temple for him in Jerusalem (which is in Judah).

Ezra 1:3 May God be with all of you who are his people. You may go to Jerusalem (which is in Judah) and build a temple for the LORD God of Israel. He is the God who is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 1:4 All who [choose to] remain behind, wherever they may be living, should provide the people who are leaving with silver, gold, supplies, livestock, and freewill offerings to be used in God's temple in Jerusalem.

Ezra 1:5 Then the heads of the families of Judah and Benjamin, the priests, and the Levites-everyone God had inspired-came forward to rebuild the LORD's temple in Jerusalem.

Ezra 1:6 All their neighbors [who were remaining behind] provided them with articles made from silver and gold, supplies, livestock, and valuable gifts besides everything that was freely offered.

Ezra 1:7 King Cyrus brought out the utensils belonging to the LORD's temple. Nebuchadnezzar had taken these utensils from Jerusalem and put them in the temple of his own god.

Ezra 1:8 King Cyrus of Persia put the treasurer Mithredath in charge of bringing them out. So Mithredath made a list of them for Prince Sheshbazzar of Judah.

Ezra 1:9 This is the inventory: gold dishes 30 silver dishes 1,000 knives 29

Ezra 1:10 gold bowls 30 other silver bowls 410 other utensils 1,000

Ezra 1:11 The gold and silver utensils totaled 5,400. Sheshbazzar took all these utensils with him when the exiles left Babylon to go to Jerusalem.

Ezra 2:1 These were the people in the province. They were the ones who left the place where the exiles had been taken captive. (King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had taken them to Babylon.) These exiles returned to Jerusalem and Judah. All of them went to their own cities.

Ezra 2:2 They went with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispar, Bigvai, Rehum, and Baanah. This is the number of Israelite men from the people in exile:

Ezra 2:3 the descendants of Parosh 2,172

Ezra 2:4 of Shephatiah 372

Ezra 2:5 of Arah 775

Ezra 2:6 of Pahath Moab, that is, of Jeshua and Joab 2,812

Ezra 2:7 of Elam 1,254

Ezra 2:8 of Zattu 945

Ezra 2:9 of Zaccai 760

Ezra 2:10 of Bani 642

Ezra 2:11 of Bebai 623

Ezra 2:12 of Azgad 1,222

Ezra 2:13 of Adonikam 666

Ezra 2:14 of Bigvai 2,056

Ezra 2:15 of Adin 454

Ezra 2:16 of Ater, that is, Hezekiah 98

Ezra 2:17 of Bezai 323

Ezra 2:18 of Jorah 112

Ezra 2:19 of Hashum 223

Ezra 2:20 of Gibbar 95

Ezra 2:21 The people of Bethlehem 123

Ezra 2:22 of Netophah 56

Ezra 2:23 of Anathoth 128

Ezra 2:24 of Azmaveth 42

Ezra 2:25 of Kiriath Jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth 743

Ezra 2:26 of Ramah and Geba 621

Ezra 2:27 of Michmas 122

Ezra 2:28 of Bethel and Ai 223

Ezra 2:29 of Nebo 52

Ezra 2:30 of Magbish 156

Ezra 2:31 of the other Elam 1,254

Ezra 2:32 of Harim 320

Ezra 2:33 of Lod, Hadid, and Ono 725

Ezra 2:34 of Jericho 345

Ezra 2:35 of Senaah 3,630

Ezra 2:36 These priests returned from exile: the descendants of Jedaiah (through the family of Jeshua) 973

Ezra 2:37 of Immer 1,052

Ezra 2:38 of Pashhur 1,247

Ezra 2:39 of Harim 1,017

Ezra 2:40 These Levites returned from exile: the descendants of Jeshua and Kadmiel, that is, of Hodaviah 74

Ezra 2:41 These singers returned from exile: the descendants of Asaph 128

Ezra 2:42 These gatekeepers returned from exile: the descendants of Shallum, Ater, Talmon, Akkub, Hatita, and Shobai 139

Ezra 2:43 These temple servants returned from exile: the descendants of Ziha, Hasupha, Tabbaoth,

Ezra 2:44 Keros, Siaha, Padon,

Ezra 2:45 Lebanah, Hagabah, Akkub,

Ezra 2:46 Hagab, Shalmai, Hanan,

Ezra 2:47 Giddel, Gahar, Reaiah,

Ezra 2:48 Rezin, Nekoda, Gazzam,

Ezra 2:49 Uzza, Paseah, Besai,

Ezra 2:50 Asnah, Meunim, Nephusim,

Ezra 2:51 Bakbuk, Hakupha, Harhur,

Ezra 2:52 Bazluth, Mehida, Harsha,

Ezra 2:53 Barkos, Sisera, Temah,

Ezra 2:54 Neziah, and Hatipha.

Ezra 2:55 These descendants of Solomon’s servants returned from exile: the descendants of Sotai, Hassophereth, Peruda,

Ezra 2:56 Jaalah, Darkon, Giddel,

Ezra 2:57 Shephatiah, Hattil, Pochereth Hazzebaim, and Ami.

Ezra 2:58 The temple servants and the descendants of Solomon’s servants totaled 392.

Ezra 2:59 The following people came from Tel Melah, Tel Harsha, Cherub, Addan, and Immer, but they couldn’t prove they were Israelites on the basis of their father’s family or their genealogy:

Ezra 2:60 the descendants of Delaiah, Tobiah, and Nekoda. These people totaled 652.

Ezra 2:61 These descendants of the priests [couldn’t prove their families were Israelites]: the descendants of Hobaiah, Hakkoz, and Barzillai (who had married one of the daughters of Barzillai from Gilead and took that [family] name).

Ezra 2:62 These people searched for their [family] names in the genealogical records, but their names couldn’t be found there. For this reason they were considered contaminated and couldn’t be priests.

Ezra 2:63 The governor told them not to eat any of the most holy food until a priest could use the Urim and Thummim [to settle the problem].

Ezra 2:64 The whole assembly totaled 42,360.

Ezra 2:65 In addition to the male and female servants who numbered 7,337, they also had 200 male and female singers.

Ezra 2:66 They had 736 horses, 245 mules,

Ezra 2:67 435 camels, and 6,720 donkeys.

Ezra 2:68 When some of the heads of the families came to the LORD's temple in Jerusalem, they contributed freewill offerings to help rebuild God's temple on its [former] site.

Ezra 2:69 They contributed as much as they could to the treasury for this work: 1,030 pounds of gold, 5,740 pounds of silver, and 100 robes for the priests.

Ezra 2:70 The priests, the Levites, some of the people, the singers, the gatekeepers, and the temple servants settled in their own cities. All the other Israelites settled in their own cities.

Ezra 3:1 When the seventh month came, the people gathered together in Jerusalem. (The Israelites had already settled in their cities.)

Ezra 3:2 Then Jozadak's son Jeshua and his relatives [who were] priests and Shealtiel's son Zerubbabel and his relatives built an altar for the God of Israel. They built it in order to sacrifice burnt offerings. They [followed the directions] written in Moses' Teachings. (Moses was a man of God.)

Ezra 3:3 So they rebuilt the altar on its original site, though they were afraid of the people in the neighboring regions. They sacrificed burnt offerings on it to the LORD every morning and evening.

Ezra 3:4 Following the written directions, they celebrated the Festival of Booths. Each day they sacrificed the required number of burnt offerings.

Ezra 3:5 After that, they sacrificed the daily burnt offerings, the offerings for the New Moon Festival and all the other holy festivals of the LORD, and all the freewill offerings brought to the LORD.

Ezra 3:6 They started to bring these burnt offerings to the LORD on the first day of the seventh month, even though the foundation of the LORD's temple had not yet been laid.

Ezra 3:7 So they gave money to the stonecutters and carpenters. Then they gave food, drink, and olive oil to the men from Sidon and Tyre in exchange for cedar, which the men would bring by sea from Lebanon to Joppa as King Cyrus of Persia had authorized them to do.

Ezra 3:8 Zerubbabel (who was Shealtiel's son), Jeshua (who was Jozadak's son), and the rest of the Jews, (the priests, Levites, and all the others who had come back from exile to Jerusalem) began to rebuild the temple. This happened in the second month of the second year following their return to [the site] of God's house in Jerusalem. They began by appointing the Levites who were at least 20 years old to direct the work on the LORD's house.

Ezra 3:9 Then Jeshua with his sons and relatives and Kadmiel with his sons who were Judah's descendants joined Henadad's family and their sons and relatives, the Levites, in directing those working on God's house.

Ezra 3:10 The builders laid the foundation of the LORD's temple. Then the priests who were dressed in their robes took their places with trumpets, and the Levites who were Asaph's descendants took their places with cymbals to praise the LORD according to the instructions of King David of Israel.

Ezra 3:11 As they praised and gave thanks to the LORD, they sang antiphonally: "He is good; his mercy toward Israel endures forever." Then all the people shouted, "Praise the LORD," because the foundation for the house of the LORD had been laid.

Ezra 3:12 But many of the priests, Levites, and the heads of the families who were old enough to have seen the first temple with their own eyes began to sob when they saw the foundation of this temple. Many others shouted for joy.

Ezra 3:13 No one could distinguish between the joyful shouts and the loud sobbing because the people were shouting so loudly. The noise was heard from far away.

Ezra 4:1 When the enemies of Judah and Benjamin heard that the people who returned from exile were building a temple for the LORD God of Israel,

Ezra 4:2 they approached Zerubbabel and the heads of the families. They told them, "We want to help you build because we worship the same God you worship. We have been sacrificing to him since the time of King Esarhaddon of Assyria, who brought us here."

Ezra 4:3 But Zerubbabel, Jeshua, and the rest of the heads of Israel's families told them, "It isn't right for your people and our people to build a temple for our God together. We must build it alone for the LORD God of Israel, as King Cyrus of Persia ordered us to do."

Ezra 4:4 Then the people of that region discouraged the people of Judah and made them afraid to continue building.

Ezra 4:5 They bribed officials to keep the people of Judah from carrying out their plans throughout the reign of King Cyrus of Persia until the reign of King Darius of Persia.

Ezra 4:6 When Xerxes began to rule, the enemies of Judah and Jerusalem wrote a letter in which they made an accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

Ezra 4:7 Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their group wrote to him when Artaxerxes was king of Persia. The letter was written with the Aramaic script and translated into the Aramaic language.

Ezra 4:8 Rehum the commander and Shimshai the scribe wrote another letter against [the people of] Jerusalem to King Artaxerxes.

Ezra 4:9 At that time, Rehum the commander and Shimshai the scribe were with the others of their group-the people from Denya, Partakka, Tarpel, Persia, Erech, Babylon, Susa, (that is, those of Elam),

Ezra 4:10 and the rest of the people whom the great and noble Assurbanipal deported. (Assurbanipal settled them in the cities of Samaria and the rest of the lands west of the Euphrates River.)

Ezra 4:11 This is the copy of the letter they sent to him: To King Artaxerxes, From your servants, the people west of the Euphrates:

Ezra 4:12 Your Majesty, you should know that the Jews who came to us from you are now in Jerusalem. They are rebuilding that rebellious and wicked city. They are close to finishing the walls. The foundations are already in place.

Ezra 4:13 You should also know that if this city is rebuilt and its walls are finished, the Jews will no longer pay taxes, fees, and tolls. Ultimately, this will hurt the king's income.

Ezra 4:14 Now, because we are paid by your palace, it isn't right for us to watch something happen that will dishonor the king. So we are sending this letter to inform you

Ezra 4:15 that you should search the official records of your predecessors. You will find in those official records that this city has been rebellious and has been a threat to kings and provinces. This city has a history of rebelliousness. That's why this city was destroyed.

Ezra 4:16 We want the king to know that if this city is rebuilt and its walls are finished, you will have nothing left [of your province] west of the Euphrates River.

Ezra 4:17 Then the king sent this reply: To Rehum the commander, Shimshai the scribe, and the rest of their group living in Samaria, and to others west of the Euphrates River: I wish you peace and prosperity!

Ezra 4:18 The letter you sent me has been read word for word in my presence.

Ezra 4:19 I gave the order, and a search was made. I discovered that this city has a long history of uprisings against kings. Its inhabitants are guilty of treason and rebellion.

Ezra 4:20 Jerusalem has had powerful kings who have ruled the whole [province] west of the Euphrates. Taxes, fees, and tolls were paid to them.

Ezra 4:21 So order these men to stop rebuilding. Keep this city from being rebuilt until I give the order.

Ezra 4:22 Be careful not to neglect your duty in this matter. Why should I, the king, suffer any more harm?

Ezra 4:23 Rehum the commander, Shimshai the scribe, and their group hurried to Jerusalem after hearing a copy of King Artaxerxes' letter. They forced the Jews to stop rebuilding.

Ezra 4:24 Then the work on God's temple in Jerusalem was stopped. Nothing more was done until Darius' second year as king of Persia.

Ezra 5:1 The prophet Haggai and Zechariah, grandson of Iddo, prophesied to the Jews in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of Israel's God, who was over them.

Ezra 5:2 Then Zerubbabel, who was Shealtiel's son, and Jeshua, who was Jozadak's son, began to rebuild God's temple in Jerusalem. God's prophets were with them and supported them.

Ezra 5:3 At the same time, Governor Tattenai [from the province] west of the Euphrates River, Shethar Bozenai, and their group went to the Jews and asked them, "Who gave you permission to rebuild this temple and finish its walls?"

Ezra 5:4 They also asked the Jews for the names of the men who were working on this building.

Ezra 5:5 But the leaders of the Jews were under God's watchful eye. They couldn't be stopped until Darius received a report and sent a reply to it.

Ezra 5:6 Here is a copy of the letter Governor Tattenai [from the province] west of the Euphrates River, Shethar Bozenai and his group (the Persians west of that river) sent to King Darius.

Ezra 5:7 They sent him the following report: To King Darius, We wish you peace and prosperity in everything you do.

Ezra 5:8 Your Majesty should know that we went to the province of Judah, to the temple of the great God. The temple is being built with large stones and with wooden beams laid in its walls. The builders are doing an excellent job and making rapid progress.

Ezra 5:9 We asked their leaders the following question: "Who gave you permission to rebuild this temple and finish its walls?"

Ezra 5:10 For your information, we also asked them for their names so that we would have a record of the men who were their leaders.

Ezra 5:11 This was their reply to us: “We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth. We are rebuilding the temple that was originally built many years ago by a great king of Israel.

Ezra 5:12 But because our ancestors made the God of heaven angry, he handed them over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon (a Chaldean). So Nebuchadnezzar destroyed this temple and deported its people to Babylon.

Ezra 5:13 “However, in the first year of the reign of King Cyrus of Babylon, Cyrus gave permission for God’s temple to be rebuilt.

Ezra 5:14 In addition, Cyrus took out of a temple in Babylon the gold and silver utensils that belonged to God’s temple. (Nebuchadnezzar had taken them out of God’s temple in Jerusalem and brought them into a temple in Babylon.) Cyrus gave them to a man named Sheshbazzar, whom he had made governor.

Ezra 5:15 Cyrus told him, ‘Take these utensils. Place them in the temple in Jerusalem. Rebuild God’s temple on its original site.’

Ezra 5:16 Then Sheshbazzar laid the foundation of God’s temple in Jerusalem. The temple has been under construction from that time until now, but it still isn’t finished.”

Ezra 5:17 If it pleases Your Majesty, allow someone to search the king’s archives in Babylon to determine whether King Cyrus gave permission for the temple of God to be rebuilt in Jerusalem. Then please send us Your Majesty’s decision on this matter.

Ezra 6:1 Then King Darius gave the order to search the library where the archives were stored in Babylon.

Ezra 6:2 A scroll was found in the palace of Ecbatana, which is in the province of Media. This was written on it: MEMORANDUM

Ezra 6:3 Date: Cyrus’ first year as king From: King Cyrus Subject: God’s temple in Jerusalem. The temple should be rebuilt as a place to offer sacrifices. Its foundation should be laid. It should be 90 feet high and 90 feet wide

Ezra 6:4 with three rows of large stones and a row of wood. The king’s palace will pay for it.

Ezra 6:5 In addition, Cyrus took out of a temple in Babylon the gold and silver utensils that belonged to God’s temple. (Nebuchadnezzar had taken them out of God’s temple in Jerusalem and brought them into a temple in Babylon.) They should be returned to their proper place in the temple in Jerusalem. You should put each one in God’s temple.

Ezra 6:6 Governor Tattenai [from the province] west of the Euphrates, Shethar Bozenai, and those of your group (the Persians west of the river): You must stay away from there.

Ezra 6:7 Don't interfere with the work on God's temple. Let the governor of the Jews and the leaders of Judah rebuild God's temple on its [original] foundation.

Ezra 6:8 I am issuing this decree about how you must help the Jewish leaders rebuild God's temple: The cost [for this] should be paid out of the king's own money from the taxes [on the province] west of the Euphrates. Full payment should be made to these men so that the work is not interrupted.

Ezra 6:9 Also, whatever the priests in Jerusalem need for burnt offerings to the God of heaven-young bulls, rams, lambs, wheat, salt, wine, and olive oil-should be provided for them each day. Make sure that nothing is omitted.

Ezra 6:10 Then they can offer sacrifices that please the God of heaven and pray for the life of the king and his sons.

Ezra 6:11 I am also issuing a decree that if anyone tampers with my orders, that person should be impaled on a beam torn from his own house and his house should be turned into a pile of rubble.

Ezra 6:12 May the God whose name is worshiped there cause the downfall of each king and nation who tries to tamper with my orders or tries to destroy the temple of the God in Jerusalem. I, Darius, have issued a decree. It's to be carried out exactly as ordered.

Ezra 6:13 Then Governor Tattenai [from the province] west of the Euphrates River, Shethar Bozenai, and their group did exactly what King Darius had ordered.

Ezra 6:14 So the Jewish leaders continued to make progress because of the message from the prophet Haggai and Zechariah, the grandson of Iddo. They finished building as the God of Israel had ordered and as Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes (the kings of Persia) had ordered.

Ezra 6:15 This temple was finished on the third day of the month of Adar in the sixth year of King Darius' reign.

Ezra 6:16 Then the people of Israel, the priests, the Levites, and the others who had returned from exile celebrated at the dedication of God's temple.

Ezra 6:17 At the dedication of God's temple, they sacrificed 100 bulls, 200 rams, and 400 lambs. They sacrificed 12 male goats as an offering for sin, one goat for each of the tribes of Israel.

Ezra 6:18 The priests were assigned to their divisions and the Levites to their groups [to lead] the worship of God in Jerusalem by following the directions written in the Book of Moses.

Ezra 6:19 On the fourteenth day of the first month, those who had returned from exile celebrated the Passover.

Ezra 6:20 Since the priests and Levites had cleansed themselves, all of them were [now] clean. They killed the Passover lambs for all the people who had returned from exile, for the rest of the priests, and for themselves.

Ezra 6:21 The lambs were eaten by the Israelites who had returned from exile and by all who had separated themselves from the unclean practices of the non-Jews in the land to worship the LORD God of Israel.

Ezra 6:22 So for seven days they celebrated the Festival of Unleavened Bread because the LORD had made them joyful. The LORD had made the king of Assyria change his mind so that he supported the people in their work on the temple of God, the God of Israel.

Ezra 7:1 After these things, during the reign of King Artaxerxes of Persia, Ezra left Babylon. Ezra was the son of Seraiah, who was the son of Azariah, who was the son of Hilkiah,

Ezra 7:2 who was the son of Shallum, who was the son of Zadok, who was the son of Ahitub,

Ezra 7:3 who was the son of Amariah, who was the son of Azariah, who was the son of Meraioth,

Ezra 7:4 who was the son of Zerahiah, who was the son of Uzzi, who was the son of Bukki,

Ezra 7:5 who was the son of Abishua, who was the son of Phinehas, who was the son of Eleazer, who was the son of Aaron (the first priest).

Ezra 7:6 As a scribe, Ezra was an expert in Moses' Teachings, which the LORD God of Israel had given. The king gave Ezra everything he requested because the LORD his God was guiding him.

Ezra 7:7 Some Israelites (including priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, and temple servants) went to Jerusalem in Artaxerxes' seventh year as king.

Ezra 7:8 In that same year in the fifth month, Ezra arrived in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:9 He had left Babylon on the first day of the first month, and on the first day of the fifth month, he arrived in Jerusalem, since his God was good to him.

Ezra 7:10 Ezra was determined to study the LORD's Teachings, live by them, and teach their rules and regulations in Israel.

Ezra 7:11 This is a copy of the letter that King Artaxerxes gave Ezra the priest and scribe, a man with a thorough knowledge of the LORD's commands and laws for Israel:

Ezra 7:12 From: Artaxerxes, king of kings To: Ezra the priest, a scribe for the Teachings of the God of Heaven: I wish you peace and prosperity!

Ezra 7:13 I have issued a decree that any Israelites who are in my kingdom and want to go with you to Jerusalem may go. This also includes the priests and Levites.

Ezra 7:14 I, the king, and my seven advisers are sending you to evaluate the situation in Judah and Jerusalem on the basis of your God's Teachings, which you hold in your hands.

Ezra 7:15 Also, you must take the silver and gold that the king and his advisers willingly contributed to the God of Israel, the God whose temple is in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:16 Take any silver and gold that you find in the whole province of Babylon when you take the gifts contributed by the people and the priests. They willingly contributed these gifts for the temple of their God in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:17 You must use this money to buy bulls, rams, lambs, grain, and wine to offer on the altar of the temple of your God in Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:18 You and your relatives may do whatever you think is right with the rest of the silver and gold. However, what you do must conform to the will of your God.

Ezra 7:19 The utensils that have been given to you so that they can be used in your God's temple must all be presented to the God of Jerusalem.

Ezra 7:20 You may use the king's treasury to pay for anything else that you must provide for your God's temple.

Ezra 7:21 I, King Artaxerxes, order all the treasurers [in the province] west of the Euphrates River to do exactly what Ezra the priest, a scribe for the Teachings of the God of Heaven, asks you to do.

Ezra 7:22 [You may give him] up to 7,500 pounds of silver, 100 measures of wheat, 600 gallons of wine, 600 gallons of olive oil, and as much salt as he needs.

Ezra 7:23 Whatever the God of heaven has commanded must be carried out in detail for the temple of the God of heaven. Why should God become angry with the king's empire and his sons?

Ezra 7:24 Furthermore, we are notifying you that you are forbidden to make any priest, Levite, singer, gatekeeper, servant, or worker in the temple of this God pay any taxes, fees, or tolls.

Ezra 7:25 You, Ezra, using your God's wisdom-the Teachings you hold in your hands-will appoint judges and administrators for all the people who know your God's Teachings and live [in the province] west of the Euphrates River. In addition, you will teach anyone who doesn't know the Teachings.

Ezra 7:26 Whoever will not strictly follow your God's Teachings and the king's orders should be promptly exiled, have his goods confiscated, be imprisoned or be sentenced to die.

Ezra 7:27 [I, Ezra, said:] Thanks be to the LORD God of our ancestors. He put this into the king's mind to make the LORD's temple in Jerusalem beautiful.

Ezra 7:28 He made the king, his advisers, and all the king’s powerful officials treat me kindly. I was encouraged because the LORD my God was guiding me. So I gathered leaders in Israel to go with me.

Ezra 8:1 These are the leaders of the families and the genealogy of those who left Babylon with me during the reign of King Artaxerxes:

Ezra 8:2 from the family of Phinehas: Gershom from the family of Ithamar: Daniel

Ezra 8:3 from the family of David: Hattush, son of Shecaniah from the family of Parosh: Zechariah, with 150 males whose genealogies were known

Ezra 8:4 from the family of Pahath Moab: Eliehoenai, son of Zerahiah, with 200 males

Ezra 8:5 from the family of Zattu: Shecaniah, son of Jahaziel, with 300 males

Ezra 8:6 from the family of Adin: Ebed, son of Jonathan, with 50 males

Ezra 8:7 from the family of Elam: Jeshaiah, son of Athaliah, with 70 males

Ezra 8:8 from the family of Shephatiah: Zebadiah, son of Michael, with 80 males

Ezra 8:9 from the family of Joab: Obadiah, son of Jehiel, with 210 males

Ezra 8:10 from the family of Bani: Shelomith, son of Josiphiah, with 160 males

Ezra 8:11 from the family of Bebai: Zechariah, son of Bebai, with 38 males

Ezra 8:12 from the family of Azgad: Johanan, son of Hakkatan, with 110 males

Ezra 8:13 from the family of Adonikam: Eliphelet, Jeuel, and Shemaiah, who arrived later with 60 males

Ezra 8:14 from the family of Bigvai: Uthai and Zabbud, with 70 males.

Ezra 8:15 I had this group gather by the river that flows to Ahava, and we camped there for three days. I noticed laypeople and priests there, but I didn’t find any Levites.

Ezra 8:16 Then I sent for Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam (who were leading men) and for Joiarib and Elnathan (who were wise).

Ezra 8:17 I sent them to Iddo, the leader in Casiphia. I told them to tell Iddo and his relatives, the temple servants in Casiphia, that they should bring us men who can serve in our God’s temple.

Ezra 8:18 God was guiding us, so Iddo and his relatives brought us someone competent, Sherebiah, who was a descendant of Mahli, Levi, and Israel. They brought us 18 of Sherebiah's sons and relatives.

Ezra 8:19 They also brought Hashabiah, Jeshaiah (who was a descendant of Merari), 20 of Jeshaiah's relatives and their sons,

Ezra 8:20 and 220 temple servants. [They were descended] from the temple servants whom David and his officials had appointed to work for the Levites. These were all listed by name.

Ezra 8:21 Then I announced a fast there at the Ahava River so that we might humble ourselves in the presence of our God to ask him for a safe journey for ourselves, for our little ones, and for all our goods.

Ezra 8:22 I was ashamed to ask the king for an armed escort with cavalry to help us against an enemy attack on the way. We had already told the king, "Our God works things out for the good of everyone who dedicates his life to serving him, but his power and his anger oppose everyone who abandons him."

Ezra 8:23 So we fasted and asked our God for a safe journey, and he answered our prayer.

Ezra 8:24 Then I selected 12 leaders from the priests-Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and 10 of their relatives.

Ezra 8:25 I weighed for them the silver, the gold, and the utensils. [These were] the contributions that the king, his advisers, his officials, and all the Israelites had contributed for our God's temple.

Ezra 8:26 I weighed [the contributions] for them to guard: about 24 tons of silver, 100 silver utensils weighing 150 pounds apiece, 7,500 pounds of gold,

Ezra 8:27 20 gold bowls weighing 18 pounds apiece, and two utensils of fine polished bronze that were as precious as gold.

Ezra 8:28 I told them, "You and the utensils are holy to the LORD. The silver and gold are freewill offerings to the LORD God of your ancestors.

Ezra 8:29 Guard them carefully. In Jerusalem, inside the storerooms of the LORD's temple, weigh these items. Do this in front of the chief priests, Levites, and the leaders of Israel's families."

Ezra 8:30 So the priests and the Levites took charge of the silver, the gold, and the utensils. They were responsible for bringing these items to the temple of our God in Jerusalem.

Ezra 8:31 Then we left the Ahava River on the twelfth day of the first month to go to Jerusalem. God was guiding us, and he rescued us from our enemies and from ambushes along the way.

Ezra 8:32 When we reached Jerusalem, we rested for three days.

Ezra 8:33 On the fourth day we weighed the silver, the gold, and the utensils in our God's temple. We put them under the supervision of Meremoth, son of the priest Uriah, as well as Eleazar, the son of Phinehas. The Levites, Jeshua's son Jozabad, and Binnui's son Noadiah, assisted them.

Ezra 8:34 Everything was counted and weighed, and the entire weight was recorded at that time.

Ezra 8:35 The exiles who had come back from captivity sacrificed burnt offerings to the God of Israel: 12 bulls for all Israel, 96 rams, 77 lambs, and 12 male goats for an offering for sin. All of these animals were burnt offerings for the LORD.

Ezra 8:36 The exiles delivered the king's orders to the king's satraps and governors [in the province] west of the Euphrates River. These officials then gave their support to the people and the temple of God.

Ezra 9:1 After these things had been done, the leaders came to me and said, "The people of Israel, including the priests and Levites, have failed to keep themselves separate from the neighboring groups of people and from the disgusting practices of the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites.

Ezra 9:2 The Israelites and their sons have married some of these foreign women. They have mixed our holy race with the neighboring groups of people. Furthermore, the leaders and officials have led the way in being unfaithful."

Ezra 9:3 When I heard this, I tore my clothes [in distress], pulled hair from my scalp and my beard, and sat down in shock.

Ezra 9:4 Since the former exiles had been unfaithful, everyone who gathered around me there trembled at the words of the God of Israel. I sat in shock until the evening sacrifice.

Ezra 9:5 At the evening sacrifice I got up from my misery, and with my clothes torn, I knelt down, stretched out my hands to the LORD my God in prayer,

Ezra 9:6 and said, "I am ashamed, my God. I am embarrassed to look at you. Our sins have piled up over our heads, and our guilt is so overwhelming that it reaches heaven.

Ezra 9:7 From our ancestors' days until now, we have been deep in guilt. Our kings and our priests have been handed over to foreign kings to be executed. We have been taken captive, robbed, and humiliated, as we still are today because of our sins.

Ezra 9:8 And now, for a brief moment, the LORD our God has been kind enough to leave us a few survivors from Babylon and to give us a secure hold on his holy place. Our God has made our eyes light up and has given us new opportunities while we were slaves.

Ezra 9:9 We are slaves, but our God hasn’t abandoned us in our slavery. Instead, he has made the kings of Persia treat us kindly. He did this to give us an opportunity to rebuild our God’s temple and restore its ruins and to give us a protective wall in Judah and Jerusalem.

Ezra 9:10 “And now, our God, what can we say after all this? We have abandoned your commandments!

Ezra 9:11 The commandments you gave us through your servants the prophets, said, ‘The land you are going to take possession of has been polluted by its perverted people and by their disgusting practices that have filled it with wickedness from one end to another.

Ezra 9:12 So never let your daughters marry their sons or your sons marry their daughters, and never seek peace or trade with them. Then you will be strong, be able to eat the good things the land produces, and be able to give this land as a long-lasting inheritance to your children.’

Ezra 9:13 “After all that has happened to us because of the evil things we have done and because of our overwhelming guilt, you, our God, have punished us far less than we deserve and have permitted a few of us to survive.

Ezra 9:14 If we break your commandments again and intermarry with people doing these disgusting things, you will become even more angry with us until you finally destroy us and no survivors are left.

Ezra 9:15 LORD God of Israel, because you are fair, a few of us continue to remain as survivors. Look at us. All of us are guilty. None of us can stand in your presence because of this.”

Ezra 10:1 While Ezra was praying, confessing [these sins], crying, and throwing himself down in front of God’s temple, a large crowd of Israelite men, women, and children gathered around him. They also began to cry bitterly.

Ezra 10:2 Then Shecaniah, son of Jehiel, one of the descendants of Elam, interrupted by saying to Ezra, “We have been unfaithful to our God by marrying foreign women who came from the people around us. However, there is still hope for Israel.

Ezra 10:3 So we must now make a promise to our God to get rid of all foreign women and the children born from them, as my lord [Ezra] and the others who tremble at the commandments of our God have advised us to do. We must do what Moses’ Teachings tell us.

Ezra 10:4 Get up! It’s your duty to take action. We are with you, so be strong and take action.”

Ezra 10:5 Then Ezra got up and made the leaders, priests, Levites, and all the rest of Israel swear to do what they had said. So they took an oath.

Ezra 10:6 Then Ezra left the front of God’s temple and went to the room of Jehohanan, son of Eliashib. Ezra didn’t eat any food or drink any water while he was there. He was mourning because these former exiles had been so unfaithful.

Ezra 10:7 Then he sent a proclamation throughout Judah and Jerusalem that all the former exiles must gather in Jerusalem.

Ezra 10:8 If any of them didn’t come within three days as the leaders and the older men had advised, then they would lose all their property and be excluded from the community of former exiles.

Ezra 10:9 Then all the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered within three days in Jerusalem. On the twentieth day of the ninth month, all the people sat in the courtyard of God’s temple. They were trembling because of this matter and shivering because of the heavy rain.

Ezra 10:10 Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, “You have been unfaithful by marrying foreign women, and now you have added to Israel’s guilt.

Ezra 10:11 Confess to the LORD God of your ancestors what you have done, and do what he wants. Separate yourselves from the people of this land and from your foreign wives.”

Ezra 10:12 Then the whole assembly shouted in reply, “Yes! We will do as you say.

Ezra 10:13 But the crowd is too large, and it’s the rainy season. We can’t take care of this outside. Besides, there are so many of us who are involved in this sin that it can’t be taken care of in a day or two.

Ezra 10:14 Let our leaders represent the whole community. At a set time, everyone who has married a foreign woman must meet with the leaders and judges of each city until our God’s burning anger has turned away from us in this matter.”

Ezra 10:15 (Only Jonathan, Asahel’s son, and Jahzeiah, Tikvah’s son, opposed this. Meshullam and Shabbethai, the Levite, supported Jonathan and Jahzeiah.)

Ezra 10:16 The former exiles did this. Ezra the priest chose men who were heads of families. He chose one from each family division. (They were all [listed] by name.) They sat down on the first day of the tenth month to investigate the matter.

Ezra 10:17 By the first day of the first month, they had finished dealing with all the men who had married foreign women.

Ezra 10:18 Among the descendants of the priests, the following were married to foreign women: Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah, a descendant of Jeshua (who was Jozadak’s son) and his brothers.

Ezra 10:19 They shook hands as a pledge that they would get rid of their wives. They sacrificed a ram from their flock as an offering for guilt because they were guilty.

Ezra 10:20 From the descendants of Immer: Hanani and Zebadiah

Ezra 10:21 From the descendants of Harim: Maaseiah, Elijah, Shemaiah, Jehiel, and Uzziah

Ezra 10:22 From the descendants of Pashhur: Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasah

Ezra 10:23 From the Levites: Jozabad, Shimei, Kelaiah (that is, Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer

Ezra 10:24 From the singers: Eliashib From the gatekeepers: Shallum, Telem, and Uri

Ezra 10:25 From the other Israelites: From the descendants of Parosh: Ramiah, Izziah, Malchiah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Malchiah, and Benaiah

Ezra 10:26 From the descendants of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, Abdi, Jeremoth, and Elijah

Ezra 10:27 From the descendants of Zattu: Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, Jeremoth, Zabad, and Aziza

Ezra 10:28 From the descendants of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai

Ezra 10:29 From the descendants of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jashub, Sheal, and Jeremoth

Ezra 10:30 From the descendants of Pahath Moab: Adna, Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, Binnui, and Manasseh

Ezra 10:31 From the descendants of Harim: Eliezer, Isshiah, Malchiah, Shemaiah, Shimeon,

Ezra 10:32 Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah

Ezra 10:33 From the descendants of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattattah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, and Shimei

Ezra 10:34 From the descendants of Bani: Maadai, Amram, Uel,

Ezra 10:35 Benaiah, Bedeiah, Cheluhi,

Ezra 10:36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib,

Ezra 10:37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, Jaasau

Ezra 10:38 From the descendants of Binnui: Shimei,

Ezra 10:39 Shelemiah, Nathan, Adaiah,

Ezra 10:40 Machnadebai, Shashai, Sharai,

Ezra 10:41 Azarel, Shelemiah, Shemariah,

Ezra 10:42 Shallum, Amariah, and Joseph

Ezra 10:43 From the descendants of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai, Joel, and Benaiah

Ezra 10:44 All of these men had married foreign women. Some of these women had given birth to children.

Nehemiah

1:1 These are the words of Nehemiah, son of Hacaliah: During the month of Chislev, in Artaxerxes' twentieth year as king, while I was in the fortress at Susa,

Nehemiah 1:2 one of my brothers, Hanani, arrived with some men from Judah. I asked them about the Jews who had survived captivity and about Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 1:3 They told me, "Those who survived captivity are in the province. They are enduring serious troubles and being insulted. The wall of Jerusalem has been broken down, and its gates have been destroyed by fire."

Nehemiah 1:4 When I heard this, I sat down and cried. I mourned for days. I continued to fast and pray to the God of heaven.

Nehemiah 1:5 I said, "LORD God of heaven, great and awe-inspiring God, you faithfully keep your promise and show mercy to those who love you and obey your commandments.

Nehemiah 1:6 Open your eyes, and pay close attention with your ears to what I, your servant, am praying. I am praying to you day and night about your servants the Israelites. I confess the sins that we Israelites have committed against you as well as the sins that my father's family and I have committed.

Nehemiah 1:7 We have done you a great wrong. We haven't obeyed the commandments, laws, or regulations that you gave us through your servant Moses.

Nehemiah 1:8 Please remember what you told us through your servant Moses: 'If you are unfaithful, I will scatter you among the nations.

Nehemiah 1:9 But if you return to me and continue to obey my commandments, though your people may be driven to the most distant point on the horizon, I will come and get you from there and bring you to the place where I chose to put my name.'

Nehemiah 1:10 These are your servants and your people whom you have saved by your great power and your strong hand.

Nehemiah 1:11 Lord, please pay attention to my prayer and to the prayers of all your other servants who want to worship your name. Please give me success today and make this man, King Artaxerxes, show me compassion." I was cupbearer to the king at this time.

Nehemiah 2:1 In the month of Nisan, in Artaxerxes' twentieth year as king, after some wine was brought for the king, I picked up the cup of wine and gave it to the king. I had never been sad in his presence before.

Nehemiah 2:2 The king asked me, "Why do you look so sad? You aren't sick, are you? You must be troubled about something." (I was really afraid.)

Nehemiah 2:3 “May the king live forever!” I said to the king. “Why shouldn’t I look sad when the city, the place where my ancestors are buried, is in ruins and its gates are burned down?”

Nehemiah 2:4 “What do you want?” the king asked me. So I prayed to the God of heaven,

Nehemiah 2:5 and I asked the king, “If it pleases Your Majesty, and you are willing to grant my request, let me go to Judah, to the city where my ancestors are buried, so that I can rebuild it.”

Nehemiah 2:6 Then, while the queen was sitting beside him, the king asked me, “How long will you be gone, and when will you come back?” When I gave him a specific date, he was willing to let me go.

Nehemiah 2:7 I also asked the king, “If it pleases Your Majesty, let me have letters addressed to the governors [of the province] west of the Euphrates River. In the letters tell them to grant me safe conduct until I arrive in Judah.

Nehemiah 2:8 Also, let me have a letter addressed to Asaph, the supervisor of Your Majesty’s forest. In the letter order him to give me wood for the gates of the fortress near the temple, for the city wall, and for the house I’ll move into.” (The king let me have the letters, because God was guiding me.)

Nehemiah 2:9 I went to the governors [of the province] west of the Euphrates River and gave them the king’s letters. (The king had sent army officers and cavalry to be with me.)

Nehemiah 2:10 But when Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite servant heard this, they were very upset that someone had come to give the people of Israel so much assistance.

Nehemiah 2:11 I went to Jerusalem and was there for three days.

Nehemiah 2:12 During the night I went out with a few men without telling anyone what my God had inspired me to do for Jerusalem. The only animal I had was the one I was riding.

Nehemiah 2:13 I went through Valley Gate that night toward Snake Fountain and Dung Gate and examined the places where the walls of Jerusalem were broken down and where its gates had been burned.

Nehemiah 2:14 Passing through Fountain Gate, I arrived at King’s Pool, but the animal I was riding couldn’t get through.

Nehemiah 2:15 So I went through the valley that night and examined the wall. Then I turned back, entered Valley Gate, and returned.

Nehemiah 2:16 The officials didn’t know where I had gone or what I had done. I hadn’t yet told the Jews, the priests, the leaders, the other officials, or any of the rest who would be doing the work.

Nehemiah 2:17 Then I told them, “You see the trouble we’re in. Jerusalem is in ruins, and its gates are burned down. Let’s rebuild the wall of Jerusalem, and we will no longer be insulted.”

Nehemiah 2:18 Then I told them that my God had been guiding me and what the king had told me. They replied, “Let’s begin to rebuild.” So they encouraged one another to begin this God-pleasing work.

Nehemiah 2:19 When Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite servant, and Geshem the Arab heard about this, they made fun of us and ridiculed us. They asked, “What are you doing? Are you going to rebel against the king?”

Nehemiah 2:20 “The God of heaven will give us success,” I answered them. “We, his servants, are going to rebuild. You have no property or claim or historic right in Jerusalem.”

Nehemiah 3:1 The chief priest Eliashib and his relatives, the priests, started by rebuilding Sheep Gate. They dedicated it and set its doors in place. They rebuilt as far as the Tower of the Hundred, which they dedicated, and then as far as the Tower of Hananel.

Nehemiah 3:2 The men from Jericho were rebuilding next to Eliashib. Zaccur, son of Imri, was next to them.

Nehemiah 3:3 The sons of Hassenaah rebuilt Fish Gate. They laid its beams and set its doors, locks, and bars in place.

Nehemiah 3:4 Next to them Meremoth, son of Uriah and grandson of Hakkoz, made repairs. Next to them Meshullam, son of Berechiah and grandson of Meshezabel, made repairs. Next to them Zadok, son of Baana, made repairs.

Nehemiah 3:5 Next to them the men from Tekoa made repairs. However, the nobles wouldn’t lower themselves to work under supervisors.

Nehemiah 3:6 Joiada, Paseah’s son, and Meshullam, Besodeiah’s son, made repairs on Old Gate. They laid its beams and set its doors, locks, and bars in place.

Nehemiah 3:7 Next to them Melatiah from Gibeon and Jadon from Meronoth, with men from Gibeon and Mizpah, made repairs on the wall. They did this under the authority of the governor [from the province] west of the Euphrates River.

Nehemiah 3:8 Next to them Uzziel, Harhaiah’s son, a goldsmith, made repairs. Next to him Hananiah, a perfume maker, made repairs. They left out part of Jerusalem as far as Broad Wall.

Nehemiah 3:9 Next to them Rephaiah, Hur’s son, an official in charge of half a district of Jerusalem, made repairs.

Nehemiah 3:10 Next to them Jedaiah, Harumaph’s son, made repairs across from his own home. Next to them Hattush, Hashabneiah’s son, made repairs.

Nehemiah 3:11 Malchiah, Harim’s son, and Hasshub, Pahath Moab’s son, made repairs on a section that included the Tower of the Ovens.

Nehemiah 3:12 Next to them Shallum, Hallohesh’s son, an official in charge of half a district of Jerusalem, made repairs with the help of his daughters.

Nehemiah 3:13 Hanun and the people of Zanoah repaired Valley Gate. They rebuilt it and set its doors, locks, and bars in place, and they repaired 1,500 feet of the wall, as far as Dung Gate.

Nehemiah 3:14 Dung Gate itself was repaired by Malchiah, Rechab’s son, the official in charge of the district of Beth Hakkerem. He rebuilt it and set its doors, locks, and bars in place.

Nehemiah 3:15 Shallun, Col Hozeh’s son, the official in charge of the district of Mizpah, repaired Fountain Gate. He rebuilt it, put a roof over it, and set its doors, locks, and bars in place. He also made repairs on the wall of the Pool of Shelah by the King’s Garden as far as the stairs going down from the City of David.

Nehemiah 3:16 After him Nehemiah, Azbuk’s son, the official in charge of half the district of Beth Zur, made repairs all the way to a point across from the tombs of David as far as the pool and the soldiers’ barracks.

Nehemiah 3:17 After him the Levites, including Rehum (Bani’s son), made repairs. Next to him Hashabiah, the official in charge of half the district of Keilah, made repairs for his district.

Nehemiah 3:18 After him their relatives made repairs. This included Binnui, Henadad’s son, the official in charge of half the district of Keilah.

Nehemiah 3:19 Next to him Ezer, Jeshua’s son, the official in charge of Mizpah, repaired a section across from the ascent to the Armory at the Angle.

Nehemiah 3:20 After him Baruch, Zabbai’s son, made repairs on a section from the Angle to the door of the house of the chief priest Eliashib.

Nehemiah 3:21 After him Meremoth, son of Uriah and grandson of Hakkoz, made repairs on a section from the door of Eliashib’s house to the end of Eliashib’s house.

Nehemiah 3:22 After him the priests who lived in that area made repairs.

Nehemiah 3:23 After them Benjamin and Hasshub made repairs across from their own homes. After them Azariah, son of Maaseiah and grandson of Ananiah, made repairs next to his home.

Nehemiah 3:24 After him Binnui, Henadad’s son, made repairs on a section from Azariah’s home to the Angle and to the corner of the wall.

Nehemiah 3:25 Palal, Uzai’s son, made repairs across from the Angle and the upper tower that projects from the king’s palace to the guards’ courtyard. After him Pedaiah, Parosh’s son, Nehemiah 3:26 and the temple servants who were living on the Ophel made repairs on the wall as far as a point across from Water Gate toward the east and the projecting tower.

Nehemiah 3:27 After him the men from Tekoa repaired a section across from the large projecting tower as far as the Wall of the Ophel.

Nehemiah 3:28 Above Horse Gate the priests made repairs. Each priest made repairs across from his own home.

Nehemiah 3:29 After them Zadok, Immer's son, made repairs across from his own home. After him Shemaiah, Shecaniah's son, the guard at East Gate, made repairs.

Nehemiah 3:30 After him Hananiah, Shelemiah's son, and Hanun, Zalaph's sixth son, repaired another section. After him Meshullam, Berechiah's son, made repairs across from his living quarters.

Nehemiah 3:31 After him Malchiah, one of the goldsmiths, made repairs as far as the building that housed the temple servants and merchants across from Inspection Gate and as far as the upper room at the corner.

Nehemiah 3:32 The goldsmiths and merchants made repairs between the upper room at the corner and Sheep Gate.

Nehemiah 4:1 When Sanballat heard we were rebuilding the wall, he became enraged and made fun of the Jews.

Nehemiah 4:2 In front of his allies and the army from Samaria, he said, “What do these miserable Jews think they're doing? Can they rebuild it by themselves? Are they going to offer sacrifices? Can they finish it in a day? Will they get the stones out of the rubbish heaps, burned as these stones are, and give them new strength?”

Nehemiah 4:3 Tobiah the Ammonite, who was beside Sanballat, said, “Even a fox would make their stone wall collapse if it walked on top of what they're building!”

Nehemiah 4:4 [Nehemiah prayed,] “Our God, hear us. We are despised. Turn their insults back on them, and let them be robbed in the land where they are prisoners.

Nehemiah 4:5 Don't ignore their guilt, and don't let their sins disappear from your records. They have insulted you in front of these builders.”

Nehemiah 4:6 So we rebuilt the wall, which was rebuilt to about half its [original] height. The people worked with determination.

Nehemiah 4:7 When Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabs, the Ammonites, and the people from Ashdod heard that the repair work on the walls of Jerusalem was making progress and that the gaps were being filled in, they became furious.

Nehemiah 4:8 All of them plotted to attack Jerusalem to create confusion.

Nehemiah 4:9 But we prayed to our God and set guards to protect us day and night.

Nehemiah 4:10 Then the people of Judah said, “The work crews are worn out, and there is too much rubble. We can’t continue to rebuild the wall.”

Nehemiah 4:11 Our enemies said, “Before they know what is happening or see a thing, we will be right in the middle of them. We’ll kill them and bring the work to an end.”

Nehemiah 4:12 Jews who were living near our enemies warned us ten times that our enemies would attack us from every direction.

Nehemiah 4:13 That is why I positioned people by their families behind the wall where it was lowest and most exposed. The people were armed with swords, spears, and bows.

Nehemiah 4:14 I looked them over and proceeded to tell the nobles, the leaders, and the rest of the people, “Don’t be afraid of our enemies. Remember how great and awe-inspiring the LORD is. Fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your homes.”

Nehemiah 4:15 When our enemies heard that we knew about their plots and that God had prevented their plans from being successful, we all went back to the work on the wall. Each person performed his own job.

Nehemiah 4:16 From that day on, half of my men worked on the wall, and the other half were wearing body armor and holding spears, shields, and bows. The leaders stood behind all the Judeans

Nehemiah 4:17 who were rebuilding the wall. The workers who were carrying loads did the work with one hand and held their weapons with the other,

Nehemiah 4:18 and each builder had his sword fastened to his side. The man who was supposed to sound the trumpet alarm was with me.

Nehemiah 4:19 I told the nobles, the leaders, and the rest of the people, “So much work has to be done in different places that we are widely separated from one another on the wall.

Nehemiah 4:20 When you hear the trumpet, assemble around me. Our God will fight for us!”

Nehemiah 4:21 So we continued to work. Half of us held spears from early dawn until the stars came out.

Nehemiah 4:22 At that time I told the people, “Every man and his servant should stay overnight in Jerusalem so that we can set a guard at night and work during the day.”

Nehemiah 4:23 My brothers, my servants, and the guards assigned to me never changed their clothes. Neither did I. We each kept our weapons at hand.

Nehemiah 5:1 Then some of the people, the men and their wives, complained publicly about their Jewish relatives.

Nehemiah 5:2 Some of them said, “We have large families! We need some grain [if we are going] to eat and stay alive.”

Nehemiah 5:3 Others said, “We’ve had to mortgage our fields, our vineyards, and our homes in order to get some grain because of this famine.”

Nehemiah 5:4 Others said, “We’ve had to borrow money to pay the king’s taxes on our fields and vineyards.

Nehemiah 5:5 We have the same flesh and blood as our relatives. Our children are just like theirs. Yet, we have to force our sons and daughters to become slaves. Some of our daughters have already become slaves. But we can’t do anything else when our fields and vineyards belong to others.”

Nehemiah 5:6 I became furious when I heard their complaint and what they had to say.

Nehemiah 5:7 After thinking it over, I confronted the nobles and the leaders. I told them, “You are charging interest on loans made to your own relatives.” I arranged for a large meeting to deal with them.

Nehemiah 5:8 Then I told them, “We have done our best to buy back our Jewish relatives who had been sold to other nations. Now you are selling your Jewish relatives so that we have to buy them back again!” They were unable to say anything.

Nehemiah 5:9 I added, “What you’re doing is wrong. Shouldn’t you live in the fear of our God to keep our enemies from ridiculing us?

Nehemiah 5:10 My brothers, my servants, and I are lending money and grain to the poor. But we must stop charging them interest.

Nehemiah 5:11 You must return their fields, their vineyards, their olive orchards, and their homes today. Also, you must return the interest on the money, grain, new wine, and olive oil you’ve been charging them.”

Nehemiah 5:12 They responded, “We’ll return it and not try to get it from them [again]. We’ll do what you say.” Then I called the priests and made them swear to do what they promised.

Nehemiah 5:13 I brushed off my clothes and said, “In the same way, may God brush off from home and work everyone who refuses to keep this promise. In the same way, may everyone be brushed off and left with nothing.” Then the whole congregation said amen and praised the LORD. The people did what they had promised.

Nehemiah 5:14 During the 12 years that I was governor of Judah, from the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes’ reign to the thirty-second year of his reign, my brothers and I never ate any food that was paid for by the governor’s food allowance.

Nehemiah 5:15 Those who were governors before me had made life difficult for the people by taking from them food and wine plus one pound of silver. Even the governors' servants took advantage of their power over the people. But I didn't do that, because I feared God.

Nehemiah 5:16 Instead, I put my best effort into the work on this wall, and we bought no land. All my men gathered here for work.

Nehemiah 5:17 I fed 150 Jewish leaders and their people who came to us from the surrounding nations.

Nehemiah 5:18 Preparing one ox and six choice sheep was necessary every day. Poultry was prepared for me. Once every ten days a supply of wine was ordered. Yet, in spite of all this, I never demanded anything from the governor's food allowance, because these people were already carrying a heavy load.

Nehemiah 5:19 Remember me, my God. Consider everything that I have done for these people.

Nehemiah 6:1 Sanballat, Tobiah, Geshem the Arab, and the rest of our enemies heard that I had rebuilt the wall and that no gaps had been left in it (although at that time I had not yet hung the doors in the city gates).

Nehemiah 6:2 Then Sanballat and Geshem sent this message to me: "Let's meet in Hakkephirim on the plain of Ono." They were planning to harm me.

Nehemiah 6:3 I sent messengers to tell them, "I'm working on an important project and can't get away. Why should the work stop while I leave to meet with you?"

Nehemiah 6:4 They sent the same message to me four times, and I answered them the same way.

Nehemiah 6:5 When Sanballat sent me the same message a fifth time, his servant held in his hand an unsealed letter.

Nehemiah 6:6 In it was written: It has been reported throughout the nations, and Geshem has confirmed it, that you and the Jews are planning to rebel. That's why you're rebuilding the wall. According to this report, you want to become their king.

Nehemiah 6:7 You've appointed prophets to announce about you in Jerusalem, 'There's a king in Judah!' This report will get back to the king. So let's talk about this.

Nehemiah 6:8 Then I sent someone to tell him, "None of your accusations are true. You are making them up out of your own imagination."

Nehemiah 6:9 They were all trying to intimidate us. They thought we would give up and not finish the work. But God made me strong.

Nehemiah 6:10 [One day] I went to the home of Shemaiah, son of Delaiah and grandson of Mehetabel. Shemaiah who was confined to his house, said, “Let’s meet in the house of God, inside the temple, and close the temple doors. Some men are coming at night to kill you.”

Nehemiah 6:11 But I asked, “Should a man like me run away? Would a man like me go into the temple to save his life? I won’t go.”

Nehemiah 6:12 Then I realized that God hadn’t sent him. Instead, Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him to prophesy against me.

Nehemiah 6:13 He was hired to intimidate me into doing this so that I would sin. Then they could give me a bad reputation in order to discredit me.

Nehemiah 6:14 [Nehemiah prayed,] “My God, remember what Tobiah and Sanballat have done. Also, remember the female prophet Noadiah and the rest of the prophets who have been trying to intimidate me.”

Nehemiah 6:15 The wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of the month of Elul. The wall took 52 days to finish.

Nehemiah 6:16 When all our enemies heard about this, all the surrounding nations were afraid and lost their self-confidence. They realized we had done this work with the help of our God.

Nehemiah 6:17 In those days the nobles of Judah sent many letters to Tobiah, and Tobiah sent many letters back to them.

Nehemiah 6:18 Many in Judah had promised to support Tobiah because he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah, Arah’s son. In addition, Tobiah’s son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam, Berechiah’s son.

Nehemiah 6:19 The nobles were singing Tobiah’s praises to me and reporting to him what I said. Tobiah kept sending letters to intimidate me.

Nehemiah 7:1 The gatekeepers, the singers, and the Levites were assigned their duties after the wall had been rebuilt and I had hung the doors.

Nehemiah 7:2 I put my brother Hanani and Hananiah, the commander of the fortress, in charge of Jerusalem. Hananiah was a trustworthy man, and he feared God more than most people do.

Nehemiah 7:3 I told them, “The gates of Jerusalem should not be opened at the hottest time of the day. While the [gatekeepers] are still standing there, they should shut the doors and bar them. Order some of the men in Jerusalem to stand guard, some at their posts and others in front of their homes.”

Nehemiah 7:4 The city was large and wide-open. Few people were in it, and no houses were being built.

Nehemiah 7:5 Then my God put the idea into my head that I should gather the nobles, leaders, and people so that they could check their genealogy. I found the book with the genealogy of those who came back the first time. I found the following written in it:

Nehemiah 7:6 These were the people in the province. They were the ones who left the place where the exiles had been taken captive. King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had taken them captive. They returned to Jerusalem and Judah. All of them went to their own cities.

Nehemiah 7:7 They went with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, and Baanah. This is the number of Israelite men from the people in exile:

Nehemiah 7:8 the descendants of Parosh 2,172

Nehemiah 7:9 of Shephatiah 372

Nehemiah 7:10 of Arah 652

Nehemiah 7:11 of Pahath Moab, that is, of Jeshua and Joab 2,818

Nehemiah 7:12 of Elam 1,254

Nehemiah 7:13 of Zattu 845

Nehemiah 7:14 of Zaccai 760

Nehemiah 7:15 of Binnui 648

Nehemiah 7:16 of Bebai 628

Nehemiah 7:17 of Azgad 2,322

Nehemiah 7:18 of Adonikam 667

Nehemiah 7:19 of Bigvai 2,067

Nehemiah 7:20 of Adin 655

Nehemiah 7:21 of Ater, that is, Hezekiah 98

Nehemiah 7:22 of Hashum 328

Nehemiah 7:23 of Bezai 324

Nehemiah 7:24 of Hariph 112

Nehemiah 7:25 of Gibeon 95

Nehemiah 7:26 the people of Bethlehem and Netophah 188

Nehemiah 7:27 of Anathoth 128

Nehemiah 7:28 of Beth Azmaveth 42

Nehemiah 7:29 of Kiriath Jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth 743

Nehemiah 7:30 of Ramah and Geba 621

Nehemiah 7:31 of Michmas 122

Nehemiah 7:32 of Bethel and Ai 123

Nehemiah 7:33 of the other Nebo 52

Nehemiah 7:34 of the other Elam 1,254

Nehemiah 7:35 of Harim 320

Nehemiah 7:36 of Jericho 345

Nehemiah 7:37 of Lod, Hadid, and Ono 721

Nehemiah 7:38 of Senaah 3,930

Nehemiah 7:39 These priests returned from exile: the descendants of Jedaiah (through the family of Jeshua) 973

Nehemiah 7:40 of Immer 1,052

Nehemiah 7:41 of Pashhur 1,247

Nehemiah 7:42 of Harim 1,017

Nehemiah 7:43 These Levites returned from exile: the descendants of Jeshua, that is, of Kadmiel [and] of Hodeiah 74

Nehemiah 7:44 These singers returned from exile: the descendants of Asaph 148

Nehemiah 7:45 These gatekeepers returned from exile: the descendants of Shallum, Ater, Talmon, Akkub, Hatita, and Shobai 138

Nehemiah 7:46 These temple servants returned from exile: the descendants of Ziha, Hasupha, Tabbaoth,

Nehemiah 7:47 Keros, Sia, Padon,

Nehemiah 7:48 Lebanah, Hagabah, Shalmai,

Nehemiah 7:49 Hanan, Giddel, Gahar,

Nehemiah 7:50 Reaiah, Rezin, Nekoda,

Nehemiah 7:51 Gazzam, Uzza, Paseah,

Nehemiah 7:52 Besai, Meunim, Nephusheshim,

Nehemiah 7:53 Bakbuk, Hakupha, Harhur,

Nehemiah 7:54 Bazlith, Mehida, Harsha,

Nehemiah 7:55 Barkos, Sisera, Temah,

Nehemiah 7:56 Neziah, and Hatipha.

Nehemiah 7:57 These descendants of Solomon’s servants returned from exile: the descendants of Sotai, Sophereth, Perida,

Nehemiah 7:58 Jaala, Darkon, Giddel,

Nehemiah 7:59 Shephatiah, Hattil, Pochereth Hazzebaim, and Amon.

Nehemiah 7:60 The temple servants and the descendants of Solomon’s servants totaled 392.

Nehemiah 7:61 The following people came from Tel Melah, Tel Harsha, Cherub, Addan, and Immer, but they couldn’t prove they were Israelites on the basis of their father’s family or their genealogy:

Nehemiah 7:62 the descendants of Delaiah, Tobiah, and Nekoda. These people totaled 642.

Nehemiah 7:63 These priests [couldn’t prove they were Israelites]: the descendants of Hobaiah, Hakkoz, and Barzillai (who had married one of the daughters of Barzillai from Gilead and took that [family] name).

Nehemiah 7:64 These people searched for their [family] names in the genealogical records, but their names couldn’t be found there. For this reason they were considered contaminated and couldn’t be priests.

Nehemiah 7:65 The governor told them not to eat any of the most holy food until a priest could use the Urim and Thummim [to settle the problem].

Nehemiah 7:66 The whole assembly totaled 42,360.

Nehemiah 7:67 In addition to the male and female servants who numbered 7,337, they also had 245 male and female singers.

Nehemiah 7:68 They had 736 horses, 245 mules,

Nehemiah 7:69 435 camels, and 6,720 donkeys.

Nehemiah 7:70 Some of the heads of the families contributed to this work. The governor contributed the following to the treasury: nearly 18 pounds of gold, 50 bowls, and 530 robes for the priests.

Nehemiah 7:71 Some of the heads of the families contributed to the treasury for this work: 337 pounds of gold and 3,215 pounds of silver.

Nehemiah 7:72 The rest of the people contributed 337 pounds of gold, 2,923 pounds of silver, and 67 robes for the priests.

Nehemiah 7:73 The priests, Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, some of the people, the temple servants, and the rest of Israel settled in their own cities. When the seventh month came, the people of Israel were in their own cities.

Nehemiah 8:1 [When the seventh month came,] all the people gathered together in the courtyard in front of Water Gate. They told Ezra the scribe to bring the Book of Moses' Teachings, which the Lord had commanded Israel [to follow].

Nehemiah 8:2 Then Ezra the priest brought the Teachings in front of the assembly. This included men, women, and any [children] who could understand what they heard. This took place on the first day of the seventh month.

Nehemiah 8:3 From daybreak until noon, he read from it in the courtyard in front of Water Gate to the men, women, and [children] who could understand it. All the people listened to the Book of Moses' Teachings.

Nehemiah 8:4 Ezra the scribe stood on a raised wooden platform made for this occasion. Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uriah, Hilkiah, and Maaseiah stood beside him on his right. Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchiah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, and Meshullam stood beside him on his left.

Nehemiah 8:5 Ezra, standing higher than all the other people, opened the book in front of all the people. As he opened it, all the people stood up.

Nehemiah 8:6 Ezra thanked the LORD, the great God. All the people responded, "Amen! Amen!" as they raised their hands and then bowed with their faces to the ground and worshiped the LORD.

Nehemiah 8:7 The Levites-Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, and Pelaiah-explained the Teachings to the people while they were standing there.

Nehemiah 8:8 They read the Book of God's Teachings clearly and explained the meaning so that the people could understand what was read.

Nehemiah 8:9 Then Nehemiah the governor, Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people told them, "This is a holy day for the LORD your God. Don't mourn or cry." All the people were crying as they listened to the reading of God's Teachings.

Nehemiah 8:10 Then he told them, "Go, eat rich foods, drink sweet drinks, and send portions to those who cannot provide for themselves. Today is a holy day for the Lord. Don't be sad because the joy you have in the LORD is your strength."

Nehemiah 8:11 So the Levites calmed all the people by saying, "Listen. Today is a holy day. Don't be sad."

Nehemiah 8:12 Then all the people went to eat and drink and to send portions. They had a big, joyful celebration because they understood the words that had been explained to them.

Nehemiah 8:13 On the second day the leaders of the families of all the people, including the priests and the Levites, met with Ezra the scribe to study the words of God's Teachings.

Nehemiah 8:14 They found written in the Teachings that the LORD had given an order through Moses that the people of Israel should live in booths during a festival in the seventh month.

Nehemiah 8:15 They should announce this command and send this message throughout all their cities and Jerusalem: "Go to the mountains, and get branches-olive and wild olive, myrtle, palm, and other thick-leaved branches-to make booths as it is written."

Nehemiah 8:16 So the people went to get branches to make booths for themselves. Some made booths on their roofs, others in their courtyards, in the courtyards of God's temple, in the open area by Water Gate, or in the open area at Ephraim Gate.

Nehemiah 8:17 The whole assembly that had come back from exile made booths and lived in them. From the time of Jeshua (son of Nun) to that day, the people of Israel had not done this. There was a big, joyful celebration.

Nehemiah 8:18 Day by day, from the first day of the festival to the last day, Ezra continued to read from the Book of God's Teachings. The people celebrated the festival for seven days, and on the eighth day, they had a closing festival assembly in accordance with the regulations.

Nehemiah 9:1 When the Israelites assembled on the twenty-fourth day of this month, they fasted, wore sackcloth, and threw dirt on their heads.

Nehemiah 9:2 Those who were descendants of Israel separated themselves from all foreigners. They stood and confessed their sins as well as the wicked things their ancestors had done.

Nehemiah 9:3 They stood in their places, and for one-fourth of the day, [they listened as] the Book of the Teachings of the LORD their God was read, and for another fourth [of the day], they confessed their sins and worshiped the LORD their God.

Nehemiah 9:4 Then Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chanani stood on the stairs built for the Levites and cried loudly to the LORD their God.

Nehemiah 9:5 Then the Levites-Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah-said, “Stand up, and thank the LORD your God: From everlasting to everlasting your glorious name is praised and lifted high above all blessing and praise.

Nehemiah 9:6 You alone are the LORD. You made heaven, the highest heaven, with all its armies. You made the earth and everything on it, the seas and everything in them. You give life to them all, and the armies of heaven worship you.

Nehemiah 9:7 You are the LORD, the God who chose Abram and took him from Ur of the Chaldeans and gave him the name Abraham.

Nehemiah 9:8 You found that his heart was faithful to you. You made a promise to him to give the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Jebusites, and Girgashites to his descendants. You kept your promise because you are fair.

Nehemiah 9:9 You saw how our ancestors suffered in Egypt, and you heard them crying at the Red Sea.

Nehemiah 9:10 You performed miraculous signs and did amazing things to Pharaoh and all his servants and all the people in his land because you knew how arrogantly they were treating our ancestors. You made a name for yourself, a name which remains to this day.

Nehemiah 9:11 You divided the sea in front of them so that they could walk through the sea on dry ground. You threw into deep water those who pursued your people as someone throws a stone into raging water.

Nehemiah 9:12 You led them during the day by a column of smoke and during the night by a column of fire to give them light to see the way they should go.

Nehemiah 9:13 You came from heaven to Mount Sinai and spoke with them from heaven. You gave them fair rules, trustworthy teachings, and good laws and commandments.

Nehemiah 9:14 You taught them about your holy day of worship. You gave them commandments, laws, and teachings through your servant Moses.

Nehemiah 9:15 You gave them bread from heaven to satisfy their hunger and made water flow from a rock to quench their thirst. You told them to take possession of the land that you swore you would give them.

Nehemiah 9:16 But they-our own ancestors-acted arrogantly. They became stubborn and wouldn't obey your commands.

Nehemiah 9:17 They refused to listen. They forgot the miracles you performed for them. They became stubborn and appointed a leader to take them back to slavery [in Egypt]. But you are a forgiving God, one who is compassionate, merciful, patient, and always ready to forgive. You never abandoned them,

Nehemiah 9:18 even when they made a metal statue of a calf for themselves and said, 'This is your god who took you out of Egypt.' They committed outrageous sins.

Nehemiah 9:19 But because of your endless compassion, you didn't abandon them in the desert. The column of smoke didn't leave them during the day, but it led them on their way. The column of fire didn't leave them during the night, but it gave them light to see the way they should go.

Nehemiah 9:20 You gave them your good Spirit to teach them. You didn't keep your manna to yourself. You gave them water to quench their thirst.

Nehemiah 9:21 You provided for them in the desert for 40 years, and they had everything they needed. Their clothes didn't wear out, and their feet didn't swell.

Nehemiah 9:22 You gave kingdoms and nations to the Israelites and assigned them their boundaries. So they took possession of the land of Sihon, the land of the king of Heshbon, and the land of King Og of Bashan.

Nehemiah 9:23 You made their children as numerous as the stars in the sky. You brought them into the land you told their parents to enter and possess.

Nehemiah 9:24 Their children took possession of the land. You defeated for them the Canaanites, who lived in the land. You handed the Canaanite kings and their people over to them to do whatever they wanted with the Canaanites.

Nehemiah 9:25 The Israelites captured fortified cities and a rich land. They took possession of houses filled with all sorts of good things, cisterns, vineyards, olive trees, and plenty of fruit trees. So they ate and were satisfied and grew fat. They enjoyed the vast supply of good things you gave them.

Nehemiah 9:26 But they were defiant and rebelled against you. They threw your teachings over their shoulders and killed your prophets who warned them to turn back to you. They committed outrageous sins.

Nehemiah 9:27 You handed them over to their enemies, who made them suffer. When they began to suffer, they cried to you. You heard them from heaven. You gave them saviors to rescue them from their enemies because of your endless compassion.

Nehemiah 9:28 As soon as they felt some relief, they were again doing what you considered evil. You abandoned them to their enemies, who conquered them. They cried to you again, and you heard them from heaven. You rescued them many times because of your compassion.

Nehemiah 9:29 You warned them in order to bring them back to your teachings, but they became arrogant and would not obey your commandments. They sinned by not following your regulations. If anyone follows them, he will find life in them. But they gave you the cold shoulder, became impossible to deal with, and wouldn’t listen.

Nehemiah 9:30 You were patient with them for many years. You warned them by your Spirit through your prophets. However, they wouldn’t listen. So you handed them over to the people in the surrounding nations.

Nehemiah 9:31 But your compassion is endless. You didn’t destroy them or abandon them. You are a merciful and compassionate God.

Nehemiah 9:32 And now, our God, you are the great, mighty, and awe-inspiring God. You faithfully keep your promises. Do not consider all the hardships that we have been going through as unimportant. The hardships have come to our kings, leaders, priests, prophets, ancestors, and all your people from the time of the kings of Assyria until now.

Nehemiah 9:33 But you were fair about everything that has happened to us. You have been faithful, but we have been wicked.

Nehemiah 9:34 Our kings, leaders, priests, and ancestors didn’t obey your teachings. They didn’t pay attention to your commandments or the warnings that you gave them.

Nehemiah 9:35 When they lived in their own kingdom and enjoyed the many good things that you gave them in a vast, fertile land which was set in front of them, they didn’t serve you or turn away from their wicked lives.

Nehemiah 9:36 Look [at us] now. We’re slaves! In the land you gave our ancestors, they could eat its produce and [enjoy] its good things. But now we’re slaves!

Nehemiah 9:37 The many products [from our land] go to the kings you put over us. This is because of our sins. These kings have control over our bodies, and they do as they please with our livestock. We are in agony.

Nehemiah 9:38 “We are making a binding agreement [and putting it] in writing because of all this. Our leaders, Levites, and priests are putting their seals on the document.”

Nehemiah 10:1 The following people sealed the agreement: Governor Nehemiah (son of Hacaliah), Zedekiah,

Nehemiah 10:2 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,

Nehemiah 10:3 Pashhur, Amariah, Malchiah,

Nehemiah 10:4 Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch,

Nehemiah 10:5 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah,

Nehemiah 10:6 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch,

Nehemiah 10:7 Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin,

Nehemiah 10:8 Maaziah, Bilgai, and Shemaiah. These were the priests.

Nehemiah 10:9 These were the Levites: Jeshua (son of Azaniah), Binnui (of the sons of Henadad), Kadmiel,

Nehemiah 10:10 and their relatives Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan,

Nehemiah 10:11 Mica, Rehob, Hashabiah,

Nehemiah 10:12 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,

Nehemiah 10:13 Hodiah, Bani, and Beninu.

Nehemiah 10:14 These were the leaders of the people: Parosh, Pahath Moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani,

Nehemiah 10:15 Bunni, Azgad, Bebai,

Nehemiah 10:16 Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin,

Nehemiah 10:17 Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur,

Nehemiah 10:18 Hodiah, Hashum, Bezai,

Nehemiah 10:19 Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai,

Nehemiah 10:20 Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir,

Nehemiah 10:21 Meshezabel, Zadok, Jaddua,

Nehemiah 10:22 Pelatiah, Hanan, Anaiah,

Nehemiah 10:23 Hoshea, Hananiah, Hasshub,

Nehemiah 10:24 Hallohesh, Pilha, Shobek,

Nehemiah 10:25 Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah,

Nehemiah 10:26 Ahiah, Hanan, Anan,

Nehemiah 10:27 Malluch, Harim, and Baanah.

Nehemiah 10:28 The rest of the people took an oath. These people included the priests, Levites, gatekeepers, singers, temple servants, and all who had separated themselves from the inhabitants of the land for the sake of God's Teachings. Their wives, sons, daughters, and everyone who is capable of understanding also took an oath.

Nehemiah 10:29 They joined their relatives, the nobles, in binding themselves with a curse and an oath to follow God's teachings given by Moses, God's servant. They also bound themselves to follow all the commandments, rules, and regulations of the LORD our Lord.

Nehemiah 10:30 We will not allow our daughters to marry the inhabitants of the land or allow their daughters to marry our sons.

Nehemiah 10:31 If the inhabitants of the land bring merchandise or grain to sell on the day of worship, we won't buy anything from them on the day of worship or any other holy day. During the seventh year, we won't plant the fields or collect any debts.

Nehemiah 10:32 Also, we take upon ourselves the obligation to give an eighth of an ounce of silver every year for worship in our God's temple:

Nehemiah 10:33 for rows of the bread of the presence, and for the daily grain offerings and daily burnt offerings, on the weekly days of worship, and on the New Moon Festivals, and at the appointed annual festivals, for the holy gifts and offerings for sin that make peace with God for Israel, and for all the other work in the temple of our God.

Nehemiah 10:34 We priests, Levites, and laypeople have drawn lots to decide the order in which the heads of our families should bring wood to our God's temple to burn on the altar of the LORD our God at appointed times every year according to the directions in the Teachings.

Nehemiah 10:35 We have drawn lots to decide who should bring the first produce harvested and the first fruit from every tree each year to the LORD's temple.

Nehemiah 10:36 Following the directions in the Teachings, we have drawn lots to decide who should bring the firstborn of our sons, our cattle, and our flocks to the priests serving in our God's temple.

Nehemiah 10:37 Also, we have drawn lots to decide who should bring the best of our coarse flour, contributions, fruit from every tree, new wine, and olive oil to the priests, to the storerooms. We will bring for the Levites one-tenth of the produce from our fields, because the Levites are the ones who collect one-tenth of the produce from all our farm communities.

Nehemiah 10:38 A priest-one of Aaron's descendants-should be with the Levites when they collect the tenth. Then the Levites should bring one-tenth of these tenths to our God's temple, into the rooms of the storehouses there.

Nehemiah 10:39 The Israelites and the Levites should bring into the storerooms their contributions of grain, new wine, and olive oil. They should bring these products to the place where the utensils of the holy place are and where the priests who serve and the gatekeepers and the singers are. We won't neglect our God's temple.

Nehemiah 11:1 The leaders of the people settled in Jerusalem. The rest of the people drew lots to bring one out of every ten to live in Jerusalem, the holy city. The remaining nine-tenths were supposed to live in the other cities.

Nehemiah 11:2 The people blessed everyone who willingly offered to live in Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 11:3 These were the officials of the province who settled in Jerusalem. Some Israelites, priests, Levites, temple servants, and descendants of Solomon's servants settled in the cities of Judah. They lived on their own property in their own cities.

Nehemiah 11:4 Some of the descendants of Judah and of Benjamin settled in Jerusalem. The descendants of Judah were Athaiah, who was the son of Uzziah, who was the son of Zechariah, who was the son of Amariah, who was the son of Shephatiah, who was the son of Mahalalel, who was the son of Perez;

Nehemiah 11:5 Maaseiah was the son of Baruch, who was the son of Col Hozeh, who was the son of Hazaiah, who was the son of Adaiah, who was the son of Joiarib, who was the son of Zechariah, who was the son of Shiloni.

Nehemiah 11:6 All the descendants of Perez who settled in Jerusalem were 468 outstanding men.

Nehemiah 11:7 These are the descendants of Benjamin: Sallu, who was the son of Meshullam, who was the son of Joed, who was the son of Pedaiah, who was the son of Kolaiah, who was the son of Maaseiah, who was the son of Ithiel, who was the son of Jeshaiah,

Nehemiah 11:8 and after him, Gabbai [and] Sallai. [The number of Benjamin's descendants] totaled 928.

Nehemiah 11:9 Joel, son of Zichri, was in charge, and Judah, son of Senuah, was second-in-command over the city.

Nehemiah 11:10 These were the priests: Jedaiah (son of Joiarib), Jachin,

Nehemiah 11:11 Seraiah, who was the son of Hilkiah, who was the son of Meshullam, who was the son of Zadok, who was the son of Meraioth, who was the son of Ahitub, who was the supervisor of God's temple.

Nehemiah 11:12 From Seraiah's relatives 822 did the work in the temple. Also, Adaiah worked in the temple. He was the son of Jeroham, who was the son of Pelaliah, who was the son of Amzi, who was the son of Zechariah, who was the son of Pashhur, who was the son of Malchiah.

Nehemiah 11:13 Adaiah’s relatives, the heads of the families, totaled 242. Amashsai was the son of Azarel, who was the son of Ahzai, who was the son of Meshillemoth, who was the son of Immer.

Nehemiah 11:14 Their relatives, who were warriors, totaled 128. The man in charge of them was Zabdiel, son of Haggedolim.

Nehemiah 11:15 These were the Levites: Shemaiah who was the son of Hasshub, who was the son of Azrikam, who was the son of Hashabiah, who was the son of Bunni.

Nehemiah 11:16 Shabbethai and Jozabad, Levite leaders, who were in charge of the work outside God’s temple.

Nehemiah 11:17 Mattaniah was the son of Mica, who was the son of Zabdi, who was the son of Asaph, the leader who led the prayer of thanksgiving. The Levite leader Bakbukiah was the second-in-command among his relatives; and so was Abda who was the son of Shammua, who was the son of Galal, who was the son of Jeduthum.

Nehemiah 11:18 All the Levites in the holy city totaled 284.

Nehemiah 11:19 These were the gatekeepers: Akkub, Talmon, and their relatives who guarded the gates totaled 172.

Nehemiah 11:20 The rest of the Israelites, priests, and Levites lived in all the cities of Judah. Everyone lived on his own inherited property.

Nehemiah 11:21 But the temple servants lived on Mount Ophel with Ziha and Gishpa in charge of them.

Nehemiah 11:22 The man in charge of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi, who was the son of Bani, who was the son of Hashabiah, who was the son of Mattaniah, who was the son of Mica from Asaph’s descendants who were the singers in charge of worship in God’s temple.

Nehemiah 11:23 They were under orders from the king, orders that determined which duties they should perform day by day.

Nehemiah 11:24 Pethahiah, son of Meshezabel, one of the descendants of Zerah, Judah’s son, was the king’s adviser on all matters concerning the people.

Nehemiah 11:25 Many people lived in villages that had fields. Some people of Judah lived in Kiriath Arba and its villages, in Dibon and its villages, in Jekabzeel and its villages,

Nehemiah 11:26 in Jeshua, Moladah, and Beth Pelet,

Nehemiah 11:27 in Hazar Shual, in Beersheba and its villages,

Nehemiah 11:28 in Ziklag, and in Meconah and its villages,

Nehemiah 11:29 in En Rimmon, Zorah, Jarmuth, Nehemiah 11:30 Zanoah, and Adullam and their villages, in Lachish and its fields, and in Azekah and its villages. So they settled in the land from Beersheba to the Valley of Hinnom.

Nehemiah 11:31 Benjamin's descendants live in the area of Geba, in Michmash, Aija, Bethel and its villages,

Nehemiah 11:32 in Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,

Nehemiah 11:33 Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,

Nehemiah 11:34 Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,

Nehemiah 11:35 Lod, Ono, and in the valley of the Craftsmen.

Nehemiah 11:36 Some divisions of Levites in Judah were assigned to Benjamin.

Nehemiah 12:1 These are the priests and Levites who came back with Zerubbabel (Shealtiel's son) and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

Nehemiah 12:2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,

Nehemiah 12:3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

Nehemiah 12:4 Iddo, Ginnethoi, Abijah,

Nehemiah 12:5 Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

Nehemiah 12:6 Shemaiah, Joiarib, Jedaiah,

Nehemiah 12:7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, and Jedaiah. These were the leaders of the priests and of their relatives at the time of Jeshua.

Nehemiah 12:8 The Levites were Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah, who with his relatives was in charge of the thanksgiving hymns.

Nehemiah 12:9 Their relatives Bakbukiah and Unno stood across from them in worship.

Nehemiah 12:10 Jeshua was the father of Joiakim. Joiakim was the father of Eliashib. Eliashib was the father of Joiada.

Nehemiah 12:11 Joiada was the father of Jonathan. Jonathan was the father of Jaddua.

Nehemiah 12:12 At the time of Joiakim, these were the priests who were the leaders of their families: From Seraiah, Meraiah; from Jeremiah, Hananiah;

Nehemiah 12:13 from Ezra, Meshullam; from Amariah, Jehohanan;

Nehemiah 12:14 from Malluchi, Jonathan; from Shebaniah, Joseph;

Nehemiah 12:15 from Harim, Adna; from Meraioth, Helkai;

Nehemiah 12:16 from Iddo, Zechariah; from Ginnethon, Meshullam;

Nehemiah 12:17 from Abijah, Zichri; from Miniamin, from Moadiah, Piltai;

Nehemiah 12:18 from Bilgah, Shammua; from Shemaiah, Jehonathan;

Nehemiah 12:19 from Joiarib, Mattenai; from Jedaiah, Uzzi;

Nehemiah 12:20 from Sallai, Kallai; from Amok, Eber;

Nehemiah 12:21 from Hilkiah, Hashabiah; from Jedaiah, Nethanel.

Nehemiah 12:22 [The names of] the family heads of the Levites and the priests at the time of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua were recorded until the reign of Darius the Persian.

Nehemiah 12:23 [The names of] the family heads of the Levites were recorded in the Book of Chronicles until the time of Johanan, grandson of Eliashib.

Nehemiah 12:24 The heads of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua (son of Kadmiel). They and their relatives stood in groups across from one another to sing hymns of praise and thanksgiving antiphonally as David, the man of God, had ordered.

Nehemiah 12:25 Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were gatekeepers standing guard at the storehouses by the gates.

Nehemiah 12:26 They lived in the days of Joiakim, son of Jeshua, grandson of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra the priest and scribe.

Nehemiah 12:27 When the wall of Jerusalem was going to be dedicated, they went to wherever the Levites lived and had them come to Jerusalem to celebrate the dedication joyfully with hymns of thanksgiving, with songs and cymbals, and with harps and lyres.

Nehemiah 12:28 So the groups of singers came together from the countryside around Jerusalem, from the villages of Netophah,

Nehemiah 12:29 from Beth Gilgal, and from the region of Geba and Azmaveth. The singers had built villages for themselves around Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 12:30 The priests and the Levites cleansed themselves. Then they cleansed the people, the gates, and the wall.

Nehemiah 12:31 Then I had the leaders of Judah come up on the wall, and I arranged two large choirs to give thanks and march in procession. One choir went to the right on the wall to Dung Gate.

Nehemiah 12:32 Hoshaiah and half of the leaders of Judah followed them.

Nehemiah 12:33 Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam,

Nehemiah 12:34 Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, and Jeremiah also followed.

Nehemiah 12:35 So did some priests with trumpets: Zechariah, who was the son of Jonathan, who was the son of Shemaiah, who was the son of Mattaniah, who was the son of Micaiah, who was the son of Zaccur, who was the son of Asaph.

Nehemiah 12:36 Also, these relatives of Zechariah followed: Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani with the musical instruments of David, the man of God. Ezra the scribe led them.

Nehemiah 12:37 At Fountain Gate they went straight up the stairs of the City of David. There the wall rises past David's palace and reaches Water Gate on the east.

Nehemiah 12:38 The other choir went to the left. I followed them with the other half of the people. We walked on the wall, past the Tower of the Ovens, as far as Broad Wall,

Nehemiah 12:39 then past Ephraim Gate, over Old Gate and Fish Gate, and by the Tower of Hananel and the Tower of the Hundred, as far as Sheep Gate. The choir stopped at Guard's Gate.

Nehemiah 12:40 So both choirs stood in God's temple, as did I and the half of the leaders who were with me.

Nehemiah 12:41 Likewise, these priests stood in God's temple: Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah with trumpets, Nehemiah 12:42 and Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchiah, Elam, and Ezer. The singers sang under the direction of Jezrahiah.

Nehemiah 12:43 That day they offered many sacrifices and rejoiced because God had given them reason to rejoice. The women and children rejoiced as well. The sound of rejoicing in Jerusalem could be heard from far away.

Nehemiah 12:44 On that day men were put in charge of the storerooms for the contributions, the first produce harvested, and a tenth of the people's money. They stored in those rooms the gifts designated by Moses' Teachings for the priests and Levites from the fields around the cities. The people of Judah were pleased with the ministry of the priests and Levites.

Nehemiah 12:45 They were doing what their God required, what needed to be done for cleansing. The singers and the gatekeepers did what David and his son Solomon had ordered them to do.

Nehemiah 12:46 Long ago in the time of David and Asaph, there had been directors for the singers to lead [in singing] the songs of praise and hymns of thanksgiving to God.

Nehemiah 12:47 At the time of Zerubbabel and Nehemiah, all the Israelites were giving gifts for the daily support of the singers and the gatekeepers. They set aside holy gifts for [the daily support of] the Levites, and the Levites set aside holy gifts for support of Aaron's descendants.

Nehemiah 13:1 On that day the Book of Moses was read while the people were listening. They heard the passage that no Ammonite or Moabite should ever be admitted into God’s assembly.

Nehemiah 13:2 (After all, they didn’t welcome the Israelites with food and water. Instead, they hired Balaam to curse the Israelites. But our God turned the curse into a blessing.)

Nehemiah 13:3 After the people heard this Teaching, they separated the non-Israelites from the Israelites.

Nehemiah 13:4 Even before this, the priest Eliashib, who was related to Tobiah and had been put in charge of the storerooms of our God’s temple,

Nehemiah 13:5 had provided a large room for Tobiah. Previously, this room had been used to store grain offerings, incense, utensils, a tenth of all the grain harvested, new wine, and olive oil. These things belonged by law to the Levites, singers, and gatekeepers. The contributions for the priests had also been stored there.

Nehemiah 13:6 While all of this was taking place, I wasn’t in Jerusalem. In the thirty-second year of King Artaxerxes’ reign in Babylon, I returned to the king. Later, I asked the king for permission to return.

Nehemiah 13:7 I went to Jerusalem and discovered the evil thing Eliashib had done by providing Tobiah with a room in God’s temple.

Nehemiah 13:8 I was furious. So I threw all of Tobiah’s household goods out of the room.

Nehemiah 13:9 Then I told them to cleanse the rooms, and I put back in there the utensils from God’s temple, the offerings, and the incense.

Nehemiah 13:10 I learned that the Levites had not been given their portions. So each of the Levites and singers, who conducted the worship [in the temple], had left for their own fields.

Nehemiah 13:11 I reprimanded the leaders. “Why is God’s temple being neglected?” I asked. So I brought the Levites back together and put them back in their places of service.

Nehemiah 13:12 Then all Judah brought a tenth of all the grain harvested, new wine, and olive oil to the storerooms.

Nehemiah 13:13 I appointed the following men to be in charge of the storerooms: Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the scribe, and Pedaiah the Levite, and I appointed Hanan, son of Zaccur and grandson of Mattaniah to help them. Since they could be trusted, I made them responsible for distributing [the portions] to their relatives.

Nehemiah 13:14 [Nehemiah prayed,] “Remember me for what I have done, my God, and don’t wipe out the good things that I have done for your temple and for the worship that is held there.”

Nehemiah 13:15 In those days I saw people in Judah stomping grapes in the winepresses on the day of worship. I saw them bringing in loads of wine, grapes, figs, and every other kind of load. They piled the loads on donkeys and brought them into Jerusalem on the day of worship. I warned them about selling food on that day.

Nehemiah 13:16 People from Tyre who lived in Jerusalem were bringing in fish and all kinds of goods. They were selling them on the day of worship to the people of Judah, even in Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 13:17 I reprimanded the nobles of Judah and asked them, “What is this evil thing you’re doing? How dare you treat the day of worship as unholy!

Nehemiah 13:18 Isn’t this what your ancestors did, with the results that our God brought all these evils on us and on this city? Now you’re making him even more angry with Israel by treating the day of worship as unholy.”

Nehemiah 13:19 Before the day of worship, when the gates of Jerusalem were cleared of traffic, I ordered the doors to be shut and not to be reopened until after the day of worship. I stationed some of my men by the gates to make sure that no loads could be brought in on the day of worship.

Nehemiah 13:20 Once or twice merchants and those who sell all kinds of goods spent the night outside Jerusalem.

Nehemiah 13:21 I warned them. “Why are you spending the night in front of the wall?” I asked them. “If you do it again, I’ll arrest you.” After that, they no longer came on the day of worship.

Nehemiah 13:22 Then I told the Levites to cleanse themselves and guard the gates to keep the day of worship holy. [Nehemiah prayed,] “Remember me also for this, my God, and spare me, since you are very kind.”

Nehemiah 13:23 In those days I saw some Jews who had married women from Ashdod, Ammon, and Moab.

Nehemiah 13:24 Half their children spoke the language of Ashdod or one of the other languages, but they couldn’t understand the language of Judah well enough to speak it.

Nehemiah 13:25 So I reprimanded those Jews, cursed them, beat some of them, and pulled out their hair. I made them swear by God: “We won’t allow our daughters to marry their sons, and we won’t allow their daughters to marry us or our sons.”

Nehemiah 13:26 I said, “Wasn’t it because of marriages like these that King Solomon of Israel sinned? There wasn’t a king like him among all nations. God loved him, and God made him king of all Israel. But his non-Israelite wives led him to sin.

Nehemiah 13:27 Should we follow your example, commit such a serious crime against our God, and be unfaithful to him by marrying non-Israelite women?”

Nehemiah 13:28 Even one of Joiada’s sons was a son-in-law of Sanballat from Beth Horon. (Joiada was the son of the chief priest Eliashib.) I chased Joiada’s son away from me.

Nehemiah 13:29 [Nehemiah prayed,] “Remember them, my God, because they have contaminated the priestly office and the promise you made to the priests and Levites.”

Nehemiah 13:30 So I cleansed them from everything that was foreign. I assigned duties to the priests and Levites. Each one had his own assignment.

Nehemiah 13:31 I also arranged for delivering wood at regular times and for bringing the first produce to be harvested. [Nehemiah prayed,] “Remember me, my God, for my benefit.”

Esther

1:1 In the days of Xerxes the following events took place. This was the same Xerxes who ruled over 127 provinces from India to Sudan.

Esther 1:2 At the time when King Xerxes sat on the royal throne in the fortress of Susa,

Esther 1:3 he held a banquet in the third year of his reign. The banquet was for all his officials and advisers, that is, the military officers of the Persians and Medes, the nobles and officials of the provinces who had access to him.

Esther 1:4 He showed them the enormous wealth of his kingdom and the costly splendor of his greatness for many days, 180 to be exact.

Esther 1:5 When those days were over, the king held a banquet lasting seven days. This banquet was held in the enclosed garden of the king’s palace for all people in the fortress of Susa, whatever their rank.

Esther 1:6 The garden had white and violet linen curtains. These curtains were attached to silver rods and marble pillars by cords made of white and purple fine linen. Gold and silver couches were on a mosaic pavement of purple rock, white marble, pearl-like stone, and black marble.

Esther 1:7 People drank from golden cups. No two cups were alike. The king also provided plenty of royal wine out of his royal generosity.

Esther 1:8 The drinking followed this rule: Drink as you please. (The king had ordered all the waiters in his palace to let everyone do as he pleased.)

Esther 1:9 Queen Vashti also held a banquet for the women at the royal palace of King Xerxes.

Esther 1:10 On the seventh day when the king was drunk on wine, he ordered Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven eunuchs who served under King Xerxes,

Esther 1:11 to bring Queen Vashti in front of the king, wearing her royal crown. He wanted to show the people, especially the officials, her beauty, because she was very attractive.

Esther 1:12 But Queen Vashti refused the king's command that the eunuchs delivered to her. As a result, the king became very angry, and his rage burned inside him.

Esther 1:13 Now, the king usually asked for advice from all the experts in royal decrees and decisions,

Esther 1:14 from those closest to him-Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan. These seven officials of the Persians and Medes had access to the king and held the highest rank in the kingdom. The king asked these wise men who knew the times,

Esther 1:15 "According to the royal decrees, what must we do with Queen Vashti since she did not obey King Xerxes' command, which the eunuchs delivered?"

Esther 1:16 Then Memucan spoke up in the presence of the king and the officials, "Queen Vashti has done wrong, not only against the king but also against all the officials and all the people in every province of King Xerxes.

Esther 1:17 The news of what the queen has done will spread to all women, and they will despise their husbands. They will say, 'King Xerxes ordered Queen Vashti to be brought to him, but she would not come.'

Esther 1:18 Today the wives of the officials in Persia and Media who have heard what the queen did will talk back to all the king's officials. There will be contempt and short tempers.

Esther 1:19 If it pleases you, Your Majesty, issue a royal decree. It should be recorded in the decrees of the Persians and Medes, never to be repealed, that Vashti may never again appear in front of King Xerxes. Furthermore, Your Majesty, you should give her royal position to another woman who is more worthy than she.

Esther 1:20 When you issue your decree, your whole kingdom, great as it is, will hear it. Then all the wives will honor their husbands, regardless of their status."

Esther 1:21 The king and his officials approved of this, and so the king did as Memucan suggested.

Esther 1:22 He sent official documents to all the king's provinces, to each province in its own script and to the people in each province in their own language: "Let every husband be the ruler in his own house and speak with authority."

Esther 2:1 Later, when King Xerxes got over his raging anger, he remembered Vashti, what she had done, and what had been decided against her.

Esther 2:2 So the king's personal staff said to him, "Search for attractive young virgins for the king.

Esther 2:3 And appoint scouts in all the provinces of your kingdom to gather all the attractive young virgins and bring them to the fortress of Susa, to the women's quarters. There, in the care of the king's eunuch Hegai, the guardian of the women, they will have their beauty treatment.

Esther 2:4 Then the young woman who pleases you, Your Majesty, will become queen instead of Vashti." The king liked the suggestion, and so he did just that.

Esther 2:5 In the fortress of Susa there was a Jew from the tribe of Benjamin named Mordecai. He was the son of Jair, the grandson of Shimei, and the great-grandson of Kish.

Esther 2:6 (Kish had been taken captive from Jerusalem together with the others who had gone into exile along with Judah's King Jehoiakin, whom King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had carried away.)

Esther 2:7 Mordecai had raised Hadassah, also known as Esther, his uncle's daughter, because she was an orphan. The young woman had a beautiful figure and was very attractive. When her father and mother died, Mordecai adopted her as his own daughter.

Esther 2:8 When the king's announcement and decree were heard, many young women were gathered together and brought to the fortress of Susa. They were placed in the care of Hegai. Esther also was taken to the king's palace and placed in the care of Hegai, the guardian of the women.

Esther 2:9 The young woman pleased him and won his affection. So he immediately provided her with the beauty treatment, a daily supply of food, and seven suitable female servants from the king's palace. Then he moved her and her servants to the best place in the women's quarters.

Esther 2:10 Esther did not reveal her nationality or her family background, because Mordecai had ordered her not to.

Esther 2:11 Every day Mordecai would walk back and forth in front of the courtyard of the women's quarters to find out how Esther was and what was happening to her.

Esther 2:12 Each young woman had her turn to go to King Xerxes after she had completed the required 12-month treatment for women. The time of beauty treatment was spent as follows: six months using oil of myrrh and six months using perfumes and other treatments for women.

Esther 2:13 After that, the young woman would go to the king. Anything she wanted to take with her from the women's quarters to the king's palace was given to her.

Esther 2:14 She would go in the evening and come back in the morning to the other quarters for women. There she would be in the care of the king's eunuch Shaashgaz, the guardian of the concubines. She never went to the king again unless the king desired her and requested her by name.

Esther 2:15 (Esther was the daughter of Abihail, Mordecai's uncle. Mordecai had adopted her as his own daughter.) When Esther's turn came to go to the king, she asked only for what the king's eunuch Hegai, the guardian of the women, advised. Everyone who saw Esther liked her.

Esther 2:16 So Esther was taken to King Xerxes in his royal palace in the month of Tebeth, the tenth month, in the seventh year of his reign.

Esther 2:17 Now, the king loved Esther more than all the other women and favored her over all the other virgins. So he put the royal crown on her head and made her queen instead of Vashti.

Esther 2:18 Then the king held a great banquet for Esther. He invited all his officials and his advisers. He also declared that day a holiday in the provinces, and he handed out gifts from his royal generosity.

Esther 2:19 When the virgins were gathered a second time, Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate.

Esther 2:20 Esther still had not revealed her family background or nationality, as Mordecai had ordered her. Esther always did whatever Mordecai told her, as she did when she was a child.

Esther 2:21 In those days, while Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate, Bigthan and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs who guarded the entrance, became angry and planned to kill King Xerxes.

Esther 2:22 But Mordecai found out about it and informed Queen Esther. Then Esther told the king, on behalf of Mordecai.

Esther 2:23 When the report was investigated and found to be true, the dead bodies of Bigthan and Teresh were hung on a pole. The matter was written up in the king's presence in his official record of daily events.

Esther 3:1 Later, King Xerxes promoted Haman. (Haman was the son of Hammedatha and was from Agag.) He gave Haman a position higher in authority than all the other officials who were with him.

Esther 3:2 All the king's advisers were at the king's gate, kneeling and bowing to Haman with their faces touching the ground, because the king had commanded it. But Mordecai would not kneel and bow to him.

Esther 3:3 Then the king's advisers at the king's gate asked Mordecai, "Why do you ignore the king's command?"

Esther 3:4 Although they asked him day after day, he paid no attention to them. So they informed Haman to see if Mordecai's actions would be tolerated, since Mordecai had told them that he was a Jew.

Esther 3:5 When Haman saw that Mordecai did not kneel and bow to him, Haman was infuriated.

Esther 3:6 Because the king's advisers had informed him about Mordecai's nationality, he thought it beneath himself to kill only Mordecai. So Haman planned to wipe out Mordecai's people-all the Jews in the entire kingdom of Xerxes.

Esther 3:7 In Xerxes' twelfth year as king, [Pur] (which means [the lot]) was thrown in front of Haman for every day of every month, from Nisan, the first month, until Adar, the twelfth month.

Esther 3:8 Now, Haman told King Xerxes, "Your Majesty, there is a certain nationality scattered among-but separate from-the nationalities in all the provinces of your kingdom. Their laws differ from those of all other nationalities. They do not obey your decrees. So it is not in your interest to tolerate them, Your Majesty.

Esther 3:9 If you approve, have the orders for their destruction be written. For this I will pay 750,000 pounds of silver to your treasurers to be put in your treasury."

Esther 3:10 At that, the king removed his signet ring and gave it to Haman, the enemy of the Jews. (Haman was the son of Hammedatha and was from Agag.)

Esther 3:11 The king told Haman, "You can keep your silver and do with the people whatever you like."

Esther 3:12 On the thirteenth day of the first month the king's scribes were summoned. All Haman's orders were written to the king's satraps, the governors of every province, and the officials of every people. They wrote to each province in its own script and to the people in each province in their own language. The orders were signed in the name of King Xerxes and sealed with the king's ring.

Esther 3:13 Messengers were sent with official documents to all the king's provinces. [The people were ordered] to wipe out, kill, and destroy all the Jews-young and old, women and children-on a single day, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar. Their possessions were also to be seized.

Esther 3:14 A copy of the document was made public in a decree to every province. All the people were to be ready for this day.

Esther 3:15 The messengers hurried out as the king told them. The decree was also issued at the fortress of Susa. So the king and Haman sat down to drink a toast, but the city of Susa was in turmoil.

Esther 4:1 When Mordecai found out about everything that had been done, he tore his clothes and put on sackcloth and ashes. He went into the middle of the city and cried loudly and bitterly.

Esther 4:2 He even went right up to the king's gate. (No one could enter it wearing sackcloth.)

Esther 4:3 In every province touched by the king's command and decree, the Jews went into mourning, fasting, weeping, and wailing. Many put on sackcloth and ashes.

Esther 4:4 Esther's servants and eunuchs came and informed her [about Mordecai]. The queen was stunned. She sent clothing for Mordecai to put on in place of his sackcloth, but he refused to accept it.

Esther 4:5 Then Esther called for Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs appointed to serve her. She commanded him to go to Mordecai and find out what was going on and why.

Esther 4:6 So Hathach went out to Mordecai in the city square in front of the king's gate.

Esther 4:7 Mordecai informed him about everything that had happened to him. He told him the exact amount of silver that Haman had promised to pay into the king's treasury to destroy the Jews.

Esther 4:8 He also gave him a copy of the decree that was issued in Susa. The decree gave permission to exterminate the Jews. Hathach was supposed to show it to Esther to inform and command her to go to the king, beg him for mercy, and appeal to him for her people.

Esther 4:9 So Hathach returned and told Esther what Mordecai had said.

Esther 4:10 Esther spoke to Hathach and commanded him to say to Mordecai,

Esther 4:11 "All the king's advisers and the people in the king's provinces know that no one approaches the king in the throne room without being summoned. By law that person must be put to death. Only if the king holds out the golden scepter to him will he live. I, myself, have not been summoned to enter the king's presence for 30 days now."

Esther 4:12 So Esther's servants told Mordecai what Esther said.

Esther 4:13 Mordecai sent this answer back to Esther, "Do not imagine that just because you are in the king's palace you will be any safer than all the rest of the Jews.

Esther 4:14 The fact is, even if you remain silent now, someone else will help and rescue the Jews, but you and your relatives will die. And who knows, you may have gained your royal position for a time like this."

Esther 4:15 Esther sent this reply back to Mordecai,

Esther 4:16 "Assemble all the Jews in Susa. Fast for me: Do not eat or drink at all for three entire days. My servants and I will also fast. After that, I will go to the king, even if it is against a royal decree. If I die, I die.”

Esther 4:17 Mordecai did just as Esther had commanded him.

Esther 5:1 On the third day Esther put on her royal robes. She stood in the courtyard of the king’s palace, facing the king’s throne room. The king was sitting on the royal throne inside the palace, facing the entrance.

Esther 5:2 When the king saw Queen Esther standing in the entrance, she won his favor. So the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hand to Esther. Esther went up to him and touched the top of the scepter.

Esther 5:3 Then the king asked her, “What is troubling you, Queen Esther? What would you like? Even if it is up to half of the kingdom, it will be granted to you.”

Esther 5:4 So Esther answered, “If it pleases you, Your Majesty, come today with Haman to a dinner I have prepared for you.”

Esther 5:5 The king replied, “Bring Haman right away, and do whatever Esther asks.” So the king and Haman came to the dinner that Esther had prepared.

Esther 5:6 While they were drinking wine, the king asked Esther, “What is your request? It will be granted to you. What would you like? Even if it is up to half of the kingdom, it will be granted.”

Esther 5:7 Esther answered, “My request? What would I like?

Esther 5:8 Your Majesty, come with Haman to a dinner I will prepare for you. And tomorrow I will answer you, Your Majesty. If I have found favor with you, Your Majesty, and if it pleases you, Your Majesty, may you [then] grant my request and do what I would like.”

Esther 5:9 When Haman left that day, he was happy and feeling good. But when Haman saw Mordecai at the king’s gate, neither getting up nor trembling in his presence, Haman was furious with Mordecai.

Esther 5:10 However, Haman controlled himself. He went home and sent for his friends and his wife Zeresh.

Esther 5:11 Then Haman began to relate in detail to them how very rich he was, the many sons he had, and all about how the king promoted him to a position over the officials and the king’s advisers.

Esther 5:12 Haman went on to say, “What’s more, Queen Esther allowed no one except me to come with the king to the dinner she had prepared. And again tomorrow I am her invited guest together with the king.

Esther 5:13 Yet, all this is worth nothing to me every time I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king’s gate.”

Esther 5:14 Then his wife Zeresh and all his friends said to him, "Have a pole set up, 75 feet high, and in the morning ask the king to have Mordecai's [dead body] hung on it. Then go with the king to the dinner in good spirits." Haman liked the idea, so he had the pole set up.

Esther 6:1 That night the king could not sleep. So he told [a servant] to bring the official daily records, and they were read to the king.

Esther 6:2 The records showed how Mordecai had informed him that Bigthan and Teresh, two of the king's eunuchs who guarded the entrance, had plotted a rebellion against King Xerxes.

Esther 6:3 The king asked, "How did I reward and promote Mordecai for this?" The king's personal staff replied, "Nothing was done for him."

Esther 6:4 The king asked, "Who is in the courtyard?" At that moment, Haman came through the courtyard to the king's palace to ask the king about hanging Mordecai on the pole he had prepared for him.

Esther 6:5 The king's staff answered him, "Haman happens to be standing in the courtyard." "Let him come in," the king said.

Esther 6:6 So Haman came in. The king then asked him, "What should be done for the man whom the king wishes to reward?" Haman thought to himself, "Whom would the king wish to reward more than me?"

Esther 6:7 So Haman told the king, "This is what should be done:

Esther 6:8 [The servants] should bring a royal robe that the king has worn and a horse that the king has ridden, one that has a royal crest on its head.

Esther 6:9 Give the robe and the horse to one of the king's officials, who is a noble. Put the robe on the man whom the king wishes to reward and have him ride on the horse in the city square. The king's servants are also to shout ahead of him, 'This is what is done for the man whom the king wishes to reward.'"

Esther 6:10 The king told Haman, "Hurry, take the robe and the horse as you said. Do this for Mordecai the Jew who sits at the king's gate. Do not omit anything you have said."

Esther 6:11 So Haman took the robe and the horse. He put the robe on Mordecai and had him ride in the city square, shouting ahead of him, "This is what is done for the man whom the king wishes to reward."

Esther 6:12 After that, Mordecai returned to the king's gate, but Haman hurried home. He was in despair and covered his head.

Esther 6:13 There, Haman began to relate in detail to his wife Zeresh and to all his friends everything that had happened to him. Then his counselors and his wife Zeresh told him, "You are starting to lose power to Mordecai. If Mordecai is of Jewish descent, you will never win out over him. He will certainly lead to your downfall."

Esther 6:14 While they were still speaking with him, the king's eunuchs arrived and quickly took Haman to the dinner Esther had prepared.

Esther 7:1 So the king and Haman came to have dinner with Queen Esther.

Esther 7:2 On the second day, while they were drinking wine, the king asked Esther, "What is your request, Queen Esther? It will be granted to you. And what would you like? Even if it is up to half of the kingdom, it will be granted."

Esther 7:3 Then Queen Esther answered, "If I have found favor with you, Your Majesty, and if it pleases you, Your Majesty, spare my life. That is my request. And spare the life of my people. That is what I ask for.

Esther 7:4 You see, we-my people and I-have been sold so that we can be wiped out, killed, and destroyed. If our men and women had only been sold as slaves, I would have kept silent because the enemy is not worth troubling you about, Your Majesty."

Esther 7:5 Then King Xerxes interrupted Queen Esther and said, "Who is this person? Where is the person who has dared to do this?"

Esther 7:6 Esther answered, "Our vicious enemy is this wicked man Haman!" Then Haman became panic-stricken in the presence of the king and queen.

Esther 7:7 The king was furious as he got up from dinner and went into the palace garden. But Haman stayed to beg Queen Esther for his life, because he saw that the king had a terrible end in mind for him.

Esther 7:8 When the king returned from the palace garden to the palace dining room, Haman was falling on the couch where Esther was lying. The king thought, "Is he even going to rape the queen while I'm in the palace?" Then the king passed sentence on him, and servants covered Haman's face.

Esther 7:9 Harbona, one of the eunuchs present with the king, said, "What a coincidence! The 75-foot pole Haman made for Mordecai, who spoke up for the well-being of the king, is still standing at Haman's house." The king responded, "Hang him on it!"

Esther 7:10 So servants hung Haman's [dead body] on the very pole he had prepared for Mordecai. Then the king got over his raging anger.

Esther 8:1 On that same day King Xerxes gave the property of Haman, the enemy of the Jews, to Queen Esther. Also, Mordecai came to the king because Esther had told him how Mordecai was related to her.

Esther 8:2 Then the king took off his signet ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it to Mordecai. And Esther put Mordecai in charge of Haman's property.

Esther 8:3 Esther spoke again to the king. She fell down at his feet crying and begged him to have mercy and to undo the evil plot of Haman, who was from Agag, and his conspiracy against the Jews.

Esther 8:4 The king held out his golden scepter to Esther, and Esther got up and stood in front of the king.

Esther 8:5 She said, “Your Majesty, if it pleases you, and if I have found favor with you, if you consider my cause to be reasonable and if I am pleasing to you, cancel the official orders [concerning] the plot of Haman (who was the son of Hammedatha and was from Agag). He signed [the order] to destroy the Jews in all your provinces, Your Majesty.

Esther 8:6 I cannot bear to see my people suffer such evil. And I simply cannot bear to see the destruction of my relatives.”

Esther 8:7 King Xerxes said to Queen Esther and Mordecai the Jew, “I have given Haman’s property to Esther, and Haman’s [dead body] was hung on the pole because he tried to kill the Jews.

Esther 8:8 You write what you think is best for the Jews in the king’s name. Seal it also with the king’s signet ring, because whatever is written in the king’s name and sealed with the king’s signet ring cannot be canceled.”

Esther 8:9 At that time on the twenty-third day of Sivan, the third month, the king’s scribes were summoned. What Mordecai had ordered was written to the Jews and to the satraps, governors, and officers of the 127 provinces from India to Sudan. It was written to each province in its own script, to each people in their own language, and to the Jews in their own script and their own language.

Esther 8:10 Mordecai wrote in King Xerxes’ name and sealed the official documents with the king’s signet ring. Then he sent them by messengers who rode special horses bred for speed. [He wrote]

Esther 8:11 that the king had given permission for the Jews in every city to assemble, to defend themselves, to wipe out, to kill, and to destroy every armed force of the people and province that is hostile to them, even women and children, and to seize their goods.

Esther 8:12 [This was permitted] on one day in all the provinces of King Xerxes, on the thirteenth day of Adar, the twelfth month.

Esther 8:13 The copy of the document was made public in a decree to every province for all people. On that day the Jews were to be ready to take revenge on their enemies.

Esther 8:14 The messengers rode the king’s fastest horses. They left quickly, in keeping with the king’s command. The decree was issued also in the fortress of Susa.

Esther 8:15 Mordecai went out from the presence of the king wearing the royal violet and white robe, a large gold crown, and a purple outer robe of fine linen. And the city of Susa cheered and rejoiced.

Esther 8:16 So the Jews were cheerful, happy, joyful, and successful.

Esther 8:17 In every province and every city where the king's message and decree arrived, the Jews were happy and joyful, feasting and enjoying a holiday. Then many common people pretended to be Jews because they were terrified of the Jews.

Esther 9:1 On the thirteenth day of Adar, the twelfth month, the king's command and decree were to be carried out. On that very day, when the enemies of the Jews expected to overpower them, the exact opposite happened: The Jews overpowered those who hated them.

Esther 9:2 The Jews assembled in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Xerxes to kill those who were planning to harm them. No one could stand up against them, because all the people were terrified of them.

Esther 9:3 All the officials of the provinces, the satraps, the governors, and the king's treasurers assisted the Jews because they were terrified of Mordecai.

Esther 9:4 Mordecai was an important man in the king's palace. Moreover, his reputation was spreading to all the provinces, since Mordecai was becoming more and more powerful.

Esther 9:5 Then with their swords, the Jews attacked all their enemies, killing them, destroying them, and doing whatever they pleased to those who hated them.

Esther 9:6 In the fortress of Susa the Jews killed and wiped out 500 men.

Esther 9:7 They also killed Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha,

Esther 9:8 Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

Esther 9:9 Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha.

Esther 9:10 These were the ten sons of Haman, who was the son of Hammedatha and the enemy of the Jews. But the Jews did not seize any of their possessions.

Esther 9:11 On that day the number of those killed in the fortress of Susa was reported to the king.

Esther 9:12 So the king said to Queen Esther, "In the fortress of Susa the Jews have killed and wiped out 500 men and Haman's 10 sons. What must they have done in the rest of the king's provinces! Now, what is your request? It will be granted to you. And what else would you like? It, too, will be granted."

Esther 9:13 Esther said, "If it pleases you, Your Majesty, allow the Jews in Susa to do tomorrow what was decreed for today. Let them hang Haman's ten sons on poles."

Esther 9:14 The king commanded this, issuing a decree in Susa. And so they hung Haman's ten sons [on poles].

Esther 9:15 The Jews in Susa also assembled on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar and killed 300 men in Susa, but they did not seize any of their possessions.

Esther 9:16 The other Jews who were in the king's provinces had also assembled to defend and free themselves from their enemies. They killed 75,000 of those who hated them, but they did not seize any of their possessions.

Esther 9:17 This was on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar. On the fourteenth they rested and made it a day of feasting and celebration.

Esther 9:18 But the Jews in Susa had assembled on the thirteenth and fourteenth. They rested on the fifteenth and made it a day of feasting and celebration.

Esther 9:19 That is why the Jews who live in the villages and in the unwalled towns make the fourteenth day of the month of Adar a holiday for feasting and celebration. They also send gifts of food to one another.

Esther 9:20 Now, Mordecai wrote these things down and sent official letters to all the Jews in all the provinces of King Xerxes, near and far.

Esther 9:21 He established the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month of Adar as days they must observe every year.

Esther 9:22 They were to observe them just like the days when the Jews freed themselves from their enemies. In that month their grief turned to joy and their mourning into a holiday. He declared that these days are to be days for feasting and celebrating and for sending gifts of food to one another, especially gifts to the poor.

Esther 9:23 So the Jews accepted as tradition what they had begun, as Mordecai had written to them.

Esther 9:24 It was because Haman, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them. (Haman was the son of Hammedatha and was from Agag.) Haman had the [Pur] (which means [the lot]) thrown [in order to determine when] to crush and destroy them.

Esther 9:25 But when this came to the king's attention, he ordered, in the well-known letter, that the evil plan Haman had plotted against the Jews should turn back on his own head. As a result, they hung Haman and his sons on poles.

Esther 9:26 So the Jews called these days Purim, based on the word [Pur]. Therefore, because of everything that was said in this letter-both what they had seen and what had happened to them-

Esther 9:27 the Jews established a tradition for themselves and their descendants and for anyone who would join them. The tradition was that a person should never fail to observe these two days every year, as they were described and at their appointed time.

Esther 9:28 So these days must be remembered and observed in every age, family, province, and city. These days of Purim must not be ignored among the Jews, and the importance of these days must never be forgotten by the generations to come.

Esther 9:29 Abihail's daughter Queen Esther and Mordecai the Jew wrote with full authority in order to establish with this second letter the well-known celebration of Purim.

Esther 9:30 Mordecai sent official documents granting peace and security to all the Jews in the 127 provinces of the kingdom of Xerxes.

Esther 9:31 He did this in order to establish these days of Purim at the appointed time. Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther established them for themselves, as they had established for themselves and their descendants the practices of fasting with sadness.

Esther 9:32 Esther's command had established these practices of Purim, and they are written in a book.

Esther 10:1 King Xerxes levied a tax on the country and the islands of the sea.

Esther 10:2 All his acts of power and might along with the whole account of the greatness of Mordecai, whom the king had promoted, are recorded in the history of the kings of the Medes and Persians.

Esther 10:3 Mordecai the Jew was ranked second only to King Xerxes. He was greatly respected by, and popular with, all of the other Jews, since he provided for the good of his people and spoke for the welfare of his fellow Jews.

Job

1:1 A man named Job lived in Uz. He was a man of integrity: He was decent, he feared God, and he stayed away from evil.

Job 1:2 He had seven sons and three daughters.

Job 1:3 He owned 7,000 sheep and goats, 3,000 camels, 1,000 oxen, 500 donkeys, and a large number of servants. He was the most influential person in the Middle East.

Job 1:4 His sons used to go to each other's homes, where they would have parties. (Each brother took his turn having a party.) They would send someone to invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them.

Job 1:5 When they finished having their parties, Job would send for them in order to cleanse them from sin. He would get up early in the morning and sacrifice burnt offerings for each of them. Job thought, “My children may have sinned and cursed God in their hearts.” Job offered sacrifices for them all the time.

Job 1:6 One day when the sons of God came to stand in front of the LORD, Satan the Accuser came along with them.

Job 1:7 The LORD asked Satan, “Where have you come from?” Satan answered the LORD, “From wandering all over the earth.”

Job 1:8 The LORD asked Satan, “Have you thought about my servant Job? No one in the world is like him! He is a man of integrity: He is decent, he fears God, and he stays away from evil.”

Job 1:9 Satan answered the LORD, “Haven’t you given Job a reason to fear God?

Job 1:10 Haven’t you put a protective fence around him, his home, and everything he has? You have blessed everything he does. His cattle have spread out over the land.

Job 1:11 But now stretch out your hand, and strike everything he has. I bet he’ll curse you to your face.”

Job 1:12 The LORD told Satan, “Everything he has is in your power, but you must not lay a hand on him!” Then Satan left the LORD’s presence.

Job 1:13 One day when Job’s sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their oldest brother’s home,

Job 1:14 a messenger came to Job. He said, “While the oxen were plowing and the donkeys were grazing nearby, Job 1:15 men from Sheba attacked. They took the livestock and massacred the servants. I’m the only one who has escaped to tell you.”

Job 1:16 While he was still speaking, another [messenger] came and said, “A fire from God fell from heaven and completely burned your flocks and servants. I’m the only one who has escaped to tell you.”

Job 1:17 While he was still speaking, another [messenger] came and said, “The Chaldeans formed three companies and made a raid on the camels. They took the camels and massacred the servants. I’m the only one who has escaped to tell you.”

Job 1:18 While he was still speaking, another [messenger] came and said, “Your sons and your daughters were eating and drinking wine at their oldest brother’s home

Job 1:19 when suddenly a great storm swept across the desert and struck the four corners of the house. It fell on the young people, and they died. I’m the only one who has escaped to tell you.”

Job 1:20 Job stood up, tore his robe in grief, and shaved his head. Then he fell to the ground and worshiped.

Job 1:21 He said, “Naked I came from my mother, and naked I will return. The LORD has given, and the LORD has taken away! May the name of the LORD be praised.”

Job 1:22 Through all this Job did not sin or blame God for doing anything wrong.

Job 2:1 One day when the sons of God came to stand in front of the LORD, Satan the Accuser came along with them.

Job 2:2 The LORD asked Satan, “Where have you come from?” Satan answered the LORD, “From wandering all over the earth.”

Job 2:3 The LORD asked Satan, “Have you thought about my servant Job? No one in the world is like him! He is a man of integrity: He is decent, he fears God, and he stays away from evil. And he still holds on to his principles. You’re trying to provoke me into ruining him for no reason.”

Job 2:4 Satan answered the LORD, “Skin for skin! Certainly, a man will give everything he has for his life.

Job 2:5 But stretch out your hand, and strike his flesh and bones. I bet he’ll curse you to your face.”

Job 2:6 The LORD told Satan, “He is in your power, but you must spare his life!”

Job 2:7 Satan left the LORD’s presence and struck Job with painful boils from the soles of his feet to the top of his head.

Job 2:8 Job took a piece of broken pottery to scratch himself as he sat in the ashes.

Job 2:9 His wife asked him, “Are you still holding on to your principles? Curse God and die!”

Job 2:10 He said to her, “You’re talking like a godless fool. We accept the good that God gives us. Shouldn’t we also accept the bad?” Through all this Job’s lips did not utter one sinful word.

Job 2:11 When Job’s three friends heard about all the terrible things that had happened to him, each of them came from his home-Eliphaz of Teman, Bildad of Shuah, Zophar of Naama. They had agreed they would go together to sympathize with Job and comfort him.

Job 2:12 When they saw him from a distance, they didn’t even recognize him. They cried out loud and wept, and each of them tore his own clothes in grief. They threw dust on their heads.

Job 2:13 Then they sat down on the ground with him for seven days and seven nights. No one said a word to him because they saw that he was in such great pain. Job Curses the Day He Was Born

Job 3:1 After all this, Job [finally] opened his mouth and cursed the day he was born.

Job 3:2 Job said,

Job 3:3 “Scratch out the day I was born and the night that said, ‘A boy has been conceived!’

Job 3:4 “That day- let it be pitch-black. Let God above not [even] care about it. Let no light shine on it.

Job 3:5 Let the darkness and long shadows claim it as their own. Let a dark cloud hang over it. Let the gloom terrify it.

Job 3:6 “That night- let the blackness take it away. Let it not be included in the days of the year or be numbered among the months.

Job 3:7 Let that night be empty. Let no joyful singing be heard in it.

Job 3:8 Let those who curse the day (those who know how to wake up Leviathan) curse that night.

Job 3:9 Let its stars turn dark before dawn. Let it hope for light and receive none. Let it not see the first light of dawn

Job 3:10 because it did not shut the doors of the womb [from which I came] or hide my eyes from trouble.

Job 3:11 “Why didn’t I die as soon as I was born and breathe my last breath when I came out of the womb?

Job 3:12 Why did knees welcome me? Why did breasts let me nurse?

Job 3:13 Instead of being alive, I would now be quietly lying down. I would now be sleeping peacefully.

Job 3:14 I would be with the kings and the counselors of the world who built for themselves [what are now] ruins.

Job 3:15 I would be with princes who had gold, who filled their homes with silver.

Job 3:16 I would be buried like a stillborn baby. I would not exist. I would be like infants who never saw the light.

Job 3:17 There the wicked stop their raging. There the weary are able to rest.

Job 3:18 There the captives have no troubles at all. There they do not hear the shouting of the slave driver.

Job 3:19 There [you find] both the unimportant and important people. There the slave is free from his master.

Job 3:20 “Why give light to one in misery and life to those who find it so bitter,

Job 3:21 to those who long for death but it never comes- though they dig for it more than for buried treasure?

Job 3:22 They are ecstatic, delighted to find the grave.

Job 3:23 Why give light to those whose paths have been hidden, to those whom God has fenced in?

Job 3:24 “When my food is in front of me, I sigh. I pour out my groaning like water.

Job 3:25 What I fear most overtakes me. What I dread happens to me.

Job 3:26 I have no peace! I have no quiet! I have no rest! And trouble keeps coming!” Be Patient and Listen, Job

Job 4:1 Then Eliphaz from Teman replied [to Job],

Job 4:2 “If someone tries to talk to you, will you become impatient? But who can keep from talking?

Job 4:3 Certainly, you have instructed many people: When hands were weak, you made them strong.

Job 4:4 When someone stumbled, you lifted him up with your words. When knees were weak, you gave them strength.

Job 4:5 But trouble comes to you, and you’re impatient. It touches you, and you panic.

Job 4:6 Doesn’t your fear of God give you confidence and your lifetime of integrity give you hope?

Job 4:7 “Now think about this: Which innocent person [ever] died [an untimely death]? Find me a decent person who has been destroyed.

Job 4:8 Whenever I saw those who plowed wickedness and planted misery, they gathered its harvest.

Job 4:9 God destroys them with his breath and kills them with a blast of his anger.

Job 4:10 Though the roar of the lion and the growl of the ferocious lion [is loud], the young lions have had their teeth knocked out.

Job 4:11 The old lions die without any prey [to eat], and the cubs of the lioness are scattered.

Job 4:12 “I was told something secretly and heard something whispered in my ear.

Job 4:13 With disturbing thoughts from visions in the night, when deep sleep falls on people,

Job 4:14 fear and trembling came over me, and all my bones shook.

Job 4:15 A spirit passed in front of me. It made my hair stand on end.

Job 4:16 Something stood there. I couldn’t tell what it was. A vague image was in front of my eyes. I heard a soft voice:

Job 4:17 ‘Can [any] mortal be righteous to God? Can [any] human being be pure to his maker?’

Job 4:18 “You see, God doesn’t trust his own servants, and he accuses his angels of making mistakes.

Job 4:19 How much more will he accuse those who live in clay houses that have their foundation in the dust. Those houses can be crushed quicker than a moth!

Job 4:20 From morning to evening, they are shattered. They will disappear forever without anyone paying attention.

Job 4:21 Haven’t the ropes of their tent been loosened? Won’t they die without wisdom?

Job 5:1 “Cry out! Is there anyone to answer you? To which of the holy ones will you turn?

Job 5:2 Certainly, anger kills a stubborn fool, and jealousy murders a gullible person.

Job 5:3 I have seen a stubborn fool take root, but I quickly cursed his house.

Job 5:4 His children are far from help. They are crushed at the city gate, and no one is there to rescue them.

Job 5:5 What a stubborn fool gathers, hungry people eat. They take it even from among the thorns, and thirsty people pant after his wealth.

Job 5:6 Certainly, sorrow doesn’t come from the soil, and trouble doesn’t sprout from the ground.

Job 5:7 But a person is born for trouble as surely as sparks fly up [from a fire].

Job 5:8 “But I would seek God’s help and present my case to him.

Job 5:9 He does great things that [we] cannot understand and miracles that [we] cannot count.

Job 5:10 He gives rain to the earth and sends water to the fields.

Job 5:11 He places lowly people up high. He lifts those who mourn to safety.

Job 5:12 He keeps shrewd people from carrying out their plans so that they cannot do anything successfully.

Job 5:13 He catches the wise with their own tricks. The plans of schemers prove to be hasty.

Job 5:14 In the daytime they meet darkness and grope in the sunlight as if it were night.

Job 5:15 “But he saves [other people] from their slander and the needy from the power of the mighty.

Job 5:16 Then the poor have hope while wrongdoing shuts its mouth.

Job 5:17 “Blessed is the person whom God corrects. That person should not despise discipline from the Almighty.

Job 5:18 God injures, but he bandages. He beats you up, but his hands make you well.

Job 5:19 He will keep you safe from six troubles, and when the seventh one comes, no harm will touch you:

Job 5:20 “In famine he will save you from death, and in war he will save you from the sword.

Job 5:21 “When the tongue lashes out, you will be safe, and you will not be afraid of destruction when it comes.

Job 5:22 “You will be able to laugh at destruction and starvation, so do not be afraid of wild animals on the earth.

Job 5:23 “You will have a binding agreement with the stones in the field, and wild animals will be at peace with you.

Job 5:24 “You will know peace in your tent. You will inspect your house and find nothing missing.

Job 5:25 “You will find that your children are many and your descendants are like the grass of the earth.

Job 5:26 “You will come to your grave at a ripe old age like a stack of hay in the right season.

Job 5:27 “We have studied all of this thoroughly! This is the way it is. Listen to it, and learn it for yourself.” God Has Attacked Me Without Cause

Job 6:1 Then Job replied [to his friends],

Job 6:2 “If only my grief could be weighed, if only my misery could be laid on the scales with it,

Job 6:3 then they would be heavier than the sand of the seas. I spoke carelessly

Job 6:4 because the arrows of the Almighty [have found their target] in me, and my spirit is drinking their poison. God’s terrors line up in battle against me.

Job 6:5 “Does a wild donkey bray when it’s [eating] grass, or does an ox make a sound over its hay?

Job 6:6 Is tasteless food eaten without salt, or is there any flavor in the white of an egg?

Job 6:7 I refuse to touch such things. They are disgusting to me.

Job 6:8 “How I wish that my prayer would be answered- that God would give me what I’m hoping for,

Job 6:9 that God would [finally] be willing to crush me, that he would reach out to cut me off.

Job 6:10 Then I would still have comfort. I would be happy despite my endless pain, because I have not rejected the words of the Holy One.

Job 6:11 What strength do I have [left] that I can go on hoping? What goal do I have that I would want to prolong my life?

Job 6:12 Do I have the strength of rocks? Does my body have the strength of bronze?

Job 6:13 Am I not completely helpless? Haven’t my skills been taken away from me?

Job 6:14 “A friend should treat a troubled person kindly, even if he abandons the fear of the Almighty.

Job 6:15 My brothers have been as deceptive as seasonal rivers, like the seasonal riverbeds that flood.

Job 6:16 They are dark with ice. They are hidden by snow.

Job 6:17 They vanish during a scorching summer. In the heat their riverbeds dry up.

Job 6:18 They change their course. They go into a wasteland and disappear.

Job 6:19 Caravans from Tema look for them. Travelers from Sheba search for them.

Job 6:20 They are ashamed because they relied on the streams. Arriving there, they are disappointed.

Job 6:21 “So you are as unreliable to me [as they are]. You see something terrifying, and you are afraid.

Job 6:22 Did I ever say, ‘Give me a gift,’ or ‘Offer me a bribe from your wealth,’

Job 6:23 or ‘Rescue me from an enemy,’ or ‘Ransom me from a tyrant’?

Job 6:24 Teach me, and I’ll be silent. Show me where I’ve been wrong.

Job 6:25 How painful an honest discussion can be! In correcting me, you correct yourselves!

Job 6:26 Do you think my words need correction? Do you think they’re what a desperate person says to the wind?

Job 6:27 Would you also throw dice for an orphan? Would you buy and sell your friend?

Job 6:28 “But now, if you’re willing, look at me. I won’t lie to your face.

Job 6:29 Please change your mind. Don’t permit any injustice. Change your mind because I am still right about this!

Job 6:30 Is there injustice on my tongue, or is my mouth unable to tell the difference between right and wrong?

Job 7:1 “Isn’t a mortal’s stay on earth difficult like a hired hand’s daily [work]?

Job 7:2 Like a slave, he longs for shade. Like a hired hand, he eagerly looks for his pay.

Job 7:3 Likewise, I have been given months that are of no use, and I have inherited nights filled with misery.

Job 7:4 When I lie down, I ask, ‘When will I get up?’ But the evening is long, and I’m exhausted from tossing about until dawn.

Job 7:5 My body is covered with maggots and scabs. My skin is crusted over with sores; then they ooze.

Job 7:6 My days go swifter than a weaver's shuttle. They are spent without hope.

Job 7:7 Remember, my life is only a breath, and never again will my eyes see anything good.

Job 7:8 The eye that watches over me will no longer see me. Your eye will look for me, but I'll be gone.

Job 7:9 As a cloud fades away and disappears, so a person goes into the grave and doesn't come back again.

Job 7:10 He doesn't come back home again, and his household doesn't recognize him anymore.

Job 7:11 So I won't keep my mouth shut, but I will speak from the distress that is in my spirit and complain about the bitterness in my soul.

Job 7:12 "Am I the sea or a sea monster that you have set a guard over me?

Job 7:13 When I say, 'My couch may give me comfort. My bed may help me bear my pain,'

Job 7:14 then you frighten me with dreams and terrify me with visions.

Job 7:15 My throat would rather be choked. My body would prefer death [to these dreams].

Job 7:16 I hate my life; I do not want to live forever. Leave me alone because my days are so brief.

Job 7:17 "What is a mortal that you should make so much of him, that you should be concerned about him?

Job 7:18 [What is he] that you should inspect him every morning and examine him every moment?

Job 7:19 Why don't you stop looking at me long enough to let me swallow my spit?

Job 7:20 If I sin, what can I [possibly] do to you since you insist on spying on people? Why do you make me your target? I've become a burden even to myself.

Job 7:21 Why don't you forgive my disobedience and take away my sin? Soon I'll lie down in the dust. Then you will search for me, but I'll be gone!" You Are Unjustly Accusing God of Doing Evil, Job

Job 8:1 Then Bildad from Shuah replied [to Job],

Job 8:2 "How long will you say these things? How long will your words be so windy?

Job 8:3 Does God distort justice, or does the Almighty distort righteousness?

Job 8:4 If your children sinned against him, he allowed them to suffer the consequences of their sinfulness.

Job 8:5 If you search for God and plead for mercy from the Almighty,

Job 8:6 if you are moral and ethical, then he will rise up on your behalf and prove your righteousness by rebuilding your home.

Job 8:7 Then what you had in the past will seem small compared with the great prosperity you'll have in the future.

Job 8:8 "Ask the people of past generations. Find out what their ancestors had learned.

Job 8:9 We have only been around since yesterday, and we know nothing. Our days on earth are only a fleeting shadow.

Job 8:10 Won't their words teach you? Won't they share their thoughts with you?

Job 8:11 "Can papyrus grow up where there is no swamp? Can rushes grow tall without water?

Job 8:12 Even if they were fresh and not cut, they would wither quicker than grass.

Job 8:13 The same thing happens to all who forget God. The hope of the godless dies.

Job 8:14 His confidence is easily shattered. His trust is a spider's web.

Job 8:15 If one leans on his house, it collapses. If one holds on to it, it will not support his weight.

Job 8:16 He is like a well-watered plant in the sunshine. The shoots spread over his garden.

Job 8:17 Its roots weave through a pile of stones. They cling to a stone house.

Job 8:18 But when it is uprooted from its place, [the ground] denies it [and says], 'I never saw you!'

Job 8:19 That is its joy in this life, and others sprout from the same ground to [take its place].

Job 8:20 "Certainly, God does not reject a person of integrity or give a helping hand to wicked people.

Job 8:21 He will fill your mouth with laughter and your lips with happy shouting.

Job 8:22 Those who hate you will be clothed with shame, and the tent of the wicked will cease to exist." The Futility of Arguing With God

Job 9:1 Then Job replied [to his friends],

Job 9:2 "Yes, I know that this is true. But how can a mortal be declared righteous to God?

Job 9:3 If he wished to debate with God, he wouldn’t be able to answer one question in a thousand.

Job 9:4 “God is wise in heart and mighty in power. Who could oppose him and win?

Job 9:5 He moves mountains without their knowing it, and he topples them in his anger.

Job 9:6 He shakes the earth from its place, and its pillars tremble.

Job 9:7 He commands the sun not to rise. He doesn’t let the stars come out.

Job 9:8 He stretches out the heavens by himself and walks on the waves of the sea.

Job 9:9 He made [the constellations] Ursa Major, Orion, and the Pleiades, and the clusters of stars in the south.

Job 9:10 He does great things that are unsearchable and miracles that cannot be numbered.

Job 9:11 He passes alongside of me, and I don’t even see him. He goes past me, and I don’t even notice him.

Job 9:12 He takes something away, [but] who can stop him? Who is going to ask him, ‘What are you doing?’

Job 9:13 God does not hold back his anger. Even Rahab’s helpers bow humbly in front of him.

Job 9:14 “How can I possibly answer God? How can I find the right words [to speak] with him?

Job 9:15 Even if I were right, I could not answer [him]. I would have to plead for mercy from my judge.

Job 9:16 If I cried out and he answered me, I do not believe that he would listen to me.

Job 9:17 He would knock me down with a storm and bruise me without a reason.

Job 9:18 He would not let me catch my breath. He fills me with bitterness.

Job 9:19 If it is a matter of strength, then he is the mighty one. If it is about justice, who will charge me with a crime?

Job 9:20 If I am righteous, my own mouth would condemn me. It would declare that I am corrupt even if I am a man of integrity.

Job 9:21 If I am a man of integrity, I have no way of knowing it. I hate my life!

Job 9:22 It is all the same. That is why I say, ‘He destroys [both] the man of integrity and the wicked.’

Job 9:23 When a sudden disaster brings death, he makes fun of the despair of innocent people.

Job 9:24 The earth is handed over to the wicked. He covers the faces of its judges. If he isn't the one [doing this], who is?

Job 9:25 "My days go by more quickly than a runner. They sprint away. They don't see anything good.

Job 9:26 They pass by quickly like boats made from reeds, like an eagle swooping down on its prey.

Job 9:27 [Even] if I say, 'I will forget my complaining; I will change my expression and smile,'

Job 9:28 I [still] dread everything I must suffer. I know that you won't declare me innocent.

Job 9:29 I've already been found guilty. Why should I work so hard for nothing?

Job 9:30 If I wash myself with lye soap and cleanse my hands with bleach,

Job 9:31 then you would plunge me into a muddy pit, and my own clothes would find me disgusting.

Job 9:32 A human like me cannot answer God, 'Let's take our case to court.'

Job 9:33 There is no mediator between us to put his hand on both of us.

Job 9:34 God should take his rod away from me, and he should not terrify me.

Job 9:35 Then I would speak and not be afraid of him. But I know that I am not like that.

Job 10:1 "I hate my life. I will freely express my complaint. I will speak as bitterly as I feel.

Job 10:2 I will say to God, 'Don't condemn me. Let me know why you are quarreling with me.

Job 10:3 What do you gain by mistreating me, by rejecting the work of your hands while you favor the plans of the wicked?

Job 10:4 Do you actually have human eyes? Do you see as a mortal sees?

Job 10:5 Are your days like a mortal's days? Are your years like a human's years?

Job 10:6 Is that why you look for guilt in me and search for sin in me?

Job 10:7 You know I'm not guilty, but there is no one to rescue me from your hands.

Job 10:8 " 'Your hands formed me and made every part of me, then you turned to destroy me.

Job 10:9 Please remember that you made me out of clay and that you will return me to the dust again.

Job 10:10 Didn't you pour me out like milk and curdle me like cheese?

Job 10:11 Didn't you dress me in skin and flesh and weave me together with bones and tendons?

Job 10:12 You gave me life and mercy. Your watchfulness has preserved my spirit.

Job 10:13 But in your heart you hid these things. I know this is what you did.

Job 10:14 " 'If I sin, you watch me and will not free me from my guilt.

Job 10:15 How terrible it will be for me if I'm guilty! Even if I'm righteous, I dare not lift up my head. I am filled with disgrace while I look on my misery.

Job 10:16 Like a proud, ferocious lion you hunt me down. You keep working your miracles against me.

Job 10:17 You keep finding new witnesses against me. You keep increasing your anger toward me. You keep bringing new armies against me.

Job 10:18 " 'Why did you take me out of the womb? I wish I had breathed my last breath before anyone had laid eyes on me.

Job 10:19 Then it would be as if I had never existed, as if I had been carried from the womb to the tomb.

Job 10:20 " 'Isn't my life short enough? So stop [this], and leave me alone. Let me smile a little

Job 10:21 before I go away to a land of darkness and gloom,

Job 10:22 to a dismal land of long shadows and confusion where light is as bright as darkness. I'll never return.' " Your Words Call for an Answer, Job

Job 11:1 Then Zophar from Naama replied [to Job],

Job 11:2 "Shouldn't someone answer this flood of words? Should a good public speaker be acquitted?

Job 11:3 Should your empty talk silence others so that you can make fun of us without any shame?

Job 11:4 You say, 'My teaching is morally correct,' and, 'As you can see, I'm innocent.'

Job 11:5 I only wish God would speak and open his mouth [to talk] to you.

Job 11:6 He would tell you the secrets of wisdom, because [true] wisdom is twice [as great as your wisdom], and you would know that God forgets your sin.

Job 11:7 “Can you discover God’s hidden secrets, or are you able to find the Almighty’s limits?

Job 11:8 [God’s wisdom is] higher than heaven. What can you do? It is deeper than [the depths] of hell. What can you know?

Job 11:9 It is longer than the earth and wider than the sea.

Job 11:10 If God comes along and imprisons [someone] and then calls a court into session, who can stop him?

Job 11:11 He knows who the scoundrels are. And when he sees sin, doesn’t he pay attention to it?

Job 11:12 But an empty-headed person will gain understanding when a wild donkey is born tame.

Job 11:13 “If you want to set your heart right, then pray to him.

Job 11:14 If you’re holding on to sin, put it far away, and don’t let injustice live in your tent.

Job 11:15 Then you will be able to show your face without being ashamed, and you will be secure and unafraid.

Job 11:16 [Then] you will forget your misery and remember it like water that has flowed downstream.

Job 11:17 Then your life will be brighter than the noonday sun. The darkness in your life will become like morning.

Job 11:18 You will feel confident because there’s hope, and you will look around and rest in safety.

Job 11:19 You will lie down with no one to frighten you, and many people will try to gain your favor.

Job 11:20 But the wicked will lose their eyesight. Their escape route will be closed. Their only hope is to take their last breath.” My Friends Have No Wisdom

Job 12:1 Then Job replied [to his friends],

Job 12:2 “You certainly are [wise] people, and when you die, wisdom will die.

Job 12:3 Like you, I have a mind. I am not inferior to you. But who doesn’t know these things?

Job 12:4 I am a laughingstock to my neighbors. I am one who calls on God and expects an answer. A man of integrity, a man who is righteous, has become a laughingstock.

Job 12:5 “A person who has an easy life has no appreciation for misfortune. He thinks it is the fate of those who slip up.

Job 12:6 [But] robbers' tents are prosperous, and there is security for those who provoke God, for those whose god is their power.

Job 12:7 "Instead, ask the animals, and they will teach you. Ask the birds, and they will tell you.

Job 12:8 Or speak with the earth, and it will teach you. Even the fish will relate [the story] to you.

Job 12:9 What creature doesn't know that the LORD's hands made it?

Job 12:10 The life of every living creature and the spirit in every human body are in his hands.

Job 12:11 Doesn't the ear distinguish sounds and the tongue taste food?

Job 12:12 "Wisdom is with the ancient one. The one who has had many days has insight.

Job 12:13 God has wisdom and strength. Advice and insight are his.

Job 12:14 When he tears [something] down, it cannot be rebuilt. When he puts someone in prison, that person cannot be freed.

Job 12:15 When he holds back the waters, there is a drought. When he releases them, they flood the earth.

Job 12:16 "God has power and priceless wisdom. He owns [both] the deceiver and the person who is deceived.

Job 12:17 He leads counselors away barefoot and makes fools out of judges.

Job 12:18 He loosens kings' belts and strips them of their pants.

Job 12:19 He leads priests away barefoot and misleads those who serve in a temple.

Job 12:20 He makes trusted advisers unable to speak and takes away the good judgment of respected leaders.

Job 12:21 He pours contempt on influential people and unbuckles the belt of the mighty.

Job 12:22 He uncovers mysteries [hidden] in the darkness and brings gloom into the light.

Job 12:23 He makes nations important and then destroys them. He makes nations large and leads them away.

Job 12:24 He takes away the common sense of a country's leaders and makes them stumble about in a pathless wilderness.

Job 12:25 They grope in the dark with no light, and he makes them stumble like drunks.

Job 13:1 "My eye has certainly seen all of this! My ear has heard and understood it.

Job 13:2 After all, I know it as well as you do. I am not inferior to you.

Job 13:3 However, I want to speak to the Almighty, and I wish to argue my case in front of God.

Job 13:4 But you are smearing me with lies. All of you are worthless physicians.

Job 13:5 I wish you would keep silent. For you, that would be wisdom.

Job 13:6 Please listen to my argument, and pay attention to my plea.

Job 13:7 “Will you talk wickedly for God and talk deceitfully on his behalf?

Job 13:8 Will you favor him [as] if you were arguing in court on God’s behalf?

Job 13:9 Will it go well when he cross-examines you? Will you try to trick him as one mortal tricks another?

Job 13:10 Will he really defend you if you secretly favor [him]?

Job 13:11 Doesn’t his majesty terrify you? Doesn’t the fear of him fall upon you?

Job 13:12 “Your recollections are worthless proverbs. Your answers are absolutely useless.

Job 13:13 Be quiet, because I want to speak. Let whatever may happen to me [happen]!

Job 13:14 I am biting off more than I can chew and taking my life in my own hands.

Job 13:15 If God would kill me, I would have no hope [left]. Nevertheless, I will defend my behavior to his face.

Job 13:16 This also will be my salvation because no godless person could face him.

Job 13:17 “Listen carefully to my words. Hear my declaration.

Job 13:18 I have prepared my case. I know that I will be declared righteous.

Job 13:19 Who can make a case against me? If someone could, I’d be silent and die.

Job 13:20 “Please don’t do two things to me so that I won’t have to hide from you:

Job 13:21 Stop oppressing me. Don’t let your terror frighten me.

Job 13:22 Then call, and I’ll answer. Otherwise, I’ll speak, and you’ll answer me.

Job 13:23 How many crimes and sins have I committed? Make me aware of my disobedience and my sin.

Job 13:24 Why do you hide your face [from me] and consider me your enemy?

Job 13:25 Are you trying to make a fluttering leaf tremble or trying to chase dry husks?

Job 13:26 You write down bitter accusations against me. You make me suffer for the sins of my youth.

Job 13:27 You put my feet in shackles. You follow my trail by engraving marks on the soles of my feet.

Job 13:28 I am like worn-out wineskins, like moth-eaten clothes.

Job 14:1 "A person who is born of a woman is short-lived and is full of trouble.

Job 14:2 He comes up like a flower; then he withers. He is like a fleeting shadow; he doesn't stay long.

Job 14:3 You observe this and call me to account to you.

Job 14:4 "If only an unclean person could become clean! It's not possible.

Job 14:5 If the number of his days and the number of his months are determined by you, and you set his limit, then he cannot go past it.

Job 14:6 Look away from him, and he will cease to be. Meanwhile, he loves life as a laborer loves work.

Job 14:7 There is hope for a tree when it is cut down. It will sprout again. Its shoots will not stop sprouting.

Job 14:8 If its roots grow old in the ground and its stump dies in the soil,

Job 14:9 merely a scent of water will make it sprout and grow branches like a plant.

Job 14:10 But a human dies and is powerless. A person breathes his last breath, and where is he?

Job 14:11 [As] water drains out of a lake, or [as] a river dries up completely,

Job 14:12 so each person lies down and does not rise until the heavens cease to exist. He does not wake up. He is not awakened from his sleep.

Job 14:13 I wish you would hide me in Sheol and keep me hidden there until your anger cools. Set a specific time for me when you will remember me.

Job 14:14 "If a person dies, will he go on living? I will wait for my relief to come as long as my hard labor continues.

Job 14:15 You will call, and I will answer you. You will long for the person your hands have made.

Job 14:16 Though now you count my steps, you will not keep [a record of] my sins.

Job 14:17 My disobedience will be closed up in a bag, and you will cover over my sins.

Job 14:18 As surely as a mountain falls and rocks are dislodged,

Job 14:19 [so] water wears away stone, floods wash away soil from the land, and you destroy a mortal's hope.

Job 14:20 You overpower him forever, and he passes away. You change his appearance and send him away.

Job 14:21 His sons are honored, and he doesn't know it. Or they become unimportant, and he doesn't realize it.

Job 14:22 He feels only his body's pain. He is only worried about himself." You Are Speaking Sinfully, Job

Job 15:1 Then Eliphaz from Teman replied [to Job],

Job 15:2 "Should a wise person answer with endless details and fill his stomach with the east wind?

Job 15:3 Should he argue with words that don't help, with speeches that don't help [anyone]?

Job 15:4 Yes, you destroy the fear [of God] and diminish devotion to God.

Job 15:5 Your sin teaches you what to say. You choose [to talk with] a sly tongue.

Job 15:6 Your [own] mouth condemns you, not I. Your lips testify against you.

Job 15:7 "Were you the first human to be born? Were you delivered before the hills [existed]?

Job 15:8 Did you listen in on God's council meeting and receive a monopoly on wisdom?

Job 15:9 What do you know that we don't know? What do you understand that we don't?

Job 15:10 Both the old and the gray-haired are among us. They are older than your father.

Job 15:11 Isn't God's comfort enough for you, even when gently spoken to you?

Job 15:12 Why have your emotions carried you away? Why do your eyes flash

Job 15:13 when you turn against God and spit these words out of your mouth?

Job 15:14 Why should a mortal be considered faultless or someone born of a woman be considered righteous?

Job 15:15 If God doesn't trust his holy ones, and the heavens are not pure in his sight,

Job 15:16 how much less will he trust the one who is disgusting and corrupt, the one who drinks wickedness like water.

Job 15:17 "I'll tell you; listen to me! I'll relate what I have seen.

Job 15:18 I'll tell you what wise people have declared and what was not kept secret from their ancestors.

Job 15:19 (The land was given to them alone, and no stranger passed through their land.)

Job 15:20 "The wicked person is tortured all his days. Only a few years are reserved for the ruthless person.

Job 15:21 Terrifying sounds are in his ears. While he enjoys peace, the destroyer comes to him.

Job 15:22 He doesn't believe he'll return from the dark. He is destined [to be killed] with a sword.

Job 15:23 He wanders around for food and asks, 'Where is it?' He knows that his ruin is close at hand.

Job 15:24 "The day of darkness troubles him. Distress and anguish terrify him like a king ready for battle.

Job 15:25 He stretches out his hand against God and attacks the Almighty like a warrior.

Job 15:26 He stubbornly charges at him with a thick shield.

Job 15:27 "His face is bloated with fat, and he is fat around the waist.

Job 15:28 He lives in ruined cities where no one dwells, in houses that are doomed to be piles of rubble.

Job 15:29 He won't get rich, and his wealth won't last. His possessions won't spread out over the land.

Job 15:30 "He won't escape the darkness. A flame will shrivel his branches. He will be blown away by his own breath.

Job 15:31 He shouldn't trust in worthless things and deceive himself because he will get worthless things in return.

Job 15:32 It will happen before his time has come, and his branch will not become green.

Job 15:33 He will drop his unripened grapes like a vine and throw off his blossoms like an olive tree

Job 15:34 because a mob of godless people produces nothing, and fire burns up the tents of those who offer bribes.

Job 15:35 They conceive trouble and give birth to evil. Their wombs produce deception." My Friends Do Not Help Ease My Pain Job 16:1 Then Job replied [to his friends], Job 16:2 “I have heard many things like this before. You are all pathetic at comforting me.

Job 16:3 Will [your] long-winded speeches never end? What disturbs you that you keep on answering [me]?

Job 16:4 I, too, could speak like you if we could trade places. I could string words together against you and shake my head at you.

Job 16:5 I could encourage you with my mouth, and my quivering lips could ease [your pain].

Job 16:6 If I speak, my pain is not eased. If I stop talking, how much of it will go away?

Job 16:7 “But now, God has worn me out. You, [God,] have destroyed everyone who supports me.

Job 16:8 You have shriveled me up, which itself is a witness [against me]. My frail body rises up and testifies against me.

Job 16:9 “God’s anger tore me [apart] and attacked me. He gritted his teeth at me. My opponent looked sharply at me.

Job 16:10 People gaped at me with wide-open mouths. In scorn they slapped my cheeks. They united against me.

Job 16:11 God handed me over to unjust people and threw me into the hands of wicked people.

Job 16:12 I was at ease, and he shattered me. He grabbed me by the back of the neck and smashed [my skull]. He set me up as his target,

Job 16:13 and his archers surrounded me. He slashes open my kidneys without mercy and spills my blood on the ground.

Job 16:14 He inflicts wound after wound on me. He lunges at me like a warrior.

Job 16:15 “I have sewn sackcloth over my skin, and I have thrown my strength in the dust.

Job 16:16 My face is red from crying, and dark shadows encircle my eyes,

Job 16:17 although my hands have done nothing violent, and my prayer is sincere.

Job 16:18 “Earth, don’t cover my blood. Don’t ever let my cry [for justice] be stopped.

Job 16:19 Even now, look! My witness is in heaven, and the one who testifies for me is above,

Job 16:20 the spokesman for my thoughts. My eyes drip [with tears] to God

Job 16:21 But my witness will plead for a human in front of God. The Son of Man will plead for his friend!

Job 16:22 because in a few short years I will take the path of no return.

Job 17:1 “My spirit is broken. My days have been snuffed out. The cemetery [is waiting] for me.

Job 17:2 Certainly, mockers are around me. My eyes are focused on their opposition.

Job 17:3 Please guarantee my bail yourself. Who else will guarantee it with a handshake?

Job 17:4 You have closed their minds so that they cannot understand. That is why you will not honor them.

Job 17:5 (Whoever turns in friends to get their property should have his children’s eyesight fail.)

Job 17:6 “Now he has made me a laughingstock for many people. Now they spit in my face.

Job 17:7 Now my eyes are blurred from grief. Now all my limbs are like a shadow.

Job 17:8 Decent people are shocked by this, and it stirs up the innocent against godless people.

Job 17:9 Yet, the righteous person clings to his way, and the one with clean hands grows stronger.

Job 17:10 “But now, all of you, come and try again! I won’t find one wise man among you.

Job 17:11 My days are passing by. My plans are broken. My dreams [are shattered].

Job 17:12 You say that night is day. Light has nearly become darkness.

Job 17:13 If I look for the grave as my home and make my bed in the darkness,

Job 17:14 if I say to the pit, ‘You are my father,’ and to the worm, ‘You are my mother and sister,’

Job 17:15 then where is my hope? Can you see any hope left in me?

Job 17:16 Will hope go down with me to the gates of the grave? Will my hope rest with me in the dust?” Why Do You Think You Are So Great, Job?

Job 18:1 Then Bildad from Shuah replied [to Job],

Job 18:2 “How long before your words will end? Think it through, and then we’ll talk.

Job 18:3 Why do you think of us as cattle? Why are we considered stupid in your eyes?

Job 18:4 Why do you rip yourself apart in anger? Should the earth be abandoned for your sake or a boulder be dislodged?

Job 18:5 “Indeed, the light of the wicked is snuffed out. The flame of his fire stops glowing.

Job 18:6 The light in his tent becomes dark, and the lamp above him is snuffed out.

Job 18:7 “His healthy stride is shortened, and his own planning trips him up.

Job 18:8 His own feet get him tangled in a net as he walks around on its webbing.

Job 18:9 A trap catches his heel. A snare holds him.

Job 18:10 A rope is hidden on the ground for him. A trap is on his path [to catch] him.

Job 18:11 “Terrors suddenly pounce on him from every side and chase him every step he takes.

Job 18:12 Hunger undermines his strength. Disaster is waiting beside him.

Job 18:13 His skin is eaten away by disease. Death’s firstborn son eats away at the limbs of his body.

Job 18:14 He is dragged from the safety of his tent and marched off to the king of terrors.

Job 18:15 Fire lives in his tent. Sulfur is scattered over his home.

Job 18:16 His roots dry up under him. His branches wither over him.

Job 18:17 All memory about him will vanish from the earth, and his reputation will not be known on the street corner.

Job 18:18 He will be driven from the light into the dark and chased out of the world.

Job 18:19 He will not have any children or descendants among his people or any survivor where he used to live.

Job 18:20 People in the west are shocked by what happens to him. People in the east are seized with horror.

Job 18:21 This is what happens to the homes of wicked people and to those who do not know God.” Admit That God Is Mistreating Me

Job 19:1 Then Job replied [to his friends],

Job 19:2 “How long will you torment me and depress me with words?

Job 19:3 You have insulted me ten times now. You’re not even ashamed of mistreating me.

Job 19:4 Even if it were true that I’ve made a mistake without realizing it, my mistake would affect only me.

Job 19:5 If you are trying to make yourselves look better than me by using my disgrace as an argument against me, Job 19:6 then I want you to know that God has wronged me and surrounded me with his net.

Job 19:7 Indeed, I cry, 'Help! I'm being attacked!' but I get no response. I call for help, but there is no justice.

Job 19:8 "God has blocked my path so that I can't go on. He has made my paths dark.

Job 19:9 He has stripped me of my honor. He has taken the crown off my head.

Job 19:10 He beats me down on every side until I'm gone. He uproots my hope like a tree.

Job 19:11 He is very angry at me. He considers me to be his enemy.

Job 19:12 His troops assemble against me. They build a ramp to attack me and camp around my tent.

Job 19:13 "My brothers stay far away from me. My friends are complete strangers to me.

Job 19:14 My relatives and my closest friends have stopped coming. My house guests have forgotten me.

Job 19:15 My female slaves consider me to be a stranger. I am like a foreigner to them.

Job 19:16 I call my slave, but he doesn't answer, though I beg him.

Job 19:17 My breath offends my wife. I stink to my own children.

Job 19:18 Even young children despise me. If I stand up, they make fun of me.

Job 19:19 All my closest friends are disgusted with me. Those I love have turned against me.

Job 19:20 I am skin and bones, and I have escaped only by the skin of my teeth.

Job 19:21 "Have pity on me, my friends! Have pity on me because God's hand has struck me down.

Job 19:22 Why do you pursue me as God does? Why are you never satisfied with my flesh?

Job 19:23 "I wish now my words were written. I wish they were inscribed on a scroll.

Job 19:24 I wish they were forever engraved on a rock with an iron stylus and lead.

Job 19:25 But I know that my defender lives, and afterwards, he will rise on the earth.

Job 19:26 Even after my skin has been stripped off my body, I will see God in my own flesh.

Job 19:27 I will see him with my own eyes, not with someone else's. My heart fails inside me!

Job 19:28 “You say, ‘We will persecute him! The root of the problem is found in him.’

Job 19:29 Fear death, because [your anger] is punishable by death. Then you will know there is a judge.” Here Is My Answer

Job 20:1 Then Zophar from Naama replied [to Job],

Job 20:2 “My disturbing thoughts make me answer, and because of them I am upset.

Job 20:3 I have heard criticism that makes me ashamed, but a spirit beyond my understanding gives me answers.

Job 20:4 “Don’t you know that from ancient times, from the time humans were placed on earth,

Job 20:5 the triumph of the wicked is short-lived, and the joy of the godless person lasts only a moment?

Job 20:6 If his height reaches to the sky and his head touches the clouds,

Job 20:7 he will certainly rot like his own feces. Those who have seen him will say, ‘Where is he?’

Job 20:8 He will fly away like a dream and not be found. He will be chased away like a vision in the night.

Job 20:9 Eyes that saw him will see him no more. His home will not look at him again.

Job 20:10 His children will have to ask the poor for help. His own hands will have to give back his wealth.

Job 20:11 His bones, once full of youthful vigor, will lie down with him in the dust.

Job 20:12 “Though evil is sweet in his mouth and he hides it under his tongue....

Job 20:13 Though he savors it and won’t let go of it and he holds it on the roof of his mouth,

Job 20:14 the food in his belly turns sour. It becomes snake venom in his stomach.

Job 20:15 He vomits up the riches that he swallowed. God forces them out of his stomach.

Job 20:16 The godless person sucks the poison of snakes. A viper’s fang kills him.

Job 20:17 He won’t be able to drink from the streams or from the rivers of honey and buttermilk.

Job 20:18 He will give back what he earned without enjoying it. He will get no joy from the profits of his business

Job 20:19 because he crushed and abandoned the poor. He has taken by force a house that he didn’t build.

Job 20:20 He will never know peace in his heart. He will never allow anything he desires to escape [his grasp].

Job 20:21 “Nothing is left for him to eat. His prosperity won’t last.

Job 20:22 [Even] with all his wealth the full force of misery comes down on him.

Job 20:23 Let that misery fill his belly. [God] throws his burning anger at the godless person and makes his wrath come down on him like rain.

Job 20:24 If that person flees from an iron weapon, a bronze bow will pierce him.

Job 20:25 He pulls it out, and it comes out of his back. The glittering point comes out of his gallbladder. “Terrors come quickly to the godless person:

Job 20:26 Total darkness waits in hiding for his treasure. A fire that no one fans will burn him. Whatever is left in his tent will be devoured.

Job 20:27 Heaven exposes his sin. Earth rises up against him.

Job 20:28 A flood will sweep away his house, a flash flood on the day of his anger.

Job 20:29 This is the reward God gives to the wicked person, the inheritance God has appointed for him.” Comfort Me by Listening to Me

Job 21:1 Then Job replied [to his friends],

Job 21:2 “Listen carefully to my words, and let that be the comfort you offer me.

Job 21:3 Bear with me while I speak. Then after I’ve spoken, you may go on mocking.

Job 21:4 Am I complaining about a person? Why shouldn’t I be impatient?

Job 21:5 Look at me, and be shocked, and put [your] hand over [your] mouth.

Job 21:6 When I remember it, I’m terrified, and shuddering seizes my body.

Job 21:7 “Why do the wicked go on living, grow old, and even become more powerful?

Job 21:8 They see their children firmly established with them, and they get to see their descendants.

Job 21:9 Their homes are free from fear, and God doesn’t use his rod on them.

Job 21:10 Their bulls are fertile when they breed. Their cows give birth to calves and never miscarry.

Job 21:11 They send their little children out [to play] like a flock of lambs, and their children dance around.

Job 21:12 They sing with the tambourine and lyre, and they are happy with the music of the flute.

Job 21:13 They spend their days in happiness, and they go peacefully to the grave.

Job 21:14 But they say to God, 'Leave us alone. We don't want to know your ways.

Job 21:15 Who is the Almighty that we should serve him? What do we gain if we pray to him?'

Job 21:16 Anyhow, isn't their happiness in their own power? (The plan of the wicked is foreign to my way of thinking.)

Job 21:17 "How often is the lamp of the wicked snuffed out? How often does disaster happen to them? How often does an angry God give them pain?

Job 21:18 How often are they like straw in the wind or like husks that the storm sweeps away?

Job 21:19 "[You say,] 'God saves a person's punishment for his children.' God should pay back that person so that he would know that it is a punishment.

Job 21:20 His eyes should see his own ruin. He should drink from the wrath of the Almighty.

Job 21:21 How can he be interested in his family after he's gone, when the number of his months is cut short?

Job 21:22 "Can anyone teach God knowledge? Can anyone judge the Most High?

Job 21:23 One person dies in his prime and feels altogether happy and contented.

Job 21:24 His stomach is full of milk, and his bones are strong and healthy.

Job 21:25 Another person, never having tasted happiness, dies with a bitter soul.

Job 21:26 Together they lie down in the dust, and worms cover them.

Job 21:27 "You see, I know your thoughts and the schemes you plot against me

Job 21:28 because you ask, 'Where is the house of the influential person? Where is the tent where wicked people live?'

Job 21:29 Haven't you asked travelers? But you didn't pay attention to their directions.

Job 21:30 On the day of disaster the wicked person is spared. On the day of [God's] anger he is rescued.

Job 21:31 Who will tell him to his face how he lived? Who will pay him back for what he did?

Job 21:32 He is carried to the cemetery, and his grave is guarded.

Job 21:33 The soil in the creekbed is sweet to him. Everyone follows him. Countless others went before him.

Job 21:34 How can you comfort me with this nonsense when your answers continue to betray me?” Admit You Are Wicked, Job

Job 22:1 Then Eliphaz from Teman replied [to Job],

Job 22:2 “Can a human be of any use to God when even a wise person is only useful to himself?

Job 22:3 Is the Almighty pleased when you are righteous? Does he gain anything when you follow the path of integrity?

Job 22:4 Does God correct you and bring you into a court of law because you fear him?

Job 22:5 “Aren’t you really very wicked? Is there no end to your wrongdoing?

Job 22:6 For no reason you take your brothers’ goods as security for a loan and strip them of their clothes.

Job 22:7 You don’t even give a tired person a drink of water, and you take food away from hungry people.

Job 22:8 A strong person owns the land. A privileged person lives in it.

Job 22:9 You send widows away empty-handed, and the arms of orphans are broken.

Job 22:10 That is why traps are all around you and great fear suddenly grips you.

Job 22:11 [That is why] darkness surrounds you and you cannot see and a flood of water covers you.

Job 22:12 “Isn’t God high above in the heavens? Look how high the highest stars are!

Job 22:13 You ask, ‘What does God know? Can he judge [anything] from behind a dark cloud?

Job 22:14 Thick clouds surround him so that he cannot see. He walks above the clouds.’

Job 22:15 “Are you following the old path that wicked people have taken?

Job 22:16 They are snatched up before their time. A river washes their foundation away.

Job 22:17 They told God, ‘Leave us alone! What can the Almighty do for us?’

Job 22:18 Yet, he filled their homes with good things. (The plan of the wicked is foreign to my way of thinking.)

Job 22:19 The righteous saw it and were glad, and the innocent made fun of them by saying,

Job 22:20 'Indeed, their wealth has been wiped out, and a fire has burned up what [little] they had left.'

Job 22:21 "Be in harmony and at peace with God. In this way you will have prosperity.

Job 22:22 Accept instruction from his mouth, and keep his words in your heart.

Job 22:23 If you return to the Almighty, you will prosper. If you put wrongdoing out of your tent,

Job 22:24 and lay your gold down in the dust, and put your gold from Ophir among the pebbles in the rivers,

Job 22:25 then the Almighty will become your gold and your large supply of silver.

Job 22:26 Then you will be happy with the Almighty and look up toward God.

Job 22:27 You will pray to him, and he will listen to you, and you will keep your vow to him.

Job 22:28 When you promise to do something, you will succeed, and light will shine on your path.

Job 22:29 When others are discouraged, you will say, 'Cheer up!' Then he will save the humble person.

Job 22:30 He will rescue one who is not innocent. That person will be rescued by your purity." Where Can I Find God?

Job 23:1 Then Job replied [to his friends],

Job 23:2 "My complaint is bitter again today. I try hard to control my sighing.

Job 23:3 "If only I knew where I could find God! I would go where he lives.

Job 23:4 I would present [my] case to him. I would have a mouthful of arguments.

Job 23:5 I want to know the words he would use to answer me. I want to understand the things he would say to me.

Job 23:6 Would he sue me and hide behind great legal maneuvers? No, he certainly would press charges against me.

Job 23:7 Then decent people could argue with him, and I would escape my judgment forever.

Job 23:8 However, if I go east, he isn't there. If I go west, I can't find him.

Job 23:9 If I go northward, where he is at work, I can’t observe him. If I turn southward, I can’t see him.

Job 23:10 [I can’t find him] because he knows the road I take. When he tests me, I’ll come out as pure as gold.

Job 23:11 I have followed his footsteps closely. I have stayed on his path and did not turn from it.

Job 23:12 I have not left his commands behind. I have treasured his words in my heart.

Job 23:13 “But God is one of a kind. Who can make him change his mind? He does whatever he wants!

Job 23:14 He will carry out [his] orders concerning me as he does with so many other things.

Job 23:15 That is why I’m terrified of him. When I think of it, I’m afraid of him.

Job 23:16 God has discouraged me. The Almighty has filled me with terror.

Job 23:17 But I am not silenced by the dark or by the thick darkness that covers my face.

Job 24:1 “Why doesn’t the Almighty set aside times [for punishment]? Why don’t those who are close to him see his days [of judgment]?

Job 24:2 “[People] move boundary markers. They steal flocks and tend them as shepherds.

Job 24:3 They drive away the orphan’s donkey. They take the widow’s ox as security for a loan.

Job 24:4 They force needy people off the road. All the poor people of the country go into hiding.

Job 24:5 Like wild donkeys in the desert, poor people go out to do their work, looking for food. The plains provide food for their children.

Job 24:6 They harvest animal food in the field [to feed themselves]. They pick the leftover grapes in the wicked person’s vineyard.

Job 24:7 All night they lie naked without a covering from the cold.

Job 24:8 They are drenched by the rainstorms in the mountains. They hug the rocks because they can’t find shelter.

Job 24:9 “[People] snatch the [nursing] orphan from a breast and take a poor woman’s baby as security for a loan.

Job 24:10 [That is why] the poor go around naked. They are hungry, yet they carry bundles of grain.

Job 24:11 They press out olive oil between rows [of olive trees]. They stomp on grapes in wine vats, yet they are thirsty.

Job 24:12 Those dying in the city groan. Wounded people cry for help, but God pays no attention to their prayers.

Job 24:13 “Such people are among those who rebel against the light. They are not acquainted with its ways. They do not stay on its paths.

Job 24:14 At dawn murderers rise; they kill the poor and needy. At night they become thieves.

Job 24:15 Adulterers watch for twilight. They say, ‘No one is watching us,’ as they cover their faces.

Job 24:16 In the dark, they break into houses, [but] by day they lock themselves in. They do not [even] know the light,

Job 24:17 because morning and deep darkness are the same to them, because they are familiar with the terrors of deep darkness.

Job 24:18 Such people are like scum on the surface of the water. Their property is cursed in the land. People do not travel the road that goes to their vineyards.

Job 24:19 [Just as] drought and heat steal water from snow, so the grave steals people who sin.

Job 24:20 The womb forgets them. Worms feast on them. No one remembers them anymore, and wickedness is snapped like a twig.

Job 24:21 These men take advantage of childless women. These men show no kindness to widows.

Job 24:22 [God] will drag away [these] mighty men by his power. These people may prosper, but they will never feel secure about life.

Job 24:23 [God] may let them feel confident and self-reliant, but his eyes are on their ways.

Job 24:24 [Such people] may be prosperous for a little while, but then they’re gone. They are brought down low and disappear like everything else. They wither like heads of grain.

Job 24:25 “If it isn’t so, who can prove I’m a liar and show that my words are worthless?” No One Is Righteous to God

Job 25:1 Then Bildad from Shuah replied [to Job],

Job 25:2 “Authority and terror belong to God. He establishes peace in his high places.

Job 25:3 Is there any [limit to the] number of his troops? Is there anyone on whom his light does not rise?

Job 25:4 How can a person be righteous to God? How can anyone born of a woman be pure?

Job 25:5 Even the moon isn’t bright, and the stars aren’t pure in his sight.

Job 25:6 How much less pure is a mortal-who is only a maggot- a descendant of Adam-who is only a worm!" My Friends Have Offered Useless Advice

Job 26:1 Then Job replied [to his friends],

Job 26:2 "You have helped the person who has no power and saved the arm that isn't strong.

Job 26:3 You have advised the person who has no wisdom and offered so much assistance.

Job 26:4 To whom have you spoken [these] words, and whose spirit has spoken through you?

Job 26:5 "The souls of the dead tremble beneath the water, and so do the creatures living there.

Job 26:6 Sheol is naked in God's presence, and Abaddon has no clothing.

Job 26:7 "He stretches out his heavens over empty space. He hangs the earth on nothing whatsoever.

Job 26:8 He holds the water in his thick clouds, and the clouds don't [even] split under its [weight].

Job 26:9 He covers his throne by spreading his cloud over it.

Job 26:10 He marks the horizon on the surface of the water at the boundary where light meets dark.

Job 26:11 The pillars of heaven tremble and are astonished when he yells at them.

Job 26:12 With his power he calmed the sea. With his insight he killed Rahab [the sea monster].

Job 26:13 With his wind the sky was cleared. With his hand he stabbed the fleeing snake.

Job 26:14 "These are only glimpses of what he does. We [only] hear a whisper of him! Who can understand the thunder of his power?"

Job 27:1 Job continued his poems and said,

Job 27:2 "I swear an oath by God, the one who has taken away my rights, by the Almighty, who has made my life bitter:

Job 27:3 'As long as there is one breath [left] in me and God's breath fills my nostrils,

Job 27:4 my lips will not say anything wrong, and my tongue will not mumble anything deceitful.'

Job 27:5 It's unthinkable for me to admit that you are right. Until I breathe my last breath, I will never give up my claim of integrity.

Job 27:6 I cling to my righteousness and won't let go. My conscience won't accuse me as long as I live.

Job 27:7 “Let my enemy be [treated] like wicked people. Let anyone who attacks me be [treated] like unrighteous people.

Job 27:8 After all, what hope does the godless person have when he is cut off, when God takes away his life?

Job 27:9 Will God hear his cry when trouble comes upon him?

Job 27:10 Can he be happy with the Almighty? Can he call on God at all times?

Job 27:11 “I will teach you about God’s power. I will not hide what the Almighty has done.

Job 27:12 Certainly, you have all seen it. Why then do you chatter on about such nonsense?

Job 27:13 This is what God has waiting for the wicked person, the inheritance that tyrants receive from the Almighty:

Job 27:14 If he has many children, swords will kill them, and his descendants won’t have enough food.

Job 27:15 Those who survive him will be buried by a plague, and their widows won’t cry [for them].

Job 27:16 Though he collects silver like dust and piles up clothing like dirt,

Job 27:17 righteous people will wear what he piles up, and the innocent will divide the silver [among themselves].

Job 27:18 He builds his house like a moth, like a shack that a watchman makes.

Job 27:19 He may go to bed rich, but he’ll never be rich again. When he opens his eyes, nothing will be left.

Job 27:20 Terrors overtake him like a flood. A windstorm snatches him away at night.

Job 27:21 The east wind carries him away, and he’s gone. It sweeps him from his place.

Job 27:22 It hurls itself at him without mercy. He flees from its power.

Job 27:23 It claps its hands over him. It whistles at him from his own place.

Job 28:1 “There is a place where silver is mined and a place where gold is refined.

Job 28:2 Iron is taken from the ground, and rocks are melted for [their] copper.

Job 28:3 [Humans] bring an end to darkness [there] and search to the limit of the gloomy, pitch-black rock.

Job 28:4 They open up a mineshaft far from civilization, where no one has set foot. [In this shaft] men dangle and swing back and forth.

Job 28:5 “Above the ground food grows, but beneath it the food decays as if [it were burned] by fire.

Job 28:6 That place’s stones are sapphire. Its dust contains gold.

Job 28:7 No bird of prey knows the way to it. No hawk’s eye has ever seen it.

Job 28:8 No proud beast has ever walked on it. No ferocious lion has ever passed over it.

Job 28:9 “Humans exert their power on the flinty rocks and overturn mountains at their base.

Job 28:10 They cut out mineshafts in the rocks. Their eyes see every precious thing.

Job 28:11 They explore the sources of rivers so that they bring hidden treasures to light.

Job 28:12 “Where can wisdom be found? Where does understanding live?

Job 28:13 No mortal knows where it is. It cannot be found in this world of the living.

Job 28:14 The deep ocean says, ‘It isn’t in me.’ The sea says, ‘It isn’t with me.’

Job 28:15 You cannot obtain it with solid gold or buy it for any amount of silver.

Job 28:16 It can’t be bought with the gold from Ophir or with precious onyx or sapphire.

Job 28:17 Neither gold nor glass can equal its value. Nor can gold ornaments, jewels, or crystal

Job 28:18 be exchanged for it. Wisdom is more valuable than gems.

Job 28:19 Topaz from Ethiopia cannot equal its value. It cannot be bought for [any amount of] pure gold.

Job 28:20 “Where does wisdom come from? Where does understanding live?

Job 28:21 It is hidden from the eyes of every living being, hidden even from the birds in the air.

Job 28:22 Decay and Death say, ‘We’ve heard a rumor about it.’

Job 28:23 “God understands the way to it. He knows where it lives

Job 28:24 because he can see to the ends of the earth and observe everything under heaven.

Job 28:25 When he gave the wind its force and measured the water [in the sea],

Job 28:26 when he made rules for the rain and set paths for the thunderstorms, Job 28:27 then he saw it and announced it. He confirmed it and examined it.

Job 28:28 So he told humans, 'The fear of the Lord is wisdom! To stay away from evil is understanding.'"

Job 29:1 Job continued his poems and said,

Job 29:2 "If only my life could be like it used to be, in the days when God watched over me,

Job 29:3 when he made his lamp shine on my head, when I walked through the dark in his light.

Job 29:4 If only I were in the prime of my life [again], when God was an adviser in my tent.

Job 29:5 When the Almighty was still with me and my children were around me,

Job 29:6 my steps were bathed in buttermilk, and the rocks poured streams of olive oil on me.

Job 29:7 When I went through the city gate and took my seat in the town square,

Job 29:8 young men saw me and kept out of sight. Old men stood up straight out of respect [for me].

Job 29:9 Princes held back [their] words and put their hands over their mouths.

Job 29:10 The voices of nobles were hushed, and their tongues stuck to the roofs of their mouths.

Job 29:11 "[Any] ears that heard me blessed me. [Any] eyes that saw me spoke well of me,

Job 29:12 because I rescued the poor who called [for help] and the orphans who had no one to help them.

Job 29:13 I received a blessing from the dying. I made the widow's heart sing for joy.

Job 29:14 I put on righteousness, and it was my clothing. I practiced justice, and it was my robe and my turban.

Job 29:15 I was eyes for the blind person. I was feet for the lame person.

Job 29:16 I was father to the needy. I carefully investigated cases brought by strangers.

Job 29:17 I broke the teeth of the wicked person and made him drop the prey out of his mouth.

Job 29:18 "I thought, 'I may die in my own house, but I will make my days as numerous as the sand.

Job 29:19 My roots will grow toward the water, and dew will lie on my branches all night.

Job 29:20 My power will be fresh [every day], and the bow in my hand will remain new.’

Job 29:21 “People listened to me eagerly, quietly waiting for my advice.

Job 29:22 After I had spoken, they wouldn’t speak again. After all, my words fell gently on them.

Job 29:23 They were as eager to hear me as they were for rain. They opened their mouths wide as if waiting for a spring shower.

Job 29:24 When I smiled at them, they could hardly believe it, but the expression on my face did not change.

Job 29:25 I decided how they should live. I sat as their leader. I lived like a king among his troops, like one who comforts mourners.

Job 30:1 “But now those who are younger than I am laugh at me. I didn’t think their fathers were fit to sit with the dogs of my flock.

Job 30:2 Of what use to me was the strength of their hands? Their strength is gone.

Job 30:3 Shriveled up from need and hunger, they gnaw at the dry and barren ground during the night.

Job 30:4 They pick saltwort from the underbrush, and the roots of the broom plant are their food.

Job 30:5 They are driven from the community. People shout at them in the same way they shout at thieves.

Job 30:6 They have to live in dry riverbeds, in holes in the ground, and among rocks.

Job 30:7 They howl in bushes and huddle together under thornbushes.

Job 30:8 Godless fools and worthless people are forced out of the land with whips.

Job 30:9 “And now they make fun of me with songs. I have become a joke to them.

Job 30:10 Since they consider me disgusting, they keep their distance from me and don’t hesitate to spit in my face.

Job 30:11 Because God has untied my cord and has made me suffer, they are no longer restrained in my presence.

Job 30:12 They have attacked me on my right side like a mob. They trip my feet and then prepare ways to destroy me.

Job 30:13 Yes, they remove all traces of my path in order to destroy me. No one is there to help me against them.

Job 30:14 They come through a wide hole [in the wall]. They crawl through the ruins.

Job 30:15 Terrors are directed toward me. They blow away my dignity like the wind. My prosperity vanishes like a cloud.

Job 30:16 “Now my life is pouring out of me. Days of suffering seize me.

Job 30:17 At night God pierces my bones. My body doesn’t rest.

Job 30:18 With great strength he grabs my clothes. He seizes me by the collar of my robe.

Job 30:19 He throws me into the dirt so that I become like dust and ashes.

Job 30:20 “I call to you for help, but you don’t answer me. I stand up, but you just look at me.

Job 30:21 You have begun to treat me cruelly. With your mighty hand you assault me.

Job 30:22 You pick me up and let the wind carry me away. You toss me around with a storm.

Job 30:23 I know you will lead me to death, to the dwelling place appointed for all living beings.

Job 30:24 “But God doesn’t stretch out his hand against one who is ruined when that person calls for help in his disaster.

Job 30:25 Didn’t I cry for the person whose days were difficult? Didn’t my soul grieve for the poor?

Job 30:26 When I waited for good, evil came. When I looked for light, darkness came.

Job 30:27 My insides are churning and won’t calm down. Days of misery are ahead of me.

Job 30:28 I walk in the dark without the sun. I stand up in public and call for help.

Job 30:29 I’m a brother to jackals and a companion of ostriches.

Job 30:30 My skin turns dark and peels. My body burns with fever.

Job 30:31 So my lyre is used for mourning and my flute for loud weeping.

Job 31:1 “I have made an agreement with my eyes. Then how can I look with lust at a virgin?

Job 31:2 What would God above do [to me]? What would be my inheritance from the Almighty on high?

Job 31:3 Aren’t there catastrophes for wicked people and disasters for those who do wrong?

Job 31:4 Doesn’t he see my ways and count all my steps?

Job 31:5 “If I have walked with lies or my feet have run after deception, Job 31:6 [then] let God weigh me on honest scales, and he will know I have integrity.

Job 31:7 “If my steps have left the [proper] path, or my heart has followed [the desire of] my eyes, or my hands are stained [with sin],

Job 31:8 [then] let someone else eat what I have planted, and let my crops be uprooted.

Job 31:9 “If I have been seduced by a woman or I have secretly waited near my neighbor’s door,

Job 31:10 [then] let my wife grind for another [man], and let other [men] kneel over her.

Job 31:11 That would be a scandal, and that would be a criminal offense.

Job 31:12 It would be a fire that burns even in Abaddon. It would uproot my entire harvest.

Job 31:13 “If I have abused the rights of my servants, male or female, when they have disagreed with me,

Job 31:14 then what could I do if God rises up? If he examines me, how could I answer him?

Job 31:15 Didn’t he who made me in my mother’s belly make them? Didn’t the same God form us in the womb?

Job 31:16 “If I have refused the requests of the poor or made a widow’s eyes stop [looking for help],

Job 31:17 or have eaten my food alone without letting the orphan eat any of it….

Job 31:18 (From my youth the orphan grew up with me as though I were his father, and from my birth I treated the widow kindly.)

Job 31:19 If I have seen anyone die because he had no clothes or a poor person going naked….

Job 31:20 (If his body didn’t bless me, or the wool from my sheep didn’t keep him warm….)

Job 31:21 If I have shaken my fist at an orphan because I knew that others would back me up in court,

Job 31:22 [then] let my shoulder fall out of its socket, and let my arm be broken at the elbow.

Job 31:23 “A disaster from God terrifies me. In the presence of his majesty I can do nothing.

Job 31:24 “If I put my confidence in gold or said to fine gold, ‘I trust you’….

Job 31:25 If I enjoyed being very rich because my hand had found great [wealth]….

Job 31:26 If I saw the light shine or the moon move along in its splendor

Job 31:27 so that my heart was secretly tempted, and I threw them a kiss with my hand,

Job 31:28 then that, too, would be a criminal offense, and I would have denied God above.

Job 31:29 “If I enjoyed the ruin of my enemy or celebrated when harm came to him

Job 31:30 (even though I didn’t speak sinfully by calling down a curse on his life)....

Job 31:31 “If the people who were in my tent had said, ‘We wish we had never filled [our stomachs] with his food’....

Job 31:32 (The visitor never spent the night outside, because I opened my door to the traveler.)

Job 31:33 “If I have covered my disobedience like Adam and kept my sin to myself,

Job 31:34 because I dreaded the large, noisy crowd and because the contempt of the [local] mobs terrified me so that I kept quiet and didn’t go outside....

Job 31:35 “If only I had someone who would listen to me! Look, here is my signature! Let the Almighty answer me. Let the prosecutor write [his complaint] on a scroll.

Job 31:36 I would certainly carry it on my shoulder and place it on my head like a crown.

Job 31:37 I would tell him the number of my steps and approach him like a prince.

Job 31:38 “If my land has cried out against me, and its furrows have wept....

Job 31:39 If I have eaten its produce without paying for it and made its owners breathe their last,

Job 31:40 [then] let it grow thistles instead of wheat, and foul-smelling weeds instead of barley.” This is the end of Job’s words.

Job 32:1 These three men stopped answering Job because Job thought he was righteous.

Job 32:2 Then Elihu, son of Barachel, a descendant of Buz from the family of Ram, became very angry with Job because Job thought he was more righteous than God.

Job 32:3 Elihu was also very angry with Job’s three friends because they had found no answer. They made it look as if God were wrong.

Job 32:4 Elihu waited as they spoke to Job because they were older than he was.

Job 32:5 When Elihu saw that the three men had no further responses, he became very angry. The Reason for Elihu’s Discourse Job 32:6 So Elihu, son of Barachel, the descendant of Buz, replied [to Job], “I am young, and you are old. That’s why I refrained from speaking and was afraid to tell you what I know.

Job 32:7 I thought, ‘Age should speak, and experience should teach wisdom.’

Job 32:8 However, there is in humans a Spirit, the breath of the Almighty, that gives them understanding.

Job 32:9 People do not become wise merely because they live long. They don’t understand what justice is merely because they’re old.

Job 32:10 “That is why I say, ‘Listen to me! Let me tell you what I know.’

Job 32:11 I waited for you to speak. I listened for you to share your understanding until you could find the right words.

Job 32:12 I’ve paid close attention to you, but none of you refuted Job. None of you has an answer to what he says.

Job 32:13 So don’t say, ‘We’ve found wisdom. Let God, not humans, defeat him.’

Job 32:14 Job did not choose his words to refute me, so I won’t answer him with your speeches.

Job 32:15 “Job’s friends have been overwhelmed and don’t have any more answers. They don’t have another word to say.

Job 32:16 Should I wait because they don’t speak, because they stand there and don’t have any more answers?

Job 32:17 “I’ll give my answer. I’ll tell you what I know.

Job 32:18 I’m full of words. The Spirit within me forces me [to speak].

Job 32:19 My belly is like [a bottle of] wine that has not been opened, like new wineskins that are ready to burst.

Job 32:20 I must speak to get relief. I must open my mouth and answer.

Job 32:21 I won’t be partial toward anyone or flatter anyone.

Job 32:22 I don’t know how to flatter. If I did, my maker would soon carry me away.

Job 33:1 “Please, Job, listen to my words and consider everything I say.

Job 33:2 I’ve opened my mouth. The words are on the tip of my tongue.

Job 33:3 My words are straight from the heart, and I sincerely speak the knowledge that is on my lips.

Job 33:4 “God’s Spirit has made me. The breath of the Almighty gives me life.

Job 33:5 Answer me if you can. Present your case to me, and take your stand.

Job 33:6 Indeed, I stand in front of God as you do. I, too, was formed from a piece of clay.

Job 33:7 You certainly don’t need to be terrified of me. I won’t put too much pressure on you.

Job 33:8 “But you spoke directly to me, and I listened to your words.

Job 33:9 [You said,] ‘I’m pure-without any rebellious acts [against God]. I’m clean; I have no sin.

Job 33:10 God is only looking for an excuse to attack me. He considers me his enemy.

Job 33:11 He puts my feet in the stocks and watches all my paths.’

Job 33:12 You aren’t right about this! I’ve got an answer for you: God is greater than any mortal.

Job 33:13 Why do you quarrel with him since he doesn’t answer any questions?

Job 33:14 “God speaks in one way, even in two ways without people noticing it:

Job 33:15 In a dream, a prophetic vision at night, when people fall into a deep sleep, when they sleep on their beds,

Job 33:16 he opens people’s ears and terrifies them with warnings.

Job 33:17 [He warns them] to turn away from doing [wrong] and to stop being arrogant.

Job 33:18 He keeps their souls from the pit and their lives from crossing the River [of Death].

Job 33:19 In pain on their sickbeds, they are disciplined with endless aching in their bones

Job 33:20 so that their whole being hates food and they lose their appetite for a delicious meal.

Job 33:21 Their flesh becomes so thin that it can’t be seen. Their bones, not seen before, will be exposed.

Job 33:22 Their souls approach the pit. Their lives come close to those already dead.

Job 33:23 “If they have a messenger for them, a spokesman, one in a thousand, to tell people what is right for them,

Job 33:24 then he will have pity on them and say, ‘Free them from going into the pit. I have found a ransom.’

Job 33:25 Then their flesh will become softer than a child’s. They will go back to the days of their youth.

Job 33:26 They will pray to God, who will be pleased with them. They will see God's face and shout for joy as he restores their righteousness.

Job 33:27 Each one sings in front of other people and says, 'I sinned and did wrong instead of what was right, and it did me no good.

Job 33:28 The messenger has freed my soul from going into the pit, and my life will see the light.'

Job 33:29 Truly, God does all this two or three times with people

Job 33:30 to turn their souls away from the pit and to enlighten them with the light of life.

Job 33:31 "Pay attention, Job! Listen to me! Keep quiet, and let me speak.

Job 33:32 If you have a response, answer me. Speak, because I'd be happy if you were right.

Job 33:33 If not, you listen to me. Keep quiet, and I'll teach you wisdom."

Job 34:1 Elihu continued to speak [to Job and his friends],

Job 34:2 "Listen to my words, you wise men. Open your ears to me, you intelligent men.

Job 34:3 The ear tests words like the tongue tastes food.

Job 34:4 Let's decide for ourselves what is right and agree among ourselves as to what is good,

Job 34:5 because Job has said, 'I'm righteous, but God has taken away my rights.

Job 34:6 I'm considered a liar in spite of my rights. I've been wounded by a deadly arrow, though I haven't been disobedient.'

Job 34:7 What person is like Job, who drinks scorn like water,

Job 34:8 who travels with troublemakers and associates with evil people?

Job 34:9 He says, 'It doesn't do any good to try to please God.'

Job 34:10 "You people who have understanding, listen to me. It is unthinkable that God would ever do evil or that the Almighty would ever do wicked things.

Job 34:11 God will repay humanity for what it has done and will give each person what he deserves.

Job 34:12 Certainly, God will never do anything evil, and the Almighty will never pervert justice.

Job 34:13 Who put him in charge of the earth? Who appointed him to be over the whole world?

Job 34:14 If he thought only of himself and withdrew his Spirit and his breath, Job 34:15 all living beings would die together, and humanity would return to dust.

Job 34:16 “If you understand, listen to this. Open your ears to my words!

Job 34:17 Should anyone who hates justice be allowed to govern? Will you condemn the one who is righteous and mighty?

Job 34:18 Should anyone [even] say to a king, ‘You good-for-nothing scoundrel!’ or to nobles, ‘You wicked people!’

Job 34:19 The one who is righteous and mighty does not grant special favors to princes or prefer important people over poor people because his hands made them all.

Job 34:20 They die suddenly in the middle of the night. People have seizures and pass away. Mighty people are taken away but not by human hands.

Job 34:21 God’s eyes are on a person’s ways. He sees all his steps.

Job 34:22 There’s no darkness or deep shadow where troublemakers can hide.

Job 34:23 He doesn’t have to set a time for a person in order to bring him to divine judgment.

Job 34:24 He breaks mighty people into pieces without examining them and puts others in their places.

Job 34:25 He knows what they do, so he overthrows them at night, and they’re crushed.

Job 34:26 In return for their evil, he strikes them in public,

Job 34:27 because they turned away from following him and didn’t consider any of his ways.

Job 34:28 They forced the poor to cry out to him, and he hears the cry of those who suffer.

Job 34:29 If he keeps quiet, who can condemn him? If he hides his face, who can see him whether it is a nation or a single person?

Job 34:30 [He does this] so that godless people cannot rule and so that they cannot trap people.

Job 34:31 “But suppose such a person says to God, ‘I am guilty, I will stop my immoral behavior.

Job 34:32 Teach me what I cannot see. If I’ve done wrong, I won’t do it again.’

Job 34:33 Should God reward you on your own terms since you have rejected his? You must choose, not I. Tell me what you know. Speak!

Job 34:34 “People of understanding, the wise people who listen to me, will say, Job 34:35 ‘Job speaks without knowledge. His words show no insight.’

Job 34:36 “My Father, let Job be thoroughly tested for giving answers like wicked people do.

Job 34:37 He adds disobedience to his sin. He claps his hands to insult us. He multiplies his words against God.”

Job 35:1 Elihu continued to speak [to Job and his friends],

Job 35:2 “Do you think this is right when you say, ‘My case is more just than God’s,’

Job 35:3 when you ask, ‘What benefit is it to you?’ and, ‘What would I gain by sinning?’

Job 35:4 I will answer you and your friends.

Job 35:5 “Look at the heavens and see. Observe the clouds high above you.

Job 35:6 If you’ve sinned, what effect can you have on God? If you’ve done many wrongs, what can you do to him?

Job 35:7 If you’re righteous, what can you give him, or what can he get from you?

Job 35:8 Your wickedness affects only someone like yourself. Your righteousness affects only the descendants of Adam.

Job 35:9 The weight of oppression makes them cry out. The power of mighty people makes them call for help.

Job 35:10 But no one asks, ‘Where is God, my Creator, who inspires songs in the night,

Job 35:11 who teaches us more than he teaches the animals of the earth, who makes us wiser than the birds in the sky?’

Job 35:12 Then they cry out, but he doesn’t answer them because of the arrogance of [those] evil people.

Job 35:13 “Surely, God doesn’t listen to idle complaints. The Almighty doesn’t even pay attention to them.

Job 35:14 Although you say that you pay attention to him, your case is in front of him, but you’ll have to wait for him.

Job 35:15 And now [you say] that his anger doesn’t punish [anyone] and he isn’t too concerned about evil.

Job 35:16 Job opens his mouth for no good reason and talks a lot without having any knowledge.”

Job 36:1 Elihu continued to speak [to Job],

Job 36:2 “Be patient with me a little longer, and I will show you that there is more to be said in God’s defense.

Job 36:3 I will get my knowledge from far away and prove that my Creator is fair.

Job 36:4 Certainly, my words are not lies. The one who knows everything is [speaking] with you.

Job 36:5 “Certainly, God is mighty. He doesn’t despise anyone. He is mighty and brave.

Job 36:6 He doesn’t allow the wicked person to live. He grants justice to those who are oppressed.

Job 36:7 He doesn’t take his eyes off righteous people. He seats them on thrones with kings to honor them forever.

Job 36:8 However, if righteous people are bound in chains and tangled in ropes of misery,

Job 36:9 he tells them what they’ve done wrong and that they’ve behaved arrogantly.

Job 36:10 He makes them listen to his warning and orders them to turn away from wrong.

Job 36:11 “If righteous people listen and serve [him], they will live out their days in prosperity and their years in comfort.

Job 36:12 But if they don’t listen, they will cross the River [of Death] and die like those who have no knowledge.

Job 36:13 But those who have godless hearts remain angry. They don’t even call for help when he chains them up.

Job 36:14 They die while they’re young, or they live on as male prostitutes in the temples of idols.

Job 36:15 He rescues suffering people through their suffering, and he opens their ears through distress.

Job 36:16 “Yes, he lured you away from the jaws of trouble into an open area where you were not restrained, and your table was covered with rich foods.

Job 36:17 But you are given the judgment evil people deserve. A fair judgment will be upheld.

Job 36:18 Be careful that you are not led astray with riches. Don’t let a large bribe turn you [to evil ways].

Job 36:19 Will your riches save you from having to suffer? Will all your mighty strength help you?

Job 36:20 Don’t look forward to the night, when people disappear from their places.

Job 36:21 Be careful! Don’t turn to evil, because you have chosen evil instead of suffering.

Job 36:22 “God does great things by his power. Is there any teacher like him?

Job 36:23 Who can tell him which way he should go? Who can say to him, ‘You did wrong’?

Job 36:24 Remember that you should praise his work. People have sung about it.

Job 36:25 Every person has seen it. Mortals have looked at it from a distance.

Job 36:26 “Certainly, God is so great that he is beyond our understanding. The number of his years cannot be counted.

Job 36:27 He collects drops of water. He distills rain from his mist,

Job 36:28 which then drips from the clouds. It pours down on many people.

Job 36:29 Can anyone really understand how clouds spread out or how he thunders from his dwelling place?

Job 36:30 Look, he scatters his flashes of lightning around him and covers the depths of the sea.

Job 36:31 This is how he uses the rains to provide for people and to give them more than enough food.

Job 36:32 He fills his hands with lightning and orders it to hit the target.

Job 36:33 The thunder announces his coming. The storm announces his angry wrath.

Job 37:1 “My heart pounds because of this and jumps out of its place.

Job 37:2 Listen! Listen to the roar of God’s voice, to the rumbling that comes from his mouth.

Job 37:3 He flashes his lightning everywhere under heaven. His light flashes to the ends of the earth.

Job 37:4 It is followed by the roar of his voice. He thunders with his majestic voice. He doesn’t hold the lightning back when his thunder is heard.

Job 37:5 God’s voice thunders in miraculous ways. It does great things that we cannot understand.

Job 37:6 “He says to the snow, ‘Fall to the ground,’ and to the pouring rain, ‘Rain harder!’

Job 37:7 He makes it impossible to do anything so that people will recognize his work.

Job 37:8 Animals go into their dens and stay in their lairs.

Job 37:9 A storm comes out of its chamber. It is cold because of the strong winds.

Job 37:10 God’s breath produces ice, and the seas freeze over.

Job 37:11 Yes, he loads the thick clouds with moisture and scatters his lightning from the clouds.

Job 37:12 He guides the clouds as they churn round and round over the face of the inhabited earth to do everything he orders them.

Job 37:13 Whether for discipline, or for [the good of] his earth, or out of mercy, he makes the storm appear.

Job 37:14 “Open your ears to this, Job. Stop and consider God’s miracles.

Job 37:15 Do you know how God controls them and makes the lightning flash from his clouds?

Job 37:16 Do you know how the clouds drift (these are the miracles of the one who knows everything),

Job 37:17 you whose clothes are hot and sweaty, when the earth is calm under a south wind?

Job 37:18 Can you stretch out the skies with him and make them as firm as a mirror made of metal?

Job 37:19 Teach us what we should say to him. We are unable to prepare [a case] because of darkness.

Job 37:20 Should he be told that I want to speak? Can a person speak when he is confused?

Job 37:21 People can’t look at the sun when it’s bright among the clouds or after the wind has blown and cleared those clouds away.

Job 37:22 A golden light comes from the north. A terrifying majesty is around God.

Job 37:23 The Almighty, whom we can’t reach, is great in power and judgment, has more than enough righteousness, and does not oppress.

Job 37:24 That is why people should fear him. He does not respect those who think they’re wise.” Who Is Able to Challenge Me?

Job 38:1 Then the LORD answered Job out of the storm.

Job 38:2 “Who is this that belittles my advice with words that do not show any knowledge [about it]?

Job 38:3 Brace yourself like a man! I will ask you, and you will teach me.

Job 38:4 “Where were you when I laid the foundation of the earth? Tell me if you have [such] insight.

Job 38:5 Who determined its dimensions? Certainly, you know! Who stretched a measuring line over it?

Job 38:6 On what were its footings sunk? Who laid its cornerstone

Job 38:7 when the morning stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted for joy?

Job 38:8 “Who shut the sea behind gates when it burst through and came out of the womb, Job 38:9 when I clothed it with clouds and wrapped it up in dark clouds,

Job 38:10 when I set a limit for it and put up bars and gates,

Job 38:11 when I said, 'You may come this far but no farther. Here your proud waves will stop'?

Job 38:12 "Have you ever given orders to the morning or assigned a place for the dawn

Job 38:13 so that it could grab the earth by its edges and shake wicked people out of it?

Job 38:14 The earth changes like clay stamped by a seal, and [parts of it] stand out like [folds in] clothing.

Job 38:15 Wicked people are deprived of their light, and an arm raised [in victory] is broken.

Job 38:16 Have you gone to the springs in the sea or walked through the valleys of the ocean depths?

Job 38:17 Have the gateways to death been revealed to you, or have you seen the gateways to total darkness?

Job 38:18 Have you [even] considered how wide the earth is? Tell me, if you know all of this!

Job 38:19 "What is the way to the place where light lives? Where is the home of darkness

Job 38:20 so that you may lead it to its territory, so that you may know the path to its home?

Job 38:21 You must know because you were born then and have lived such a long time!

Job 38:22 Have you been to the warehouses where snow is stored or seen the warehouses for hail

Job 38:23 that I have stored up for the time of trouble, for the day of battle and war?

Job 38:24 Which is the way to the place where light is scattered and the east wind is spread across the earth?

Job 38:25 "Who made a channel for the flooding rains and a path for the thunderstorms

Job 38:26 to bring rain on a land where no one lives, on a desert where there are no humans,

Job 38:27 to saturate the desolate wasteland in order to make it sprout with grass?

Job 38:28 Does the rain have a father? Who gave birth to the dewdrops?

Job 38:29 From whose womb came the ice, and who has given birth to the frost in the air?

Job 38:30 The water hardens like a stone, and the surface of the ocean freezes over.

Job 38:31 “Can you connect the chains of the [constellation] Pleiades or untie the ropes of Orion?

Job 38:32 Can you bring out the constellations at the right time or guide Ursa Major with its cubs?

Job 38:33 Do you know the laws of the sky or make them rule the earth?

Job 38:34 Can you call to the clouds and have a flood of water cover you?

Job 38:35 Can you send lightning flashes so that they may go and say to you, ‘Here we are’?

Job 38:36 Who put wisdom in the heart or gave understanding to the mind?

Job 38:37 Who is wise enough to count the clouds or pour out the water jars of heaven

Job 38:38 when the dirt hardens into clumps and the soil clings together?

Job 38:39 “Can you hunt prey for the lioness and satisfy the hunger of her cubs

Job 38:40 as they crouch in their dens and lie ready to ambush from their lairs?

Job 38:41 “Who provides food for the crow when its young ones cry to God and wander around in need of food?

Job 39:1 “Do you know the time when the mountain goats give birth? Do you watch the does when they are in labor?

Job 39:2 Can you count the months they are pregnant or know the time when they’ll give birth?

Job 39:3 They kneel down to give birth and deliver their young. Then the pain of giving birth is over.

Job 39:4 Their young are healthy and grow up in the wild. They leave and don’t come back.

Job 39:5 “Who lets the wild donkey go free? Who unties the ropes of the wild donkey?

Job 39:6 I gave it the desert to live in and the salt flats as its dwelling place.

Job 39:7 It laughs at the noise of the city and doesn’t [even] listen to the shouting of its master.

Job 39:8 It explores the mountains for its pasture and looks for anything green.

Job 39:9 “Will the wild ox agree to serve you, or will it stay at night beside your feeding trough?

Job 39:10 Can you guide a wild ox in a furrow, or will it plow the valleys behind you?

Job 39:11 Can you trust it just because it’s so strong or leave your labor to it?

Job 39:12 Can you rely on it to bring your grain back and take it to your threshing floor?

Job 39:13 “Does the ostrich flap its wings in joy, or do its wings lack feathers?

Job 39:14 It lays its eggs on the ground and warms them in the dust.

Job 39:15 It forgets that a foot may crush them or a wild animal may trample them.

Job 39:16 It acts harshly toward its young as if they weren’t its own. It is not afraid that its work is for nothing

Job 39:17 because God has deprived it of wisdom and did not give it any understanding.

Job 39:18 It laughs at the horse and its rider when it gets up to flee.

Job 39:19 “Can you give strength to a horse or dress its neck with a flowing mane?

Job 39:20 Can you make it leap like a locust, when its snorting causes terror?

Job 39:21 It paws in strength and finds joy in its power. It charges into battle.

Job 39:22 It laughs at fear, is afraid of nothing, and doesn’t back away from swords.

Job 39:23 A quiver of arrows rattles on it along with the flashing spear and javelin.

Job 39:24 Anxious and excited, the horse eats up the ground and doesn’t trust the sound of the ram’s horn.

Job 39:25 As often as the horn sounds, the horse says, ‘Aha!’ and it smells the battle far away- the thundering [orders] of the captains and the battle cries.

Job 39:26 “Does your understanding make a bird of prey fly and spread its wings toward the south?

Job 39:27 Is it by your order that the eagle flies high and makes its nest on the heights?

Job 39:28 It perches for the night on a cliff. Its fortress is on a jagged peak.

Job 39:29 From there it seeks food, and its eyes see it from far away.

Job 39:30 Its young ones feed on blood. It is found wherever there are dead bodies.”

Job 40:1 The LORD responded to Job,

Job 40:2 “Will the person who finds fault with the Almighty correct him? Will the person who argues with God answer him?”

Job 40:3 Job answered the LORD,

Job 40:4 “I’m so insignificant. How can I answer you? I will put my hand over my mouth.

Job 40:5 I spoke once, but I can’t answer- twice, but not again.” Can You Be Like Me, Job?

Job 40:6 Then the LORD responded to Job out of a storm,

Job 40:7 “Brace yourself like a man! I will ask you, and you will teach me.

Job 40:8 “Would you undo my justice? Would you condemn me so that you can be righteous?

Job 40:9 Do you have power like God’s? Can you thunder with a voice like his?

Job 40:10 Then dress yourself in majesty and dignity. Clothe yourself in splendor and glory.

Job 40:11 Unleash your outbursts of anger. Look at all who are arrogant, and put them down.

Job 40:12 Look at all who are arrogant, and humble them. Crush wicked people wherever they are.

Job 40:13 Hide them completely in the dust, and cover their faces in the hidden place.

Job 40:14 Then even I will praise you because your right hand can save you.

Job 40:15 “Look at Behemoth, which I made along with you. It eats grass as cattle do.

Job 40:16 Look at the strength in its back muscles, the power in its stomach muscles.

Job 40:17 It makes its tail stiff like a cedar. The ligaments of its thighs are intertwined.

Job 40:18 Its bones are bronze tubes. They are like iron bars.

Job 40:19 Behemoth is the first of God’s conquests. Its maker approaches it with his sword.

Job 40:20 The hills bring it food, and all the wild animals play there.

Job 40:21 It lies down under the lotus plants in a hiding place among reeds and swamps.

Job 40:22 Lotus plants provide it with cover. Poplars by the stream surround it.

Job 40:23 Though the river flows powerfully against it, it's not alarmed. It's confident [even] when the Jordan rushes against its mouth.

Job 40:24 Can anyone blind its eyes or pierce its nose with snares?

Job 41:1 "Can you pull Leviathan out [of the water] with a fishhook or tie its tongue down with a rope?

Job 41:2 Can you put a ring through its nose or pierce its jaw with a hook?

Job 41:3 Will it plead with you for mercy or speak tenderly to you?

Job 41:4 Will it make an agreement with you so that you can take it as your permanent slave?

Job 41:5 Can you play with it like a bird or keep it on a leash for your girls?

Job 41:6 Will traders bargain over it and divide it among the merchants?

Job 41:7 Can you fill its hide with harpoons or its head with fishing spears?

Job 41:8 Lay your hand on it. Think of the struggle! Don't do it again!

Job 41:9 Certainly, any hope [of defeating it] is a false hope. Doesn't the sight of it overwhelm you?

Job 41:10 No one is brave enough to provoke Leviathan. Then who can stand in front of me?

Job 41:11 Who can confront me that I should repay him? Everything under heaven belongs to me!

Job 41:12 "I will not be silent about Leviathan's limbs, its strength, or its graceful form.

Job 41:13 Who can skin its hide? Who can approach it with a harness?

Job 41:14 Who can open its closed mouth? Its teeth are surrounded by terror.

Job 41:15 Its back has rows of scales that are tightly sealed.

Job 41:16 One is so close to the other that there is no space between them.

Job 41:17 Each is joined to the other. They are locked together and inseparable.

Job 41:18 When Leviathan sneezes, it gives out a flash of light. Its eyes are like the first rays of the dawn.

Job 41:19 Flames shoot from its mouth. Sparks of fire fly from it.

Job 41:20 Smoke comes from its nostrils like a boiling pot heated over brushwood.

Job 41:21 Its breath sets coals on fire, and a flame pours from its mouth.

Job 41:22 Strength resides in its neck, and power dances in front of it.

Job 41:23 The folds of its flesh stick to each other. They are solid and cannot be moved.

Job 41:24 Its chest is solid like a rock, solid like a millstone.

Job 41:25 “The mighty are afraid when Leviathan rises. Broken down, they draw back.

Job 41:26 A sword may strike it but not pierce it. Neither will a spear, lance, or dart.

Job 41:27 It considers iron to be like straw and bronze to be like rotten wood.

Job 41:28 An arrow won’t make it run away. Stones from a sling turn to dust against it.

Job 41:29 It considers clubs to be like stubble, and it laughs at a rattling javelin.

Job 41:30 Its underside is like sharp pieces of broken pottery. It stretches out like a threshing sledge on the mud.

Job 41:31 It makes the deep sea boil like a pot. It stirs up the ocean like a boiling kettle.

Job 41:32 It leaves a shining path behind it so that the sea appears to have silvery hair.

Job 41:33 Nothing on land can compare to it. It was made fearless.

Job 41:34 It looks down on all high things. It is king of everyone who is arrogant.” I Admit That I Was Wrong

Job 42:1 Then Job answered the LORD,

Job 42:2 “I know that you can do everything and that your plans are unstoppable.

Job 42:3 “[You said,] ‘Who is this that belittles my advice without having any knowledge [about it]?’ Yes, I have stated things I didn’t understand, things too mysterious for me to know.

Job 42:4 “[You said,] ‘Listen now, and I will speak. I will ask you, and you will teach me.’

Job 42:5 I had heard about you with my own ears, but now I have seen you with my own eyes.

Job 42:6 That is why I take back what I said, and I sit in dust and ashes to show that I am sorry.”

Job 42:7 After the LORD had said those things to Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz from Teman, “I’m very angry with you and your two friends because you didn’t speak what is right about me as my servant Job has done.

Job 42:8 So take seven young bulls and seven rams. Go to my servant Job, and make a burnt offering for yourselves. My servant Job will pray for you. Then I will accept his prayer not to treat you as godless fools. After all, you didn’t speak what is right about me as my servant Job has done.”

Job 42:9 Then Eliphaz of Teman, Bildad of Shuah, and Zophar of Naama went and did what the LORD had told them to do. And the LORD accepted Job’s prayer.

Job 42:10 After Job prayed for his friends, the LORD restored Job’s prosperity and gave him twice as much [as he had before].

Job 42:11 Then all his brothers and sisters and everyone who had previously known him came to him. They ate with him at his house, sympathized with him, and comforted him for all the evil the LORD had brought to him. Each one gave him some money and a gold ring.

Job 42:12 The LORD blessed the latter years of Job’s life more than the earlier years. He had 14,000 sheep and goats, 6,000 camels, 2,000 oxen, and 1,000 donkeys.

Job 42:13 He also had seven sons and three daughters.

Job 42:14 He named the first [daughter] Jemimah, the second Cassia, and the third Keren Happuch.

Job 42:15 Nowhere in the whole country could be found women who were as beautiful as Job’s daughters. Their father gave them and their brothers an inheritance.

Job 42:16 Job lived 140 years after this. He saw his children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Job 42:17 Then at a very old age, Job died.

Psalms

1:1 Blessed is the person who does not follow the advice of wicked people, take the path of sinners, or join the company of mockers.

Psalms 1:2 Rather, he delights in the teachings of the LORD and reflects on his teachings day and night.

Psalms 1:3 He is like a tree planted beside streams- a tree that produces fruit in season and whose leaves do not wither. He succeeds in everything he does.

Psalms 1:4 Wicked people are not like that. Instead, they are like husks that the wind blows away.

Psalms 1:5 That is why wicked people will not be able to stand in the judgment and sinners will not be able to stand where righteous people gather.

Psalms 1:6 The LORD knows the way of righteous people, but the way of wicked people will end.

Psalms 2:1 Why do the nations gather together? Why do their people devise useless plots?

Psalms 2:2 Kings take their stands. Rulers make plans together against the LORD and against his Messiah by saying,

Psalms 2:3 “Let’s break apart their chains and shake off their ropes.”

Psalms 2:4 The one enthroned in heaven laughs. The Lord makes fun of them.

Psalms 2:5 Then he speaks to them in his anger. In his burning anger he terrifies them by saying,

Psalms 2:6 “I have installed my own king on Zion, my holy mountain.”

Psalms 2:7 I will announce the LORD’s decree. He said to me: “You are my Son. Today I have become your Father.

Psalms 2:8 Ask me, and I will give you the nations as your inheritance and the ends of the earth as your own possession.

Psalms 2:9 You will break them with an iron scepter. You will smash them to pieces like pottery.”

Psalms 2:10 Now, you kings, act wisely. Be warned, you rulers of the earth!

Psalms 2:11 Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

Psalms 2:12 Kiss the Son, or he will become angry and you will die on your way because his anger will burst into flames. Blessed is everyone who takes refuge in him.

Psalms 3:1 [A psalm by David when he fled from his son Absalom.] O LORD, look how my enemies have increased! Many are attacking me.

Psalms 3:2 Many are saying about me, “Even with God [on his side], he won’t be victorious.” [Selah]

Psalms 3:3 But you, O LORD, are a shield that surrounds me. You are my glory. You hold my head high.

Psalms 3:4 I call aloud to the LORD, and he answers me from his holy mountain. [Selah]

Psalms 3:5 I lie down and sleep. I wake up again because the LORD continues to support me.

Psalms 3:6 I am not afraid of the tens of thousands who have taken positions against me on all sides.

Psalms 3:7 Arise, O LORD! Save me, O my God! You have slapped all my enemies in the face. You have smashed the teeth of wicked people.

Psalms 3:8 Victory belongs to the LORD! May your blessing rest on your people. [Selah]

Psalms 4:1 [For the choir director; with stringed instruments; a psalm by David.] Answer me when I call, O God of my righteousness. You have freed me from my troubles. Have pity on me, and hear my prayer!

Psalms 4:2 You important people, how long are you going to insult my honor? How long are you going to love what is empty and seek what is a lie? [Selah]

Psalms 4:3 Know that the LORD singles out godly people for himself. The LORD hears me when I call to him.

Psalms 4:4 Tremble and do not sin. Think about this on your bed and remain quiet. [Selah]

Psalms 4:5 Offer the sacrifices of righteousness by trusting the LORD.

Psalms 4:6 Many are saying, “Who can show us anything good?” Let the light of your presence shine on us, O LORD.

Psalms 4:7 You put more joy in my heart than when their grain and new wine increase.

Psalms 4:8 I fall asleep in peace the moment I lie down because you alone, O LORD, enable me to live securely.

Psalms 5:1 [For the choir director; for flutes; a psalm by David.] Open your ears to my words, O LORD. Consider my innermost thoughts.

Psalms 5:2 Pay attention to my cry for help, my king and my God, because I pray only to you.

Psalms 5:3 In the morning, O LORD, hear my voice. In the morning I lay my needs in front of you, and I wait.

Psalms 5:4 You are not a God who takes pleasure in wickedness. Evil will never be your guest.

Psalms 5:5 Those who brag cannot stand in your sight. You hate all troublemakers.

Psalms 5:6 You destroy those who tell lies. The LORD is disgusted with bloodthirsty and deceitful people.

Psalms 5:7 But I will enter your house because of your great mercy. Out of reverence for you, I will bow toward your holy temple.

Psalms 5:8 O LORD, lead me in your righteousness because of those who spy on me. Make your way in front of me smooth.

Psalms 5:9 Nothing in their mouths is truthful. Destruction comes from their hearts. Their throats are open graves. They flatter with their tongues.

Psalms 5:10 Condemn them, O God. Let their own schemes be their downfall. Throw them out for their many crimes because they have rebelled against you.

Psalms 5:11 But let all who take refuge in you rejoice. Let them sing with joy forever. Protect them, and let those who love your name triumph in you.

Psalms 5:12 You bless righteous people, O LORD. Like a large shield, you surround them with your favor.

Psalms 6:1 [For the choir director; with stringed instruments, on the [sheminith]; a psalm by David.] O LORD, do not punish me in your anger or discipline me in your rage.

Psalms 6:2 Have pity on me, O LORD, because I am weak. Heal me, O LORD, because my bones shake with terror.

Psalms 6:3 My soul has been deeply shaken with terror. But you, O LORD, how long...?

Psalms 6:4 Come back, O LORD. Rescue me. Save me because of your mercy!

Psalms 6:5 In death, no one remembers you. In the grave, who praises you?

Psalms 6:6 I am worn out from my groaning. My eyes flood my bed every night. I soak my couch with tears.

Psalms 6:7 My eyes blur from grief. They fail because of my enemies.

Psalms 6:8 Get away from me, all you troublemakers, because the LORD has heard the sound of my crying.

Psalms 6:9 The LORD has heard my plea for mercy. The LORD accepts my prayer.

Psalms 6:10 All my enemies will be put to shame and deeply shaken with terror. In a moment they will retreat and be put to shame.

Psalms 7:1 [A [shiggaion] by David; he sang it to the LORD about the [slanderous] words of Cush, a descendant of Benjamin.] O LORD my God, I have taken refuge in you. Save me, and rescue me from all who are pursuing me.

Psalms 7:2 Like a lion they will tear me to pieces and drag me off with no one to rescue me.

Psalms 7:3 O LORD my God, if I have done this- if my hands are stained with injustice,

Psalms 7:4 if I have paid back my friend with evil or rescued someone who has no reason to attack me-

Psalms 7:5 then let the enemy chase me and catch me. Let him trample my life into the ground. Let him lay my honor in the dust. [Selah]

Psalms 7:6 Arise in anger, O LORD. Stand up against the fury of my attackers. Wake up, my God. You have already pronounced judgment.

Psalms 7:7 Let an assembly of people gather around you. Take your seat high above them.

Psalms 7:8 The LORD judges the people of the world. Judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, according to my integrity.

Psalms 7:9 Let the evil within wicked people come to an end, but make the righteous person secure, O righteous God who examines thoughts and emotions.

Psalms 7:10 My shield is God above, who saves those whose motives are decent.

Psalms 7:11 God is a fair judge, a God who is angered by injustice every day.

Psalms 7:12 If a person does not change, God sharpens his sword. By bending his bow, he makes it ready [to shoot].

Psalms 7:13 He prepares his deadly weapons and turns them into flaming arrows.

Psalms 7:14 See how that person conceives evil, is pregnant with harm, and gives birth to lies.

Psalms 7:15 He digs a pit and shovels it out. Then he falls into the hole that he made [for others].

Psalms 7:16 His mischief lands back on his own head. His violence comes down on top of him.

Psalms 7:17 I will give thanks to the LORD for his righteousness. I will make music to praise the name of the LORD Most High.

Psalms 8:1 [For the choir director; on the [gittith]; a psalm by David.] O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name throughout the earth! Your glory is sung above the heavens.

Psalms 8:2 From the mouths of little children and infants, you have built a fortress against your opponents to silence the enemy and the avenger.

Psalms 8:3 When I look at your heavens, the creation of your fingers, the moon and the stars that you have set in place-

Psalms 8:4 what is a mortal that you remember him or the Son of Man that you take care of him?

Psalms 8:5 You have made him a little lower than yourself. You have crowned him with glory and honor.

Psalms 8:6 You have made him rule what your hands created. You have put everything under his control:

Psalms 8:7 all the sheep and cattle, the wild animals,

Psalms 8:8 the birds, the fish, whatever swims in the currents of the seas.

Psalms 8:9 O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name throughout the earth!

Psalms 9:1 [For the choir director; according to [muth labben]; a psalm by David.] I will give [you] thanks, O LORD, with all my heart. I will tell about all the miracles you have done.

Psalms 9:2 I will find joy and be glad about you. I will make music to praise your name, O Most High.

Psalms 9:3 When my enemies retreat, they will stumble and die in your presence.

Psalms 9:4 You have defended my just cause: You sat down on your throne as a fair judge.

Psalms 9:5 You condemned nations. You destroyed wicked people. You wiped out their names forever and ever.

Psalms 9:6 The enemy is finished-in ruins forever. You have uprooted their cities. Even the memory of them has faded.

Psalms 9:7 Yet, the LORD is enthroned forever. He has set up his throne for judgment.

Psalms 9:8 He alone judges the world with righteousness. He judges [its] people fairly.

Psalms 9:9 The LORD is a stronghold for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble.

Psalms 9:10 Those who know your name trust you, O LORD, because you have never deserted those who seek your help.

Psalms 9:11 Make music to praise the LORD, who is enthroned in Zion. Announce to the nations what he has done.

Psalms 9:12 The one who avenges murder has remembered oppressed people. He has never forgotten their cries.

Psalms 9:13 Have pity on me, O LORD. Look at what I suffer because of those who hate me. You take me away from the gates of death

Psalms 9:14 so that I may recite your praises one by one in the gates of Zion and find joy in your salvation.

Psalms 9:15 The nations have sunk into the pit they have made. Their feet are caught in the net they have hidden [to trap others].

Psalms 9:16 The LORD is known by the judgment he has carried out. The wicked person is trapped by the work of his own hands. [Higgaion Selah]

Psalms 9:17 Wicked people, all the nations who forget God, will return to the grave.

Psalms 9:18 Needy people will not always be forgotten. Nor will the hope of oppressed people be lost forever.

Psalms 9:19 Arise, O LORD. Do not let mortals gain any power. Let the nations be judged in your presence.

Psalms 9:20 Strike them with terror, O LORD. Let the nations know that they are [only] mortal. [Selah]

Psalms 10:1 Why are you so distant, LORD? Why do you hide yourself in times of trouble?

Psalms 10:2 The wicked person arrogantly pursues oppressed people. He will be caught in the schemes that he planned.

Psalms 10:3 The wicked person boasts about his selfish desires. He blesses robbers, but he curses the LORD.

Psalms 10:4 He turns up his nose [and says], “God doesn’t care.” His every thought [concludes], “There is no God.”

Psalms 10:5 He always seems to succeed. Your judgments are beyond his understanding. He spits at all his opponents.

Psalms 10:6 He says to himself, “Nothing can shake me. I’ll never face any trouble.”

Psalms 10:7 His mouth is full of cursing, deception, and oppression. Trouble and wrongdoing are on the tip of his tongue.

Psalms 10:8 He waits in ambush in the villages. From his hiding places he kills innocent people. His eyes are on the lookout for victims.

Psalms 10:9 He lies in his hiding place like a lion in his den. He hides there to catch oppressed people. He catches oppressed people when he draws them into his net.

Psalms 10:10 [His] victims are crushed. They collapse, and they fall under [the weight of] his power.

Psalms 10:11 He says to himself, “God has forgotten. He has hidden his face. He will never see it!”

Psalms 10:12 Arise, O LORD! Lift your hand, O God. Do not forget oppressed people!

Psalms 10:13 Why does the wicked person despise God? Why does he say to himself, “God doesn’t care”?

Psalms 10:14 You have seen [it]; yes, you have taken note of trouble and grief and placed them under your control. The victim entrusts himself to you. You alone have been the helper of orphans.

Psalms 10:15 Break the arm of the wicked and evil person. Punish his wickedness until you find no more.

Psalms 10:16 The LORD is king forever and ever. The nations have vanished from his land.

Psalms 10:17 You have heard the desire of oppressed people, O LORD. You encourage them. You pay close attention to them

Psalms 10:18 in order to provide justice for orphans and oppressed people so that no mere mortal will terrify them again.

Psalms 11:1 [For the choir director; by David.] I have taken refuge in the LORD. How can you say to me: “Flee to your mountain like a bird?

Psalms 11:2 Wicked people bend their bows. They set their arrows against the strings to shoot in the dark at people whose motives are decent.

Psalms 11:3 When the foundations [of life] are undermined, what can a righteous person do?”

Psalms 11:4 The LORD is in his holy temple. The LORD’s throne is in heaven. His eyes see. They examine Adam’s descendants.

Psalms 11:5 The LORD tests righteous people, but he hates wicked people and the ones who love violence.

Psalms 11:6 He rains down fire and burning sulfur upon wicked people. He makes them drink from a cup filled with scorching wind.

Psalms 11:7 The LORD is righteous. He loves a righteous way of life. Decent people will see his face.

Psalms 12:1 [For the choir director; on the [sheminith]; a psalm by David.] Help, O LORD. No godly person is left. Faithful people have vanished from among Adam’s descendants!

Psalms 12:2 All people speak foolishly. They speak with flattering lips. They say one thing but mean another.

Psalms 12:3 May the LORD cut off every flattering lip and every bragging tongue

Psalms 12:4 that has said, “We will overcome with our tongues. With lips such as ours, who can be our master?”

Psalms 12:5 “Because oppressed people are robbed and needy people groan, I will now arise,” says the LORD. “I will provide safety for those who long for it.”

Psalms 12:6 The promises of the LORD are pure, like silver refined in a furnace and purified seven times.

Psalms 12:7 O LORD, you will protect them. You will keep each one safe from those people forever.

Psalms 12:8 Wicked people parade around when immorality increases among Adam’s descendants.

Psalms 13:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] How long, O LORD? Will you forget me forever? How long will you hide your face from me?

Psalms 13:2 How long must I make decisions alone with sorrow in my heart day after day? How long will my enemy triumph over me?

Psalms 13:3 Look at me! Answer me, O LORD my God! Light up my eyes, or else I will die

Psalms 13:4 and my enemy will say, “I have overpowered him.” My opponents will rejoice because I have been shaken.

Psalms 13:5 But I trust your mercy. My heart finds joy in your salvation.

Psalms 13:6 I will sing to the LORD because he has been good to me.

Psalms 14:1 [For the choir director; by David.] Godless fools say in their hearts, “There is no God.” They are corrupt. They do disgusting things. There is no one who does good things.

Psalms 14:2 The LORD looks down from heaven on Adam’s descendants to see if there is anyone who acts wisely, if there is anyone who seeks help from God.

Psalms 14:3 Everyone has turned away. Together they have become rotten to the core. No one, not even one person, does good things.

Psalms 14:4 Are all those troublemakers, those who devour my people as if they were devouring food, so ignorant that they do not call on the LORD?

Psalms 14:5 There they are-panic-stricken because God is with the person who is righteous.

Psalms 14:6 They put the advice of oppressed people to shame because the LORD is their refuge.

Psalms 14:7 If only salvation for Israel would come from Zion! When the LORD restores the fortunes of his people, Jacob will rejoice. Israel will be glad.

Psalms 15:1 O LORD, who may stay in your tent? Who may live on your holy mountain?

Psalms 15:2 [A psalm by David.] The one who walks with integrity, does what is righteous, and speaks the truth within his heart.

Psalms 15:3 The one who does not slander with his tongue, do evil to a friend, or bring disgrace on his neighbor.

Psalms 15:4 The one who despises those rejected by God but honors those who fear the LORD. The one who makes a promise and does not break it, even though he is hurt by it.

Psalms 15:5 The one who does not collect interest on a loan or take a bribe against an innocent person. Whoever does these things will never be shaken.

Psalms 16:1 [A [miktam] by David.] Protect me, O God, because I take refuge in you.

Psalms 16:2 I said to the LORD, “You are my Lord. Without you, I have nothing good.”

Psalms 16:3 Those who lead holy lives on earth are the noble ones who fill me with joy.

Psalms 16:4 Those who quickly chase after other gods multiply their sorrows. I will not pour out their sacrificial offerings of blood or use my lips to speak their names.

Psalms 16:5 The LORD is my inheritance and my cup. You are the one who determines my destiny.

Psalms 16:6 Your boundary lines mark out pleasant places for me. Indeed, my inheritance is something beautiful.

Psalms 16:7 I will praise the LORD, who advises me. My conscience warns me at night.

Psalms 16:8 I always keep the LORD in front of me. When he is by my side, I cannot be moved.

Psalms 16:9 That is why my heart is glad and my soul rejoices. My body rests securely

Psalms 16:10 because you do not abandon my soul to the grave or allow your holy one to decay.

Psalms 16:11 You make the path of life known to me. Complete joy is in your presence. Pleasures are by your side forever.

Psalms 17:1 [A prayer by David.] Hear my plea for justice, O LORD. Pay attention to my cry. Open your ears to my prayer, [which comes] from lips free from deceit.

Psalms 17:2 Let the verdict of my innocence come directly from you. Let your eyes observe what is fair.

Psalms 17:3 You have probed my heart. You have confronted me at night. You have tested me like silver, but you found nothing wrong. I have determined that my mouth will not sin.

Psalms 17:4 I have avoided cruelty because of your word. In spite of what others have done,

Psalms 17:5 my steps have remained firmly in your paths. My feet have not slipped.

Psalms 17:6 I have called on you because you answer me, O God. Turn your ear toward me. Hear what I have to say.

Psalms 17:7 Reveal your miraculous deeds of mercy, O Savior of those who find refuge by your side from those who attack them.

Psalms 17:8 Guard me as if I were the pupil in your eye. Hide me in the shadow of your wings.

Psalms 17:9 Hide me from wicked people who violently attack me, from my deadly enemies who surround me.

Psalms 17:10 They have shut out all feeling. Their mouths have spoken arrogantly.

Psalms 17:11 They have tracked me down. They have surrounded me. They have focused their attention on throwing me to the ground.

Psalms 17:12 Each one of them is like a lion eager to tear [its prey] apart and like a young lion crouching in hiding places.

Psalms 17:13 Arise, O LORD; confront them! Bring them to their knees! With your sword rescue my life from wicked people.

Psalms 17:14 With your power rescue me from mortals, O LORD, from mortals who enjoy their inheritance only in this life. You fill their bellies with your treasure. Their children are satisfied [with it], and they leave what remains to their children.

Psalms 17:15 I will see your face when I am declared innocent. When I wake up, I will be satisfied [with seeing] you.

Psalms 18:1 [For the choir director; by David, the servant of the LORD. He sang this song to the LORD when the LORD rescued him from all his enemies, especially from Saul. He said,] I love you, O LORD, my strength.

Psalms 18:2 The LORD is my rock and my fortress and my Savior, my God, my rock in whom I take refuge, my shield, and the strength of my salvation, my stronghold.

Psalms 18:3 The LORD should be praised. I called on him, and I was saved from my enemies.

Psalms 18:4 The ropes of death had become tangled around me. The torrents of destruction had overwhelmed me.

Psalms 18:5 The ropes of the grave had surrounded me. The clutches of death had confronted me.

Psalms 18:6 I called on the LORD in my distress. I cried to my God for help. He heard my voice from his temple, and my cry for help reached his ears.

Psalms 18:7 Then the earth shook and quaked. Even the foundations of the mountains trembled. They shook violently because he was angry.

Psalms 18:8 Smoke went up from his nostrils, and a raging fire came out of his mouth. Glowing coals flared up from it.

Psalms 18:9 He spread apart the heavens and came down with a dark cloud under his feet.

Psalms 18:10 He rode on one of the angels as he flew, and he soared on the wings of the wind.

Psalms 18:11 He made the darkness his hiding place, the dark rain clouds his covering.

Psalms 18:12 Out of the brightness in front of him, those rain clouds passed by with hailstones and lightning.

Psalms 18:13 The LORD thundered in the heavens. The Most High made his voice heard with hailstones and lightning.

Psalms 18:14 He shot his arrows and scattered them. He flashed streaks of lightning and threw them into confusion.

Psalms 18:15 Then the ocean floor could be seen. The foundations of the earth were laid bare at your stern warning, O LORD, at the blast of the breath from your nostrils.

Psalms 18:16 He reached down from high above and took hold of me. He pulled me out of the raging water.

Psalms 18:17 He rescued me from my strong enemy and from those who hated me, because they were too strong for me.

Psalms 18:18 On the day when I faced disaster, they confronted me, but the LORD came to my defense.

Psalms 18:19 He brought me out to a wide-open place. He rescued me because he was pleased with me.

Psalms 18:20 The LORD rewarded me because of my righteousness, because my hands are clean. He paid me back

Psalms 18:21 because I have kept the ways of the LORD and I have not wickedly turned away from my God,

Psalms 18:22 because all his judgments are in front of me and I have not turned away from his laws.

Psalms 18:23 I was innocent as far as he was concerned. I have kept myself from guilt.

Psalms 18:24 The LORD paid me back because of my righteousness, because he can see that my hands are clean.

Psalms 18:25 [In dealing] with faithful people you are faithful, with innocent people you are innocent,

Psalms 18:26 with pure people you are pure. [In dealing] with devious people you are clever.

Psalms 18:27 You save humble people, but you bring down a conceited look.

Psalms 18:28 O LORD, you light my lamp. My God turns my darkness into light.

Psalms 18:29 With you I can attack a line of soldiers. With my God I can break through barricades.

Psalms 18:30 God’s way is perfect! The promise of the LORD has proven to be true. He is a shield to all those who take refuge in him.

Psalms 18:31 Who is God but the LORD? Who is a rock except our God?

Psalms 18:32 God arms me with strength and makes my way perfect.

Psalms 18:33 He makes my feet like those of a deer and gives me sure footing on high places.

Psalms 18:34 He trains my hands for battle so that my arms can bend an [archer’s] bow of bronze.

Psalms 18:35 You have given me the shield of your salvation. Your right hand supports me. Your gentleness makes me great.

Psalms 18:36 You make a wide path for me to walk on so that my feet do not slip.

Psalms 18:37 I chased my enemies and caught up with them. I did not return until I had ended their lives.

Psalms 18:38 I wounded them so badly that they were unable to get up. They fell under my feet.

Psalms 18:39 You armed me with strength for battle. You made my opponents bow at my feet.

Psalms 18:40 You made my enemies turn their backs to me, and I destroyed those who hated me.

Psalms 18:41 They cried out for help, but there was no one to save them. They cried out to the LORD, but he did not answer them.

Psalms 18:42 I beat them into a powder as fine as the dust blown by the wind. I threw them out as though they were dirt on the streets.

Psalms 18:43 You rescued me from my conflicts with the people. You made me the leader of nations. A people I did not know will serve me:

Psalms 18:44 As soon as they hear of me, they will obey me. Foreigners will cringe in front of me.

Psalms 18:45 Foreigners will lose heart, and they will tremble when they come out of their fortifications.

Psalms 18:46 The LORD lives! Thanks be to my rock! May God my Savior be honored.

Psalms 18:47 God gives me vengeance! He brings people under my authority.

Psalms 18:48 He saves me from my enemies. You lift me up above my opponents. You rescue me from violent people.

Psalms 18:49 That is why I will give thanks to you, O LORD, among the nations and make music to praise your name.

Psalms 18:50 He gives great victories to his king. He shows mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his descendant forever.

Psalms 19:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] The heavens declare the glory of God, and the sky displays what his hands have made.

Psalms 19:2 One day tells a story to the next. One night shares knowledge with the next Psalms 19:3 without talking, without words, without their voices being heard.

Psalms 19:4 [Yet,] their sound has gone out into the entire world, their message to the ends of the earth. He has set up a tent in the heavens for the sun,

Psalms 19:5 which comes out of its chamber like a bridegroom. Like a champion, it is eager to run its course.

Psalms 19:6 It rises from one end of the heavens. It circles around to the other. Nothing is hidden from its heat.

Psalms 19:7 The teachings of the LORD are perfect. They renew the soul. The testimony of the LORD is dependable. It makes gullible people wise.

Psalms 19:8 The instructions of the LORD are correct. They make the heart rejoice. The command of the LORD is radiant. It makes the eyes shine.

Psalms 19:9 The fear of the LORD is pure. It endures forever. The decisions of the LORD are true. They are completely fair.

Psalms 19:10 They are more desirable than gold, even the finest gold. They are sweeter than honey, even the drippings from a honeycomb.

Psalms 19:11 As your servant I am warned by them. There is a great reward in following them.

Psalms 19:12 Who can notice every mistake? Forgive my hidden faults.

Psalms 19:13 Keep me from sinning. Do not let anyone gain control over me. Then I will be blameless, and I will be free from any great offense.

Psalms 19:14 May the words from my mouth and the thoughts from my heart be acceptable to you, O LORD, my rock and my defender.

Psalms 20:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] The LORD will answer you in times of trouble. The name of the God of Jacob will protect you.

Psalms 20:2 He will send you help from his holy place and support you from Zion.

Psalms 20:3 He will remember all your grain offerings and look with favor on your burnt offerings. [Selah]

Psalms 20:4 He will give you your heart’s desire and carry out all your plans.

Psalms 20:5 We will joyfully sing about your victory. We will wave our flags in the name of our God. The LORD will fulfill all your requests.

Psalms 20:6 Now I know that the LORD will give victory to his anointed king. He will answer him from his holy heaven with mighty deeds of his powerful hand.

Psalms 20:7 Some [rely] on chariots and others on horses, but we will boast in the name of the LORD our God.

Psalms 20:8 They will sink to their knees and fall, but we will rise and stand firm.

Psalms 20:9 Give victory to the king, O LORD. Answer us when we call.

Psalms 21:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] The king finds joy in your strength, O LORD. What great joy he has in your victory!

Psalms 21:2 You gave him his heart’s desire. You did not refuse the prayer from his lips. [Selah]

Psalms 21:3 You welcomed him with the blessings of good things and set a crown of fine gold on his head.

Psalms 21:4 He asked you for life. You gave him a long life, forever and ever.

Psalms 21:5 Because of your victory his glory is great. You place splendor and majesty on him.

Psalms 21:6 Yes, you made him a blessing forever. You made him glad with the joy of your presence.

Psalms 21:7 Indeed, the king trusts the LORD, and through the mercy of the Most High, he will not be moved.

Psalms 21:8 Your hand will discover all your enemies. Your powerful hand will find all who hate you.

Psalms 21:9 When you appear, you will make them [burn]like a blazing furnace. The LORD will swallow them up in his anger. Fire will devour them.

Psalms 21:10 You will destroy their children from the earth and their offspring from among Adam’s descendants.

Psalms 21:11 Although they scheme and plan evil against you, they will not succeed.

Psalms 21:12 They turn their backs [and flee] because you aim your bow at their faces.

Psalms 21:13 Arise, O LORD, in your strength. We will sing and make music to praise your power.

Psalms 22:1 [For the choir director; according to [ayyeleth hashachar]; a psalm by David.] My God, my God, why have you abandoned me? Why are you so far away from helping me, so far away from the words of my groaning?

Psalms 22:2 My God, I cry out by day, but you do not answer- also at night, but I find no rest.

Psalms 22:3 Yet, you are holy, enthroned on the praises of Israel.

Psalms 22:4 Our ancestors trusted you. They trusted, and you rescued them.

Psalms 22:5 They cried to you and were saved. They trusted you and were never disappointed.

Psalms 22:6 Yet, I am a worm and not a man. I am scorned by humanity and despised by people.

Psalms 22:7 All who see me make fun of me. Insults pour from their mouths. They shake their heads and say,

Psalms 22:8 “Put yourself in the LORD’s hands. Let the LORD save him! Let God rescue him since he is pleased with him!”

Psalms 22:9 Indeed, you are the one who brought me out of the womb, the one who made me feel safe at my mother’s breasts.

Psalms 22:10 I was placed in your care from birth. From my mother’s womb you have been my God.

Psalms 22:11 Do not be so far away from me. Trouble is near, and there is no one to help.

Psalms 22:12 Many bulls have surrounded me. Strong bulls from Bashan have encircled me.

Psalms 22:13 They have opened their mouths to attack me like ferocious, roaring lions.

Psalms 22:14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint. My heart is like wax. It has melted within me.

Psalms 22:15 My strength is dried up like pieces of broken pottery. My tongue sticks to the roof of my mouth. You lay me down in the dust of death.

Psalms 22:16 Dogs have surrounded me. A mob has encircled me. They have pierced my hands and feet.

Psalms 22:17 I can count all my bones. People stare. They gloat over me.

Psalms 22:18 They divide my clothes among themselves. They throw dice for my clothing.

Psalms 22:19 Do not be so far away, O LORD. Come quickly to help me, O my strength.

Psalms 22:20 Rescue my soul from the sword, my life from vicious dogs.

Psalms 22:21 Save me from the mouth of the lion and from the horns of wild oxen. You have answered me.

Psalms 22:22 I will tell my people about your name. I will praise you within the congregation.

Psalms 22:23 All who fear the LORD, praise him! All you descendants of Jacob, glorify him! Stand in awe of him, all you descendants of Israel.

Psalms 22:24 The LORD has not despised or been disgusted with the plight of the oppressed one. He has not hidden his face from that person. The LORD heard when that oppressed person cried out to him for help.

Psalms 22:25 My praise comes from you while I am among those assembled for worship. I will fulfill my vows in the presence of those who fear the LORD.

Psalms 22:26 Oppressed people will eat until they are full. Those who look to the LORD will praise him. May you live forever.

Psalms 22:27 All the ends of the earth will remember and return to the LORD. All the families from all the nations will worship you

Psalms 22:28 because the kingdom belongs to the LORD and he rules the nations.

Psalms 22:29 All prosperous people on earth will eat and worship. All those who go down to the dust will kneel in front of him, even those who are barely alive.

Psalms 22:30 There will be descendants who serve him, a generation that will be told about the Lord.

Psalms 22:31 They will tell people yet to be born about his righteousness- that he has finished it.

Psalms 23:1 [A psalm by David.] The LORD is my shepherd. I am never in need.

Psalms 23:2 He makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside peaceful waters.

Psalms 23:3 He renews my soul. He guides me along the paths of righteousness for the sake of his name.

Psalms 23:4 Even though I walk through the dark valley of death, because you are with me, I fear no harm. Your rod and your staff give me courage.

Psalms 23:5 You prepare a banquet for me while my enemies watch. You anoint my head with oil. My cup overflows.

Psalms 23:6 Certainly, goodness and mercy will stay close to me all the days of my life, and I will remain in the LORD’s house for days without end.

Psalms 24:1 [A psalm by David.] The earth and everything it contains are the LORD’s. The world and all who live in it are his.

Psalms 24:2 He laid its foundation on the seas and set it firmly on the rivers.

Psalms 24:3 Who may go up the LORD’s mountain? Who may stand in his holy place?

Psalms 24:4 [The one who] has clean hands and a pure heart and does not long for what is false or lie when he is under oath.

Psalms 24:5 [This person] will receive a blessing from the LORD and righteousness from God, his savior.

Psalms 24:6 This is the person who seeks him, who searches for the face of the God of Jacob. [Selah]

Psalms 24:7 Lift your heads, you gates. Be lifted, you ancient doors, so that the king of glory may come in.

Psalms 24:8 Who is this king of glory? The LORD, strong and mighty! The LORD, heroic in battle!

Psalms 24:9 Lift your heads, you gates. Be lifted, you ancient doors, so that the king of glory may come in.

Psalms 24:10 Who, then, is this king of glory? The LORD of Armies is the king of glory! [Selah]

Psalms 25:1 [By David.] To you, O LORD, I lift my soul.

Psalms 25:2 I trust you, O my God. Do not let me be put to shame. Do not let my enemies triumph over me.

Psalms 25:3 No one who waits for you will ever be put to shame, but all who are unfaithful will be put to shame.

Psalms 25:4 Make your ways known to me, O LORD, and teach me your paths.

Psalms 25:5 Lead me in your truth and teach me because you are God, my savior. I wait all day long for you.

Psalms 25:6 Remember, O LORD, your compassionate and merciful deeds. They have existed from eternity.

Psalms 25:7 Do not remember the sins of my youth or my rebellious ways. Remember me, O LORD, in keeping with your mercy and your goodness.

Psalms 25:8 The LORD is good and decent. That is why he teaches sinners the way they should live.

Psalms 25:9 He leads humble people to do what is right, and he teaches them his way.

Psalms 25:10 Every path of the LORD is [one of] mercy and truth for those who cling to his promise and written instructions.

Psalms 25:11 For the sake of your name, O LORD, remove my guilt, because it is great.

Psalms 25:12 Who, then, is this person that fears the LORD? He is the one whom the LORD will teach which path to choose.

Psalms 25:13 He will enjoy good things in life, and his descendants will inherit the land.

Psalms 25:14 The LORD advises those who fear him. He reveals to them the intent of his promise.

Psalms 25:15 My eyes are always on the LORD. He removes my feet from traps.

Psalms 25:16 Turn to me, and have pity on me. I am lonely and oppressed.

Psalms 25:17 Relieve my troubled heart, and bring me out of my distress.

Psalms 25:18 Look at my misery and suffering, and forgive all my sins.

Psalms 25:19 See how my enemies have increased in number, how they have hated me with vicious hatred!

Psalms 25:20 Protect my life, and rescue me! Do not let me be put to shame. I have taken refuge in you.

Psalms 25:21 Integrity and honesty will protect me because I wait for you.

Psalms 25:22 Rescue Israel, O God, from all its troubles!

Psalms 26:1 [By David.] Judge me favorably, O LORD, because I have walked with integrity and I have trusted you without wavering.

Psalms 26:2 Examine me, O LORD, and test me. Look closely into my heart and mind.

Psalms 26:3 I see your mercy in front of me. I walk in the light of your truth.

Psalms 26:4 I did not sit with liars, and I will not be found among hypocrites.

Psalms 26:5 I have hated the mob of evildoers and will not sit with wicked people.

Psalms 26:6 I will wash my hands in innocence. I will walk around your altar, O LORD,

Psalms 26:7 so that I may loudly sing a hymn of thanksgiving and tell about all your miracles.

Psalms 26:8 O LORD, I love the house where you live, the place where your glory dwells.

Psalms 26:9 Do not sweep away my soul along with hardened sinners or my life along with bloodthirsty people.

Psalms 26:10 Evil schemes are in their hands. Their right hands are full of bribes.

Psalms 26:11 But I walk with integrity. Rescue me, and have pity on me.

Psalms 26:12 My feet stand on level ground. I will praise the LORD with the choirs in worship.

Psalms 27:1 [By David.] The LORD is my light and my salvation. Who is there to fear? The LORD is my life’s fortress. Who is there to be afraid of?

Psalms 27:2 Evildoers closed in on me to tear me to pieces. My opponents and enemies stumbled and fell.

Psalms 27:3 Even though an army sets up camp against me, my heart will not be afraid. Even though a war breaks out against me, I will still have confidence [in the LORD].

Psalms 27:4 I have asked one thing from the LORD. This I will seek: to remain in the LORD’s house all the days of my life in order to gaze at the LORD’s beauty and to search for an answer in his temple.

Psalms 27:5 He hides me in his shelter when there is trouble. He keeps me hidden in his tent. He sets me high on a rock.

Psalms 27:6 Now my head will be raised above my enemies who surround me. I will offer sacrifices with shouts of joy in his tent. I will sing and make music to praise the LORD.

Psalms 27:7 Hear, O LORD, when I cry aloud. Have pity on me, and answer me.

Psalms 27:8 [When you said,] “Seek my face,” my heart said to you, “O LORD, I will seek your face.”

Psalms 27:9 Do not hide your face from me. Do not angrily turn me away. You have been my help. Do not leave me! Do not abandon me, O God, my savior!

Psalms 27:10 Even if my father and mother abandon me, the LORD will take care of me.

Psalms 27:11 Teach me your way, O LORD. Lead me on a level path because I have enemies who spy on me.

Psalms 27:12 Do not surrender me to the will of my opponents. False witnesses have risen against me. They breathe out violence.

Psalms 27:13 I believe that I will see the goodness of the LORD in this world of the living.

Psalms 27:14 Wait with hope for the LORD. Be strong, and let your heart be courageous. Yes, wait with hope for the LORD.

Psalms 28:1 [By David.] O LORD, I call to you. O my rock, do not turn a deaf ear to me. If you remain silent, I will be like those who go into the pit.

Psalms 28:2 Hear my prayer for mercy when I call to you for help, when I lift my hands toward your most holy place.

Psalms 28:3 Do not drag me away with wicked people, with troublemakers who speak of peace with their neighbors but have evil in their hearts.

Psalms 28:4 Pay them back for what they have done, for their evil deeds. Pay them back for what their hands have done, and give them what they deserve.

Psalms 28:5 The LORD will tear them down and never build them up again, because they never consider what he has done or what his hands have made.

Psalms 28:6 Thank the LORD! He has heard my prayer for mercy!

Psalms 28:7 The LORD is my strength and my shield. My heart trusted him, so I received help. My heart is triumphant; I give thanks to him with my song.

Psalms 28:8 The LORD is the strength of his people and a fortress for the victory of his Messiah.

Psalms 28:9 Save your people, and bless those who belong to you. Be their shepherd, and carry them forever.

Psalms 29:1 [A psalm by David.] Give to the LORD, you heavenly beings. Give to the LORD glory and power.

Psalms 29:2 Give to the LORD the glory his name deserves. Worship the LORD in [his] holy splendor.

Psalms 29:3 The voice of the LORD rolls over the water. The God of glory thunders. The LORD shouts over raging water.

Psalms 29:4 The voice of the LORD is powerful. The voice of the LORD is majestic.

Psalms 29:5 The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars. The LORD splinters the cedars of Lebanon.

Psalms 29:6 He makes Lebanon skip along like a calf and Mount Sirion like a wild ox.

Psalms 29:7 The voice of the LORD strikes with flashes of lightning.

Psalms 29:8 The voice of the LORD makes the wilderness tremble. The LORD makes the wilderness of Kadesh tremble.

Psalms 29:9 The voice of the LORD splits the oaks and strips [the trees of] the forests bare. Everyone in his temple is saying, “Glory!”

Psalms 29:10 The LORD sat enthroned over the flood. The LORD sits enthroned as king forever.

Psalms 29:11 The LORD will give power to his people. The LORD will bless his people with peace.

Psalms 30:1 [A psalm by David sung at the dedication of the temple.] I will honor you highly, O LORD, because you have pulled me out [of the pit] and have not let my enemies rejoice over me.

Psalms 30:2 O LORD my God, I cried out to you for help, and you healed me.

Psalms 30:3 O LORD, you brought me up from the grave. You called me back to life from among those who had gone into the pit.

Psalms 30:4 Make music to praise the LORD, you faithful people who belong to him. Remember his holiness by giving thanks.

Psalms 30:5 His anger lasts only a moment. His favor lasts a lifetime. Weeping may last for the night, but there is a song of joy in the morning.

Psalms 30:6 When all was well with me, I said, “I will never be shaken.”

Psalms 30:7 O LORD, by your favor you have made my mountain stand firm. When you hid your face, I was terrified.

Psalms 30:8 I will cry out to you, O LORD. I will plead to the Lord for mercy:

Psalms 30:9 “How will you profit if my blood is shed, if I go into the pit? Will the dust [of my body] give thanks to you? Will it tell about your truth?”

Psalms 30:10 Hear, O LORD, and have pity on me! O LORD, be my helper!

Psalms 30:11 You have changed my sobbing into dancing. You have removed my sackcloth and clothed me with joy

Psalms 30:12 so that my soul may praise you with music and not be silent. O LORD my God, I will give thanks to you forever.

Psalms 31:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] I have taken refuge in you, O LORD. Never let me be put to shame. Save me because of your righteousness.

Psalms 31:2 Turn your ear toward me. Rescue me quickly. Be a rock of refuge for me, a strong fortress to save me.

Psalms 31:3 Indeed, you are my rock and my fortress. For the sake of your name, lead me and guide me.

Psalms 31:4 You are my refuge, so pull me out of the net that they have secretly laid for me.

Psalms 31:5 Into your hands I entrust my spirit. You have rescued me, O LORD, God of truth.

Psalms 31:6 I hate those who cling to false gods, but I trust the LORD.

Psalms 31:7 I will rejoice and be glad because of your mercy. You have seen my misery. You have known the troubles in my soul.

Psalms 31:8 You have not handed me over to the enemy. You have set my feet in a place where I can move freely.

Psalms 31:9 Have pity on me, O LORD, because I am in distress. My eyes, my soul, and my body waste away from grief.

Psalms 31:10 My life is exhausted from sorrow, my years from groaning. My strength staggers under [the weight of] my guilt, and my bones waste away.

Psalms 31:11 I have become a disgrace because of all my opponents. I have become someone dreaded by my friends, even by my neighbors. Those who see me on the street run away from me.

Psalms 31:12 I have faded from memory as if I were dead and have become like a piece of broken pottery.

Psalms 31:13 I have heard the whispering of many people- terror on every side- while they made plans together against me. They were plotting to take my life.

Psalms 31:14 I trust you, O LORD. I said, “You are my God.”

Psalms 31:15 My future is in your hands. Rescue me from my enemies, from those who persecute me.

Psalms 31:16 Smile on me. Save me with your mercy.

Psalms 31:17 O LORD, I have called on you, so do not let me be put to shame. Let wicked people be put to shame. Let them be silent in the grave.

Psalms 31:18 Let [their] lying lips be speechless, since they speak against righteous people with arrogance and contempt.

Psalms 31:19 Your kindness is so great! You reserve it for those who fear you. Adam’s descendants watch as you show it to those who take refuge in you.

Psalms 31:20 You hide them in the secret place of your presence from those who scheme against them. You keep them in a shelter, safe from quarrelsome tongues.

Psalms 31:21 Thank the LORD! He has shown me the miracle of his mercy in a city under attack.

Psalms 31:22 When I was panic-stricken, I said, “I have been cut off from your sight.” But you heard my pleas for mercy when I cried out to you for help.

Psalms 31:23 Love the LORD, all you godly ones! The LORD protects faithful people, but he pays back in full those who act arrogantly.

Psalms 31:24 Be strong, all who wait with hope for the LORD, and let your heart be courageous.

Psalms 32:1 [A psalm by David; a [maskil] Blessed is the person whose disobedience is forgiven and whose sin is pardoned.

Psalms 32:2 Blessed is the person whom the LORD no longer accuses of sin and who has no deceitful thoughts.

Psalms 32:3 When I kept silent [about my sins], my bones began to weaken because of my groaning all day long.

Psalms 32:4 Day and night your hand lay heavily on me. My strength shriveled in the summer heat. [Selah]

Psalms 32:5 I made my sins known to you, and I did not cover up my guilt. I decided to confess them to you, O LORD. Then you forgave all my sins. [Selah]

Psalms 32:6 For this reason let all godly people pray to you when you may be found. Then raging floodwater will not reach them.

Psalms 32:7 You are my hiding place. You protect me from trouble. You surround me with joyous songs of salvation. [Selah]

Psalms 32:8 [The LORD says,] “I will instruct you. I will teach you the way that you should go. I will advise you as my eyes watch over you.

Psalms 32:9 Don’t be stubborn like a horse or mule. [They need] a bit and bridle in their mouth to restrain them, or they will not come near you.”

Psalms 32:10 Many heartaches await wicked people, but mercy surrounds those who trust the LORD.

Psalms 32:11 Be glad and find joy in the LORD, you righteous people. Sing with joy, all whose motives are decent.

Psalms 33:1 Joyfully sing to the LORD, you righteous people. Praising [the LORD] is proper for decent people.

Psalms 33:2 Give thanks with a lyre to the LORD. Make music for him on a ten-stringed harp.

Psalms 33:3 Sing a new song to him. Play beautifully and joyfully on stringed instruments.

Psalms 33:4 The word of the LORD is correct, and everything he does is trustworthy.

Psalms 33:5 The LORD loves righteousness and justice. His mercy fills the earth.

Psalms 33:6 The heavens were made by the word of the LORD and all the stars by the breath of his mouth.

Psalms 33:7 He gathers the water in the sea like a dam and puts the oceans in his storehouses.

Psalms 33:8 Let all the earth fear the LORD. Let all who live in the world stand in awe of him.

Psalms 33:9 He spoke, and it came into being. He gave the order, and there it stood.

Psalms 33:10 The LORD blocks the plans of the nations. He frustrates the schemes of the people of the world.

Psalms 33:11 The LORD’s plan stands firm forever. His thoughts stand firm in every generation.

Psalms 33:12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD. Blessed are the people he has chosen as his own.

Psalms 33:13 The LORD looks down from heaven. He sees all of Adam's descendants.

Psalms 33:14 From the place where he sits enthroned, he looks down upon all who live on earth.

Psalms 33:15 The one who formed their hearts understands everything they do.

Psalms 33:16 No king achieves a victory with a large army. No warrior rescues himself by his own great strength.

Psalms 33:17 Horses are not a guarantee for victory. Their great strength cannot help someone escape.

Psalms 33:18 The LORD's eyes are on those who fear him, on those who wait with hope for his mercy

Psalms 33:19 to rescue their souls from death and keep them alive during a famine.

Psalms 33:20 We wait for the LORD. He is our help and our shield.

Psalms 33:21 In him our hearts find joy. In his holy name we trust.

Psalms 33:22 Let your mercy rest on us, O LORD, since we wait with hope for you.

Psalms 34:1 [By David when he pretended to be insane in the presence of Abimelech; Abimelech threw him out, so David left.] I will thank the LORD at all times. My mouth will always praise him.

Psalms 34:2 My soul will boast about the LORD. Those who are oppressed will hear it and rejoice.

Psalms 34:3 Praise the LORD's greatness with me. Let us highly honor his name together.

Psalms 34:4 I went to the LORD for help. He answered me and rescued me from all my fears.

Psalms 34:5 All who look to him will be radiant. Their faces will never be covered with shame.

Psalms 34:6 Here is a poor man who called out. The LORD heard him and saved him from all his troubles.

Psalms 34:7 The Messenger of the LORD camps around those who fear him, and he rescues them.

Psalms 34:8 Taste and see that the LORD is good. Blessed is the person who takes refuge in him.

Psalms 34:9 Fear the LORD, you holy people who belong to him. Those who fear him are never in need.

Psalms 34:10 Young lions go hungry and may starve, but those who seek the LORD's help have all the good things they need.

Psalms 34:11 Come, children, listen to me. I will teach you the fear of the LORD.

Psalms 34:12 Which of you wants a full life? Who would like to live long enough to enjoy good things?

Psalms 34:13 Keep your tongue from saying evil things and your lips from speaking deceitful things.

Psalms 34:14 Turn away from evil, and do good. Seek peace, and pursue it!

Psalms 34:15 The LORD's eyes are on righteous people. His ears hear their cry for help.

Psalms 34:16 The LORD confronts those who do evil in order to wipe out all memory of them from the earth.

Psalms 34:17 [Righteous people] cry out. The LORD hears and rescues them from all their troubles.

Psalms 34:18 The LORD is near to those whose hearts are humble. He saves those whose spirits are crushed.

Psalms 34:19 The righteous person has many troubles, but the LORD rescues him from all of them.

Psalms 34:20 The LORD guards all of his bones. Not one of them is broken.

Psalms 34:21 Evil will kill wicked people, and those who hate righteous people will be condemned.

Psalms 34:22 The LORD protects the souls of his servants. All who take refuge in him will never be condemned.

Psalms 35:1 [By David.] O LORD, attack those who attack me. Fight against those who fight against me.

Psalms 35:2 Use your shields, [both] small and large. Arise to help me.

Psalms 35:3 Hold your spear to block the way of those who pursue me. Say to my soul, "I am your savior."

Psalms 35:4 Let those who seek my life be put to shame and disgraced. Let those who plan my downfall be turned back in confusion.

Psalms 35:5 Let them be like husks blown by the wind as the Messenger of the LORD chases them.

Psalms 35:6 Let their path be dark and slippery as the Messenger of the LORD pursues them.

Psalms 35:7 For no reason they hid their net in a pit. For no reason they dug the pit [to trap me].

Psalms 35:8 Let destruction surprise them. Let the net that they hid catch them. Let them fall into their own pit and be destroyed.

Psalms 35:9 My soul will find joy in the LORD and be joyful about his salvation.

Psalms 35:10 All my bones will say, “O LORD, who can compare with you? You rescue the weak person from the one who is too strong for him and weak and needy people from the one who robs them.”

Psalms 35:11 Malicious people bring charges against me. They ask me things I know nothing about.

Psalms 35:12 I am devastated because they pay me back with evil instead of good.

Psalms 35:13 But when they were sick, I wore sackcloth. I humbled myself with fasting. When my prayer returned unanswered,

Psalms 35:14 I walked around as if I were mourning for my friend or my brother. I was bent over as if I were mourning for my mother.

Psalms 35:15 Yet, when I stumbled, they rejoiced and gathered together. They gathered together against me. Unknown attackers tore me apart without stopping.

Psalms 35:16 With crude and abusive mockers, they grit their teeth at me.

Psalms 35:17 O Lord, how long will you look on? Rescue me from their attacks. Rescue my precious life from the lions.

Psalms 35:18 I will give you thanks in a large gathering. I will praise you in a crowd [of worshipers].

Psalms 35:19 Do not let my treacherous enemies gloat over me. Do not let those who hate me for no reason wink [at me].

Psalms 35:20 They do not talk about peace. Instead, they scheme against the peaceful people in the land.

Psalms 35:21 They open their big mouths and say about me, “Aha! Aha! Our own eyes have seen it.”

Psalms 35:22 You have seen it, O LORD. Do not remain silent. O Lord, do not be so far away from me.

Psalms 35:23 Wake up, and rise to my defense. Plead my case, O my God and my Lord.

Psalms 35:24 Judge me by your righteousness, O LORD my God. Do not let them gloat over me

Psalms 35:25 or think, “Aha, just what we wanted!” Do not let them say, “We have swallowed him up.”

Psalms 35:26 Let those who gloat over my downfall be thoroughly put to shame and confused. Let those who promote themselves at my expense be clothed with shame and disgrace.

Psalms 35:27 Let those who are happy when I am declared innocent joyfully sing and rejoice. Let them continually say, “The LORD is great. He is happy when his servant has peace.”

Psalms 35:28 Then my tongue will tell about your righteousness, about your praise all day long.

Psalms 36:1 [For the choir director; by David, the LORD's servant.] There is an inspired truth about the wicked person who has rebellion in the depths of his heart: He is not terrified of God.

Psalms 36:2 He flatters himself and does not hate or [even] recognize his guilt.

Psalms 36:3 The words from his mouth are [nothing but] trouble and deception. He has stopped doing what is wise and good.

Psalms 36:4 He invents trouble while lying on his bed and chooses to go the wrong direction. He does not reject evil.

Psalms 36:5 O LORD, your mercy reaches to the heavens, your faithfulness to the skies.

Psalms 36:6 Your righteousness is like the mountains of God, your judgments like the deep ocean. You save people and animals, O LORD.

Psalms 36:7 Your mercy is so precious, O God, that Adam's descendants take refuge in the shadow of your wings.

Psalms 36:8 They are refreshed with the rich foods in your house, and you make them drink from the river of your pleasure.

Psalms 36:9 Indeed, the fountain of life is with you. In your light we see light.

Psalms 36:10 Continue to show your mercy to those who know you and your righteousness to those whose motives are decent.

Psalms 36:11 Do not let the feet of arrogant people step on me or the hands of wicked people push me away.

Psalms 36:12 Look at the troublemakers who have fallen. They have been pushed down and are unable to stand up again.

Psalms 37:1 [By David.] Do not be preoccupied with evildoers. Do not envy those who do wicked things.

Psalms 37:2 They will quickly dry up like grass and wither away like green plants.

Psalms 37:3 Trust the LORD, and do good things. Live in the land, and practice being faithful.

Psalms 37:4 Be happy with the LORD, and he will give you the desires of your heart.

Psalms 37:5 Entrust your ways to the LORD. Trust him, and he will act [on your behalf].

Psalms 37:6 He will make your righteousness shine like a light, your just cause like the noonday sun.

Psalms 37:7 Surrender yourself to the LORD, and wait patiently for him. Do not be preoccupied with [an evildoer]who succeeds in his way when he carries out his schemes.

Psalms 37:8 Let go of anger, and leave rage behind. Do not be preoccupied. It only leads to evil.

Psalms 37:9 Evildoers will be cut off [from their inheritance], but those who wait with hope for the LORD will inherit the land.

Psalms 37:10 In a little while a wicked person will vanish. Then you can carefully examine where he was, but there will be no trace of him.

Psalms 37:11 Oppressed people will inherit the land and will enjoy unlimited peace.

Psalms 37:12 The wicked person plots against a righteous one and grits his teeth at him.

Psalms 37:13 The Lord laughs at him because he has seen that his time is coming.

Psalms 37:14 Wicked people pull out their swords and bend their bows to kill oppressed and needy people, to slaughter those who are decent.

Psalms 37:15 [But] their own swords will pierce their hearts, and their bows will be broken.

Psalms 37:16 The little that the righteous person has is better than the wealth of many wicked people.

Psalms 37:17 The arms of wicked people will be broken, but the LORD continues to support righteous people.

Psalms 37:18 The LORD knows the daily [struggles]of innocent people. Their inheritance will last forever.

Psalms 37:19 They will not be put to shame in trying times. Even in times of famine they will be satisfied.

Psalms 37:20 But wicked people will disappear. The LORD’s enemies will vanish like the best part of a meadow. They will vanish like smoke.

Psalms 37:21 A wicked person borrows, but he does not repay. A righteous person is generous and giving.

Psalms 37:22 Those who are blessed by him will inherit the land. Those who are cursed by him will be cut off.

Psalms 37:23 A person’s steps are directed by the LORD, and the LORD delights in his way.

Psalms 37:24 When he falls, he will not be thrown down headfirst because the LORD holds on to his hand.

Psalms 37:25 I have been young, and now I am old, but I have never seen a righteous person abandoned or his descendants begging for food.

Psalms 37:26 He is always generous and lends freely. His descendants are a blessing.

Psalms 37:27 Avoid evil, do good, and live forever.

Psalms 37:28 The LORD loves justice, and he will not abandon his godly ones. They will be kept safe forever, but the descendants of wicked people will be cut off.

Psalms 37:29 Righteous people will inherit the land and live there permanently.

Psalms 37:30 The mouth of the righteous person reflects on wisdom. His tongue speaks what is fair.

Psalms 37:31 The teachings of his God are in his heart. His feet do not slip.

Psalms 37:32 The wicked person watches the righteous person and seeks to kill him.

Psalms 37:33 But the LORD will not abandon him to the wicked person's power or condemn him when he is brought to trial.

Psalms 37:34 Wait with hope for the LORD, and follow his path, and he will honor you by giving you the land. When wicked people are cut off, you will see it.

Psalms 37:35 I have seen a wicked person [acting like] a tyrant, spreading himself out like a large cedar tree.

Psalms 37:36 But he moved on, and now there is no trace of him. I searched for him, but he could not be found.

Psalms 37:37 Notice the innocent person, and look at the decent person, because the peacemaker has a future.

Psalms 37:38 But rebels will be completely destroyed. The future of wicked people will be cut off.

Psalms 37:39 The victory for righteous people comes from the LORD. He is their fortress in times of trouble.

Psalms 37:40 The LORD helps them and rescues them. He rescues them from wicked people. He saves them because they have taken refuge in him.

Psalms 38:1 [A psalm by David; to be kept in mind.] O LORD, do not angrily punish me or discipline me in your wrath.

Psalms 38:2 Your arrows have struck me. Your hand has struck me hard.

Psalms 38:3 No healthy spot is left on my body because of your rage. There is no peace in my bones because of my sin.

Psalms 38:4 My guilt has overwhelmed me. Like a heavy load, it is more than I can bear.

Psalms 38:5 My wounds smell rotten. They fester because of my stupidity.

Psalms 38:6 I am bent over and bowed down very low. All day I walk around in mourning.

Psalms 38:7 My insides are filled with burning pain, and no healthy spot is left on my body.

Psalms 38:8 I am numb and completely devastated. I roar because my heart’s in turmoil.

Psalms 38:9 You know all my desires, O Lord, and my groaning has not been hidden from you.

Psalms 38:10 My heart is pounding. I have lost my strength. Even the light of my eyes has left me.

Psalms 38:11 My loved ones and my friends keep their distance and my relatives stand far away because of my sickness.

Psalms 38:12 Those who seek my life lay traps for me. Those who are out to harm me talk about ruining me. All day long they think of ways to deceive me.

Psalms 38:13 But I am like a person who cannot hear and like a person who cannot speak.

Psalms 38:14 I am like one who cannot hear and who can offer no arguments.

Psalms 38:15 But I wait with hope for you, O LORD. You will answer, O Lord, my God.

Psalms 38:16 I said, “Do not let them gloat over me. When my foot slips, do not let them promote themselves at my expense.”

Psalms 38:17 I am ready to fall. I am continually aware of my pain.

Psalms 38:18 I confess my guilt. My sin troubles me.

Psalms 38:19 My mortal enemies are growing stronger. Many hate me for no reason.

Psalms 38:20 They pay me back with evil instead of good, and they accuse me because I try to do what is good.

Psalms 38:21 Do not abandon me, O LORD. O my God, do not be so distant from me.

Psalms 38:22 Come quickly to help me, O Lord, my savior.

Psalms 39:1 [For the choir director; for Jeduthun; a psalm by David.] I said, “I will watch my ways so that I do not sin with my tongue. I will bridle my mouth while wicked people are in my presence.”

Psalms 39:2 I remained totally speechless. I kept silent, although it did me no good. While I was deep in thought, my pain grew worse.

Psalms 39:3 My heart burned like a fire flaring up within me. Then I spoke with my tongue:

Psalms 39:4 “Teach me, O LORD, about the end of my life. Teach me about the number of days I have left so that I may know how temporary my life is.

Psalms 39:5 Indeed, you have made the length of my days [only] a few inches. My life span is nothing compared to yours. Certainly, everyone alive is like a whisper in the wind. [Selah]

Psalms 39:6 Each person who walks around is like a shadow. They are busy for no reason. They accumulate riches without knowing who will get them.”

Psalms 39:7 And now, Lord, what am I waiting for? My hope is in you!

Psalms 39:8 Rescue me from all my rebellious acts. Do not disgrace me in front of godless fools.

Psalms 39:9 I remained speechless. I did not open my mouth because you are the one who has done this.

Psalms 39:10 Remove the sickness you laid upon me. My life is over because you struck me with your hand.

Psalms 39:11 With stern warnings you discipline people for their crimes. Like a moth you eat away at what is dear to them. Certainly, everyone is like a whisper in the wind. [Selah]

Psalms 39:12 Listen to my prayer, O LORD. Open your ear to my cry for help. Do not be deaf to my tears, for I am a foreign resident with you, a stranger like all my ancestors.

Psalms 39:13 Look away from me so that I may smile again before I go away and am no more.

Psalms 40:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] I waited patiently for the LORD. He turned to me and heard my cry for help.

Psalms 40:2 He pulled me out of a horrible pit, out of the mud and clay. He set my feet on a rock and made my steps secure.

Psalms 40:3 He placed a new song in my mouth, a song of praise to our God. Many will see this and worship. They will trust the LORD.

Psalms 40:4 Blessed is the person who places his confidence in the LORD and does not rely on arrogant people or those who follow lies.

Psalms 40:5 You have done many miraculous things, O LORD my God. You have made many wonderful plans for us. No one compares to you! I will tell others about your miracles, which are more than I can count.

Psalms 40:6 You were not pleased with sacrifices and offerings. You have dug out two ears for me. You did not ask for burnt offerings or sacrifices for sin.

Psalms 40:7 Then I said, “I have come! (It is written about me in the scroll of the book.)

Psalms 40:8 I am happy to do your will, O my God.” Your teachings are deep within me.

Psalms 40:9 I will announce the good news of righteousness among those assembled for worship. I will not close my lips. You know that, O LORD.

Psalms 40:10 I have not buried your righteousness deep in my heart. I have been outspoken about your faithfulness and your salvation. I have not hidden your mercy and your truth from those assembled for worship.

Psalms 40:11 Do not withhold your compassion from me, O LORD. May your mercy and your truth always protect me.

Psalms 40:12 Countless evils have surrounded me. My sins have caught up with me so that I can no longer see. They outnumber the hairs on my head. I have lost heart.

Psalms 40:13 O LORD, please rescue me! Come quickly to help me, O LORD!

Psalms 40:14 Let all those who seek to end my life be confused and put to shame. Let those who want my downfall be turned back and disgraced.

Psalms 40:15 Let those who say to me, “Aha! Aha!” be stunned by their own shame.

Psalms 40:16 Let all who seek you rejoice and be glad because of you. Let those who love your salvation continually say, “The LORD is great!”

Psalms 40:17 But I am oppressed and needy. May the Lord think of me. You are my help and my savior. O my God, do not delay!

Psalms 41:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] Blessed is the one who has concern for helpless people. The LORD will rescue him in times of trouble.

Psalms 41:2 The LORD will protect him and keep him alive. He will be blessed in the land. Do not place him at the mercy of his enemies.

Psalms 41:3 The LORD will support him on his sickbed. You will restore this person to health when he is ill.

Psalms 41:4 I said, “O LORD, have pity on me! Heal my soul because I have sinned against you.”

Psalms 41:5 My enemies say terrible things about me: “When will he die, and when will his family name disappear?”

Psalms 41:6 When one of them comes to visit me, he speaks foolishly. His heart collects gossip. [Then] he leaves to tell others.

Psalms 41:7 Everyone who hates me whispers about me. They think evil things about me and say,

Psalms 41:8 “A devilish disease has attached itself to him. He will never leave his sickbed.”

Psalms 41:9 Even my closest friend whom I trusted, the one who ate my bread, has lifted his heel against me.

Psalms 41:10 Have pity on me, O LORD! Raise me up so that I can pay them back

Psalms 41:11 and my enemy cannot shout in triumph over me. When you do this, I know that you are pleased with me.

Psalms 41:12 You defend my integrity, and you set me in your presence forever.

Psalms 41:13 Thank the LORD God of Israel through all eternity! Amen and amen!

Psalms 42:1 [For the choir director; a [maskil] by Korah's descendants.] As a deer longs for flowing streams, so my soul longs for you, O God.

Psalms 42:2 My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. When may I come to see God's face?

Psalms 42:3 My tears are my food day and night. People ask me all day long, "Where is your God?"

Psalms 42:4 I will remember these things as I pour out my soul: how I used to walk with the crowd and lead it in a procession to God's house. [I sang] songs of joy and thanksgiving while crowds of people celebrated a festival.

Psalms 42:5 Why are you discouraged, my soul? Why are you so restless? Put your hope in God, because I will still praise him. He is my savior and my God.

Psalms 42:6 My soul is discouraged. That is why I will remember you in the land of Jordan, on the peaks of Hermon, on Mount Mizar.

Psalms 42:7 One deep sea calls to another at the roar of your waterspouts. All the whitecaps on your waves have swept over me.

Psalms 42:8 The LORD commands his mercy during the day, and at night his song is with me- a prayer to the God of my life.

Psalms 42:9 I will ask God, my rock, "Why have you forgotten me? Why must I walk around in mourning while the enemy oppresses me?"

Psalms 42:10 With a shattering blow to my bones, my enemies taunt me. They ask me all day long, "Where is your God?"

Psalms 42:11 Why are you discouraged, my soul? Why are you so restless? Put your hope in God, because I will still praise him. He is my savior and my God.

Psalms 43:1 Judge me, O God, and plead my case against an ungodly nation. Rescue me from deceitful and unjust people.

Psalms 43:2 You are my fortress, O God! Why have you rejected me? Why must I walk around in mourning while the enemy oppresses me?

Psalms 43:3 Send your light and your truth. Let them guide me. Let them bring me to your holy mountain and to your dwelling place.

Psalms 43:4 Then let me go to the altar of God, to God my [highest] joy, and I will give thanks to you on the lyre, O God, my God.

Psalms 43:5 Why are you discouraged, my soul? Why are you so restless? Put your hope in God, because I will still praise him. He is my savior and my God.

Psalms 44:1 [For the choir director; a [maskil] by Korah's descendants.] O God, we have heard it with our own ears. Our ancestors have told us about the miracle you performed in their day, in days long ago.

Psalms 44:2 By your power you forced nations [out of the land], but you planted our ancestors [there]. You shattered many groups of people, but you set our ancestors free.

Psalms 44:3 It was not with their swords that they took possession of the land. They did not gain victory with their own strength. It was your right hand, your arm, and the light of your presence [that did it], because you were pleased with them.

Psalms 44:4 You alone are my king, O God. You won those victories for Jacob.

Psalms 44:5 With you we can walk over our enemies. With your name we can trample those who attack us.

Psalms 44:6 I do not rely on my bow, and my sword will never save me.

Psalms 44:7 But you saved us from our enemies. You put to shame those who hate us.

Psalms 44:8 All day long we praise our God. We give thanks to you forever. [Selah]

Psalms 44:9 But now you have rejected and disgraced us. You do not even go along with our armies.

Psalms 44:10 You make us retreat from the enemy. Those who hate us rob us at will.

Psalms 44:11 You hand us over to be butchered like sheep and scatter us among the nations.

Psalms 44:12 You sell your people for almost nothing, and at that price you have gained nothing.

Psalms 44:13 You made us a disgrace to our neighbors and an object of ridicule and contempt to those around us.

Psalms 44:14 You made our [defeat] a proverb among the nations so that people shake their heads at us.

Psalms 44:15 All day long my disgrace is in front of me. Shame covers my face

Psalms 44:16 because of the words of those who insult and slander us, because of the presence of the enemy and the avenger.

Psalms 44:17 Although all of this happened to us, we never forgot you. We never ignored your promise.

Psalms 44:18 Our hearts never turned away. Our feet never left your path.

Psalms 44:19 Yet, you crushed us in a place for jackals and covered us with the shadow of death.

Psalms 44:20 If we forgot the name of our God or stretched out our hands to pray to another god,

Psalms 44:21 wouldn't God find out, since he knows the secrets in our hearts?

Psalms 44:22 Indeed, we are being killed all day long because of you. We are thought of as sheep to be slaughtered.

Psalms 44:23 Wake up! Why are you sleeping, O Lord? Awake! Do not reject us forever!

Psalms 44:24 Why do you hide your face? Why do you forget our suffering and misery?

Psalms 44:25 Our souls are bowing in the dust. Our bodies cling to the ground.

Psalms 44:26 Arise! Help us! Rescue us because of your mercy!

Psalms 45:1 [For the choir director; according to [shoshannim]; a [maskil] by Korah's descendants; a love song.] My heart is overflowing with good news. I will direct my song to the king. My tongue is a pen for a skillful writer.

Psalms 45:2 You are the most handsome of Adam's descendants. Grace is poured on your lips. That is why God has blessed you forever.

Psalms 45:3 O warrior, strap your sword to your side with your splendor and majesty.

Psalms 45:4 Ride on victoriously in your majesty for the cause of truth, humility, and righteousness. Let your right hand teach you awe-inspiring things.

Psalms 45:5 Your arrows are sharp in the heart of the king's enemies. Nations fall beneath you.

Psalms 45:6 Your throne, O God, is forever and ever. The scepter in your kingdom is a scepter for justice.

Psalms 45:7 You have loved what is right and hated what is wrong. That is why God, your God, has anointed you, rather than your companions, with the oil of joy.

Psalms 45:8 All your robes are [fragrant] with myrrh, aloes, and cassia. From ivory palaces the music of stringed instruments delights you.

Psalms 45:9 The daughters of kings are among your noble ladies. The queen takes her place at your right hand and wears gold from Ophir.

Psalms 45:10 Listen, daughter! Look closely! Turn your ear [toward me]. Forget your people, and forget your father's house.

Psalms 45:11 The king longs for your beauty. He is your Lord. Worship him.

Psalms 45:12 The people of Tyre, the richest people, want to win your favor with a gift.

Psalms 45:13 The daughter of the king is glorious inside [the palace]. Her dress is embroidered with gold.

Psalms 45:14 Wearing a colorful gown, she is brought to the king. Her bridesmaids follow her. They will be brought to you.

Psalms 45:15 With joy and delight they are brought in. They enter the palace of the king.

Psalms 45:16 Your sons will take the place of your father. You will make them princes over the whole earth.

Psalms 45:17 I will cause your name to be remembered throughout every generation. That is why the nations will give thanks to you forever and ever.

Psalms 46:1 [For the choir director; a song by the descendants of Korah; according to [alamoth].] God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in times of trouble.

Psalms 46:2 That is why we are not afraid even when the earth quakes or the mountains topple into the depths of the sea.

Psalms 46:3 Water roars and foams, and mountains shake at the surging waves. [Selah]

Psalms 46:4 There is a river whose streams bring joy to the city of God, the holy place where the Most High lives.

Psalms 46:5 God is in that city. It cannot fall. God will help it at the break of dawn.

Psalms 46:6 Nations are in turmoil, and kingdoms topple. The earth melts at the sound of [God's] voice.

Psalms 46:7 The LORD of Armies is with us. The God of Jacob is our stronghold. [Selah]

Psalms 46:8 Come, see the works of the LORD, the devastation he has brought to the earth.

Psalms 46:9 He puts an end to wars all over the earth. He breaks an archer's bow. He cuts spears in two. He burns chariots.

Psalms 46:10 Let go [of your concerns]! Then you will know that I am God. I rule the nations. I rule the earth.

Psalms 46:11 The LORD of Armies is with us. The God of Jacob is our stronghold. [Selah]

Psalms 47:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by Korah's descendants.] Clap your hands, all you people. Shout to God with a loud, joyful song.

Psalms 47:2 We must fear the LORD, the Most High. He is the great king of the whole earth.

Psalms 47:3 He brings people under our authority and [puts] nations under our feet.

Psalms 47:4 He chooses our inheritance for us, the pride of Jacob, whom he loved. [Selah]

Psalms 47:5 God has gone up with a joyful shout. The LORD has gone up with the sound of a ram's horn.

Psalms 47:6 Make music to praise God. Play music for him! Make music to praise our king. Play music for him!

Psalms 47:7 God is the king of the whole earth. Make your best music for him!

Psalms 47:8 God rules the nations. He sits upon his holy throne.

Psalms 47:9 The influential people from the nations gather together as the people of the God of Abraham. The rulers of the earth belong to God. He rules everything.

Psalms 48:1 [A song; a psalm by Korah's descendants.] The LORD is great. He should be highly praised. His holy mountain is in the city of our God.

Psalms 48:2 Its beautiful peak is the joy of the whole earth. Mount Zion is on the northern ridge. It is the city of the great king.

Psalms 48:3 God is in its palaces. He has proved that he is a stronghold.

Psalms 48:4 The kings have gathered. They marched together.

Psalms 48:5 [When] they saw [Mount Zion], they were astonished. They were terrified and ran away in fear.

Psalms 48:6 Trembling seized them like the trembling that a woman experiences during labor.

Psalms 48:7 With the east wind you smash the ships of Tarshish.

Psalms 48:8 The things we had only heard about, we have now seen in the city of the LORD of Armies, in the city of our God. God makes Zion stand firm forever. [Selah]

Psalms 48:9 Inside your temple we carefully reflect on your mercy, O God.

Psalms 48:10 Like your name, O God, your praise [reaches] to the ends of the earth. Your right hand is filled with righteousness.

Psalms 48:11 Let Mount Zion be glad and the cities of Judah rejoice because of your judgments.

Psalms 48:12 Walk around Zion. Go around it. Count its towers.

Psalms 48:13 Examine its embankments. Walk through its palaces. Then you can tell the next generation,

Psalms 48:14 “This God is our God forever and ever. He will lead us beyond death.”

Psalms 49:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by Korah’s descendants.] Listen to this, all you people. Open your ears, all who live in the world-

Psalms 49:2 common people and important ones, rich people and poor ones.

Psalms 49:3 My mouth will speak wise sayings, the insights I have carefully considered.

Psalms 49:4 I will turn my attention to a proverb. I will explain my riddle with the [music of] a lyre.

Psalms 49:5 Why should I be afraid in times of trouble, when slanderers surround me with evil?

Psalms 49:6 They trust their riches and brag about their abundant wealth.

Psalms 49:7 No one can ever buy back another person or pay God a ransom for his life.

Psalms 49:8 The price to be paid for his soul is too costly. He must always give up

Psalms 49:9 in order to live forever and never see the pit.

Psalms 49:10 Indeed, one can see that wise people die, that foolish and stupid people meet the same end. They leave their riches to others.

Psalms 49:11 Although they named their lands after themselves, their graves have become their homes for ages to come, their dwelling places throughout every generation.

Psalms 49:12 But mortals will not continue here with what they treasure. They are like animals that die.

Psalms 49:13 This is the final outcome for fools and their followers who are delighted by what they say: [Selah]

Psalms 49:14 Like sheep, they are driven to hell with death as their shepherd. (Decent people will rule them in the morning.) Their forms will decay in the grave, far away from their comfortable homes.

Psalms 49:15 But God will buy me back from the power of hell because he will take me. [Selah]

Psalms 49:16 Do not be afraid when someone becomes rich, when the greatness of his house increases.

Psalms 49:17 He will not take anything with him when he dies. His greatness cannot follow him.

Psalms 49:18 Even though he blesses himself while he is alive (and they praise you when you do well for yourself),

Psalms 49:19 he must join the generation of his ancestors, who will never see light [again].

Psalms 49:20 Mortals, with what they treasure, still don’t have understanding. They are like animals that die.

Psalms 50:1 [A psalm by Asaph.] The LORD, the only true God, has spoken. He has summoned the earth from where the sun rises to where it sets.

Psalms 50:2 God shines from Zion, the perfection of beauty.

Psalms 50:3 Our God will come and will not remain silent. A devouring fire is in front of him and a raging storm around him.

Psalms 50:4 He summons heaven and earth to judge his people:

Psalms 50:5 “Gather around me, my godly people who have made a pledge to me through sacrifices.”

Psalms 50:6 The heavens announce his righteousness because God is the judge. [Selah]

Psalms 50:7 “Listen, my people, and I will speak. Listen, Israel, and I will testify against you: I am God, your God!

Psalms 50:8 I am not criticizing you for your sacrifices or burnt offerings, which are always in front of me.

Psalms 50:9 [But] I will not accept [another] young bull from your household or a single male goat from your pens.

Psalms 50:10 Every creature in the forest, [even] the cattle on a thousand hills, is mine.

Psalms 50:11 I know every bird in the mountains. Everything that moves in the fields is mine.

Psalms 50:12 If I were hungry, I would not tell you, because the world and all that it contains are mine.

Psalms 50:13 Do I eat the meat of bulls or drink the blood of goats?

Psalms 50:14 Bring [your] thanks to God as a sacrifice, and keep your vows to the Most High.

Psalms 50:15 Call on me in times of trouble. I will rescue you, and you will honor me.”

Psalms 50:16 But God says to wicked people, “How dare you quote my decrees and mouth my promises!

Psalms 50:17 You hate discipline. You toss my words behind you.

Psalms 50:18 When you see a thief, you want to make friends with him. You keep company with people who commit adultery.

Psalms 50:19 You let your mouth say anything evil. Your tongue plans deceit.

Psalms 50:20 You sit and talk against your own brother. You slander your own mother's son.

Psalms 50:21 When you did these things, I remained silent. [That] made you think I was like you. I will argue my point with you and lay it all out for you to see.

Psalms 50:22 Consider this, you people who forget God. Otherwise, I will tear you to pieces, and there will be no one left to rescue you.

Psalms 50:23 Whoever offers thanks as a sacrifice honors me. I will let everyone who continues in my way see the salvation that comes from God."

Psalms 51:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David when the prophet Nathan came to him after David's adultery with Bathsheba.] Have pity on me, O God, in keeping with your mercy. In keeping with your unlimited compassion, wipe out my rebellious acts.

Psalms 51:2 Wash me thoroughly from my guilt, and cleanse me from my sin.

Psalms 51:3 I admit that I am rebellious. My sin is always in front of me.

Psalms 51:4 I have sinned against you, especially you. I have done what you consider evil. So you hand down justice when you speak, and you are blameless when you judge.

Psalms 51:5 Indeed, I was born guilty. I was a sinner when my mother conceived me.

Psalms 51:6 Yet, you desire truth and sincerity. Deep down inside me you teach me wisdom.

Psalms 51:7 Purify me from sin with hyssop, and I will be clean. Wash me, and I will be whiter than snow.

Psalms 51:8 Let me hear [sounds of] joy and gladness. Let the bones that you have broken dance.

Psalms 51:9 Hide your face from my sins, and wipe out all that I have done wrong.

Psalms 51:10 Create a clean heart in me, O God, and renew a faithful spirit within me.

Psalms 51:11 Do not force me away from your presence, and do not take your Holy Spirit from me.

Psalms 51:12 Restore the joy of your salvation to me, and provide me with a spirit of willing obedience.

Psalms 51:13 [Then] I will teach your ways to those who are rebellious, and sinners will return to you.

Psalms 51:14 Rescue me from the guilt of murder, O God, my savior. Let my tongue sing joyfully about your righteousness!

Psalms 51:15 O Lord, open my lips, and my mouth will tell about your praise.

Psalms 51:16 You are not happy with any sacrifice. Otherwise, I would offer one [to you]. You are not pleased with burnt offerings.

Psalms 51:17 The sacrifice pleasing to God is a broken spirit. O God, you do not despise a broken and sorrowful heart.

Psalms 51:18 Favor Zion with your goodness. Rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.

Psalms 51:19 Then you will be pleased with sacrifices offered in the right spirit- with burnt offerings and whole burnt offerings. Young bulls will be offered on your altar.

Psalms 52:1 [For the choir director; a [maskil]; a psalm by David when Doeg (who was from Edom) told Saul that David had come to Ahimelech's home.] Why do you brag about the evil you've done, you hero? The mercy of God lasts all day long!

Psalms 52:2 Your tongue makes up threats. It's like a sharp razor, you master of deceit.

Psalms 52:3 You prefer evil to good. You prefer lying to speaking the truth. [Selah]

Psalms 52:4 You love every destructive accusation, you deceitful tongue!

Psalms 52:5 But God will ruin you forever. He will grab you and drag you out of your tent. He will pull your roots out of this world of the living. [Selah]

Psalms 52:6 Righteous people will see [this] and be struck with fear. They will laugh at you and say,

Psalms 52:7 "Look at this person who refused to make God his fortress! Instead, he trusted his great wealth and became strong through his greed."

Psalms 52:8 But I am like a large olive tree in God's house. I trust the mercy of God forever and ever.

Psalms 52:9 I will give thanks to you forever for what you have done. In the presence of your godly people, I will wait with hope in your good name.

Psalms 53:1 [For the choir director; according to [mahalath], a [maskil] by David.] Godless fools say in their hearts, "There is no God." They are corrupt. They do disgusting things. There is no one who does good things.

Psalms 53:2 God looks down from heaven on Adam’s descendants to see if there is anyone who acts wisely, if there is anyone who seeks help from God.

Psalms 53:3 Everyone has fallen away. Together they have become rotten to the core. No one, not even one person, does good things.

Psalms 53:4 Are all those troublemakers, those who devour my people as if they were devouring food, so ignorant that they do not call on God?

Psalms 53:5 There they are-panic-stricken- [but] there was no reason to panic, because God has scattered the bones of those who set up camp against you. You put them to shame. After all, God has rejected them.

Psalms 53:6 If only salvation for Israel would come from Zion! When God restores the fortunes of his people, Jacob will rejoice. Israel will be glad.

Psalms 54:1 [For the choir director; on stringed instruments; a [maskil] by David when people from the city of Ziph told Saul that David was hiding among them.] O God, save me by your name, and defend me with your might.

Psalms 54:2 O God, hear my prayer, and open your ears to the words from my mouth.

Psalms 54:3 Strangers have attacked me. Ruthless people seek my life. They do not think about God. [Selah]

Psalms 54:4 God is my helper! The Lord is the provider for my life.

Psalms 54:5 My enemies spy on me. Pay them back with evil. Destroy them with your truth!

Psalms 54:6 I will make a sacrifice to you along with a freewill offering. I will give thanks to your good name, O LORD.

Psalms 54:7 Your name rescues me from every trouble. My eyes will gloat over my enemies.

Psalms 55:1 [For the choir director; on stringed instruments; a [maskil] by David.] Open your ears to my prayer, O God. Do not hide from my plea for mercy.

Psalms 55:2 Pay attention to me, and answer me. My thoughts are restless, and I am confused

Psalms 55:3 because my enemy shouts at me and a wicked person persecutes me. They bring misery crashing down on me, and they attack me out of anger.

Psalms 55:4 My heart is in turmoil. The terrors of death have seized me.

Psalms 55:5 Fear and trembling have overcome me. Horror has overwhelmed me.

Psalms 55:6 I said, “If only I had wings like a dove- I would fly away and find rest.

Psalms 55:7 Indeed, I would run far away. I would stay in the desert. [Selah]

Psalms 55:8 I would hurry to find shelter from the raging wind and storm.”

Psalms 55:9 Completely confuse their language, O Lord, because I see violence and conflict in the city.

Psalms 55:10 Day and night they go around on [top of] the city walls. Trouble and misery are everywhere.

Psalms 55:11 Destruction is everywhere. Oppression and fraud never leave the streets.

Psalms 55:12 If an enemy had insulted me, then I could bear it. If someone who hated me had attacked me, then I could hide from him.

Psalms 55:13 But it is you, my equal, my best friend, one I knew so well!

Psalms 55:14 We used to talk to each other in complete confidence and walk into God’s house with the festival crowds.

Psalms 55:15 Let death suddenly take [wicked people]! Let them go into the grave while they are still alive, because evil lives in their homes as well as in their hearts.

Psalms 55:16 But I call on God, and the LORD saves me.

Psalms 55:17 Morning, noon, and night I complain and groan, and he listens to my voice.

Psalms 55:18 With [his] peace, he will rescue my soul from the war waged against me, because there are many [soldiers fighting] against me.

Psalms 55:19 God will listen. The one who has sat enthroned from the beginning will deal with them. [Selah] They never change. They never fear God.

Psalms 55:20 [My best friend] has betrayed his friends. He has broken his solemn promise.

Psalms 55:21 His speech is smoother than butter, but there is war in his heart. His words are more soothing than oil, but they are like swords ready to attack.

Psalms 55:22 Turn your burdens over to the LORD, and he will take care of you. He will never let the righteous person stumble.

Psalms 55:23 But you, O God, will throw [wicked people]into the deepest pit. Bloodthirsty and deceitful people will not live out half their days. But I will trust you.

Psalms 56:1 [For the choir director; according to [yonath elem rechokim]; a [miktam] by David when the Philistines captured him in Gath.] Have pity on me, O God, because people are harassing me. All day long warriors oppress me.

Psalms 56:2 All day long my enemies spy on me. They harass me. There are so many fighting against me.

Psalms 56:3 Even when I am afraid, I still trust you.

Psalms 56:4 I praise the word of God. I trust God. I am not afraid. What can mere flesh [and blood] do to me?

Psalms 56:5 All day long my enemies twist my words. Their every thought is an evil plan against me.

Psalms 56:6 They attack, and then they hide. They watch my every step as they wait to take my life.

Psalms 56:7 With the wrong they do, can they escape? O God, angrily make the nations fall.

Psalms 56:8 (You have kept a record of my wanderings. Put my tears in your bottle. They are already in your book.)

Psalms 56:9 Then my enemies will retreat when I call [to you]. This I know: God is on my side.

Psalms 56:10 I praise the word of God. I praise the word of the LORD.

Psalms 56:11 I trust God. I am not afraid. What can mortals do to me?

Psalms 56:12 I am bound by my vows to you, O God. I will keep my vows by offering songs of thanksgiving to you.

Psalms 56:13 You have rescued me from death. You have kept my feet from stumbling so that I could walk in your presence, in the light of life.

Psalms 57:1 [For the choir director; [al tashcheth]; a [miktam] by David when he fled from Saul into the cave.] Have pity on me, O God. Have pity on me, because my soul takes refuge in you. I will take refuge in the shadow of your wings until destructive storms pass by.

Psalms 57:2 I call to God Most High, to the God who does everything for me.

Psalms 57:3 He sends his help from heaven and saves me. He disgraces the one who is harassing me. [Selah] God sends his mercy and his truth!

Psalms 57:4 My soul is surrounded by lions. I must lie down with man-eating lions. Their teeth are spears and arrows. Their tongues are sharp swords.

Psalms 57:5 May you be honored above the heavens, O God. Let your glory extend over the whole earth.

Psalms 57:6 [My enemies] spread out a net to catch me. (My soul is bowed down.) They dug a pit to trap me, but then they fell into it. [Selah]

Psalms 57:7 My heart is confident, O God. My heart is confident. I want to sing and make music.

Psalms 57:8 Wake up, my soul! Wake up, harp and lyre! I want to wake up at dawn.

Psalms 57:9 I want to give thanks to you among the people, O Lord. I want to make music to praise you among the nations

Psalms 57:10 because your mercy is as high as the heavens. Your truth reaches the skies.

Psalms 57:11 May you be honored above the heavens, O God. Let your glory extend over the whole earth.

Psalms 58:1 [For the choir director; [al tashcheth]; a [miktam] by David.] Do you rulers really give fair verdicts? Do you judge Adam's descendants fairly?

Psalms 58:2 No, you invent new crimes on earth, and your hands spread violence.

Psalms 58:3 [Even] inside the womb wicked people are strangers [to God]. From their birth liars go astray.

Psalms 58:4 They have poisonous venom like snakes. They are like a deaf cobra that shuts its ears

Psalms 58:5 so that it cannot hear the voice of a snake charmer or of anyone trained to cast spells.

Psalms 58:6 O God, knock the teeth out of their mouths. Break the young lions' teeth, O LORD.

Psalms 58:7 Let them disappear like water that drains away. When they aim their bows, let their arrows miss the target.

Psalms 58:8 Let them become like a snail that leaves behind a slimy trail or like a stillborn child who never sees the sun.

Psalms 58:9 Let [God] sweep them away faster than a cooking pot is heated by burning twigs.

Psalms 58:10 Righteous people will rejoice when they see [God] take revenge. They will wash their feet in the blood of wicked people.

Psalms 58:11 Then people will say, "Righteous people certainly have a reward. There is a God who judges on earth."

Psalms 59:1 [For the choir director; [al tashcheth]; a [miktam] by David when Saul sent men to watch David's home and kill him.] Rescue me from my enemies, O my God. Protect me from those who attack me.

Psalms 59:2 Rescue me from troublemakers. Save me from bloodthirsty people.

Psalms 59:3 They lie in ambush for me right here! Fierce men attack me, O LORD, but not because of any disobedience, Psalms 59:4 or any sin, or any guilt on my part. They hurry to take positions against me. Wake up, and help me; see [for yourself].

Psalms 59:5 O LORD God of Armies, God of Israel, arise to punish all the nations. Have no pity on any traitors. [Selah]

Psalms 59:6 They return in the evening. They howl like dogs. They prowl the city.

Psalms 59:7 See what pours out of their mouths- swords from their lips! [They think,] “Who will hear us?”

Psalms 59:8 O LORD, you laugh at them. You make fun of all the nations.

Psalms 59:9 O my strength, I watch for you! God is my stronghold, my merciful God!

Psalms 59:10 God will come to meet me. He will let me gloat over those who spy on me.

Psalms 59:11 Do not kill them. Otherwise, my people may forget. Make them wander aimlessly by your power. Bring them down, O Lord, our shield,

Psalms 59:12 [because of] the sins from their mouths and the words on their lips. Let them be trapped by their own arrogance because they speak curses and lies.

Psalms 59:13 Destroy them in your rage. Destroy them until not one of them is left. Then they will know that God rules Jacob to the ends of the earth. [Selah]

Psalms 59:14 They return in the evening. They howl like dogs. They prowl the city.

Psalms 59:15 They wander around to find something to eat. If they are not full enough, they will stay all night.

Psalms 59:16 But I will sing about your strength. In the morning I will joyfully sing about your mercy. You have been my stronghold and a place of safety in times of trouble.

Psalms 59:17 O my strength, I will make music to praise you! God is my stronghold, my merciful God!

Psalms 60:1 [For the choir director; according to [shushan eduth]; a [miktam] by David; for teaching. When David fought Aram Naharaim and Aram Zobah, and [when] Joab came back and killed 12,000 men from Edom in the Dead Sea region.] O God, you have rejected us. You have broken down our defenses. You have been angry. Restore us!

Psalms 60:2 You made the land quake. You split it wide open. Heal the cracks in it because it is falling apart.

Psalms 60:3 You have made your people experience hardships. You have given us wine that makes us stagger.

Psalms 60:4 Yet, you have raised a flag for those who fear you so that they can rally to it when attacked by bows [and arrows]. [Selah]

Psalms 60:5 Save [us] with your powerful hand, and answer us so that those who are dear to you may be rescued.

Psalms 60:6 God has promised the following through his holiness: “I will triumph! I will divide Shechem. I will measure the valley of Succoth.

Psalms 60:7 Gilead is mine. Manasseh is mine. Ephraim is the helmet on my head. Judah is my scepter.

Psalms 60:8 Moab is my washtub. I will throw my shoe over Edom. I will shout in triumph over Philistia.”

Psalms 60:9 Who will bring me into the fortified city? Who will lead me to Edom?

Psalms 60:10 Isn’t it you, O God, who rejected us? Isn’t it you, O God, who refused to accompany our armies?

Psalms 60:11 Give us help against the enemy because human assistance is worthless.

Psalms 60:12 With God we will display great strength. He will trample our enemies.

Psalms 61:1 [For the choir director; on a stringed instrument; by David.] Listen to my cry for help, O God. Pay attention to my prayer.

Psalms 61:2 From the ends of the earth, I call to you when I begin to lose heart. Lead me to the rock that is high above me.

Psalms 61:3 You have been my refuge, a tower of strength against the enemy.

Psalms 61:4 I would like to be a guest in your tent forever and to take refuge under the protection of your wings. [Selah]

Psalms 61:5 O God, you have heard my vows. You have given me the inheritance that belongs to those who fear your name.

Psalms 61:6 Add days upon days to the life of the king. May his years endure throughout every generation.

Psalms 61:7 May he sit enthroned in the presence of God forever. May mercy and truth protect him.

Psalms 61:8 Then I will make music to praise your name forever, as I keep my vows day after day.

Psalms 62:1 [For the choir director; according to Jeduthun; a psalm by David.] My soul waits calmly for God alone. My salvation comes from him.

Psalms 62:2 He alone is my rock and my savior-my stronghold. I cannot be severely shaken.

Psalms 62:3 How long will all of you attack a person? How long will you try to murder him, as though he were a leaning wall or a sagging fence?

Psalms 62:4 They plan to force him out of his high position. They are happy to lie. They bless with their mouths, but in their hearts they curse. [Selah]

Psalms 62:5 Wait calmly for God alone, my soul, because my hope comes from him.

Psalms 62:6 He alone is my rock and my savior-my stronghold. I cannot be shaken.

Psalms 62:7 My salvation and my glory depend on God. God is the rock of my strength, my refuge.

Psalms 62:8 Trust him at all times, you people. Pour out your hearts in his presence. God is our refuge. [Selah]

Psalms 62:9 Common people are only a whisper in the wind. Important people are only a delusion. When all of them are weighed on a scale, they amount to nothing. They are less than a whisper in the wind.

Psalms 62:10 Do not count on extortion [to make you rich]. Do not hope to gain anything through robbery. When riches increase, do not depend on them.

Psalms 62:11 God has spoken once. I have heard it [said] twice: “Power belongs to God.

Psalms 62:12 Mercy belongs to you, O Lord. You reward a person based on what he has done.”

Psalms 63:1 [A psalm by David when he was in the wilderness of Judah.] O God, you are my God. At dawn I search for you. My soul thirsts for you. My body longs for you in a dry, parched land where there is no water.

Psalms 63:2 So I look for you in the holy place to see your power and your glory.

Psalms 63:3 My lips will praise you because your mercy is better than life [itself].

Psalms 63:4 So I will thank you as long as I live. I will lift up my hands [to pray] in your name.

Psalms 63:5 You satisfy my soul with the richest foods. My mouth will sing [your] praise with joyful lips.

Psalms 63:6 As I lie on my bed, I remember you. Through the long hours of the night, I think about you.

Psalms 63:7 You have been my help. In the shadow of your wings, I sing joyfully.

Psalms 63:8 My soul clings to you. Your right hand supports me.

Psalms 63:9 But those who try to destroy my life will go into the depths of the earth.

Psalms 63:10 They will be cut down by swords. Their dead bodies will be left as food for jackals.

Psalms 63:11 But the king will find joy in God. Everyone who takes an oath by God will brag, but the mouths of liars will be shut.

Psalms 64:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] Hear my voice, O God, when I complain. Protect my life from a terrifying enemy.

Psalms 64:2 Hide me from the secret plots of criminals, from the mob of troublemakers.

Psalms 64:3 They sharpen their tongues like swords. They aim bitter words like arrows

Psalms 64:4 to shoot at innocent people from their hiding places. They shoot at them suddenly, without any fear.

Psalms 64:5 They encourage one another in their evil plans. They talk about setting traps and say, “Who can see them?”

Psalms 64:6 They search for the perfect crime and say, “We have perfected a foolproof scheme!” Human nature and the human heart are a mystery!

Psalms 64:7 But God will shoot them with an arrow. Suddenly, they will be struck dead.

Psalms 64:8 They will trip over their own tongues. Everyone who sees them will shake his head.

Psalms 64:9 Everyone will be afraid and conclude, “This is an act of God!” They will learn from what he has done.

Psalms 64:10 Righteous people will find joy in the LORD and take refuge in him. Everyone whose motives are decent will be able to brag.

Psalms 65:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David; a song.] You are praised with silence in Zion, O God, and vows [made] to you must be kept.

Psalms 65:2 You are the one who hears prayers. Everyone will come to you.

Psalms 65:3 Various sins overwhelm me. You are the one who forgives our rebellious acts.

Psalms 65:4 Blessed is the person you choose and invite to live with you in your courtyards. We will be filled with good food from your house, from your holy temple.

Psalms 65:5 You answer us with awe-inspiring acts [done] in righteousness, O God, our savior, the hope of all the ends of the earth and of the most distant sea,

Psalms 65:6 the one who set the mountains in place with his strength, the one who is clothed with power, Psalms 65:7 the one who calms the roar of the seas, their crashing waves, and the uproar of the nations.

Psalms 65:8 Those who live at the ends of the earth are in awe of your miraculous signs. The lands of the morning sunrise and evening sunset sing joyfully.

Psalms 65:9 You take care of the earth, and you water it. You make it much richer than it was. (The river of God is filled with water.) You provide grain for them. Indeed, you even prepare the ground.

Psalms 65:10 You drench plowed fields [with rain] and level their clumps of soil. You soften them with showers and bless what grows in them.

Psalms 65:11 You crown the year with your goodness, and richness overflows wherever you are.

Psalms 65:12 The pastures in the desert overflow [with richness]. The hills are surrounded with joy.

Psalms 65:13 The pastures are covered with flocks. The valleys are carpeted with grain. All of them shout triumphantly. Indeed, they sing.

Psalms 66:1 [For the choir director; a song; a psalm.] Shout happily to God, all the earth!

Psalms 66:2 Make music to praise the glory of his name. Make his praise glorious.

Psalms 66:3 Say to God, “How awe-inspiring are your deeds! Your power is so great that your enemies will cringe in front of you.

Psalms 66:4 The whole earth will worship you. It will make music to praise you. It will make music to praise your name.” [Selah]

Psalms 66:5 Come and see what God has done- his awe-inspiring deeds for Adam’s descendants.

Psalms 66:6 He turned the sea into dry land. They crossed the river on foot. We rejoiced because of what he did there.

Psalms 66:7 He rules forever with his might. His eyes watch the nations. Rebels will not be able to oppose him. [Selah]

Psalms 66:8 Thank our God, you nations. Make the sound of his praise heard.

Psalms 66:9 He has kept us alive and has not allowed us to fall.

Psalms 66:10 You have tested us, O God. You have refined us in the same way silver is refined.

Psalms 66:11 You have trapped us in a net. You have laid burdens on our backs.

Psalms 66:12 You let people ride over our heads. We went through fire and water, but then you brought us out and refreshed us.

Psalms 66:13 I will come into your temple with burnt offerings. I will keep my vows to you,

Psalms 66:14 the vows made by my lips and spoken by my [own] mouth when I was in trouble.

Psalms 66:15 I will offer you a sacrifice of fattened livestock for burnt offerings with the smoke from rams. I will offer cattle and goats. [Selah]

Psalms 66:16 Come and listen, all who fear God, and I will tell you what he has done for me.

Psalms 66:17 With my mouth I cried out to him. High praise was on my tongue.

Psalms 66:18 If I had thought about doing anything sinful, the Lord would not have listened [to me].

Psalms 66:19 But God has heard me. He has paid attention to my prayer.

Psalms 66:20 Thanks be to God, who has not rejected my prayer or taken away his mercy from me.

Psalms 67:1 [For the choir director; on stringed instruments; a psalm; a song.] May God have pity on us and bless us! May he smile on us. [Selah]

Psalms 67:2 Then your ways will be known on earth, your salvation throughout all nations.

Psalms 67:3 Let everyone give thanks to you, O God. Let everyone give thanks to you.

Psalms 67:4 Let the nations be glad and sing joyfully because you judge everyone with justice and guide the nations on the earth. [Selah]

Psalms 67:5 Let the people give thanks to you, O God. Let all the people give thanks to you.

Psalms 67:6 The earth has yielded its harvest. May God, our God, bless us.

Psalms 67:7 May God bless us, and may all the ends of the earth worship him.

Psalms 68:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David; a song.] God will arise. His enemies will be scattered. Those who hate him will flee from him.

Psalms 68:2 Blow them away like smoke. Let wicked people melt in God’s presence like wax next to a fire.

Psalms 68:3 But let righteous people rejoice. Let them celebrate in God’s presence. Let them overflow with joy.

Psalms 68:4 Sing to God; make music to praise his name. Make a highway for him to ride through the deserts. The LORD is his name. Celebrate in his presence.

Psalms 68:5 The God who is in his holy dwelling place is the father of the fatherless and the defender of widows.

Psalms 68:6 God places lonely people in families. He leads prisoners out of prison into productive lives, but rebellious people must live in an unproductive land.

Psalms 68:7 O God, when you went in front of your people, when you marched through the desert, [Selah]

Psalms 68:8 the earth quaked and the sky poured in the presence of the God of Sinai, in the presence of the God of Israel.

Psalms 68:9 You watered the land with plenty of rain, O God. You refreshed it when your land was exhausted.

Psalms 68:10 Your flock settled there. Out of your goodness, O God, you provided for oppressed people.

Psalms 68:11 The Lord gives instructions. The women who announce the good news are a large army.

Psalms 68:12 [They say,] "The kings of the armies flee; they run away. The women who remained at home will divide the goods.

Psalms 68:13 Though you stayed among the sheep pens, [you will be like] the wings of a dove covered with silver, its feathers with yellow gold.

Psalms 68:14 Meanwhile, the Almighty was still scattering kings there like snow falling on Mount Zalmon."

Psalms 68:15 The mountain of Bashan is the mountain of God. The mountain of Bashan is the mountain with many peaks.

Psalms 68:16 Why do you look with envy, you mountains with many peaks, at the mountain where God has chosen to live? Certainly, the LORD will live there forever.

Psalms 68:17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand in number, thousands upon thousands. The Lord is among them. [The God of] Sinai is in his holy place.

Psalms 68:18 You went to the highest place. You took prisoners captive. You received gifts from people, even from rebellious people, so that the LORD God may live there.

Psalms 68:19 Thanks be to the Lord, who daily carries our burdens for us. God is our salvation. [Selah]

Psalms 68:20 Our God is the God of victories. The Almighty LORD is our escape from death.

Psalms 68:21 Certainly, God will crush the heads of his enemies [and destroy even] the hair on the heads of those who continue to be guilty.

Psalms 68:22 The Lord said, "I will bring them back from Bashan. I will bring them back from the depths of the sea

Psalms 68:23 so that you, [my people,] may bathe your feet in blood and the tongues of your dogs may lick the blood of your enemies."

Psalms 68:24 Your festival processions, O God, can be seen by everyone. They are the processions for my God, my king, into the holy place.

Psalms 68:25 The singers are in front. The musicians are behind them. The young women beating tambourines are between them.

Psalms 68:26 Thank God, the Lord, the source of Israel, with the choirs.

Psalms 68:27 Benjamin, the youngest, is leading them, [next] the leaders of Judah with their noisy crowds, [then] the leaders of Zebulun, [then] the leaders of Naphtali.

Psalms 68:28 Your God has decided you will be strong. Display your strength, O God, as you have for us before.

Psalms 68:29 Kings will bring you gifts because of your temple high above Jerusalem.

Psalms 68:30 Threaten the beast who is among the cattails, the herd of bulls with the calves of the nations, until it humbles itself with pieces of silver. Scatter the people who find joy in war.

Psalms 68:31 Ambassadors will come from Egypt. Sudan will stretch out its hands to God [in prayer].

Psalms 68:32 You kingdoms of the world, sing to God. Make music to praise the Lord. [Selah]

Psalms 68:33 God rides through the ancient heaven, the highest heaven. Listen! He makes his voice heard, his powerful voice.

Psalms 68:34 Acknowledge the power of God. His majesty is over Israel, and his power is in the skies.

Psalms 68:35 God, the God of Israel, is awe-inspiring in his holy place. He gives strength and power to his people. Thanks be to God!

Psalms 69:1 [For the choir director; according to [shoshannim]; by David.] Save me, O God! The water is already up to my neck!

Psalms 69:2 I am sinking in deep mud. There is nothing to stand on. I am in deep water. A flood is sweeping me away.

Psalms 69:3 I am exhausted from crying for help. My throat is hoarse. My eyes are strained [from] looking for my God.

Psalms 69:4 Those who hate me for no reason outnumber the hairs on my head. Those who want to destroy me are mighty. They have no reason to be my enemies. I am forced to pay back what I did not steal.

Psalms 69:5 O God, you know my stupidity, and the things of which I am guilty are not hidden from you.

Psalms 69:6 Do not let those who wait with hope for you be put to shame because of me, O Almighty LORD of Armies. Do not let those who come to you for help be humiliated because of me, O God of Israel.

Psalms 69:7 Indeed, for your sake I have endured insults. Humiliation has covered my face.

Psalms 69:8 I have become a stranger to my [own] brothers, a foreigner to my mother’s sons.

Psalms 69:9 Indeed, devotion for your house has consumed me, and the insults of those who insult you have fallen on me.

Psalms 69:10 I cried and fasted, but I was insulted for it.

Psalms 69:11 I dressed myself in sackcloth, but I became the object of ridicule.

Psalms 69:12 Those who sit at the gate gossip about me, and drunkards make up songs about me.

Psalms 69:13 May my prayer come to you at an acceptable time, O LORD. O God, out of the greatness of your mercy, answer me with the truth of your salvation.

Psalms 69:14 Rescue me from the mud. Do not let me sink [into it]. I want to be rescued from those who hate me and from the deep water.

Psalms 69:15 Do not let floodwaters sweep me away. Do not let the ocean swallow me up, or the pit close its mouth over me.

Psalms 69:16 Answer me, O LORD, because your mercy is good. Out of your unlimited compassion, turn to me.

Psalms 69:17 I am in trouble, so do not hide your face from me. Answer me quickly!

Psalms 69:18 Come close, and defend my soul. Set me free because of my enemies.

Psalms 69:19 You know that I have been insulted, put to shame, and humiliated. All my opponents are in front of you.

Psalms 69:20 Insults have broken my heart, and I am sick. I looked for sympathy, but there was none. I looked for people to comfort me, but I found no one.

Psalms 69:21 They poisoned my food, and when I was thirsty, they gave me vinegar to drink.

Psalms 69:22 Let the table set for them become a trap and a snare for their friends.

Psalms 69:23 Let their vision become clouded so that they cannot see. Let their thighs continually shake.

Psalms 69:24 Pour your rage on them. Let your burning anger catch up with them.

Psalms 69:25 Let their camp be deserted and their tents empty.

Psalms 69:26 They persecute the one you have struck, and they talk about the pain of those you have wounded.

Psalms 69:27 Charge them with one crime after another. Do not let them be found innocent.

Psalms 69:28 Let their [names] be erased from the Book of Life. Do not let them be listed with righteous people.

Psalms 69:29 I am suffering and in pain. Let your saving power protect me, O God.

Psalms 69:30 I want to praise the name of God with a song. I want to praise its greatness with a song of thanksgiving.

Psalms 69:31 This will please the LORD more than [sacrificing] an ox or a bull with horns and hoofs.

Psalms 69:32 Oppressed people will see [this] and rejoice. May the hearts of those who look to God for help be refreshed.

Psalms 69:33 The LORD listens to needy people. He does not despise his own who are in prison.

Psalms 69:34 Let heaven and earth, the seas, and everything that moves in them, praise him.

Psalms 69:35 When God saves Zion, he will rebuild the cities of Judah. His servants will live there and take possession of it.

Psalms 69:36 The descendants of his servants will inherit it. Those who love him will live there.

Psalms 70:1 [For the choir director; by David; to be kept in mind.] Come quickly to rescue me, O God! Come quickly to help me, O LORD!

Psalms 70:2 Let those who seek my life be confused and put to shame. Let those who want my downfall be turned back and disgraced.

Psalms 70:3 Let those who say, “Aha! Aha!” be turned back because of their own shame.

Psalms 70:4 Let all who seek you rejoice and be glad because of you. Let those who love your salvation continually say, “God is great!”

Psalms 70:5 But I am oppressed and needy. O God, come to me quickly. You are my help and my savior. O LORD, do not delay!

Psalms 71:1 I have taken refuge in you, O LORD. Never let me be put to shame.

Psalms 71:2 Rescue me and free me because of your righteousness. Turn your ear toward me, and save me.

Psalms 71:3 Be a rock on which I may live, a place where I may always go. You gave the order to save me! Indeed, you are my rock and my fortress.

Psalms 71:4 My God, free me from the hands of a wicked person, from the grasp of one who is cruel and unjust.

Psalms 71:5 You are my hope, O Almighty LORD. You have been my confidence ever since I was young.

Psalms 71:6 I depended on you before I was born. You took me from my mother’s womb. My songs of praise constantly speak about you.

Psalms 71:7 I have become an example to many people, but you are my strong refuge.

Psalms 71:8 My mouth is filled with your praise, with your glory all day long.

Psalms 71:9 Do not reject me when I am old or abandon me when I lose my strength.

Psalms 71:10 My enemies talk about me. They watch me as they plot to take my life.

Psalms 71:11 They say, “God has abandoned him. Pursue him and grab him because there is no one to rescue him.”

Psalms 71:12 O God, do not be so distant from me. O my God, come quickly to help me.

Psalms 71:13 Let those who accuse me come to a shameful end. Let those who want my downfall be covered with disgrace and humiliation.

Psalms 71:14 But I will always have hope. I will praise you more and more.

Psalms 71:15 My mouth will tell about your righteousness, about your salvation all day long. Even then, it is more than I can understand.

Psalms 71:16 I will come with the mighty deeds of the Almighty LORD. I will praise your righteousness, yours alone.

Psalms 71:17 O God, you have taught me ever since I was young, and I still talk about the miracles you have done.

Psalms 71:18 Even when I am old and gray, do not abandon me, O God. Let me live to tell the people of this age what your strength has accomplished, to tell about your power to all who will come.

Psalms 71:19 Your righteousness reaches to the heavens, O God. You have done great things. O God, who is like you?

Psalms 71:20 You have made me endure many terrible troubles. You restore me to life again. You bring me back from the depths of the earth.

Psalms 71:21 You comfort me and make me greater than ever.

Psalms 71:22 Because of your faithfulness, O my God, even I will give thanks to you as I play on a lyre. I will make music with a harp to praise you, O Holy One of Israel.

Psalms 71:23 My lips will sing with joy when I make music to praise you. My soul, which you have rescued, also will sing joyfully.

Psalms 71:24 My tongue will tell about your righteousness all day long, because those who wanted my downfall have been disgraced and put to shame.

Psalms 72:1 [By Solomon.] O God, give the king your justice and the king's son your righteousness

Psalms 72:2 so that he may judge your people with righteousness and your oppressed [people] with justice.

Psalms 72:3 May the mountains bring peace to the people and the hills bring righteousness.

Psalms 72:4 May he grant justice to the people who are oppressed. May he save the children of needy people and crush their oppressor.

Psalms 72:5 May they fear you as long as the sun and moon [shine]-throughout every generation.

Psalms 72:6 May he be like rain that falls on [freshly] cut grass, like showers that water the land.

Psalms 72:7 May righteous people blossom in his day. May there be unlimited peace until the moon no longer [shines].

Psalms 72:8 May he rule from sea to sea, from the Euphrates River to the ends of the earth.

Psalms 72:9 May the people of the desert kneel in front of him. May his enemies lick the dust.

Psalms 72:10 May the kings from Tarshish and the islands bring presents. May the kings from Sheba and Seba bring gifts.

Psalms 72:11 May all kings worship him. May all nations serve him.

Psalms 72:12 He will rescue the needy person who cries for help and the oppressed person who has no one's help.

Psalms 72:13 He will have pity on the poor and needy and will save the lives of the needy.

Psalms 72:14 He will rescue them from oppression and violence. Their blood will be precious in his sight.

Psalms 72:15 May he live long. May the gold from Sheba be given to him. May [the people] pray for him continually. May [they] praise him all day long.

Psalms 72:16 May there be plenty of grain in the land. May it wave [in the breeze] on the mountaintops, its fruit like [the treetops of] Lebanon. May those from the city flourish like the grass on the ground.

Psalms 72:17 May his name endure forever. May his name continue as long as the sun [shines]. May all nations be blessed through him and call him blessed.

Psalms 72:18 Thank the LORD God, the God of Israel, who alone does miracles.

Psalms 72:19 Thanks be to his glorious name forever. May the whole earth be filled with his glory. Amen and amen!

Psalms 72:20 The prayers by David, son of Jesse, end here.

Psalms 73:1 [A psalm by Asaph.] God is truly good to Israel, to those whose lives are pure.

Psalms 73:2 But my feet had almost stumbled. They had almost slipped

Psalms 73:3 because I was envious of arrogant people when I saw the prosperity that wicked people enjoy.

Psalms 73:4 They suffer no pain. Their bodies are healthy.

Psalms 73:5 They have no drudgery in their lives like ordinary people. They are not plagued [with problems] like others.

Psalms 73:6 That is why they wear arrogance like a necklace and acts of violence like clothing.

Psalms 73:7 Their eyes peer out from their fat faces, and their imaginations run wild.

Psalms 73:8 They ridicule. They speak maliciously. They speak arrogantly about oppression.

Psalms 73:9 They verbally attack heaven, and they order people around on earth.

Psalms 73:10 That is why God’s people turn to wickedness and swallow their words.

Psalms 73:11 Then wicked people ask, “What does God know?” “Does the Most High know anything?”

Psalms 73:12 Look how wicked they are! They never have a worry. They grow more and more wealthy.

Psalms 73:13 I’ve received no reward for keeping my life pure and washing my hands of any blame.

Psalms 73:14 I’m plagued [with problems] all day long, and every morning my punishment [begins again].

Psalms 73:15 If I had said, “I will continue to talk like that,” I would have betrayed God’s people.

Psalms 73:16 But when I tried to understand this, it was too difficult for me.

Psalms 73:17 Only when I came into God’s holy place did I [finally] understand what would happen to them.

Psalms 73:18 You put them in slippery places and make them fall into ruin.

Psalms 73:19 They are suddenly destroyed. They are completely swept away by terror!

Psalms 73:20 As [someone] gets rid of a dream when he wakes up, so you, O Lord, get rid of the thought of them when you wake up.

Psalms 73:21 When my heart was filled with bitterness and my mind was seized [with envy],

Psalms 73:22 I was stupid, and I did not understand. I was like a dumb animal in your presence.

Psalms 73:23 Yet, I am always with you. You hold on to my right hand.

Psalms 73:24 With your advice you guide me, and in the end you will take me to glory.

Psalms 73:25 As long as I have you, I don't need anyone else in heaven or on earth.

Psalms 73:26 My body and mind may waste away, but God remains the foundation of my life and my inheritance forever.

Psalms 73:27 Without a doubt, those who are far from you will die. You destroy all who are unfaithful to you.

Psalms 73:28 Being united with God is my highest good. I have made the Almighty LORD my refuge so that I may report everything that he has done.

Psalms 74:1 [A [maskil] by Asaph.] Why, O God, have you rejected us forever? Why does your anger smolder against the sheep in your care?

Psalms 74:2 Remember your congregation. Long ago you made it your own. You bought this tribe to be your possession. This tribe is Mount Zion, where you have made your home.

Psalms 74:3 Turn your steps toward these pathetic ruins. The enemy has destroyed everything in the holy temple.

Psalms 74:4 Your opponents have roared inside your meeting place. They have set up their own emblems as symbols.

Psalms 74:5 Starting from its entrance, they hacked away like a woodcutter in a forest.

Psalms 74:6 They smashed all its carved paneling with axes and hatchets.

Psalms 74:7 They burned your holy place to the ground. They dishonored the place where you live among us.

Psalms 74:8 They said to themselves, "We will crush them." They burned every meeting place of God in the land.

Psalms 74:9 We no longer see miraculous signs. There are no prophets anymore. No one knows how long this will last.

Psalms 74:10 How long, O God, will the enemy insult us? Will the enemy despise you forever?

Psalms 74:11 Why do you hold back your hand, especially your right hand? Take your hands out of your pockets. Destroy your enemies!

Psalms 74:12 And yet, from long ago God has been my king, the one who has been victorious throughout the earth.

Psalms 74:13 You stirred up the sea with your own strength. You smashed the heads of sea monsters in the water.

Psalms 74:14 You crushed the heads of Leviathan and gave them to the creatures of the desert for food.

Psalms 74:15 You opened the springs and brooks. You dried up the ever-flowing rivers.

Psalms 74:16 The day and the night are yours. You set the moon and the sun in their places.

Psalms 74:17 You determined all the boundaries of the earth. You created summer and winter.

Psalms 74:18 Remember how the enemy insulted you, O LORD. Remember how an entire nation of godless fools despised your name.

Psalms 74:19 Do not hand over the soul of your dove to wild animals. Do not forget the life of your oppressed people forever.

Psalms 74:20 Consider your promise because every dark corner of the land is filled with violence.

Psalms 74:21 Do not let oppressed people come back in disgrace. Let weak and needy people praise your name.

Psalms 74:22 Arise, O God! Fight for your own cause! Remember how godless fools insult you all day long.

Psalms 74:23 Do not forget the shouting of your opponents. Do not forget the uproar made by those who attack you.

Psalms 75:1 [For the choir director; [al tashcheth]; a psalm by Asaph; a song.] We give thanks to you, O God; we give thanks. You are present, and your miracles confirm that.

Psalms 75:2 When I choose the right time, I will judge fairly.

Psalms 75:3 When the earth and everyone who lives on it begin to melt, I will make its foundations as solid as rock. [Selah]

Psalms 75:4 I said to those who brag, “Don’t brag,” and to wicked people, “Don’t raise your weapons.

Psalms 75:5 Don’t raise your weapons so proudly or speak so defiantly.”

Psalms 75:6 The [authority] to reward someone does not [come] from the east, from the west, or [even] from the wilderness.

Psalms 75:7 God alone is the judge. He punishes one person and rewards another.

Psalms 75:8 A cup is in the LORD’s hand. (Its foaming wine is thoroughly mixed with spices.) He will empty it, [and] all the wicked people on earth will have to drink every last drop.

Psalms 75:9 But I will speak [about your miracles] forever. I will make music to praise the God of Jacob.

Psalms 75:10 I will destroy all the weapons of wicked people, but the weapons of righteous people will be raised proudly.

Psalms 76:1 [For the choir director; on stringed instruments; a psalm by Asaph; a song.] God is known in Judah. His name is great in Israel.

Psalms 76:2 His tent is in Salem. His home is in Zion.

Psalms 76:3 There he destroyed flaming arrows, shields, swords, and weapons of war. [Selah]

Psalms 76:4 You are the radiant one. You are more majestic than the ancient mountains.

Psalms 76:5 Brave people were robbed. They died. None of the warriors were able to lift a hand.

Psalms 76:6 At your stern warning, O God of Jacob, chariot riders and horses were put to sleep.

Psalms 76:7 You alone must be feared! Who can stand in your presence when you become angry?

Psalms 76:8 From heaven you announced a verdict. The earth was fearful and silent

Psalms 76:9 when you rose to judge, O God, when you rose to save every oppressed person on earth. [Selah]

Psalms 76:10 Even angry mortals will praise you. You will wear the remainder of [their] anger.

Psalms 76:11 Make vows to the LORD your God, and keep them. Let everyone around him bring gifts to the one who must be feared.

Psalms 76:12 He cuts short the lives of influential people. He terrifies the kings of the earth.

Psalms 77:1 [For the choir director; according to Jeduthun; a psalm by Asaph.] Loudly, I cried to God. Loudly, I cried to God so that he would open his ears to [hear] me.

Psalms 77:2 On the day I was in trouble, I went to the Lord for help. At night I stretched out my hands in prayer without growing tired. Yet, my soul refused to be comforted.

Psalms 77:3 I sigh as I remember God. I begin to lose hope as I think about him. [Selah]

Psalms 77:4 (You keep my eyelids open.) I am so upset that I cannot speak.

Psalms 77:5 I have considered the days of old, the years long ago.

Psalms 77:6 I remember my song in the night and reflect [on it]. My spirit searches [for an answer]:

Psalms 77:7 Will the Lord reject [me] for all time? Will he ever accept me?

Psalms 77:8 Has his mercy come to an end forever? Has his promise been canceled throughout every generation?

Psalms 77:9 Has God forgotten to be merciful? Has he locked up his compassion because of his anger? [Selah]

Psalms 77:10 Then I said, “It makes me feel sick that the power of the Most High is no longer the same.”

Psalms 77:11 I will remember the deeds of the LORD. I will remember your ancient miracles.

Psalms 77:12 I will reflect on all your actions and think about what you have done.

Psalms 77:13 O God, your ways are holy! What god is as great as our God?

Psalms 77:14 You are the God who performs miracles. You have made your strength known among the nations.

Psalms 77:15 With your might you have defended your people, the descendants of Jacob and Joseph. [Selah]

Psalms 77:16 The water saw you, O God. The water saw you and shook. Even the depths of the sea trembled.

Psalms 77:17 The clouds poured out water. The sky thundered. Even your arrows flashed in every direction.

Psalms 77:18 The sound of your thunder rumbled in the sky. Streaks of lightning lit up the world. The earth trembled and shook.

Psalms 77:19 Your road went through the sea. Your path went through raging water, but your footprints could not be seen.

Psalms 77:20 Like a shepherd, you led your people. You had Moses and Aaron take them by the hand.

Psalms 78:1 [A [maskil] by Asaph.] Open your ears to my teachings, my people. Turn your ears to the words from my mouth.

Psalms 78:2 I will open my mouth to illustrate points. I will explain what has been hidden long ago,

Psalms 78:3 things that we have heard and known about, things that our parents have told us.

Psalms 78:4 We will not hide them from our children. We will tell the next generation about the LORD’s power and great deeds and the miraculous things he has done.

Psalms 78:5 He established written instructions for Jacob's people. He gave his teachings to Israel. He commanded our ancestors to make them known to their children

Psalms 78:6 so that the next generation would know them. Children yet to be born [would learn them]. They will grow up and tell their children

Psalms 78:7 to trust God, to remember what he has done, and to obey his commands.

Psalms 78:8 Then they will not be like their ancestors, a stubborn and rebellious generation. Their hearts were not loyal. Their spirits were not faithful to God.

Psalms 78:9 The men of Ephraim, well-equipped with bows [and arrows], turned [and ran] on the day of battle.

Psalms 78:10 They had not been faithful to God's promise. They refused to follow his teachings.

Psalms 78:11 They forgot what he had done- the miracles that he had shown them.

Psalms 78:12 In front of their ancestors he performed miracles in the land of Egypt, in the fields of Zoan.

Psalms 78:13 He divided the sea and led them through it. He made the waters stand up like a wall.

Psalms 78:14 He guided them by a cloud during the day and by a fiery light throughout the night.

Psalms 78:15 He split rocks in the desert. He gave them plenty to drink, an ocean of water.

Psalms 78:16 He made streams come out of a rock. He made the water flow like rivers.

Psalms 78:17 They continued to sin against him, to rebel in the desert against the Most High.

Psalms 78:18 They deliberately tested God by demanding the food they craved.

Psalms 78:19 They spoke against God by saying, "Can God prepare a banquet in the desert?

Psalms 78:20 True, he did strike a rock, and water did gush out, and the streams did overflow. But can he also give us bread or provide us, his people, with meat?"

Psalms 78:21 When the LORD heard this, he became furious. His fire burned against Jacob and his anger flared up at Israel

Psalms 78:22 because they did not believe God or trust him to save them.

Psalms 78:23 In spite of that, he commanded the clouds above and opened the doors of heaven.

Psalms 78:24 He rained manna down on them to eat and gave them grain from heaven.

Psalms 78:25 Humans ate the bread of the mighty ones, and God sent them plenty of food.

Psalms 78:26 He made the east wind blow in the heavens and guided the south wind with his might.

Psalms 78:27 He rained meat down on them like dust, birds like the sand on the seashore.

Psalms 78:28 He made the birds fall in the middle of his camp, all around his dwelling place.

Psalms 78:29 They ate more than enough. He gave them what they wanted,

Psalms 78:30 but they still wanted more. While the food was still in their mouths,

Psalms 78:31 the anger of God flared up against them. He killed their strongest men and slaughtered the best young men in Israel.

Psalms 78:32 In spite of all this, they continued to sin, and they no longer believed in his miracles.

Psalms 78:33 He brought their days to an end like a whisper in the wind. He brought their years to an end in terror.

Psalms 78:34 When he killed [some of] them, [the rest] searched for him. They turned from their sins and eagerly looked for God.

Psalms 78:35 They remembered that God was their rock, that the Most High was their defender.

Psalms 78:36 They flattered him with their mouths and lied to him with their tongues.

Psalms 78:37 Their hearts were not loyal to him. They were not faithful to his promise.

Psalms 78:38 But he is compassionate. He forgave their sin. He did not destroy them. He restrained his anger many times. He did not display all of his fury.

Psalms 78:39 He remembered that they were only flesh and blood, a breeze that blows and does not return.

Psalms 78:40 How often they rebelled against him in the wilderness! How often they caused him grief in the desert!

Psalms 78:41 Again and again they tested God, and they pushed the Holy One of Israel to the limit.

Psalms 78:42 They did not remember his power- the day he freed them from their oppressor,

Psalms 78:43 when he performed his miraculous signs in Egypt, his wonders in the fields of Zoan.

Psalms 78:44 He turned their rivers into blood so that they could not drink from their streams.

Psalms 78:45 He sent a swarm of flies that bit them and frogs that ruined them.

Psalms 78:46 He gave their crops to grasshoppers and their produce to locusts.

Psalms 78:47 He killed their vines with hail and their fig trees with frost.

Psalms 78:48 He let the hail strike their cattle and bolts of lightning strike their livestock.

Psalms 78:49 He sent his burning anger, rage, fury, and hostility against them. He sent an army of destroying angels.

Psalms 78:50 He cleared a path for his anger. He did not spare them. He let the plague take their lives.

Psalms 78:51 He slaughtered every firstborn in Egypt, the ones born in the tents of Ham when their fathers were young.

Psalms 78:52 But he led his own people out like sheep and guided them like a flock through the wilderness.

Psalms 78:53 He led them safely. They had no fear while the sea covered their enemies.

Psalms 78:54 He brought them into his holy land, to this mountain that his power had won.

Psalms 78:55 He forced nations out of their way and gave them the land of the nations as their inheritance. He settled the tribes of Israel in their own tents.

Psalms 78:56 They tested God Most High and rebelled against him. They did not obey his written instructions.

Psalms 78:57 They were disloyal and treacherous like their ancestors. They were like arrows shot from a defective bow.

Psalms 78:58 They made him angry because of their illegal worship sites. They made him furious because they worshiped idols.

Psalms 78:59 When God heard, he became furious. He completely rejected Israel.

Psalms 78:60 He abandoned his dwelling place in Shiloh, the tent where he had lived among humans.

Psalms 78:61 He allowed his power to be taken captive and handed his glory over to an oppressor.

Psalms 78:62 He let swords kill his people. He was furious with those who belonged to him.

Psalms 78:63 Fire consumed his best young men, so his virgins heard no wedding songs.

Psalms 78:64 His priests were cut down with swords. The widows [of his priests] could not even weep [for them].

Psalms 78:65 Then the Lord woke up like one who had been sleeping, like a warrior sobering up from [too much] wine.

Psalms 78:66 He struck his enemies from behind and disgraced them forever.

Psalms 78:67 He rejected the tent of Joseph. He did not choose the tribe of Ephraim, Psalms 78:68 but he chose the tribe of Judah, Mount Zion which he loved.

Psalms 78:69 He built his holy place to be like the high heavens, like the earth which he made to last for a long time.

Psalms 78:70 He chose his servant David. He took him from the sheep pens.

Psalms 78:71 He brought him from tending the ewes that had lambs so that David could be the shepherd of the people of Jacob, of Israel, the people who belonged to the LORD.

Psalms 78:72 With unselfish devotion David became their shepherd. With skill he guided them.

Psalms 79:1 [A psalm by Asaph.] O God, the nations have invaded the land that belongs to you. They have dishonored your holy temple. They have left Jerusalem in ruins.

Psalms 79:2 They have given the dead bodies of your servants to the birds for food. They have given the flesh of your godly ones to the animals.

Psalms 79:3 They have shed the blood of your people around Jerusalem as though it were water. There is no one to bury your people.

Psalms 79:4 We have become a disgrace to our neighbors, an object of ridicule and contempt to those around us.

Psalms 79:5 How long, O LORD? Will you remain angry forever? Will your fury continue to burn like fire?

Psalms 79:6 Pour your fury on the nations that do not know you, on the kingdoms that have not called you.

Psalms 79:7 They have devoured Jacob. They have destroyed his home.

Psalms 79:8 Do not hold the crimes of our ancestors against us. Reach out to us soon with your compassion, because we are helpless.

Psalms 79:9 Help us, O God, our savior, for the glory of your name. Rescue us, and forgive our sins for the honor of your name.

Psalms 79:10 Why should the nations [be allowed to] say, “Where is their God?” Let us watch as the nations learn that there is punishment for shedding the blood of your servants.

Psalms 79:11 Let the groans of prisoners come into your presence. With your powerful arm rescue those who are condemned to death.

Psalms 79:12 Pay each one of our neighbors back with seven times the number of insults they used to insult you, O Lord.

Psalms 79:13 Then we, your people, the flock in your pasture, will give thanks to you forever. We will praise you throughout every generation.

Psalms 80:1 [For the choir director; according to [shoshannim eduth]; by Asaph; a psalm.] Open your ears, O Shepherd of Israel, the one who leads [the descendants of] Joseph like sheep, the one who is enthroned over the angels.

Psalms 80:2 Appear in front of Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh. Wake up your power, and come to save us.

Psalms 80:3 O God, restore us and smile on us so that we may be saved.

Psalms 80:4 O LORD God, commander of armies, how long will you smolder in anger against the prayer of your people?

Psalms 80:5 You made them eat tears as food. You often made them drink [their own] tears.

Psalms 80:6 You made us a source of conflict to our neighbors, and our enemies made fun of us.

Psalms 80:7 O God, commander of armies, restore us and smile on us so that we may be saved.

Psalms 80:8 You brought a vine from Egypt. You forced out the nations and planted it.

Psalms 80:9 You cleared the ground for it so that it took root and filled the land.

Psalms 80:10 Its shade covered the mountains. Its branches covered the mighty cedars.

Psalms 80:11 It reached out with its branches to the Mediterranean Sea. Its shoots reached the Euphrates River.

Psalms 80:12 Why did you break down the stone fences around this vine? All who pass by are picking its fruit.

Psalms 80:13 Wild boars from the forest graze on it. Wild animals devour it.

Psalms 80:14 O God, commander of armies, come back! Look from heaven and see! Come to help this vine.

Psalms 80:15 Take care of what your right hand planted, the son you strengthened for yourself.

Psalms 80:16 The vine has been cut down and burned. Let them be destroyed by the threatening look on your face.

Psalms 80:17 Let your power rest on the man you have chosen, the son of man you strengthened for yourself.

Psalms 80:18 Then we will never turn away from you. Give us life again, and we will call on you.

Psalms 80:19 O LORD God, commander of armies, restore us, and smile on us so that we may be saved.

Psalms 81:1 [For the choir director; on the [gittith]; by Asaph.] Sing joyfully to God, our strength. Shout happily to the God of Jacob.

Psalms 81:2 Begin a psalm, and strike a tambourine. Play lyres and harps with their pleasant music.

Psalms 81:3 Blow the ram’s horn on the day of the new moon, on the day of the full moon, on our festival days.

Psalms 81:4 This is a law for Israel, a legal decision from the God of Jacob.

Psalms 81:5 These are the instructions God set in place for Joseph when Joseph rose to power over Egypt. I heard a message I did not understand:

Psalms 81:6 “I removed the burden from his shoulder. His hands were freed from the basket.

Psalms 81:7 When you were in trouble, you called out [to me], and I rescued you. I was hidden in thunder, but I answered you. I tested your [loyalty] at the oasis of Meribah. [Selah]

Psalms 81:8 Listen, my people, and I will warn you. Israel, if you would only listen to me!

Psalms 81:9 Never keep any strange god among you. Never worship a foreign god.

Psalms 81:10 I am the LORD your God, the one who brought you out of Egypt. Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.

Psalms 81:11 “But my people did not listen to me. Israel wanted nothing to do with me.

Psalms 81:12 So I let them go their own stubborn ways and follow their own advice.

Psalms 81:13 If only my people would listen to me! If only Israel would follow me!

Psalms 81:14 I would quickly defeat their enemies. I would turn my power against their foes.

Psalms 81:15 Those who hate the LORD would cringe in front of him, and their time [for punishment]would last forever.

Psalms 81:16 But I would feed Israel with the finest wheat and satisfy them with honey from a rock.”

Psalms 82:1 [A psalm by Asaph.] God takes his place in his own assembly. He pronounces judgment among the gods:

Psalms 82:2 “How long are you going to judge unfairly? How long are you going to side with wicked people?” [Selah]

Psalms 82:3 Defend weak people and orphans. Protect the rights of the oppressed and the poor.

Psalms 82:4 Rescue weak and needy people. Help them escape the power of wicked people.

Psalms 82:5 Wicked people do not know or understand anything. As they walk around in the dark, all the foundations of the earth shake.

Psalms 82:6 I said, “You are gods. You are all sons of the Most High.

Psalms 82:7 You will certainly die like humans and fall like any prince.”

Psalms 82:8 Arise, O God! Judge the earth, because all the nations belong to you.

Psalms 83:1 [A song; a psalm by Asaph.] O God, do not remain silent. Do not turn a deaf ear to me. Do not keep quiet, O God.

Psalms 83:2 Look, your enemies are in an uproar. Those who hate you hold their heads high.

Psalms 83:3 They make plans in secret against your people and plot together against those you treasure.

Psalms 83:4 They say, “Let’s wipe out their nation so that the name of Israel will no longer be remembered.”

Psalms 83:5 They agree completely on their plan. They form an alliance against you:

Psalms 83:6 the tents from Edom and Ishmael, Moab and Hagar,

Psalms 83:7 Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek, Philistia, along with those who live in Tyre.

Psalms 83:8 Even Assyria has joined them. They helped the descendants of Lot. [Selah]

Psalms 83:9 Do to them what you did to Midian, to Sisera and Jabin at the Kishon River.

Psalms 83:10 They were destroyed at Endor. They became manure to fertilize the ground.

Psalms 83:11 Treat their influential people as you treated Oreb and Zeeb. Treat all their leaders like Zebah and Zalmunna.

Psalms 83:12 They said, “Let’s take God’s pasturelands for ourselves.”

Psalms 83:13 O my God, blow them away like tumbleweeds, like husks in the wind.

Psalms 83:14 Pursue them with your storms, and terrify them with your windstorms

Psalms 83:15 the way fire burns a forest and flames set mountains on fire.

Psalms 83:16 Let their faces blush with shame, O LORD, so that they must look to you for help.

Psalms 83:17 Let them be put to shame and terrified forever. Let them die in disgrace

Psalms 83:18 so that they must acknowledge you. Your name is the LORD. You alone are the Most High God of the whole earth.

Psalms 84:1 [For the choir director; on the [gittith]; a psalm by Korah's descendants.] Your dwelling place is lovely, O LORD of Armies!

Psalms 84:2 My soul longs and yearns for the LORD's courtyards. My whole body shouts for joy to the living God.

Psalms 84:3 Even sparrows find a home, and swallows find a nest for themselves. There they hatch their young near your altars, O LORD of Armies, my king and my God.

Psalms 84:4 Blessed are those who live in your house. They are always praising you. [Selah]

Psalms 84:5 Blessed are those who find strength in you. Their hearts are on the road [that leads to you].

Psalms 84:6 As they pass through a valley where balsam trees grow, they make it a place of springs. The early rains cover it with blessings.

Psalms 84:7 Their strength grows as they go along until each one of them appears in front of God in Zion.

Psalms 84:8 O LORD God, commander of armies, hear my prayer. Open your ears, O God of Jacob. [Selah]

Psalms 84:9 Look at our shield, O God. Look with favor on the face of your anointed one.

Psalms 84:10 One day in your courtyards is better than a thousand [anywhere else]. I would rather stand in the entrance to my God's house than live inside wicked people's homes.

Psalms 84:11 The LORD God is a sun and shield. The LORD grants favor and honor. He does not hold back any blessing from those who live innocently.

Psalms 84:12 O LORD of Armies, blessed is the person who trusts you.

Psalms 85:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by Korah's descendants.] You favored your land, O LORD. You restored the fortunes of Jacob.

Psalms 85:2 You removed your people's guilt. You pardoned all their sins. [Selah]

Psalms 85:3 You laid aside all your fury. You turned away from your burning anger.

Psalms 85:4 Restore us, O God, our savior. Put an end to your anger against us.

Psalms 85:5 Will you be angry with us forever? Will you ever let go of your anger in the generations to come?

Psalms 85:6 Won't you restore our lives again so that your people may find joy in you?

Psalms 85:7 Show us your mercy, O LORD, by giving us your salvation.

Psalms 85:8 I want to hear what God the LORD says, because he promises peace to his people, to his godly ones. But they must not go back to their stupidity.

Psalms 85:9 Indeed, his salvation is near those who fear him, and [his] glory will remain in our land.

Psalms 85:10 Mercy and truth have met. Righteousness and peace have kissed.

Psalms 85:11 Truth sprouts from the ground, and righteousness looks down from heaven.

Psalms 85:12 The LORD will certainly give us what is good, and our land will produce crops.

Psalms 85:13 Righteousness will go ahead of him and make a path for his steps.

Psalms 86:1 [A prayer by David.] Turn your ear [toward me], O LORD. Answer me, because I am oppressed and needy.

Psalms 86:2 Protect me, because I am faithful [to you]. Save your servant who trusts you. You are my God.

Psalms 86:3 Have pity on me, O Lord, because I call out to you all day long.

Psalms 86:4 Give me joy, O Lord, because I lift my soul to you.

Psalms 86:5 You, O Lord, are good and forgiving, full of mercy toward everyone who calls out to you.

Psalms 86:6 Open your ears to my prayer, O LORD. Pay attention when I plead for mercy.

Psalms 86:7 When I am in trouble, I call out to you because you answer me.

Psalms 86:8 No god is like you, O Lord. No one can do what you do.

Psalms 86:9 All the nations that you have made will bow in your presence, O Lord. They will honor you.

Psalms 86:10 Indeed, you are great, a worker of miracles. You alone are God.

Psalms 86:11 Teach me your way, O LORD, so that I may live in your truth. Focus my heart on fearing you.

Psalms 86:12 I will give thanks to you with all my heart, O Lord my God. I will honor you forever

Psalms 86:13 because your mercy toward me is great. You have rescued me from the depths of hell.

Psalms 86:14 O God, arrogant people attack me, and a mob of ruthless people seeks my life. They think nothing of you.

Psalms 86:15 But you, O Lord, are a compassionate and merciful God. You are patient, always faithful and ready to forgive.

Psalms 86:16 Turn toward me, and have pity on me. Give me your strength because I am your servant. Save me because I am the son of your female servant.

Psalms 86:17 Grant me some proof of your goodness so that those who hate me may see it and be put to shame. You, O LORD, have helped me and comforted me.

Psalms 87:1 [By Korah's descendants; a psalm; a song.] [The city] the LORD has founded [stands]on holy mountains.

Psalms 87:2 The LORD loves the city of Zion more than any other place in Jacob.

Psalms 87:3 Glorious things are said about you, O city of God! [Selah]

Psalms 87:4 [The LORD says,] "I will add Egypt and Babylon as well as Philistia, Tyre, and Sudan to the list of those who acknowledge me. Each nation [will claim that it]was born there."

Psalms 87:5 But it will be said of Zion, "Every race is born in it. The Most High will make it secure."

Psalms 87:6 The LORD will record this in the Book of Nations: "Every race [claims that it] was born there." [Selah]

Psalms 87:7 Singers and dancers will sing, "Zion is the source of all our blessings."

Psalms 88:1 [A song; a psalm by Korah's descendants; for the choir director; according to [mahalath leannoth]; a [maskil] by Heman the Ezrahite.] O LORD God, my savior, I cry out to you during the day and at night.

Psalms 88:2 Let my prayer come into your presence. Turn your ear to hear my cries.

Psalms 88:3 My soul is filled with troubles, and my life comes closer to the grave.

Psalms 88:4 I am numbered with those who go into the pit. I am like a man without any strength-

Psalms 88:5 abandoned with the dead, like those who have been killed and lie in graves, like those whom you no longer remember, who are cut off from your power.

Psalms 88:6 You have put me in the bottom of the pit- in deep, dark places.

Psalms 88:7 Your rage lies heavily on me. You make all your waves pound on me. [Selah]

Psalms 88:8 You have taken my friends far away from me. You made me disgusting to them. I'm shut in, and I can't get out.

Psalms 88:9 My eyes grow weak because of my suffering. All day long I call out to you, O LORD. I stretch out my hands to you [in prayer].

Psalms 88:10 Will you perform miracles for those who are dead? Will the spirits of the dead rise and give thanks to you? [Selah]

Psalms 88:11 Will anyone tell about your mercy in Sheol or about your faithfulness in Abaddon?

Psalms 88:12 Will anyone know about your miracles in that dark place or about your righteousness in the place where forgotten people live?

Psalms 88:13 I cry out to you for help, O LORD, and in the morning my prayer will come into your presence.

Psalms 88:14 Why do you reject my soul, O LORD? Why do you hide your face from me?

Psalms 88:15 Ever since I was young, I have been suffering and near death. I have endured your terrors, and now I am in despair.

Psalms 88:16 Your burning anger has swept over me. Your terrors have destroyed me.

Psalms 88:17 They swirl around me all day long like water. They surround me on all sides.

Psalms 88:18 You have taken my loved ones and friends far away from me. Darkness is my only friend!

Psalms 89:1 [A [maskil] by Ethan the Ezrahite.] I will sing forever about the evidence of your mercy, O LORD. I will tell about your faithfulness to every generation.

Psalms 89:2 I said, "Your mercy will last forever. Your faithfulness stands firm in the heavens."

Psalms 89:3 [You said,] "I have made a promise to my chosen one. I swore this oath to my servant David:

Psalms 89:4 'I will make your dynasty continue forever. I built your throne to last throughout every generation.' " [Selah]

Psalms 89:5 O LORD, the heavens praise your miracles and your faithfulness in the assembly of the holy ones.

Psalms 89:6 Who in the skies can compare with the LORD? Who among the heavenly beings is like the LORD?

Psalms 89:7 God is terrifying in the council of the holy ones. He is greater and more awe-inspiring than those who surround him.

Psalms 89:8 O LORD God of Armies, who is like you? Mighty LORD, even your faithfulness surrounds you.

Psalms 89:9 You rule the raging sea. When its waves rise, you quiet them.

Psalms 89:10 You crushed Rahab; it was like a corpse. With your strong arm you scattered your enemies.

Psalms 89:11 The heavens are yours. The earth is also yours. You made the world and everything in it.

Psalms 89:12 You created north and south. Mount Tabor and Mount Hermon sing your name joyfully.

Psalms 89:13 Your arm is mighty. Your hand is strong. Your right hand is lifted high.

Psalms 89:14 Righteousness and justice are the foundations of your throne. Mercy and truth stand in front of you.

Psalms 89:15 Blessed are the people who know how to praise you. They walk in the light of your presence, O LORD.

Psalms 89:16 They find joy in your name all day long. They are joyful in your righteousness

Psalms 89:17 because you are the glory of their strength. By your favor you give us victory.

Psalms 89:18 Our shield belongs to the LORD. Our king belongs to the Holy One of Israel.

Psalms 89:19 Once in a vision you said to your faithful ones: “I set a boy above warriors. I have raised up one chosen from the people.

Psalms 89:20 I found my servant David. I anointed him with my holy oil.

Psalms 89:21 My hand is ready to help him. My arm will also give him strength.

Psalms 89:22 No enemy will take him by surprise. No wicked person will mistreat him.

Psalms 89:23 I will crush his enemies in front of him and defeat those who hate him.

Psalms 89:24 My faithfulness and mercy will be with him, and in my name he will be victorious.

Psalms 89:25 I will put his [left] hand on the sea and his right hand on the rivers.

Psalms 89:26 He will call out to me, 'You are my Father, my God, and the rock of my salvation.'

Psalms 89:27 Yes, I will make him the firstborn. He will be the Most High to the kings of the earth.

Psalms 89:28 My mercy will stay with him forever. My promise to him is unbreakable.

Psalms 89:29 I will make his dynasty endure forever and his throne like the days of heaven.

Psalms 89:30 "If his descendants abandon my teachings and do not live by my rules,

Psalms 89:31 if they violate my laws and do not obey my commandments,

Psalms 89:32 then with a rod I will punish their rebellion and their crimes with beatings.

Psalms 89:33 But I will not take my mercy away from him or allow my truth to become a lie.

Psalms 89:34 I will not dishonor my promise or alter my own agreement.

Psalms 89:35 On my holiness I have taken an oath once and for all: I will not lie to David.

Psalms 89:36 His dynasty will last forever. His throne will be in my presence like the sun.

Psalms 89:37 Like the moon his throne will stand firm forever. It will be like a faithful witness in heaven."

Psalms 89:38 But you have despised, rejected, and become angry with your anointed one.

Psalms 89:39 You have refused to recognize the promise to your servant and have thrown his crown into the dirt.

Psalms 89:40 You have broken through all his walls and have laid his fortified cities in ruins.

Psalms 89:41 (Everyone who passed by robbed him. He has become the object of his neighbors' scorn.)

Psalms 89:42 You held the right hand of his enemies high and made all of his adversaries rejoice.

Psalms 89:43 You even took his sword out of his hand and failed to support him in battle.

Psalms 89:44 You put an end to his splendor and hurled his throne to the ground.

Psalms 89:45 You cut short the days of his youth and covered him with shame. [Selah]

Psalms 89:46 How long, O LORD? Will you hide yourself forever? How long will your anger continue to burn like fire?

Psalms 89:47 Remember how short my life is! Have you created Adam's descendants for no reason?

Psalms 89:48 Can a mortal go on living and never see death? Who can set himself free from the power of the grave? [Selah]

Psalms 89:49 Where is the evidence of your mercy, Lord? You swore an oath to David on [the basis of] your faithfulness.

Psalms 89:50 Remember, O LORD, how your servant has been insulted. Remember how I have carried in my heart [the insults] from so many people.

Psalms 89:51 Your enemies insulted [me]. They insulted your Messiah every step he took.

Psalms 89:52 Thank the LORD forever. Amen and amen!

Psalms 90:1 [A prayer by Moses, the man of God.] O Lord, you have been our refuge throughout every generation.

Psalms 90:2 Before the mountains were born, before you gave birth to the earth and the world, you were God. You are God from everlasting to everlasting.

Psalms 90:3 You turn mortals back into dust and say, "Return, descendants of Adam."

Psalms 90:4 Indeed, in your sight a thousand years are like a single day, like yesterday-already past- like an hour in the night.

Psalms 90:5 You sweep mortals away. They are a dream. They sprout again in the morning like cut grass.

Psalms 90:6 In the morning they blossom and sprout. In the evening they wither and dry up.

Psalms 90:7 Indeed, your anger consumes us. Your rage terrifies us.

Psalms 90:8 You have set our sins in front of you. You have put our secret sins in the light of your presence.

Psalms 90:9 Indeed, all our days slip away because of your fury. We live out our years like one [long] sigh.

Psalms 90:10 Each of us lives for 70 years- or even 80 if we are in good health. But the best of them [bring] trouble and misery. Indeed, they are soon gone, and we fly away.

Psalms 90:11 Who fully understands the power of your anger? A person fears you more when he better understands your fury.

Psalms 90:12 Teach us to number each of our days so that we may grow in wisdom.

Psalms 90:13 Return, LORD! How long...? Change your plans about [us,] your servants.

Psalms 90:14 Satisfy us every morning with your mercy so that we may sing joyfully and rejoice all our days.

Psalms 90:15 Make us rejoice for as many days as you have made us suffer, for as many years as we have experienced evil.

Psalms 90:16 Let [us,] your servants, see what you can do. Let our children see your glorious power.

Psalms 90:17 Let the kindness of the Lord our God be with us. Make us successful in everything we do. Yes, make us successful in everything we do.

Psalms 91:1 Whoever lives under the shelter of the Most High will remain in the shadow of the Almighty.

Psalms 91:2 I will say to the LORD, “[You are] my refuge and my fortress, my God in whom I trust.”

Psalms 91:3 He is the one who will rescue you from hunters’ traps and from deadly plagues.

Psalms 91:4 He will cover you with his feathers, and under his wings you will find refuge. His truth is your shield and armor.

Psalms 91:5 You do not need to fear terrors of the night, arrows that fly during the day,

Psalms 91:6 plagues that roam the dark, epidemics that strike at noon.

Psalms 91:7 They will not come near you, even though a thousand may fall dead beside you or ten thousand at your right side.

Psalms 91:8 You only have to look with your eyes to see the punishment of wicked people.

Psalms 91:9 You, O LORD, are my refuge! You have made the Most High your home.

Psalms 91:10 No harm will come to you. No sickness will come near your house.

Psalms 91:11 He will put his angels in charge of you to protect you in all your ways.

Psalms 91:12 They will carry you in their hands so that you never hit your foot against a rock.

Psalms 91:13 You will step on lions and cobras. You will trample young lions and snakes.

Psalms 91:14 Because you love me, I will rescue you. I will protect you because you know my name.

Psalms 91:15 When you call to me, I will answer you. I will be with you when you are in trouble. I will save you and honor you.

Psalms 91:16 I will satisfy you with a long life. I will show you how I will save you.

Psalms 92:1 [A psalm; a song; for the day of worship.] It is good to give thanks to the LORD, to make music to praise your name, O Most High.

Psalms 92:2 It is good to announce your mercy in the morning and your faithfulness in the evening

Psalms 92:3 on a ten-stringed instrument and a harp and with a melody on a lyre.

Psalms 92:4 You made me find joy in what you have done, O LORD. I will sing joyfully about the works of your hands.

Psalms 92:5 How spectacular are your works, O LORD! How very deep are your thoughts!

Psalms 92:6 A stupid person cannot know and a fool cannot understand

Psalms 92:7 that wicked people sprout like grass and all troublemakers blossom [like flowers], only to be destroyed forever.

Psalms 92:8 But you, O LORD, are highly honored forever.

Psalms 92:9 Now look at your enemies, O LORD. Now look at your enemies. They disappear, and all troublemakers are scattered.

Psalms 92:10 But you make me as strong as a wild bull, and soothing lotion is poured on me.

Psalms 92:11 My eyes gloat over those who spy on me. My ears hear [the cries] of evildoers attacking me.

Psalms 92:12 Righteous people flourish like palm trees and grow tall like the cedars in Lebanon.

Psalms 92:13 They are planted in the LORD’s house. They blossom in our God’s courtyards.

Psalms 92:14 Even when they are old, they still bear fruit. They are always healthy and fresh.

Psalms 92:15 They make it known that the LORD is decent. He is my rock. He is never unfair.

Psalms 93:1 The LORD rules as king! He is clothed with majesty. The LORD has clothed himself; he has armed himself with power. The world was set in place; it cannot be moved.

Psalms 93:2 Your throne was set in place a long time ago. You are eternal.

Psalms 93:3 The ocean rises, O LORD. The ocean rises with a roar. The ocean rises with its pounding waves.

Psalms 93:4 The LORD above is mighty- mightier than the sound of raging water, mightier than the foaming waves of the sea.

Psalms 93:5 Your written testimonies are completely reliable. O LORD, holiness is what makes your house beautiful for days without end.

Psalms 94:1 O LORD, God of vengeance, O God of vengeance, appear!

Psalms 94:2 Arise, O Judge of the earth. Give arrogant people what they deserve.

Psalms 94:3 How long, O LORD, will wicked people triumph? How long?

Psalms 94:4 They ramble. They speak arrogantly. All troublemakers brag about themselves.

Psalms 94:5 They crush your people, O LORD. They make those who belong to you suffer.

Psalms 94:6 They kill widows and foreigners, and they murder orphans.

Psalms 94:7 They say, “The LORD doesn’t see it. The God of Jacob doesn’t even pay attention to it.”

Psalms 94:8 Pay attention, you stupid people! When will you become wise, you fools?

Psalms 94:9 God created ears. Do you think he can’t hear? He formed eyes. Do you think he can’t see?

Psalms 94:10 He disciplines nations. Do you think he can’t punish? He teaches people. Do you think he doesn’t know anything?

Psalms 94:11 The LORD knows that people’s thoughts are pointless.

Psalms 94:12 O LORD, blessed is the person whom you discipline and instruct from your teachings.

Psalms 94:13 You give him peace and quiet from times of trouble while a pit is dug to trap wicked people.

Psalms 94:14 The LORD will never desert his people or abandon those who belong to him.

Psalms 94:15 The decisions of judges will again become fair, and everyone whose motives are decent will pursue justice.

Psalms 94:16 Who will stand up for me against evildoers? Who will stand by my side against troublemakers?

Psalms 94:17 If the LORD had not come to help me, my soul would have quickly fallen silent [in death].

Psalms 94:18 When I said, “My feet are slipping,” your mercy, O LORD, continued to hold me up.

Psalms 94:19 When I worried about many things, your assuring words soothed my soul.

Psalms 94:20 Are wicked rulers who use the law to do unlawful things able to be your partners?

Psalms 94:21 They join forces to take the lives of righteous people. They condemn innocent people to death.

Psalms 94:22 The LORD has become my stronghold. My God has become my rock of refuge.

Psalms 94:23 He has turned their own wickedness against them. He will destroy them because of their sins. The LORD our God will destroy them.

Psalms 95:1 Come, let's sing joyfully to the LORD. Let's shout happily to the rock of our salvation.

Psalms 95:2 Let's come into his presence with a song of thanksgiving. Let's shout happily to him with psalms.

Psalms 95:3 The LORD is a great God and a great king above all gods.

Psalms 95:4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth, and the mountain peaks are his.

Psalms 95:5 The sea is his. He made it, and his hands formed the dry land.

Psalms 95:6 Come, let's worship and bow down. Let's kneel in front of the LORD, our maker,

Psalms 95:7 because he is our God and we are the people in his care, the flock that he leads. If only you would listen to him today!

Psalms 95:8 "Do not be stubborn like [my people were] at Meribah, like the time at Massah in the desert.

Psalms 95:9 Your ancestors challenged me and tested me there, although they had seen what I had done.

Psalms 95:10 For 40 years I was disgusted with those people. So I said, 'They are a people whose hearts continue to stray. They have not learned my ways.'

Psalms 95:11 That is why I angrily took this solemn oath: 'They will never enter my place of rest!'"

Psalms 96:1 Sing to the LORD a new song! Sing to the LORD, all the earth!

Psalms 96:2 Sing to the LORD! Praise his name! Day after day announce that the LORD saves his people.

Psalms 96:3 Tell people about his glory. Tell all the nations about his miracles.

Psalms 96:4 The LORD is great! He should be highly praised. He should be feared more than all [other] gods

Psalms 96:5 because all the gods of the nations are idols. The LORD made the heavens.

Psalms 96:6 Splendor and majesty are in his presence. Strength and beauty are in his holy place.

Psalms 96:7 Give to the LORD, you families of the nations. Give to the LORD glory and power.

Psalms 96:8 Give to the LORD the glory he deserves. Bring an offering, and come into his courtyards.

Psalms 96:9 Worship the LORD in [his] holy splendor. Tremble in his presence, all the earth!

Psalms 96:10 Say to the nations, “The LORD rules as king!” The earth stands firm; it cannot be moved. He will judge people fairly.

Psalms 96:11 Let the heavens rejoice and the earth be glad. Let the sea and everything in it roar like thunder.

Psalms 96:12 Let the fields and everything in them rejoice. Then all the trees in the forest will sing joyfully

Psalms 96:13 in the LORD’s presence because he is coming. He is coming to judge the earth. He will judge the world with righteousness and its people with his truth.

Psalms 97:1 The LORD rules as king. Let the earth rejoice. Let all the islands be joyful.

Psalms 97:2 Clouds and darkness surround him. Righteousness and justice are the foundations of his throne.

Psalms 97:3 Fire spreads ahead of him. It burns his enemies who surround him.

Psalms 97:4 His flashes of lightning light up the world. The earth sees them and trembles.

Psalms 97:5 The mountains melt like wax in the presence of the LORD, in the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

Psalms 97:6 The heavens tell about his righteousness, and all the people of the world see his glory.

Psalms 97:7 Everyone who worships idols and brags about false gods will be put to shame. All the gods will bow to him.

Psalms 97:8 Zion hears about this and rejoices. The people of Judah are delighted with your judgments, O LORD.

Psalms 97:9 You, O LORD, the Most High, are above the whole earth. You are highest. You are above all the gods.

Psalms 97:10 Let those who love the LORD hate evil. The one who guards the lives of his godly ones will rescue them from the power of wicked people.

Psalms 97:11 Light dawns for righteous people and joy for those whose motives are decent.

Psalms 97:12 Find joy in the LORD, you righteous people. Give thanks to him as you remember how holy he is.

Psalms 98:1 [A psalm.] Sing a new song to the LORD because he has done miraculous things. His right hand and his holy arm have gained victory for him.

Psalms 98:2 The LORD has made his salvation known. He has uncovered his righteousness for the nations to see.

Psalms 98:3 He has not forgotten to be merciful and faithful to Israel's descendants. All the ends of the earth have seen how our God saves [them].

Psalms 98:4 Shout happily to the LORD, all the earth. Break out into joyful singing, and make music.

Psalms 98:5 Make music to the LORD with a lyre, with a lyre and the melody of a psalm,

Psalms 98:6 with trumpets and the playing of a ram's horn. Shout happily in the presence of the king, the LORD.

Psalms 98:7 Let the sea, everything in it, the world, and those who live in it roar like thunder.

Psalms 98:8 Let the rivers clap their hands and the mountains sing joyfully

Psalms 98:9 in the LORD's presence because he is coming to judge the earth. He will judge the world with justice and its people with fairness.

Psalms 99:1 The LORD rules as king. Let the people tremble. He is enthroned over the angels. Let the earth quake.

Psalms 99:2 The LORD is mighty in Zion. He is high above all people.

Psalms 99:3 Let them give thanks to your great and fearful name. He is holy!

Psalms 99:4 The king's strength is that he loves justice. You have established fairness. You have done what is fair and right for Jacob.

Psalms 99:5 Highly honor the LORD our God. Bow down at his footstool. He is holy!

Psalms 99:6 Moses and Aaron were among his priests. Samuel was among those who prayed to him. They called to the LORD, and he answered them.

Psalms 99:7 He spoke to them from a column of smoke. They obeyed his written instructions and the laws that he gave them.

Psalms 99:8 O LORD, our God, you answered them. You showed them that you are a forgiving God and that you are a God who punishes their [sinful] deeds.

Psalms 99:9 Highly honor the LORD our God. Bow at his holy mountain. The LORD our God is holy!

Psalms 100:1 [A psalm of thanksgiving.] Shout happily to the LORD, all the earth.

Psalms 100:2 Serve the LORD cheerfully. Come into his presence with a joyful song.

Psalms 100:3 Realize that the LORD alone is God. He made us, and we are his. We are his people and the sheep in his care.

Psalms 100:4 Enter his gates with a song of thanksgiving. Come into his courtyards with a song of praise. Give thanks to him; praise his name.

Psalms 100:5 The LORD is good. His mercy endures forever. His faithfulness endures throughout every generation.

Psalms 101:1 [A psalm by David.] I will sing about mercy and justice. O LORD, I will make music to praise you.

Psalms 101:2 I want to understand the path to integrity. When will you come to me? I will live in my own home with integrity.

Psalms 101:3 I will not put anything wicked in front of my eyes. I hate what unfaithful people do. I want no part of it.

Psalms 101:4 I will keep far away from devious minds. I will have nothing to do with evil.

Psalms 101:5 I will destroy anyone who secretly slanders his neighbor. I will not tolerate anyone with a conceited look or arrogant heart.

Psalms 101:6 My eyes will be watching the faithful people in the land so that they may live with me. The person who lives with integrity will serve me.

Psalms 101:7 The one who does deceitful things will not stay in my home. The one who tells lies will not remain in my presence.

Psalms 101:8 Every morning I will destroy all the wicked people in the land to rid the LORD's city of all troublemakers.

Psalms 102:1 [A prayer by someone who is suffering, when he is weary and pours out his troubles in the LORD's presence.] O LORD, hear my prayer, and let my cry for help come to you.

Psalms 102:2 Do not hide your face from me when I am in trouble. Turn your ear toward me. Answer me quickly when I call.

Psalms 102:3 My days disappear like smoke. My bones burn like hot coals.

Psalms 102:4 My heart is beaten down and withered like grass because I have forgotten about eating.

Psalms 102:5 I am nothing but skin and bones because of my loud groans.

Psalms 102:6 I am like a desert owl, like an owl living in the ruins.

Psalms 102:7 I lie awake. I am like a lonely bird on a rooftop.

Psalms 102:8 All day long my enemies insult me. Those who ridicule me use my name as a curse.

Psalms 102:9 I eat ashes like bread and my tears are mixed with my drink

Psalms 102:10 because of your hostility and anger, because you have picked me up and thrown me away.

Psalms 102:11 My days are like a shadow that is getting longer, and I wither away like grass.

Psalms 102:12 But you, O LORD, remain forever. You are remembered throughout every generation.

Psalms 102:13 You will rise and have compassion on Zion, because it is time to grant a favor to it. Indeed, the appointed time has come.

Psalms 102:14 Your servants value Zion’s stones, and they pity its rubble.

Psalms 102:15 The nations will fear the LORD’s name. All the kings of the earth will fear your glory.

Psalms 102:16 When the LORD builds Zion, he will appear in his glory.

Psalms 102:17 He will turn his attention to the prayers of those who have been abandoned. He will not despise their prayers.

Psalms 102:18 This will be written down for a future generation so that a people yet to be created may praise the LORD:

Psalms 102:19 “The LORD looked down from his holy place high above. From heaven he looked at the earth.

Psalms 102:20 He heard the groans of the prisoners and set free those who were condemned to death.

Psalms 102:21 The LORD’s name is announced in Zion and his praise in Jerusalem

Psalms 102:22 when nations and kingdoms gather to worship the LORD.”

Psalms 102:23 He has weakened my strength along the way. He has reduced [the number of] my days.

Psalms 102:24 I said, “My God, don’t take me now in the middle of my life. Your years [continue on] throughout every generation.

Psalms 102:25 Long ago you laid the foundation of the earth. Even the heavens are the works of your hands.

Psalms 102:26 They will come to an end, but you will still go on. They will all wear out like clothing. You will change them like clothes, and they will be thrown away.

Psalms 102:27 But you remain the same, and your life will never end.

Psalms 102:28 The children of your servants will go on living [here]. Their descendants will be secure in your presence."

Psalms 103:1 [By David.] Praise the LORD, my soul! Praise his holy name, all that is within me.

Psalms 103:2 Praise the LORD, my soul, and never forget all the good he has done:

Psalms 103:3 He is the one who forgives all your sins, the one who heals all your diseases,

Psalms 103:4 the one who rescues your life from the pit, the one who crowns you with mercy and compassion,

Psalms 103:5 the one who fills your life with blessings so that you become young again like an eagle.

Psalms 103:6 The LORD does what is right and fair for all who are oppressed.

Psalms 103:7 He let Moses know his ways. He let the Israelites know the things he had done.

Psalms 103:8 The LORD is compassionate, merciful, patient, and always ready to forgive.

Psalms 103:9 He will not always accuse us of wrong or be angry [with us] forever.

Psalms 103:10 He has not treated us as we deserve for our sins or paid us back for our wrongs.

Psalms 103:11 As high as the heavens are above the earth- that is how vast his mercy is toward those who fear him.

Psalms 103:12 As far as the east is from the west- that is how far he has removed our rebellious acts from himself.

Psalms 103:13 As a father has compassion for his children, so the LORD has compassion for those who fear him.

Psalms 103:14 He certainly knows what we are made of. He bears in mind that we are dust.

Psalms 103:15 Human life is as short-lived as grass. It blossoms like a flower in the field.

Psalms 103:16 When the wind blows over the flower, it disappears, and there is no longer any sign of it.

Psalms 103:17 But from everlasting to everlasting, the LORD’s mercy is on those who fear him. His righteousness belongs to their children and grandchildren,

Psalms 103:18 to those who are faithful to his promise, to those who remember to follow his guiding principles.

Psalms 103:19 The LORD has set his throne in heaven. His kingdom rules everything.

Psalms 103:20 Praise the LORD, all his angels, you mighty beings who carry out his orders and are ready to obey his spoken orders.

Psalms 103:21 Praise the LORD, all his armies, his servants who carry out his will.

Psalms 103:22 Praise the LORD, all his creatures in all the places of his empire. Praise the LORD, my soul!

Psalms 104:1 Praise the LORD, my soul! O LORD my God, you are very great. You are clothed with splendor and majesty.

Psalms 104:2 You cover yourself with light as though it were a robe. You stretch out the heavens as though they were curtains.

Psalms 104:3 You lay the beams of your home in the water. You use the clouds for your chariot. You move on the wings of the wind.

Psalms 104:4 You make your angels winds and your servants flames of fire.

Psalms 104:5 You set the earth on its foundations so that it can never be shaken.

Psalms 104:6 You covered the earth with an ocean as though it were a robe. Water stood above the mountains

Psalms 104:7 and fled because of your threat. Water ran away at the sound of your thunder.

Psalms 104:8 The mountains rose and the valleys sank to the place you appointed for them.

Psalms 104:9 Water cannot cross the boundary you set and cannot come back to cover the earth.

Psalms 104:10 You make water gush from springs into valleys. It flows between the mountains.

Psalms 104:11 Every wild animal drinks [from them]. Wild donkeys quench their thirst.

Psalms 104:12 The birds live by the streams. They sing among the branches.

Psalms 104:13 You water the mountains from your home above. You fill the earth with the fruits of your labors.

Psalms 104:14 You make grass grow for cattle and make vegetables for humans to use in order to get food from the ground.

Psalms 104:15 You make wine to cheer human hearts, olive oil to make faces shine, and bread to strengthen human hearts.

Psalms 104:16 The LORD’s trees, the cedars in Lebanon which he planted, drink their fill.

Psalms 104:17 Birds build their nests in them. Storks make their homes in fir trees.

Psalms 104:18 The high mountains are for wild goats. The rocks are a refuge for badgers.

Psalms 104:19 He created the moon, which marks the seasons, and the sun, which knows when to set.

Psalms 104:20 He brings darkness, and it is nighttime, when all the wild animals in the forest come out.

Psalms 104:21 The young lions roar for their prey and seek their food from God.

Psalms 104:22 When the sun rises, they gather and lie down in their dens.

Psalms 104:23 Then people go to do their work, to do their tasks until evening.

Psalms 104:24 What a large number of things you have made, O LORD! You made them all by wisdom. The earth is filled with your creatures.

Psalms 104:25 The sea is so big and wide with countless creatures, living things both large and small.

Psalms 104:26 Ships sail on it, and Leviathan, which you made, plays in it.

Psalms 104:27 All of them look to you to give them their food at the right time.

Psalms 104:28 You give it to them, and they gather it up. You open your hand, and they are filled with blessings.

Psalms 104:29 You hide your face, and they are terrified. You take away their breath, and they die and return to dust.

Psalms 104:30 You send out your Spirit, and they are created. You renew the face of the earth.

Psalms 104:31 May the glory of the LORD endure forever. May the LORD find joy in what he has made.

Psalms 104:32 He looks at the earth, and it trembles. He touches the mountains, and they smoke.

Psalms 104:33 I will sing to the LORD throughout my life. I will make music to praise my God as long as I live.

Psalms 104:34 May my thoughts be pleasing to him. I will find joy in the LORD.

Psalms 104:35 May sinners vanish from the world. May there no longer be any wicked people. Praise the LORD, my soul! Hallelujah!

Psalms 105:1 Give thanks to the LORD. Call on him. Make known among the nations what he has done.

Psalms 105:2 Sing to him. Make music to praise him. Meditate on all the miracles he has performed.

Psalms 105:3 Brag about his holy name. Let the hearts of those who seek the LORD rejoice.

Psalms 105:4 Search for the LORD and his strength. Always seek his presence.

Psalms 105:5 Remember the miracles he performed, the amazing things he did, and the judgments he pronounced,

Psalms 105:6 you descendants of his servant Abraham, you descendants of Jacob, his chosen ones.

Psalms 105:7 He is the LORD our God. His judgments are pronounced throughout the earth.

Psalms 105:8 He always remembers his promise, the word that he commanded for a thousand generations,

Psalms 105:9 the promise that he made to Abraham, and his sworn oath to Isaac.

Psalms 105:10 He confirmed it as a law for Jacob, as an everlasting promise to Israel,

Psalms 105:11 by saying, “I will give you the land of Canaan. It is your share of the inheritance.”

Psalms 105:12 While the people of Israel were few in number, a small group of foreigners living in that land,

Psalms 105:13 they wandered from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another.

Psalms 105:14 He didn’t permit anyone to oppress them. He warned kings about them:

Psalms 105:15 “Do not touch my anointed ones or harm my prophets.”

Psalms 105:16 He brought famine to the land. He took away their food supply.

Psalms 105:17 He sent a man ahead of them. He sent Joseph, who was sold as a slave.

Psalms 105:18 They hurt his feet with shackles, and cut into his neck with an iron collar.

Psalms 105:19 The LORD’s promise tested him through fiery trials until his prediction came true.

Psalms 105:20 The king sent someone to release him. The ruler of nations set him free.

Psalms 105:21 He made Joseph the master of his palace and the ruler of all his possessions.

Psalms 105:22 Joseph trained the king’s officers the way he wanted and taught his respected leaders wisdom.

Psalms 105:23 Then Israel came to Egypt. Jacob lived as a foreigner in the land of Ham.

Psalms 105:24 The LORD made his people grow rapidly in number and stronger than their enemies.

Psalms 105:25 He changed their minds so that they hated his people, and they dealt treacherously with his servants.

Psalms 105:26 He sent his servant Moses, and he sent Aaron, whom he had chosen.

Psalms 105:27 They displayed his miraculous signs among them and did amazing things in the land of Ham.

Psalms 105:28 He sent darkness and made [their land] dark. They did not rebel against his orders.

Psalms 105:29 He turned their water into blood and caused their fish to die.

Psalms 105:30 He made their land swarm with frogs, even in the kings’ bedrooms.

Psalms 105:31 He spoke, and swarms of flies and gnats infested their whole territory.

Psalms 105:32 He gave them hail and lightning instead of rain throughout their land.

Psalms 105:33 He struck their grapevines and fig trees and smashed the trees in their territory.

Psalms 105:34 He spoke, and countless locusts and grasshoppers came.

Psalms 105:35 They devoured all the plants in the land. They devoured the crops in the fields.

Psalms 105:36 He killed all the firstborn sons, the first ones born in the land when their fathers were young.

Psalms 105:37 He brought Israel out with silver and gold, and no one among his tribes stumbled.

Psalms 105:38 The Egyptians were terrified of Israel, so they were glad when Israel left.

Psalms 105:39 He spread out a cloud as a protective covering and a fire to light up the night.

Psalms 105:40 The Israelites asked, and he brought them quail and filled them with bread from heaven.

Psalms 105:41 He opened a rock, and water gushed and flowed like a river through the dry places.

Psalms 105:42 He remembered his holy promise to his servant Abraham.

Psalms 105:43 He brought his people out with joy, his chosen ones with a song of joy.

Psalms 105:44 He gave them the lands of [other] nations, and they inherited what others had worked for Psalms 105:45 so that they would obey his laws and follow his teachings. Hallelujah!

Psalms 106:1 Hallelujah! Give thanks to the LORD because he is good, because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 106:2 Who can speak about all the mighty things the LORD has done? Who can announce all the things for which he is worthy of praise?

Psalms 106:3 Blessed are those who defend justice and do what is right at all times.

Psalms 106:4 Remember me, O LORD, when you show favor to your people. Come to help me with your salvation

Psalms 106:5 so that I may see the prosperity of your chosen ones, find joy in our people's happiness, and brag with the people who belong to you.

Psalms 106:6 We have sinned, and so did our ancestors. We have done wrong. We are guilty.

Psalms 106:7 When our ancestors were in Egypt, they gave no thought to your miracles. They did not remember your numerous acts of mercy, so they rebelled at the sea, the Red Sea.

Psalms 106:8 He saved them because of his reputation so that he could make his mighty power known.

Psalms 106:9 He angrily commanded the Red Sea, and it dried up. He led them through deep water as though it were a desert.

Psalms 106:10 He rescued them from the power of the one who hated them. He rescued them from the enemy.

Psalms 106:11 Water covered their adversaries. Not one Egyptian survived.

Psalms 106:12 Then our ancestors believed what he said. They sang his praise.

Psalms 106:13 They quickly forgot what he did. They did not wait for his advice.

Psalms 106:14 They had an unreasonable desire [for food]in the wilderness.[In the desert they tested God.]

Psalms 106:15 He gave them what they asked for. He [also] gave them a degenerative disease.

Psalms 106:16 In the camp certain men became envious of Moses. They also became envious of Aaron, the LORD's holy one.

Psalms 106:17 The ground split open and swallowed Dathan. It buried Abiram's followers.

Psalms 106:18 A fire broke out among their followers. Flames burned up wicked people.

Psalms 106:19 At Mount Horeb they made [a statue of] a calf. They worshiped an idol made of metal.

Psalms 106:20 They traded their glorious God for the statue of a bull that eats grass.

Psalms 106:21 They forgot God, their savior, the one who did spectacular things in Egypt,

Psalms 106:22 miracles in the land of Ham, and terrifying things at the Red Sea.

Psalms 106:23 God said he was going to destroy them, but Moses, his chosen one, stood in his way to prevent him from exterminating them.

Psalms 106:24 They refused [to enter] the pleasant land. They did not believe what he said.

Psalms 106:25 They complained in their tents. They did not obey the LORD.

Psalms 106:26 Raising his hand, he swore that he would kill them in the wilderness,

Psalms 106:27 kill their descendants among the nations, and scatter them throughout various lands.

Psalms 106:28 They joined in worshiping the god Baal while they were at Peor, and they ate what was sacrificed to the dead.

Psalms 106:29 They infuriated God by what they did, and a plague broke out among them.

Psalms 106:30 Then Phinehas stood between God and the people, and the plague was stopped.

Psalms 106:31 Because of this, Phinehas was considered righteous forever, throughout every generation.

Psalms 106:32 They made God angry by the water at Meribah. Things turned out badly for Moses because of what they did,

Psalms 106:33 since they made him bitter so that he spoke recklessly.

Psalms 106:34 They did not destroy the people as the LORD had told them.

Psalms 106:35 Instead, they intermarried with other nations. They learned to do what other nations did,

Psalms 106:36 and they worshiped their idols, which became a trap for them.

Psalms 106:37 They sacrificed their sons and daughters to demons.

Psalms 106:38 They shed innocent blood, the blood of their own sons and daughters whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan. The land became polluted with blood.

Psalms 106:39 They became filthy because of what they did. They behaved like prostitutes.

Psalms 106:40 The LORD burned with anger against his own people. He was disgusted with those who belonged to him.

Psalms 106:41 He handed them over to other nations, and those who hated them ruled them.

Psalms 106:42 Their enemies oppressed them and made them subject to their power.

Psalms 106:43 He rescued them many times, but they continued to plot rebellion against him and to sink deeper because of their sin.

Psalms 106:44 He saw that they were suffering when he heard their cry for help.

Psalms 106:45 He remembered his promise to them. In keeping with his rich mercy, he changed his plans.

Psalms 106:46 He let them find compassion from all those who held them captive.

Psalms 106:47 Rescue us, O LORD our God, and gather us from the nations so that we may give thanks to your holy name and make your praise our glory.

Psalms 106:48 Thanks be to the LORD God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting. Let all the people say amen. Hallelujah!

Psalms 107:1 Give thanks to the LORD because he is good, because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 107:2 Let the people the LORD defended repeat these words. They are the people he defended from the power of their enemies

Psalms 107:3 and gathered from other countries, from the east and from the west, from the north and from the south.

Psalms 107:4 They wandered around the desert on a deserted road without finding an inhabited city.

Psalms 107:5 They were hungry and thirsty. They began to lose hope.

Psalms 107:6 In their distress they cried out to the LORD. He rescued them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:7 He led them on a road that went straight to an inhabited city.

Psalms 107:8 Let them give thanks to the LORD because of his mercy. He performed his miracles for Adam's descendants.

Psalms 107:9 He gave plenty to drink to those who were thirsty. He filled those who were hungry with good food.

Psalms 107:10 Those who lived in the dark, in death's shadow were prisoners in misery. They were held in iron chains

Psalms 107:11 because they had rebelled against God's words and had despised the advice given by the Most High.

Psalms 107:12 So he humbled them with hard work. They fell down, but no one was there to help them.

Psalms 107:13 In their distress they cried out to the LORD. He saved them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:14 He brought them out of the dark, out of death's shadow. He broke apart their chains.

Psalms 107:15 Let them give thanks to the LORD because of his mercy. He performed his miracles for Adam's descendants.

Psalms 107:16 He shattered bronze gates and cut iron bars in two.

Psalms 107:17 Fools suffered because of their disobedience and because of their crimes.

Psalms 107:18 All food was disgusting to them, and they came near death's gates.

Psalms 107:19 In their distress they cried out to the LORD. He saved them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:20 He sent his message and healed them. He rescued them from the grave.

Psalms 107:21 Let them give thanks to the LORD because of his mercy. He performed his miracles for Adam's descendants.

Psalms 107:22 Let them bring songs of thanksgiving as their sacrifice. Let them tell in joyful songs what he has done.

Psalms 107:23 Those who sail on the sea in ships, who do business on the high seas,

Psalms 107:24 have seen what the LORD can do, the miracles he performed in the depths of the sea.

Psalms 107:25 He spoke, and a storm began to blow, and it made the waves rise high.

Psalms 107:26 The sailors aboard ship rose toward the sky. They plunged into the depths. Their courage melted in [the face of] disaster.

Psalms 107:27 They reeled and staggered like drunks, and all their skills as sailors became useless.

Psalms 107:28 In their distress they cried out to the LORD. He led them from their troubles.

Psalms 107:29 He made the storm calm down, and the waves became still.

Psalms 107:30 The sailors were glad that the storm was quiet. He guided them to the harbor they had longed for.

Psalms 107:31 Let them give thanks to the LORD because of his mercy. He performed his miracles for Adam’s descendants.

Psalms 107:32 Let them glorify him when the people are gathered for worship. Let them praise him in the company of respected leaders.

Psalms 107:33 He changes rivers into a desert, springs into thirsty ground,

Psalms 107:34 and fertile ground into a layer of salt because of the wickedness of the people living there.

Psalms 107:35 He changes deserts into lakes and dry ground into springs.

Psalms 107:36 There he settles those who are hungry, and they build cities to live in.

Psalms 107:37 They plant in fields and vineyards that produce crops.

Psalms 107:38 He blesses them, and their numbers multiply, and he does not allow a shortage of cattle.

Psalms 107:39 They became few in number and were humiliated because of oppression, disaster, and sorrow.

Psalms 107:40 He poured contempt on their influential people and made them stumble around in a pathless desert.

Psalms 107:41 But now he lifts needy people high above suffering and makes their families like flocks.

Psalms 107:42 Decent people will see this and rejoice, but all the wicked people will shut their mouths.

Psalms 107:43 Let those who [think] they are wise pay attention to these things so that they may understand the LORD’s blessings.

Psalms 108:1 [A song; a psalm by David.] My heart is confident, O God. I want to sing and make music even with my soul.

Psalms 108:2 Wake up, harp and lyre! I want to wake up at dawn.

Psalms 108:3 I want to give thanks to you among the people, O LORD. I want to make music to praise you among the nations

Psalms 108:4 because your mercy is higher than the heavens. Your truth reaches the skies.

Psalms 108:5 May you be honored above the heavens, O God. Let your glory extend over the whole earth.

Psalms 108:6 Save [us] with your powerful hand, and answer us so that those who are dear to you may be rescued.

Psalms 108:7 God has promised the following through his holiness: “I will triumph! I will divide Shechem. I will measure the valley of Succoth.

Psalms 108:8 Gilead is mine. Manasseh is mine. Ephraim is the helmet on my head. Judah is my scepter.

Psalms 108:9 Moab is my washtub. I will throw my shoe over Edom. I will shout in triumph over Philistia.”

Psalms 108:10 Who will bring me into the fortified city? Who will lead me to Edom?

Psalms 108:11 Isn’t it you, O God, who rejected us? Isn’t it you, O God, who refused to accompany our armies?

Psalms 108:12 Give us help against the enemy because human assistance is worthless.

Psalms 108:13 With God we will display great strength. He will trample our enemies.

Psalms 109:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] O God, whom I praise, do not turn a deaf ear to me.

Psalms 109:2 Wicked and deceitful people have opened their mouths against me. They speak against me with lying tongues.

Psalms 109:3 They surround me with hateful words. They fight against me for no reason.

Psalms 109:4 In return for my love, they accuse me, but I pray for them.

Psalms 109:5 They reward me with evil instead of good and with hatred instead of love.

Psalms 109:6 [I said,] “Appoint the evil one to oppose him. Let Satan stand beside him.

Psalms 109:7 When he stands trial, let him be found guilty. Let his prayer be considered sinful.

Psalms 109:8 Let his days be few [in number]. Let someone else take his position.

Psalms 109:9 “Let his children become fatherless and his wife a widow.

Psalms 109:10 Let his children wander around and beg. Let them seek help far from their ruined homes.

Psalms 109:11 Let a creditor take everything he owns. Let strangers steal what he has worked for.

Psalms 109:12 Let no one be kind to him anymore. Let no one show any pity to his fatherless children.

Psalms 109:13 Let his descendants be cut off and their family name be wiped out by the next generation.

Psalms 109:14 Let the LORD remember the guilt of his ancestors and not wipe out his mother's sin.

Psalms 109:15 Let their guilt and sin always remain on record in front of the LORD. Let the LORD remove every memory of him from the earth, Psalms 109:16 because he did not remember to be kind. "He drove oppressed, needy, and brokenhearted people to their graves.

Psalms 109:17 He loved to put curses [on others], so he, too, was cursed. He did not like to bless [others], so he never received a blessing.

Psalms 109:18 He wore cursing as though it were clothing, so cursing entered his body like water and his bones like oil.

Psalms 109:19 Let cursing be his clothing, a belt he always wears."

Psalms 109:20 This is how the LORD rewards those who accuse me, those who say evil things against me.

Psalms 109:21 O LORD Almighty, deal with me out of the goodness of your name. Rescue me because of your mercy.

Psalms 109:22 I am oppressed and needy. I can feel the pain in my heart.

Psalms 109:23 I fade away like a lengthening shadow. I have been shaken off like a grasshopper.

Psalms 109:24 My knees give way because I have been fasting. My body has become lean, without any fat.

Psalms 109:25 I have become the victim of my enemies' insults. They look at me and shake their heads.

Psalms 109:26 Help me, O LORD my God. Save me because of your mercy.

Psalms 109:27 Then they will know that this is your doing, that you, O LORD, are the one who saved me.

Psalms 109:28 They may curse, but you will bless. Let those who attack me be ashamed, but let me rejoice.

Psalms 109:29 Let those who accuse me wear disgrace as though it were clothing. Let them be wrapped in their shame as though it were a robe.

Psalms 109:30 With my mouth I will give many thanks to the LORD. I will praise him among many people,

Psalms 109:31 because he stands beside needy people to save them from those who would condemn them to death.

Psalms 110:1 [A psalm by David.] The LORD said to my Lord, “Sit in the highest position in heaven until I make your enemies your footstool.”

Psalms 110:2 The LORD will extend your powerful scepter from Zion. Rule your enemies who surround you.

Psalms 110:3 Your people will volunteer when you call up your army. Your young people will come to you in holy splendor like dew in the early morning.

Psalms 110:4 The LORD has taken an oath and will not change his mind: “You are a priest forever, in the way Melchizedek was a priest.”

Psalms 110:5 The Lord is at your right side. He will crush kings on the day of his anger.

Psalms 110:6 He will pass judgment on the nations and fill them with dead bodies. Throughout the earth he will crush [their] heads.

Psalms 110:7 He will drink from the brook along the road. He will hold his head high.

Psalms 111:1 Hallelujah! I will give thanks to the LORD with all my heart in the company of decent people and in the congregation.

Psalms 111:2 The LORD’s deeds are spectacular. They should be studied by all who enjoy them.

Psalms 111:3 His work is glorious and majestic. His righteousness continues forever.

Psalms 111:4 He has made his miracles unforgettable. The LORD is merciful and compassionate.

Psalms 111:5 He provides food for those who fear him. He always remembers his promise.

Psalms 111:6 He has revealed the power of his works to his people by giving them the lands of other nations as an inheritance.

Psalms 111:7 His works are done with truth and justice. All his guiding principles are trustworthy.

Psalms 111:8 They last forever and ever. They are carried out with truth and decency.

Psalms 111:9 He has sent salvation to his people. He has ordered that his promise should continue forever. His name is holy and terrifying.

Psalms 111:10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom. Good sense is shown by everyone who follows [God’s guiding principles]. His praise continues forever.

Psalms 112:1 Hallelujah! Blessed is the person who fears the LORD and is happy to obey his commands.

Psalms 112:2 His descendants will grow strong on the earth. The family of a decent person will be blessed.

Psalms 112:3 Wealth and riches will be in his home. His righteousness continues forever.

Psalms 112:4 Light will shine in the dark for a decent person. He is merciful, compassionate, and fair.

Psalms 112:5 All goes well for the person who is generous and lends willingly. He earns an honest living.

Psalms 112:6 He will never fail. A righteous person will always be remembered.

Psalms 112:7 He is not afraid of bad news. His heart remains secure, full of confidence in the LORD.

Psalms 112:8 His heart is steady, and he is not afraid. In the end he will look triumphantly at his enemies.

Psalms 112:9 He gives freely to poor people. His righteousness continues forever. His head is raised in honor.

Psalms 112:10 The wicked person sees this and becomes angry. He angrily grits his teeth and disappears. The hope that wicked people have will vanish.

Psalms 113:1 Hallelujah! You servants of the LORD, praise him. Praise the name of the LORD.

Psalms 113:2 Thank the name of the LORD now and forever.

Psalms 113:3 From where the sun rises to where the sun sets, the name of the LORD should be praised.

Psalms 113:4 The LORD is high above all the nations. His glory is above the heavens.

Psalms 113:5 Who is like the LORD our God? He is seated on his high throne.

Psalms 113:6 He bends down to look at heaven and earth.

Psalms 113:7 He lifts the poor from the dust. He lifts the needy from a garbage heap.

Psalms 113:8 He seats them with influential people, with the influential leaders of his people.

Psalms 113:9 He makes a woman who is in a childless home a joyful mother. Hallelujah!

Psalms 114:1 When Israel left Egypt, when Jacob’s family left people who spoke a foreign language,

Psalms 114:2 Judah became his holy place and Israel became his kingdom.

Psalms 114:3 The Red Sea looked at this and ran away. The Jordan River turned back.

Psalms 114:4 The mountains jumped like rams. The hills jumped like lambs.

Psalms 114:5 Red Sea, why did you run away? Jordan River, what made you turn back?

Psalms 114:6 Mountains, what made you jump like rams? Hills, what made you jump like lambs?

Psalms 114:7 Earth, tremble in the presence of the Lord, in the presence of the God of Jacob.

Psalms 114:8 He turns a rock into a pool filled with water and turns flint into a spring flowing with water.

Psalms 115:1 Don't give glory to us, O LORD. Don't give glory to us. Instead, give glory to your name because of your mercy and faithfulness.

Psalms 115:2 Why should other nations say, "Where is their God?"

Psalms 115:3 Our God is in heaven. He does whatever he wants.

Psalms 115:4 Their idols are made of silver and gold. They were made by human hands.

Psalms 115:5 They have mouths, but they cannot speak. They have eyes, but they cannot see.

Psalms 115:6 They have ears, but they cannot hear. They have noses, but they cannot smell.

Psalms 115:7 They have hands, but they cannot feel. They have feet, but they cannot walk. They cannot [even] make a sound with their throats.

Psalms 115:8 Those who make idols end up like them. So does everyone who trusts them.

Psalms 115:9 Israel, trust the LORD. He is your helper and your shield.

Psalms 115:10 Descendants of Aaron, trust the LORD. He is your helper and your shield.

Psalms 115:11 If you fear the LORD, trust the LORD. He is your helper and your shield.

Psalms 115:12 The LORD, who is [always] thinking about us, will bless us. He will bless the descendants of Israel. He will bless the descendants of Aaron.

Psalms 115:13 He will bless those who fear the LORD, from the least important to the most important.

Psalms 115:14 May the LORD continue to bless you and your children.

Psalms 115:15 You will be blessed by the LORD, the maker of heaven and earth.

Psalms 115:16 The highest heaven belongs to the LORD, but he has given the earth to the descendants of Adam.

Psalms 115:17 Those who are dead do not praise the LORD, nor do those who go into the silence [of the grave].

Psalms 115:18 But we will thank the LORD now and forever. Hallelujah!

Psalms 116:1 I love the LORD because he hears my voice, my pleas for mercy.

Psalms 116:2 I will call on him as long as I live because he turns his ear toward me.

Psalms 116:3 The ropes of death became tangled around me. The horrors of the grave took hold of me. I experienced pain and agony.

Psalms 116:4 But I kept calling on the name of the LORD: “Please, LORD, rescue me!”

Psalms 116:5 The LORD is merciful and righteous. Our God is compassionate.

Psalms 116:6 The LORD protects defenseless people. When I was weak, he saved me.

Psalms 116:7 Be at peace again, my soul, because the LORD has been good to you.

Psalms 116:8 You saved me from death. You saved my eyes from tears [and] my feet from stumbling.

Psalms 116:9 I will walk in the LORD’s presence in this world of the living.

Psalms 116:10 I kept my faith even when I said, “I am suffering terribly.”

Psalms 116:11 I also said when I was panic-stricken, “Everyone is undependable.”

Psalms 116:12 How can I repay the LORD for all the good that he has done for me?

Psalms 116:13 I will take the cup of salvation and call on the name of the LORD.

Psalms 116:14 I will keep my vows to the LORD in the presence of all his people.

Psalms 116:15 Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his faithful ones.

Psalms 116:16 O LORD, I am indeed your servant. I am your servant, the son of your female servant. You have freed me from my chains.

Psalms 116:17 I will bring a song of thanksgiving to you as a sacrifice. I will call on the name of the LORD.

Psalms 116:18 I will keep my vows to the LORD in the presence of all his people, Psalms 116:19 in the courtyards of the LORD's house, in the middle of Jerusalem. Hallelujah!

Psalms 117:1 Praise the LORD, all you nations! Praise him, all you people of the world!

Psalms 117:2 His mercy toward us is powerful. The LORD's faithfulness endures forever. Hallelujah!

Psalms 118:1 Give thanks to the LORD because he is good, because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 118:2 Israel should say, "His mercy endures forever."

Psalms 118:3 The descendants of Aaron should say, "His mercy endures forever."

Psalms 118:4 Those who fear the LORD should say, "His mercy endures forever."

Psalms 118:5 During times of trouble I called on the LORD. The LORD answered me [and] set me free [from all of them].

Psalms 118:6 The LORD is on my side. I am not afraid. What can mortals do to me?

Psalms 118:7 The LORD is on my side as my helper. I will see [the defeat of] those who hate me.

Psalms 118:8 It is better to depend on the LORD than to trust mortals.

Psalms 118:9 It is better to depend on the LORD than to trust influential people.

Psalms 118:10 All the nations surrounded me, [but armed] with the name of the LORD, I defeated them.

Psalms 118:11 They surrounded me. Yes, they surrounded me, [but armed] with the name of the LORD, I defeated them.

Psalms 118:12 They swarmed around me like bees, but they were extinguished like burning thornbushes. [So armed] with the name of the LORD, I defeated them.

Psalms 118:13 They pushed hard to make me fall, but the LORD helped me.

Psalms 118:14 The LORD is my strength and my song. He is my savior.

Psalms 118:15 The sound of joyful singing and victory is heard in the tents of righteous people. The right hand of the LORD displays strength.

Psalms 118:16 The right hand of the LORD is held high. The right hand of the LORD displays strength.

Psalms 118:17 I will not die, but I will live and tell what the LORD has done.

Psalms 118:18 The LORD disciplined me severely, but he did not allow me to be killed.

Psalms 118:19 Open the gates of righteousness for me. I will go through them [and] give thanks to the LORD.

Psalms 118:20 This is the gate of the LORD through which righteous people will enter.

Psalms 118:21 I give thanks to you, because you have answered me. You are my savior.

Psalms 118:22 The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone.

Psalms 118:23 The LORD is responsible for this, and it is amazing for us to see.

Psalms 118:24 This is the day the LORD has made. Let's rejoice and be glad today!

Psalms 118:25 We beg you, O LORD, save us! We beg you, O LORD, give us success!

Psalms 118:26 Blessed is the one who comes in the name of the LORD. We bless you from the LORD's house.

Psalms 118:27 The LORD is God, and he has given us light. March in a festival procession with branches to the horns of the altar.

Psalms 118:28 You are my God, and I give thanks to you. My God, I honor you highly.

Psalms 118:29 Give thanks to the LORD because he is good, because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 119:1 Blessed are those whose lives have integrity, those who follow the teachings of the LORD.

Psalms 119:2 Blessed are those who obey his written instructions. They wholeheartedly search for him.

Psalms 119:3 They do nothing wrong. They follow his directions.

Psalms 119:4 You have commanded that your guiding principles be carefully followed.

Psalms 119:5 I pray that my ways may become firmly established so that I can obey your laws.

Psalms 119:6 Then I will never feel ashamed when I study all your commandments.

Psalms 119:7 I will give thanks to you as I learn your regulations, which are based on your righteousness.

Psalms 119:8 I will obey your laws. Never abandon me.

Psalms 119:9 How can a young person keep his life pure? [He can do it] by holding on to your word.

Psalms 119:10 I wholeheartedly searched for you. Do not let me wander away from your commandments.

Psalms 119:11 I have treasured your promise in my heart so that I may not sin against you.

Psalms 119:12 Thanks be to you, O LORD. Teach me your laws.

Psalms 119:13 With my lips I have repeated every regulation that [comes] from your mouth.

Psalms 119:14 I find joy in the way [shown by] your written instructions more than I find joy in all kinds of riches.

Psalms 119:15 I want to reflect on your guiding principles and study your ways.

Psalms 119:16 Your laws make me happy. I never forget your word.

Psalms 119:17 Be kind to me so that I may live and hold on to your word.

Psalms 119:18 Uncover my eyes so that I may see the miraculous things in your teachings.

Psalms 119:19 I am a foreigner in this world. Do not hide your commandments from me.

Psalms 119:20 My soul is overwhelmed with endless longing for your regulations.

Psalms 119:21 You threaten arrogant people, who are condemned and wander away from your commandments.

Psalms 119:22 Remove the insults and contempt that have fallen on me because I have obeyed your written instructions.

Psalms 119:23 Even though influential people plot against me, I reflect on your laws.

Psalms 119:24 Indeed, your written instructions make me happy. They are my best friends.

Psalms 119:25 I am close to death. Give me a new life as you promised.

Psalms 119:26 I told you what I have done, and you answered me. Teach me your laws.

Psalms 119:27 Help me understand your guiding principles so that I may reflect on your miracles.

Psalms 119:28 I am drowning in tears. Strengthen me as you promised.

Psalms 119:29 Turn me away from a life of lies. Graciously provide me with your teachings.

Psalms 119:30 I have chosen a life of faithfulness. I have set your regulations in front of me.

Psalms 119:31 I have clung tightly to your written instructions. O LORD, do not let me be put to shame.

Psalms 119:32 I will eagerly pursue your commandments because you continue to increase my understanding.

Psalms 119:33 Teach me, O LORD, how to live by your laws, and I will obey them to the end.

Psalms 119:34 Help me understand so that I can follow your teachings. I will guard them with all my heart.

Psalms 119:35 Lead me on the path of your commandments, because I am happy with them.

Psalms 119:36 Direct my heart toward your written instructions rather than getting rich in underhanded ways.

Psalms 119:37 Turn my eyes away from worthless things. Give me a new life in your ways.

Psalms 119:38 Keep your promise to me so that I can fear you.

Psalms 119:39 Take away insults, which I dread, because your regulations are good.

Psalms 119:40 I long for your guiding principles. Give me a new life in your righteousness.

Psalms 119:41 Let your blessings reach me, O LORD. Save me as you promised.

Psalms 119:42 Then I will have an answer for the one who insults me since I trust your word.

Psalms 119:43 Do not take so much as a single word of truth from my mouth. My hope is based on your regulations.

Psalms 119:44 I will follow your teachings forever and ever.

Psalms 119:45 I will walk around freely because I sought out your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:46 I will speak about your written instructions in the presence of kings and not feel ashamed.

Psalms 119:47 Your commandments, which I love, make me happy.

Psalms 119:48 I lift my hands [in prayer] because of your commandments, which I love. I will reflect on your laws.

Psalms 119:49 Remember the word [you gave] me. Through it you gave me hope.

Psalms 119:50 This is my comfort in my misery: Your promise gave me a new life.

Psalms 119:51 Arrogant people have mocked me with cruelty, yet I have not turned away from your teachings.

Psalms 119:52 I remembered your regulations from long ago, O LORD, and I found comfort [in them].

Psalms 119:53 I am burning with anger because of wicked people, who abandon your teachings.

Psalms 119:54 Your laws have become like psalms to me in this place where I am only a foreigner.

Psalms 119:55 At night I remember your name, O LORD, and I follow your teachings.

Psalms 119:56 This has happened to me because I have obeyed your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:57 You are my inheritance, O LORD. I promised to hold on to your words.

Psalms 119:58 With all my heart I want to win your favor. Be kind to me as you promised.

Psalms 119:59 I have thought about my life, and I have directed my feet back to your written instructions.

Psalms 119:60 Without any hesitation I hurry to obey your commandments.

Psalms 119:61 [Though] the ropes of wicked people are tied around me, I never forget your teachings.

Psalms 119:62 At midnight I wake up to give thanks to you for the regulations, which are based on your righteousness.

Psalms 119:63 I am a friend to everyone who fears you and to everyone who follows your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:64 Your mercy, O LORD, fills the earth. Teach me your laws.

Psalms 119:65 You have treated me well, O LORD, as you promised.

Psalms 119:66 Teach me [to use] good judgment and knowledge, because I believe in your commandments.

Psalms 119:67 Before you made me suffer, I used to wander off, but now I hold on to your word.

Psalms 119:68 You are good, and you do good things. Teach me your laws.

Psalms 119:69 Arrogant people have smeared me with lies, [yet] I obey your guiding principles with all my heart.

Psalms 119:70 Their hearts are cold and insensitive, [yet] I am happy with your teachings.

Psalms 119:71 It was good that I had to suffer in order to learn your laws.

Psalms 119:72 The teachings [that come] from your mouth are worth more to me than thousands in gold or silver.

Psalms 119:73 Your hands created me and made me what I am. Help me understand so that I may learn your commandments.

Psalms 119:74 Those who fear you will see me and rejoice, because my hope is based on your word.

Psalms 119:75 I know that your regulations are fair, O LORD, and that you were right to make me suffer.

Psalms 119:76 Let your mercy comfort me as you promised.

Psalms 119:77 Let your compassion reach me so that I may live, because your teachings make me happy.

Psalms 119:78 Let arrogant people be put to shame because they lied about me, [yet] I reflect on your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:79 Let those who fear you turn to me so that they can come to know your written instructions.

Psalms 119:80 Let my heart be filled with integrity in regard to your laws so that I will not be put to shame.

Psalms 119:81 My soul is weak from waiting for you to save me. My hope is based on your word.

Psalms 119:82 My eyes have become strained from looking for your promise. I ask, “When will you comfort me?”

Psalms 119:83 Although I have become like a shriveled and dried out wineskin, I have not forgotten your laws.

Psalms 119:84 What is left of my life? When will you bring those who persecute me to justice?

Psalms 119:85 Arrogant people have dug pits to trap me in defiance of your teachings.

Psalms 119:86 (All your commandments are reliable.) Those people persecute me with lies. Help me!

Psalms 119:87 They almost wiped me off [the face of] the earth. But I did not abandon your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:88 Give me a new life through your mercy so that I may obey the written instructions, [which came] from your mouth.

Psalms 119:89 O LORD, your word is established in heaven forever.

Psalms 119:90 Your faithfulness endures throughout every generation. You set the earth in place, and it continues to stand.

Psalms 119:91 All things continue to stand today because of your regulations, since they are all your servants.

Psalms 119:92 If your teachings had not made me happy, then I would have died in my misery.

Psalms 119:93 I will never forget your guiding principles, because you gave me a new life through them.

Psalms 119:94 I am yours. Save me, because I have searched for your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:95 The wicked people have waited for me in order to destroy me, [yet] I want to understand your written instructions.

Psalms 119:96 I have seen a limit to everything else, [but] your commandments have no limit.

Psalms 119:97 Oh, how I love your teachings! They are in my thoughts all day long.

Psalms 119:98 Your commandments make me wiser than my enemies, because your commandments are always with me.

Psalms 119:99 I have more insight than all my teachers, because your written instructions are in my thoughts.

Psalms 119:100 I have more wisdom than those with many years of experience, because I have obeyed your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:101 I have kept my feet [from walking] on any evil path in order to obey your word.

Psalms 119:102 I have not neglected your regulations, because you have taught me.

Psalms 119:103 How sweet the taste of your promise is! It tastes sweeter than honey.

Psalms 119:104 From your guiding principles I gain understanding. That is why I hate every path that leads to lying.

Psalms 119:105 Your word is a lamp for my feet and a light for my path.

Psalms 119:106 I took an oath, and I will keep it. I took an oath to follow your regulations, which are based on your righteousness.

Psalms 119:107 I have suffered so much. Give me a new life, O LORD, as you promised.

Psalms 119:108 Please accept the praise I gladly give you, O LORD, and teach me your regulations.

Psalms 119:109 I always take my life into my own hands, but I never forget your teachings.

Psalms 119:110 Wicked people have set a trap for me, but I have never wandered away from your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:111 Your written instructions are mine forever. They are the joy of my heart.

Psalms 119:112 I have decided to obey your laws. They offer a reward that never ends.

Psalms 119:113 I hate two-faced people, but I love your teachings.

Psalms 119:114 You are my hiding place and my shield. My hope is based on your word.

Psalms 119:115 Get away from me, you evildoers, so that I can obey the commandments of my God.

Psalms 119:116 Help me God, as you promised, so that I may live. Do not turn my hope into disappointment.

Psalms 119:117 Hold me, and I will be safe, and I will always respect your laws.

Psalms 119:118 You reject all who wander away from your laws, because their lies mislead them.

Psalms 119:119 You get rid of all wicked people on earth as if they were rubbish. That is why I love your written instructions.

Psalms 119:120 My body shudders in fear of you, and I am afraid of your regulations.

Psalms 119:121 I have done what is fair and right. Do not leave me at the mercy of those who oppress me.

Psalms 119:122 Guarantee my well-being. Do not let arrogant people oppress me.

Psalms 119:123 My eyes are strained from looking for you to save me and from looking for the fulfillment of your righteous promise.

Psalms 119:124 Treat me with kindness, and teach me your laws.

Psalms 119:125 I am your servant. Help me understand so that I may come to know your written instructions.

Psalms 119:126 It is time for you to act, O LORD. Even though people have abolished your teachings, Psalms 119:127 I love your commandments more than gold, more than pure gold.

Psalms 119:128 I follow the straight paths of your guiding principles. I hate every pathway that leads to lying.

Psalms 119:129 Your written instructions are miraculous. That is why I obey them.

Psalms 119:130 Your word is a doorway that lets in light, and it helps gullible people understand.

Psalms 119:131 I open my mouth and pant because I long for your commandments.

Psalms 119:132 Turn toward me, and have pity on me as you have pledged to do for those who love your name.

Psalms 119:133 Make my steps secure through your promise, and do not let any sin control me.

Psalms 119:134 Save me from human oppression so that I may obey your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:135 Smile on me, and teach me your laws.

Psalms 119:136 Streams of tears flow from my eyes because others do not follow your teachings.

Psalms 119:137 You are righteous, O LORD, and your regulations are fair.

Psalms 119:138 You have issued your written instructions. They are fair and completely dependable.

Psalms 119:139 My devotion [for your words] consumes me, because my enemies have forgotten your words.

Psalms 119:140 Your promise has been thoroughly tested, and I love it.

Psalms 119:141 I am unimportant and despised, [yet] I never forget your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:142 Your righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and your teachings are reliable.

Psalms 119:143 Trouble and hardship have found me, but your commandments [still] make me happy.

Psalms 119:144 Your written instructions are always right. Help me understand [them] so that I will live.

Psalms 119:145 I have called out with all my heart. Answer me, O LORD. I want to obey your laws.

Psalms 119:146 I have called out. Save me, so that I can obey your written instructions.

Psalms 119:147 I got up before dawn, and I cried out for help. My hope is based on your word.

Psalms 119:148 My eyes are wide-open throughout the nighttime hours to reflect on your word.

Psalms 119:149 In keeping with your mercy, hear my voice. O LORD, give me a new life guided by your regulations.

Psalms 119:150 Those who carry out plots against me are near, [yet] they are far away from your teachings.

Psalms 119:151 You are near, O LORD, and all your commandments are reliable.

Psalms 119:152 Long ago I learned from your written instructions that you made them to last forever.

Psalms 119:153 Look at my misery, and rescue me, because I have never forgotten your teachings.

Psalms 119:154 Plead my case [for me], and save me. Give me a new life as you promised.

Psalms 119:155 Wicked people are far from being saved, because they have not searched for your laws.

Psalms 119:156 Your acts of compassion are many in number, O LORD. Give me a new life guided by your regulations.

Psalms 119:157 I have many persecutors and opponents, [yet] I have not turned away from your written instructions.

Psalms 119:158 I have seen traitors, and I am filled with disgust. They have not accepted your promise.

Psalms 119:159 See how I have loved your guiding principles! O LORD, in keeping with your mercy, give me a new life.

Psalms 119:160 There is nothing but truth in your word, and all of your righteous regulations endure forever.

Psalms 119:161 Influential people have persecuted me for no reason, but it is only your words that fill my heart with terror.

Psalms 119:162 I find joy in your promise like someone who finds a priceless treasure.

Psalms 119:163 I hate lying; I am disgusted with it. I love your teachings.

Psalms 119:164 Seven times a day I praise you for your righteous regulations.

Psalms 119:165 There is lasting peace for those who love your teachings. Nothing can make those people stumble.

Psalms 119:166 I have waited with hope for you to save me, O LORD. I have carried out your commandments.

Psalms 119:167 I have obeyed your written instructions. I have loved them very much.

Psalms 119:168 I have followed your guiding principles and your written instructions, because my whole life is in front of you.

Psalms 119:169 Let my cry for help come into your presence, O LORD. Help me understand as you promised.

Psalms 119:170 Let my plea for mercy come into your presence. Rescue me as you promised.

Psalms 119:171 Let my lips pour out praise because you teach me your laws.

Psalms 119:172 Let my tongue sing about your promise because all your commandments are fair.

Psalms 119:173 Let your hand help me because I have chosen [to follow]your guiding principles.

Psalms 119:174 I have longed for you to save me, O LORD, and your teachings make me happy.

Psalms 119:175 Let my soul have new life so that it can praise you. Let your regulations help me.

Psalms 119:176 I have wandered away like a lost lamb. Search for me, because I have never forgotten your commandments.

Psalms 120:1 [A song for going up to worship.] When I was in trouble, I cried out to the LORD, and he answered me.

Psalms 120:2 O LORD, rescue me from lying lips and from a deceitful tongue.

Psalms 120:3 You deceitful tongue, what can the LORD give you? What more can he do for you?

Psalms 120:4 He will give you a warrior's sharpened arrows and red-hot coals.

Psalms 120:5 How horrible it is to live as a foreigner in Meshech or to stay in the tents of Kedar.

Psalms 120:6 I have lived too long with those who hate peace.

Psalms 120:7 I am for peace, but when I talk about it, they only talk about war.

Psalms 121:1 [A song for going up to worship.] I look up toward the mountains. Where can I find help?

Psalms 121:2 My help comes from the LORD, the maker of heaven and earth.

Psalms 121:3 He will not let you fall. Your guardian will not fall asleep.

Psalms 121:4 Indeed, the Guardian of Israel never rests or sleeps.

Psalms 121:5 The LORD is your guardian. The LORD is the shade over your right hand.

Psalms 121:6 The sun will not beat down on you during the day, nor will the moon at night.

Psalms 121:7 The LORD guards you from every evil. He guards your life.

Psalms 121:8 The LORD guards you as you come and go, now and forever.

Psalms 122:1 [A song by David for going up to worship.] I was glad when they said to me, "Let's go to the house of the LORD."

Psalms 122:2 Our feet are standing inside your gates, Jerusalem.

Psalms 122:3 Jerusalem is built to be a city where the people are united.

Psalms 122:4 All of the LORD's tribes go to that city because it is a law in Israel to give thanks to the name of the LORD.

Psalms 122:5 The court of justice sits there. It consists of [princes who are] David's descendants.

Psalms 122:6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: "May those who love you prosper.

Psalms 122:7 May there be peace inside your walls and prosperity in your palaces."

Psalms 122:8 For the sake of my relatives and friends, let me say, “May it go well for you!”

Psalms 122:9 For the sake of the house of the LORD our God, I will seek what is good for you.

Psalms 123:1 [A song for going up to worship.] I look up to you, to the one who sits enthroned in heaven.

Psalms 123:2 As servants depend on their masters, as a maid depends on her mistress, so we depend on the LORD our God until he has pity on us.

Psalms 123:3 Have pity on us, O LORD. Have pity on us because we have suffered more than our share of contempt.

Psalms 123:4 We have suffered more than our share of ridicule from those who are carefree. We have suffered more than our share of contempt from those who are arrogant.

Psalms 124:1 [A song by David for going up to worship.] “If the LORD had not been on our side...” (Israel should repeat this.)

Psalms 124:2 “If the LORD had not been on our side when people attacked us,

Psalms 124:3 then they would have swallowed us alive when their anger exploded against us.

Psalms 124:4 Then the floodwaters would have swept us away. An [overflowing] stream would have washed us away.

Psalms 124:5 Then raging water would have washed us away.”

Psalms 124:6 Thank the LORD, who did not let them sink their teeth into us.

Psalms 124:7 We escaped like a bird caught in a hunter’s trap. The trap was broken, and we escaped.

Psalms 124:8 Our help is in the name of the LORD, the maker of heaven and earth.

Psalms 125:1 [A song for going up to worship.] Those who trust the LORD are like Mount Zion, which can never be shaken. It remains firm forever.

Psalms 125:2 [As] the mountains surround Jerusalem, so the LORD surrounds his people now and forever.

Psalms 125:3 A wicked ruler will not be allowed to govern the land set aside for righteous people. That is why righteous people do not use their power to do wrong.

Psalms 125:4 Do good, O LORD, to those who are good, to those whose motives are decent.

Psalms 125:5 But when people become crooked, the LORD will lead them away with troublemakers. Let there be peace in Israel!

Psalms 126:1 [A song for going up to worship.] When the LORD restored the fortunes of Zion, it was as if we were dreaming.

Psalms 126:2 Then our mouths were filled with laughter and our tongues with joyful songs. Then the nations said, “The LORD has done spectacular things for them.”

Psalms 126:3 The LORD has done spectacular things for us. We are overjoyed.

Psalms 126:4 Restore our fortunes, O LORD, as you restore streams [to dry riverbeds] in the Negev.

Psalms 126:5 Those who cry while they plant will joyfully sing while they harvest.

Psalms 126:6 The person who goes out weeping, carrying his bag of seed, will come home singing, carrying his bundles of grain.

Psalms 127:1 [A song by Solomon for going up to worship.] If the LORD does not build the house, it is useless for the builders to work on it. If the LORD does not protect a city, it is useless for the guard to stay alert.

Psalms 127:2 It is useless to work hard for the food you eat by getting up early and going to bed late. The LORD gives [food] to those he loves while they sleep.

Psalms 127:3 Children are an inheritance from the LORD. They are a reward from him.

Psalms 127:4 The children born to a man when he is young are like arrows in the hand of a warrior.

Psalms 127:5 Blessed is the man who has filled his quiver with them. He will not be put to shame when he speaks with his enemies in the city gate.

Psalms 128:1 [A song for going up to worship.] Blessed are all who fear the LORD and live his way.

Psalms 128:2 You will certainly eat what your own hands have provided. Blessings to you! May things go well for you!

Psalms 128:3 Your wife will be like a fruitful vine inside your home. Your children will be like young olive trees around your table.

Psalms 128:4 This is how the LORD will bless the person who fears him.

Psalms 128:5 May the LORD bless you from Zion so that you may see Jerusalem prospering all the days of your life.

Psalms 128:6 May you live to see your children’s children. Let there be peace in Israel!

Psalms 129:1 [A song for going up to worship.] “From the time I was young, people have attacked me…” (Israel should repeat this.)

Psalms 129:2 “From the time I was young, people have attacked me, but they have never overpowered me.

Psalms 129:3 They have plowed my back [like farmers plow fields]. They made long slashes [like furrows].”

Psalms 129:4 The LORD is righteous. He has cut me loose from the ropes that wicked people tied around me.

Psalms 129:5 Put to shame all those who hate Zion. Force them to retreat.

Psalms 129:6 Make them be like grass on a roof, like grass that dries up before it produces a stalk.

Psalms 129:7 It will never fill the barns of those who harvest or the arms of those who gather bundles.

Psalms 129:8 Those who pass by will never say [to them], “May you be blessed by the LORD” or “We bless you in the name of the LORD.”

Psalms 130:1 [A song for going up to worship.] O LORD, out of the depths I call to you.

Psalms 130:2 O Lord, hear my voice. Let your ears be open to my pleas for mercy.

Psalms 130:3 O LORD, who would be able to stand if you kept a record of sins?

Psalms 130:4 But with you there is forgiveness so that you can be feared.

Psalms 130:5 I wait for the LORD, my soul waits, and with hope I wait for his word.

Psalms 130:6 My soul waits for the LORD more than those who watch for the morning, more than those who watch for the morning.

Psalms 130:7 O Israel, put your hope in the LORD, because with the LORD there is mercy and with him there is unlimited forgiveness.

Psalms 130:8 He will rescue Israel from all its sins.

Psalms 131:1 [A song by David for going up to worship.] O LORD, my heart is not conceited. My eyes do not look down on others. I am not involved in things too big or too difficult for me.

Psalms 131:2 Instead, I have kept my soul calm and quiet. My soul is content as a weaned child is content in its mother’s arms.

Psalms 131:3 Israel, put your hope in the LORD now and forever.

Psalms 132:1 [A song for going up to worship.] O LORD, remember David and all the hardships he endured.

Psalms 132:2 Remember how he swore an oath to the LORD and made this vow to the Mighty One of Jacob:

Psalms 132:3 “I will not step inside my house,

Psalms 132:4 get into my bed, shut my eyes, or close my eyelids

Psalms 132:5 until I find a place for the LORD, a dwelling place for the Mighty One of Jacob."

Psalms 132:6 Now, we have heard about the ark [of the promise]being in Ephrathah. We have found it in Jaar.

Psalms 132:7 Let's go to his dwelling place. Let's worship at his footstool.

Psalms 132:8 O LORD, arise, and come to your resting place with the ark of your power.

Psalms 132:9 Clothe your priests with righteousness. Let your godly ones sing with joy.

Psalms 132:10 For the sake of your servant David, do not reject your anointed one.

Psalms 132:11 The LORD swore an oath to David. This is a truth he will not take back: "I will set one of your own descendants on your throne.

Psalms 132:12 If your sons are faithful to my promise and my written instructions that I will teach them, then their descendants will also sit on your throne forever."

Psalms 132:13 The LORD has chosen Zion. He wants it for his home.

Psalms 132:14 "This will be my resting place forever. Here I will sit enthroned because I want Zion.

Psalms 132:15 I will certainly bless all that Zion needs. I will satisfy its needy people with food.

Psalms 132:16 I will clothe its priests with salvation. Then its godly ones will sing joyfully.

Psalms 132:17 There I will make a horn sprout up for David. I will prepare a lamp for my anointed one.

Psalms 132:18 I will clothe his enemies with shame, but the crown on my anointed one will shine."

Psalms 133:1 [A song by David for going up to worship.] See how good and pleasant it is when brothers and sisters live together in harmony!

Psalms 133:2 It is like fine, scented oil on the head, running down the beard-down Aaron's beard- running over the collar of his robes.

Psalms 133:3 It is like dew on [Mount] Hermon, dew which comes down on Zion's mountains. That is where the LORD promised the blessing of eternal life.

Psalms 134:1 [A song for going up to worship.] Praise the LORD, all you servants of the LORD, all who stand in the house of the LORD night after night.

Psalms 134:2 Lift your hands toward the holy place, and praise the LORD.

Psalms 134:3 May the LORD, the maker of heaven and earth, bless you from Zion.

Psalms 135:1 Hallelujah! Praise the name of the LORD. Praise him, you servants of the LORD

Psalms 135:2 who are standing in the house of the LORD, in the courtyards of the house of our God.

Psalms 135:3 Praise the LORD because he is good. Make music to praise his name because his name is beautiful.

Psalms 135:4 The LORD chose Jacob to be his own and chose Israel to be his own special treasure.

Psalms 135:5 I know that the LORD is great, that our Lord is greater than all the false gods.

Psalms 135:6 The LORD does whatever he wants in heaven or on earth, on the seas or in all the depths of the oceans.

Psalms 135:7 He is the one who makes the clouds rise from the ends of the earth, who makes lightning for the thunderstorms, and who brings wind out of his storerooms.

Psalms 135:8 He is the one who killed every firstborn male in Egypt. He killed humans and animals alike.

Psalms 135:9 He sent miraculous signs and amazing things into the heart of Egypt against Pharaoh and all his officials.

Psalms 135:10 He is the one who defeated many nations and killed mighty kings:

Psalms 135:11 King Sihon of the Amorites, King Og of Bashan, and all the kingdoms in Canaan.

Psalms 135:12 He gave their land as an inheritance, an inheritance to his people Israel.

Psalms 135:13 O LORD, your name endures forever. O LORD, you will be remembered throughout every generation.

Psalms 135:14 The LORD will provide justice for his people and have compassion on his servants.

Psalms 135:15 The idols of the nations are made of silver and gold. They were made by human hands.

Psalms 135:16 They have mouths, but they cannot speak. They have eyes, but they cannot see.

Psalms 135:17 They have ears, but they cannot hear. They cannot breathe.

Psalms 135:18 Those who make idols end up like them. So does everyone who trusts them.

Psalms 135:19 Descendants of Israel, praise the LORD. Descendants of Aaron, praise the LORD.

Psalms 135:20 Descendants of Levi, praise the LORD. You people who fear the LORD, praise the LORD.

Psalms 135:21 Thank the LORD in Zion. Thank the one who lives in Jerusalem. Hallelujah!

Psalms 136:1 Give thanks to the LORD because he is good, because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:2 Give thanks to the God of gods because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:3 Give thanks to the Lord of lords because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:4 Give thanks to the only one who does miraculous things- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:5 to the one who made the heavens by his understanding- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:6 to the one who spread out the earth on the water- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:7 to the one who made the great lights- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:8 the sun to rule the day- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:9 the moon and stars to rule the night- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:10 Give thanks to the one who killed the firstborn males in Egypt- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:11 He brought Israel out from among them- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:12 with a mighty hand and a powerful arm- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:13 Give thanks to the one who divided the Red Sea- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:15 He swept Pharaoh and his army into the Red Sea- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:16 Give thanks to the one who led his people through the desert- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:17 Give thanks to the one who defeated powerful kings- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:18 He killed mighty kings- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:19 King Sihon of the Amorites- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:20 and King Og of Bashan- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:21 He gave their land as an inheritance- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:22 as an inheritance for his servant Israel- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:23 He remembered us when we were humiliated- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:24 He snatched us from the grasp of our enemies- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:25 He gives food to every living creature- because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 136:26 Give thanks to the God of heaven because his mercy endures forever.

Psalms 137:1 By the rivers of Babylon, we sat down and cried as we remembered Zion.

Psalms 137:2 We hung our lyres on willow trees.

Psalms 137:3 It was there that those who had captured us demanded that we sing. Those who guarded us wanted us to entertain them. [They said,] “Sing a song from Zion for us!”

Psalms 137:4 How could we sing the LORD’s song in a foreign land?

Psalms 137:5 If I forget you, Jerusalem, let my right hand forget [how to play the lyre].

Psalms 137:6 Let my tongue stick to the roof of my mouth if I don’t remember you, if I don’t consider Jerusalem my highest joy.

Psalms 137:7 O LORD, remember the people of Edom. Remember what they did the day Jerusalem [was captured]. They said, “Tear it down! Tear it down to its foundation.”

Psalms 137:8 You destructive people of Babylon, blessed is the one who pays you back with the same treatment you gave us.

Psalms 137:9 Blessed is the one who grabs your little children and smashes them against a rock.

Psalms 138:1 [By David.] I will give thanks to you with all my heart. I will make music to praise you in front of the false gods.

Psalms 138:2 I will bow toward your holy temple. I will give thanks to your name because of your mercy and truth. You have made your name and your promise greater than everything.

Psalms 138:3 When I called, you answered me. You made me bold by strengthening my soul.

Psalms 138:4 All the kings of the earth will give thanks to you, O LORD, because they have heard the promises you spoke.

Psalms 138:5 They will sing this about the ways of the LORD: “The LORD’s honor is great!”

Psalms 138:6 Even though the LORD is high above, he sees humble people [close up], and he recognizes arrogant people from a distance.

Psalms 138:7 Even though I walk into the middle of trouble, you guard my life against the anger of my enemies. You stretch out your hand, and your right hand saves me.

Psalms 138:8 The LORD will do everything for me. O LORD, your mercy endures forever. Do not let go of what your hands have made.

Psalms 139:1 [For the choir director; a psalm by David.] O LORD, you have examined me, and you know me.

Psalms 139:2 You alone know when I sit down and when I get up. You read my thoughts from far away.

Psalms 139:3 You watch me when I travel and when I rest. You are familiar with all my ways.

Psalms 139:4 Even before there is a [single] word on my tongue, you know all about it, LORD.

Psalms 139:5 You are all around me-in front of me and in back of me. You lay your hand on me.

Psalms 139:6 Such knowledge is beyond my grasp. It is so high I cannot reach it.

Psalms 139:7 Where can I go [to get away] from your Spirit? Where can I run [to get away] from you?

Psalms 139:8 If I go up to heaven, you are there. If I make my bed in hell, you are there.

Psalms 139:9 If I climb upward on the rays of the morning sun [or] land on the most distant shore of the sea where the sun sets,

Psalms 139:10 even there your hand would guide me and your right hand would hold on to me.

Psalms 139:11 If I say, “Let the darkness hide me and let the light around me turn into night,”

Psalms 139:12 even the darkness is not too dark for you. Night is as bright as day. Darkness and light are the same [to you].

Psalms 139:13 You alone created my inner being. You knitted me together inside my mother.

Psalms 139:14 I will give thanks to you because I have been so amazingly and miraculously made. Your works are miraculous, and my soul is fully aware of this.

Psalms 139:15 My bones were not hidden from you when I was being made in secret, when I was being skillfully woven in an underground workshop.

Psalms 139:16 Your eyes saw me when I was only a fetus. Every day [of my life] was recorded in your book before one of them had taken place.

Psalms 139:17 How precious are your thoughts concerning me, O God! How vast in number they are!

Psalms 139:18 If I try to count them, there would be more of them than there are grains of sand. When I wake up, I am still with you.

Psalms 139:19 I wish that you would kill wicked people, O God, and that bloodthirsty people would leave me alone.

Psalms 139:20 They say wicked things about you. Your enemies misuse your name.

Psalms 139:21 Shouldn't I hate those who hate you, O LORD? Shouldn't I be disgusted with those who attack you?

Psalms 139:22 I hate them with all my heart. They have become my enemies.

Psalms 139:23 Examine me, O God, and know my mind. Test me, and know my thoughts.

Psalms 139:24 See whether I am on an evil path. Then lead me on the everlasting path.

Psalms 140:1 [For the choir leader; a psalm by David.] Rescue me from evil people, O LORD. Keep me safe from violent people.

Psalms 140:2 They plan evil things in their hearts. They start fights every day.

Psalms 140:3 They make their tongues as sharp as a snake's [fang]. Their lips hide the venom of poisonous snakes. [Selah]

Psalms 140:4 Protect me from the hands of wicked people, O LORD. Keep me safe from violent people. They try to trip me.

Psalms 140:5 Arrogant people have laid a trap for me. They have spread out a net with ropes. They have set traps for me along the road. [Selah]

Psalms 140:6 I said to the LORD, "You are my God." O LORD, open your ears to hear my plea for pity.

Psalms 140:7 O LORD Almighty, the strong one who saves me, you have covered my head in the day of battle.

Psalms 140:8 O LORD, do not give wicked people what they want. Do not let their evil plans succeed, [or] they will become arrogant. [Selah]

Psalms 140:9 Let the heads of those who surround me be covered with their own threats.

Psalms 140:10 Let burning coals fall on them. Let them be thrown into a pit, never to rise again.

Psalms 140:11 Do not let slanderers prosper on earth. Let evil hunt down violent people with one blow after another.

Psalms 140:12 I know that the LORD will defend the rights of those who are oppressed and the cause of those who are needy.

Psalms 140:13 Indeed, righteous people will give thanks to your name. Decent people will live in your presence.

Psalms 141:1 [A psalm by David.] O LORD, I cry out to you, “Come quickly.” Open your ears to me when I cry out to you.

Psalms 141:2 Let my prayer be accepted as sweet-smelling incense in your presence. Let the lifting up of my hands in prayer be accepted as an evening sacrifice.

Psalms 141:3 O LORD, set a guard at my mouth. Keep watch over the door of my lips.

Psalms 141:4 Do not let me be persuaded to do anything evil or to become involved with wickedness, with people who are troublemakers. Do not let me taste their delicacies.

Psalms 141:5 A righteous person may strike me or correct me out of kindness. It is like lotion for my head. My head will not refuse it, because my prayer is directed against evil deeds.

Psalms 141:6 When their judges are thrown off a cliff, they will listen to what I have to say. It will sound pleasant [to them].

Psalms 141:7 As someone plows and breaks up the ground, so our bones will be planted at the mouth of the grave.

Psalms 141:8 My eyes look to you, LORD Almighty. I have taken refuge in you. Do not leave me defenseless.

Psalms 141:9 Keep me away from the trap they set for me and from the traps set by troublemakers.

Psalms 141:10 Let wicked people fall into their own nets, while I escape unharmed.

Psalms 142:1 [A [maskil] by David when he was in the cave; a prayer.] Loudly, I cry to the LORD. Loudly, I plead with the LORD for mercy.

Psalms 142:2 I pour out my complaints in his presence and tell him my troubles.

Psalms 142:3 When I begin to lose hope, you [already] know what I am experiencing. [My enemies] have hidden a trap for me on the path where I walk.

Psalms 142:4 Look to my right and see that no one notices me. Escape is impossible for me. No one cares about me.

Psalms 142:5 I call out to you, O LORD. I say, “You are my refuge, my own inheritance in this world of the living.”

Psalms 142:6 Pay attention to my cry for help because I am very weak. Rescue me from those who pursue me because they are too strong for me.

Psalms 142:7 Release my soul from prison so that I may give thanks to your name. Righteous people will surround me because you are good to me.

Psalms 143:1 [A psalm by David.] O LORD, listen to my prayer. Open your ears to hear my urgent requests. Answer me because you are faithful and righteous.

Psalms 143:2 Do not take me to court for judgment, because there is no one alive who is righteous in your presence.

Psalms 143:3 The enemy has pursued me. He has ground my life into the dirt. He has made me live in dark places like those who have died long ago.

Psalms 143:4 That is why I begin to lose hope and my heart is in a state of shock.

Psalms 143:5 I remember the days long ago. I reflect on all that you have done. I carefully consider what your hands have made.

Psalms 143:6 I stretch out my hands to you in prayer. Like parched land, my soul thirsts for you. [Selah]

Psalms 143:7 Answer me quickly, O LORD. My spirit is worn out. Do not hide your face from me, or I will be like those who go into the pit.

Psalms 143:8 Let me hear about your mercy in the morning, because I trust you. Let me know the way that I should go, because I long for you.

Psalms 143:9 Rescue me from my enemies, O LORD. I come to you for protection.

Psalms 143:10 Teach me to do your will, because you are my God. May your good Spirit lead me on level ground.

Psalms 143:11 O LORD, keep me alive for the sake of your name. Because you are righteous, lead me out of trouble.

Psalms 143:12 In keeping with your mercy, wipe out my enemies and destroy all who torment me, because I am your servant.

Psalms 144:1 [By David.] Thank the LORD, my rock, who trained my hands to fight and my fingers to do battle,

Psalms 144:2 my merciful one, my fortress, my stronghold, and my savior, my shield, the one in whom I take refuge, and the one who brings people under my authority.

Psalms 144:3 O LORD, what are humans that you should care about them? What are mere mortals that you should think about them?

Psalms 144:4 Humans are like a breath of air. Their life span is like a fleeting shadow.

Psalms 144:5 O LORD, bend your heaven low, and come down. Touch the mountains, and they will smoke.

Psalms 144:6 Hurl bolts of lightning, and scatter them. Shoot your arrows, and throw them into confusion.

Psalms 144:7 Stretch out your hands from above. Snatch me, and rescue me from raging waters and from foreigners' hands.

Psalms 144:8 Their mouths speak lies. Their right hands take false pledges.

Psalms 144:9 O God, I will sing a new song to you. I will sing a psalm to you on a ten-stringed harp.

Psalms 144:10 You are the one who gives victory to kings. You are the one who snatches your servant David away from a deadly sword.

Psalms 144:11 Snatch me, and rescue me from foreigners' hands. Their mouths speak lies. Their right hands take false pledges.

Psalms 144:12 May our sons be like full-grown, young plants. May our daughters be like stately columns that adorn the corners of a palace.

Psalms 144:13 May our barns be filled with all kinds of crops. May our sheep give birth to thousands of lambs, tens of thousands in our fields.

Psalms 144:14 May our cattle have many calves. May no one break in, and may no one be dragged out. May there be no cries of distress in our streets.

Psalms 144:15 Blessed are the people who have these blessings! Blessed are the people whose God is the LORD!

Psalms 145:1 [A song of praise by David.] I will highly praise you, my God, the king. I will bless your name forever and ever.

Psalms 145:2 I will bless you every day. I will praise your name forever and ever.

Psalms 145:3 The LORD is great, and he should be highly praised. His greatness is unsearchable.

Psalms 145:4 One generation will praise your deeds to the next. Each generation will talk about your mighty acts.

Psalms 145:5 I will think about the glorious honor of your majesty and the miraculous things you have done.

Psalms 145:6 People will talk about the power of your terrifying deeds, and I will tell about your greatness.

Psalms 145:7 They will announce what they remember of your great goodness, and they will joyfully sing about your righteousness.

Psalms 145:8 The LORD is merciful, compassionate, patient, and always ready to forgive.

Psalms 145:9 The LORD is good to everyone and has compassion for everything that he has made.

Psalms 145:10 Everything that you have made will give thanks to you, O LORD, and your faithful ones will praise you.

Psalms 145:11 Everyone will talk about the glory of your kingdom and will tell the descendants of Adam about your might Psalms 145:12 in order to make known your mighty deeds and the glorious honor of your kingdom.

Psalms 145:13 Your kingdom is an everlasting kingdom. Your empire endures throughout every generation.

Psalms 145:14 The LORD supports everyone who falls. He straightens [the backs] of those who are bent over.

Psalms 145:15 The eyes of all creatures look to you, and you give them their food at the proper time.

Psalms 145:16 You open your hand, and you satisfy the desire of every living thing.

Psalms 145:17 The LORD is fair in all his ways and faithful in everything he does.

Psalms 145:18 The LORD is near to everyone who prays to him, to every faithful person who prays to him.

Psalms 145:19 He fills the needs of those who fear him. He hears their cries for help and saves them.

Psalms 145:20 The LORD protects everyone who loves him, but he will destroy all wicked people.

Psalms 145:21 My mouth will speak the praise of the LORD, and all living creatures will praise his holy name forever and ever.

Psalms 146:1 Hallelujah! Praise the LORD, my soul!

Psalms 146:2 I want to praise the LORD throughout my life. I want to make music to praise my God as long as I live.

Psalms 146:3 Do not trust influential people, mortals who cannot help you.

Psalms 146:4 When they breathe their last breath, they return to the ground. On that day their plans come to an end.

Psalms 146:5 Blessed are those who receive help from the God of Jacob. Their hope rests on the LORD their God, Psalms 146:6 who made heaven, earth, the sea, and everything in them. The LORD remains faithful forever.

Psalms 146:7 He brings about justice for those who are oppressed. He gives food to those who are hungry. The LORD sets prisoners free.

Psalms 146:8 The LORD gives sight to blind people. The LORD straightens [the backs]of those who are bent over. The LORD loves righteous people.

Psalms 146:9 The LORD protects foreigners. The LORD gives relief to orphans and widows. But he keeps wicked people from reaching their goal.

Psalms 146:10 The LORD rules as king forever. Zion, your God rules throughout every generation. Hallelujah!

Psalms 147:1 Hallelujah! It is good to sing psalms to our God. It is pleasant to sing [his] praise beautifully.

Psalms 147:2 The LORD is the builder of Jerusalem. He is the one who gathers the outcasts of Israel together.

Psalms 147:3 He is the healer of the brokenhearted. He is the one who bandages their wounds.

Psalms 147:4 He determines the number of stars. He gives each one a name.

Psalms 147:5 Our Lord is great, and his power is great. There is no limit to his understanding.

Psalms 147:6 The LORD gives relief to those who are oppressed. He brings wicked people down to the ground.

Psalms 147:7 Sing to the LORD a song of thanksgiving. Make music to our God with a lyre.

Psalms 147:8 He covers the sky with clouds. He provides rain for the ground. He makes grass grow on the mountains.

Psalms 147:9 He is the one who gives food to animals and to young ravens when they call out.

Psalms 147:10 He finds no joy in strong horses, nor is he pleased by brave soldiers.

Psalms 147:11 The LORD is pleased with those who fear him, with those who wait with hope for his mercy.

Psalms 147:12 Praise the LORD, Jerusalem! Praise your God, Zion!

Psalms 147:13 He makes the bars across your gates strong. He blesses the children within you.

Psalms 147:14 He is the one who brings peace to your borders and satisfies your [hunger] with the finest wheat.

Psalms 147:15 He is the one who sends his promise throughout the earth. His word travels with great speed.

Psalms 147:16 He is the one who sends snow like wool and scatters frost like ashes.

Psalms 147:17 He is the one who throws his hailstones like breadcrumbs. Who can withstand his chilling blast?

Psalms 147:18 He sends out his word and melts his hailstones. He makes wind blow [and] water flow.

Psalms 147:19 He speaks his word to Jacob, his laws and judicial decisions to Israel.

Psalms 147:20 He has done nothing like this for any other nation. The other nations do not know the decisions he has handed down. Hallelujah!

Psalms 148:1 Hallelujah! Praise the LORD from the heavens. Praise him in the heights above.

Psalms 148:2 Praise him, all his angels. Praise him, his entire heavenly army.

Psalms 150:5 Praise him with loud cymbals. Praise him with crashing cymbals.

Psalms 150:6 Let everything that breathes praise the LORD! Hallelujah!

Proverbs

1:1 The proverbs of Solomon, David’s son who was king of Israel, [given]

Proverbs 1:2 to grasp wisdom and discipline, to understand deep thoughts,

Proverbs 1:3 to acquire the discipline of wise behavior- righteousness and justice and fairness-

Proverbs 1:4 to give insight to gullible people, to give knowledge and foresight to the young-

Proverbs 1:5 a wise person will listen and continue to learn, and an understanding person will gain direction-

Proverbs 1:6 to understand a proverb and a clever saying, the words of wise people and their riddles.

Proverbs 1:7 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge. Stubborn fools despise wisdom and discipline.

Proverbs 1:8 My son, listen to your father’s discipline, and do not neglect your mother’s teachings,

Proverbs 1:9 because discipline and teachings are a graceful garland on your head and a [golden] chain around your neck.

Proverbs 1:10 My son, if sinners lure you, do not go along.

Proverbs 1:11 If they say, “Come with us. Let’s set an ambush to kill someone. Let’s hide to ambush innocent people for fun.

Proverbs 1:12 We’ll swallow them alive like the grave, like those in good health who go into the pit.

Proverbs 1:13 We’ll find all kinds of valuable possessions. We’ll fill our homes with stolen goods.

Proverbs 1:14 Join us. We’ll split the loot equally.”

Proverbs 1:15 My son, do not follow them in their way. Do not even set foot on their path,

Proverbs 1:16 because they rush to do evil and hurry to shed blood.

Proverbs 1:17 It does no good to spread a net within the sight of any bird.

Proverbs 1:18 But these people set an ambush for their own murder. They go into hiding only to lose their lives.

Proverbs 1:19 This is what happens to everyone who is greedy for unjust gain. Greed takes away his life.

Proverbs 1:20 Wisdom sings her song in the streets. In the public squares she raises her voice.

Proverbs 1:21 At the corners of noisy streets she calls out. At the entrances to the city she speaks her words, Proverbs 1:22 “How long will you gullible people love being so gullible? How long will you mockers find joy in your mocking? How long will you fools hate knowledge?

Proverbs 1:23 “Turn to me when I warn you. I will generously pour out my spirit for you. I will make my words known to you.

Proverbs 1:24 “I called, and you refused to listen. I stretched out my hands to you, and no one paid attention.

Proverbs 1:25 You ignored all my advice. You did not want me to warn you.

Proverbs 1:26 I will laugh at your calamity. I will make fun of you when panic strikes you,

Proverbs 1:27 when panic strikes you like a violent storm, when calamity strikes you like a wind storm, when trouble and anguish come to you.

Proverbs 1:28 “They will call to me at that time, but I will not answer. They will look for me, but they will not find me, Proverbs 1:29 because they hated knowledge and did not choose the fear of the LORD.

Proverbs 1:30 They refused my advice. They despised my every warning.

Proverbs 1:31 They will eat the fruit of their lifestyle. They will be stuffed with their own schemes.

Proverbs 1:32 “Gullible people kill themselves because of their turning away. Fools destroy themselves because of their indifference.

Proverbs 1:33 But whoever listens to me will live without worry and will be free from the dread of disaster.”

Proverbs 2:1 My son, if you take my words [to heart] and treasure my commands within you,

Proverbs 2:2 if you pay close attention to wisdom, and let your mind reach for understanding,

Proverbs 2:3 if indeed you call out for insight, if you ask aloud for understanding,

Proverbs 2:4 if you search for wisdom as if it were money and hunt for it as if it were hidden treasure,

Proverbs 2:5 then you will understand the fear of the LORD and you will find the knowledge of God.

Proverbs 2:6 The LORD gives wisdom. From his mouth come knowledge and understanding.

Proverbs 2:7 He has reserved priceless wisdom for decent people. He is a shield for those who walk in integrity

Proverbs 2:8 in order to guard those on paths of justice and to watch over the way of his godly ones.

Proverbs 2:9 Then you will understand what is right and just and fair- every good course [in life].

Proverbs 2:10 Wisdom will come into your heart. Knowledge will be pleasant to your soul.

Proverbs 2:11 Foresight will protect you. Understanding will guard you.

Proverbs 2:12 [Wisdom will] save you from the way of evil, from the person who speaks devious things,

Proverbs 2:13 from those who abandon the paths of righteousness to walk the ways of darkness,

Proverbs 2:14 from those who enjoy doing evil, from those who find joy in the deviousness of evil.

Proverbs 2:15 Their paths are crooked. Their ways are devious.

Proverbs 2:16 [Wisdom will] also save you from an adulterous woman, from a loose woman with her smooth talk, Proverbs 2:17 who leaves [her husband,]the closest friend of her youth,[and forgets her marriage vows to her God.]

Proverbs 2:18 Her house sinks down to death. Her ways lead to the souls of the dead.

Proverbs 2:19 None who have sex with her come back. Nor do they ever reach the paths of life.

Proverbs 2:20 So walk in the way of good people and stay on the paths of righteous people.

Proverbs 2:21 Decent people will live in the land. People of integrity will remain in it.

Proverbs 2:22 But wicked people will be cut off from the land and treacherous people will be torn from it.

Proverbs 3:1 My son, do not forget my teachings, and keep my commands in mind,

Proverbs 3:2 because they will bring you long life, good years, and peace.

Proverbs 3:3 Do not let mercy and truth leave you. Fasten them around your neck. Write them on the tablet of your heart.

Proverbs 3:4 Then you will find favor and much success in the sight of God and humanity.

Proverbs 3:5 Trust the LORD with all your heart, and do not rely on your own understanding.

Proverbs 3:6 In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make your paths smooth.

Proverbs 3:7 Do not consider yourself wise. Fear the LORD, and turn away from evil.

Proverbs 3:8 [Then] your body will be healed, and your bones will have nourishment.

Proverbs 3:9 Honor the LORD with your wealth and with the first and best part of all your income.

Proverbs 3:10 Then your barns will be full, and your vats will overflow with fresh wine.

Proverbs 3:11 Do not reject the discipline of the LORD, my son, and do not resent his warning,

Proverbs 3:12 because the LORD warns the one he loves, even as a father warns a son with whom he is pleased.

Proverbs 3:13 Blessed is the one who finds wisdom and the one who obtains understanding.

Proverbs 3:14 The profit [gained] from [wisdom]is greater than the profit [gained] from silver. Its yield is better than fine gold.

Proverbs 3:15 [Wisdom] is more precious than jewels, and all your desires cannot equal it.

Proverbs 3:16 Long life is in [wisdom's] right hand. In [wisdom's] left hand are riches and honor.

Proverbs 3:17 [Wisdom's] ways are pleasant ways, and all its paths lead to peace.

Proverbs 3:18 [Wisdom] is a tree of life for those who take firm hold of it. Those who cling to it are blessed.

Proverbs 3:19 By Wisdom the LORD laid the foundation of the earth. By understanding he established the heavens.

Proverbs 3:20 By his knowledge the deep waters were divided, and the skies dropped dew.

Proverbs 3:21 My son, do not lose sight of these things. Use priceless wisdom and foresight.

Proverbs 3:22 Then they will mean life for you, and they will grace your neck.

Proverbs 3:23 Then you will go safely on your way, and you will not hurt your foot.

Proverbs 3:24 When you lie down, you will not be afraid. As you lie there, your sleep will be sweet.

Proverbs 3:25 Do not be afraid of sudden terror or of the destruction of wicked people when it comes.

Proverbs 3:26 The LORD will be your confidence. He will keep your foot from getting caught.

Proverbs 3:27 Do not hold back anything good from those who are entitled to it when you have the power to do so.

Proverbs 3:28 When you have the good thing with you, do not tell your neighbor, "Go away! Come back tomorrow. I'll give you something then."

Proverbs 3:29 Do not plan to do something wrong to your neighbor while he is sitting there with you and suspecting nothing.

Proverbs 3:30 Do not quarrel with a person for no reason if he has not harmed you.

Proverbs 3:31 Do not envy a violent person. Do not choose any of his ways.

Proverbs 3:32 The devious person is disgusting to the LORD. The LORD's intimate advice is with decent people.

Proverbs 3:33 The LORD curses the house of wicked people, but he blesses the home of righteous people.

Proverbs 3:34 When he mocks the mockers, he is gracious to humble people.

Proverbs 3:35 Wise people will inherit honor, but fools will bear disgrace.

Proverbs 4:1 Sons, listen to [your] father's discipline, and pay attention in order to gain understanding.

Proverbs 4:2 After all, I have taught you well. Do not abandon my teachings.

Proverbs 4:3 When I was a boy [learning] from my father, when I was a tender and only child of my mother, Proverbs 4:4 they used to teach me and say to me, "Cling to my words wholeheartedly. Obey my commands so that you may live.

Proverbs 4:5 Acquire wisdom. Acquire understanding. Do not forget. Do not turn away from the words that I have spoken.

Proverbs 4:6 Do not abandon wisdom, and it will watch over you. Love wisdom, and it will protect you.

Proverbs 4:7 The beginning of wisdom is to acquire wisdom. Acquire understanding with all that you have.

Proverbs 4:8 Cherish wisdom. It will raise you up. It will bring you honor when you embrace it.

Proverbs 4:9 It will give you a graceful garland for your head. It will hand you a beautiful crown."

Proverbs 4:10 My son, listen and accept my words, and they will multiply the years of your life.

Proverbs 4:11 I have taught you the way of wisdom. I have guided you along decent paths.

Proverbs 4:12 When you walk, your stride will not be hampered. Even if you run, you will not stumble.

Proverbs 4:13 Cling to discipline. Do not relax your grip on it. Keep it because it is your life.

Proverbs 4:14 Do not stray onto the path of wicked people. Do not walk in the way of evil people.

Proverbs 4:15 Avoid it. Do not walk near it. Turn away from it, and keep on walking.

Proverbs 4:16 Wicked people cannot sleep unless they do wrong, and they are robbed of their sleep unless they make someone stumble.

Proverbs 4:17 They eat food obtained through wrongdoing and drink wine obtained through violence.

Proverbs 4:18 But the path of righteous people is like the light of dawn that becomes brighter and brighter until it reaches midday.

Proverbs 4:19 The way of wicked people is like deep darkness. They do not know what makes them stumble.

Proverbs 4:20 My son, pay attention to my words. Open your ears to what I say.

Proverbs 4:21 Do not lose sight of these things. Keep them deep within your heart

Proverbs 4:22 because they are life to those who find them and they heal the whole body.

Proverbs 4:23 Guard your heart more than anything else, because the source of your life flows from it.

Proverbs 4:24 Remove dishonesty from your mouth. Put deceptive speech far away from your lips.

Proverbs 4:25 Let your eyes look straight ahead and your sight be focused in front of you.

Proverbs 4:26 Carefully walk a straight path, and all your ways will be secure.

Proverbs 4:27 Do not lean to the right or to the left. Walk away from evil.

Proverbs 5:1 My son, pay attention to my wisdom. Open your ears to my understanding

Proverbs 5:2 so that you may act with foresight and speak with insight.

Proverbs 5:3 The lips of an adulterous woman drip with honey. Her kiss is smoother than oil,

Proverbs 5:4 but in the end she is as bitter as wormwood, as sharp as a two-edged sword.

Proverbs 5:5 Her feet descend to death. Her steps lead straight to hell.

Proverbs 5:6 She doesn’t even think about the path of life. Her steps wander, and she doesn’t realize it.

Proverbs 5:7 But now, sons, listen to me, and do not turn away from what I say to you.

Proverbs 5:8 Stay far away from her. Do not even go near her door.

Proverbs 5:9 Either you will surrender your reputation to others and [the rest of] your years to some cruel person,

Proverbs 5:10 or strangers will benefit from your strength and you will have to work hard in a pagan’s house.

Proverbs 5:11 Then you will groan when your end comes, when your body and flesh are consumed. You will say, Proverbs 5:12 “Oh, how I hated discipline! How my heart despised correction!

Proverbs 5:13 I didn’t listen to what my teachers said to me, nor did I keep my ear open to my instructors.

Proverbs 5:14 I almost reached total ruin in the assembly and in the congregation.”

Proverbs 5:15 Drink water out of your own cistern and running water from your own well.

Proverbs 5:16 Why should water flow out of your spring? Why should your streams flow into the streets?

Proverbs 5:17 They should be yours alone, so do not share them with strangers.

Proverbs 5:18 Let your own fountain be blessed, and enjoy the girl you married when you were young,

Proverbs 5:19 a loving doe and a graceful deer. Always let her breasts satisfy you. Always be intoxicated with her love.

Proverbs 5:20 Why should you, my son, be intoxicated with an adulterous woman and fondle a loose woman’s breast?

Proverbs 5:21 Each person’s ways are clearly seen by the LORD, and he surveys all his actions.

Proverbs 5:22 A wicked person will be trapped by his own wrongs, and he will be caught in the ropes of his own sin.

Proverbs 5:23 He will die for his lack of discipline and stumble around because of his great stupidity.

Proverbs 6:1 My son, if you guarantee a loan for your neighbor or pledge yourself for a stranger with a handshake,

Proverbs 6:2 you are trapped by the words of your own mouth, caught by your own promise.

Proverbs 6:3 Do the following things, my son, so that you may free yourself, because you have fallen into your neighbor’s hands: Humble yourself, and pester your neighbor.

Proverbs 6:4 Don’t let your eyes rest or your eyelids close.

Proverbs 6:5 Free yourself like a gazelle from the hand of a hunter and like a bird from the hand of a hunter.

Proverbs 6:6 Consider the ant, you lazy bum. Watch its ways, and become wise.

Proverbs 6:7 Although it has no overseer, officer, or ruler,

Proverbs 6:8 in summertime it stores its food supply. At harvest time it gathers its food.

Proverbs 6:9 How long will you lie there, you lazy bum? When will you get up from your sleep?

Proverbs 6:10 “Just a little sleep, just a little slumber, just a little nap.”

Proverbs 6:11 Then your poverty will come [to you]like a drifter, and your need will come [to you]like a bandit.

Proverbs 6:12 A good-for-nothing scoundrel is a person who has a dishonest mouth.

Proverbs 6:13 He winks his eye, makes a signal with his foot, [and] points with his fingers.

Proverbs 6:14 He devises evil all the time with a twisted mind. He spreads conflict.

Proverbs 6:15 That is why disaster will come on him suddenly. In a moment he will be crushed beyond recovery.

Proverbs 6:16 There are six things that the LORD hates, even seven that are disgusting to him:

Proverbs 6:17 arrogant eyes, a lying tongue, hands that kill innocent people,

Proverbs 6:18 a mind devising wicked plans, feet that are quick to do wrong,

Proverbs 6:19 a dishonest witness spitting out lies, and a person who spreads conflict among relatives.

Proverbs 6:20 My son, obey the command of your father, and do not disregard the teachings of your mother.

Proverbs 6:21 Fasten them on your heart forever. Hang them around your neck.

Proverbs 6:22 When you walk around, they will lead you. When you lie down, they will watch over you. When you wake up, they will talk to you

Proverbs 6:23 because the command is a lamp, the teachings are a light, and the warnings from discipline are the path of life

Proverbs 6:24 to keep you from an evil woman and from the smooth talk of a loose woman.

Proverbs 6:25 Do not desire her beauty in your heart. Do not let her catch you with her eyes.

Proverbs 6:26 A prostitute’s price is [only] a loaf of bread, but a married woman hunts for [your] life itself.

Proverbs 6:27 Can a man carry fire in his lap without burning his clothes?

Proverbs 6:28 Can anyone walk on red-hot coals without burning his feet?

Proverbs 6:29 So it is with a man who has sex with his neighbor’s wife. None who touch her will escape punishment.

Proverbs 6:30 People do not despise a thief who is hungry when he steals to satisfy his appetite,

Proverbs 6:31 but when he is caught, he has to repay it seven times. He must give up all the possessions in his house.

Proverbs 6:32 Whoever commits adultery with a woman has no sense. Whoever does this destroys himself.

Proverbs 6:33 An adulterous man will find disease and dishonor, and his disgrace will not be blotted out,

Proverbs 6:34 because jealousy arouses a husband's fury. The husband will show no mercy when he takes revenge.

Proverbs 6:35 No amount of money will change his mind. The largest bribe will not satisfy him.

Proverbs 7:1 My son, pay attention to my words. Treasure my commands that are within you.

Proverbs 7:2 Obey my commands so that you may live. Follow my teachings just as you protect the pupil of your eye.

Proverbs 7:3 Tie them on your fingers. Write them on the tablet of your heart.

Proverbs 7:4 Say to wisdom, "You are my sister." Give the name "my relative" to understanding

Proverbs 7:5 in order to guard yourself from an adulterous woman, from a loose woman with her smooth talk.

Proverbs 7:6 From a window in my house I looked through my screen.

Proverbs 7:7 I was looking at gullible people when I saw a young man without much sense among youths.

Proverbs 7:8 He was crossing a street near her corner and walking toward her house

Proverbs 7:9 in the twilight, in the evening, in the dark hours of the night.

Proverbs 7:10 A woman with an ulterior motive meets him. She is dressed as a prostitute.

Proverbs 7:11 She is loud and rebellious. Her feet will not stay at home.

Proverbs 7:12 One moment she is out on the street, the next she is at the curb, on the prowl at every corner.

Proverbs 7:13 She grabs him and kisses him and brazenly says to him, Proverbs 7:14 "I have some sacrificial meat. Today I kept my vows.

Proverbs 7:15 That's why I came to meet you. Eagerly, I looked for you, and I've found you.

Proverbs 7:16 I've made my bed, with colored sheets of Egyptian linen.

Proverbs 7:17 I've sprinkled my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

Proverbs 7:18 Come, let’s drink our fill of love until morning. Let’s enjoy making love,

Proverbs 7:19 because my husband’s not home. He has gone on a long trip.

Proverbs 7:20 He took lots of money with him. He won’t be home for a couple of weeks.”

Proverbs 7:21 With all her seductive charms, she persuades him. With her smooth lips, she makes him give in.

Proverbs 7:22 He immediately follows her like a steer on its way to be slaughtered, like a ram hobbling into captivity

Proverbs 7:23 until an arrow pierces his heart, like a bird darting into a trap. He does not realize that it will cost him his life.

Proverbs 7:24 Now, sons, listen to me. Pay attention to the words from my mouth.

Proverbs 7:25 Do not let your heart be turned to her ways. Do not wander onto her paths,

Proverbs 7:26 because she has brought down many victims, and she has killed all too many.

Proverbs 7:27 Her home is the way to hell and leads to the darkest vaults of death.

Proverbs 8:1 Does not wisdom call out? Does not understanding raise its voice?

Proverbs 8:2 [Wisdom] takes its stand on high ground, by the wayside where the roads meet,

Proverbs 8:3 near the gates to the city. At the entrance [wisdom] sings its song,

Proverbs 8:4 “I am calling to all of you, and my appeal is to all people.

Proverbs 8:5 You gullible people, learn how to be sensible. You fools, get a heart that has understanding.

Proverbs 8:6 Listen! I am speaking about noble things, and my lips will say what is right.

Proverbs 8:7 My mouth expresses the truth, and wickedness is disgusting to my lips.

Proverbs 8:8 Everything I say is fair, and there is nothing twisted or crooked in it.

Proverbs 8:9 All of it is clear to a person who has understanding and right to those who have acquired knowledge.

Proverbs 8:10 Take my discipline, not silver, and my knowledge rather than fine gold, Proverbs 8:11 because wisdom is better than jewels. Nothing you desire can equal it.

Proverbs 8:12 “I, Wisdom, live with insight, and I acquire knowledge and foresight.

Proverbs 8:13 To fear the LORD is to hate evil. I hate pride, arrogance, evil behavior, and twisted speech.

Proverbs 8:14 Advice and priceless wisdom are mine. I, Understanding, have strength.

Proverbs 8:15 Through me kings reign, and rulers decree fair laws.

Proverbs 8:16 Through me princes rule, so do nobles and all fair judges.

Proverbs 8:17 I love those who love me. Those eagerly looking for me will find me.

Proverbs 8:18 I have riches and honor, lasting wealth and righteousness.

Proverbs 8:19 What I produce is better than gold, pure gold. What I yield is better than fine silver.

Proverbs 8:20 I walk in the way of righteousness, on the paths of justice,

Proverbs 8:21 to give an inheritance to those who love me and to fill their treasuries.

Proverbs 8:22 “The LORD already possessed me long ago, when his way began, before any of his works.

Proverbs 8:23 I was appointed from everlasting from the first, before the earth began.

Proverbs 8:24 I was born before there were oceans, before there were springs filled with water.

Proverbs 8:25 I was born before the mountains were settled in their places and before the hills,

Proverbs 8:26 when he had not yet made land or fields or the first dust of the world.

Proverbs 8:27 “When he set up the heavens, I was there. When he traced the horizon on the surface of the ocean,

Proverbs 8:28 when he established the skies above, when he determined the currents in the ocean,

Proverbs 8:29 when he set a limit for the sea so the waters would not overstep his command, when he traced the foundations of the earth,

Proverbs 8:30 I was beside him as a master craftsman. I made him happy day after day, I rejoiced in front of him all the time,

Proverbs 8:31 found joy in his inhabited world, and delighted in the human race.

Proverbs 8:32 “Now, sons, listen to me. Blessed are those who follow my ways.

Proverbs 8:33 Listen to discipline, and become wise. Do not leave my ways.

Proverbs 8:34 Blessed is the person who listens to me, watches at my door day after day, and waits by my doorposts.

Proverbs 8:35 Whoever finds me finds life and obtains favor from the LORD.

Proverbs 8:36 Whoever sins against me harms himself. All those who hate me love death.”

Proverbs 9:1 Wisdom has built her house. She has carved out her seven pillars.

Proverbs 9:2 She has prepared her meat. She has mixed her wine. She has set her table.

Proverbs 9:3 She has sent out her servant girls. She calls from the highest places in the city,

Proverbs 9:4 “Whoever is gullible turn in here!” She says to a person without sense, Proverbs 9:5 “Come, eat my bread, and drink the wine I have mixed.

Proverbs 9:6 Stop being gullible and live. Start traveling the road to understanding.”

Proverbs 9:7 Whoever corrects a mocker receives abuse. Whoever warns a wicked person gets hurt.

Proverbs 9:8 Do not warn a mocker, or he will hate you. Warn a wise person, and he will love you.

Proverbs 9:9 Give [advice] to a wise person, and he will become even wiser. Teach a righteous person, and he will learn more.

Proverbs 9:10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom. The knowledge of the Holy One is understanding.

Proverbs 9:11 You will live longer because of me, and years will be added to your life.

Proverbs 9:12 If you are wise, your wisdom will help you. If you mock, you alone will be held responsible.

Proverbs 9:13 The woman Stupidity is loud, gullible, and ignorant.

Proverbs 9:14 She sits at the doorway of her house. She is enthroned on the high ground of the city

Proverbs 9:15 and calls to those who pass by, those minding their own business,

Proverbs 9:16 “Whoever is gullible turn in here!” She says to a person without sense, Proverbs 9:17 “Stolen waters are sweet, and food eaten in secret is tasty.”

Proverbs 9:18 But he does not know that the souls of the dead are there, that her guests are in the depths of hell.

Proverbs 10:1 The proverbs of Solomon:+b A wise son makes his father happy, but a foolish son brings grief to his mother.

Proverbs 10:2 Treasures gained dishonestly profit no one, but righteousness rescues from death.

Proverbs 10:3 The LORD will not allow a righteous person to starve, but he intentionally ignores the desires of a wicked person.

Proverbs 10:4 Lazy hands bring poverty, but hard-working hands bring riches.

Proverbs 10:5 Whoever gathers in the summer is a wise son. Whoever sleeps at harvest time brings shame.

Proverbs 10:6 Blessings cover the head of a righteous person, but violence covers the mouths of wicked people.

Proverbs 10:7 The name of a righteous person remains blessed, but the names of wicked people will rot away.

Proverbs 10:8 The one who is truly wise accepts commands, but the one who talks foolishly will be thrown down headfirst.

Proverbs 10:9 Whoever lives honestly will live securely, but whoever lives dishonestly will be found out.

Proverbs 10:10 Whoever winks with his eye causes heartache. The one who talks foolishly will be thrown down headfirst.

Proverbs 10:11 The mouth of a righteous person is a fountain of life, but the mouths of wicked people conceal violence.

Proverbs 10:12 Hate starts quarrels, but love covers every wrong.

Proverbs 10:13 Wisdom is found on the lips of a person who has understanding, but a rod is for the back of one without sense.

Proverbs 10:14 Those who are wise store up knowledge, but the mouth of a stubborn fool invites ruin.

Proverbs 10:15 The rich person’s wealth is [his] strong city. Poverty ruins the poor.

Proverbs 10:16 A righteous person’s reward is life. A wicked person’s harvest is sin.

Proverbs 10:17 Whoever practices discipline is on the way to life, but whoever ignores a warning strays.

Proverbs 10:18 Whoever conceals hatred has lying lips. Whoever spreads slander is a fool.

Proverbs 10:19 Sin is unavoidable when there is much talk, but whoever seals his lips is wise.

Proverbs 10:20 The tongue of a righteous person is pure silver. The hearts of wicked people are worthless.

Proverbs 10:21 The lips of a righteous person feed many, but stubborn fools die because they have no sense.

Proverbs 10:22 It is the LORD’s blessing that makes a person rich, and hard work adds nothing to it.

Proverbs 10:23 Like the laughter of a fool when he carries out an evil plan, so is wisdom to a person who has understanding.

Proverbs 10:24 That which wicked people dread happens to them, but [the LORD] grants the desire of righteous people.

Proverbs 10:25 When the storm has passed, the wicked person has vanished, but the righteous person has an everlasting foundation.

Proverbs 10:26 Like vinegar to the teeth, like smoke to the eyes, so is the lazy person to those who send him [on a mission].

Proverbs 10:27 The fear of the LORD lengthens [the number of] days, but the years of wicked people are shortened.

Proverbs 10:28 The hope of righteous people [leads to] joy, but the eager waiting of wicked people comes to nothing.

Proverbs 10:29 The way of the LORD is a fortress for an innocent person but a ruin to those who are troublemakers.

Proverbs 10:30 A righteous person will never be moved, but wicked people will not continue to live in the land.

Proverbs 10:31 The mouth of a righteous person increases wisdom, but a devious tongue will be cut off.

Proverbs 10:32 The lips of a righteous person announce good will, but the mouths of wicked people are devious.

Proverbs 11:1 Dishonest scales are disgusting to the LORD, but accurate weights are pleasing to him.

Proverbs 11:2 Arrogance comes, then comes shame, but wisdom remains with humble people.

Proverbs 11:3 Integrity guides decent people, but hypocrisy leads treacherous people to ruin.

Proverbs 11:4 Riches are of no help on the day of fury, but righteousness saves from death.

Proverbs 11:5 The righteousness of innocent people makes their road smooth, but wicked people fall by their own wickedness.

Proverbs 11:6 Decent people are saved by their righteousness, but treacherous people are trapped by their own greed.

Proverbs 11:7 At the death of a wicked person, hope vanishes. Moreover, his confidence in strength vanishes.

Proverbs 11:8 A righteous person is rescued from trouble, and a wicked person takes his place.

Proverbs 11:9 With his talk a godless person can ruin his neighbor, but righteous people are rescued by knowledge.

Proverbs 11:10 When righteous people prosper, a city is glad. When wicked people die, there are songs of joy.

Proverbs 11:11 With the blessing of decent people a city is raised up, but by the words of wicked people, it is torn down.

Proverbs 11:12 A person who despises a neighbor has no sense, but a person who has understanding keeps quiet.

Proverbs 11:13 Whoever gossips gives away secrets, but whoever is trustworthy in spirit can keep a secret.

Proverbs 11:14 A nation will fall when there is no direction, but with many advisers there is victory.

Proverbs 11:15 Whoever guarantees a stranger's loan will get into trouble, but whoever hates the closing of a deal remains secure.

Proverbs 11:16 A gracious woman wins respect, but ruthless men gain riches.

Proverbs 11:17 A merciful person helps himself, but a cruel person hurts himself.

Proverbs 11:18 A wicked person earns dishonest wages, but whoever spreads righteousness earns honest pay.

Proverbs 11:19 As righteousness leads to life, so whoever pursues evil finds his own death.

Proverbs 11:20 Devious people are disgusting to the LORD, but he is delighted with those whose ways are innocent.

Proverbs 11:21 Certainly, an evil person will not go unpunished, but the descendants of righteous people will escape.

Proverbs 11:22 [Like] a gold ring in a pig's snout, [so] is a beautiful woman who lacks good taste.

Proverbs 11:23 The desire of righteous people ends only in good, but the hope of wicked people ends only in fury.

Proverbs 11:24 One person spends freely and yet grows richer, while another holds back what he owes and yet grows poorer.

Proverbs 11:25 A generous person will be made rich, and whoever satisfies others will himself be satisfied.

Proverbs 11:26 People will curse the one who hoards grain, but a blessing will be upon the head of the one who sells it.

Proverbs 11:27 Whoever eagerly seeks good searches for good will, but whoever looks for evil finds it.

Proverbs 11:28 Whoever trusts his riches will fall, but righteous people will flourish like a green leaf.

Proverbs 11:29 Whoever brings trouble upon his family inherits [only] wind, and that stubborn fool becomes a slave to the wise in heart.

Proverbs 11:30 The fruit of a righteous person is a tree of life, and a winner of souls is wise.

Proverbs 11:31 If the righteous person is rewarded on earth, how much more the wicked person and the sinner!

Proverbs 12:1 Whoever loves discipline loves to learn, but whoever hates correction is a dumb animal.

Proverbs 12:2 A good person obtains favor from the LORD, but the LORD condemns everyone who schemes.

Proverbs 12:3 A person cannot stand firm on a foundation of wickedness, and the roots of righteous people cannot be moved.

Proverbs 12:4 A wife with strength of character is the crown of her husband, but the wife who disgraces him is like bone cancer.

Proverbs 12:5 The thoughts of righteous people are fair. The advice of wicked people is treacherous.

Proverbs 12:6 The words of wicked people are a deadly ambush, but the words of decent people rescue.

Proverbs 12:7 Overthrow wicked people, and they are no more, but the families of righteous people continue to stand.

Proverbs 12:8 A person will be praised based on his insight, but whoever has a twisted mind will be despised.

Proverbs 12:9 Better to be unimportant and have a slave than to act important and have nothing to eat.

Proverbs 12:10 A righteous person cares [even] about the life of his animals, but the compassion of wicked people is [nothing but] cruelty.

Proverbs 12:11 Whoever works his land will have plenty to eat, but the one who chases unrealistic dreams has no sense.

Proverbs 12:12 A wicked person delights in setting a trap for [other] evil people, but the roots of righteous people produce [fruit].

Proverbs 12:13 An evil person is trapped by his own sinful talk, but a righteous person escapes from trouble.

Proverbs 12:14 One person enjoys good things as a result of his speaking ability. Another is paid according to what his hands have accomplished.

Proverbs 12:15 A stubborn fool considers his own way the right one, but a person who listens to advice is wise.

Proverbs 12:16 When a stubborn fool is irritated, he shows it immediately, but a sensible person hides the insult.

Proverbs 12:17 A truthful witness speaks honestly, but a lying witness speaks deceitfully.

Proverbs 12:18 Careless words stab like a sword, but the words of wise people bring healing.

Proverbs 12:19 The word of truth lasts forever, but lies last only a moment.

Proverbs 12:20 Deceit is in the heart of those who plan evil, but joy belongs to those who advise peace.

Proverbs 12:21 No [lasting] harm comes to a righteous person, but wicked people have lots of trouble.

Proverbs 12:22 Lips that lie are disgusting to the LORD, but honest people are his delight.

Proverbs 12:23 A sensible person [discreetly] hides knowledge, but foolish minds preach stupidity.

Proverbs 12:24 Hard-working hands gain control, but lazy hands do slave labor.

Proverbs 12:25 A person's anxiety will weigh him down, but an encouraging word makes him joyful.

Proverbs 12:26 A righteous person looks out for his neighbor, but the path of wicked people leads others astray.

Proverbs 12:27 A lazy hunter does not catch his prey, but a hard-working person becomes wealthy.

Proverbs 12:28 Everlasting life is on the way of righteousness. Eternal death is not along its path.

Proverbs 13:1 A wise son listens to his father's discipline, but a mocker does not listen to reprimands.

Proverbs 13:2 A person eats well as a result of his speaking ability, but the appetite of treacherous people [craves] violence.

Proverbs 13:3 Whoever controls his mouth protects his own life. Whoever has a big mouth comes to ruin.

Proverbs 13:4 A lazy person craves food and there is none, but the appetite of hard-working people is satisfied.

Proverbs 13:5 A righteous person hates lying, but a wicked person behaves with shame and disgrace.

Proverbs 13:6 Righteousness protects the honest way of life, but wickedness ruins a sacrifice for sin.

Proverbs 13:7 One person pretends to be rich but has nothing. Another pretends to be poor but has great wealth.

Proverbs 13:8 A person's riches are the ransom for his life, but the poor person does not pay attention to threats.

Proverbs 13:9 The light of righteous people beams brightly, but the lamp of wicked people will be snuffed out.

Proverbs 13:10 Arrogance produces only quarreling, but those who take advice gain wisdom.

Proverbs 13:11 Wealth [gained] through injustice dwindles away, but whoever gathers little by little has plenty.

Proverbs 13:12 Delayed hope makes one sick at heart, but a fulfilled longing is a tree of life.

Proverbs 13:13 Whoever despises [God's] words will pay the penalty, but the one who fears [God's] commands will be rewarded.

Proverbs 23:6 Do not eat the food of one who is stingy, and do not crave his delicacies.

Proverbs 23:7 As he calculates the cost to himself, this is what he does: He tells you, "Eat and drink," but he doesn't really mean it.

Proverbs 23:8 You will vomit the little bit you have eaten and spoil your pleasant conversation.

Proverbs 23:9 Do not talk directly to a fool, because he will despise the wisdom of your words.

Proverbs 23:10 Do not move an ancient boundary marker or enter fields that belong to orphans,

Proverbs 23:11 because the one who is responsible for them is strong. He will plead their case against you.

Proverbs 23:12 Live a more disciplined life, and listen carefully to words of knowledge.

Proverbs 23:13 Do not hesitate to discipline a child. If you spank him, he will not die.

Proverbs 23:14 Spank him yourself, and you will save his soul from hell.

Proverbs 23:15 My son, if you have a wise heart, my heart will rejoice as well.

Proverbs 23:16 My heart rejoices when you speak what is right.

Proverbs 23:17 Do not envy sinners in your heart. Instead, continue to fear the LORD.

Proverbs 23:18 There is indeed a future, and your hope will never be cut off.

Proverbs 23:19 My son, listen, be wise, and keep your mind going in the right direction.

Proverbs 23:20 Do not associate with those who drink too much wine, with those who eat too much meat,

Proverbs 23:21 because both a drunk and a glutton will become poor. Drowsiness will dress a person in rags.

Proverbs 23:22 Listen to your father since you are his son, and do not despise your mother because she is old.

Proverbs 23:23 Buy truth (and do not sell it), [that is,] buy wisdom, discipline, and understanding.

Proverbs 23:24 A righteous person’s father will certainly rejoice. Someone who has a wise son will enjoy him.

Proverbs 23:25 May your father and your mother be glad. May she who gave birth to you rejoice.

Proverbs 23:26 My son, give me your heart. Let your eyes find happiness in my ways.

Proverbs 23:27 A prostitute is a deep pit. A loose woman is a narrow well.

Proverbs 23:28 She is like a robber, lying in ambush. She spreads unfaithfulness throughout society.

Proverbs 23:29 Who has trouble? Who has misery? Who has quarrels? Who has a complaint? Who has wounds for no reason? Who has bloodshot eyes?

Proverbs 23:30 Those who drink glass after glass of wine and mix it with everything.

Proverbs 23:31 Do not look at wine because it is red, because it sparkles in the cup, because it goes down smoothly.

Proverbs 23:32 Later it bites like a snake and strikes like a poisonous snake.

Proverbs 23:33 Your eyes will see strange sights, and your mouth will say embarrassing things.

Proverbs 23:34 You will be like someone lying down in the middle of the sea or like someone lying down on top of a ship's mast, saying,

Proverbs 23:35 "They strike me, but I feel no pain. They beat me, but I'm not aware of it. Whenever I wake up, I'm going to look for another drink."

Proverbs 24:1 Do not envy evil people or wish you were with them,

Proverbs 24:2 because their minds plot violence, and their lips talk trouble.

Proverbs 24:3 With wisdom a house is built. With understanding it is established.

Proverbs 24:4 With knowledge its rooms are filled with every kind of riches, both precious and pleasant.

Proverbs 24:5 A strong man knows how to use his strength, but a person with knowledge is even more powerful.

Proverbs 24:6 After all, with the right strategy you can wage war, and with many advisers there is victory.

Proverbs 24:7 Matters of wisdom are beyond the grasp of a stubborn fool. At the city gate he does not open his mouth.

Proverbs 24:8 Whoever plans to do evil will be known as a schemer.

Proverbs 24:9 Foolish scheming is sinful, and a mocker is disgusting to everyone.

Proverbs 24:10 If you faint in a crisis, you are weak.

Proverbs 24:11 Rescue captives condemned to death, and spare those staggering toward their slaughter.

Proverbs 24:12 When you say, "We didn't know this," won't the one who weighs hearts take note of it? Won't the one who guards your soul know it? Won't he pay back people for what they do?

Proverbs 24:13 Eat honey, my son, because it is good. Honey that flows from the honeycomb tastes sweet.

Proverbs 24:14 The knowledge of wisdom is like that for your soul. If you find it, then there is a future, and your hope will never be cut off.

Proverbs 24:15 You wicked one, do not lie in ambush at the home of a righteous person. Do not rob his house.

Proverbs 24:16 A righteous person may fall seven times, but he gets up again. However, in a disaster wicked people fall.

Proverbs 24:17 Do not be happy when your enemy falls, and do not feel glad when he stumbles.

Proverbs 24:18 The LORD will see it, he won't like it, and he will turn his anger away from that person.

Proverbs 24:19 Do not get overly upset with evildoers. Do not envy wicked people,

Proverbs 24:20 because an evil person has no future, and the lamps of wicked people will be snuffed out.

Proverbs 24:21 Fear the LORD, my son. Fear the king as well. Do not associate with those who always insist upon change,

Proverbs 24:22 because disaster will come to them suddenly. Who knows what misery both may bring?

Proverbs 24:23 These also are the sayings of wise people: Showing partiality as a judge is not good.

Proverbs 24:24 Whoever says to a guilty person, “You are innocent,” will be cursed by people and condemned by nations.

Proverbs 24:25 But people will be pleased with those who convict a guilty person, and a great blessing will come to them.

Proverbs 24:26 Giving a straight answer is [like] a kiss on the lips.

Proverbs 24:27 Prepare your work outside, and get things ready for yourself in the field. Afterwards, build your house.

Proverbs 24:28 Do not testify against your neighbor without a reason, and do not deceive with your lips.

Proverbs 24:29 Do not say, “I’ll treat him as he treated me. I’ll pay him back for what he has done to me.”

Proverbs 24:30 I passed by a lazy person’s field, the vineyard belonging to a person without sense.

Proverbs 24:31 I saw that it was all overgrown with thistles. The ground was covered with weeds, and its stone fence was torn down.

Proverbs 24:32 When I observed [this], I took it to heart. I saw it and learned my lesson.

Proverbs 24:33 “Just a little sleep, just a little slumber, just a little nap.”

Proverbs 24:34 Then your poverty will come like a drifter, and your need will come like a bandit.

Proverbs 25:1 These also are Solomon’s proverbs that were copied by the men of King Hezekiah of Judah.

Proverbs 25:2 It is the glory of God to hide things but the glory of kings to investigate them.

Proverbs 25:3 [Like] the high heavens and the deep earth, so the mind of kings is unsearchable.

Proverbs 25:4 Take the impurities out of silver, and a vessel is ready for the silversmith to mold.

Proverbs 25:5 Take a wicked person away from the presence of a king, and justice will make his throne secure.

Proverbs 25:6 Do not brag about yourself in front of a king or stand in the spot that belongs to notable people,

Proverbs 25:7 because it is better to be told, “Come up here,” than to be put down in front of a prince whom your eyes have seen.

Proverbs 25:8 Do not be in a hurry to go to court. What will you do in the end if your neighbor disgraces you?

Proverbs 25:9 Present your argument to your neighbor, but do not reveal another person’s secret.

Proverbs 25:10 Otherwise, when he hears about it, he will humiliate you, and his evil report about you will never disappear.

Proverbs 25:11 [Like] golden apples in silver settings, [so] is a word spoken at the right time.

Proverbs 25:12 [Like] a gold ring and a fine gold ornament, [so] is constructive criticism to the ear of one who listens.

Proverbs 25:13 Like the coolness of snow on a harvest day, [so] is a trustworthy messenger to those who send him: He refreshes his masters.

Proverbs 25:14 [Like] a dense fog or a dust storm, [so] is a person who brags about a gift that he does not give.

Proverbs 25:15 With patience you can persuade a ruler, and a soft tongue can break bones.

Proverbs 25:16 When you find honey, eat only as much as you need. Otherwise, you will have too much and vomit.

Proverbs 25:17 Do not set foot in your neighbor’s house too often. Otherwise, he will see too much of you and hate you.

Proverbs 25:18 [Like] a club and a sword and a sharp arrow, [so] is a person who gives false testimony against his neighbor.

Proverbs 25:19 [Like] a broken tooth and a lame foot, [so] is confidence in an unfaithful person in a [time of] crisis.

Proverbs 25:20 [Like] taking off a coat on a cold day or pouring vinegar on baking soda, so is singing songs to one who has an evil heart.

Proverbs 25:21 If your enemy is hungry, give him some food to eat, and if he is thirsty, give him some water to drink.

Proverbs 25:22 [In this way] you will make him feel guilty and ashamed, and the LORD will reward you.

Proverbs 25:23 [As] the north wind brings rain, so a whispering tongue brings angry looks.

Proverbs 25:24 Better to live on a corner of a roof than to share a home with a quarreling woman.

Proverbs 25:25 [Like] cold water to a thirsty soul, so is good news from far away.

Proverbs 25:26 [Like] a muddied spring and a polluted well, [so] is a righteous person who gives in to a wicked person.

Proverbs 25:27 Eating too much honey is not good, and searching for honor is not honorable.

Proverbs 25:28 [Like] a city broken into [and] left without a wall, [so] is a person who lacks self-control.

Proverbs 26:1 Like snow in summertime and rain at harvest time, so honor is not right for a fool.

Proverbs 26:2 Like a fluttering sparrow, like a darting swallow, so a hastily spoken curse does not come to rest.

Proverbs 26:3 A whip is for the horse, a bridle is for the donkey, and a rod is for the backs of fools.

Proverbs 26:4 Do not answer a fool with his own stupidity, or you will be like him.

Proverbs 26:5 Answer a fool with his own stupidity, or he will think he is wise.

Proverbs 26:6 Whoever uses a fool to send a message cuts off his own feet and brings violence upon himself.

Proverbs 26:7 [Like] a lame person's limp legs, so is a proverb in the mouths of fools.

Proverbs 26:8 Like tying a stone to a sling, so is giving honor to a fool.

Proverbs 26:9 [Like] a thorn stuck in a drunk's hand, so is a proverb in the mouths of fools.

Proverbs 26:10 [Like] many people who destroy everything, so is one who hires fools or drifters.

Proverbs 26:11 As a dog goes back to its vomit, [so] a fool repeats his stupidity.

Proverbs 26:12 Have you met a person who thinks he is wise? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

Proverbs 26:13 A lazy person says, "There's a ferocious lion out on the road! There's a lion loose in the streets!"

Proverbs 26:14 [As] a door turns on its hinges, so the lazy person turns on his bed.

Proverbs 26:15 A lazy person puts his fork in his food. He wears himself out as he brings it back to his mouth.

Proverbs 26:16 A lazy person thinks he is wiser than seven people who give a sensible answer.

Proverbs 26:17 [Like] grabbing a dog by the ears, [so] is a bystander who gets involved in someone else's quarrel.

Proverbs 26:18 Like a madman who shoots flaming arrows, arrows, and death,

Proverbs 26:19 so is the person who tricks his neighbor and says, “I was only joking!”

Proverbs 26:20 Without wood a fire goes out, and without gossip a quarrel dies down.

Proverbs 26:21 [As] charcoal fuels burning coals and wood fuels fire, so a quarrelsome person fuels a dispute.

Proverbs 26:22 The words of a gossip are swallowed greedily, and they go down into a person’s innermost being.

Proverbs 26:23 [Like] a clay pot covered with cheap silver, [so] is smooth talk that covers up an evil heart.

Proverbs 26:24 Whoever is filled with hate disguises it with his speech, but inside he holds on to deceit.

Proverbs 26:25 When he talks charmingly, do not trust him because of the seven disgusting things in his heart.

Proverbs 26:26 His hatred is deceitfully hidden, but his wickedness will be revealed to the community.

Proverbs 26:27 Whoever digs a pit will fall into it. Whoever rolls a stone will have it roll back on him.

Proverbs 26:28 A lying tongue hates its victims, and a flattering mouth causes ruin.

Proverbs 27:1 Do not brag about tomorrow, because you do not know what another day may bring.

Proverbs 27:2 Praise should come from another person and not from your own mouth, from a stranger and not from your own lips.

Proverbs 27:3 A stone is heavy, and sand weighs a lot, but annoyance caused by a stubborn fool is heavier than both.

Proverbs 27:4 Anger is cruel, and fury is overwhelming, but who can survive jealousy?

Proverbs 27:5 Open criticism is better than unexpressed love.

Proverbs 27:6 Wounds made by a friend are intended to help, but an enemy’s kisses are too much to bear.

Proverbs 27:7 One who is full despises honey, but to one who is hungry, even bitter food tastes sweet.

Proverbs 27:8 Like a bird wandering from its nest, so is a husband wandering from his home.

Proverbs 27:9 Perfume and incense make the heart glad, but the sweetness of a friend is a fragrant forest.

Proverbs 27:10 Do not abandon your friend or your father’s friend. Do not go to a relative’s home when you are in trouble. A neighbor living nearby is better than a relative far away.

Proverbs 27:11 Be wise, my son, and make my heart glad so that I can answer anyone who criticizes me.

Proverbs 27:12 Sensible people foresee trouble and hide. Gullible people go ahead [and] suffer.

Proverbs 27:13 Hold on to the garment of one who guarantees a stranger’s loan, and hold responsible the person who makes a loan in behalf of a foreigner.

Proverbs 27:14 Whoever blesses his friend early in the morning with a loud voice- his blessing is considered a curse.

Proverbs 27:15 Constantly dripping water on a rainy day is like a quarreling woman.

Proverbs 27:16 Whoever can control her can control the wind. He can even pick up olive oil with his right hand.

Proverbs 27:17 [As] iron sharpens iron, so one person sharpens the wits of another.

Proverbs 27:18 Whoever takes care of a fig tree can eat its fruit, and whoever protects his master is honored.

Proverbs 27:19 As a face is reflected in water, so a person is reflected by his heart.

Proverbs 27:20 Hell and decay are never satisfied, and a person’s eyes are never satisfied.

Proverbs 27:21 The crucible is for refining silver and the smelter for gold, but a person [is tested] by the praise given to him.

Proverbs 27:22 If you crush a stubborn fool in a mortar with a pestle along with grain, [even then] his stupidity will not leave him.

Proverbs 27:23 Be fully aware of the condition of your flock, and pay close attention to your herds.

Proverbs 27:24 Wealth is not forever. Nor does a crown last from one generation to the next.

Proverbs 27:25 [When] grass is cut short, the tender growth appears, and vegetables are gathered on the hills.

Proverbs 27:26 Lambs [will provide] you with clothing, and the money from the male goats will buy a field.

Proverbs 27:27 There will be enough goat milk to feed you, to feed your family, and to keep your servant girls alive.

Proverbs 28:1 A wicked person flees when no one is chasing him, but righteous people are as bold as lions.

Proverbs 28:2 When a country is in revolt, it has many rulers, but only with a person who has understanding and knowledge will it last a long time.

Proverbs 28:3 A poor person who oppresses poorer people is like a driving rain that leaves no food.

Proverbs 28:4 Those who abandon [God's] teachings praise wicked people, but those who follow [God's] teachings oppose wicked people.

Proverbs 28:5 Evil people do not understand justice, but those who seek the LORD understand everything.

Proverbs 28:6 Better to be a poor person who has integrity than to be rich and double-dealing.

Proverbs 28:7 Whoever follows [God's] teachings is a wise son. Whoever associates with gluttons disgraces his father.

Proverbs 28:8 Whoever becomes wealthy through [unfair] loans and interest collects them for the one who is kind to the poor.

Proverbs 28:9 Surely the prayer of someone who refuses to listen to [God's] teachings is disgusting.

Proverbs 28:10 Whoever leads decent people into evil will fall into his own pit, but innocent people will inherit good things.

Proverbs 28:11 A rich person is wise in his own eyes, but a poor person with understanding sees right through him.

Proverbs 28:12 When righteous people triumph, there is great glory, but when wicked people rise, people hide themselves.

Proverbs 28:13 Whoever covers over his sins does not prosper. Whoever confesses and abandons them receives compassion.

Proverbs 28:14 Blessed is the one who is always fearful [of sin], but whoever is hard-hearted falls into disaster.

Proverbs 28:15 [Like] a roaring lion and a charging bear, [so] a wicked ruler is a threat to poor people.

Proverbs 28:16 A leader without understanding taxes [his people] heavily, but those who hate unjust gain will live longer.

Proverbs 28:17 A person burdened with the guilt of murder will be a fugitive down to his grave. No one will help him.

Proverbs 28:18 Whoever lives honestly will be safe. Whoever lives dishonestly will fall all at once.

Proverbs 28:19 Whoever works his land will have plenty to eat. Whoever chases unrealistic dreams will have plenty of nothing.

Proverbs 28:20 A trustworthy person has many blessings, but anyone in a hurry to get rich will not escape punishment.

Proverbs 28:21 Showing partiality is not good, because some people will turn on you even for a piece of bread.

Proverbs 28:22 A stingy person is in a hurry to get rich, not realizing that poverty is about to overtake him.

Proverbs 28:23 Whoever criticizes people will be more highly regarded in the future than the one who flatters with his tongue.

Proverbs 28:24 The one who robs his father or his mother and says, “It isn’t wrong!” is a companion to a vandal.

Proverbs 28:25 A greedy person stirs up a fight, but whoever trusts the LORD prospers.

Proverbs 28:26 Whoever trusts his own heart is a fool. Whoever walks in wisdom will survive.

Proverbs 28:27 Whoever gives to the poor lacks nothing. Whoever ignores the poor receives many curses.

Proverbs 28:28 When wicked people rise, people hide. When they die, righteous people increase.

Proverbs 29:1 A person who will not bend after many warnings will suddenly be broken beyond repair.

Proverbs 29:2 When righteous people increase, the people [of God] rejoice, but when a wicked person rules, everybody groans.

Proverbs 29:3 A person who loves wisdom makes his father happy, but one who pays prostitutes wastes his wealth.

Proverbs 29:4 By means of justice, a king builds up a country, but a person who confiscates religious contributions tears it down.

Proverbs 29:5 A person who flatters his neighbor is spreading a net for him to step into.

Proverbs 29:6 To an evil person sin is bait in a trap, but a righteous person runs away from it and is glad.

Proverbs 29:7 A righteous person knows the just cause of the poor. A wicked person does not understand this.

Proverbs 29:8 Mockers create an uproar in a city, but wise people turn away anger.

Proverbs 29:9 When a wise person goes to court with a stubborn fool, he may rant and rave, but there is no peace and quiet.

Proverbs 29:10 Bloodthirsty people hate an innocent person, but decent people seek [to protect] his life.

Proverbs 29:11 A fool expresses all his emotions, but a wise person controls them.

Proverbs 29:12 If a ruler pays attention to lies, all his servants become wicked.

Proverbs 29:13 A poor person and an oppressor have this in common: The LORD gives both of them sight.

Proverbs 29:14 When a king judges the poor with honesty, his throne will always be secure.

Proverbs 29:15 A spanking and a warning produce wisdom, but an undisciplined child disgraces his mother.

Proverbs 29:16 When wicked people increase, crime increases, but righteous people will witness their downfall.

Proverbs 29:17 Correct your son, and he will give you peace of mind. He will bring delight to your soul.

Proverbs 29:18 Without prophetic vision people run wild, but blessed are those who follow [God's] teachings.

Proverbs 29:19 A slave cannot be disciplined with words. He will not respond, though he may understand.

Proverbs 29:20 Have you met a person who is quick to answer? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

Proverbs 29:21 Pamper a slave from childhood, and later he will be ungrateful.

Proverbs 29:22 An angry person stirs up a fight, and a hothead does much wrong.

Proverbs 29:23 A person's pride will humiliate him, but a humble spirit gains honor.

Proverbs 29:24 Whoever is a thief's partner hates his own life. He will not testify under oath.

Proverbs 29:25 A person's fear sets a trap [for him], but one who trusts the LORD is safe.

Proverbs 29:26 Many seek an audience with a ruler, but justice for humanity comes from the LORD.

Proverbs 29:27 An unjust person is disgusting to righteous people. A decent person is disgusting to wicked people.

Proverbs 30:1 The words of Agur, son of Jakeh. Agur's prophetic revelation.+b This man's declaration: "I'm weary, O God. I'm weary and worn out, O God.

Proverbs 30:2 I'm more [like] a dumb animal than a human being. I don't [even] have human understanding.

Proverbs 30:3 I haven't learned wisdom. I don't have knowledge of the Holy One.

Proverbs 30:4 "Who has gone up to heaven and come down? Who has gathered the wind in the palm of his hand? Who has wrapped water in a garment? Who has set up the earth from one end to the other? What is his name or the name of his son? Certainly, you must know!

Proverbs 30:5 "Every word of God has proven to be true. He is a shield to those who come to him for protection.

Proverbs 30:6 Do not add to his words, or he will reprimand you, and you will be found to be a liar.

Proverbs 30:7 “I’ve asked you for two things. Don’t keep them from me before I die:

Proverbs 30:8 Keep vanity and lies far away from me. Don’t give me either poverty or riches. Feed me [only] the food I need,

Proverbs 30:9 or I may feel satisfied and deny you and say, ‘Who is the LORD?’ or I may become poor and steal and give the name of my God a bad reputation.

Proverbs 30:10 “Do not slander a slave to his master. The slave will curse you, and you will be found guilty.”

Proverbs 30:11 A certain kind of person curses his father and does not bless his mother.

Proverbs 30:12 A certain kind of person thinks he is pure but is not washed from his own feces.

Proverbs 30:13 A certain kind of person looks around arrogantly and is conceited.

Proverbs 30:14 A certain kind of person, whose teeth are like swords and whose jaws are [like] knives, devours oppressed people from the earth and people from among humanity.

Proverbs 30:15 The bloodsucking leech has two daughters- “Give!” and “Give!” Three things are never satisfied. Four never say, “Enough!”:

Proverbs 30:16 the grave, a barren womb, a land that never gets enough water, a fire that does not say, “Enough!”

Proverbs 30:17 The eye that makes fun of a father and hates to obey a mother will be plucked out by ravens in the valley and eaten by young vultures.

Proverbs 30:18 Three things are too amazing to me, even four that I cannot understand:

Proverbs 30:19 an eagle making its way through the sky, a snake making its way over a rock, a ship making its way through high seas, a man making his way with a virgin.

Proverbs 30:20 This is the way of a woman who commits adultery: She eats, wipes her mouth, and says, “I haven’t done anything wrong!”

Proverbs 30:21 Three things cause the earth to tremble, even four it cannot bear up under:

Proverbs 30:22 a slave when he becomes king, a godless fool when he is filled with food,

Proverbs 30:23 a woman who is unloved when she gets married, a maid when she replaces her mistress.

Proverbs 30:24 Four things on earth are small, yet they are very wise:

Proverbs 30:25 Ants are not a strong species, yet they store their food in summer.

Proverbs 30:26 Rock badgers are not a mighty species, yet they make their home in the rocks.

Proverbs 30:27 Locusts have no king, yet all of them divide into swarms by instinct.

Proverbs 30:28 A lizard you can hold in your hands, yet it can even be found in royal palaces.

Proverbs 30:29 There are three things that walk with dignity, even four that march with dignity:

Proverbs 30:30 a lion, mightiest among animals, which turns away from nothing,

Proverbs 30:31 a strutting rooster, a male goat, a king at the head of his army.

Proverbs 30:32 If you are such a godless fool as to honor yourself, or if you scheme, you had better put your hand over your mouth.

Proverbs 30:33 As churning milk produces butter and punching a nose produces blood, so stirring up anger produces a fight.

Proverbs 31:1 The sayings of King Lemuel, a prophetic revelation, used by his mother to discipline him.

Proverbs 31:2 “What, my son? What, son to whom I gave birth? What, son of my prayers?

Proverbs 31:3 Don’t give your strength to women or your power to those who ruin kings.

Proverbs 31:4 “It is not for kings, Lemuel. It is not for kings to drink wine or for rulers to crave liquor.

Proverbs 31:5 Otherwise, they drink and forget what they have decreed and change the standard of justice for all oppressed people.

Proverbs 31:6 Give liquor to a person who is dying and wine to one who feels resentful.

Proverbs 31:7 Such a person drinks and forgets his poverty and does not remember his trouble anymore.

Proverbs 31:8 “Speak out for the one who cannot speak, for the rights of those who are doomed.

Proverbs 31:9 Speak out, judge fairly, and defend the rights of oppressed and needy people.”

Proverbs 31:10 “Who can find a wife with a strong character? She is worth far more than jewels.

Proverbs 31:11 Her husband trusts her with [all] his heart, and he does not lack anything good.

Proverbs 31:12 She helps him and never harms him all the days of her life.

Proverbs 31:13 “She seeks out wool and linen [with care] and works with willing hands.

Proverbs 31:14 She is like merchant ships. She brings her food from far away.

Proverbs 31:15 She wakes up while it is still dark and gives food to her family and portions of food to her female slaves.

Proverbs 31:16 “She picks out a field and buys it. She plants a vineyard from the profits she has earned.

Proverbs 31:17 She puts on strength like a belt and goes to work with energy.

Proverbs 31:18 She sees that she is making a good profit. Her lamp burns late at night.

Proverbs 31:19 “She puts her hands on the distaff, and her fingers hold a spindle.

Proverbs 31:20 She opens her hands to oppressed people and stretches them out to needy people.

Proverbs 31:21 She does not fear for her family when it snows because her whole family has a double layer of clothing.

Proverbs 31:22 She makes quilts for herself. Her clothes are [made of] linen and purple cloth.

Proverbs 31:23 “Her husband is known at the city gates when he sits with the leaders of the land.

Proverbs 31:24 “She makes linen garments and sells them and delivers belts to the merchants.

Proverbs 31:25 She dresses with strength and nobility, and she smiles at the future.

Proverbs 31:26 “She speaks with wisdom, and on her tongue there is tender instruction.

Proverbs 31:27 She keeps a close eye on the conduct of her family, and she does not eat the bread of idleness.

Proverbs 31:28 Her children and her husband stand up and bless her. In addition, he sings her praises, by saying,

Proverbs 31:29 ‘Many women have done noble work, but you have surpassed them all!’

Proverbs 31:30 “Charm is deceptive, and beauty evaporates, [but] a woman who has the fear of the LORD should be praised.

Proverbs 31:31 Reward her for what she has done, and let her achievements praise her at the city gates. God’s Word-Proverbs-12

Ecclesiastes

1:1 The words of the spokesman, the son of David and the king in Jerusalem.

Ecclesiastes 1:2 “Absolutely pointless!” says the spokesman. “Absolutely pointless! Everything is pointless.”

Ecclesiastes 1:3 What do people gain from all their hard work under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 1:4 Generations come, and generations go, but the earth lasts forever.

Ecclesiastes 1:5 The sun rises, and the sun sets, and then it rushes back to the place where it will rise [again].

Ecclesiastes 1:6 The wind blows toward the south and shifts toward the north. Round and round it blows. It blows in a full circle.

Ecclesiastes 1:7 All streams flow into the sea, but the sea is never full. The water goes back to the place where the streams began in order to [start] flowing again.

Ecclesiastes 1:8 All of these sayings are worn-out phrases. They are more than anyone can express, comprehend, or understand.

Ecclesiastes 1:9 Whatever has happened before will happen [again]. Whatever has been done before will be done [again]. There is nothing new under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 1:10 Can you say that anything is new? It has already been here long before us.

Ecclesiastes 1:11 Nothing from the past is remembered. Even in the future, nothing will be remembered by those who come after us.

Ecclesiastes 1:12 I, the spokesman, have been king of Israel in Jerusalem.

Ecclesiastes 1:13 With all my heart I used wisdom to study and explore everything done under heaven. Mortals are weighed down with a terrible burden that God has placed on them.

Ecclesiastes 1:14 I have seen everything that is done under the sun. Look at it! It’s all pointless. [It’s like] trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 1:15 No one can straighten what is bent. No one can count what is not there.

Ecclesiastes 1:16 I thought to myself, “I have grown wiser than anyone who [has ruled] Jerusalem before me. I’ve had a lot of experience with wisdom and knowledge.”

Ecclesiastes 1:17 I’ve used my mind to understand wisdom and knowledge as well as madness and stupidity. [Now] I know that this is [like] trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 1:18 With a lot of wisdom [comes] a lot of heartache. The greater [your] knowledge, the greater [your] pain.

Ecclesiastes 2:1 I thought to myself, “Now I want to experiment with pleasure and enjoy myself.” But even this was pointless.

Ecclesiastes 2:2 I thought, “Laughter doesn’t make any sense. What does pleasure accomplish?”

Ecclesiastes 2:3 I explored ways to make myself feel better by drinking wine. I also explored ways to do [some] foolish things. During all that time, wisdom continued to control my mind. I was able to determine whether this was good for mortals to do during their brief lives under heaven.

Ecclesiastes 2:4 I accomplished some great things: I built houses for myself. I planted vineyards for myself.

Ecclesiastes 2:5 I made gardens and parks for myself. I planted every kind of fruit tree in them.

Ecclesiastes 2:6 I made pools to water the forest of growing trees.

Ecclesiastes 2:7 I bought male and female slaves. In addition, slaves were born in my household. I owned more herds and flocks than anyone in Jerusalem before me.

Ecclesiastes 2:8 I also gathered silver and gold for myself. I gathered the treasures of kings and provinces. I provided myself with male and female singers and the pleasures men have with one concubine after another.

Ecclesiastes 2:9 So I grew richer than anyone in Jerusalem before me. Yet, my wisdom remained with me.

Ecclesiastes 2:10 If something appealed to me, I did it. I allowed myself to have any pleasure I wanted, since I found pleasure in my work. This was my reward for all my hard work.

Ecclesiastes 2:11 But when I turned to look at all that I had accomplished and all the hard work I had put into it, I saw that it was all pointless. [It was like] trying to catch the wind. I gained nothing [from any of my accomplishments] under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 2:12 Then I turned [my attention] to experience wisdom, madness, and foolishness. For instance, what can the man who replaces the king do? Only what has already been done.

Ecclesiastes 2:13 But I saw that wisdom has an advantage over foolishness as light has an advantage over darkness.

Ecclesiastes 2:14 A wise person uses the eyes in his head, but a fool walks in the dark. But I have also come to realize that the same destiny waits for both of them.

Ecclesiastes 2:15 I thought to myself, “[If] the destiny that waits for the fool waits for me as well, then what is the advantage in being wise?” So I thought that even this is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 2:16 Neither the wise person nor the fool will be remembered for long, since both will be forgotten in the days to come. Both the wise person and the fool will die.

Ecclesiastes 2:17 So I came to hate life because everything done under the sun seemed wrong to me. Everything was pointless. [It was like] trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 2:18 I came to hate everything for which I had worked so hard under the sun, because I will have to leave it to the person who replaces me.

Ecclesiastes 2:19 Who knows whether that person will be wise or foolish? He will still have control over everything under the sun for which I worked so hard and used my wisdom. Even this is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 2:20 Then I fell into despair over everything for which I had worked so hard under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 2:21 Here is someone who had worked hard with wisdom, knowledge, and skill. Yet, he must turn over his estate to someone else, who didn't work for it. Even this is pointless and a terrible tragedy.

Ecclesiastes 2:22 What do people get from all of their hard work and struggles under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 2:23 Their entire life is filled with pain, and their work is unbearable. Even at night their minds don't rest. Even this is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 2:24 There is nothing better for people to do than to eat, drink, and find satisfaction in their work. I saw that even this comes from the hand of God.

Ecclesiastes 2:25 Who can eat or enjoy themselves without God?

Ecclesiastes 2:26 God gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy to anyone who pleases him. But to the person who continues to sin, he gives the job of gathering and collecting [wealth]. The sinner must turn his wealth over to the person who pleases God. Even this is pointless. [It's like] trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 3:1 Everything has its own time, and there is a specific time for every activity under heaven:

Ecclesiastes 3:2 a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to pull out what was planted,

Ecclesiastes 3:3 a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build up,

Ecclesiastes 3:4 a time to cry and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance,

Ecclesiastes 3:5 a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to hug and a time to stop hugging, Ecclesiastes 3:6 a time to start looking and a time to stop looking, a time to keep and a time to throw away,

Ecclesiastes 3:7 a time to tear apart and a time to sew together, a time to keep quiet and a time to speak out,

Ecclesiastes 3:8 a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace.

Ecclesiastes 3:9 What do working people gain from their hard labor?

Ecclesiastes 3:10 I have seen mortals weighed down with a burden that God has placed on them.

Ecclesiastes 3:11 It is beautiful how God has done everything at the right time. He has put a sense of eternity in people's minds. Yet, mortals still can't grasp what God is doing from the beginning to the end [of time].

Ecclesiastes 3:12 I realize that there's nothing better for them to do than to be cheerful and enjoy what is good in their lives.

Ecclesiastes 3:13 It is a gift from God to be able to eat and drink and experience the good that comes from every kind of hard work.

Ecclesiastes 3:14 I realize that whatever God does will last forever. Nothing can be added to it, and nothing can be taken away from it. God does this so that people will fear him.

Ecclesiastes 3:15 Whatever has happened [in the past] is present now. Whatever is going to happen [in the future] has already happened [in the past]. God will call the past to account.

Ecclesiastes 3:16 I saw something else under the sun: There is wickedness where justice should be found. There is wickedness where righteousness should be found.

Ecclesiastes 3:17 I thought to myself, "God will judge righteous people as well as wicked people, because there is a specific time for every activity and every work that is done."

Ecclesiastes 3:18 I thought to myself, "God is going to test humans in order to show them that they are [like] animals."

Ecclesiastes 3:19 Humans and animals have the same destiny. One dies just like the other. All of them have the same breath [of life]. Humans have no advantage over animals. All [of life] is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 3:20 All [life] goes to the same place. All [life] comes from the ground, and all of it goes back to the ground.

Ecclesiastes 3:21 Who knows whether a human spirit goes upward or whether an animal spirit goes downward to the earth?

Ecclesiastes 3:22 I saw that there's nothing better for people to do than to enjoy their work because that is their lot [in life]. Who will allow them to see what will happen after them?

Ecclesiastes 4:1 Next, I turned to look at all the acts of oppression that make people suffer under the sun. Look at the tears of those who suffer! No one can comfort them. Their oppressors have [all] the power. No one can comfort those who suffer.

Ecclesiastes 4:2 I congratulate the dead, who have already died, rather than the living, who still have to carry on.

Ecclesiastes 4:3 But the person who hasn't been born yet is better off than both of them. He hasn't seen the evil that is done under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 4:4 Then I saw that all hard work and skillful effort come from rivalry. Even this is pointless. [It's like] trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 4:5 A fool folds his hands and wastes away.

Ecclesiastes 4:6 One handful of peace and quiet is better than two handfuls of hard work and of trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 4:7 Next, I turned to look at something pointless under the sun:

Ecclesiastes 4:8 There are people who are all alone. They have no children or other family members. So there is no end to all the hard work they have to do. Their eyes are never satisfied with riches. But [they never ask themselves] why they are working so hard and depriving themselves of good things. Even this is pointless and a terrible tragedy.

Ecclesiastes 4:9 Two people are better than one because [together] they have a good reward for their hard work.

Ecclesiastes 4:10 If one falls, the other can help his friend get up. But how tragic it is for the one who is [all] alone when he falls. There is no one to help him get up.

Ecclesiastes 4:11 Again, if two people lie down together, they can keep warm, but how can one person keep warm?

Ecclesiastes 4:12 Though one person may be overpowered by another, two people can resist one opponent. A triple-braided rope is not easily broken.

Ecclesiastes 4:13 A young man who is poor and wise is better than an old, foolish king who won't take advice any longer.

Ecclesiastes 4:14 A young man came out of prison to rule as king, even though he had been born in poverty in that same kingdom.

Ecclesiastes 4:15 I saw all living people moving about under the sun. They sided with the second young man, the king's successor.

Ecclesiastes 4:16 There was no end to all those people, everyone whom he led.?kings[.”> But those who will come later will not be happy with the successor. Even this is pointless.]It's like[trying to catch the wind.]

Ecclesiastes 5:1 Watch your step when you go to the house of God. It is better to go there and listen than to bring the sacrifices fools bring. Fools are unaware that they are doing [something] evil.

Ecclesiastes 5:2 Don’t be in a hurry to talk. Don’t be eager to speak in the presence of God. Since God is in heaven and you are on earth, limit the number of your words.

Ecclesiastes 5:3 Daydreaming comes when there are too many worries. Careless speaking comes when there are too many words.

Ecclesiastes 5:4 When you make a promise to God, don’t be slow to keep it because God doesn’t like fools. Keep your promise.

Ecclesiastes 5:5 It is better not to make a promise than to make one and not keep it.

Ecclesiastes 5:6 Don’t let your mouth talk you into committing a sin. Don’t say in the presence of a [temple] messenger, “My promise was a mistake!” Why should God become angry at your excuse and destroy what you’ve accomplished?

Ecclesiastes 5:7 In spite of many daydreams, pointless actions, and empty words, you should still fear God.

Ecclesiastes 5:8 Don’t be surprised if you see poor people being oppressed, denied justice, or denied their rights in any district. One authority is watching over another, and they both have authorities watching over them.

Ecclesiastes 5:9 Yet, a king is an advantage for a country with cultivated fields.

Ecclesiastes 5:10 Whoever loves money will never be satisfied with money. Whoever loves wealth will never be satisfied with more income. Even this is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 5:11 As the number of goods increase, so do the number of people who consume them. What do owners gain [from all their goods] except [the opportunity] to look at them?

Ecclesiastes 5:12 The sleep of working people is sweet, whether they eat a little or a lot. But the full stomachs that rich people have will not allow them to sleep.

Ecclesiastes 5:13 There is a painful tragedy that I have seen under the sun: Riches lead to the downfall of those who hoard them.

Ecclesiastes 5:14 These hoarded riches were then lost in bad business deals. The owners had children, but now they have nothing to give them.

Ecclesiastes 5:15 They came from their mother’s womb naked. They will leave as naked as they came. They won’t even be able to take a handful of their earnings with them from all their hard work.

Ecclesiastes 5:16 This also is a painful tragedy: They leave exactly as they came. What advantage do they gain from working so hard for the wind?

Ecclesiastes 5:17 They spend their entire lives in darkness, in constant frustration, sickness, and resentment.

Ecclesiastes 5:18 At last I have seen what is good and beautiful: It is to eat and drink and to enjoy the good in all our hard work under the sun during the brief lives God gives us. That is our lot [in life].

Ecclesiastes 5:19 It is a gift from God when God gives some people wealth and possessions, the power to enjoy them, [the ability] to accept their lot in life, and [the ability] to rejoice in their own hard work.

Ecclesiastes 5:20 These people won't give much thought to their brief lives because God keeps them occupied with the joy in their hearts.

Ecclesiastes 6:1 There is a tragedy that I have seen under the sun. It is a terrible one for mortals.

Ecclesiastes 6:2 God gives one person riches, wealth, and honor so that he doesn't lack anything he wants. Yet, God doesn't give him the power to enjoy any of them. Instead, a stranger enjoys them. This is pointless and is a painful tragedy.

Ecclesiastes 6:3 Suppose a rich person wasn't satisfied with good things [while he was alive] and didn't even get an honorable burial [after he died]. Suppose he had a hundred children and lived for many years. No matter how long he would have lived, it [still] would have been better for him to have been born dead.

Ecclesiastes 6:4 A stillborn baby arrives in a pointless birth and goes out into the darkness. The darkness then hides its name.

Ecclesiastes 6:5 Though it has never seen the sun or known anything, the baby finds more rest than the rich person.

Ecclesiastes 6:6 Even if the rich person lives two thousand years without experiencing anything good-don't we all go to the same place?

Ecclesiastes 6:7 Everything that people work so hard for goes into their mouths, but their appetite is never satisfied.

Ecclesiastes 6:8 What advantage does a wise person have over a fool? What advantage does a poor person have in knowing how to face life?

Ecclesiastes 6:9 It is better to look at what is in front of you than to go looking for what you want. Even this is pointless. [It's like] trying to catch the wind.

Ecclesiastes 6:10 Whatever has happened [in the past] already has a name. Mortals are already known for what they are. Mortals cannot argue with the one who is stronger than they.

Ecclesiastes 6:11 The more words there are, the more pointless they become. What advantage do mortals gain from this?

Ecclesiastes 6:12 Who knows what may be good for mortals while they are alive, during the brief, pointless days they live? Mortals pass by like a shadow. Who will tell them about their future under the sun?

Ecclesiastes 7:1 A good name is better than expensive perfume, and the day you die is better than the day you're born.

Ecclesiastes 7:2 It is better to go to a funeral than to a banquet because that is where everyone will end up. Everyone who is alive should take this to heart!

Ecclesiastes 7:3 Sorrow is better than laughter because, in spite of a sad face, the heart can be joyful.

Ecclesiastes 7:4 The minds of wise people think about funerals, but the minds of fools think about banquets.

Ecclesiastes 7:5 It is better to listen to wise people who reprimand you than to fools who sing your praises.

Ecclesiastes 7:6 The laughter of a fool is like the crackling of thorns burning under a pot. Even this is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 7:7 Oppression can turn a wise person into a fool, and a bribe can corrupt the mind.

Ecclesiastes 7:8 The end of something is better than its beginning. It is better to be patient than arrogant.

Ecclesiastes 7:9 Don't be quick to get angry, because anger is typical of fools.

Ecclesiastes 7:10 Don't ask, "Why were things better in the old days than they are now?" It isn't wisdom that leads you to ask this!

Ecclesiastes 7:11 Wisdom is as good as an inheritance. It is an advantage to everyone who sees the sun.

Ecclesiastes 7:12 Wisdom protects us just as money protects us, but the advantage of wisdom is that it gives life to those who have it.

Ecclesiastes 7:13 Consider what God has done! Who can straighten what God has bent?

Ecclesiastes 7:14 When times are good, be happy. But when times are bad, consider this: God has made the one time as well as the other so that mortals cannot predict their future.

Ecclesiastes 7:15 I have seen it all in my pointless life: Righteous people die in spite of being righteous. Wicked people go on living in spite of being wicked.

Ecclesiastes 7:16 Don't be too virtuous, and don't be too wise. Why make yourself miserable?

Ecclesiastes 7:17 Don't be too wicked, and don't be a fool. Why should you die before your time is up?

Ecclesiastes 7:18 It's good to hold on to the one and not let go of the other, because the one who fears God will be able to avoid both extremes.

Ecclesiastes 7:19 Wisdom will help a wise person more than ten rulers can help a city.

Ecclesiastes 7:20 Certainly, there is no one so righteous on earth that he always does what is good and never sins.

Ecclesiastes 7:21 Don't take everything that people say to heart, or you may hear your own servant cursing you.

Ecclesiastes 7:22 Your conscience knows that you have cursed others many times.

Ecclesiastes 7:23 I used wisdom to test all of this. I said, "I want to be wise, but it is out of my reach."

Ecclesiastes 7:24 Whatever wisdom may be, it is out of reach. It is deep, very deep. Who can find out what it is?

Ecclesiastes 7:25 I turned my attention to study, to explore, and to seek out wisdom and the reason for things. I learned that wickedness is stupid and foolishness is madness.

Ecclesiastes 7:26 I find that a woman whose thoughts are [like] traps and snares is more bitter than death itself. Even her hands are [like] chains. Whoever pleases God will escape her, but she will catch whoever continues to sin.

Ecclesiastes 7:27 The spokesman said, "This is what I've found: I added one thing to another in order to find a reason for things.

Ecclesiastes 7:28 I am still seeking a reason for things, but have not found any. I found one man out of a thousand who had it, but out of all these I didn't find one woman.

Ecclesiastes 7:29 I have found only this: God made people decent, but they looked for many ways [to avoid being decent]."

Ecclesiastes 8:1 Who is really wise? Who knows how to explain things? Wisdom makes one's face shine, and it changes one's grim look.

Ecclesiastes 8:2 I [advise] you to obey the king's commands because of the oath you took in God's presence.

Ecclesiastes 8:3 Don't be in a hurry to leave the king's service. Don't take part in something evil, because he can do whatever he pleases.

Ecclesiastes 8:4 Since a king's word has such power, no one can ask him what he is doing.

Ecclesiastes 8:5 Whoever obeys his commands will avoid trouble. The mind of a wise person will know the right time and the right way [to act].

Ecclesiastes 8:6 There is a right time and a right way [to act] in every situation. Yet, a terrible human tragedy hangs over people.

Ecclesiastes 8:7 They don’t know what the future will bring. So who can tell them how things will turn out?

Ecclesiastes 8:8 No one has the power to prevent the spirit of life from leaving. No one has control over the day of his own death. There is no way to avoid the war [against death]. Wickedness will not save wicked people [from dying].

Ecclesiastes 8:9 I have seen all of this, and I have carefully considered all that is done under the sun whenever one person has authority to hurt others.

Ecclesiastes 8:10 Then I saw wicked people given an [honorable] burial. They used to go in and out of the holy place. They were praised in the city for doing such things. Even this is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 8:11 When a sentence against a crime isn’t carried out quickly, people are encouraged to commit crimes.

Ecclesiastes 8:12 A sinner may commit a hundred crimes and yet live a long life. Still, I know with certainty that it will go well for those who fear God, because they fear him.

Ecclesiastes 8:13 But it will not go well for the wicked. They will not live any longer. Their lives are like shadows, because they don’t fear God.

Ecclesiastes 8:14 There is something being done on earth that is pointless. Righteous people suffer for what the wicked do, and wicked people get what the righteous deserve. I say that even this is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 8:15 So I recommend the enjoyment [of life]. People have nothing better to do under the sun than to eat, drink, and enjoy themselves. This joy will stay with them while they work hard during their brief lives which God has given them under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 8:16 When I carefully considered how to study wisdom and how to look at the work that is done on earth (even going without sleep day and night),

Ecclesiastes 8:17 then I saw everything that God has done. No one is able to grasp the work that is done under the sun. However hard a person may search for it, he will not find [its meaning]. Even though a wise person claims to know, he is not able to grasp it.

Ecclesiastes 9:1 Now, I have carefully thought about all this, and I explain it in this way: Righteous people and wise people, along with their accomplishments, are in God’s hands. No one knows whether there will be love or hatred.

Ecclesiastes 9:2 Everything turns out the same way for everyone. All people will share the same destiny, whether they are righteous, wicked, or good, clean or unclean, whether they offer sacrifices or don’t offer sacrifices. Good people are treated like sinners. People who take oaths are treated like those who are afraid to take oaths.

Ecclesiastes 9:3 This is the tragedy of everything that happens under the sun: Everyone shares the same destiny. Moreover, the hearts of mortals are full of evil. Madness is in their hearts while they are still alive. After that, they join the dead.

Ecclesiastes 9:4 But all who are among the living have hope, because a living dog is better than a dead lion.

Ecclesiastes 9:5 The living know that they will die, but the dead don't know anything. There is no more reward for the dead when the memory of them has faded.

Ecclesiastes 9:6 Their love, their hate, and their passions have already vanished. They will never again take part in anything that happens under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 9:7 Go, enjoy eating your food, and drink your wine cheerfully, because God has already accepted what you've done.

Ecclesiastes 9:8 Always wear clean clothes, and never go without lotion on your head.

Ecclesiastes 9:9 Enjoy life with your wife, whom you love, during all your brief, pointless life. God has given you your pointless life under the sun. This is your lot [in life] and what you get for the hard work that you do under the sun.

Ecclesiastes 9:10 Whatever presents itself for you to do, do it with [all] your might, because there is no work, planning, knowledge, or skill in the grave where you're going.

Ecclesiastes 9:11 I saw something else under the sun. The race isn't [won] by fast runners, or the battle by heroes. Wise people don't necessarily have food. Intelligent people don't necessarily have riches, and skilled people don't necessarily receive special treatment. But time and unpredictable events overtake all of them.

Ecclesiastes 9:12 No one knows when his time will come. Like fish that are caught in a cruel net or birds caught in a snare, humans are trapped by a disaster when it suddenly strikes them.

Ecclesiastes 9:13 I also have seen this example of wisdom under the sun, and it made a deep impression on me.

Ecclesiastes 9:14 There was a small town with a few soldiers in it, and a powerful king came to attack it. He surrounded it and blockaded it.

Ecclesiastes 9:15 A poor, wise person was found in that town. He saved the town using his wisdom. But no one remembered that poor person.

Ecclesiastes 9:16 So I said, "Wisdom is better than strength," even though that poor person's wisdom was despised, and no one listened to what he said.

Ecclesiastes 9:17 One should pay more attention to calm words from wise people than shouting from a ruler of fools.

Ecclesiastes 9:18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner can destroy much that is good.

Ecclesiastes 10:1 Dead flies will make a bottle of perfume stink, and then it is spoiled. A little foolishness outweighs wisdom [and] honor.

Ecclesiastes 10:2 A wise person’s heart leads the right way. The heart of a fool leads the wrong way.

Ecclesiastes 10:3 Even when a fool goes walking, he has no sense and shows everyone else that he’s a fool.

Ecclesiastes 10:4 If a ruler becomes angry with you, don’t resign your position. If you remain calm, you can make up for serious offenses.

Ecclesiastes 10:5 There is a tragedy that I’ve seen under the sun, an error often made by rulers.

Ecclesiastes 10:6 Foolish people are often given high positions, and rich people are left to fill lower positions.

Ecclesiastes 10:7 I have seen slaves sitting on horses and influential people going on foot like slaves.

Ecclesiastes 10:8 Whoever digs a pit may fall into it. Whoever breaks through a stone wall may be bitten by a snake.

Ecclesiastes 10:9 Whoever works in a stone quarry may get hurt. Whoever splits wood may be injured.

Ecclesiastes 10:10 If an ax is blunt and the edge isn’t sharpened, then one has to use more strength. But wisdom prepares the way for success.

Ecclesiastes 10:11 If a snake bites before it has been charmed, then there is no advantage in being a snake charmer.

Ecclesiastes 10:12 A wise person’s words win favors, but a fool’s lips are self-destructive.

Ecclesiastes 10:13 A fool starts out by talking foolishness and ends up saying crazy things that are dangerous.

Ecclesiastes 10:14 He never stops talking. No one knows what the future will bring, or what will happen after [death]. Who can say!

Ecclesiastes 10:15 Fools wear themselves out with hard work, because they don’t even know the way to town.

Ecclesiastes 10:16 How horrible it will be for any country where the king used to be a servant and where the high officials throw parties in the morning.

Ecclesiastes 10:17 A country is blessed when the king is from a noble family and when the high officials eat at the right time in order to get strength and not to get drunk.

Ecclesiastes 10:18 A roof sags because of laziness. A house leaks because of idle hands.

Ecclesiastes 10:19 A meal is made for laughter, and wine makes life pleasant, but money is the answer for everything.

Ecclesiastes 10:20 Don’t curse the king even in your thoughts, and don’t curse rich people even in your bedroom. A bird may carry your words, or some winged creature may repeat what you say.

Ecclesiastes 11:1 Throw your bread on the surface of the water, because you will find it again after many days.

Ecclesiastes 11:2 Divide what you have into seven parts, or even into eight, because you don’t know what disaster may happen on earth.

Ecclesiastes 11:3 If the clouds are full of rain, they will let it pour down on the earth. If a tree falls north or south, the tree will remain where it fell.

Ecclesiastes 11:4 Whoever watches the wind will never plant. Whoever looks at the clouds will never harvest.

Ecclesiastes 11:5 Just as you don’t know how the breath of life enters the limbs of a child within its mother’s womb, you also don’t understand how God, who made everything, works.

Ecclesiastes 11:6 Plant your seed in the morning, and don’t let your hands rest until evening. You don’t know whether this field or that field will be profitable or whether both of them will [turn out] equally well.

Ecclesiastes 11:7 Light is sweet, and it is good for one’s eyes to see the sun.

Ecclesiastes 11:8 Even though people may live for many years, they should enjoy every one of them. But they should also remember there will be many dark days. Everything that is coming is pointless.

Ecclesiastes 11:9 You young people should enjoy yourselves while you’re young. You should let your hearts make you happy when you’re young. Follow wherever your heart leads you and whatever your eyes see. But realize that God will make you give an account for all these things when he judges everyone.

Ecclesiastes 11:10 Get rid of what troubles you or wears down your body, because childhood and youth are pointless.

Ecclesiastes 12:1 Remember your Creator when you are young, before the days of trouble come and the years catch up with you. They will make you say, “I have found no pleasure in them.”

Ecclesiastes 12:2 Remember your Creator before the sun, the light, the moon, and the stars turn dark, [and] the clouds come back with rain.

Ecclesiastes 12:3 Remember your Creator when those who guard the house tremble, strong men are stooped over, the women at the mill stop grinding because there are so few of them, [and] those who look out of the windows see a dim light.

Ecclesiastes 12:4 Remember your Creator when the doors to the street are closed, the sound of the mill is muffled, you are startled at the sound of a bird, [and] those who sing songs become quiet.

Ecclesiastes 12:5 Remember your Creator when someone is afraid of heights and of dangers along the road, the almond tree blossoms, the grasshopper drags itself along, [and] the caper bush has [no] fruit. Mortals go to their eternal rest, and mourners go out in the streets.

Ecclesiastes 12:6 Remember your Creator before the silver cord is snapped, the golden bowl is broken, the pitcher is smashed near the spring, and the water wheel is broken at the cistern.

Ecclesiastes 12:7 Then the dust [of mortals] goes back to the ground as it was before, and the breath of life goes back to God who gave it.

Ecclesiastes 12:8 “Absolutely pointless!” says the spokesman. “Everything is pointless!”

Ecclesiastes 12:9 Besides being wise, the spokesman also taught the people what he knew. He very carefully thought about it, studied it, and arranged it in many proverbs.

Ecclesiastes 12:10 The spokesman tried to find just the right words. He wrote the words of truth very carefully.

Ecclesiastes 12:11 Words from wise people are like spurs. Their collected sayings are like nails that have been driven in firmly. They come from one shepherd.

Ecclesiastes 12:12 Be warned, my children, against anything more than these. People never stop writing books. Too much studying will wear out your body.

Ecclesiastes 12:13 After having heard it all, this is the conclusion: Fear God, and keep his commands, because this applies to everyone.

Ecclesiastes 12:14 God will certainly judge everything that is done. This includes every secret thing, whether it is good or bad.

Song of Solomon

1:1 The most beautiful song of Solomon.

Song of Solomon 1:2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth. Your expressions of love are better than wine,

Song of Solomon 1:3 better than the fragrance of cologne. (Cologne should be named after you.) No wonder the young women love you!

Song of Solomon 1:4 Take me with you. Let’s run away. The king has brought me into his private rooms. We will celebrate and rejoice with you. We will praise your expressions of love more than wine. How right it is that the young women love you!

Song of Solomon 1:5 Young women of Jerusalem, I am dark and lovely like Kedar's tents, like Solomon's curtains.

Song of Solomon 1:6 Stop staring at me because I am so dark. The sun has tanned me. My brothers were angry with me. They made me the caretaker of the vineyards. I have not even taken care of my own vineyard.

Song of Solomon 1:7 Please tell me, you whom I love, where do you graze your flock? Where does your flock lie down at noon? [Tell me,] or I will be considered a prostitute [wandering] among the flocks of your companions.

Song of Solomon 1:8 If you do not know, most beautiful of women, follow the tracks of the flocks, and graze your young goats near the shepherds' tents.

Song of Solomon 1:9 My true love, I compare you to a mare among Pharaoh's stallions.

Song of Solomon 1:10 Your cheeks are lovely with ornaments, your neck with strings of pearls.

Song of Solomon 1:11 We will make gold ornaments with silver beads for you.

Song of Solomon 1:12 While the king is at his table, my perfume fills the air with its fragrance.

Song of Solomon 1:13 My beloved is a pouch of myrrh that lies at night between my breasts.

Song of Solomon 1:14 My beloved is a bouquet of henna flowers in the vineyards of En Gedi.

Song of Solomon 1:15 Look at you! You are beautiful, my true love! Look at you! You are so beautiful! Your eyes are like doves!

Song of Solomon 1:16 Look at you! You are handsome, my beloved, so pleasing to me! The leaf-scattered ground will be our couch.

Song of Solomon 1:17 The cedars will be the walls of our house. The cypress trees will be our rafters.

Song of Solomon 2:1 I am a rose of Sharon, a lily [growing] in the valleys.

Song of Solomon 2:2 Like a lily among thorns, so is my true love among the young women.

Song of Solomon 2:3 Like an apple tree among the trees in the forest, so is my beloved among the young men. I want to sit in his shadow. His fruit tastes sweet to me.

Song of Solomon 2:4 He leads me into a banquet room and looks at me with love.

Song of Solomon 2:5 Strengthen me with raisins and refresh me with apples because I am weak from love.

Song of Solomon 2:6 His left hand is under my head. His right hand caresses me.

Song of Solomon 2:7 Young women of Jerusalem, swear to me by the gazelles or by the does in the field that you will not awaken love or arouse love before its proper time.

Song of Solomon 2:8 I hear my beloved's voice. Look! Here he comes, sprinting over the mountains, racing over the hills.

Song of Solomon 2:9 My beloved is like a gazelle or a young stag. Look! There he stands behind our wall, peeking through the window, looking through the lattice.

Song of Solomon 2:10 My beloved said to me, "Get up, my true love, my beautiful one, and come with me.

Song of Solomon 2:11 Look! The winter is past. The rain is over and gone.

Song of Solomon 2:12 Blossoms appear in the land. The time of the songbird has arrived. The cooing of the mourning dove is heard in our land.

Song of Solomon 2:13 The green figs ripen. The grapevines bloom and give off a fragrance. Get up, my true love, my beautiful one, and come with me.

Song of Solomon 2:14 My dove, in the hiding places of the rocky crevices, in the secret places of the cliffs, let me see your figure and hear your voice. Your voice is sweet, and your figure is lovely."

Song of Solomon 2:15 Catch the foxes for us, the little foxes that ruin vineyards. Our vineyards are blooming.

Song of Solomon 2:16 My beloved is mine, and I am his. He is the one who grazes his flock among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 2:17 When the day brings a cooling breeze and the shadows flee, turn around, my beloved. Run like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains that separate us!

Song of Solomon 3:1 Night after night on my bed I looked for the one I love. I looked for him but did not find him.

Song of Solomon 3:2 I will get up now and roam around the city, in the streets, and in the squares. I will look for the one I love. I looked for him but did not find him.

Song of Solomon 3:3 The watchmen making their rounds in the city found me. [I asked,] "Have you seen the one I love?"

Song of Solomon 3:4 I had just left them when I found the one I love. I held on to him and would not let him go until I had brought him into my mother's house, into the bedroom of the one who conceived me.

Song of Solomon 3:5 Young women of Jerusalem, swear to me by the gazelles or by the does in the field, that you will not awaken love or arouse love before its proper time.

Song of Solomon 3:6 Who is this young woman coming up from the wilderness like clouds of smoke? She is perfumed with myrrh and incense made from the merchants' scented powders.

Song of Solomon 3:7 Look! Solomon's sedan chair! Sixty soldiers from the army of Israel surround it.

Song of Solomon 3:8 All of them are skilled in using swords, experienced in combat. Each one has his sword at his side and guards against the terrors of the night.

Song of Solomon 3:9 King Solomon had a carriage made for himself from the wood of Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 3:10 He had its posts made out of silver, its top out of gold, its seat out of purple fabric. Its inside-with inlaid scenes of love-was made by the young women of Jerusalem.

Song of Solomon 3:11 Young women of Zion, come out and look at King Solomon! Look at his crown, the crown his mother placed on him on his wedding day, his day of joyful delight.

Song of Solomon 4:1 Look at you! You are beautiful, my true love. Look at you! You are so beautiful. Your eyes behind your veil are like doves. Your hair is like a flock of goats moving down Mount Gilead.

Song of Solomon 4:2 Your teeth are like a flock of sheep about to be sheared, sheep that come up from the washing. All of them bear twins, and not one has lost its young.

Song of Solomon 4:3 Your lips are like scarlet thread. Your mouth is lovely. Your temples behind your veil are like slices of pomegranate.

Song of Solomon 4:4 Your neck is like David's beautifully-designed tower. A thousand round shields belonging to soldiers are hung on it.

Song of Solomon 4:5 Your breasts are like two fawns, like twin gazelles grazing among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 4:6 When the day brings a cool breeze and the shadows flee, I will go to the mountain of myrrh and the hill of incense.

Song of Solomon 4:7 You are beautiful in every way, my true love. There is no blemish on you.

Song of Solomon 4:8 You will come with me from Lebanon, from Lebanon as my bride. You will travel with me from the peak of Mount Amana, from the mountain peaks in Senir and Hermon, from the lairs of lions, from the mountains of leopards.

Song of Solomon 4:9 My bride, my sister, you have charmed me. You have charmed me with a single glance from your eyes, with a single strand of your necklace.

Song of Solomon 4:10 How beautiful are your expressions of love, my bride, my sister! How much better are your expressions of love than wine and the fragrance of your perfume than any spice.

Song of Solomon 4:11 Your lips drip honey, my bride. Honey and milk are under your tongue. The fragrance of your clothing is like the fragrance of Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 4:12 My bride, my sister is a garden that is locked, a garden that is locked, a spring that is sealed.

Song of Solomon 4:13 You are paradise that produces pomegranates and the best fruits, henna flowers and nard,

Song of Solomon 4:14 nard and saffron, calamus, cinnamon, and all kinds of incense, myrrh, aloes, and all the best spices.

Song of Solomon 4:15 [You are] a spring for gardens, a well of living water flowing from Lebanon.

Song of Solomon 4:16 Awake, north wind! Come, south wind! Blow on my garden! Let its spices flow from it. Let my beloved come to his garden, and let him eat his own precious fruit.

Song of Solomon 5:1 My bride, my sister, I will come to my garden. I will gather my myrrh with my spice. I will eat my honeycomb with my honey. I will drink my wine with my milk. Eat, my friends! Drink and become intoxicated with expressions of love!

Song of Solomon 5:2 I sleep, but my mind is awake. Listen! My beloved is knocking. Open to me, my true love, my sister, my dove, my perfect one. My head is wet with dew, my hair with the dewdrops of night.

Song of Solomon 5:3 I have taken off my clothes! Why should I put them on [again]? I have washed my feet! Why should I get them dirty [again]?

Song of Solomon 5:4 My beloved put his hand through the keyhole. My heart throbbed for him.

Song of Solomon 5:5 I got up to open for my beloved. My hands dripped with myrrh, and my fingers were drenched with liquid myrrh, on the handles of the lock.

Song of Solomon 5:6 I opened for my beloved, but my beloved had turned away. He was gone! I almost died when he left. I looked for him, but I did not find him. I called for him, but he did not answer me.

Song of Solomon 5:7 The watchmen making their rounds in the city found me. They struck me! They wounded me! Those watchmen on the walls took my robe from me!

Song of Solomon 5:8 Young women of Jerusalem, swear to me that if you find my beloved you will tell him I am hopelessly lovesick.

Song of Solomon 5:9 Most beautiful of women, what makes your beloved better than any other beloved? What makes your beloved better than any other beloved that you make us swear this way?

Song of Solomon 5:10 My beloved is dazzling yet ruddy. He stands out among 10,000 men.

Song of Solomon 5:11 His head is the finest gold. His hair is wavy, black as a raven.

Song of Solomon 5:12 His eyes are set like doves bathing in milk.

Song of Solomon 5:13 His cheeks are like a garden of spices, a garden that produces scented herbs. His lips are lilies that drip with myrrh.

Song of Solomon 5:14 His hands are disks of gold set with emerald. His chest is a block of ivory covered with sapphires.

Song of Solomon 5:15 His legs are columns of marble set on bases of pure gold. His form is like Lebanon, choice as the cedars.

Song of Solomon 5:16 His mouth is sweet in every way. Everything about him is desirable! This is my beloved, and this is my friend, young women of Jerusalem.

Song of Solomon 6:1 Where did your beloved go, most beautiful of women? Where did your beloved turn? We will look for him with you.

Song of Solomon 6:2 My beloved went to his garden, to the beds of spices, to graze his flock in the gardens and gather lilies.

Song of Solomon 6:3 I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine. He is the one who grazes his flock among the lilies.

Song of Solomon 6:4 You are beautiful, my true love, like Tirzah, lovely like Jerusalem, awe-inspiring like those great cities.

Song of Solomon 6:5 Turn your eyes away from me. They enchant me! Your hair is like a flock of goats moving down from Gilead.

Song of Solomon 6:6 Your teeth are like a flock of sheep, sheep that come up from the washing. All of them bear twins, and not one has lost its young.

Song of Solomon 6:7 Your temples behind your veil are like slices of pomegranate.

Song of Solomon 6:8 There are 60 queens, 80 concubines, and countless virgins,

Song of Solomon 6:9 but she is unique, my dove, my perfect one. Her mother thinks she is unique. She is pure to the one who gave birth to her. Her sisters saw her and blessed her. Queens and concubines saw her and praised her.

Song of Solomon 6:10 Who is this young woman? She looks like the dawn. She is beautiful like the moon, pure like the sun, awe-inspiring like those heavenly bodies.

Song of Solomon 6:11 I went to the walnut grove to look at the blossoms in the valley, to see if the grapevine had budded and if the pomegranates were in bloom.

Song of Solomon 6:12 I did not know that I had become like the chariots of my noble people.

Song of Solomon 6:13 Come back! Come back, young woman from Shulam! Come back! Come back so that we may look at you! Why do you look at me, the young woman from Shulam, as you look at the dance of Mahanaim?

Song of Solomon 7:1 How beautiful are your feet in their sandals, noble daughter! The curves of your thighs are like ornaments, like the work of an artist's hands.

Song of Solomon 7:2 Your navel is a round bowl. May it always be filled with spiced wine. Your waist is a bundle of wheat enclosed in lilies.

Song of Solomon 7:3 Your breasts are like two fawns, twins of a gazelle.

Song of Solomon 7:4 Your neck is like an ivory tower. Your eyes are like pools in Heshbon, pools by the gate of Bath Rabbim. Your nose is like a Lebanese tower facing Damascus.

Song of Solomon 7:5 You hold your head as high as Mount Carmel. Your dangling curls are royal beauty. Your flowing locks could hold a king captive.

Song of Solomon 7:6 How beautiful and charming you are, my love, with your elegance.

Song of Solomon 7:7 Young woman, your figure is like a palm tree, and your breasts are like its clusters.

Song of Solomon 7:8 I thought, "I will climb the palm tree and take hold of its fruit." May your breasts be like clusters on the vine. May the fragrance of your breath be like apples.

Song of Solomon 7:9 May your mouth taste like the best wine...... that goes down smoothly to my beloved and glides over the lips of those about to sleep.

Song of Solomon 7:10 I am my beloved's, and he longs for me.

Song of Solomon 7:11 Come, my beloved. Let's go into the field. Let's spend the night among the henna flowers.

Song of Solomon 7:12 Let's go to the vineyards early. Let's see if the vines have budded, if the grape blossoms have opened, if the pomegranates are in bloom. There I will give you my love.

Song of Solomon 7:13 The mandrakes give off a fragrance, and at our door are all kinds of precious fruits. I have saved new and old things for you alone, my beloved.

Song of Solomon 8:1 If only you were my brother, one who nursed at my mother's breasts. If I saw you on the street, I would kiss you, and no one would look down on me.

Song of Solomon 8:2 I would lead you. I would bring you into my mother's house. (She is the one who was my teacher.) I would give you some spiced wine to drink, some juice squeezed from my pomegranates.

Song of Solomon 8:3 His left hand is under my head. His right hand caresses me.

Song of Solomon 8:4 Young women of Jerusalem, swear to me that you will not awaken love or arouse love before its proper time!

Song of Solomon 8:5 Who is this young woman coming from the wilderness with her arm around her beloved? Under the apple tree I woke you up. There your mother went into labor with you. There she went into labor and gave birth to you!

Song of Solomon 8:6 Wear me as a signet ring on your heart, as a ring on your hand. Love is as overpowering as death. Devotion is as unyielding as the grave. Love's flames are flames of fire, flames that come from the LORD.

Song of Solomon 8:7 Raging water cannot extinguish love, and rivers will never wash it away. If a man exchanged all his family's wealth for love, people would utterly despise him.

Song of Solomon 8:8 We have a little sister, and she has no breasts. What will we do for our sister on the day she becomes engaged?

Song of Solomon 8:9 If she is a wall, we will build a silver barrier around her. If she is a door, we will barricade her with cedar boards.

Song of Solomon 8:10 I am a wall, and my breasts are like towers. So he considers me to be one who has found peace.

Song of Solomon 8:11 Solomon had a vineyard at Baal Hamon. He entrusted that vineyard to caretakers. Each one was to bring 25 pounds of silver in exchange for its fruit.

Song of Solomon 8:12 My own vineyard is in front of me. That 25 pounds is yours, Solomon, and 5 pounds go to those who take care of its fruit.

Song of Solomon 8:13 Young woman living in the gardens, while your friends are listening to your voice, let me hear....

Song of Solomon 8:14 Come away quickly, my beloved. Run like a gazelle or a young stag on the mountains of spices.

Isaiah

1:1 This is the vision which Isaiah, son of Amoz, saw about Judah and Jerusalem at the time of Kings Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah.

Isaiah 1:2 Listen, heaven, and pay attention, earth! The LORD has spoken, “I raised [my] children and helped them grow, but they have rebelled against me.

Isaiah 1:3 Oxen know their owners, and donkeys know where their masters feed them. But Israel doesn’t know [its owner]. My people don’t understand [who feeds them].

Isaiah 1:4 “How horrible it will be for a nation that sins. [Its] people are loaded down with guilt. They are descendants of evildoers and destructive children. They have abandoned the LORD. They have despised the Holy One of Israel. They have turned their backs on him.

Isaiah 1:5 “Why do you still want to be beaten? Why do you continue to rebel? Your whole head is infected. Your whole heart is failing.

Isaiah 1:6 From the bottom of your feet to the top of your head there is no healthy spot left on your [body]- only bruises, sores, and fresh wounds. They haven’t been cleansed, bandaged, or soothed with oil.

Isaiah 1:7 “Your country is devastated. Your cities are burned down. Your fields are destroyed right before your eyes by foreigners. Your fields are devastated and taken over by foreigners.

Isaiah 1:8 My people Zion are left like a hut in a vineyard, like a shack in a cucumber field, like a city under attack.”

Isaiah 1:9 If the LORD of Armies hadn’t left us a few survivors, we would have been like Sodom and Gomorrah.

Isaiah 1:10 Listen to the word of the LORD, you rulers of Sodom! Pay attention to the teachings from our God, you people of Gomorrah!

Isaiah 1:11 The LORD asks, “What do your many animal sacrifices mean to me? I’ve had enough of your burnt offerings of rams and enough fat from your fattened calves. I’m not pleased with the blood of bulls, lambs, or male goats.

Isaiah 1:12 When you appear in my presence, who asked you to trample on my courtyards?

Isaiah 1:13 Don’t bring any more worthless grain offerings. Your incense is disgusting to me, so are your New Moon Festivals, your days of worship, and the assemblies you call. I can’t stand your evil assemblies.

Isaiah 1:14 I hate your New Moon Festivals and your appointed festivals. They’ve become a burden to me, and I’m tired of putting up with them.

Isaiah 1:15 So when you stretch out your hands [in prayer], I will turn my eyes away from you. Even though you offer many prayers, I will not listen because your hands are covered with blood.

Isaiah 1:16 “Wash yourselves! Become clean! Get your evil deeds out of my sight. Stop doing evil.

Isaiah 1:17 Learn to do good. Seek justice. Arrest oppressors. Defend orphans. Plead the case of widows.”

Isaiah 1:18 “Come on now, let’s discuss this!” says the LORD. “Though your sins are bright red, they will become as white as snow. Though they are dark red, they will become as white as wool.

Isaiah 1:19 If you are willing and obedient, you will eat the best from the land.

Isaiah 1:20 But if you refuse and rebel, you will be destroyed by swords.” The LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 1:21 How the faithful town has become a prostitute! She was full of justice, and righteousness lived in her. But now murderers live there!

Isaiah 1:22 Your silver is not pure. Your wine is watered down.

Isaiah 1:23 Your rulers are rebels, friends with thieves. They all love bribes and run after gifts. They never defend orphans. They don’t notice the widows’ pleas.

Isaiah 1:24 That’s why the Lord, the LORD of Armies, the Mighty One of Israel, says, “How horrible it will be when I take revenge on my opponents! I will avenge myself against my enemies.

Isaiah 1:25 I will turn my power against you. I will remove your impurities with bleach. I will get rid of all your impurities.

Isaiah 1:26 I will give you judges like you had long ago, advisers like you had in the beginning. After that you will be called the Righteous City, the Faithful Town.”

Isaiah 1:27 Zion will be pardoned by [the LORD’s] justice, and those who return will be pardoned by [the LORD’s] righteousness.

Isaiah 1:28 Rebels and sinners will be crushed at the same time, and those who abandon the LORD will come to an end.

Isaiah 1:29 You will be ashamed of the oaks that you wanted to worship and embarrassed by the garden that you have chosen for your gods.

Isaiah 1:30 You will be like an oak whose leaves wither and like a garden without water.

Isaiah 1:31 Strong people will become tinder for a fire, and their work will be the spark. Both of them will burn together, and there will be no one to put out the fire.

Isaiah 2:1 This is the message which Isaiah, son of Amoz, saw about Judah and Jerusalem.

Isaiah 2:2 In the last days the mountain of the LORD’s house will be established as the highest of the mountains and raised above the hills. All the nations will stream to it.

Isaiah 2:3 Then many people will come and say, “Let’s go to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob. He will teach us his ways so that we may live by them.” The teachings will go out from Zion. The word of the LORD will go out from Jerusalem.

Isaiah 2:4 Then he will judge disputes between nations and settle arguments between many people. They will hammer their swords into plowblades and their spears into pruning shears. Nations will never fight against each other, and they will never train for war again.

Isaiah 2:5 Come, descendants of Jacob, let’s live in the light of the LORD.

Isaiah 2:6 LORD, you have abandoned your people, the descendants of Jacob, because they are filled with Eastern influences. They are fortunetellers like the Philistines, and they make deals with foreigners.

Isaiah 2:7 Their land is filled with silver and gold, and there is no end to their treasures. Their land is filled with horses, and there is no end to their chariots.

Isaiah 2:8 Their land is filled with idols, and they worship what their hands have shaped and what their fingers have molded.

Isaiah 2:9 People will be brought down. Everyone will be humbled. Do not forgive them.

Isaiah 2:10 Go in among the rocks and hide underground because of the LORD’s terrifying presence and the honor of his majesty.

Isaiah 2:11 The eyes of arrogant people will be humbled. High and mighty people will be brought down. On that day the LORD alone will be honored.

Isaiah 2:12 The LORD of Armies will have his day against all who are arrogant and conceited and all who are proud of themselves (they will be humbled),

Isaiah 2:13 against all the towering and mighty cedars of Lebanon and all the oaks of Bashan,

Isaiah 2:14 against all the high mountains and all the lofty hills,

Isaiah 2:15 against every high tower and every fortified wall,

Isaiah 2:16 against all the large ships of Tarshish and all the beautiful boats.

Isaiah 2:17 Then arrogant people will be brought down, and high and mighty people will be humbled. On that day the LORD alone will be honored.

Isaiah 2:18 Then idols will disappear completely.

Isaiah 2:19 People will go into caves in the rocks and into holes in the ground because of the LORD’s terrifying presence and the honor of his majesty when he rises to terrify the earth.

Isaiah 2:20 On that day people will throw to the moles and the bats the silver and gold idols that they made for themselves to worship.

Isaiah 2:21 They will go into caves in the rocks and into cracks in the cliffs because of the LORD's terrifying presence and the honor of his majesty when he rises to terrify the earth.

Isaiah 2:22 Stop trusting people. Their life is in their nostrils. How can they be worth anything?

Isaiah 3:1 See now, the Lord, the LORD of Armies, is going to take from Jerusalem and Judah every kind of support and their entire supply of food and water.

Isaiah 3:2 [He will take their] heroes and soldiers, judges and prophets, fortunetellers and statesmen,

Isaiah 3:3 military leaders and civilian leaders, counselors, skilled workers, and experts in magic.

Isaiah 3:4 "I will make boys their leaders. Children will govern them."

Isaiah 3:5 People will oppress each other, and everyone will oppress his neighbor. The young will make fun of the old, and common people will make fun of their superiors.

Isaiah 3:6 A person will grab one of his relatives from his father's family and say, "You have a coat. You'll be our leader. This pile of ruins will be under your control."

Isaiah 3:7 When that day comes the relative will cry out, "I'm not a doctor! I don't have any food or a coat in my home. Don't make me a leader of our family."

Isaiah 3:8 Jerusalem has stumbled, and Judah has fallen, because what they say and what they do is against the LORD. They are defiant in his honored presence.

Isaiah 3:9 The look on their faces will be held against them. They boast about their sins, which are like [those of the people of] Sodom. They don't even bother to hide them. How horrible it will be for these people, because they have brought disaster on themselves.

Isaiah 3:10 Tell the righteous that blessings will come to them. They will taste the fruit of their labor.

Isaiah 3:11 How horrible it will be for the wicked! Disaster will strike them. What they have done will be done to them.

Isaiah 3:12 "Children will oppress my people. Women will rule them. My people, your guides mislead you, and you don't know which way to go."

Isaiah 3:13 The LORD takes his place in the courtroom. He stands to judge his people.

Isaiah 3:14 The LORD presents his case to the respected leaders and the officials of his people: “You have burned down the vineyard! Your houses are filled with goods stolen from the poor.”

Isaiah 3:15 The Almighty LORD of Armies asks, “How can you crush my people and grind the faces of the poor [into the ground]?”

Isaiah 3:16 The LORD adds, “The women of Zion are arrogant. They walk with their noses in the air, making seductive glances, taking short little steps, jingling the ankle bracelets on their feet.”

Isaiah 3:17 The Lord will cause sores [to appear] on the heads of the women of Zion, and the LORD will make their foreheads bare.

Isaiah 3:18 On that day the Lord will take away their fine things: jingling anklets, headbands, crescent-shaped necklaces,

Isaiah 3:19 pendants, bracelets, scarfs,

Isaiah 3:20 hats, ankle bracelets, blouses, perfume boxes, charms,

Isaiah 3:21 signet rings, nose rings,

Isaiah 3:22 fine robes, coats, shawls, purses,

Isaiah 3:23 mirrors, underwear, headdresses, and veils.

Isaiah 3:24 Instead of the smell of perfume, there will be the smell of decay. They will wear ropes instead of belts. They will have bald heads instead of beautiful hair. They will wear sackcloth instead of expensive clothes. Their beauty will be scarred.

Isaiah 3:25 [Women,] your warriors will die in combat. Your mighty men will die in battle.

Isaiah 3:26 The gates of Zion will cry and grieve, and Zion will sit on the ground, exhausted.

Isaiah 4:1 When that day comes, seven women will grab one man and say, “We’ll eat our own food and provide our own clothes. Just let us marry you for your name. Take away our disgrace.”

Isaiah 4:2 When that day comes, the branch of the LORD will be beautiful and wonderful. The fruit of the land will be the pride and joy of Israel’s survivors.

Isaiah 4:3 Then whoever is left in Zion and whoever remains in Jerusalem will be called holy, everyone who is recorded among the living in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 4:4 The Lord will wash away the filth of Zion’s people. He will clean bloodstains from Jerusalem with a spirit of judgment and a spirit of burning.

Isaiah 4:5 The LORD will create a cloud of smoke during the day and a glowing flame of fire during the night over the whole area of Mount Zion and over the assembly. His glory will cover everything.

Isaiah 4:6 It will be a shelter from the heat during the day as well as a refuge and hiding place from storms and rain.

Isaiah 5:1 Let me sing a lovesong to my beloved about his vineyard: My beloved had a vineyard on a fertile hill.

Isaiah 5:2 He dug it up, removed its stones, planted it with the choicest vines, built a watchtower in it, and made a winepress in it. Then he waited for it to produce good grapes, but it produced only sour, wild grapes.

Isaiah 5:3 Now then, you inhabitants of Jerusalem and Judah, judge between me and my vineyard!

Isaiah 5:4 What more could have been done for my vineyard than what I have already done for it? When I waited for it to produce good grapes, why did it produce only sour, wild grapes?

Isaiah 5:5 Now then, let me tell you what I will do to my vineyard. I will tear away its hedge so that it can be devoured and tear down its wall so that it can be trampled.

Isaiah 5:6 I will make it a wasteland. It will never be pruned or hoed. Thorns and weeds will grow in it, and I will command the clouds not to rain on it.

Isaiah 5:7 The vineyard of the LORD of Armies is the nation of Israel, and the people of Judah are the garden of his delight. He hoped for justice but saw only slaughter, for righteousness but heard only cries of distress.

Isaiah 5:8 How horrible it will be for you who acquire house after house and buy field after field until there’s nothing left and you have to live by yourself in the land.

Isaiah 5:9 With my own ears I heard the LORD of Armies say, “Many houses will become empty. Large, beautiful houses will be without people to live in them.

Isaiah 5:10 A ten-acre vineyard will produce only six gallons of wine, and two quarts of seed will produce only four quarts of grain.”

Isaiah 5:11 How horrible it will be for those who get up early to look for a drink, who sit up late until they are drunk from wine.

Isaiah 5:12 At their feasts there are lyres and harps, tambourines and flutes, and wine. Yet, they don’t pay attention to what the LORD is doing or see what his hands have done.

Isaiah 5:13 “My people will go into exile because they don’t understand what I’m doing. Honored men will starve, and common people will be parched with thirst.”

Isaiah 5:14 That is why the grave’s appetite increases. It opens its mouth very wide so that honored people and common people will go down into it. Those who are noisy and joyous will go down into it.

Isaiah 5:15 People will be brought down. Everyone will be humbled. And the eyes of arrogant people will be humbled.

Isaiah 5:16 The LORD of Armies will be honored when he judges. The holy God will show himself to be holy when he does what is right.

Isaiah 5:17 Then lambs will graze as if they were in their own pasture, and foreigners will eat among the ruins of the rich.

Isaiah 5:18 How horrible it will be for those who string people along with lies and empty promises, whose lives are sinful.

Isaiah 5:19 They say, “Let God hurry and quickly do his work so that we may see what he has in mind. Let the plan of the Holy One of Israel happen quickly so that we may understand what he is doing.”

Isaiah 5:20 How horrible it will be for those who call evil good and good evil, who turn darkness into light and light into darkness, who turn what is bitter into something sweet and what is sweet into something bitter.

Isaiah 5:21 How horrible it will be for those who think they are wise and consider themselves to be clever.

Isaiah 5:22 How horrible it will be for those who are heroes at drinking wine, who are champions at mixing drinks,

Isaiah 5:23 who declare the guilty innocent for a bribe, who take away the rights of righteous people.

Isaiah 5:24 As flames burn up straw and dry grass shrivels in flames, so their roots will rot, and their blossoms will blow away like dust. They have rejected the teachings of the LORD of Armies and have despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 5:25 That’s why the anger of the LORD burns hot against his people, and he is ready to use his power to strike them down. The hills tremble, and dead bodies lie like garbage in the streets. Even after all this, his anger has not disappeared, and he is still ready to use his power.

Isaiah 5:26 The LORD raises up a flag for the nations far away. With a whistle he signals those at the ends of the earth. Look, they are coming very quickly!

Isaiah 5:27 None of them grow tired or stumble. None of them slumber or sleep. The belts on their waists aren’t loose or their sandal straps broken.

Isaiah 5:28 Their arrows are sharpened; all their bows are ready to shoot. Their horses’ hoofs are as hard as flint. Their chariot wheels are as quick as the wind.

Isaiah 5:29 They roar like a lioness. They growl like a young lion. They growl as they snatch their prey and carry it off to where no one can rescue it.

Isaiah 5:30 On that day they will roar over their prey as the sea roars. If they look at the land, they will see only darkness and distress. Even the light will be darkened by thick clouds.

Isaiah 6:1 In the year King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a high and lofty throne. The bottom of his robe filled the temple.

Isaiah 6:2 Angels were standing above him. Each had six wings: With two they covered their faces, with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew.

Isaiah 6:3 They called to each other and said, “Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of Armies! The whole earth is filled with his glory.”

Isaiah 6:4 Their voices shook the foundations of the doorposts, and the temple filled with smoke.

Isaiah 6:5 So I said, “Oh, no! I’m doomed. Every word that passes through my lips is sinful. I live among people with sinful lips. I have seen the king, the LORD of Armies!”

Isaiah 6:6 Then one of the angels flew to me. In his hand was a burning coal that he had taken from the altar with tongs.

Isaiah 6:7 He touched my mouth with it and said, “This has touched your lips. Your guilt has been taken away, and your sin has been forgiven.”

Isaiah 6:8 Then I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, “Whom will I send? Who will go for us?” I said, “Here I am. Send me!”

Isaiah 6:9 And he said, “Go and tell these people, ‘No matter how closely you listen, you’ll never understand. No matter how closely you look, you’ll never see.’

Isaiah 6:10 Make these people close-minded. Plug their ears. Shut their eyes. Otherwise, they may see with their eyes, hear with their ears, understand with their minds, and return and be healed.”

Isaiah 6:11 I asked, “How long, O Lord?” And he replied, “Until the cities lie in ruins with no one living in them, the houses have no people, and the land is completely desolate.

Isaiah 6:12 The LORD will send his people far away, and a large area in the middle of the land will be abandoned.

Isaiah 6:13 Even if one out of ten people is left in it, the land will be burned again. When a sacred oak or an oak is cut down, a stump is left. The holy seed will be the land’s stump.”

Isaiah 7:1 When Ahaz, son of Jotham and grandson of Uzziah, was king of Judah, Aram’s King Rezin and Israel’s King Pekah, son of Remaliah, went to Jerusalem to attack it, but they couldn’t defeat it.

Isaiah 7:2 When word reached David’s family that the Arameans had made an alliance with Ephraim, the hearts of the king and his people were shaken as the trees of the forest are shaken by the wind.

Isaiah 7:3 Then the LORD said to Isaiah, “Go out with your son Shear Jashub to meet Ahaz at the end of the ditch of the Upper Pool on the road to the Laundryman’s Field.

Isaiah 7:4 Say to him, ‘Be careful, stay calm, and don’t be afraid. Don’t lose heart because of the fierce anger of Rezin from Aram and Remaliah’s son. These two are smoldering logs.’

Isaiah 7:5 Aram, Ephraim, and Remaliah’s son have planned evil against you, saying,

Isaiah 7:6 ‘Let’s march against Judah, tear it apart, divide it among ourselves, and set up Tabeel’s son as its king.’

Isaiah 7:7 This is what the Almighty LORD says: It won’t take place; it won’t happen.

Isaiah 7:8 The capital of Aram is Damascus, and the leader of Damascus is Rezin. Ephraim will be shattered within 65 years so that it will no longer be a nation.

Isaiah 7:9 The capital of Ephraim is Samaria, and the leader of Samaria is Remaliah’s son. If you don’t remain faithful, you won’t remain standing.

Isaiah 7:10 Again the LORD spoke to Ahaz,

Isaiah 7:11 “Ask the LORD your God for a sign. It can be anything you want.”

Isaiah 7:12 But Ahaz answered, “I won’t ask; I wouldn’t think of testing the LORD.”

Isaiah 7:13 “Listen now, descendants of David,” Isaiah said. “Isn’t it enough that you try the patience of mortals? Must you also try the patience of my God?

Isaiah 7:14 So the Lord himself will give you this sign: A virgin will become pregnant and give birth to a son, and she will name him Immanuel [God Is With Us].

Isaiah 7:15 He will eat cheese and honey until he knows how to reject evil and choose good.

Isaiah 7:16 Indeed, before the boy knows how to reject evil and choose good, the land of the two kings who terrify you will be deserted.

Isaiah 7:17 “The LORD will bring on you, your people, and your ancestor’s family a time unlike any since Ephraim broke away from Judah. [He will bring] the king of Assyria.

Isaiah 7:18 On that day the LORD will whistle for the flies that are at the distant branches of the Nile River in Egypt and for the bees that are in Assyria.

Isaiah 7:19 All of them will come and settle in the deep valleys, in the cracks in the cliffs, on all the thornbushes, and at all the water holes.

Isaiah 7:20 “On that day the Lord will hire the king of Assyria from beyond the Euphrates River to be a razor to shave the hair on your head, the hair on your legs, and even your beard.

Isaiah 7:21 On that day a person will keep alive a young cow and two sheep.

Isaiah 7:22 That person will eat cheese, because they will produce so much milk. Everyone who is left in the land will eat cheese and honey.

Isaiah 7:23 On that day, in every place where there were 1,000 vines (worth 1,000 pieces of silver), there will be briars and thorns.

Isaiah 7:24 People will come there with bows and arrows [to hunt] because the whole land will be filled with briars and thorns.

Isaiah 7:25 And you will no longer be able to go to all the hills which used to be cultivated because they will be filled with briars and thorns. It will be a place for turning oxen loose and letting sheep run."

Isaiah 8:1 The LORD said to me, "Take a large writing tablet, and write on it with a pen: 'Maher Shalal Hash Baz' [The Looting Will Come Quickly; the Prey Will Be Easy].

Isaiah 8:2 I will have these dependable witnesses testify: the priest Uriah and Zechariah (son of Jeberechiah)."

Isaiah 8:3 I slept with the prophet. She became pregnant and gave birth to a son. The LORD told me, "Name him Maher Shalal Hash Baz.

Isaiah 8:4 Before the boy knows how to say 'Daddy' or 'Mommy,' the wealth of Damascus and the loot from Samaria will be carried away to the king of Assyria."

Isaiah 8:5 The LORD spoke to me again. He said,

Isaiah 8:6 "These people have rejected the gently flowing water of Shiloah and find joy in Rezin and Remaliah's son."

Isaiah 8:7 That is why the Lord is going to bring against them the raging and powerful floodwaters of the Euphrates River- the king of Assyria with all his power. It will overflow all its channels and go over all its banks.

Isaiah 8:8 It will sweep through Judah. It will overflow and pass through; it will be neck-high. Its outspread wings will extend over your whole country, O Immanuel.

Isaiah 8:9 Be broken, you people. Be terrified. Listen, all you distant parts of the earth. Prepare for battle, but be terrified. Prepare for battle, but be terrified.

Isaiah 8:10 Make plans for battle, but they will never succeed. Give orders, but they won't be carried out, because God is with us!

Isaiah 8:11 This is what the LORD said with his powerful hand on me. He warned me not to follow the ways of these people:

Isaiah 8:12 "Don't say that everything these people call a conspiracy is a conspiracy. Don't fear what they fear. Don't let it terrify you."

Isaiah 8:13 Remember that the LORD of Armies is holy. He is the one you should fear and the one you should be terrified of.

Isaiah 8:14 He will be a place of safety for you. But he will be a rock that makes people trip and a stumbling block for both kingdoms of Israel. He will be a trap and a snare for those who live in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 8:15 Many will stumble. They will fall and be broken. They will be trapped and caught.

Isaiah 8:16 Tie up the written instructions. Seal the teachings among my disciples.

Isaiah 8:17 I will wait for the LORD, who hides his face from the descendants of Jacob. I will hope in him.

Isaiah 8:18 I am here with the children that the LORD has given me. We are signs and symbols in Israel from the LORD of Armies, who lives on Mount Zion.

Isaiah 8:19 People will say to you, "Ask for help from the mediums and the fortunetellers, who whisper and mutter." Shouldn't people ask their God for help instead? Why should they ask the dead to help the living?

Isaiah 8:20 They should go to the teachings and to the written instructions. If people don't speak these words, it is because it doesn't dawn on them.

Isaiah 8:21 They will pass through the land when they are hard-pressed and hungry. When they are hungry, they will be furious. Then they will look up, cursing their king and God.

Isaiah 8:22 They will look at the earth and see only distress and gloom. They will go in anguish and be forced into darkness.

Isaiah 9:1 But there will be no more gloom for the land that is in distress. God humbled the lands of Zebulun and Naphtali in earlier times. But in the future he will bring glory to the road by the sea, to the land across the Jordan River, to Galilee, where foreigners live.

Isaiah 9:2 The people who walk in darkness will see a bright light. The light will shine on those who live in the land of death's shadow.

Isaiah 9:3 You will expand the nation and increase its happiness. It will be happy in your presence like those who celebrate the harvest or rejoice when dividing loot.

Isaiah 9:4 You will break the yoke that burdens them, the bar that is across their shoulders, and the stick used by their oppressor, as [you did in the battle against] Midian.

Isaiah 9:5 Every warrior's boot marching to the sound of battle and every garment rolled in blood will be burned as fuel in the fire.

Isaiah 9:6 A child will be born for us. A son will be given to us. The government will rest on his shoulders. He will be named: Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.

Isaiah 9:7 His government and peace will have unlimited growth. He will establish David's throne and kingdom. He will uphold it with justice and righteousness now and forever. The LORD of Armies is determined to do this!

Isaiah 9:8 The LORD sent a message against Jacob. The message is against Israel.

Isaiah 9:9 All the people of Ephraim and the people who live in Samaria will know it. With arrogant and conceited hearts they will say,

Isaiah 9:10 "Bricks have fallen, but we will rebuild with hand-cut stones. Fig trees have been cut down, but we will replace them with cedars."

Isaiah 9:11 The LORD will set Rezin's oppressors against Israel and will stir up its enemies-

Isaiah 9:12 the Arameans from the east and the Philistines from the west. They will devour Israel with open mouths. Even after all this, his anger will not disappear, and he is still ready to use his power.

Isaiah 9:13 But the people have not returned to the one who struck them, nor have they sought the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 9:14 So in one day the LORD will cut off from Israel both head and tail, both palm branches and cattails.

Isaiah 9:15 Respected and honored leaders are the head. Prophets who teach lies are the tail.

Isaiah 9:16 Those who guide these people lead them astray. Those who are guided by them will be destroyed.

Isaiah 9:17 That is why the Lord isn't happy with their young men, nor will he show compassion for their orphans and widows. Every one of them is a godless evildoer, and every mouth speaks foolishness. Even after all this, his anger will not disappear, and he is still ready to use his power.

Isaiah 9:18 Surely wickedness burns like fire. It burns up briars and thorns. It sets the underbrush in the forest on fire, and it whirls upward in clouds of smoke.

Isaiah 9:19 The land is scorched by the fury of the LORD of Armies, and the people are like fuel for the fire. No one shows concern for others:

Isaiah 9:20 On the right, one gobbles up food and is still hungry. On the left, another eats and is never full. Each person eats the flesh from his own arm.

Isaiah 9:21 Manasseh is against Ephraim. Ephraim is against Manasseh. Together they attack Judah. Even after all this, his anger will not disappear, and he is still ready to use his power.

Isaiah 10:1 How horrible it will be for those who make unjust laws and who make oppressive regulations.

Isaiah 10:2 They deprive the poor of justice. They take away the rights of the needy among my people. They prey on widows and rob orphans.

Isaiah 10:3 What will you do on the day you are called to account [for these things], when the disaster comes from far away? Where will you run for help? Where will you leave your wealth?

Isaiah 10:4 Nothing's left but to crouch among prisoners and to fall with those who are killed. Even after all this, his anger will not disappear, and he is still ready to use his power.

Isaiah 10:5 "How horrible it will be for Assyria! It is the rod of my anger. My fury is the staff in the Assyrians' hands.

Isaiah 10:6 I send them against a godless nation. In my fury I order them against the people to take their belongings, loot them, and trample on them like mud in the streets.

Isaiah 10:7 But that's not what they intend to do. Their minds don't work that way. Their purpose is to destroy and put an end to many nations.

Isaiah 10:8 They ask, 'Aren't all our commanders kings?

Isaiah 10:9 Isn't Calno like Carchemish? Isn't Hamath like Arpad? Isn't Samaria like Damascus?'

Isaiah 10:10 My power has reached kingdoms which have idols. They had more carved statues than Jerusalem or Samaria.

Isaiah 10:11 I will do to Jerusalem and its idols what I've done to Samaria and its idols."

Isaiah 10:12 When the Lord has finished all his work on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, he will punish the king of Assyria for all his boasting and all his arrogance.

Isaiah 10:13 The king will say, "I did this with my own two powerful hands. I did this with my wisdom, because I am so clever. I've eliminated the boundaries of nations. I've looted treasuries. I've brought down people like a mighty man.

Isaiah 10:14 I've found the riches of nations as one finds a nest. I've gathered the whole world as one gathers abandoned eggs. Not one of them flapped a wing, opened its mouth, or peeped."

Isaiah 10:15 Can an ax attack the person who cuts with it? Can a saw make itself greater than the person who saws with it? A rod cannot move the person who lifts it. A wooden stick cannot pick up a person.

Isaiah 10:16 That is why the Almighty LORD of Armies will send a degenerative disease against brave men. A flame will be turned into a raging fire under his power.

Isaiah 10:17 Israel’s light will become a flame. Its Holy One will become a fire. He will burn up and devour the weeds and thornbushes in one day.

Isaiah 10:18 The majestic forest and the orchard will destroy both body and soul. They will be like a sick person wasting away.

Isaiah 10:19 The trees that remain in the forest will be so few that a child could count them.

Isaiah 10:20 At that time the remaining few Israelites, the survivors of Jacob’s descendants will no longer depend on the one who struck them. They will only depend on the LORD, the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 10:21 A few, the remaining few of Jacob, will return to the mighty God.

Isaiah 10:22 Although your people Israel may be as [numerous as] the grains of sand on the seashore, only a few will return. Destruction will be complete and fair.

Isaiah 10:23 The Almighty LORD of Armies will carry out this destruction throughout the world as he has determined.

Isaiah 10:24 The Almighty LORD of Armies says: My people who live in Zion, don’t be afraid of the Assyrians when they strike with a rod or when they raise their staff against you as the Egyptians did.

Isaiah 10:25 Very soon I will unleash my fury, and my anger will destroy them.

Isaiah 10:26 Then the LORD of Armies will raise his whip against them. As he struck down Midian at the Rock of Oreb and raised his staff over the water, so he will lift it as he did in Egypt.

Isaiah 10:27 At that time their burden will be removed from your shoulders. Their yoke will be removed from your neck. The yoke will be torn away because you have grown fat.

Isaiah 10:28 They come to Aiath. They pass through Migron. They store their equipment at Michmash.

Isaiah 10:29 They go through the mountain pass and lodge at Geba for the night. The people in Ramah tremble; the people in Saul’s Gibeah flee.

Isaiah 10:30 Cry aloud, you people in Gallim! Pay attention, you people in Laishah and miserable Anathoth!

Isaiah 10:31 The people in Madmenah flee; those who live in Gebim take shelter.

Isaiah 10:32 This day they stopped at Nob. They shake their fist at the mountain of my people Zion, at the mountain of Jerusalem.

Isaiah 10:33 Now look! The Almighty LORD of Armies will trim the branches with terrifying power. The highest trees will be cut down. The tallest ones will be brought down.

Isaiah 10:34 He will cut down the underbrush of the forest with an ax. Lebanon will fall in front of the Mighty One.

Isaiah 11:1 Then a shoot will come out from the stump of Jesse, and a branch from its roots will bear fruit.

Isaiah 11:2 The Spirit of the LORD will rest on him- the Spirit of wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of advice and power, the Spirit of knowledge and fear of the LORD.

Isaiah 11:3 He will gladly bear the fear of the LORD. He will not judge by what his eyes see or decide by what his ears hear.

Isaiah 11:4 He will judge the poor justly. He will make fair decisions for the humble people on earth. He will strike the earth with a rod from his mouth. He will kill the wicked with the breath from his lips.

Isaiah 11:5 Justice will be the belt around his waist. Faithfulness will be the belt around his hips.

Isaiah 11:6 Wolves will live with lambs. Leopards will lie down with goats. Calves, young lions, and year-old lambs will be together, and little children will lead them.

Isaiah 11:7 Cows and bears will eat together. Their young will lie down together. Lions will eat straw like oxen.

Isaiah 11:8 Infants will play near cobras’ holes. Toddlers will put their hands into vipers’ nests.

Isaiah 11:9 They will not hurt or destroy anyone anywhere on my holy mountain. The world will be filled with the knowledge of the LORD like water covering the sea.

Isaiah 11:10 At that time the root of Jesse will stand as a banner for the people [to gather around]. The nations will come to him. His resting place will be glorious.

Isaiah 11:11 At that time the Lord will use his power again to recover what remains of his people in Assyria, Upper and Lower Egypt, Sudan, Elam, Babylonia, Hamath, and the islands of the sea.

Isaiah 11:12 He will raise a banner for the nations [to gather around]. He will gather the outcasts of Israel and bring together the scattered people of Judah from the four corners of the earth.

Isaiah 11:13 Ephraim’s jealousy will vanish, and Judah’s opponents will come to an end. Ephraim won’t be jealous of Judah, and Judah won’t oppose Ephraim.

Isaiah 11:14 They will swoop down on the slopes of Philistia in the west. Together they will loot the people of the east. They will conquer Edom and Moab. The people of Ammon will be subject to them.

Isaiah 11:15 The LORD will dry up the gulf of the Egyptian Sea. He will wave his hand over the Euphrates River with his scorching wind and divide it into seven streams so that people can walk over it in their sandals.

Isaiah 11:16 There will be a highway for the remaining few of his people left in Assyria like there was for Israel when it came out of Egypt.

Isaiah 12:1 At that time you will say, “I will praise you, O LORD. Although you had been angry with me, you turned your anger away from me, and you comforted me.

Isaiah 12:2 Look! God is my Savior. I am confident and unafraid, because the LORD is my strength and my song. He is my Savior.”

Isaiah 12:3 With joy you will draw water from the springs of salvation.

Isaiah 12:4 At that time you will say, “Praise the LORD. Call on his name. Make his deeds known among the nations. Make them remember that his name is highly honored.

Isaiah 12:5 Make music to praise the LORD. He has done wonderful things. Let this be known throughout the earth.

Isaiah 12:6 Shout loudly, and sing with joy, people of Zion! The Holy One of Israel is great. He is among you.”

Isaiah 13:1 This is the divine revelation which Isaiah, son of Amoz, saw about Babylon.

Isaiah 13:2 Raise a banner on the bare mountaintop. Call loudly to them. Signal them with your hand to enter the nobles’ gates.

Isaiah 13:3 I’ve commanded my holy ones. I’ve called my mighty men to carry out my anger. They find joy in my triumphs.

Isaiah 13:4 Listen to the noise on the mountains. It is like the sound of a large army. It is the sound of kingdoms and nations gathering together. The LORD of Armies is assembling his army for battle.

Isaiah 13:5 His army is coming from a distant land, from the ends of heaven. The LORD is coming with the weapons of his fury to destroy the whole world.

Isaiah 13:6 Cry loudly, for the day of the LORD is near. It will come like destruction from the Almighty.

Isaiah 13:7 That is why every hand will hang limp, and everyone’s courage will fail.

Isaiah 13:8 They’ll be terrified. Pain and anguish will seize them. They’ll writhe like a woman giving birth to a child. They’ll look at one another in astonishment. Their faces will be burning red.

Isaiah 13:9 The day of the LORD is going to come. It will be a cruel day with fury and fierce anger. He will make the earth desolate. He will destroy its sinners.

Isaiah 13:10 The stars in the sky and their constellations won’t show their light anymore. The sun will be dark when it rises. The moon won’t shine.

Isaiah 13:11 I will punish the world for its evil and the wicked for their wrongdoing. I will put an end to arrogant people and humble the pride of tyrants.

Isaiah 13:12 I will make people harder to find than pure gold and human beings more rare than gold from Ophir.

Isaiah 13:13 I will make heaven tremble, and the earth will be shaken from its place when the LORD of Armies is angry. At that time he will be very angry.

Isaiah 13:14 They’ll be like hunted gazelle and like sheep with no one to gather them. Everyone will return to his own people and flee to his own land.

Isaiah 13:15 Whoever is found will be stabbed to death. Whoever is captured will be executed.

Isaiah 13:16 Their little children will be smashed to death right before their eyes. Their houses will be looted and their wives raped.

Isaiah 13:17 I’m going to stir up the Medes against them. They don’t care for silver and aren’t happy with gold.

Isaiah 13:18 But their bows will smash the youth. They’ll have no compassion for babies, nor will they look with pity on children.

Isaiah 13:19 Babylon, the jewel of the kingdoms, the proud beauty of the Chaldeans, will be like Sodom and Gomorrah when God destroyed them.

Isaiah 13:20 It will never be inhabited again, and no one will live in it for generations. Arabs won’t pitch their tents there. Shepherds won’t let their flocks rest there.

Isaiah 13:21 Desert animals will lie down there. Their homes will be full of owls. Ostriches will live there, and wild goats will skip about.

Isaiah 13:22 Hyenas will howl in Babylon’s strongholds, and jackals will howl in its luxurious palaces. Its time has almost come. Its days will not be extended.

Isaiah 14:1 The LORD will have compassion for Jacob and again choose Israel. He will resettle them in their own country. Foreigners will join them and unite with the descendants of Jacob.

Isaiah 14:2 People will take them and bring them to their own place. The nation of Israel will possess nations as male and female slaves in the LORD’s land. They will take their captors captive and rule their oppressors.

Isaiah 14:3 When that day comes, the LORD will give you relief from your pain and suffering, from the hard slavery you were forced to do.

Isaiah 14:4 Then you will mock the king of Babylon with this saying, "How the tyrant has come to an end! How his attacks have come to an end!"

Isaiah 14:5 The LORD has broken the staff of the wicked, the scepter of rulers.

Isaiah 14:6 They struck the people with fury, with blows that didn't stop. They ruled nations in anger, persecuting them without restraint.

Isaiah 14:7 The whole earth rests and is peaceful. It breaks out into shouts of joy.

Isaiah 14:8 Even the cypresses rejoice over you. The cedars of Lebanon say, "Since you have fallen, no lumberjack has come to attack us."

Isaiah 14:9 Sheol below wakes up to meet you when you come. It wakes up the ghosts of the dead, all who were leaders on earth. It raises all who were kings of the nations from their thrones.

Isaiah 14:10 All of them will greet you, "You also have become weak like us! You have become like one of us!"

Isaiah 14:11 Your pride has been brought down to Sheol along with the music of your harps. Maggots are spread out [like a bed] under you, and worms cover you.

Isaiah 14:12 How you have fallen from heaven, you morning star, son of the dawn! How you have been cut down to the ground, you conqueror of nations!

Isaiah 14:13 You thought, "I'll go up to heaven and set up my throne above God's stars. I'll sit on the mountain far away in the north where the gods assemble.

Isaiah 14:14 I'll go above the top of the clouds. I'll be like the Most High."

Isaiah 14:15 But you've been brought down to Sheol, to the deepest part of the pit.

Isaiah 14:16 Those who see you stare at you; they look at you closely and say, "Is this the man who made the earth tremble, who shook the kingdoms,

Isaiah 14:17 who made the world like a desert and tore down its cities, who didn't let his prisoners go home?"

Isaiah 14:18 All the kings of the nations, all of them, have been buried with honor, each in his own tomb.

Isaiah 14:19 But you are thrown out of your tomb like a rejected branch. You are covered with those who were killed in battle. You go down to the stones of the pit like a trampled corpse.

Isaiah 14:20 You won’t be joined by the kings in the tomb, because you have destroyed your land and killed your people. The descendants of the wicked will never be mentioned again.

Isaiah 14:21 Prepare a place to slaughter their sons because of their ancestors’ guilt. They won’t be able to rise, possess the earth, and rebuild cities all over it.

Isaiah 14:22 “I’ll rise up against them,” declares the LORD of Armies. “I’ll cut off the name of the survivors from Babylon, its offspring and descendants,” declares the LORD.

Isaiah 14:23 “It will become the possession of herons. It will become pools of water. I’ll sweep it with the broom of destruction,” declares the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 14:24 The LORD of Armies has taken an oath: “It will happen exactly as I’ve intended. It will turn out exactly as I’ve planned.

Isaiah 14:25 I’ll crush Assyria on my land. I’ll trample it underfoot on my mountains. Then its yoke will be removed from my people, and its burden will be removed from their shoulders.”

Isaiah 14:26 This is the plan determined for the whole earth. This is how he will use his power against all the nations.

Isaiah 14:27 The LORD of Armies has planned it. Who can stop it? He is ready to use his power. Who can turn it back?

Isaiah 14:28 This was the divine revelation in the year King Ahaz died.

Isaiah 14:29 All you Philistines, don’t rejoice that the rod of the one who struck you is broken, because a viper will come from that snake’s root, and his descendant will be a flying, fiery serpent.

Isaiah 14:30 The poorest of the poor will eat, and the needy will lie down in safety. But I will put your root to death with famine and kill off your survivors.

Isaiah 14:31 Cry loudly in the gate! Cry out in the city! Be frightened, all you Philistines! Smoke comes from the north, and there are no stragglers in its ranks.

Isaiah 14:32 How should we answer the messengers from the nations? [Tell them that] the LORD has laid Zion’s foundation, and his humble people will find refuge in it.

Isaiah 15:1 This is the divine revelation about Moab. In a single night Ar in Moab is laid waste and destroyed! In a single night Kir in Moab is laid waste and destroyed!

Isaiah 15:2 The people of Dibon go to the temple, to the worship sites, to cry. Moab wails over Nebo and Medeba. Every head is shaved bald, and every beard is cut off.

Isaiah 15:3 In their streets they wear sackcloth. On their roofs and in their city squares everyone wails and cries.

Isaiah 15:4 Heshbon and Elealeh also cry out. Their voices are heard as far away as Jahaz. Moab's armed men cry out. Their courage is gone.

Isaiah 15:5 My heart cries out for Moab. Its people flee as far as Zoar at Eglath Shelishiyah. They go up the mountain road to Luhith. They cry loudly over the destruction on the way to Horonaim.

Isaiah 15:6 The Nimrim Brook has run dry! The grass dries up, the vegetation withers, and nothing green is left.

Isaiah 15:7 That is why they carry the wealth that they have earned and stored up over Willow Ravine.

Isaiah 15:8 Cries for help echo throughout the land of Moab. Their wailing echoes as far as Eglaim. Their wailing echoes as far as Beer Elim.

Isaiah 15:9 The water in Dimon is red with blood, yet I will bring even more on Dimon. A lion will attack the fugitives from Moab and the survivors from Adamah.

Isaiah 16:1 Send lambs to the ruler of the land. Send lambs from Sela through the desert to my people at Mount Zion.

Isaiah 16:2 Moab's daughters are like fluttering birds, like scattered nestlings, at the shallow crossings of the Arnon River.

Isaiah 16:3 Give us advice. Make a decision. At high noon make your shadow as dark as night. Hide the fugitives. Don't betray the refugees.

Isaiah 16:4 Let the fugitives from Moab stay with you a while. Be their refuge from the destroyer. Ruthless people will come to an end. The destruction will end. The one who tramples others will be gone.

Isaiah 16:5 Then the LORD will set up a trusted king. He will rule faithfully. He is from the tent of David. He judges and searches for justice. He is quick to do what is right.

Isaiah 16:6 We've heard of the arrogance of Moab's people. They are very arrogant. We've heard of their boasting, arrogance, and conceit, but their boasts aren't true.

Isaiah 16:7 That is why Moab will wail. Everyone will wail for Moab. Mourn and grieve over the raisin cakes of Kir Hareseth.

Isaiah 16:8 The fields of Heshbon and the vineyards of Sibmah wither. Rulers of the nations have cut off their grapes. The grapevines [once] reached as far as Jazer and strayed out into the desert. Their shoots had spread out over the sea.

Isaiah 16:9 I will cry for the grapevines of Sibmah as Jazer cries for them. I will drench you with my tears, Heshbon and Elealeh. The shouts of joy for your ripened fruits and your harvest will be silenced.

Isaiah 16:10 Joy and delight have vanished from the orchards. No songs are sung. No shouts are raised. No one stomps on grapes in the winepresses, because I have put an end to the shouts of joy.

Isaiah 16:11 That is why my heart mourns for Moab like a harp. My soul mourns for Kir Hareseth.

Isaiah 16:12 When the people of Moab appear at the worship site, they will only wear themselves out. They will come into the holy place to pray, but they won't be able to.

Isaiah 16:13 This is the message that the LORD spoke about Moab in the past.

Isaiah 16:14 But now the LORD says, "Moab's honor will be despised within three years. I will count them like workers count the years left of their contracts. In spite of their great number, the survivors will be very few and powerless."

Isaiah 17:1 This is the divine revelation about Damascus. "Damascus will no longer be a city. It will become a pile of rubble.

Isaiah 17:2 The cities of Aroer will be deserted. These cities will be used for sheep, which will lie down in them. There will be no one to disturb those sheep.

Isaiah 17:3 Fortified cities will disappear from Ephraim, and the kingdom will disappear from Damascus. The remaining few from Aram will share Israel's honor," declares the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 17:4 "When that day comes, the honor of Jacob's people will fade away, and they will become skin and bones.

Isaiah 17:5 That time will be like harvesting bundles of grain by the armful. It will be like gathering grain in the Rephaim Valley.

Isaiah 17:6 Only a few people will survive. They will be like an olive tree that has been beaten. Only two or three olives are left at the top of the highest branch, four or five olives on the rest of the branches," declares the LORD God of Israel.

Isaiah 17:7 When that day comes, they will look to their maker, and their eyes will look to the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 17:8 They won't look to the altars made by their hands or to the Asherah poles or incense altars which their fingers molded.

Isaiah 17:9 When that day comes, the fortified cities which other people abandoned because of the Israelites will be like abandoned woods and undergrowth. So it will become a wasteland.

Isaiah 17:10 You have forgotten the God of your salvation. You haven't remembered the rock, your stronghold. Instead, you have planted the best plants and have set out the imported grapevines.

Isaiah 17:11 On the day you plant, you will make it grow. On the morning you set out the seedling, you will make it sprout. But the harvest will become a [rotting] pile on a day of grief and incurable pain.

Isaiah 17:12 How horrible it will be for many people! They will roar like the roaring sea. The noise that the people make will be like the noise from rushing water.

Isaiah 17:13 The people will make noise like raging water. But the LORD will yell at them, and they will run far away. They will be chased away like husks on the mountains being blown by the wind, like whirling dust being blown by a storm.

Isaiah 17:14 In the evening there will be sudden terror. Before morning they will be gone. This will be the fate of those who looted us, the destiny of those who robbed us.

Isaiah 18:1 How horrible it will be for the land of whirring wings which lies beyond the rivers of Sudan.

Isaiah 18:2 It sends messengers by sea in boats made of reeds [skimming] over the surface of the water. Go, swift messengers, to a tall and smooth-skinned people, a people [who are] feared far and near, a strong and aggressive nation, whose land is divided by rivers.

Isaiah 18:3 Look when someone raises a flag on the mountains. Listen when someone blows a ram’s horn, all you inhabitants of the world who live on the earth.

Isaiah 18:4 This is what the LORD says to me: I will keep quiet and watch from my dwelling place. My presence will be like scorching heat in the sunshine, like heavy dew in the heat of the harvest.

Isaiah 18:5 Before the harvest, when blossoms are gone and grapes are ripening from blossoms, he will cut off the shoots with pruning shears and chop off the spreading branches.

Isaiah 18:6 They will be left for the birds of prey on the mountains and the wild animals. The birds of prey will feed on them in the summer, and all the wild animals on earth will feed on them in the winter.

Isaiah 18:7 At that time gifts will be brought to the LORD of Armies from a tall and smooth-skinned people, a people [who are] feared far and near, a strong and aggressive nation, whose land is divided by rivers. They will be brought to Mount Zion, the place where the name of the LORD of Armies is.

Isaiah 19:1 This is the divine revelation about Egypt. The LORD is riding on a fast-moving cloud and is coming to Egypt. Egypt’s idols will tremble in his presence. Egypt’s courage will fail.

Isaiah 19:2 “I will turn one Egyptian against another. They will fight-brother against brother, neighbor against neighbor, city against city, kingdom against kingdom.

Isaiah 19:3 The Egyptians will lose courage. I will unravel their plans. They will turn to idols, ghosts, mediums, and fortunetellers.

Isaiah 19:4 I will hand over the Egyptians to a harsh master. A strong king will rule them," declares the Almighty LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 19:5 The water in the Nile River will be dried up, and the river will be dry and empty.

Isaiah 19:6 The canals will stink. Egypt's streams will be emptied and dried up. The reeds and cattails will wither.

Isaiah 19:7 The rushes by the Nile, by the edge of the Nile, and all the fields planted beside the Nile will dry up, be blown away, and disappear.

Isaiah 19:8 Fishermen will cry. All who cast their lines into the Nile will mourn. Those who spread their nets on the water will sigh.

Isaiah 19:9 Linenworkers and weavers will be ashamed.

Isaiah 19:10 Egypt's weavers will be crushed. Those who work for money will be distressed.

Isaiah 19:11 The leaders of Zoan are nothing but fools. The wisest of Pharaoh's counselors gives stupid advice. How can you tell Pharaoh, "I'm a descendant of wise men, a descendant of ancient kings"?

Isaiah 19:12 Where are your wise men now? Let them tell you. Let them explain what the LORD of Armies is planning against Egypt.

Isaiah 19:13 The leaders of Zoan are acting foolishly. The leaders of Memphis are led astray. The leaders who are the cornerstones of its tribes mislead the Egyptians.

Isaiah 19:14 The LORD mixes up their minds. So they lead the Egyptians astray like a drunk who staggers in his vomit.

Isaiah 19:15 No one-leaders or followers, important or unimportant-can do anything for Egypt.

Isaiah 19:16 At that time Egyptians will act like women. They will tremble and be terrified because the LORD of Armies will shake his fist at them.

Isaiah 19:17 The land of Judah will terrify the Egyptians. Whenever they are reminded of Judah, they will be terrified of it because of what the LORD of Armies is planning against it.

Isaiah 19:18 When that day comes, five cities in Egypt will have people that speak the language of Canaan and swear allegiance to the LORD of Armies. One of the cities will be called Heliopolis.

Isaiah 19:19 When that day comes, an altar for the LORD will be in the middle of Egypt, and a stone marker for the LORD will be near its border.

Isaiah 19:20 These objects will be a sign and a witness that the LORD of Armies is in Egypt. When the people cry to the LORD because of those who oppress them, he will send a savior and defender to rescue them.

Isaiah 19:21 So the LORD will make himself known to the Egyptians. The Egyptians will know the LORD when that day comes. They will worship with sacrifices and food offerings. They will make vows to the LORD and carry them out.

Isaiah 19:22 The LORD will strike Egypt with a plague. When he strikes them, he will also heal them. Then they will come back to the LORD. And he will respond to their prayers and heal them.

Isaiah 19:23 When that day comes, a highway will run from Egypt to Assyria. The Assyrians will come to Egypt and the Egyptians to Assyria, and the Egyptians will worship with the Assyrians.

Isaiah 19:24 When that day comes, Israel will be one-third [of God's people], along with Egypt and Assyria. They will be a blessing on the earth.

Isaiah 19:25 The LORD of Armies will bless them, saying, "My people Egypt, the work of my hands Assyria, and my possession Israel are blessed."

Isaiah 20:1 In the year when King Sargon of Assyria sent his commander-in-chief to fight against Ashdod, he captured it.

Isaiah 20:2 At that time the LORD told Isaiah, son of Amoz, "Take off the sackcloth that you are wearing, and take off your sandals!" Isaiah did this and walked around barefoot and naked.

Isaiah 20:3 Then the LORD said, "My servant Isaiah has gone barefoot and naked for three years as a sign and as an omen to Egypt and Sudan.

Isaiah 20:4 The king of Assyria will lead away both the young and the old-captives from Egypt and exiles from Sudan. They will be barefoot and naked. Their buttocks will be exposed in order to disgrace Egypt.

Isaiah 20:5 Then the people will be shattered and ashamed because Sudan was their hope and Egypt was their beauty.

Isaiah 20:6 When that day comes, those who live on this coastland will say, 'Look at what has happened to our hope. We ran [to Egypt] for help to be rescued from the king of Assyria. How can we escape?'"

Isaiah 21:1 This is the divine revelation about the desert by the sea. Like a storm sweeping through the Negev, an invader will come from the desert, from a terrifying land.

Isaiah 21:2 I was shown a harsh vision. The traitor betrays. The destroyer destroys. Go to war, Elam! Surround them, Media! I will put an end to all the groaning.

Isaiah 21:3 That is why my body is full of trembling. Pain grips me like the pain of childbirth. I'm disturbed by what I hear. I'm terrified by what I see.

Isaiah 21:4 I’m confused. I’m shaking with terror. The twilight hours I longed for make me tremble.

Isaiah 21:5 Set the table. Spread the rugs [by the table]. Eat. Drink. Get up, you leaders! Prepare your shields for battle!

Isaiah 21:6 This is what the Lord says to me: Post a watchman. Have him report whatever he sees.

Isaiah 21:7 He will see chariots, pairs of horsemen, riders on donkeys, and riders on camels. Let him watch carefully, very carefully.

Isaiah 21:8 The watchman called, “Sir, I stand on the watchtower every day. Every night, I stand guard at my post.

Isaiah 21:9 Look! Here come chariots and horsemen in pairs.” Then he said, “Babylon has fallen! It has fallen! All the idols they worship lie shattered on the ground.”

Isaiah 21:10 You, my people, have been threshed and winnowed. I make known to you what I heard from the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel.

Isaiah 21:11 This is the divine revelation about Dumah. Someone is calling to me from Seir, “Watchman, how much of the night is left? Watchman, how much of the night is left?”

Isaiah 21:12 The watchman answers, “Morning is coming, and night will come again. If you need to ask, come back and ask.”

Isaiah 21:13 This is the divine revelation about Arabia. You caravan of travelers from the people of Dedan will spend the night in the forest of Arabia.

Isaiah 21:14 Bring water for the thirsty, you inhabitants of the land of Tema. Bring food to the fugitives.

Isaiah 21:15 They flee from swords, from swords ready to kill, from bows ready to shoot, and from the thick of battle.

Isaiah 21:16 This is what the Lord says to me: All of Kedar’s honor will be gone in another year. I will count it like workers count the years left on their contracts.

Isaiah 21:17 The remaining number of archers, Kedar’s mighty archers, will be few. The LORD God of Israel has spoken.

Isaiah 22:1 This is the divine revelation about the valley of Vision. What’s the matter with you? Why do all of you go up on the roofs?

Isaiah 22:2 You are a city filled with shouting, a town filled with noise and excitement. Your people weren’t killed with swords. Your dead didn’t die in battle.

Isaiah 22:3 All your leaders fled together and were captured without their bows and arrows. All those who were found were taken prisoner before any of them could get far away.

Isaiah 22:4 That is why I say, “Turn away from me so that I can cry bitterly. Don’t try to comfort me because of the destruction brought on my people.”

Isaiah 22:5 The Almighty LORD of Armies has chosen a special day. It will be a day of confusion and trampling in the valley of Vision, [a day of] tearing down walls and crying for help in the mountains.

Isaiah 22:6 Elam takes its quiver of arrows, manned chariots, and horsemen. Kir uncovers its shields.

Isaiah 22:7 Then your fertile valleys will be filled with chariots, and horsemen will stand ready in front of the gate.

Isaiah 22:8 On that day the LORD will remove the defenses of Judah. You will look for weapons in the House of the Forest.

Isaiah 22:9 You will see how many places in David’s wall are broken. You will store water in the Lower Pool.

Isaiah 22:10 You will count the houses in Jerusalem. You will tear down those houses in order to fortify the walls.

Isaiah 22:11 You will build a reservoir between the two walls to hold the water of the Old Pool. You didn’t look to Jerusalem’s maker. You didn’t see the one who formed it long ago.

Isaiah 22:12 On that day the Almighty LORD of Armies will call for crying and for mourning, for shaving your heads and for wearing sackcloth.

Isaiah 22:13 Instead, you will rejoice, celebrate, slaughter cattle, and butcher sheep. You will eat meat, drink wine, and say, “Let’s eat and drink because tomorrow we’re going to die.”

Isaiah 22:14 The LORD of Armies revealed this to me: “Certainly, this wrong will not be forgiven even when you die,” says the Almighty LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 22:15 This is what the Almighty LORD of Armies says: Go to Shebna, the man in charge of the palace, and say [to him],

Isaiah 22:16 “What are you doing here? What right do you have to dig a tomb for yourself? What right do you have to cut it out in a prominent place? What right do you have to carve out a resting place for yourself in the rock?

Isaiah 22:17 Look, mighty man! The LORD will throw you out. He will grab you.

Isaiah 22:18 He will wrap you up tightly like a turban. He will throw you far away into another land. There you will die. There your splendid chariots will remain. There you will become a disgrace to your master’s household.

Isaiah 22:19 “I will remove you from your office and do away with your position.

Isaiah 22:20 When that day comes, I will call my servant Eliakim, son of Hilkiah.

Isaiah 22:21 I will dress him in your linen robe and fasten it with your belt. I will give him your authority, and he will be like a father to those who live in Jerusalem and to the nation of Judah.

Isaiah 22:22 I will place the key of the house of David around his neck. What he opens no one will shut. What he shuts no one will open.

Isaiah 22:23 I will fasten him firmly in place like a peg, and he will be a source of honor for his father's household.

Isaiah 22:24 They will hang on him the whole weight of his father's household, descendants and offspring and all the little utensils, from bowls to jars of every kind."

Isaiah 22:25 The LORD of Armies declares, "On that day the peg which I firmly fastened in place will be removed. It will be cut off and will fall, and everything hanging on it will be destroyed." The LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 23:1 This is the divine revelation about Tyre. Cry loudly, you ships of Tarshish! Your port at Tyre is destroyed. Word has come to the ships from Cyprus.

Isaiah 23:2 Be silent, you inhabitants of the coastland, you merchants from Sidon. Your messengers have crossed the sea.

Isaiah 23:3 The grain of Shihor is on the Mediterranean. The harvest of the Nile River is brought to Tyre. Tyre became the marketplace for the nations.

Isaiah 23:4 Be ashamed, Sidon, because the stronghold by the sea has spoken, "I've never been in labor or given birth. I've raised no sons. I've brought up no daughters."

Isaiah 23:5 When the news reaches Egypt, the Egyptians will shudder over the news about Tyre.

Isaiah 23:6 Travel to Tarshish! Cry loudly, you inhabitants of the seacoast!

Isaiah 23:7 Is this your bustling city founded in the distant past? Is this the city that sent its people to settle in distant lands?

Isaiah 23:8 Who planned such a thing against Tyre, the city that produced kings? Its merchants are princes. Its traders are among the honored people of the world.

Isaiah 23:9 The LORD of Armies planned this in order to dishonor all arrogant people and to humiliate all the honored people of the world.

Isaiah 23:10 Travel through your country like the Nile, people of Tarshish. You no longer have a harbor.

Isaiah 23:11 The LORD has stretched his hand over the sea to shake kingdoms. He has commanded that Canaan's fortifications be destroyed.

Isaiah 23:12 He says, “You will no longer be joyful, my dear abused people Sidon.” Get up, and travel to Cyprus. Even there you will find no rest.

Isaiah 23:13 Look at the land of the Babylonians. These people will be gone. Assyria gave this land to the desert animals. Assyria set up battle towers, stripped palaces bare, and turned these places into ruins.

Isaiah 23:14 Cry loudly, you ships of Tarshish, because your fortress will be destroyed.

Isaiah 23:15 When that day comes, Tyre will be forgotten for 70 years, the lifetime of one king. At the end of the 70 years, Tyre will be like the prostitute in this song:

Isaiah 23:16 “Take your lyre. Go around in the city, you forgotten prostitute. Make sweet music. Sing many songs so that you’ll be remembered.”

Isaiah 23:17 At the end of 70 years the LORD will come to help Tyre. Then she will go back to earning money as a prostitute. She will become a prostitute for all the world’s kingdoms.

Isaiah 23:18 Her profits and her earnings will be turned over to the LORD for his holy purpose. It won’t be stored or hoarded. Her merchandise will belong to those who live in the presence of the LORD so that they will have plenty of food and expensive clothing.

Isaiah 24:1 The LORD is going to turn the earth into a desolate wasteland. He will mar the face of the earth and scatter the people living on it.

Isaiah 24:2 The same will happen to people and priests, male slaves and masters, female slaves and masters, buyers and sellers, lenders and borrowers, debtors and creditors.

Isaiah 24:3 The earth will be completely laid waste and stripped because the LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 24:4 The earth dries up and withers. The world wastes away and withers. The great leaders of the earth waste away.

Isaiah 24:5 The earth is polluted by those who live on it because they’ve disobeyed the LORD’s teachings, violated his laws, and rejected the everlasting promise.

Isaiah 24:6 That is why a curse devours the earth, and its people are punished for their guilt. That is why those who live on the earth are burned up, and only a few people are left.

Isaiah 24:7 New wine dries up, and grapevines waste away. All happy people groan.

Isaiah 24:8 Joyful tambourine music stops. Noisy celebrations cease. Joyful harp music stops.

Isaiah 24:9 People no longer drink wine when they sing. Liquor tastes bad to its drinkers.

Isaiah 24:10 The ruined city lies desolate. The entrance to every house is barred shut.

Isaiah 24:11 People in the streets call for wine. All joy passes away, and the earth’s happiness is banished.

Isaiah 24:12 The city is left in ruins. Its gate is battered to pieces.

Isaiah 24:13 That is the way it will be on earth among the nations. They will be like an olive tree which has been shaken or like what’s left after the grape harvest.

Isaiah 24:14 They raise their voices. They shout for joy. From the sea they sing joyfully about the LORD’s majesty.

Isaiah 24:15 Honor the LORD in the east. Honor the name of the LORD God of Israel along the coastlands.

Isaiah 24:16 From the ends of the earth we hear songs of praise that honor the Righteous One. But I kept saying, “I’m wasting away! I’m wasting away! How horrible it is for me! Traitors continue to betray, and their treachery grows worse and worse.”

Isaiah 24:17 Disasters, pits, and traps are in store for those who live on earth.

Isaiah 24:18 Whoever flees from news of a disaster will fall into a pit. Whoever climbs out of that pit will be caught in a trap. The floodgates in the sky will be opened, and the foundations of the earth will shake.

Isaiah 24:19 The earth will be completely broken. The earth will shake back and forth violently. The earth will stagger.

Isaiah 24:20 The earth will stumble like a drunk and sway like a shack in the wind. Its disobedience weighs heavy on it. It will fall and not get up again.

Isaiah 24:21 On that day the LORD will punish heaven’s armies in heaven and earth’s kings on earth.

Isaiah 24:22 They’ll be gathered like prisoners in a jail and locked in prison. After a long time they’ll be punished.

Isaiah 24:23 The moon will be embarrassed. The sun will be ashamed, because the LORD of Armies will rule on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem. He will be glorious in the presence of his respected leaders.

Isaiah 25:1 O LORD, you are my God. I will highly honor you; I will praise your name. You have done miraculous things. You have been completely reliable in carrying out your plans from long ago.

Isaiah 25:2 You have turned cities into ruins, fortified cities into piles of rubble, and foreigners’ palaces into cities that will never be rebuilt.

Isaiah 25:3 That is why strong people will honor you, and cities ruled by the world's tyrants will fear you.

Isaiah 25:4 You have been a refuge for the poor, a refuge for the needy in their distress, a shelter from the rain, and shade from the heat. (A tyrant's breath is like a rainstorm against a wall, Isaiah 25:5 like heat in a dry land.) You calm the uproar of foreigners. The song of tyrants is silenced like heat that is [reduced] by the shadow of a cloud.

Isaiah 25:6 On this mountain the LORD of Armies will prepare for all people a feast with the best foods, a banquet with aged wines, with the best foods and the finest wines.

Isaiah 25:7 On this mountain he will remove the veil of grief covering all people and the mask covering all nations.

Isaiah 25:8 He will swallow up death forever. The Almighty LORD will wipe away tears from every face, and he will remove the disgrace of his people from the whole earth. The LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 25:9 On that day [his people] will say, "This is our God; we have waited for him, and now he will save us. This is the LORD; we have waited for him. Let us rejoice and be glad because he will save us."

Isaiah 25:10 The LORD's power will be on this mountain. Moab will be trampled beneath him like straw that is trampled in a pile of manure.

Isaiah 25:11 The Moabites will stretch out their hands in the manure like swimmers who stretch out their hands to swim. [The LORD] will humble those arrogant people despite the movements of their hands.

Isaiah 25:12 He will bring down Moab's high fortified walls, level them, and throw them into the dust on the ground.

Isaiah 26:1 On that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah: We have a strong city. Its walls and fortifications provide safety.

Isaiah 26:2 Open the gates, and let the righteous nation come in, the nation that remains faithful.

Isaiah 26:3 With perfect peace you will protect those whose minds cannot be changed, because they trust you.

Isaiah 26:4 Trust the LORD always, because the LORD, the LORD alone, is an everlasting rock.

Isaiah 26:5 He has brought down those who live high in the towering city. He levels it. He levels it to the ground and throws it into the dust.

Isaiah 26:6 Feet trample it, the feet of the oppressed, the footsteps of the poor.

Isaiah 26:7 The path of the righteous is level. O Upright One, you make the road of the righteous smooth.

Isaiah 26:8 Certainly, we wait with hope for you, O LORD, [as we follow] the path of your guiding principles. We want to remember you and your name.

Isaiah 26:9 With my soul I long for you at night. Yes, with my spirit I eagerly look for you. When your guiding principles are on earth, those who live in the world learn to do what is right.

Isaiah 26:10 Although the wicked are shown pity, they do not learn to do what is right. They do what is wrong in the upright land and do not see the majesty of the LORD.

Isaiah 26:11 O LORD, your power is visible, but they do not see it. They will see how devoted your people are, and they will be put to shame. Your burning anger will destroy your enemies.

Isaiah 26:12 O LORD, you will establish peace for us, since you have done everything for us.

Isaiah 26:13 O LORD, our God, you are not the only master to rule us, but we acknowledge only you.

Isaiah 26:14 The wicked are dead. They are no longer alive. The spirits of the dead won't rise. You have punished them, destroyed them, and wiped out all memory of them.

Isaiah 26:15 You have expanded the nation, O LORD. You have expanded the nation. You are honored. You have extended all the land's boundaries.

Isaiah 26:16 O LORD, the people have come to you in trouble. They were humbled by oppression, by your discipline upon them.

Isaiah 26:17 O LORD, when we are with you, we are like pregnant women ready to give birth. They writhe and cry out in their labor pains.

Isaiah 26:18 We were pregnant; we writhed with labor pains only to give birth to the wind. We weren't able to bring salvation to the land, and no new people were born on earth.

Isaiah 26:19 Your dead will live. Their corpses will rise. Those who lie dead in the dust will wake up and shout for joy, because your dew is a refreshing dew, and the earth will revive the spirits of the dead.

Isaiah 26:20 My people, go to your rooms, and shut the doors behind you. Hide for a little while until his fury has ended.

Isaiah 26:21 The LORD is going to come out from his dwelling place to punish those who live on earth for their sins. The earth will uncover the blood shed on it and will no longer cover up its dead bodies.

Isaiah 27:1 On that day the LORD will use his fierce and powerful sword to punish Leviathan, that slippery snake, Leviathan, that twisting snake. He will kill that monster which lives in the sea.

Isaiah 27:2 On that day sing about a delightful vineyard.

Isaiah 27:3 I, the LORD, watch over it. I water it continually. I watch over it day and night so that no one will harm it.

Isaiah 27:4 I am no longer angry. If only thorns and briars would confront me! I would fight them in battle and set all of them on fire.

Isaiah 27:5 Or else let them come to me for protection. Let them make peace with me. Yes, let them make peace with me.

Isaiah 27:6 In times to come Jacob will take root. Israel will blossom, bud, and fill the whole world with fruit.

Isaiah 27:7 Will the LORD hurt Israel as he hurt others who hurt them? Will he kill them as he killed others?

Isaiah 27:8 He punished Israel by sending it away. He removed it with a fierce blast from the east winds.

Isaiah 27:9 In this way the wrongdoings of the descendants of Jacob are covered up. This is the way they will turn from their sins- when they turn all the altar stones into powdered chalk and no poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah or incense altars are left standing.

Isaiah 27:10 The fortified city is isolated. The homestead is left deserted, abandoned like the desert. Calves will graze there. They will lie down. They will feed on the branches.

Isaiah 27:11 When the branches are dried up, they will be broken off. Women will come and build a fire with them. These people don't understand [these things]. That is why their maker won't have compassion on them, and their Creator won't have pity on them.

Isaiah 27:12 On that day the LORD will begin his threshing from the flowing stream of the Euphrates River to the brook of Egypt. People of Israel, you will be gathered one by one.

Isaiah 27:13 On that day a ram's horn will be blown loudly. Those who are dying in Assyria and those who are banished to Egypt will come and worship the LORD on the holy mountain in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 28:1 How horrible it will be for the arrogant drunks of Ephraim. Their glorious beauty is [like] a withered flower. They are at the entrance to a fertile valley where they lie drunk from wine.

Isaiah 28:2 The Lord has one who is strong and powerful. He is like a hailstorm, a destructive wind. He is like a thunderstorm, an overwhelming flood. He will throw them to the ground forcefully.

Isaiah 28:3 The arrogant drunks of Ephraim will be trampled underfoot.

Isaiah 28:4 Their glorious beauty is [like] a withered flower. They are at the entrance to a fertile valley. They will be like figs that ripened early. As soon as someone sees them, they will be taken and eaten.

Isaiah 28:5 When that day comes, the LORD of Armies will be like a glorious crown for his few remaining people.

Isaiah 28:6 He will give a spirit of justice to those who judge. He will give strength to those who defend the city gates in battle.

Isaiah 28:7 Priests and prophets stagger from wine and wobble from too much liquor. They stagger from too much liquor and become confused from too much wine. They wobble because of their liquor. They stagger when they see visions. They swerve as they judge.

Isaiah 28:8 All the tables are covered with vomit and excrement. There isn't a clean place left.

Isaiah 28:9 To whom will they make the message understood? To whom will they explain this message? To children just weaned from milk? To those just taken from their [mother's] breasts?

Isaiah 28:10 They speak utter nonsense.

Isaiah 28:11 The LORD will speak to these people. He will mock them by speaking in a foreign language.

Isaiah 28:12 He will say to them, "This is a place for comfort. This is a place of rest for those who are tired. This is a place for them to rest." But they weren't willing to listen.

Isaiah 28:13 The LORD speaks utter nonsense to them. That is why they will fall backwards. That is why they will be hurt, trapped, and captured.

Isaiah 28:14 So hear the word of the LORD, you foolish talkers who rule the people in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 28:15 You say, "We made a treaty with death and an agreement with the grave. When the overwhelming disaster passes by, it won't matter to us, because we have taken refuge in our lies, and falsehood is our hiding place."

Isaiah 28:16 This is what the Almighty LORD says: I am going to lay a rock in Zion, a rock that has been tested, a precious cornerstone, a solid foundation. Whoever believes [in him] will not worry.

Isaiah 28:17 I will make justice a measuring line and righteousness a plumb line. Hail will sweep away your refuge of lies, and floodwaters will wash away your hiding place.

Isaiah 28:18 Your treaty with death will be wiped away. Your agreement with the grave will not stand. When the overwhelming disaster passes by, you will be trampled by it.

Isaiah 28:19 Each time it passes by it will take you. It will pass by morning after morning, during the day and during the night. Understanding this message brings only terror.

Isaiah 28:20 The bed is too short to stretch out on. The blanket is too narrow to serve as a cover.

Isaiah 28:21 The LORD will rise as he did on Mount Perazim. He will wake up as he did in Gibeon Valley. He will do his work, his unexpected work, and perform his deeds, his mysterious deeds.

Isaiah 28:22 Now stop laughing, or your chains will be tightened, because I have heard that the Almighty LORD of Armies has finally determined to destroy the whole land.

Isaiah 28:23 Open your ears, and listen to me! Pay attention, and hear me!

Isaiah 28:24 Does a farmer go on plowing every day so he can plant? Does he continue to break up the soil and make furrows in the ground?

Isaiah 28:25 When he has smoothed its surface, doesn't he scatter black cumin seed and plant cumin? Doesn't he plant wild wheat in rows? Doesn't he put barley in its own area and winter wheat at its borders?

Isaiah 28:26 God will guide him in judgment, and his God will teach him.

Isaiah 28:27 Black cumin isn't threshed with a sledge, and wagon wheels aren't rolled over cumin. Black cumin is beaten with a rod and cumin with a stick.

Isaiah 28:28 Grain is ground into flour, but the grinding eventually stops. It will be threshed. The wheels of his cart will roll over it, but his horses won't crush it.

Isaiah 28:29 All of this has come from the LORD of Armies. His counsel is wonderful, and his wisdom is great.

Isaiah 29:1 How horrible it will be for you Ariel, Ariel, the city where David camped. Let year after year go by. Let your annual festivals go on.

Isaiah 29:2 I will torment Ariel, and the city will be filled with people grieving and mourning. The city will become like Ariel.

Isaiah 29:3 I will set up war camps all around you. I will blockade you with towers. I will put up mounds of dirt around you.

Isaiah 29:4 When you have fallen, you will speak as you lie on the ground. Your words will be muffled by the dust. Your voice will come out of the ground like that of a ghost. Your words will be whispered from the dust.

Isaiah 29:5 Your many enemies will be like fine dust. Your many foes will be like husks blown by the wind. All of this will happen suddenly, unexpectedly.

Isaiah 29:6 The LORD of Armies will punish you with thunder, earthquakes, and loud noises, with windstorms, rainstorms, and fire storms.

Isaiah 29:7 The armies from all the nations will go to war against Ariel. They will go to war against it, blockade it, and torment it. All of this will be like a dream, like a vision in the night.

Isaiah 29:8 They will be like hungry people who dream that they’re eating and wake up to find they’re hungry. They will be like thirsty people who dream that they’re drinking and wake up to find they’re lightheaded and parched with thirst. This is what will happen to the armies from all the nations that fight against Mount Zion.

Isaiah 29:9 If you confuse yourselves, you will be confused. If you blind yourselves, you will be blinded. You are drunk, but not from wine. You stagger, but not from liquor.

Isaiah 29:10 The LORD has poured out on you a spirit of deep sleep. He will shut your eyes. (Your eyes are the prophets.) He will cover your heads. (Your heads are the seers.)

Isaiah 29:11 To you all these visions will be like words in a book that is closed and sealed. You give this book to someone who can read, saying, “Please read this.” He answers, “I can’t read it. It’s sealed.”

Isaiah 29:12 Then you give the book to someone who can’t read, saying, “Please read this.” He answers, “I can’t read.”

Isaiah 29:13 The Lord says, “These people worship me with their mouths and honor me with their lips. But their hearts are far from me, and their worship of me is [based on] rules made by humans.

Isaiah 29:14 That is why I am going to do something completely amazing for these people once again. The wisdom of their wise people will disappear. The intelligence of their intelligent people will be hidden.”

Isaiah 29:15 How horrible it will be for those who try to hide their plans from the LORD. Their deeds are done in the dark, and they say, “No one can see us” and “No one can recognize us.”

Isaiah 29:16 You turn things upside down! Is the potter no better than his clay? Can something that has been made say about its maker, “He didn’t make me”? Can a piece of pottery say about the potter, “He doesn’t understand”?

Isaiah 29:17 In a very short time Lebanon will be turned into a fertile field and the fertile field will be considered a forest.

Isaiah 29:18 When that day comes, the deaf will hear the words written in the book. The blind will see out of their gloom and darkness.

Isaiah 29:19 Humble people again will find joy in the LORD. The poorest of people will find joy in the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 29:20 Tyrants will be gone. Mockers will be finished. All who look for ways to do wrong will come to an end:

Isaiah 29:21 those who make people sin with words, those who lay traps for judges, those who, without any reason, deny justice to people who are in the right.

Isaiah 29:22 This is what the LORD, who saved Abraham, says about the descendants of Jacob: Jacob will no longer be ashamed. Jacob’s face will no longer turn pale.

Isaiah 29:23 When they see all their children, the children I made with my hands, they will acknowledge my name as holy. They will treat the Holy One of Jacob as holy. They will stand in terror of the God of Israel.

Isaiah 29:24 Then those who are wayward in spirit will gain understanding, and those who complain will accept instruction.

Isaiah 30:1 The LORD declares, “How horrible it will be for those rebellious children. They carry out plans, but not mine. They make alliances against my will. They pile sin on top of sin.

Isaiah 30:2 They go to Egypt without asking me. They look for shelter under Pharaoh’s protection and look for refuge in Egypt’s shadow.

Isaiah 30:3 But Pharaoh’s protection will be their shame, and the refuge in Egypt’s shadow will be their disgrace.

Isaiah 30:4 Although Pharaoh’s officials are in Zoan and his messengers have reached Hanes,

Isaiah 30:5 the people of Judah will be put to shame because that nation can’t help them. That nation can’t give aid or help to them. It can only offer shame and disgrace.”

Isaiah 30:6 This is the divine revelation about the animals in the Negev. “My people travel through lands where they experience distress and hardship. Lions and lionesses live there. Vipers and poisonous snakes live there. They carry their riches on the backs of young donkeys and their treasures on the humps of camels to a nation that can’t help them.

Isaiah 30:7 Egypt’s help is completely useless. That is why I call it, ‘Rahab who sits still.’

Isaiah 30:8 Now, write this on a tablet for them, and inscribe it in a book so that it will be there in the future as a permanent witness.

Isaiah 30:9 These people are rebellious and deceitful children, children who refuse to listen to the LORD’s teachings.

Isaiah 30:10 They say to the seers, ‘Don’t see [the future].’ They say to those who have visions, ‘Don’t have visions that tell us what is right. Tell us what we want to hear. See illusions.

Isaiah 30:11 Get out of our way! Stop blocking our path! Get the Holy One of Israel out of our sight.’”

Isaiah 30:12 This is what the Holy One of Israel says: You have rejected this warning, trusted oppression and deceit, and leaned on them.

Isaiah 30:13 That is why your sin will be like a high wall with a bulging crack, ready to fall. All of a sudden it will fall.

Isaiah 30:14 It will break like pottery. It will be smashed, and nothing will be left of it. No piece will be big enough to carry live coals from a fireplace or to dip water from a reservoir.

Isaiah 30:15 This is what the Almighty LORD, the Holy One of Israel, says: You can be saved by returning to me. You can have rest. You can be strong by being quiet and by trusting me. But you don't want that.

Isaiah 30:16 You've said, "No, we'll flee on horses." So you flee. You've added, "We'll ride on fast horses." So those who chase you will also be fast.

Isaiah 30:17 One thousand people will flee when one person threatens them, and you will flee when five threaten you. Then you will be left alone like a flagpole on top of a mountain, like a signpost on a hill.

Isaiah 30:18 The LORD is waiting to be kind to you. He rises to have compassion on you. The LORD is a God of justice. Blessed are all those who wait for him.

Isaiah 30:19 You will live in Zion, in Jerusalem. You won't cry anymore. The LORD will certainly have pity on you when you cry for help. As soon as he hears you, he will answer you.

Isaiah 30:20 The Lord may give you troubles and hardships. But your teacher will no longer be hidden from you. You will see your teacher with your own eyes.

Isaiah 30:21 You will hear a voice behind you saying, "This is the way. Follow it, whether it turns to the right or to the left."

Isaiah 30:22 Then you will dishonor your silver-plated idols and your gold-covered statues. You will throw them away like clothing ruined by stains. You will say to them, "Get out!"

Isaiah 30:23 The Lord will give you rain for the seed that you plant in the ground, and the food that the ground provides will be rich and nourishing. When that day comes, your cattle will graze in large pastures.

Isaiah 30:24 The oxen and the donkeys which work the soil will eat a mixture of food that has been winnowed with forks and shovels.

Isaiah 30:25 There will be brooks and streams on every lofty mountain and every high hill. When the day of the great slaughter comes, towers will fall.

Isaiah 30:26 Then the light of the moon will be like the light of the sun. The light of the sun will be seven times as strong, like the light of seven days. When that day comes, the LORD will bandage his people's injuries and heal the wounds he inflicted.

Isaiah 30:27 The name of the LORD is going to come from far away. His anger is burning. His burden is heavy. His lips are filled with fury. His tongue is like a devouring flame.

Isaiah 30:28 His breath is like an overflowing stream. It rises neck high, sifting the nations with a sieve of destruction, placing a bit in the mouths of the people to lead them astray.

Isaiah 30:29 You will sing a song like the song you sing on a festival night. Your hearts will be happy like someone going out with a flute on the way to the LORD's mountain, to the rock of Israel.

Isaiah 30:30 The LORD will make his majestic voice heard. He will come down with all his might, with furious anger, with fire storms, windstorms, rainstorms, and hailstones.

Isaiah 30:31 At the sound of the LORD, the people of Assyria will be shattered. He will strike them with his rod.

Isaiah 30:32 To the sound of tambourines and lyres, the LORD will pound on them. He will fight them in battle, swinging his fists.

Isaiah 30:33 Topheth was prepared long ago. It was made ready for the king. It was made deep and wide and piled high with plenty of burning logs. The LORD's breath will be like a flood of burning sulfur, setting it on fire.

Isaiah 31:1 How horrible it will be for those who go to Egypt for help, who rely on horses, who depend on many chariots, who depend on very strong war horses. They don't look to the Holy One of Israel. They don't seek the LORD.

Isaiah 31:2 He is wise and can bring about disaster. He doesn't take back his words. He rises against wicked people and against those who help troublemakers.

Isaiah 31:3 The Egyptians are humans, not gods. Their horses are flesh and blood, not spirit. When the LORD uses his powerful hand, the one who gives help will stumble, and the one who receives help will fall. Both will die together.

Isaiah 31:4 This is what the LORD said to me: A lion, even a young lion, growls over its prey when a crowd of shepherds is called to fight it. It isn't frightened by their voices or disturbed by the noise they make. So the LORD of Armies will come to fight for Mount Zion and its hill.

Isaiah 31:5 The LORD of Armies will defend Jerusalem like a hovering bird. He will defend it and rescue it. He will pass over it and protect it.

Isaiah 31:6 You people of Israel, return to the one whom you have so violently rebelled against.

Isaiah 31:7 When that day comes, all of you will reject the silver and gold idols that your sinful hands have made.

Isaiah 31:8 Then Assyrians will be killed with swords not made by human hands. Swords not made by human hands will destroy them. They will flee from battle, and their young men will be made to do forced labor.

Isaiah 31:9 In terror they will run to their stronghold, and their officers will be frightened at [the sight of] the battle flag. The LORD declares this. His fire is in Zion and his furnace is in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 32:1 A king will rule with fairness, and officials will rule with justice.

Isaiah 32:2 Then each ruler will be like a shelter from the wind and a hiding place from the rain. They will be like streams on parched ground and the shade of a large rock in a weary land.

Isaiah 32:3 Then the vision of those who can see won't be blurred, and the ears of those who can hear will pay attention.

Isaiah 32:4 Then those who are reckless will begin to understand, and those who stutter will speak quickly and clearly.

Isaiah 32:5 Godless fools will no longer be called nobles, nor will scoundrels be considered gentlemen.

Isaiah 32:6 Godless fools speak foolishness, and their minds plan evil in order to do ungodly things. They speak falsely about the LORD. They let people go hungry and withhold water from thirsty people.

Isaiah 32:7 The tricks of scoundrels are evil. They devise wicked plans in order to ruin poor people with lies, even when needy people plead for justice.

Isaiah 32:8 But honorable people act honorably and stand firm for what is honorable.

Isaiah 32:9 Get up, and listen to me, you pampered women. Hear what I say, you overconfident daughters.

Isaiah 32:10 In a little less than a year you overconfident women will tremble, because the grape harvest will fail and no fruit will be brought in [from the fields].

Isaiah 32:11 Shudder, you pampered women. Tremble, you overconfident women. Take off your clothes, walk around naked, and wear sackcloth around your waists.

Isaiah 32:12 Beat your breasts as you mourn for the fields, for the vines bearing grapes.

Isaiah 32:13 Mourn for my people's land where thorns and briars will grow. Mourn for all the happy homes in a joyful city.

Isaiah 32:14 Palaces will be deserted. Noisy cities will be abandoned. Fortresses and watchtowers will become permanent caves. They will be a delight for wild donkeys and pastures for flocks

Isaiah 32:15 until the Spirit is poured on us from on high. Then the wilderness will be turned into a fertile field, and the fertile field will be considered a forest.

Isaiah 32:16 Then justice will live in the wilderness, and righteousness will be at home in the fertile field.

Isaiah 32:17 Then an act of righteousness will bring about peace, calm, and safety forever.

Isaiah 32:18 My people will live in a peaceful place, in safe homes and quiet places of rest.

Isaiah 32:19 The forest will be flattened because of hail, and the city will be completely leveled.

Isaiah 32:20 Blessed are those who plant beside every stream and those who let oxen and donkeys roam freely.

Isaiah 33:1 How horrible it will be for you, you destroyer, although you haven't been destroyed. How horrible it will be for you, you traitor, although you haven't been betrayed. When you've finished destroying, you will be destroyed. When you've finished being a traitor, you will be betrayed.

Isaiah 33:2 O LORD, have pity on us. We wait with hope for you. Be our strength in the morning. Yes, be our savior in times of trouble.

Isaiah 33:3 People flee from the noise of [your] army. Nations scatter when you attack.

Isaiah 33:4 You nations, your loot is gathered as grasshoppers harvest a crop. Like swarming locusts, people rush for your loot.

Isaiah 33:5 The LORD is honored because he lives on high. He will fill Zion with justice and righteousness.

Isaiah 33:6 He will be the foundation of your future. The riches of salvation are wisdom and knowledge. The fear of the LORD is [your] treasure.

Isaiah 33:7 Heroes cry in the streets. Messengers of peace cry bitterly.

Isaiah 33:8 Highways are deserted. Travelers stop traveling. Agreements are broken. Witnesses are rejected. People are no longer respected.

Isaiah 33:9 The country grieves and wastes away. Lebanon is ashamed and is decaying. Sharon has become like a wilderness. Bashan and Carmel are shaken.

Isaiah 33:10 The LORD says, "Now I will arise. Now I will get up. Now I will be lifted up."

Isaiah 33:11 You will be pregnant with hay. You will give birth to straw. Your breath will be a fire which will burn you up.

Isaiah 33:12 People will be cremated. They will be set on fire like dry thornbushes.

Isaiah 33:13 Hear what I have done, you people who are far away! Acknowledge my might, you people who are near!

Isaiah 33:14 The sinners in Zion are terrified. Trembling seizes the ungodly. Can any of us live through a fire that destroys? Can any of us live through a fire that burns forever?

Isaiah 33:15 The person who does what is right and speaks the truth will live. He rejects getting rich by extortion and refuses to take bribes. He refuses to listen to those who are plotting murders. He doesn't look for evil things to do.

Isaiah 33:16 This person will live on high. His stronghold will be a fortress made of rock. He will have plenty of food and a dependable supply of water.

Isaiah 33:17 Your eyes will see how handsome the king is. You will see a land that stretches into the distance.

Isaiah 33:18 Your mind will be thinking of the terrors [in the past]. Where are the scribes? Where are the tax collectors? Where are those who counted the towers?

Isaiah 33:19 You will no longer see those savage people, those people with an unrecognizable language, with a foreign language that you can't understand.

Isaiah 33:20 Look at Zion, the city of our festivals. Your eyes will see Jerusalem as a peaceful place. It is a tent that can't be moved. Its tent pegs will never be pulled out, and none of its ropes will be broken.

Isaiah 33:21 The LORD will be our mighty defender in a place surrounded by wide rivers and streams. Ships with oars won't travel on them. Stately ships won't sail on them.

Isaiah 33:22 The LORD is our judge. The LORD is our lawgiver. The LORD is our king. The LORD is our savior.

Isaiah 33:23 Your ropes hang loose, your mast isn't secure, and your sail isn't spread out. A large amount of loot will be distributed. Lame people will carry off your loot.

Isaiah 33:24 No one who lives [in Zion] will say, "I'm sick." The sins of its inhabitants will be forgiven.

Isaiah 34:1 Come close, you nations, and listen. Pay attention, you people. The earth, everyone in it, the world, and everything on it will listen.

Isaiah 34:2 The LORD is angry with all the nations. He is furious with all their armies. He has claimed them for destruction. He has handed them over to be slaughtered.

Isaiah 34:3 Their dead bodies will be thrown out. A stench will rise from their corpses. Mountains will be red with their blood.

Isaiah 34:4 All the stars in the sky will rot. The heavens will be rolled up like a scroll. The stars will fall like leaves from a grapevine, like green figs from a fig tree.

Isaiah 34:5 When my sword is covered [with blood] in the heavens, it will fall on Edom and on the people I've claimed for destruction.

Isaiah 34:6 The LORD's sword is covered with blood. It is covered with fat, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of rams' kidneys. The LORD will receive a sacrifice in Bozrah, a huge slaughter in the land of Edom.

Isaiah 34:7 Wild oxen will be killed with them, young bulls along with rams. Their land will be drenched with blood. Their dust will be covered with fat.

Isaiah 34:8 The LORD will have a day of vengeance, a year of revenge in defense of Zion.

Isaiah 34:9 Edom's streams will be turned to tar. Its soil will be turned to burning sulfur. Its land will become blazing tar.

Isaiah 34:10 They will not be extinguished day or night, and smoke will always go up from them. Edom will lie in ruins for generations. No one will ever travel through it.

Isaiah 34:11 Pelicans and herons will take possession of the land. Owls and crows will live there. He will stretch the measuring line of chaos and the plumb line of destruction over it.

Isaiah 34:12 There are no nobles to rule a kingdom. All of its princes have disappeared.

Isaiah 34:13 Its palaces are covered with thorns. Its fortresses have nettles and thistles. It will become a home for jackals and a place for ostriches.

Isaiah 34:14 Hyenas will meet with jackals. Male goats will call to their mates. Screech owls will rest there and find a resting place for themselves.

Isaiah 34:15 Owls will make their nests there, lay eggs, and hatch them. They will gather their young in the shadow of [their wings]. Vultures also will gather there, each one with its mate.

Isaiah 34:16 Search the LORD's book, and read it. Not one of these animals will be missing. Not one will lack a mate, because the LORD has commanded it, and his Spirit will gather them together.

Isaiah 34:17 He is the one who throws dice for them, and his hand divides up [the land] for them with a measuring line. They will possess it permanently and live there for generations.

Isaiah 35:1 The desert and the dry land will be glad, and the wilderness will rejoice and blossom.

Isaiah 35:2 Like a lily the land will blossom. It will rejoice and sing with joy. It will have the glory of Lebanon, the majesty of Carmel and Sharon. Everyone will see the glory of the LORD, the majesty of our God.

Isaiah 35:3 Strengthen limp hands. Steady weak knees.

Isaiah 35:4 Tell those who are terrified, “Be brave; don’t be afraid. Your God will come with vengeance, with divine revenge. He will come and rescue you.”

Isaiah 35:5 Then the eyes of the blind will be opened, and the ears of the deaf will be unplugged.

Isaiah 35:6 Then those who are lame will leap like deer, and those who cannot speak will shout for joy. Water will gush out into the desert, and streams will gush out into the wilderness.

Isaiah 35:7 Then the hot sand will become a pool, and dry ground will have springs. Grass will become cattails and rushes in the home of jackals.

Isaiah 35:8 A highway will be there, a roadway. It will be called the Holy Road. Sinners won’t travel on it. It will be for those who walk on it. Godless fools won’t wander [onto it].

Isaiah 35:9 Lions won’t be there. Wild animals won’t go on it. They won’t be found there. But the people reclaimed [by the LORD] will walk [on it].

Isaiah 35:10 The people ransomed by the LORD will return. They will come to Zion singing with joy. Everlasting happiness will be on their heads [as a crown]. They will be glad and joyful. They will have no sorrow or grief.

Isaiah 36:1 In Hezekiah’s fourteenth year as king, King Sennacherib of Assyria attacked all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.

Isaiah 36:2 Then the king of Assyria sent his field commander with a large army from Lachish to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem. He stood at the channel for the Upper Pool on the road to Laundryman’s Field.

Isaiah 36:3 Eliakim, who was in charge of the palace and was the son of Hilkiah, Shebna the scribe, and Joah, who was the royal historian and the son of Asaph, went out to the field commander.

Isaiah 36:4 He said to them, “Tell Hezekiah, ‘This is what the great king, the king of Assyria, says: What makes you so confident?

Isaiah 36:5 You give useless advice about getting ready for war. Whom, then, do you trust for support in your rebellion against me?

Isaiah 36:6 Look! When you trust Egypt, you’re trusting a broken stick for a staff. If you lean on it, it stabs your hand and goes through it. This is what Pharaoh (the king of Egypt) is like for everyone who trusts him.

Isaiah 36:7 Suppose you tell me, “We’re trusting the LORD our God.” He’s the god whose places of worship and altars Hezekiah got rid of. Hezekiah told Judah and Jerusalem, “Worship at this altar.”‘

Isaiah 36:8 “Now, make a deal with my master, the king of Assyria. I’ll give you 2,000 horses if you can put riders on them.

Isaiah 36:9 How can you defeat my master’s lowest-ranking officers when you trust Egypt for chariots and horses?

Isaiah 36:10 “Have I come to destroy this country without the LORD on my side? The LORD said to me, ‘Attack this country, and destroy it.’”

Isaiah 36:11 Then Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah said to the field commander, “Speak to us in Aramaic, since we understand it. Don’t speak to us in the Judean language as long as there are people on the wall listening.”

Isaiah 36:12 But the field commander asked, “Did my master send me to tell these things only to you and your master? Didn’t he send me to the men sitting on the wall who will have to eat their own excrement and drink their own urine with you?”

Isaiah 36:13 Then the field commander stood and shouted loudly in the Judean language, “Listen to the great king, the king of Assyria.

Isaiah 36:14 This is what the king says: Don’t let Hezekiah deceive you. He can’t rescue you.

Isaiah 36:15 Don’t let Hezekiah get you to trust the LORD by saying, ‘The LORD will certainly rescue us, and this city will not be put under the control of the king of Assyria.’

Isaiah 36:16 Don’t listen to Hezekiah, because this is what the king of Assyria says: Make peace with me! Come out, and give yourselves up to me! Everyone will eat from his own grapevine and fig tree and drink from his own cistern.

Isaiah 36:17 Then I will come and take you away to a country like your own. It’s a country with grain and new wine, a country with bread and vineyards.

Isaiah 36:18 Don’t let Hezekiah mislead you by saying to you, ‘The LORD will rescue us.’ Did any of the gods of the nations rescue their countries from the king of Assyria?

Isaiah 36:19 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Did they rescue Samaria from my control?

Isaiah 36:20 Did the gods of these countries rescue them from my control? Could the LORD then rescue Jerusalem from my control?”

Isaiah 36:21 They were silent and didn’t say anything to him because the king commanded them not to answer him.

Isaiah 36:22 Then Eliakim, who was in charge of the palace and was son of Hilkiah, Shebna the scribe, and Joah, who was the royal historian and the son of Asaph, went to Hezekiah with their clothes torn in grief. They told him the message from the field commander.

Isaiah 37:1 When King Hezekiah heard the message, he tore his clothes in grief, covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the LORD’s temple.

Isaiah 37:2 Then he sent Eliakim, who was in charge of the palace, Shebna the scribe, and the leaders of the priests, clothed in sackcloth, to the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz.

Isaiah 37:3 They said to him, “This is what Hezekiah says: Today is a day filled with misery, punishment, and disgrace. We are like a woman who is about to give birth but doesn’t have the strength to do it.

Isaiah 37:4 The LORD your God may have heard the words of the field commander. His master, the king of Assyria, sent him to defy the living God. The LORD your God may punish him because of the message that the LORD your God heard. Pray for the few people who are left.”

Isaiah 37:5 So King Hezekiah’s men went to Isaiah.

Isaiah 37:6 Isaiah answered them, “Say this to your master, ‘This is what the LORD says: Don’t be afraid of the message that you heard when the Assyrian king’s assistants slandered me.

Isaiah 37:7 I’m going to put a spirit in him so that he will hear a rumor and return to his own country. I’ll have him assassinated in his own country.’”

Isaiah 37:8 The field commander returned and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah. He had heard that the king left Lachish.

Isaiah 37:9 Now, Sennacherib heard that King Tirhakah of Sudan was coming to fight him. When he heard this, he again sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, Isaiah 37:10 “Tell King Hezekiah of Judah, ‘Don’t let the god whom you trust deceive you by saying that Jerusalem will not be put under the control of the king of Assyria.

Isaiah 37:11 You heard what the kings of Assyria did to all countries, how they totally destroyed them. Will you be rescued?

Isaiah 37:12 Did the gods of the nations which my ancestors destroyed rescue Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden who were in Telassar?

Isaiah 37:13 Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, and the king of the cities of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivvah?’”

Isaiah 37:14 Hezekiah took the letter from the messengers, read it, and went to the LORD’s temple. He spread it out in front of the LORD

Isaiah 37:15 and prayed to the LORD,

Isaiah 37:16 “LORD of Armies, God of Israel, you are enthroned over the angels. You alone are God of the kingdoms of the world. You made heaven and earth.

Isaiah 37:17 Turn your ear toward me, LORD, and listen. Open your eyes, LORD, and see. Listen to the entire message that Sennacherib sent to defy the living God.

Isaiah 37:18 It is true, LORD, that the kings of Assyria have leveled every country.

Isaiah 37:19 They have thrown the gods from these countries into fires because these gods aren't real gods. They're only wooden and stone statues made by human hands. So the Assyrians have destroyed them.

Isaiah 37:20 Now, LORD our God, rescue us from Assyria's control so that all the kingdoms on earth will know that you alone are the LORD."

Isaiah 37:21 Then Isaiah, son of Amoz, sent a message to Hezekiah, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: You prayed to me about King Sennacherib of Assyria.

Isaiah 37:22 This is the message that the LORD speaks to him, 'My dear people in Zion despise you and laugh at you. My people in Jerusalem shake their heads behind your back.

Isaiah 37:23 Whom are you defying and slandering? Against whom are you shouting? Who are you looking at so arrogantly? It is the Holy One of Israel!

Isaiah 37:24 Through your servants you defy the Lord and say, "With my many chariots I'll ride up the high mountains, up the slopes of Lebanon. I'll cut down its tallest cedars and its finest cypresses. I'll come to its most distant heights and its most fertile forests.

Isaiah 37:25 I'll dig wells and drink water. I'll dry up all the streams of Egypt with the trampling of my feet."

Isaiah 37:26 " 'Haven't you heard? I did this long ago. I planned it in the distant past. Now I make it happen so that you will turn fortified cities into piles of rubble.

Isaiah 37:27 Those who live in these cities are weak, discouraged, and ashamed. They will be like plants in the field, like fresh, green grass on the roofs, dried up by the east wind.

Isaiah 37:28 I know when you [get up] and sit down, when you go out and come in, and how you rage against me.

Isaiah 37:29 Since you rage against me and your boasting has reached my ears, I will put my hook in your nose and my bridle in your mouth. I will make you go back the way you came.

Isaiah 37:30 " 'And this will be a sign for you, Hezekiah: You will eat what grows by itself this year, and the next year you will eat what comes up by itself. But in the third year you will plant and harvest, plant vineyards, and eat what is produced.

Isaiah 37:31 Those few people from the nation of Judah who escape will again take root and produce crops.

Isaiah 37:32 Those few people will go out from Jerusalem, and those who escape will go out from Mount Zion. The LORD of Armies is determined to do this.'

Isaiah 37:33 “This is what the LORD says about the king of Assyria: He will never come into this city, shoot an arrow here, hold a shield in front of it, or put up dirt ramps to attack it.

Isaiah 37:34 He will go back the way he came, and he won’t come into this city,” declares the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 37:35 “I will shield this city to rescue it for my sake and for the sake of my servant David.”

Isaiah 37:36 The LORD’s angel went out and killed 185,000 [soldiers] in the Assyrian camp. When the Judeans got up early in the morning, they saw all the corpses.

Isaiah 37:37 Then King Sennacherib of Assyria left. He went home to Nineveh and stayed there.

Isaiah 37:38 While he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, Adrammelech and Sharezer, his sons, assassinated him and escaped to the land of Ararat. His son Esarhaddon succeeded him as king.

Isaiah 38:1 In those days Hezekiah became sick and was about to die. The prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, came to him and said, “This is what the LORD says: Give final instructions to your household, because you’re about to die. You won’t get well.”

Isaiah 38:2 Hezekiah turned to the wall and prayed to the LORD.

Isaiah 38:3 “Please, LORD, remember how I’ve lived faithfully and sincerely in your presence. I’ve done what you consider right.” And he cried bitterly.

Isaiah 38:4 Then the LORD spoke his word to Isaiah,

Isaiah 38:5 “Go and say to Hezekiah, ‘This is what the LORD God of your ancestor David says: I’ve heard your prayer. I’ve seen your tears. I’m going to give you 15 more years to live.

Isaiah 38:6 I’ll rescue you and defend this city from the control of the king of Assyria.’”

Isaiah 38:7 [Isaiah said,] “This is your sign from the LORD that he will do what he promises.

Isaiah 38:8 The sun made a shadow that went down the stairway of Ahaz’s upper palace. I’m going to make the shadow go back ten steps.” So the sun on the stairway went back up the ten steps it had gone down.

Isaiah 38:9 King Hezekiah of Judah wrote this after he was sick and became well again:

Isaiah 38:10 I thought that in the prime of my life I would go down to the gates of Sheol and be robbed of the rest of my life.

Isaiah 38:11 I thought that I wouldn’t see the LORD in this world. Even with all the people in the world, I thought I would never see another person.

Isaiah 38:12 My life was over. You rolled it up like a shepherd's tent. You rolled up my life like a weaver. You cut me off from the loom. You ended my life in one day.

Isaiah 38:13 I cried out until morning as if a lion had crushed all my bones. You ended my life in one day.

Isaiah 38:14 I chirped like swallows and cranes. I cooed like doves. My eyes were tired from looking up to heaven. I've suffered miserably, O Lord! Please help me!

Isaiah 38:15 What can I say now that he has spoken to me? He has done this. I will be careful the rest of my life because of my bitter experience.

Isaiah 38:16 Lord, people live in spite of such things, and I have the will to live in spite of them. You give me health and keep me alive.

Isaiah 38:17 Now my bitter experience turns into peace. You have saved me and kept me from the rotting pit. You have thrown all my sins behind you.

Isaiah 38:18 Sheol doesn't thank you! Death doesn't praise you! Those who go down to the pit cannot expect you to be faithful.

Isaiah 38:19 Those who are living praise you as I do today. Fathers make your faithfulness known to their children.

Isaiah 38:20 The LORD is going to rescue me, so let us play stringed instruments. We live our lives in the LORD's temple.

Isaiah 38:21 Then Isaiah said, "Take a fig cake, and place it over the boil so that the king will get well."

Isaiah 38:22 Hezekiah asked, "What is the sign that I'll go to the LORD's temple?"

Isaiah 39:1 At that time Baladan's son, King Merodach Baladan of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah. He had heard that Hezekiah had been sick and had recovered.

Isaiah 39:2 Hezekiah was so happy with them that he showed the messengers his warehouse: the silver, gold, balsam, fine olive oil, his entire armory, and everything in his treasury. Hezekiah showed them everything in his palace and every corner of his kingdom.

Isaiah 39:3 Then the prophet Isaiah came to King Hezekiah and asked, "What did these men say? And where did they come from?" Hezekiah answered, "They came to me from the distant country of Babylon."

Isaiah 39:4 Isaiah asked, "What did they see in your palace?" Hezekiah answered, "They saw everything in my palace, and I showed them everything in my treasury."

Isaiah 39:5 Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD of Armies!

Isaiah 39:6 The LORD says, 'The days are going to come when everything in your palace, everything your ancestors have stored up to this day, will be taken away to Babylon. Nothing will be left.

Isaiah 39:7 Some of your own descendants will be taken away. They will become officials in the palace of the king of Babylon.'"

Isaiah 39:8 Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "The LORD's word that you have spoken is good." He added, "Just let there be peace and security as long as I live."

Isaiah 40:1 "Comfort my people! Comfort them!" says your God.

Isaiah 40:2 "Speak tenderly to Jerusalem and announce to it that its time of hard labor is over and its wrongs have been paid for. It has received from the LORD double for all its sins."

Isaiah 40:3 A voice cries out in the desert: "Clear a way for the LORD. Make a straight highway in the wilderness for our God.

Isaiah 40:4 Every valley will be raised. Every mountain and hill will be lowered. Steep places will be made level. Rough places will be made smooth.

Isaiah 40:5 Then the LORD's glory will be revealed and all people will see it together. The LORD has spoken."

Isaiah 40:6 A voice called, "Call out!" I asked, "What should I call out?" "Call out: All people are like grass, and all their beauty is like a flower in the field.

Isaiah 40:7 Grass dries up, and flowers wither when the LORD's breath blows on them. Yes, people are like grass.

Isaiah 40:8 Grass dries up, and flowers wither, but the word of our God will last forever."

Isaiah 40:9 Go up a high mountain, Zion. Tell the good news! Call out with a loud voice, Jerusalem. Tell the good news! Raise your voice without fear. Tell the cities of Judah: "Here is your God!"

Isaiah 40:10 The Almighty LORD is coming with power to rule with authority. His reward is with him, and the people he has won arrive ahead of him.

Isaiah 40:11 Like a shepherd he takes care of his flock. He gathers the lambs in his arms. He carries them in his arms. He gently helps the sheep and their lambs.

Isaiah 40:12 Who has measured the water of the sea with the palm of his hand or measured the sky with the length of his hand? Who has held the dust of the earth in a bushel basket or weighed the mountains on a scale and the hills on a balance?

Isaiah 40:13 Who has directed the Spirit of the LORD or instructed him as his adviser?

Isaiah 40:14 Whom did he consult? Who gave him understanding? Who taught him the right way? Who taught him knowledge? Who informed him about the way to understanding?

Isaiah 40:15 The nations are like a drop in a bucket and are considered to be like dust on a scale. The weight of the islands is like fine dust.

Isaiah 40:16 All the trees in Lebanon are not enough to burn an offering. Its wild animals are not enough for a single burnt offering.

Isaiah 40:17 All the nations amount to nothing in his presence. He considers them less than nothing and worthless.

Isaiah 40:18 To whom, then, can you compare God? To what statue can you compare him?

Isaiah 40:19 Craftsmen make idols. Goldsmiths cover them with gold. Silversmiths make silver chains for them.

Isaiah 40:20 The poorest people choose wood that will not rot and search out skillful craftsmen to set up idols that will not fall over.

Isaiah 40:21 Don’t you know? Haven’t you heard? Haven’t you been told from the beginning? Don’t you understand the foundations of the earth?

Isaiah 40:22 God is enthroned above the earth, and those who live on it are like grasshoppers. He stretches out the sky like a canopy and spreads it out like a tent to live in.

Isaiah 40:23 He makes rulers unimportant and makes earthly judges worth nothing.

Isaiah 40:24 They have hardly been planted. They have hardly been sown. They have hardly taken root in the ground. Then he blows on them and they wither, and a windstorm sweeps them away like straw.

Isaiah 40:25 “To whom, then, can you compare me? Who is my equal?” asks the Holy One.

Isaiah 40:26 Look at the sky and see. Who created these things? Who brings out the stars one by one? He calls them all by name. Because of the greatness of his might and the strength of his power, not one of them is missing.

Isaiah 40:27 Jacob, why do you complain? Israel, why do you say, “My way is hidden from the LORD, and my rights are ignored by my God”?

Isaiah 40:28 Don’t you know? Haven’t you heard? The eternal God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, doesn’t grow tired or become weary. His understanding is beyond reach.

Isaiah 40:29 He gives strength to those who grow tired and increases the strength of those who are weak.

Isaiah 40:30 Even young people grow tired and become weary, and young men will stumble and fall.

Isaiah 40:31 Yet, the strength of those who wait with hope in the LORD will be renewed. They will soar on wings like eagles. They will run and won't become weary. They will walk and won't grow tired.

Isaiah 41:1 "Be silent and listen to me, you coastlands. Let the people gain new strength. Let them come near and speak. Let us come together for judgment.

Isaiah 41:2 "Who has raised up from the east someone to whom the LORD gives victory with every step he takes? Nations are handed over to him. He defeats kings. With his sword he turns them into dust. With his bow he turns them into straw blown by the wind.

Isaiah 41:3 He chases them, marching by safely on a path his feet have never traveled before.

Isaiah 41:4 Who has accomplished this? Who has determined the course of history from the beginning? I, the LORD, was there first, and I will be there to the end. I am the one!"

Isaiah 41:5 The coastlands have seen him and are afraid. The ends of the earth tremble. They have come near and gathered together.

Isaiah 41:6 People help their neighbors and say to their relatives, "Be brave!"

Isaiah 41:7 Craftsmen encourage goldsmiths. Metalsmiths encourage blacksmiths who work at their anvils. They say that their soldering is good. And they fasten things with nails so they won't move.

Isaiah 41:8 "But you are my servant Israel, Jacob, whom I have chosen, the descendant of Abraham, my dear friend.

Isaiah 41:9 I have taken you from the ends of the earth and called you from its most distant places. I said to you, 'You are my servant. I've chosen you; I haven't rejected you.'

Isaiah 41:10 Don't be afraid, because I am with you. Don't be intimidated; I am your God. I will strengthen you. I will help you. I will support you with my victorious right hand.

Isaiah 41:11 "Everyone who is angry with you will be ashamed and disgraced. Those who oppose you will be reduced to nothing and disappear.

Isaiah 41:12 You will search for your enemies, but you will not find them. Those who are at war with you will be reduced to nothing and no longer exist.

Isaiah 41:13 I, the LORD your God, hold your right hand and say to you, 'Don't be afraid; I will help you.'

Isaiah 41:14 Don't be afraid, Jacob, you worm. You people of Israel, I will help you," declares the LORD, your Defender, the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 41:15 “I am going to make you into a new threshing sledge with sharp, double-edged teeth. You will thresh the mountains and crush them to dust. You will turn the hills into straw.

Isaiah 41:16 You will winnow them. The wind will carry them away. The windstorm will scatter them. But you will find joy in the LORD and praise the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 41:17 “The poor and needy are looking for water, but there is none. Their tongues are parched with thirst. I, the LORD, will answer them. I, the God of Israel, will not abandon them.

Isaiah 41:18 I will make rivers flow on bare hilltops. I will make springs flow through valleys. I will turn deserts into lakes. I will turn dry land into springs.

Isaiah 41:19 I will plant cedar, acacia, myrtle, and wild olive trees in the desert. I will place cedar, fir, and cypress trees together in the wilderness.

Isaiah 41:20 People will see and know. Together they will consider and understand that the LORD’s power has done this, that the Holy One of Israel has created it.

Isaiah 41:21 “Present your case,” says the LORD. “Bring forward your best arguments,” says Jacob’s king.

Isaiah 41:22 “Bring [your idols] so they can tell us what’s going to happen. Explain past events that your idols told you about so that we may consider them and know what their outcome will be. Tell us about future events.

Isaiah 41:23 Tell us what’s going to happen so that we may know that you are gods. Yes, do something, good or evil, to intimidate us and make us afraid.

Isaiah 41:24 You are nothing! You can’t do anything! Whoever chooses you is disgusting.

Isaiah 41:25 “I have raised up someone from the north, and he has come. He will call on my name from the east. He will attack rulers as if they were mud, as if he were treading on clay like a potter.

Isaiah 41:26 Who revealed this from the beginning so that we could know it? Who revealed this from the past so that we could say that he was right? No one revealed it. No one announced it. No one heard your words.

Isaiah 41:27 I was the first to tell Zion, ‘Look, here they are.’ I gave Jerusalem a messenger with the good news.

Isaiah 41:28 When I look, there is no one. There is no one to advise them. When I ask them a question, will they give an answer?

Isaiah 41:29 All of them are nothing. They can’t do anything. Their statues are nothing but air.”

Isaiah 42:1 Here is my servant, whom I support. Here is my chosen one, with whom I am pleased. I have put my Spirit on him. He will bring justice to the nations.

Isaiah 42:2 He will not cry out or raise [his voice]. He will not make his voice heard in the streets.

Isaiah 42:3 He will not break off a damaged cattail. He will not even put out a smoking wick. He will faithfully bring about justice.

Isaiah 42:4 He will not be discouraged or crushed until he has set up justice on the earth. The coastlands will wait for his teachings.

Isaiah 42:5 The LORD God created the heavens and stretched them out. He shaped the earth and all that comes from it. He gave life to the people who are on it and breath to those who walk on it. This is what the LORD God says:

Isaiah 42:6 I, the LORD, have called you to do what is right. I will take hold of your hand. I will protect you. I will appoint you as my promise to the people, as my light to the nations.

Isaiah 42:7 You will give sight to the blind, bring prisoners out of prisons, and bring those who live in darkness out of dungeons.

Isaiah 42:8 I am the LORD; that is my name. I will not give my glory to anyone else or the praise I deserve to idols.

Isaiah 42:9 What I said in the past has come true. I will reveal new things before they happen.

Isaiah 42:10 Sing a new song to the LORD. Sing his praise from the ends of the earth, you people who sail on the seas and all the creatures that live in them, you coastlands and all who live on them.

Isaiah 42:11 Let those who live in the desert and its cities raise their voices. Let those who live in the settlements of Kedar praise him. Let those who live in Sela sing for joy. Let them shout from the tops of the mountains.

Isaiah 42:12 Let them give glory to the LORD and announce his praise on the coastlands.

Isaiah 42:13 The LORD marches out like a warrior. He prepares himself for battle like a soldier. He shouts, gives the battle cry, and overpowers his enemies.

Isaiah 42:14 I have been silent for a long time. I kept quiet and held myself back. But like a woman in childbirth I will cry out. I will gasp and pant.

Isaiah 42:15 I will lay waste to mountains and hills. I will dry up all their vegetation. I will turn rivers into islands. I will dry up ponds.

Isaiah 42:16 I will lead the blind on unfamiliar roads. I will lead them on unfamiliar paths. I will turn darkness into light in front of them.

I will make rough places smooth. These are the things I will do for them, and I will never abandon them.

Isaiah 42:17 Then those who trust idols and those who say to statues, “You are our gods” will be turned away and put to shame.

Isaiah 42:18 Listen, you deaf people. Look, you blind people, so that you can see.

Isaiah 42:19 Who is blind except my servant or deaf like the messenger I send? Who is blind like the one who has my trust or blind like the servant of the LORD?

Isaiah 42:20 You have seen much, but you do not observe anything. Your ears are open, but you hear nothing.

Isaiah 42:21 The LORD is pleased because he does what is right. He praises the greatness of his teachings and makes them glorious.

Isaiah 42:22 But these people are robbed and looted. They are all trapped in pits and hidden in prisons. They have become prey with no one to rescue them. They have become loot with no one to say, “Give it back.”

Isaiah 42:23 Who among you will listen to this? Is there anyone who will pay attention and listen in the future?

Isaiah 42:24 Who gave Jacob away as loot and handed Israel over to robbers? Wasn’t it the LORD, against whom we have sinned? They didn’t want to live his way. They didn’t obey his teachings.

Isaiah 42:25 So he poured out his burning anger and the horrors of war on them. It engulfed them in flames, but they did not understand. It burned them, but they did not take it to heart.

Isaiah 43:1 The LORD created Jacob and formed Israel. Now, this is what the LORD says: Do not be afraid, because I have reclaimed you. I have called you by name; you are mine.

Isaiah 43:2 When you go through the sea, I am with you. When you go through rivers, they will not sweep you away. When you walk through fire, you will not be burned, and the flames will not harm you.

Isaiah 43:3 I am the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, your Savior. Egypt is the ransom I exchanged for you. Sudan and Seba are the price I paid for you.

Isaiah 43:4 Since you are precious to me, you are honored and I love you. I will exchange others for you. Nations will be the price I pay for your life.

Isaiah 43:5 Do not be afraid, because I am with you. I will bring your descendants from the east and gather you from the west.

Isaiah 43:6 I will say to the north, “Give them up,” and to the south, “Do not keep them.” Bring my sons from far away and my daughters from the ends of the earth.

Isaiah 43:7 Bring everyone who is called by my name, whom I created for my glory, whom I formed and made.

Isaiah 43:8 Bring the people who are blind but still have eyes, the people who are deaf but still have ears.

Isaiah 43:9 All nations have gathered together, and people have assembled. Who among them could have revealed this? Who among them could have foretold this to us? They should bring their witnesses to prove that they were right. Let the people hear them. Then they will say that it is true.

Isaiah 43:10 “You are my witnesses,” declares the LORD. “I have chosen you as my servant so that you can know and believe in me and understand that I am the one [who did this]. No god was formed before me, and there will be none after me.

Isaiah 43:11 I alone am the LORD, and there is no savior except me.

Isaiah 43:12 I have revealed it to you, I have saved you, and I have announced it to you. There was no foreign [god] among you. You are my witnesses that I am God,” declares the LORD.

Isaiah 43:13 “From the [first] day I was the one [who did this]. No one can rescue people from my power. When I do something, who can undo it?”

Isaiah 43:14 This is what the LORD, your Defender, the Holy One of Israel, says: For your sake I will send [an army] to Babylon. I will bring back all the Babylonian refugees in the ships that they take pride in.

Isaiah 43:15 I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King.

Isaiah 43:16 The LORD makes a path through the sea and a road through the strong currents.

Isaiah 43:17 He leads chariots and horses, an army and reinforcements. (They lie down together and do not get up [again]. They are extinguished and snuffed out like a wick.) This is what the LORD says:

Isaiah 43:18 Forget what happened in the past, and do not dwell on events from long ago.

Isaiah 43:19 I am going to do something new. It is already happening. Don’t you recognize it? I will clear a way in the desert. I will make rivers on dry land.

Isaiah 43:20 Wild animals, jackals, and ostriches will honor me. I will provide water in the desert. I will make rivers on the dry land for my chosen people to drink.

Isaiah 43:21 I have formed these people for myself. They will praise me.

Isaiah 43:22 Jacob, you have not prayed to me. Israel, you have grown tired of me.

Isaiah 43:23 You did not bring me sheep for your burnt offerings or honor me with your sacrifices. I did not burden you by requiring grain offerings or trouble you by requiring incense offerings.

Isaiah 43:24 You did not buy me any sugar cane with [your] money or satisfy me with the best part of your sacrifices. Rather, you burdened me with your sins and troubled me with your wrongdoings.

Isaiah 43:25 I alone am the one who is going to wipe away your rebellious actions for my own sake. I will not remember your sins [anymore].

Isaiah 43:26 Remind me [of what happened]. Let us argue our case together. State your case so that you can prove you are right.

Isaiah 43:27 Your first ancestor sinned, and your priests rebelled against me.

Isaiah 43:28 That is why I will corrupt the leaders of the holy place. I will claim Jacob for destruction. I will set up Israel for ridicule.

Isaiah 44:1 But now listen, my servant Jacob, Israel, whom I have chosen.

Isaiah 44:2 The LORD made you, formed you in the womb, and will help you. This is what the LORD says: Don’t be afraid, my servant Jacob, Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.

Isaiah 44:3 I will pour water on thirsty ground and rain on dry land. I will pour my Spirit on your offspring and my blessing on your descendants.

Isaiah 44:4 They will spring up with the grass as poplars spring up by streams.

Isaiah 44:5 One person will say, “I belong to the LORD.” Another will call on the name of Jacob. Another will write on his hand, “The LORD’s,” and he will adopt the name of Israel.

Isaiah 44:6 The LORD is Israel’s king and defender. He is the LORD of Armies. This is what the LORD says: I am the first and the last, and there is no God except me.

Isaiah 44:7 If there is anyone like me, let him say so. Let him tell me what happened when I established my people long ago. Then let him predict what will happen to them.

Isaiah 44:8 Don’t be terrified or afraid. Didn’t I make this known to you long ago? You are my witnesses. Is there any God except me? There is no [other] rock; I know of none.

Isaiah 44:9 All who make idols are nothing. Their precious treasures are worthless. Their own witnesses do not see or know anything, so they will be put to shame.

Isaiah 44:10 Nothing comes from making gods or casting metal idols.

Isaiah 44:11 Everyone associated with the gods will be put to shame. The craftsmen themselves are only human. Let them all get together and take their stand. They will be frightened and ashamed together.

Isaiah 44:12 Blacksmiths shape iron into tools. They work them over the coals and shape them with hammers, working them with their strong arms. They get hungry, and their strength fails. If they don't drink water, they will faint.

Isaiah 44:13 Carpenters measure blocks of wood with [chalk] lines. They mark them with pens. They carve them with chisels and mark them with compasses. They carve them into forms of people, beautiful people, so the idols can live in shrines.

Isaiah 44:14 They cut down cedars for themselves. Then they choose fir trees or oaks. They let them grow strong among the trees in the forest. Then they plant cedars, and the rain makes them grow.

Isaiah 44:15 These trees become [fuel] for people to burn. So they take some of them and warm themselves with them. They start fires and bake bread. They also make gods from these trees and worship them. They make them into carved statues and bow in front of them.

Isaiah 44:16 Half of the wood they burn in the fire. Over this half they roast meat that they can eat until they are full. They also warm themselves and say, "Ah! We are warm. We can see the fire!"

Isaiah 44:17 But the rest of the wood they make into gods, carved statues. They bow to them and worship them. They pray to them, saying, "Rescue us, because you are our gods."

Isaiah 44:18 They don't know or understand anything. Their eyes are plastered shut, so they can't see. And their minds are closed, so they can't understand.

Isaiah 44:19 No one stops to think. No one has enough knowledge or understanding to say, "I burned half of the wood in the fire. I also baked bread over its coals. I roasted meat and ate it. Now I am making the rest of the wood into a disgusting thing and bowing to a block of wood."

Isaiah 44:20 They eat ashes because they are deceived. Their own misguided minds lead them astray. They can't rescue themselves or ask themselves, "Isn't what I hold in my right hand a false god?"

Isaiah 44:21 Remember these things, Jacob: You are my servant, Israel. I formed you; you are my servant. Israel, I will not forget you.

Isaiah 44:22 I made your rebellious acts disappear like a thick cloud and your sins like the morning mist. Come back to me, because I have reclaimed you.

Isaiah 44:23 Sing with joy, you heavens, because the LORD has done this. Rejoice, you deep places of the earth. Break into shouts of joy, you mountains, you forests and every tree in them. The LORD has reclaimed Jacob. He will display his glory in Israel.

Isaiah 44:24 The LORD reclaimed you. He formed you in the womb. This is what the LORD says: I, the LORD, made everything. I stretched out the heavens by myself. I spread out the earth all alone.

Isaiah 44:25 I cause the signs of false prophets to fail and make fools of fortunetellers. I make wise men retreat and turn their knowledge into foolishness.

Isaiah 44:26 He confirms the word of his servant and fulfills the plan of his messengers. He says about Jerusalem, “It will be inhabited.” He says about the cities of Judah, “They will be rebuilt.” He says about their ruins, “I will restore them.”

Isaiah 44:27 He says to the deep water, “Dry up.” So I will dry up your rivers.

Isaiah 44:28 He says about Cyrus, “He is my shepherd. He will do everything I want him to do.” He says about Jerusalem, “It will be rebuilt.” He says about the temple, “Your foundation will be laid.”

Isaiah 45:1 This is what the LORD says about Cyrus, his anointed one: I have held him by his right hand so he could conquer the nations ahead of him, strip kings of their power, and open doors ahead of him so that the gates would not be shut.

Isaiah 45:2 I will go ahead of you, Cyrus, and smooth out the rough places. I will break down the bronze doors and cut through the iron bars.

Isaiah 45:3 I will give you treasures from dark places and hidden stockpiles. Then you will know that I, the LORD God of Israel, have called you by name.

Isaiah 45:4 For the sake of my servant Jacob, Israel, my chosen one, I have called you by name. I have given you a title of honor, although you don’t know me.

Isaiah 45:5 I am the LORD, and there is no other. There is no other God besides me. I will strengthen you, although you don’t know me,

Isaiah 45:6 so that from the east to the west people will know that there is no God except me. I am the LORD, and there is no other.

Isaiah 45:7 I make light and create darkness. I make blessings and create disasters. I, the LORD, do all these things.

Isaiah 45:8 Rain down from above, you heavens, and pour down righteousness, you skies. Let the earth open. Let salvation and righteousness sprout. Let them spring up. I, the LORD, have created them.

Isaiah 45:9 How horrible it will be for the one who quarrels with his maker. He is pottery among other earthenware pots. Does the clay ask the one who shapes it, “What are you making?” Does your work say to you, “There are no handles”?

Isaiah 45:10 How horrible it will be for the one who says to his father, “Why did you conceive me?” or to his mother, “Why did you go through labor pains for me?”

Isaiah 45:11 The LORD is the Holy One and the maker of Israel. This is what the LORD says: Ask me about what is going to happen to my children! Are you going to give me orders concerning my handiwork?

Isaiah 45:12 I made the earth and created humans on it. I stretched out the heavens with my own hands. I commanded all the stars [to shine].

Isaiah 45:13 I prepared Cyrus for my righteous purpose. I will make all his roads straight. He will build my city and let my exiles go free without any payment or any reward, says the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 45:14 This is what the LORD says: The products from Egypt, the merchandise from Sudan, and the important Sabaeans will come to you. They will belong to you. They will follow you. They will come to you in chains. They will bow to you and pray to you, “Certainly God is with you alone, and there is no other God.”

Isaiah 45:15 Certainly, you are a God who has hidden himself. You are the God of Israel, the Savior!

Isaiah 45:16 Those who make idols will be ashamed and disgraced. They will go away completely disgraced.

Isaiah 45:17 Israel has been saved by the LORD forever. You will never again be ashamed or disgraced.

Isaiah 45:18 The LORD created the heavens. God formed the earth and made it. He set it up. He did not create it to be empty but formed it to be inhabited. This is what the LORD says: I am the LORD, and there is no other.

Isaiah 45:19 I haven’t spoken privately or in some dark corner of the world. I didn’t say to Jacob’s descendants, “Search for me in vain!” I, the LORD, speak what is fair and say what is right.

Isaiah 45:20 Come here, you refugees from the nations. Ignorant people carry wooden idols and pray to gods that cannot save [anyone].

Isaiah 45:21 Speak and present your case. Yes, let them consult one another. Who revealed this in the distant past and predicted it long ago? Wasn’t it I, the LORD? There is no other God except me. There is no other righteous God and Savior besides me.

Isaiah 45:22 Turn to me and be saved, all who live at the ends of the earth, because I am God, and there is no other.

Isaiah 45:23 I have bound myself with an oath. A word has gone out from my righteous mouth that will not be recalled, “Every knee will bow to me and every tongue will swear [allegiance].”

Isaiah 45:24 It will be said of me, “Certainly, righteousness and strength are found in the LORD alone.” All who are angry with him will come to him and be ashamed.

Isaiah 45:25 All the descendants of Israel will be declared righteous, and they will praise the LORD.

Isaiah 46:1 The god Bel bows down; the god Nebo stoops low. Their statues are seated on animals and cattle. The gods that you carry are burdens, a load for weary people.

Isaiah 46:2 These gods stoop low and bow down together. They aren’t able to escape with heavy loads. They go away into captivity.

Isaiah 46:3 Listen to me, descendants of Jacob, the few people left of the nation of Israel. I’ve carried you since your birth. I’ve taken care of you from the time you were born.

Isaiah 46:4 Even when you’re old, I’ll take care of you. Even when your hair turns gray, I’ll support you. I made you and will continue to care for you. I’ll support you and save you.

Isaiah 46:5 To whom will you compare me and make me equal? To whom will you compare me so that we can be alike?

Isaiah 46:6 People pour gold out of their bags and weigh silver on scales. They hire a goldsmith. He makes it into a god. They bow down and worship it.

Isaiah 46:7 They lift it on their shoulders and carry it. They set the idol in its place, and it stands there. It doesn’t move from its place. If they cry to it for help, it can’t answer. It can’t rescue them from their distress.

Isaiah 46:8 Remember this, and take courage. Recall your rebellious acts.

Isaiah 46:9 Remember the first events, because I am God, and there is no other. I am God, and there’s no one like me.

Isaiah 46:10 From the beginning I revealed the end. From long ago I told you things that had not yet happened, saying, “My plan will stand, and I’ll do everything I intended to do.”

Isaiah 46:11 I will call a bird of prey from the east. I will call someone for my plan from a faraway land. I have spoken, and I will bring it about. I have planned it, and I will do it.

Isaiah 46:12 Listen to me, you stubborn people who are far from being righteous.

Isaiah 46:13 I’ll bring my righteousness near; it isn’t far away. My salvation will not be delayed. I’ll provide salvation for Zion and bring my glory to Israel.

Isaiah 47:1 Go, sit in the dirt, virgin princess of Babylon! Sit on the ground, not on a throne, princess of the Babylonians! You will no longer be called soft and delicate.

Isaiah 47:2 Take millstones and grind flour. Remove your veil. Take off your skirt. Uncover your legs, and cross the river.

Isaiah 47:3 People will see you naked. People will see your shame. I will take revenge. I won't spare anyone.

Isaiah 47:4 Our defender is the Holy One of Israel. His name is the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 47:5 Go into the dark, and sit in silence, princess of the Babylonians! You will no longer be called the queen of kingdoms.

Isaiah 47:6 I was angry with my people. I dishonored those who belong to me. I put them under your control. You showed them no mercy. You placed a heavy burden on old people.

Isaiah 47:7 You said, "I will always be a queen." You didn't carefully consider these things or keep in mind how they would end.

Isaiah 47:8 Now then, listen to this, you lover of pleasure. You live securely and say to yourself, "I'm the only one, and there's no one else. I won't live as a widow. I won't suffer the loss of children."

Isaiah 47:9 In one day both of these will happen to you instantly: the loss of your children and your husband. All this will happen to you in spite of your evil magic and your many spells.

Isaiah 47:10 You feel safe in your wickedness and say, "No one can see me." Your wisdom and knowledge have led you astray, so you say to yourself, "I'm the only one, and there's no one else."

Isaiah 47:11 But evil will happen to you. You won't know how to keep it away. Disaster will strike you. You won't be able to stop it. Destruction will overtake you suddenly. You won't expect it.

Isaiah 47:12 Keep practicing your spells and your evil magic. You have practiced them ever since you were young. You may succeed. You may cause terror.

Isaiah 47:13 You are worn out by your many plans. Let your astrologers and your stargazers, who foretell the future month by month, come to you, rise up, and save you.

Isaiah 47:14 They are like straw. Fire burns them. They can't rescue themselves from the flames. There are no glowing coals to keep them warm and no fire for them to sit by.

Isaiah 47:15 This is how it will be for those who have worked with you, for those who have been with you ever since you were young. They will go their own ways, and there will be no one to save you.

Isaiah 48:1 Listen to this, descendants of Jacob! You are given the name of Israel. You are descended from Judah. You take oaths by the name of the LORD. You acknowledge the God of Israel, but you are not honest or sincere.

Isaiah 48:2 You call yourselves [citizens] of the holy city. You depend on the God of Israel. His name is the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 48:3 From the beginning I revealed to you what would happen. These words came out of my mouth, and I made them known. Suddenly, I acted, and they happened.

Isaiah 48:4 I know that you are stubborn. Like iron, you are hardheaded. Like bronze, nothing gets through your thick skull.

Isaiah 48:5 That is why I revealed to you what would happen long ago. I told you about them before they happened. [I did this] so you couldn’t say, “My gods have done these things. My carved idols and my metal idols have commanded them to happen.”

Isaiah 48:6 You’ve heard these words. Now look at all this. Won’t you admit it? From now on I will reveal to you new things, hidden things that you do not know.

Isaiah 48:7 They are created now, not in the past. You haven’t heard about them before today, so you can’t say that you already knew about them.

Isaiah 48:8 You have never heard about them. You have never known about them. Your ears have never been open to hear them before. I know that you’ve acted very treacherously and that you have been called a rebel since you were born.

Isaiah 48:9 For my name’s sake I’ll be patient. For my glory’s sake I’ll hold my anger back from you, rather than destroy you.

Isaiah 48:10 I have refined you, but not like silver. I have tested you in the furnace of suffering.

Isaiah 48:11 I am doing this for myself, only for myself. Why should my name be dishonored? I will not give my glory to anyone else.

Isaiah 48:12 Listen to me, Jacob, Israel, whom I have called. I am the one. I am the first and the last.

Isaiah 48:13 My hand laid the foundation of the earth. My right hand stretched out the heavens. When I call for them, they both stand.

Isaiah 48:14 Gather together, all of you, and listen. What idol has revealed such things? The LORD loves Cyrus. He will carry out the LORD’s plan against Babylon. He will use his strength against the Babylonians.

Isaiah 48:15 I alone have spoken. I have called him. I will bring him here, and he will succeed.

Isaiah 48:16 Come here. Listen to this: From the beginning I have spoken nothing in private. From the time it took place, I was there. Now the Almighty LORD has sent me and his Spirit.

Isaiah 48:17 This is what the LORD, your Defender, the Holy One of Israel, says: I am the LORD your God. I teach you what is best for you. I lead you where you should go.

Isaiah 48:18 If only you had listened to my commands! Your peace would be like a river [that never runs dry]. Your righteousness would be like waves on the sea.

Isaiah 48:19 Your descendants would be like sand. Your children would be like its grains. Their names would not be cut off or wiped out in my presence.

Isaiah 48:20 Leave Babylon; flee from the Babylonians! Shout for joy as you tell it and announce it. Shout it out to the ends of the earth. Say that the LORD has reclaimed his servant Jacob.

Isaiah 48:21 They weren't thirsty when he led them through the deserts. He made water flow from a rock for them. He split a rock, and water gushed out.

Isaiah 48:22 "There is no peace for the wicked," says the LORD.

Isaiah 49:1 Listen to me, you islands. Pay attention, you people far away. Before I was born, the LORD chose me. While I was in my mother's womb, he recorded my name.

Isaiah 49:2 He made my tongue like a sharp sword and hid me in the palm of his hand. He made me like a sharpened arrow and hid me in his quiver.

Isaiah 49:3 He said to me, "You are my servant Israel. I will display my glory through you."

Isaiah 49:4 But I said, "I have worked hard for nothing. I have used my strength, but I didn't accomplish anything. Yet, certainly my case is in the LORD's hands, and my reward is with my God."

Isaiah 49:5 The LORD formed me in the womb to be his servant in order to bring Jacob back to him and gather Israel to him. (The LORD honors me, and my God has become my strength.)

Isaiah 49:6 Now, the Lord says, "You are not just my servant who restores the tribes of Jacob and brings back those in Israel whom I have preserved. I have also made you a light for the nations so that you would save people all over the world."

Isaiah 49:7 The LORD is the defender of Israel, its Holy One. This is what the LORD says to the despised one, to the one scorned by the nation, to the slave of rulers: Kings will see [you] and stand. Princes will see [you] and bow. The LORD is faithful. The Holy One of Israel has chosen you.

Isaiah 49:8 This is what the LORD says: In the time of favor I will answer you. In the day of salvation I will help you. I will protect you. I will appoint you as my promise to the people. You will restore the land. You will make them inherit the desolate inheritance.

Isaiah 49:9 You will say to the prisoners, “Come out,” and to those who are in darkness, “Show yourselves.” They will graze along every path, and they will find pastures on every bare hill.

Isaiah 49:10 They will never be hungry or thirsty, nor will the sun or the burning, hot wind strike them. The one who has compassion on them will lead them and guide them to springs.

Isaiah 49:11 I will turn all my mountains into roads, and my highways will be restored.

Isaiah 49:12 They will come from far away. They will come from the north and from the west, and they will come from the land of Sinim.

Isaiah 49:13 Sing with joy, you heavens! Rejoice, you earth! Break into shouts of joy, you mountains! The LORD has comforted his people and will have compassion on his humble people.

Isaiah 49:14 But Zion said, “The LORD has abandoned me. My Lord has forgotten me.”

Isaiah 49:15 Can a woman forget her nursing child? Will she have no compassion on the child from her womb? Although mothers may forget, I will not forget you.

Isaiah 49:16 I have engraved you on the palms of my hands. Your walls are always in my presence.

Isaiah 49:17 Your children will hurry back. Those who destroyed you and laid waste to you will leave you.

Isaiah 49:18 Look up, look around, and watch! All of your children are gathering together and returning to you. “I solemnly swear as I live,” declares the LORD, “you will wear all of them like jewels and display them on yourself as a bride would.”

Isaiah 49:19 Though you are destroyed and demolished and your land is in ruins, you will be too crowded for [your] people now. Those who devoured you will be long gone.

Isaiah 49:20 The children taken from you will say to you, “This place is too crowded for me. Make room for me to live here.”

Isaiah 49:21 Then you will ask yourself, “Who has fathered these [children] for me? I was childless and unable to have children. I was exiled and rejected. Who raised these [children for me]? I was left alone. Where have they come from?”

Isaiah 49:22 This is what the Almighty LORD says: I will lift my hand [to signal] the nations. I will raise my flag for the people. They will bring your sons in their arms and carry your daughters on their shoulders.

Isaiah 49:23 Then kings will be your foster fathers, and their queens will nurse you. They will bow in front of you with their faces touching the ground. They will lick the dust at your feet. Then you will know that I am the LORD. Those who wait with hope for me will not be put to shame.

Isaiah 49:24 Can loot be taken away from mighty men or prisoners be freed from conquerors?

Isaiah 49:25 This is what the LORD says: Prisoners will be freed from mighty men. Loot will be taken away from tyrants. I will fight your enemies, and I will save your children.

Isaiah 49:26 I will make your oppressors eat their own flesh, and they will become drunk on their own blood as though it were new wine. Then all humanity will know that I am the LORD, who saves you, the Mighty One of Jacob, who reclaims you.

Isaiah 50:1 This is what the LORD says: Where are your mother's divorce papers? Did I give her any to get rid of her? To which of my creditors did I sell you? You were sold because of your sins. I got rid of your mother because of your rebellion.

Isaiah 50:2 Why was no one here when I came? Why was no one here to answer when I called? Am I too weak to reclaim you? Don't I have the power to rescue you? I dry up the sea with my command, and I turn rivers into deserts. Their fish stink because there is no water, and people die of thirst.

Isaiah 50:3 I clothe the heavens in darkness and cover them with sackcloth.

Isaiah 50:4 The Almighty LORD will teach me what to say, so I will know how to encourage weary people. Morning after morning he will wake me to listen like a student.

Isaiah 50:5 The Almighty LORD will open my ears. I will not rebel, nor will I turn away [from him].

Isaiah 50:6 I will offer my back to those who whip me and my cheeks to those who pluck hairs out of my beard. I will not turn my face away from those who humiliate me and spit on me.

Isaiah 50:7 The Almighty LORD helps me. That is why I will not be ashamed. I have set my face like a flint. I know that I will not be put to shame.

Isaiah 50:8 The one who pronounces me innocent is near. Who will bring a case against me? Let us confront each other! Who accuses me? Let him confront me!

Isaiah 50:9 The Almighty LORD helps me. Who will find me guilty? They will all wear out like a garment. Moths will eat them.

Isaiah 50:10 Who among you fears the LORD and obeys his servant? Let those who walk in darkness and have no light trust the name of the LORD and depend upon their God.

Isaiah 50:11 But all of you light fires and arm yourselves with flaming torches. So walk in your own light and among the torches you have lit. This is what you will receive from me: You will be tormented.

Isaiah 51:1 Listen to me, you people who pursue what is right and seek the LORD. Look to the rock from which you were cut and to the quarry from which you were dug.

Isaiah 51:2 Look to Abraham, your ancestor, and to Sarah, from whom you are descended. When I called Abraham, he was childless. I blessed him and gave him many descendants.

Isaiah 51:3 So the LORD will comfort Zion. He will comfort all those who live among its ruins. He will make its desert like Eden. He will make its wilderness like the garden of the LORD. Joy and gladness will be found in it, thanksgiving and the sound of singing.

Isaiah 51:4 Pay attention to me, my people. Open your ears to hear me, my nation. My teachings will go out from me. My justice will become a light for the people.

Isaiah 51:5 My righteousness is near. My salvation is on the way. I will bring justice to people. The coastlands put their hope in me, and they wait eagerly for me.

Isaiah 51:6 Look at the sky. Look at the earth below. The sky will vanish like smoke. The earth will wear out like clothing, and those who live there will die like flies. But my salvation will last forever, and my righteousness will never fail.

Isaiah 51:7 Listen to me, you people who know righteousness, you people who have my teachings in your hearts. Don’t be afraid of being insulted by people. Don’t be discouraged by their ridicule.

Isaiah 51:8 Moths will eat them like clothing. Worms will devour them like wool. But my righteousness will last forever, and my salvation will last throughout every generation.

Isaiah 51:9 Wake up! Wake up! Clothe yourself with strength, O LORD! Wake up as you did in days long past, as in generations long ago. Didn’t you cut Rahab into pieces and stab the serpent?

Isaiah 51:10 Didn’t you dry up the sea, the water of the great ocean? You made a road in the depths of the sea so that the people reclaimed [by the LORD] might pass through it.

Isaiah 51:11 The people ransomed by the LORD will return. They will come to Zion singing with joy. Everlasting happiness will be on their heads [as a crown]. They will be glad and joyful. They will have no sorrow or grief.

Isaiah 51:12 I alone am the one who comforts you. Why, then, are you afraid of mortals, who must die, of humans, who are like grass?

Isaiah 51:13 Why have you forgotten the LORD, your Creator? He stretched out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth. Why should you live in constant fear of the fury of those who oppress you, of those who are ready to destroy you? Where is the fury of those who oppress you?

Isaiah 51:14 Chained prisoners will be set free. They will not die in prison. They will not go without food.

Isaiah 51:15 I am the LORD your God who stirs up the sea and makes its waves roar. My name is the LORD of Armies.

Isaiah 51:16 I put my words in your mouth and sheltered you in the palm of my hand. I stretched out the heavens, laid the foundations of the earth, and said to Zion, “You are my people.”

Isaiah 51:17 Wake up! Wake up! Stand up, Jerusalem! You drank from the cup in the LORD’s hand. That cup was filled with his anger. You drank from the bowl, the cup that makes people stagger, and you drained it!

Isaiah 51:18 From all the children she gave birth to, there was no one to guide her. From all the children she raised, there was no one to take her by the hand.

Isaiah 51:19 Twice as many disasters have happened to you. Who will feel sorry for you? Violence, destruction, famine, and war have happened to you. Who will comfort you?

Isaiah 51:20 Your children have fainted. They lie sleeping at every street corner. They are like an antelope caught in a net. They experience the anger of the LORD, the fury of your God.

Isaiah 51:21 Listen to this, you humble people who are drunk but not from wine.

Isaiah 51:22 The LORD your God defends his people. This is what your master says: I’m taking from your hand the cup that makes people stagger, the bowl, the cup of my fury. You will never drink from it again.

Isaiah 51:23 I will put it in the hands of those who made you suffer. They said to you, “Lie down so that we can walk over you.” So you made your back like the ground and like a street for them to cross.

Isaiah 52:1 Wake up! Wake up! Clothe yourself with strength, Zion! Put on your beautiful clothes, holy city of Jerusalem. Godless and evil people will no longer come to you.

Isaiah 52:2 Shake the dust from yourselves. Get up, captive Jerusalem. Free yourself from the chains around your neck, captive people of Zion.

Isaiah 52:3 This is what the LORD says: You were sold, but no price was paid. You will be bought back, but without money.

Isaiah 52:4 This is what the Almighty LORD says: In the beginning my people went to Egypt to live there as foreigners. Later the Assyrians oppressed them for no reason.

Isaiah 52:5 So what do I find here? asks the LORD. My people are taken away for no reason. Their rulers are screaming, declares the LORD. And my name is cursed all day long.

Isaiah 52:6 Now my people will know my name. When that day comes, [they will know] that I am the one who says, “Here I am!”

Isaiah 52:7 How beautiful on the mountains are the feet of the messenger who announces the good news, “All is well.” He brings the good news, announces salvation, and tells Zion that its God rules as king.

Isaiah 52:8 Listen! Your watchmen raise their voices and shout together joyfully. When the LORD brings Zion back, they will see it with their own eyes.

Isaiah 52:9 Break out into shouts of joy, ruins of Jerusalem. The LORD will comfort his people. He will reclaim Jerusalem.

Isaiah 52:10 The LORD will show his holy power to all the nations. All the ends of the earth will see the salvation of our God.

Isaiah 52:11 Run away! Run away! Get away from there! Do not touch anything unclean. Get away from it! Make yourselves pure, you Levites who carry the utensils for the LORD’s temple.

Isaiah 52:12 You will not go away in a hurry, nor will you go away quickly. The LORD will go ahead of you. The God of Israel will guard you from behind.

Isaiah 52:13 My servant will be successful. He will be respected, praised, and highly honored.

Isaiah 52:14 Many will be shocked by him. His appearance will be so disfigured that he won’t look like any other man. His looks will be so disfigured that he will hardly look like a human.

Isaiah 52:15 He will cleanse many nations [with his blood]. Kings will shut their mouths because of him. They will see things that they had never been told. They will understand things that they had never heard.

Isaiah 53:1 Who has believed our message? To whom has the LORD’s power been revealed?

Isaiah 53:2 He grew up in his presence like a young tree, like a root out of dry ground. He had no form or majesty that would make us look at him. He had nothing in his appearance that would make us desire him.

Isaiah 53:3 He was despised and rejected by people. He was a man of sorrows, familiar with suffering. He was despised like one from whom people turn their faces, and we didn’t consider him to be worth anything.

Isaiah 53:4 He certainly has taken upon himself our suffering and carried our sorrows, but we thought that God had wounded him, beat him, and punished him.

Isaiah 53:5 He was wounded for our rebellious acts. He was crushed for our sins. He was punished so that we could have peace, and we received healing from his wounds.

Isaiah 53:6 We have all strayed like sheep. Each one of us has turned to go his own way, and the LORD has laid all our sins on him.

Isaiah 53:7 He was abused and punished, but he didn't open his mouth. He was led like a lamb to the slaughter. He was like a sheep that is silent when its wool is cut off. He didn't open his mouth.

Isaiah 53:8 He was arrested, taken away, and judged. Who would have thought that he would be removed from the world? He was killed because of my people's rebellion.

Isaiah 53:9 He was placed in a tomb with the wicked. He was put there with the rich when he died, although he had done nothing violent and had never spoken a lie.

Isaiah 53:10 Yet, it was the LORD's will to crush him with suffering. When the LORD has made his life a sacrifice for our wrongdoings, he will see his descendants for many days. The will of the LORD will succeed through him.

Isaiah 53:11 He will see and be satisfied because of his suffering. My righteous servant will acquit many people because of what he has learned [through suffering]. He will carry their sins as a burden.

Isaiah 53:12 So I will give him a share among the mighty, and he will divide the prize with the strong, because he poured out his life in death and he was counted with sinners. He carried the sins of many. He intercedes for those who are rebellious.

Isaiah 54:1 Sing with joy, you childless women who never gave birth to children. Break into shouts of joy, you women who never had birth pains. "There will be more children of women who have been deserted than there are children of married women," says the LORD.

Isaiah 54:2 Expand the space of your tent. Stretch out the curtains of your tent, and don't hold back. Lengthen your tent ropes, and drive in the tent pegs.

Isaiah 54:3 You will spread out to the right and left. Your descendants will take over other nations, and they will resettle deserted cities.

Isaiah 54:4 Don't be afraid, because you won't be put to shame. Don't be discouraged, because you won't be disgraced. You'll forget the shame you've had since you were young. You won't remember the disgrace of your husband's death anymore.

Isaiah 54:5 Your husband is your maker. His name is the LORD of Armies. Your defender is the Holy One of Israel. He is called the God of the whole earth.

Isaiah 54:6 "The LORD has called you as if you were a wife who was abandoned and in grief, a wife who married young and was rejected," says your God.

Isaiah 54:7 “I abandoned you for one brief moment, but I will bring you back with unlimited compassion.

Isaiah 54:8 I hid my face from you for a moment in a burst of anger, but I will have compassion on you with everlasting kindness,” says the LORD your defender.

Isaiah 54:9 “To me this is like Noah’s floodwaters, when I swore an oath that Noah’s floodwaters would never cover the earth again. So now I swear an oath not to be angry with you or punish you.

Isaiah 54:10 The mountains may move, and the hills may shake, but my kindness will never depart from you. My promise of peace will never change,” says the LORD, who has compassion on you.

Isaiah 54:11 “You suffering, comfortless, storm-ravaged city! I will rebuild your city with precious stones. I will reset your foundations with sapphires.

Isaiah 54:12 I will rebuild your towers with rubies, your gates with sparkling stones, and all your walls with precious stones.”

Isaiah 54:13 All your children will be taught by the LORD, and your children will have unlimited peace.

Isaiah 54:14 You will be established in righteousness. You will be far from oppression, so you will not be afraid. You will be far from destruction, so it won’t come near you.

Isaiah 54:15 “If anyone attacks you, it will not be my doing. Whoever attacks you will be defeated by you.

Isaiah 54:16 I’ve created blacksmiths to fan the coals into flames and to produce useful weapons. I’ve also created destroyers to bring destruction.

Isaiah 54:17 No weapon that has been made to be used against you will succeed. You will have an answer for anyone who accuses you. This is the inheritance of the LORD’s servants. Their victory comes from me,” declares the LORD.

Isaiah 55:1 “Listen! Whoever is thirsty, come to the water! Whoever has no money can come, buy, and eat! Come, buy wine and milk. You don’t have to pay; its free!

Isaiah 55:2 Why do you spend money on what cannot nourish you and your wages on what does not satisfy you? Listen carefully to me: Eat what is good, and enjoy the best foods.

Isaiah 55:3 Open your ears, and come to me! Listen so that you may live! I will make an everlasting promise to you- the blessings I promised to David.

Isaiah 55:4 I made him a witness to people, a leader and a commander for people.

Isaiah 55:5 You will summon a nation that you don't know, and a nation that doesn't know you will run to you because of the LORD your God, because of the Holy One of Israel. He has honored you."

Isaiah 55:6 Seek the LORD while he may be found. Call on him while he is near.

Isaiah 55:7 Let wicked people abandon their ways. Let evil people abandon their thoughts. Let them return to the LORD, and he will show compassion to them. Let them return to our God, because he will freely forgive them.

Isaiah 55:8 "My thoughts are not your thoughts, and my ways are not your ways," declares the LORD.

Isaiah 55:9 "Just as the heavens are higher than the earth, so my ways are higher than your ways, and my thoughts are higher than your thoughts."

Isaiah 55:10 "Rain and snow come down from the sky. They do not go back again until they water the earth. They make it sprout and grow so that it produces seed for farmers and food for people to eat.

Isaiah 55:11 My word, which comes from my mouth, is like the rain and snow. It will not come back to me without results. It will accomplish whatever I want and achieve whatever I send it to do."

Isaiah 55:12 You will go out with joy and be led out in peace. The mountains and the hills will break into songs of joy in your presence, and all the trees will clap their hands.

Isaiah 55:13 Cypress trees will grow where thornbushes grew. Myrtle trees will grow where briars grew. This will be a reminder of the LORD's name and an everlasting sign that will never be destroyed.

Isaiah 56:1 This is what the LORD says: Preserve justice, and do what is right. My salvation is about to come. My righteousness is about to be revealed.

Isaiah 56:2 Blessed is the one who does these things and the person who holds on to them. Blessed is the one who keeps the day of worship from becoming unholy and his hands from doing anything wrong.

Isaiah 56:3 Foreigners who have joined the LORD should not say, "The LORD will separate us from his people." Castrated men should not say, "We're only dead trees!"

Isaiah 56:4 This is what the LORD says: [I will remember] the castrated men who keep my days of worship, choose what pleases me, and faithfully observe the conditions of my promise.

Isaiah 56:5 Inside my house and within my walls, I will give them something better than sons and daughters. I will give them a monument and a name. I will give them a permanent name that will not be forgotten.

Isaiah 56:6 And [I will remember] the foreigners who have joined the LORD to worship him, to love the LORD's name, and to be his servants. All of them will keep the day of worship from becoming unholy and will faithfully observe the conditions of my promise.

Isaiah 56:7 Then I will bring them to my holy mountain and make them happy in my house of prayer. Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices will be acceptable on my altar, because my house will be called a house of prayer for all nations.

Isaiah 56:8 The Almighty LORD, who gathers the scattered people of Israel, declares, "I will gather still others besides those I have already gathered."

Isaiah 56:9 All you animals in the field, all you animals in the forest, come and eat.

Isaiah 56:10 [Israel's] watchmen are blind. None of them know anything. All of them are like dogs that are unable to bark. They lie around dreaming; they love to sleep.

Isaiah 56:11 These dogs have huge appetites. They are never full. They are the shepherds, but they don't understand. All of them have turned to go their own ways. Each one seeks his own gain.

Isaiah 56:12 [Each one cries,] "Let me get some wine, and we'll fill ourselves with liquor. And tomorrow will be like today, only better."

Isaiah 57:1 Righteous people die, and no one cares. Loyal people are taken away, and no one understands. Righteous people are spared when evil comes.

Isaiah 57:2 When peace comes, everyone who has lived honestly will rest on his own bed.

Isaiah 57:3 But you-come here, you children of witches, you descendants of adulterers and prostitutes!

Isaiah 57:4 Whom are you making fun of? Whom are you making a face at? Whom are you sticking out your tongue at? Aren't you rebellious children, descendants of liars?

Isaiah 57:5 You burn with lust under oak trees and under every large tree. You slaughter children in the valleys and under the cracks in the rocks.

Isaiah 57:6 Your idols are among the smooth stones in the ravine. They are your destiny. You have given them wine offerings and sacrificed grain offerings to them. Do you think I am pleased with all this?

Isaiah 57:7 You've made your bed on a high and lofty mountain. You've gone to offer sacrifices there.

Isaiah 57:8 You've set up your idols beside doors and doorposts. You've uncovered yourself to the idols. You've distanced yourself from me. You've made your bed with them. You've made a deal with those you have pleasure with in bed. You've seen them naked.

Isaiah 57:9 You've journeyed to the king with perfumed oils and put on plenty of perfume. You've sent your ambassadors far away and sent them down to Sheol.

Isaiah 57:10 You've tired yourself out with many journeys. You didn't think that it was hopeless. You've found renewed strength, so you didn't faint.

Isaiah 57:11 Whom did you dread and fear so much that you lied to me? You haven't remembered me or cared about me. I've been silent for a long time. Is that why you don't fear me?

Isaiah 57:12 I'll tell you about your righteous ways and what you have done, but they won't help you.

Isaiah 57:13 When you cry for help, let your collection of idols save you. A wind will carry them all away. A breath will take them away. But whoever trusts me will possess the land and inherit my holy mountain.

Isaiah 57:14 It will be said: "Build a road! Build a road! Prepare the way! Remove every obstacle in the way of my people!"

Isaiah 57:15 The High and Lofty One lives forever, and his name is holy. This is what he says: I live in a high and holy place. But I am with those who are crushed and humble. I will renew the spirit of those who are humble and the courage of those who are crushed.

Isaiah 57:16 I will not accuse you forever. I will not be angry with you forever. Otherwise, the spirits, the lives of those I've made, would grow faint in my presence.

Isaiah 57:17 I was angry because of their sinful greed, so I punished them, hid [from them], and remained angry. But they continued to be sinful.

Isaiah 57:18 I've seen their [sinful] ways, but I'll heal them. I'll guide them and give them rest. I'll comfort them and their mourners.

Isaiah 57:19 I'll create praise on their lips: "Perfect peace to those both far and near." "I'll heal them," says the LORD.

Isaiah 57:20 But the wicked are like the churning sea. It isn't quiet, and its water throws up mud and slime.

Isaiah 57:21 "There is no peace for the wicked," says my God.

Isaiah 58:1 Cry aloud! Don't hold back! Raise your voice like a ram's horn. Tell my people about their rebellion and the descendants of Jacob about their sins.

Isaiah 58:2 They look for me every day and want to know my ways. They act as if they were a nation that has done what is right and as if they haven't disregarded God's judgment [on them]. They ask me for just decrees. They want God to be near them.

Isaiah 58:3 Why have we fasted if you are not aware of it? Why have we inflicted pain on ourselves if you don't pay attention? Don't you see that on the days you fast, you do what you want to do? You mistreat all your workers.

Isaiah 58:4 Don’t you see that when you fast, you quarrel and fight and beat your workers? The way you fast today keeps you from being heard in heaven.

Isaiah 58:5 Is this the kind of fasting I have chosen? Should people humble themselves for [only] a day? Is fasting just bowing your head like a cattail and making your bed from sackcloth and ashes? Is this what you call fasting? Is this an acceptable day to the LORD?

Isaiah 58:6 This is the kind of fasting I have chosen: Loosen the chains of wickedness, untie the straps of the yoke, let the oppressed go free, and break every yoke.

Isaiah 58:7 Share your food with the hungry, take the poor and homeless into your house, and cover them with clothes when you see [them] naked. Don’t refuse to help your relatives.

Isaiah 58:8 Then your light will break through like the dawn, and you will heal quickly. Your righteousness will go ahead of you, and the glory of the LORD will guard you from behind.

Isaiah 58:9 Then you will call, and the LORD will answer. You will cry for help, and he will say, “Here I am!” Get rid of that yoke. Don’t point your finger and say wicked things.

Isaiah 58:10 If you give some of your own food to [feed] those who are hungry and to satisfy [the needs of] those who are humble, then your light will rise in the dark, and your darkness will become as bright as the noonday sun.

Isaiah 58:11 The LORD will continually guide you and satisfy you even in sun-baked places. He will strengthen your bones. You will become like a watered garden and like a spring whose water does not stop flowing.

Isaiah 58:12 Your people will rebuild the ancient ruins and restore the foundations of past generations. You will be called the Rebuilder of Broken Walls and the Restorer of Streets Where People Live.

Isaiah 58:13 If you stop trampling on the day of worship and doing as you please on my holy day, if you call the day of worship a delight and the LORD’s holy day honorable, if you honor it by not going your own way, by not going out when you want, and by not talking idly,

Isaiah 58:14 then you will find joy in the LORD. I will make you ride on the heights of the earth. I will feed you with the inheritance of your ancestor Jacob. The LORD has spoken.

Isaiah 59:1 The LORD is not too weak to save or his ear too deaf to hear.

Isaiah 59:2 But your wrongs have separated you from your God, and your sins have made him hide his face so that he doesn’t hear you.

Isaiah 59:3 Your hands are stained with blood, and your fingers are stained with sin. You speak lies, and you mutter wicked things.

Isaiah 59:4 No one calls for justice, and no one pleads his case truthfully. People trust pointless arguments and speak lies. They conceive trouble and give birth to evil.

Isaiah 59:5 They hatch viper eggs and weave spiderwebs. Those who eat their eggs will die. When an egg is crushed, a poisonous snake is hatched.

Isaiah 59:6 Their webs can't be used for clothes, nor can they cover themselves with their works. Their works are evil. Their hands have committed acts of violence.

Isaiah 59:7 Their feet run to do evil. They hurry to shed innocent blood. Their plans are evil. Ruin and destruction are on their highways.

Isaiah 59:8 They don't know the way of peace. There's no justice on their highways. They've made their paths crooked. Whoever walks on them will never know peace.

Isaiah 59:9 That is why justice is far from us, and righteousness doesn't reach us. We hope for light, but we walk in darkness. We hope for brightness, but we walk in gloom.

Isaiah 59:10 We grope like blind men along a wall. We grope like people without eyes. We stumble at noon as if it were twilight. We are like dead people among healthy people.

Isaiah 59:11 We all growl like bears. We coo like doves. We hope for justice, but there is none. We hope for salvation, but it's far from us.

Isaiah 59:12 You are aware of our many rebellious acts. Our sins testify against us. Our rebellious acts are with us. We know our wrongdoings.

Isaiah 59:13 We have rebelled and denied the LORD. We have turned away from our God. We have spoken about oppression and revolt. We have conceived and uttered lies in our hearts.

Isaiah 59:14 Justice is turned back, and righteousness stands far away. Truth has fallen in the street, and honesty can't come in.

Isaiah 59:15 Truth is missing. Those who turn away from evil make themselves victims. The LORD sees it, and he's angry because there's no justice.

Isaiah 59:16 He sees that there's no one to help. He's astounded that there's no one to intercede. So with his own power he wins a victory. His righteousness supports him.

Isaiah 59:17 He puts on righteousness like a coat of armor and a helmet of salvation on his head. He wears clothes of vengeance. He wraps himself with fury as a coat.

Isaiah 59:18 He will pay them back according to their deeds. He will pay back his opponents with wrath and punish his enemies. He will pay back the people who live on the coastlands.

Isaiah 59:19 The people of the west will fear the name of the LORD. Those in the east will fear his glory. He will come like a rushing stream. The wind of the LORD pushes him.

Isaiah 59:20 “Then a Savior will come to Zion, to those in Jacob who turn from rebellion,” declares the LORD.

Isaiah 59:21 “This is my promise to them,” says the LORD. “My Spirit, who is on you, and my words that I put in your mouth will not leave you. They will be with your children and your grandchildren permanently,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 60:1 Arise! Shine! Your light has come, and the glory of the LORD has dawned.

Isaiah 60:2 Darkness now covers the earth, and thick darkness covers the nations. But the LORD dawns, and his glory appears over you.

Isaiah 60:3 Nations will come to your light, and kings will come to the brightness of your dawn.

Isaiah 60:4 “Look up, look around, and watch. All of your people assemble and come to you. Your sons come from far away. Your daughters are carried in their arms.

Isaiah 60:5 Then you will see this and rejoice, and your heart will be thrilled with joy, because the riches of the sea will be brought to you. The wealth of the nations will come to you.

Isaiah 60:6 “Many camels will cover your [land], young camels from Midian and Ephah. Everyone from Sheba will come. They will bring gold and incense. They will sing the praises of the LORD.

Isaiah 60:7 All of the flocks from Kedar will gather and come to you. The rams of Nebaioth will serve you. They will be sacrificed as acceptable [offerings] on my altar. So I will honor my beautiful temple.

Isaiah 60:8 “Who are these people that fly by like clouds, like doves to their nests?

Isaiah 60:9 Certainly, the coastlands wait with hope for me. The ships from Tarshish are the first to bring your children from far away. Their silver and their gold comes with them to honor the name of the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, because he has honored you.

Isaiah 60:10 “Foreigners will rebuild your walls, and their kings will serve you. In my anger I struck you, but in my favor I have compassion on you.

Isaiah 60:11 Your gates will always be open. They will never be closed day or night so that people may bring you the wealth of nations, with their kings led as prisoners.

Isaiah 60:12 Nations and kingdoms that do not serve you will be destroyed. The nations will certainly be ruined.

Isaiah 60:13 “Lebanon’s glory will come to you: Cedar, fir, and cypress trees will come to beautify my holy place, and I will honor the place where my feet rest.

Isaiah 60:14 The descendants of those who oppress you will bow in front of you. All who despise you will bow at your feet. They will call you the city of the LORD, Zion, the city of the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 60:15 “You have been abandoned and hated; no one has passed through you. But now I will make you a source of everlasting pride, a joy for all generations.

Isaiah 60:16 You will drink milk from other nations and nurse at royal breasts. Then you will know that I am the LORD, your Savior, the Mighty One of Jacob, your Defender.

Isaiah 60:17 I will bring gold instead of bronze. I will bring silver instead of iron, bronze instead of wood, and iron instead of stone. I will appoint peace as your governor and righteousness as your ruler.

Isaiah 60:18 No longer will you hear about violence in your land or desolation and destruction within your borders. You will call your walls Salvation and your gates Praise.

Isaiah 60:19 The sun will no longer be your light during the day, nor will the brightness of the moon give you light, But the LORD will be your everlasting light. Your God will be your glory.

Isaiah 60:20 Your sun will no longer go down, nor will your moon disappear. The LORD will be your everlasting light, and your days of sadness will be over.

Isaiah 60:21 Then all your people will be righteous, and they will possess the land permanently. They will be the seedling I have planted, the honored work of my hands.

Isaiah 60:22 The smallest of them will become a family. The weakest of them will become a mighty nation. At the right time I, the LORD, will make it happen quickly.”

Isaiah 61:1 The Spirit of the Almighty LORD is with me because the LORD has anointed me to deliver good news to humble people. He has sent me to heal those who are brokenhearted, to announce that captives will be set free and prisoners will be released.

Isaiah 61:2 [He has sent me] to announce the year of the LORD’s good will and the day of our God’s vengeance, to comfort all those who grieve.

Isaiah 61:3 [He has sent me] to provide for all those who grieve in Zion, to give them crowns instead of ashes, the oil of joy instead of [tears of] grief, and clothes of praise instead of a spirit of weakness. They will be called Oaks of Righteousness, the Plantings of the LORD, so that he might display his glory.

Isaiah 61:4 They will rebuild the ancient ruins. They will restore the places destroyed long ago. They will renew the ruined cities, the places destroyed generations ago.

Isaiah 61:5 Foreigners will come forward and become shepherds for your flocks, and children of foreigners will work your fields and vineyards.

Isaiah 61:6 You will be called the priests of the LORD. You will be called the servants of our God. You will consume the wealth of the nations. You will boast in their splendor.

Isaiah 61:7 You will receive a double measure of wealth instead of your shame. You will sing about your wealth instead of being disgraced. That is why you will have a double measure of wealth in your land. You will have everlasting joy.

Isaiah 61:8 I, the LORD, love justice. I hate robbery and wrongdoing. I will faithfully reward my people’s work. I will make an everlasting promise to them.

Isaiah 61:9 Then their offspring will be known among the nations and their descendants among the people. Everyone who sees them will recognize that they are the descendants whom the LORD has blessed.

Isaiah 61:10 I will find joy in the LORD. I will delight in my God. He has dressed me in the clothes of salvation. He has wrapped me in the robe of righteousness like a bridegroom with a priest’s turban, like a bride with her jewels.

Isaiah 61:11 Like the ground that brings forth its crops and like a garden that makes the seed in it grow, so the Almighty LORD will make righteousness and praise spring up in front of all nations.

Isaiah 62:1 For Zion’s sake I will not remain silent. For Jerusalem’s sake I will not rest, until its righteousness shines like the dawn and its salvation burns brightly like a torch.

Isaiah 62:2 The nations will see your righteousness. All kings will see your glory. You will be given a new name that the LORD will announce.

Isaiah 62:3 Then you will be a beautiful crown in the hand of the LORD, a royal crown in the hand of your God.

Isaiah 62:4 You will no longer be called Deserted, and your land will no longer be called Destroyed. But you will be named My Delight, and your land will be named Married. The LORD is delighted with you, and your land will be married.

Isaiah 62:5 As a young man marries a woman, so your sons will marry you. As a bridegroom rejoices over his bride, so your God will rejoice over you.

Isaiah 62:6 I have posted watchmen on your walls, Jerusalem. They will never be silent day or night. Whoever calls on the LORD, do not give yourselves any rest, Isaiah 62:7 and do not give him any rest until he establishes Jerusalem and makes it an object of praise throughout the earth.

Isaiah 62:8 The LORD has sworn with his right hand and with his mighty arm, “I will never again let your enemies eat your grain, nor will foreigners drink the new wine which you made.”

Isaiah 62:9 Those who harvest grain will eat it and praise the LORD. Those who gather grapes will drink wine in my holy courtyards.

Isaiah 62:10 Go through! Go through the gates! Prepare a way for the people! Build up! Build up the highway! Clear away the stones! Raise a flag for the people!

Isaiah 62:11 The LORD has announced to the ends of the earth: “Tell my people Zion, ‘Your Savior is coming. His reward is with him, and the people he has won arrive ahead of him.’”

Isaiah 62:12 They will be called Holy People, Those Reclaimed by the LORD, and you will be called Sought After, a City Not Deserted.

Isaiah 63:1 Who is this coming from Bozrah in Edom with his clothes stained bright red? Who is this dressed in splendor, going forward with great strength? “It is I, the LORD. I am coming to announce my victory. I am powerful enough to save [you].”

Isaiah 63:2 Why are your clothes red and your garments like those who trample grapes in a winepress?

Isaiah 63:3 “I have trampled alone in the winepress. No one was with me. In my anger I trampled on people. In my wrath I stomped on them. Their blood splattered my clothes so all my clothing has been stained.

Isaiah 63:4 I planned the day of vengeance. The year for my reclaiming [you] has come.

Isaiah 63:5 I looked, but there was no help. I was astounded that there was no [outside] support. So with my own power I won a victory. My anger supported me.

Isaiah 63:6 In my anger I trampled on people. In my wrath I made them drunk and poured their blood on the ground.”

Isaiah 63:7 I will acknowledge the LORD’s acts of mercy, and [sing] the praises of the LORD, because of everything that the LORD has done for us. He has done many good things for the nation of Israel because of his compassion and his unlimited mercy.

Isaiah 63:8 He said, “They are my people, children who will not lie to me.” So he became their Savior.

Isaiah 63:9 In all their troubles he was troubled, and he was the Messenger who saved them. In his love and compassion he reclaimed them. He always held them and carried them in the past.

Isaiah 63:10 But they rebelled and offended his Holy Spirit. So he turned against them as their enemy; he fought against them.

Isaiah 63:11 Then his people remembered Moses and the distant past. Where is the one who brought them out of the sea with the shepherds of his flock? Where is the one who put his Holy Spirit in them?

Isaiah 63:12 Where is the one who sent his powerful arm to support the right hand of Moses? Where is the one who divided the water in front of them to make an everlasting name for himself?

Isaiah 63:13 Where is the one who led them through the deep water? Like horses in the wilderness, they didn't stumble.

Isaiah 63:14 Like animals going down into a valley, they were given rest by the LORD's Spirit. In this way you guided your people to make an honored name for yourself.

Isaiah 63:15 Look down and see from heaven, from your holy and beautiful dwelling. Where is your determination and might? Where is the longing of your heart and your compassion? Don't hold back.

Isaiah 63:16 You are our Father. Even though Abraham doesn't know us and Israel doesn't pay attention to us, O LORD, you are our Father. Your name is our Defender From Everlasting.

Isaiah 63:17 O LORD, why do you let us wander from your ways and become so stubborn that we are unable to fear you? Return for the sake of your servants. They are the tribes that belong to you.

Isaiah 63:18 Your holy people possessed the land for a little while. Our enemies have trampled on your holy place.

Isaiah 63:19 We have become like those whom you never ruled, like those who are not called by your name.

Isaiah 64:1 If only you would split open the heavens and come down! The mountains would quake at your presence.

Isaiah 64:2 Be like the fire that kindles brushwood and makes water boil. Come down to make your name known to your enemies. The nations will tremble in your presence.

Isaiah 64:3 When you did awe-inspiring things that we didn't expect, you came down and the mountains quaked in your presence.

Isaiah 64:4 No one has ever heard, no one has paid attention, and no one has seen any god except you. You help those who wait for you.

Isaiah 64:5 You greeted the one who gladly does right and remembers your ways. You showed your anger, because we've sinned. We've continued to sin for a long time. Can we still be saved?

Isaiah 64:6 We've all become unclean, and all our righteous acts are like permanently stained rags. All of us shrivel like leaves, and our sins carry us away like the wind.

Isaiah 64:7 No one calls on your name or tries to hold on to you. You have hidden your face from us. You have let us be ruined by our sins.

Isaiah 64:8 But now, LORD, you are our Father. We are the clay, and you are our potter. We are the work of your hands.

Isaiah 64:9 Don't be too angry, LORD. Don't remember our sin forever. Now look, we are all your people.

Isaiah 64:10 Your holy cities have become a desert. Zion has become a desert. Jerusalem is a wasteland.

Isaiah 64:11 Our holy and beautiful temple, where our ancestors praised you, has been burned to the ground. All that we valued has been ruined.

Isaiah 64:12 Despite these things, LORD, will you hold back? Will you be silent and make us suffer more than we can bear?

Isaiah 65:1 I was ready to answer those who didn't ask. I was found by those who weren't looking for me. I said, "Here I am! Here I am!" to a nation that didn't worship me.

Isaiah 65:2 I stretched out my hands all day long to stubborn people. They chose to go the wrong direction. They followed their own plans.

Isaiah 65:3 These people constantly and openly provoked me. They offered sacrifices in gardens and burnt incense on brick altars.

Isaiah 65:4 They sat among the graves and spent their nights in caves. They ate pork and in their pots made broth from unclean foods.

Isaiah 65:5 They said, "Stay away! Don't touch me! I'm holier than you are." They have become like smoke in my nose, like a smoldering fire all day long.

Isaiah 65:6 "Look! It is written in front of me. I will not be silent, but I will repay. I will repay you in full.

Isaiah 65:7 I will repay you for your sins and for the sins of your ancestors," says the LORD. They burnt incense on the mountains and slandered me on the hills, so I will be the first to pay them back in full.

Isaiah 65:8 This is what the LORD says: When someone finds juice for new wine in a cluster of grapes, another person will say, "Don't destroy it, because there's a blessing in it." In the same way, I will do this for my servants: I will not destroy everything.

Isaiah 65:9 I will bring [with me] Jacob's descendant, one who will inherit my mountains from Judah. My chosen ones will inherit them. My servants will live there.

Isaiah 65:10 The Sharon Plain will be a pasture for flocks. The Achor Valley will be a resting place for cattle and for my people who search for me.

Isaiah 65:11 You have abandoned the LORD and forgotten my holy mountain. You have prepared a table for the god of good fortune and offered cups full of spiced wine to the goddess of destiny.

Isaiah 65:12 Now I will destine you for death. All of you will bow to be slaughtered. I called, but you didn’t answer. I spoke, but you didn’t listen. You did what I consider evil. You chose what I don’t like.

Isaiah 65:13 This is what the LORD God says: My servants will eat, but you will be hungry. My servants will drink, but you will be thirsty. My servants will be glad, but you will be ashamed.

Isaiah 65:14 My servants will sing because of the gladness in their hearts. But you will cry because of your sadness and wail because of your depression.

Isaiah 65:15 Your name will be used as a curse by my chosen ones. The Almighty LORD will kill you and call his servants by another name.

Isaiah 65:16 Whoever asks for a blessing in the land will be blessed by the God of Truth. Whoever swears an oath in the land will swear by the God of Truth. Past troubles are forgotten. They are hidden from my eyes.

Isaiah 65:17 I will create a new heaven and a new earth. Past things will not be remembered. They will not come to mind.

Isaiah 65:18 Be glad, and rejoice forever in what I’m going to create, because I’m going to create Jerusalem to be a delight and its people to be a joy.

Isaiah 65:19 I will rejoice about Jerusalem and be glad about my people. Screaming and crying will no longer be heard in the city.

Isaiah 65:20 There will no longer be an infant who lives for only a few days or an old man who doesn’t live a long life. Whoever lives to be a hundred years old will be thought of as young. Whoever dies before he is a hundred years old will be cursed as a sinner.

Isaiah 65:21 They will build houses and live there. They will plant vineyards and eat fruit from them.

Isaiah 65:22 They will not build homes and have others live there. They will not plant and have others eat from it. My people will live as long as trees, and my chosen ones will enjoy what they’ve done.

Isaiah 65:23 They will never again work for nothing. They will never again give birth to children who die young, because they will be offspring blessed by the LORD. The LORD will bless their descendants as well.

Isaiah 65:24 Before they call, I will answer. While they’re still speaking, I will hear.

Isaiah 65:25 Wolves and lambs will feed together, lions will eat straw like oxen, and dust will be food for snakes. “They will not hurt or destroy anyone anywhere on my holy mountain,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 66:1 This is what the LORD says: Heaven is my throne. The earth is my footstool. Where can you build a house or resting place for me?

Isaiah 66:2 I have made all these things. “That is why all these things have come into being,” declares the LORD. I will pay attention to those who are humble and sorry [for their sins] and who tremble at my word.

Isaiah 66:3 Whoever kills a bull is like someone who kills a person. Whoever sacrifices a lamb is like someone who breaks a dog’s neck. Whoever offers a grain sacrifice is like someone who [offers] pig’s blood. Whoever burns incense is like someone who worships an idol. People have certainly chosen their own ways, and their souls delight in detestable things.

Isaiah 66:4 So I will choose harsh treatment for them and bring on them what they fear. I called, but no one answered. I spoke, but they didn’t listen. They did what I consider evil. They chose what I don’t like.

Isaiah 66:5 Listen to the word of the LORD, all who tremble at his word. Your relatives, who hate you and exclude you for my name’s sake, say, “Let the LORD show his glory; then we will see your joy.” But they will be put to shame.

Isaiah 66:6 Listen to the uproar from the city. Listen to the sound from the temple. It is the sound of the LORD paying back his enemies as they deserve.

Isaiah 66:7 Before a woman goes into labor, she gives birth. Before she has labor pains, she delivers a child.

Isaiah 66:8 Who has heard of such a thing? Who has seen such things? Can a country be born in one day? Can a nation be born in a moment? When Zion went into labor, she also gave birth to her children.

Isaiah 66:9 “Do I bring a mother to the moment of birth and not let her deliver?” asks the LORD. “Do I cause a mother to deliver and then make her unable to have children?” asks your God.

Isaiah 66:10 All who love Jerusalem, be happy and rejoice with her. All who mourn for her, be glad with her.

Isaiah 66:11 You will nurse and be satisfied from her comforting breasts. You will nurse to your heart’s delight at her full breasts.

Isaiah 66:12 This is what the LORD says: I will offer you peace like a river and the wealth of the nations like an overflowing stream. You will nurse and be carried in Jerusalem’s arms and cuddled on her knees.

Isaiah 66:13 As a mother comforts her child, so will I comfort you. You will be comforted in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 66:14 When you see it, your heart will rejoice and you will flourish like new grass. The power of the LORD will be made known to his servants, but he will condemn his enemies.

Isaiah 66:15 The LORD will come with fire and with his chariots like a thunderstorm. He will pay them back with his burning anger and punish them with flames of fire.

Isaiah 66:16 The LORD will judge with fire, and he will judge all people with his sword. Many people will be struck dead by the LORD.

Isaiah 66:17 People make themselves holy and prepare themselves for their garden rituals. They go into the garden and devour pork, disgusting things, and mice. “They will come to an end at the same time,” declares the LORD.

Isaiah 66:18 Because of their actions and their thoughts, I am coming to gather the nations of every language. They will come and see my glory.

Isaiah 66:19 I will set up a sign among them and send some of their survivors to the nations: to Tarshish, Put and Lud, Meshech, Rosh, Tubal, Javan, and to the distant coastlands who have not heard of my fame or seen my glory. They will tell about my glory among the nations.

Isaiah 66:20 They will bring all your relatives from every nation like a grain offering to the LORD. “They will come on horses, in chariots, in wagons, on mules and camels to my holy mountain, Jerusalem,” declares the LORD. They will come like the people of Israel who bring their grain offerings in clean dishes to the LORD’s temple.

Isaiah 66:21 “I will make some of them priests and Levites,” declares the LORD.

Isaiah 66:22 “The new heaven and earth that I am about to make will continue in my presence,” declares the LORD. “So your descendants and your name will also continue in my presence.

Isaiah 66:23 From one month to the next and from one week to the next all people will come to worship me,” declares the LORD.

Isaiah 66:24 Then they will go out and look at the corpses of those who have rebelled against me. The worms that eat them will not die. The fire that burns them will not go out. All humanity will be disgusted by them.

Jeremiah

1:1 [These are] the words of Jeremiah, son of Hilkiah. He was one of the priests at Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin.

Jeremiah 1:2 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah when King Josiah, son of Amon, was in his thirteenth year as king of Judah.

Jeremiah 1:3 The LORD also spoke when Jehoiakim, son of Josiah, was king of Judah and during the 11 years that Zedekiah, [another] son of Josiah, was king of Judah. The LORD continued to speak to Jeremiah until the people of Jerusalem were taken away into captivity in the fifth month of the year.

Jeremiah 1:4 The LORD spoke his word to me,

Jeremiah 1:5 “Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you. Before you were born, I set you apart for my holy purpose. I appointed you to be a prophet to the nations.”

Jeremiah 1:6 I, Jeremiah, said, “Almighty LORD, I do not know how to speak. I am only a boy!”

Jeremiah 1:7 But the LORD said to me, “Don’t say that you are only a boy. You will go wherever I send you. You will say whatever I command you to say.

Jeremiah 1:8 Don’t be afraid of people. I am with you, and I will rescue you,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 1:9 Then the LORD stretched out his hand and touched my mouth. The LORD said to me, “Now I have put my words in your mouth.

Jeremiah 1:10 Today I have put you in charge of nations and kingdoms. You will uproot and tear down. You will destroy and overthrow. You will build and plant.”

Jeremiah 1:11 Again the LORD spoke his word to me and asked, “Jeremiah, what do you see?” I answered, “I see a branch of an almond tree.”

Jeremiah 1:12 Then the LORD said to me, “Right. I am watching to make sure that my words come true.”

Jeremiah 1:13 Again the LORD spoke his word to me and asked, “What do you see?” I answered, “I see a boiling pot, and its top is tilted away from the north.”

Jeremiah 1:14 Then the LORD said to me, “Disaster will be poured out from the north on all those who live in the land.

Jeremiah 1:15 I am going to call every family and kingdom from the north,” declares the LORD. “They will come, and they will set up their thrones at the entrance of Jerusalem’s gates. They will attack all the walls around the city and all the cities of Judah.

Jeremiah 1:16 I will pass sentence on my people because of all their wickedness. They abandoned me, burned incense to other gods, and worshiped what their hands have made.

Jeremiah 1:17 Brace yourself, Jeremiah! Stand up, and say to them whatever I tell you to say. Don’t be terrified in their presence, or I will make you [even more] terrified in their presence.

Jeremiah 1:18 Today I have made you like a fortified city, an iron pillar, and a bronze wall. You will be able to stand up to the whole land.

You will be able to stand up to Judah's kings, its officials, its priests, and [all] the common people.

Jeremiah 1:19 They will fight you, but they will not defeat you. I am with you, and I will rescue you," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 2:1 The LORD spoke his word to me,

Jeremiah 2:2 "Go and announce to Jerusalem, 'This is what the LORD says: I remember the unfailing loyalty of your youth, the love you had for me as a bride. I remember how you followed me into the desert, into a land that couldn't be farmed.

Jeremiah 2:3 Israel was set apart for the LORD. It was the best part of the harvest. All who devoured it became guilty, and disaster struck them,' " declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 2:4 Listen to the word of the LORD, descendants of Jacob, all the families in the nation of Israel.

Jeremiah 2:5 This is what the LORD says: What did your ancestors find wrong with me that they went so far away from me? They followed worthless idols and became worthless themselves.

Jeremiah 2:6 They didn't ask, "Where is the LORD, who brought us from Egypt? He led us through the desert, through a wasteland and its pits, a land of drought and the shadow of death. No one lives there or travels there."

Jeremiah 2:7 I brought them into a fertile land to eat its fruit and its produce. They came and made my land unclean. They made my property disgusting.

Jeremiah 2:8 The priests didn't ask, "Where is the LORD?" Those who deal with my teachings didn't know me. The rulers rebelled against me. The prophets prophesied in the name of Baal and followed statues that couldn't help them.

Jeremiah 2:9 "That is why I am bringing charges against you," declares the LORD, "and I am bringing charges against your grandchildren.

Jeremiah 2:10 Go over to the coasts of Cyprus, and see. Send [someone] to Kedar, and observe closely. See if there has ever been anything like this.

Jeremiah 2:11 Has any nation ever exchanged gods? (Their gods aren't really gods.) Yet, my people have exchanged their Glory for something that doesn't help them.

Jeremiah 2:12 Be horrified over this, heaven. Be terribly afraid," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 2:13 "My people have done two things wrong. They have abandoned me, the fountain of life-giving water. They have also dug their own cisterns, broken cisterns that can't hold water.

Jeremiah 2:14 “Are the people of Israel slaves? Were they born into slavery? Why, then, have they become someone’s property?

Jeremiah 2:15 Young lions have roared very loudly at them. Young lions have turned the land into a wasteland. The cities have been burned down, and everyone has left.

Jeremiah 2:16 People from Noph and Tahpanhes have cracked your skulls, Israel.

Jeremiah 2:17 You have brought this on yourself by abandoning the LORD your God when he led you on his way.

Jeremiah 2:18 You won’t gain anything by going to Egypt to drink water from the Nile River. You won’t gain anything by going to Assyria to drink water from the Euphrates River.

Jeremiah 2:19 Your own wickedness will correct you, and your unfaithful ways will punish you. You should know and see how evil and bitter it is for you if you abandon the LORD your God and do not fear me,” declares the Almighty LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 2:20 “Long ago you broke off your yoke, tore off your chains, and said that you wouldn’t be a slave. You lay down and acted like a prostitute on every high hill and under every large tree.

Jeremiah 2:21 I planted you like a choice grapevine from the very best seed. Now you have turned against me and have become a wild vine.

Jeremiah 2:22 Even if you wash with detergent and use a lot of soap, I would still see the stains from your wickedness,” declares the Almighty LORD.

Jeremiah 2:23 “How can you say that you haven’t dishonored yourselves and haven’t followed other gods-the Baals? Look how you’ve behaved in the valley. Acknowledge what you’ve done. You are like a young camel that swiftly runs here and there.

Jeremiah 2:24 You are like a wild donkey that is used to the desert, sniffing the wind while in heat. All who look for you won’t get tired. They will find you during your monthly period.

Jeremiah 2:25 Don’t run until your feet are bare and your throats are dry. But you say that it’s useless. You love foreign gods and follow them.

Jeremiah 2:26 “As a thief feels ashamed when he’s caught, so the nation of Israel will feel ashamed. Their kings, princes, priests, and prophets will also feel ashamed.

Jeremiah 2:27 You call wood your father. You call stone your mother. You’ve turned your backs, not your faces, to me. But when you’re in trouble, you ask me to come and rescue you.

Jeremiah 2:28 Where are the gods that you made for yourselves? Let them come and rescue you when you’re in trouble. You have as many gods as you have cities, Judah!

Jeremiah 2:29 “Why do you complain about me? All of you have rebelled against me,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 2:30 “I have punished your children without results. They didn’t respond to correction. You killed my prophets like a raging lion.

Jeremiah 2:31 “Consider the word of the LORD, people of this generation. Haven’t I been a desert, a land of thick darkness, for Israel? Why do my people say that they are free to wander around and no longer come to me?

Jeremiah 2:32 A young woman can’t forget her jewelry or a bride her veils. Yet, my people have forgotten me for countless days.

Jeremiah 2:33 You carefully planned ways to look for love. You taught your ways to wicked women.

Jeremiah 2:34 You have the blood from poor and innocent people on your clothes. You didn’t kill them for breaking in to your home.

Jeremiah 2:35 In spite of all this you say, ‘I’m innocent. God will turn his anger from me, because I haven’t sinned.’

Jeremiah 2:36 You change your mind so easily. You will be put to shame by Egypt as you were put to shame by Assyria.

Jeremiah 2:37 You will also leave this place with your hands over your head, because the LORD has rejected those you trust. You will not be helped by them.”

Jeremiah 3:1 A saying: If a man divorces his wife and she leaves him and marries another man, her first husband shouldn’t go back to her again. The land would become thoroughly polluted. “You have acted like a prostitute who has many lovers. And now you want to come back to me!” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:2 “Look at the bare hills, and see. You have had sex with men in every place. You sat by the roadside waiting for them like a nomad in the desert. You have polluted the land with your prostitution and wickedness.

Jeremiah 3:3 So the rain has been withheld, and there have been no spring showers. Yet, you have the shameless look of a prostitute, and you refuse to blush.

Jeremiah 3:4 But now you are calling to me. You say, ‘Father! You have been my companion ever since I was young.

Jeremiah 3:5 He won’t hold a grudge forever. He won’t always be angry.’ You have said and done all the evil things that you could.”

Jeremiah 3:6 When Josiah was king, the LORD asked me, “Did you see what unfaithful Israel did? She went up every high mountain and under every large tree, and she acted like a prostitute there.

Jeremiah 3:7 I thought that after she had done all this that she would come back to me. But she didn't come back, and her treacherous sister Judah saw her.

Jeremiah 3:8 Judah saw that I sent unfaithful Israel away because of her adultery and that I gave Israel her divorce papers. But treacherous Judah, her sister, wasn't afraid. She also acted like a prostitute.

Jeremiah 3:9 Because she wasn't concerned about acting like a prostitute, she polluted the land and committed adultery with standing stones and wood pillars.

Jeremiah 3:10 Even after all this, Israel's treacherous sister Judah didn't wholeheartedly come back to me. She was deceitful," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:11 Then the LORD said to me, "Unfaithful Israel was less guilty than treacherous Judah.

Jeremiah 3:12 Go and proclaim these things to the north: " 'Come back, unfaithful Israel. It is the LORD speaking. I will no longer frown on you because I'm merciful,' declares the LORD. 'I will no longer be angry with you.

Jeremiah 3:13 Admit that you've done wrong! You have rebelled against the LORD your God. You have given yourself to strangers under every large tree. You have not obeyed me,' declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:14 "Come back, you rebellious people," declares the LORD. "I'm your husband. I will take you, one from every city and two from every family, and bring you to Zion.

Jeremiah 3:15 I will give you shepherds after my own heart. They will be shepherds who feed you with knowledge and insight.

Jeremiah 3:16 In those days you will be fertile, and your population will increase in the land," declares the LORD. "People will no longer talk about the ark of the LORD's promise. It will no longer come to mind. They won't remember it, miss it, or make another one.

Jeremiah 3:17 At that time they will call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD. All nations will gather in Jerusalem because the name of the LORD will be found there. They will no longer follow their own stubborn, evil ways.

Jeremiah 3:18 In those days the nation of Judah will live with the nation of Israel. They will come together from the land of the north to the land that I gave their ancestors as their own property.

Jeremiah 3:19 "I wanted to treat you like children and give you a pleasant land, the most beautiful property among the nations. I thought that you would call me Father and wouldn't turn away from me.

Jeremiah 3:20 But like a wife who betrays her husband, so you, nation of Israel, betrayed me," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 3:21 The sound of crying is heard on the hills. It is the crying and the pleading of the people of Israel. They have become crooked and have forgotten the LORD their God.

Jeremiah 3:22 “Come back, you rebellious people, and I will forgive you for being unfaithful.” Here we are! We have come to you because you are the LORD our God.

Jeremiah 3:23 Truly, the noise from the hills, from the mountains, is the noise of false worship. Truly, the LORD our God will rescue us.

Jeremiah 3:24 Ever since we were young, the shameful worship [of Baal] has taken everything our ancestors worked for, their flocks and herds, their sons and daughters.

Jeremiah 3:25 We must lie down in our shame and be covered by our disgrace. Ever since we were young, we and our ancestors have sinned against the LORD our God. We haven’t obeyed the LORD our God.

Jeremiah 4:1 The LORD declares, “If you come back, Israel, if you come back to me, if you take your disgusting idols out of my sight and you don’t wander away from me, Jeremiah 4:2 if you take the oath, “As the LORD lives...” in an honest, fair, and right way, then the nations will be blessed, and they will be honored by me.”

Jeremiah 4:3 This is what the LORD says to the people of Judah and to Jerusalem: Plow your unplowed fields, and don’t plant among thorns.

Jeremiah 4:4 Be circumcised by the LORD, and get rid of the foreskins of your hearts, people of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. If you don’t, my fury will flare up like a fire. It will burn, and no one will be able to put it out, because of the evil you do.

Jeremiah 4:5 Report this message in Judah. Make it heard in Jerusalem. Say, “Blow the ram’s horn throughout the land.” Shout loudly and say, “Gather together! Let’s go into the fortified cities.”

Jeremiah 4:6 Raise the flag to signal people to go to Zion. Take cover! Don’t just stand there! I’m bringing disaster and widespread destruction from the north.

Jeremiah 4:7 A lion has come out of its lair. A destroyer of nations has set out. He has left his place to destroy your land. Your cities will be ruined, and no one will live in them.

Jeremiah 4:8 So put on sackcloth, mourn, and cry because the LORD’s burning anger hasn’t turned away from us.

Jeremiah 4:9 “When that day comes,” declares the LORD, “the king and the leaders will lose their courage. The priests will be stunned. The prophets will be amazed and astonished.”

Jeremiah 4:10 I said, “Almighty LORD, you certainly have deceived these people and Jerusalem. You said that everything would go well for them, but a sword is held at their throats.”

Jeremiah 4:11 At that time it will be said to these people and to Jerusalem: “A hot wind from the heights will blow in the desert on the tracks of my people. It will not be a wind that winnows or cleanses.

Jeremiah 4:12 It will be a stronger wind than that. It will come from me. Now, I will pass sentence on them.”

Jeremiah 4:13 The enemy comes up like clouds. His chariots are like a raging wind. His horses are faster than eagles. How horrible it will be for us! We will be destroyed!

Jeremiah 4:14 Jerusalem, wash the evil from your heart so that you may be rescued. Don’t continue making evil plans.

Jeremiah 4:15 A message is heard from Dan, and a report of disaster comes from the mountains of Ephraim.

Jeremiah 4:16 Warn the nations about these things. Bring them to the attention of Jerusalem. “Hostile troops are coming from a distant country. They are shouting battle cries against the cities of Judah.

Jeremiah 4:17 They surround them like men guarding a field, because Judah has rebelled against me,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 4:18 “You brought this on yourself. This is your punishment. It is bitter. It breaks your heart.”

Jeremiah 4:19 My anguish, my anguish! I writhe in pain. My heart is beating wildly! My heart is pounding! I can’t keep quiet because I hear a ram’s horn sounding the alarm for war.

Jeremiah 4:20 One disaster follows another. The whole land is ruined. My tents are suddenly destroyed. Their curtains are torn in an instant.

Jeremiah 4:21 How long must I see the battle flag and hear the sound of rams’ horns?

Jeremiah 4:22 “My people are fools. They don’t know me. They are stupid people. They don’t understand. They are experts in doing wrong, and they don’t know how to do good.”

Jeremiah 4:23 I see the earth. It’s formless and empty. I see the sky. Its lights are gone.

Jeremiah 4:24 I see the mountains. They are shaking, and the hills are swaying.

Jeremiah 4:25 I see that there are no people, and every bird has flown away.

Jeremiah 4:26 I see that the fertile land has become a desert, and all its cities are torn down because of the LORD and his burning anger.

Jeremiah 4:27 This is what the LORD says: The whole earth will be ruined, although I will not destroy it completely.

Jeremiah 4:28 The earth will mourn, and the sky will grow black. I have spoken, and I have planned it. I won't change my plans, and I won't turn back.

Jeremiah 4:29 All the people in the city will flee at the sound of riders and archers. They will go off into the thickets and climb among the rocks. The entire city will be abandoned, and no one will live in it.

Jeremiah 4:30 You are going to be destroyed! What are you going to do? Why do you dress in red and put on gold jewelry? Why do you wear eye shadow? You are making yourself beautiful for nothing. Your lovers reject you; they want to kill you.

Jeremiah 4:31 I hear a woman in labor. I hear the woman cry with anguish as she gives birth to her first child. My people Zion are gasping for breath. They are stretching out their hands, saying, "How horrible it is for us! We're defenseless in the presence of murderers!"

Jeremiah 5:1 Walk around the streets of Jerusalem. Look around, and think about these things. Search the city squares. See if you can find anyone who does what is right and seeks the truth. Then I will forgive Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 5:2 People say, "As the LORD lives…." Yet, they lie when they take this oath.

Jeremiah 5:3 LORD, your eyes look for the truth. You strike these people, but they don't feel it. You crush them, but they refuse to be corrected. They are more stubborn than rocks. They refuse to turn back.

Jeremiah 5:4 I thought, "These are poor, foolish people. They don't know the way of the LORD and the justice that God demands.

Jeremiah 5:5 Let me go to important people and speak to them. They know the way of the LORD and the justice that God demands." But they, too, had broken off their yokes and torn off their chains.

Jeremiah 5:6 That is why a lion from the forest will attack them. A wolf from the wilderness will destroy them. A leopard will lie in ambush outside their cities. All who leave the cities will be torn to pieces, because they rebel so often and they become more and more unfaithful.

Jeremiah 5:7 "Why should I forgive you? Your children abandoned me. They took godless oaths. They committed adultery, even though I satisfied their needs. They traveled in crowds to the houses of prostitutes.

Jeremiah 5:8 They are like well-fed stallions that are wild with desire. They neigh for their neighbors' wives.

Jeremiah 5:9 I will punish them for these things," declares the LORD. "I will punish this nation.

Jeremiah 5:10 "Go among Jerusalem's rows of grapevines and destroy them, but don't destroy all of them. Cut off the branches because they don't belong to the LORD.

Jeremiah 5:11 The nations of Israel and Judah are unfaithful to me," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 5:12 They lie about the LORD and say, "He doesn't exist! Nothing bad will happen to us. We won't experience war or famine.

Jeremiah 5:13 The prophets are nothing but windbags. The LORD hasn't spoken through them, so let what they say happen to them."

Jeremiah 5:14 This is what the LORD God of Armies says: Because you've talked like this, I'm going to put my words in your mouth like a fire. These people will be like wood. My words will burn them up.

Jeremiah 5:15 Nation of Israel, I'm going to bring a nation from far away to attack you, declares the LORD. It is a nation that has lasted a long time. It is an ancient nation. You don't know the language of this nation. You can't understand what its people say.

Jeremiah 5:16 Their arrow quivers are like open graves. They are all mighty warriors.

Jeremiah 5:17 They will devour your harvest and your food. They will devour your sons and your daughters. They will devour your flocks and your cattle. They will devour your grapevines and your fig trees. With their swords they will destroy the fortified cities you trust.

Jeremiah 5:18 Yet, even in those days, declares the LORD, I won't destroy all of you.

Jeremiah 5:19 They will ask, "Why has the LORD our God done all this to us?" Answer them, "You have abandoned me and served foreign gods in your land. So you will serve foreigners in a land that isn't yours."

Jeremiah 5:20 "Tell this to the descendants of Jacob, and make this heard in Judah:

Jeremiah 5:21 Hear this, you stupid and senseless people! You have eyes, but you cannot see. You have ears, but you cannot hear.

Jeremiah 5:22 Don't you fear me?" asks the LORD. "Don't you tremble in my presence? I made the sand a boundary for the sea, a permanent barrier that it cannot cross. Although the waves toss continuously, they can't break through. Although they roar, they can't cross it.

Jeremiah 5:23 But these people are stubborn and rebellious. They have turned aside and wandered away from me.

Jeremiah 5:24 They don't say to themselves, 'We should fear the LORD our God. He sends rain at the right time, the autumn rain and the spring rain. He makes sure that we have harvest seasons.'

Jeremiah 5:25 Your wickedness has turned these things away. Your sins have kept good things away from you.

Jeremiah 5:26 "Wicked people are found among my people. They lie in ambush like bird catchers. They set traps and catch people.

Jeremiah 5:27 Like cages filled with birds, their houses are filled with deceit. That is why they become powerful and rich.

Jeremiah 5:28 They grow big and fat. Their evil deeds have no limits. They have no respect for the rights of others. They have no respect for the rights of orphans. But they still prosper. They don't defend the rights of the poor.

Jeremiah 5:29 I will punish them for these things," declares the LORD. "I will punish this nation.

Jeremiah 5:30 "Something horrible and disgusting is happening in the land:

Jeremiah 5:31 Prophets prophesy lies. Priests rule under the prophets' directions, and my people love this. But what will you do in the end?"

Jeremiah 6:1 "Take cover, people of Benjamin! Run away from Jerusalem! Blow the ram's horn in Tekoa. Raise the flag over Beth Hakkerem, because disaster and widespread destruction are coming from the north.

Jeremiah 6:2 "My people Zion are like lovely pastures.

Jeremiah 6:3 With their flocks, shepherds will come to them, pitch their tents all around them, and each of them will tend his own flock.

Jeremiah 6:4 [The shepherds say,] 'Prepare yourselves for war against Zion. Let's attack at noon! How horrible it will be for us. The day is passing, and the shadows of evening are growing longer.

Jeremiah 6:5 Let's attack at night and destroy its palaces.'"

Jeremiah 6:6 This is what the LORD of Armies says: Cut down its trees. Build up dirt mounds to attack Jerusalem. This city must be punished. There is nothing but oppression in it.

Jeremiah 6:7 As a well keeps its water fresh, so Jerusalem keeps its evil fresh. Violence and destruction can be heard in it. I see that it is sick and wounded.

Jeremiah 6:8 Pay attention to my warning, Jerusalem, or I will turn away from you. I will make your land desolate, a land where no one will live.

Jeremiah 6:9 This is what the LORD of Armies says: Thoroughly pick through the faithful few of Israel like someone picks through a grapevine. Like someone picking grapes, pass your hand over its branches again.

Jeremiah 6:10 Whom can I speak to? Whom can I give a warning to? Who will listen? Their ears are plugged, and they aren't able to pay attention. When the LORD speaks his word to them, they show contempt for it and object to it.

Jeremiah 6:11 I am filled with the anger of the LORD. I am tired of holding it in. "Pour it out on the children in the street and on the gangs of young men. A man and his wife will be taken away as well as very old people.

Jeremiah 6:12 Their households, their fields, and their wives will be turned over to others. I will use my power against those who live in the land," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 6:13 "All of them, from the least important to the most important, are eager to make money dishonestly. All of them, from prophets to priests, act deceitfully.

Jeremiah 6:14 They treat my people's wounds as though they were not serious, saying, 'Everything is alright! Everything is alright!' But it's not alright.

Jeremiah 6:15 Are they ashamed when they do disgusting things? No, they're not ashamed. They don't even know how to blush. So they will die with those who die. They will be brought down when I punish them," says the LORD.

Jeremiah 6:16 This is what the LORD says: Stand at the crossroads and look. Ask which paths are the old, reliable paths. Ask which way leads to blessings. Live that way, and find a resting place for yourselves. But you said that you wouldn't live that way.

Jeremiah 6:17 I posted watchmen over you. Pay attention to the sound of the ram's horn. But you said that you wouldn't pay attention.

Jeremiah 6:18 Listen, you nations, and learn, you witnesses, what will happen to them.

Jeremiah 6:19 Listen, earth! I'm going to bring disaster on these people. It is the result of their own plots, because they won't pay attention to my words. They reject my teachings.

Jeremiah 6:20 Incense that comes from Sheba is no good to me. Sugar cane that comes from a distant land is no good to me. I won't accept your burnt offerings. I'm not pleased with your sacrifices.

Jeremiah 6:21 This is what the LORD says: I'm going to lay stumbling blocks in front of these people. Parents and children will stumble over them. Neighbors and their friends will die.

Jeremiah 6:22 This is what the LORD says: An army is going to come from the north. A great nation is preparing itself in the distant parts of the earth.

Jeremiah 6:23 Its people take hold of bows and spears. They are cruel and have no compassion. They sound like the roaring sea. They ride on horses. They march like soldiers ready for battle against my people Zion.

Jeremiah 6:24 We have heard the news about them. Our hands hang limp. We are gripped by anguish and pain like a woman giving birth to a child.

Jeremiah 6:25 Don't go into the field or walk on the road. The enemy has a sword. Terror is all around.

Jeremiah 6:26 Wear sackcloth, and roll around in ashes, my people. Mourn as if you have lost your only child, and cry bitterly. The destroyer will suddenly attack us.

Jeremiah 6:27 "Jeremiah, I have put you in charge of testing and refining my people. You will know how to test their ways.

Jeremiah 6:28 They are all vicious rebels. They go around slandering. They are all like bronze and iron. They corrupt themselves.

Jeremiah 6:29 The bellows of the blast furnace blow fiercely to make the fire melt away the lead. It is useless to go on refining because the impurities can't be removed.

Jeremiah 6:30 [People] will call them useless silver because the LORD has rejected them."

Jeremiah 7:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 7:2 "Stand at the gate of the LORD's house, and announce from there this message: 'Listen to the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah who go through these gates to worship the LORD.

Jeremiah 7:3 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Change the way you live and act, and I will let you live in this place.

Jeremiah 7:4 Do not trust the words of this saying, "This is the LORD's temple, the LORD's temple, the LORD's temple!" It's a lie.

Jeremiah 7:5 " 'Suppose you really change the way you live and act and you really treat each other fairly.

Jeremiah 7:6 Suppose you do not oppress foreigners, orphans, and widows, or kill anyone in this place. And suppose you do not follow other gods that lead you to your own destruction.

Jeremiah 7:7 Then I will let you live in this place, in the land that I gave permanently to your ancestors long ago.

Jeremiah 7:8 " 'You are trusting the words of a saying. It's a lie that cannot help you.

Jeremiah 7:9 You steal, murder, commit adultery, lie when you take oaths, burn incense as an offering to Baal, and run after other gods that you do not know.

Jeremiah 7:10 Then you stand in my presence in the house that is called by my name. You think that you're safe to do all these disgusting things.

Jeremiah 7:11 The house that is called by my name has become a gathering place for thieves. I have seen what you are doing,' " declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 7:12 " 'But go to my place that was at Shiloh, where I first made a dwelling place for my name. See what I did to Shiloh because of the evil done by my people Israel.

Jeremiah 7:13 You have done the same things the people did at Shiloh,' " declares the LORD. " 'Although I spoke to you again and again, you did not listen. When I called you, you did not answer.

Jeremiah 7:14 So what I did to Shiloh I will now do to the house that is called by my name. This is the place I gave to you and to your ancestors, the place where you feel so safe.

Jeremiah 7:15 I will force you out of my sight as I forced out all your relatives, all of Ephraim's descendants.'

Jeremiah 7:16 "Jeremiah, don't pray for these people. Don't cry or pray for them. Don't plead with me, because I will not listen to you.

Jeremiah 7:17 Don't you see what they are doing in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

Jeremiah 7:18 Children gather wood, fathers light fires, and women knead dough to make cakes for the queen of heaven. They pour out wine offerings to other gods in order to make me furious.

Jeremiah 7:19 They aren't really provoking me," declares the LORD. "But they are [harming] themselves to their own shame.

Jeremiah 7:20 "This is what the Almighty LORD says: My anger and fury will be poured out on this place, on humans and animals, and on trees and crops. My anger and fury will burn and not be put out.

Jeremiah 7:21 "This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices, and eat the meat.

Jeremiah 7:22 When I brought your ancestors out of Egypt, I did not tell them anything about burnt offerings and sacrifices.

Jeremiah 7:23 But I did tell them this, 'Obey me, and I will be your God, and you will be my people. Live the way I told you to live so that things will go well for you.'

Jeremiah 7:24 But they didn't obey me or pay attention to me. They followed their own plans and their stubborn, evil ways. They went backward and not forward.

Jeremiah 7:25 From the time that your ancestors left Egypt until now, I have sent all my servants the prophets to you again and again.

Jeremiah 7:26 But you didn't obey me or pay attention to me. You became impossible to deal with, and you were worse than your ancestors.

Jeremiah 7:27 "Jeremiah, you will say all these things to them, but they will not obey you. You will call to them, but they will not respond to you.

Jeremiah 7:28 You will say to them, 'This is the nation that did not obey the LORD their God. They did not accept discipline. Truth has disappeared and vanished from their lips.'

Jeremiah 7:29 "Cut off your hair and throw it away. Sing a song of mourning on the bare hills, because in his anger the LORD has rejected and abandoned the people of this generation.

Jeremiah 7:30 The people of Judah have done what I consider evil," declares the LORD. "They set up their detestable idols in the house that is called by my name. They have made it unclean.

Jeremiah 7:31 They have built worship sites at Topheth in the valley of Ben Hinnom in order to burn their sons and daughters as sacrifices. I did not ask for this. It never entered my mind.

Jeremiah 7:32 "That is why the days are coming," declares the LORD, "when that place will no longer be known as Topheth or the valley of Ben Hinnom. Instead, it will be known as Slaughter Valley. They will bury [people] at Topheth because no other place will be left.

Jeremiah 7:33 The dead bodies of these people will become food for birds and animals, and no one will be there to frighten them away.

Jeremiah 7:34 In the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, I will banish the sounds of joy and happiness and the sounds of brides and grooms, because the land will be a wasteland."

Jeremiah 8:1 The LORD declares, "At that time the bones of the kings and the leaders of Judah, the bones of the priests and the prophets, and the bones of the others who lived in Jerusalem will be taken out of their graves.

Jeremiah 8:2 They will be spread out and exposed to the sun, the moon, and all the stars in the sky. These are the things that they had loved, served, gone after, sought, and worshiped. Their bones will not be gathered or buried, but they will become manure on the ground.

Jeremiah 8:3 "Then the few who remain from these wicked people will want to die rather than live where I will scatter them," declares the LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 8:4 "Say to them, 'This is what the LORD says: When someone falls, he gets back up. When someone turns away from me, he returns.

Jeremiah 8:5 The people of Jerusalem turned away from me without ever returning. They still cling to deceit. They refuse to return.

Jeremiah 8:6 I have paid attention and listened, but they weren't honest. They don't turn away from their wickedness and ask, "What have we done?" They go their own ways like horses charging into battle.

Jeremiah 8:7 Even storks know when it's time to return. Mourning doves, swallows, and cranes know when it's time to migrate. But my people don't know that I, the LORD, am urging them to return.

Jeremiah 8:8 “ ‘How can you say that you are wise and that you have the LORD’s teachings? The scribes have used their pens to turn these teachings into lies.

Jeremiah 8:9 Wise people are put to shame, confused, and trapped. They have rejected the word of the LORD. They don’t really have any wisdom.

Jeremiah 8:10 That is why I will give their wives to other men and their fields to new owners. All of them, from the least important to the most important, are eager to make money dishonestly. All of them, from prophets to priests, act deceitfully.

Jeremiah 8:11 They treat my dear people’s wounds as though they were not serious, saying, “Everything is alright! Everything is alright!” But it’s not alright.

Jeremiah 8:12 Are they ashamed that they do disgusting things? No, they’re not ashamed. They don’t even know how to blush. So they will die with those who die. They will be brought down when I punish them,’ “ says the LORD.

Jeremiah 8:13 “ ‘I would have gathered their harvest,’ “ declares the LORD, “ ‘but there are no grapes on the vine. There are no figs on the tree, and the leaves have dried up. What I have given them will be taken away.’”

Jeremiah 8:14 Why are we just sitting here? Let’s get up! Let’s go into the fortified cities and die there. The LORD our God has condemned us to die. He has given us poison to drink because we have sinned against the LORD.

Jeremiah 8:15 We hoped for peace, but nothing good has happened. We hoped for a time of healing, but there’s only terror.

Jeremiah 8:16 The snorting of horses can be heard from Dan. The neighing of stallions makes the whole land tremble. They are coming to devour the land and everything in it, the city and its people.

Jeremiah 8:17 “I am going to send snakes among you, vipers that can’t be charmed. They will bite you,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 8:18 Sorrow has overwhelmed me. I am sick at heart!

Jeremiah 8:19 The cry from my dear people comes from a distant land: “Isn’t the LORD in Zion? Isn’t Zion’s king still there?” They make me furious with their idols, with their foreign gods.

Jeremiah 8:20 The harvest is past, the summer has ended, and we haven’t been saved.

Jeremiah 8:21 I am crushed because my dear people have been crushed. I mourn; terror grips me.

Jeremiah 8:22 Isn’t there medicine in Gilead? Aren’t there doctors there? Then why hasn’t the health of my dear people been restored?

Jeremiah 9:1 “I wish that my head were [filled with] water and my eyes were a fountain of tears so that I could cry day and night for my dear people who have been killed.

Jeremiah 9:2 I wish I had a place to stay in the desert. I would abandon my people and go away from them. They are all adulterers, a mob of traitors.

Jeremiah 9:3 They use their tongues like bows that shoot arrows. Lies and dishonesty rule the land. They go from one evil thing to another, and they don’t know me,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 9:4 “Beware of your neighbors. Don’t trust your relatives. Every relative cheats. Every neighbor goes around slandering.

Jeremiah 9:5 Everyone cheats his neighbor. No one speaks the truth. My people train their tongues to speak lies. They wear themselves out doing wrong.

Jeremiah 9:6 Oppression follows oppression. Deceit follows deceit. They refuse to acknowledge me,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 9:7 This is what the LORD of Armies says: I will now refine them with fire and test them. What else can I do for my dear people?

Jeremiah 9:8 Their tongues are like deadly arrows. They speak deceitfully. People speak politely to their neighbors, but they think of ways to set traps for them.

Jeremiah 9:9 I will punish them for these things, declares the LORD. I will punish this nation. I still won’t be satisfied.

Jeremiah 9:10 I will cry and weep for the mountains. I will sing a funeral song for the pastures in the wilderness. They are destroyed so that no one can travel through them. No one can hear the sound of cattle. Birds and cattle have fled. They are gone.

Jeremiah 9:11 I will turn Jerusalem into a pile of rubble, a home for jackals. I will destroy the cities of Judah so that no one can live there.

Jeremiah 9:12 No one is wise enough to understand this. To whom has the LORD revealed this so that they can explain it? The land dies; it has been ruined like the desert so that no one can travel through it.

Jeremiah 9:13 The LORD answered, “They’ve abandoned my teachings that I placed in front of them. They didn’t obey me, and they didn’t follow them.

Jeremiah 9:14 They followed their own stubborn ways and other gods-the Baals, as their ancestors taught them.”

Jeremiah 9:15 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I am going to feed these people bitterness and give them poison to drink.

Jeremiah 9:16 I will scatter them among nations that they and their ancestors haven’t heard of. I will send armies after them until I’ve wiped them out.

Jeremiah 9:17 This is what the LORD of Armies says: Consider this: Call for the women who cry at funerals. Send for those who are the most skilled.

Jeremiah 9:18 They should come quickly and cry for us. Our eyes will run with tears. Our eyelids will flow with water.

Jeremiah 9:19 The sound of crying is heard from Zion. “We’re ruined! We’re very ashamed. We must leave our land because our homes have been torn down.”

Jeremiah 9:20 Listen to the word of the LORD, you women, and open your ears to hear his words. Teach your daughters how to cry. Teach your neighbors funeral songs.

Jeremiah 9:21 Death has come through our windows and entered our palaces. Death has cut down the children in the streets and the young men in the market places.

Jeremiah 9:22 This is what the LORD says: Dead bodies will fall like manure on the field. They will be like grain that has been cut but not gathered.

Jeremiah 9:23 This is what the LORD says: Don’t let wise people brag about their wisdom. Don’t let strong people brag about their strength. Don’t let rich people brag about their riches.

Jeremiah 9:24 If they want to brag, they should brag that they understand and know me. They should brag that I, the LORD, act out of love, righteousness, and justice on the earth. This kind of bragging pleases me, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 9:25 “The days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will punish all who are circumcised.

Jeremiah 9:26 I will punish Egypt, Judah, Edom, Ammon, and Moab. I will punish all who shave the hair on their foreheads or live in the desert. Even though these nations are circumcised, all Israel has uncircumcised hearts.”

Jeremiah 10:1 Listen to the message that the LORD has spoken to you, nation of Israel.

Jeremiah 10:2 This is what the LORD says: Don’t learn the practices of the nations. Don’t be frightened by the signs in the sky because the nations are frightened by them.

Jeremiah 10:3 The religion of the people is worthless. Woodcutters cut down trees from the forest. The hands of craftsmen prepare them with axes.

Jeremiah 10:4 Craftsmen decorate them with silver and gold and fasten them [together] with hammers and nails so that they won’t fall over.

Jeremiah 10:5 These trees are like scarecrows in cucumber gardens. They aren’t able to speak. They have to be carried, because they can’t walk. Don’t be afraid of them. They can’t harm you. They can’t do you any good either.

Jeremiah 10:6 No one is like you, O LORD. You are great. Your name is powerful.

Jeremiah 10:7 Everyone fears you, O King of the Nations. This is what you deserve. No one is like you among all the wise people in the nations or in all their kingdoms.

Jeremiah 10:8 They are complete idiots. They learn nonsense from wooden idols.

Jeremiah 10:9 Hammered silver is brought from Tarshish and gold from Uphaz. Craftsmen and goldsmiths shape these metals. The clothing for the idols is blue and purple, all made by skilled workers.

Jeremiah 10:10 But the LORD is the only God. He is the living God and eternal king. The earth trembles when he is angry. The nations can’t endure his fury.

Jeremiah 10:11 Tell them this: These gods will disappear from the earth and from under heaven because they didn’t make heaven and earth.

Jeremiah 10:12 The LORD made the earth by his power. He set up the world by his skill. He stretched out the world by his understanding.

Jeremiah 10:13 He speaks, and the water in the sky produces a storm. He makes clouds rise from the ends of the earth. He makes lightning flash with the rain. He brings wind out of his storehouses.

Jeremiah 10:14 Everyone is stupid and ignorant. Metalsmiths are put to shame by their idols. Their statues are false [gods]. They can’t breathe.

Jeremiah 10:15 They are worthless jokes. When they are punished, they disappear.

Jeremiah 10:16 Jacob’s God isn’t like them. He made everything, and Israel is the tribe that belongs to him. His name is the LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 10:17 Pick up your bags. You are being blockaded.

Jeremiah 10:18 This is what the LORD says: I am going to throw out those who live in the land at this time and cause trouble for them so that they will feel it.

Jeremiah 10:19 Oh, I’m wounded! My wound is serious. Then I thought that this is my punishment, and I will bear it.

Jeremiah 10:20 My tent is destroyed, and all my ropes are broken. My children have left me and have disappeared. There's no one to set up my tent again or put up my tent curtains.

Jeremiah 10:21 The shepherds are foolish. They don't look to the LORD for help. That is why they won't succeed, and all their flocks will be scattered.

Jeremiah 10:22 The report has arrived. A tremendous uproar is coming from the land of the north. Its army will destroy Judah's cities and make them homes for jackals.

Jeremiah 10:23 O LORD, I know that the way humans act is not under their control. Humans do not direct their steps as they walk.

Jeremiah 10:24 Correct me, O LORD, but please be fair. Don't correct me when you're angry. Otherwise, you'll reduce me to nothing.

Jeremiah 10:25 Pour out your fury on the nations who don't know you and on people who don't worship you. They have devoured the descendants of Jacob. They have devoured them completely. They have destroyed their homes.

Jeremiah 11:1 This is the message that the LORD spoke to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 11:2 "Listen to the terms of this promise, and tell them to the people of Judah and to those who live in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 11:3 Say to them, 'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Cursed is anyone who doesn't listen to the terms of this promise.

Jeremiah 11:4 I made this promise to your ancestors when I brought them out of Egypt, which was an iron smelter. I said, "Obey me, and do everything that I have told you to do. Then you will be my people, and I will be your God.

Jeremiah 11:5 I will keep the oath I made to your ancestors and give them a land flowing with milk and honey, the land you still have today." ' " I answered, "Yes, LORD."

Jeremiah 11:6 The LORD said to me, "Announce all these things in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: Listen to the terms of this promise, and keep them.

Jeremiah 11:7 I solemnly warned your ancestors when I brought them out of Egypt, and the warning still applies to you today. I solemnly warned them to obey me.

Jeremiah 11:8 But they didn't obey me or pay attention to me. They followed their own stubborn, evil ways. So I punished them, because they did not keep all the terms of the promise, the terms that I commanded them to keep."

Jeremiah 11:9 The LORD said to me, "Conspiracy exists among the people of Judah and among those who live in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 11:10 They've gone back to the evil ways of their ancestors and refused to obey my words. They are following other gods and worshiping them. The nations of Israel and Judah have rejected the promise that I made to their ancestors.

Jeremiah 11:11 This is what the LORD says: I'm going to bring a disaster on them that they can't escape. Although they will cry out to me, I won't listen to them.

Jeremiah 11:12 Then the cities of Judah and those who live in Jerusalem will cry to the gods to whom they've been sacrificing. But these gods will never rescue them when they're in trouble.

Jeremiah 11:13 Judah, you have as many gods as you have cities. You have set up many altars [in Jerusalem] to sacrifice to Baal. You have as many altars as there are streets in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 11:14 Jeremiah, don't pray for these people. Don't cry or pray for them. I won't listen when they call to me for help in times of trouble.

Jeremiah 11:15 "What right do these people I love have to be in my house when they do so many devious things? Can the meat from their sacrifices turn disaster away from them? They rejoice when they do evil."

Jeremiah 11:16 The LORD called you a large olive tree that has beautiful fruit to look at. He will set fire to you with a mighty storm, and your branches will be broken.

Jeremiah 11:17 The LORD of Armies planted you. He has pronounced disaster on you. This is because of the evil things that Israel and Judah have done. They have made him furious by burning incense as an offering to Baal.

Jeremiah 11:18 The LORD revealed their plot to me so that I would understand. He showed me what they were doing.

Jeremiah 11:19 I was like a trusting lamb brought to the slaughter. I didn't know that they were plotting against me. They were saying, "Let's destroy the tree with its fruit. Let's cut Jeremiah off from this world of the living so that we won't be reminded of him anymore."

Jeremiah 11:20 O LORD of Armies, you judge fairly and test motives and thoughts. I want to see you take revenge on them, because I've brought my case to you.

Jeremiah 11:21 This is what the LORD says: The people of Anathoth want to kill you. They say, "Don't prophesy in the name of the LORD, or we'll kill you."

Jeremiah 11:22 This is what the LORD of Armies says: I'm going to punish them. The young men will die because of war. Their sons and daughters will die because of famine.

Jeremiah 11:23 I will bring a disaster on the people of Anathoth. It will be a year of punishment. There will be no survivors.

Jeremiah 12:1 O LORD, even if I would argue my case with you, you would always be right. Yet, I want to talk to you about your justice. Why do wicked people succeed? Why do treacherous people have peace and quiet?

Jeremiah 12:2 You plant them, and they take root. They grow, and they produce fruit. They speak well of you with their lips, but their hearts are far from you.

Jeremiah 12:3 You know me, O LORD. You see me and test my devotion to you. Drag them away like sheep to be slaughtered. Prepare them for the day of slaughter.

Jeremiah 12:4 How long will the land mourn? How long will the plants in every field remain dried up? The animals and the birds are dying, because people are wicked. They think that God doesn't know what they are doing.

Jeremiah 12:5 "If you have raced against others on foot, and they have tired you out, how can you compete with horses? If you stumble in open country, how can you live in the jungle along the Jordan River?

Jeremiah 12:6 Even your relatives and members of your father's household betray you. They have also formed a mob to find you. Don't trust them when they say good things about you.

Jeremiah 12:7 "I have abandoned my nation. I have left my own people. I have handed the people I love over to their enemies.

Jeremiah 12:8 My people have turned on me like a lion in the forest. They roar at me, so I hate them.

Jeremiah 12:9 My people are like a colorful bird of prey. Other birds of prey surround it. Go, gather all the animals in the field, and bring them to devour it.

Jeremiah 12:10 Many shepherds have destroyed my vineyard. They've trampled my property. They've turned my pleasant property into a wasteland.

Jeremiah 12:11 They've left it a wasteland. Devastated, it mourns in my presence. The whole land is destroyed, but no one takes this to heart.

Jeremiah 12:12 Looters swarm all over the bare hills in the desert. The LORD's sword destroys them from one end of the land to the other. No one will be safe.

Jeremiah 12:13 My people planted wheat, but they harvested thorns. They worked until they became sick, but they gained nothing by it. They were disappointed by their harvests because of the burning anger of the LORD.

Jeremiah 12:14 "This is what I, the LORD, say about all my evil neighbors who take the inheritance that I gave my people Israel: I am going to uproot those neighbors from their lands. I will also uproot the people of Judah from among them.

Jeremiah 12:15 After I've uprooted them, I will have compassion on them again. I will return them to their inheritance and to their lands.

Jeremiah 12:16 Suppose they learn carefully the ways of my people. Suppose they take an oath in my name, 'As the LORD lives…' as they taught my people to take an oath in [the name of] Baal. Then they will build homes among my people.

Jeremiah 12:17 But suppose they don't listen. Then I will uproot that nation and destroy it," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 13:1 This is what the LORD said to me: "Buy a linen belt. Put it around your waist. Don't let it get wet."

Jeremiah 13:2 So I bought the belt, as the LORD had told me, and put it around my waist.

Jeremiah 13:3 The LORD spoke his word to me again. He said,

Jeremiah 13:4 "Take the belt that you bought, the one you're wearing. Go to the Euphrates River, and bury it there in a crack in the rocks."

Jeremiah 13:5 So I went and buried it by the Euphrates, as the LORD had told me.

Jeremiah 13:6 After many days the LORD said to me, "Go to the Euphrates, and get the belt from where I told you to bury it."

Jeremiah 13:7 So I went back to the Euphrates and dug it up. I got the belt from where I had buried it. Now the belt was ruined. It was good for nothing.

Jeremiah 13:8 Then the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Jeremiah 13:9 "This is what the LORD says: This is how I will destroy Judah's arrogance and Jerusalem's extreme arrogance.

Jeremiah 13:10 These wicked people refuse to listen to me. They go their own stubborn ways and follow other gods in order to serve them and worship them. They are like this good-for-nothing belt.

Jeremiah 13:11 As a belt clings to a person's waist, so I have made the entire nation of Israel and the entire nation of Judah cling to me," declares the LORD. "I did this so that they would be my people and bring fame, praise, and honor to me. However, they wouldn't listen.

Jeremiah 13:12 "Give this message to them, 'This is what the LORD God of Israel says: Every bottle will be filled with wine.' Then they will say to you, 'We know that every bottle will be filled with wine.'

Jeremiah 13:13 Say to them, 'This is what the LORD says: I'm going to make everyone who lives in this land drunk. The kings who sit on David's throne, the priests, the prophets, and all those who live in Jerusalem will become drunk.

Jeremiah 13:14 Then I will smash them like bottles against each other. I will smash parents and children together, declares the LORD. I will have no pity, mercy, or compassion when I destroy them.'"

Jeremiah 13:15 Listen, and pay attention! Don't be arrogant. The LORD has spoken.

Jeremiah 13:16 Honor the LORD your God before it gets dark, before your feet stumble on the mountains in the twilight. You will look for light, but the LORD will turn it into the shadow of death and change it into deep darkness.

Jeremiah 13:17 If you won't listen, I will cry secretly over your arrogance. I will cry bitterly, and my eyes will flow with tears because the LORD's flock will be taken captive.

Jeremiah 13:18 Say to the king and his mother, "Come down from your thrones, because your crowns have fallen off your heads."

Jeremiah 13:19 The cities in the Negev will be locked up, and there will be no one to reopen them. All the people of Judah will be taken away into captivity.

Jeremiah 13:20 Look up, and see those who are coming from the north. Where is the flock that was given to you-your beautiful sheep?

Jeremiah 13:21 What will you say when God makes the people you thought were your friends your new masters? Won't pain grip you like a woman in labor?

Jeremiah 13:22 If you ask yourself, "Why do these things happen to me?" it's because you have so many sins. Your clothes have been torn off and your limbs are bare.

Jeremiah 13:23 Can Ethiopians change the color of their skin or leopards change their spots? Can you do good when you're taught to do wrong?

Jeremiah 13:24 "I will scatter you like straw that is blown away by a desert wind.

Jeremiah 13:25 This is your fate, the destiny I have planned for you," declares the LORD. "You have forgotten me and trusted false gods.

Jeremiah 13:26 I will also tear off your clothes, and your shame will be seen.

Jeremiah 13:27 I have seen you commit adultery and squeal with delight. I have seen you act like a shameless prostitute on the hills and in the fields. How horrible it will be for you, Jerusalem! Will you ever be clean?"

Jeremiah 14:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah about the drought.

Jeremiah 14:2 Judah mourns; its gates fall apart. The people of Judah sit in mourning on the ground. Their cry goes up from Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 14:3 Important people send their assistants out for water. They go to the cisterns, but they don't find any water. They come back with their containers empty. They cover their heads, because they are ashamed and disgraced.

Jeremiah 14:4 The ground is cracked because there has been no rain in the land. The farmers are disappointed. They cover their heads.

Jeremiah 14:5 Even deer in the fields give birth and abandon their young because there's no grass.

Jeremiah 14:6 Wild donkeys stand on the bare hills. They sniff the air like jackals. Their eyesight fails because they have no green plants.

Jeremiah 14:7 Do something, LORD, for the sake of your name, even though our sins testify against us. We have been unfaithful and have sinned against you.

Jeremiah 14:8 You are Israel's hope, the one who saves it in times of trouble. Why should you be like a stranger in the land, like a traveler who stays only one night?

Jeremiah 14:9 Why should you be like someone taken by surprise, like a strong man who cannot help? You, O LORD, are among us. We are called by your name. Don't leave us!

Jeremiah 14:10 This is what the LORD says about these people: They love to wander. They don't keep their feet where they belong. So the LORD isn't happy with them. He will remember their crimes and punish their sins.

Jeremiah 14:11 The LORD said to me, "Don't pray for the good of these people.

Jeremiah 14:12 Even if they go without food, I won't listen to their cries for help. Even if they sacrifice burnt offerings and grain offerings, I won't be pleased with them. But I will destroy these people with wars, famines, and plagues."

Jeremiah 14:13 Then I said, "Almighty LORD, prophets are saying to them, 'You won't see wars or famines, because I, the LORD, will give you lasting peace in this place.'"

Jeremiah 14:14 Then the LORD told me, "These are the lies that the prophets are telling in my name: They claim that I sent them, commanded them, and spoke to them. They dreamed up the visions they tell you. Their predictions are worthless. They are the products of their own imagination.

Jeremiah 14:15 "I didn't send these prophets. Yet, they prophesy in my name that there will be no wars or famines in this land. So this is what I, the LORD, say about them: Wars and famines will bring an end to these prophets.

Jeremiah 14:16 The people they prophesy to will be thrown out into the streets of Jerusalem. They will be victims of famines and wars. No one will bury them, their wives, their sons, or their daughters. I will pour on them the destruction that they deserve.

Jeremiah 14:17 “Say this to them: ‘My eyes flow with tears day and night without stopping because my dear people will suffer massive destruction. It will be a very serious blow.’”

Jeremiah 14:18 If I go to the field, I see those killed because of war. If I go to the city, I see those sick because of famine. Prophets and priests wander through a land they haven’t heard of.

Jeremiah 14:19 Have you completely rejected Judah? Do you despise Zion? Why have you struck us so hard that we cannot heal? We hope for peace, but no good comes from it. We hope for a time of healing, but there’s only terror.

Jeremiah 14:20 O LORD, we realize our wickedness and the wrongs done by our ancestors. We have sinned against you.

Jeremiah 14:21 For the sake of your name, don’t despise us. Don’t dishonor your glorious throne. Remember your promise to us; don’t break it.

Jeremiah 14:22 The worthless gods of the nations can’t make it rain. By themselves, the skies can’t give showers. But you can, O LORD our God. We have hope in you because you do all these things.

Jeremiah 15:1 Then the LORD said to me, “Even if Moses and Samuel were standing in front of me, I would not feel sorry for these people. Send them away from me, and let them go.

Jeremiah 15:2 When they ask you where they should go, say to them, ‘This is what the LORD says: Those who are destined to die will die. Those who are destined to die in wars will die in wars. Those who are destined to die in famines will die in famines. Those who are destined to die in captivity will die in captivity.’

Jeremiah 15:3 “I will devise four ways to punish them,” declares the LORD. “I will send swords to kill, dogs to drag away, and birds and animals to devour and destroy.

Jeremiah 15:4 I will make these people a horrifying sight to all the kingdoms on the earth. This will happen because of what Judah’s King Manasseh, son of Hezekiah, did in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 15:5 No one will take pity on you, Jerusalem. No one will mourn for you. No one will bother to ask how you are doing.

Jeremiah 15:6 You have left me,” declares the LORD. “You have turned your back on me. So I will use my power against you and destroy you. I’m tired of showing compassion to you.

Jeremiah 15:7 “I will separate them with a winnowing shovel at the city gates. I will make them childless. I will destroy my people because they will not change their ways.

Jeremiah 15:8 Their widows will be more numerous than the grains of sand on the seashore. At noontime I will send a destroyer against the mothers of young men. I will suddenly bring anguish and terror to them.

Jeremiah 15:9 A mother who gives birth to seven sons will grow faint and breathe her last. She will die, ashamed and humiliated, while it is still daylight. I will put survivors from these people to death in the presence of their enemies," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 15:10 I'm so miserable! Why did my mother give birth to me? I am a man who argues and quarrels with the whole earth. I have never lent or borrowed anything. Yet, everyone curses me.

Jeremiah 15:11 The LORD said, "I will certainly rescue you for a good reason. I will certainly make your enemies plead with you in times of disaster and in times of distress.

Jeremiah 15:12 (No one can break iron, iron from the north, or bronze.)

Jeremiah 15:13 I will give away your wealth and treasures as loot as the price for all the sins that you have committed throughout your territory.

Jeremiah 15:14 I will make you serve your enemies in a land that you haven't heard of, because my anger has started a fire. It will burn you."

Jeremiah 15:15 O LORD, you understand. Remember me, take care of me, and take revenge on those who persecute me. Be patient, and don't take me away. You should know that I've been insulted because of you.

Jeremiah 15:16 Your words were found, and I devoured them. Your words are my joy and my heart's delight, because I am called by your name, O LORD God of Armies.

Jeremiah 15:17 I didn't keep company with those who laugh and have fun. I sat alone because your hand was on me. You filled me with outrage.

Jeremiah 15:18 Why is my pain unending and my wound incurable, refusing to heal? Will you disappoint me like a stream that dries up in summertime?

Jeremiah 15:19 This is what the LORD says: If you will return, I will take you back. If you will speak what is worthwhile and not what is worthless, you will stand in my presence. The people will return to you, but you will not return to them.

Jeremiah 15:20 I will make you like a solid bronze wall in front of these people. They will fight you, but they will not defeat you. I am with you, and I will save you and rescue you, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 15:21 I will rescue you from the power of wicked people and free you from the power of tyrants.

Jeremiah 16:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Jeremiah 16:2 “Don’t marry! Don’t have any sons or daughters in this place!

Jeremiah 16:3 This is what the LORD says about the sons and daughters born in this place and about the mothers and fathers who have children in this land:

Jeremiah 16:4 They will die horrible deaths. No one will mourn for them or bury them. They will be like manure on the ground. Wars and famines will bring them to an end. Their bodies will be food for birds and animals.

Jeremiah 16:5 “This is what the LORD says: Don’t go into a house where people are grieving. Don’t go to mourn or to grieve for them. I’m taking my peace, love, and compassion away from these people,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 16:6 “Old and young alike will die in this land. No one will mourn for them or bury them. No one will cut his own body or shave his own head for them.

Jeremiah 16:7 No one will offer food to comfort those who mourn the dead. No one will give a consoling drink to those who have lost their fathers or mothers.

Jeremiah 16:8 “Don’t even go into a home where there is a banquet. Don’t sit with them to eat and drink.

Jeremiah 16:9 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I’m going to put a stop to the sounds of joy and happiness and the sounds of brides and grooms in this place. This will happen in your lifetime, while you watch.

Jeremiah 16:10 “When you tell the people all these things, they will ask you, ‘Why does the LORD threaten us with all these disasters? What have we done wrong? How have we sinned against the LORD our God?’

Jeremiah 16:11 Then say to them, ‘It’s because your ancestors abandoned me, declares the LORD. They followed other gods, served them, worshiped them, and abandoned me. They didn’t obey my teachings.

Jeremiah 16:12 You have done worse than your ancestors. All of you are following your own stubborn, evil ways that keep you from obeying me.

Jeremiah 16:13 So I will throw you out of this land into a land that you and your ancestors haven’t heard of. There you will serve other gods day and night because I will no longer have pity on you.’

Jeremiah 16:14 “That is why the days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when people will no longer begin an oath with, ‘The LORD brought the people of Israel out of Egypt. As the LORD lives….’

Jeremiah 16:15 But they will say, 'The LORD brought the people of Israel out of the land of the north and all the lands where he had scattered them. As the LORD lives....' They will say this because I will bring them back to the land that I gave their ancestors.

Jeremiah 16:16 "I'm going to send for many fishermen," declares the LORD, "and they will catch the people of Israel. After that, I will send for many hunters, and they will hunt for them on every mountain and hill and even in the cracks in the rocks.

Jeremiah 16:17 I see everything that they do. They can't hide anything from me. Their wickedness can't be hidden; I can see it.

Jeremiah 16:18 First, I will have them pay twice as much for their wickedness and their sin, because they have polluted my land. They have filled my property with the lifeless statues of their detestable and disgusting idols."

Jeremiah 16:19 The LORD is my strength and my fortress, my refuge in times of trouble. Nations come to you from the most distant parts of the world and say, "Our ancestors have inherited lies, worthless and unprofitable gods."

Jeremiah 16:20 "People can't make gods for themselves. They aren't really gods.

Jeremiah 16:21 That is what I will teach them. This time I will make my power and my strength known to them. Then they will know that my name is the LORD."

Jeremiah 17:1 [The LORD says,] "Judah's sin is written with an iron pen. It is engraved with a diamond point on the tablet of their hearts and on the horns of their altars.

Jeremiah 17:2 Even their children remember their altars and their poles dedicated to the goddess Asherah beside large trees on high hills

Jeremiah 17:3 and on mountains in the open country. I will turn your wealth and all your treasures into loot. I will do this because of your worship sites and your sin throughout all your territory.

Jeremiah 17:4 You will lose the inheritance that I gave you. I will make you serve your enemies in a land that you haven't heard of. I will do this because you have stirred up the fire of my anger. It will burn forever.

Jeremiah 17:5 "This is what the LORD says: Cursed is the person who trusts humans, who makes flesh and blood his strength and whose heart turns away from the LORD.

Jeremiah 17:6 He will be like a bush in the wilderness. He will not see when something good comes. He will live in the dry places in the desert, in a salty land where no one can live.

Jeremiah 17:7 Blessed is the person who trusts the LORD. The LORD will be his confidence.

Jeremiah 17:8 He will be like a tree that is planted by water. It will send its roots down to a stream. It will not be afraid in the heat of summer. Its leaves will turn green. It will not be anxious during droughts. It will not stop producing fruit.

Jeremiah 17:9 “The human mind is the most deceitful of all things. It is incurable. No one can understand how deceitful it is.

Jeremiah 17:10 I, the LORD, search minds and test hearts. I will reward each person for what he has done. I will reward him for the results of his actions.

Jeremiah 17:11 A person who gets rich dishonestly is like a partridge that hatches eggs it did not lay. During his lifetime, he will lose his wealth. In the end, he will be a godless fool.”

Jeremiah 17:12 Our holy place is a glorious throne, highly honored from the beginning.

Jeremiah 17:13 O LORD, the Hope of Israel, all who abandon you will be put to shame. Those who turn away from you will be written in dust, because they abandon the LORD, the fountain of life-giving water.

Jeremiah 17:14 Heal me, O LORD, and I will be healed. Rescue me, and I will be rescued. You are the one I praise.

Jeremiah 17:15 People keep asking me, “Where is the word of the LORD? Let it come.”

Jeremiah 17:16 I have not run away from being your shepherd, and I have not longed for the day of destruction. You know what came out of my mouth.

Jeremiah 17:17 Do not terrorize me. You are my refuge on the day of disaster.

Jeremiah 17:18 Put my persecutors to shame, but do not let me be put to shame. Terrify them, but do not let me be terrified. Bring the day of disaster on them, and destroy them completely.

Jeremiah 17:19 This is what the LORD said to me: Stand at People’s Gate, where the kings of Judah go in and out. Then stand at every gate in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 17:20 Tell everyone: “Listen to the word of the LORD, you kings of Judah, all the people of Judah, and all those who live in Jerusalem, and go through these gates.

Jeremiah 17:21 This is what the LORD says: Watch out! If you value your lives, do not carry anything on the day of worship or bring it through the gates of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 17:22 Do not bring anything out of your homes on the day of worship. Do not do any work, but observe the day of worship as a holy day, as I told your ancestors.

Jeremiah 17:23 Your ancestors did not obey me or pay attention to me. They were impossible to deal with and would not listen or accept discipline.

Jeremiah 17:24 “Now,” declares the LORD, “you must listen to me and not bring anything through the gates of this city on the day of worship. You must observe the day of worship as a holy day by not doing any work on it.

Jeremiah 17:25 If you do this, then the kings and princes who sit on David’s throne will come through the gates of this city. They and their princes will ride in chariots and on horses along with the people of Judah and those who live in Jerusalem. This city will always have people living in it.

Jeremiah 17:26 “People will come from the cities of Judah, from all around Jerusalem, from the territory of Benjamin, from the foothills, from the mountains, and from the Negev. They will bring burnt offerings, sacrifices, grain offerings, and incense. They will also bring thank offerings to the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 17:27 But you must listen to me and observe the day of worship as a holy day by not carrying anything through the gates of Jerusalem on the day of worship. If you don’t do this, I will set its gates on fire. The fire will burn down the palaces in Jerusalem, and you won’t be able to put it out.”

Jeremiah 18:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 18:2 “Go to the potter’s house. There I will give you my message.”

Jeremiah 18:3 I went to the potter’s house, and he was working there at his wheel.

Jeremiah 18:4 Whenever a clay pot he was working on was ruined, he would rework it into a new clay pot the way he wanted to make it.

Jeremiah 18:5 The LORD spoke his word to me. The LORD asked,

Jeremiah 18:6 “Nation of Israel, can’t I do with you as this potter does with clay? Nation of Israel, you are like the clay in the potter’s hands.

Jeremiah 18:7 “At one time I may threaten to tear up, break down, and destroy a nation or a kingdom.

Jeremiah 18:8 But suppose the nation that I threatened turns away from doing wrong. Then I will change my plans about the disaster I planned to do to it.

Jeremiah 18:9 “At another time I may promise to build and plant a nation or a kingdom.

Jeremiah 18:10 But suppose that nation does what I consider evil and doesn’t obey me. Then I will change my plans about the good that I promised to do to it.

Jeremiah 18:11 “Now say to the people of Judah and to those who live in Jerusalem, ‘This is what the LORD says: I’m going to prepare a disaster and make plans against you. Turn from your evil ways, change your lives, and do good.’

Jeremiah 18:12 “But they will answer, ‘It’s useless! We’ll live the way we want to. We’ll go our own stubborn, evil ways.’

Jeremiah 18:13 “This is what the LORD says: Ask among the nations if anyone has ever heard anything like this. The people of Israel have done a very horrible thing.

Jeremiah 18:14 The rocky slopes of Lebanon are never without snow. The cool mountain streams never dry up.

Jeremiah 18:15 But my people have forgotten me. They burn incense as an offering to worthless idols, and they stumble along the way, on the ancient path. They go on side roads and not on major highways.

Jeremiah 18:16 Their land will become desolate and something to be hissed at forever. Everyone who will pass by it will be stunned and shake his head.

Jeremiah 18:17 Like the east wind I will scatter them in front of the enemy. On the day of their disaster, I will show them my back, not my face.”

Jeremiah 18:18 Then they said, “Let’s plot against Jeremiah, because the teachings of the priests, the advice of wise people, and the word of the prophets won’t disappear. Accuse him! Pay no attention to anything he says.”

Jeremiah 18:19 Pay attention to me, O LORD, and listen to what my accusers say.

Jeremiah 18:20 Good should not be paid back with evil. They dig a pit to take my life. Remember how I stood in your presence and pleaded for them in order to turn your anger away from them.

Jeremiah 18:21 Now, hand their children over to famine. Pour out their [blood] by using your sword. Then their wives will become childless widows. Their husbands will be put to death. Their young men will be struck down in battle.

Jeremiah 18:22 Make them cry out from their homes when you suddenly send troops against them, because they dug a pit to catch me and hid snares for my feet.

Jeremiah 18:23 But you, O LORD, know that they plan to kill me. Don’t forgive their crimes. Don’t wipe their sins out of your sight. Make them stumble in your presence. Deal with them when you get angry.

Jeremiah 19:1 This is what the LORD says: Go and buy a clay jar from a potter. Take along some of the leaders of the people and some of the leaders of the priests.

Jeremiah 19:2 Go to the valley of Ben Hinnom at the entrance to Potsherd Gate. Announce there the things I plan to do.

Jeremiah 19:3 Say, “Listen to the word of the LORD, you kings of Judah and those who live in Jerusalem. This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I’m going to bring such a disaster on this place that the ears of everyone who hears about it will ring.

Jeremiah 19:4 “The people, their ancestors, and the kings of Judah have abandoned me. They have made this place unrecognizable by burning incense as an offering to other gods that they hadn’t heard of. They have filled this place with the blood of innocent people.

Jeremiah 19:5 They have built worship sites to burn their children as sacrifices to Baal. I didn’t ask them or command them to do this. It never entered my mind.

Jeremiah 19:6 “That is why the days are coming, declares the LORD, when this place will no longer be called Topheth or the valley of Ben Hinnom. Instead, it will be called Slaughter Valley.

Jeremiah 19:7 I will smash the plans of Judah and Jerusalem in this place. I will cut them down with swords in front of their enemies and with the hands of those who want to kill them. I will give their bodies as food to birds and to animals.

Jeremiah 19:8 I will devastate this city. It will become something to hiss at. Everyone who goes by it will be stunned and hiss with contempt at all the disasters that happen to it.

Jeremiah 19:9 I will make the people eat the flesh of their sons and daughters. They will eat each other’s flesh during blockades and hardships that their enemies impose on them when they want to kill them.”

Jeremiah 19:10 [The LORD says,] “Then smash the jar in front of the men who went with you.

Jeremiah 19:11 Say to them, ‘This is what the LORD of Armies says: I will smash these people and this city as this potter’s jar was smashed beyond repair. They will bury [the dead] in Topheth until there’s no other place to bury them.

Jeremiah 19:12 That’s what I will do to this place and to those who live in it, declares the LORD. I will make this city like Topheth.

Jeremiah 19:13 The houses in Jerusalem, the houses of the kings of Judah, and all the rooftops of the houses will be unclean like this city Topheth. This is because people burned incense to the entire army of heaven and poured out wine offerings to other gods.’ “

Jeremiah 19:14 Then Jeremiah left Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy. He stood in the courtyard of the LORD’s temple and said to all the people, Jeremiah 19:15 “This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I’m going to bring on this city and on all its towns the disasters that I threatened. They’ve become impossible to deal with, and they refuse to obey me.”

Jeremiah 20:1 Now the priest, Immer’s son Pashhur, the chief officer of the LORD’s temple, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things.

Jeremiah 20:2 Pashhur struck the prophet Jeremiah and put him in prison at Upper Benjamin Gate that was in the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 20:3 The next day when Pashhur took Jeremiah out of prison, Jeremiah said to him, “The LORD doesn’t call you Pashhur, but he calls you Terror Everywhere.

Jeremiah 20:4 This is what the LORD says: I’m going to make you terrify yourself and all your friends. Their enemies’ swords will kill them, and you will see it with your own eyes. I will hand all of Judah over to the king of Babylon. He will take the people away as captives to Babylon or kill them with swords.

Jeremiah 20:5 I will hand all the riches of this city over to their enemies. This will include all its produce, all its valuables, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah. Their enemies will loot them, take them away, and bring them to Babylon.

Jeremiah 20:6 And you, Pashhur, and all those who live in your house will go into captivity. You will go to Babylon, and you will die there. You will be buried there together with all your friends to whom you prophesied these lies.”

Jeremiah 20:7 O LORD, you have deceived me, and I was deceived. You overpowered me and won. I’ve been made fun of all day long. Everyone mocks me.

Jeremiah 20:8 Each time I speak, I have to cry out and shout, “Violence and destruction!” The word of the LORD has made me the object of insults and contempt all day long.

Jeremiah 20:9 I think to myself, “I can forget the LORD and no longer speak his name.” But [his word] is inside me like a burning fire shut up in my bones. I wear myself out holding it in, but I can’t do it any longer.

Jeremiah 20:10 I have heard many [people] whispering, “Terror is everywhere! Report him! Let’s report him!” All my closest friends are waiting to see me stumble. They say, “Maybe he will be tricked. Then we can overpower him and take revenge on him.”

Jeremiah 20:11 But the LORD is on my side like a terrifying warrior. That is why those who persecute me will stumble. They can’t win. They will be very ashamed that they can’t succeed. Their eternal shame will not be forgotten.

Jeremiah 20:12 But the LORD of Armies examines the righteous. He sees their motives and thoughts. I want to see you take revenge on them, because I’ve brought my case to you.

Jeremiah 20:13 Sing to the LORD! Praise the LORD! He has rescued the lives of needy people from the power of wicked people.

Jeremiah 20:14 Cursed is the day that I was born, the day that my mother gave birth to me. May it not be blessed.

Jeremiah 20:15 Cursed is the man who made my father very happy with the news that he had just become the father of a baby boy.

Jeremiah 20:16 May that man be like the cities that the LORD destroyed without pity. May he hear a cry of alarm in the morning and a battle cry at noon.

Jeremiah 20:17 If only he had killed me while I was in the womb. Then my mother would have been my grave, and she would have always been pregnant.

Jeremiah 20:18 Why did I come out of the womb? All I’ve seen is trouble and grief. I will finish my days in shame.

Jeremiah 21:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah when King Zedekiah sent Pashhur, son of Malchiah, and the priest Zephaniah, son of Maaseiah, to Jeremiah. They said,

Jeremiah 21:2 “Consult the LORD for us, because King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon is attacking us. Maybe the LORD will perform miracles for us so that Nebuchadnezzar will retreat.”

Jeremiah 21:3 Jeremiah responded to them, “This is what you should say to Zedekiah,

Jeremiah 21:4 ‘This is what the LORD God of Israel says: I’m going to take your weapons away from you. You are using these weapons to fight the king of Babylon as well as the Babylonians who are now blockading you outside the wall. I will bring the Babylonians inside this city.

Jeremiah 21:5 I will fight you in anger, fury, and rage with my powerful hand and my mighty arm.

Jeremiah 21:6 I will defeat those who live in this city, both people and animals. They will die from a terrible plague.

Jeremiah 21:7 Afterwards, declares the LORD, I will hand over Judah’s King Zedekiah, his officials, the people, and everyone else in this city who survives the plague, war, and famine. They will be handed over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and to their enemies who want to kill them. Nebuchadnezzar will kill them with swords. He won’t spare them, show them compassion, or care for them.’

Jeremiah 21:8 “Say to these people, ‘This is what the LORD says: I am going to give you the choice of life or death.

Jeremiah 21:9 Those who live in this city will die in the war, famine, or plague. Those of you who go out and surrender to the Babylonians will live. You will escape with your lives.

Jeremiah 21:10 I’ve decided to harm this city, not to do good to it, declares the LORD. It will be handed over to the king of Babylon, and he will burn it down.’

Jeremiah 21:11 “Say to the nation of the king of Judah, ‘Listen to the word of the LORD,

Jeremiah 21:12 descendants of David. This is what the LORD says: Judge fairly every morning. Rescue those who have been robbed from those who oppress them. Otherwise, my fury will break out and burn like fire. No one will be able to put it out because of the evil things you have done.

Jeremiah 21:13 “ ‘I’m against you, Jerusalem. You are the city that is in the valley and on the rock in the plain,’ “ declares the LORD. “ ‘But you ask, “Who can attack us? Who can enter our places of refuge?”

Jeremiah 21:14 “ ‘I will punish you because of the evil things you have done,’ “ declares the LORD. “ ‘I will start a fire in your forests, and it will burn up everything around you.’”

Jeremiah 22:1 This is what the LORD says: Go to the palace of the king of Judah, and speak this message there:

Jeremiah 22:2 “Listen to the word of the LORD, you officials, you people who come into these gates, and you, king of Judah, the one sitting on David’s throne.

Jeremiah 22:3 “This is what the LORD says: Judge fairly, and do what is right. Rescue those who have been robbed from those who oppress them. Don’t mistreat foreigners, orphans, or widows, and don’t oppress them. Don’t kill innocent people in this place.

Jeremiah 22:4 If you do what I say, then the kings who sit on David’s throne will ride through the gates of this palace in chariots and on horses along with their officials and their people.

Jeremiah 22:5 But if you don’t do what I say, I will take an oath on myself,” declares the LORD, “that this palace will become a pile of rubble.

Jeremiah 22:6 “This is what the LORD says about the palace of the king of Judah: This palace is like Gilead to me, like the top of Lebanon. I will certainly turn it into a desert, into cities that no one lives in.

Jeremiah 22:7 I will send people to destroy you. They will have their own weapons. They will cut down your finest cedar trees and throw them on a fire.

Jeremiah 22:8 “People from many nations will pass by this city and ask each other, ‘Why has the LORD done this to this important city?’

Jeremiah 22:9 The answer will be: ‘They rejected the promise of the LORD their God. They worshiped other gods and served them.’ “

Jeremiah 22:10 Don't cry for the dead. Don't shake your heads at them. Cry bitterly for those who are taken away, because they won't come back to see their homeland.

Jeremiah 22:11 This is what the LORD says about King Josiah's son Shallum, who succeeded his father as king of Judah and left this place: He will never come back here again.

Jeremiah 22:12 He will die in the place where he was taken captive, and he will never see this land again.

Jeremiah 22:13 "How horrible it will be for the person who builds his house dishonestly and his upper rooms through injustice. He makes his neighbors work for nothing and doesn't pay them for their work.

Jeremiah 22:14 He says, 'I will build a large house for myself with big upper rooms.' He cuts out windows in it, panels the rooms with cedar, and paints them red.

Jeremiah 22:15 Do you think you're a better king than others because you use more cedar? Your father ate and drank and did what is fair and right. Everything went well for him.

Jeremiah 22:16 He defended the cause of the poor and needy. Everything went well for him. Isn't this what it means to know me?" asks the LORD.

Jeremiah 22:17 "But your eyes and your mind are set on nothing but dishonest profits. You kill innocent people and violently oppress your people."

Jeremiah 22:18 This is what the LORD says about Jehoiakim, son of Judah's King Josiah: People won't mourn for him and say, "How horrible it is for my brother and sister!" They won't mourn for him and say, "How horrible it is for my master and his splendor!"

Jeremiah 22:19 He will receive a donkey's burial. He will be dragged off and thrown outside the gates of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 22:20 "Go to Lebanon and cry! Raise your voice in Bashan! Cry out from Abarim, because all your lovers are defeated."

Jeremiah 22:21 I spoke to you when you were prosperous, but you said that you wouldn't listen. This is how you've been ever since you were young. You don't listen to me.

Jeremiah 22:22 The wind will blow away all your shepherds, and your lovers will go into captivity. Then you will be ashamed and disgraced by all your wickedness.

Jeremiah 22:23 You live in Lebanon and have your nest in the cedars. But you will groan when pain strikes you, pain like a woman giving birth to a child.

Jeremiah 22:24 "As I live," declares the LORD, "even though you, Jehoiakin, son of Judah's King Jehoiakim, are the signet ring on my right hand, I will pull you off my hand.

Jeremiah 22:25 I will hand you over to those who want to kill you, those you fear-King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and the Babylonians.

Jeremiah 22:26 I will throw you and your mother into another land. You weren't born there, but you will die there.

Jeremiah 22:27 You will want to return to this land, but you won't be allowed to come home."

Jeremiah 22:28 This Jehoiakin is like a rejected and broken pot that no one wants. Is that why he and his descendants will be thrown out and cast into another land they've never heard of?

Jeremiah 22:29 O land, land, land! Listen to the word of the LORD.

Jeremiah 22:30 This is what the LORD says: Write this about Jehoiakin: He will be childless. He won't prosper in his lifetime. None of his descendants will succeed him as king. They won't sit on David's throne and rule Judah again.

Jeremiah 23:1 "How horrible it will be for the shepherds who are destroying and scattering the sheep in my care," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:2 "This is what I, the LORD God of Israel, said to the shepherds who take care of my people: You have scattered my sheep and chased them away. You have not taken care of them, so now I will take care of you by punishing you for the evil you have done," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:3 "Then I will gather the remaining part of my flock from all the countries where I chased them. I will bring them back to their pasture, and they will be fertile and increase in number.

Jeremiah 23:4 I will put shepherds over them. Those shepherds will take care of them. My sheep will no longer be afraid or terrified, and not one of them will be missing," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:5 "The days are coming," declares the LORD, "when I will grow a righteous branch for David. He will be a king who will rule wisely. He will do what is fair and right in the land.

Jeremiah 23:6 In his lifetime, Judah will be saved, and Israel will live in safety. This is the name that he will be given: The LORD Our Righteousness.

Jeremiah 23:7 "That is why the days are coming," declares the LORD, "when people's oaths will no longer be, 'The LORD brought the people of Israel out of Egypt. As the LORD lives....'

Jeremiah 23:8 Instead, their oaths will be, 'The LORD brought the descendants of the nation of Israel out of the land of the north and all the lands where he had scattered them. As the LORD lives....' At that time they will live in their own land.

Jeremiah 23:9 "[Say this] about the prophets: I am deeply disturbed. All my bones tremble. I am like a drunk, like a person who has had too much wine, because of the LORD and his holy words.

Jeremiah 23:10 The land is filled with adulterers. The land mourns because of the curse. Pastures in the wilderness have dried up. The people are evil, and they use their strength to do the wrong things.

Jeremiah 23:11 The prophets and priests are godless. Even in my temple I've found them doing evil," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:12 "That is why their own way will become like slippery paths in the dark. They will be chased away, and they will fall down in the dark. I will bring disaster on them. It is time for them to be punished," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:13 "[Say this] about the prophets of Samaria: I saw something disgusting. The prophets of Samaria prophesied by Baal and led my people Israel astray.

Jeremiah 23:14 "[Say this] about the prophets of Jerusalem: I see something horrible. The prophets of Jerusalem commit adultery and live a lie. They support those who do evil so that no one turns back from his wickedness. They are all like Sodom to me, and those who live in Jerusalem are like Gomorrah."

Jeremiah 23:15 This is what the LORD of Armies says about the prophets: I will give them wormwood to eat and poison to drink. The prophets of Jerusalem have spread godlessness throughout the land.

Jeremiah 23:16 This is what the LORD of Armies says: Don't listen to what the prophets are saying to you. They fill you with false hope. They speak about visions that they dreamed up. These visions are not from the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:17 They keep saying to those who despise me, "The LORD says, 'Everything will go well for you.' " They tell all who live by their own stubborn ways, "Nothing bad will happen to you."

Jeremiah 23:18 Who is in the LORD's inner circle and sees and hears his word? Who pays attention and listens to his word?

Jeremiah 23:19 The storm of the LORD will come with his anger. Like a windstorm, it will swirl down on the heads of the wicked.

Jeremiah 23:20 The anger of the LORD will not turn back until he has done everything he intends to do. In the last days you will understand this clearly.

Jeremiah 23:21 I didn't send these prophets, yet they ran [with their message]. I didn't speak to them, yet they prophesied.

Jeremiah 23:22 If they had been in my inner circle, they would have announced my words to my people. They would have turned back from their evil ways and the evil they have done.

Jeremiah 23:23 "I am a God who is near. I am also a God who is far away," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:24 "No one can hide so that I can't see him," declares the LORD. "I fill heaven and earth!" declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:25 “I’ve heard the prophets who speak lies in my name. They say, ‘I had a dream! I had a dream!’

Jeremiah 23:26 How long will these prophets continue to lie and deceive?

Jeremiah 23:27 They tell each other the dreams they had, because they want to make my people forget my name, as their ancestors forgot my name because of Baal.

Jeremiah 23:28 The prophet who has a dream should tell his dream. However, the person who has my word should honestly speak my word. What does grain have to do with straw?” asks the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:29 “Isn’t my word like fire or like a hammer that shatters a rock?” asks the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:30 “I’m against the prophets who steal my words from each other,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:31 “I’m against the prophets who speak their own thoughts and say that they speak for me.

Jeremiah 23:32 I’m against those who prophesy dreams they made up,” declares the LORD. “They tell the dreams they made up and lead my people astray with their lies and their wild talk. I didn’t send them or command them to go. They don’t help these people at all,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 23:33 “When these people, the prophets, or the priests ask you, ‘What revelation has the LORD burdened you with now?’ say to them, ‘You are the burden! I will abandon you, declares the LORD.’

Jeremiah 23:34 Suppose the prophets, the priests, or these people say, ‘This is the LORD’s revelation!’ I will punish them and their families.

Jeremiah 23:35 They should ask their neighbors and their relatives, ‘What is the LORD’s answer?’ and ‘What did the LORD say?’

Jeremiah 23:36 They should never again say, ‘This is the LORD’s revelation,’ because each person’s word becomes the revelation. They will twist the words of the living God, the LORD of Armies, our God.

Jeremiah 23:37 “Jeremiah, say this to the prophets, ‘What was the LORD’s answer to you?’ and ‘What did the LORD say?’

Jeremiah 23:38 Suppose they say, ‘This is the LORD’s revelation!’ Then say, ‘This is what the LORD says: Because you have said, “This is the LORD’s revelation!” even though I commanded you not to repeat this saying,

Jeremiah 23:39 I will certainly forget you. I will throw you out of my presence and out of the city that I gave you and your ancestors.

Jeremiah 23:40 I will bring eternal disgrace and shame on you. It will never be forgotten.’”

Jeremiah 24:1 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon took Jehoiakin (son of King Jehoiakim of Judah), the princes of Judah, the skilled workers, and the builders from Jerusalem into captivity and brought them to Babylon. After this, the LORD showed me two baskets of figs set in front of the LORD's temple.

Jeremiah 24:2 One basket had very good figs, like figs that ripen first. The other basket had very bad figs. These figs were so bad that they couldn't be eaten.

Jeremiah 24:3 Then the LORD asked me, "What do you see, Jeremiah?" I answered, "Figs. Figs that are very good. I also see figs that are very bad, so bad that they can't be eaten."

Jeremiah 24:4 The LORD spoke his word to me,

Jeremiah 24:5 "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: The captives of Judah, whom I sent away from here to Babylon, are like these good figs. I will look kindly on them.

Jeremiah 24:6 I will watch over them for their own good, and I will bring them back to this land. I will build them up and not tear them down. I will plant them and not uproot them.

Jeremiah 24:7 I will give them the desire to know that I am the LORD. They will be my people, and I will be their God, because they will wholeheartedly come back to me.

Jeremiah 24:8 "But this is what the LORD says about the bad figs that are so bad that they can't be eaten. The LORD says, 'Like these bad figs, I will abandon King Zedekiah of Judah, his princes, the remaining few in Jerusalem who stayed behind in this land, and those who are living in Egypt.

Jeremiah 24:9 I will make them a horrifying sight to all the kingdoms of the earth. They will be a disgrace and an example. They will become something ridiculed and cursed wherever I scatter them.

Jeremiah 24:10 I will send wars, famines, and plagues until they disappear from the land that I gave to them and their ancestors.'"

Jeremiah 25:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah about all the people of Judah when Jehoiakim, son of Josiah, was in his fourth year as king. (This was the first year that Nebuchadnezzar was king of Babylon.)

Jeremiah 25:2 The prophet Jeremiah spoke to all the people of Judah and to everyone who lived in Jerusalem. He said,

Jeremiah 25:3 "For 23 years, from the time that Josiah, son of Amon, was in his thirteenth year as king of Judah until today, the LORD continued to speak his word to me. So I have spoken to you again and again, but you have not listened.

Jeremiah 25:4 "Even though the LORD has sent all his servants the prophets to you, you haven't listened or paid attention to them.

Jeremiah 25:5 The prophets said, 'Turn from your evil ways and the evil you have done, and live in the land that the LORD permanently gave to you and your ancestors.

Jeremiah 25:6 Don't follow other gods to serve and worship them. Don't make me furious about the idols your hands have shaped. Then I won't harm you.

Jeremiah 25:7 But you haven't listened to me, declares the LORD. You have made me furious about the idols your hands have shaped and [have brought] harm upon yourselves.'

Jeremiah 25:8 "This is what the LORD of Armies says: You did not listen to my words,

Jeremiah 25:9 so I'm going to send for all the families from the north. I will also send for my servant King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, declares the LORD. I will bring the families from the north to attack this land, its people, and all these surrounding nations. I'm going to destroy them and turn them into something terrible, something ridiculed, and something permanently ruined.

Jeremiah 25:10 I will take from them the sounds of joy and happiness, the sounds of brides and grooms, the sound of mills, and the light of lamps.

Jeremiah 25:11 This whole land will be ruined and become a wasteland. These nations will serve the king of Babylon for 70 years.

Jeremiah 25:12 "When the 70 years are over, I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation for their crimes, declares the LORD. I will turn Babylon into a permanent wasteland.

Jeremiah 25:13 I will bring on that land all the disasters I threatened to do to it, everything that Jeremiah prophesied against all the nations, everything written in this book.

Jeremiah 25:14 Many nations and great kings will make slaves of the people of Babylon, and I will pay them back for what they have done."

Jeremiah 25:15 This is what the LORD God of Israel said to me: Take from my hand this cup filled with the wine of my fury, and make all the nations to whom I'm sending you drink from it.

Jeremiah 25:16 When they drink from it, they will stagger and go insane because of the wars that I'm going to send them.

Jeremiah 25:17 So I took the cup from the LORD's hand. I made all the nations to whom the LORD sent me drink from it:

Jeremiah 25:18 Jerusalem and the cities of Judah as well as its kings and officials. When they drank from it, they became wastelands and ruins, something ridiculed and cursed, until today.

Jeremiah 25:19 [I also made these people drink from it:] Pharaoh king of Egypt, his servants, officials, all his people, Jeremiah 25:20 and all the foreign people living among them; all the kings of the land of Uz; all the kings of Philistia, those from the cities of Ashkelon, Gaza, and Ekron, and the people left in Ashdod;

Jeremiah 25:21 Edom, Moab, and the people of Ammon;

Jeremiah 25:22 all the kings of Tyre and Sidon, and the kings on the seacoast;

Jeremiah 25:23 Dedan, Tema, Buz, and all who shave the hair on their foreheads;

Jeremiah 25:24 all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the foreign people living in the desert;

Jeremiah 25:25 all the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of Media;

Jeremiah 25:26 all the kings of the north, near and far, one after another-all the kingdoms of the earth. Last of all, the king of Sheshach will drink from the cup.

Jeremiah 25:27 [The LORD said,] “Say to them, ‘This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Drink, get drunk, vomit, fall down, and don’t get up because of the wars that I’m going to send you.’

Jeremiah 25:28 But if they refuse to take the cup from your hand and drink from it, say to them, ‘This is what the LORD of Armies says: You must drink from it!

Jeremiah 25:29 I am going to bring disaster on the city that is named after me. Do you think you’ll go unpunished? You will not go unpunished! I’m declaring war on all those who live on earth, declares the LORD of Armies.’

Jeremiah 25:30 “That is why you will prophesy all these things to them and say, ‘The LORD roars from above. He thunders from his holy dwelling place. He roars against his land. He shouts like those who stomp grapes. He shouts against all those who live on earth.

Jeremiah 25:31 The sound is echoing to the ends of the earth because the LORD has brought charges against the nations. He will judge all humans. He will kill the wicked, declares the LORD.’

Jeremiah 25:32 “This is what the LORD of Armies says: Disaster is spreading from nation to nation. A great storm is brewing from the distant corners of the earth.”

Jeremiah 25:33 On that day those killed by the LORD will stretch from one end of the earth to the other. They will not be mourned, taken away, or buried. They will become like manure on the ground.

Jeremiah 25:34 Mourn, you shepherds, and cry. Roll in the dust, you leaders of the flock. The time has come for you to be slaughtered. The time has come for you to be scattered, and you will break like fine pottery.

Jeremiah 25:35 There will be no place for the shepherds to flee, no escape for the leaders of the flock.

Jeremiah 25:36 The shepherds are crying and the leaders of the flock are mourning because the LORD is stripping their pasture.

Jeremiah 25:37 The peaceful pastures are destroyed by the LORD's burning anger.

Jeremiah 25:38 He has left his lair like a lion. Their land has been ruined because of the heat of the oppressor, because of the fury of his anger.

Jeremiah 26:1 The LORD spoke his word when Judah's King Jehoiakim, son of Josiah, began to rule. He said,

Jeremiah 26:2 "This is what the LORD says: Stand in the courtyard of the LORD's temple, and speak to all the people who come from the cities of Judah to worship in the LORD's temple. Tell them everything that I command you to tell them. Don't leave out a single word.

Jeremiah 26:3 Maybe they'll listen, and they'll turn from their evil ways. Then I'll change my plan about the disaster I intend to bring on them because of the evil they have done."

Jeremiah 26:4 The LORD added, "Also say to them, 'This is what the LORD says: Suppose you don't listen to me and don't follow my teachings that I set in front of you.

Jeremiah 26:5 Suppose you don't listen to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I sent to you again and again, even though you didn't listen.

Jeremiah 26:6 Then I will do to this temple what I did to Shiloh. I will turn this city into something that will be cursed by all the nations on earth.'"

Jeremiah 26:7 The priests, the prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these things in the LORD's temple.

Jeremiah 26:8 But as soon as Jeremiah finished saying everything that the LORD had commanded him to say, the priests, the prophets, and all the people grabbed him and said, "You must die!

Jeremiah 26:9 Why do you prophesy in the LORD's name that this temple will be like Shiloh and this city will become a pile of rubble with no one living here?" Then all the people crowded around Jeremiah in the LORD's temple.

Jeremiah 26:10 When the officials of Judah heard about these things, they went from the king's palace to the LORD's temple. They sat at the entrance of New Gate to the LORD's [temple].

Jeremiah 26:11 Then the priests and the prophets said to the officials and all the people, "This man is condemned to die because he prophesied against this city as you yourselves have heard."

Jeremiah 26:12 Then Jeremiah said to all the officials and all the people, “The LORD sent me to prophesy everything that you have heard me say against this temple and against this city.

Jeremiah 26:13 Now, change your ways and what you are doing, and listen to the LORD your God. Then the LORD will change his plan about the disaster that he intends to bring on you.

Jeremiah 26:14 “My life is in your hands. Do with me whatever you think is good and right.

Jeremiah 26:15 But know for certain that if you put me to death, you, this city, and the people living in it will be guilty of killing an innocent person. The LORD has certainly sent me to speak all these things to you.”

Jeremiah 26:16 Then the officials and all the people said to the priests and prophets, “This man should not be condemned to die. He has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.”

Jeremiah 26:17 Then some of the leaders in the land got up and said to the entire crowd,

Jeremiah 26:18 “Micah from Moresheth prophesied at the time of Judah’s King Hezekiah and said to all the people of Judah, ‘This is what the LORD of Armies says: Zion will be plowed like a field, Jerusalem will become a pile of rubble, and the temple mountain will become a worship site covered with trees.’

Jeremiah 26:19 Did Judah’s King Hezekiah and all the people of Judah put Micah to death? No! Hezekiah feared the LORD and sought the LORD’s favor. So the LORD changed his plan about the disaster he intended to bring on them. But we are about to bring a bigger disaster on ourselves.”

Jeremiah 26:20 There was another man prophesying in the name of the LORD. His name was Uriah, son of Shemaiah, from Kiriath Jearim. He prophesied against this city and this land as Jeremiah did.

Jeremiah 26:21 When King Jehoiakim and all his personal troops and officials heard what Uriah said, the king wanted to put him to death. But Uriah heard about it and fled in fear to Egypt.

Jeremiah 26:22 King Jehoiakim sent soldiers to Egypt: Elnathan (son of Achbor) and other soldiers along with him.

Jeremiah 26:23 They brought Uriah from Egypt and took him to King Jehoiakim. The king executed Uriah and threw his body into the burial ground for the common people.

Jeremiah 26:24 Ahikam, son of Shaphan, supported Jeremiah. So Jeremiah was not handed over to the people to be put to death.

Jeremiah 27:1 When Zedekiah, son of King Josiah of Judah, began to rule, the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 27:2 This is what the LORD said to me: Make [leather] straps and a wooden yoke, and strap the yoke on your neck.

Jeremiah 27:3 Then send messages to the kings of Edom, Moab, Ammon, Tyre, and Sidon, with messengers who have come to King Zedekiah of Judah in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 27:4 Give them an order for their masters: “This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Say this to your masters,

Jeremiah 27:5 ‘I used my great strength and my powerful arm to make the earth along with the people and the animals on it. I give it to anyone I please.

Jeremiah 27:6 Now I have handed all these countries over to my servant King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. I have even made wild animals serve him.

Jeremiah 27:7 All nations will serve him, his son, and his grandson until Babylon is defeated. Then many nations and great kings will make him their slave.

Jeremiah 27:8 “ ‘Suppose nations or kingdoms won’t serve or surrender to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. I will punish those nations by wars, famines, and plagues, until I have put an end to them by Nebuchadnezzar’s power, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 27:9 Don’t listen to prophets, mediums, interpreters of dreams, fortunetellers, or sorcerers who tell you that you’ll never serve the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 27:10 They are prophesying lies to you. They will cause you to be taken far from your lands. I’ll scatter you, and you will die.

Jeremiah 27:11 But suppose a nation surrenders to the king of Babylon and serves him. I will let it stay in its own land. People will farm the land and live on it,’ “ declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 27:12 I spoke the same message to King Zedekiah of Judah, “Surrender to the king of Babylon, serve him and his people, and you will stay alive.

Jeremiah 27:13 Why should you and your people die in wars, famines, and plagues? The LORD has threatened the nations that don’t serve the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 27:14 Don’t listen to the prophets who tell you that you’ll never serve the king of Babylon. They are prophesying lies to you.

Jeremiah 27:15 I didn’t send them, declares the LORD. They prophesy lies in my name. So I will scatter you, and you and the prophets will die.”

Jeremiah 27:16 I also spoke this message to the priests and all the people. “This is what the LORD said to me: Don’t listen to the prophets who tell you that the utensils of the LORD’s temple will be brought back from Babylon soon. They are prophesying lies to you.

Jeremiah 27:17 Don’t listen to them. Instead, serve the king of Babylon, and live. Why should this city be turned into rubble?

Jeremiah 27:18 If they are prophets and the LORD is speaking to them, they should beg the LORD of Armies not to allow the utensils that are left in the LORD’s temple, in the royal palace of Judah, and in Jerusalem to be taken away to Babylon.

Jeremiah 27:19 “Babylon’s King Nebuchadnezzar took Jehoiakin, son of King Jehoiakim of Judah, into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon along with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem. But he didn’t take the pillars, the bronze pool, the stands, and the rest of the utensils that are left in this city.

Jeremiah 27:20

Jeremiah 27:21 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says about the utensils that are left in the LORD’s temple, in the royal palace of Judah, and in Jerusalem:

Jeremiah 27:22 They will be taken to Babylon and stay there until I come for them, declares the LORD. I will take them from there and bring them back to this place.”

Jeremiah 28:1 In that same year, early in the rule of King Zedekiah of Judah, in the fifth month of his fourth year as king, the prophet Hananiah, son of Azzur, from Gibeon, spoke to me in the LORD’s temple. He said to me in front of the priests and all the people, Jeremiah 28:2 “This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 28:3 Within two years I will bring back all the utensils of the LORD’s temple that King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon took from this place and carried off to Babylon.

Jeremiah 28:4 I will also bring back to this place Jehoiakin, son of King Jehoiakim of Judah, and all the captives of Judah who went to Babylon, declares the LORD. So I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.”

Jeremiah 28:5 The prophet Jeremiah replied to the prophet Hananiah in front of the priests and all the people standing in the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 28:6 He said, “Amen! May the LORD do this! May the LORD make your prophecy come true and bring back the utensils of the LORD’s temple and all the captives from Babylon to this place.

Jeremiah 28:7 But now listen to this message that I am speaking to you and to all the people:

Jeremiah 28:8 Long ago, the prophets who preceded you and me prophesied wars, disasters, and plagues against many countries and great kingdoms.

Jeremiah 28:9 But the prophet who prophesied peace was recognized as a prophet that the LORD sent only if the message of the prophet came true.”

Jeremiah 28:10 Then the prophet Hananiah took the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah and broke it.

Jeremiah 28:11 Hananiah said in front of all the people, “This is what the LORD says: In the same way, I will break the yoke of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon off the neck of all the nations within two years.” Then the prophet Jeremiah went on his way.

Jeremiah 28:12 After the prophet Hananiah broke the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said, Jeremiah 28:13 “Tell Hananiah, ‘This is what the LORD says: You have broken the wooden yoke, but I will replace it with an iron yoke.

Jeremiah 28:14 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I will put an iron yoke on the necks of all these nations so that they will serve King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. They will serve him! I will even make wild animals serve him.’”

Jeremiah 28:15 Then Jeremiah told the prophet Hananiah, “Now listen, Hananiah, the LORD hasn’t sent you. You have made these people believe a lie.

Jeremiah 28:16 This is what the LORD says: I’m going to remove you from the face of the earth. You will die this year because you have encouraged rebellion against the LORD.”

Jeremiah 28:17 So the prophet Hananiah died in the seventh month of that year.

Jeremiah 29:1 The prophet Jeremiah sent a letter from Jerusalem to the rest of the leaders among the captives. He also sent it to the priests, the prophets, and all the people that Nebuchadnezzar took away as captives from Jerusalem to Babylon.

Jeremiah 29:2 (This was after King Jehoiakin and his mother, the court officials, the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen, and metal workers left Jerusalem.)

Jeremiah 29:3 He sent the letter with Shaphan’s son Elasah and Hilkiah’s son Gemariah, whom King Zedekiah of Judah had sent to King Nebuchadnezzar in Babylon. The letter said:

Jeremiah 29:4 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says to all those who were taken captive from Jerusalem to Babylon:

Jeremiah 29:5 Build houses, and live in them. Plant gardens, and eat what they produce.

Jeremiah 29:6 Get married, and have sons and daughters. Find wives for your sons, and let your daughters get married so that they can have sons and daughters. Grow in number there; don’t decrease.

Jeremiah 29:7 Work for the good of the city where I've taken you as captives, and pray to the LORD for that city. When it prospers, you will also prosper.

Jeremiah 29:8 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Don't let the prophets or the mediums who are among you trick you. Don't even listen to your own dreams.

Jeremiah 29:9 These people are prophesying lies to you in my name. I didn't send them, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 29:10 This is what the LORD says: When Babylon's 70 years are over, I will come to you. I will keep my promise to you and bring you back to this place.

Jeremiah 29:11 I know the plans that I have for you, declares the LORD. They are plans for peace and not disaster, plans to give you a future filled with hope.

Jeremiah 29:12 Then you will call to me. You will come and pray to me, and I will hear you.

Jeremiah 29:13 When you look for me, you will find me. When you wholeheartedly seek me,

Jeremiah 29:14 I will let you find me, declares the LORD. I will bring you back from captivity. I will gather you from all the nations and places where I've scattered you, declares the LORD. I will bring you back from the place where you are being held captive.

Jeremiah 29:15 You've said that the LORD has given you prophets in Babylon.

Jeremiah 29:16 But this is what the LORD says about the king who sits on David's throne and about all the people who live in this city, the people who are your relatives and who weren't taken away as captives:

Jeremiah 29:17 The LORD of Armies says: I'm going to send them wars, famines, and plagues. These people are like rotten figs to me, figs that are so bad that they can't be eaten.

Jeremiah 29:18 I will chase them with wars, famines, and plagues. I will make them a horrifying sight to all the kingdoms on the earth. They will become something cursed, ridiculed, and hissed at, and they will be a disgrace among all the nations where I scatter them.

Jeremiah 29:19 They didn't listen to me, declares the LORD. I sent them my servants the prophets again and again, but they refused to listen, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 29:20 So listen to the word of the LORD, all you captives who were sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon.

Jeremiah 29:21 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says about Kolaiah's son Ahab and about Maaseiah's son Zedekiah, who prophesy lies to you in my name: I'm going to hand them over to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. I will kill them as you watch.

Jeremiah 29:22 Because of them, all the captives from Judah who are in Babylon will use this curse: May the LORD curse you as he cursed Zedekiah and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon burned to death.

Jeremiah 29:23 They have done shameful things in Israel. They committed adultery with their neighbors' wives and spoke lies in my name. I didn't command them to do this. I know what they have done. I'm a witness, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 29:24 [The LORD says,] "Say to Shemaiah from Nehelam,

Jeremiah 29:25 'This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: You sent letters in your own name to all the people who are in Jerusalem, to the priest Zephaniah, son of Maaseiah, and to all the priests. These letters said:

Jeremiah 29:26 The LORD made you priest instead of Jehoiada so that there would be officials for the LORD's temple. You should put any lunatic who acts like a prophet in prison and in shackles.

Jeremiah 29:27 Now, why haven't you arrested Jeremiah from Anathoth? After all, he acts like a prophet among you.

Jeremiah 29:28 That's why Jeremiah sent this message to us in Babylon: You will be captives a long time. Build houses, and live in them. Plant gardens, and eat what they produce.'"

Jeremiah 29:29 The priest Zephaniah read this letter to the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 29:30 Then the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 29:31 "Send this message to all the captives: 'This is what the LORD says about Shemaiah from Nehelam: Shemaiah prophesied to you, but I didn't send him. He has made you believe a lie.

Jeremiah 29:32 The LORD says: I will punish Shemaiah from Nehelam. I will also punish his descendants. No one from his family will be left alive. He will not see the blessings that I'm going to send my people, declares the LORD, because he has encouraged rebellion against the LORD.'"

Jeremiah 30:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 30:2 "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: Write in a book everything that I tell you.

Jeremiah 30:3 The days are coming," declares the LORD, "when I will bring my people Israel and Judah back from captivity. I will bring them back to the land that I gave their ancestors, and they will take possession of it."

Jeremiah 30:4 This is the message that the LORD spoke about Israel and Judah:

Jeremiah 30:5 “This is what the LORD says: “We hear cries of fear, cries of panic, not cries of peace.

Jeremiah 30:6 Ask now, and see: Can a man give birth to a child? Why, then, do I see every strong man holding his stomach in pain like a woman giving birth to a child? Why has every face turned pale?

Jeremiah 30:7 How terrible that day will be! There will be no other day like it. It will be a time of calamity for the descendants of Jacob, but they will be rescued from it.

Jeremiah 30:8 “On that day,” declares the LORD of Armies, “I will break the yokes off your necks and tear off your ropes. Foreigners will no longer make you serve them.

Jeremiah 30:9 You will serve the LORD your God and David your king. I will establish him for you.

Jeremiah 30:10 “Don’t be afraid, my servant Jacob,” declares the LORD. Don’t be terrified, Israel. I’m going to rescue you from a faraway place. I’m going to rescue your descendants from where they are captives. The descendants of Jacob will again have peace and security, and no one will frighten them.

Jeremiah 30:11 I am with you, and I will rescue you,” declares the LORD. “I will completely destroy all the nations where I scattered you, but I will not completely destroy you. I will correct you with justice. I won’t let you go entirely unpunished.

Jeremiah 30:12 “This is what the LORD says: Your wound is incurable. Your injury is beyond healing.

Jeremiah 30:13 No one argues that you should be healed. No medicine will heal you.

Jeremiah 30:14 All your lovers have forgotten you, and they don’t want you anymore. I’ve punished you as an enemy would. I’ve corrected you as a cruel person would. You are very wicked, and you have many sins.

Jeremiah 30:15 Why do you cry about your wound, your injury that can’t be cured? I’ve done this to you. You are very wicked, and you have many sins.

Jeremiah 30:16 That is why everyone who devours you will be devoured, and all your enemies will be taken away as captives. Those who looted you will be looted. Those who stole from you in war will have things stolen from them.

Jeremiah 30:17 I’ll restore your health and heal your wounds,” declares the LORD. “People call you an outcast: Zion, no one cares for you.

Jeremiah 30:18 “This is what the LORD says: I’m going to bring the captives back to Jacob’s tents and show compassion on their homes.

Cities will be built on the ruins, and fortified palaces will be built in their rightful place.

Jeremiah 30:19 The people who live there will sing songs of praise, and the sound of laughter will be heard from there. I'll make them numerous, and their number won't decrease. I'll bring them honor, and they won't be considered unimportant.

Jeremiah 30:20 Their children will be like they were long ago. Their community will be established in my presence, and I will punish everyone who oppresses them.

Jeremiah 30:21 Their leader will be someone from their own people. Their ruler will come from among them. I'll bring him near, and he will come close to me. Who would dare to come near me?" asks the LORD.

Jeremiah 30:22 You will be my people, and I will be your God.

Jeremiah 30:23 The storm of the LORD will come with his anger. Like a driving wind, it will swirl down on the heads of the wicked.

Jeremiah 30:24 The LORD's burning anger will not turn back until he has done everything he intends to do. In the last days you will understand this clearly.

Jeremiah 31:1 "At that time," declares the LORD, "I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they will be my people."

Jeremiah 31:2 This is what the LORD says: The people who survived the wars have found favor in the desert. Israel went to find its rest.

Jeremiah 31:3 The LORD appeared to me in a faraway place and said, "I love you with an everlasting love. So I will continue to show you my kindness.

Jeremiah 31:4 Once again I will build you up, and you will be rebuilt, my dear people Israel. Once again you will take your tambourines, and you will go dancing with happy people.

Jeremiah 31:5 Once again you will plant vineyards on the mountains of Samaria. Those who plant them will enjoy the fruit.

Jeremiah 31:6 There will be a day when watchmen on the mountains of Ephraim will call out this message: 'Arise! Let's go to Zion, to the LORD our God.'"

Jeremiah 31:7 This is what the LORD says: Sing a happy song about Jacob. Sing joyfully for the leader of the nations. Shout, sing praise, and say, "O LORD, rescue your people, the remaining few from Israel."

Jeremiah 31:8 "I will bring them from the land of the north. I will gather them from the farthest parts of the earth. Blind people and lame people will return together with pregnant women and those in labor. A large crowd will return here.

Jeremiah 31:9 They will cry as they return. They will pray as I bring them back. I will lead them beside streams on a level path where they will not stumble. I will be a Father to Israel, and Ephraim will be my firstborn.

Jeremiah 31:10 “You nations, listen to the word of the LORD. Tell it to the distant islands. Say, ‘The one who scattered the people of Israel will gather them and watch over them as a shepherd watches over his flock.’

Jeremiah 31:11 The LORD will free the descendants of Jacob and reclaim them from those who are stronger than they are.

Jeremiah 31:12 They will come and shout for joy on top of Mount Zion. They will stream to it to enjoy the LORD’s blessings: fresh grain, new wine, and olive oil, lambs and calves. Their lives will be like well-watered gardens, and they will never suffer again.

Jeremiah 31:13 Then young women will rejoice and dance along with young men and old men. I will turn their mourning into joy. I will comfort them. I will give them joy in place of their sorrow.

Jeremiah 31:14 I will satisfy the priests with rich food. My people will be filled with my blessings,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 31:15 This is what the LORD says: A sound is heard in Ramah, the sound of crying in bitter grief. Rachel is crying for her children. She refuses to be comforted, because they are dead.

Jeremiah 31:16 This is what the LORD says: Stop your crying, and wipe away your tears. You will be rewarded for your work, declares the LORD. You will return from the land of the enemy.

Jeremiah 31:17 Your future is filled with hope, declares the LORD. Your children will return to their own territory.

Jeremiah 31:18 “I have certainly heard Ephraim mourn and say, ‘You disciplined me, and I was disciplined. I was like a young, untrained calf. Turn me, and I will be turned, because you are the LORD my God.

Jeremiah 31:19 After I was turned around, I changed the way I thought and acted. After I was taught a lesson, I hung my head in shame. I was so ashamed and humiliated, because of all the stupid things I have done ever since I was young.’

Jeremiah 31:20 Is Ephraim my dear son? Is he a pleasant child? Even though I have often spoken against him, I still think fondly of him. That is why my heart longs for him, and I will certainly have compassion on him,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 31:21 Set up landmarks! Put up road signs! Remember the highway, the road on which you traveled. Come back, my dear people Israel, come back to your cities.

Jeremiah 31:22 How long will you wander around, you unfaithful people? The LORD will create something new on earth: A woman will protect a man.

Jeremiah 31:23 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: When I have brought them back from captivity, they will once again use this saying in Judah and in its cities: “The LORD will bless you, home of righteousness, holy mountain.

Jeremiah 31:24 Judah and all its cities will live there together. Farmers and shepherds will also live there.

Jeremiah 31:25 I will give those who are weary all they need. I will refresh everyone who is filled with sorrow.”

Jeremiah 31:26 At this, I woke up and looked around. My sleep had been pleasant.

Jeremiah 31:27 “The days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will plant the nations of Israel and Judah with people and animals.

Jeremiah 31:28 Once I watched over them to uproot them, to tear them down, and to wreck, ruin, and hurt them. Now I will watch over them to build them up and to plant them,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 31:29 “When those days come, people will no longer say, ‘Fathers have eaten sour grapes, and their children’s teeth are set on edge.’

Jeremiah 31:30 But each person will die for his own sin. Whoever eats sour grapes will have his own teeth set on edge.

Jeremiah 31:31 “The days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will make a new promise to Israel and Judah.

Jeremiah 31:32 It will not be like the promise that I made to their ancestors when I took them by the hand and brought them out of Egypt. They rejected that promise, although I was a husband to them,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 31:33 “But this is the promise that I will make to Israel after those days,” declares the LORD: “I will put my teachings inside them, and I will write those teachings on their hearts. I will be their God, and they will be my people.

Jeremiah 31:34 No longer will each person teach his neighbors or his relatives by saying, ‘Know the LORD.’ All of them, from the least important to the most important, will know me,” declares the LORD, “because I will forgive their wickedness and I will no longer hold their sins against them.”

Jeremiah 31:35 The LORD provides the sun to be a light during the day. He orders the moon and stars to be lights during the night. He stirs up the sea so that its waves roar. His name is the LORD of Armies. This is what the LORD says:

Jeremiah 31:36 Only if these laws stop working, declares the LORD, will Israel’s descendants stop being a nation in my presence.

Jeremiah 31:37 This is what the LORD says: Only if the heavens could be measured or the foundations of the earth could be searched, would I ever reject all of Israel’s descendants because of everything that they have done, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 31:38 “The days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when the city will be rebuilt for me from the Tower of Hananel to Corner Gate.

Jeremiah 31:39 A measuring line will stretch from there straight to the Hill of Gareb, and then it will turn to Goah.

Jeremiah 31:40 The whole valley, filled with its dead bodies and ashes, and the whole area to the Kidron Valley, as far as the corner of Horse Gate in the east, will be holy to the LORD. It will never be uprooted or torn down again.”

Jeremiah 32:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah during Zedekiah’s tenth year as king of Judah. (This was Nebuchadnezzar’s eighteenth year as king.)

Jeremiah 32:2 At that time the army of the king of Babylon was blockading Jerusalem. The prophet Jeremiah was locked up in the courtyard of the prison. This prison was in the palace of the king of Judah.

Jeremiah 32:3 When King Zedekiah of Judah locked up Jeremiah, Zedekiah asked him, “Why are you prophesying? You are saying, ‘This is what the LORD says: I’m going to hand this city over to the king of Babylon, and he will capture it.

Jeremiah 32:4 King Zedekiah of Judah will not escape from the Babylonians. He will certainly be handed over to the king of Babylon. He will talk to Nebuchadnezzar in person and look him in the eye.

Jeremiah 32:5 Nebuchadnezzar will take Zedekiah to Babylon, and Zedekiah will stay there until I deal with him, declares the LORD. When you fight the Babylonians, you won’t win.’”

Jeremiah 32:6 Jeremiah said, “The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Jeremiah 32:7 ‘Jeremiah, your cousin Hanamel, son of Shallum, is going to come to you and say, “Buy my field that is in Anathoth, because as the closest relative it is your responsibility to buy it.”’

Jeremiah 32:8 “Then, as the LORD had said, my cousin Hanamel came to me in the courtyard of the prison. He said to me, ‘Please buy my field that is in Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin. It is your responsibility to purchase it, because the rights of the closest relative belong to you. Buy it for yourself.’ Then I knew that the LORD had spoken to me.

Jeremiah 32:9 “So I bought the field in Anathoth from my cousin Hanamel and gave him the money. The field cost seven ounces of silver.

Jeremiah 32:10 I signed the deed, sealed it, had people witness the signing of the deed, and paid out the silver.

Jeremiah 32:11 Then I took the sealed copy of the deed, containing the terms and conditions, as well as an unsealed copy.

Jeremiah 32:12 I gave the copies of the deeds to Baruch, son of Neriah and grandson of Mahseiah. I did this in the presence of my cousin Hanamel and the witnesses who had signed the deed and in the presence of all the Jews who were sitting in the courtyard of the prison.

Jeremiah 32:13 Then I gave Baruch these orders:

Jeremiah 32:14 ‘This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Take both of these documents, both the sealed and the unsealed copies of the deed. Put them in a clay jar so that they will last a long time.

Jeremiah 32:15 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: My people will again buy houses, fields, and vineyards in this land.’

Jeremiah 32:16 “After I had given the copies to Baruch, son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD. I prayed, Jeremiah 32:17 ‘Almighty LORD, you made heaven and earth by your great strength and powerful arm. Nothing is too hard for you.

Jeremiah 32:18 You show mercy to thousands of generations. However, you punish children for the wickedness of their parents. You, God, are great and mighty. Your name is the LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 32:19 You make wise plans and do mighty things. You see everything the descendants of Adam do. You reward them for the way they live and for what they do.

Jeremiah 32:20 You performed miraculous signs and amazing things in Egypt. To this day you are still doing them in Israel. You made a name for yourself that continues to this day.

Jeremiah 32:21 You brought your people from Egypt with miraculous signs and amazing things, with a mighty hand and a powerful arm, and with great terror.

Jeremiah 32:22 You gave them the land that you swore with an oath to give their ancestors, the land flowing with milk and honey.

Jeremiah 32:23 They entered and took possession of it. However, they refused to obey you or to follow your teachings. They didn’t do anything you commanded them to do, so you brought all this disaster on them.

Jeremiah 32:24 “ ‘See how the dirt ramps have been built up around the city to capture it! Because of wars, famines, and plagues, the city will be handed over to the Babylonians who are attacking it. What you have threatened to do has happened, as you can see.

Jeremiah 32:25 Yet you, Almighty LORD, told me to buy a field with money and get witnesses to confirm it, although the city was handed over to the Babylonians.’”

Jeremiah 32:26 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 32:27 “I am the LORD God of all humanity. Nothing is too hard for me.

Jeremiah 32:28 This is what the LORD says: I’m going to hand this city over to the Babylonians and King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. They will capture it.

Jeremiah 32:29 “The Babylonians who are attacking this city will break in, set this city on fire, and burn it down. They will burn down the houses of people who made me furious by going up to the roofs to burn incense to Baal and to pour out wine offerings to other gods.

Jeremiah 32:30 Ever since they were young, the people of Israel and Judah have done what I consider evil. The people of Israel have made me furious by what they’ve done,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 32:31 “The people in this city have made me so angry and furious from the day they built it to this day. So now I must remove this city from my presence.

Jeremiah 32:32 “The people of Israel and Judah have made me furious because they are evil. The people, their kings and officials, their priests and prophets, and the Judeans and those who live in Jerusalem

Jeremiah 32:33 have turned their backs, not their faces to me. I taught them again and again, but they refused to listen and learn.

Jeremiah 32:34 They set up their detestable idols in the temple that is called by my name, and they dishonored it.

Jeremiah 32:35 In the valley of Ben Hinnom they built worship sites for Baal to sacrifice their sons and daughters to Molech. I didn’t ask them to do this. It never entered my mind. I didn’t make Judah sin.

Jeremiah 32:36 “You have said this about the city, ‘Because of wars, famines, and plagues it will be handed over to the king of Babylon.’ Now this is what the LORD God of Israel says:

Jeremiah 32:37 I am going to gather the people from all the lands where I scattered them in my anger, fury, and terrifying wrath. I will bring them back to this place and make them live here securely.

Jeremiah 32:38 They will be my people, and I will be their God.

Jeremiah 32:39 I will give them the same attitude and the same purpose so that they will fear me as long as they live. This will be for their own good and for the good of their children.

Jeremiah 32:40 I will make an eternal promise to them that I will never stop blessing them. I will make them fear me so that they will never turn away from me.

Jeremiah 32:41 I will enjoy blessing them. With all my heart and soul I will faithfully plant them in this land.

Jeremiah 32:42 “This is what the LORD says: As I brought all these disasters on these people, so I will bring on them all these blessings that I have promised them.

Jeremiah 32:43 You have said that this land is a wasteland, without people or animals living in it. You have also said that it has been handed over to the Babylonians. But people will once again buy fields in this land.

Jeremiah 32:44 They will buy fields for money, sign deeds, seal them, and have people witness the signing of the deeds. This will happen in the territory of Benjamin, in the region of Jerusalem, in the cities of Judah, in the cities on the mountains, in the hill country, and in the Negev because I will bring them back from their captivity,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 33:1 While Jeremiah was still being held in the courtyard of the prison, the LORD spoke his word to him a second time. The LORD said,

Jeremiah 33:2 “I made [the earth], formed it, and set it in place. My name is the LORD. This is what the LORD says:

Jeremiah 33:3 Call to me, and I will answer you. I will tell you great and mysterious things that you do not know.

Jeremiah 33:4 The houses in this city and the palaces of the kings of Judah have been torn down to be used against the dirt ramps and weapons of the Babylonians. This is what the LORD God of Israel says about this:

Jeremiah 33:5 The people of Israel fought the Babylonians. Now their houses are filled with the bodies of their own people I killed in my anger and my fury. I will hide my face from this city because of its wickedness.

Jeremiah 33:6 “But I will heal this city and restore it to health. I will heal its people, and I will give them peace and security.

Jeremiah 33:7 I will restore Judah and Israel and rebuild them as they were before.

Jeremiah 33:8 I will cleanse them from all the sins that they have committed against me. I will forgive them for all the sins that they have committed against me and for rebelling against me.

Jeremiah 33:9 Then Jerusalem will be my source of joy, praise, and honor. All the nations on earth will hear about all the blessings that I will give to Jerusalem. They will be afraid and tremble because of all the prosperity that I will provide for it.

Jeremiah 33:10 “This is what the LORD says: You have said that this place is ruined and that no people or animals live in it. It’s true! The cities of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem are deserted. No people or animals live there. But once again you will hear Jeremiah 33:11 the sounds of joy and happiness and the sounds of brides and grooms. You will hear those who bring thank offerings to the LORD’s temple say, ‘Give thanks to the LORD of Armies because the LORD is good, because his mercy endures forever.’ I will restore the fortunes of the land to what they were before,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 33:12 “This is what the LORD of Armies says: In this deserted place, where no people or animals live, and in all its cities, there will once again be pastures where shepherds can rest their flocks.

Jeremiah 33:13 In the cities on the mountains, in the foothills, in the Negev, in the territory of Benjamin, in the area around Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shepherds will once again count their sheep,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 33:14 “The days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will keep the promise that I made to Israel and Judah.

Jeremiah 33:15 In those days and at that time, I will cause a righteous branch to spring up for David. He will do what is fair and right in the land.

Jeremiah 33:16 In those days Judah will be saved and Jerusalem will live securely. Jerusalem will be called The LORD Our Righteousness.

Jeremiah 33:17 “This is what the LORD says: David will never fail to have a descendant sitting on the throne of Israel.

Jeremiah 33:18 The Levitical priests will never fail to have a descendant in my presence to sacrifice burnt offerings, to burn grain offerings, and to prepare daily sacrifices.”

Jeremiah 33:19 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 33:20 “This is what the LORD says: Suppose you could break my arrangement with day and night so that they wouldn’t come at their proper time.

Jeremiah 33:21 Then my arrangement with my servant David could be broken, and he would not have a descendant to rule on his throne. The arrangement with my servants the Levitical priests could also be broken.

Jeremiah 33:22 I will multiply the descendants of my servant David and the Levites who serve me like the stars of heaven that cannot be counted and the sand on the seashore that cannot be measured.”

Jeremiah 33:23 Then the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 33:24 “Haven’t you noticed what these people have said? They have said that the LORD has rejected the two families he has chosen. They despise my people, and they no longer consider them a nation.

Jeremiah 33:25 “This is what the LORD says: Suppose I hadn’t made an arrangement with day and night or made laws for heaven and earth.

Jeremiah 33:26 Then I would reject the descendants of Jacob and of my servant David. I would not let any of David's descendants rule the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. However, I will restore their fortunes and love them."

Jeremiah 34:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah when King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, his entire army, and all the kingdoms and people that he ruled were attacking Jerusalem and all its cities. He said,

Jeremiah 34:2 "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: Go to King Zedekiah of Judah, and tell him, 'The LORD says: I'm going to hand this city over to the king of Babylon, and he will burn it down.

Jeremiah 34:3 You will not escape from him. You will certainly be captured and handed over to him. You will see the king of Babylon with your own eyes, and he will talk to you face to face. Then you will go to Babylon.

Jeremiah 34:4 " 'Listen to the word of the LORD, King Zedekiah of Judah. This is what the LORD says about you: You will not die in war.

Jeremiah 34:5 You will die peacefully. People will burn [funeral] fires for you as they did for your ancestors, the kings who lived before you. They will say, "Oh, master," as they mourn for you. I have spoken my word, declares the LORD.'"

Jeremiah 34:6 The prophet Jeremiah told all these things to King Zedekiah of Judah in Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 34:7 He did this when the army of the king of Babylon was attacking Jerusalem and the cities of Lachish and Azekah. These were the only fortified cities of Judah that were left.

Jeremiah 34:8 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah after King Zedekiah and all the people in Jerusalem promised to free their slaves.

Jeremiah 34:9 Everyone was supposed to free his Hebrew slaves, both male and female. No one was supposed to keep another Jew as a slave.

Jeremiah 34:10 All the officials and all the people agreed and promised to free their male and female slaves and not to keep them as slaves anymore. So they set them free.

Jeremiah 34:11 But afterwards, they changed their minds and took back the men and women they had freed and made them their slaves again.

Jeremiah 34:12 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 34:13 "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: I put a condition on the promise I made to your ancestors when I brought them from Egypt, where they were slaves. I said,

Jeremiah 34:14 'Every seven years each of you must free any Hebrews who sold themselves to you. When they have served you for six years, you must set them free.' But your ancestors refused to obey me or listen to me.

Jeremiah 34:15 Recently, you changed and did what I consider right. You agreed to free your neighbors, and you made a promise in my presence, in the temple that is called by my name.

Jeremiah 34:16 Now you have changed again and dishonored me. You brought back the male and female slaves that you had set free to live their own lives. You have forced them to be your male and female slaves again.

Jeremiah 34:17 "This is what the LORD says: You didn't obey me. You haven't freed your relatives and neighbors. Now I am going to free you," declares the LORD. "I will free you to die in wars, plagues, and famines. I will make all the kingdoms of the world horrified at the thought of you.

Jeremiah 34:18 I will hand over the people who have rejected my promise. They have not kept the terms of the promise which they made in my presence when they cut a calf in two and passed between its pieces.

Jeremiah 34:19 I will hand over the officials of Judah and Jerusalem, the palace officials, the priests, and all the common people who passed between the pieces of the calf.

Jeremiah 34:20 I will hand them over to their enemies who want to kill them, and their corpses will be food for birds and wild animals.

Jeremiah 34:21 I will hand King Zedekiah of Judah and his officials over to their enemies who want to kill them and to the army of the king of Babylon, the army that has withdrawn from you.

Jeremiah 34:22 I am going to give a command," declares the LORD. "I will bring that army back to this city to attack it, capture it, and burn it down. I will destroy the cities of Judah so that no one will live there."

Jeremiah 35:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah during the reign of Jehoiakim, son of King Josiah of Judah. He said,

Jeremiah 35:2 "Go to the family of Rechab and talk to them. Take them into one of the side rooms in the LORD's temple, and offer them a drink of wine."

Jeremiah 35:3 I took Jaazaniah, who was the son of Jeremiah and the grandson of Habazziniah, and I took Jaazaniah's brothers and all his sons-the whole family of Rechab.

Jeremiah 35:4 I brought them into the LORD's temple, into the side room of the sons of Hanan. (He was Igdaliah's son, the man of God.) It was next to the room of the officials and above the side room of Maaseiah, Shallum's son, the doorkeeper.

Jeremiah 35:5 Then I set cups and pitchers filled with wine in front of the family of Rechab. I said to them, "Drink some wine."

Jeremiah 35:6 They answered, "We don't drink wine, because our ancestor Jonadab, Rechab's son, gave us this order: 'You and your descendants must never drink wine.

Jeremiah 35:7 Never build any houses or plant any fields or vineyards. You must never have any of these things. You must always live in tents so that you may live for a long time in the land where you are staying.'

Jeremiah 35:8 We, along with our wives, sons, and daughters, have obeyed our ancestor Jonadab, Rechab's son, in everything he ordered us to do. We have never drunk wine,

Jeremiah 35:9 built houses to live in, or owned vineyards, pastures, or grainfields.

Jeremiah 35:10 We live in tents, and we have obeyed everything our ancestor Jonadab ordered us to do.

Jeremiah 35:11 But when King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon invaded this land, we said, 'Let's go to Jerusalem [to escape] the Babylonian and Aramean armies.' That's why we are living in Jerusalem."

Jeremiah 35:12 Then the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 35:13 "This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Tell the people of Judah and those who live in Jerusalem, 'Won't you ever learn your lesson and obey my words? declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 35:14 Jonadab, Rechab's son, ordered his descendants not to drink wine. This order has been carried out. His descendants have not drunk any wine to this day, because they have obeyed their ancestor's order. I have spoken to you again and again, but you have refused to listen to me.

Jeremiah 35:15 I have sent all my servants the prophets to you again and again. They said, "Turn from your evil ways, do what is right, and don't follow other gods in order to serve them. Then you will live in the land that I gave you and your ancestors." However, you refused to listen to me or obey me.

Jeremiah 35:16 The descendants of Jonadab, Rechab's son, have carried out the orders of their ancestor, but you refuse to listen to me.

Jeremiah 35:17 " 'This is what the LORD God of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I am going to bring on Judah and on all those who live in Jerusalem all the disasters that I threatened. I have spoken to them, but they didn't listen. I called to them, but they didn't answer.'"

Jeremiah 35:18 Then Jeremiah said to the family of Rechab, "This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: You obeyed the order of your ancestor Jonadab, followed all his instructions, and did exactly what he told you to do.

Jeremiah 35:19 So this is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: A descendant of Jonadab, Rechab's son, will always serve me."

Jeremiah 36:1 In the fourth year of the reign of Jehoiakim, son of King Josiah of Judah, the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 36:2 "Take a scroll, and write on it everything that I have dictated to you about Israel, Judah, and all the other nations from the time I spoke to you during the reign of Josiah until today.

Jeremiah 36:3 Maybe the nation of Judah will hear about all the disasters that I plan to bring on them, and they will turn from their wicked ways. Then I will forgive their wickedness and their sins."

Jeremiah 36:4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch, son of Neriah. Jeremiah dictated everything that the LORD had told him, and Baruch wrote it all down on a scroll.

Jeremiah 36:5 Jeremiah told Baruch, "I'm no longer allowed to go to the LORD's temple.

Jeremiah 36:6 On a day of fasting, you must read from the scroll the LORD's message that you wrote as I dictated. You must read it to the people in the LORD's temple. You must also read it to all the people of Judah when they come from their cities.

Jeremiah 36:7 Maybe their prayers will come into the LORD's presence, and they will turn from their evil ways. The LORD has threatened these people with his terrifying anger and fury."

Jeremiah 36:8 Baruch, son of Neriah, did as the prophet Jeremiah commanded him. In the LORD's temple he read from the scroll everything that the LORD had said.

Jeremiah 36:9 In the ninth month of the fifth year of the reign of Jehoiakim, son of King Josiah of Judah, a time for fasting was called. It was a time for all the people in Jerusalem and for everyone who was coming from any city in Judah to Jerusalem to fast in the LORD's presence.

Jeremiah 36:10 Then Baruch read the scroll containing the words of Jeremiah. Baruch read it to all the people in the LORD's temple in the room of the scribe Gemariah, son of Shaphan, in the upper courtyard at the entrance of New Gate of the LORD's temple.

Jeremiah 36:11 Micaiah, who was the son of Gemariah and the grandson of Shaphan, heard Baruch read from the scroll everything the LORD had said.

Jeremiah 36:12 Then he went down to the scribe's room in the king's palace where all the scribes were sitting. The scribe Elishama, Delaiah (son of Shemaiah), Elnathan (son of Achbor), Gemariah (son of Shaphan), Zedekiah (son of Hananiah), and all the other officials were there.

Jeremiah 36:13 Micaiah told them everything he heard Baruch read from the scroll publicly.

Jeremiah 36:14 Then all the officials sent Jehudi, who was the son of Nethaniah, the grandson of Shelemiah, and the great-grandson of Cushi, to Baruch. Jehudi said to Baruch, “Bring the scroll that you read publicly, and come with me.” Baruch, son of Neriah, took the scroll and went with him to see the officers.

Jeremiah 36:15 They said to Baruch, “Please sit down, and read it to us.” So Baruch read it to them.

Jeremiah 36:16 When they heard everything, they turned to each other in terror. They said to Baruch, “We must tell the king everything.”

Jeremiah 36:17 Then they asked Baruch, “Please tell us how you wrote all this. Did Jeremiah dictate it to you?”

Jeremiah 36:18 Baruch answered, “He dictated everything to me, and I wrote it on the scroll in ink.”

Jeremiah 36:19 The officials said to Baruch, “You and Jeremiah must hide. Don’t let anyone know where you are.”

Jeremiah 36:20 After they put the scroll in the side room of the scribe Elishama, they went to the king in the courtyard and told him everything.

Jeremiah 36:21 Then the king sent Jehudi to get the scroll. He took the scroll from the side room of the scribe Elishama. Jehudi read it to the king and all the officials standing by the king.

Jeremiah 36:22 It was the ninth month, and the king was in his winter house sitting in front of the fire in the fireplace.

Jeremiah 36:23 As Jehudi read three or four columns, the king would cut them off with a scribe’s knife and throw them into the fire in the fireplace. He did this until the whole scroll was burned up.

Jeremiah 36:24 The king and all his attendants didn’t show any fear or tear their clothes in fear when they heard everything being read.

Jeremiah 36:25 Even when Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah urged the king not to burn the scroll, he refused to listen to them.

Jeremiah 36:26 The king commanded Jerahmeel (the king’s son), Seraiah (son of Azriel), and Shelemiah (son of Abdeel) to arrest the scribe Baruch and the prophet Jeremiah. But the LORD had hidden Baruch and Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 36:27 After the king burned up the scroll that Baruch had written and that Jeremiah had dictated, the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah. He said, Jeremiah 36:28 “Take another scroll, and write on it everything that was written on the scroll that King Jehoiakim of Judah burned.

Jeremiah 36:29 Say about King Jehoiakim of Judah, 'This is what the LORD says: You burned this scroll, and you asked Jeremiah, "Why did you write that the king of Babylon will certainly come to destroy this land and take away people and animals?"

Jeremiah 36:30 This is what the LORD says about King Jehoiakim of Judah: He will have no one to sit on David's throne, and his own corpse will be thrown out and exposed to the heat of day and the cold of night.

Jeremiah 36:31 I will punish him, his descendants, and his attendants for their wickedness. They refused to listen. So I will bring on them, on those who live in Jerusalem, and on the people of Judah all the disasters that I have threatened.'"

Jeremiah 36:32 Then Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to the scribe Baruch, son of Neriah. As Jeremiah dictated, Baruch wrote on it everything that was on the scroll that King Jehoiakim of Judah had burned. They added many similar messages.

Jeremiah 37:1 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon appointed Zedekiah, son of Josiah, to be king of Judah. Zedekiah succeeded Jehoiakin, son of Jehoiakim.

Jeremiah 37:2 But Zedekiah, his administrators, and the common people didn't listen to what the LORD had spoken through the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 37:3 King Zedekiah sent Jehucal (son of Shelemiah) and the priest Zephaniah (son of Maaseiah) to the prophet Jeremiah. They asked him, "Please pray to the LORD our God for us."

Jeremiah 37:4 Jeremiah was still free to come and go among the people. The people of Jerusalem hadn't put him in prison yet.

Jeremiah 37:5 Pharaoh's army had come from Egypt, and when the Babylonians who were blockading Jerusalem heard this news, they retreated from Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 37:6 The LORD spoke his word to the prophet Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 37:7 "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: Say this to the king of Judah, who sent you to get advice from me: 'Pharaoh's army has come out to help you. But it will go back to Egypt, its own land.

Jeremiah 37:8 Then the Babylonians will return. They will attack the city, capture it, and burn it down.

Jeremiah 37:9 " 'This is what the LORD says: Don't deceive yourselves by thinking that the Babylonians will leave you. They will not leave you.

Jeremiah 37:10 Even if you would defeat the entire Babylonian army so that they had only a few badly wounded men left in their tents, they would get up and burn down this city.'"

Jeremiah 37:11 The Babylonian army had retreated from Jerusalem because Pharaoh's army was coming.

Jeremiah 37:12 So Jeremiah wanted to leave Jerusalem and go to the territory of Benjamin to take possession of his property there among the people.

Jeremiah 37:13 But when he came to Benjamin Gate, the captain of the guard there, whose name was Irijah, son of Shelemiah and grandson of Hananiah, arrested the prophet Jeremiah. He said, "You're deserting to the Babylonians!"

Jeremiah 37:14 Jeremiah answered, "That's a lie! I'm not deserting to the Babylonians." But Irijah wouldn't listen to him. Irijah arrested Jeremiah and took him to the officials.

Jeremiah 37:15 The officials were so angry with Jeremiah that they beat him and put him in prison in the scribe Jonathan's house, which had been turned into a prison.

Jeremiah 37:16 Jeremiah went into a prison cell, and he stayed there a long time.

Jeremiah 37:17 Then King Zedekiah sent for Jeremiah, and the king asked him privately in the palace, "Is there any message from the LORD?" Jeremiah answered, "Yes! There is a message from the LORD. You will be handed over to the king of Babylon."

Jeremiah 37:18 Then Jeremiah asked King Zedekiah, "What crime have I committed against you, your administrators, or these people? Why have you put me in prison?

Jeremiah 37:19 Where are the prophets who told you that the king of Babylon wouldn't attack you and this land?

Jeremiah 37:20 But now, Your Majesty, please listen, and accept my plea for mercy. Don't return me to the scribe Jonathan's house, or I will die there."

Jeremiah 37:21 King Zedekiah gave the command to have Jeremiah put in the courtyard of the prison. He gave him a loaf of bread every day from the bakers' street until all the bread in the city was gone. So Jeremiah stayed in the courtyard of the prison.

Jeremiah 38:1 Shephatiah (son of Mattan), Gedaliah (son of Pashhur), Jucal (son of Shelemiah), and Pashhur (son of Malchiah) heard that Jeremiah was speaking to all the people.

Jeremiah 38:2 They heard Jeremiah say, "This is what the LORD says: Those who stay in this city will die in wars, famines, or plagues. But those who surrender to the Babylonians will live. They will escape with their lives.

Jeremiah 38:3 "This is what the LORD says: This city will certainly be handed over to the army of the king of Babylon, and it will capture the city."

Jeremiah 38:4 Then the officials said to the king, “Have this man put to death. He discourages the soldiers who are left in this city and all the people by telling them such things. This man is not trying to help these people; he’s trying to hurt them.”

Jeremiah 38:5 King Zedekiah answered, “He’s in your hands. I won’t do anything to stop you.”

Jeremiah 38:6 So they took Jeremiah and threw him into the cistern of Malchiah, the king’s son. It was in the courtyard of the prison. They used ropes to lower Jeremiah into the cistern. There was no water in the cistern, only mud, and Jeremiah sank in the mud.

Jeremiah 38:7 But an official in the royal palace, Ebed Melech from Sudan, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the cistern. The king happened to be sitting at Benjamin Gate.

Jeremiah 38:8 Ebed Melech left the royal palace and spoke to the king at Benjamin Gate.

Jeremiah 38:9 “Your Majesty, everything that these men have done to the prophet Jeremiah is wrong. They have thrown him into the cistern, where he’ll starve to death, because there’s no more bread in the city.”

Jeremiah 38:10 Then the king gave Ebed Melech from Sudan this command: “Take 30 men from here, and lift the prophet Jeremiah out of the cistern before he dies.”

Jeremiah 38:11 So Ebed Melech took the men with him and went to the royal palace, to a room under the treasury. He took rags and torn clothes from there and lowered them with ropes to Jeremiah in the cistern.

Jeremiah 38:12 Ebed Melech from Sudan said to Jeremiah, “Put these rags and torn clothes under your arms to protect you from the ropes.” Jeremiah did.

Jeremiah 38:13 They used the ropes to pull Jeremiah up and lift him out of the cistern. Then Jeremiah stayed in the courtyard of the prison.

Jeremiah 38:14 King Zedekiah sent for the prophet Jeremiah and brought him to the third entrance in the LORD’s temple. “I’m going to ask you a question,” the king said to Jeremiah. “Don’t hide anything from me.”

Jeremiah 38:15 Jeremiah answered Zedekiah, “If I answer you, you’ll kill me. If I give you advice, you won’t listen to me.”

Jeremiah 38:16 So King Zedekiah secretly swore an oath to Jeremiah, “The LORD gave us life. As the LORD lives, I will not kill you or hand you over to these men who want to kill you.”

Jeremiah 38:17 Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “This is what the LORD God of Armies, the God of Israel, says: If you surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, you will live, and this city will not be burned. You and your household will live.

Jeremiah 38:18 But if you don’t surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, this city will be handed over to the Babylonians. They will burn it down, and you will not escape from them.”

Jeremiah 38:19 King Zedekiah answered Jeremiah, “I’m afraid of the Jews who have deserted to the Babylonians. The Babylonians may hand me over to them, and they will torture me.”

Jeremiah 38:20 Jeremiah said, “You will not be handed over to them. Obey the LORD by doing what I’m telling you. Then everything will go well for you, and you will live.

Jeremiah 38:21 But if you refuse to surrender, this is what the LORD has shown me.

Jeremiah 38:22 All the women who are left in the palace of Judah’s king will be brought out to the officers of the king of Babylon. These women will say: ‘Your trusted friends have misled you and used you. Your feet are stuck in the mud, and your friends have deserted you.’

Jeremiah 38:23 “All your wives and children will be brought to the Babylonians. You will not escape from them. You will be captured by the king of Babylon, and this city will be burned down.”

Jeremiah 38:24 Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “Don’t let anyone know about this conversation, or you will die.

Jeremiah 38:25 The officials may find out that I’ve been talking with you. They may come to you and say, ‘Tell us what you said to the king and what the king said to you. Don’t hide anything from us, or we’ll kill you.’

Jeremiah 38:26 If they come to you, say to them, ‘I asked the king not to send me back to Jonathan’s house to die there.’”

Jeremiah 38:27 All the officials came to Jeremiah and questioned him. He told them exactly what the king had told him to say. So they stopped questioning him, because they hadn’t heard his conversation with the king.

Jeremiah 38:28 Jeremiah stayed in the courtyard of the prison until the day Jerusalem was captured.

Jeremiah 39:1 In the tenth month of Zedekiah’s ninth year as king of Judah, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Jerusalem with his entire army and blockaded it.

Jeremiah 39:2 On the ninth day of the fourth month of Zedekiah’s eleventh year as king, they broke into the city.

Jeremiah 39:3 Then all the officers of the king of Babylon came in and sat in Middle Gate: Nergal (the quartermaster), Samgar Nebo (the chief officer), Nergal (the quartermaster and the chief fortuneteller), and all the rest of the officers of the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 39:4 When King Zedekiah of Judah and all the soldiers saw them, they fled. They left the city at night by way of the king’s garden through the gate between the two walls, and they took the road to the plain [of Jericho].

Jeremiah 39:5 The Babylonian army pursued them and caught up with Zedekiah in the plain of Jericho. They arrested him and brought him to Babylon's King Nebuchadnezzar at Riblah in the territory of Hamath. The king of Babylon passed sentence on him.

Jeremiah 39:6 The king of Babylon slaughtered Zedekiah's sons as Zedekiah watched at Riblah. He also slaughtered all the leaders of Judah.

Jeremiah 39:7 Then he blinded Zedekiah, put him in bronze shackles, and took him to Babylon.

Jeremiah 39:8 The Babylonians burned down the royal palace and the people's homes, and they tore down the walls of Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 39:9 Nebuzaradan, Babylon's captain of the guard, captured the few people left in the city, those who surrendered to him, and the rest of the people.

Jeremiah 39:10 But Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, left some poor people who had nothing in the land of Judah. At that time he gave them vineyards and farms.

Jeremiah 39:11 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon gave Nebuzaradan an order concerning Jeremiah. He said,

Jeremiah 39:12 "Take him, and look after him. Don't harm him in any way, but do for him whatever he asks."

Jeremiah 39:13 Nebuzaradan (the captain of the guard), Nebushazban (the chief official), Nergal (the quartermaster and the chief fortuneteller), and all the other leaders of the king of Babylon sent for Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 39:14 They took Jeremiah out of the courtyard of the prison and handed him over to Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, to take him home. So he lived among the people.

Jeremiah 39:15 While Jeremiah was still confined in the courtyard of the prison, the LORD spoke his word to him. The LORD said, Jeremiah 39:16 "Say to Ebed Melech from Sudan, 'This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I'm going to carry out my threat against this city by bringing disaster on it instead of prosperity. At that time these things will happen as you watch.

Jeremiah 39:17 But at that time I will rescue you, declares the LORD. You will not be handed over to those you fear.

Jeremiah 39:18 I will certainly rescue you. You will not die in war. You will escape with your life because you trusted me, declares the LORD.'"

Jeremiah 40:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah after Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, let him go at Ramah. Nebuzaradan found Jeremiah in chains along with the captives of Jerusalem and Judah who were being taken to Babylon.

Jeremiah 40:2 The captain of the guard took Jeremiah aside and said to him, “The LORD your God threatened to bring this disaster on this place.

Jeremiah 40:3 He has carried out his threat. The LORD did as he promised because you Israelites have sinned against him and refused to obey him. That is why this has happened to you.

Jeremiah 40:4 Today I’m removing the chains from your hands. If you would like to come with me to Babylon, come, and I’ll look after you. But if you don’t want to come with me to Babylon, don’t come. The whole land is yours. Go wherever you want.

Jeremiah 40:5 “If you wish to remain, then go back to Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon appointed to govern the cities of Judah. Live among the people with him, or go anywhere you want.” The captain of the guard gave Jeremiah some food and a present and let him go.

Jeremiah 40:6 Jeremiah went to Gedaliah, son of Ahikam, at Mizpah and lived with him among the people who were left in the land.

Jeremiah 40:7 All the army commanders and their men who were in the field heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah, son of Ahikam, to govern the country and some of the country’s poorest men, women, and children who had not been taken away to Babylon.

Jeremiah 40:8 These are the commanders who went with their men to Gedaliah at Mizpah: Ishmael (son of Nethaniah), Johanan and Jonathan (sons of Kareah), Seraiah (son of Tanhumeth), the sons of Ephai from Netophah, and Jezaniah, who was the son of a man from Maacah.

Jeremiah 40:9 Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, swore an oath to them and their men. He said, “Don’t be afraid to serve the Babylonians. Live in this country, serve the king of Babylon, and you will prosper.

Jeremiah 40:10 I’m going to live in Mizpah and represent you when the Babylonians come to us. Gather grapes, summer fruit, and olive oil, and put them in storage jars. Live in the cities you have taken over.”

Jeremiah 40:11 Now, all the Jews who were in Moab, Ammon, Edom, and in all the other countries heard that the king of Babylon had left a few survivors in Judah and had appointed Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, to govern them.

Jeremiah 40:12 So all the Jews returned from all the places where they had been scattered. They came to Judah and to Gedaliah at Mizpah. They gathered a large harvest of grapes and summer fruit.

Jeremiah 40:13 Kareah’s son Johanan and all the army commanders who were still in the country came to Gedaliah at Mizpah.

Jeremiah 40:14 They asked him, “Do you know that King Baalis of the Ammonites has sent Ishmael, Nethaniah’s son, to kill you?” However, Gedaliah, son of Ahikam, didn’t believe them.

Jeremiah 40:15 Then Johanan, Kareah’s son, secretly asked Gedaliah at Mizpah, “Let me kill Ishmael, Nethaniah’s son. No one will know about it. Why should he kill you? All the Jews who have gathered around you would scatter. What is left of Judah would disappear.”

Jeremiah 40:16 Gedaliah, son of Ahikam, told Johanan, Kareah’s son, “Don’t do that! What you are saying about Ishmael is a lie.”

Jeremiah 41:1 In the seventh month Ishmael (son of Nethaniah and grandson of Elishama, a descendant of the royal family and of the king’s officers) went with ten men to Gedaliah, son of Ahikam, at Mizpah. As they ate together at Mizpah,

Jeremiah 41:2 Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, and the ten men who were with him got up, drew their swords, and killed Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan. So they assassinated the man whom the king of Babylon had appointed to govern the land.

Jeremiah 41:3 Ishmael also killed all the Jews who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah as well as the Babylonian soldiers that he found there.

Jeremiah 41:4 The day after the murder of Gedaliah, before anyone knew about it,

Jeremiah 41:5 80 men arrived from Shechem, Shiloh, and Samaria. Their beards were shaved off, their clothes were torn, and cuts were on their bodies. They brought grain offerings and incense to the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 41:6 Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, left Mizpah to meet them, crying as he went. When he met them, he said to them, “Come to Gedaliah, son of Ahikam.”

Jeremiah 41:7 When they came into the city, Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, and his men slaughtered them and threw them into a cistern.

Jeremiah 41:8 However, ten men from the group had said to Ishmael, “Don’t kill us! We have wheat, barley, olive oil, and honey hidden in the country.” So he left them alone and didn’t kill them along with the others.

Jeremiah 41:9 Now, the cistern where Ishmael threw all the bodies of the men he had killed was the same one that King Asa made as a part of his defense against King Baasha of Israel. Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, filled it with the bodies.

Jeremiah 41:10 Then Ishmael took captive the rest of the people who were at Mizpah. He captured the king’s daughters and all the other people who had been left at Mizpah. They were the people whom Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, had put under the control of Gedaliah, son of Ahikam. Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, took them captive and left for Ammon.

Jeremiah 41:11 When Kareah’s son Johanan and all the army commanders who were with him heard about all the crimes Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, had done,

Jeremiah 41:12 they took all their men and went to fight Ishmael. They caught up with him at the large pool in Gibeon.

Jeremiah 41:13 When all the people who were with Ishmael saw Kareah’s son Johanan and all the army commanders who were with him, they were glad.

Jeremiah 41:14 Then all the people Ishmael had taken captive at Mizpah turned and ran to Kareah’s son Johanan.

Jeremiah 41:15 Ishmael and eight of his men escaped from Johanan and fled to Ammon.

Jeremiah 41:16 Then Kareah’s son Johanan and all the army commanders who were with him brought back the rest of the people of Mizpah whom he had rescued from Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, after Ishmael had killed Gedaliah, son of Ahikam. Johanan brought back men, women, children, soldiers, and commanders from Gibeon.

Jeremiah 41:17 When they left Gibeon, they stayed near Bethlehem at Geruth Kimham on their way to Egypt.

Jeremiah 41:18 They were afraid of the Babylonians because Ishmael had killed Gedaliah whom the king of Babylon had appointed to govern the land.

Jeremiah 42:1 Then all the army commanders along with Kareah’s son Johanan and Hoshaiah’s son Jezaniah and all the people, from the least important to the most important, came to the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 42:2 They said to him, “Please listen to our request, and pray to the LORD your God for all of us who are left here. As you can see, there are only a few of us left.

Jeremiah 42:3 Let the LORD your God tell us where we should go and what we should do.”

Jeremiah 42:4 The prophet Jeremiah answered them, “I have listened to your request. I will pray to the LORD your God as you have requested, and I will tell you everything the LORD says. I won’t keep anything from you.”

Jeremiah 42:5 They said to Jeremiah, “May the LORD be a true and faithful witness against us if we don’t do exactly what the LORD your God tells us to do.

Jeremiah 42:6 We will obey the LORD our God to whom we are sending you, whether it’s good or bad. Yes, we will obey the LORD our God so that everything will go well for us.”

Jeremiah 42:7 After ten days the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 42:8 So Jeremiah called Kareah’s son Johanan, all the army commanders who were with him, and all the people from the least important to the most important.

Jeremiah 42:9 Jeremiah said to them, “You sent me to plead your case humbly to the LORD. This is what the LORD God of Israel says:

Jeremiah 42:10 Suppose you stay in this land. Then I will build you up and not tear you down. I will plant you and not uproot you. I will change my plans about the disaster I’ve brought on you.

Jeremiah 42:11 Don’t be afraid of the king of Babylon, whom you now fear. Don’t be afraid of him, declares the LORD. I’m with you. I will save you and rescue you from his power.

Jeremiah 42:12 I will have compassion on you. I will make him have compassion on you and return you to your land.

Jeremiah 42:13 “But suppose you say, ‘We won’t stay in this land,’ and you disobey the LORD your God.

Jeremiah 42:14 Then you say, ‘We’ll go to Egypt, where we won’t have to see war, hear the sound of a ram’s horn, or be hungry. We’ll stay there.’

Jeremiah 42:15 “Now, listen to the word of the LORD, you people who are left in Judah. This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Suppose you’re determined to go to Egypt, and you go and live there.

Jeremiah 42:16 Then the wars you fear will catch up with you in Egypt. The famines you dread will follow you to Egypt, and you will die there.

Jeremiah 42:17 So all the people who decide to go and live in Egypt will die in wars, famines, and plagues. No one will survive or escape the disasters I will bring on them.

Jeremiah 42:18 “This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: As my anger and my fury were poured out on those who live in Jerusalem, so my fury will be poured out on you if you go to Egypt. You will become a curse word. You will become something ridiculed, cursed, and disgraced. You won’t see this place again.

Jeremiah 42:19 “The LORD has told you people who are left in Judah not to go to Egypt. You need to know that I am warning you today.

Jeremiah 42:20 You only deceived yourselves when you sent me to the LORD your God and said, 'Pray to the LORD our God for us, and tell us everything that the LORD our God says, and we'll do it.'

Jeremiah 42:21 I have told you today, but you won't obey anything the LORD your God sent me to tell you.

Jeremiah 42:22 But now, you need to know that you will die in wars, famines, or plagues in the place where you want to go and live."

Jeremiah 43:1 So Jeremiah finished telling all the people the message from the LORD their God. He told them everything the LORD their God sent him to tell them.

Jeremiah 43:2 Azariah (son of Hoshaiah), Johanan (son of Kareah), and all the arrogant people said to Jeremiah, "You're lying! The LORD our God didn't send you to tell us that we must not go to live in Egypt.

Jeremiah 43:3 But Baruch, son of Neriah, has turned you against us in order to hand us over to the Babylonians. Then they will kill us or take us as captives to Babylon."

Jeremiah 43:4 So Johanan (son of Kareah), all the army commanders, and all the people didn't obey the LORD. They didn't stay in Judah.

Jeremiah 43:5 Johanan (son of Kareah) and all the army commanders took all the people who were left in Judah to Egypt. These were all the people who had come back to Judah from the places where they had been scattered.

Jeremiah 43:6 They took men, women, children, and the king's daughters. They took every person whom Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, had left with Gedaliah, son of Ahikam and grandson of Shaphan, including the prophet Jeremiah and Baruch, son of Neriah.

Jeremiah 43:7 They didn't listen to the LORD, so they went to Egypt. They went as far as Tahpanhes.

Jeremiah 43:8 Then the LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes. He said,

Jeremiah 43:9 "Take some large stones, and bury them under the brick pavement at the entrance to the Pharaoh's palace in Tahpanhes. Do this while the people of Judah watch you.

Jeremiah 43:10 Say to them, 'This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I'm going to send for my servant King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. I will set his throne over these stones that I buried, and I will spread his royal canopy above them.

Jeremiah 43:11 He will defeat Egypt. He will bring death to those who are supposed to die. He will capture those who are supposed to be captured. He will kill in battle those who are supposed to be killed in battle.

Jeremiah 43:12 He will set fire to the temples of Egypt's gods. He will burn down the temples and take their gods captive. Nebuchadnezzar will put on Egypt as his coat as a shepherd puts on his coat. He will leave Egypt peacefully.

Jeremiah 43:13 At Beth Shemesh he will break the monuments in Egypt and burn down the temples of Egypt's gods.'"

Jeremiah 44:1 The LORD spoke his word to Jeremiah about all the Jews living in Egypt at Migdol, Tahpanhes, Noph, and Pathros.

Jeremiah 44:2 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: You have seen all the disasters I brought on Jerusalem and on all the cities of Judah. Today they are deserted ruins.

Jeremiah 44:3 It is because their people did evil, and they made me angry. They went to burn incense and serve other gods that neither you nor your ancestors heard of.

Jeremiah 44:4 I have sent my servants the prophets to you again and again to tell you not to do these detestable things that I hate.

Jeremiah 44:5 But you wouldn't listen or pay attention. You wouldn't turn from your wicked ways and wouldn't stop burning incense as an offering to other gods.

Jeremiah 44:6 That is why my fury and anger were poured out and continued to burn in the cities of Judah and on the streets of Jerusalem. So they became the desolate ruin that they are today.

Jeremiah 44:7 Now, this is what the LORD God of Armies, the God of Israel, says: Why do you bring this terrible disaster on yourselves? Why do you keep destroying men, women, children, and babies from Judah until none are left?

Jeremiah 44:8 Why do you make me angry by burning incense to other gods in Egypt, where you have come to live. You will destroy yourselves and be cursed and ridiculed by all the nations on earth.

Jeremiah 44:9 Have you forgotten the wicked things done by your ancestors, by the kings of Judah and their wives, and by you and your wives in Judah and on the streets of Jerusalem?

Jeremiah 44:10 You have not humbled yourselves even to this day. You haven't feared me or lived your lives by my teachings or by my decrees that I gave your ancestors.

Jeremiah 44:11 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I'm going to bring disaster on you and destroy all of Judah.

Jeremiah 44:12 I will take away from Judah those who are left, those who were determined to go to live in Egypt. They will die in Egypt. All of them, from the least important to the most important, will die in wars or be brought to an end by famines. They will become something cursed, ridiculed, and disgraced.

Jeremiah 44:13 I will punish those living in Egypt as I punished Jerusalem with wars, famines, and plagues.

Jeremiah 44:14 None of the people of Judah who went to live in Egypt will survive or return to Judah, where they long to return and live. Only a few refugees will return there.

Jeremiah 44:15 Then all the men who knew that their wives were burning incense to other gods, all the women who were standing there, and all the people who lived at Pathros in Egypt answered Jeremiah. They said, Jeremiah 44:16 “We won’t listen to the message that you have spoken to us in the LORD’s name.

Jeremiah 44:17 We will do everything we said we would do. We will burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out wine offerings to her as our ancestors, our kings, and our officials did in the cities of Judah and on the streets of Jerusalem. We had plenty to eat then, and we lived comfortably and saw no disaster.

Jeremiah 44:18 But since we stopped burning incense to the queen of heaven and pouring out wine offerings to her, we have had nothing but wars and famines.”

Jeremiah 44:19 The women added, “When we burned incense to the queen of heaven, poured out wine offerings to her, and made cakes for her with her image on them, do you think our husbands didn’t approve?”

Jeremiah 44:20 Then Jeremiah said to all the people, both men and women, to everyone who answered him,

Jeremiah 44:21 “Doesn’t the LORD remember that you burned incense in the cities of Judah and on the streets of Jerusalem along with your ancestors, your kings and your officials, and the people in the land?

Jeremiah 44:22 The LORD could no longer bear the wicked and detestable things you did. That is why your land has become something ruined, destroyed, and cursed. No one lives in that land today.

Jeremiah 44:23 You burned incense as offerings to other gods, sinned against the LORD, and wouldn’t obey him. You didn’t live by his teachings, decrees, or written instructions. That is why you have met with this disaster as it is today.”

Jeremiah 44:24 Then Jeremiah said to all the people, including the women, “Listen to the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah who are in Egypt.

Jeremiah 44:25 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: You and your wives made promises, and you have kept them. You said, ‘We will certainly do what we vow. We will burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out wine offerings to her.’ “So go ahead. Keep your vows, and do what you vow.

Jeremiah 44:26 But listen to the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah who live in Egypt. 'I swear by my great name,' says the LORD, 'that no one from Judah who lives anywhere in Egypt will ever again call on my name and take the oath, "As the Almighty LORD lives."

Jeremiah 44:27 I am going to watch over them. I am going to watch over them to bring disasters, not blessings. In Egypt the people from Judah will die in wars and famines until everyone is gone.

Jeremiah 44:28 Those who escape the wars will return to Judah from Egypt. Then all the people of Judah who went to live in Egypt will know whose words have come true, mine or theirs.

Jeremiah 44:29 I will give you this sign,' declares the LORD. 'I will punish you in this place so that you will know that my threats of disaster will happen to you.

Jeremiah 44:30 This is what the LORD says: I'm going to hand Pharaoh Hophra, king of Egypt, over to his enemies and to those who want to kill him, just as I handed over King Zedekiah of Judah to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and to those who wanted to kill him.'"

Jeremiah 45:1 This is the message that the prophet Jeremiah spoke to Baruch, son of Neriah. Baruch wrote these things on a scroll as Jeremiah dictated them during the fourth year that Jehoiakim, son of Josiah, was king of Judah. Jeremiah said,

Jeremiah 45:2 "This is what the LORD God of Israel says to you, Baruch:

Jeremiah 45:3 You said, 'I'm so miserable! The LORD has added grief to my pain. I'm worn out from groaning. I can't find any rest.'

Jeremiah 45:4 "Say this to Baruch, 'This is what the LORD says: I will tear down what I have built. I will uproot what I have planted throughout the earth.

Jeremiah 45:5 Are you looking for great things for yourself? Don't look for them, because I'm going to bring disaster on all people, declares the LORD. But wherever you go I will let you escape with your life.'"

Jeremiah 46:1 The LORD spoke this message to the prophet Jeremiah about the nations.

Jeremiah 46:2 This is the message about Egypt, about the army of Pharaoh Neco, king of Egypt. King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon defeated his army at Carchemish along the Euphrates River during the fourth year that Jehoiakim, son of Josiah, was king of Judah.

Jeremiah 46:3 "Get your large and small shields ready; advance into battle.

Jeremiah 46:4 Harness your horses. Mount up, you horsemen. Take your positions, and put on your helmets. Polish your spears. Put on your armor.

Jeremiah 46:5 “What do I see in them? They are terrified. They are retreating. Their warriors are defeated. They flee without looking back. Terror is all around them,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 46:6 “The infantry can’t flee. The warriors can’t escape. They stumble and fall in the north by the Euphrates River.

Jeremiah 46:7 Who is this, rising like the Nile River, like streams that flow swiftly?

Jeremiah 46:8 Egypt is like the rising Nile River, like a river quickly overflowing its banks. Egypt says, ‘I will rise; I will cover the earth. I will destroy cities and the people in them.’

Jeremiah 46:9 Go into battle, you horsemen. Drive wildly, you chariot drivers. March into battle, you warriors, you warriors from Sudan and Put who carry shields, you warriors from Lydia who use bows and arrows.

Jeremiah 46:10 That day belongs to the Almighty LORD of Armies. It is a day of vengeance when he will take revenge on his enemies. His sword will devour until it has had enough, and it will drink their blood until it’s full. The Almighty LORD of Armies will offer them as sacrifices in the north by the Euphrates River.

Jeremiah 46:11 Go to Gilead, and get medicine, dear people of Egypt. You have used many medicines without results; you can’t be cured.

Jeremiah 46:12 The nations have heard of your shame; your cry fills the earth. One warrior will stumble over another, and both will fall together.”

Jeremiah 46:13 The LORD spoke this message to the prophet Jeremiah about the coming of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon, who will defeat Egypt.

Jeremiah 46:14 “Tell this in Egypt; announce this in Migdol. Make it known in Memphis and in Tahpanhes. Say, ‘Take your positions, and get ready. Swords will kill those around you.’

Jeremiah 46:15 Why should your soldiers be cut down? They can’t stand because the LORD will push them down.

Jeremiah 46:16 They have repeatedly stumbled, and now they have fallen. They say to each other, ‘Get up! Let’s go back to our people, to the land where we were born, and escape our enemy’s sword.’

Jeremiah 46:17 There they will cry, ‘Pharaoh, king of Egypt, is a big windbag. He has missed his chance.’

Jeremiah 46:18 “As I live,” declares the king, whose name is the LORD of Armies, “someone who is like Mount Tabor among the mountains will come. Someone who is like Mount Carmel by the sea will come.

Jeremiah 46:19 Pack your bags, inhabitants of Egypt, because you will be taken away as captives. Memphis will become a dreary wasteland, a pile of rubble where no one lives.

Jeremiah 46:20 “Egypt is like a beautiful cow, but a horsefly from the north will attack it.

Jeremiah 46:21 Egypt’s hired soldiers are like fattened calves. They will turn and run away together. They won’t stand their ground. The day of destruction is coming. At that time they will be punished.

Jeremiah 46:22 Egypt will hiss like a snake as it slithers away. Its enemies will come with full force. They will attack it with axes like those who chop wood.

Jeremiah 46:23 They will cut down the forest,” declares the LORD, “since Egypt can’t be found. They are more numerous than locusts; they can’t be counted.

Jeremiah 46:24 The people of Egypt will be put to shame. They will be handed over to the people from the north.”

Jeremiah 46:25 The LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says, “I’m going to punish Amon, who is the god of Thebes. I will also punish Pharaoh, Egypt, its gods, its kings, and whoever trusts Pharaoh.

Jeremiah 46:26 I’ll hand them over to those who want to kill them, to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon and his officers. Afterward, they will live in peace as they did long ago,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 46:27 “Don’t be afraid, my servant Jacob. Don’t be terrified, Israel. I’m going to rescue you and your descendants from a faraway land, from the land where you are captives. Then Jacob’s descendants will again have undisturbed peace, and no one will make them afraid.

Jeremiah 46:28 Don’t be afraid, my servant Jacob,” declares the LORD. “I am with you. I will completely destroy all the nations where I scattered you, but I will not completely destroy you. I will correct you with justice. I won’t let you go entirely unpunished.”

Jeremiah 47:1 The LORD spoke this message to the prophet Jeremiah about the Philistines before Pharaoh defeated Gaza.

Jeremiah 47:2 This is what the LORD says: Water is rising in the north. It will become an overflowing river. It will overflow the land and everything in it, the cities and those who live in them. People will cry out and everyone who lives in the land will cry loudly.

Jeremiah 47:3 They will hear the sound of galloping war horses, the rattling of enemy chariots, and the rumbling of their wheels. Fathers who lack courage abandon their children.

Jeremiah 47:4 The time has come to destroy all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Sidon any Philistine who might have escaped to get help. The LORD will destroy the Philistines and anyone who is left from the island of Crete.

Jeremiah 47:5 Gaza will shave its head in mourning. Ashkelon will be destroyed. How long will you cut yourselves, you people left on the plains?

Jeremiah 47:6 You cry out, “Sword of the LORD, how long will you keep on fighting? Go back into your scabbard. Stay there and rest!”

Jeremiah 47:7 How can the sword of the LORD rest? The LORD has ordered it to attack Ashkelon and the coast. He has put it there.

Jeremiah 48:1 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says about Moab: How horrible it will be for Nebo; it will be destroyed. Kiriathaim will be put to shame; it will be captured. Its stronghold will be put to shame and torn down.

Jeremiah 48:2 People will no longer praise Moab. The people in Heshbon will plan Moab’s destruction. “Let’s destroy that nation!” You will be silenced, city of Madmen. Death will come after you.

Jeremiah 48:3 People will cry out from Horonaim, “Looting and great destruction!”

Jeremiah 48:4 Moab will be broken. Its little ones will cry out.

Jeremiah 48:5 People go up the pass of Luhith, crying bitterly as they go. On the road down to Horonaim they have heard the distressful cry of destruction.

Jeremiah 48:6 “Run away! Run for your lives! Run like a wild donkey in the desert.”

Jeremiah 48:7 Since you trust the things you do and your treasures, you will be captured. Chemosh will go into captivity with all its priests and officials.

Jeremiah 48:8 The destroyer will come to every city, and no city will escape. The valley will be destroyed, and the plain will be laid waste as the LORD has threatened.

Jeremiah 48:9 Put salt on Moab. It will be destroyed. Its cities will become deserted ruins.

Jeremiah 48:10 Cursed are those who neglect doing the LORD’s work. Cursed are those who keep their swords from killing.

Jeremiah 48:11 “Moab has lived securely ever since it was young. Its people are like wine left to settle in a jar. They aren’t poured from one jar to another. They haven’t gone into captivity. That is why its flavor has remained the same, and its aroma hasn’t changed.

Jeremiah 48:12 That is why the days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will send people to pour Moab out of its jars and to smash its pitchers.

Jeremiah 48:13 Then Moab will be ashamed of Chemosh as the nation of Israel was ashamed when it trusted Bethel.

Jeremiah 48:14 “How can you say, ‘We are soldiers and warriors’?

Jeremiah 48:15 The enemy will attack Moab and destroy its cities. Its finest young men will be slaughtered,” declares the king, whose name is the LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 48:16 “Moab’s destruction is coming near; disaster is coming quickly.

Jeremiah 48:17 Mourn over it, all of its neighbors and everyone who knows its fame. Say, ‘Look at the strong staff, the beautiful rod, that is broken!’

Jeremiah 48:18 “People of Dibon, come down from your place of honor and sit on the dry ground. The destroyers of Moab will attack you. They will destroy your fortresses.

Jeremiah 48:19 Stand by the road in Aroer, and watch. Ask those who are fleeing and those who are escaping what is happening.

Jeremiah 48:20 They will answer, ‘Moab is disgraced; it is defeated. Shout loudly, and cry. Tell the news in Arnon that Moab is destroyed.’

Jeremiah 48:21 “Judgment has come to all the cities on the plain: to Holon, Jahzah, Mephaath,

Jeremiah 48:22 Dibon, Nebo, Beth Diblathaim,

Jeremiah 48:23 Kiriathaim, Beth Gamul, Beth Meon,

Jeremiah 48:24 Kerioth, Bozrah, and on all the cities of Moab, far and near.

Jeremiah 48:25 “Moab’s horn is cut off, and its arm is broken,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 48:26 “Get the people of Moab drunk; they have spoken against the LORD. They will wallow in their own vomit, and people will laugh at them.

Jeremiah 48:27 People of Moab, didn’t you laugh at the people of Israel? Were they caught among thieves? Whenever you talk about them you shake your heads in contempt.

Jeremiah 48:28 People of Moab, abandon your cities. Live among the cliffs. Be like doves that make their nests at the entrance of a cave.

Jeremiah 48:29 “We have heard about the arrogance of Moab’s people. They are very arrogant. They are very arrogant, conceited, and boastful.

Jeremiah 48:30 I know how arrogant they are,” declares the LORD, “but it isn’t right. They brag and don’t do what they say.

Jeremiah 48:31 That is why I will weep for Moab and cry for all of Moab. I will moan for the people of Kir Hareseth.

Jeremiah 48:32 I will cry for you as Jazer cries. I will cry for you, grapevines of Sibmah. Your branches [once] spread as far as the sea, and they reached as far as the sea of Jazer. The destroyer will destroy your ripened fruits and your grapes.

Jeremiah 48:33 Joy and gladness have disappeared from the orchards and fields of Moab. I will stop the wine flowing from the winepresses. No one will stomp on grapes with shouts of joy. There will be shouts, but not shouts of joy.

Jeremiah 48:34 "The cry will be heard from Heshbon to Elealeh and Jahaz. It will be heard from Zoar to Horonaim and Eglath Shelishiyah. Even the streams of Nimrim will dry up.

Jeremiah 48:35 I will stop those in Moab who come to worship sites, those who bring offerings to their gods," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 48:36 "That is why I moan for Moab like a flute. I sound like a flute for the people of Kir Hareseth. The wealth they gained has disappeared.

Jeremiah 48:37 "Every head is shaved, and every beard is cut off. There are gashes on every hand and sackcloth on every waist.

Jeremiah 48:38 People in Moab will mourn on every rooftop and in every street. There will be mourning everywhere, because I will break Moab like a jar that no one wants," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 48:39 "They will cry, 'Look how Moab is defeated! Moab turns away in shame!' Moab has become something ridiculed and something held in contempt by everyone around it.

Jeremiah 48:40 "This is what the LORD says: The enemy will swoop down like eagles and spread their wings over Moab.

Jeremiah 48:41 The cities will be taken, and the fortified places will be captured. On that day Moab's soldiers will be like women in childbirth.

Jeremiah 48:42 Moab will be destroyed as a nation, because it spoke against the LORD.

Jeremiah 48:43 Disasters, pits, and traps are in store for those who live in Moab," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 48:44 "Whoever flees from a disaster will fall into a pit. Whoever climbs out of the pit will be caught in a trap. I will bring a year of punishment to Moab," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 48:45 "Those who flee will stand exhausted in the shadow of Heshbon. A fire will come out of Heshbon and a flame from Sihon. It will burn the foreheads of the people of Moab and the skulls of those noisy people.

Jeremiah 48:46 How horrible it will be for you, Moab. You people of Chemosh will die. Your sons will be taken away into exile, and your daughters will be taken away into captivity.

Jeremiah 48:47 But I will restore Moab in the last days,” declares the LORD. The judgment against Moab ends here.

Jeremiah 49:1 This is what the LORD says about the people of Ammon: Doesn’t Israel have any children? Doesn’t it have any heirs? Why, then, has the god Milcom taken over the inheritance of Gad’s descendants? Why do Milcom’s people live in Gad’s cities?

Jeremiah 49:2 That is why the days are coming, declares the LORD, when I will sound the battle cry against Rabbah, where the people of Ammon live. It will become a pile of rubble. Its villages will be burned down. Then Israel will take possession of its inheritance, says the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:3 Cry loudly, Heshbon, because Ai is destroyed. Cry, people of Rabbah, put on your sackcloth, and mourn. Run back and forth between the walls. Milcom will be taken away into captivity with its priests and officials.

Jeremiah 49:4 Why do you brag about your valleys, your fertile valleys, you unfaithful people? You trust your treasures. You think, “Who would attack me?”

Jeremiah 49:5 I am going to bring terror on you from all around, declares the Almighty LORD of Armies. Everyone will be scattered. No one will gather the refugees.

Jeremiah 49:6 But afterward, I will return the captives of Ammon, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:7 This is what the LORD of Armies says about Edom: Is there no longer any wisdom in Teman? Has wisdom disappeared from your people? Has their wisdom vanished?

Jeremiah 49:8 Turn and run. Hide in deep caves, inhabitants of Dedan. When I punish them, I will bring disaster on the descendants of Esau.

Jeremiah 49:9 If people come to pick your grapes, won’t they leave a few grapes behind? If thieves come during the night, won’t they steal only until they’ve had enough?

Jeremiah 49:10 Yet, I will strip the descendants of Esau. I will find their hiding places. They won’t be able to hide. Their children and relatives will be destroyed. None of their neighbors will say,

Jeremiah 49:11 “Abandon your orphans, and I will keep them alive. Your widows can trust me.”

Jeremiah 49:12 This is what the LORD says: If those who don’t deserve to drink from the cup still drink from it, why should you go unpunished? You won’t go unpunished. You must drink from it.

Jeremiah 49:13 I take an oath on myself, declares the LORD, that Bozrah will become a pile of rubble. It will become something horrifying, ridiculed, ruined, and cursed. All its cities will lie in ruins permanently.

Jeremiah 49:14 I heard a message from the LORD. A messenger was sent among the nations to say, “Assemble, and attack Edom. Get ready for battle.”

Jeremiah 49:15 “Edom, I will make you the smallest of nations and despised among humanity.

Jeremiah 49:16 You have frightened other people. Your arrogance has deceived you. You live on rocky cliffs and occupy the highest places in the hills. Even though you build your nest as high as an eagle, I will bring you down from there,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:17 “Then Edom will become something horrible. Everyone who passes by it will be horrified and hiss at all its wounds.

Jeremiah 49:18 Edom will be like Sodom, Gomorrah, and their neighboring cities when they were destroyed. No one will live there. No human will stay there,” says the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:19 “I will suddenly chase them from their places like a lion coming out of the jungle along the Jordan River into pastureland. I will appoint over Edom whomever I choose. Who is like me? Who can challenge me? Is there any leader who can stand up to me?”

Jeremiah 49:20 Listen to the plans that the LORD is making against Edom and the things he intends to do to those who live in Teman. He will surely drag away the little ones of the flock. He will surely destroy the pasture because of the people who live in Teman.

Jeremiah 49:21 The earth will quake at the sound of their downfall. The sound of their crying will be heard at the Red Sea.

Jeremiah 49:22 The enemy will swoop down like eagles and spread their wings over Bozrah. On that day Edom’s soldiers will be like women in childbirth.

Jeremiah 49:23 This is a message about Damascus. “Hamath and Arpad are worried because they heard the bad news. They melt in fear. They are troubled like a sea that can’t be calmed.

Jeremiah 49:24 The people of Damascus are weak. They turn to flee, but panic grips them. Anguish and pain grip them like a woman in labor.

Jeremiah 49:25 Why isn’t that famous, happy city abandoned?

Jeremiah 49:26 That is why its young men will die in the streets, and its soldiers will be silenced that day,” declares the LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 49:27 “I will set fire to the walls of Damascus and burn down Benhadad’s palaces.”

Jeremiah 49:28 This is about the tribe of Kedar and the kingdoms of Hazor that King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon defeated. This is what the LORD says: Get ready, attack Kedar, and loot the people from the east.

Jeremiah 49:29 Their tents and their flocks will be taken. Their tent curtains, utensils, and camels will be carried away. People will shout to them, “Terror is all around!”

Jeremiah 49:30 Run far away! Find a place to hide, inhabitants of Hazor, declares the LORD. King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon has made plans against you and intends to attack you.

Jeremiah 49:31 Get ready! Attack the nation living peacefully and securely, declares the LORD. It is a nation with no gates or bars. Its people live alone.

Jeremiah 49:32 Their camels will be taken as prizes. Their large herds will be taken as loot. I will scatter to the winds those who shave the hair on their foreheads. I will bring disaster on them from every side, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:33 Hazor will be a place where only jackals live. It will become a permanent wasteland. No one will live there. No human will stay there.

Jeremiah 49:34 Early in the rule of King Zedekiah of Judah, the LORD spoke his word to the prophet Jeremiah about Elam.

Jeremiah 49:35 This is what the LORD of Armies says: I’m going to break the bows of Elam’s archers, the most important weapon of their strength.

Jeremiah 49:36 I’ll bring the four winds from the four corners of heaven against Elam and scatter its people in every direction. There won’t be a nation where Elam’s refugees won’t go.

Jeremiah 49:37 I’ll defeat the people of Elam in the presence of their enemies, in the presence of those who want to kill them. I’ll bring disaster with my burning anger, declares the LORD. I’ll send armies after them until I put an end to them.

Jeremiah 49:38 I’ll set my throne in Elam and destroy its king and officials, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 49:39 But afterward, I’ll return the captives of Elam, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:1 This is the message that the LORD spoke about Babylon and the land of the Babylonians through the prophet Jeremiah.

Jeremiah 50:2 “Announce this among the nations, and spread the news. Raise a flag, and announce it. Don’t hide anything. Say, ‘Babylon will be captured. Bel will be put to shame. Marduk will be filled with terror. Babylon’s statues will be put to shame. Its idols will be filled with terror.’

Jeremiah 50:3 A nation from the north will attack Babylon and destroy its land so that no one will live in it. People and animals will run away.

Jeremiah 50:4 “In those days and at that time,” declares the LORD, “the people of Israel and Judah will cry as they go together to seek the LORD their God.

Jeremiah 50:5 They will ask which road goes to Zion and turn in that direction. They will go there to make a permanent agreement with the LORD. It will not be forgotten.

Jeremiah 50:6 My people have been lost sheep. Their shepherds have led them astray. They wander around on the mountains. They go from mountains to hills. They have forgotten their resting place.

Jeremiah 50:7 Everyone who finds them eats them. Their enemies say, ‘We’re not guilty. They have sinned against the LORD, their true pasture. They have sinned against the LORD, the hope of their ancestors.’

Jeremiah 50:8 “Run away from Babylon. Leave the land of the Babylonians. Be like the male goats that lead the flock.

Jeremiah 50:9 I am going to stir up an alliance of strong nations from the north and bring it against Babylon. Those nations will take up positions against Babylon. Babylon will be captured from the north. Its enemy’s arrows will be like skilled soldiers who don’t come back empty-handed.

Jeremiah 50:10 The Babylonians will become the prize. All who loot them will get everything they want,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:11 “You are happy and excited. You have looted the people who belong to me. You dance around like calves on the grass and neigh like stallions.

Jeremiah 50:12 But your mother will be greatly ashamed. The woman who gave birth to you will be disgraced. Babylon, you will be the least important nation. You will become a parched desert.

Jeremiah 50:13 No one will live in Babylon because of the LORD’s anger. It will be completely abandoned. Everyone who passes by Babylon will be horrified and hiss at all its wounds.

Jeremiah 50:14 “Take up your positions around Babylon, all you archers with bows. Shoot at it; don’t save any arrows, because the people of Babylon have sinned against the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:15 Shout a war cry against them on every side. They’ll surrender. Their towers will fall and their walls will be torn down. Since this is the LORD’s vengeance, take revenge against them. Do to them what they did to others.

Jeremiah 50:16 Don’t allow anyone in Babylon to plant or harvest. Everyone will turn to his own people and flee to his own homeland because of the enemies’ swords.

Jeremiah 50:17 “The people of Israel are like scattered sheep that lions have chased. The first to devour them was the king of Assyria. The last to gnaw at their bones was King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon.

Jeremiah 50:18 “This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: I am going to punish the king of Babylon and his land as I punished the king of Assyria.

Jeremiah 50:19 I will bring the people of Israel back to their pastures. They will eat on Mount Carmel and Mount Bashan. They will eat until they are full on the mountains of Ephraim and Gilead.

Jeremiah 50:20 In those days and at that time,” declares the LORD, “people will look for Israel’s crimes, but they will find none. They will look for Judah’s sins, but none will be found. I will forgive the faithful few whom I have spared.

Jeremiah 50:21 “Attack the land of Merathaim and the people who live in Pekod. Claim them for me by killing them with a sword,” declares the LORD. “Do everything I commanded you.

Jeremiah 50:22 The noise of battle and great destruction fills the land.

Jeremiah 50:23 The hammer of the whole earth is broken and shattered. See how desolate Babylon is of all the nations!

Jeremiah 50:24 I will set traps for you, Babylon. You will be caught, but you won’t know it. You will be found and captured because you have opposed the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:25 The LORD will open his armory and bring out the weapons of his fury, because the Almighty LORD of Armies has a job to do in the land of the Babylonians.

Jeremiah 50:26 Attack them from a distance, open their storehouses, pile up their corpses like piles of grain, claim them for me by destroying them, and don’t leave anyone behind.

Jeremiah 50:27 Kill all their young bulls. Let them go to be slaughtered. How horrible it will be for them when their time has come, the time for them to be punished.

Jeremiah 50:28 Listen! Fugitives and refugees from Babylon are coming to Zion to tell about the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance for his temple.

Jeremiah 50:29 “Call together the archers, the soldiers with bows, against Babylon. Set up blockades around it. Don’t let anyone escape. Pay the people of Babylon back for what they have done. Do to them what they did to others. They have disobeyed the LORD, the Holy One of Israel.

Jeremiah 50:30 That is why their young men will die in the streets, and all their soldiers will be silenced that day,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:31 “I’m against you, you arrogant city,” declares the Almighty LORD of Armies. “Your day has come, the time when I will punish you.

Jeremiah 50:32 Those arrogant people will stumble and fall, and there will be no one to help them get up. I will light a fire in their cities that will burn up everything around them.”

Jeremiah 50:33 This is what the LORD of Armies says: All the people of Israel and Judah are oppressed. All their enemies have captured them. They refuse to let them go.

Jeremiah 50:34 Their defender is strong. His name is the LORD of Armies. He will certainly take up their cause in order to bring rest to the land of Israel and unrest to the people who live in Babylon.

Jeremiah 50:35 “A sword will kill the Babylonians and everyone who lives in Babylon,” declares the LORD. “A sword will kill their officials and their wise men.

Jeremiah 50:36 A sword will kill the false prophets. They will become fools. A sword will kill their soldiers and defeat them.

Jeremiah 50:37 A sword will kill their horses, their chariots, and all the foreigners within their ranks. They will become women. A sword will destroy their treasures, and they will be looted.

Jeremiah 50:38 A drought will diminish their water supply, and it will dry up. Babylon is a land of idols, statues that will go crazy with fear.

Jeremiah 50:39 That is why desert animals will live with hyenas. Desert owls will also live there. It will no longer be inhabited or lived in for generations.

Jeremiah 50:40 Babylon will be like Sodom, Gomorrah, and their neighboring cities when I, God, destroyed them. No one will live there. No human will stay there,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 50:41 “People are going to come from the north. A great nation and many kings will rise from the ends of the earth.

Jeremiah 50:42 They will take hold of bows and spears. They will be cruel and have no compassion. They will sound like the sea when it roars. They will ride horses. They are ready for war, ready to attack you, people of Babylon.

Jeremiah 50:43 The king of Babylon has heard reports about them, and he loses courage. Anguish will grip him as pain grips a woman in labor.

Jeremiah 50:44 I will suddenly chase them from their places like a lion coming out of the jungle along the Jordan River into pastureland. I will appoint over Babylon whomever I choose. Who is like me? Who can challenge me? Is there any leader who can stand up to me?

Jeremiah 50:45 Listen to the plans that the LORD is making against Babylon and the things he intends to do to the land of the Babylonians.

He will surely drag away the little ones of the flock. He will surely destroy the pasture because of the Babylonians.

Jeremiah 50:46 The earth will quake at the news that Babylon has been captured. Its cry will be heard among the nations.”

Jeremiah 51:1 This is what the LORD says: I will stir up a destructive wind against Babylon and against the people who live in Leb Kamai.

Jeremiah 51:2 I will send people to winnow Babylon, to winnow it and strip its land bare. They will attack it from every direction on the day of trouble.

Jeremiah 51:3 Have the archers bend their bows. Have them put on their armor. Don’t spare Babylon’s young men. Completely destroy its whole army.

Jeremiah 51:4 Babylon’s soldiers will fall down badly wounded in their streets. They will lie dead in their own land.

Jeremiah 51:5 Israel and Judah haven’t been abandoned by their God, the LORD of Armies, although their land is guilty of abandoning the Holy One of Israel.

Jeremiah 51:6 Run away from Babylon! Run for your lives! You shouldn’t die because of Babylon’s crimes. This is the time for the vengeance of the LORD. He will pay the people of Babylon back for what they have done.

Jeremiah 51:7 Babylon was a golden cup in the LORD’s hand. It made the whole world drunk. The nations drank its wine. That is why the nations have gone insane.

Jeremiah 51:8 Babylon will suddenly fall and be shattered. Cry for it. Bring medicine for its pain. Maybe it can be healed.

Jeremiah 51:9 We wanted to heal Babylon, but it couldn’t be healed. Let’s abandon it and go to our own land. God has judged Babylon. Its judgment is complete.

Jeremiah 51:10 The LORD has brought about our victory. Let’s announce in Zion what the LORD our God has done.

Jeremiah 51:11 Sharpen the arrows; fill the quivers. The LORD will stir up the spirit of the kings of the Medes because his plan is to destroy Babylon. The LORD will avenge his temple.

Jeremiah 51:12 Raise your battle flag in front of the walls of Babylon. Strengthen the guards. Station watchmen. Prepare ambushes. The LORD will carry out his plans against the people who live in Babylon.

Jeremiah 51:13 Babylon, you live beside many rivers and are rich with treasures, but your end has come. The thread of your life has been cut off.

Jeremiah 51:14 The LORD of Armies has taken an oath on himself: "I will certainly fill you with many enemy armies. They will swarm like locusts. People will shout their victory over you."

Jeremiah 51:15 The LORD made the earth by his power. He set up the world by his wisdom. He stretched out heaven by his understanding.

Jeremiah 51:16 When he thunders, the water in the sky roars. He makes clouds rise from the ends of the earth. He sends lightning with the rain. He brings wind out of his storehouses.

Jeremiah 51:17 Everyone is stupid and ignorant. Metalsmiths are put to shame by their idols. Their statues are false [gods].

Jeremiah 51:18 They can't breathe. They are worthless jokes. When they are punished, they will disappear.

Jeremiah 51:19 Jacob's God isn't like them. He made everything, and Israel is the tribe that belongs to him. His name is the LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 51:20 "You are my war club and my weapon for battle. I will use you to crush nations. I will use you to destroy kingdoms.

Jeremiah 51:21 I will use you to crush horses and their riders. I will use you to crush chariots and their drivers.

Jeremiah 51:22 I will use you to crush men and women. I will use you to crush the old and the young. I will use you to crush young men and women.

Jeremiah 51:23 I will use you to crush shepherds and their flocks. I will use you to crush farmers and their oxen. I will use you to crush governors and officials.

Jeremiah 51:24 "In your presence I will pay back Babylon and all the people who live in Babylon for all the evil things that they did in Zion," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:25 "I am against you, Babylon, you destructive mountain. You have destroyed the whole earth," declares the LORD. "I will use my power against you, roll you off the cliffs, and make you a scorched mountain.

Jeremiah 51:26 People won't find any stones in you to use as a cornerstone. They won't find any stones in you to use for a foundation. You will become permanent ruins," declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:27 Raise your battle flag throughout the world. Blow the ram's horn among the nations. Prepare nations to attack Babylon. Tell the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz to attack it. Appoint a commander to lead the attack. Bring up horses like a swarm of locusts.

Jeremiah 51:28 Prepare nations to attack Babylon. Prepare the king of the Medes, their governors, all their deputies, and all the countries that they rule.

Jeremiah 51:29 The earth trembles and writhes in pain. The LORD carries out his plans against Babylon to make Babylon a wasteland so that no one will live there.

Jeremiah 51:30 The warriors of Babylon have stopped fighting. They stay in their fortified cities. Their strength has failed. They have become women. Their buildings are set on fire. The bars across their gates are broken.

Jeremiah 51:31 Runners run to meet runners. Messengers follow messengers. They inform the king of Babylon that his entire city is captured.

Jeremiah 51:32 The river crossings have been taken. The enemy has burned its marshes, and its soldiers are terrified.

Jeremiah 51:33 This is what the LORD of Armies, the God of Israel, says: The people of Babylon are like a threshing floor at the time it is trampled. Their harvest time will come soon.

Jeremiah 51:34 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon has devoured us. He has thrown us into confusion. He has turned us into empty jars. He has swallowed us like a monster. He has filled his belly with our delicacies. Then he spit us out.

Jeremiah 51:35 The people who live in Zion say, “May the violence done to us be done to Babylon.” Jerusalem says, “May the people of Babylon be held responsible for our deaths.”

Jeremiah 51:36 This is what the LORD says: I am going to take up your cause and get revenge for you. I will dry up Babylon’s sea and make its springs dry.

Jeremiah 51:37 Babylon will become piles of rubble. It will become a dwelling place for jackals, something horrible, and an object of contempt, where no one lives.

Jeremiah 51:38 Its people are like roaring lions and growling lion cubs.

Jeremiah 51:39 When they are excited, I will prepare a feast for them and make them drunk so that they will shout and laugh. They will fall into a deep sleep and never wake up again, declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:40 I will take them to be slaughtered like lambs, rams, and male goats.

Jeremiah 51:41 “Sheshach has been captured. Babylon, the city that the whole world praised, has been taken captive.

Jeremiah 51:42 What a horrifying sight Babylon will be to the nations! The sea will rise over Babylon, and its roaring waves will cover it.

Jeremiah 51:43 Its cities will be ruined. It will become a desert, a land where no one lives and where no human travels.

Jeremiah 51:44 I will punish Bel in Babylon. I will make Bel spit out everything that it has swallowed. Nations will no longer stream to Babylon, and its walls will fall.

Jeremiah 51:45 “Leave it, my people! Run for your lives! Run from the burning anger of the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:46 Don’t lose courage or be afraid when rumors are heard in the land. One rumor comes one year; another rumor comes the next year. Rumors of violence are in the land. Rumors that one ruler will fight against another are in the land.

Jeremiah 51:47 That is why the days are coming when I will punish Babylon’s idols. The whole country will be put to shame, and all its soldiers will lie dead.

Jeremiah 51:48 Then heaven and earth and everything in them will rejoice over Babylon, because destroyers from the north will attack it,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:49 Because the people of Babylon have killed many Israelites and because they have killed many people throughout the earth, Babylon must fall.

Jeremiah 51:50 You people who escaped from the sword, leave! Don’t just stand there. Remember the LORD in a distant land, and think about Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 51:51 We have been put to shame, and we have been disgraced. Shame covers our faces, because foreigners have gone into the holy places of the LORD’s temple.

Jeremiah 51:52 “That is why the days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will punish their idols, and those who are wounded will moan everywhere in the land.

Jeremiah 51:53 The people of Babylon might go up to heaven. They might fortify their strongholds. But destroyers will still come from me against them,” declares the LORD.

Jeremiah 51:54 Cries of agony are heard from Babylon. Sounds of terrible destruction are heard from the land of the Babylonians.

Jeremiah 51:55 The LORD will destroy Babylon. He will silence the loud noise coming from it. Waves of enemies will come roaring in like raging water. The noise will be heard everywhere.

Jeremiah 51:56 A destroyer will attack Babylon, its soldiers will be captured, and their bows and arrows will be broken. “I, the LORD, am a God who punishes evil. I will certainly punish them.

Jeremiah 51:57 I will make their officials and wise men drunk, along with their governors, officers, and soldiers. They will fall into a deep sleep and never wake up,” declares the king, whose name is the LORD of Armies.

Jeremiah 51:58 This is what the LORD of Armies says: The thick walls of Babylon will be leveled, and its high gates will be set on fire. People exhaust themselves for nothing. The nations wear themselves out only to have a fire.

Jeremiah 51:59 This is the message that the prophet Jeremiah gave to Seraiah, son of Neriah and grandson of Mahseiah, when Seraiah went to Babylon with King Zedekiah of Judah in the fourth year of Zedekiah's rule. (Seraiah was the quartermaster.)

Jeremiah 51:60 Jeremiah wrote on a scroll all the disasters that would happen to Babylon. He wrote all these things that have been written about Babylon.

Jeremiah 51:61 Jeremiah said to Seraiah, "When you come to Babylon, see that you read all this.

Jeremiah 51:62 Then say, 'LORD, you have threatened to destroy this place so that no person or animal will live here, and it will become a permanent ruin.'

Jeremiah 51:63 When you finish reading this scroll, tie a stone to it and throw it into the middle of the Euphrates River.

Jeremiah 51:64 Say, 'Babylon will sink like this scroll. It will never rise again because of the disasters that I will bring on it.' " The words of Jeremiah end here.

Jeremiah 52:1 Zedekiah was 21 years old when he began to rule, and he ruled for 11 years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal, daughter of Jeremiah from Libnah.

Jeremiah 52:2 Zedekiah did what the LORD considered evil, as Jehoiakim had done.

Jeremiah 52:3 The LORD became angry with Jerusalem and Judah and threw the people out of his sight. Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

Jeremiah 52:4 On the tenth day of the tenth month of the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Jerusalem with his entire army. They set up camp and built dirt ramps around the city walls.

Jeremiah 52:5 The blockade of the city lasted until Zedekiah's eleventh year as king.

Jeremiah 52:6 On the ninth day of the fourth month, the famine in the city became so severe that the common people had no food.

Jeremiah 52:7 The enemy broke through the city walls, and all Judah's soldiers fled. They left the city at night through the gate between the two walls beside the king's garden. While the Babylonians were attacking the city from all sides, they took the road to the plain [of Jericho].

Jeremiah 52:8 The Babylonian army pursued King Zedekiah and caught up with him in the plain of Jericho. His entire army had deserted him.

Jeremiah 52:9 The Babylonians captured the king and brought him to the king of Babylon at Riblah in Hamath, where the king of Babylon passed sentence on him.

Jeremiah 52:10 The king of Babylon slaughtered Zedekiah's sons as Zedekiah watched. He also slaughtered all the officials of Judah at Riblah.

Jeremiah 52:11 Then he blinded Zedekiah and put him in bronze shackles. The king of Babylon took him to Babylon and put him in a prison, where he stayed until he died.

Jeremiah 52:12 On the tenth day of the fifth month of Nebuchadnezzar's nineteenth year as king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan, who was the captain of the guard and an officer of the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 52:13 He burned down the LORD's temple, the royal palace, and all the houses in Jerusalem. Every important building was burned down.

Jeremiah 52:14 The entire Babylonian army that was with the captain of the guard tore down the walls around Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 52:15 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, captured the few people left in the city, those who surrendered to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the population.

Jeremiah 52:16 But Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, left some of the poorest people in the land to work in the vineyards and on the farms.

Jeremiah 52:17 The Babylonians broke apart the bronze pillars of the LORD's temple, the stands, and the bronze pool in the LORD's temple. They shipped all the bronze to Babylon.

Jeremiah 52:18 They took the pots, shovels, snuffers, bowls, dishes, and all the bronze utensils used in the temple service.

Jeremiah 52:19 The captain of the guard also took pans, incense burners, bowls, pots, lamp stands, dishes, and the bowls used for wine offerings. The captain of the guard took all of the trays and bowls that were made of gold or silver.

Jeremiah 52:20 The bronze from the 2 pillars, the pool, and the 12 bronze bulls under the stands that King Solomon had made for the LORD's temple couldn't be weighed.

Jeremiah 52:21 One pillar was 27 feet high and 18 feet in circumference. It was three inches thick and hollow.

Jeremiah 52:22 The capital that was on it was 71/2 feet high with a filigree and pomegranates around it. They were all made of bronze. The second pillar was the same. It also had pomegranates.

Jeremiah 52:23 There were 96 pomegranates on the sides. The total number of pomegranates on the surrounding filigree was 100.

Jeremiah 52:24 The captain of the guard took the chief priest Seraiah, the second priest Zephaniah, and the 3 doorkeepers.

Jeremiah 52:25 From the city he also took an army commander, 7 men who had access to the king whom he found in the city, the scribe who was in charge of the militia, and 60 common people whom he found in the city.

Jeremiah 52:26 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

Jeremiah 52:27 The king of Babylon executed them at Riblah in the territory of Hamath. So the people of Judah were captives as they left their land.

Jeremiah 52:28 These are the people Nebuchadnezzar took captive: In his seventh year as king, he took 3,023 Jews.

Jeremiah 52:29 In his eighteenth year, Nebuchadnezzar took 832 people from Jerusalem.

Jeremiah 52:30 In Nebuchadnezzar's twenty-third year as king, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, took away 745 Jews. In all, 4,600 people were taken away.

Jeremiah 52:31 On the twenty-fifth day of the twelfth month of the thirty-seventh year of the imprisonment of King Jehoiakin of Judah, King Evil Merodach of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, freed King Jehoiakin of Judah and released him from prison.

Jeremiah 52:32 He treated him well and gave him a special position higher than the other kings who were with him in Babylon.

Jeremiah 52:33 Jehoiakin no longer wore prison clothes, and he ate his meals in the king's presence as long as he lived.

Jeremiah 52:34 The king of Babylon gave him a daily food allowance as long as he lived.

Lamentations

1:1 "Look how deserted Jerusalem is! Once the city was crowded with people. Once it was important among the nations. Now it is a widow. Once it was a princess among the provinces. Now it does forced labor.

Lamentations 1:2 Jerusalem cries bitterly at night with tears running down its cheeks. Out of all those who love the city, no one offers it comfort. All of Jerusalem's friends have betrayed it and become its enemies.

Lamentations 1:3 “Judah has been exiled after [much] suffering and harsh treatment. Its [people] live among the nations; they find no rest. Those who chased them caught up with them in places where there was no way out.

Lamentations 1:4 “The roads to Zion are deserted. No one comes to the annual festivals. No one passes through any of its gates. Its priests are groaning. Its young women are made to suffer. Zion is bitter.

Lamentations 1:5 Its opponents are now in control. Its enemies have no worries. The LORD made Zion suffer for its many rebellious acts. Its children go ahead of their opponents into captivity.

Lamentations 1:6 All splendor has abandoned the people of Zion. Its influential people were like deer that couldn’t find any pasture. They ran without any strength ahead of the hunters.

Lamentations 1:7 “Now, during its suffering and oppression, Jerusalem remembers all the treasures it had from ancient times, when its people fell into the power of their enemies with no one to help them. Their opponents looked on, and they laughed at Jerusalem’s downfall.

Lamentations 1:8 Jerusalem has sinned so much that it has become a filthy thing. Everyone who used to honor it now despises it. They’ve seen it naked. Jerusalem groans and turns away.

Lamentations 1:9 Jerusalem’s own filth [covers] its clothes. It gave no thought to its future. Its downfall was shocking. No one offers it comfort. ‘O LORD, look at my suffering, because my enemies have triumphed.’

Lamentations 1:10 The enemies laid their hands on all of the city’s treasures. Jerusalem has seen the nations enter the holy place. ‘O Lord, they are the same people you have forbidden to enter your congregation.’

Lamentations 1:11 All the people are groaning as they beg for bread. They trade their treasures for food to keep themselves alive. ‘O LORD, look and see how despised I am!’”

Lamentations 1:12 “Doesn’t this affect all of you who pass by? Look and see if there’s any pain like the pain that the LORD has caused me, like the pain that he has made me suffer on the day of his fierce anger.

Lamentations 1:13 He sent fire from above. He made it go deep into my bones. He spread a net for my feet. He made me turn back. He has left me devastated. He has made me sick all day long.

Lamentations 1:14 My rebellious acts are a heavy burden for me. They were tied together by God’s own hands. They were tied around my neck. He has weakened me [with them]. The Lord has handed me over to people I cannot oppose.

Lamentations 1:15 The Lord has treated all the warriors inside my [walls] with contempt. He called an army to defeat my young men. The LORD trampled the people of Judah in a winepress.

Lamentations 1:16 I'm crying because of [all] these things. My eyes-my eyes flow with tears. No one can give me the comfort I need to keep me alive. Everyone is too far away from me. My children are devastated because my enemies have won."

Lamentations 1:17 Zion holds out its hands. No one offers it comfort. The LORD has given this order about Jacob: His own neighbors will become his opponents. Jerusalem has become a filthy thing among them.

Lamentations 1:18 "The LORD is right in what he did, because I rebelled against his word. Please listen, all you people, and look at my pain. My young women and young men have gone into captivity.

Lamentations 1:19 I called for those who love me, but they betrayed me. My priests and leaders breathed their last breath in the city, looking for food to keep themselves alive.

Lamentations 1:20 "O LORD, see the distress I'm in! My stomach is churning. My heart is pounding because I've been very bitter. In the streets swords kill my children. Inside the houses it's like death.

Lamentations 1:21 "All my enemies have heard that I am groaning. No one offers me comfort. All my enemies have heard about my disaster. They are happy that you did it. You have allowed the day to come, the one that you had announced. Let my enemies be like me now.

Lamentations 1:22 Recall all of their wickedness. Then deal with them as you have dealt with me because of all my rebellious acts. I groan so much and feel so sick at heart."

Lamentations 2:1 "Look how the Lord has covered the people of Zion with the cloud of his anger! He has thrown down Israel's beauty from heaven to earth. He didn't [even] remember his footstool on the day of his anger.

Lamentations 2:2 The Lord swallowed up all of Jacob's pastures without any pity. He tore down the fortified cities of Judah in his fury. He brought the kingdom [of Judah] and its leaders down to the ground in dishonor.

Lamentations 2:3 In his burning anger he cut off all of Israel's strength. He withdrew his right hand when they faced their enemy. He burned like a raging fire in [the land of] Jacob, destroying everything around him.

Lamentations 2:4 Like an enemy he bent his bow. Like an opponent his right hand held the arrow steady. He killed all the beautiful people. He poured out his fury like fire on the tent of Zion's people.

Lamentations 2:5 The Lord became an enemy. He swallowed up Israel. He swallowed up all of its palaces. He destroyed its strongholds. He made the people of Judah mourn and moan.

Lamentations 2:6 He stripped his own booth as if it were a garden and destroyed his own festivals. The LORD wiped out the memory of festivals and days of worship in Zion. He expelled kings and priests because of his fierce anger.

Lamentations 2:7 The Lord rejected his altar and disowned his holy place. He handed the walls of Zion's palaces over to its enemies. The enemies made noise in the LORD's temple as though it were a festival day.

Lamentations 2:8 The LORD planned to destroy the wall of Zion's people. He marked it off with a line. He didn't take his hand away until he had swallowed it up. He made the towers and walls mourn. They are completely dejected.

Lamentations 2:9 "[Zion's] gates have sunk into the ground. [The LORD] destroyed and shattered the bars across its [gates]. Its king and influential people are [scattered] among the nations. There is no longer any instruction [from Moses' Teachings]. Its prophets can find no visions from the LORD.

Lamentations 2:10 The respected leaders of Zion's people sit silently on the ground. They throw dirt on their heads and put on sackcloth. The young women of Jerusalem bow their heads to the ground.

Lamentations 2:11 My eyes are worn out with tears. My stomach is churning. My heart is poured out on the ground because of the destruction of my people. Little children and infants faint in the city streets.

Lamentations 2:12 They're asking their mothers for some bread and wine as they faint like wounded people in the city streets. Their lives dwindle away in their mothers' arms.

Lamentations 2:13 "What example can I give you? What parallel can I show you, people of Jerusalem? What comparison can I make that will comfort you, beloved people of Zion? Your wounds are as deep as the sea. Who can heal you?

Lamentations 2:14 Your prophets saw misleading visions about you. They painted a good picture of you. They didn't expose your guilt in order to make things better again. They gave you false prophecies that misled you.

Lamentations 2:15 Everyone who walks along the road shakes a fist at you. They hiss and shake their heads at Jerusalem's people: 'Is this the city they used to call absolutely beautiful, the joy of the whole world?'

Lamentations 2:16 All your enemies gawk at you. They hiss and grit their teeth. They say, 'We've swallowed it up. Yes, this is the day we've been waiting for. At last we have seen it!'

Lamentations 2:17 The LORD has accomplished what he had planned to do. He carried out the threat he announced long ago. He tore you down without any pity, [Jerusalem]. He made your enemies gloat over you. He raised the weapons of your opponents.

Lamentations 2:18 The hearts of Jerusalem’s people cried out to the LORD, the wall of Zion’s people. Let your tears run down like a river day and night. Don’t let them stop. Don’t let your eyes rest.

Lamentations 2:19 Get up! Cry out at night, every hour on the hour. Pour your heart out like water in the presence of the LORD. Lift up your hands to him [in prayer] for the life of your little children who faint from hunger at every street corner.”

Lamentations 2:20 “O LORD, look and consider: Have you ever treated anyone like this? Should women eat their own children, the children they have nursed? Should priests and prophets be killed in the Lord’s holy place?

Lamentations 2:21 Young and old lie on the ground in the streets. My young women and men are cut down by swords. You killed them on the day of your anger. You slaughtered them without any pity.

Lamentations 2:22 You have invited those who terrorize me on every side, as though they were invited to a festival. No one escaped or survived on the day of the LORD’s anger. My enemy has murdered the children I nursed and raised.”

Lamentations 3:1 “I am the man who has experienced suffering under the rod of God’s fury.

Lamentations 3:2 God has driven me away and made me walk in darkness instead of light.

Lamentations 3:3 He beat me again and again all day long.

Lamentations 3:4 He has made my flesh and my skin waste away. He has broken my bones.

Lamentations 3:5 He has attacked me and surrounded me with bitterness and hardship.

Lamentations 3:6 He has made me live in darkness, like those who died a long time ago.

Lamentations 3:7 He has blocked me so that I can’t get out. He has put heavy chains on me.

Lamentations 3:8 Even when I cry and call for help, he shuts out my prayer.

Lamentations 3:9 He has blocked my way with cut stones and made my paths crooked.

Lamentations 3:10 He is like a bear waiting to ambush me, like a lion in hiding.

Lamentations 3:11 He has forced me off the road I was taking, torn me to pieces, and left me with nothing.

Lamentations 3:12 He has drawn his bow and made me the target for his arrows.

Lamentations 3:13 He has shot the arrows from his quiver into my heart.

Lamentations 3:14 I have become a laughingstock to all my people. All day long [they make fun of me] with their songs.

Lamentations 3:15 He has filled me with bitterness. He has made me drink wormwood.

Lamentations 3:16 He has ground my teeth with gravel. He has trampled me into the dust.

Lamentations 3:17 "My soul has been kept from enjoying peace. I have forgotten what happiness is.

Lamentations 3:18 I said, 'I've lost my strength [to live] and my hope in the LORD.'

Lamentations 3:19 Remember my suffering and my [aimless] wandering, the wormwood and poison.

Lamentations 3:20 My soul continues to remember [these things] and is so discouraged.

Lamentations 3:21 "The reason I can [still] find hope is that I keep this one thing in mind:

Lamentations 3:22 the LORD's mercy. We were not completely wiped out. His compassion is never limited.

Lamentations 3:23 It is new every morning. His faithfulness is great.

Lamentations 3:24 My soul can say, 'The LORD is my lot [in life]. That is why I find hope in him.'

Lamentations 3:25 The LORD is good to those who wait for him, to anyone who seeks help from him.

Lamentations 3:26 "It is good to continue to hope and wait silently for the LORD to save us.

Lamentations 3:27 It is good for people to endure burdens when they're young.

Lamentations 3:28 They should sit alone and remain silent because the LORD has laid these burdens on them.

Lamentations 3:29 They should put their mouths in the dust. Maybe a reason to hope exists.

Lamentations 3:30 They should turn their cheeks to the one who strikes them and take their fill of insults.

Lamentations 3:31 "The Lord will not reject [such] people forever.

Lamentations 3:32 Even if he makes us suffer, he will have compassion in keeping with the richness of his mercy.

Lamentations 3:33 He does not willingly bring suffering or grief to anyone,

Lamentations 3:34 crush any prisoner on earth underfoot,

Lamentations 3:35 deny people their rights in the presence of the Most High God,

Lamentations 3:36 or deprive people of justice in court. The Lord isn’t happy to see [these things].

Lamentations 3:37 Who was it who spoke and it came into being? It was the Lord who gave the order.

Lamentations 3:38 Both good and bad come from the mouth of the Most High God.

Lamentations 3:39 “Why should any living mortal (any person) complain about being punished for sin?

Lamentations 3:40 Let us look closely at our ways and examine them and then return to the LORD.

Lamentations 3:41 Let us raise our hearts and hands to God in heaven.

Lamentations 3:42 “We have been disobedient and rebellious. You haven’t forgiven us.

Lamentations 3:43 You covered yourself with anger and pursued us. You killed without pity.

Lamentations 3:44 You covered yourself with a cloud so that no prayer could get through it.

Lamentations 3:45 You made us the scum and trash of the nations.

Lamentations 3:46 All our enemies gawk at us.

Lamentations 3:47 Panic and pitfalls have found us, so have devastation and destruction.

Lamentations 3:48 “Streams of tears run down from my eyes over the ruin of my dear people.

Lamentations 3:49 My eyes will keep flowing without stopping for a moment

Lamentations 3:50 until the LORD looks down from heaven and sees.

Lamentations 3:51 What I see with my eyes disturbs me deeply because of all the young women in my city.

Lamentations 3:52 “Those who were my enemies for no reason hunted me like a bird.

Lamentations 3:53 They threw me alive into a pit and threw rocks at me.

Lamentations 3:54 Water flowed over my head. I thought I was finished.

Lamentations 3:55 “I call your name from the deepest pit, O LORD.

Lamentations 3:56 Listen to my cry [for help]. Don’t close your ears when I cry out for relief.

Lamentations 3:57 Be close at hand when I call to you. You told me not to be afraid.

Lamentations 3:58 Plead my case for me, O LORD. Reclaim my life.

Lamentations 3:59 Look at the wrong that has been done to me, O LORD. Give me a fair verdict.

Lamentations 3:60 Look at all their malice, all their plots against me.

Lamentations 3:61 Listen to their insults, all their plots against me.

Lamentations 3:62 The words and thoughts of those who attack me are directed against me all day long.

Lamentations 3:63 Look at them! Whether they are sitting or standing, they make fun of me in their songs.

Lamentations 3:64 Pay them back, O LORD, for what they deserve, for what their own hands have done.

Lamentations 3:65 Make them stubborn. Let your curse be on them.

Lamentations 3:66 Pursue them in anger, and wipe them out from under the LORD’s heaven.”

Lamentations 4:1 “Look how the gold has become tarnished! The fine gold has changed! The sacred stones are scattered at every street corner.

Lamentations 4:2 “Zion’s precious children, who are worth their weight in fine gold, are now treated like clay pots, like those made by a potter’s hands.

Lamentations 4:3 Even jackals offer their breasts to nurse their young, but the women of my people are as cruel as wild ostriches.

Lamentations 4:4 The tongues of nursing infants stick to the roofs of their mouths because of their thirst. Little children beg for bread, but no one will break off a piece for them.

Lamentations 4:5 Those who used to eat delicacies are now destitute in the streets. Those who used to wear expensive clothes now pick through piles of garbage.

Lamentations 4:6 The punishment for my people’s wickedness has been more severe than the punishment for the sins of Sodom. Sodom was destroyed instantly, without one human hand touching it.

Lamentations 4:7 Zion’s princes were purer than snow, whiter than milk. Their bodies were more pink than coral. Their hair was like sapphires.

Lamentations 4:8 Their faces are [now] blacker than soot. No one recognizes them on the streets. Their skin has shriveled on their bones. It has become as dry as bark.

Lamentations 4:9 Those who were killed with swords are better off than those who are dying from starvation. Those who were stabbed bled to death. The others are dying because there is nothing in the fields to eat.

Lamentations 4:10 The hands of loving mothers cooked their own children. The children were used for food by my people when they were being destroyed [by a blockade].

Lamentations 4:11 The LORD's fury has accomplished his purpose. He unleashed his burning anger. He started a fire in Zion that even burned its foundations.

Lamentations 4:12 Neither the kings of the earth nor anyone living on earth could believe that enemies or invaders would ever get through the gates of Jerusalem.

Lamentations 4:13 [They got through] because of the sins of Jerusalem's prophets and the crimes of its priests, who spilled the blood of righteous people within it.

Lamentations 4:14 My people staggered blindly through the streets. They were so contaminated with bloodstains that no one would touch their clothes.

Lamentations 4:15 'Get away! You're unclean,' people yelled at them. 'Get away! Get away! Don't touch anyone.' When they fled and wandered around, the people of the nations said, 'They can't stay here any longer.'

Lamentations 4:16 The LORD himself has scattered them. He will no longer look favorably on them. They no longer respected the priests, nor did they honor their older leaders."

Lamentations 4:17 "We are still straining our eyes, trying in vain to find help. We waited and waited for a nation that didn't save us.

Lamentations 4:18 [The enemy] kept tracking us down, so we couldn't even go out into the streets. Our end was near. Our time was up. Our end had come.

Lamentations 4:19 Those who were hunting us were faster than eagles in the sky. They chased us in the mountains and ambushed us in the wilderness.

Lamentations 4:20 The person the LORD anointed [as king], who is the breath of our life, was caught in their pits. We had thought that we would live in our king's shadow among the nations."

Lamentations 4:21 "Rejoice and be glad, people of Edom, inhabitants of the country of Uz. The cup [of the LORD's fury] will be passed to you next. You'll get drunk and take off all your clothes.

Lamentations 4:22 People of Zion, the punishment for your wickedness will end. The LORD will not let you remain in exile. People of Edom, he will punish you for your wickedness. He will expose your sins."

Lamentations 5:1 “Remember, O LORD, what has happened to us. Take a look at our disgrace!

Lamentations 5:2 “The land we inherited has been turned over to strangers. Our homes have been turned over to foreigners.

Lamentations 5:3 We are orphans without a father. Our mothers are like widows.

Lamentations 5:4 We have to pay to drink our own water. We have to pay to chop our own wood.

Lamentations 5:5 [Our enemies] are breathing down our necks. We are worn out [and] not permitted to rest.

Lamentations 5:6 We had to beg Egypt and Assyria for food.

Lamentations 5:7 Our ancestors sinned. Now they are gone, [but] we have to take the punishment for their wickedness.

Lamentations 5:8 Slaves rule us. There is no one to rescue us from them.

Lamentations 5:9 To get our food, we have to risk our lives in the heat of the desert.

Lamentations 5:10 Our skin is as hot as an oven from the burning heat of starvation.

Lamentations 5:11 Women in Zion are raped, so are the girls in the cities of Judah.

Lamentations 5:12 [Our] leaders are hung by their hands. [Our] older leaders are shown no respect.

Lamentations 5:13 [Our] young men work at the mill, and [our] boys stagger under loads of wood.

Lamentations 5:14 [Our] older leaders have stopped meeting at the city gate, and [our] young men no longer play their music.

Lamentations 5:15 There is no joy left in our hearts. Our dancing has turned into mourning.

Lamentations 5:16 The crown has fallen from our head. Because we have sinned, it has been disastrous for us.

Lamentations 5:17 This is why we feel sick. This is why our eyes see less and less.

Lamentations 5:18 Foxes roam around on Mount Zion, which lies in ruins.

Lamentations 5:19 “But you, O LORD, sit enthroned forever, and your reign continues throughout every generation.

Lamentations 5:20 Why have you completely forgotten us? Why have you abandoned us for such a long time?

Lamentations 5:21 O LORD, bring us back to you, and we’ll come back. Give us back the life we had long ago, Lamentations 5:22 unless you have completely rejected us [and] are very angry with us.”

Ezekiel

1:1 On the fifth day of the fourth month in the thirtieth year, while I was living among the exiles by the Chebar River, the sky opened, and I saw visions from God.

Ezekiel 1:2 On the fifth day of the month, during the fifth year of the exile of King Jehoiakin,

Ezekiel 1:3 the LORD spoke his word to the priest Ezekiel, son of Buzi, in Babylon by the Chebar River. The power of the LORD came over Ezekiel.

Ezekiel 1:4 As I looked, I saw a storm coming from the north. There was an immense cloud with flashing lightning surrounded by a bright light. The middle of the lightning looked like glowing metal.

Ezekiel 1:5 In the center of the cloud I saw what looked like four living creatures. They were shaped like humans,

Ezekiel 1:6 but each of them had four faces and four wings.

Ezekiel 1:7 Their legs were straight, their feet were like those of calves, and they glittered like polished bronze.

Ezekiel 1:8 They had human hands under their wings on each of their four sides. All four of them had faces and wings.

Ezekiel 1:9 Their wings touched each other. The creatures went straight ahead, and they did not turn as they moved.

Ezekiel 1:10 Their faces looked like this: From the front, each creature had the face of a human. From the right, each one had the face of a lion. From the left, each one had the face of a bull. And from the back, each one had the face of an eagle.

Ezekiel 1:11 That is what their faces looked like. Their wings were spread out, pointing upward. Each creature had two wings with which they touched each other. The other two wings covered their bodies.

Ezekiel 1:12 Each of the creatures went straight ahead. They went wherever their spirit wanted to go, and they didn’t turn as they moved.

Ezekiel 1:13 The living creatures looked like burning coals and torches. Fire moved back and forth between the living creatures. The fire was bright, and lightning came out of the fire.

Ezekiel 1:14 The living creatures ran back and forth like lightning.

Ezekiel 1:15 As I looked at the living creatures, I saw a wheel on the ground beside each of them.

Ezekiel 1:16 This is how the wheels looked and how they were made: They looked like beryl. All four wheels looked the same. They looked like a wheel within a wheel.

Ezekiel 1:17 Whenever they moved, they moved in any of the four directions without turning as they moved.

Ezekiel 1:18 The rims of the wheels were large and frightening. They were covered with eyes.

Ezekiel 1:19 When the living creatures moved, the wheels moved with them. When the living creatures rose from the earth, the wheels rose.

Ezekiel 1:20 Wherever their spirit wanted to go, the creatures went. The wheels rose with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

Ezekiel 1:21 So whenever the creatures moved, the wheels moved. Whenever the creatures stood still, the wheels stood still. And whenever the creatures rose from the earth, the wheels rose with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

Ezekiel 1:22 Something like a dome was spread over the heads of the living creatures. It looked like dazzling crystal.

Ezekiel 1:23 Under the dome, each creature had two wings that were stretched out straight, touching one another. Each creature had two wings that covered its body.

Ezekiel 1:24 When the creatures moved, I heard the sound of their wings. The sound was like the noise of rushing water, like the thunder of the Almighty, like the commotion in an army camp. When the creatures stood still, they lowered their wings.

Ezekiel 1:25 A voice came from above the dome over their heads as they stood still with their wings lowered.

Ezekiel 1:26 Above the dome over their heads was something that looked like a throne made of sapphire. On the throne was a figure that looked like a human.

Ezekiel 1:27 Then I saw what he looked like from the waist up. He looked like glowing bronze with fire all around it. From the waist down, he looked like fire. A bright light surrounded him.

Ezekiel 1:28 The brightness all around him looked like a rainbow in the clouds. It was like the LORD’s glory. When I saw it, I immediately bowed down, and I heard someone speaking.

Ezekiel 2:1 He said to me, “Son of man, stand up, and I will speak to you.”

Ezekiel 2:2 As he spoke to me, the Spirit entered me, stood me on my feet, and I heard him speaking to me.

Ezekiel 2:3 He said to me, “Son of man, I am sending you to the people of Israel. They are people from a nation that has rebelled against me. They and their ancestors have rebelled against me to this day.

Ezekiel 2:4 I am sending you to these defiant and stubborn children. Tell them, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says.’

Ezekiel 2:5 Whether these rebellious people listen or not, they will realize that a prophet has been among them.

Ezekiel 2:6 Son of man, don’t be afraid of them or the things they say. Don’t be afraid, even though thorns and thistles are around you and you live among scorpions. Don’t let the things they say frighten you. Don’t be terrified in their presence, even though they are rebellious people.

Ezekiel 2:7 Speak my words to them whether they listen or not, because they are rebellious.

Ezekiel 2:8 But you, son of man, listen to what I say. Don’t be rebellious like those rebellious people. Open your mouth, and eat what I am giving to you.”

Ezekiel 2:9 As I looked, I saw a hand stretched out toward me. In it was a scroll.

Ezekiel 2:10 He spread the scroll in front of me. There was writing on the front and back. There were funeral songs, songs of mourning, and horrible things written on it.

Ezekiel 3:1 The LORD said to me, “Son of man, eat what you find. Eat this scroll. Then speak to the people of Israel.”

Ezekiel 3:2 So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat.

Ezekiel 3:3 He said to me, “Son of man, eat this scroll I’m giving you, and fill your stomach with it.” So I ate it, and it tasted as sweet as honey in my mouth.

Ezekiel 3:4 He said to me, “Son of man, go to the people of Israel, and speak my words to them.

Ezekiel 3:5 I am not sending you to people whose language is hard to understand or difficult to speak. I am sending you to Israel.

Ezekiel 3:6 I am not sending you to nations whose language is hard to understand, difficult to speak, or whose words you cannot understand. If I send you to those nations, they will certainly listen to you.

Ezekiel 3:7 But the people of Israel will refuse to listen to you because they refuse to listen to me. All the people of Israel are very stubborn and hardheaded.

Ezekiel 3:8 Yet, I will make you as stubborn and as hardheaded as they are.

Ezekiel 3:9 I will make you as hard as a diamond, harder than stone. Don’t be afraid of them. Don’t be terrified in their presence, even though they are rebellious people.”

Ezekiel 3:10 He also said to me, “Son of man, take to heart everything I have spoken to you, and listen closely.

Ezekiel 3:11 Go to the exiles, to your people. Whether they listen or not, tell them, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says.’”

Ezekiel 3:12 Then the Spirit lifted me, and behind me I heard a loud thundering voice say, “Blessed is the LORD’s glory, which left this place.”

Ezekiel 3:13 I also heard the noise of the wings of the living creatures touching one another and the noise of the wheels beside them as well as a loud rumbling.

Ezekiel 3:14 Then the Spirit lifted me and took me away. I went away feeling bitter and angry. The strong power of the LORD came over me.

Ezekiel 3:15 I went to Tel Abib, to the exiles who lived by the Chebar River. I sat there among them for seven days. I was stunned.

Ezekiel 3:16 After seven days the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 3:17 “Son of man, I have made you a watchman over the people of Israel. Listen to what I say, and warn them for me.

Ezekiel 3:18 Suppose I tell you that wicked people will surely die, but you don’t warn them or speak out so that they can change their wicked ways in order to save their lives. Then these wicked people will die because of their sin, but I will hold you responsible for their deaths.

Ezekiel 3:19 But suppose you warn the wicked people, and they don’t turn from their wicked ways. Then they will die because of their sin, but you will save yourself.

Ezekiel 3:20 If righteous people turn from living the right way and do wrong, I will make them stumble, and they will die. If you don’t warn them, they will die because of their sin, and the right things they did will not be remembered. I will hold you responsible for their deaths.

Ezekiel 3:21 But if you warn righteous people not to sin, and they don’t sin, they will certainly live because they listened to the warning. You will save yourself.”

Ezekiel 3:22 The power of the LORD came over me. He said, “Get up, and go to the plain. I will speak to you there.”

Ezekiel 3:23 I got up and went to the plain. The LORD’s glory was standing there like the glory I saw by the Chebar River, and I immediately bowed down.

Ezekiel 3:24 Then the Spirit entered me and stood me on my feet. He talked to me. He said, “Go into your home, and shut yourself inside.

Ezekiel 3:25 People will tie you up with ropes, son of man, so that you can’t go outside.

Ezekiel 3:26 I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth so that you can't talk or criticize them, even though they are rebellious people.

Ezekiel 3:27 But when I speak to you, I will open your mouth. You will tell them, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says.' Some will listen, and some will refuse to listen. They are rebellious people."

Ezekiel 4:1 [The LORD said,] "Son of man, take clay, put it in front of you, and draw a map of Jerusalem on it.

Ezekiel 4:2 Set up a blockade against it, build attack walls around it, put up dirt ramps around it, have troops ready to attack it, and place battering rams all around it.

Ezekiel 4:3 Then take an iron pan, and set it up as a wall between you and the city. Turn your face toward the city as if you were going to attack it, and then attack it. This is a sign for the people of Israel.

Ezekiel 4:4 "Then lie on your left side and take the punishment of the nation of Israel yourself. You will bear its punishment as many days as you lie on that side.

Ezekiel 4:5 I have assigned to you one day for each year its punishment will last. So for 390 days, you will bear the punishment for the sins of the nation of Israel.

Ezekiel 4:6 When you finish this, you will lie down again, this time on your right side. You will bear the punishment for the sins of the nation of Judah for 40 days, one day for each year I have assigned to you.

Ezekiel 4:7 Turn your face toward the blockaded Jerusalem. Shake your fist and prophesy against it.

Ezekiel 4:8 I will tie you up with ropes so that you will not be able to turn from one side to the other until you have finished attacking [Jerusalem].

Ezekiel 4:9 "Then take wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and winter wheat. Put them in a container, and use them to make bread for yourself. Eat it during the 390 days that you are lying on your side.

Ezekiel 4:10 The food that you eat should be weighed. Eat eight ounces of food every day at set times.

Ezekiel 4:11 Measure out two-thirds of a quart of water, and drink it at set times.

Ezekiel 4:12 Eat the bread as you would eat barley loaves. Bake the bread in front of people, using human excrement for fuel."

Ezekiel 4:13 Then the LORD said, "In the same way, the people of Israel will eat unclean bread among the nations where I scatter them."

Ezekiel 4:14 I answered, "Almighty LORD, I have never dishonored myself. From the time I was young until now, I have never eaten an animal that died by itself or was killed by other wild animals. No unclean meat has ever entered my mouth."

Ezekiel 4:15 He said to me, "I will let you use cow manure in place of human excrement. Bake your bread over it."

Ezekiel 4:16 He also said to me, "Son of man, I am going to cut off the bread supply in Jerusalem. People will anxiously eat rationed bread and fearfully drink rationed water.

Ezekiel 4:17 They will be shocked at the sight of each other because of the lack of food and water. They will waste away because of their sin."

Ezekiel 5:1 [The LORD said,] "Son of man, take a sharp blade, and use it as a barber's razor to shave your head and beard. Take scales to weigh your hair and divide it [into three even parts].

Ezekiel 5:2 When the blockade is over, burn one-third of your hair in a fire in the middle of the city. Take another third, and cut it up with a blade around the city. Then scatter the remaining third to the wind, and I will draw a sword and go after it.

Ezekiel 5:3 Take a few strands of hair, and wrap them in the hem of your clothes.

Ezekiel 5:4 Later, take some of them, and throw them in a fire and burn them up. From there a fire will spread throughout the whole nation of Israel.

Ezekiel 5:5 "This is what the Almighty LORD says: This is Jerusalem! I have placed it in the center of the nations with countries all around it.

Ezekiel 5:6 The people of Jerusalem have rebelled against my rules and my laws more than the surrounding nations. They have rejected my rules, and they don't live by my laws.

Ezekiel 5:7 "So this is what the Almighty LORD says: [People of Jerusalem,] you have caused more trouble than the nations around you. You haven't lived by my laws or obeyed my rules. You haven't even lived up to the standards of the nations around you.

Ezekiel 5:8 "So this is what the Almighty LORD says: I, too, am against you, and I will punish you in front of the nations.

Ezekiel 5:9 Because of all the detestable things that you do, I will do things to you that I have never done before and will never do again.

Ezekiel 5:10 That is why parents will eat their children, and children will eat their parents. I will punish you and scatter whoever is left to the wind.

Ezekiel 5:11 "As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, because you have dishonored my holy worship place with all your disgusting and detestable things, I will have you killed. I will not have compassion for you or feel sorry for you.

Ezekiel 5:12 One-third of you will die in plagues and be devoured in famines. Another third will die in battles against those around you. I will scatter the remaining third to the wind, and I will pursue them with a sword.

Ezekiel 5:13 “I will unleash my anger. I will use my fury against you, and I will get revenge. When my fury is unleashed against you, you will know that I, the LORD, spoke to you while I was angry.

Ezekiel 5:14 I will turn you into a wasteland and an object of ridicule among the nations around you and in the presence of everyone who passes by you.

Ezekiel 5:15 The nations that are around you will ridicule you and laugh at you. When I punish you because of my anger, fury, and fierce revenge, you will become something ridiculed and something horrible. I, the LORD, have spoken.

Ezekiel 5:16 When I shoot my destructive arrows of famine at you, I will shoot to kill you. I will bring more and more famines into your land, and I will cut off your food supply.

Ezekiel 5:17 I will send famines and wild animals against you, and they will rob you of your children. I will send plagues, violence, and wars to kill you. I, the LORD, have spoken.”

Ezekiel 6:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 6:2 “Son of man, look toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them.

Ezekiel 6:3 Say this, ‘You mountains of Israel, listen to the word of the Almighty LORD! This is what the Almighty LORD says to the mountains and hills and to the ravines and valleys: I am going to attack you with a sword and destroy your worship sites.

Ezekiel 6:4 Your altars will be destroyed, and your incense burners will be smashed. I will kill people in front of your idols.

Ezekiel 6:5 I will lay the dead bodies of the people of Israel in front of your idols, and I will scatter their bones around your altars.

Ezekiel 6:6 Wherever people live, the cities will be ruined, and the worship sites will be wrecked. Your altars will be ruined and demolished. Your idols will be smashed and completely destroyed. Your incense burners will be cut down, and everything you have done will be wiped out.

Ezekiel 6:7 People will be killed, and they will fall among you. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 6:8 “ ‘But I will let some people live. Some people will escape the battle among the nations and be scattered throughout the countries.

Ezekiel 6:9 Then those who escape will remember me among the nations where they are taken captive. I was hurt by their adulterous hearts, which turned away from me, and by their eyes, which lusted after idols. They will hate themselves for the evil and disgusting things that they have done.

Ezekiel 6:10 Then you will know that I am the LORD and that the disaster I promised was not an empty threat.

Ezekiel 6:11 " 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: Clap your hands, stomp your feet, and say, "Oh no!" because the people of Israel have done evil and disgusting things. So they will die in wars, famines, and plagues.

Ezekiel 6:12 Plagues will kill those who are far away. Those who are near will die in wars, and anyone who is left and has escaped will die in famines. This is how I will unleash my anger.

Ezekiel 6:13 Then you will know that I am the LORD. " 'Those who are killed will lie beside the idols around their altars. They will lie on every high hill, on all the mountaintops, and under every large tree and every leafy oak. These are the places where they made offerings to their disgusting idols.

Ezekiel 6:14 I will use my power against them and destroy the land, from the desert to Diblah. Then they will know that I am the LORD.' "

Ezekiel 7:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 7:2 "Son of man, this is what the Almighty LORD says to [the people in] the land of Israel: The end is coming! The end is coming to the four corners of the earth.

Ezekiel 7:3 Now the end is coming for you. I will send my anger against you. I will judge you for the way you have lived, and I will punish you for all the detestable things that you have done.

Ezekiel 7:4 I will not have compassion for you or feel sorry for you. I will pay you back for the way you have lived and for the detestable things you have done. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 7:5 "This is what the Almighty LORD says: One disaster after another is coming.

Ezekiel 7:6 The end is coming. The end is coming. It is stirring itself up against you. It is coming!

Ezekiel 7:7 Destruction is coming to you, inhabitants of the land. The time is coming. The day is near. There will be confusion. There will be no joy in the mountains.

Ezekiel 7:8 Soon I will pour out my fury on you and unleash my anger on you. I will judge you for the way you have lived, and I will punish you for all the detestable things that you have done.

Ezekiel 7:9 I will not have compassion or feel sorry. I will pay you back for the way you have lived and for the detestable things that you are still doing. Then you will know that I am the LORD and that I am the one attacking [you].

Ezekiel 7:10 “The day is near! It is coming! Destruction is coming! Wrongdoing has blossomed. Arrogance has flourished.

Ezekiel 7:11 Violence has grown into a weapon for punishing wickedness. None of the people will be left. None of that crowd, none of their wealth, and nothing of value will be left.

Ezekiel 7:12 The time is coming. The day is near. Buyers will not rejoice, and sellers will not mourn, because [my] fury will be against the whole crowd.

Ezekiel 7:13 Sellers will not live long enough to buy back what they have sold. The visions against that crowd will not change. Because of their sins, none of the people will live.

Ezekiel 7:14 They have blown a ram’s horn, and everything is ready. But no one will go into battle, because my fury is against their whole crowd.

Ezekiel 7:15 “Outside are swords, and inside are plagues and famines. Whoever is in a field will die in battle. Whoever is in the city will be devoured by famines and plagues.

Ezekiel 7:16 Those who survive will escape to the mountains. They will moan like doves in the valleys. They will moan because of their sins.

Ezekiel 7:17 Every hand will hang limp, and every knee will be as weak as water.

Ezekiel 7:18 They will put on sackcloth, and horror will cover them. All their faces will be covered with shame, and every head will be shaved.

Ezekiel 7:19 They will throw their silver and gold into the streets like garbage. Their silver and gold won’t be able to rescue them on the day of the LORD’s anger. It will no longer satisfy their hunger or fill their stomachs. Their silver and gold caused them to fall into sin.

Ezekiel 7:20 They were proud of their beautiful jewels and used them to make disgusting and detestable statues [of false gods]. That is why I will make their jewels disgusting.

Ezekiel 7:21 I will hand their jewels over to foreigners as loot and to the most evil people on earth as prizes. These foreigners will dishonor the people of Israel.

Ezekiel 7:22 I will turn my face away from the people of Israel, and foreigners will dishonor my treasured place. Robbers will go in and dishonor it.

Ezekiel 7:23 “Get the chains ready! The land is filled with murder, and the city is filled with violence.

Ezekiel 7:24 So I will send the most evil nation, and it will take possession of people’s houses. I will stop those who are strong from feeling proud, and their holy places will be dishonored.

Ezekiel 7:25 Anguish is coming. People will look for peace, but there will be none.

Ezekiel 7:26 One disaster will happen after another. One rumor will follow another. People will ask for a vision from a prophet. The teachings of priests and the advice of leaders will disappear.

Ezekiel 7:27 Kings will mourn, and princes will give up hope. The common people will lose their courage. I will give them what they deserve and judge them as they have judged others. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

Ezekiel 8:1 On the fifth day of the sixth month in the sixth year, I was sitting in my home. Judah's leaders were sitting in front of me. The power of the Almighty LORD came over me.

Ezekiel 8:2 As I looked, I saw something that looked like a human. From the waist down its body looked like fire, and from the waist up its body looked like glowing metal.

Ezekiel 8:3 It stretched out what looked like a hand and grabbed me by the hair on my head. In these visions from God, the Spirit carried me between heaven and earth. He took me to Jerusalem, to the entrance to the north gate of the inner courtyard of the temple. That was where an idol that stirs up [God's] anger was located.

Ezekiel 8:4 There I saw the glory of Israel's God as I did in the vision that I saw in the valley.

Ezekiel 8:5 God said to me, "Son of man, look toward the north." So I looked toward the north, and there in the entrance to the north gate beside the altar, I saw the idol that stirs up [God's] anger.

Ezekiel 8:6 He asked me, "Son of man, do you see what the people of Israel are doing? The people of Israel are doing very disgusting things here, things that will force me to go far away from my holy place. But you will see even more disgusting things."

Ezekiel 8:7 Then he took me to the entrance of the courtyard. As I looked, I saw a hole in the wall.

Ezekiel 8:8 He said to me, "Son of man, dig through the wall." So I dug through the wall, and I saw a door.

Ezekiel 8:9 He said to me, "Go in, and see the wicked, disgusting things that the people of Israel are doing here."

Ezekiel 8:10 So I went in and looked. I saw that the walls were covered with drawings of every kind of crawling creature, every kind of disgusting animal, and all the idols in the nation of Israel.

Ezekiel 8:11 In front of these drawings stood 70 of Israel's leaders. Jaazaniah, son of Shaphan, was standing with the leaders. Each of them was holding an incense burner in his hand, and a cloud of incense went up.

Ezekiel 8:12 God asked me, “Son of man, do you see what the leaders of the nation of Israel are doing in secret? Each of them is in the room where his god is, and each one of them is thinking, ‘The LORD doesn’t see me. The LORD has abandoned this land.’”

Ezekiel 8:13 Then he said to me, “You will see even more disgusting things that they are doing.”

Ezekiel 8:14 He brought me to the entrance of the north gate of the LORD’s temple. Women were sitting there and crying for the god Tammuz.

Ezekiel 8:15 He asked me, “Son of man, do you see this? You will see even more disgusting things than these.”

Ezekiel 8:16 Then he brought me into the inner courtyard of the LORD’s temple. There at the entrance to the LORD’s temple, between the entrance and the altar, were about 25 men who had their backs turned to the LORD’s temple. They were facing east and worshiping the rising sun.

Ezekiel 8:17 He asked me, “Son of man, do you see this? Isn’t it bad enough that the people of Judah have done these disgusting things that you have seen here? Yet, they also fill the land with violence and continue to provoke me even more. Look how they insult me in the worst possible way.

Ezekiel 8:18 So I will take action because I’m angry, and I won’t have compassion for them or feel sorry for them. Even if they shout in my ears, I won’t listen to them.”

Ezekiel 9:1 Then I heard the LORD call out with a loud voice. He said, “Come here, those who are going to punish this city. Each of you should bring your weapon with you.”

Ezekiel 9:2 So six men came from the upper north gate. Each one brought a deadly weapon with him. Among them was a person dressed in linen who was carrying paper and pen. The men came in and stood by the bronze altar.

Ezekiel 9:3 Then the glory of the God of Israel went up from the angels, where it had been, to the temple’s entrance. The LORD called to the person dressed in linen who was carrying paper and pen.

Ezekiel 9:4 The LORD said to that person, “Go throughout the city of Jerusalem, and put a mark on the foreheads of those who sigh and groan about all the disgusting things that are being done in the city.”

Ezekiel 9:5 Then he said to the others as I was listening, “Follow him throughout the city and kill. Don’t have any compassion, and don’t feel sorry.

Ezekiel 9:6 Kill old men, young men, old women, young women, and children. But don’t come near anyone who has a mark on him. Start with my holy place.” So they started with the old men in front of the temple.

Ezekiel 9:7 He said to them, “Dishonor the temple! Fill its courtyards with dead people, and then leave.” So they went out and killed the people in the city.

Ezekiel 9:8 As they were killing people, I was left alone. So I immediately bowed down. I cried, “Almighty LORD, will you destroy everyone who is left in Israel while you pour out your anger on Jerusalem?”

Ezekiel 9:9 He answered me, “The wickedness of the nations of Israel and Judah is terrible. The land is filled with murder, and the city is filled with wrongdoing. They think that the LORD has abandoned the land and that he doesn’t see.

Ezekiel 9:10 But I will not have compassion or feel sorry. I will do to them what they have done to others.”

Ezekiel 9:11 Then the person dressed in linen who was carrying paper and pen reported, “I did everything you commanded.”

Ezekiel 10:1 As I looked at the dome over the heads of the angels, I saw something that looked like a throne made of sapphire.

Ezekiel 10:2 The LORD said to the person dressed in linen, “Go between the wheels under the angels, and fill your hands with burning coals. Then scatter them over the city.” So he went between the wheels as I watched.

Ezekiel 10:3 The angels were standing on the south side of the temple as the person went. A cloud filled the inner courtyard.

Ezekiel 10:4 The LORD’s glory rose from the angels to the entrance of the temple, the cloud filled the temple, and the brightness of the LORD’s glory filled the courtyard.

Ezekiel 10:5 The sound of the angels’ wings was heard as far as the outer courtyard. It was like the sound of the Almighty God when he speaks.

Ezekiel 10:6 After the LORD had commanded the person dressed in linen to take burning coals from between the wheels beside the angels, the person went in and stood beside one of the wheels.

Ezekiel 10:7 One of the angels reached into the fire that was between the angels and took out some coals. This angel put them in the hands of the person dressed in linen. The person took them and left.

Ezekiel 10:8 The angels appeared to have what looked like human hands under their wings.

Ezekiel 10:9 As I looked, I saw four wheels beside the angels, one wheel beside each of the angels. The wheels looked like beryl.

Ezekiel 10:10 All four wheels looked the same. Each was like a wheel within a wheel.

Ezekiel 10:11 Whenever the angels moved, they moved in any of the four directions without turning as they moved. They always moved in the direction they faced without turning as they moved.

Ezekiel 10:12 Their entire bodies, their backs, hands, wings, and wheels were covered with eyes. Each of the angels had a wheel.

Ezekiel 10:13 I heard that the wheels were called the whirling wheels.

Ezekiel 10:14 Each of the angels had four faces. The first was the face of an angel, the second was the face of a human, the third was the face of a lion, and the fourth was the face of an eagle.

Ezekiel 10:15 The angels rose. These were the living creatures that I saw at the Chebar River.

Ezekiel 10:16 When the angels moved, the wheels moved beside them. When the angels lifted their wings to rise from the ground, the wheels didn't leave their side.

Ezekiel 10:17 When the angels stood still, the wheels stood still. When the angels rose, the wheels rose with them. The spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

Ezekiel 10:18 Then the glory of the LORD left the temple's entrance and stood over the angels.

Ezekiel 10:19 The angels lifted their wings and rose from the ground. I was watching them as they left with the wheels beside them. The angels stood at the door to the east gate of the LORD's temple, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

Ezekiel 10:20 These are the living creatures that I saw under the God of Israel at the Chebar River. I realized that they were angels.

Ezekiel 10:21 Each had four faces and four wings, and under their wings were what looked like human hands.

Ezekiel 10:22 Their faces looked exactly like the faces that I saw by the Chebar River. Each one went straight ahead.

Ezekiel 11:1 Then the Spirit lifted me and took me to the east gate of the LORD's temple. (It's the gate that faces east.) Twenty-five men were at the entrance of the gate. I saw among them Azzur's son Jaazaniah and Benaiah's son Pelatiah. They were leaders of the people.

Ezekiel 11:2 Then the LORD said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who plan evil and give bad advice in this city.

Ezekiel 11:3 They say, 'It's almost time to rebuild homes. This city is a cooking pot, and we're the meat.'

Ezekiel 11:4 So prophesy against them. Prophesy, son of man."

Ezekiel 11:5 The LORD's Spirit came to me and told me to say, "This is what the LORD says: You are saying these things, nation of Israel. But I know what's going through your mind.

Ezekiel 11:6 You have killed many people in this city and have filled its streets with corpses.

Ezekiel 11:7 “So this is what the Almighty LORD says: The corpses that you put in the middle of the city are the meat, and the city is the cooking pot. I will force you out of the city.

Ezekiel 11:8 You are afraid of swords, so I will bring swords to attack you, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 11:9 I will force you out of the city. I will hand you over to foreigners, and I will punish you.

Ezekiel 11:10 You will die in battle. I will judge you at Israel’s borders. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 11:11 The city will not be your cooking pot, and you will not be the meat in it. I will judge you at Israel’s borders.

Ezekiel 11:12 Then you will know that I am the LORD. You haven’t lived by my laws, and you haven’t obeyed my rules. You have followed the standards set by the nations around you.”

Ezekiel 11:13 While I was prophesying, Benaiah’s son Pelatiah died. I immediately bowed down and cried out, “Almighty LORD, will you completely destroy all the remaining people in Israel?”

Ezekiel 11:14 Then the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 11:15 “Son of man, the people who live in Jerusalem are talking about your own relatives and about the entire nation of Israel. The people who live in Jerusalem say, ‘They are far away from the LORD. This land has been given to us as our own property.’

Ezekiel 11:16 “So tell them, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Although I sent them far away among the nations and scattered them among the countries, I have been their sanctuary for a little while among the countries where they’ve gone.’

Ezekiel 11:17 “So tell them, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: I will bring them together from the nations and gather them from the countries where I’ve scattered them. I will give them the land of Israel.

Ezekiel 11:18 They will come and remove all the disgusting and detestable things that are there.

Ezekiel 11:19 I will give them a single purpose and put a new spirit in them. I will remove their stubborn hearts and give them obedient hearts.

Ezekiel 11:20 Then they will live by my laws and obey my rules. They will be my people, and I will be their God.

Ezekiel 11:21 But as for those whose minds are set on following detestable and disgusting idols, I will pay them back for what they have done, declares the Almighty LORD.’”

Ezekiel 11:22 Then the angels raised their wings, with the wheels beside them. The glory of the God of Israel was above them.

Ezekiel 11:23 The LORD's glory left the middle of the city and stopped above the mountain east of the city.

Ezekiel 11:24 In this vision from God's Spirit, the Spirit lifted me and brought me to the exiles in Babylonia. Then the vision I saw left me.

Ezekiel 11:25 I told the exiles everything the LORD had shown me.

Ezekiel 12:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 12:2 "Son of man, you are living among rebellious people. They have eyes, but they can't see. They have ears, but they can't hear because they are rebellious people.

Ezekiel 12:3 "Son of man, pack your bags as if you were going into exile. Let the people see you leave in the daylight. March like a captive from your place to another place as they watch. Maybe they will understand, even though they are rebellious people.

Ezekiel 12:4 Let them see you in the daylight. Bring out your bags as if you were going into exile. In the evening let them see you leave like a captive going into exile.

Ezekiel 12:5 Dig a hole through the wall of your house, and leave through it.

Ezekiel 12:6 Let them see you put your bags on your shoulders and carry them out in the dark. Cover your face so that you won't see the land. I've made you a sign to warn the nation of Israel."

Ezekiel 12:7 I did what I was ordered to do. During the day I brought out bags as if I were going into exile. In the evening I dug a hole through the wall. I brought out my bags in the dark. I let the people see me as I carried my bags on my shoulders.

Ezekiel 12:8 The next morning the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 12:9 "Son of man, didn't the rebellious nation of Israel ask you what you were doing?

Ezekiel 12:10 "Tell them, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: This is the divine revelation about the prince from Jerusalem and about all the people of Israel who live there.'

Ezekiel 12:11 "Tell them, 'I am your warning sign. What I have done will happen to you. You will go into exile and into captivity.

Ezekiel 12:12 The prince who is among you will put his bags on his shoulders in the dark and leave. People will dig holes in the wall to go through. The prince will cover his face so that he cannot see the land.

Ezekiel 12:13 I will spread my net over him, and he will be caught in my net. I will bring him to Babylon, the land of the Babylonians, but he will not see it. And that's where he'll die.

Ezekiel 12:14 I will scatter in every direction all those who are around him-his staff and all his troops. I will pursue them with my sword.

Ezekiel 12:15 Then they will know that I am the LORD, because I will scatter them among the nations and force them into other countries.

Ezekiel 12:16 However, I will spare a few of them from wars, famines, and plagues. Wherever they go among the nations, they will realize that everything they did was disgusting. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezekiel 12:17 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 12:18 "Son of man, shake as you eat your food. Tremble and be worried as you drink your water.

Ezekiel 12:19 "Tell the people of this land, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says about the people who live in Jerusalem and in the land of Israel: They will be worried as they eat their food and terrified as they drink their water. Their country will be stripped of everything because everyone who lives there is violent.

Ezekiel 12:20 The cities where people live will be destroyed, and the country will become a wasteland. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezekiel 12:21 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 12:22 "Son of man, what is this proverb you have in Israel: 'Days go by, and every vision comes to nothing'?

Ezekiel 12:23 "Tell the people, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: I will put a stop to the use of this proverb. You will no longer quote it in Israel.' Instead, tell them, 'The time is near when every vision will come true.

Ezekiel 12:24 There will no longer be any false visions or flattering fortunetelling to the people.

Ezekiel 12:25 I, the LORD, will speak. Everything that I say will happen without any more delay. I will say something, and it will happen during your lifetime, you rebellious people, declares the Almighty LORD.'"

Ezekiel 12:26 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 12:27 "Son of man, the people of Israel are saying, 'The vision that Ezekiel sees won't happen for a long time. What he prophecies will happen in the distant future.'

Ezekiel 12:28 "Tell them, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: Everything that I say will no longer be delayed. Whatever I say will happen, declares the Almighty LORD.'"

Ezekiel 13:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said, Ezekiel 13:2 “Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel. Tell those who make up their prophecies, ‘Listen to the word of the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:3 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: How horrible it will be for the foolish prophets. They follow their own ideas, and they have seen nothing.

Ezekiel 13:4 Israel, your prophets are like foxes among the ruins [of a city].

Ezekiel 13:5 They haven’t repaired the gaps in the wall or rebuilt the wall for the nation of Israel. So Israel will not be protected in battle on the day of the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:6 These foolish prophets see false visions, and their predictions don’t come true. They say, “The LORD said this.” But the LORD hasn’t sent them. Then they hope that their message will come true.

Ezekiel 13:7 Prophets of Israel, haven’t you seen false visions and predicted things that don’t come true? Don’t you say, “The LORD said this,” even though I haven’t said anything?

Ezekiel 13:8 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Your predictions are false, and your visions are lies. That is why I’m against you, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 13:9 I will use my power against the prophets who see false visions and predict things that don’t come true. They will not help my people make decisions or be recorded in the records of the nation of Israel. They won’t even enter Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:10 “ ‘They have deceived my people by saying that everything is alright, but it’s not alright. When someone builds a flimsy wall, the prophets cover it up with paint.

Ezekiel 13:11 Tell those who cover up the wall with paint that their wall will fall down. Rain will pour down, hailstones will fall on it, and stormy winds will break it to pieces.

Ezekiel 13:12 When the wall falls down, people will ask them, “Where’s the paint that you used to cover the wall?”

Ezekiel 13:13 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: In my fury I’ll cause a storm to break out. In my anger rain will pour down, and hailstones will destroy the wall.

Ezekiel 13:14 I will tear down the wall that the prophets covered up with paint. I will level it and expose its foundation. When the wall falls, they will be destroyed by it. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:15 I will unleash my fury on the wall and on those who covered it up with paint. “ ‘Then I will say to you, “The wall is gone, and so are those who painted it.

Ezekiel 13:16 The prophets of Israel who prophesied to Jerusalem are gone. Those who said that everything was alright, when it wasn't alright, are gone, declares the Almighty LORD.'" Ezekiel 13:17 "Son of man, look at the women among your people who make up prophecies, and prophesy against them.

Ezekiel 13:18 "Tell them, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: How horrible it will be for women who sew magic charms for people's wrists and make magic veils of every size for people's heads. You want to trap people. You want to control the lives of my people for your own profit.

Ezekiel 13:19 You dishonor me in front of my people for a few handfuls of barley and a few pieces of bread. You kill people who shouldn't die, and you spare the lives of people who shouldn't live. You lie to my people who are willing to listen.

Ezekiel 13:20 " 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: I'm against the magic charms that you use to trap people like birds. I will tear them from your arms and free the people that you have trapped.

Ezekiel 13:21 I will tear off your magic veils and rescue my people from your power so that they will no longer be under your control. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 13:22 You have discouraged righteous people with your lies, even though I hadn't brought them any grief. You encouraged wicked people not to turn from their wicked ways to save their lives.

Ezekiel 13:23 That is why you will no longer see false visions or make predictions. I will rescue my people from your power. Then you will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezekiel 14:1 Some of Israel's leaders came to me and sat down in front of me.

Ezekiel 14:2 Then the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 14:3 "Son of man, these people are devoted to their idols, and they are allowing themselves to fall into sin. Should they be allowed to ask me for help?

Ezekiel 14:4 "So speak to them. Tell them, 'This is what the LORD says: Suppose an Israelite is devoted to idols and allows himself to fall into sin. Suppose he goes to a prophet [to ask for my help]. I, the LORD, will give that Israelite an answer, the answer that his many idols deserve.

Ezekiel 14:5 I will do this to recapture the hearts of the nation of Israel. They have deserted me because of their disgusting idols.'

Ezekiel 14:6 "So tell the nation of Israel, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: Change the way you think and act! Turn away from your idols, and don't return to any of your disgusting things.

Ezekiel 14:7 Suppose an Israelite or a foreigner who lives in Israel deserts me by devoting himself to idols and by allowing himself to fall into sin. If he goes to a prophet to ask for my help, I, the LORD, will give him an answer.

Ezekiel 14:8 I will reject him, and I will make an example of him. I will exclude him from my people. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 14:9 “ ‘If a prophet is tricked into giving a prophecy, it is I, the LORD, who tricked the prophet. I will use my power against you and destroy you from among my people Israel.

Ezekiel 14:10 Both of you will suffer for your sins. The prophet will be as guilty as you are when you ask for his help.

Ezekiel 14:11 Then the people of Israel will no longer wander away from me. They will no longer dishonor me with all their sins. Then they will be my people, and I will be their God, declares the Almighty LORD.’ ”

Ezekiel 14:12 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 14:13 “Son of man, suppose a country sins against me by being unfaithful to me. I will use my power against it, cut off its food supply, send a famine to it, and destroy its people and animals.

Ezekiel 14:14 Even if these three men-Noah, Daniel, and Job-were in that country, they would, by their righteousness, rescue only themselves,” declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 14:15 “Suppose I send wild animals through that country and they make it childless and turn it into such a wasteland that no one travels through it because of the animals.

Ezekiel 14:16 As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, not even Noah, Daniel, and Job could rescue their own sons or daughters. They could rescue only themselves. And the country would become a wasteland.

Ezekiel 14:17 “Suppose I bring a war against that country by saying, ‘I will let a war go throughout this country.’ Suppose I destroy the people and the animals in it.

Ezekiel 14:18 As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, not even Noah, Daniel, and Job could rescue their sons or daughters. They could rescue only themselves.

Ezekiel 14:19 “Suppose I send a plague into that country or pour out my fury on it by killing people and destroying animals.

Ezekiel 14:20 As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, not even Noah, Daniel, and Job could, by their righteousness, rescue their sons or daughters. They could rescue only themselves.

Ezekiel 14:21 “This is what the Almighty LORD says: I will surely send four terrible punishments against Jerusalem. I will send wars, famines, wild animals, and plagues. They will destroy people and animals.

Ezekiel 14:22 But some people will survive. Some of your sons and daughters will be brought out. When they come out to you, you will see how they live. Then you will be comforted after the disasters that I will bring on Jerusalem, after every disaster that I will bring against it.

Ezekiel 14:23 You will be comforted when you see how they live. Then you will know that everything I have done was done for a reason," declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 15:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 15:2 "Son of man, what good is the wood from a vine? Is it better than the wood from a tree in the forest?

Ezekiel 15:3 Do people use it to make something? Do they make a peg from it to hang things on?

Ezekiel 15:4 No! It is only thrown into the fire as fuel. The fire burns up both its ends and chars its middle. Then can it be used to make anything?

Ezekiel 15:5 When the vine was in perfect condition, it couldn't be made into anything. How can it be used to make anything after the fire has burned and charred it?

Ezekiel 15:6 "So this is what the Almighty LORD says: As a vine is taken from among the trees in the forest to be used to feed the fire, so I will take the people who live in Jerusalem to punish them.

Ezekiel 15:7 I will turn against the people of Jerusalem. Even though they have escaped one fire, another fire will burn them. Then they will know that I am the LORD, because I will turn against them.

Ezekiel 15:8 I will turn the country into a wasteland because they have been unfaithful," declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 16:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 16:2 "Son of man, make known to the people of Jerusalem the disgusting things they have done.

Ezekiel 16:3 Tell them, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says to the people of Jerusalem: Your birthplace and your ancestors were in the land of the Canaanites. Your father was an Amorite, and your mother was a Hittite.

Ezekiel 16:4 When you were born, your umbilical cord wasn't cut. You weren't washed with water to make you clean. You weren't rubbed with salt or wrapped in cloth.

Ezekiel 16:5 No one who saw you felt sorry enough for you to do any of these things. But you were thrown into an open field. You were rejected when you were born.

Ezekiel 16:6 " 'Then I went by you and saw you kicking around in your own blood. I said to you, "Live."

Ezekiel 16:7 I made you grow like a plant in the field. You grew up, matured, and became a young woman. Your breasts developed, and your hair grew. Yet, you were naked and bare.

Ezekiel 16:8 “ ‘I went by you again and looked at you. You were old enough to make love to. So I spread my robe over you, and covered your naked body. I promised to love you, and I exchanged marriage vows with you. You became mine, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 16:9 “ ‘Then I bathed you with water, and I washed off your blood. I poured olive oil over you.

Ezekiel 16:10 I put an embroidered dress on you and fine leather sandals on your feet. I dressed you in fine linen and covered you with silk.

Ezekiel 16:11 I gave you jewelry. I put bracelets on your wrists and a necklace around your neck.

Ezekiel 16:12 I put a ring in your nose, earrings on your ears, and a beautiful crown on your head.

Ezekiel 16:13 So you wore gold and silver jewelry. You were dressed in fine linen, silk, and embroidered clothes. Your food was flour, honey, and olive oil. You were very beautiful, and eventually you became a queen.

Ezekiel 16:14 You became famous in every nation because of your beauty. Your beauty was perfect because I gave you my glory, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 16:15 “ ‘But you trusted your beauty, and you used your fame to become a prostitute. You had sex with everyone who walked by.

Ezekiel 16:16 You took some of your clothes and made your worship sites colorful. This is where you acted like a prostitute. Such things shouldn’t happen. They shouldn’t occur.

Ezekiel 16:17 You took your beautiful gold and silver jewelry that I had given you and made male idols for yourself. Then you committed adultery with them.

Ezekiel 16:18 You took off your embroidered clothes and covered the idols with them. You offered my olive oil and incense in their presence.

Ezekiel 16:19 You also offered them sweet and fragrant sacrifices. You gave flour, olive oil, and honey-all the food that I gave you to eat. This is what happened, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 16:20 “ ‘You took your sons and daughters, who belonged to me, and you sacrificed them as food to idols. Wasn’t your prostitution enough?

Ezekiel 16:21 You slaughtered my children and presented them as burnt offerings to idols.

Ezekiel 16:22 With all the disgusting things that you did and all your acts of prostitution, you didn’t remember the time when you were young. You didn’t remember when you were naked and bare, kicking around in your own blood.

Ezekiel 16:23 “ ‘How horrible! How horrible it will be for you! declares the Almighty LORD. After all your wickedness, Ezekiel 16:24 you built yourself platforms and illegal worship sites in every city square.

Ezekiel 16:25 You also built worship sites at the head of every street. You used your beauty to seduce people there. You offered your body to everyone who passed by. You increased your acts of prostitution.

Ezekiel 16:26 You had sex with your lustful neighbors, the Egyptians. You used your prostitution to make me angry.

Ezekiel 16:27 “ ‘So I used my power against you. I took away some of your land, and I handed you over to your greedy enemies, the Philistines, who were ashamed of what you had done.

Ezekiel 16:28 “ ‘You had sex with the Assyrians because you weren’t satisfied. You still weren’t satisfied.

Ezekiel 16:29 So you increased your acts of prostitution to include the land of the merchants, the Babylonians. Even after that, you weren’t satisfied.

Ezekiel 16:30 “ ‘You have no will power! declares the Almighty LORD. You do everything a shameless prostitute does.

Ezekiel 16:31 You build your platforms at the head of every street and place your illegal worship sites in every square. Yet, you aren’t like other prostitutes, because you don’t want to be paid.

Ezekiel 16:32 You are an adulterous wife who prefers strangers to her husband.

Ezekiel 16:33 All prostitutes get paid. But you give gifts to all your lovers and bribe them to come to you from all directions to have sex with you.

Ezekiel 16:34 You are a different kind of prostitute. No one goes after you for favors. You are the opposite. You pay them, and you don’t accept payment.

Ezekiel 16:35 “ ‘Listen to the word of the LORD, you prostitute.

Ezekiel 16:36 This is what the Almighty LORD says: You exposed yourself and uncovered your naked body when you gave yourself to your lovers and to all your disgusting idols. You also killed your children and sacrificed their blood to these idols.

Ezekiel 16:37 That is why I will gather all your lovers with whom you found pleasure. I will have all those who love you and hate you gather around. I will uncover your body for them, and they will see you naked.

Ezekiel 16:38 I will punish you the same way that those who are guilty of prostitution and murder are punished. I will give you the death penalty in my fury and burning anger.

Ezekiel 16:39 I will hand you over to your lovers. They will destroy your platforms and tear down your illegal worship sites. They will tear off your clothes, take away your beautiful jewelry, and leave you naked and bare.

Ezekiel 16:40 They will also bring a mob against you. They will stone you and cut you into pieces with their swords.

Ezekiel 16:41 They will burn your houses and punish you in the presence of many women. I will put an end to your prostitution, and you will no longer pay others.

Ezekiel 16:42 Then I will rest from my fury against you, and I will stop being angry. I will be at peace. I will no longer be angry.

Ezekiel 16:43 “ ‘You didn’t remember the time when you were young, and you made me very angry with all these things. So I will pay you back for what you have done, declares the Almighty LORD. Didn’t you make wicked plans in addition to all your disgusting practices?

Ezekiel 16:44 “ ‘Everyone who uses proverbs will speak the following saying against you: Like mother, like daughter.

Ezekiel 16:45 You are your mother’s daughter. She rejected her husband and her children. You are exactly like your sisters. They rejected their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite, and your father was an Amorite.

Ezekiel 16:46 “ ‘Your older sister was Samaria. She and her daughters lived north of you. Your younger sister is Sodom. She lives south of you with her daughters.

Ezekiel 16:47 You didn’t follow their ways. You didn’t do the same disgusting things that they did. It only took you a little time to be more corrupt than they ever were.

Ezekiel 16:48 As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, your sister Sodom and her daughters never did what you and your daughters have done.

Ezekiel 16:49 This is what your sister Sodom has done wrong. She and her daughters were proud that they had plenty of food and had peace and security. They didn’t help the poor and the needy.

Ezekiel 16:50 They were arrogant and did disgusting things in front of me. So I did away with them when I saw this.

Ezekiel 16:51 “ ‘Samaria didn’t commit half the sins you did. You have done many more disgusting things than they ever did. Because of all the disgusting things that you have done, you make your sisters look innocent.

Ezekiel 16:52 You will have to suffer disgrace because you accused your sisters. Yet, your sins are more disgusting than theirs. They look like they are innocent compared to you. Be ashamed of yourself and suffer disgrace, because you have made your sisters look like they are innocent.

Ezekiel 16:53 " 'I will restore the fortunes of Sodom and her daughters, and Samaria and her daughters. I will also restore your fortune along with theirs.

Ezekiel 16:54 You will have to suffer disgrace and be ashamed of everything you have done, including comforting them.

Ezekiel 16:55 When Sodom and her daughters and Samaria and her daughters return to what they once were, you and your daughters will return to what you once were.

Ezekiel 16:56 You didn't mention your sister Sodom when you were arrogant.

Ezekiel 16:57 You didn't mention her before your wickedness was revealed. Now the daughters of Aram and their neighbors despise you. The daughters of the Philistines also despise you. Those around you hate you.

Ezekiel 16:58 You must suffer because of all the crude and disgusting things you have done, declares the LORD.

Ezekiel 16:59 " 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: I will give you what you deserve. You despised your marriage vows and rejected my promise.

Ezekiel 16:60 I will remember the promise that I made with you when you were young, and I will make it a promise that will last forever.

Ezekiel 16:61 Then you will remember what you have done. You will be ashamed when I return your older and younger sisters to you. I will give them to you as daughters, but not because of my promise with you.

Ezekiel 16:62 Then I will make my promise with you, and you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 16:63 You will remember and be ashamed. You will never again open your mouth because of your disgrace when I forgive you for everything you did, declares the Almighty LORD.' "

Ezekiel 17:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 17:2 "Son of man, tell this riddle. Give this illustration to the nation of Israel.

Ezekiel 17:3 Say, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: A large eagle came to Lebanon. It had large wings with long, colorful feathers. It took hold of the top of a cedar tree.

Ezekiel 17:4 It broke off the highest twig and carried it to a country of merchants. It planted the twig in a city of merchants.

Ezekiel 17:5 “ ‘Then it took a seedling from that country and planted the seedling in fertile soil. The eagle planted the seedling like a willow where there was plenty of water.

Ezekiel 17:6 The plant sprouted and grew into a low vine that spread over the ground. Its branches turned upward toward the eagle, but its roots grew downward. So it became a vine, producing branches and growing shoots.

Ezekiel 17:7 “ ‘There was another large eagle with large wings and many feathers. Now, the vine stretched its roots toward this eagle and sent its branches toward the eagle so that the eagle could water it. The vine turned away from the garden where it was planted.

Ezekiel 17:8 It was planted in good soil beside plenty of water so that it could grow branches, bear fruit, and become a wonderful vine.’

Ezekiel 17:9 “Tell the nation of Israel, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Will this vine live and grow? Won’t the first eagle uproot it and tear off its fruit? Then it will wither. All the leaves on its branches will wither. It won’t take much strength or many people to pull the vine up by its roots.

Ezekiel 17:10 It might be planted again, but will it live and grow? It will wither completely when the east wind blows on it. It will certainly wither in the garden where it is growing.’”

Ezekiel 17:11 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 17:12 “Ask these rebellious people, ‘Don’t you know what this means?’ Tell them, ‘The king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and captured its king and its leaders. He brought them home with him to Babylon.

Ezekiel 17:13 Then he took someone from the royal family, made a treaty with him, and made him promise to be loyal. He took away the leading citizens from Judah

Ezekiel 17:14 so that it would remain a humiliated country and be unable to regain its power. The country could only survive by keeping the treaty.

Ezekiel 17:15 But the king of Judah rebelled against the king of Babylon by sending his messengers to Egypt to get horses and many soldiers. Will the king of Judah succeed? Will anyone who does such things escape? He can’t break a treaty and go unpunished.

Ezekiel 17:16 “ ‘As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, the king of Judah will die in Babylonia. He will die in the country of the king who appointed him king of Judah. The king of Judah broke his promise and his treaty with the king of Babylon.

Ezekiel 17:17 Even with a large army and many people, Pharaoh will not be able to help him in battle when the Babylonians put up dirt ramps and set up blockades to kill many people.

Ezekiel 17:18 The king of Judah broke the promise and the treaty that he pledged to keep. He did all these things, and he can't go unpunished.

Ezekiel 17:19 " 'So this is what the Almighty LORD says: As I live, I will certainly punish you for rejecting my promise and hating my treaty.

Ezekiel 17:20 I will spread my net over you to catch you in my trap. I will take you to Babylon and judge you there for rebelling against me.

Ezekiel 17:21 The best of your troops will die in battle. Anyone who remains will be scattered in every direction that the wind blows. Then you will know that I, the LORD, have spoken.

Ezekiel 17:22 " 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: I, too, will take hold of the top of a cedar tree. I will break off the highest twig and plant it on a high and lofty mountain.

Ezekiel 17:23 I will plant it on a high mountain in Israel. It will grow branches and produce fruit. It will become a magnificent cedar tree. Every kind of bird will nest in it and find a home in the shelter of its branches.

Ezekiel 17:24 Then all the trees in the field will know that I am the LORD. I cut down tall trees, and I make small trees grow tall. I dry up green trees, and I make dry trees grow. I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it.' "

Ezekiel 18:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 18:2 "What do you mean when you use this proverb about the land of Israel: 'Fathers have eaten sour grapes, and their children's teeth are set on edge'?

Ezekiel 18:3 As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, you will no longer use this proverb in Israel.

Ezekiel 18:4 The life of every person belongs to me. Fathers and their children belong to me. The person who sins will die.

Ezekiel 18:5 "Suppose a righteous person does what is fair and right.

Ezekiel 18:6 He doesn't eat at the illegal mountain worship sites or look for help from the idols of the nation of Israel. He doesn't dishonor his neighbor's wife or have sexual intercourse with a woman while she is having her period.

Ezekiel 18:7 He doesn't oppress anyone. He returns what a borrower gives him as security for a loan. He doesn't rob anyone. He gives food to people who are hungry, and he gives clothes to those who are naked.

Ezekiel 18:8 He doesn't lend money for interest or make an excessive profit. He refuses to do evil things, and he judges everyone fairly.

Ezekiel 18:9 He lives by my rules and obeys my laws faithfully. This person is righteous. He will certainly live," declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 18:10 “But suppose this person has a son who robs and murders. The son does all the things

Ezekiel 18:11 that his father never did. He eats at the illegal mountain worship sites. He dishonors his neighbor’s wife.

Ezekiel 18:12 He oppresses the poor and needy. He robs. He doesn’t return the security for a loan. He looks to idols for help. He does disgusting things.

Ezekiel 18:13 He lends money for interest and makes excessive profits. Will this person live? He will not live. He has done all these disgusting things. So he must die, and he will be responsible for his own death.

Ezekiel 18:14 “But suppose this person has a son. The son sees all the sins that his father does. He is afraid, so he doesn’t do such things.

Ezekiel 18:15 He doesn’t eat at the illegal mountain worship sites or look for help from the idols of the nation of Israel. He doesn’t dishonor his neighbor’s wife.

Ezekiel 18:16 He doesn’t oppress anyone. He doesn’t keep the security for a loan. He doesn’t rob anyone. He gives food to people who are hungry, and he gives clothes to those who are naked.

Ezekiel 18:17 He refuses to hurt the poor. He doesn’t charge interest or make excessive profits. He obeys my rules and lives by my laws. He won’t die for his father’s sins. He will certainly live.

Ezekiel 18:18 But his father has oppressed others, robbed his relative, and done what is wrong among his people. So the father will die because of his sin.

Ezekiel 18:19 “But you ask, ‘Why isn’t the son punished for his father’s sin?’ It is because the son has done what is fair and right. He obeyed my rules and followed them. He will certainly live.

Ezekiel 18:20 The person who sins will die. A son will not be punished for his father’s sins, and a father will not be punished for his son’s sins. The righteousness of the righteous person will be his own, and the wickedness of the wicked person will be his own.

Ezekiel 18:21 “But suppose a wicked person turns away from all the sins that he has done. He obeys all my laws and does what is fair and right. He will certainly live. He will not die.

Ezekiel 18:22 All the rebellious things that he did will not be remembered. He will live because of the right things that he did.

Ezekiel 18:23 I don’t want wicked people to die.” declares the Almighty LORD. “I want them to turn from their evil ways and live.

Ezekiel 18:24 “But suppose a righteous person turns away from doing right and he does evil things. He does all the disgusting things that the wicked person did. Will he live? All the right things that he has done will not be remembered because of his unfaithfulness and because of his sin. He will die because of them.

Ezekiel 18:25 “But you say, ‘The Lord’s way is unfair.’ Listen, nation of Israel, isn’t my way fair? Isn’t it your ways that are unfair?

Ezekiel 18:26 When a righteous person turns away from doing right and does evil things, he will die. He will die because of the evil things he has done.

Ezekiel 18:27 When a wicked person turns away from the wicked things that he has done and does what is fair and right, he will live.

Ezekiel 18:28 He realized what he was doing and turned away from all the rebellious things that he had done. He will certainly live. He will not die.

Ezekiel 18:29 “But the nation of Israel says, ‘The Lord’s way is unfair.’ Isn’t my way fair, nation of Israel? Isn’t it your ways that are unfair?

Ezekiel 18:30 “That is why I will judge each of you by what you have done, people of Israel,” declares the Almighty LORD. “Change the way you think and act. Turn away from all the rebellious things that you have done so that you will not fall into sin.

Ezekiel 18:31 Stop all the rebellious things that you are doing. Get yourselves new hearts and new spirits. Why do you want to die, nation of Israel?

Ezekiel 18:32 I don’t want anyone to die,” declares the Almighty LORD. “Change the way you think and act!”

Ezekiel 19:1 Sing a funeral song for the princes of Israel.

Ezekiel 19:2 Say: Your mother was like a lioness. She lay down among the lions. She fed many cubs.

Ezekiel 19:3 One of the cubs she raised became a young lion. He learned to tear apart the animals he hunted. He ate people.

Ezekiel 19:4 The nations heard about him, caught him in their pit, and brought him with hooks to Egypt.

Ezekiel 19:5 The lioness waited until she saw that there was no more hope. Then she took another one of her cubs and raised him into a young lion.

Ezekiel 19:6 He became a young lion, and he prowled among the lions. He learned to tear apart the animals he hunted. He ate people.

Ezekiel 19:7 He destroyed fortresses and turned cities into wastelands. The land and everyone living in it were terrified by the sound of his roar.

Ezekiel 19:8 The nations from every region came together against him. They spread their net over him and caught him in their pit.

Ezekiel 19:9 With hooks they put him in a cage and brought him to the king of Babylon. They put him in prison so that his roar wouldn’t be heard anymore on the mountains of Israel.

Ezekiel 19:10 Your mother was like a grapevine that was planted near water. It had a lot of fruit and many branches because there was plenty of water.

Ezekiel 19:11 Its branches were strong. They were used to make scepters for kings. It grew to be tall with many branches around it, and everyone saw it because of its many branches.

Ezekiel 19:12 But in anger it was uprooted and thrown to the ground. The east wind dried up its fruit. Its strong branches broke off. They withered and were burned.

Ezekiel 19:13 Now it is planted in the desert, in a dry and waterless land.

Ezekiel 19:14 Fire has spread from the vine’s main branch. Fire has destroyed its fruit. It no longer has any strong branches that could be used as a king’s scepter. This is a funeral song. It is to be used as a funeral song.

Ezekiel 20:1 On the tenth day of the fifth month in the seventh year, some of the leaders of Israel came to ask for the LORD’s help. They sat in front of me.

Ezekiel 20:2 Then the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 20:3 “Son of man, speak to the leaders of Israel. Tell them, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Are you coming to ask me for help? As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, you will not be allowed to ask me for help.’

Ezekiel 20:4 “Will you judge them? Will you judge them, son of man? Tell them about the disgusting things their ancestors did.

Ezekiel 20:5 Tell them, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: When I chose Israel, I raised my hand and swore an oath to the descendants of Jacob’s family. I made myself known to them in Egypt. I made a promise to them and said, “I am the LORD your God.”

Ezekiel 20:6 At that time I promised to bring them out of Egypt to a land that I had chosen for them. This land is the most beautiful land, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Ezekiel 20:7 I said to them, “Get rid of the detestable idols that you look to for help. Don’t dishonor yourselves with the disgusting idols of Egypt. I am the LORD your God.”

Ezekiel 20:8 “ ‘But they rebelled against me and refused to listen to me. Not one of them got rid of the detestable idols that they looked to for help. They didn’t abandon the disgusting idols of Egypt. So I was going to pour out my fury on them and unleash my anger on them in Egypt.

Ezekiel 20:9 But I acted so that my name would not be dishonored among the nations where they were living. While other nations were watching, I made myself known to them by bringing the Israelites out of Egypt.

Ezekiel 20:10 “ ‘So I brought the Israelites out of Egypt and led them into the desert.

Ezekiel 20:11 I gave them my laws and made my rules known to them. If people obey them they will live.

Ezekiel 20:12 I also gave them certain days to worship me as a sign between us so that they would know that I, the LORD, made them holy.

Ezekiel 20:13 “ ‘But the people of Israel rebelled against me in the desert. They didn’t live by my laws, and they rejected my rules. If people obey them, they will live. They dishonored the days to worship me. So I was going to pour out my fury on them in the desert and completely wipe them out.

Ezekiel 20:14 But I acted so that my name would not be dishonored among the nations who had watched me bring the Israelites out [of Egypt].

Ezekiel 20:15 I also swore an oath to them in the desert. I swore that I would not bring them into the land that I had promised to give them. This land is the most beautiful land, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Ezekiel 20:16 They rejected my rules, and they didn’t live by my laws. They dishonored the days to worship me, because their hearts chased disgusting idols.

Ezekiel 20:17 But I had compassion on them. I didn’t destroy them or completely wipe them out in the desert.

Ezekiel 20:18 I said to their children in the desert, “Don’t live by the laws of your ancestors. Don’t obey their rules or dishonor yourselves with their disgusting idols.

Ezekiel 20:19 I am the LORD your God. Live by my laws. Obey my rules and follow them.

Ezekiel 20:20 Set apart certain holy days to worship me. This will be a sign between me and you so that you will know that I am the LORD your God.”

Ezekiel 20:21 “ ‘But they rebelled against me. They didn’t live by my laws, and they didn’t obey my rules and follow them. If people obey them, they will live. They dishonored the days to worship me. So I was going to pour out my fury on them and unleash my anger on them in the desert.

Ezekiel 20:22 But I didn’t use my power so that my name would not be dishonored among the nations who had watched me bring the Israelites out [of Egypt].

Ezekiel 20:23 I raised my hand and swore an oath to them in the desert. I promised to scatter them among the nations and force them into other countries.

Ezekiel 20:24 They didn't follow my rules, and they rejected my laws. They dishonored the days to worship me, and they looked to their ancestors' disgusting idols for help.

Ezekiel 20:25 I also allowed them to follow laws that were no good and rules by which they could not live.

Ezekiel 20:26 I let them dishonor themselves when they sacrificed all their firstborn sons as gifts [to their false gods]. I terrified them so that they would know that I am the LORD.'

Ezekiel 20:27 "Speak to the nation of Israel, son of man. Tell them, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: Your ancestors insulted me again because they were unfaithful to me.

Ezekiel 20:28 I brought them to the land that I promised to give them. When they saw any high hill or any leafy tree, they made sacrifices and brought offerings there to make me angry. There they offered their sacrifices and poured out their wine offerings.

Ezekiel 20:29 Then I asked them, "What is this worship site you're going to?' " (So it is still called 'worship site' today.)

Ezekiel 20:30 "Tell the nation of Israel, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: Will you dishonor yourselves the way your ancestors did? Will you chase their detestable idols like a prostitute?

Ezekiel 20:31 You offer your children as sacrifices by burning them alive. You dishonor yourselves with all your disgusting idols to this day. Should you be allowed to ask me for help, nation of Israel? " 'As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, you won't be allowed to ask me for help.

Ezekiel 20:32 What you have in mind will never happen. You think that you want to be like other nations, like the different people in other countries. You want to serve wood and stone.

Ezekiel 20:33 " 'As I live, declares the Almighty LORD, I will rule you with a mighty hand and a powerful arm, and I will pour out my fury.

Ezekiel 20:34 I will bring you out from the nations and gather you from the countries where I have scattered you with my mighty hand and powerful arm. I will pour out my fury.

Ezekiel 20:35 I will bring you into the desert of the nations. There I will put you on trial face to face.

Ezekiel 20:36 I will put you on trial as I put your ancestors on trial in the desert of Egypt, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 20:37 Then I will make you suffer punishment and make you keep the terms of the promise.

Ezekiel 20:38 I will get rid of rebels and those who do wrong against me. I will bring you out of the land where you are living. You will never enter Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 20:39 “ ‘Nation of Israel, this is what the Almighty LORD says: Serve your disgusting idols. But afterwards, you will listen to me. You will no longer dishonor my holy name with your gifts and your disgusting idols.

Ezekiel 20:40 “ ‘The entire nation of Israel, everyone in the land, will worship me on my holy mountain, the high mountain of Israel, declares the Almighty LORD. There I will accept you. There I will look for your offerings, your best gifts, and all your holy gifts.

Ezekiel 20:41 When I bring you out from the nations and gather you from the countries where you have been scattered, I will accept you as if you were a pleasing sacrifice. Through you I will reveal myself as holy to the nations that are watching.

Ezekiel 20:42 Then you will know that I am the LORD, because I will bring you to the land of Israel, the land that I promised to give your ancestors.

Ezekiel 20:43 There you will remember the way you lived and everything you did to dishonor yourselves. You will be disgusted by every wrong thing that you did.

Ezekiel 20:44 Then you will know that I am the LORD, because I will deal with you for the sake of my name. I will not deal with you based on the evil and corrupt things that you have done, nation of Israel, declares the Almighty LORD.’ “

Ezekiel 20:45 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 20:46 “Son of man, turn to the south, preach against the south, and prophesy against the forest in the Negev.

Ezekiel 20:47 Tell the forest in the Negev, ‘Listen to the word of the LORD. This is what the Almighty LORD says: I am about to set fire to you to destroy all your green trees and all your dry trees. The blazing fire will not be put out. It will burn the whole land from the south to the north.

Ezekiel 20:48 Then everyone will know that I, the LORD, started the fire. It will never be put out.’”

Ezekiel 20:49 Then I said, “Oh no! Almighty LORD, no! The people already say that I’m only telling stories.”

Ezekiel 21:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 21:2 “Son of man, turn to Jerusalem, preach against the holy places. Prophesy against the land of Israel.

Ezekiel 21:3 Tell the land of Israel, ‘This is what the LORD says: I am against you. I will take my sword out of its scabbard and kill the righteous people and the wicked people among you.

Ezekiel 21:4 I’m going to kill the righteous people and the wicked people among you. That is why my sword will come out of its scabbard to be used against everyone from the south to the north.

Ezekiel 21:5 Then everyone will know that I, the LORD, have taken my sword from its scabbard, and I will not put it back again.’

Ezekiel 21:6 “So, son of man, groan with a breaking heart and with bitter crying while the people watch you.

Ezekiel 21:7 When they ask you why you are groaning, say, ‘News has come that will discourage everyone. People’s hands will hang limp, their hearts will lose courage, and their knees will become as weak as water. It’s coming! It will surely take place!’ declares the Almighty LORD.”

Ezekiel 21:8 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 21:9 “Son of man, prophesy. Tell them, ‘This is what the Lord says: A sword, a sword is sharpened and polished,

Ezekiel 21:10 It’s sharpened to kill and polished to flash like lightning. How can we rejoice? My son has refused to be disciplined or punished.

Ezekiel 21:11 The sword has been handed over to be polished, to be placed in the hand. The sword is being sharpened and polished to be placed in the hands of killers.

Ezekiel 21:12 “ ‘Cry and mourn, son of man, because the sword will be used against my people and against all the princes of Israel. I will throw the princes and my people on the sword. So beat your breast, and grieve.

Ezekiel 21:13 Testing will surely come. What if you refuse to be disciplined again? Won’t you be tested? declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 21:14 So prophesy, son of man. Clap your hands! Let the sword strike again and again. It’s the sword for killing. It’s the sword for killing many people. It’s the sword that surrounds them.

Ezekiel 21:15 I have appointed my sword to slaughter people at all their gates so that their hearts will sink and many will die. Yes! It’s ready to flash like lightning. It’s polished to kill.

Ezekiel 21:16 Sword, cut to the right. Cut to the left or wherever your blade is turned.

Ezekiel 21:17 I will also clap my hands and rest from my fury. I, the LORD, have spoken.’”

Ezekiel 21:18 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 21:19 “Son of man, mark two roads that the king of Babylon and his sword can take. Both of these roads should start from the same country. Make a sign, and put it where the roads start to fork toward the cities.

Ezekiel 21:20 Mark the road that the king and his sword can take to the Ammonite city of Rabbah, and mark the road that leads to Judah and the fortified city of Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 21:21 The king of Babylon will stop where the roads branch off, where there is a fork in the road. Then he will look for omens. He will shake some arrows, ask his household gods for help, and examine animal livers.

Ezekiel 21:22 The omens will indicate that he should go to the right, to Jerusalem. So he will set up his battering rams there, give the order to kill, raise a battle cry, aim the battering rams against the city gates, put up ramps, and set up blockades.

Ezekiel 21:23 The people won't believe this because they have made treaties with other nations. But the king of Babylon will remind them of their sins, and they will be captured.

Ezekiel 21:24 "This is what the Almighty LORD says: You make people remember how sinful you are because you openly do wrong. You show your sins in everything you do. So you will be taken captive.

Ezekiel 21:25 "You dishonest and wicked prince of Israel, the time for your final punishment has come.

Ezekiel 21:26 This is what the Almighty LORD says: Take off your turban, and get rid of your crown. Things are going to change. Those who are unimportant will become important, and those who are important will become unimportant.

Ezekiel 21:27 Ruins! Ruins! I will turn this place into ruins! It will not be restored until its rightful owner comes. Then I will give it to him.

Ezekiel 21:28 "Son of man, prophesy. Tell them, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says about the Ammonites and their insults: A sword, a sword is drawn ready to kill. It's polished to destroy and flash like lightning.

Ezekiel 21:29 People see false visions about you and prophesy lies about you. The sword will be placed on the necks of dishonest, wicked people, for whom the time of final punishment has come.

Ezekiel 21:30 " 'Return your sword to its scabbard. In the place where you were created, in the land where you were born, there I will judge you.

Ezekiel 21:31 I will pour out my fury on you and breathe on you with my fiery anger. I will hand you over to cruel people who are skilled in destruction.

Ezekiel 21:32 You will be fuel for the fire. You will die in the land. You will no longer be remembered. I, the LORD, have spoken.'"

Ezekiel 22:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 22:2 "Will you judge, son of man? Will you judge the city of murderers? Then tell it about all the disgusting things that it has done.

Ezekiel 22:3 Tell it, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: [Jerusalem,] you are the city that murders people who live in you. Your time has come. You dishonor yourself with disgusting idols.

Ezekiel 22:4 You are guilty because of the people you have killed. You are dishonored because of the disgusting idols you have made. You have brought an end to your days, and you have come to the end of your years. That is why I will make you a disgrace to the nations and a joke in every land.

Ezekiel 22:5 Those near and those far away will mock you. Your name will be dishonored, and you will be filled with confusion.

Ezekiel 22:6 " 'See how all the princes of Israel who live in you have used their power to murder people.

Ezekiel 22:7 People in you hate their fathers and mothers. They oppress foreigners in you. They oppress orphans and widows in you.

Ezekiel 22:8 You have despised my holy things and dishonored the day to worship me.

Ezekiel 22:9 Some of your people slander. They want to kill people. People who live in you eat food sacrificed to idols at the worship sites on the hills, and they sin sexually.

Ezekiel 22:10 Men have sex with their father's wives. They have sex with women when the women are having their periods and are unclean.

Ezekiel 22:11 Men do disgusting things with their neighbors' wives. Some men sexually dishonor their daughters-in-law. Other men who live in you have sex with their sisters, their father's daughters.

Ezekiel 22:12 Other people take bribes to murder people. You collect interest and make excessive profits. You make profits by mistreating your neighbors. You have forgotten me, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 22:13 " 'I will use my power against you because of the excessive profits you have made and the murders you have committed.

Ezekiel 22:14 Will you still be brave? Will you remain strong when I deal with you? I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it.

Ezekiel 22:15 I will scatter you among the nations and force you into other countries. I will put an end to your uncleanness.

Ezekiel 22:16 You will be dishonored in the sight of the nations. Then you will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezekiel 22:17 Then the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 22:18 "Son of man, the people of Israel have become worthless to me. All of them are like copper, tin, iron, and lead in a smelting furnace. They are like the impurities left from silver.

Ezekiel 22:19 This is what the Almighty LORD says: All of you have become worthless. That is why I'm going to gather you in Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 22:20 People gather silver, copper, iron, lead, and tin together in a smelting furnace to melt them with a fiery blast. In the same way, in my anger and fury I will gather you and put you in the city. I will melt you there.

Ezekiel 22:21 Yes, I will gather you, breathe on you with my fiery anger, and melt you in the city.

Ezekiel 22:22 You will be melted in the city like silver that is melted in a furnace. Then you will know that I, the LORD, have poured out my fury on you.”

Ezekiel 22:23 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 22:24 “Son of man, tell the city, ‘You are an unclean land that has not had rain during the day of my anger. You have not been made clean.

Ezekiel 22:25 Your princes are like roaring lions who tear their prey into pieces. They eat people and take their treasures and precious belongings. They turn many women into widows.

Ezekiel 22:26 Your priests violate my teachings and dishonor my holy things. They don’t distinguish between what is holy and what is unholy. They don’t teach the difference between what is clean and what is unclean. They ignore the days to worship me. So I am dishonored among the people.

Ezekiel 22:27 Your leaders are like wolves that tear their prey into pieces. They murder and destroy people to make excessive profits.

Ezekiel 22:28 Your prophets cover up these things by seeing false visions and by prophesying lies. They say, “This is what the Almighty LORD says.” Yet, the LORD hasn’t spoken.

Ezekiel 22:29 The common people oppress and rob others. They do wrong to humble people and to poor people. They oppress foreigners for no reason.

Ezekiel 22:30 “ ‘I looked for someone among you who could build walls or stand in front of me by the gaps in the walls to defend the land and keep it from being destroyed. But I couldn’t find anyone.

Ezekiel 22:31 So I will pour out my anger on you, and with my fiery anger I will consume you. This is because of all the things you have done,’ declares the Almighty LORD.”

Ezekiel 23:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 23:2 “Son of man, there were once two women, daughters of the same mother.

Ezekiel 23:3 They became prostitutes in Egypt when they were young. There men fondled and caressed their breasts.

Ezekiel 23:4 “The older girl was named Oholah, and the younger girl was named Oholibah. I married them, and they gave birth to sons and daughters. Oholah represents Samaria, and Oholibah represents Jerusalem.

Ezekiel 23:5 Oholah acted like a prostitute, although she was my wife. She lusted after her Assyrian lovers who lived nearby.

Ezekiel 23:6 They were governors and commanders clothed in purple. They were all handsome young men who rode on horses.

Ezekiel 23:7 She became a prostitute for all the important men in Assyria. She dishonored herself with the idols of all those with whom she fell in love.

Ezekiel 23:8 She continued the prostitution that she started in Egypt. When she was young, men went to bed with her, caressed her breasts, and treated her like a prostitute.

Ezekiel 23:9 “That is why I handed her over to her lovers, to the Assyrians whom she lusted after.

Ezekiel 23:10 They stripped her naked, took away her sons and daughters, and killed her with a sword. Women gossiped about how she was punished.

Ezekiel 23:11 “Even though her younger sister Oholibah saw this, Oholibah lusted after men more than her sister did. Oholibah’s prostitution became worse than her sister’s prostitution.

Ezekiel 23:12 She lusted after the Assyrians who were nearby. They were governors and commanders in full dress. They were mounted horsemen, all of them desirable young men.

Ezekiel 23:13 I saw that she was dishonoring herself. Both sisters acted the same way.

Ezekiel 23:14 Yet, she carried her prostitution even further. She saw pictures of men carved on walls. They were figures of Babylonian men, painted in bright red.

Ezekiel 23:15 The men had belts around their waists and flowing turbans on their heads. All of them looked like Babylonian officers who were born in Babylon.

Ezekiel 23:16 She fell in love with them at first sight and sent messengers to them in Babylonia.

Ezekiel 23:17 So these men came from Babylon, went to bed with her, and dishonored her with their lust. After they had dishonored her, she turned away from them in disgust.

Ezekiel 23:18 “She carried out her prostitution openly, and she lay around naked. I turned away from her in disgust as I had turned away from her sister.

Ezekiel 23:19 She remembered how she had been a prostitute in Egypt when she was young. So she took part in even more prostitution.

Ezekiel 23:20 She lusted after her lovers, whose genitals were like those of donkeys and whose semen was like that of horses.

Ezekiel 23:21 So she longed to do the sinful things she did when she was young in Egypt, when young men caressed and fondled her breasts.

Ezekiel 23:22 “Oholibah, this is what the Almighty LORD says: I’m going to stir up your lovers against you. They are the lovers you turned away from in disgust. I will bring them against you from every side.

Ezekiel 23:23 I will bring men from Babylon and from all Babylonia, men from Pekod, Shoa, and Koa, as well as all the Assyrians. They are desirable young men, governors and commanders, military officers and important men. All of them ride on horses.

Ezekiel 23:24 They will attack you from the north, with chariots and wagons and with a large number of troops. They will attack you from all around with small and large shields and with helmets. I have handed you over to them for punishment. They will punish you with their own kind of punishment.

Ezekiel 23:25 I will direct my burning anger against you so that they will deal with you in anger. They will cut off your nose and ears and kill everyone who remains. They will take your sons and your daughters and burn down whatever is left.

Ezekiel 23:26 They will rip off your clothes and take away your beautiful jewels.

Ezekiel 23:27 I will put a stop to your sinning and to your prostitution, which you began in Egypt. You won’t desire these things anymore or remember Egypt anymore.

Ezekiel 23:28 “This is what the Almighty LORD says: I’m going to hand you over to those you hate and to those you turned away from in disgust.

Ezekiel 23:29 They will treat you hatefully and take away everything that you have worked for. They will leave you naked and bare. The shame of your prostitution will be revealed.

Ezekiel 23:30 Your sinning and your prostitution have done this to you, because you lusted after the nations and dishonored yourself with their idols.

Ezekiel 23:31 You’ve acted the same way as your sister. That is why I will put her cup in your hand.

Ezekiel 23:32 This is what the Almighty LORD says: You will drink from your sister’s cup, a cup that is deep and wide. You will be scorned and mocked, because this cup holds so much.

Ezekiel 23:33 The cup of your sister Samaria will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow.

Ezekiel 23:34 You will drink from it and drain it. You will break it into pieces and tear your breasts off your body. I have spoken, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 23:35 “This is what the Almighty LORD says: You have forgotten me and turned your back on me. So you will be punished for your sinning and prostitution.”

Ezekiel 23:36 The LORD said to me, “Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah and tell them about their disgusting practices?

Ezekiel 23:37 They have committed adultery. Their hands are covered with blood. They commit adultery with their idols. They have sacrificed the children they gave birth to for me as burnt offerings to idols.

Ezekiel 23:38 They have also done this to me: They have polluted my holy places when they do these things and dishonored the days to worship me.

Ezekiel 23:39 When they sacrificed their children to their idols, they came into my holy place and dishonored it. That is what they’ve done in my temple.

Ezekiel 23:40 “They even sent messengers to invite men to come from far away. When the men arrived, they washed themselves for the men, painted their eyes, and put on their jewels.

Ezekiel 23:41 They sat on their fine couches with tables in front of them. They put my incense and my olive oil on their tables.

Ezekiel 23:42 “I heard the noise from a carefree crowd. A large number of people came from the desert, and they put bracelets on the women’s wrists and beautiful crowns on their heads.

Ezekiel 23:43 Then I said, ‘She is worn out from her acts of adultery.’ Yet, men continued to have sex with her.

Ezekiel 23:44 Men slept with her. They slept with those sinful women, Oholah and Oholibah just as they slept with a prostitute.

Ezekiel 23:45 Righteous people will punish these women for adultery and for murder, because these women have committed adultery and their hands are covered with blood.

Ezekiel 23:46 “This is what the Almighty LORD says: Bring together a mob [against the people of Samaria and Jerusalem]. Hand them over to terror and looting.

Ezekiel 23:47 Then the mob will stone them and kill them with swords. The mob will kill their sons and daughters and burn their homes.

Ezekiel 23:48 So I will put a stop to the sinning in the land, and all the women will be warned not to sin as they do.

Ezekiel 23:49 They will be punished for their sins, and they will pay for their sin of idolatry. Then they will know that I am the Almighty LORD.”

Ezekiel 24:1 On the tenth day of the tenth month in the ninth year, the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 24:2 “Son of man, write down today’s date. The king of Babylon has surrounded Jerusalem this very day.

Ezekiel 24:3 Tell these rebellious people a story. Tell them, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Put the pot on the fire; put it on. Pour water in it.

Ezekiel 24:4 Cut the meat into pieces, all the best pieces, the thigh and shoulder. Fill the pot with the meatiest bones

Ezekiel 24:5 selected from the best sheep. Pile wood under the pot. Bring the mixture in the pot to a boil. Cook the bones that are in it well.

Ezekiel 24:6 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: How horrible it will be for that city of murderers, for that tarnished pot. Its tarnish will not come off. Empty the meat out of it piece by piece without choosing any particular piece.

Ezekiel 24:7 Blood is still in that city. The blood was poured on a bare rock. It wasn’t poured on the ground where dust would cover it.

Ezekiel 24:8 In order to stir up my fury so that I would pay that city back, I put the blood of its victims on a bare rock. Now that blood can’t be covered.

Ezekiel 24:9 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: How horrible it will be for that city of murderers. I, too, will pile the wood high.

Ezekiel 24:10 Pile it high, and light the fire. Cook the meat thoroughly, stir the mixture, and let the bones burn.

Ezekiel 24:11 Then set the empty pot on the coals so that it gets hot and its copper glows. Its impurities will melt away, and its tarnish will burn off.

Ezekiel 24:12 “ ‘I have worn myself out trying to clean this pot. Even the fire can’t take away its thick tarnish.

Ezekiel 24:13 I tried to clean you of your filthy lust, but you wouldn’t clean yourself from your filth. You will never be clean until I unleash my fury on you.

Ezekiel 24:14 I, the LORD, have spoken. It will happen, and I will do it. I will not ignore you, pity you, or change my plans. I will punish you because of the way you lived and because of everything you have done,’ “ declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 24:15 Then the LORD spoke his word to me. He said, Ezekiel 24:16 “Son of man, with one blow I’m going to take away from you the person you love the most. But you must not mourn, cry, or let tears run down your face.

Ezekiel 24:17 Groan silently. Don’t grieve for the person who dies. Tie on your turban, and put on your sandals. Don’t cover your face or eat the food that mourners eat.”

Ezekiel 24:18 So I spoke to the people in the morning, and in the evening my wife died. The next morning I did as I was ordered.

Ezekiel 24:19 The people asked me, “Tell us, what do these things that you are doing mean to us?”

Ezekiel 24:20 I told them, “The LORD spoke his word to me. He said, Ezekiel 24:21 ‘Tell the nation of Israel, “This is what the Almighty LORD says: I’m going to dishonor my holy place. You brag that my holy place gives you strength. It’s the thing you love the most. It’s your hearts’ desire. So the sons and daughters that you left behind will die in battle.

Ezekiel 24:22 Then you must do as I did. Don’t cover your faces or eat the food that mourners eat.

Ezekiel 24:23 Leave your turbans on your heads and your sandals on your feet. Don’t grieve or cry! You will waste away because of your guilt and groan to one another.

Ezekiel 24:24 Ezekiel is a sign to you. You will do everything he has done. Then you will know that I am the Almighty LORD.”‘

Ezekiel 24:25 “Son of man, on that day I will take their stronghold away from them. It makes them happy and proud. It is their hearts’ desire and the thing they love the most. I will also take away their sons and daughters.

Ezekiel 24:26 On that day a refugee will come to you to tell you the news.

Ezekiel 24:27 On that very day your mouth will be opened, and you will talk to the refugee. You will speak and not be silent anymore. You will be a sign to them. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

Ezekiel 25:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 25:2 “Son of man, turn to the Ammonites and prophesy against them.

Ezekiel 25:3 Tell the Ammonites, ‘Listen to the word of the Almighty LORD. This is what the Almighty LORD says: You were glad when my holy place was dishonored, when the land of Israel was ruined, and when the nation of Judah went into exile.

Ezekiel 25:4 That is why I’m going to hand you over to the people in the east. They will possess your land. They will set up their camps and pitch their tents among you. They will eat your crops and drink your milk.

Ezekiel 25:5 I will turn Rabbah into a pasture for camels, and I will turn Ammon into a resting place for sheep. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 25:6 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: You clapped your hands and stomped your feet. You rejoiced and felt contempt for the land of Israel.

Ezekiel 25:7 That is why I will use my power against you and hand you over to the nations as loot. I will wipe you out from among the nations, make you disappear, and destroy you. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 25:8 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Moab and Seir said, “The nation of Judah is like all the other nations.”

Ezekiel 25:9 That is why I’m going to open up the cities that protect Moab’s borders. They are the beautiful cities of Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon, and Kiriathaim.

Ezekiel 25:10 I will hand the Moabites and the Ammonites over to the people in the east. So the Ammonites will no longer be remembered among the nations.

Ezekiel 25:11 I will punish Moab. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 25:12 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Edom took revenge on the nation of Judah and became guilty because of it.

Ezekiel 25:13 So this is what the Almighty LORD says: I will use my power against Edom. I will wipe out people and animals. I will turn the land into ruins from Teman to Dedan. People will die in battle.

Ezekiel 25:14 I will use my people Israel to take revenge on Edom. My people will deal with Edom based on my anger and my fury. Then the Edomites will know my revenge, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 25:15 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: The Philistines have taken revenge with spiteful hearts. They have tried to destroy their long-time enemies.

Ezekiel 25:16 So this is what the Almighty LORD says: I’m going to use my power against the Philistines, cut off the Cherethites, and destroy the people that are left on the coast.

Ezekiel 25:17 I will take fierce revenge on them and punish them with fury. I will take revenge on them. Then they will know that I am the LORD.’ ”

Ezekiel 26:1 On the first day of the month in the eleventh year, the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 26:2 “Son of man, Tyre said this about Jerusalem: ‘The city that was the gateway for the nations is destroyed, and its doors are swung open to me. I’ll get rich now that it’s ruined.’

Ezekiel 26:3 So this is what the Almighty LORD says: I am against you, Tyre. I will bring many nations against you as the waves on the sea rise.

Ezekiel 26:4 They will destroy the walls of Tyre and tear down its towers. Then I will sweep up the dust and turn Tyre into a bare rock.

Ezekiel 26:5 It will become a place by the sea where people spread their fishing nets. I have spoken, declares the Almighty LORD. It will become a prize for the nations.

Ezekiel 26:6 The people in the villages and on the mainland will die in battle. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 26:7 “This is what the Almighty LORD says: From the north I’m going to bring King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon against you, Tyre. He is the greatest king. He will bring horses, chariots, war horses, many people, and many troops.

Ezekiel 26:8 He will destroy the villages on your mainland. He will set up blockades, put up dirt ramps, and raise his shields against you.

Ezekiel 26:9 He will direct his battering rams against your walls, and he will cut down your towers with his axes.

Ezekiel 26:10 He will have so many horses that their dust will cover you. The noise from the war horses, wagon wheels, and chariots will shake your walls when he enters your gates. He will enter as people enter a conquered city.

Ezekiel 26:11 With his horses’ hoofs he will trample all your streets. He will kill your people in battle, and your strong pillars will fall to the ground.

Ezekiel 26:12 His troops will loot your riches and take your goods as prizes. They will destroy your walls and tear down your delightful homes. They will throw your stones, wood, and soil into the water.

Ezekiel 26:13 “I will put a stop to your noisy songs, and the music from your harps will no longer be heard.

Ezekiel 26:14 I will turn you into bare rock. You will become a place to spread fishing nets. You will never be rebuilt. I, the LORD, have spoken, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 26:15 “This is what the Almighty LORD says to Tyre: The people who live on the coast will shake with fear when they hear about your defeat. They will groan when your people are wounded and slaughtered.

Ezekiel 26:16 Then the princes from the coast will come down from their thrones. They will remove their robes and take off their embroidered clothes. Dressed in terror, they will sit on the ground. They will tremble constantly and be shocked at you.

Ezekiel 26:17 Then they will sing this funeral song for you: Tyre, you famous city, you have been destroyed. You have been shattered by the sea. You and your people ruled the sea. All your people terrified those who lived by the coast.

Ezekiel 26:18 Your defeat will make the people who live by the coast tremble. Your end will terrify the islands in the sea.

Ezekiel 26:19 “This is what the Almighty LORD says: I will turn your city into ruins like cities that have no one living in them. I will bring the deep ocean over you, and the Mediterranean Sea will cover you.

Ezekiel 26:20 I will bring you down with those who descend to the grave to join the people of long ago. I will make you live below the earth among the ancient ruins with those who go down to the grave. You will never return or take your place in the land of the living.

Ezekiel 26:21 I will turn you into a terror, and you will no longer exist. People will look for you, but they will never see you again,” declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 27:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 27:2 “Son of man, sing a funeral song about Tyre.

Ezekiel 27:3 Tyre is the city at the entrance to the sea. It is the merchant to the nations. Say to Tyre, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: Tyre, you used to brag about your perfect beauty.

Ezekiel 27:4 Your home is the sea. “ ‘Your builders made your beauty perfect.

Ezekiel 27:5 Your builders made all your boards from pine trees on Mount Hermon. They took cedar trees from Lebanon to make a mast for you.

Ezekiel 27:6 They made your oars from oaks in Bashan. They made your deck from pine trees on the shores of Cyprus. It had ivory set in it.

Ezekiel 27:7 Your sails were made out of fine embroidered linen from Egypt. They were like your flags. Your awnings were violet and purple. They came from the coasts of Elishah.

Ezekiel 27:8 “ ‘People from Sidon and Arvad used to row you. Your own skilled people were your sailors.

Ezekiel 27:9 Master shipbuilders from Gebal went inside you to caulk your seams. All the ships on the sea and their sailors docked alongside you to trade with you.

Ezekiel 27:10 People from Persia, Lud, and Put were soldiers in your army. They hung their shields and helmets inside you. Their victories made you look good.

Ezekiel 27:11 “ ‘People from Arvad and Helech were guards all around your walls. People from Gammad guarded your towers. They hung their shields all around your walls, making your beauty perfect.

Ezekiel 27:12 “ ‘People from Tarshish traded with you because you were so very rich. They exchanged silver, iron, tin, and lead for your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:13 People from Greece, Tubal, and Meshech traded with you. They exchanged slaves and bronze items for your goods.

Ezekiel 27:14 People from Beth Togarmah exchanged horses, war horses, and mules for your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:15 People from Dedan traded goods with you. You traded with many people on the coasts, and they brought you ivory and ebony as payment.

Ezekiel 27:16 “ ‘People from Syria traded with you because you had so many products. They exchanged emeralds, purple cloth, richly woven cloth, linen, coral, and rubies for your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:17 Judah and Israel traded with you. They exchanged wheat from Minnith, baked goods, honey, olive oil, and balsam for your goods.

Ezekiel 27:18 People from Damascus traded with you because you had so many products. They exchanged wine from Helbon and wool from Sahar.

Ezekiel 27:19 “ ‘Danites and Greeks from Uzal traded for your merchandise. They exchanged wrought iron, cassia, and sugar cane for your goods.

Ezekiel 27:20 Dedan traded saddle blankets with you.

Ezekiel 27:21 Arabia and all the officials of Kedar traded with you. They traded lambs, rams, and male goats.

Ezekiel 27:22 The merchants from Sheba and Raamah traded with you. They traded the finest spices, precious stones, and gold for your merchandise.

Ezekiel 27:23 Haran, Canneh, Eden, the merchants from Sheba, Assyria, and Kilmad traded with you.

Ezekiel 27:24 In your marketplace they traded for beautiful clothes, purple robes, embroidered cloth, and many multicolored rugs with woven and twisted cords.

Ezekiel 27:25 “ ‘Ships from Tarshish carried your goods. You were like a ship filled with heavy cargo in the sea.

Ezekiel 27:26 Your rowers took you out to the high seas, and an east wind wrecked you in the sea.

Ezekiel 27:27 Your wealth, your merchandise, and the goods you sell, your mariners and your sailors, your caulkers and your merchants, your soldiers and everyone else on board sank into the sea when your ship was wrecked.

Ezekiel 27:28 “ ‘When your sailors cried out, people on the shore trembled.

Ezekiel 27:29 All the rowers, the sailors, and all the mariners came down from their ships and stood on the shore.

Ezekiel 27:30 They cried loudly and bitterly over you. They put dust on their heads and covered themselves with ashes.

Ezekiel 27:31 They shaved their heads because of you and put on sackcloth. They cried over you with bitterness and with bitter mourning.

Ezekiel 27:32 They sang a funeral song for you with loud crying: “Who is like Tyre, the city destroyed in the sea?”

Ezekiel 27:33 Your merchandise was sent overseas. You filled many people with your great wealth and your goods. You made the kings of the earth rich.

Ezekiel 27:34 Now you are wrecked in the sea, at the bottom of the sea. Your goods and your whole crew sank with you.

Ezekiel 27:35 All those who live on the coasts are horrified because of you. Their kings are terribly afraid. Their faces show their fear.

Ezekiel 27:36 The merchants among the nations laugh at you. You have come to a terrible end, and you will never exist again.’”

Ezekiel 28:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 28:2 “Son of man, tell the ruler of Tyre, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: In your arrogance you say, “I’m a god. I sit on God’s throne in the sea.” But you’re only human and not a god, although you think you are a god.

Ezekiel 28:3 You think that you are wiser thanDaniel and that no secret can be hidden from you.

Ezekiel 28:4 Because you are wise and understanding, you’ve made yourself rich. You saved gold and silver in your treasuries.

Ezekiel 28:5 Because of your great skill in trading, you’ve made yourself very wealthy. You have become arrogant because of your wealth.

Ezekiel 28:6 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: You think you are wise like God.

Ezekiel 28:7 That is why I am going to bring foreigners against you, the most ruthless foreigners among the nations. They will draw their swords against your fine wisdom and dishonor your greatness.

Ezekiel 28:8 They will throw you into a pit, and you will die a violent death in the sea.

Ezekiel 28:9 You will no longer say that you are a god when you face those who kill you. You will be a human, not a god, in the hands of those who kill you.

Ezekiel 28:10 You will die at the hands of foreigners like a godless person. I have spoken,’ “ declares the LORD.

Ezekiel 28:11 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 28:12 “Son of man, sing a funeral song for the ruler of Tyre. Tell him, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: You were the perfect example, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.

Ezekiel 28:13 You were in Eden, God’s garden. You were covered with every kind of precious stone: red quartz, topaz, crystal, beryl, onyx, gray quartz, sapphire, turquoise, and emerald. Your settings and your sockets were made of gold when you were created.

Ezekiel 28:14 I appointed an angel to guard you. You were on God’s holy mountain. You walked among fiery stones.

Ezekiel 28:15 Your behavior was perfect from the time you were created, until evil was found in you.

Ezekiel 28:16 You traded far and wide. You learned to be violent, and you sinned. So I threw you down from God’s mountain in disgrace. The guardian angel forced you out from the fiery stones.

Ezekiel 28:17 You became too proud because of your beauty. You wasted your wisdom because of your greatness. So I threw you to the ground and left you in front of the kings so that they could see you.

Ezekiel 28:18 You dishonored your own holy places because of your many sins and dishonest trade. So I set fire to you to burn you up. I turned you into ashes on the ground in the presence of all who saw you.

Ezekiel 28:19 All the nations who knew you are horrified because of you. You have come to a terrible end, and you will never exist again.’”

Ezekiel 28:20 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 28:21 “Son of man, turn to Sidon and prophesy against it.

Ezekiel 28:22 Tell it, ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: I’m against you, Sidon. I will show my greatness through you. Then people will know that I am the LORD, because I will punish you and show you how holy I am.

Ezekiel 28:23 I will send a plague against you and make blood flow in your streets. Your people will fall dead. People with swords will attack you from every side. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezekiel 28:24 The nation of Israel will no longer be hurt by prickly thorns or sharp briars from everyone around them. Then they will know that I am the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 28:25 “ ‘This is what the Almighty LORD says: When I gather the people of Israel from the nations where they were scattered, I will show that I am holy as the nations watch. The people of Israel will live in their own land, the land I gave to my servant Jacob.

Ezekiel 28:26 They will live there in safety. They will build homes and plant vineyards. They will live in safety when I punish all the surrounding people who treat them with scorn. Then they will know that I am the LORD their God.'"

Ezekiel 29:1 On the twelfth day of the tenth month in the tenth year, the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 29:2 "Son of man, turn to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt.

Ezekiel 29:3 Tell him, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: I'm against you, Pharaoh, king of Egypt. You are like a monster crocodile lying in the Nile River. You say, "The Nile River is mine. I made it for myself."

Ezekiel 29:4 " 'I will put hooks in your jaws and make the fish in the Nile River stick to your scales. I will pull you out of your river with all the fish in the Nile sticking to your scales.

Ezekiel 29:5 I will leave you in the desert, you and all the fish from the Nile. You will fall in an open field. No one will pick you up or bury you. I will feed you to wild animals and birds.

Ezekiel 29:6 Then all those living in Egypt will know that I am the LORD. Egypt, you have become like a [broken] walking stick to the nation of Israel.

Ezekiel 29:7 When Israel grabbed you, you splintered and tore up their shoulders. When they leaned on you, you broke, and they wrenched their backs.

Ezekiel 29:8 " 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: I am going to attack you with a sword. I will kill people and animals.

Ezekiel 29:9 Egypt will become a wasteland and a pile of rubble. Then you will know that I am the LORD. You said, "The Nile River is mine. I made it."

Ezekiel 29:10 That is why I'm against you and the Nile River. I will turn Egypt into a pile of rubble. It will become a wasteland, from Migdol to Syene, all the way to the border of Sudan.

Ezekiel 29:11 No human or animal will walk through it, and no one will live there for 40 years.

Ezekiel 29:12 I will make Egypt the most desolate country in the world. For 40 years Egypt's cities will lie in ruins. They will be ruined more than any other city. I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and force them into other countries.

Ezekiel 29:13 " 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: After 40 years I will gather the Egyptians from the nations where they have been scattered.

Ezekiel 29:14 I will bring back the Egyptian captives and return them to Pathros, the land they came from. There they will be a weak kingdom.

Ezekiel 29:15 They will be the weakest kingdom, and they will never rule the nations again. I will make them so weak that they will never rule the nations again.

Ezekiel 29:16 The nation of Israel will never trust Egypt again. The people of Israel will remember how wrong they were whenever they turned to Egypt [for help]. Then they will know that I am the Almighty LORD.'"

Ezekiel 29:17 On the first day of the first month in the twenty-seventh year, the LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 29:18 "Son of man, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon made his army fight hard against Tyre. Every soldier's head was worn bald, and every soldier's shoulder was rubbed raw. Yet, he and his army got no reward for their hard-fought battle against Tyre.

Ezekiel 29:19 This is what the Almighty LORD says: I'm going to give Egypt to King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. He will carry off its wealth, take its prized possessions, and loot it. That will be the pay for his army.

Ezekiel 29:20 I have given him Egypt as pay for what he has done. Nebuchadnezzar and his army worked for me, declares the Almighty LORD.

Ezekiel 29:21 "On that day I will make the people of Israel strong again, and I will give you, Ezekiel, something to say among them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

Ezekiel 30:1 The LORD spoke his word to me. He said,

Ezekiel 30:2 "Son of man, prophesy. Say, 'This is what the Almighty LORD says: Cry for that day!

Ezekiel 30:3 The day is near. The day of the LORD is near. It will be a gloomy day, a time of trouble for the nations.

Ezekiel 30:4 There will be war in Egypt and anguish in Ethiopia. Many Egyptians will fall dead. People will take away Egypt's wealth, and its foundations will be torn down.
